§ 431. Decompression. The employer or person in charge shall not permit any person to pass from compressed air to normal pressure without passing through a period of decompression. Such periods of decompression shall be as specified by the board in its rules.