§ 241-b. Marking of transparent glass doors required. All transparent glass doors in mercantile establishments and in public and commercial buildings and structures shall be marked in such manner as shall be calculated to warn persons using the same that such doors are glass doors. The board shall make such rules as it may deem proper or necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.