§ 1406. Policy loans. (a) Any life insurance company may lend to any policyholder upon the security of the value of his policy a sum not exceeding the legal reserve which it is required to maintain thereon.

(b) A fraternal benefit society may make similar loans subject to the provisions of article forty-five of this chapter.