§ 119-l. Jurisdiction of state agencies. Nothing contained in this article shall be held to alter or abridge the powers and duties of the state conservation department or any other state department or agency over drainage matters.