§ 643. Saving clause. The legislature reserves the right to amend, alter, or repeal any provision of this article; and no person shall be or be deemed to be vested with any property or other right by virtue of the enactment or operation of this article.