§ 415. Construction of article. The powers conferred by this article shall be in addition and supplemental to and not in substitution for, and the limitations imposed by this article shall not affect the powers conferred by any other general, special or local law. The powers conferred by this article shall not be affected by the provisions contained in any other general, special or local law, except as otherwise herein provided.