§ 724. Obligation of employers and others. No employer, employer organization, labor relations consultant or other person shall knowingly participate in or induce any conduct or act which violates any of the obligations of any officer or agent of a labor organization provided in section seven hundred twenty-three.