4. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the commissioner and the director of the dormitory authority may award, in an amount not to exceed twenty-five million dollars of the health care system improvement capital grant program allocated in any given fiscal year, grants to eligible applicants without the process set forth in subdivision one of this section to provide necessary restructuring support to hospitals for transition to a new reimbursement methodology.

(v) be deemed to the satisfaction of the commissioner to have incurred operating losses resulting from the implementation of reimbursement rate reforms and other reductions enacted by a chapter of the laws of two thousand nine, to provide for the continued financial viability of the applicant.

(b) Prior to an award being granted to an eligible applicant without a competitive bid or request for proposal process, the commissioner and the director of the dormitory authority shall notify the chair of the senate finance committee, the chair of the assembly ways and means committee and the director of the budget of the intent to grant such an award. Such notice shall include information regarding how the eligible applicant meets criteria established pursuant to this section.

§ 2819. Hospital acquired infection reporting. 1. For the purposes of this section, "hospital acquired infection" shall mean any localized or systemic patient condition that:

(a) resulted from the presence of an infectious agent or agents, or its toxin or toxins as determined by clinical examination or by laboratory testing; and

(b) was not found to be present or incubating at the time of admission unless the infection was related to a previous admission.

2. (a) Each general hospital shall maintain a program capable of identifying and tracking hospital acquired infections for the purpose of public reporting under this section and quality improvement.

(b) Such programs shall have the capacity to identify the following elements: the specific infectious agents or toxins and site of each infection; the clinical department or unit within the facility where the patient first became infected; and the patient's diagnoses and any relevant specific surgical, medical or diagnostic procedure performed during the current admission.

(c) The department shall establish guidelines, definitions, criteria, standards and coding for hospital identification, tracking and reporting of hospital acquired infections which shall be consistent with the recommendations of recognized centers of expertise in the identification and prevention of hospital acquired infections including, but not limited to the National Health Care Safety Network of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or its successor. The department shall solicit and consider public comment prior to such establishment.

(d) Hospitals shall be initially required to identify, track and report hospital acquired infections that occur in critical care units to include surgical wound infections and central line related bloodstream infections.

(e) For hospital acquired infections for which the department requires tracking and reporting as permitted in this section, hospitals shall be required to report a suspected or confirmed hospital-acquired infection associated with another hospital to the originating hospital. Documentation of reporting should be maintained for a minimum of six years.

(f) Subsequent to the initial requirements identified in paragraph (d) of this subdivision the department may, from time to time, require the tracking and reporting of other types of hospital acquired infections (for example, ventilator - associated pneumonias) that occur in hospitals in consultation with technical advisors who are regionally or nationally-recognized experts in the prevention, identification and control of hospital acquired infection and the public reporting of performance data.

3. Each hospital shall regularly report to the department the hospital infection data it has collected. The department shall establish data collection and analytical methodologies that meet accepted standards for validity and reliability. The frequency of reporting shall be monthly, and reports shall be submitted not more than sixty days after the close of the reporting period.

4. The commissioner shall establish a state-wide database of all reported hospital acquired infection information for the purpose of supporting quality improvement and infection control activities in hospitals. The database shall be organized so that consumers, hospitals, healthcare professionals, purchasers and payers may compare individual hospital experience with that of other individual hospitals as well as regional and state-wide averages and, where available, national data.

5. (a) Subject to paragraph (c) of this subdivision, on or before September first of each year the commissioner shall submit a report to the governor and the legislature, which shall simultaneously be published in its entirety on the department's web site, that includes, but is not limited to, hospital acquired infection rates adjusted for the potential differences in risk factors for each reporting hospital, an analysis of trends in the prevention and control of hospital acquired infection rates in hospitals across the state, regional and, if available, national comparisons for the purpose of comparing individual hospital performance, and a narrative describing lessons for safety and quality improvement that can be learned from leadership hospitals and programs.

(b) The commissioner shall consult with technical advisors who have regionally or nationally acknowledged expertise in the prevention and control of hospital acquired infection and infectious disease in order to develop the adjustment for potential differences in risk factors to be used for public reporting.

Hospitals shall begin to submit such reports as directed by the commissioner but in no case later than January first, two thousand seven.

(ii) The first year of data submission under this section shall be considered the "pilot phase" of the statewide hospital acquired infection reporting system. The purpose of the pilot phase is to ensure, by various means, including any audit process referred to in subdivision seven of this section, the completeness and accuracy of hospital acquired infection reporting by hospitals. For data reported during the pilot phase, hospital identifiers shall be encrypted by the department in any and all public databases and reports. The department shall provide each hospital with an encryption key for that hospital only to permit access to its own performance data for internal quality improvement purposes.

(iii) No later than one hundred eighty days after the conclusion of the pilot phase, the department shall issue a report to hospitals assessing the overall accuracy of the data submitted in the pilot phase and provide guidance for improving the accuracy of hospital acquired infection reporting. The department shall issue a report to the governor and the legislature assessing the overall completeness and accuracy of the data submitted by hospitals during the pilot phase and make recommendations for the improvement or modification of hospital acquired infection data reporting based on the pilot phase as well as share lessons learned in prevention of hospital acquired infections. No hospital identifiable data shall be included in the pilot phase report, but aggregate or otherwise de-identified data may be included.

(iv) After the pilot phase is completed, all data submitted under this section and compiled in the statewide hospital acquired infection database established herein and all public reports derived therefrom shall include hospital identifiers.

6. Subject to subdivision five of this section, a summary table, in a format designed to be easily understood by lay consumers, that includes individual facility hospital acquired infection rates adjusted for potential differences in risk factors and comparisons with regional and/or state averages shall be developed and posted on the department's web site. The commissioner shall consult with consumer and patient advocates and representatives of reporting facilities for the purpose of ensuring that such summary table report format is easily understandable by the public, and clearly and accurately portrays comparative hospital performance in the prevention and control of hospital acquired infections.

7. To assure the accuracy of the self-reported hospital acquired infection data and to assure that public reporting fairly reflects what actually is occurring in each hospital, the department shall develop and implement an audit process.

8. For the purpose of ensuring that hospitals have the resources needed for ongoing staff education and training in hospital acquired infection prevention and control, the department may make such grants to hospitals within amounts appropriated therefor.

9. Individual patient identifying information reported to the department under this section shall be subject to paragraph (j) of subdivision one of section two hundred six of this chapter. Regulations under this section shall include standards to assure the protection of patient privacy in data collected and released under this section and standards for the publication and release of data reported under this section.

5. (a) Notwithstanding sections one hundred twelve and one hundred sixty-three of the state finance law, sections one hundred forty-two and one hundred forty-three of the economic development law, or any inconsistent provision of law to the contrary, up to seven hundred fifty million dollars of the funds appropriated for this program shall be awarded, without a competitive bid or request for proposal process, for grants to health care providers, as defined in subdivision two of this section.

For the purposes of this section, the development of capacity in underserved areas shall include new construction and renovation projects in areas determined to be underserved by the department.

4. 6. The department shall provide a report on a quarterly basis to the chairs of the senate finance, assembly ways and means, and senate and assembly health committees, until such time as the department determines that the projects that receive funding pursuant to this section are substantially complete. Such reports shall be submitted no later than sixty days after the close of the quarter, and shall include, for each award, the name of the health care provider as defined in subdivision two of this section, a description of the project or purpose, the amount of the award, disbursement date, and status of achievement of process and performance metrics and milestones pursuant to subdivision five of this section.

§ 2825-i. Healthcare safety net transformation program. 1. (a) A statewide healthcare safety net transformation program shall be established within the department for the purpose of supporting the transformation of safety net hospitals to improve access, equity, quality, and outcomes while increasing the financial sustainability of safety net hospitals. Such program may provide or utilize new or existing capital funding, or operating subsidies, or both. Any application for this program must be jointly submitted by a safety net hospital and at least one partner organization.

(b) All applications shall demonstrate how the requested funding and regulatory flexibilities are necessary to achieve the program goals of improving the safety net hospital's financial outlook and improving health outcomes for the communities it serves. The commissioner shall develop an application for this program that includes but is not limited to the following information:

(i) key organizational information, including the organizational structure of the safety net hospital and partner organization (including any parent or subsidiary, and the interrelationship between all such organizations) and the name, business address, and biography of each director and officer of the safety net hospital, the partner, and other organizations within either the safety net hospital's or the partner's organizational structure;

(ii) the type of collaborative model proposed, including but not limited to a merger, acquisition, management services contract, or clinical integration;

(iii) a detailed description of the proposed transformation plan that includes, at a minimum, a five-year strategic and operational plan outlining the roles and responsibilities of the safety net hospital and partner organization;

(iv) a timeline of key metrics and goals;

(v) any regulatory flexibilities required to implement such plan, including the justification for why such flexibilities are necessary for the transformation plan to achieve an improved financial outlook for the safety net hospital and improved health outcomes for the communities it serves;

(vi) the amount of funding requested for the first five years and projected needs thereafter, including the rationale for why such funding is necessary for the transformation plan to achieve an improved financial outlook for the safety net hospital and improved health outcomes for the communities it serves; and

(vii) detailed plans for any operational surplus after reaching financial sustainability.

2. The commissioner shall enter an agreement with the president of the dormitory authority of the state of New York pursuant to section sixteen hundred eighty-r of the public authorities law, as required, which shall apply to this agreement, subject to the approval of the director of the division of the budget, for the purposes of the distribution and administration of available funds pursuant to such agreement and made available pursuant to this section and subject to appropriation. Such funds may be awarded and distributed by the department to safety net hospitals, or a partner organization, in the form of grants. To qualify as a safety net hospital for purposes of this section, a hospital shall:

(a) be either a public hospital, a rural emergency hospital, critical access hospital or sole community hospital;

(b) have at least thirty percent of its inpatient discharges made up of medical assistance program eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or medical assistance program dually eligible individuals and at least thirty-five percent of its outpatient visits made up of medical assistance program eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or medical assistance program dually-eligible individuals;

(c) serve at least thirty percent of the residents of a county or a multi-county area who are medical assistance program eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or medical assistance program dually-eligible individuals; or

(d) in the discretion of the commissioner, serve a significant population of medical assistance program eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or medical assistance program dually-eligible individuals.

3. Partner organizations may include, but are not limited to, health systems, hospitals, health plans, residential health care facilities, physician groups, community-based organization, or other healthcare entities who can serve as partners in the transformation of the safety net hospital.

4. Notwithstanding section one hundred sixty-three of the state finance law, sections one hundred forty-two and one hundred forty-three of the economic development law or any inconsistent provisions of law to the contrary, awards may be provided without a competitive bid or request for proposal process to safety net hospitals or partner organizations for purposes of increasing access, equity, quality, outcomes, and long-term financial sustainability of such safety net hospitals.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may waive regulatory requirements to allow applicants to more effectively or efficiently implement projects awarded through the healthcare safety net transformation program, provided, however, that regulations pertaining to minimum standards for hospitals for patient safety, patient autonomy, patient privacy, patient rights, quality of care, safe staffing, adverse event reporting, due process, scope of practice, professional licensure, environmental protections, infection control, provider reimbursement methodologies, character and competence, or occupational standards and employee rights shall not be waived, nor shall any regulations be waived if such waiver would risk patient safety. Such waiver shall not exceed the life of the project or such shorter time periods as the commissioner may determine. Any regulatory relief granted pursuant to this subdivision shall be specifically described and requested within each project application and be reviewed by the commissioner.

6. Continued support under the program shall be contingent upon the implementation of the approved plan and key milestones.

7. The release of any funding will be contingent upon compliance with the transformation plan and a determination that acceptable progress has been made with such plan. If key milestones and goals are not met, additional financial resources may be withheld and redirected, upon the recommendation of the commissioner and approval by the director of budget.

8. The commissioner shall provide a report on an annual basis to the speaker of the assembly, the temporary president of the senate, the chair of the assembly ways and means committee, the chair of the senate finance committee, and the director of the division of budget, on any transformation plan approved under this section, including information on partnership agreements, and any amendments thereto. The report shall also include for each award, the name of the hospital and partner, the corporate structure of any partner organization, a description of the project and its purpose, the amount of the award and the disbursement date, the regulations waived for each project and the justification for such waiver, and the status of achievement of performance metrics and milestones. Such report shall be provided until such time as the department determines that the projects that receive funding pursuant to this section are substantially complete.

§ 2826. Temporary adjustment to reimbursement rates. (a)

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, within funds appropriated and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, the commissioner may grant approval of a temporary adjustment to the non-capital components of rates, or make temporary lump-sum Medicaid payments, to eligible general hospitals, skilled nursing facilities, clinics and home care providers, provided however, that should federal financial participation not be available for any eligible provider, then payments pursuant to this subdivision may be made as grants and shall not be deemed to be medical assistance payments.

(b) Eligible providers shall include:

- (i) providers undergoing closure;
- (ii) providers impacted by the closure of other health care providers;
- (iii) providers subject to mergers, acquisitions, consolidations or restructuring; or
- (iv) providers impacted by the merger, acquisition, consolidation or restructuring of other health care providers.

(c) Providers seeking temporary rate adjustments under this section shall demonstrate through submission of a written proposal to the commissioner that the additional resources provided by a temporary rate adjustment will achieve one or more of the following:

- (i) protect or enhance access to care;
- (ii) protect or enhance quality of care;
- (iii) improve the cost effectiveness of the delivery of health care services; or
- (iv) otherwise protect or enhance the health care delivery system, as determined by the commissioner.

(c-1) The commissioner, under applications submitted to the department pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section, shall consider criteria that includes, but is not limited to:

- (i) Such applicant's financial condition as evidenced by operating margins, negative fund balance or negative equity position;
- (ii) The extent to which such applicant fulfills or will fulfill an unmet health care need for acute inpatient, outpatient, primary or residential health care services in a community;
- (iii) The extent to which such application will involve savings to the Medicaid program;
- (iv) The quality of the application as evidenced by such application's long term solutions for such applicant to achieve sustainable health care services, improving the quality of patient care, and/or transforming the delivery of health care services to meet community needs;
- (v) The extent to which such applicant is geographically isolated in relation to other providers; or

(vi) The extent to which such applicant provides services to an underserved area in relation to other providers.

(d) (i) Such written proposal shall be submitted to the commissioner at least sixty days prior to the requested effective date of the temporary rate adjustment, and shall include a proposed budget to achieve the goals of the proposal. Any Medicaid payment issued pursuant to this section shall be in effect for a specified period of time as determined by the commissioner, of up to three years. At the end of the specified timeframe such payments or adjustments to the non-capital component of rates shall cease, and the provider shall be reimbursed in accordance with the otherwise applicable rate-setting methodology as set forth in applicable statutes and regulations. The commissioner may establish, as a condition of receiving such temporary rate adjustments or grants, benchmarks and goals to be achieved in conformity with the provider's written proposal as approved by the commissioner and may also require that the facility submit such periodic reports concerning the achievement of such benchmarks and goals as the commissioner deems necessary. Failure to achieve satisfactory progress, as determined by the commissioner, in accomplishing such benchmarks and goals shall be a basis for ending the facility's temporary rate adjustment or grant prior to the end of the specified timeframe. (ii) The commissioner may require that applications submitted pursuant to this section be submitted in response to and in accordance with a Request For Applications or a Request For Proposals issued by the commissioner.

(e) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, general hospitals defined as critical access hospitals pursuant to title XVIII of the federal social security act shall be allocated no less than seven million five hundred thousand dollars annually pursuant to this section. The department of health shall provide a report to the governor and legislature no later than June first, two thousand fifteen providing recommendations on how to ensure the financial stability of, and preserve patient access to, critical access hospitals, including an examination of permanent Medicaid rate methodology changes.

(e-1) Thirty days prior to executing an allocation or modification to an allocation made pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall provide written notice to the chair of the senate finance committee and the chair of the assembly ways and means committee with regards to the intent to distribute such funds. Such notice shall include, but not be limited to, information on the methodology used to distribute the funds, the facility specific allocations of the funds, any facility specific project descriptions or requirements for receiving such funds, the multi-year impacts of these allocations, and the availability of federal matching funds. The commissioner shall provide quarterly reports to the chair of the senate finance committee and the chair of the assembly ways and means committee on the distribution and disbursement of such funds. Within sixty days of the effectiveness of this subdivision, the commissioner shall provide a written report to the chair of the senate finance committee and the chair of the assembly ways and means committee on all awards made pursuant to this section prior to the effectiveness of this subdivision, including all information that is required to be included in the notice requirements of this subdivision.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, and subject to federal financial participation, no less than ten million dollars shall be allocated to providers described in this subdivision; provided, however that if federal financial participation is unavailable for any eligible provider, or for any potential investment under this subdivision then the non-federal share of payments pursuant to this subdivision may be made as state grants.

(i) Providers serving rural areas as such term is defined in section two thousand nine hundred fifty-one of this chapter, including but not limited to hospitals, residential health care facilities, diagnostic and treatment centers, ambulatory surgery centers and clinics shall be eligible for enhanced payments or reimbursement under a supplemental rate methodology for the purpose of promoting access and improving the quality of care.

(ii) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, and subject to federal financial participation, essential community providers, which, for the purposes of this section, shall mean a provider that offers health services within a defined and isolated geographic region where such services would otherwise be unavailable to the population of such region, shall be eligible for enhanced payments or reimbursement under a supplemental rate methodology for the purpose of promoting access and improving quality of care. Eligible providers under this paragraph may include, but are not limited to, hospitals, residential health care facilities, diagnostic and treatment centers, ambulatory surgery centers and clinics.

(iii) In making such payments the commissioner may contemplate the extent to which any such provider receives assistance under subdivision (a) of this section and may require such provider to submit a written proposal demonstrating that the need for monies under this subdivision exceeds monies otherwise distributed pursuant to this section.

(iv) Payments under this subdivision may include, but not be limited to, temporary rate adjustments, lump sum Medicaid payments, supplemental rate methodologies and any other payments as determined by the commissioner.

(v) Payments under this subdivision shall be subject to approval by the director of the budget.

(vi) The commissioner may promulgate regulations to effectuate the provisions of this subdivision.

(vii) Thirty days prior to adopting or applying a methodology or procedure for making an allocation or modification to an allocation made pursuant to this subdivision, the commissioner shall provide written notice to the chairs of the senate finance committee, the assembly ways and means committee, and the senate and assembly health committees with regard to the intent to adopt or apply the methodology or procedure, including a detailed explanation of the methodology or procedure.

(viii) Thirty days prior to executing an allocation or modification to an allocation made pursuant to this subdivision, the commissioner shall provide written notice to the chairs of the senate finance committee, the assembly ways and means committee, and the senate and assembly health committees with regard to the intent to distribute such funds. Such notice shall include, but not be limited to, information on the methodology used to distribute the funds, the facility specific allocations of the funds, any facility specific project descriptions or requirements for receiving such funds, the multi-year impacts of these allocations, and the availability of federal matching funds. The commissioner shall provide quarterly reports to the chair of the senate finance committee and the chair of the assembly ways and means committee on the distribution and disbursement of such funds.

(g) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) of this section, and within amounts appropriated for such purposes as described herein, the commissioner may award a temporary adjustment to the non-capital components of rates, or make temporary lump-sum Medicaid payments to eligible facilities with serious financial instability and requiring extraordinary financial assistance to enable such facilities to maintain operations and vital services while such facilities establish long term solutions to achieve sustainable health services. Provided, however, the commissioner is authorized to make such a temporary adjustment or make such temporary lump sum payment only pursuant to criteria, an application, and an evaluation process acceptable to the commissioner in consultation with the director of the division of the budget. The department shall publish on its website the criteria, application, and evaluation process and notification of any award recipients.

(i) Eligible facilities shall include:

(A) a public hospital, which for purposes of this subdivision, shall mean a general hospital operated by a county, municipality or a public benefit corporation;

(B) a federally designated critical access hospital;

(C) a federally designated sole community hospital;

(D) a residential health care facility;

(E) a general hospital that is a safety net hospital, which for purpose of this subdivision shall mean:

(1) such hospital has at least thirty percent of its inpatient discharges made up of Medicaid eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or Medicaid dually eligible individuals and with at least thirty-five percent of its outpatient visits made up of Medicaid eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or Medicaid dually-eligible individuals; or

(2) such hospital serves at least thirty percent of the residents of a county or a multi-county area who are Medicaid eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or Medicaid dually-eligible individuals; or

(3) such hospital that, in the discretion of the commissioner, serves a significant population of Medicaid eligible individuals, uninsured individuals or Medicaid dually-eligible individuals; or

(F) an independent practice association or accountable care organization authorized under applicable regulations that participate in managed care provider network arrangements with any of the provider types in subparagraphs (A) through (F) of this paragraph; or an entity that was formed as a preferred provider system pursuant to the delivery system reform incentive payment (DSRIP) program and collaborated with an independent practice association that received VBP innovator status from the department for purposes of meeting DSRIP goals, and which preferred provider system remains operational as an integrated care system.

(ii) Eligible applicants must demonstrate that without such award, they will be in serious financial instability, as evidenced by:

(A) certification that such applicant has less than fifteen days cash and equivalents;

(B) such applicant has no assets that can be monetized other than those vital to operations; and

(C) such applicant has exhausted all efforts to obtain resources from corporate parents and affiliated entities to sustain operations.

(iii) Awards under this subdivision shall be made upon application to the department.

(A) Eligible applicants shall submit a completed application to the department.

(B) The department may authorize initial award payments to eligible applicants based solely on the criteria pursuant to paragraphs (i) and (ii) of this subdivision.

(C) Notwithstanding subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, the department may suspend or repeal an award if an eligible applicant fails to submit a multi-year transformation plan pursuant to subparagraph (A) of this paragraph that is acceptable to the department by no later than the thirtieth day of September two thousand fifteen.

(D) Applicants under this subdivision shall detail the extent to which the affected community has been engaged and consulted on potential projects of such application, as well as any outreach to stakeholders and health plans.

(E) The department shall review all applications under this subdivision, and determine:

(1) applicant eligibility;

(2) each applicant's projected financial status;

(3) criteria or requirements upon which an award of funds shall be conditioned, such as a transformation plan, savings plan or quality improvement plan. In the event the department requires an applicant to enter into an agreement or contract with a vendor or contractor, the department shall approve the selected vendor or contractor but shall not specify the vendor or contractor that the applicant must utilize; and

(4) the anticipated impact of the loss of such services.

(F) After review of all applications under this subdivision, and a determination of the aggregate amount of requested funds, the department may make awards to eligible applicants; provided, however, that such awards may be in an amount lower than such requested funding, on a per applicant or aggregate basis.

(iv) Awards under this subdivision may not be used for:

(A) capital expenditures, including, but not limited to: construction, renovation and acquisition of capital equipment, including major medical equipment; or

(B) bankruptcy-related costs.

(v) Payments made to awardees pursuant to this subdivision that are made on a monthly basis will be based on the applicant's actual monthly financial performance during such period and the reasonable cash amount necessary to sustain operations for the following month. The applicant's monthly financial performance shall be measured by such applicant's monthly financial and activity reports, which shall include, but not be limited to, actual revenue and expenses for the prior month, projected cash need for the current month, and projected cash need for the following month.

(vi) The department shall provide a report on a quarterly basis to the chairs of the senate finance, assembly ways and means, senate health and assembly health committees. Such reports shall be submitted no later than sixty days after the close of the quarter, and shall include for each award, the name of the applicant, the amount of the award, payments to date, and a description of the status of the multi-year transformation plan pursuant to paragraph (iii) of this subdivision.

food offerings shall include the availability of a plant-based food option. The plant-based food option shall be offered at no additional cost to the patient beyond what would be charged for a comparable non-plant-based food option.

2. The hospital shall respond in a reasonable manner and time to any request made under this section. The request shall be effective for every hospital meal or snack in which the patient is reasonably expected to participate. This section does not preclude the offering of plant-based food options to patients who have not requested it, and does not preclude an individual who has requested a plant-based food option from selecting a non-plant-based food option.

3. As used in this section:

(a) "Plant-based food option" means a food or beverage that is free of animal products and that has nutritional value comparable to the non-plant-based food option that it replaces.

(b) "Animal product" means meat, poultry, seafood, dairy, eggs, honey, and any derivative thereof.

4. This section shall not apply to patient nutritional support products including, but not limited to, infant formulas, nutritional modulars, oral nutritional supplements, enteral nutrition formulas, and parenteral or intravenous nutrition, prescribed or ordered by a health care professional, licensed, certified or otherwise authorized to practice under title eight of the education law, acting within the professional's lawful scope of practice. However, where a request is made under subdivision one of this section, and a health care professional is considering prescribing or ordering a patient nutritional support product under this subdivision, the health care professional shall consider and advise the requester whether a medically suitable plant-based food option is reasonably available.

 § 2828. Residential health care facilities; minimum direct resident care spending. 1. (a) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the department shall promulgate regulations governing the disposition of revenue in excess of expenses for residential health care facilities consistent with this section. Beginning on and after January first, two thousand twenty-two, every residential health care facility shall spend a minimum of seventy percent of revenue on direct resident care, and forty percent of revenue shall be spent on resident-facing staffing, provided that amounts spent on resident-facing staffing shall be included as a part of amounts spent on direct resident care.

(b) Fifteen percent of costs associated with resident-facing staffing contracted out by a facility for services provided by registered professional nurses or licensed practical nurses licensed pursuant to article one hundred thirty-nine of the education law or certified nurse aides who have completed certification and training approved by the department shall be deducted from the calculation of the amount spent on resident-facing staffing and direct resident care.

(c) (i) Except as provided in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph, such regulations shall further include at a minimum that any residential health care facility for which total operating revenue exceeds total operating and non-operating expenses by more than five percent of total operating and non-operating expenses or that fails to spend the minimum amount necessary to comply with the minimum spending standards for resident-facing staffing or direct resident care, calculated on an annual basis, or for the year two thousand twenty-two, on a pro-rata basis for only that portion of the year during which the failure of a residential health care facility to spend a minimum of seventy percent of revenue on direct resident care, and forty percent of revenue on resident-facing staffing, may be held to be a violation of this chapter, shall remit such excess revenue, or the difference between the minimum spending requirement and the actual amount of spending on resident-facing staffing or direct care staffing, as the case may be, to the state, with such excess revenue which shall be payable, in a manner to be determined by such regulations, by November first in the year following the year in which the expenses are incurred. The department shall collect such payments by methods including, but not limited to, bringing suit in a court of competent jurisdiction on its own behalf after giving notice of such suit to the attorney general, deductions or offsets from payments made pursuant to the Medicaid program, and shall deposit such recouped funds into the nursing home quality pool, as set forth in paragraph (d) of subdivision two-c of section twenty-eight hundred eight of this article. Provided further that such payments of excess revenue shall be in addition to and shall not affect a residential health care facility's obligations to make any other payments required by state or federal law into the nursing home quality pool, including but not limited to medicaid rate reductions required pursuant to paragraph (g) of subdivision two-c of section twenty-eight hundred eight of this article and department regulations promulgated pursuant thereto. The commissioner or their designees shall have authority to audit the residential health care facilities' reports for compliance in accordance with this section.

(ii) Notwithstanding the requirements prescribed by subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, the provisions of a demonstration project established pursuant to a chapter of the laws of two thousand twenty-three that amended this subparagraph shall apply to those residential health care facilities who qualify for such demonstration project.

2. For the purposes of this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Revenue" shall mean the total operating revenue from or on behalf of residents of the residential health care facility, government payers, or third-party payers, to pay for a resident's occupancy of the residential health care facility, resident care, and the operation of the residential health care facility as reported in the residential health care facility cost reports submitted to the department; provided, however, that revenue shall exclude:

(i) the capital portion of the Medicaid reimbursement rate;

(ii) funding received as reimbursement for the assessment under subparagraph (vi) of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section twenty-eight hundred seven-d of this article, as reconciled pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision ten of section twenty-eight hundred seven-d of this article; and

(iii) any grant funds from the federal government for reimbursement of COVID-19 pandemic-related expenses, including but not limited to funds received from the federal emergency management agency or health resources and services administration.

(b) "Expenses" shall include all operating and non-operating expenses, before extraordinary gains, reported in cost reports submitted pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred five-e of this article, except as expressly excluded by regulations and/or this section. Such exclusions shall include, but not be limited to, any related party transaction or compensation to the extent that the value of such transaction is greater than fair market value, and the payment of compensation for employees who are not actively engaged in or providing services at the facility.

(3) The estimated revenue of the project will be sufficient to cover all probable costs of operation and maintenance, of fixed charges and such reserves as may be authorized by the commissioner or required by the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be;

(4) Provision has been made for the purpose of providing for the payment of the difference, if any, between the estimated project cost and the loan; and in the event the final project cost shall exceed the estimated project cost, the difference between such final project cost and the loan;

(5) Provision has been made for the filing by the company with the commissioner and the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, of such financial statements including an annual report setting forth such information as the commissioner may require; and

(6) Provision has been made for the examination by the commissioner and the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, of the books and records of the company.

§ 2860. Rental rates and selection of occupants. 1. A company shall, with the approval of the commissioner, fix maximum rates to be charged occupants of each nursing home project for the facilities and services provided by the company to such occupants and the maximum rates to be charged to persons of low income who are not occupants of the project for the nursing care and health-related service, or either of them, provided by the company to such persons, the average of such rates for any one project not to exceed the maximum average rates determined by the commissioner before any commitments are made by the company for the construction of the project. The commissioner upon his own motion, or upon application by the company or lienholder may vary the amount of such charge from time to time so as to secure, together with all other income of the company, sufficient income to meet, within reasonable limits, all necessary payments by the said company of all expenses, including fixed charges, sinking funds and reserves.

2. The facilities and services provided by the company to occupants shall be available for persons of low income, whose probable aggregate annual income at the time of admission and during the period of occupancy does not exceed two times the annual charges to be paid by such persons. Nursing care and health-related service, or either of them, shall be available to persons of low income who are not occupants of the project whose probable annual income does not exceed two times the average annual charge made to occupants of the project. The commissioner may make rules and regulations relating to the allocation of the income of a family among the members thereof for the purpose of determining the income attributable to any one person for the purpose of this subdivision.

§ 2861. Transfer of real property. Notwithstanding any requirement of law to the contrary or any provision of any general, special or local law, charter or ordinance, every executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or other person holding trust funds or acting in a fiduciary capacity, unless the instrument under which such fiduciary is acting expressly forbids, and the state, its subdivisions, municipalities, all other public bodies, all public officers, persons, partnerships and corporations owning or holding any real property, may grant, sell, lease or otherwise transfer any such real property or interest therein to a nursing home company and receive and hold any cash, exchanged therefor by such company and may execute such instruments and do such acts as may be deemed necessary or desirable by them or it and by the company in connection with a project or projects and such sale, lease or transfer may be made without public auction or bidding; provided, however, that where such real property is within an urban renewal area, the disposition thereof shall be in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section five hundred seven of the general municipal law.

§ 2862. Supervision and regulation. 1. The commissioner may from time to time make, alter, amend and repeal rules and regulations for the supervision, examination, regulation and audit of nursing home companies and for carrying into effect the provisions and purposes of this article, and each company shall submit an annual report of its operations to the commissioner and the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, who may examine and audit the books and records of the company at any time.

2. The commissioner and the department of health shall have power to act for and in behalf of the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, in servicing the nursing home mortgage loans of such agency, and to perform such functions and services in connection with the making, servicing and collection of such loans as shall be requested by such agency.

3. (a) The commissioner and the department may, with respect to any nursing home project of which the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, has acquired the fee or otherwise, enter into an agreement with said agency subject to the approval of the director of the budget, for the department, as provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, to operate the said project in a manner consistent with the purposes of this article. In such event, the commissioner, on behalf of the department, shall have the power to use any available funds to pay all operating expenses and to comply with all the terms and provisions of the mortgage, if any, as though the mortgage had not been foreclosed, or any other applicable agreement and to comply with the provisions of this article.

(b) Subject to the provisions of the agreement with said agency, the commissioner may contract with any person, firm or corporation which he deems qualified to operate and manage such project and to perform such duties and functions as he may deem necessary.

4. Whenever the commissioner shall be of the opinion that a company is failing or omitting, or is about to fail or omit to do anything required of it by law or by order of the commissioner and is doing or is about to do anything, or permitting anything, or is about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of law or of any order of the commissioner, or which is improvident or prejudicial to the interest of the public, the lienholders, the shareholders, or the occupants, the commissioner may, in addition to such other remedies as may be available, commence an action or proceeding in the supreme court of the state of New York in the name of the commissioner, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, and in such action or proceeding, the court may appoint a temporary or permanent receiver or both. Such action or proceeding shall be commenced by a petition to the supreme court, alleging the violation complained of and praying for appropriate relief. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify the time, not exceeding twenty days after service of a copy of the petition, within which the company complained of must answer the petition. In case of any default or after answer the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct in the interest of substantial justice without other or formal pleading. Such other persons or corporations as it shall seem to the court necessary or proper to join as parties in order to make its order or judgment effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that an order or an injunction, or both, issue, or provide for the appointment of a receiver as prayed for in the petition, or grant such other relief as the court may deem appropriate.

§ 2863. Payment out of earnings of limited-profit nursing home companies. There shall be paid annually out of the earnings of the limited-profit nursing home company, after providing for all taxes, assessments and expenses, a sum for interest on an amortization of the mortgage indebtedness of all mortgages of the company, depreciation charges and reserves if, when and to the extent deemed necessary by the commissioner, plus a dividend of six per centum on outstanding shares and interest not exceeding six per centum on the outstanding debentures of the company; the obligation in respect to such payments shall be cumulative, and any deficiency in interest, amortization, depreciation, reserves, if any, and dividends in any year shall be paid either from any cash surplus derived from earnings remaining in the treasury of such company in excess of the amount necessary to provide such cumulative annual sums or from the first available earnings in subsequent years. If, at the end of any three year period, the gross receipts should exceed the payments or charges necessary for the purposes of the project or projects and are not needed for a sinking fund, reserves or other purposes, the balance may be paid in further reduction of any indebtedness to the extent and upon terms and conditions approved by the commissioner. A sinking fund may be authorized by the commissioner to purchase and retire debentures or shares of the company at a price approved by the commissioner not exceeding par value thereof with accrued or unpaid dividends or interest or, if it is not practical to purchase such shares or debentures at a price so approved, the money in such sinking fund may be added to the surplus of such company. Any shares or debentures purchased out of such sinking fund shall be cancelled and shall not be reissued.

§ 2864. Tax exemptions of limited-profit nursing home companies. The real property in a project of a limited-profit nursing home company shall be exempt from all local and municipal taxes, other than assessments for local improvements, to the extent of the value of the property included in any such project as represents an increase over the assessed valuation of the real property, both land and improvements, acquired for the project on the date of its acquisition by the limited-profit nursing home company. The tax exemption shall operate and continue so long as the mortgage loan by the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, to the limited-profit nursing home company is outstanding but in no event for a period of more than thirty years, commencing in each instance from the date when the limited-profit nursing home company first acquired such property. If a project qualifying for a tax exemption pursuant to this section is sold, with the approval of the commissioner, to another limited-profit nursing home company, such successor company shall be entitled to all the benefits granted by this section. In the event that such sale is to a non-profit nursing home company, such successor company shall be entitled to all the benefits provided by section four hundred twenty-two of the real property tax law. Local and municipal taxes, for the purposes of this section, shall mean taxes levied by a county, city, village, town, school and special district but shall not include assessments for local improvements.

§ 2865. Voluntary dissolution. 1. At any time after the expiration of twenty years after the occupancy date, or such earlier date as the bonds issued by the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, with respect to the project are subject to redemption, a company may be voluntarily dissolved, with the consent of the commissioner, upon repayment in full of all obligations under the mortgage and payment of all obligations of the company, as approved by the commissioner.

2. Upon such dissolution, title of the project of a limited-profit nursing home company may be conveyed in fee to the owner or owners of its shares or to any other entity authorized by law designated by it or them for the purpose, provided, however, that prior to any such dissolution and conveyance, payment shall be made of all current operating expenses, taxes, indebtedness and all accrued interest thereon and the par value of and accrued dividends on the outstanding shares of such company, if any. After such dissolution and conveyance, or such reconstitution, the provisions of this article shall become and be inapplicable to any such project and any tax exemption granted with respect to such project pursuant to this article shall cease and terminate.

§ 2866. Foreclosures and judgments. 1. In any foreclosure action the commissioner shall be made a party defendant. He shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public therein and no costs shall be awarded against him. Foreclosures shall not be decreed unless the court to which application is made shall be satisfied that the interests of the lienholder or holders cannot be adequately assured except by the sale of the property. In any such proceeding, the court shall be authorized to appoint the commissioner as receiver of the property, or to grant such other and further relief as may be reasonable and proper.

2. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, wherever it shall appear that the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency shall have loaned on a mortgage which is a lien upon any such property, such New York state housing finance agency or New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be, shall have all the remedies available to a mortgagee under the laws of the state of New York, free from any restrictions contained in this section, except that the commissioner shall be made a party defendant and that the commissioner shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public and no costs shall be awarded against him.

3. In the event of a judgment against a company in any action not pertaining to the collection of a mortgage indebtedness, there shall be no sale of any of the real property of such company except upon sixty days' written notice to the commissioner and the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, as the case may be. Upon receipt of such notice the commissioner and the agency shall take such steps as in its judgment may be necessary to protect the rights of all parties.

§ 2868. Fees and charges. The commissioner may by regulation establish and charge to any nursing home company, for the period of occupancy date to mortgage discharge, a fee for inspection, regulation, supervision and audit not to annually exceed two-tenths of one percent of the mortgage loan to recover the departmental costs in performing these functions in relation to any nursing home project financed or refinanced by a loan made under this article prior to April first, two thousand fourteen. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such fee shall be charged or payable pursuant to this section with respect to a nursing home project financed or refinanced with bonds issued on or after April first, two thousand fourteen.

§ 2869. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 2870. Short title. This article shall be known, and may be cited and referred to as the "hospital loan construction law".

§ 2871. Policy and purposes of article. Many hospitals and other health facilities throughout the state are becoming obsolete and are no longer adequate to meet the needs of modern medicine. As a result of rapid technological changes, such facilities require substantial structural or functional changes. Others are unsuited for continued use by virtue of their location and the physical characteristics of their existing plants and should be replaced. Such inadequate and outmoded facilities deny to the people of the state the benefits of health care of the highest quality, efficiently and promptly provided at a reasonable cost. Their replacement and modernization is essential to protect and prolong the lives of the state's population and cannot readily be accomplished by the ordinary unaided operation of private enterprise.

It is the purpose of this article to encourage the timely construction and modernization, including the equipment, of hospital and other health facilities, which are necessary for the diagnosis or treatment of human disease, pain, injury, disability, deformity or physical condition, and of facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto, with mortgage loan participation by the New York state housing finance agency, all in furtherance of article seventeen of the constitution. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the state to encourage the provision of modern, well-equipped health facilities, and such provision is hereby declared to be a public use and purpose.

§ 2872. Definitions. As used in this article, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context:

1. "Commissioner". The commissioner of health of the state of New York.

2. "Agency". The New York state housing finance agency created by article three of the private housing finance law or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency created by the New York state medical care facilities finance agency act.

3. "Eligible borrower". "Hospital corporation". A non-profit hospital corporation organized under the laws of this state, or a non-profit medical corporation organized under and governed by article forty-four of this chapter, which has entered into a regulatory agreement in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-eight hundred seventy-three of this article.

3-a. "Secured hospital project bonds" shall mean outstanding bonds issued on behalf of a not-for-profit hospital corporation organized under the laws of this state, which hospital has previously been designated by the commissioner and the public health council to be eligible to receive distributions from the reimbursement pools established pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision nine of section twenty-eight hundred seven-a of this chapter, or any successor pool or pools established to serve a substantially similar purpose to such pools.

4. "Project". "Hospital project". A specific work or improvement, including lands, buildings, improvements, fixtures and articles of personal property, acquired, constructed, rehabilitated, owned and operated by an eligible borrower pursuant to this article, to provide hospital or other facilities for the prevention, diagnosis or treatment of human disease, pain, injury, disability, deformity or physical condition, and for facilities incidental or appurtenant thereto. "Project" and "Hospital project" shall also mean the refinancing of existing indebtedness which constitutes a lien or other encumbrance upon the real property or assets of the eligible borrower whether or not such refinancing is related to the construction, acquisition or rehabilitation of a specific work or improvement. The term "project" or "hospital project" as used in this subdivision shall also mean a separate work or improvement, including lands, buildings, fixtures and personal property related thereto owned and operated by an eligible borrower to provide such services, functions, capabilities and facilities as may be convenient or desirable for the operation of a hospital or other such facility.

5. "Project cost". "Hospital project cost". The sum total of all costs incurred by an eligible borrower as approved by the commissioner as reasonable and necessary for carrying out all works and undertakings and providing all necessary equipment for the development of a project less any portion of any state, federal or municipal assistance grant as the commissioner shall, prior to the making of a loan by the agency to an eligible borrower, determine to be available to reimburse the eligible borrower for the payment of such project costs prior to the initial occupancy of the project. These shall include but are not necessarily limited to the carrying charges during construction or rehabilitation up to and including the occupancy date, working capital not exceeding three per centum of the estimated total cost or three per centum, of the actual total final cost, whichever is larger, the cost of all necessary studies, surveys, plans and specifications, architectural, engineering, legal or other special services, the cost of acquisition of land and any buildings and improvements thereon, site preparation and development, construction, reconstruction and equipment, including fixtures, equipment, and articles of personal property required, the reasonable cost of financing incurred by an eligible borrower in the course of the development of the project, up to and including the occupancy date, the fees imposed by the commissioner and by the agency; other fees charged, and necessary expenses incurred in connection with the initial occupancy of the project, and the cost of such other items as the commissioner may determine to be reasonable and necessary for the development of a project, less any and all rents and other net revenues from the operation of the real property, improvements or personal property on the project site, or any part thereof, by an eligible borrower on and after the date on which the contract between an eligible borrower and the agency was entered into and prior to the occupancy date. The definition contained in this subdivision shall also include all costs relating to the refinancing of existing indebtedness which constitutes a lien or other encumbrance upon the real property or assets of the eligible borrower provided that the amount of the indebtedness to be so refinanced has been found by the commissioner to be reasonable.

6. "Occupancy date". The date defined in the document providing for a loan between an eligible borrower and the agency.

7. "Loan". As used in this article, a loan shall mean either a mortgage loan or a project loan, each as defined in the New York state medical facilities finance agency act, made by the agency to an eligible borrower, as defined in the New York state medical facilities finance agency act.

§ 2873. Regulation of eligible borrowers. 1. Every eligible borrower, as a condition precedent to borrowing funds from the agency, shall enter into a regulatory agreement with the commissioner which shall provide:

(a) that the real property or other assets mortgaged or otherwise pledged to the agency shall not be sold, leased, transferred, encumbered or assigned without the prior consent of the commissioner until the eligible borrower shall have repaid in full all obligations due to the agency and has paid such other obligations as may be required by the commissioner provided, however, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any actions taken pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred seventy-nine of this article;

(b) that the eligible borrower will maintain books and records and a system of accounts satisfactory to the commissioner and the agency including but not limited to separate books, records and accounts for (i) all monies advanced to the eligible borrower by the agency or from any other source or sources, public or private, for the construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, improvement or equipment of the project and (ii) all monies repaid in satisfaction of any indebtedness to the agency or other indebtedness as required by the commissioner; and the eligible borrower agrees that all of its books, records and accounts shall be open to examination by the commissioner and the agency at any time;

(c) that the eligible borrower shall file with the commissioner and the agency such financial statements including an annual report setting forth such information as the commissioner may require;

(d) that the eligible borrower shall not acquire any real property or interest therein for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, rehabilitating or improving a hospital project without first having obtained from the commissioner a certificate that such acquisition is consistent with the purposes of this article;

(e) that the eligible borrower shall not issue notes, bonds, debentures or other obligations other than for money or property actually received for the use and lawful purposes of the eligible borrower and no such note, bond, debenture or other obligation shall constitute a lien or encumbrance against the project, or any real property or other asset mortgaged or otherwise pledged to the agency, provided, however, that a hospital constituting an eligible borrower may incur, assume or guarantee indebtedness from a lender other than the New York state medical care facilities finance agency or incur or assume indebtedness from the New York state medical care facilities finance agency under a separate bond resolution pursuant to the provisions of section five-c of the New York state medical care facilities finance agency act;

(f) that the eligible borrower shall not without first having obtained the written consent of the commissioner:

(i) construct, reconstruct, rehabilitate, improve, alter or repair the project or enter into a contract therefor;

(ii) enter into contracts relating to the management or operation of the project;

(iii) make a guaranty of payment out of monies pledged to the agency or pledge any or all of its assets, income or revenue pledged to the agency to secure payment of its obligations;

(iv) voluntarily dissolve;

(g) that no member, officer or employee of the corporation which is an eligible borrower shall acquire any interest, direct or indirect, in any property then or thereafter included or planned to be included in a project, nor retain any interest direct or indirect in any property acquired subsequent to his appointment or employment which is later included or planned to be included in a project. If any member, officer or employee of a corporation which is an eligible borrower owns or controls an interest, direct or indirect, in any property included in a project which was acquired prior to his appointment or employment, he shall disclose such interest and the date of acquisition to the corporation and such disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of such corporation and a copy of such minutes shall be forwarded to the commissioner;

(h) that all income and earnings of the eligible borrower shall be used exclusively for its corporate purposes;

(i) that no part of the net income or earnings of the corporation shall inure to the benefit or profit of any private individual, firm or corporation;

(j) such other matters as the commissioner or the agency may require.

2. This regulatory agreement shall terminate at any time after the expiration of twenty years after the occupancy date, or such earlier date as the bonds issued by the agency with respect to the hospital project are subject to redemption, upon the consent of the commissioner and upon the repayment in full of all obligations due to the agency and of such other obligations as the commissioner may require.

§ 2874. Loans. 1. Any eligible borrower may, subject to the approval of the commissioner, borrow funds from the agency and the repayment thereof may be secured by bond or note and mortgage or other agreement which shall contain such terms and conditions as may be deemed necessary or desirable by the agency or required by any agreement between the agency and the holders of its notes and bonds, including the right to assignment of rates and charges and entry into possession in case of default, but the operation of such project, in the event of such entry, shall be subject to regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

2. The agency may make contracts to make loans to an eligible borrower in an amount not to exceed the total project cost. Any such loan which constitutes a mortgage loan as defined in the New York state medical care facilities finance agency act shall be secured by a first mortgage lien upon all the real property and improvements of which the project consists and upon all personal property attached to or used in connection with the operation of the project. In the case of a mortgage loan in an amount greater than ninety per centum of the total project cost, the commissioner may, in his discretion, require satisfactory independent guarantees that the loan will be repaid according to the terms of the bond or note and mortgage of the eligible borrower. Any mortgage loan may be further secured by such a lien upon other real property owned by the eligible borrower. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision or any other provision of this article to the contrary, any personal property may be excluded from the lien of the mortgage securing such a mortgage loan, provided (a) the commissioner finds that such property is not essential for the rendition of required hospital services as such term is defined in article twenty-eight of this chapter, and (b) the agency consents to such exclusion.

3. In connection with assistance grants which are made by the state, federal government or a municipality to reimburse the eligible borrower for project costs which have been paid for by such eligible borrower from the proceeds of a loan or such other funds which are legally made available to the eligible borrower, the eligible borrower shall hold and apply such assistance grants in accordance with the requirements of the commissioner and the agency.

4. Any inconsistent provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, mortgages of an eligible borrower shall be exempt from the mortgage recording taxes imposed by article eleven of the tax law.

5. The dormitory authority of the state of New York and the New York state urban development corporation are each hereby authorized to issue bonds in one or more series pursuant to article 5-C or article 5-F of the state finance law for the purpose of refunding outstanding secured hospital project bonds, as defined in subdivision three-a of section twenty-eight hundred seventy-two of this article, and to finance one or more related debt service reserve funds and to pay costs of issuance attributable to such refunding bonds.

 § 2874-a. Mortgage loans to eligible secured hospital borrowers.

Except as specified herein, eligible secured hospital borrowers shall be subject to all of the requirements to which eligible borrowers are subject under this article. Mortgage loans to eligible secured hospital borrowers shall be subject to the following criteria:

1. The medical care facilities finance agency shall not make a mortgage loan to eligible secured hospital borrowers unless the commissioner has recommended the project based on public need, the hospital discloses the financial resources available to it, and the hospital complies with the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter. In considering the financial resources available to support a project, the commissioner shall take into account programs designed to offset eligible secured hospital borrowers' past and current unmet bad debt and charity care losses.

2. A mortgage loan to an eligible secured hospital borrower made by the medical care facilities finance agency shall not exceed an amount equal to one hundred percent of the total project costs, which costs shall include all costs associated with the refinancing of indebtedness attributable to unmet bad debt and charity care losses. To ensure the timely repayment of the principal and interest due on the indebtedness relating to such refinancings, the commissioner may authorize reimbursement to eligible secured hospital borrowers for capital related expenses including but not limited to depreciation, rentals and interest on capital debt and may advance the payment of depreciation to such borrowers as needed.

* NB Expired December 31, 2015

§ 2875. Conditions and security for loans. No loan shall be made by the agency to an eligible borrower until the commissioner has approved the project and finds that:

1. The eligible borrower has complied with all of the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter and this article;

2. The plans and specifications conform to the requirements of all laws and regulations applicable thereto and assure adequate light, air, sanitation and fire protection and are satisfactory to him;

3. The estimated revenue of the project or from other funds of the eligible borrower pledged, assigned or otherwise to be made available to the agency will be sufficient to cover all probable costs of operation and maintenance, of fixed charges and such reserves as may be authorized by the commissioner or required by the agency;

4. Provision has been made for the purpose of providing for the payment of the difference between the estimated project cost and the loan; and in the event the final project cost shall exceed the estimated project cost, the difference between such final project cost and the loan;

5. The eligible borrower has entered into a regulatory agreement pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred seventy-three of this article.

§ 2876. Occupancy or other rates. An eligible borrower shall, with the approval of the commissioner, fix rates to be charged for occupancy or other use of each project. The commissioner upon his own motion, or upon application by the eligible borrower or lienholder may vary the amount of such charge from time to time so as to secure, together with all other income of the eligible borrower pledged, assigned or otherwise made available to the agency, sufficient income to meet, within reasonable limits, all necessary payments by the said eligible borrower of all expenses, including fixed charges, sinking funds and reserves.

§ 2877. Transfer of real property. Notwithstanding any requirement of law to the contrary or any provision of any general, special or local law, charter or ordinance, every executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or other person holding trust funds or acting in a fiduciary capacity, unless the instrument under which such fiduciary is acting expressly forbids, and the state, its subdivisions, municipalities, all other public bodies, all public officers, persons, partnerships and corporations owning or holding any real property, may grant, sell, lease or otherwise transfer any such real property or interest therein to an eligible borrower and receive and hold any cash, exchanged therefor by such an eligible borrower and may execute such instruments and do such acts as may be deemed necessary or desirable by them or it and by the eligible borrower in connection with a project or projects and such sale, lease or transfer may be made without public auction or bidding; provided, however, that where such real property is within an urban renewal area the disposition thereof shall be in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section five hundred seven of the general municipal law.

§ 2878. Supervision. 1. The commissioner may from time to time make, alter, amend and repeal rules and regulations for the supervision, examination, regulation and audit of an eligible borrower and for carrying into effect the provisions and purposes of this article, and each eligible borrower shall submit an annual report of its operations to the commissioner and the agency who may examine and audit the books and records of the eligible borrower at any time.

2. The commissioner and the department of health shall have power to act for and in behalf of the agency in servicing the hospital loans of the agency, and to perform such functions and services in connection with the making, servicing and collection of such loans as shall be requested by the agency.

3. (a) The commissioner and the department may, with respect to any hospital project of which the agency has acquired the fee or otherwise, enter into an agreement with said agency subject to the approval of the director of the budget, for the department, as provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, to operate the said project in a manner consistent with the purposes of this article. In such event, the commissioner, on behalf of the department, shall have the power to use any available funds to pay all operating expenses and to comply with all the terms and provisions of the mortgage, if any, as though the mortgage had not been foreclosed, or any other applicable agreement and to comply with the provisions of this article.

(b) Subject to the provisions of the agreement with said agency, the commissioner may contract with any person, firm or corporation which he deems qualified to operate and manage such project and to perform such duties and functions as he may deem necessary.

4. Whenever the commissioner shall be of the opinion that an eligible borrower is failing or omitting, or is about to fail or omit to do anything required of it by law or by order of the commissioner and is doing or is about to do anything, or permitting anything, or is about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of law or of any order of the commissioner, or which is improvident or prejudicial to the interest of the public, the lienholders, the shareholders, or the occupants, the commissioner may, in addition to such other remedies as may be available, commence an action or proceeding in the supreme court of the state of New York in the name of the commissioner, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, and in such action or proceeding, the court may appoint a temporary or permanent receiver or both. Such action or proceeding shall be commenced by a petition to the supreme court, alleging the violation complained of and praying for appropriate relief. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify the time, not exceeding twenty days after service of a copy of the petition, within which the eligible borrowers complained of must answer the petition. In case of any default or after answer the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct in the interest of substantial justice without other or formal pleading. Such other persons or corporations as it shall seem to the court necessary or proper to join as parties in order to make its order or judgment effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that an order or an injunction, or both, issue, or provide for the appointment of a receiver as prayed for in the petition, or grant such other relief as the court may deem appropriate.

§ 2879. Foreclosures and judgments. 1. In any foreclosure action the commissioner shall be made a party defendant. He shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public therein and no costs shall be awarded against him. Foreclosures shall not be decreed unless the court to which application is made shall be satisfied that the interests of the lienholder or holders cannot be adequately assured except by the sale of the property. In any such proceeding, the court shall be authorized to appoint the commissioner as receiver of the property, or to grant such other and further relief as may be reasonable and proper.

2. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, wherever it shall appear that the agency shall have loaned on a mortgage which is a lien upon any such property, such agency shall have all the remedies available to a mortgagee under the laws of the state of New York, free from any restrictions contained in this section, except that the commissioner shall be made a party defendant and that the commissioner shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public and no costs shall be awarded against him.

3. In the event of a judgment against an eligible borrower in any action not pertaining to the collection of a mortgage indebtedness, there shall be no sale of any of the real property of such eligible borrower except upon sixty days' written notice to the commissioner and the agency. Upon receipt of such notice the commissioner and the agency shall take such steps as in its judgment may be necessary to protect the rights of all parties.

§ 2880. Hospital facilities development fund. 1. Establishment of fund. a. There is hereby created and established in the department of health a revolving fund to be known as the "hospital facilities development fund".

b. There shall be paid into such hospital facilities development fund (a) any monies appropriated and made available by the state for the purposes of such fund, (b) notwithstanding the provisions of the state finance law or any other provision of law, any monies which the department of health shall receive in repayment of advances made from the fund, and (c) any other monies which may be made available to the department of health for the purposes of such fund from any other source or sources.

c. Any monies held in such hospital facilities development fund not required for immediate disbursement may be invested, at the discretion of the commissioner, in obligations of the state or the United States government or obligations the principal and interest of which are guaranteed by the state or the United States government. Any income or interest earned by, or increment to, such hospital facilities development fund shall be added to the monies held in such fund for the purpose herein provided.

2. Advances; conditions; prepayment. a. The commissioner is hereby authorized to use the monies held in the hospital facilities development fund to make non-interest bearing advances to eligible borrowers providing or arranging for health services in connection with a prepaid comprehensive health care plan. Such monies shall be paid out of such fund, after audit by and upon the warrant of the comptroller, on vouchers approved by the commissioner.

b. No such advances may be made unless the commissioner reasonably anticipates that a New York state housing finance agency mortgage or a New York state medical care facilities finance agency mortgage, as the case may be, will be obtained for the hospital project and makes a finding to such effect. Such finding shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein contained except upon proof of fraud or willful misfeasance.

c. The proceeds of such advances shall be used only to defray the development costs of such project. The "development costs" means the costs approved by the commissioner as appropriate expenditures which may be incurred prior to the initial advance of the proceeds of a New York state housing finance agency mortgage or a New York state medical care facilities finance agency mortgage, as the case may be including but not limited to: (a) payments for options to purchase properties for the proposed hospital project or for deposits on account of contracts to purchase such properties; (b) legal and organizational expenses, including payment of attorneys' fees, project manager, administrative and clerical staff salaries, office rent and other incidental expenses; (c) payment of fees and expenses for preliminary surveys, reports and feasibility studies, advances for planning, engineering and architectural work; and (d) such other expenses incurred by such eligible borrower as the commissioner may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this article.

d. If such eligible borrower obtains a mortgage loan from the New York state housing finance agency or the New York state medical care facilities finance agency, each such advance shall be repaid in full by such eligible borrower to the department of health concurrently with receipt by the eligible borrower of the first proceeds of such loan.

e. If the commissioner in his discretion shall, at any time, determine that a New York state housing finance agency mortgage loan or a New York state medical care facilities finance agency mortgage loan may not be obtained, or that any advance made pursuant to this section is in jeopardy of not being repaid or that the proposed project for which such advance was made is in jeopardy of not being constructed, then and in any such event all advances made to such eligible borrower from the hospital facilities development fund shall be deemed due and payable by the eligible borrower upon the demand of the commissioner.

3. Examination by comptroller. The comptroller, or his legally authorized representative, is hereby authorized and empowered to examine the books and accounts of the department of health relating to the hospital facilities development fund, and from time to time, until the advances have been repaid to the hospital facilities development fund, to examine the books and accounts of each eligible borrower receiving such advances, including its receipts, disbursements, contracts, leases, loans, and any other monies relating to its financial operation.

§ 2881. Fees and charges. The commissioner may, by regulation, establish and charge to eligible borrowers, for the period from occupancy date to mortgage discharge, a fee for inspection, regulation, supervision and audit not to annually exceed two-tenths of one percent of the mortgage loan to recover the departmental costs in performing these functions in relation to any hospital project financed or refinanced by a loan made under this article prior to April first, two thousand fourteen. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no such fee shall be charged or payable pursuant to this section with respect to a hospital project financed or refinanced with bonds issued on or after April first, two thousand fourteen.

§ 2882. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 2883. Authority and responsibility of commissioner regarding hospital mortgages. For the purposes of this article, only the provisions of sections twenty-eight hundred seventy, twenty-eight hundred seventy-one, twenty-eight hundred seventy-two, twenty-eight hundred seventy-three, twenty-eight hundred seventy-four, twenty-eight hundred seventy-five, twenty-eight hundred seventy-seven, subdivision one of section twenty-eight hundred seventy-eight, twenty-eight hundred eighty, twenty-eight hundred eighty-one and twenty-eight hundred eighty-two shall apply to loans made pursuant to this article after April first, nineteen hundred eighty-one.

TITLE I

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND PUBLIC POLICY

Section 2895. Declaration of policy and statement of purpose.

2895-a. Definitions.

2895-b. Nursing home staffing levels.

§ 2895. Declaration of policy and statement of purpose. It is hereby declared and found that the health and safety of the people of the state of New York require that the administration of medical facilities providing nursing home accommodations be adequate and proper, and that the quality of such administrative services is related to the calibre of training and experience of the persons administering such facilities. It is the purpose of this article to establish standards of education, training and experience and provide for the examination, licensure and registration of nursing home administrators.

§ 2895-a. Definitions. As used in this article, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise plainly requires:

1. "Nursing home" means a facility issued an operating certificate as a nursing home pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter.

2. "Board" means the board of examiners of nursing home administrators as provided for in this article.

3. "Nursing home administrator" means an individual who is charged with and has responsibility for the general administration of a nursing home whether or not such individual has an ownership interest in such home and whether or not his functions and duties are shared with one or more other individuals.

§ 2895-b. Nursing home staffing levels. 1. Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Certified nurse aide" means any person included in the nursing home nurse aide registry pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred three-j of this chapter.

(b) "Licensed nurse" means a registered professional nurse or licensed practical nurse licensed pursuant to article one hundred thirty-nine of the education law.

(c) "Staffing hours" means the hours reported by a nursing home to the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services through the payroll based journal for long-term care facilities.

(d) "Nurse aides" means any person who is included in the nurse aide hour component of the payroll based journal for long-term care facilities but has not yet been certified as a certified nurse aide.

2. Staffing standards. (a) The commissioner shall, by regulation, establish staffing standards for nursing home minimum staffing levels to meet applicable standards of service and care and to provide services to attain or maintain the highest practicable physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being of each resident of the facility. Compliance shall be determined quarterly by comparing the daily average of the number of hours provided per resident, per day, using the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services payroll based journal and the facility's average daily census on a daily basis.

(b) The commissioner shall establish, by regulation, civil penalties for facilities out of compliance with minimum staffing levels. Such regulations shall include a range of penalties to account for mitigating factors which shall include:

(i) extraordinary circumstances facing the facility, including, but not limited to, whether the facility has suffered through a natural disaster or other catastrophic event, an officially declared national emergency, or state or municipal emergency declared pursuant to article two-B of the executive law, which has been initially declared subsequent to the effective date of this section, or other such conditions or unforeseen circumstances as determined by the commissioner;

(ii) the frequency and nature of non-compliance; and

(iii) the existence of an acute labor supply shortage within a particular region. When determining if there is an acute labor supply shortage within a specific region in a specific quarter, or a shorter period of time as determined by the commissioner, the commissioner shall take into consideration the following factors: regional labor supply of available certified nurse aides, licensed practical nurses and registered nurses; regional pay rates for the relevant titles as determined by the federal department of labor, bureau of labor statistics; and evidence that the facility attempted to procure sufficient staffing.

(c) At least thirty days before any action is taken by the commissioner under paragraph (b) of this subdivision, the commissioner shall post the assessed penalties, and any mitigating factors that were considered in assessing the penalty on the department's website.

(d) In determining whether a nursing home has violated its obligations under this section, it shall not be a defense that such nursing home was unable to secure sufficient staff if the lack of staffing was foreseeable and could be prudently planned for, or involved routine staffing needs that arose due to typical staffing patterns, typical levels of absenteeism, or time off typically approved by the employer for vacation, holidays, sick leave, and personal leave.

(e) A civil penalty shall not be imposed under this section until after April first, two thousand twenty-two;

(f) Every nursing home shall:

(i) comply with the staffing standards under this section; and

(ii) employ sufficient staffing levels to meet applicable standards of service and care and to provide service and care and to provide services to attain or maintain the highest practicable physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being of each resident of the facility.

(g) Staffing standards established under this subdivision shall, at a minimum, be the staffing standards established under subdivision three of this section.

(h) The minimum staffing standard includes the hours which are required to be reported by a nursing home to the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services through the payroll based journal for long-term care for certified nursing assistants and licensed nurses. In determining compliance with the staffing standards under this subdivision, an individual shall not be counted while performing administrative services as defined in the payroll based journal for long-term care facilities.

3. Statutory standard. (a) Beginning January first, two thousand twenty-two every nursing home shall maintain daily average staffing hours equal to 3.5 hours of care per resident per day by a certified nurse aide, a licensed nurse or a nurse aide; provided that out of such 3.5 hours, no less than 2.2 hours of care per resident per day shall be provided by a certified nurse aide or a nurse aide, and no less than 1.1 hours of care per resident per day shall be provided by a licensed nurse.

(b) Beginning January first, two thousand twenty-three and thereafter every nursing home shall maintain daily average staffing hours equal to 3.5 hours of care per resident per day by a certified nurse aide or a licensed nurse; provided that out of such 3.5 hours, no less than 2.2 hours of care per resident per day shall be provided by a certified nurse aide, and no less than 1.1 hours of care per resident per day shall be provided by a licensed nurse.

4. Public disclosure of staffing levels. (a) A nursing home shall post information regarding nurse staffing that the facility is required to make available to the public under section twenty-eight hundred five-t of this chapter. Information under this paragraph shall be displayed in a form approved by the department and be posted in a manner which is visible and accessible to residents, their families and the staff, as required by the commissioner.

(b) A nursing home shall post a summary of this section, provided by the department, in proximity to each posting required by paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

* 5. Fines and civil penalties. (a) All fines and civil penalties collected by the commissioner pursuant to this section shall be deposited into a nursing home worker recruitment and safety fund established pursuant to section ninety-nine-ss of the state finance law to enhance the quality of employment for residential health care facility employees and assist in the recruitment and safety of residential health care facility staff.

(b) The commissioner shall distribute monies made available for this purpose under this subdivision in the form of grants to providers. In determining the funding for providers, the commissioner shall consider criteria including, but not limited to, the overall census of a facility and the rate region the facility is located within. The commissioner shall promulgate the rules and regulations necessary for implementing the program.

Each member appointed from a profession requiring licensure or registration to practice in the state shall be licensed or registered except for those nursing home administrators first appointed to the board who shall be required only to possess the qualifications and be eligible for licensure as required by this article.

2. The term of office of the members shall be three years; provided however, that of the members first appointed, three shall be appointed for a term which shall expire on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventy-one; four for a term which shall expire on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventy-two; and four for a term which shall expire on June thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventy-three; and provided however, that of the members first appointed on the expansion of the board to

Any member may be removed by the commissioner for misconduct, incapacity, incompetence, or neglect of duty.

3. Each member of the board shall receive a per diem allowance as determined by the commissioner for the time spent in the performance of his official duties and shall be reimbursed for all proper traveling and incidental expenses in carrying out the provisions of this article.

4. The commissioner shall designate an officer or employee of the department to act as secretary to the board, who shall not be a member of the board.

5. The board at its first meeting to be held within thirty days after appointment, and annually thereafter at its first meeting in each year, shall organize and elect from its members a chairman.

6. The board, for the purpose of transacting its business, shall meet at least once every six months at times and places designated by resolution. Special meetings also may be held at such times as the board may elect, or on the call of the commissioner. A written notice of the time, place and purpose of any special meeting shall be mailed by the secretary to all members of the board at least fifteen days before the date of the meeting.

7. A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting.

8. The commissioner shall establish an advisory council, broadly representative of the health professions and the public, to provide such technical assistance as the board or the commissioner shall request. Members shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties.

§ 2896-b. Rules and regulations; powers and duties. 1. The board, by a majority vote, shall adopt and amend rules and regulations, to be certified by the commissioner prior to filing with the secretary of state, to effectuate the provisions and purposes of this article, including but not limited to (a) standards for courses of study for nursing home administrators and for other instruction and training and for experience and general character of nursing home administrators, and (b) standards and procedures for examination, for the issuance, revocation and suspension of licenses and registrations of nursing home administrators and for the investigation of written charges and complaints filed with the board relating thereto.

2. The board may assess a civil penalty against a nursing home administrator for violation of or failure to comply with any lawful notice, order or rule or regulation issued or adopted by the board, or any provision of this article, not exceeding one thousand dollars for every such violation or failure, which civil penalty may be assessed after a hearing pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred ninety-seven-a of this article.

3. The board, or the commissioner at the request of the board, shall conduct such continuing study and investigation of the quality and practice of nursing home administration as may be required for the improvement of the standards imposed and procedures required for the licensing of nursing home administrators, including the desirability of instituting a residency or preceptorship program for nursing home administrators in training.

4. The board, or the commissioner at the request of the board, shall conduct such study and investigation of higher education in institutional administration at the baccalaureate and master's degree levels as is necessary to determine if such be required to assure the continuing maintenance of professional standards of nursing home administration in the state. The board shall seek the advice and counsel of the state department of education in the conduct of such studies.

5. The commissioner may propose rules and regulations and amendments thereto for consideration by the board to effectuate the purposes of this article.

6. The board shall also have the authority to take such actions as may be necessary to enable the state to meet the requirements set forth in section one thousand nine hundred eight of the social security act, the federal rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and other pertinent federal authority.

§ 2896-c. Qualifications of applicants for licensure. 1. An applicant shall be eligible for a license as provided in this article upon payment to the department of an application fee of forty dollars and the submission of satisfactory evidence, verified by oath or affirmation, that the applicant:

(a) is at least twenty-one years of age;

(b) is of good moral character and suitability;

(c) has successfully completed a four-year course of study in a secondary school approved by the board of regents or been issued a certificate of equivalency; and

(d) has satisfactorily completed a course of study in the field of institutional administration approved by the board or in a school licensed by the state department of education as maintaining a satisfactory standard, or an equivalent combination of instruction, training or experience as determined by the board, or the equivalent of such a course of study in a college as determined by the state department of education; and

(e) has passed an examination as specified in section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-d of this title.

2. An applicant who is denied licensure only because of his failure to meet the requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) of subdivision one of this section may petition the board for reconsideration and may be licensed provided that he possesses educational qualifications or experience in nursing home administration which are at least the equivalent of the satisfactory completion of an approved course of study, and such extended practical experience in nursing home administration or in a related health administration activity as may be acceptable to the board.

§ 2896-d. Examination of applicants. 1. Applicants for licensure as nursing home administrators shall be required to pass an examination encompassing the subject matter of the courses of study, instruction, training and experience required by the board and certified by the commissioner.

2. The examination may be administered by the department or by another testing service certified by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision one of this section. The applicant shall be responsible for all fees charged by the authorized testing service for the administration of the examination.

3. The department may require applicants to demonstrate eligibility for licensure in accordance with section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-c of this title prior to taking the examination.

4. Following such examinations, the board shall review and rate the examination results and shall submit to the department an official report signed by its chairman and secretary stating the ratings of each applicant and naming all applicants who successfully passed the examination.

5. The board may accept in lieu of the requirements in paragraph (e) of subdivision one of section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-c of this title, a certificate, registration or license issued by another state or political subdivision of the United States on the basis of qualifications and an examination satisfactory to the board. The application fee shall accompany an application for persons.

§ 2896-e. Issuance of license. 1. The board shall issue a license to practice nursing home administration to each candidate who meets the qualifications specified in section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-c of this title or submitted an application and qualified under subdivision five of section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-d of this title and who has paid an initial application fee.

2. Each license issued shall be signed by the chairman and the secretary of the board and shall bear the seal of the department.

3. Upon receipt of satisfactory evidence that a license has been lost, mutilated or destroyed, the board may issue a duplicate license upon such terms and conditions as may be required by the board and certified by the commissioner, and upon payment of a fee of ten dollars.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of this article the board may adopt rules and regulations governing operation of a nursing home during periods of emergency.

§ 2896-f. Temporary licenses. The board may issue a temporary license to practice nursing home administration, under such conditions and limitations as it shall determine, for a single period not to exceed six months to an applicant of good moral character and suitability, over twenty-one years of age, who meets such other standards as are established by the board, who has paid an application fee of forty dollars and who is designated by the owner, operator or other governing authority to administer a facility during a period when due to resignation, death or incapacity or for other reason the position of nursing home administrator has been unexpectedly vacated.

§ 2896-g. Registration. 1. Every licensee must register biennially with the department. The department shall mail to every person who has received a license under this article an application form for registration requesting such information as the board and the commissioner may require. Such licensee shall promptly fill out, sign and forward such application to the department, together with a fee of forty dollars; however, initial registration shall not require such fee. Upon receipt and approval of such application and fee, the department shall issue a certificate of biennial registration. The commissioner shall establish by rule and regulation the beginning date of the biennial registration period. In the event that a change in the established beginning date of the biennial registration period requires an adjustment in the duration of a registration period, there shall be a proportionate adjustment in the prescribed fee.

2. Licensees who apply for registration subsequent to the first year of any biennial registration period shall pay a fee of twenty dollars; however, initial registration shall not require such fee; upon receipt and approval of such application and fee, the department shall issue a certificate of registration for the balance of the biennial registration period.

3. Registration subsequent to the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred seventy-three, shall require satisfactory completion of such continuation education programs or courses of study as the board shall determine are required to assure the licensee's retention of professional competence in nursing home administration and development of necessary different, new or advanced nursing home administration skills and techniques.

4. A nursing home administrator who fails or neglects to apply for registration before the first day of the next ensuing biennial registration period as required by the provisions of this section shall be required to pay for registration an additional fee of five dollars for each month or part thereof that he is in default, provided, however, that the additional fee shall not be more than one hundred twenty dollars.

5. A practicing nursing home administrator who fails to apply and qualify for registration before the first day of the next ensuing biennial registration period, shall be an illegal practitioner whose license may be suspended or revoked and who may be subjected to a civil penalty, censured or reprimanded by the board in accordance with the provisions of this article.

6. No person shall be entitled to register as a nursing home administrator unless he shall hold a license as provided for in this article. Every unrevoked certificate of registration issued as provided in this article shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places that the person named therein is legally registered.

7. A nursing home administrator who has been heretofore duly licensed and registered to practice in this state whose license shall not have been revoked or suspended, and who either before or after registration, as required by this section, shall have temporarily abandoned the practice of nursing home administration and surrendered his registration certificate, may reregister within this state upon complying with the provisions of this section for registration, including payment of any fees due as of the date of surrender.

8. Upon receipt of satisfactory evidence that a certificate of registration has been lost, mutilated or destroyed, the department may issue a duplicate certificate upon such terms and conditions as the board shall prescribe with the approval of the commissioner, and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars.

§ 2896-h. Reports. 1. Every administrator of a nursing home shall:

(a) post in a sufficient number of prominent positions in the nursing home so as to be accessible to all residents and to the general public, a concise summary of the last inspection report pertaining to the nursing home and issued by the department, with references to the page numbers of the full reports, noting any deficiencies found by said governmental agency or department and the actions taken by the nursing home to rectify such deficiencies, and indicating in such summaries where the full reports may be inspected in said nursing home;

(b) provide to each applicant and, upon request, to each resident of such nursing home, or any relative, spouse, guardian, committee or conservator of such applicant or resident, a copy of the last inspection report pertaining to the nursing home and issued by the department.

2. The license or registration of a nursing home administrator who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be subject to suspension or revocation and the nursing home administrator may be subject to a civil penalty in proceedings held in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-eight hundred ninety-seven-a of this article.

3. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed or deemed to require the public disclosure of confidential medical, social, personal or financial records of any patient. The commissioner shall adopt such regulations as may be necessary to give effect to the provisions of this section and to preserve the confidentiality of medical, social, personal or financial records of patients.

TITLE III

VIOLATIONS; PENALTIES

2897-a. Proceedings for suspension or revocation.

2897-b. Penalties.

2897-c. Disposition of fees, fines, penalties and other moneys.

2897-d. Injunctive relief.

§ 2897. Suspension, revocation and civil penalties. 1. The license or registration of a nursing home administrator may be suspended for a fixed period, revoked or annulled, or such administrator censured, reprimanded, subjected to a civil penalty and otherwise disciplined, in accordance with the provisions and procedures defined in this article, upon decision after due hearing that:

(a) he is guilty of fraud or deceit in his practice or has been guilty of fraud or deceit in procuring his license or registration;

(b) he has been convicted in a court of competent jurisdiction, either within or without the state, of a crime involving moral turpitude;

(c) he is or has been an alcohol abuser or is or has been addicted to the use of morphine, cocaine or other drugs having similar effect, or has become mentally ill;

(d) he has aided and abetted in the practice of nursing home administration a person who is not a registered nursing home administrator;

(e) he has falsely impersonated a duly registered nursing home administrator or former duly registered nursing home administrator, or is practicing nursing home administration under an assumed name;

(f) he has been guilty of unethical conduct as defined by rules adopted by the board and certified by the commissioner;

(g) he has not obtained a certificate of registration as required by section two thousand eight hundred ninety-six-g.

2. (a) A conviction of a felony shall forfeit a license to practice nursing home administration and shall be noted on the record of such license, and the license and registration thereunder shall be cancelled; provided, that if such conviction be subsequently set aside or reversed upon appeal and the accused acquitted or discharged, his license shall be restored.

(b) A conviction of a felony shall include the conviction of a felony by any court in this state or by any court of the United States or by any court of any other state of the United States; provided, however, that if a crime of which the practitioner of nursing home administration is convicted by any court of the United States or any other state is a felony in the jurisdiction in which the conviction is had but is not a felony in the state of New York, then the conviction shall not be deemed a conviction of a felony for the purpose of this article. In the event that a crime of which the licensee is convicted by any court of the United States or by any court of any other state is not a felony in the jurisdiction in which the conviction is had but is a felony in the state of New York, then the conviction shall be deemed a conviction of a felony for the purposes of this article.

(c) If a person convicted of a felony or crime deemed hereby to be a felony is subsequently pardoned by the governor of the state where such conviction was had, or by the president of the United States, or shall receive a certificate of relief from disabilities or a certificate of good conduct pursuant to article twenty-three of the correction law for the purpose of removing the disability under this section because of such conviction, the board may, in its discretion, on application of such person, and on the submission to it of satisfactory evidence, restore to such person the right to practice nursing home administration in this state.

3. The license or registration of a nursing home administrator may be suspended for a fixed period or revoked or such administrator may be censured, reprimanded, subjected to a civil penalty and otherwise disciplined in accordance with the provisions and procedures defined in this article, upon decision after due hearing that, as the administrator of a nursing home he has intentionally participated in any act, practice or policy of such nursing home that endangered the health or safety of its patients. No administrator shall be deemed to have intentionally participated in any act, practice or policy of a nursing home if he has filed written objection to such act, practice or policy with the operator of such nursing home, specifying the manner in which such act, practice or policy endangers the health or safety of the patients of such nursing home.

§ 2897-a. Proceedings for suspension or revocation. 1. Upon receiving confirmation from a consulting physician and mental health professional under section twenty-eight hundred ninety-nine-h of this article and section twenty-eight hundred ninety-nine-i of this article, respectively, the attending physician who determines that the patient has a terminal illness or condition, has decision-making capacity and has made a voluntary request for medication as provided in this article, may personally, or by referral to another physician, prescribe or order appropriate medication in accordance with the patient's request under this article, and at the patient's request, facilitate the filling of the prescription and delivery of the medication to the patient.

3. A prescription for medication shall not be filled until five days after the prescription has been written, unless the patient's attending physician has medically confirmed that the qualified individual may, within reasonable medical judgment, die before the expiration of the waiting period identified herein, in which case, the prescription may be filled once the attending physician affirms that all other requirements pursuant to this article have been fulfilled. Such prescription must indicate the date and time that the prescription for medication was written and indicate the first allowable date and time when it may be filled.

4. In accordance with the direction of the prescribing or ordering physician and the consent of the patient, the patient may self-administer the medication to themselves. A health care professional or other person shall not administer the medication to the patient.

§ 2899-i. Mental health professional responsibilities. 1. Before a patient who is requesting medication may receive a prescription for medication under this article, a mental health professional must evaluate the patient and report, in writing, to the attending physician and the consulting physician, the mental health professional's independent conclusions about whether the patient has decision-making capacity to make an informed decision, provided that if, at the time of the report, the patient has not yet been referred to a consulting physician, then upon referral the attending physician shall provide the consulting physician with a copy of the mental health professional's report. If the mental health professional determines that the patient lacks decision-making capacity to make an informed decision, the patient shall not be deemed a qualified individual, and the attending physician shall not prescribe medication to the patient.

2. A determination made pursuant to this section that an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity shall not be construed as a finding that the patient lacks decision-making capacity for any other purpose.

RURAL HEALTH CARE ACCESS

Section 2950. Legislative findings.

2951. Definitions.

2952. Rural health network development grant program.

2954. Limitation on liability of network participants.

2955. Restraint of trade by networks and network participants.

2956. Designation of upgraded diagnostic and treatment centers.

2957. Designation of primary care hospitals.

2958. Rural health care access development program.

§ 2950. Legislative findings. The legislature finds and determines as follows:

1. The health care delivery system is undergoing a major transformation in response to changing demographics and consumer needs, changes in reimbursement policies, the emergence of alternate service providers, and public pressure to control health care costs.

2. Such changes have a particularly severe impact on rural health care delivery, which consists of small, frequently isolated providers who have limited financial resources and health support networks. Many such providers are experiencing financial stress or certain barriers to change which could seriously reduce access to quality health care services by individuals in rural environs.

3. This development calls for greater sharing of information and resources among rural health care providers. The promotion of proper planning and cooperative efforts among such providers would improve individual access to health care in rural areas and enhance cost-effectiveness in the delivery of such services as tertiary, acute, primary, home health and skilled nursing care; and illness prevention.

4. It is, therefore, the intent of the legislature to encourage continued access to high quality health care in rural areas as well as the development of rural health network agreements among providers of health care servicing rural areas which result in the merger or integration and coordination of health care services pursuant to such network agreements; and to provide the necessary funding for such networks.

5. It is further the intent of the legislature that as needed, regulatory waivers may be granted to participating providers as required to successfully implement networks within the limits of prudent provision for the health, safety, and general welfare of the people receiving health care. In addition, the commissioner shall actively provide for technical assistance in order to support the creation and operation of rural health networks.

6. It is further the intent of the legislature that, in order to promote access to health care services, to increase the required linkage of health care service providers, and promote the quality and continuity of care provided to residents in rural areas, it shall be the policy of this state to encourage cooperative, collaborative and integrative arrangements between rural networks and health care providers who might otherwise be competitors, under the active supervision of the commissioner. To the extent such arrangements might be anti-competitive within the meaning and intent of the federal antitrust laws, it is further the intent of the legislature to supplant competition with such arrangements to the extent necessary to accomplish the purposes of this article, and provide state action immunity under the federal antitrust laws with respect to the planning, implementation and operation of rural health networks and central services facility rural health networks and health care providers participating in or members of such networks.

§ 2951. Definitions. For the purposes of this article:

1. "Rural area" shall mean any county with less than two hundred thousand population or any town which has a population of less than two hundred persons per square mile or, if approved by the commissioner, any town which has a population of less than two hundred fifty persons per square mile.

2. "Rural health network" shall mean an affiliation of health care providers serving a rural area, pursuant to a contract, joint or cooperative agreement, or organized pursuant to the not-for-profit corporation law and approved pursuant to subdivision fourteen of section twenty-eight hundred one-a of this chapter, which provides or arranges for the provision of health care services pursuant to a network plan to residents of a rural area or the provision of administrative or management services among such health care providers. Such health care services may include, but need not be limited to: acute and tertiary care; medical/surgical care; pre-hospital emergency services; swing bed care; mental health and substance abuse services; physical medicine and rehabilitation; primary and preventive care; home health and skilled nursing care; laboratory, radiological or other diagnostic services; hospice; respite care; illness prevention; or any other outpatient or related services responding to community need or for the purpose of improving community health status. Such administrative and management services may include, but need not be limited to: emergency medical services or other professional training; credentialing, payroll, purchasing and billing services; recruitment of qualified professionals; information management services; medical transportation; quality assurance; risk management; peer review; electronic data sharing; and managed care systems; performance of studies; planning; and solicitation and acceptance of grants, and receipt of reimbursement for planning and coordination of services and coordination of experimental and other payment methods, such as global budget, pooling arrangements, or capitation payments for inpatient hospital services and ambulatory care services provided by the component entities of the network.

3. "Network plan" shall mean a written plan prepared by a rural health network or rural providers planning to form a rural health network, with the involvement of consumers, submitted initially and updated periodically as needed, to the commissioner for approval to receive grant funds pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred fifty-two of this article.

4. "Upgraded diagnostic and treatment center" shall mean a diagnostic and treatment center established pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter which has received such designation pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred fifty-six of this article.

§ 2952. Rural health network development grant program. December thirty-first, two thousand six annually, up to seven million sixty-two thousand dollars annually for the period January first, two thousand seven through December thirty-first, two thousand ten, up to one million seven hundred sixty-six thousand dollars for the period January first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand eleven, and within amounts appropriated for each state fiscal year on and after April first, two thousand eleven, shall be available to the commissioner from funds made available pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred seven-l of this chapter for grants pursuant to this section. 1. The commissioner shall establish a rural health network development grant program for the purpose of assisting community based health care providers, consumers and organizations in rural areas to promote more effective health care delivery through the coordination, development, planning, implementation and operation of rural health networks pursuant to this title. Such grants shall support activities and organizational costs including, but not limited to, the recruitment of qualified health care professionals, the performance of feasibility studies, the development of affiliation agreements among rural health providers, the development of managed care capacities, the expansion and integration of public and preventive health services into community based primary care systems, the integration and expansion of prehospital emergency medical services and related consulting and legal fees.

2. To be eligible to receive grant funding pursuant to this section, the applicant shall submit a network plan to the commissioner for approval; the network plan shall identify network participants and indicate how the members or participants of the rural health network intend to respond to the health care needs of the rural area, improve access to and the quality of care for residents of the community, promote the coordination of resources among providers and reduce duplication of services while achieving cost and other operational efficiencies.

3. a. The commissioner shall make grants to rural health networks, or rural health care providers planning to develop a rural health network. The network plan submitted by a rural health network or rural health care providers planning to form a network for grant funds pursuant to this section shall be consistent with guidelines issued by the commissioner, in consultation with the New York state rural health council and the legislative commission on the development of rural resources. Such guidelines shall include, but need not be limited to, the duration of rural health network grants, appropriate funding levels and criteria for providing an appropriate geographic distribution of grantees; provided, however, that the amount of any such grant shall be based on the scope and nature of the proposed activities described in such plan and that the quality of any such plan complies with the conditions for approval pursuant to paragraph b of subdivision three of this section.

b. The commissioner may require revisions or amendments to the initial network plan prior to approval for funding, or periodic updates from an applicant to reflect the current status of a network's development or operation and to assure that the plan is implemented in accordance with its approved terms. In approving grants the commissioner shall consider the following:

(i) The specific objectives and description of the proposed network, including considerations of the existing health care services currently being delivered within the rural area, and the unmet health care needs of the community;

(ii) The degrees to which the plan demonstrates enhanced costs and service delivery efficiencies and access to necessary and high quality health care services by rural residents;

(iii) The degree to which stated objectives and the scope of the network plan may reasonably be implemented and achieved using existing and projected resources;

(iv) The degree to which information sharing, communication, and cooperation between health care providers, human service entities and consumers would be fostered;

(v) The contribution the network would make toward the identification and development of innovative delivery systems;

(vi) The degree to which management and continuity of care would be fostered and improved;

(vii) The degree to which participating providers are represented on governing bodies of the network;

(viii) The degree to which consumers within the area served or to be served by the network are made aware of and have an effective opportunity to provide input in the creation and on-going development of a network plan; and

(ix) The degree to which providers within the area served by the network are made aware of and have an effective opportunity to participate in or become a member of the network.

c. The commissioner shall act on such application within ninety days after its receipt. In the event waivers of any regulations are requested by an applicant, the commissioner shall have an additional thirty days to act upon such application.

4. The commissioner or his or her duly authorized representative may provide or contract to provide technical assistance in the creation and implementation of rural health networks and to promote community organization, collaboration and communication in rural network development across the state. The funding for any such contract shall not be made available from funds provided for purposes of this section by section twenty-eight hundred seven-1 of this chapter.

5. If the commissioner determines that a grant is being used for purposes other than those which are in conformity with this title, the commissioner may withdraw his or her approval of the project and require repayment of all or part of such grant to the state. The commissioner shall cause reports to be prepared and submitted for each project by the grantees at such times and in such manner as are consistent with the purposes of this title.

6. a. The commissioner or his or her duly authorized representative may also, promote appropriate active state supervision necessary to promote state action immunity under the federal antitrust laws, inspect or request additional documentation to verify that a network plan is implemented in accordance with its approved terms as they relate to antitrust activity.

b. The commissioner shall review a network plan and all agreements between participating providers of a network organized pursuant to the not-for-profit corporation law at any time with respect to their effect on competition, access, and quality of care, may seek the advice of the attorney general and may require amendments to such agreements where he or she determines that the benefits of anti-competitive activity are outweighed by any disadvantages.

c. The commissioner may revoke, limit or annul approval to implement a network plan, or portions thereof, after review and a hearing, for failure to implement such plan in accordance with its terms as appropriate for the promotion of state action immunity under the federal antitrust laws.

d. The commissioner shall, at the request of any rural health network, review network agreements with respect to their effect on competition, access and quality of care, may seek the advice of the attorney general, and may require amendments to such agreements where he or she determines that the benefits of anticompetitive activity are outweighed by any disadvantage.

7. For the purpose of promoting maximum effectiveness in the utilization of state and local monies and innovative approaches, the commissioner is authorized to waive, modify or suspend the respective provisions of rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this chapter if the commissioner determines that such waiver, modification or suspension is necessary for the successful implementation of this title and provided that the commissioner determines that the health, safety and general welfare of people receiving health care will not be impaired as a result of such waiver, modification, or suspension. Such waiver, modification or suspension may be granted for up to two years. In addition, upon the request of a rural health network organized pursuant to the not-for-profit corporation law and approved pursuant to subdivision fourteen of section twenty-eight hundred one-a of this chapter thereto, through its network plan or its amendments, the commissioner is authorized to permit such rural health network to make applications or fulfill regulatory requirements on behalf of members of the network for purposes of, but not limited to, certificate of need, quality assurance, reimbursement, and professional credentialing and privileging.

8. The commissioner shall consult with federal, state, and local officials with respect to securing their cooperation in coordinating related programs and regulatory waivers and shall provide the legislature with recommendations to facilitate such efforts.

9. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, the commissioner may approve a rural health network, to receive directly reimbursement for the planning and coordination of services including but not limited to such experimental and other payment methods as global budget, pooling arrangements, or capitation payments for whole or in-part inpatient hospital services and ambulatory care services provided by the component entities of the network. Reimbursement including payments made by governmental agencies shall be subject to the approval of the state director of the budget and to the availability of federal financial participation pursuant to title XIX of the federal social security act in expenditures made for eligible patients. The commissioner may impose such terms and conditions as necessary and appropriate for receipt of such funds.

§ 2954. Limitation on liability of network participants. Neither a rural health network, nor any provider participating therein, whether by agreement or through membership or common directorates, shall be liable for claims against or for the debt or obligations of any other affiliate solely by reason of affiliation or, in the absence of substantial evidence of fraud or willful, wanton or criminal activity attributable to the incurring of such claim, debt or obligation on the part of the entity from whom recovery is sought.

§ 2955. Restraint of trade by networks and network participants. The activities of rural health networks and providers participating therein, undertaken in furtherance of planning, implementing or operating a network or promoting the efficient delivery of health care services in a rural area, shall be exempt from the provisions and penalties of article twenty-two of the general business law respecting arrangements and agreements in restraint of trade. No hospital, physician or other licensed or certified health care provider operating in good standing, serving the area of the network, and willing to meet the terms and conditions of the network as defined in the network plan, shall be denied the ability to participate therein. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to require a hospital to grant admitting privileges to a physician solely because such physician is a participant in or a member of the network.

2. The commissioner shall establish guidelines for the designation of a diagnostic and treatment center as an upgraded diagnostic and treatment center pursuant to the provisions of this section. In establishing such guidelines, the commissioner shall solicit input from hospitals, diagnostic and treatment centers and physicians.

§ 2957. Designation of primary care hospitals. 1. A general hospital established pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter may request the commissioner to exempt such hospital from particular services or to authorize such hospital to offer additional special services. Such hospital shall be designated a primary care hospital upon the commissioner's approval of such request; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to restrict such hospital from offering primary, specialty or acute inpatient services for which it is able to provide appropriate technical and human resources, to respond to community need, or to assure quality in the delivery of services.

2. The commissioner shall establish guidelines for the designation of a general hospital as a primary care hospital pursuant to the provisions of this section. In establishing such guidelines, the commissioner shall solicit input from hospitals and physicians.

§ 2958. Rural health care access development program. 1. 2. a. The commissioner shall provide assistance to all rural hospitals as defined in this section by distributing all amounts made available pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred seven-1 of this chapter.

b. For the purposes of this subdivision, the commissioner shall devise a distribution methodology that takes into account the need for rural hospitals to improve operational efficiencies, reduce the duplication of services, and develop affiliations with community based health care providers and which recognizes whether a hospital is a federally designated sole community hospital, rural referral center, rural hospital, state designated rural hospital, or a hospital that is at substantial financial risk of failure and whose service area is threatened with reduced access to essential health services. In no event shall the size of the rural hospital be the sole contributing factor in such distribution methodology. Such methodology shall provide assistance at graduated levels from highest to lowest, in accordance with the following criteria:

(i) The hospital shall be at substantial risk of financial failure, using a combination of generally accepted standard measures of financial viability and which is:

A. a federally designated sole community hospital or a rural referral center and is both a federally designated rural hospital and is classified as a state rural hospital;

B. a federally designated sole community hospital or a rural referral center and is a federally designated rural hospital;

C. both a federally designated rural hospital and is classified as a state rural hospital, but is not a sole community hospital or a rural referral center;

c. The commissioner may include in regulation a factor to enhance the distribution to those hospitals that have taken actions in accordance with the goals specified in paragraph b of this subdivision to be applied effective January first, two thousand one, except, however, in no event shall the distribution of the funds be delayed because of the development of the factor pursuant to this paragraph.

3. The commissioner shall cause reports to be prepared and submitted by rural hospitals at such times and in such manner as are consistent with the purposes of this section.

Such a study shall determine:

- (i) the quality of care provided through a mobile dental system, including minimizing any adverse effects on dental practices already serving or seeking to enter rural or underserved communities, the involvement of dental practices serving rural or underserved communities in such a mobile dental system, and the establishment of referral systems and networks to existing dental practices serving rural or underserved communities for regular ongoing care of patients;

(b) As used in this section:

(i) "clinic" means a general hospital providing outpatient care or diagnostic and treatment center, licensed under article twenty-eight of this chapter; and independent practice associations, and payors of health care services, which may include but not be limited to employers, health plans and insurers.

(ii) "primary care clinician" means a physician, nurse practitioner, or midwife acting within his or her lawful scope of practice under title eight of the education law and who is practicing in a primary care specialty.

2. (a) In order to promote improved quality of, and access to, health care services and promote improved clinical outcomes, it is the policy of the state to encourage cooperative, collaborative and integrative arrangements among payors of health care services and health care services providers who might otherwise be competitors, under the active supervision of the commissioner. It is the intent of the state to supplant competition with such arrangements and regulation only to the extent necessary to accomplish the purposes of this article, and to provide state action immunity under the state and federal antitrust laws to payors of health care services and health care services providers with respect to the planning, implementation and operation of the multipayor patient centered medical home program.

(b) The commissioner or his or her duly authorized representative may engage in appropriate state supervision necessary to promote state action immunity under the state and federal antitrust laws, and may inspect or request additional documentation from payors of health care services and health care services providers to verify that medical homes certified pursuant to this section operate in accordance with its intent and purpose.

3. The commissioner is authorized to participate in, actively supervise, facilitate and approve a primary care medical home collaborative for each program around the state to establish: (a) the boundaries of each program and the providers eligible to participate, provided that the boundaries of programs may overlap; (b) practice standards for each medical home program adopted with consideration of existing standards developed by the National Committee for Quality Assurance ("NCQA"), the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations ("JCAHCO" or the "Joint Commission"), American Accreditation Healthcare Commission ("URAC"), American College of Physicians, the American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the American Osteopathic Association; the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners, and the American College of

3-a. The commissioner may develop or approve (a) methodologies to pay additional amounts for medical homes that meet specific process or outcome standards established by each multipayer patient centered medical home collaborative; (b) alternative methodologies for payors of health care services to health care providers under the program; (c) provisions for payments to providers that may vary by size or form of organization of the provider, or patient case mix, to accommodate different levels of resources and difficulty to meet the standards of the program; (d) provisions for payments to entities that provide services to health care providers to assist them in meeting medical home standards under the program such as the services of community health workers.

4. The commissioner is authorized to establish an advisory group of state agencies and stakeholders, such as professional organizations and associations, and consumers, to identify legal and/or administrative barriers to the sharing of care management and care coordination services among participating health care services providers and to make recommendations for statutory and/or regulatory changes to address such barriers.

5. Patient, payor and health care services provider participation in the multipayer patient centered medical home program shall be on a voluntary basis.

6. Clinics and primary care clinicians participating in a program are not eligible for additional enhancements or bonuses under the statewide patient centered medical home program established pursuant to section three hundred sixty-four-m of the social services law. The commissioner shall develop or approve a method for determining payment under a program where a provider participates, or a patient is served, in an area where program boundaries overlap.

§ 2981. Appointment of health care agent; health care proxy. 1.

Authority to appoint agent; presumption of competence. (a) A competent adult may appoint a health care agent in accordance with the terms of this article.

(b) For the purposes of this section, every adult shall be presumed competent to appoint a health care agent unless such person has been adjudged incompetent or otherwise adjudged not competent to appoint a health care agent, or unless a guardian of the person has been appointed for the adult pursuant to article eighty-one of the mental hygiene law or article seventeen-A of the surrogate's court procedure act.

2. Health care proxy; execution; witnesses. (a) A competent adult may appoint a health care agent by a health care proxy, signed and dated by the adult in the presence of two adult witnesses who shall also sign the proxy. Witnessing a health care proxy under this section may be done using audio-video technology, for either or both witnesses, provided that the following conditions are met (as used in this subdivision, "remote witness" means a witness acting using audio-visual technology):

(a) The principal, if not personally known to a remote witness, shall display valid photographic identification to the remote witness during the audio-video conference;

(b) The audio-video conference shall allow for direct interaction between the principal and any remote witness;

(c) Any remote witness shall receive a legible copy of the health care proxy, which shall be transmitted via facsimile or electronic means, within twenty-four hours of the proxy being signed by the principal during the audio-video conference; and

(d) The remote witness shall sign the transmitted copy of the proxy, and transmit it back to the principal.

3. Restrictions on who may be and limitations on a health care agent.

(a) An operator, administrator or employee of a hospital may not be appointed as a health care agent by any person who, at the time of the appointment, is a patient or resident of, or has applied for admission to, such hospital.

(b) The restriction in paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall not apply to:

(i) an operator, administrator or employee of a hospital who is related to the principal by blood, marriage or adoption; or

(ii) a physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner, subject to the limitation set forth in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, except that no physician or nurse practitioner affiliated with a mental hygiene facility or a psychiatric unit of a general hospital may serve as agent for a principal residing in or being treated by such facility or unit unless the physician is related to the principal by blood, marriage or adoption.

(c) If a physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner is appointed agent, the physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner shall not act as the patient's attending practitioner after the authority under the health care proxy commences, unless the physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner declines the appointment as agent at or before such time.

(d) No person who is not the spouse, child, parent, brother, sister or grandparent of the principal, or is the issue of, or married to, such person, shall be appointed as a health care agent if, at the time of appointment, he or she is presently appointed health care agent for ten principals.

4. Commencement of agent's authority. The agent's authority shall commence upon a determination, made pursuant to subdivision one of section two thousand nine hundred eighty-three of this article, that the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions.

5. Contents and form of health care proxy. (a) The health care proxy shall:

(i) identify the principal and agent; and

(ii) indicate that the principal intends the agent to have authority to make health care decisions on the principal's behalf.

(b) The health care proxy may include the principal's wishes or instructions about health care decisions, and limitations upon the agent's authority.

(c) The health care proxy may provide that it expires upon a specified date or upon the occurrence of a certain condition. If no such date or condition is set forth in the proxy, the proxy shall remain in effect until revoked. If, prior to the expiration of a proxy, the authority of the agent has commenced, the proxy shall not expire while the principal lacks capacity.

(d) A health care proxy may, but need not, be in the following form:

Health Care Proxy

I (name of principal) hereby appoint (name, home address and telephone number of agent) as my health care agent to make any and all health care decisions for me, except to the extent I state otherwise.

This health care proxy shall take effect in the event I become unable to make my own health care decisions.

NOTE: Although not necessary, and neither encouraged nor discouraged, you may wish to state instructions or wishes, and limit your agent's authority. Unless your agent knows your wishes about artificial nutrition and hydration, your agent will not have authority to decide about artificial nutrition and hydration. If you choose to state instructions, wishes, or limits, please do so below:

I direct my agent to make health care decisions in accordance with my wishes and instructions as stated above or as otherwise known to him or her. I also direct my agent to abide by any limitations on his or her authority as stated above or as otherwise known to him or her.

In the event the person I appoint above is unable, unwilling or unavailable to act as my health care agent, I hereby appoint (name, home address and telephone number of alternate agent) as my health care agent.

I understand that, unless I revoke it, this proxy will remain in effect indefinitely or until the date or occurrence of the condition I have stated below:

(Please complete the following if you do NOT want this health care proxy to be in effect indefinitely):

(e) The health care proxy shall not be executed on a form or other writing that also includes the execution of a power of attorney, provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall invalidate a delegation of the authority to make health care decisions executed prior to the enactment of this article.

(f) A health care proxy may include the principal's wishes or instructions regarding organ and tissue donation and may limit the health care agent's authority to consent to organ or tissue donation or designate another person to do so, under article forty-three of this chapter. Failure to state wishes or instructions shall not be construed to imply a wish not to donate.

6. Alternate agent. (a) A competent adult may designate an alternate agent in the health care proxy to serve in place of the agent when:

(i) the attending practitioner has determined in a writing signed by the physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner (A) that the person appointed as agent is not reasonably available, willing and competent to serve as agent, and (B) that such person is not expected to become reasonably available, willing and competent to make a timely decision given the patient's medical circumstances;

(ii) the agent is disqualified from acting on the principal's behalf pursuant to subdivision three of this section or subdivision two of section two thousand nine hundred ninety-two of this article, or

(iii) under conditions set forth in the proxy.

(b) If, after an alternate agent's authority commences, the person appointed as agent becomes available, willing and competent to serve as agent:

(i) the authority of the alternate agent shall cease and the authority of the agent shall commence; and

(ii) the attending practitioner shall record the change in agent and the reasons therefor in the principal's medical record.

§ 2982. Rights and duties of agent. 1. Scope of authority. Subject to any express limitations in the health care proxy, an agent shall have the authority to make any and all health care decisions on the principal's behalf that the principal could make. Such authority shall be subject to the provisions of section twenty-nine hundred eighty-nine of this article.

2. Decision-making standard. After consultation with a licensed physician, registered nurse, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, licensed psychologist, licensed master social worker, or a licensed clinical social worker, the agent shall make health care decisions: (a) in accordance with the principal's wishes, including the principal's religious and moral beliefs; or (b) if the principal's wishes are not reasonably known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, in accordance with the principal's best interests; provided, however, that if the principal's wishes regarding the administration of artificial nutrition and hydration are not reasonably known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the agent shall not have the authority to make decisions regarding these measures.

3. Right to receive information. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the agent shall have the right to receive medical information and medical and clinical records necessary to make informed decisions regarding the principal's health care.

4. Priority over other surrogates. Health care decisions by an agent on a principal's behalf pursuant to this article shall have priority over decisions by any other person, except as otherwise provided in the health care proxy or in subdivision five of section two thousand nine hundred eighty-three of this article.

§ 2983. Determination of lack of capacity to make health care decisions for the purpose of empowering agent. 1. Determination by attending practitioner. (a) A determination that a principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions shall be made by the attending practitioner to a reasonable degree of medical certainty. The determination shall be made in writing and shall contain such attending practitioner's opinion regarding the cause and nature of the principal's incapacity as well as its extent and probable duration. The determination shall be included in the patient's medical record. For a decision to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment, the attending practitioner who makes the determination that a principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions must consult with another physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner to confirm such determination. Such consultation shall also be included within the patient's medical record.

(b) If an attending practitioner of a patient in a general hospital or mental hygiene facility determines that a patient lacks capacity because of mental illness, the attending practitioner who makes the determination must be, or must consult, for the purpose of confirming the determination, with a qualified psychiatrist. A record of such consultation shall be included in the patient's medical record.

(c) If the attending practitioner determines that a patient lacks capacity because of a developmental disability, the attending practitioner who makes the determination must be, or must consult, for the purpose of confirming the determination, with a physician, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, or clinical psychologist who either is employed by a developmental disabilities services office named in section 13.17 of the mental hygiene law, or who has been employed for a minimum of two years to render care and service in a facility operated or licensed by the office for people with developmental disabilities, or has been approved by the commissioner of developmental disabilities in accordance with regulations promulgated by such commissioner. Such regulations shall require that a physician, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, or clinical psychologist possess specialized training or three years experience in treating developmental disabilities. A record of such consultation shall be included in the patient's medical record.

(d) A physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner who has been appointed as a patient's agent shall not make the determination of the patient's capacity to make health care decisions.

2. Request for a determination. If requested by the agent, an attending practitioner shall make a determination regarding the principal's capacity to make health care decisions for the purposes of this article.

3. Notice of determination. Notice of a determination that a principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions shall promptly be given: (a) to the principal, orally and in writing, where there is any indication of the principal's ability to comprehend such notice; (b) to the agent; (c) if the principal is in or is transferred from a mental hygiene facility, to the facility director; and (d) to the guardian of the principal, if any.

4. Limited purpose of determination. A determination made pursuant to this section that a principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions shall not be construed as a finding that the patient lacks capacity for any other purpose.

5. Priority of principal's decision. Notwithstanding a determination pursuant to this section that the principal lacks capacity to make health care decisions, where a principal objects to the determination of incapacity or to a health care decision made by an agent, the principal's objection or decision shall prevail unless the principal is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to lack capacity to make health care decisions.

6. Confirmation of lack of capacity. (a) The attending practitioner shall confirm the principal's continued incapacity before complying with an agent's health care decisions, other than those decisions made at or about the time of the initial determination made pursuant to subdivision one of this section. The confirmation shall be stated in writing and shall be included in the principal's medical record.

(b) The notice requirements set forth in subdivision three of this section shall not apply to the confirmation required by this subdivision.

7. Effect of recovery of capacity. In the event the attending practitioner determines that the principal has regained capacity, the authority of the agent shall cease, but shall recommence if the principal subsequently loses capacity as determined pursuant to this section.

§ 2984. Provider's obligations. 1. A health care provider who is provided with a health care proxy shall arrange for the proxy or a copy thereof to be inserted in the principal's medical record if the health care proxy has not been included in such record.

2. A health care provider shall comply with health care decisions made by an agent in good faith under a health care proxy to the same extent as if such decisions had been made by the principal, subject to any limitations in the health care proxy and pursuant to the provisions of subdivision five of section two thousand nine hundred eighty-three of this article.

3. Notwithstanding subdivision two of this section, nothing in this article shall be construed to require a private hospital to honor an agent's health care decision that the hospital would not honor if the decision had been made by the principal because the decision is contrary to a formally adopted policy of the hospital that is expressly based on religious beliefs or sincerely held moral convictions central to the facility's operating principles and the hospital would be permitted by law to refuse to honor the decision if made by the principal, provided:

(a) the hospital has informed the patient or the health care agent of such policy prior to or upon admission, if reasonably possible; and

(b) the patient is transferred promptly to another hospital that is reasonably accessible under the circumstances and is willing to honor the agent's decision and pending transfer the hospital complies with subdivision five of this section. If the agent is unable or unwilling to arrange such a transfer, the hospital may intervene to facilitate such a transfer. If such a transfer is not effected, the hospital shall seek judicial relief in accordance with section twenty-nine hundred ninety-two of this article or honor the agent's decision.

4. Notwithstanding subdivision two of this section, nothing in this article shall be construed to require an individual as a health care provider to honor an agent's health care decision that the individual would not honor if the decision had been made by the principal because the decision is contrary to the individual's religious beliefs or sincerely held moral convictions, provided the individual health care provider promptly informs the health care agent and the hospital of his or her refusal to honor the agent's decision. In such event, the hospital shall promptly transfer responsibility for the patient to another individual health care provider willing to honor the agent's decision. The individual health care provider shall cooperate in facilitating such transfer of the patient and comply with subdivision five of this section.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section or subdivision two of section twenty-nine hundred eighty-nine of this article, if an agent directs the provision of life-sustaining treatment, the denial of which in reasonable medical judgment would be likely to result in the death of the patient, a hospital or individual health care provider that does not wish to provide such treatment shall nonetheless comply with the agent's decision pending either transfer of the patient to a willing hospital or individual health care provider, or judicial review in accordance with section twenty-nine hundred ninety-two of this article.

§ 2985. Revocation. 1. Means of revoking proxy. (a) A competent adult may revoke a health care proxy by notifying the agent or a health care provider orally or in writing or by any other act evidencing a specific intent to revoke the proxy.

(b) For the purposes of this section, every adult shall be presumed competent unless determined otherwise pursuant to court order.

(c) A health care proxy shall also be revoked upon execution by the principal of a subsequent health care proxy.

(d) The creation by the principal of written wishes or instructions about health care, or limitations upon the agent's authority, shall not revoke a health care proxy unless such wishes, instructions or limitations expressly provide otherwise. Such wishes, instructions or limitations shall constitute evidence of the principal's wishes for purposes of subdivision two of section two thousand nine hundred eighty-two of this article.

(e) The appointment of the principal's spouse as health care agent shall be revoked upon the divorce or legal separation of the principal and spouse, unless the principal specifies otherwise.

2. Duty to record revocation. (a) A physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner who is informed of or provided with a revocation of a health care proxy shall immediately (i) record the revocation in the principal's medical record and (ii) notify the agent and the medical staff responsible for the principal's care of the revocation.

(b) Any member of the staff of a health care provider informed of or provided with a revocation of a health care proxy pursuant to this section shall immediately notify a physician, physician assistant, or nurse practitioner of such revocation.

§ 2986. Immunity. 1. Provider immunity. No health care provider or employee thereof shall be subjected to criminal or civil liability, or be deemed to have engaged in unprofessional conduct, for honoring in good faith a health care decision by an agent, or for other actions taken in good faith pursuant to this article.

2. Agent immunity. No person acting as agent pursuant to a health care proxy shall be subjected to criminal or civil liability for making a health care decision in good faith pursuant to this article.

§ 2987. Liability for health care costs. Liability for the cost of health care provided pursuant to an agent's decision shall be the same as if the health care were provided pursuant to the principal's decision.

§ 2988. Requiring or prohibiting execution of proxy. No person may require or prohibit the execution of a health care proxy by an individual as a condition for providing health care services or insurance to such individual.

§ 2989. Effect on other rights. 1. A competent adult's failure to appoint a health care agent or to provide the agent with specific health care instructions pursuant to this article shall create no presumptions regarding the adult's wishes about health care.

2. Nothing in this article creates, expands, diminishes, impairs or supersedes any authority that a principal may have under law to make or express decisions, wishes or instructions regarding health care, including decisions about life sustaining treatment, whether or not expressed in a health care proxy.

3. This article is not intended to permit or promote suicide, assisted suicide, or euthanasia; accordingly, nothing herein shall be construed to permit an agent to consent to any act or omission to which the principal could not consent under law.

§ 2990. Proxies executed in other states. A health care proxy or similar instrument executed in another state or jurisdiction in compliance with the law of that state or jurisdiction shall be considered validly executed for purposes of this article.

§ 2991. Creation and use of proxies in residential health care and mental hygiene facilities. 1. Residential health care facilities and mental hygiene facilities shall establish procedures:

(a) to provide information to adult residents about their right to create a health care proxy under this article;

(b) to educate adult residents about the authority delegated under a health care proxy, what a proxy may include or omit, and how a proxy is created and revoked;

(c) to help ensure that each resident who creates a proxy while residing at the facility does so voluntarily.

2. Such procedures shall be established in accordance with regulations issued by the commissioners of health, mental health, and the office for people with developmental disabilities for facilities subject to their respective regulatory authorities.

§ 2992. Special proceeding authorized. The health care provider or guardian of the principal under article eighty-one of the mental hygiene law or article seventeen-A of the surrogate's court procedure act, members of the principal's family, a close friend of the principal as defined in subdivision four of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-a of this chapter, or the commissioner, the commissioner of mental health, or the commissioner of developmental disabilities may commence a special proceeding pursuant to article four of the civil practice law and rules, in a court of competent jurisdiction, with respect to any dispute arising under this article, including, but not limited to, a proceeding to:

1. determine the validity of the health care proxy;

2. have the agent removed on the ground that the agent (a) is not reasonably available, willing and competent to fulfill his or her obligations under this article; (b) is acting in bad faith; or (c) is the subject of an order of protection protecting the principal or has been arrested or charged for a criminal act that allegedly caused the principal's lack of capacity or substantially injured or impaired the health status of the principal, provided that the application of this provision in a particular case may be waived or modified in the interest of justice; or

3. override the agent's decision about health care treatment on the grounds that: (a) the decision was made in bad faith or (b) the decision is not in accordance with the standards set forth in subdivision one or two of section two thousand nine hundred eighty-two of this article.

§ 2993. Regulations. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioners of the office of mental health and the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall establish such regulations as may be necessary for the implementation of this article, subject to the provisions of subdivision two of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-one of this article.

§ 2994. Rights to be publicized. The commissioner of health shall prepare a statement summarizing the rights, duties and requirements of this article and shall require that a copy of such statement:

1. Be furnished to patients or their families at or prior to the time of admission to a hospital, and to each member of the hospital's staff; and

2. Be posted in a public place in each hospital.

The statement of rights required by this section may be included in any other statement of patients' rights required by other provisions of this chapter.

Each party to a domestic partnership shall be considered to be the domestic partner of the other party. "Domestic partner" shall not include a person who is related to the other person by blood in a manner that would bar marriage to the other person in New York state. § 2994-b. Applicability; priority of certain other surrogate decision-making laws and regulations. 1. This article shall apply to health care decisions regarding health care provided in a hospital, and to decisions regarding hospice care without regard to where the decision is made or where the care is provided, for a patient who lacks decision-making capacity, except as limited by this section.

1-a. This article shall also apply to decisions regarding orders not to resuscitate for a patient who lacks decision-making capacity in a hospital as defined by section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law.

2. Prior to seeking or relying upon a health care decision by a surrogate for a patient under this article, the attending practitioner shall make reasonable efforts to determine whether the patient has a health care agent appointed pursuant to article twenty-nine-C of this chapter. If so, health care decisions for the patient shall be governed by such article, and shall have priority over decisions by any other person except the patient or as otherwise provided in the health care proxy.

3. Prior to seeking or relying upon a health care decision by a surrogate for a patient under this article, if the attending practitioner has reason to believe that the patient has a history of receiving services for an intellectual or developmental disability; it reasonably appears to the attending practitioner that the patient has an intellectual or developmental disability; or the practitioner in a general hospital has reason to believe that the patient has been temporarily transferred from a mental hygiene facility operated or licensed by the office of mental health or the office for people with developmental disabilities, then such physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant shall make reasonable efforts to determine whether paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of this subdivision is applicable:

(a) If the patient has a guardian appointed by a court pursuant to article seventeen-A of the surrogate's court procedure act, health care decisions for the patient shall be governed by section seventeen hundred fifty-b of the surrogate's court procedure act and not by this article.

(b) If a patient does not have a guardian appointed by a court pursuant to article seventeen-A of the surrogate's court procedure act but falls within the class of persons described in paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section seventeen hundred fifty-b of such act, decisions to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment for the patient shall be governed by section seventeen hundred fifty-b of the surrogate's court procedure act and not by this article.

(c) If a health care decision for a patient cannot be made under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this subdivision, but consent for the decision may be provided pursuant to the mental hygiene law or regulations of the office of mental health or the office for people with developmental disabilities, then the decision shall be governed by such statute or regulations and not by this article.

4. If, after reasonable efforts, it is determined that a health care decision for the patient cannot be made pursuant to subdivision two or three of this section, then the health care decision shall be made pursuant to this article.

§ 2994-c. Determination of incapacity. 1. Presumption of capacity. For purposes of this article, every adult shall be presumed to have decision-making capacity unless determined otherwise pursuant to this section or pursuant to court order, or unless a guardian is authorized to decide about health care for the adult pursuant to article eighty-one of the mental hygiene law.

2. Initial determination by attending practitioner. An attending practitioner shall make an initial determination that an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity to a reasonable degree of medical certainty. Such determination shall include an assessment of the cause and extent of the patient's incapacity and the likelihood that the patient will regain decision-making capacity.

3. Concurring determinations. (a) An initial determination that a patient lacks decision-making capacity shall be subject to a concurring determination, independently made, where required by this subdivision. A concurring determination shall include an assessment of the cause and extent of the patient's incapacity and the likelihood that the patient will regain decision-making capacity, and shall be included in the patient's medical record. Hospitals shall adopt written policies identifying the training and credentials of health or social services practitioners qualified to provide concurring determinations of incapacity.

(b) (i) In a residential health care facility, a health or social services practitioner employed by or otherwise formally affiliated with the facility must independently determine whether an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity.

(ii) In a general hospital a health or social services practitioner employed by or otherwise formally affiliated with the facility must independently determine whether an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity if the surrogate's decision concerns the withdrawal or withholding of life-sustaining treatment.

(iii) With respect to decisions regarding hospice care for a patient in a general hospital or residential health care facility, the health or social services practitioner must be employed by or otherwise formally affiliated with the general hospital or residential health care facility.

(c) (i) If the attending practitioner makes an initial determination that a patient lacks decision-making capacity because of mental illness, either such physician must have the following qualifications, or another physician with the following qualifications must independently determine whether the patient lacks decision-making capacity: a physician licensed to practice medicine in New York state, who is a diplomate or eligible to be certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or who is certified by the American Osteopathic Board of Neurology and Psychiatry or is eligible to be certified by that board. A record of such consultation shall be included in the patient's medical record.

(ii) If the attending practitioner makes an initial determination that a patient lacks decision-making capacity because of a developmental disability, either such physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant must have the following qualifications, or another professional with the following qualifications must independently determine whether the patient lacks decision-making capacity: a physician or clinical psychologist who either is employed by a developmental disabilities services office named in section 13.17 of the mental hygiene law, or who has been employed for a minimum of two years to render care and service in a facility operated or licensed by the office for people with developmental disabilities, or has been approved by the commissioner of developmental disabilities in accordance with regulations promulgated by such commissioner. Such regulations shall require that a physician or clinical psychologist possess specialized training or three years experience in treating developmental disabilities. A record of such consultation shall be included in the patient's medical record.

(d) If an attending practitioner has determined that the patient lacks decision-making capacity and if the health or social services practitioner consulted for a concurring determination disagrees with the attending practitioner's determination, the matter shall be referred to the ethics review committee if it cannot otherwise be resolved.

4. Informing the patient and surrogate. Notice of a determination that a surrogate will make health care decisions because the adult patient has been determined to lack decision-making capacity shall promptly be given:

(a) to the patient, where there is any indication of the patient's ability to comprehend the information;

(b) to at least one person on the surrogate list highest in order of priority listed when persons in prior classes are not reasonably available pursuant to subdivision one of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article;

(c) if the patient is in a hospital as defined in subdivision ten of section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law or was transferred from a mental hygiene facility, to the director of the mental hygiene facility and to the mental hygiene legal service under article forty-seven of the mental hygiene law.

5. Limited purpose of determination. A determination made pursuant to this section that an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity shall not be construed as a finding that the patient lacks capacity for any other purpose.

6. Priority of patient's decision. Notwithstanding a determination pursuant to this section that an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity, if the patient objects to the determination of incapacity, or to the choice of a surrogate or to a health care decision made by a surrogate or made pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-g of this article, the patient's objection or decision shall prevail unless: (a) a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that the patient lacks decision-making capacity or the patient is or has been adjudged incompetent for all purposes and, in the case of a patient's objection to treatment, makes any other finding required by law to authorize the treatment, or (b) another legal basis exists for overriding the patient's decision.

7. Confirmation of continued lack of decision-making capacity. An attending practitioner shall confirm the adult patient's continued lack of decision-making capacity before complying with health care decisions made pursuant to this article, other than those decisions made at or about the time of the initial determination. A concurring determination of the patient's continued lack of decision-making capacity shall be required if the subsequent health care decision concerns the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment. Health care providers shall not be required to inform the patient or surrogate of the confirmation.

§ 2994-d. Health care decisions for adult patients by surrogates. 1.

Identifying the surrogate. One person from the following list from the class highest in priority when persons in prior classes are not reasonably available, willing, and competent to act, shall be the surrogate for an adult patient who lacks decision-making capacity. However, such person may designate any other person on the list to be surrogate, provided no one in a class higher in priority than the person designated objects:

(a) A guardian authorized to decide about health care pursuant to article eighty-one of the mental hygiene law;

(b) The spouse, if not legally separated from the patient, or the domestic partner;

(c) A son or daughter eighteen years of age or older;

(d) A parent;

(e) A brother or sister eighteen years of age or older;

(f) A close friend.

2. Restrictions on who may be a surrogate. An operator, administrator, or employee of a hospital or a mental hygiene facility from which the patient was transferred, or a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant who has privileges at the hospital or a health care provider under contract with the hospital may not serve as the surrogate for any adult who is a patient of such hospital, unless such individual is related to the patient by blood, marriage, domestic partnership, or adoption, or is a close friend of the patient whose friendship with the patient preceded the patient's admission to the facility. If a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant serves as surrogate, the physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant shall not act as the patient's attending practitioner after his or her authority as surrogate begins.

3. Authority and duties of surrogate. (a) Scope of surrogate's authority.

(i) Subject to the standards and limitations of this article, the surrogate shall have the authority to make any and all health care decisions on the adult patient's behalf that the patient could make.

(ii) Nothing in this article shall obligate health care providers to seek the consent of a surrogate if an adult patient has already made a decision about the proposed health care, expressed orally or in writing or, with respect to a decision to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment expressed either orally during hospitalization in the presence of two witnesses eighteen years of age or older, at least one of whom is a health or social services practitioner affiliated with the hospital, or in writing. If an attending practitioner relies on the patient's prior decision, the physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant shall record the prior decision in the patient's medical record. If a surrogate has already been designated for the patient, the attending practitioner shall make reasonable efforts to notify the surrogate prior to implementing the decision; provided that in the case of a decision to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment, the attending practitioner shall make diligent efforts to notify the surrogate and, if unable to notify the surrogate, shall document the efforts that were made to do so.

(b) Commencement of surrogate's authority. The surrogate's authority shall commence upon a determination, made pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article, that the adult patient lacks decision-making capacity and upon identification of a surrogate pursuant to subdivision one of this section. In the event an attending practitioner determines that the patient has regained decision-making capacity, the authority of the surrogate shall cease.

(c) Right and duty to be informed. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the surrogate shall have the right to receive medical information and medical records necessary to make informed decisions about the patient's health care. Health care providers shall provide and the surrogate shall seek information necessary to make an informed decision, including information about the patient's diagnosis, prognosis, the nature and consequences of proposed health care, and the benefits and risks of and alternatives to proposed health care.

4. Decision-making standards. (a) The surrogate shall make health care decisions:

(i) in accordance with the patient's wishes, including the patient's religious and moral beliefs; or

(ii) if the patient's wishes are not reasonably known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, in accordance with the patient's best interests. An assessment of the patient's best interests shall include: consideration of the dignity and uniqueness of every person; the possibility and extent of preserving the patient's life; the preservation, improvement or restoration of the patient's health or functioning; the relief of the patient's suffering; and any medical condition and such other concerns and values as a reasonable person in the patient's circumstances would wish to consider.

(b) In all cases, the surrogate's assessment of the patient's wishes and best interests shall be patient-centered; health care decisions shall be made on an individualized basis for each patient, and shall be consistent with the values of the patient, including the patient's religious and moral beliefs, to the extent reasonably possible.

5. Decisions to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment. In addition to the standards set forth in subdivision four of this section, decisions by surrogates to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment (including decisions to accept a hospice plan of care that provides for the withdrawal or withholding of life-sustaining treatment) shall be authorized only if the following conditions are satisfied, as applicable:

(a)(i) Treatment would be an extraordinary burden to the patient and an attending practitioner determines, with the independent concurrence of another physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant, that, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty and in accord with accepted medical standards, (A) the patient has an illness or injury which can be expected to cause death within six months, whether or not treatment is provided; or (B) the patient is permanently unconscious; or

(ii) The provision of treatment would involve such pain, suffering or other burden that it would reasonably be deemed inhumane or extraordinarily burdensome under the circumstances and the patient has an irreversible or incurable condition, as determined by an attending practitioner with the independent concurrence of another physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant to a reasonable degree of medical certainty and in accord with accepted medical standards.

(b) In a residential health care facility, a surrogate shall have the authority to refuse life-sustaining treatment under subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision only if the ethics review committee, including at least one physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant who is not directly responsible for the patient's care, or a court of competent jurisdiction, reviews the decision and determines that it meets the standards set forth in this article. This requirement shall not apply to a decision to withhold cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

(c) In a general hospital, if the attending practitioner objects to a surrogate's decision, under subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, to withdraw or withhold nutrition and hydration provided by means of medical treatment, the decision shall not be implemented until the ethics review committee, including at least one physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant who is not directly responsible for the patient's care, or a court of competent jurisdiction, reviews the decision and determines that it meets the standards set forth in this subdivision and subdivision four of this section.

(d) Providing nutrition and hydration orally, without reliance on medical treatment, is not health care under this article and is not subject to this article.

(e) Expression of decisions. The surrogate shall express a decision to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment either orally to an attending practitioner or in writing.

§ 2994-e. Decisions about life-sustaining treatment for minor patients. 1. Authority of parent or guardian. The parent or guardian of a minor patient shall have the authority to make decisions about life-sustaining treatment, including decisions to withhold or withdraw such treatment, subject to the provisions of this section and subdivision five of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article.

2. Decision-making standards and procedures for minor patient. (a) The parent or guardian of a minor patient shall make decisions in accordance with the minor's best interests, consistent with the standards set forth in subdivision four of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article, taking into account the minor's wishes as appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) An attending practitioner, in consultation with a minor's parent or guardian, shall determine whether a minor patient has decision-making capacity for a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment. If the minor has such capacity, a parent's or guardian's decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment for the minor may not be implemented without the minor's consent.

(c) Where a parent or guardian of a minor patient has made a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment and an attending practitioner has reason to believe that the minor patient has a parent or guardian who has not been informed of the decision, including a non-custodial parent or guardian, an attending practitioner or someone acting on his or her behalf, shall make reasonable efforts to determine if the uninformed parent or guardian has maintained substantial and continuous contact with the minor and, if so, shall make diligent efforts to notify that parent or guardian prior to implementing the decision.

3. Decision-making standards and procedures for emancipated minor patient. (a) If an attending practitioner determines that a patient is an emancipated minor patient with decision-making capacity and documents the basis for that determination in the patient's medical record, the patient shall have the authority to decide about life-sustaining treatment. That authority shall include a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment if an attending practitioner and the ethics review committee determine that the decision accords with the standards for surrogate decisions for adults, and the ethics review committee approves the decision.

(b) If the hospital can with reasonable efforts ascertain the identity of the parents or guardian of an emancipated minor patient and obtain such parents' or guardian's contact information, the hospital shall notify such persons, and document such notification in the patient's medical record, prior to withholding or withdrawing life-sustaining treatment pursuant to this subdivision.

§ 2994-f. Obligations of attending practitioner. 1. An attending practitioner informed of a decision to withdraw or withhold life-sustaining treatment made pursuant to the standards of this article shall record the decision in the patient's medical record, review the medical basis for the decision, and shall either: (a) implement the decision, or (b) promptly make his or her objection to the decision and the reasons for the objection known to the decision-maker, and either make all reasonable efforts to arrange for the transfer of the patient to another physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant, if necessary, or promptly refer the matter to the ethics review committee.

2. If an attending practitioner has actual notice of the following objections or disagreements, he or she shall promptly refer the matter to the ethics review committee if the objection or disagreement cannot otherwise be resolved:

(a) A health or social services practitioner consulted for a concurring determination that an adult patient lacks decision-making capacity disagrees with the attending practitioner's determination; or

(b) Any person on the surrogate list objects to the designation of the surrogate pursuant to subdivision one of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article; or

(c) Any person on the surrogate list objects to a surrogate's decision; or

(d) A parent or guardian of a minor patient objects to the decision by another parent or guardian of the minor; or

(e) A minor patient refuses life-sustaining treatment, and the minor's parent or guardian wishes the treatment to be provided, or the minor patient objects to an attending practitioner's determination about decision-making capacity or recommendation about life-sustaining treatment.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section or subdivision one of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-q of this article, if a surrogate directs the provision of life-sustaining treatment, the denial of which in reasonable medical judgment would be likely to result in the death of the patient, a hospital or individual health care provider that does not wish to provide such treatment shall nonetheless comply with the surrogate's decision pending either transfer of the patient to a willing hospital or individual health care provider, or judicial review in accordance with section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-r of this article.

§ 2994-g. Health care decisions for adult patients without surrogates.

1. Identifying adult patients without surrogates. Within a reasonable time after admission as an inpatient to the hospital of each adult patient, the hospital shall make reasonable efforts to determine if the patient has appointed a health care agent or has a guardian, or if at least one individual is available to serve as the patient's surrogate in the event the patient lacks or loses decision-making capacity. With respect to a patient who lacks capacity, if no such health care agent, guardian or potential surrogate is identified, the hospital shall identify, to the extent reasonably possible, the patient's wishes and preferences, including the patient's religious and moral beliefs, about pending health care decisions, and shall record its findings in the patient's medical record.

2. Decision-making standards and procedures. (a) The procedures specified in this and the following subdivisions of this section apply to health care decisions for adult patients who would qualify for surrogate decision-making under this article but for whom no surrogate is reasonably available, willing or competent to act.

(b) Any health care decision made pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with the standards set forth in subdivision four of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article and shall not be based on the financial interests of the hospital or any other health care provider. The specific procedures to be followed depend on whether the decision involves routine medical treatment, major medical treatment, or the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment, and the location where the treatment is provided.

3. Routine medical treatment. (a) For purposes of this subdivision, "routine medical treatment" means any treatment, service, or procedure to diagnose or treat an individual's physical or mental condition, such as the administration of medication, the extraction of bodily fluids for analysis, or dental care performed with a local anesthetic, for which health care providers ordinarily do not seek specific consent from the patient or authorized representative. It shall not include the long-term provision of treatment such as ventilator support or a nasogastric tube but shall include such treatment when provided as part of post-operative care or in response to an acute illness and recovery is reasonably expected within one month or less.

(b) An attending practitioner shall be authorized to decide about routine medical treatment for an adult patient who has been determined to lack decision-making capacity pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article. Nothing in this subdivision shall require health care providers to obtain specific consent for treatment where specific consent is not otherwise required by law.

4. Major medical treatment. (a) For purposes of this subdivision, "major medical treatment" means any treatment, service or procedure to diagnose or treat an individual's physical or mental condition: (i) where general anesthetic is used; or (ii) which involves any significant risk; or (iii) which involves any significant invasion of bodily integrity requiring an incision, producing substantial pain, discomfort, debilitation or having a significant recovery period; or (iv) which involves the use of physical restraints, as specified in regulations promulgated by the commissioner, except in an emergency; or (v) which involves the use of psychoactive medications, except when provided as part of post-operative care or in response to an acute illness and treatment is reasonably expected to be administered over a period of forty-eight hours or less, or when provided in an emergency.

(b) A decision to provide major medical treatment, made in accordance with the following requirements, shall be authorized for an adult patient who has been determined to lack decision-making capacity pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article.

(i) An attending practitioner shall make a recommendation in consultation with hospital staff directly responsible for the patient's care.

(ii) In a general hospital, at least one other physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the hospital must independently determine that he or she concurs that the recommendation is appropriate.

(iii) In a residential health care facility, and for a hospice patient not in a general hospital, the medical director of the facility or hospice, or a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the medical director, must independently determine that he or she concurs that the recommendation is appropriate; provided that if the medical director is the patient's attending practitioner, a different physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the residential health care facility or hospice must make this independent determination. Any health or social services practitioner employed by or otherwise formally affiliated with the facility or hospice may provide a second opinion for decisions about physical restraints made pursuant to this subdivision.

5. Decisions to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment. (a) A court of competent jurisdiction may make a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment for an adult patient who has been determined to lack decision-making capacity pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article if the court finds that the decision accords with standards for decisions for adults set forth in subdivisions four and five of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article.

(b) If the attending practitioner, with independent concurrence of a second physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the hospital, determines to a reasonable degree of medical certainty that:

(i) life-sustaining treatment offers the patient no medical benefit because the patient will die imminently, even if the treatment is provided; and

(ii) the provision of life-sustaining treatment would violate accepted medical standards, then such treatment may be withdrawn or withheld from an adult patient who has been determined to lack decision-making capacity pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article, without judicial approval. This paragraph shall not apply to any treatment necessary to alleviate pain or discomfort.

5-a. Decisions regarding hospice care. An attending practitioner shall be authorized to make decisions regarding hospice care and execute appropriate documents for such decisions (including a hospice election form) for an adult patient under this section who is hospice eligible in accordance with the following requirements.

(a) The attending practitioner shall make decisions under this section in consultation with staff directly responsible for the patient's care, and shall base his or her decisions on the standards for surrogate decisions set forth in subdivisions four and five of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article;

(b) There is a concurring opinion as follows:

(i) in a general hospital, at least one other physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the hospital must independently determine that he or she concurs that the recommendation is consistent with such standards for surrogate decisions;

(ii) in a residential health care facility, the medical director of the facility, or a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the medical director, must independently determine that he or she concurs that the recommendation is consistent with such standards for surrogate decisions; provided that if the medical director is the patient's attending practitioner, a different physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant designated by the residential health care facility must make this independent determination; or

(iii) in settings other than a general hospital or residential health care facility, the medical director of the hospice, or a physician designated by the medical director, must independently determine that he or she concurs that the recommendation is medically appropriate and consistent with such standards for surrogate decisions; provided that if the medical director is the patient's attending physician, a different physician designated by the hospice must make this independent determination; and health care facility or hospice, as applicable, including at least one physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant who is not the patient's attending practitioner, or a court of competent jurisdiction, must review the decision and determine that it is consistent with such standards for surrogate decisions. This requirement shall not apply to decisions about routine medical treatment. Such decisions shall be governed by subdivision three of this section.

(c) The ethics review committee of the general hospital, residential

6. Physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant objection. If a physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant consulted for a concurring opinion objects to an attending practitioner's recommendation or determination made pursuant to this section, or a member of the hospital staff directly responsible for the patient's care objects to an attending practitioner's recommendation about major medical treatment or treatment without medical benefit, the matter shall be referred to the ethics review committee if it cannot be otherwise resolved.

§ 2994-j. Revocation of consent. 1. A patient, surrogate, or parent or guardian of a minor patient may at any time revoke his or her consent to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment by informing an attending practitioner or a member of the medical or nursing staff of the revocation.

If a decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment has been made pursuant to this article, and an attending practitioner determines at any time that the decision is no longer appropriate or authorized because the patient has regained decision-making capacity or because the patient's condition has otherwise improved, the physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant shall immediately:

(a) include such determination in the patient's medical record;

(b) cancel any orders or plans of care implementing the decision to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment;

(c) notify the person who made the decision to withhold or withdraw treatment, or, if that person is not reasonably available, to at least one person on the surrogate list highest in order of priority listed when persons in prior classes are not reasonably available pursuant to subdivision one of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article; and

hospital, any such order or plan shall remain effective until an attending practitioner first examines the transferred patient, whereupon an attending practitioner must either:

(a) Issue appropriate orders to continue the prior order or plan. Such orders may be issued without obtaining another consent to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment pursuant to this article; or

(b) Cancel such order, if the attending practitioner determines that the order is no longer appropriate or authorized. Before canceling the order the attending practitioner shall make reasonable efforts to notify the person who made the decision to withhold or withdraw treatment and the hospital staff directly responsible for the patient's care of any such cancellation. 5. Access to medical records and information; patient confidentiality. Ethics review committee members and consultants shall have access to medical information and medical records necessary to perform their function under this article. Any such information or records disclosed to committee members, consultants, or others shall be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to accomplish the purposes of this article or as otherwise provided by law.

§ 2994-n. Conscience objections. 1. Private hospitals. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require a private hospital to honor a health care decision made pursuant to this article if:

(a) The decision is contrary to a formally adopted policy of the hospital that is expressly based on sincerely held religious beliefs or sincerely held moral convictions central to the facility's operating principles;

(b) The hospital has informed the patient, family, or surrogate of such policy prior to or upon admission, if reasonably possible; and

(c) The patient is transferred promptly to another hospital that is reasonably accessible under the circumstances and willing to honor the decision and pending transfer the hospital complies with subdivision three of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-f of this article. If the patient's family or surrogate is unable or unwilling to arrange such a transfer, the hospital may intervene to facilitate such a transfer. If such a transfer is not effected, the hospital shall seek judicial relief in accordance with section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-r of this article or honor the decision.

2. Individual health care providers. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require an individual as a health care provider to honor a health care decision made pursuant to this article if:

(a) the decision is contrary to the individual's sincerely held religious beliefs or sincerely held moral conviction; and

(b) the individual health care provider promptly informs the person who made the decision and the hospital of his or her refusal to honor the decision. In such event, the hospital shall promptly transfer responsibility for the patient to another individual health care provider willing to honor the decision. The individual health care provider shall cooperate in facilitating such transfer and comply with subdivision three of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-f of this article.

§ 2994-o. Immunity. 1. Ethics review committee. No person shall be subject to criminal or civil liability, or be deemed to have engaged in unprofessional conduct, for acts performed reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article as a member of or as a consultant to an ethics review committee or as a participant in an ethics review committee meeting.

2. Providers. No health care provider or employee thereof shall be subjected to criminal or civil liability, or be deemed to have engaged in unprofessional conduct, for honoring reasonably and in good faith a health care decision made pursuant to this article or for other actions taken reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article.

3. Surrogates and guardians. No person shall be subjected to criminal or civil liability for making a health care decision reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article or for other actions taken reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article.

care for a minor solely by virtue of making a decision as a guardian of a minor pursuant to this article.

§ 2994-q. Effect on other rights. 1. Nothing in this article creates, expands, diminishes, impairs, or supersedes any authority that an individual may have under law to make or express decisions, wishes, or instructions regarding health care on his or her own behalf, including decisions about life-sustaining treatment.

2. Nothing in this article shall affect existing law concerning implied consent to health care in an emergency.

3. Nothing in this article is intended to permit or promote suicide, assisted suicide, or euthanasia.

Any person connected with the case and any member of the hospital ethics review committee may commence a special proceeding pursuant to article four of the civil practice law and rules in a court of competent jurisdiction with respect to any matter arising under this article.

2. Court orders designating surrogate. A court of competent jurisdiction may designate any individual from the surrogate list to act as surrogate, regardless of that individual's priority on the list, if the court determines that such appointment would best accord with the patient's wishes or, if the patient's wishes are not reasonably known, with the patient's best interests. The court may remove a surrogate on the ground that the surrogate: (a) is not reasonably available, willing and competent to fulfill his or her obligations under this article; (b) is acting in bad faith; or (c) is the subject of an order of protection protecting the patient or has been arrested or charged for a criminal act that allegedly caused the patient's lack of capacity or substantially injured or impaired the health status of the patient, provided that the application of this provision in a particular case may be waived or modified in the interest of justice. Unless otherwise determined by a court, no surrogate decision made prior to an order designating a surrogate shall be deemed to have been invalid because of the issuance of a designating order.

3. Court orders to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment. A court of competent jurisdiction may authorize the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment from a person if the court determines that the person lacks decision-making capacity, and withdrawing or withholding the treatment would accord with the standards set forth in subdivision five of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-d of this article.

4. Health care guardian for a minor patient. (a) No appointment shall be made pursuant to this subdivision if a parent or legal guardian of the person is available, willing, and competent to decide about treatment for the minor.

(b) The following persons may commence a special proceeding in a court of competent jurisdiction to seek appointment as the health care guardian of a minor patient solely for the purpose of deciding about life-sustaining treatment pursuant to this article:

(i) the hospital administrator;

(c) Notice of the proceeding shall be given to the persons identified in section seventeen hundred five of the surrogate's court procedure act.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, seeking appointment or being appointed as a health care guardian shall not otherwise affect the legal status or rights of the individual seeking or obtaining such appointment.

§ 2994-s. Remedy. 1. Any hospital, attending practitioner that refuses to honor a health care decision by a surrogate made pursuant to this article and in accord with the standards set forth in this article shall not be entitled to compensation for treatment, services, or procedures refused by the surrogate, except that this subdivision shall not apply:

(a) when a hospital, physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant exercises the rights granted by section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-n of this article, provided that the physician, nurse practitioner, physician assistant or hospital promptly fulfills the obligations set forth in section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-n of this article;

(b) while a matter is under consideration by the ethics review committee, provided that the matter is promptly referred to and considered by the committee;

(c) in the event of a dispute between individuals on the surrogate list; or

(d) if the physician, nurse practitioner, physician assistant or hospital prevails in any litigation concerning the surrogate's decision to refuse the treatment, services or procedure. Nothing in this section shall determine or affect how disputes among individuals on the surrogate list are resolved.

2. The remedy provided in this section is in addition to and cumulative with any other remedies available at law or in equity or by administrative proceedings to a patient, a health care agent appointed pursuant to article twenty-nine-C of this chapter, or a person authorized to make health care decisions pursuant to this article, including injunctive and declaratory relief, and any other provisions of this chapter governing fines, penalties, or forfeitures.

§ 2994-t. Regulations. 1. The commissioner shall establish such regulations as may be necessary to implement this article.

2. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioners of the office of mental health and the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall promulgate regulations identifying the credentials of health care professionals qualified to provide an independent determination, pursuant to subdivision three of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-c of this article, that a patient lacks decision-making capacity because of mental illness or developmental disability.

The commissioner shall prepare a statement summarizing the rights, duties, and requirements of this article and shall require that a copy of such statement be furnished to a patient or to the patient's surrogate, or to the parent or guardian of a minor patient, at or prior to admission to the hospital, or within a reasonable time thereafter, and to any person on the surrogate list who requests a copy of the statement from the hospital. The statement shall also be made available to the hospital clinical staff.

§ 2994-cc. Consent to a nonhospital order not to resuscitate. 1. attending practitioner shall record the issuance of a nonhospital order not to resuscitate in the patient's medical record.

2. A nonhospital order not to resuscitate shall be issued upon a standard form prescribed by the commissioner. A standard bracelet or other article may be worn by a patient with a nonhospital order not to resuscitate to identify that status; provided, however, that no person may require a patient to wear such an article and that no person may require a patient to wear such an article as a condition for honoring a nonhospital order not to resuscitate or for providing health care services.

3. An attending practitioner who has issued a nonhospital order not to resuscitate, and who transfers care of the patient to another physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant, shall inform the physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant of the order.

4. For each patient for whom a nonhospital order not to resuscitate has been issued, the attending practitioner shall review whether the order is still appropriate in light of the patient's condition each time he or she examines the patient, whether in the hospital or elsewhere, but at least every ninety days, provided that the review need not occur more than once every seven days. The attending practitioner shall record the review in the patient's medical record provided, however, that a physician assistant or a registered nurse, other than the attending nurse practitioner, who provides direct care to the patient may record the review in the medical record at the direction of the physician. In such case, the attending practitioner shall include a confirmation of the review in the patient's medical record within fourteen days of such review. Failure to comply with this subdivision shall not render a nonhospital order not to resuscitate ineffective.

5. A person who has consented to a nonhospital order not to resuscitate may at any time revoke his or her consent to the order by any act evidencing a specific intent to revoke such consent. Any health care professional, other than the attending practitioner, informed of a revocation of consent to a nonhospital order not to resuscitate shall notify the attending practitioner of the revocation. 6. The commissioner may authorize the use of one or more alternative forms for issuing a nonhospital order not to resuscitate (in place of the standard form prescribed by the commissioner under subdivision two of this section). Such alternative form or forms may also be used to issue a non-hospital do not intubate order. Any such alternative forms intended for use for persons with developmental disabilities or persons with mental illness who are incapable of making their own health care decisions or who have a guardian of the person appointed pursuant to article eighty-one of the mental hygiene law or article seventeen-A of the surrogate's court procedure act must also be approved by the commissioner of developmental disabilities or the commissioner of mental health, as appropriate. An alternative form under this subdivision shall otherwise conform with applicable federal and state law. This subdivision does not limit, restrict or impair the use of an alternative form for issuing an order not to resuscitate in a general hospital or residential health care facility under article twenty-eight of this chapter or a hospital under subdivision ten of section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law or a facility certified or operated by the office for people with developmental disabilities.

§ 2994-ee. Obligation to honor a nonhospital order not to resuscitate. Emergency medical services personnel, home care services agency personnel, hospice personnel, or hospital emergency services personnel who are provided with a nonhospital order not to resuscitate, or who identify the standard bracelet on the patient's body, shall comply with the terms of such order; provided, however, that:

1. Emergency medical services personnel, home care services agency personnel, hospice personnel, or hospital emergency services personnel may disregard the order if:

(a) They believe in good faith that consent to the order has been revoked, or that the order has been cancelled; or

(b) Family members or others on the scene, excluding such personnel, object to the order and physical confrontation appears likely; and

2. Hospital emergency services physicians and hospital emergency services nurse practitioners and physician assistants may direct that the order be disregarded if other significant and exceptional medical circumstances warrant disregarding the order.

§ 2994-ff. Interinstitutional transfer. If a patient with a nonhospital order not to resuscitate is admitted to a hospital, or if a hospital patient with an order not to resuscitate is transferred from a hospital to a different hospital, the order shall be treated as an order not to resuscitate for a patient transferred from another hospital, and shall be governed by section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-l of this chapter.

§ 2994-gg. Immunity. No person shall be subjected to criminal prosecution or civil liability, or be deemed to have engaged in unprofessional conduct, for honoring reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article a nonhospital order not to resuscitate, for disregarding a nonhospital order pursuant to section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-ee of this article, or for other actions taken reasonably and in good faith pursuant to this article.

A hospital shall provide each patient or, if applicable, the patient's legal guardian with at least one opportunity to identify at least one caregiver under this article following the patient's entry into a hospital and prior to the patient's discharge or transfer to another facility. The hospital shall inform the patient that the purpose of providing the caregiver's identity is to include that caregiver in discharge planning and sharing of post-discharge care information or instruction.

(a) In the event that the patient is unconscious or otherwise incapacitated upon his or her entry into a hospital, the hospital shall provide such patient or his/her legal guardian with an opportunity to identify a caregiver following the patient's recovery of his or her consciousness or capacity.

(b) In the event that the patient or the patient's legal guardian declines to identify a caregiver under this article, the hospital shall promptly document this in the patient's medical record.

(c) The hospital shall record the patient's identification of a caregiver if given by the patient or legal guardian, the relationship of the identified caregiver to the patient, and the name, telephone number, and address of the patient's identified caregiver in the patient's medical record.

(d) A patient may elect to change his or her identified caregiver at any time, and the hospital must record this change in the patient's medical record.

(e) (i) The hospital shall promptly request the written consent of the patient or the patient's legal guardian to release medical information to the patient's designated caregiver following the hospital's established procedure for releasing personal health information and in compliance with all state and federal laws, including the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 as amended, and related regulations.

(ii) If the patient or the patient's legal guardian declines to consent to release medical information to the patient's designated caregiver, the hospital shall not be required to provide notice to the caregiver under section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-kk of this article or provide information contained in the patient's discharge plan under section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-ll of this article.

2. An identification of a caregiver by a patient or a patient's legal guardian under this section does not obligate any individual to perform any after-care tasks for any patient.

3. This section shall not be construed to require a patient or a patient's legal guardian to identify any individual as a caregiver as defined by this article.

§ 2994-kk. Notice to identified caregiver. A hospital shall notify the patient's identified caregiver of the patient's discharge or transfer to another hospital or facility licensed by the department or the office of mental health as soon as the date and time of discharge or transfer can be anticipated prior to the patient's actual discharge or transfer to such facility. In the event the hospital is unable to contact the designated caregiver, the lack of contact shall not interfere with, delay, or otherwise affect the medical care provided to the patient or an appropriate discharge of the patient. The hospital shall promptly document the attempt in the patient's medical record.

provide proper care, the hospital shall assess whether other services, including but not limited to home care services, are needed and, if necessary, order such services. The hospital shall promptly document the attempt in the patient's medical record. At minimum, a discharge plan shall include:

- (a) the name and contact information of the caregiver identified under this article;

- (b) a description of all after-care tasks recommended by the discharging physician, taking into account the capabilities and limitations of the caregiver; and

- (c) contact information for health care, community resources, and long-term services and supports necessary to successfully carry out the patient's discharge plan.

2. The hospital issuing the discharge plan must offer caregivers with instruction in all after-care tasks described in the discharge plan.

- (a) At minimum, such instruction shall include:

- (i) a live or recorded demonstration of the tasks performed by a hospital employee authorized to perform the after-care task, provided in a culturally competent manner and in accordance with the hospital's requirements to provide language access services under state and federal law;

- (ii) an opportunity for the caregiver and patient to ask questions about the after-care tasks; and

- (iii) answers to the caregiver's and patient's questions provided in a culturally competent manner and in accordance with the hospital's requirements to provide language access services under state and federal law.

- (b) Any instructions required under this article shall be documented in the patient's medical record, including, at minimum, the date, time, and contents of the instruction.

3. The department is authorized to promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of this article, including but not limited to, regulations to further define the content and scope of any instruction provided to caregivers under this article.

§ 2994-mm. Effect on other rights. 1. Nothing in this article shall be construed to interfere with the rights of an agent operating under a valid health care directive created under section twenty-nine hundred eighty-two of this chapter.

2. Nothing in this article shall be construed to create a new private right of action not otherwise existing in law against a hospital or any of its directors, trustees, officers, employees or agents, or any contractors with whom a hospital has a contractual relationship.

3. A hospital, any of its directors, trustees, officers, employees or agents, or any contractors with whom a hospital has a contractual relationship shall not be held liable, provided it has complied with this article and acted reasonably and in good faith, for the services rendered or not rendered by the caregiver to the patient at the patient's residence.

Such moneys as may be necessary to effect the purpose of this section may be appropriated to the department for its expenses, but in no event shall funds be diverted from existing uses of the office of professional medical conduct in order to fulfill the purposes of this section.

* NB Effective March 31, 2029

(b) The department shall promulgate rules for the purpose of implementing the provisions of this title.

2. Definitions. For the purposes of this title:

(a) "Health care plan" shall mean a health maintenance organization, as defined by subdivision one of section forty-four hundred one of this chapter, a health service corporation licensed pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law, a prepaid health services plan licensed pursuant to section forty-four hundred three-a of this chapter, or an integrated delivery system licensed pursuant to section forty-four hundred eight-a of this chapter.

(b) "Health information" shall mean physician data, hospital data, and health care plan data, to the extent such data is disclosable pursuant to any provision of law. Such term shall not include individual patient data, except to the extent such data is disclosable pursuant to any other provision of law.

(c) "Individual patient data" shall mean any information concerning an individual patient, whether held orally or recorded in any form or medium, including, but not limited to, information derived from a biological sample from the patient, the sample itself or genetic information that:

(i) relates to the physical or mental health of the patient, the provision of health care to the patient, or the payment for the provision of health care to the patient; and

(ii) (A) identifies the individual patient;

(B) could foreseeably be used or manipulated to identify the individual patient; or

(C) could foreseeably be linked or matched to any other information described in clause (A) or (B) of this subparagraph.

(d) "Statewide health information system" shall mean a collection of health information to be publicly available on an ongoing basis for the purpose of making statewide comparisons.

(e) "Preferred provider organization data" shall mean data collected from an insurance company subject to article thirty-two of the insurance law, a corporation subject to article forty-three of the insurance law, or a municipal cooperative health benefit plan certified pursuant to article forty-seven of the insurance law, with respect to preferred provider organization (PPO) products, as defined by the commissioner in consultation with the superintendent, offered by such entities.

(f) "Health care practitioner" shall mean a physician, nurse practitioner, or physician assistant licensed or certified pursuant to title eight of the education law.

(g) "Sudden unexpected death in epilepsy" shall mean sudden, unexpected death in patients with epilepsy, with or without evidence of a seizure.

§ 2995-a. Physician profiles. 1. The department shall collect the following information and create individual profiles on licensees subject to the authority of the office of professional medical conduct, in a format that shall be available for dissemination to the public:

(a) a statement of any criminal convictions (as defined by section 1.20 of the criminal procedure law) within the most recent ten years, under the laws of New York state or any other jurisdiction, for offenses specified by regulations of the department;

(b) a statement of any action (other than an action that remains confidential) taken against the licensee pursuant to section two hundred thirty of this chapter or any similar action taken by any other state or licensing entity, within the most recent ten years;

(c) a statement of any current limitation of the licensee to a specified area, type, scope or condition of practice;

(d) a statement of any loss or involuntary restriction of hospital privileges or a failure to renew professional privileges at hospitals within the last ten years, for reasons related to the quality of patient care delivered or to be delivered by the physician where procedural due process has been afforded, exhausted, or waived, or the resignation from or removal of medical staff membership or restriction of privileges at a hospital taken in lieu of a pending disciplinary case related to the quality of patient care delivered or to be delivered by the physician (notwithstanding paragraph (a) of subdivision three of section twenty-eight hundred three-e of this chapter, as added by chapter eight hundred sixty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred eighty);

(e) (i) a statement indicating the number of medical malpractice court judgments and arbitration awards within the most recent ten years in which a payment is awarded to a complaining party (notwithstanding subsection (f) of section three hundred fifteen of the insurance law); and

(ii) a statement indicating all malpractice settlements within the most recent ten years in which payment is awarded to a complaining party (notwithstanding subsection (f) of section three hundred fifteen of the insurance law),

(A) if the total number of settlements exceeds two; or

(B) if the commissioner determines any such settlement could be relevant to patient decisionmaking concerning health care quality. The statement shall include the following: "Settlement payments will appear in this profile only if the total number of settlements made within the past ten years exceeds two, or if the commissioner of health determines a settlement to be relevant to patient decisionmaking. Settlement of a claim may occur for a variety of reasons, which do not necessarily reflect negatively on the professional competence or conduct of the physician. A payment in settlement of a medical malpractice action or claim does not necessarily mean that a medical malpractice has occurred." The commissioner may supplement such statement as may be appropriate.

(iii) judgments, awards and settlements shall be reported in graduated categories indicating the level of significance, date and place of the judgment, award or settlement. Information concerning medical malpractice judgments, awards and settlements shall be put in context by comparing an individual licensee's medical malpractice settlements to the experience of other physicians in New York state within the same board specialty. Pending malpractice claims shall not be disclosed to the public under this section. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the board from investigating or disciplining a licensee on the basis of medical malpractice claims that are pending;

- (f) name of medical schools attended and date of graduations;

- (g) graduate medical education;

- (h) current specialty board certification and date of certification;

- (i) dates admitted to practice in New York state;

- (j) names of hospitals where the licensee has practice privileges;

- (k) appointments to medical school faculties and indication as to whether a licensee has had a responsibility for graduate medical education within the most recent ten years;

- (l) information regarding publications in peer reviewed medical literature within the most recent ten years;

- (m) information regarding professional or community service activities or awards;

- (n) (i) the location of the licensee's primary practice setting identified as such; and

- (ii) the names of any licensed physicians with whom the licensee shares a group practice, as defined in subdivision five of section two hundred thirty-eight of this chapter;

- (o) the identification of any translating services that may be available at the licensee's primary practice location;

- (p) whether the licensee participates in the medicaid or medicare program or any other state or federally financed health insurance program; and

- (q) health care plans with which the licensee has contracts, employment, or other affiliation; provided that the reporting of such information shall not be the responsibility of the physician, but shall be included and updated by the department utilizing provider network participation information, or other reliable sources of information submitted by health care plans.

1-a. Each physician licensed and registered to practice in this state shall within thirty days of the transmittal of an initial profile survey and upon entering or updating his or her profile information:

(a) register and maintain an account with the department's health provider network and any successor electronic system established to facilitate communications between the department and licensed health care providers; or

(b) provide an e-mail address to the department which shall be used by the department to communicate with the physician. Licensees shall provide notice to the department of changed e-mail addresses within thirty days of the change. Licensee e-mail addresses shall be confidential and shall not be published as part of the licensee's profile. The e-mail addresses may be used for department purposes only.

2. Nothing in this section shall limit the department's authority to collect, require reporting of, publish or otherwise disseminate information about licensees.

3. Each physician who is self-insured for professional medical malpractice shall periodically report to the department on forms and in the time and manner required by the commissioner the information specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision one of this section, except that the physician shall report the dollar amount (to the extent of the physician's information and belief) for each judgment, award and settlement and not a level of significance or context.

4. Each physician shall periodically report to the department on forms and in the time and manner required by the commissioner any other information as is required by the department for the development of profiles under this section which is not otherwise reasonably obtainable. In addition to such periodic reports and providing the same information, each physician shall update his or her profile information within the six months prior to the submission of the re-registration application, as a condition of registration renewal under article one hundred thirty-one of the education law. Except for optional information provided, physicians shall notify the department of any change in the profile information within thirty days of such change.

5. The department shall provide each licensee with a copy of his or her profile prior to dissemination to the public. In the manner and time required by the commissioner, a licensee shall be provided the opportunity to correct factual inaccuracies that appear in the profile. The physician shall be permitted to file a concise statement concerning information contained in the profile, which shall be disseminated therewith.

6. A physician may elect to have his or her profile omit certain information provided pursuant to paragraphs (l), (m) and (n) of subdivision one of this section. In collecting information for such profiles and disseminating the same, the department shall inform physicians that they may choose not to provide such information required pursuant to paragraphs (l), (m) and (n) of subdivision one of this section.

7. A physician who knowingly provides materially inaccurate information under this section shall be guilty of professional misconduct pursuant to section sixty-five hundred thirty of the education law.

7-a. For purposes of this section, a physician may authorize a designee to register, transmit, enter or update information on his or her behalf, provided that:

(a) the designee so authorized is employed by the physician or the same professional practice or is under contract with such practice;

(b) the physician takes reasonable steps to ensure that such designee is sufficiently competent in the profile requirements; and

(c) the physician remains responsible for ensuring the accuracy of the information provided and for any failure to provide accurate information.

The commissioner shall establish in regulation reasonable parameters with regard to a physician's ability to authorize designees pursuant to this section, which shall include processes necessary to allow the department to: (i) grant access to the profile in a reasonably prompt manner to designees authorized by physicians; (ii) require that physicians notify the department upon terminating the authorization of any designee; and (iii) establish a mechanism to prevent such terminated designees from accessing the profile in a reasonably prompt manner following such notification.

8. The department shall establish a toll-free telephone number through which it shall answer inquiries about and accept orders for hard copy physician profiles established pursuant to this section and accept consumer complaints about suspected professional misconduct. The department may charge a nominal fee for producing and mailing a hard copy physician profile.

9. The department shall, in addition to hard copy physician profiles, provide for electronic access to and copying of physician profiles developed pursuant to this section through the system commonly known as the Internet. The department shall update a physician's online profile within thirty days of receipt of a completed physician profile survey or any change in profile information.

10. The commissioner shall require that:

(a) Practitioner organizations that are representative of the target group for profiling, and health care consumer organizations, be provided the opportunity to review and comment on the profiling methodology, including collection methods, analysis, formatting, and methods and means for release and dissemination.

(b) Comparisons of practitioner profiles shall be organized according to practitioner areas of practice.

11. The commissioner shall evaluate the utility and practicability of including in the profile a comparison of malpractice data by geographic area. However, the implementation of the profile shall not be delayed pending such evaluation.

12. The commissioner shall develop and distribute a notice suitable for posting that informs consumers of the availability of physician profiles and the telephone numbers and Internet addresses for accessing them.

13. Further study of physician profiles. After the initial dissemination of the data identified in subdivision one of this section, the department shall conduct a further study of physician profiles as follows:

(a) Data sources. The department shall identify the types of physician data to which the public has access, including all information available from federal, state or local agencies which is useful for making determinations concerning health care quality determinations. The department shall study all physician data reporting requirements and develop recommendations to consolidate data collection and eliminate duplicate and unnecessary reporting requirements, or to supplement existing reporting requirements in order to satisfy the requirements of this section. The department shall study the feasibility of incorporating health plan reporting requirements, without imposing any extra burden on the physician, regarding network participation into this section to ensure this information is available, accurate, up-to-date and accessible to consumers.

(b) Supplemental information adjustment and security safeguards. The department shall develop a methodology for application to collected physician data that accounts for factors such as frequency, severity and geographic area which shall be used to provide context to reported data. Any such methodology shall not diminish the information reported pursuant to subdivision one of this section. In developing such methodology, the department may consult with physicians, including representatives of appropriate specialty societies. The department may also consult with organizations representing consumers, other health care providers, and health care plans. Any such methodology shall include adequate and appropriate safeguards to ensure the security, accuracy and integrity of health information created, received, maintained, used or transmitted in connection with the statewide health information system. Such safeguards shall be sufficient to meet any minimum standards set by state and federal laws and regulations.

(c) Public review. The department shall provide organizations which are representative of consumers, physicians, including representatives of appropriate specialty societies, other health care providers and health care plans the opportunity to review and comment on its determinations and recommendations. The department shall consider such comments, and may amend its determinations and recommendations to reflect them.

(d) Report. The department shall provide a report of its determinations and recommendations under this subdivision to the governor and legislature, and make such report publicly available, on or before January first, two thousand sixteen. The department shall report annually thereafter to the legislature on the status of the physician profiles and any recommendations for additions, consolidations or other changes deemed appropriate.

14. The physician data so disseminated shall be updated at regular intervals to be determined by the department.

15. (a) All physician data disseminated shall include the following statements: "THE DATA COLLECTED BY THE DEPARTMENT IS ACCURATE TO THE BEST OF THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE DEPARTMENT, BASED ON THE INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY THE PHYSICIAN WHO IS THE SUBJECT OF THE DATA. WHILE THE DEPARTMENT UTILIZES A VARIETY OF SOURCES OF INFORMATION IN CHECKING THE ACCURACY OF THE DATA REPORTED, WE CANNOT BE SURE THAT ALL OF THE INFORMATION ON THIS WEBSITE IS RIGHT, COMPLETE, OR UP-TO-DATE, AND CANNOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY INFORMATION THAT IS WRONG OR HAS BEEN LEFT OUT. CONSUMERS ARE ENCOURAGED TO CONSULT OTHER SOURCES TO VERIFY OR OBTAIN ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT A PHYSICIAN. PENDING LEGAL ACTIONS DO NOT IN ANY WAY INDICATE PARTIES' GUILT, LIABILITY OR CULPABILITY. CASES MAY BE DISMISSED, WITHDRAWN, OR SETTLED WITHOUT PAYMENTS TO PLAINTIFFS. ANY DISPOSITION TO A CASE MAY BE SUBJECT TO APPEAL." The commissioner shall ensure that the full text of the statements appear on each web page of the physician profile in a manner that does not require the user of the site to click on a separate link in order to view the statements.

(b) The department shall provide on the physician profiles an active link to the website maintained by the unified court system containing information on active and disposed cases in the local and state courts in the state.

16. If, after initial dissemination of the physician data required by this section, the department determines that any such data is not useful for making quality determinations, the department shall recommend to the legislature the necessary statutory changes.

§ 2995-b. Hospital report cards. 1. Collection. The department shall collect the following hospital data for dissemination to inform consumer decisionmaking via a statewide health information system:

(a) Utilization and performance information to promote quality improvement activities which was collected and evaluated for appropriate dissemination pursuant to subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of the former section twenty-eight hundred seven-n of this chapter, as added by section sixty of chapter six hundred thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-six;

(b) Statewide performance data comparing utilization and selected performance measures to accepted norms and/or benchmarks developed by recognized experts, which were developed pursuant to subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of the former section twenty-eight hundred seven-n of this chapter, as added by section sixty of chapter six hundred thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-six; and

(c) Other hospital data, if any, collected for public dissemination by the state task force on health care quality improvement pursuant to the former section twenty-eight hundred four-b of this chapter, as added by section sixty-a of chapter six hundred thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-six.

2. Preparation of data and public review. The department shall thereafter prepare and risk-adjust as appropriate the collected hospital data for dissemination pursuant to the former subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (c) of subdivision two of section twenty-eight hundred four-b of this chapter, as added by section sixty-a of chapter six hundred thirty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-six. The department shall coordinate its efforts with programs of the national forum for health care quality measurement and reporting (quality forum). The department shall provide each hospital with a copy of the hospital data to be disseminated concerning it. In a manner and time required by the department, the hospital shall be provided with an opportunity to correct factual inaccuracies, and to file a statement in a form prescribed by the department concerning the data, which statement shall be disseminated with such data.

3. Dissemination. The department shall thereafter disseminate the collected hospital data, with corrections and statements, if any.

(a) Thereafter, the hospital data so disseminated shall be updated at regular intervals to be determined by the department.

(b) All hospital data disseminated shall include the following statement: "THE DATA COLLECTED BY THE DEPARTMENT IS ACCURATE TO THE BEST OF THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE DEPARTMENT, BASED ON THE INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY THE HOSPITAL WHICH IS THE SUBJECT OF THE DATA."

(c) If the department determines that any data to be disseminated pursuant to this section is not useful for making quality determinations, the department shall recommend to the legislature the necessary statutory changes.

§ 2995-c. Health care plan and preferred provider organization data.

1. Collection. The department shall collect for dissemination via a statewide health information system, any health care plan and preferred provider organization data collected for public dissemination pursuant to the quality assurance reporting requirements developed by the department in conjunction with the national committee on quality assurance.

2. Preparation of data and public review. The department shall thereafter prepare the collected health care plan and preferred provider organization data for dissemination. The department shall provide each health care plan with a copy of the health care plan and preferred provider organization data to be disseminated concerning it. In a manner and time required by the department, the health care plan shall be provided with an opportunity to correct factual inaccuracies, and to file a statement in a form prescribed by the department concerning the data, which statement shall be disseminated with the data.

3. Dissemination. The department shall thereafter disseminate the collected health care plan and preferred provider organization data, organized and segregated by type of product and type of organization offering the product, with corrections and statements, if any. The department shall share preferred provider organization data with the superintendent of financial services.

(a) Thereafter, the health care plan and preferred provider organization data so disseminated shall be updated at regular intervals to be determined by the committee.

(b) All health care plan and preferred provider organization data disseminated shall include the following statement: "THE DATA COLLECTED BY THE DEPARTMENT IS ACCURATE TO THE BEST OF THE KNOWLEDGE OF MEMBERS AND STAFF, BASED ON THE INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY THE HEALTH CARE PLAN WHICH IS THE SUBJECT OF THE DATA."

(c) If the department determines that any data to be disseminated pursuant to this section is not useful for determinations concerning health care quality, the department shall recommend to the legislature the necessary statutory changes.

§ 2995-d. Further study of other health care practitioner data. The department shall:

1. Identify the classes of health care practitioners licensed, certified or registered pursuant to title eight of the education law, concerning whom it would be feasible and useful to collect and disseminate information useful for making determinations concerning health care quality;

2. Investigate the types of data concerning such practitioners to which the public has access, including all information provided by federal, state or local agencies, and the applicable data reporting requirements;

3. Determine which data concerning such practitioners and which methods of accessing such data, will be the most useful and convenient for health care consumers;

4. Study the feasibility and utility of providing practitioner profiles by means of the system commonly known as the Internet, on a single website; and

5. Provide a report of its findings to the governor and legislature within eighteen months of the effective date of this section.

§ 2996. Study of physician credentialing. 1. The department shall examine the feasibility of establishing a clearinghouse for credentialing information to reduce the burden for physicians required to submit credentials to entities licensed and regulated by the state. As part of such examination, the department shall:

(a) examine the efficacy of the credentialing process prescribed by section twenty-eight hundred five-j of this chapter;

(b) determine which methods of organizing such a clearinghouse with standardized data in a standardized format will provide the greatest usability and convenience to health care providers and health care plans;

(c) identify the most appropriate entity to administer such a clearinghouse, and verify collected credential information; and

(d) identify safeguards to protect the privacy of providers participating in such a credentialing system.

2. The department shall provide a report of its findings and recommendations to the governor and legislature within eighteen months of the effective date of this section.

§ 2997. Patient privacy. 1. The department shall examine state laws protecting the privacy of individual patient data, and determine the necessity of supplementing existing protections.

2. The department shall examine federal initiatives protecting the privacy of individual patient data, and such federal initiatives' potential preemptive effect on state law protections.

3. The department shall provide a report of its findings to the governor and the legislature within eighteen months of the effective date of this section.

§ 2997-a. Public access. Nothing in this title shall abridge public access to information currently available or permitted by any other provision or rule of law. Nothing in this title shall not authorize the disclosure of otherwise confidential information, except pursuant to the express terms of this title.

§ 2997-c. Palliative care patient information. 1. Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "Appropriate" means consistent with applicable legal, health and professional standards; the patient's clinical and other circumstances; and the patient's reasonably known wishes and beliefs.

(b) "Attending health care practitioner" means a physician or nurse practitioner who has primary responsibility for the care and treatment of the patient. Where more than one physician or nurse practitioner share that responsibility, each of them has responsibility under this section, unless they agree to assign that responsibility to one of them.

(c) "Palliative care" means health care treatment, including interdisciplinary end-of-life care, and consultation with patients and family members, to prevent or relieve pain and suffering and to enhance the patient's quality of life, including hospice care under article forty of this chapter.

(d) "Terminal illness or condition" means an illness or condition which can reasonably be expected to cause death within six months, whether or not treatment is provided.

TITLE 1-A

SAFE PATIENT HANDLING

Section 2997-g. Legislative intent.

2997-h. Definitions.

2997-i. Safe patient handling workgroup.

2997-k. Safe patient handling committees; programs.

§ 2997-g. Legislative intent. The legislature hereby finds and declares that it is in the public interest for health care facilities to implement safe patient handling policies. There are many benefits that can be derived from safe patient handling programs. Patients benefit through improved quality of care and quality of life by reducing the risk of injury. Caregivers also benefit from the reduced risk of career ending and debilitating injuries leading to increased morale, improved job satisfaction, and longevity in the profession. Health care facilities may realize a return on their investment through reduced workers' compensation medical and indemnity costs, reduced lost workdays, and improved recruitment and retention of caregivers. All of this could lead to fiscal improvement in health care in New York State.

§ 2997-h. Definitions. For the purposes of this title:

1. "Health care facility" shall mean general hospitals, residential health care facilities, diagnostic and treatment centers, and clinics licensed pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter, facilities which provide health care services and are licensed or operated pursuant to article eight of the education law, article nineteen-G of the executive law or the correction law, and hospitals and schools defined in section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law.

2. "Nurse" shall mean a registered professional nurse or a licensed practical nurse as defined by article one hundred thirty-nine of the education law.

3. "Direct care worker" shall mean any employee of a health care facility who is responsible for patient handling or patient assessment as a regular or incidental part of his or her employment, including any licensed or unlicensed health care worker.

4. "Employee representative" shall mean the recognized or certified collective bargaining agent for nurses or direct care workers of a health care facility.

5. "Safe patient handling" shall mean the use of engineering controls, lifting and transfer aids, or assistive devices by staff to perform the acts of lifting, transferring and repositioning health care patients and residents.

6. "Musculoskeletal disorders" shall mean conditions that involve the nerves, tendons, muscles and supporting structures of the body.

§ 2997-i. Safe patient handling workgroup. 1. The commissioner shall establish a safe patient handling workgroup (referred to in this section as the "workgroup") within the department. The workgroup shall consist of, at the minimum, the commissioner or his or her designee; the commissioner of labor or his or her designee; representatives of health care provider organizations; representatives from employee organizations representing nurses and representatives from employee organizations representing direct care workers; representatives of nurse executives; representatives who are certified ergonomist evaluation specialists; and representatives who have expertise in fields of discipline related to health care or occupational safety.

2. Workgroup members shall receive no compensation for their services as members of the workgroup, but shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

3. The workgroup shall be established no later than January first, two thousand fifteen.

4. The workgroup shall:

(a) Review existing safe patient handling programs or policies, including demonstration programs previously authorized by chapter seven hundred thirty-eight of the laws of two thousand five and national data and results;

(b) Consult with any organization, educational institution, other government entity or agency or person that the workgroup determines may be able to provide information and expertise on the development and implementation of safe patient handling programs;

(c) Identify or develop training materials for consideration by health care facilities; and

(d) Submit a report to the commissioner by July first, two thousand fifteen identifying safe patient handling program best practices, providing examples of sample policies, and identifying resources and tools useful for providers to meet the goals of safe patient handling policies.

5. All state departments, commissions, agencies, and public authorities shall provide the workgroup with any reasonably requested assistance or advice in a timely manner.

shall be appointed on behalf of direct care workers. One half of the members of the committee shall be frontline non-managerial employees who provide direct care to patients. At least one non-managerial nurse and one non-managerial direct care worker shall be on the safe patient handling committee. In health care facilities where a resident council is established, and where feasible, at least one member of the safe patient handling committee shall be a representative from the resident council. The committee shall have two co-chairs with one from management and one frontline non-managerial nurse or direct care worker.

2. On or before January first, two thousand seventeen, each health care facility, in consultation with the committee, shall establish a safe patient handling program. As part of this program, a health care facility shall:

(a) implement a safe patient handling policy, considering the elements of the sample safe patient handling policies and best practices disseminated by the commissioner, as well as the type of facility and its services, patient populations and care plans, types of caregivers, and physical environment, for all shifts and units of the health care facility. Implementation of the safe patient handling policy may be phased-in;

(b) conduct a patient handling hazard assessment. This assessment should consider such variables as patient-handling tasks, types of nursing units, patient populations and the physical environment of patient care areas;

(c) develop a process to identify the appropriate use of the safe patient handling policy based on the patient's physical and medical condition and the availability of safe patient handling equipment. The policy shall include a means to address circumstances under which it would be contraindicated based on a patient's physical, medical, weight-bearing, cognitive and/or rehabilitative status to use lifting or transfer aids or assistive devices for particular patients;

(d) provide initial and on-going yearly training and education on safe patient handling for current employees and new hires, and establish procedures to ensure that retraining for those found to be deficient is provided as needed;

(e) set up and utilize a process for incident investigation and post-investigation review which may include a plan of correction and implementation of controls;

(f) conduct an annual performance evaluation of the program to determine its effectiveness, with the results of the evaluation reported to the committee. The evaluation shall determine the extent to which implementation of the program has resulted in a reduction in the risk of injury to patients, musculoskeletal disorder claims and days of lost work attributable to musculoskeletal disorders by employees caused by patient handling, and include recommendations to increase the program's effectiveness;

(g) when developing architectural plans for constructing or remodeling a health care facility or a unit of a health care facility in which patient handling and movement occurs, consider the feasibility of incorporating patient handling equipment or the physical space and construction design needed to incorporate that equipment at a later date; and

(h) develop a process by which employees may refuse to perform or be involved in patient handling or movement that the employee reasonably believes in good faith will expose a patient or health care facility employee to an unacceptable risk of injury. Such process shall require that the nurse or direct care worker make a good faith effort to ensure patient safety and bring the matter to the attention of the facility in a timely manner. A health care facility employee who reasonably and in good faith follows the process developed by the health care facility in accordance with this subdivision shall not be the subject of disciplinary action by the health care facility for the refusal to perform or be involved in the patient handling or movement.

§ 2997-1. Activities. The activities enumerated in section twenty-nine hundred ninety-seven-k of this title shall be undertaken consistent with section twenty-eight hundred five-j of this chapter by a covered health care provider and shall be deemed activities of such program as described in such section and any and all information attributable to such activities shall be subject to provisions of section twenty-eight hundred five-m of this chapter and section sixty-five hundred twenty-seven of the education law.

If the total of all estimates of current liabilities equals or exceeds eighty percent of the fund's assets, then the fund shall not accept any new enrollments until a new deposit has been made pursuant to subdivision five of this section. When, as a result of such new deposit, the fund's liabilities no longer exceed eighty percent of the fund's assets, the fund administrator shall enroll new qualified plaintiffs in the order that an application for enrollment has been submitted in accordance with subdivision seven of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-nine-j of this title.

(b) Whenever enrollment is suspended pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision and until such time as enrollment resumes pursuant to such paragraph: (i) notice of such suspension shall be promptly posted on the department's website; (ii) the fund administrator shall deny each application for enrollment that had been received but not accepted prior to the date of suspension and each application for enrollment received after the date of such suspension; and (iii) notification of each such denial shall be made to the plaintiff or claimant or persons authorized to act on behalf of such plaintiff or claimant and all defendants in regard to such plaintiff or claimant, to the extent they are known to the fund administrator. Judgments and settlements for plaintiffs or claimants for whom applications are denied under this paragraph or who are not eligible for enrollment due to suspension pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be satisfied as if this title had not been enacted.

2. The provision of qualifying health care costs to qualified plaintiffs shall not be subject to prior authorization, except as described by the commissioner in regulation; provided, however:

(a) such regulation shall not prevent qualified plaintiffs from receiving care or assistance that would, at a minimum, be authorized under the medicaid program;

(b) if any prior authorization is required by such regulation, the regulation shall require that requests for prior authorization be processed within a reasonably prompt period of time and shall identify a process for prompt administrative review of any denial of a request for prior authorization; and

(c) such regulations shall not prohibit qualifying health care costs on the grounds that the qualifying health care cost may incidentally benefit other members of the household, provided that whether the qualifying health care cost primarily benefits the patient may be considered.

3. In determining the amount of qualifying health care costs to be paid from the fund, any such cost or expense that was or will, with reasonable certainty, be paid, replaced or indemnified from any collateral source as provided by subdivision (a) of section forty-five hundred forty-five of the civil practice law and rules shall not constitute a qualifying health care cost and shall not be paid from the fund. For purposes of this title, "collateral source" shall not include medicare or Medicaid.

* 4. The amount of qualifying health care costs to be paid from the fund shall be calculated on the basis of one hundred percent of the usual and customary cost. For the purposes of this section, "usual and customary costs" shall mean the eightieth percentile of all charges for the particular health care service performed by a provider in the same or similar specialty and provided in the same geographical area as reported in a benchmarking database maintained by a nonprofit organization specified by the superintendent of financial services. If no such rates are available qualifying health care costs shall be calculated on the basis of no less than one hundred thirty percent of Medicaid or Medicare rates of reimbursement, whichever is higher. If no such rate exists, costs shall be reimbursed as defined by the commissioner in regulation.

* NB Effective until June 1, 2027

* 4. The amount of qualifying health care costs to be paid from the fund shall be calculated: (a) with respect to services provided in private physician practices on the basis of one hundred percent of the usual and customary rates, as defined by the commissioner in regulation; or (b) with respect to all other services, on the basis of Medicaid rates of reimbursement or, where no such rates are available, as defined by the commissioner in regulation.

* NB Effective June 1, 2027

5. Claims for the payment or reimbursement from the fund of qualifying health care costs shall be made upon forms prescribed and furnished by the fund administrator in conjunction with regulations establishing a mechanism for submission of claims by health care providers directly to the fund, where practicable.

6. (a) Every settlement agreement for claims arising out of a plaintiff's or claimant's birth related neurological injury subject to this title, and that provides for the payment of future medical expenses for the plaintiff or claimant, shall provide that all payments for future medical expenses shall be paid in accordance with this title in lieu of that portion of the settlement agreement that provides for payment of such expenses. The plaintiff's or claimant's future medical expenses shall be paid in accordance with this title. When such a settlement agreement does not so provide, the court shall direct the modification of the agreement to include such term as a condition of court approval.

(b) In any case where the jury or court has made an award for future medical expenses arising out of a birth related neurological injury, any party to such action or person authorized to act on behalf of such party may make application to the court that the judgment reflect that, in lieu of that portion of the award that provides for payment of such expenses, the future medical expenses of the plaintiff shall be paid out of the fund in accordance with this title. Upon a finding by the court that the applicant has made a prima facie showing that the plaintiff is a qualified plaintiff, the court shall ensure that the judgment so provides.

7. A qualified plaintiff shall be enrolled when (a) such plaintiff or person authorized to act on behalf of such person, upon notice to all defendants, or any of the defendants in regard to the plaintiff's claim, upon notice to such plaintiff, makes an application for enrollment by providing the fund administrator with a certified copy of the judgment or of the court approved settlement agreement; and (b) the fund administrator determines that the relevant provisions of subdivision six of this section have been met; provided that no enrollment shall occur when the fund is closed to enrollment pursuant to subdivision six of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-nine-i of this title.

8. As to all claims, the fund administrator shall:

(a) determine which of such costs are qualifying health care costs to be paid from the fund; and

(b) thereupon certify to the commissioner of taxation and finance those costs that have been determined to be qualifying health care costs to be paid from the fund.

9. Payments from the fund shall be made by the commissioner of taxation and finance on the said certificate of the commissioner. No payment shall be made by the commissioner of taxation and finance in excess of the amount certified. Promptly upon receipt of the said certificate of the commissioner, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall pay the qualified plaintiff's health care provider or reimburse the qualified plaintiff the amount so certified for payment.

10. Payment from the fund shall not give the fund any right of recovery against any qualified plaintiff or such qualified plaintiff's attorney except in the case of fraud or mistake.

11. All health care providers shall accept from qualified plaintiff's or persons authorized to act on behalf of such plaintiff's assignments of the right to receive payments from the fund for qualifying health care costs. Such payments shall constitute payment in full for any services provided to a qualified plaintiff in accordance with this article.

12. Health insurers (other than medicare and Medicaid) shall be the primary payers of qualifying health care costs of qualified plaintiffs. Such costs shall be paid from the fund only to the extent that health insurers or other collateral sources or other persons are not otherwise obligated to make payments therefor. Health insurers that make payments for qualifying health care costs to or on behalf of qualified plaintiffs shall have no right of recovery against and shall have no lien upon the fund or any person or entity nor shall the fund constitute an additional payment source to offset the payments otherwise contractually required to be made by such health insurers. The superintendent of financial services shall have the authority to enforce the provisions of this subdivision upon the referral of the commissioner.

13. Except as provided for by this title, with respect to a qualified plaintiff, no payment shall be required to be made by any defendant or such defendant's insurer for qualifying health care costs and no judgment shall be made or entered requiring that any such payment be made by any defendant or such defendant's insurer for such health care costs.

14. The determination of the qualified plaintiff's attorney's fee shall be based upon the entire sum awarded by the jury or the court or the full sum of the settlement, as the case may be. The qualified plaintiff's attorney's fee shall be paid in a lump sum by the defendants and their insurers pursuant to section four hundred seventy-four-a of the judiciary law; provided however that the portion of the attorney fee that is allocated to the non-fund elements of damages shall be deducted from the non-fund portion of the award in a proportional manner.

15. The commissioner shall promulgate, amend and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the proper administration of the fund in accordance with the provisions of this section, including, but not limited to, those concerning the payment of claims and concerning the actuarial calculations necessary to determine, annually, the total amount to be paid into the fund as provided herein, and as otherwise needed to implement this title.

5. An ACO may provide care coordination for its participating patients, which (a) shall include but not be limited to managing, referring to, locating, coordinating, and monitoring health care services for the member to assure that all medically necessary health care services are made available to and are effectively used by the member in a timely manner, consistent with patient autonomy; and (b) is not a requirement for prior authorization for health care services, and referral shall not be required for a member to receive a health care service.

(b) The commissioner shall engage in state supervision to promote state action immunity under state and federal antitrust laws and may inspect, require, or request additional documentation and take other actions under this article to verify and make sure that this article is implemented in accordance with its intent and purpose.

Section 2999-gg. Voluntary foster care agency health facilities.

§ 2999-gg. Voluntary foster care agency health facilities. 1. In order for an authorized agency that is approved by the office of children and family services to care for or board out children, to provide limited health-related services as defined in regulations of the department either directly or indirectly through a contract arrangement, such agency shall obtain, in accordance with a schedule developed by the department in conjunction with the office of children and family services, a license issued by the commissioner in conjunction with the office of children and family services to provide such services. Such schedule shall require that all such authorized agencies operating on January first, two thousand nineteen obtain the license required by this section no later than January first, two thousand nineteen. Such licenses shall be issued in accordance with the standards set forth in this article and the regulations of the department which shall, at a minimum, specify: mandated health services, which shall include, but not be limited to, nursing and behavioral health services; general physical environment requirements; minimum health and safety procedures; record management requirements; quality management activities; and managed care liaison, fiscal and billing activities. In determining the criteria for licensure, regulations shall take into account the size and type of each program, and shall be reasonably related to the provision of medical services. Provided however, that a license pursuant to this section shall not be required if such authorized agency is otherwise authorized to provide the required limited-health-related services to foster children under a license issued pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter or article thirty-one of the mental hygiene law. For the purposes of this section, the term authorized agency shall be an authorized agency as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision ten of section three hundred seventy-one of the social services law.

3. The commissioner and the commissioner of the office of children and family services shall enter into a memorandum of agreement for the purposes of administering the requirements of this section.

4. Proceedings involving the issuance of licenses for health-related services to authorized agencies:

No action taken against a license under this subdivision shall affect an authorized agency's license to care for or board children unless the commissioner of the office of children and family services determines, pursuant to the regulations of such office, that the existing circumstances make it necessary to limit, suspend or revoke the authority of the authorized agency to care for or board children.

(b) No such license shall be revoked, suspended, limited, annulled or denied without a hearing. However, a license may be temporarily suspended or limited without a hearing for a period not in excess of thirty days upon written notice that the continuation of health-related services places the public health or safety of the recipients in imminent danger.

(c) The commissioner shall fix a time and place for the hearing. A copy of the charges, together with the notice of the time and place of the hearing, shall be served in person or mailed by registered or certified mail to the authorized agency at least twenty-one days before the date fixed for the hearing. The authorized agency shall file with the department not less than eight days prior to the hearing, a written answer to the charges.

(d) All orders or determinations hereunder shall be subject to review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. MEDICAL RESPITE PROGRAM

Section 2999-hh. Medical respite program.

§ 2999-hh. Medical respite program. 1. Definitions. As used in this article, the following terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly otherwise requires:

(a) "Medical respite program" means a not-for-profit corporation certified pursuant to subdivision two of this section to serve recipients whose prognosis or diagnosis necessitates the receipt of:

(i) Temporary room and board; and

(ii) The provision or arrangement of the provision of health care and support services; provided, however, that the operation of a medical respite program shall be separate and distinct from any housing programs offered to individuals who do not qualify as recipients.

(b) "Recipient" means an individual who:

- (i) Has a qualifying health condition that requires treatment or care;
- (ii) Does not require hospital inpatient, observation unit, or emergency room level of care, or a medically indicated emergency department or observation visit; and
- (iii) Is experiencing homelessness or at imminent risk of homelessness. A person shall be deemed "homeless" if they lack a fixed, regular and adequate nighttime residence in a location ordinarily used as a regular sleeping accommodation for people; provided, however, that an operator of a medical respite program shall be permitted to specialize by providing services to a subpopulation of homeless recipients if necessary to respond to community need or ensure the availability of a funding source that will support the medical respite program's operations, and such limitations are otherwise consistent with any rules or regulations made pursuant to this section.

2. Certification. (a) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, the commissioner may certify a not-for-profit corporation as an operator of a medical respite program.

(b) The commissioner may make regulations to establish procedures to review and approve applications for a certification pursuant to this article, which shall, at a minimum, specify standards for: recipient eligibility; medical respite program services that shall be provided; physical environment; staffing; and policies and procedures governing health and safety, length of stay, referrals, discharge, and coordination of care.

3. Operating standards; responsibility for standards. (a) Medical respite programs certified pursuant to this article shall:

- (i) Provide recipients with temporary room and board; and
- (ii) Provide, or arrange for the provision of, health care and support services to recipients.

(b) Nothing in this article shall affect the application, qualification, or requirements that may apply to an operator with respect to any other licenses or operating certificates that such operator may hold, including, without limitation, under article twenty-eight of this chapter or article seven of the social services law.

4. Temporary accommodation. A medical respite program shall be considered a form of emergency shelter or temporary shelter for purposes of determining a recipient's eligibility for housing programs or benefits administered by the state or by a local social services district, including programs or benefits that support access to accommodations of a temporary, transitional, or permanent nature. No claim of recovery shall accrue against a recipient to recover the cost of care and services provided under this article. Care and services provided under this article shall not be deemed public benefits that would affect a recipient's immigration status under federal law.

5. Inspections and compliance. The commissioner shall have the authority to inquire into the operation of any certified medical respite program and to conduct periodic inspections of facilities with respect to the fitness and adequacy of the premises, equipment, personnel, rules and by-laws, standards of medical care and services, system of accounts, records, and the adequacy of financial resources and sources of future revenues.

6. Suspension or revocation of certification. (a) A certification for a medical respite program may be revoked, suspended, limited, annulled or denied by the commissioner, in consultation with either the commissioners of the office of mental health, the office of temporary and disability assistance, or the office of addiction services and supports, as appropriate based on a determination of the department depending on the diagnosis or stated needs of the individuals being served or proposed to be served in the medical respite program, if an operator is determined to have failed to comply with this article or the rules and regulations made pursuant to this section. No action taken against an operator under this subdivision shall affect an operator's other licenses or certifications; provided however, that the facts that gave rise to the revocation, suspension, limitation, annulment or denial of certification may also form the basis of a limitation, suspension or revocation of such other licenses or certifications.

(b) No medical respite program certification shall be revoked, suspended, limited, annulled or denied without a hearing; provided that a certification may be temporarily suspended or limited without a hearing for a period not in excess of thirty days upon written notice that the continuation of the medical respite program places the health or safety of the recipients in imminent danger, and that the action is in the interest of the recipients. However, the department shall not make a determination until the program has had a reasonable opportunity, following the initial determination that the program places the health or safety of the recipients in imminent danger, to correct its deficiencies and following this period, which shall be up to thirty calendar days, has been given written notice and opportunity for hearing.

(c) Nothing in this section shall prevent the commissioner from imposing sanctions or penalties on a medical respite program that are authorized under any other law or regulation.

7. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to implement this article.

It is the purpose and intent of this article to ensure that such services are immediately available to all children within the state of New York.

§ 3072. Description. Emergency medical services for children is a system for the immediate recognition and management of sudden illness and injury in children that embraces the continuum of pediatric emergency medical, trauma, and disaster care, from prevention through rehabilitation, and addresses emergency medical dispatch, prehospital emergency care, in-hospital emergency care, and primary, secondary, and tertiary health care, in support of pediatric care provided within the child's medical home. It is not separate from, but fully integrated with, the emergency medical services system at all levels of emergency medical services system organization, in the community, in the region, and in the state.

It shall advise the department, the commissioner, the state emergency medical services council, the state emergency medical advisory committee, and the state trauma advisory committee regarding all aspects of emergency medical services for children, including, but not necessarily limited to, pediatric emergency medical, trauma, and disaster care, and the early care of maltreated children and children with special health care needs. The state emergency medical services director, the state emergency medical services medical director, the state emergency medical services for children program director, the state emergency medical services for children program coordinator, the state trauma medical director, the state trauma program manager, the governor's highway traffic safety administrator, and the state emergency medical services for children data manager, shall also serve as nonvoting members ex officio. RECOMBINANT DNA EXPERIMENTS

Section 3220. Findings.

3221. Definitions.

3222. Certification.

3223. Enforcement.

§ 3220. Findings. The legislature finds that new techniques of genetic manipulation which allow researchers to accomplish exchanges of genetic material between unlike organisms offer great potential for expanding human knowledge of genetics but also may present significant risks to public health, to the environment and to the health of research workers. These experiments are being conducted at research institutions in New York, including universities, hospitals and industrial facilities. Industry plans to mass-produce recombinant organisms should such organisms be found to have commercial uses. Such research and production should only be conducted under safe conditions as prescribed by the commissioner.

§ 3221. Definitions. As used in this article:

1. "DNA" means deoxyribonucleic acid.
2. "Recombinant DNA" means DNA molecules which;
 - (a) have been formed by joining together DNA segments in a cell-free system and which have the capacity to enter a cell and to replicate in such cell either autonomously or after they have become an integrated part of such cell's genome; or
 - (b) are the result of a replication of the DNA molecules described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision.
3. "Recombinant DNA activity" means the possession of recombinant DNA by any person and any activity undertaken by any person for the production of recombinant DNA.
4. "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, or legal entity of any kind, or a governmental agency, board or body.
5. "Cell-free system" means an environment outside of any cell or cellular organism.

§ 3222. Certification. 1. One hundred eighty days after the effective date of this article, no individual shall engage in a recombinant DNA activity unless such individual has been issued a certificate by the commissioner or such individual is affiliated with and is acting under the direction of and in a facility controlled by a person who has been issued such a certificate.

2. Within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of this article, the commissioner shall prescribe regulations for the conduct of recombinant DNA activity which shall be the substantial equivalent of sections II (entitled "containment") and III (entitled "experimental guidelines") of the recombinant DNA research guidelines of the National Institutes of Health of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare published in part II of the Federal Register for July seventh, nineteen hundred seventy-six. If the National Institutes of Health guidelines are revised, the commissioner shall revise the regulations for the conduct of recombinant DNA activity accordingly.

3. Within one hundred eighty days of the effective date of this article the commissioner shall prescribe regulations for the:

- (a) training and qualifications for individuals engaging in recombinant DNA activities;
- (b) personnel health monitoring programs;
- (c) establishment of institutional committees to oversee such activities; and
- (d) periodic reports of the progress of such activities.

Regulations adopted pursuant to this section shall be reviewed periodically by the commissioner in light of current scientific knowledge to determine their continued adequacy and appropriateness.

4. The commissioner shall by regulation, establish procedures for application for a certificate to conduct recombinant DNA activity. All proprietary information in applications or reports to the department by persons certified pursuant to this section, not available to the public or protected by a patent or copyright, shall be kept confidential.

5. The commissioner may approve or deny an application for a certificate to engage in recombinant DNA activity or may approve it upon such conditions as he shall prescribe.

6. The commissioner by regulation may prescribe reasonable fees for certification, not exceeding the cost of administrative services rendered by the department.

7. The commissioner shall, by regulation, provide for an abbreviated certification process for the conduct of recombinant DNA activity which is subject to, and which is in compliance with, policies and regulations promulgated by any agency of the federal government for the regulation of recombinant DNA activity.

* NB Repealed June 30, 2029

* § 3323. Opioid stewardship fund. 1. Definitions:

(a) "Opioid stewardship payment" shall mean the total amount to be paid into the opioid stewardship fund for each state fiscal year as set forth in subdivision two of this section.

(b) "Ratable share" shall mean the individual portion of the opioid stewardship payment to be paid by each manufacturer and distributor licensed under this article that sells or distributes opioids in the state of New York.

(c) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law to the contrary, "distribute" shall mean to deliver a controlled substance other than by administering or dispensing to the ultimate user, including intra-company transfers between any division, affiliate, subsidiary, parent or other entity under complete common ownership and control. For purposes of this section, "distribute" shall not include controlled substances surrendered to reverse distributors, or donated to recipient entities or third-party intermediaries pursuant to the unused prescription drug donation and redispensing program of section two hundred eighty-b of this chapter.

2. Opioid stewardship payment imposed on manufacturers and distributors. All manufacturers and distributors licensed under this article (hereinafter referred to as "licensees"), that sell or distribute opioids in the state of New York shall be required to pay an opioid stewardship payment. On an annual basis, the commissioner shall certify to the state comptroller the amount of all revenues collected from opioid stewardship payments and any penalties imposed. The amount of revenues so certified shall be deposited quarterly into the opioid stewardship fund established pursuant to section ninety-seven-aaaaa of the state finance law. No licensee shall pass the cost of their ratable share amount to a purchaser, including the ultimate user of the opioid, or such licensee shall be subject to penalties pursuant to subdivision ten of this section.

3. Determination of opioid stewardship payment. The total opioid stewardship payment amount shall be one hundred million dollars annually, subject to downward adjustments pursuant to subdivision nine of this section.

4. Reports and records. Each manufacturer and distributor licensed under this article that sells or distributes opioids in the state of New York shall provide to the commissioner a report detailing all opioids sold or distributed by such manufacturer or distributor in the state of New York. Such report shall include:

(a) the manufacturer's or distributor's name, address, phone number, federal Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) registration number and controlled substance license number issued by the department;

(b) the name, address and DEA registration number of the entity to whom the opioid was sold or distributed;

(c) the date of the sale or distribution of the opioid;

(d) the gross receipt total, in dollars, of all opioids sold or distributed;

(e) the name and National Drug Code (NDC) of the opioid sold or distributed;

(f) the number of containers and the strength and metric quantity of controlled substance in each container of the opioid sold or distributed;

(g) the total number of morphine milligram equivalents (MMEs) sold or distributed; and

(h) any other elements as deemed necessary by the commissioner.

4-a. Initial and future reports. (a) Such information shall be reported annually to the department in such form as defined by the commissioner, provided however that the initial report provided pursuant to subdivision four shall consist of all opioids sold or distributed in the state of New York for the two thousand seventeen calendar year, and must be submitted by August 1, 2018. Subsequent annual reports shall be submitted on April first of each year based on the actual opioid sales and distributions of the prior calendar year.

(b) For the purpose of such annual reporting, MMEs shall be determined pursuant to a formulation to be issued by the department and updated as the department deems appropriate.

5. Determination of ratable share. Each manufacturer and distributor licensed under this article that sells or distributes opioids in the state of New York shall pay a portion of the total opioid stewardship payment amount. The ratable share shall be calculated as follows:

(a) The total amount of MMEs sold or distributed in the state of New York by the licensee for the preceding calendar year, as reported by the licensee pursuant to subdivision four of this section, shall be divided by the total amount of MME sold in the state of New York by all licensees pursuant to this article to determine the licensee payment percentage. The licensee payment percentage shall be multiplied by the total opioid stewardship payment. The product of such calculation shall be the licensee's ratable share. The department shall have the authority to adjust the total number of a licensee's MMEs to account for the nature and use of the product, as well as the type of entity purchasing the product from the licensee, when making such determination and adjust the ratable share accordingly.

(b) The licensee's total amount of MME sold or distributed, as well as the total amount of MME sold or distributed by all licensees under this article, used in the calculation of the ratable share shall not include the MME of those opioids which are: (i) manufactured in New York state, but whose final point of delivery or sale is outside of New York state; (ii) sold or distributed to entities certified to operate pursuant to article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law, or article forty of the public health law; or (iii) the MMEs attributable to buprenorphine, methadone or morphine.

(c) The department shall provide to the licensee, in writing, on or before October fifteenth, two thousand eighteen, the licensee's ratable share for the two thousand seventeen calendar year. Thereafter, the department shall notify the licensee in writing annually on or before October fifteenth of each year based on the opioids sold or distributed for the prior calendar year.

6. Payment of ratable share. The licensee shall make payments quarterly to the department with the first payment of the ratable share, provided that the amount due on January first, two thousand nineteen shall be for the full amount of the first annual payment, with additional payments to be due and owing on the first day of every quarter thereafter.

7. Rebate of ratable share. In any year for which the commissioner determines that a licensee failed to report required information as required by this section, those licensees complying with this section shall receive a reduced assessment of their ratable share in the following year equal to the amount in excess of any overpayment in the prior payment period.

8. Licensee opportunity to appeal. A licensee shall be afforded an opportunity to submit information to the department to justify why the ratable share provided to the licensee, pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision five of this section, or amounts paid thereunder are in error or otherwise not warranted. If the department determines thereafter that all or a portion of such ratable share, as determined by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision five of this section, is not warranted, the department may: (a) adjust the ratable share; (b) adjust the assessment of the ratable share in the following year equal to the amount in excess of any overpayment in the prior payment period; or (c) refund amounts paid in error.

9. Department annual review. The department shall annually review the amount of state operating funds spent in the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services (OASAS) budget for opioid prevention, treatment and recovery. The commissioner of OASAS shall certify to the department the amount of annual spending for such services, utilizing available information on patient demographics and the actual cost of services delivered by the state and by state-funded providers. The certification of such spending shall begin in state fiscal year two thousand eighteen-nineteen, and continue annually thereafter. The total amount of such spending shall be provided to the department by the commissioner of OASAS no later than June thirtieth of each year. There shall be no stewardship fund payments beginning on July first in the event state operating funds spent in the OASAS budget for opioid prevention, treatment and recovery in the most recently reported year is equal to or less than state operating funds spent for such purposes in state fiscal year two thousand nine-ten.

10. Penalties. (a) The department may assess a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars per day against any licensee that fails to comply with subdivisions four and four-a of this section.

(b) In addition to any other civil or criminal penalty provided by law, where a licensee has failed to pay its ratable share in accordance with subdivision six of this section, the department may also assess a penalty of no less than ten percent and no greater than three hundred percent of the ratable share due from such licensee.

(c) Where the ratable share, or any portion thereof, has been passed on to a purchaser by a licensee, the commissioner may impose a penalty not to exceed one million dollars per incident.

§ 3330. Schedule I substances. No prescription may be made or filled for any controlled substance in schedule I nor may such substance be possessed, distributed, dispensed or administered except pursuant to title III of this article.

§ 3331. Scheduled substances administering and dispensing by practitioners. 1. Except as provided in titles III or V of this article, no substance in schedules II, III, IV, or V may be prescribed for or dispensed or administered to a person with substance use disorder or habitual user.

2. 3. A veterinarian, in good faith, and in the course of the practice of veterinary medicine only, may prescribe, administer and dispense substances listed in schedules II, III, IV, and V or he may cause them to be administered by a designated agent under his direction and supervision.

4. No such substance may be dispensed unless it is enclosed within a suitable and durable container, and:

(a) Affixed to such container is a label upon which is indelibly typed, printed or otherwise legibly written the following:

(i) the name and address of the ultimate user for whom the substance is intended, or, if intended for use upon an animal, the species of such animal and the name and address of the owner or person in custody of such animal;

5. (a) No more than a thirty day supply or, pursuant to regulations of the commissioner enumerating conditions warranting specified greater supplies, no more than a three month supply of a schedule II, III or IV substance, as determined by the directed dosage and frequency of dosage, may be dispensed by an authorized practitioner at one time.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, a practitioner, within the scope of his or her professional opinion or discretion, may not prescribe more than a seven-day supply of any schedule II, III, or IV opioid to an ultimate user upon the initial consultation or treatment of such user for acute pain. Upon any subsequent consultations for the same pain, the practitioner may issue, in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subdivision, any appropriate renewal, refill, or new prescription for the opioid or any other drug.

(c) For the purposes of this subdivision, "acute pain" shall mean pain, whether resulting from disease, accidental or intentional trauma, or other cause, that the practitioner reasonably expects to last only a short period of time. Such term shall not include chronic pain, pain being treated as part of cancer care, hospice or other end-of-life care, or pain being treated as part of palliative care practices.

6. A practitioner dispensing a controlled substance shall file information pursuant to such dispensing with the department by electronic means in such manner and detail as the commissioner shall, by regulation, require. This requirement shall not apply to the dispensing by a practitioner pursuant to subdivision six of section thirty-three hundred fifty-one of this article.

7. A practitioner may not administer, prescribe or dispense any substance referred to in subdivision (h) of Schedule II, and subdivision (g) of Schedule III, of section three thousand three hundred six of this article for other than therapeutic purposes. The requirements of this paragraph shall not apply in the case of patients who are being treated for cancer that is not in remission, who are in hospice or other end-of-life care, or whose pain is being treated as part of palliative care practices.

9. (a) When a patient seeks treatment for any neuromusculoskeletal condition that causes pain, where a practitioner considers an opioid treatment, the practitioner shall consider, discuss with the patient, and, as appropriate, refer or prescribe non-opioid treatment alternatives, based on the practitioner's clinical judgment and following generally accepted national professional or treatment guidelines, and consistent with patient preference and consent, before starting a patient on opioid treatment. For the purposes of this subdivision, non-opioid treatment alternatives include, but are not limited to: acupuncture, chiropractic, massage therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, cognitive behavioral therapy, non-opioid medications, interventional treatments and non-clinical activities such as exercise. 2. Such prescription shall be prepared on an official New York state prescription form, written with ink, indelible pencil or, apart from the practitioner's signature, typewriter or electronic printer, or to the extent authorized by federal requirements, on an electronic prescription. The original official New York state prescription or the electronic prescription must contain the following:

(d) the date upon which such prescription was actually signed by the prescribing practitioner.

3. No such prescription shall be made for a quantity of controlled substances which would exceed a thirty day supply if the controlled substance were used in accordance with the directions for use specified on the prescription. A practitioner may, however, issue a prescription for up to a three month supply of a controlled substance provided that the controlled substance has been prescribed to treat one of the conditions that have been enumerated by the commissioner pursuant to regulations as warranting the prescribing of greater than a thirty day supply of a controlled substance and that the practitioner specifies the condition on the face of the prescription. No additional prescriptions for a controlled substance may be issued by a practitioner to an ultimate user within thirty days of the date of any prescription previously issued unless and until the ultimate user has exhausted all but a seven day supply of the controlled substance provided by any previously issued prescription. A practitioner may, however, issue a prescription for up to a six month supply of any substance listed in subdivision (h) of Schedule II of section thirty-three hundred six of this article provided that such substance has been prescribed to treat one of the conditions that have been enumerated by the commissioner pursuant to regulations as warranting the prescribing of a six month supply and that the practitioner specifies the condition on the prescription or on the electronic prescription.

No pharmacy or pharmacist may sell or dispense greater than a thirty day supply of a controlled substance to an ultimate user unless and until the ultimate user has exhausted all but a seven day supply of the controlled substance provided pursuant to any previously issued prescription, except that a pharmacy or pharmacist may sell or dispense up to a three month supply of a controlled substance if there appears, on the official New York state prescription or electronic prescription, a statement that the controlled substance has been prescribed to treat one of the conditions that have been enumerated by the regulations of the commissioner as warranting the prescribing of greater than a thirty day supply of a controlled substance. A pharmacy or pharmacist may sell or dispense up to a six month supply of any substance listed in subdivision (h) of Schedule II of section thirty-three hundred six of this article if there appears, on the official New York state prescription or on an electronic prescription, a statement that the substance has been prescribed to treat one of the conditions that have been enumerated by the regulations of the commissioner as warranting the prescribing of a specified greater supply.

(iii) an auxiliary orange label affixed to the front of such container and bearing the legend, prominently marked or printed "Controlled Substance, Dangerous Unless Used As Directed";

(c) Any label, transparency, or auxiliary label shall be applied in a manner which would inhibit its removal.

3. The pharmacist filling the controlled substance prescription shall endorse upon the original official New York state prescription the date of delivery and his or her signature or, if an electronic prescription, his or her electronic signature.

4. The endorsed original prescription shall be retained by the proprietor of the pharmacy for a period of five years. The proprietor of the pharmacy shall file or cause to be filed such prescription information with the department by electronic means on a real time basis as the commissioner in consultation with the commissioner of education shall, by regulation, require; provided, however, that the commissioner may, pursuant to a process established in regulation, grant a waiver allowing a pharmacy to make such filings within a longer period of time if and to the extent that the commissioner finds it warranted, in his or her discretion, due to economic hardship, technological limitations that are not reasonably within the control of the pharmacy, or other exceptional circumstance demonstrated by the pharmacy; and provided, further, however, that such regulations shall specify the manner in which such requirements shall apply to the delivery of controlled substances to individuals in this state by means of mail or licensed express delivery services.

3. Within seventy-two hours after authorizing an emergency oral prescription, the prescribing practitioner shall cause to be delivered to the pharmacist the original of an official New York state prescription or an electronic prescription. Such prescription shall, in addition to the information otherwise required, also have upon the official New York state prescription or upon the electronic prescription the words: "Authorization for emergency dispensing." If the pharmacist fails to receive such prescription he or she shall notify the department in writing or electronically within seven days from the date of dispensing the substance.

that with respect to a schedule IV substance such prescription shall not exceed a thirty-day supply or one hundred dosage units, whichever is less; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any schedule IV controlled substance limited to a five day supply by section thirty-three hundred thirty-four of this title.

3. Within seventy-two hours after authorizing such an oral prescription, the prescribing practitioner shall cause to be delivered to the pharmacist an official New York state prescription or an electronic prescription. If the pharmacist fails to receive such prescription he or she shall make a record of such fact in such manner and detail as the commissioner in consultation with the commissioner of education, by regulation, shall require.

4. Such official New York state prescription or electronic prescription shall be endorsed, retained and filed in the same manner as is otherwise required for such prescriptions.

§ 3338. Official New York state prescription forms. 1. Official New York state prescription forms shall be prepared and issued by the department in the manner and detail as the commissioner in consultation with the commissioner of education may, by regulation, require, and, each form shall be serialized. Such forms shall be furnished to practitioners authorized to write such prescriptions and to institutional dispensers. Such prescription blanks shall not be transferable.

2. Except as expressly authorized by section thirty-three hundred thirty-four or thirty-three hundred thirty-seven of this article, controlled substances may be prescribed or dispensed only upon an official New York state prescription or, pursuant to regulations, an electronic prescription or out-of-state prescription.

4. Upon a finding by the commissioner that a person has willfully failed to comply with the provisions of this article, the commissioner may revoke, cancel or withhold official New York state prescription forms which have been issued or for which application has been made.

§ 3339. Refilling of prescriptions for controlled substances. 1.

Prescriptions for a schedule II controlled substance and those schedule III or schedule IV controlled substances which the commissioner may require by regulation may not be refilled.

2. A prescription, except for a schedule II controlled substance or those schedule III or schedule IV controlled substances which the commissioner may require by regulation may be refilled not more than the number of times specifically authorized by the prescriber upon the prescription, provided however no such authorization shall be effective for a period greater than six months from the date the prescription is signed. In the event that the prescription authorizes the dispensing of more than a thirty day supply of schedule III, schedule IV or schedule V substances pursuant to regulations of the commissioner enumerating conditions warranting specified greater supplies, the prescription may be refilled only once.

3. Unless an earlier refilling is authorized by the prescriber, no prescription for a controlled substance may be refilled earlier than seven days prior to the date the previously dispensed supply would be exhausted if used in conformity with the directions for use.

Such orders shall be made and preserved in the manner and form as the commissioner shall, by regulation, prescribe.

2. An institutional dispenser may dispense controlled substances for use off its premises only pursuant to a prescription, prepared and filed in conformity with this title, provided, however, that, in an emergency situation as defined by rule or regulation of the department, a practitioner in a hospital without a full-time pharmacy may dispense controlled substances to a patient in a hospital emergency room for use off the premises of the institutional dispenser for a period not to exceed twenty-four hours.

2-a. (b) pharmacists dispensing controlled substances upon prescription shall preserve such prescriptions in such manner as the commissioner in consultation with the commissioner of education shall, by regulation, require.

2. Practitioners and pharmacies shall maintain records of all controlled substances received and dispensed in such manner as the commissioner shall, by regulation, require.

§ 3343-a. Prescription monitoring program registry. 1. Establishment of system. (a) The commissioner shall, in accordance with the provisions of this section, establish and maintain an electronic system for collecting, monitoring and reporting information concerning the prescribing and dispensing of controlled substances, to be known as the prescription monitoring program registry. The registry shall include information reported by pharmacies on a real time basis, as set forth in subdivision four of section thirty-three hundred thirty-three of this article.

(b) The registry shall include, for each person to whom a prescription for controlled substances has been dispensed, all patient-specific information covering such period of time as is deemed appropriate and feasible by the commissioner, but no less than six months and no more than five years. Such patient-specific information shall be obtained from the prescription information reported by pharmacies pursuant to subdivision four of section thirty-three hundred thirty-three of this article and by practitioners who dispense pursuant to subdivision six of section thirty-three hundred thirty-one of this article, and shall be processed and included in the registry by the department without undue delay. For purposes of this article, "patient-specific information" means information pertaining to individual patients included in the registry, which shall include the following information and such other information as is required by the department in regulation:

To the extent practicable, implementation of the electronic transmission of prescriptions for controlled substances shall serve to streamline consultation of the registry by practitioners and reporting of prescription information by pharmacists. The registry shall be interoperable with other similar registries operated by federal or state governments, to the extent deemed appropriate by the commissioner, and subject to the provisions of section thirty-three hundred seventy-one-a of this article.

(d) The department shall establish and implement such protocols as are reasonably necessary to ensure that information contained in the registry is maintained in a secure and confidential manner and is accessible only by practitioners, pharmacists or their designees for the purposes established in subdivisions two and three of this section, or as otherwise set forth in sections thirty-three hundred seventy-one and thirty-three hundred seventy-one-a of this article. Such protocols shall include a mechanism for the department to monitor and record access to the registry, which shall identify the authorized individual accessing and each controlled substance history accessed.

2. Duty to consult prescription monitoring program registry; practitioners. (a) Every practitioner shall consult the prescription monitoring program registry prior to prescribing or dispensing any controlled substance listed on schedule II, III or IV of section thirty-three hundred six of this article, for the purpose of reviewing a patient's controlled substance history as set forth in such registry; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall preclude an authorized practitioner, other than a veterinarian, from consulting the registry at his or her option prior to prescribing or dispensing any controlled substance. - (vii) a practitioner when:

- (A) it is not reasonably possible for the practitioner to access the registry in a timely manner;

- (B) no other practitioner or designee authorized to access the registry, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision, is reasonably available; and

- (C) the quantity of controlled substance prescribed does not exceed a five day supply if the controlled substance were used in accordance with the directions for use;

- (viii) a practitioner acting in compliance with regulations that may be promulgated by the commissioner as to circumstances under which consultation of the registry would result in a patient's inability to obtain a prescription in a timely manner, thereby adversely impacting the medical condition of such patient;

- (ix) a situation where the registry is not operational as determined by the department or where it cannot be accessed by the practitioner due to a temporary technological or electrical failure, as set forth in regulation; or

(x) a practitioner who has been granted a waiver due to technological limitations that are not reasonably within the control of the practitioner, or other exceptional circumstance demonstrated by the practitioner, pursuant to a process established in regulation, and in the discretion of the commissioner.

The commissioner shall establish in regulation reasonable parameters with regard to a practitioner's ability to authorize designees pursuant to this section, which shall include processes necessary to allow the department to: (A) grant access to the registry in a reasonably prompt manner to as many designees as are authorized by practitioners, up to the number deemed appropriate by the commissioner for particular professional practices or types of practices, taking into account the need to maintain security of the registry and the patient-specific information maintained therein, and the objective of minimizing burdens to practitioners to the extent practicable; (B) require that practitioners notify the department upon terminating the authorization of any designee; and (C) establish a mechanism to prevent such terminated designees from accessing the registry in a reasonably prompt manner following such notification.

3. Authority to consult prescription monitoring program registry; pharmacists. (a) A pharmacist may consult the prescription monitoring program registry in order to review the controlled substance history of an individual for whom one or more prescriptions for controlled substances is presented to such pharmacist.

(b) For purposes of this section, a pharmacist may designate another pharmacist, a pharmacy intern, as defined by section sixty-eight hundred six of the education law, or other individual as may be permitted by the commissioner in regulation, to consult the prescription monitoring program registry on the pharmacist's behalf, provided that such designee is employed by the same pharmacy or is under contract with such pharmacy. The commissioner shall establish in regulation reasonable parameters with regard to a pharmacist's ability to authorize designees pursuant to this section, which shall include processes necessary to allow the department to: (A) grant access to the registry in a reasonably prompt manner to as many designees as are authorized by pharmacists, up to the number deemed appropriate by the commissioner for particular pharmacies, taking into account the need to maintain security of the registry and the patient-specific information maintained therein, and the objective of minimizing burdens to pharmacists to the extent practicable; (B) require that pharmacists notify the department upon terminating the authorization of any designee; and (C) establish a mechanism to prevent such terminated designees from accessing the registry in a reasonably prompt manner following such notification.

4. Immunity. No practitioner or pharmacist, and no person acting on behalf of such practitioner or pharmacist as permitted under this section, acting with reasonable care and in good faith shall be subject to civil liability arising from any false, incomplete or inaccurate information submitted to or reported by the registry or for any resulting failure of the system to accurately or timely report such information; provided, however, that nothing in this subdivision shall be deemed to alter the obligation to submit or report prescription information to the department as otherwise set forth in this article or in regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

5. Guidance to practitioners and pharmacists. The commissioner shall, in consultation with the commissioner of education, provide guidance to practitioners, pharmacists, and pharmacies regarding the purposes and uses of the registry established by this section and the means by which practitioners and pharmacists can access the registry. Such guidance shall reference educational information available pursuant to the prescription pain medication awareness program established pursuant to section thirty-three hundred nine-a of this article.

6. Individual access to controlled substance histories. The commissioner shall establish procedures by which an individual may: (a) request and obtain his or her own controlled substances history consisting of patient-specific information or, in appropriate circumstances, that of a patient who lacks capacity to make health care decisions and for whom the individual has legal authority to make such decisions and would have legal access to the patient's health care records; or (b) seek review of any part of his or her controlled substances history or, in appropriate circumstances, that of a patient who lacks capacity to make health care decisions and for whom the individual has legal authority to make such decisions and would have legal access to the patient's health care records, that such individual disputes. Such procedures shall require the department to promptly revise any information accessible through the registry that the department determines to be inaccurate. Such procedures shall be described on the department's website and included with the controlled substances history provided to an individual pursuant to a request made under this subdivision or under subparagraph (iv) of paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section thirty-three hundred seventy-one of this article.

7. Department analysis of data. The department shall periodically analyze data contained in the prescription monitoring program registry to identify information that indicates that a violation of law or breach of professional standards may have occurred and, as warranted, provide any relevant information to appropriate entities as permitted under section thirty-three hundred seventy-one of this article. The department shall keep a record of the information provided, including, but not limited to, the specific information provided and the agency to which such information was provided, including the name and title of the person to whom such information was provided and an attestation from such person that he or she has authority to receive such information.

8. Funding the prescription monitoring program registry. (a) The commissioner shall make reasonable efforts to apply for monies available from the federal government and other institutions, to the extent deemed appropriate by the commissioner, and use any monies so obtained to supplement any other monies made available for the purposes of this title.

(b) Operation of the registry established by this section shall not be funded, in whole or in part, by fees imposed specifically for such purposes upon practitioners, pharmacists, designees or patients subject to this section.

9. Rules and regulations. The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as are necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section, in consultation with the work group established pursuant to subdivision three of section thirty-three hundred nine-a of this article.

§ 3343-b. Safe disposal of unused controlled substances. 1. The department shall oversee a program for the safe disposal of unused controlled substances by consumers in accordance with federal law and article two-B of this chapter. Individual members of the public shall be authorized to voluntarily surrender controlled substances listed on schedule II, III, IV or V of section thirty-three hundred six of this article in a secure manner, without identifying themselves. Safe disposal methods shall be publicized consistent with the prescription pain medication awareness program established pursuant to section thirty-three hundred nine-a of this article and article two-B of this chapter.

2. The surrender of a controlled substance pursuant to this section and article two-B of this chapter shall not constitute the possession, transfer or sale of such controlled substance for purposes of this article or the penal law.

3. Except as provided in article two-B of this chapter, disposal sites shall be operated by law enforcement agencies, pharmacies and other Federal Drug Enforcement Administration authorized collectors on a voluntary basis, provided, however, that such disposal sites shall not be precluded from operating as part of a drug take back program established pursuant to article two-B of this chapter. Nothing in this section shall require any political subdivision of the state to participate in the program established in this section.

§ 3345. Possession of controlled substances by ultimate users original container. Except for the purpose of current use by the person or animal for whom such substance was prescribed or dispensed, it shall be unlawful for an ultimate user of controlled substances to possess such substance outside of the original container in which it was dispensed.

Violation of this provision shall be an offense punishable by a fine of not more than fifty dollars.

This record shall be open to inspection by all federal or state officers charged with the enforcement of federal and state laws relating to controlled substances or imitation controlled substances.

3. Any raw material product, container or equipment of any kind which is used, or intended for use, in manufacturing, distributing, dispensing or administering a controlled substance or imitation controlled substance in violation of this article shall be seized by any peace officer, acting pursuant to his special duties, or police officer and forfeited in the same manner as property subject to seizure and forfeiture pursuant to section thirty-three hundred eighty-eight of this article, except that such property shall not be retained for use by any official.

§ 3388. Seizure and forfeiture of vehicles, vessels or aircraft unlawfully used to conceal, convey or transport controlled substances.

1. Except as authorized in this article, it shall be unlawful to:

(a) transport, carry, or convey any controlled substance in, upon, or by means of any vehicle, vessel or aircraft; or

(b) conceal or possess any controlled substance in or upon any vehicle, vessel or aircraft, or upon the person of anyone in or upon any vehicle, vessel or aircraft; or

(c) use any vehicle, vessel or aircraft to facilitate the transportation, carriage, conveyance, concealment, receipt, possession, purchase, or sale of any controlled substance.

2. Any vehicle, vessel or aircraft which has been or is being used in violation of subdivision one, except a vehicle, vessel or aircraft used by any person as a common carrier in the transaction of business as such common carrier shall be seized by any peace officer, acting pursuant to his special duties, or police officer, and forfeited as hereinafter in this section provided. A vehicle, vessel or aircraft is not subject to forfeiture unless used in connection with acts or conduct which would constitute a felony under article 220 of the penal law.

3. The seized property shall be delivered by the officer having made the seizure to the custody of the district attorney of the county wherein the seizure was made, except that in the cities of New York, Yonkers, Rochester and Buffalo the seized property shall be delivered to the custody of the police department of such cities and such property seized by a member or members of the state police shall be delivered to the custody of the superintendent of state police, together with a report of all the facts and circumstances of the seizure.

4. It shall be the duty of the attorney general in seizures by members of the state police, otherwise it shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county wherein the seizure is made, if elsewhere than in the cities of New York, Yonkers, Rochester or Buffalo, and where the seizure is made in such cities it shall be the duty of the corporation counsel of the city, to inquire into the facts of the seizure so reported to him and if it appears probable that a forfeiture has been incurred by reason of a violation of this section, for the determination of which the institution of proceedings in the supreme court is necessary, to cause the proper proceedings to be commenced and prosecuted, not later than twenty days after written demand by a person claiming ownership thereof, to declare such forfeiture, unless, upon inquiry and examination, such district attorney, attorney general or corporation counsel decides that such proceedings cannot probably be sustained or that the ends of public justice do not require that they should be instituted or prosecuted, in which case, the district attorney, the attorney general or corporation counsel shall cause such seized property to be returned to the owner thereof. The procedure for proceedings instituted under this section shall conform as much as possible to the procedure for attachment.

5. Notice of the institution of the forfeiture proceeding shall be served either:

- (a) personally on the owners of the seized property; or
- (b) by registered mail to the owners' last known address and by publication of the notice once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper published or circulated in the county wherein the seizure was made.

6. Forfeiture shall not be adjudged where the owners establish by preponderance of the evidence that:

- (a) the use of such seized property, in violation of subdivision one of this section, was not intentional on the part of any owner; or
- (b) said seized property was used in violation of subdivision one of this section by any person other than an owner thereof, while such seized property was unlawfully in the possession of a person who acquired possession thereof in violation of the criminal laws of the United States, or of any state.

7. The district attorney, the superintendent of state police or the police department having custody of the seized property, after such judicial determination of forfeiture, shall, at their discretion, either retain such seized property for the official use of their office, division or department, or, by a public notice of at least five days, sell such forfeited property at public sale; provided, however, that where such property is subject to a perfected lien such property may not be retained for their official use unless all such liens on the property to be retained have been or will be satisfied. The net proceeds of any such sale, after deduction of the lawful expenses incurred, shall be paid into the general fund of the county wherein the seizure was made except that the net proceeds of the sale of property seized in the cities of New York, Yonkers, Rochester and Buffalo shall be paid into the respective general funds of such cities, and of the sale of property seized by the state police into the general fund of the state.

8. Whenever any person interested in any property which is seized and declared forfeited under the provisions of this section files with a justice of the supreme court a petition for the recovery of such forfeited property, the justice of the supreme court may restore said forfeited property upon such terms and conditions as he deems reasonable and just, if the petitioner establishes either of the affirmative defenses set forth in subdivision six of this section and that the petitioner was without personal or actual knowledge of the forfeiture proceeding. If the petition be filed after the sale of the forfeited property, any judgment in favor of the petitioner shall be limited to the net proceeds of such sale, after deduction of the lawful expenses and costs incurred by the district attorney, police department or corporation counsel.

9. No suit or action under this section for wrongful seizure shall be instituted unless such suit or action is commenced within two years after the time when the property was seized.

§ 3390. Revocation of licenses and certificates of approval. Any license or certificate of approval granted pursuant to this article may be revoked by the commissioner in whole or in part upon a finding that the licensee or certificate holder has:

6. wilfully and unreasonably refused to permit an inspection authorized by this article.

§ 3391. Revocation and suspension of license or certificate of approval procedure. 1. A proceeding to revoke a license or certificate of approval shall be commenced by a notice served personally or by registered or certified mail upon the licensee or holder of a certificate of approval directing him to show cause why his license or certificate should not be revoked. Such notice shall set forth in detail the grounds for the proposed revocation and shall fix a date for hearing not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the date of such notice.

2. Simultaneous with the commencement of a proceeding to revoke a license or certificate or during the course of such proceeding, the commissioner may in the case of a clear and imminent danger to the public health or safety forthwith suspend without prior notice any license or certificate theretofore issued.

3. If the commissioner suspends or revokes a license or certificate, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the licensee or holder of a certificate of approval and in the state of New York at the time of the suspension or the effective date of the revocation and which such licensee or holder of a certificate of approval is no longer authorized to possess, shall be seized or placed under seal in the manner provided in this article.

4. In lieu of revocation of a license or certificate, the commissioner may impose a civil penalty not in excess of ten thousand dollars. Such penalty may be imposed in lieu of revocation only if the commissioner is satisfied that the imposition and payment of such penalty will serve as a sufficient deterrent to future violations.

§ 3393. Formal hearings procedure. 1. The commissioner or any person designated by him for this purpose, shall have the power to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, records and documents and to take proof and testimony concerning all matters within the jurisdiction of the department.

2. Notice of hearing shall be served at least fifteen days prior to the date of the hearing, provided, however, whenever the commissioner has made a preliminary order suspending a license or directing the cessation of any activity pending the hearing, the commissioner shall provide the person affected thereby with an opportunity to be heard within five days.

3. At a hearing any person who is a party thereto may appear personally, shall have the right of counsel, and may cross-examine witnesses and produce evidence and witnesses in his own behalf.

4. Following a hearing, the commissioner shall make appropriate findings of fact and determinations and shall issue an order in accordance therewith.

5. The person conducting the hearing shall not be bound by the rules of evidence but any determination must be founded upon sufficient legal evidence to sustain it.

6. The commissioner may adopt such rules and regulations governing the procedures to be followed with respect to the hearings as may be consistent with the fair and effective administration of this article.

7. Any notice, application, order or other paper required to be served upon any party to a proceeding hereunder may be served in person, by registered mail or by certified mail upon either the party or an attorney who has appeared on his behalf.

§ 3394. Judicial review. 1. All orders or determinations hereunder shall be subject to judicial review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. In any such proceeding findings of fact made by the commissioner, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive.

2. Application for such review must be made within sixty days after service of the order or determination upon the person whose license, certificate, right or privilege is affected thereby or upon the attorney of record for such person.

3. An order, or the enforcement of an order revoking or suspending a license or revoking or cancelling official forms issued by the department, if accompanied by a finding of a clear and imminent danger to the public health or safety, may not be temporarily stayed or restrained prior to a determination on the merits of the application for judicial review.

§ 3396. Violations; penalties. 1. In any civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding brought for the enforcement of any provision of this article, it shall not be necessary to negate or disprove any exception, excuse, proviso or exemption contained in this article, and the burden of proof of any such exception, excuse, proviso, or exemption shall be upon the person claiming its benefit.

2. Violation of any provision of this article for which a penalty is specifically provided herein shall be punishable as provided herein.

Violation of any provision of this article for which no penalty is provided herein shall be punishable as provided in section twelve-b of article one of this chapter or in the penal law.

3. No person shall be prosecuted for a violation of any provision of this article if such person has been acquitted or convicted under the federal controlled substances act, of the same act or omission which, it is alleged, constitutes a violation of this article.

4. Upon the conviction of any person for violating any provision of this article, a copy of the judgment and sentence, and of the opinion of the court or judge, if any opinion be filed, shall be sent by the clerk of the court, or by the judge, to the board or officer, if any, by whom the convicted defendant has been licensed or registered to practice his profession, or to carry on his business.

5. Upon the imposition of any penalty, warning, reprimand or other sanction against any person for violating any provision of this article, a copy of the order, finding or opinion, if any is made or rendered, shall be sent by the person authorized by law to make such determination, to the board or officer by whom the respondent is licensed or registered to practice a profession or to carry on a business.

§ 3397. Fraud and deceit. 1. No person shall:

3. Possession of a blank official New York state prescription form by any person to whom it was not lawfully issued shall be presumptive evidence of such person's intent to use same for the purpose of illegally obtaining a controlled substance.

4. Any person who, in the course of treatment, is supplied with a controlled substance or a prescription therefor by one practitioner and who, without disclosing the fact, is supplied during such treatment with a controlled substance or a prescription therefor by another practitioner shall be guilty of a violation of this article.

§ 3428. Funeral directing; registration of licenses; fees. 1. (a)

Every person who, within the state, practices as a funeral director, undertaker or embalmer and every person, partnership or corporation who or which owns or operates within the state a funeral firm as herein defined shall biennially apply to the department for an appropriate certificate of registration and report, in a statement subscribed and affirmed as true under the penalties of perjury, any facts requested by the department.

(b) Such report by a corporation also shall set forth the name, residence address and title of each of its officers and directors and the name and residence address of each stockholder and other person, firm and corporation having a ten per centum or greater proprietary, beneficial, equitable or credit interest therein.

(c) Every such report also shall contain a statement as to whether the applicant and, if a partnership, any partner and, if a corporation, any of the officers, directors, stockholders or other persons, firms or corporations required to be listed therein had been convicted of a crime in the two year period immediately preceding the date of such application. Such statement shall identify such crime and the jurisdiction involved and the disposition of the charge.

(d) Every such report shall contain a statement as to whether the applicant and, if a partnership, any partner and, if a corporation, any of the officers, directors, stockholders or other persons, firms or corporations required to be listed therein, or any funeral firm with which such applicant, partner, officer, director, stockholder, person, firm or corporation has been affiliated, has been found in violation of the provisions of this article or any statute, rule or regulation relating to funeral directing. Such statement shall identify such statute, rule or regulation and the disposition of any proceeding thereon.

(e) In addition to such report, every person, partnership or corporation herein required to apply for a certificate shall without delay inform the department by written statement of his conviction, or of the conviction of any member of the partnership, or, if a corporation, of the conviction of any of its officers, directors, stockholders or other persons, firms or corporations required to be reported as provided by paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(f) In addition to any report required pursuant to this section, every person, partnership or corporation herein required to apply for a certificate of registration pursuant to this article shall provide notice to the department of the proposed: (i) sale or transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of a funeral firm, (ii) the sale or transfer of a controlling interest of such funeral firm, or (iii) the termination of the business of such funeral firm where there is no transferee of assets or stock. For purposes of this section, the term "controlling interest" shall mean a fifty-one percent interest in a partnership or fifty-one percent of the issued and outstanding shares of stock of a corporation. In the case of subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of this paragraph, such notice to the department shall identify the transferee or transferees of the assets or controlling interest and contain a listing of the names and addresses of the persons who deposited moneys with the funeral firm pursuant to section four hundred fifty-three of the general business law, and the amount to be transferred to the transferee or transferees. In the case of the termination, cessation of operation or discontinuation of the firm where there is no transferee, such notice shall contain a listing of the names and addresses of the persons who deposited funds with the funeral firm, the amount held in trust by such funeral firm and the proposed disposition of the moneys so held by such funeral firm. All such notices shall be provided to the department not less than ten days after the sale or transfer of such funeral firm or not less than thirty days prior to the termination, cessation of operation or discontinuation of the business of such funeral firm.

2. (a) An undertaker or embalmer shall pay to the department a biennial registration fee of sixty-two dollars and fifty cents.

(b) A funeral director shall pay a biennial registration fee of one hundred twenty-five dollars; however, initial registration shall not require such fee.

(c) Only a registered funeral firm may operate, or engage in the business and practice of funeral directing. Said business and practice must be conducted from an approved funeral establishment. In the event a funeral firm conducts its business from more than one funeral establishment, the firm must be registered from each such establishment. In the event more than one firm conducts its business from the same funeral establishment, each firm must be registered from the establishment and have an individual manager representing that firm at that establishment. The initial registration fee for each required registration is four hundred dollars for the period ending with the then current biennial registration period, and the biennial registration fee thereafter is three hundred dollars.

(d) The owner of a funeral firm shall pay a registration fee of one hundred dollars for the amendment of a certificate of registration to indicate a change of location, change of manager or change in firm name thereof.

(e) For failure to register, an additional fee of ten dollars for each delay of thirty days or part thereof beyond the first day of the biennial registration period shall be added to the regular fee. The commissioner may, for good cause shown, waive or compromise all or any part of this additional fee.

3. (a) Upon verification of the statements thus reported and the receipt of the requisite fee, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of registration; except that, in those instances where a conviction shall have been reported as herein required, or upon other proof thereof, and in the case of a funeral firm where an applicant or, if a partnership, any partner or, if a corporation, any of its officers, directors, stockholders or other persons, firms or corporation required to be reported as provided by paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, or any funeral firm with which such applicant, partner, officer, director, stockholder, person, firm or corporation has been affiliated, has committed repeated violations of the provisions of this article or any statute, rule or regulation relating to funeral directing, or has committed a significant violation, as defined by the commissioner pursuant to rule and regulation, of the provisions of this article or any statute, rule or regulation relating to funeral directing, the commissioner may deny an application for a certificate.

(b) The commissioner shall afford the applicant an opportunity to be heard at a hearing, on due notice, conducted in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, prior to the issuance of any order or determination denying such application.

4. The commissioner shall establish by rule and regulation the beginning date of the biennial registration period. In the event that a change in the established beginning date of the biennial registration period requires an adjustment in the duration of a registration period, there shall be a proportionate adjustment in the prescribed fee.

5. Each licensee who applies for registration as a funeral director, undertaker or embalmer during the second year of a biennial registration period shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars for funeral director registration or twelve dollars and fifty cents for undertaker registration, and twelve dollars and fifty cents for embalmer registration. However, initial registration for funeral directors shall not require such fee.

6. If any funeral director, undertaker or embalmer continues to practice, or any owner continues to operate a funeral firm, without registration, as herein provided, his license or business registration may be suspended or revoked by the department in accordance with the provisions of this article.

7. A funeral director, undertaker or embalmer who has been heretofore duly licensed and registered to practice in this state whose license shall not have been revoked or suspended, and who either before or after registration as required by this section shall have temporarily abandoned the practice of funeral directing, undertaking or embalming, or shall have removed from the state, may register within the state upon complying with the provisions of this section for registration, and also, filing with the department a statement of such facts subscribed and affirmed by him as true under the penalties of perjury.

8. Every funeral director, undertaker or embalmer shall communicate with the department in the event that the application blank for registration fails to reach them.

9. A funeral director, undertaker or embalmer who has been heretofore duly licensed and registered to practice in this state whose license shall not have been revoked or suspended and who no longer practices funeral directing, may apply for an inactive certificate of registration. The fee for an inactive certificate of registration shall be the same amount as the regular certificate of registration. Upon complying with the provisions of this section and section three thousand four hundred twenty-nine of this title for registration, a regular certificate of registration shall be reinstated. An inactive registrant shall be considered duly licensed and registered solely for the purposes of section three thousand four hundred forty-three of this article, provided, however, that any such registrant using his or her name in any advertising or promotional materials shall disclose their inactive status in such materials.

under this section for the collective benefit of its members.

2. Requirement. (a) Every person who renews a certificate of registration under section three thousand four hundred twenty-eight of this title shall file with the department, along with his or her biennial application for renewal, a certification attesting to the course or programs of instruction taken and successfully completed by such person and which clearly demonstrates that the person has completed the minimum number of hours of continuing education within the current biennium as set forth in subdivision three of this section.

(b) The department shall provide a certification form which shall require the following information:

(i) Applicant's full name and registration number;

(ii) Applicant's statement that he or she attended a specified number of hours of continuing education within the current biennium, consisting of courses identified by sponsor, date, location, and length of time in hours; and

(iii) Applicant's signature and date.

(c) This subdivision shall not apply to a funeral director, undertaker or embalmer who is an inactive registrant pursuant to subdivision nine of section three thousand four hundred twenty-eight of this title.

3. Minimum hours. The minimum hours of continuing education which an individual renewing registration must complete are:

(iv) Provider's commitment to verify attendance at each course and to maintain attendance records for department inspection for five years;

(v) Provider's commitment to establish a mechanism whereby licensees may evaluate the quality and content of each course taken as well as the provider's overall program when requested to do so by the department, and to maintain records of such evaluations for department inspection for five years;

(vi) Provider's agreement to submit to the department such evidence as is necessary to establish compliance with this section;

(vii) Provider's acknowledgment that disapproval by the department of a particular course or revocation of the provider's registration may result in nonrecognition of hours of continuing education from that provider; and

(viii) Provider's signature and date and verification by a notary public.

(b) A registered provider which is required to obtain prior approval of courses shall submit to the department a written description of each course for which approval is requested, at least sixty days prior to the first date the course is to be offered. If the department does not disapprove the proposed course within ninety days of its receipt of the written description and request for approval, the course shall be considered approved provisionally for six months. Following the six months of provisional approval, the department may make a final determination disapproving the course. Notwithstanding such determination, however, any individuals licensed pursuant to section three thousand four hundred twenty-eight of this title shall receive full continuing education credit for any course taken during the period of provisional approval to fulfill the requirements of this section.

(c) Any provider registered to offer continuing education under this section shall require each person taking instruction to display or provide, prior to admission or before the initiation of any such instruction, personal photo identification in the form of an automobile driver's license, passport or any other similar form of photo identification issued by a governmental entity, or a trade association as defined in this section. The provider may allow the use of a photocopy of such identification for computer-based or distance learning instruction.

(d) The department may impose a fine of no less than the biennial registration fee upon a provider who violates the provisions of this section. For a second violation, the department may impose an additional fine of up to five hundred dollars and suspend the registration for the balance of the biennium. Nothing herein shall prevent the attorney general from bringing a civil action against any provider offering continuing education courses without the prior or provisional approval of the department.

(e) Registered provider status may be revoked by the department if the reporting requirements contained in this section are not met or, if upon review of the provider's performance, the department determines that the content of the course materials, the quality of the continuing education activities or the provider's performance does not meet the requirements set forth herein. In such event, the department shall send the provider by ordinary mail a notice of revocation. The revocation shall take effect no less than sixty days from the date such mailed revocation is postmarked. The provider may request a review of such revocation, and the department shall determine the request within thirty days. The decision of the department shall be final after such review.

(f) Section twelve of this chapter shall not apply to this section; provided, however, that any action by the department in suspending or revoking a provider registration in accordance with this subdivision shall be reviewable by the supreme court of the state of New York pursuant to the provisions of article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules.

8. Licensees in other states. A funeral director licensed as such by the state of New York who is maintaining his or her registration in this state while residing in another state is subject to the requirements of this section. The department may grant a non-resident licensee credit for continuing education as required by the state in which such licensee resides, provided the department deems them equivalent to New York continuing education requirements as set forth herein.

9. Late filing; fines; grace period. (a) The department shall impose a fine equal to the biennial registration fee upon a registrant who fails to file the certification of continuing education within the time prescribed under subdivision two of this section, for the first such late filing. The department shall also allow such a registrant a grace period of one hundred twenty days into the biennium to comply with this section and to file the certification. After one hundred twenty days, the department shall suspend the registration for the balance of the biennium.

(b) A registrant who violates the filing requirements and deadlines of this section a second time shall, upon that and any subsequent violations, be subject to an additional fine of no more than five hundred dollars and suspension as the department may impose.

(c) A person who holds an inactive certificate of registration who wishes to reinstate an active registration shall complete twelve hours of continuing education prior to obtaining such active registration.

Thereupon the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper. In any such proceeding it shall be unnecessary to allege or prove that an adequate remedy at law does not exist or that irreparable damage would result if such order were not granted. The remedy provided by this section shall be in addition to any other remedy provided by law.

§ 3600. Declaration of legislative findings and intent. The legislature hereby finds and declares that the provision of high quality home care services to residents of New York state is a priority concern. Expanding these services to make them available throughout the state as a viable part of the health care system and as an alternative to institutional care should be a primary focus of the state's actions.

Home health care has only recently been recognized legislatively as an integral part of the health care delivery system and has proven to have an important and valuable role in patient care. The certified home health agencies render a coordinated array of services to patients in their homes, thereby avoiding prolonged institutionalization, concomitant high costs and associated adverse social and medical implications.

The legislature intends that there be a public commitment to the appropriate provision and expansion of services rendered to the residents of the state by certified home health agencies, to the maintenance of a consistently high level of services by all home care services agencies, to the central collection and public accessibility of information concerning all organized home care services, and to the adequate regulation and coordination of existing home care services.

(c) Such current enforcement action, when resolved to the satisfaction of the commissioner of social services, shall not itself preclude an otherwise eligible applicant from licensure approval but shall be considered by the department in determining the character, competence, and standing in the community of the applicant pursuant to subdivision four of this section.

(d) If the department receives notice from the department of social services that a certified operator of an adult home or enriched housing program that is licensed as a limited home care services agency has received official written notice from the department of social services of a proposed enforcement action taken pursuant to section four hundred sixty-d of the social services law, the department shall review the delivery of home care services to determine whether such agency is meeting all applicable regulations and standards.

At the end of the specified timeframe such payments shall cease. The commissioner may establish, as a condition of receiving such Medicaid payments, benchmarks and goals to be achieved in conformity with the provider's written proposal as approved by the commissioner and may also require that the provider submit such periodic reports concerning the achievement of such benchmarks and goals as the commissioner deems necessary. 6. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions three through five of this section, the commissioner shall suspend, limit or revoke a certified home health agency certificate of approval after taking into consideration the public need for the agency and the availability of other services which may serve as alternatives or substitutes, and after finding that suspending, limiting, or revoking the certificate of approval of such agency would be within the public interest in order to conserve health resources by restricting the level of services to those which are actually needed.

(b) Whenever any finding as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision is under consideration with respect to any particular certified home health agency, the commissioner shall cause to be published, in a newspaper of general circulation in the geographic area of the agency, at least thirty days prior to making such a finding an announcement that such a finding is under consideration and an address to which interested persons can write to make their views known. The commissioner shall take all public comments into consideration in making such a finding.

Upon receipt of any such notification and before the expiration of the thirty days or such longer period as may be specified in the notice, the certified home health agency or the appropriate health systems agency may request a public hearing to be held in the county in which the agency is located. In no event shall the revocation, suspension or limitation take effect prior to the thirtieth day after the date of the notice, or prior to the effective date specified in the notice or prior to the date of the hearing decision, whichever is later.

(d) Except as otherwise provided by law, all appeals from a finding of the commissioner made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be directly to the appellate division of the supreme court in the third department. In no event shall the revocation, suspension or limitation take effect prior to the thirtieth day after the date of the notice, or prior to the effective date specified in the notice or prior to the date of the hearing decision, whichever is later.

§ 3614. Payments for certified home health agency services, long term home health care programs and AIDS home care programs. 1. No government agency shall purchase, pay for or make reimbursement or grants-in-aid for services provided by a home care services agency, a provider of a long term home health care program or a provider of an AIDS home care program unless, at the time the services were provided, the home care services agency possessed a valid certificate of approval or the provider of a long term home health care program or AIDS home care program had been authorized by the commissioner to provide such program. However, contractual arrangements between a certified home health agency, provider of a long term home health care program, provider of an AIDS home care program, or government agency and any home care services agency shall not be prohibited, provided that the certified home health agency, provider of a long term home health care program, provider of an AIDS home care program, or government agency maintains full responsibility for the plan of treatment and the care rendered.

2. Payments for certified home health agency services or services provided by long term home health care programs or AIDS home care programs made by government agencies shall be at rates approved by the state director of the budget. No provider of a long term home health care program or AIDS home care program shall establish charges for such program in excess of those established pursuant to the provisions of this section and rules and regulations adopted pursuant to section thirty-six hundred twelve of this article or subchapter XVIII of the federal Social Security Act (Medicare).

2-a. Notwithstanding any contrary law, rule or regulation, for rate periods on and after April first, two thousand eleven, Medicaid rates of payments for services provided by certified home health agencies, by long term home health care programs or by an AIDS home care program shall not reflect a separate payment for home care nursing services provided to patients diagnosed with Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS).

3. Prior to the approval of such rates, the commissioner shall determine and certify to the state director of the budget that the proposed rate schedules for payments for certified home health agency services or services provided by long term home health care programs or AIDS home care programs are reasonably related to the costs of the efficient production of such services. In making such certification, the commissioner shall take into consideration the elements of cost, geographical differentials in the elements of cost considered, economic factors in the area in which the certified home health agency, provider of a long term home health care program or provider of an AIDS home care program is located, costs of certified home health agencies, providers of long term home health care programs or providers of AIDS home care programs of comparable size, and the need for incentives to improve services and institute economies.

3-a. Medically fragile children and medically fragile adults. Rates of payment for continuous nursing services for medically fragile children and medically fragile adults provided by a certified home health agency, a licensed home care services agency or a long term home health care program shall be established to ensure the availability of such services, whether provided by registered nurses or licensed practical nurses who are employed by or under contract with such agencies or programs, and shall be established at a rate that is at least equal to rates of payment for such services rendered to patients eligible for AIDS home care programs; provided, however, that a certified home health agency, a licensed home care services agency or a long term home health care program that receives such enhanced rates for continuous nursing services for medically fragile children and medically fragile adults shall use such enhanced rates to increase payments to registered nurses and licensed practical nurses who provide such services. In the case of services provided by certified home health agencies and long term home health care programs through contracts with licensed home care services agencies, rate increases received by such certified home health agencies and long term home health care programs pursuant to this subdivision shall be reflected in payments made to the registered nurses or licensed practical nurses employed by such licensed home care services agencies to render services to these children and medically fragile adults. In establishing rates of payment under this subdivision, the commissioner shall consider the cost neutrality of such rates as related to the cost effectiveness of caring for medically fragile children and medically fragile adults in a non-institutional setting as compared to an institutional setting. For the purposes of this subdivision, a medically fragile child shall mean a child who is at risk of hospitalization or institutionalization, including but not limited to children who are technologically-dependent for life or health-sustaining functions, require complex medication regimen or medical interventions to maintain or to improve their health status or are in need of ongoing assessment or intervention to prevent serious deterioration of their health status or medical complications that place their life, health or development at risk, but who are capable of being cared for at home if provided with appropriate home care services, including but not limited to case management services and continuous nursing services. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to implement provisions of this subdivision and may also direct the providers specified in this subdivision to provide such additional information and in such form as the commissioner shall determine is reasonably necessary to implement the provisions of this subdivision.

3-c. Home telehealth. (a) Demonstration rates of payment or fees shall be established for telehealth services provided by a certified home health agency, a long term home health care program or AIDS home care program, or for telehealth services by a licensed home care services agency under contract with such an agency or program, in order to ensure the availability of technology-based patient monitoring, communication and health management. Reimbursement for telehealth services provided pursuant to this section shall be provided only in connection with Federal Food and Drug Administration-approved and interoperable devices, and incorporated as part of the patient's plan of care. The commissioner shall seek federal financial participation with regard to this demonstration initiative.

(b) The purposes of such services shall be to assist in the effective monitoring and management of patients whose medical, functional and/or environmental needs can be appropriately and cost-effectively met at home through the application of telehealth intervention. Reimbursement provided pursuant to this subdivision shall be for services to patients with conditions or clinical circumstances associated with the need for frequent monitoring, and/or the need for frequent physician, skilled nursing or acute care services, and where the provision of telehealth services can appropriately reduce the need for on-site or in-office visits or acute or long term care facility admissions. Such conditions and clinical circumstances shall include, but not be limited to, congestive heart failure, diabetes, chronic pulmonary obstructive disease, wound care, polypharmacy, mental or behavioral problems limiting self-management, and technology-dependent care such as continuous oxygen, ventilator care, total parenteral nutrition or enteral feeding.

(c) Demonstration rates or fees established by the commissioner and approved by the director of the budget, for such telehealth services shall reflect telehealth services costs on a monthly basis in order to account for daily variation in the intensity and complexity of patients' telehealth service needs; provided that such demonstration rates shall further reflect the cost of the daily operation and provision of such services, which costs shall include the following functions undertaken by the participating certified home health agency, long term home health care program, AIDS home care program or licensed home care services agency:

(i) Monitoring of patient vital signs;

(ii) Patient education;

(iii) Medication management;

(iv) Equipment maintenance;

(v) Review of patient trends and/or other changes in patient condition necessitating professional intervention; and

(vi) Such other activities as the commissioner may deem necessary and appropriate to this section.

(d) The commissioner shall take such additional steps as may be reasonably necessary to implement the provision of this subdivision; provided however that the commissioner shall establish initial demonstration rates or fees for telehealth services as provided for in this subdivision by no later than October first, two thousand seven; and provided, further, however, that the commissioner shall seek the input of representatives from participating providers and other interested parties in the development of such rates or fees and any applicable requirements established pursuant to this subdivision.

(e) The commissioner shall, within monies appropriated therefor, establish a rural home telehealth delivery demonstration study program in counties having a population of not less than one hundred thirty thousand and not more than one hundred forty thousand, according to the two thousand ten decennial federal census. The commissioner shall direct a home health organization serving in such county to study patients receiving telehealth services, pursuant to this subdivision, who have been diagnosed with congestive heart failure, diabetes and/or chronic pulmonary obstructive disease, and whose medical, functional and/or environmental needs are appropriately met at home through the application of telehealth services interventions. Such a study shall determine the cost of providing telehealth services, the quality of care provided through telehealth services and the outcomes of patients receiving such telehealth services. The commissioner shall reimburse the home health organization for conducting the study with amounts appropriated under this subdivision. The home health organization shall evaluate the findings of the study and report to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the commissioner, and the chair of the legislative commission on rural resources on its findings of providing telehealth services for each condition, so as to provide the cost benchmarks with and without telehealth care, as well as providing cost benefit measurements in terms of the quality benefit outcomes for each of the conditions addressed via telehealth.

4. The commissioner shall notify each certified home health agency, long term home health care program and AIDS home care program of its approved rates of payment which shall be used in reimbursing for services provided to persons eligible for payments made by state governmental agencies at least thirty days prior to the beginning of an established rate period for which the rate is to become effective. Such notification shall be made only after approval of rate schedules by the state director of the budget.

* 5. (a) During the period July first, nineteen hundred ninety through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety, the period January first, nineteen hundred ninety-one through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-one and for each calendar year period commencing on January first thereafter, rates of payment by governmental agencies established in accordance with subdivision three of this section applicable for services provided by certified home health agencies to individuals eligible for medical assistance pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law for certified home health agencies which can demonstrate, on forms provided by the commissioner, losses from a disproportionate share of bad debt and charity care during the base year period as used in determining such rates may include an allowance determined in accordance with this subdivision to reflect the needs of the certified home health agency for the financing of losses resulting from bad debt and the cost of charity care. Losses resulting from bad debt and the delivery of charity care shall be determined by the commissioner considering, but not limited to, such factors as the losses resulting from bad debt and the costs of charity care provided by the certified home health agency and the availability of other financial support, including state local assistance public health aid, to meet the losses resulting from bad debt and the costs of charity care of the certified home health agency. The bad debt and charity care allowance for a certified home health agency for a rate period shall be determined by the commissioner in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the state hospital review and planning council and approved by the commissioner, and shall be consistent with the purposes for which such allowances are authorized for general hospitals pursuant to the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter and rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner. For purposes of distribution of bad debt and charity care allowances to eligible certified home health agencies, the commissioner, in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the state hospital review and planning council and approved by the commissioner, may limit application of a bad debt and charity care allowance to a particular home care services unit or units of service, such as nursing service. A certified home health agency applying for a bad debt and charity care allowance pursuant to this subdivision shall provide assurances satisfactory to the commissioner that it shall undertake reasonable efforts to maintain financial support from community and public funding sources and reasonable efforts to collect payments for services from third party insurance payors, governmental payors and self-paying patients. To be eligible for an allowance pursuant to this subdivision, a certified home health agency shall: have professional assistance available on a seven day per week, twenty-four hour per day basis to all registered clients; demonstrate compliance with minimum charity care certification obligation levels established pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the state hospital review and planning council and approved by the commissioner; and provide to the commissioner and maintain a community service plan which outlines the agency's organizational mission and commitment to meet the home care needs of the community, in accordance with paragraph (h) of this subdivision.

(b) The total amount of funds to be allocated and distributed for bad debt and charity care allowances to eligible certified home health agencies for a rate period in accordance with this subdivision shall be limited to an annual aggregate amount of six million two hundred fifty thousand dollars; provided, however, that the amount of funds allocated for distribution to eligible publicly sponsored certified home health agencies for bad debt and charity care allowances shall not exceed thirty-five percent of total available funds for all eligible certified home health agencies for bad debt and charity care allowances. In establishing an apportionment of available funds to publicly sponsored certified home health agencies in accordance with this paragraph, the commissioner shall promulgate regulations which may include, but not be limited to, such factors as the ratio of public to nonpublic base year period bad debt and charity care provided by eligible certified home health agencies and differences in costs for delivering such services. Certified home health agencies provided by general hospitals shall not be eligible for any portion of the allocation pursuant to this paragraph for the period of July first, nineteen hundred ninety through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, or for such longer period if extended by law, based on the projected availability of an equitable level of bad debt and charity care coverage for such agencies provided pursuant to chapter two of the laws of nineteen hundred eighty-eight and any future amendments thereto.

(c) No certified home health agency may receive a bad debt and charity care allowance in accordance with this subdivision in an amount which exceeds its need for the financing of losses associated with the delivery of bad debt and charity care.

(d) A nominal payment amount for the financing of losses associated with the delivery of bad debt and charity care will be established for each eligible certified home health agency. The nominal payment amount shall be calculated as the sum of the dollars attributable to the application of an incrementally increasing nominal coverage percentage of base year period losses associated with the delivery of bad debt and charity care for percentage increases in the relationship between base year period losses associated with the delivery of bad debt and charity care and base year period total operating costs according to the following scale:

Up to 3%	50%
6% +	100%

If the sum of the nominal payment amounts for all eligible voluntary non-profit and private proprietary certified home health agencies or for all eligible public certified home health agencies is less than the amount allocated for bad debt and charity care allowances pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision for such certified home health agencies respectively, the nominal coverage percentages of base year period losses associated with the delivery of bad debt and charity care pursuant to this scale may be increased to not more than one hundred percent for voluntary non-profit and private proprietary certified home health agencies or for public certified home health agencies in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the state hospital review and planning council and approved by the commissioner.

(e) The bad debt and charity care allowance for each eligible voluntary non-profit and private proprietary certified home health agency shall be based on the dollar value of the result of the ratio of total funds allocated for bad debt and charity care allowances for certified home health agencies pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision to the total statewide nominal payment amounts for all eligible certified home health agencies determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this subdivision applied to the nominal payment amount for each such certified home health agency.

(f) The bad debt and charity care allowance for each eligible public certified home health agency shall be based on the dollar value of the result of the ratio of total funds allocated for bad debt and charity care allowances for public certified home health agencies pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision to the total statewide nominal payment amounts for all eligible public certified home health agencies determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this subdivision applied to the nominal payment amount for each such certified home health agency.

(g) Certified home health agencies shall furnish to the department such reports and information as may be required by the commissioner to assess the cost, quality, access to, effectiveness and efficiency of bad debt and charity care provided. The state hospital review and planning council shall adopt rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the commissioner, to establish uniform reporting and accounting principles designed to enable certified home health agencies to fairly and accurately determine and report the costs of bad debt and charity care. In order to be eligible for an allowance pursuant to this subdivision, a certified home health agency must be in compliance with bad debt and charity care reporting requirements.

(h) Community service plans. (i) The governing body of a certified home health agency shall issue an organizational mission statement identifying at a minimum the populations and communities served by the agency and the agency's commitment to meeting the home care needs of the community. The commissioner shall take into consideration the limitations of agency size and resources, and allow flexibility in complying with the provisions of this section.

(ii) The governing body of the certified home health agency shall at least once every three years:

- (A) review and amend as necessary the agency's mission statement;
- (B) solicit the views of the communities served by the agency on such issues as the agency's performance and service priorities;

(C) demonstrate the agency's operational and financial commitment to meeting community home care needs, to provide charity care service and to improve access to home care services by the underserved; and

(D) prepare and make available to the public a statement showing the provision of free, reduced charge and/or other services of a charitable or community nature.

(iii) The governing body of the certified home health agency shall annually make available to the public a review of the agency's performance in meeting the home care needs of the community, providing charity care services, and improving access to home care services by the underserved.

(iv) The governing body of the certified home health agency shall file with the commissioner its mission statement, its annual performance review, and at least every three years a report detailing amendments to the statement reflecting changes in the agency's operational and financial commitment to meeting the home care needs of the community, providing charity care services, and improving access to home care services by the underserved.

(v) The commissioner shall promulgate regulations establishing a revised percentage for the charity care requirement.

(i) This subdivision shall be effective if, and as long as, federal financial participation is available for expenditures made for beneficiaries eligible for medical assistance under title XIX of the federal social security act based upon the allowances determined in accordance with this subdivision.

* NB Expires June 30, 2029

6. (a) The commissioner shall, subject to the approval of the state director of the budget, establish capitated rates of payment for services provided by assisted living programs as defined by paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section four hundred sixty-one-l of the social services law. Such rates of payment shall be related to costs incurred by residential health care facilities. The rates shall reflect the wage equalization factor established by the commissioner for residential health care facilities in the region in which the assisted living program is provided and real property capital construction costs associated with the construction of a free-standing assisted living program such rate shall include a payment equal to the cost of interest owed and depreciation costs of such construction. The rates shall also reflect the efficient provision of a quality and quantity of services to patients in such residential health care facilities, with needs comparable to the needs of residents served in such assisted living programs. Such rates of payment shall be equal to fifty percent of the amounts which otherwise would have been expended, based upon the mean prices for the first of July, nineteen hundred ninety-two (utilizing nineteen hundred eighty-three costs) for freestanding, low intensity residential health care facilities with less than three hundred beds, and for years subsequent to nineteen hundred ninety-two, adjusted for inflation in accordance with the provisions of subdivision ten of section twenty-eight hundred seven-c of this chapter, to provide the appropriate level of care for such residents in residential health care facilities in the applicable wage equalization factor regions plus an amount equal to capital construction costs associated with the construction of an assisted living program facility as provided for in this subdivision. The commissioner shall also promulgate regulations, and may promulgate emergency regulations, to provide for reimbursement of the cost of preadmission assessments conducted directly by assisted living programs.

(b) For purposes of this subdivision, real property capital construction costs shall only be included in rates of payment for assisted living programs if: the facility houses exclusively assisted living program beds authorized pursuant to paragraph (j) of subdivision three of section four hundred sixty-one-l of the social services law or (i) the facility is operated by a not-for-profit corporation; (ii) the facility commenced operation after nineteen hundred ninety-eight and at least ninety-five percent of the certified approved beds are provided to residents who are subject to the assisted living program; and (iii) the assisted living program is in a county with a population of no less than two hundred eighty thousand persons. The methodology used to calculate the rate for such capital construction costs shall be the same methodology used to calculate the capital construction costs at residential health care facilities for such costs, provided that the commissioner may adopt rules and regulations which establish a cap on real property capital construction costs for those facilities that house exclusively assisted living program beds authorized pursuant to paragraph (j) of subdivision three of section four hundred sixty-one-1 of the social services law.

(c) The department shall conduct a study of the use of resident data collected from a uniform assessment tool identified by the commissioner with respect to its effectiveness in evaluation and adjusting rates of payment for assisted living programs. On or before July thirty-first, two thousand eleven, the commissioner shall provide the governor, the speaker of the assembly, the temporary president of the senate, and the chairpersons of the assembly and senate health committees with a report setting forth the conclusions of such study.

The amount of such reduction in certified home health agency rates of payments made during the period April first, nineteen hundred ninety-five through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six shall be adjusted in the nineteen hundred ninety-six rate period on a pro-rata basis, if it is determined upon post-audit review by June fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-six and reconciliation that the savings for the state share, excluding the federal and local government shares, of medical assistance payments pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law based on the limitation of such payment pursuant to this subdivision is in excess of one million five hundred thousand dollars or is less than one million five hundred thousand dollars for payments made on or before March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six to reflect the amount by which such savings are in excess of or lower than one million five hundred thousand dollars. The commissioner is authorized to audit such agencies or programs to ensure compliance with such certifications and expenditure plans and shall recoup any funds determined to have been used for purposes other than those set forth in this subdivision. Such recoupment shall be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

(d) Funds under this subdivision are not intended to supplant support provided by local government.

11. (a) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, rule or regulation and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, the commissioner is authorized and directed to implement a program whereby he or she shall adjust medical assistance rates of payment for services provided by certified home health agencies, long term home health care programs, AIDS home care programs and providers of personal care services and/or providers of private duty nursing services under the social services law in accordance with this subdivision for purposes of enhancing the provision, accessibility, quality and/or efficiency of home care services. Such rate adjustments shall be for the purposes of assisting such providers, located in social services districts which do not include a city with a population of over one million persons, in meeting the cost of:

(i) Increased use of technology in the delivery of services, including telehealth and clinical and administrative management information system;

(ii) Specialty training of direct service personnel in dementia care, pediatric care and/or the care of other conditions or populations with complex needs;

(iii) Increased auto and travel expenses associated with rising fuel prices, including the increased cost of providing services in remote areas; and/or

(iv) Providing enhanced access to care for high need populations;

(v) Such other purposes related to the provision of quality, accessible home care services as the commissioner may deem appropriate.

(b) The commissioner shall increase the medical assistance rates of payment pursuant to this subdivision in an amount up to an aggregate of sixteen million dollars for the period June first, two thousand six through March thirty-first, two thousand seven, and sixteen million dollars for the period April first, two thousand seven through March thirty-first, two thousand eight, and sixteen million dollars for the period April first, two thousand eight through March thirty-first, two thousand nine, provided however that if federal financial participation is not available for rate adjustments pursuant to this subdivision such aggregate amount shall not exceed eight million dollars, and provided, further, however, that for purposes of long term home health care programs, such payments provided pursuant to this subdivision shall be treated as supplemental payments and shall not effect any current cost cap requirement.

(c) Such rate adjustments shall be in the form of a uniform percentage add-on to the rates, as determined by the department, based on the proportion of the total allocated adjustment dollars, as determined in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, to the total medicaid expenditures for services provided for certified home health agencies, long-term home health care programs, AIDS nursing, personal care assistants and private duty nurses services in local social services districts which do not include a city with a population over one million.

(a) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law or regulation and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, effective on and after April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve, rates of payment by government agencies for services provided by certified home health agencies, except for such services provided to children under eighteen years of age and other discrete groups as may be determined by the commissioner pursuant to regulations, shall reflect ceiling limitations determined in accordance with this subdivision, provided, however, that at the discretion of the commissioner such ceilings may, as an alternative, be applied to payments for services provided on and after April first, two thousand eleven, except for such services provided to children and other discrete groups as may be determined by the commissioner pursuant to regulations. In determining such payments or rates of payment, agency ceilings shall be established. Such ceilings shall be applied to payments or rates of payment for certified home health agency services as established pursuant to this section and applicable regulations. Ceilings shall be based on a blend of: (i) an agency's two thousand nine average per patient Medicaid claims, weighted at a percentage as determined by the commissioner; and (ii) the two thousand nine statewide average per patient Medicaid claims adjusted by a regional wage index factor and an agency patient case mix index, weighted at a percentage as determined by the commissioner. Such ceilings will be effective April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve. An interim payment or rate of payment adjustment effective April first, two thousand eleven, shall be applied to agencies with projected average per patient Medicaid claims, as determined by the commissioner, to be over their ceilings. Such agencies shall have their payments or rates of payment reduced to reflect the amount by which such claims exceed their ceilings.

(b) Ceiling limitations determined pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be subject to reconciliation. In determining payment or rate of payment adjustments based on such reconciliation, adjusted agency ceilings shall be established. Such adjusted ceilings shall be based on a blend of: (i) an agency's two thousand nine average per patient Medicaid claims adjusted by the percentage of increase or decrease in such agency's patient case mix from the two thousand nine calendar year to the annual period April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve, weighted at a percentage as determined by the commissioner; and (ii) the two thousand nine statewide average per patient Medicaid claims adjusted by a regional wage index factor and the agency's patient case mix index for the annual period April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve, weighted at a percentage as determined by the commissioner. Such adjusted agency ceiling shall be compared to actual Medicaid paid claims for the period April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve. In those instances when an agency's actual per patient Medicaid claims are determined to exceed the agency's adjusted ceiling, the amount of such excess shall be due from each such agency to the state and may be recouped by the department in a lump sum amount or through reductions in the Medicaid payments due to the agency. In those instances where an interim payment or rate of payment adjustment was applied to an agency in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subdivision, and such agency's actual per patient Medicaid claims are determined to be less than the agency's adjusted ceiling, the amount by which such Medicaid claims are less than the agency's adjusted ceiling shall be remitted to each such agency by the department in a lump sum amount or through an increase in the Medicaid payments due to the agency.

(c) Interim payment or rate of payment adjustments pursuant to this subdivision shall be based on Medicaid paid claims, as determined by the commissioner, for services provided by agencies in the base year two thousand nine. Amounts due from reconciling rate adjustments shall be based on Medicaid paid claims, as determined by the commissioner, for services provided by agencies in the base year two thousand nine and Medicaid paid claims, as determined by the commissioner, for services provided by agencies in the reconciliation period April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve. In determining case mix, each patient shall be classified using a system based on measures which may include, but not be limited to, clinical and functional measures, as reported on the federal Outcome and Assessment Information Set (OASIS), as may be amended.

(d) The commissioner may require agencies to collect and submit any data required to implement the provisions of this subdivision. The commissioner may promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of this subdivision.

(e) Payments or rate of payment adjustments determined pursuant to this subdivision shall, for the period April first, two thousand eleven through March thirty-first, two thousand twelve, be retroactively reconciled utilizing the methodology in paragraph (b) of this subdivision and utilizing actual paid claims from such period.

(f) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of this subdivision, payments or rate of payment adjustments made pursuant to this subdivision shall not result in an aggregate annual decrease in Medicaid payments to providers subject to this subdivision that is in excess of two hundred million dollars, as determined by the commissioner and not subject to subsequent adjustment, and the commissioner shall make such adjustments to such payments or rates of payment as are necessary to ensure that such aggregate limits on payment decreases are not exceeded.

13. (a) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law or regulation and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, effective April first, two thousand twelve through March thirty-first, two thousand twenty-nine, payments by government agencies for services provided by certified home health agencies, except for such services provided to children under eighteen years of age and other discreet groups as may be determined by the commissioner pursuant to regulations, shall be based on episodic payments. In establishing such payments, a statewide base price shall be established for each sixty day episode of care and adjusted by a regional wage index factor and an individual patient case mix index. Such episodic payments may be further adjusted for low utilization cases and to reflect a percentage limitation of the cost for high-utilization cases that exceed outlier thresholds of such payments.

(b) Initial base year episodic payments shall be based on Medicaid paid claims, as determined and adjusted by the commissioner to achieve savings comparable to the prior state fiscal year, for services provided by all certified home health agencies in the base year two thousand nine. Subsequent base year episodic payments may be based on Medicaid paid claims for services provided by all certified home health agencies in a base year subsequent to two thousand nine, as determined by the commissioner, provided, however, that such base year adjustment shall be made not less frequently than every three years. In determining case mix, each patient shall be classified using a system based on measures which may include, but not limited to, clinical and functional measures, as reported on the federal Outcome and Assessment Information Set (OASIS), as may be amended.

(c) The commissioner may require agencies to collect and submit any data required to implement this subdivision. The commissioner may promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of this subdivision.

14. (a) Notwithstanding any contrary provision of law and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, for periods on and after March first, two thousand fourteen the commissioner shall adjust Medicaid rates of payment for services provided by certified home health agencies to address cost increases stemming from the wage increases required by implementation of the provisions of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-c of this article. Such rate adjustments shall be based on a comparison, as determined by the commissioner, of the hourly compensation levels for home health aides and personal care aides as reflected in the existing Medicaid rates for certified home health agencies to the hourly compensation levels incurred as a result of complying with the provisions of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-c of this article.

(b) Notwithstanding any contrary provision of law and subject to the availability of federal financial participation, for periods on and after March first, two thousand fourteen the commissioner shall adjust Medicaid rates of payment for services provided by long term home health care programs to address cost increases stemming from the wage increases required by implementation of the provisions of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-c of this article. Such rate adjustments shall be based on a comparison, as determined by the commissioner, of the hourly compensation levels for home health aides and personal care aides as reflected in the existing Medicaid rates for long term home health care programs to the hourly compensation levels incurred as a result of complying with the provisions of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-c of this article.

§ 3614-a. Home care provider assessments. 1. Certified home health agencies and providers of long term home health care programs are charged assessments on their gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis in the percentage amounts and for the periods specified in subdivision two of this section. Such assessments shall be submitted by or on behalf of certified home health agencies or providers of long term home health care programs to the commissioner or his designee.

2. (a) (i) For certified home health agencies the assessment shall be six-tenths of one percent of each certified home health agency's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis beginning January first, nineteen hundred ninety-one for home care services; provided, however, that for all such gross receipts received on or after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, such assessment shall be two-tenths of one percent, and further provided that such assessment shall expire and be of no further effect for all such gross receipts received on or after January first, two thousand.

(ii) For certified home health agencies there shall be an additional assessment which shall be three-tenths of one percent of each certified home health agency's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis. The assessment year shall be April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two to March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-three. The agencies shall file the assessment return with any balance due or any refund claimed by May first, nineteen hundred ninety-three. The agencies shall make estimated payments on a monthly basis starting August fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-two and continuing on the fifteenth of each month through March fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-three. Each estimated payment shall equal one-eighth of the total estimated for the assessment year. If the total of estimated payments is less than ninety-five percent of the actual payment due, the agency shall pay a penalty of fifteen percent of the difference due for each month in addition to the amount due.

(iii) For certified home health agencies, an additional assessment shall be three-tenths of one percent of each certified home health agency's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis during the period April first, nineteen hundred ninety-three through June thirtieth, nineteen hundred ninety-four for home care services.

(b) (i) For providers of long term home health care programs the assessment shall be six-tenths of one percent of each provider's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis beginning January first, nineteen hundred ninety-one for long term home health care services; provided, however, that for all such gross receipts received on or after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, such assessment shall be two-tenths of one percent, and further provided that such assessment shall expire and be of no further effect for all such gross receipts received on or after January first, two thousand.

(ii) For providers of long term home health programs there shall be an additional assessment which shall be three-tenths of one percent of each provider of long term home health care's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis. The assessment year shall be April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two to March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-three. The providers shall file the assessment return with any balance due or any refund claimed by May first, nineteen hundred ninety-three. The providers shall make estimated payments on a monthly basis starting August fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-two and continuing on the fifteenth of each month through March fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-three. Each estimated payment shall equal one-eighth of the total estimated for the assessment year. If the total of estimated payments is less than ninety-five percent of the actual payment due, the provider shall pay a penalty of fifteen percent of the difference due for each month in addition to the amount due.

(iii) For providers of long term home health care programs, an additional assessment shall be three tenths of one percent of each provider's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis during the period April first, nineteen hundred ninety-three through June thirtieth nineteenth hundred ninety-four for long term home health care services.

(c) Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of this section or any other contrary provision of law or regulation, for certified home health agencies and for providers of long term home health care programs the assessment shall be thirty-five hundredths of one percent of each agency's or provider's gross receipts received from all home health care services and other operating income on a cash basis for periods on and after April first, two thousand nine.

3. Gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income for purposes of the assessments pursuant to this section shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) for certified home health agencies, all monies received for or on account of home care services, including personal care services, excluding subject to the provisions of subdivision twelve of this section the component of rates of payment related to the allowance provided in accordance with subdivision five of section thirty-six hundred fourteen of this article;

(b) for providers of long term home health care programs, all monies received for or on account of long term home health care services, including personal care services;

(c) provided, however, that subject to the provisions of subdivision twelve of this section income received from grants, charitable contributions, donations and bequests and governmental deficit financing shall not be included.

4. The commissioner is authorized to contract with the article forty-three insurance law plans, or such other administrators as the commissioner shall designate, to receive and distribute home care provider assessment funds and personal care services provider assessment funds assessed pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law. In the event contracts with the article forty-three insurance law plans or other commissioner's designees are effectuated, the commissioner shall conduct annual audits of the receipt and distribution of the assessment funds. The reasonable costs and expenses of an administrator as approved by the commissioner, not to exceed for personnel services on an annual basis two hundred thousand dollars for all assessments established pursuant to this section and the personal care services provider assessment established pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law, shall be paid from the assessment funds.

5. Estimated payments by or on behalf of certified home health agencies and providers of long term home health care programs to the commissioner or his designee of funds due from the assessments pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be made on a monthly basis. Estimated payments shall be due on or before the fifteenth day following the end of a calendar month to which an assessment applies.

6. (a) If an estimated payment made for a month to which an assessment applies is less than seventy percent of an amount the commissioner determines is due, based on evidence of prior period moneys received by a certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program or evidence of moneys received by such entity for that month, the commissioner may estimate the amount due from such entity and may collect the deficiency pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(b) If an estimated payment made for a month to which an assessment applies is less than ninety percent of an amount the commissioner determines is due, based on evidence of prior period moneys received by a certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program or evidence of moneys received by such certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program for that month, and at least two previous estimated payments within the preceding six months were less than ninety percent of the amount due, based on similar evidence, the commissioner may estimate the amount due from such entity and may collect the deficiency pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(c) Upon receipt of notification from the commissioner of an entity's deficiency under this section, the comptroller or a fiscal intermediary designated by the director of the budget, or the commissioner of social services, or a corporation organized and operating in accordance with article forty-three of the insurance law, or an organization operating in accordance with article forty-four of this chapter shall withhold from the amount of any payment to be made by the state or by such article forty-three corporation or article forty-four organization to the entity the amount of the deficiency determined under paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section. Upon withholding such amount, the comptroller or a designated fiscal intermediary, or the commissioner of social services, or corporation organized and operating in accordance with article forty-three of the insurance law or organization operating in accordance with article forty-four of this chapter shall pay the commissioner, or his designee, such amount withheld on behalf of the entity.

(d) The commissioner shall provide an entity with notice of any estimate of an amount due for an assessment pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section at least three days prior to collection of such amount by the commissioner. Such notice shall contain the financial basis for the commissioner's estimate.

(e) In the event the certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program objects to an estimate by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section of the amount due for an assessment, the entity, within sixty days of notice of an amount due, may request a public hearing. If a hearing is requested, the commissioner shall provide the entity an opportunity to be heard and to present evidence bearing on the amount due for an assessment within thirty days after collection of an amount due or receipt of a request for a hearing, whichever is later. An administrative hearing is not a prerequisite to seeking judicial relief.

(f) The commissioner may direct that a hearing be held without any request by the entity.

7. (a) Every certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program shall submit reports on a cash basis of actual gross receipts received from all patient care services and operating income for each month as follows:

(i) for the period January first, nineteen hundred ninety-one through January thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, the report shall be filed on or before March fifteenth, nineteen hundred ninety-one; and

(ii) for the quarter year ending March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-one and for each quarter thereafter, the report shall be filed on or before the forty-fifth day after the end of such quarter.

(b) Every certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program shall submit a certified annual report on a cash basis of gross receipts received in such calendar year from all patient care services and operating income.

(c) The reports shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner to accurately disclose information required to implement this section.

(d) Final payments shall be due for all certified home health agencies or providers of long term home health care programs for assessments pursuant to subdivision two of this section upon the due date for submission of the applicable quarterly report.

(e) The commissioner may recoup deficiencies in final payments pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section.

8. (a) If an estimated payment made for a month to which an assessment applies is less than ninety percent of the actual amount due for such month, interest shall be due and payable to the commissioner on the difference between the amount paid and the amount due from the day of the month the estimated payment was due until the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be twelve percent per annum or at the rate of interest set by the commissioner of taxation and finance with respect to underpayments of tax pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of the tax law minus four percentage points. Interest under this paragraph shall not be paid if the amount thereof is less than one dollar. Interest, if not paid by the due date of the following month's estimated payment, may be collected by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section in the same manner as an assessment pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

(b) If an estimated payment made for a month to which an assessment applies is less than seventy percent of the actual amount due for such month, a penalty shall be due and payable to the commissioner of five percent of the difference between the amount paid and the amount due for such month when the failure to pay is for a duration of not more than one month after the due date of the payment with an additional five percent for each additional month or fraction thereof during which such failure continues, not exceeding twenty-five percent in the aggregate. A penalty may be collected by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section in the same manner as an assessment pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

(c) Overpayment by a certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program of an estimated payment shall be applied to any other payment due from the entity pursuant to this section, or, if no payment is due, at the election of the entity shall be applied to future estimated payments or refunded to the entity. Interest shall be paid on overpayments from the date of overpayment to the date of crediting or refund at the rate determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subdivision if the overpayment was made at the direction of the commissioner. Interest under this paragraph shall not be paid if the amount thereof is less than one dollar.

9. Funds accumulated, including income from invested funds, from the assessments specified in this section, including interest and penalties, shall be deposited by the commissioner and credited to the general fund.

10. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law or regulation to the contrary, the assessments pursuant to this section shall not be an allowable cost in the determination of reimbursement rates pursuant to this article.

11. (c) The assessment shall not be collected in excess of twenty million four hundred thousand dollars from certified home health agencies and long term home health care programs pursuant to subdivision two of this section, licensed home care services agencies pursuant to subdivision two of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-b of this article and personal care services providers pursuant to subdivision two of section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law for the period of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight. The amount of the assessment collected in excess of twenty million four hundred thousand dollars for the period April first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight shall be refunded by the commissioner based on the ratio which a certified home health agency's, long term home health care program's, licensed home care services agency's or personal care services provider's assessment for such period bears to the total of the assessments for such period paid by such providers of services.

12. Each exclusion of sources of gross receipts received from the assessments effective on or after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two established pursuant to this section shall be contingent upon either: (a) qualification of the assessments for waiver pursuant to federal law and regulation; or (b) consistent with federal law and regulation, not requiring a waiver by the secretary of the department of health and human services related to such exclusion; in order for the assessments under this section to be qualified as a broad-based health care related tax for purposes of the revenues received by the state pursuant to the assessments not reducing the amount expended by the state as medical assistance for purposes of federal financial participation. The commissioner shall collect the assessments relying on such exclusions, pending any contrary action by the secretary of the department of health and human services. In the event the secretary of the department of health and human services determines that the assessments do not so qualify based on any such exclusion, the exclusion shall be deemed to have been null and void as of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two, and the commissioner shall collect any retroactive amount due as a result, without interest or penalty provided the certified home health agency or provider of a long term home health care program pays the retroactive amount due within ninety days of notice from the commissioner of health to the provider of services that an exclusion is null and void. Interest and penalties shall be measured from the due date of ninety days following notice from the commissioner to the provider of services.

§ 3614-b. Licensed home care services agencies assessments. 1.

Licensed home care services agencies are charged assessments, subject to the provisions of subdivision thirteen of this section, on their gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis in the percentage amounts and for the periods specified in subdivision two of this section. Such assessments shall be submitted by or on behalf of licensed home care services agencies to the commissioner or his designee.

2. (a) The assessment shall be six-tenths of one percent of such licensed home care services agency's gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income on a cash basis beginning April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two; provided, however, that for all such gross receipts received on or after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, such assessment shall be two-tenths of one percent, and further provided that such assessment shall expire and be of no further effect for all such gross receipts received on or after January first, two thousand.

(b) Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of this section or any other contrary provision of law or regulation, the assessment shall be thirty-five hundredths of one percent of each such licensed home care services agency's gross receipts received from all personal care services and other operating income on a cash basis for periods on and after April first, two thousand nine.

3. Gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income for purposes of the assessment pursuant to this section shall include, but not be limited to, all moneys received for or on account of home care services provided pursuant to a license issued by the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of section thirty-six hundred five of this article, provided, however, subject to the provisions of subdivision twelve of this section that income received from grants, charitable contributions, donations and bequests and governmental deficit financing shall not be included, and further, that moneys received on which an assessment is paid by a hospital pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred seven-d of this chapter, home care provider pursuant to section thirty-six hundred fourteen-a of this article, personal care services provider pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law or provider of services pursuant to section 43.04 or 43.06 of the mental hygiene law shall not be included.

4. The commissioner is authorized to contract with the article forty-three insurance law plans, or if not available such other administrators as the commissioner shall designate, to receive and distribute licensed home care services agency assessment funds. In the event contracts with the article forty-three insurance law plans or other commissioner's designees are effectuated, the commissioner shall conduct annual audits of the receipt and distribution of the assessment funds. The reasonable costs and expenses of an administrator as approved by the commissioner, not to exceed for personnel services on an annual basis two hundred thousand dollars for all assessments established pursuant to this section, shall be paid from the assessment funds.

5. Estimated payments by or on behalf of licensed home care services agencies to the commissioner or his or her designee of funds due from the assessments pursuant to subdivision two of this section shall be made on a monthly basis. Estimated payments shall be due on or before the fifteenth day following the end of the calendar month to which an assessment applies.

6. (a) If an estimated payment made for a month to which an assessment applies is less than seventy percent of an amount the commissioner determines is due, based on evidence of prior moneys received by a licensed home care services agency or evidence of moneys received by such agency for that month, the commissioner may estimate the amount due from such agency and may collect the deficiency pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(b) If an estimated payment made for the month to which an assessment applies is less than ninety percent of an amount the commissioner determines is due, based on evidence of prior period moneys received by a licensed home care services agency or evidence of moneys received by such agency for that month, and at least two previous estimated payments within the preceding six months were less than ninety percent of the amount due, based on similar evidence, the commissioner may estimate the amount due from such agency and may collect the deficiency pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(c) Upon receipt of notification from the commissioner of a licensed home care services agency's deficiency under this section, the comptroller or a fiscal intermediary designated by the director of the budget, or the commissioner of social services, or a corporation organized and operating in accordance with article forty-three of the insurance law or article forty-four of this chapter shall withhold from the amount of any payment to be made by the state or by such article forty-three corporation or article forty-four organization to the agency the amount of the deficiency determined under paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section. Upon withholding such amount, the comptroller or a designated fiscal intermediary, or the commissioner of social services, or corporation organized and operating in accordance with article forty-three of the insurance law or article forty-four of this chapter shall pay the commissioner, or his designee, such amount withheld on behalf of the licensed home care services agency.

(d) The commissioner shall provide a licensed home care services agency with notice of any estimate of an amount due for an assessment pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section at least three days prior to collection of such amount by the commissioner. Such notice shall contain the financial basis for the commissioner's estimate.

(e) In the event a licensed home care services agency objects to an estimate by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision or paragraph (e) of subdivision seven of this section of the amount due for an assessment, the agency, within sixty days of notice of an amount due, may request a public hearing. If a hearing is requested, the commissioner shall provide the licensed home care services agency with an opportunity to be heard and to present evidence bearing on the amount due for an assessment within thirty days after collection of an amount due or receipt of a request for a hearing, whichever is later. An administrative hearing is not a prerequisite to seeking judicial relief.

(f) The commissioner may direct that a hearing be held without any request by an agency.

7. (a) Every licensed home care services agency shall submit reports on a cash basis of actual gross receipts received from all patient care services and other operating income for each month as follows: for the quarter year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred ninety-two and for each quarter thereafter, the report shall be filed on or before the forty-fifth day after the end of such period.

(b) Every licensed home care services agency shall submit a certified annual report on a cash basis of gross receipts received in such calendar year from all patient care services and other operating income.

(c) The reports shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner to accurately disclose information required to implement this section.

(d) Final payments shall be due for all licensed home care services agencies for the assessments pursuant to subdivision two of this section upon the due date for submission of the applicable quarterly report.

(e) The commissioner may recoup deficiencies in final payments pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section.

8. (a) If an estimated payment made for a month to which assessment applies is less than ninety percent of the actual amount due for such month, interest shall be due and payable to the commissioner on the difference between the amount paid and the amount due from the day of the month the estimated payment was due until the date of the payment. The rate of interest shall be twelve percent per annum or at the rate of interest set by the commissioner of taxation and finance with respect to underpayment of tax pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of the tax law minus four percentage points. Interest under this paragraph shall not be paid if the amount thereof is less than one dollar. Interest, if not paid by the due date of the following month's estimated payment, may be collected by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section in the same manner as an assessment pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

(b) If an estimated payment for such month to which an assessment applies is less than seventy percent of the actual amount due for such month, a penalty shall be due and payable to the commissioner of five percent of the difference between the amount paid and the amount due for such month when the failure to pay is for a duration of not more than one month after the due date of the payment with an additional five percent for each additional month or fraction thereof during which such failure continues, not exceeding twenty-five percent in the aggregate. A penalty may be collected by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision six of this section in the same manner as an assessment pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

(c) Overpayment by a licensed home care services agency of an estimated payment shall be applied to any other payment due from the agency pursuant to this section, or, if no payment is due, at the election of the agency shall be applied to future estimated payments or refunded to the agency. Interest shall be paid on overpayments from the date of overpayment to the date of crediting or refund at the rate determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subdivision if the overpayment was made at the direction of the commissioner. Interest under this paragraph shall not be paid if the amount thereof is less than one dollar.

9. Funds accumulated, including income from invested funds, from the assessments specified in this section, including interest and penalties, shall be deposited by the commissioner and credited to the general fund.

10. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law or regulation to the contrary, the assessments pursuant to this section shall not be an allowable cost in the determination of reimbursement rates or fees pursuant to this chapter or the social services law.

11. The aggregate limit on the assessment for certified home health agencies, long term home health care programs, licensed home care services agencies and personal care services providers established pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision eleven of section thirty-six hundred fourteen-a of this article for the period of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight shall be deemed to reflect the amount of one million three hundred thousand dollars for the assessment pursuant to subdivision two of this section for such period. In the event, in accordance with subdivision thirteen of this section, the assessments pursuant to subdivision two of this section are not implemented, such aggregate limit shall be reduced by one million three hundred thousand dollars for the period of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight.

12. Each exclusion of sources of gross receipts received from the assessments effective on or after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two established pursuant to this section shall be contingent upon either: (a) qualification of the assessments for waiver pursuant to federal law and regulation; or (b) consistent with federal law and regulation, not requiring a waiver by the secretary of the department of health and human services related to such exclusion; in order for the assessments under this section to be qualified as a broad-based health care related tax for purposes of the revenues received by the state pursuant to the assessments not reducing the amount expended by the state as medical assistance for purposes of federal financial participation. The commissioner shall collect the assessments relying on such exclusions, pending any contrary action by the secretary of the department of health and human services. In the event that the secretary of the department of health and human services determines that the assessments do not so qualify based on any such exclusion, then the exclusion shall be deemed to have been null and void as of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two, and the commissioner shall collect any retroactive amount due as a result, without interest or penalty provided the licensed home care services agency pays the retroactive amount due within ninety days of notice from the commissioner to the agency that an exclusion is null and void. Interest and penalties shall be measured from the due date of ninety days following notice from the commissioner to the agency.

13. This section shall be of no force and effect upon either: (a) a waiver is granted pursuant to federal law and regulation; or (b) consistent with federal law and regulation, a waiver is not required by the secretary of the department of health and human services for the exclusion of the home care services agencies assessed pursuant to this section from such assessment; in order for the assessments pursuant to section thirty-six hundred fourteen-a of this article and section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law to be qualified as a broad-based health care related tax for purposes of the revenues received by the state pursuant to section thirty-six hundred fourteen-a of this article and section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law not reducing the amount expended by the state as medical assistance for purposes of federal financial participation. The commissioner shall not collect the assessments under this section, pending any contrary action by the secretary of the department of health and human services. In the event the secretary of the department of health and human services determines that the assessments pursuant to section thirty-six hundred fourteen-a of this chapter or section three hundred sixty-seven-i of the social services law do not so qualify based on the exclusion of licensed home care services agencies from assessments, then the exclusion shall be deemed to have been null and void as of April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two, and the commissioner shall collect any retroactive amount due as a result, without interest or penalty provided the licensed home care services agency pays the retroactive amount due within ninety days of notice from the commissioner to the agency that the exclusion is null and void. Interest and penalties shall be measured from the due date of ninety days following notice from the commissioner to the agency.

§ 3614-c. Home care worker wage parity. 1. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meaning:

(a) "Living wage law" means any law enacted by Nassau, Suffolk or Westchester county or a city with a population of one million or more which establishes a minimum wage for some or all employees who perform work on contracts with such county or city.

(b) "Total compensation" means all wages and other direct compensation paid to or provided on behalf of the employee including, but not limited to, wages, health, education or pension benefits, supplements in lieu of benefits and compensated time off, except that it does not include employer taxes or employer portion of payments for statutory benefits, including but not limited to FICA, disability insurance, unemployment insurance and workers' compensation.

The statement shall further inform the § 3616-a. Quality assurance. 1. Every certified home health agency, licensed home care services agency, long term home health care program and AIDS home care program is required to establish a quality assurance program which shall objectively and systematically monitor and evaluate the quality and appropriateness of care and services provided by the agency or program.

Provided, however, that such information shall be released to a law enforcement agency upon a court order based upon probable cause that such information: (a) is relevant to a criminal investigation or proceeding and (b) cannot be obtained through any other means. 4. There shall be no monetary liability on the part of, and no cause of action for damages shall arise against, any person, partnership, corporation, firm, society or other entity participating in good faith and with reasonable care in a quality assurance committee or communicating information in the possession of such person or entity, or on account of any recommendation or evaluation, regarding the qualifications, fitness, conduct or practices of any officer, director, employee or agent of such agency or program to any government agency, professional society, licensing or certification board as required by subdivision one of this section and by paragraphs (a) and (d) of subdivision five and subdivision six of section thirty-six hundred twelve of this chapter. § 3618. Continuation of existing home health agencies. Any home health agency which, on March thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-eight, possessed a valid certificate of approval issued under the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter shall be deemed a certified home health agency and such certificate of approval shall be deemed valid under the provisions of this article.

§ 3619. Exempt agencies. Only an agency licensed pursuant to section thirty-six hundred five or certified pursuant to section thirty-six hundred eight of this chapter or exempt from the licensure requirements of section thirty-six hundred five of this chapter because the agency provides personal care or home care services exclusively to individuals pursuant to a program administered, operated or regulated by another state agency shall hold itself out or call itself a home health services agency, a home health agency or a home care services agency.

§ 3620. Authorization to provide an AIDS home care program. 1. If the commissioner proposes to disapprove the application, he shall notify the applicant in writing, stating his reasons for disapproval, and afford the applicant an opportunity for a public hearing.

4. Authorization to provide an AIDS home care program may be revoked, suspended, limited or annulled by the commissioner on proof that a

5. (a) Such authorization shall not be revoked, suspended, limited or annulled without a hearing. However, such authorization may be temporarily suspended or limited without a hearing for a period not in excess of thirty days upon written notice to the provider of an AIDS home care program following a finding by the department that the public health or safety is in imminent danger.

(b) The commissioner shall fix a time and place for the hearing. A copy of the charges, together with the notice of the time and place of the hearing, shall be served in person or mailed by registered or certified mail to the provider of an AIDS home care program at least twenty-one days before the date fixed for the hearing. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision five of this section, the commissioner shall suspend, limit or revoke the authorization of a provider of an AIDS home care program after taking into consideration the public need for the program and the availability of other services which may serve as alternatives or substitutes, and after finding that suspending, limiting, or revoking the authorization of such provider would be within the public interest in order to conserve health resources by restricting the level of services to those which are actually needed.

(b) Whenever any finding as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision is under consideration with respect to any particular provider of an AIDS home care program, the commissioner shall cause to be published, in a newspaper of general circulation in the geographic area of such provider, at least thirty days prior to making such a

In no event shall the revocation, suspension or limitation take effect prior to the thirtieth day after the date of the notice, or prior to the effective date specified in the notice or prior to the date of the hearing decision, whichever is later.

(d) Except as otherwise provided by law, all appeals from a finding of the commissioner made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be directly to the appellate division of the supreme court in the third department. § 3622. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment shall have been rendered.

NEW YORK STATE CENTER FOR AGRICULTURAL MEDICINE AND HEALTH

Section 3900. Legislative findings and purposes.

3901. Definitions.

3902. New York state center for agricultural medicine and health.

3903. Purposes of the center.

3904. Contributions.

3905. Funds.

3906. Contract authority.

3907. Agricultural health and safety advisory board.

3908. Annual report.

§ 3900. Legislative findings and purposes. 1. The legislature hereby finds, determines, and declares that promotion of the continued health and safety of New York state's farming community continues to be an unmet need. It further finds that agriculture is ranked as the most dangerous occupation on a nationwide basis and that farmers and other agricultural workers are injured and killed at a rate four times greater than other workers in the country: in nineteen hundred eighty-five, forty-five deaths and over four thousand farm-related injuries were reported within New York state.

2. The provision of health and safety services unique to the agricultural sector has been seen by many physicians as relatively unattractive. As a consequence, the medical profession lacks specific knowledge of, and expertise in, treating farm illnesses. While some progress has been made to date in the area of farm health and safety, more work is needed to address such specific concerns as traumatic injury, hearing loss, and occupational cancer. Further efforts need to be made to provide educational programs to improve awareness of agricultural health concerns, and to enhance delivery of targeted agricultural health services in the state.

3. It is vital that the state of New York develop a capability to address the special health and safety needs of the state's farming community. In order to facilitate a focus on agricultural medicine and health, the legislature hereby determines that there is a need to create a New York state center for agricultural medicine and health to operate in conjunction with the Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital, Cooperstown, New York.

§ 3901. Definitions. For purposes of this article, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

1. "Center" shall mean the center for agricultural medicine and health to be established in conjunction with the Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital of Cooperstown, New York.

2. "Director" shall mean the director of the center for agricultural medicine and health.

3. "Board" shall mean the agricultural health and safety advisory board.

§ 3902. New York state center for agricultural medicine and health. There is hereby established a center for agricultural medicine and health to operate in conjunction with the Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital, Cooperstown, New York. Such center shall operate under the guidance of a director, who shall be appointed by the board of trustees of the Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital, Cooperstown, New York upon the advice and consent of the president of such hospital.

§ 3903. Purposes of the center. In order to more effectively serve the health and medical needs of the state's agricultural community, the center shall:

1. develop strategies for the provision of comprehensive occupational health services for New York farmers and agricultural workers, including but not limited to migrant workers;

2. research and develop information on the epidemiology of farm-related occupational illness;

3. compile resource material relating to agricultural medicine and preventive health care;

4. provide continuing agricultural health and medical education programs for physicians and other health care personnel and service providers practicing within the state;

5. provide education and other service programs to farmers and agricultural workers on agricultural health and safety issues; and

6. establish relations with existing health care and agricultural interest groups to ensure appropriate, targeted delivery of agricultural health and safety services and information.

§ 3904. Contributions. The center is authorized to receive any grant or contribution from any person, association, or public or private corporation.

§ 3905. Funds. The center is authorized to disburse funds to carry out its programs and activities.

§ 3906. Contract authority. The center is hereby authorized to enter into agreements or contracts with any public or private agency, corporation, or individual in order to carry out the provisions of this article. Funds made available by the center pursuant to this article shall be provided pursuant to the terms of such contracts.

§ 3907. Agricultural health and safety advisory board. 1. There is hereby created an advisory board to be known as the "agricultural health and safety advisory board", to be comprised of twelve members consisting of the following named persons or their designees: the commissioner of health; the commissioner of agriculture and markets; the dean of the school of public health sciences at the state university of New York at Albany; the dean of the college of agriculture and life sciences at Cornell university; and eight additional members, one of whom shall be appointed by the governor and shall be a representative of a county cooperative extension, one of whom shall be appointed by the governor and shall be a representative of rural New York, six of whom shall be representatives of general farm organizations, or individual farmers with annual gross sales of ten thousand dollars or more, or individuals involved in providing health and safety services in counties with fewer than two hundred thousand persons, or members of farm workers organizations, to be appointed as follows: two by the temporary president of the senate, two by the speaker of the assembly, one by the minority leader of the senate, and one by the minority leader of the assembly. § 4000. Legislative declaration. The legislature finds and declares that hospice is a socially and financially beneficial alternative to conventional curative care for those afflicted by terminal illness. It further finds that hospice is a unique, interdisciplinary program of palliative and supportive care to meet the stresses associated with illness, death and bereavement through the innovation and reorganization of home and traditional inpatient health services.

In recognition of the value of hospice and consistent with state policy to encourage the expansion of health care service options available to New York state residents, it is the intention of the legislature that hospice be available to all who seek such care and that it become a permanent component of the state's health care system.

§ 4002. Definitions. As used in this article, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:

1. "Hospice" means a coordinated program of home and in-patient care which treats the terminally ill patient and family as a unit, employing an interdisciplinary team acting under the direction of an autonomous hospice administration. The public health and health planning council shall act upon such application after the health systems agency has had a reasonable time to submit its recommendations. At the time members of the public health and health planning council are notified that an application is scheduled for consideration, the applicant and the health systems agency shall be so notified in writing. (b) Any change in the person, principal stockholder or partnership which is the operator of a hospice shall be approved by the public health and health planning council in accordance with the provisions of subdivisions one and two of this section.

4. (a) The public health and health planning council, by a majority vote of its members, shall adopt and amend rules and regulations, to effectuate the provisions and purposes of this section, and to provide for the revocation, limitation or annulment of approvals of establishment.

§ 4006. Hospice construction. 1. The construction of a hospice shall require the prior approval of the commissioner.

2. An application for such construction shall be filed with the department, together with such other forms and information as shall be prescribed by, or acceptable to, the department. Thereafter the department shall forward a copy of the application and accompanying documents to the public health and health planning council and the health systems agency, if any, having geographical jurisdiction of the area where the hospice is located.

3. The commissioner shall not act upon an application for construction unless (a) the applicant has obtained all approvals and consents required by law for its incorporation or establishment (including the approval of the public health and health planning council pursuant to the provisions of this article) and until the public health and health planning council and the health systems agency concerned have had a reasonable time to submit their recommendations, and (b) the commissioner is satisfied as to the public need for the construction, at the time and place and under the circumstances proposed.

4. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision three of this section, the commissioner in approving the construction shall take into consideration and be empowered to request information and advice as to (a) the availability of facilities or services which currently serve as alternatives or substitutes for the whole or any part of the proposed construction; (b) the need for program changes in view of existing utilization at the time and place and under the circumstances proposed; (c) the adequacy of financial resources and sources of future revenue; and (d) whether the hospice has been operated in substantial compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

5. In determining whether there is a public need for the proposed construction pursuant to subdivisions three and four of this section, the commissioner shall consider the advice of the state health planning and development agency designated pursuant to the provisions of the national health planning and resources development act of nineteen hundred seventy-four and any amendments thereto.

6. No governmental agency shall construct a hospice without securing the written approval of the commissioner in accordance with the applicable requirements and procedures of the preceding subdivisions.

The commissioner shall not take any action contrary to the advice of the health systems agency until he affords an opportunity to the agency to request a public hearing and, if so requested, a public hearing shall be held.

(c) All fees pursuant to this section shall be payable to the department of health for deposit into the special revenue fund - other, miscellaneous special revenue fund - 339, certificate of need account.

§ 4008. Certification of hospices. 1. The commissioner shall not issue a certificate of approval to any hospice unless it complies with the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, in accordance with the standards and procedures adopted by the state hospital review and planning council, and is qualified to participate as a hospice under title XVIII of the Federal Social Security Act, provided, however that the commissioner shall issue a certificate of approval to a hospice if he is satisfied that the hospice cannot qualify to participate as a hospice under title XVIII of the Federal Social Security Act solely because it proposes to provide nursing services by arrangement with a certified home health agency. No person, partnership or organization shall hold itself out as a hospice unless it shall possess a valid certificate of approval.

2. Any hospice demonstration program participant applying for a certificate of approval by the first day of June nineteen hundred eighty-four and meeting all applicable standards shall be issued a certificate of approval.

3. Subject to the provisions of this section and section four thousand ten of this article, contractual agreements between a hospice and other providers of other care and services shall not be prohibited, and a hospice may employ and enter into contracts with any licensed healthcare professional or any lawful combination thereof in relation to services provided by the hospice under this article, provided that the hospice maintains full responsibility for the planning, coordination and quality of such services and the adherence to the plan of care established for the patients.

4. A hospice certificate of approval may be revoked, suspended, limited or annulled by the commissioner on proof that the hospice has failed to comply with the provisions of this article or rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

5. No hospice certificate of approval shall be revoked, suspended, limited or annulled without a hearing. However, a certificate may be temporarily suspended or limited without a hearing for a period not in excess of thirty days upon written notice to the hospice following a finding by the department that the public health or safety is in imminent danger.

6. The commissioner shall fix a time and place for the hearing. A copy of the charges, together with the notice of the time and place of the hearing, shall be served in person or mailed by registered or certified mail to the hospice at least twenty-one days before the date fixed for the hearing. The hospice shall file with the department not less than eight days prior to the hearing, a written answer to the charges.

7. All orders or determinations hereunder shall be subject to review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. Application for such review must be made within sixty days after service in person or by registered or certified mail of a copy of the order or determination upon the applicant.

8. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions five through seven of this section, the commissioner shall suspend, limit or revoke a hospice certificate of approval after taking into consideration the public need for the hospice and the availability of other services which may serve as alternatives or substitutes, and after finding that suspending, limiting, or revoking the certificate of approval of the hospice would be within the public interest in order to conserve health resources by restricting the level of services to those which are actually needed.

(b) Whenever any finding as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision is under consideration with respect to any particular hospice, the commissioner shall cause to be published, in a newspaper of general circulation in the geographic area of the hospice, at least thirty days prior to making such a finding an announcement that such finding is under consideration and an address to which interested persons can write to make their views known. The commissioner shall take all public comments into consideration in making such a finding.

(c) The commissioner shall, upon making any finding described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision with respect to any hospice, cause such hospice and the appropriate health systems agency to be notified of the finding at least thirty days in advance of taking the proposed action to revoke, suspend or limit the hospice's certificate of approval. Upon receipt of any such notification and before the expiration of the thirty days or such longer period as may be specified in the notice, the hospice or the appropriate health systems agency may request a public hearing to be held in the county in which the hospice is located. In no event shall the revocation, suspension or limitation take effect prior to the thirtieth day after the date of the notice, or prior to the effective date specified in the notice or prior to the date of the hearing decision, whichever is later.

(d) Except as otherwise provided by law, all appeals from a finding of the commissioner made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be directly to the appellate division of the supreme court in the third department. Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, such appeals shall have preference over all issues in all courts.

§ 4010. Powers and duties of the commissioner and the state hospital review and planning council. 1. The commissioner shall have the power to conduct periodic inspections of hospices with respect to the fitness and adequacy of equipment, personnel, rules and bylaws, standards of service and medical care, system of accounts, records, and the adequacy of financial resources and sources of future revenues.

2. The commissioner shall seek from the federal government any waivers necessary to obtain medicare reimbursement for services provided by hospices which provide nursing services by arrangement with a certified home health agency. Subject to the approval of the director of the budget, the commissioner is authorized to seek any other federal waivers he deems necessary to improve the provision of hospice services.

3. Each hospice shall submit annually to the commissioner a complete description of its operation, including name, address, principal place of business, ownership, identification of the administrative personnel and members of the interdisciplinary team, the nature and extent of palliative and supportive care, the functions and activities performed by volunteers, a copy of all contracts and agreements entered into for the care and services it provides under arrangement, and such other information as the commissioner shall require. The commissioner shall set an annual date for submission of such information.

4. The state hospital review and planning council, by a majority vote of its members, shall adopt and amend rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the commissioner, to effectuate the provisions and purposes of this article with respect to hospices including, but not limited to, (a) the establishment of requirements for a uniform statewide system of reports and audits relating to the quality of services provided and their utilization and costs; (b) establishment by the department of schedules of rates, payments, reimbursements, grants and other charges; (c) standards and procedures relating to certificates of approval for hospices; (d) uniform standards for quality of care services to be provided by hospices; (e) requirements for minimum levels of staffing, taking into consideration the size of the hospice or the type of care and service provided, and the special needs of the persons served; (f) standards and procedures relating to contractual arrangements between hospices and other providers of care including the provision of nursing services by contract; (g) requirements for uniform review of the appropriate utilization of services; (h) requirements for minimum qualifications and standards of training for personnel as appropriate; (i) requirements to assure that certified hospices assume total responsibility for hospice patients, including direction and coordination of all care; and (j) requirements relating to fire safety in those portions of hospice residences in which hospice patients reside and receive care, which requirements shall establish standards identical to those set forth for small residential board and care facilities in chapter 21, section 21-2 of the 1985 National Fire Protection Association 101 Life Safety Code, as in effect on the effective date of this paragraph. The commissioner may propose rules and regulations and amendments thereto for consideration by the council.

§ 4011. Quality assurance. 1. Every hospice is required to establish a quality assurance program which shall objectively and systematically monitor and evaluate the quality and appropriateness of care and services provided by the hospice.

2. The information required to be collected and maintained by hospices pursuant to subdivision one of this section and as required by subdivision four of section four thousand ten of this article shall be kept confidential and shall not be released except to the department;

provided, however, that such information shall be released to a law enforcement agency upon a court order based upon probable cause that such information: (a) is relevant to a criminal investigation or proceeding and (b) cannot be obtained through any other means. Nothing in this section shall prohibit a hospice from voluntarily releasing what it reasonably believes to be evidence of criminality to a law enforcement agency.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, none of the records, documentation or committee actions or records required to be maintained by hospices pursuant to subdivision one of this section and as required by subdivision four of section four thousand ten of this article shall be subject to disclosure under article six of the public officers law or article thirty-one of the civil practice law and rules, except as hereinafter provided or as provided by any other provision of law. No person in attendance at a meeting of any such committee shall be required to testify as to what transpired thereat. The prohibitions of this subdivision shall not apply to statements made by any person in attendance at such a meeting who is a party, or employee or agent of a party to any action or proceeding the subject matter of which was reviewed at such meeting. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall prohibit disclosure of records, documentation or committee actions or records relating to employment history and recommendations from being transmitted to any hospice which is required by law or regulation to obtain such information.

4. There shall be no monetary liability on the part of, and no cause of action for damages shall arise against, any person, partnership, corporation, firm, society or other entity on account of participating in good faith and with reasonable care in a quality assurance committee or the communication of information in the possession of such person or entity, or on account of any recommendation or evaluation, regarding the qualifications, fitness, conduct or practices of any officer, director, employee, or agent of such hospice to any government agency, professional society, licensing or certification board as required by subdivision one of this section and subdivision four of section four thousand ten of this article. The foregoing shall not apply to information which is untrue and communicated with malicious intent.

2. Payments for hospice care made by government agencies shall be at rates approved by the state director of the budget.

3. Prior to the approval of hospice rates, the commissioner shall determine and certify to the state director of the budget that the proposed rate schedules for payments for hospice services are reasonable and adequate to meet the costs which must be incurred by efficiently and economically operated programs. In making such certification, the commissioner shall take into consideration the elements of cost, geographical differentials in the elements of cost considered, economic factors in the area in which the hospice is located, costs of hospice programs of comparable size, the need for incentives to improve services and institute economies, and applicable medicare reimbursement regulations.

4. Eligible individuals shall be permitted to receive hospice services from a provider under this article while continuing to reside in an adult care facility under title two of article seven of the social services law and enrolled in the assisted living program, subject to the availability of federal financial participation. The commissioner shall make regulations and take other actions reasonably necessary and appropriate to implement this subdivision.

5. The commissioner shall establish a methodology as of July first, two thousand eighteen subject to federal financial participation that shall ensure a prospective ten-percent increase in the medicaid reimbursement rates for hospice providers, relative to the reimbursement rate, as of March thirty-first, two thousand eighteen, for services provided by such providers on and after April first, two thousand eighteen.

§ 4012-a. Hospice supplemental financial assistance program for persons with special needs. 1. Notwithstanding any provision of law or regulation to the contrary, an additional amount may be added to a hospice's rate pursuant to the medical assistance program, subject to approval by the state director of the budget, for purposes of enabling such hospice to provide care and services to persons with special needs, after a determination that such care cannot be appropriately provided at the rates of payment established pursuant to federal criteria.

2. "Persons with special needs" as used herein shall include persons with acquired immune deficiency syndrome and other illnesses or conditions, which require a more costly or intensive level of care than typically provided, and persons receiving care in a hospice residence. Such other illnesses or conditions shall be specified in regulation by the state hospital review and planning council.

3. In order for a hospice to obtain additional medicaid payment as provided for in this section, the hospice shall submit cost information as required by the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of social services, which justifies additional medicaid expenditures, including a demonstration that adequate care to persons with special needs cannot be provided within the rates of payment established pursuant to federal criteria. In addition to demonstrating that the hospice is certified and in good standing with all applicable regulations and requirements, the hospice shall also demonstrate that it shall:

(a) utilize such additional payment to provide services to persons with special needs;

(b) shall undertake reasonable efforts to maintain financial support from public and community contributed funding sources;

(c) shall make every reasonable effort to collect payments for services from third party insurance payers, governmental payers and self-paying patients; and

(d) shall establish a reasonable relationship between costs and charges, or establish charges at approximate costs.

4. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of social services, is authorized to submit for approval and adoption by the state hospital review and planning council such regulations as necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section.

5. The commissioner shall establish a rate for persons receiving care in a hospice residence, and may by regulation specify additional standards necessary to ensure that the provisions of this section promote medical assistance recipients access to hospice residence care including; (a) that such recipients are otherwise unable to appropriately receive hospice care in their own home; and (b) the provision of supplemental financial assistance will promote the efficient delivery of appropriate, quality, cost-effective services.

§ 4012-b. Hospice palliative care. 1. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of this article to the contrary, a hospice may also offer a program of palliative care for patients with advanced life-limiting conditions and illnesses and their families. Such a program may be provided by a hospice issued a certificate of approval pursuant to section four thousand four of this article, acting alone or under contract with a certified home health agency, long term home health care program, licensed home care services agency or AIDS home care program, as such terms are defined in section thirty-six hundred two of this chapter. Nothing in this section shall preclude the provision of palliative care by any other health care provider otherwise authorized to provide such services.

2. For the purposes of this section "Palliative care" means the active, interdisciplinary care of patients with advanced, life-limiting illness, focusing on relief of distressing physical and psychosocial symptoms and meeting spiritual needs. Its goal is achievement of the best quality of life for patients and families.

§ 4013. Hospice worker recruitment and retention program. 1. The commissioner shall, subject to the provisions of subdivision two of this section, increase medical assistance rates of payment by up to three percent for hospice services provided on and after December first, two thousand two, for purposes of improving recruitment and retention of non-supervisory workers or workers with direct patient care responsibility.

2. Hospice services providers which have their rates adjusted pursuant to this section shall use such funds for the purposes of recruitment and retention of non-supervisory workers or workers with direct patient care responsibility only and are prohibited from using such funds for any other purposes. Funds provided pursuant to this section are not intended to supplant support provided by a local government. Each such provider shall submit, at a time and in a manner to be determined by the commissioner, a written certification attesting that such funds will be used solely for the purpose of recruitment and retention of non-supervisory workers or workers with direct patient care responsibility. The commissioner is authorized to audit each such provider to ensure compliance with the written certification required by this subdivision and shall recoup all funds determined to have been used for purposes other than recruitment and retention of non-supervisory workers or workers with direct patient care responsibility. Such recoupment shall be in addition to any other penalties provided by law.

§ 4013-b. Home care services worker registry. A hospice program providing hospice care in a patient's home shall comply with the home care services worker registry under section thirty-six hundred thirteen of this chapter.

§ 4014. Hospice residence pilot program. 1. The commissioner is hereby authorized to establish a hospice residence pilot program. Such program, subject to the rules and regulations of the commissioner, shall authorize the operation of not more than ten hospice residences operated for the purpose of providing more than two hospice patients but not more than sixteen hospice patients with hospice care. The locations of the hospice residence pilot program shall be geographically disbursed throughout the state and approved by the commissioner. To the extent that patients may access hospital or skilled nursing home care, the care plan for such patients shall provide for such care.

2. The commissioner shall require each hospice residence participating in the pilot program established pursuant to this section to submit a report, which shall include data analyzing the cost and efficiency of hospice care under such pilot program. On or before December thirty-first, two thousand seven, the commissioner shall submit a report to the governor, the temporary president of the senate and the speaker of the assembly analyzing the findings of the individual hospice residences that participated in the pilot program.

§ 4015. Pilot program for all-inclusive care for children. 1. The commissioner is hereby authorized to establish a pilot program for all-inclusive care for children. Such program, subject to the rules and regulations of the commissioner, shall consist of comprehensive hospice and palliative care services for children with life-limiting illnesses that addresses the medical, psychosocial and spiritual aspects of care and allows such children to be cared for at home rather than in an institutional setting. Such services shall be provided by a licensed, certified hospice working jointly with a certified home health agency, or a certified home health agency working jointly with a licensed, certified hospice to assure the provision of services which are an enhancement of either the certified home health agency or hospice alone, and shall include hospice services as well as related expressive therapies such as art, play or music therapy in addition to services of a child life specialist, and opportunities for respite care.

2. "A child with a life threatening illness" shall mean a child eligible for medical assistance under article five of the social services law, who under the age of eighteen is diagnosed with an illness that places the child at substantial risk of dying before the age of twenty-one where the child can, with appropriate services be cared for at an alternative to institutional care.

3. Qualified agencies providing services under this section to a child shall be reimbursed under medical assistance under article five of the social services law, at a per diem rate for each day the child is enrolled in a program. To ensure the alienability of needed services to these children, reimbursement shall be provided only to those agencies having satisfied conditions of the department including satisfactory training in pediatric palliative care.

4. Certified hospice programs shall be allowed to waive the admission criteria requiring certification of "a terminal illness with prognosis of six months or less" as well as the requirement for families to forgo curative treatment for children qualifying for this program receiving care from an approved site.

5. All home care and other medical assistance under article five of the social services law otherwise authorized for the child, shall continue without interruption. The pilot program for all-inclusive care for children is not intended to supersede any program already in place.

6. The locations of the providers under the pilot program for all-inclusive care shall be geographically disbursed throughout the state and approved by the commissioner.

7. The commissioner shall require each provider under the pilot program for all-inclusive care for children to submit an annual report, which shall include data analyzing the cost and efficiency of care provided under such program. On or before December thirty-first, two thousand eight, the commissioner shall submit a report to the governor, the temporary president of the senate and the speaker of the assembly analyzing the cost and efficiency of the pilot program.

such records in the possession of the original primary registration district or districts shall be transferred as directed by the commissioner.

§ 4121. Vital statistics; registrar; qualifications and appointment.

regulations of the public health council, or to make prompt and complete returns of births and deaths as required thereby, shall be removed forthwith by the commissioner or by the person or board authorized by law to appoint such registrar, deputy registrar or subregistrar. Such other penalties may be imposed upon him as are provided by this article.

4. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the laws of this state, each registrar, deputy registrar and subregistrar of vital statistics shall file his oath of office with the clerk or clerks of the county or counties in which his registration district is located.

§ 4124. Vital statistics; registrars and subregistrars; compensation and expenses. 1. Except as otherwise provided, each registrar shall be paid:

If a city clerk, town clerk or village clerk is appointed a registrar of vital statistics, as authorized by section forty-one hundred twenty-one of this article, all fees collected by such registrar in the discharge of his duties shall be the property of the city, town or village and shall be paid to the chief fiscal officer of such city, town or village, provided, however, that an amount equivalent to the sum of such fees shall be paid at least monthly by such chief fiscal officer to such city clerk, town clerk or village clerk entitled to receive fees as a registrar of vital statistics.

3. (a) In any city, town or village, the legislative body of the city, town board or board of trustees may provide that the registrar be paid a stipulated daily, monthly, or annual salary instead of the fees provided for by this article.

7. Remuneration and expenses of the registrars of districts which have been divided into two or more primary registration districts shall be paid by the municipality comprising the original district.

8. (a) Remuneration and expenses of registrars of combined districts shall be paid by the municipalities comprising such districts in proportion as each would be required to compensate a separate registrar for its own district, except that when such combined districts coincide with a consolidated health district the remuneration and expenses of the registrar shall be paid by the board of health of such consolidated health district as provided by section three hundred ninety-nine of this chapter.

(b) In any combined district, the governing boards of the municipalities comprising such district; or in a combined district coinciding with a consolidated health district, the board of health thereof; or in a district divided into two or more primary registration districts, the governing board of the municipality comprising the original district, may provide that the registrar or registrars therein be paid a stipulated daily, monthly or annual salary instead of fees provided for by this article.

(c) If a salary is paid as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, all fees collected by the registrar in the discharge of his duties shall be the property of the municipality or municipalities involved and the provisions herein requiring the payment of fees to the registrar or the certification by the commissioner shall not apply.

9. The commissioner shall certify annually to the municipality the number of births and deaths properly registered, with the name of the local registrar and the amount due him at the rate fixed herein.

(v) A signatory is a gamete donor under section 581-302 of the family court act;

(vi) The acknowledgment is signed by a person who asserts that they are a parent under section 581-303 of the family court act of a child conceived through assisted reproduction, but the child was not conceived through assisted reproduction.

(e) The acknowledgment shall be executed on a form provided by the commissioner developed in consultation with the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance, which shall: (i) include the social security number of the signatories; (ii) provide in plain language (A) a statement by the person who gave birth to the child consenting to the acknowledgment of parentage and a statement that the other signatory is the only possible other genetic parent or that the other signatory is an intended parent and the child was conceived through assisted reproduction, (B) a statement by the, alleged genetic parent, if any, that he or she is the genetic parent of the child, and (C) a statement that the signing of the acknowledgment of parentage by both parties shall have the same force and effect as an order of parentage or filiation entered after a court hearing by a court of competent jurisdiction, including an obligation to provide support for the child except that, only if filed with the registrar of the district in which the birth certificate has been filed, will the acknowledgment have such force and effect with respect to inheritance rights; and (iii) include the name and address, if known, of any gamete donors.

(f) Prior to the execution of an acknowledgment of parentage, the person who gave birth to the child and the other signatory shall be provided orally, which may be through the use of audio or video equipment, and in writing with such information as is required pursuant to this section with respect to their rights and the consequences of signing a voluntary acknowledgment of parentage including, but not limited to:

(i) that the signing of the acknowledgment of parentage shall establish the parentage of the child and shall have the same force and effect as an order of parentage or filiation issued by a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the duty of both parties to provide support for the child;

(ii) that if such an acknowledgment is not made, the signatory other than the person who gave birth to the child can be held liable for support only if the family court, after a hearing, makes an order declaring that the person is the parent of the child whereupon the court may make an order of support which may be retroactive to the birth of the child;

(iii) that if made a respondent in a proceeding to establish parentage the signatory other than the person who gave birth to the child has a right to free legal representation if indigent;

(iv) that an alleged genetic parent has a right to a genetic marker test or to a DNA test when available;

(v) that by executing the acknowledgment, the alleged genetic parent waives their right to a hearing, to which they would otherwise be entitled, on the issue of parentage;

(vi) that a copy of the acknowledgment of parentage shall be filed with the registry created by section three hundred seventy-two-c of the social services law, and that such filing may establish the child's right to inheritance from the alleged genetic parent or the other intended parent of a child conceived through assisted reproduction pursuant to clause (B) of subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of section 4-1.2 of the estates, powers and trusts law;

(vii) that, if such acknowledgment is filed with the registrar of the district in which the birth certificate has been filed, such acknowledgment will establish inheritance rights from the alleged genetic parent or the other intended parent of a child conceived through assisted reproduction pursuant to clause (A) of subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of section 4-1.2 of the estates, powers and trusts law;

(viii) that no further judicial or administrative proceedings are required to ratify an unchallenged acknowledgment of parentage provided, however, that:

(A) A signatory to an acknowledgment of parentage, who had attained the age of eighteen at the time of execution of the acknowledgment, shall have the right to rescind the acknowledgment within the earlier of sixty days from the date of signing the acknowledgment or the date of an administrative or a judicial proceeding (including, but not limited to, a proceeding to establish a support order) relating to the child in which the signatory is a party, provided that the "date of an administrative or a judicial proceeding" shall be the date by which the respondent is required to answer the petition;

(B) A signatory to an acknowledgment of parentage, who had not attained the age of eighteen at the time of execution of the acknowledgment, shall have the right to rescind the acknowledgment anytime up to sixty days after the signatory's attaining the age of eighteen years or sixty days after the date on which the respondent is required to answer a petition (including, but not limited to, a petition to establish a support order) relating to the child, whichever is earlier; provided, however, that the signatory must have been advised at such proceeding of his or her right to file a petition to vacate the acknowledgment within sixty days of the date of such proceeding;

(ix) that after the expiration of the time limits set forth in clauses (A) and (B) of subparagraph (viii) of this paragraph, any of the signatories may challenge the acknowledgment of parentage in court only on the basis of fraud, duress, or material mistake of fact, with the burden of proof on the party challenging the voluntary acknowledgment;

(x) that the person who gave birth to the child and the other signatory may wish to consult with attorneys before executing the acknowledgment; and that they have the right to seek legal representation and supportive services including counseling regarding such acknowledgment;

(xi) that the acknowledgment of parentage may be the basis for the signatory other than the person who gave birth to the child establishing custody and visitation rights to the child and for requiring the consent of the signatory other than the person who gave birth to the child prior to an adoption proceeding;

(xii) that the refusal of the person who gave birth to the child to sign the acknowledgment shall not be deemed a failure to cooperate in establishing parentage of the child; and (xiii) that the child may bear the last name of either parent, or any combination thereof, which name shall not affect the legal status of the child.

In addition, the governing body of such hospital shall ensure that appropriate staff shall provide to the person who gave birth to the child and the other signatory, prior to the discharge from the hospital of the person who gave birth to the child, the opportunity to speak with hospital staff to obtain clarifying information and answers to their questions about parentage establishment, and shall also provide the telephone number of the local support collection unit.

(g) Within ten days after receiving the certificate of birth, the registrar shall furnish without charge to each parent or guardian of the child or to the person who gave birth at the address designated by her for that purpose, a certified copy of the certificate of birth and, if applicable, a certified copy of the written acknowledgment of parentage. If the person who gave birth is in receipt of child support enforcement services pursuant to title six-A of article three of the social services law, the registrar also shall furnish without charge a certified copy of the certificate of birth and, if applicable, a certified copy of the written acknowledgment of parentage to the social services district of the county within which the person who gave birth resides.

2. (a) When a child's parentage is acknowledged voluntarily pursuant to section one hundred eleven-k of the social services law, the social services official shall file the executed acknowledgment with the registrar of the district in which the birth occurred and in which the birth certificate has been filed.

(b) Where a child's parentage has not been acknowledged voluntarily pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision one of this section or paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the person who gave birth to the child and the other signatory may voluntarily acknowledge a child's parentage pursuant to this paragraph by signing the acknowledgment of parentage.

(c) A signatory to an acknowledgment of parentage, who has attained the age of eighteen at the time of execution of the acknowledgment shall have the right to rescind the acknowledgment within the earlier of sixty days from the date of signing the acknowledgment or the date of an administrative or a judicial proceeding (including, but not limited to, a proceeding to establish a support order) relating to the child in which either signatory is a party; provided that for purposes of this section, the "date of an administrative or a judicial proceeding" shall be the date by which the respondent is required to answer the petition.

(d) A signatory to an acknowledgment of parentage, who has not attained the age of eighteen at the time of execution of the acknowledgment, shall have the right to rescind the acknowledgment anytime up to sixty days after the signatory's attaining the age of eighteen years or sixty days after the date on which the respondent is required to answer a petition (including, but not limited to, a petition to establish a support order) relating to the child in which the signatory is a party, whichever is earlier; provided, however, that the signatory must have been advised at such proceeding of his or her right to file a petition to vacate the acknowledgment within sixty days of the date of such proceeding.

(e) After the expiration of the time limits set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this subdivision, any of the signatories may challenge the acknowledgment of parentage in court only on the basis of fraud, duress, or material mistake of fact, with the burden of proof on the party challenging the voluntary acknowledgment. The acknowledgment shall have full force and effect once so signed. The original or a copy of the acknowledgment shall be filed with the registrar of the district in which the birth certificate has been filed.

3. (a) An acknowledgment of parentage executed by any two people eligible to sign such an acknowledgment under paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, married or unmarried, shall establish the parentage of a child and shall have the same force and effect as an order of parentage or filiation issued by a court of competent jurisdiction. Such acknowledgement shall thereafter be filed with the registrar pursuant to subdivision one or two of this section.

(b) A registrar with whom an acknowledgment of parentage has been filed pursuant to subdivision one or two of this section shall file the acknowledgment with the state department of health, the New York city department of health and mental hygiene and the registry operated by the department of social services pursuant to section three hundred seventy-two-c of the social services law. If the acknowledgment includes the name and address of any known gamete donors of a child conceived through assisted reproduction, the state department of health or the New York city department of health and mental hygiene shall mail a copy to the known donors listed on the form with the social security numbers of the signatories redacted.

4. The court shall give full faith and credit to an acknowledgment of parentage effective in another state if the acknowledgment was in a signed record and otherwise complies with the law of the other state.

5. A new certificate of birth shall be issued if the certificate of birth of the child as defined in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section four thousand one hundred thirty-five of this article has been filed without entry of the name of the signatory other than the person who gave birth, and the commissioner thereafter receives a notarized acknowledgment of parentage accompanied by the written consent of the person who gave birth to the child and other signatory to the entry of the name of such person, which consent may also be to a change in the surname of the child.

6. Any reference to an acknowledgment of paternity in any law of this state shall be interpreted to mean an acknowledgment of parentage signed pursuant to this section or signed in another state consistent with the law of that state.

§ 4136. Birth certificate; statement as to blood test. 1. In reporting every birth and fetal death, physicians and others permitted to attend pregnancy cases and required to report births and fetal deaths shall state on the birth certificate or fetal death certificate, as the case may be, whether a blood test for syphilis has been made during such pregnancy upon a specimen of blood taken from the woman who bore the child for which a birth or fetal death certificate is filed.

2. In addition to the information provided to be contained in each certificate of birth by this article every certificate of birth shall state whether such test was made during pregnancy or at delivery, and in the case where no blood test has been made such fact shall be reported together with the reason why such test has not been taken in compliance with the provisions of section two thousand three hundred eight of this chapter.

3. If such test has been made during pregnancy, those required to report births and fetal deaths shall state the date on which the test was made.

4. In no event shall the birth certificate state the result of the blood test.

§ 4137. Births; notice of recording. 1. (a) Within ten days after receiving the certificate of birth the registrar shall furnish without charge to the parents or guardian of the child or to the mother at the address designated by her for the purpose, a certified copy.

(b) The registrar shall, at the same time, furnish without charge to the parents or guardian of the child or to the mother at the address designated by her the immunization schedule for children. The registrar shall include the telephone number of the local county health department on the immunization schedule.

2. A certificate of registration of birth shall be accepted by public authorities in this state for the purposes indicated in section four thousand one hundred three of this chapter in the same manner as certified copies or certified transcripts of birth certificates.

3. The local registrar shall also make a notation on his copy of the original birth certificate indicating the date of issuance of such certified copy.

§ 4138. Birth certificate; new certificate in case of subsequent marriage of unwed parents; adoption; adjudication of parentage; change of name of registrant or parent; gender transition of registrant or parent. 1. A new certificate of birth shall be made whenever:

(a) proof is submitted to the commissioner that the previously unwed parents of a person have intermarried subsequent to the birth of such person; or,

(b) notification is received by, or proper proof is submitted to, the commissioner from or by the clerk of a court of competent jurisdiction or the parents, or their attorneys, or the person himself, of a judgment, order or decree relating to the parentage; or,

(c) notification is received by, or proper proof is submitted to, the commissioner from or by the clerk as aforesaid of a judgment, order or decree relating to the adoption of such person. Such judgment, order or decree shall also be sufficient authority to make a new birth certificate with conforming change in the name of such person on the birth certificate of any of such person's children under the age of eighteen years whose record of birth is on file in the state health department; or,

(d) proper proof is submitted to the commissioner by the parents, or their attorneys, or the person himself or his attorney, of a judgment, order or decree relating to a change of name granted by a court of competent jurisdiction. Such judgment, order or decree shall also be sufficient authority to make a new birth certificate with conforming change in surname for any of such person's children under the age of eighteen years whose record of birth is on file in the state health department; or,

(e) the certificate of birth of a child born out of wedlock as defined in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section four thousand one hundred thirty-five of this article has been filed without entry of the name of the signatory other than the person who gave birth and the commissioner thereafter receives the acknowledgment of parentage pursuant to section one hundred eleven-k of the social services law or section four thousand one hundred thirty-five-b of this article executed by the person who gave birth and the other signatory which authorizes the entry of the name of such other signatory, and which may also authorize a conforming change in the surname of the child; or

(f) any person born in New York state who submits an application to change the gender on the birth certificate and an affidavit attesting under penalty of perjury that the request for a change of gender to (female, male, or X) is to conform the person's documents and records to the person's gender identity and is not made for any fraudulent purpose. A sex designation of X shall not be a required sex designation of any individual. Upon receipt of the documentation, the commissioner shall establish a new birth certificate reflecting the gender stated in the application and any change in name, if accompanied by a court order for a change of name. If such application is made on behalf of a person younger than seventeen, such affidavit shall be signed by the person's parent, legal guardian, mental health or medical provider, or social services provider.

2. (a) On every new certificate of birth made pursuant to this section, a notation that it is filed pursuant to section four thousand one hundred thirty-eight of the public health law shall be entered thereon. Notwithstanding other provisions of this article, when a child is adopted by an unmarried man or woman, the new certificate shall, if the adopting parent so requests, reflect the fact that it is a single parent adoption.

(b) Notwithstanding other provisions of this article, when a petition for adoption by two persons has been duly filed, and one of the petitioners dies before the adoption is complete, such deceased petitioner's name shall be included on the new certificate as a parent, if such adoption is completed, unless otherwise requested by the other petitioner.

(c) If the original certificate of birth contains fictitious names of either or both parents, a new certificate shall not be prepared until notification is received by, or proper proof is submitted to, the commissioner by the clerk of a court of competent jurisdiction or the parents or their attorney, or the person himself, or his attorney, of a judgment, order or decree relating to parentage.

3. (a) When a new certificate of birth is made the commissioner shall substitute such new certificate for the certificate of birth then on file, if any, and shall send the registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a copy of the new certificate of birth. The registrar shall make a copy of the new certificate for the local record and hold the contents of the original local record confidential along with all papers and copies pertaining thereto. It shall not be released or otherwise divulged except by order of a court of competent jurisdiction or pursuant to section four thousand one hundred thirty-eight-e of this title.

(b) Thereafter, when a verified transcript or certification of birth of such person is issued by the registrar, it shall be based upon the new certificate, except when an order of a court of competent jurisdiction shall require the issuance of a verified transcript or certification based upon the original local record of birth or application is made pursuant to section four thousand one hundred thirty-eight-e of this title.

4. The commissioner may make a microfilm or other suitable copy of the original certificate of birth and all papers pertaining to the new certificate of birth. In such event, the original certificate and papers may be destroyed. All undestroyed certificates and papers and copies thereof shall be confidential and the contents thereof shall not be released or otherwise divulged except by order of a court of competent jurisdiction or pursuant to section forty-one hundred thirty-eight-c, forty-one hundred thirty-eight-d or forty-one hundred thirty-eight-e of this title.

5. Thereafter, when a certified copy or certified transcript of the certificate of birth of such a person, or a certification of birth for such person is issued, it shall be based upon the new certificate of birth, except when an order of a court of competent jurisdiction shall require the issuance of a copy of the original certificate of birth or application is made pursuant to section four thousand one hundred thirty-eight-e of this title.

6. When the commissioner shall receive proper proof or notification pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of subdivision one of this section relating to a person born outside this state, such proof or notification shall be forwarded to the appropriate registration authority for the place of birth.

7. Whenever the commissioner makes a new birth certificate for any person pursuant to the provisions of subdivision one of this section, he shall forward to such person, if eighteen years of age or more, or to the parents of such person, a certified copy, a certified transcript or a certification of birth, whichever he deems appropriate under the circumstances, without making any charge therefor.

8. An adopted person eighteen years of age or older, or the birth parent or parents, may submit to the registrar a notice of change of name and/or address and such information shall be attached to the original birth certificate of the adopted person.

§ 4138-a. Certificate of birth data. Any existing certificate of birth data shall continue to be effective.

§ 4138-b. Birth certificate: foreign adoption. 1. Whenever the finalization of a foreign adoption or recognition of a foreign adoption of a person of any age pursuant to section one hundred eleven-c of the domestic relations law, or the adoption of a foreign-born person of any age at the time of adoption has been reported to the commissioner, the commissioner shall file a birth certificate for the adopted person provided there is no other birth certificate or other birth record on file other than in the country where such person was born and provided, further, that a certificate of birth data does not exist for that person. Such birth certificate shall be filed upon receipt of: proof that the adoptive parent was a resident of this state at the time of adoption or that the adoptee was lawfully adopted within the State of New York; if the adoptee was adopted in a foreign country or jurisdiction, a copy of the adoption documents of the jurisdiction or country in which the person was adopted; a certified translation of the foreign adoption documents, evidence of the date and place of the adopted person's birth; and evidence of IR-3, IR-4 or IH-3 immigrant visa status or a successor immigrant visa status. The birth certificate shall include the adopted person's name, sex, date of birth, time of birth, place of birth, mother's maiden name, and father's name. A birth certificate issued pursuant to this section which has been filed by a local registrar and all supporting documentation shall be submitted by the local registrar to the commissioner who shall file a new birth certificate pursuant to this section.

2. A petitioner may submit an attorney certified copy of the adoptee's foreign birth certificate, or similar confirmation of birth, and adoption decree, and copies of attorney certified translations of the foreign documentation in connection with the finalization of a foreign adoption or recognition of a foreign adoption pursuant to section one hundred eleven-c of the domestic relations law.

3. This provision shall be deemed retroactive so that an adopted person who was adopted in accordance with this section prior to the effective date hereof may obtain, upon application, a birth certificate pursuant to this section.

§ 4138-c. Adoption information registry. 1. There shall be established in the department an adoption information registry operated by employees of the department specifically designated by the commissioner. Access to all records and information in the registry shall be limited to such designated employees and such records and information shall be kept strictly confidential except as specifically authorized by law. The commissioner shall establish rules and procedures designed to keep such records and information separate and apart from other records of the department and kept in a manner where access to such records and information is strictly limited to such designated employees and shall promulgate regulations designed to effectuate the purposes of this section. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the domestic relations law or any other law to the contrary, the commissioner shall have access to the information authorized to be released pursuant to this section contained in birth and adoption records of any agency, court or department having appropriate records which will enable the commissioner to effectuate the purposes of this section and may require the cooperation of such agency, court or department in providing the information authorized to be released pursuant to this section, provided, however, that the commissioner shall not have access to the actual adoption records of any agency, court or department maintaining such records.

1-a. For the purposes of this section, "adoptee" shall include: those persons born in this state, and those persons born in any other state within the United States or in the District of Columbia whose adoption occurred within this state.

2. Upon application for registration by an adoptee not born in this state, or by a birth parent or biological sibling of such an adoptee, the department shall, to the extent practicable, determine whether the adoptee's adoption occurred within this state. If the department determines that the adoption occurred within this state, it shall register the applicant if he or she is otherwise qualified and make appropriate notifications pursuant to subdivision four of this section. The registry shall accept, at any time, and maintain the verified registration transmitted by an agency pursuant to section forty-one hundred thirty-eight-d of this title, or of the birth parents of an adoptee who was born in this state. The registry shall neither accept nor maintain the registration of an adoptee sooner than eighteen years after the adoptee's birth, or in the case of registration by a biological sibling of an adoptee, no sooner than the longer of eighteen years after the biological sibling's birth or eighteen years after the adoptee's birth. Any person whose registration was accepted may withdraw such registration prior to the release of any identifying information. The adoptee registrant, and the biological sibling registrant, shall include as part of the registration the identification, including the name and address, of known biological siblings of the adoptee. The adoptee may upon registration, or any time thereafter, elect not to have release of information by the authorized agency involved in such adoption. The department shall establish an authorized agency fee schedule for search costs and registry costs and services provided by such agency in gathering and forwarding information pursuant to this section. The fee schedule may also include costs for disseminating information about the registry and the adoption medical information sub-registry to the public. Such publications or brochures may include information as to identifying and non-identifying information, how to register and fees charged to the registrants, and any other information deemed appropriate.

3. For the purposes of this section, the term "non-identifying information" shall only include the following information, if known, concerning the adoptee, parents and biological siblings of an adoptee:

- (a) Age of the parents in years, at birth of such adoptee.
- (b) Heritage of the parents, which shall include nationality, ethnic background and race.
- (c) Education, which shall be the number of years of school completed by the parents at the time of birth of such adoptee.
- (d) General physical appearance of the parents at the time of the birth of such adoptee, which shall include height, weight, color of hair, eyes, skin and other information of similar nature.
- (e) Religion of parents.
- (f) Occupation of parents.
- (g) Health history of parents.
- (h) Talents, hobbies and special interests of parents.
- (i) Facts and circumstances relating to the nature and cause of the adoption.
- (j) Name of the authorized agency involved in such adoption.
- (k) The existence of any known biological siblings.
- (l) The number, sex and age, at the time of the adoptee's adoption, of any known biological siblings.

4. Upon acceptance of a registration of an adoptee born in this state, or by a birth parent or biological sibling of such adoptee, pursuant to this section, the department shall search the records of the department to determine whether the adoptee's adoption occurred within this state. After making a determination, to the extent practicable, as to whether an adoptee's adoption occurred within this state pursuant to subdivision two of this section, or upon completing a search of the records pursuant to this subdivision:

(a) If the department determines that the adoption occurred within this state, it shall notify the court wherein the adoption occurred to submit to the department non-identifying information as may be contained in the records of the court and the names of the birth parents of the adoptee. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the court shall thereupon transmit to the department non-identifying information as may be contained in the records of the court, and the names of the birth parents of the adoptee, provided that, if the court determines from its records that the adoption was from an authorized agency, the court shall submit to the department only the name and address of such authorized agency and the names of the birth parents of the adoptee. In such cases, unless the adoptee registrant shall have elected otherwise, the department shall notify the authorized agency whose name was provided by the court to release promptly to the adoptee all non-identifying information as may be contained in the agency records. Such agency shall thereafter promptly release the non-identifying information to the adoptee registrant. If the adoptee registrant shall have elected not to have the information released to him or her by the authorized agency, the agency shall submit promptly to the department all non-identifying information as may be contained in the agency records. In any case where the agency records are incomplete, no longer exist or are otherwise unavailable, the department shall so notify the court. The court shall thereupon promptly submit such non-identifying information as may be contained in their records. If no authorized agency was involved or if the adoptee registrant shall have elected not to have release of information by the authorized agency involved in such adoption, the department shall release the non-identifying information to the adoptee registrant. The department and/or an authorized agency may restrict the nature of the non-identifying information released pursuant to this section upon a reasonable determination that disclosure of such non-identifying information would not be in the adoptee's, biological sibling's, or parent's best interest.

(b) If the department determines that the adoption did not occur within the state, it shall notify the adoptee registrant that no record exists of the adoption occurring within the state.

5. Upon acceptance of a registration pursuant to this section, the department shall search the registry to determine whether the adoptee, any biological sibling of the adoptee, or birth parents of the adoptee is also registered.

(a) If the department determines the adoptee is not in contact with a biological sibling under the age of eighteen and that there is a corresponding registration for the adoptee, for either of the birth parents, and/or for the biological sibling registrant, it shall notify the court wherein the adoption occurred and the department shall notify all such persons that a corresponding match has been made and request such persons' final consent to the release of identifying information.

(b) If the department determines that there is no corresponding registration for the adoptee, for either of the birth parents, and/or for a biological sibling of the adoptee, it shall notify the registering person that no corresponding match has been made. The department shall not solicit or request the consent of the non-registered person or persons.

6. Upon receipt of a final consent by the adoptee, by either of the birth parents, and/or by a biological sibling of the adoptee, the department shall, unless the adoptee or biological sibling registrant shall elect otherwise, if an authorized agency was involved in such adoption, release identifying information to such agency; such agency shall thereafter promptly release identifying information about the consenting registrants to the consenting registrants. If no authorized agency was involved, or if any registrant shall have elected not to have release of the information by the authorized agency involved in such adoption the department shall release identifying information to the consenting registrants. Such identifying information shall be limited to the names and addresses of the consenting registrants and shall not include any other information contained in the adoption or birth records. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the release of adoption records as otherwise permitted by law.

6-a. (a) There shall be established in the registry an adoption medical information sub-registry. Access to all identifying records and information in the sub-registry shall be subject to the same restrictions as the adoption information registry.

(b) The department shall establish procedures by which a birth parent may provide medical information to the sub-registry, and by which an adoptee aged eighteen years or older or the adoptive parents of an adoptee who has not attained the age of eighteen years may access such medical information.

(c) A birth parent may provide the adoption medical information sub-registry with certified medical information. Such certified medical information must include other information sufficient to locate the adoptee's birth record.

(d) Upon receipt from the birth parent of certified medical information and other information needed to identify the adopted person, the department shall, to the extent practicable, determine if the adoptee was adopted in New York state. If the adoptee was adopted in New York state, the department shall register such information and determine if the adoptee or adoptive parent of the adoptee is registered. Upon such determination, the department shall release the non-identifying medical information only to an adoptee, aged eighteen years or older, or adoptive parent of an adoptee who has not attained the age of eighteen years.

(e) Upon receipt from an adoptee aged eighteen years or older or the parent of an adoptee of a registration, the department shall, to the extent practicable, determine if the adoptee was adopted in New York state. If the adoptee was adopted in New York state, the department shall search its records for medical information provided by the adoptee's birth parent. If such medical information is found, the department shall release the non-identifying medical information only, to an adoptee, aged eighteen years or older, or adoptive parent of an adoptee who has not attained the age of eighteen years.

(f) The department shall not solicit or request the provision of medical information from a birth parent or the registration by an adoptee or parent of an adoptee.

(g) A fee shall not be required from a birth parent for providing health information.

7. (a) Any employee of the department or any employee of an authorized agency who solicits or causes another to solicit a registration for the purposes of this section, except as otherwise permitted by law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, provided, however, that solicitation shall not include disclosure of the adoption information registry.

(b) Any person who unlawfully discloses any information in the adoption information registry shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision, any employee of the department who unlawfully discloses any information in the adoption information registry shall be subject to dismissal for such violation.

8. For purposes of this section: "authorized agency" or "agency" means an authorized agency as defined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision ten of section three hundred seventy-one of the social services law.

10. The commissioner is directed to develop an adoption information registry birth parent registration consent form to be completed at the time of surrender or consent to adoption. Such form shall include check-off boxes to be appropriately marked by the biological parent or parents whose consent is necessary for the relinquishment of such child indicating whether or not such parent consents to the receipt of identifying information by the child to be adopted. A copy of such form shall be sent to the department with copies of the original and amended birth certificates. Such form shall state that it is the responsibility of the birth parent to update the registry with any changes in contact information. The form shall additionally advise the biological parents of the adoption medical information sub-registry and the procedures by which a birth parent may provide medical information to the sub-registry. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner is directed to develop any rules and regulations necessary to expedite the transfer of information from any agency, court or department necessary to implement this subdivision.

11. Upon receipt of the adoption information registry birth parent registration consent form required by section two hundred fifty-four of the judiciary law, the commissioner of health of the city of New York shall forward a copy of such consent form, copies of the original birth certificate, the amended birth certificate and a copy of the notification of adoption to the adoption information registry maintained in accordance with this section.

§ 4138-d. Mutual consent voluntary adoption registry. 1. A mutual consent voluntary adoption registry may be established and maintained by each authorized agency involved in an adoption. Persons eligible to receive identifying information may work through the agency involved in the adoption. If that agency has merged or ceased operations, a successor agency which has the files pertaining to adoptions in which the ceased or merged agency was involved may establish and maintain a mutual consent voluntary adoption registry concerning those adoptions. Any authorized agency which establishes and maintains a mutual consent voluntary adoption registry pursuant to this section shall notify the department of the name and address of such agency, together with such other information the department may require.

2. The agency shall accept, at any time, and maintain the verified registration of the birth parents of an adoptee. The agency shall accept and maintain the verified registration of an adoptee or of the biological sibling of an adoptee if such adoptee was born in this state, or was born in any other state within the United States, or in the District of Columbia, and his or her adoption occurred within this state, no sooner than eighteen years after the adoptee's birth or in the case of a biological sibling registrant, no sooner than the longer of eighteen years after the birth of the adoptee or eighteen years after the birth of the biological sibling; provided however, that any person whose registration was accepted may withdraw such registration prior to the release of any identifying information.

3. Upon acceptance of a registration pursuant to this section, the agency shall search the records of the agency to determine whether the agency was involved in such adoption.

(a) If the agency determines that the agency was not involved in such adoption, it shall notify the registrant that no record exists of the adoption and refer the registrant to the department's adoption information registry operated pursuant to section forty-one hundred thirty-eight-c of this title.

(b) If the agency determines that the agency was involved in such adoption, it shall transmit the registration to the adoption information registry operated by the department and the agency shall release the non-identifying information, as defined in section forty-one hundred thirty-eight-c of this title, to the adopted person.

4. Upon acceptance of a registration pursuant to this section, the department shall search the records of the department to determine whether the adoptee's adoption occurred within the state. The department shall establish an authorized agency fee schedule for search costs and registry costs of an authorized agency.

(a) If the department determines that there is a corresponding registration for the adoptee, for either of the birth parents and/or for a biological sibling of the adoptee, it shall notify the court wherein the adoption occurred and the department shall notify the agency that a corresponding match has been made. The agency shall notify all such registrants that a corresponding match has been made and request such persons' final consent to the release of identifying information.

(b) If the department determines that there is no corresponding registration for the adoptee, for either of the birth parents and/or for a biological sibling of the adoptee, it shall notify the agency which shall notify the registering person that no corresponding match has been made. The agency shall not solicit or request the consent of the non-registered person or persons.

5. Upon receipt of a final consent by the adoptee, by either of the birth parents and/or by a biological sibling of the adoptee, the agency shall release identifying information about the consenting registrants to the consenting registrants. Such identifying information shall be limited to the names and addresses of the consenting registrants and shall not include any other information contained in the adoption or birth records. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the release of adoption records as otherwise permitted by law.

6. (a) Any employee of the agency who solicits or causes another to solicit a registration for the purposes of this section, except as otherwise permitted by law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, provided, however, that solicitation shall not include disclosure of the existence of the adoption information registry.

(b) Any person who unlawfully discloses any information in the mutual consent voluntary adoption registry shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision, any employee of the department who unlawfully discloses any information in the mutual consent voluntary adoption registry shall be subject to dismissal for such violation.

7. Upon receipt of identifying information from the department pursuant to section four thousand one hundred thirty-eight-c of this article, the agency shall promptly release identifying information to all the registrants. Such identifying information shall be limited to the names and addresses of the registrants and shall not include any other information contained in the adoption or birth records or other records maintained by the agency. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the release of adoption records as otherwise permitted by law.

8. For purposes of this section: "authorized agency" or "agency" means an authorized agency as defined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision ten of section three hundred seventy-one of the social services law.

§ 4138-e. Adoptee's right to a certified copy of his or her birth certificate. 1. The legislature hereby states its intention to acknowledge, support and encourage the life-long health and well-being needs of persons who have been and will be adopted in this state. The legislature further recognizes that the denial of access to accurate and complete medical and self-identifying data of any adopted person, known and wilfully withheld by others, may result in such person succumbing to preventable disease, premature death or otherwise unhealthy life, is a violation of that person's human rights and is contrary to the tenets of government. As such, the provisions of this section seek to establish considerations under the law for adopted persons equal to such considerations permitted by law to all non-adopted persons; this section does so while providing for the privacy of an adopted person and his or her birth.

2. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commissioner or a local registrar or any person authorized by the commissioner or a local registrar, upon application, proof of identity and payment of a nominal fee, shall issue certified copies of original long form line by line, vault copy birth certificates, including any change attached to that certificate by a birth parent or parents, and any information provided to the commissioner or a local registrar pursuant to subdivision one of section one hundred fourteen of the domestic relations law, to (i) an adopted person, if eighteen years of age or more, or (ii) if the adopted person is deceased, the adopted person's direct line descendants, or (iii) the lawful representatives of such adopted person, or lawful representatives of such deceased adopted person's direct line descendants, as the case may be.

(b) When it shall be impossible for the commissioner or a local registrar to provide a copy of an adult adopted person's original long form birth certificate (as may occur in the case of an adopted person born outside of, but adopted within, the state and such certificate is not part of the records of the commissioner or a local registrar), the true and correct information about the adopted person and the adopted person's birth parents, including their identifying information, that would have appeared on such original birth certificate shall be provided to: (i) the adopted person, if eighteen years of age or more, or (ii) if the adopted person is deceased, the adopted person's direct line descendants, or (iii) the lawful representatives of such adopted person, or lawful representatives of such deceased adopted person's direct line descendants, as the case may be by any authorized agency as defined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision ten of section three hundred seventy-one of the social services law. In such case, the agency shall be held harmless from any liability arising out of the disclosure.

(c) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "commissioner" shall include the state commissioner of health, the commissioner of health and mental hygiene of the city of New York and for records of birth prior to January first, nineteen hundred fourteen, the local registrars of the cities of Albany, Buffalo and Yonkers.

FILING OF CERTIFICATES OF DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE

Section 4139. Certificates of dissolution of marriages to be filed with the department; duties of county clerks in connection therewith.

§ 4139. Certificates of dissolution of marriages to be filed with the department; duties of county clerks in connection therewith. 1. No interlocutory decree, judgment or order of divorce, annulment, or other dissolution of marriage shall hereafter be filed or entered in the office of any county clerk of this state, unless there is submitted therewith, a certificate of dissolution of marriage on a form prescribed, printed and furnished by the commissioner. Such form may contain a confidential section for statistical and research purposes. Such section shall not be subject to subpoena or to inspection by persons other than the commissioner or authorized personnel of the department. The commissioner may, however, pursuant to appropriate rules assuring that the identity of individuals will not be revealed, approve the inspection and use of such confidential sections for scientific purposes.

2. Such certificate shall contain the names and addresses of the attorneys for the parties thereto, the names, social security numbers and addresses of the parties to the action, and such other information as prescribed by the commissioner, including but not limited to such information as may be requested by the federal agency in charge of vital statistics.

3. At such times as the commissioner shall direct, the county clerk of each county shall transmit to the department the certificates of dissolution of marriage so filed in his office for each case where the decree became final during the previous months. Such certificates of dissolution of marriage shall be kept on file and properly indexed by the department.

4. A certified copy or certified transcript of such certificate may be furnished to either party to the action by the commissioner. A certified copy or certified transcript of such certificate may be furnished by the commissioner to one other than a party to the action, only upon order of a judge of a court of record, or a judge of a family court, granted upon application of such other person, with or without notice, upon showing a proper or judicial necessity therefor, which order and the papers accompanying same shall be filed by the commissioner and given the indexed number of the certificate of dissolution to which it relates. The commissioner shall be deemed to have complied with the applicable provisions of this subdivision by the issuance of a certified transcript of the desired certificate instead of a certified copy thereof except where the requester shall show, to the satisfaction of the commissioner or his designated representative, a demonstrated need for such certified copy, or where a court order rendered pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision contains an express recital or direction therein that the issuance of a certified transcript of such certificate instead of a certified copy thereof shall not be considered to be in compliance therewith.

5. Whenever in his opinion, information as to the dissolution of a marriage is required for a legal or other proper purpose, the commissioner may make a search of the files and, if the record of dissolution of marriage is found, he may furnish to the applicant, in the form of a certification, the names of the parties to the dissolved marriage, the name of the county and county seat of such county in which the decree dissolving the marriage was granted, and the date the decree was entered.

6. The commissioner shall be entitled to a fee of thirty dollars for each certification, certified copy or certified transcript of certificate of dissolution of marriage furnished.

7. For a search of the files where no such certification, certified copy, or certified transcript is furnished, or for a certification that a search discloses no record of a dissolution of marriage, the commissioner shall be entitled to a fee of thirty dollars.

8. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the federal agency in charge of vital statistics may obtain from the department at a fee acceptable to the commissioner, information from certificates of dissolution of marriage for use solely as statistical data without the order of a justice of the supreme court. For other official purposes, subject to the provisions of subdivision four of this section, certifications, certified copies, or certified transcripts of certificates of dissolution of marriage may be furnished, at a fee acceptable to the commissioner upon specific request therefor by a department of the state of New York or of the government of the United States.

§ 4143. Deaths without medical attendance; registration. 1. In case of any death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the funeral director, undertaker or any other person to whose knowledge the death may come, to give notice of such death to the coroner of the county, or if there be more than one, to a coroner having jurisdiction, or to the medical examiner.

2. When notified of any death occurring without medical attendance, the coroner or medical examiner shall immediately investigate as provided by law and shall certify as provided in subdivision three. Provided, however, no coroner or medical examiner shall have the authority to investigate a pregnancy loss as provided in section forty-one hundred sixty-one of this article.

Provided, however, the medical director shall not have the authority to investigate a pregnancy loss as provided in section forty-one hundred sixty-one of this article.

§ 4144. Deaths; burial and removal permits; transportation of remains.

1. The body of any person whose death occurs in this state, or which shall be found dead herein shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated or otherwise disposed of, or removed from this state, or be temporarily held pending further disposition more than seventy-two hours after death, unless a permit for burial, removal, or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the registrar of vital statistics of the registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found; provided, however, that a licensed funeral director may apply for and receive such permit on behalf of any person or institution authorized by article forty-two or forty-three of this chapter to receive unclaimed cadavers or anatomical gifts.

2. (a) No burial or removal permit shall be issued by any registrar until, wherever practicable, a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as provided in this article.

(b) The funeral director or undertaker who shall make any removal before a permit is issued by the registrar, shall return the body to the registration district where death occurred, whenever the coroner, medical examiner, or district attorney shall request such return of the body for investigation or post-mortem examination.

(c) Except as specifically provided in this section, the existing general duties of, and remuneration received by, local registrars in accepting and filing certificates of death and issuing burial and removal permits pursuant to any statute or regulation shall be maintained, and not altered or abridged in any way by this section.

3. No registrar of vital statistics shall receive any fee for the issuance of burial or removal permits under this chapter except as referenced by section forty-one hundred forty-eight of this title and other than the compensation provided in this article.

If the interment, or other disposition of the body of a deceased person is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial or removal permit may be limited to a statement by the registrar, and over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death, having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove or otherwise dispose of the body, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details in a manner and format as may be required by the commissioner.

6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the commissioner shall have power to promulgate rules with reference to the removal of bodies of persons whose deaths occur on trains, boats or other carriers engaged in the transportation of persons within this state, and with reference to the removal of bodies as provided herein.

§ 4145. Deaths; burial and removal permits; disposition of remains.

1. No person in charge of any premises on which interments, cremations, natural organic reductions or other disposition of the body of a deceased person are made shall inter or permit the interment or other disposition of any body unless it is accompanied by a burial, cremation, natural organic reduction or transit permit, as provided in this article.

2. (a) The funeral director or undertaker shall deliver the burial permit to the person in charge of the place of burial or other disposition before interring or otherwise disposing of the body or shall attach the removal or transit permit to the box containing the body, when shipped by any transportation company, which permit shall accompany the remains to its destination, where, if within this state, it shall be delivered to the person in charge of the place of burial or other disposition.

(b) Any person or other entity owning, operating, managing, or designated to receive the body of a deceased person at a place of burial, cremation, natural organic reduction, or other final disposition in this state, who receives the body of a deceased person, shall provide a receipt for the body to the funeral director, undertaker or registered resident who delivered such body. Each receipt shall (i) be endorsed by both such person and the funeral director, undertaker or registered resident, (ii) indicate the date the body was delivered, (iii) include the name of the funeral director, undertaker or registered resident delivering the body and the registration number of such funeral director, undertaker or registered resident, (iv) include the name of the registered funeral firm the funeral director, undertaker or registered resident represents, (v) include the name of the deceased person as it appears on the burial, cremation, natural organic reduction, or transit permit, and (vi) include the name of the owner, operator, manager, or person in charge of the place of burial, cremation, natural organic reduction, or other final disposition who received the body of the deceased person. A copy of such receipt shall be retained by the owner, operator, manager, or person in charge of the place of burial, cremation, natural organic reduction, or other final disposition for a period of not less than four years, and shall be made available for inspection by the division of cemeteries during normal business hours. The original copy of every such receipt shall be retained by the licensed funeral firm for a period of not less than four years pursuant to the rules and regulations of the department governing the maintenance of records.

3. The person in charge of the place of burial or other disposition shall endorse upon the permit, the date of interment, natural organic reduction, or cremation or other disposition over his signature, and shall return all permits so endorsed to the registrar of his district within seven days after the date of interment, cremation, natural organic reduction, or other disposition.

4. When burying or otherwise disposing of the body of a deceased person in a cemetery or burial place having no person in charge, the funeral director or undertaker shall (a) sign the burial or removal permit, giving the date of burial; (b) write across the face of the permit the words "No person in charge;" and (c) file the burial or removal permit within three days with the registrar of the district in which the cemetery is located.

6. For the purposes of this section, such documents required to be produced under this section may be signed by written instrument or the use of an electronic signature, as that term is defined in subdivision three of section three hundred two of the state technology law, with the intent to execute the instrument, writing or electronic record.

§ 4146. Deaths; burial permits; interments in certain cemeteries prohibited. 1. Whenever the legislative authority of any municipality shall deem that further interments in any cemetery in such municipality would be detrimental to the public health, it may by resolution direct its clerk to cause a notice to be served upon the person or corporation owning or controlling such cemetery, and to publish said notice once a week for three successive weeks in two papers published in such city, stating a time and place not less than thirty days after service and first publication of such notice, at which any person interested may show cause to the legislative authority why further interments in such cemetery should not be prohibited.

2. At the time and place specified in such notice the legislative authority of such municipality shall hear all persons desiring to be heard, and if upon such hearing it appears that further interments in such cemetery will be detrimental to public health, it may by resolution prohibit further interments therein.

3. If such resolution is adopted a certified copy thereof shall be filed with the board of health of the municipality in which the cemetery is located, and thereafter permits for interments in such cemetery shall not be issued. The action of the legislative authority in passing such resolution may be reviewed within thirty days thereafter under and pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice act.

4. A burial permit issued by any registrar of vital statistics authorizing burial in such cemetery shall be deemed null and void and of no legal effect after a copy of the resolution has been filed with the board of health of the municipality.

§ 4147. Deaths; confidentiality of records. The death certificate, burial permit or any other record of death or interment, as defined by article forty-one of this chapter, including but not limited to the name, address or telephone number of the decedent, next of kin or surviving relatives of such decedent, shall not be sold or offered for sale for commercial, promotional or profit-making purposes without the written consent of the next of kin or the legal representative of such decedent or next of kin. The provisions of this section shall not apply to newspapers or newsletters providing general information to the public. A violation of this section shall constitute a violation as defined in the penal law.

§ 4148. Electronic death registration system. 1. The department is hereby authorized and directed to design, implement and maintain an electronic death registration system for collecting, storing, recording, transmitting, amending, correcting and authenticating information, as necessary and appropriate to complete a death registration, and to generate such documents as determined by the department in relation to a death occurring in this state. As part of the design and implementation of the system established by this section, the department shall consult with all persons authorized to use such system to the extent practicable and feasible. Except as specifically provided in this section, the existing general duties of, and remuneration received by, local registrars in accepting and filing certificates of death and issuing burial and removal permits pursuant to any statute or regulation shall be maintained, and not altered or abridged in any way by this section.

2. Commencing on the implementation date, the department shall require that deaths occurring within this state must be registered using the electronic death registration system established in this section. Electronic death registration may be phased in, as determined by the commissioner, for deaths occurring in the state until the electronic death registration system is fully implemented in the state. As used in this section, "implementation date" means the first day in January in the second year after this section becomes a law, or as soon thereafter as the commissioner reasonably determines by regulation is feasible in light of the intent of this section.

3. Commencing on the implementation date, all persons required to register a death or file a certificate of death under this article, and such others as may be authorized by the commissioner, shall have access to the electronic death registration system for the purpose of entering information required to execute, complete and file a certificate of death or to retrieve such information or generate documentation from the electronic death registration system. The confidentiality provisions in section forty-one hundred forty-seven of this title shall apply to information maintained in this system.

4. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, commencing on or after January first, two thousand fifteen, or on such date determined by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision two of this section, any requirement of this title for a signature of any person shall be deemed satisfied by the use by such person of digital signature provided such person is authorized in accordance with this section to use the electronic death registration system.

(g) upon request of a board of elections, issue certification of death.

2. Each applicant for a certification of birth or death, certificate of birth data or for a certified copy or certified transcript of a birth or death certificate or certificate of birth data shall remit to the commissioner with such application a fee of thirty dollars in payment for the search of the files and records and the furnishing of a certification, certified copy or certified transcript if such record is found or for a certification that a search discloses no record of a birth or of a death.

3. For any search of the files and records conducted for authorized genealogical or research purposes, the commissioner or any person authorized by him shall be entitled to, and the applicant shall pay, a fee of twenty dollars for each hour or fractional part of an hour of time of search, together with a fee of two dollars for each uncertified copy or abstract of such record requested by the applicant or for a certification that a search discloses no record.

4. No fee shall be charged for a search, certification, certificate, certified copy or certified transcript of a record to be used for school entrance, employment certificate or for purposes of public relief or when required by the veterans administration to be used in determining the eligibility of any person to participate in the benefits made available by the veterans administration or when required by a board of elections for the purposes of determining voter eligibility or when requested by the department of corrections and community supervision or a local correctional facility as defined in subdivision sixteen of section two of the correction law for the purpose of providing a certified copy or certified transcript of birth to an incarcerated individual in anticipation of such incarcerated individual's release from custody or to obtain a death certificate to be used for administrative purposes for an incarcerated individual who has died under custody or when requested by the office of children and family services or an authorized agency for the purpose of providing a certified copy or certified transcript of birth to a youth placed in the care and custody or custody and guardianship of the local commissioner of social services or the care and custody or custody and guardianship of the office of children and family services in anticipation of such youth's discharge from placement or foster care. Whenever a request is made by the department of corrections and community supervision for a certified copy or certified transcript of birth on behalf of an incarcerated individual pursuant to this section, a certified copy of the sentence and commitment or certificate of conviction shall be deemed to grant authorization by the incarcerated individual to the department to submit such request on their behalf, and no other authorization shall be required.

5. (a) The United States social security administration may obtain information from death certificates needed in the administration of old-age and survivors insurance benefits laws, subject to the provisions of any contract entered into pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(b) In addition, the commissioner or any person authorized by the commissioner is authorized and directed to enter into a contract to furnish the federal secretary of health and human services information concerning individuals with respect to whom death certificates have been officially filed with the commissioner. Such contract shall not include any restriction on the use of information obtained by such secretary pursuant to such contract, except that such contract may provide that such information is only to be used by the secretary (or any other federal agency) for purposes of ensuring that federal benefits or other payments are not erroneously paid to deceased individuals.

6. The federal agency in charge of vital statistics may obtain, at a fee acceptable to the commissioner, information from birth and death certificates for use solely as statistical data.

7. Except as herein otherwise provided, the commissioner is authorized to establish rules and regulations whereby searches may be made and certifications, certified copies and certified transcripts of birth and death certificates furnished without fees to federal, state and municipal departments for official purposes.

8. The commissioner, the commissioner of health of the city of New York, or any person authorized by the commissioner having jurisdiction shall immediately notify the division of criminal justice services in the event that a copy of a birth certificate or information concerning the birth records of any person whose record is flagged pursuant to paragraph (i) of subdivision two of section four thousand one hundred of this article is requested. In the event that a copy of the birth certificate of a person whose record is so flagged is requested in person, the personnel accepting the request shall immediately notify his or her supervisor. The person making the request shall complete a form as prescribed by the commissioner or, in the city of New York, the commissioner of health of the city of New York, which shall include the name, address and telephone numbers and social security number of the person making the request. A motor vehicle operator's license, or if such license is not available, such other identification as the commissioner, or in the city of New York, the commissioner of the New York city department of health, determines to be satisfactory, of the person making the request shall be presented, shall be photocopied and returned to him or her. The person receiving the request shall note the physical description of the person making the request and his or her supervisor shall immediately notify the local law enforcement authority as to the request and the information obtained pursuant to this subsection. When a copy of the birth certificate of a person whose record has been flagged is requested in writing, the law enforcement authority having jurisdiction shall be notified as to the request and shall be provided with a copy of the written request. The registrar shall retain the original written response.

9. The commissioner may institute an additional fee of fifteen dollars for priority handling for each certification, certified copy or certified transcript of certificates of birth, death, or dissolution of marriage; or fifteen dollars for priority handling for each certification, certified copy or certified transcript of certificate of marriage.

§ 4175. Records; unrecorded births and deaths. 1. If, at any time after the birth, or within one year of the death, of any person within the state, a certified copy of the official record of said birth or death, with the information required to be registered by this article, is necessary for legal, judicial, or other proper purposes, and, after search by the commissioner or his or her representatives, it appears that no such certificate of birth or death was made and filed as provided by this article, then the commissioner shall immediately require the physician, nurse practitioner, or nurse-midwife who, being in attendance upon a birth, failed or neglected to file a certificate thereof, or the funeral director, undertaker, or other person who, having charge of the interment or removal of the body of a deceased person, failed or neglected to file the certificate of death, if he or she is living, to obtain and file at once with the local registrar such certificate in as complete form as the lapse of time will permit.

2. With said delayed certificate shall be filed such statements subscribed and affirmed by the persons making them as true under the penalties of perjury and other evidence as may be required by the commissioner.

3. If the physician, nurse practitioner, nurse-midwife, funeral director, or undertaker responsible for the report is deceased or cannot be located, then the person making application for the certified copy of the record may file such certificate of birth or death together with such statements subscribed and affirmed by the persons making them as true under the penalties of perjury and other evidence as the commissioner may require.

4. The commissioner shall file such certificate and issue a certified copy thereof to said applicant without fee.

5. The delinquent physician, nurse practitioner, nurse-midwife, funeral director, undertaker, or other person may, in the discretion of the commissioner, be prosecuted as required by this article, without bar from the statute of limitations, if he or she neglects or fails to file promptly the certificate required by this section.

§ 4176. Records; correction of defective registration. 1. If defects be found in the registration under the supervision of a registrar of vital statistics, the commissioner shall notify such registrar that such defects must be corrected within ten days of the date of the notice.

2. If such defects are not so corrected the commissioner shall take control of such registration and of the records thereof, and enforce the rules and regulations in regard thereto and secure a complete registration in such district, and such control shall continue until the registrar of vital statistics shall satisfy the commissioner that he will make such record and registry complete as required by law and in the sanitary code.

3. The expenses incurred by the commissioner or his authorized representative while in control of such registration shall be a charge upon the city, town or village comprising the registration district.

4. No certificate of birth or death, after its acceptance for registration by the registrar, and no new certificate or other record made in pursuance of this article, shall be altered or changed in any respect except to correct errors made in completing the certificate by the person responsible for preparing the certificate or as otherwise provided in this article. The commissioner shall provide the application form for a correction of a record which must be properly dated, signed and witnessed, or subscribed and affirmed by the persons making them as true under the penalties of perjury, together with such supporting proofs as may be prescribed by the commissioner.

§ 4177. Vital records; refund of fees. Moneys received pursuant to this article may within one year from the receipt thereof be refunded on proof satisfactory to the commissioner that such moneys were in excess of amounts required by law. Such refund shall after audit by the comptroller be paid by the commissioner from any moneys in the custody of the commissioner received pursuant to this article.

Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph one of subdivision a of section 207.13 of the health code of the city of New York, the department of health shall charge, and the applicant shall pay, for a search of two consecutive calendar years under one name and the issuance of a certificate of birth, death or termination of pregnancy, or a certification of birth or death, or a certification that the record cannot be found, a fee of fifteen dollars for each copy. Provided, however, that no such fee shall be charged when the department of corrections and community supervision or a local correctional facility as defined in subdivision sixteen of section two of the correction law requests a certificate of birth or certification of birth for the purpose of providing such certificate of birth or certification of birth to an incarcerated individual in anticipation of such incarcerated individual's release from custody or to obtain a death certificate to be used for administrative purposes for an incarcerated individual who has died under custody or when the office of children and family services or an authorized agency requests a certified copy or certified transcript of birth for a youth placed in the custody of the local commissioner of social services or the custody of the office of children and family services pursuant to article three of the family court act for the purpose of providing such certified copy or certified transcript of birth to such youth in anticipation of discharge from placement. Whenever a request is made by the department of corrections and community supervision for a certified copy or certified transcript of birth on behalf of an incarcerated individual pursuant to this section, a certified copy of the sentence and commitment or certificate of conviction shall be deemed to grant authorization by the incarcerated individual to the department to submit such request on their behalf, and no other authorization shall be required.

subdivision three of this section, or by any other subsequent act by the decedent evidencing a specific intent to supersede the designation or direction in such a will with respect to the disposition of the decedent's remains. All actions taken reasonably and in good faith based upon such authorizations and directions regarding the disposition of one's remains in such a will shall be deemed valid regardless of whether such a will is later probated or subsequently declared invalid.

(b) In the absence of a written instrument made pursuant to subdivision three of this section, the designation of a person for the disposition of one's remains or directions for the disposition of one's remains in a will executed pursuant to the laws of the state of New York on or after the effective date of this section, shall be considered a reflection of the intent of the decedent with respect to the disposition of the decedent's remains, provided that the person who represents that he or she is entitled to control the disposition of remains of the decedent has complied with subdivision five and paragraph (a) of subdivision seven of this section and signed a written statement in accordance with paragraph (b) of subdivision seven of this section.

4-a. A written instrument under this section may limit the disposition of remains agent's authority to consent to organ or tissue donation or designate another person to do so, under article forty-three of this chapter. Failure to state wishes or instructions shall not be construed to imply a wish not to donate.

5. A written instrument executed under this section shall be revoked upon the execution by the decedent of a subsequent written instrument, or by any other subsequent act by the decedent evidencing a specific intent to revoke the prior written instrument and directions on disposition and agent designations in a will made pursuant to subdivision three of this section shall be superseded by a subsequently executed will or written instrument made pursuant to this section, or by any other subsequent act of the decedent evidencing a specific intent to supersede the direction or designation. The designation of the decedent's spouse or domestic partner as an agent in control of disposition of remains shall be revoked upon the divorce or legal separation of the decedent and spouse, or termination of the domestic partnership, unless the decedent specified in writing otherwise.

6. A person acting reasonably and in good faith, shall not be subject to any civil liability for:

(a) representing himself or herself to be the person in control of a decedent's disposition;

(b) disposing of a decedent's remains if done with the reasonable belief that such disposal is consistent with this section; or

(c) identifying a decedent.

7. No cemetery organization, business operating a crematory, natural organic reduction facility, or columbarium, funeral director, undertaker, embalmer, or funeral firm shall be held liable for actions taken reasonably and in good faith to carry out the written directions of a decedent as stated in a will or in a written instrument executed pursuant to this section. No cemetery organization, business operating a crematory, natural organic reduction facility, or columbarium, funeral director, undertaker, embalmer or funeral firm shall be held liable for actions taken reasonably and in good faith to carry out the directions of a person who represents that he or she is entitled to control of the disposition of remains, provided that such action is taken only after requesting and receiving written statement that such person:

(a) is the designated agent of the decedent designated in a will or written instrument executed pursuant to this section; or

(b) that he or she has no knowledge that the decedent executed a written instrument pursuant to this section or a will containing directions for the disposition of his or her remains and that such person is the person having priority under subdivision two of this section.

8. Every dispute relating to the disposition of the remains of a decedent shall be resolved by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to a special proceeding under article four of the civil practice law and rules. No person providing services relating to the disposition of the remains of a decedent shall be held liable for refusal to provide such services, when control of the disposition of such remains is contested, until such person receives a court order or other form of notification signed by all parties or their legal representatives to the dispute establishing such control.

9. This section does not supersede, alter or abridge any provision of section four hundred fifty-three of the general business law. In the event of a conflict or ambiguity, the provisions of section four hundred fifty-three of the general business law shall govern.

10. This section does not supersede, alter or abridge any provision of article forty-three of this chapter including, but not limited to, the persons authorized to execute an anatomical gift pursuant to section forty-three hundred one of this chapter.

11. This section does not diminish the enforceability of a contract or agreement in which a person controlling the disposition of the remains of a decedent agrees to pay for goods or services in connection with the disposition of such remains.

§ 4202. Cremated remains; disposition. 1. Every body delivered to a cemetery for cremation, or natural organic reduction, shall be accompanied by a statement from a physician, coroner, or medical examiner certifying that such body does not contain a battery or power cell. The person in charge of a cemetery may refuse to cremate or naturally organically reduce a body unless accompanied by such statement.

2. Cremated remains means human remains after incineration in a crematory. Naturally organically reduced remains means human remains that have been naturally organically reduced to soil.

3. An institution authorized by article forty-two or forty-three of this chapter to receive unclaimed cadavers or anatomical gifts, notwithstanding any other provision of law, may prepare or preserve cadavers in its lawful possession for purposes of research, study or anatomical instruction and may cremate the cadavers or dissected remains of such cadavers after the completion of such research, study or anatomical instruction thereon; provided, however, that cremation shall be performed only in a retort used exclusively for such purpose. For the purposes of the provisions of this subdivision, such institution shall not be subject to article fifteen of the not-for-profit corporation law.

4. At the time of the arrangement for a funeral performed by any undertaker or funeral director, the person contracting for funeral services shall designate his intentions with respect to the disposition of the remains of the deceased in a signed declaration of intent on a form as designated by the department which shall be provided by and retained by the undertaker. Every undertaker, administrator, executor, authorized representative of a deceased person, corporation, company or association, or other person having in his or its lawful possession cremated or naturally organically reduced remains, except such remains committed to his or its care for permanent interment, which remains shall not have been claimed by a relative or friend of the deceased person within one hundred twenty days from the date of cremation or natural organic reduction, may dispose of such remains by placement in a tomb, mausoleum, crypt, niche in a columbarium, burial in a cemetery, or scattering of the remains at sea or by otherwise disposing of such remains as provided by rule of the department. A record of such disposition shall be made and kept by the person making such disposition. Upon disposing of such remains in the manner prescribed above, such person shall be discharged from any legal obligation or liability to the authorizing agent or any other person enumerated under paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section forty-two hundred one of this title in relation to such remains.

§ 4203. Cremated or naturally organically reduced remains of a veteran; disposition. 1. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

Provided, however, for the purpose of this section the term "disposition" shall not include the scattering of cremated or naturally organically reduced remains.

(f) "local veterans' service agencies" shall have the meaning set forth in section three hundred fifty-seven of the executive law.

2. A funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm which has held in its possession cremated or naturally organically reduced remains for more than one hundred twenty days from the date of cremation or natural organic reduction may, in accordance with the provisions of this section, determine if such cremated or naturally organically reduced remains are those of a veteran, and if so, may dispose of such remains as provided in this section.

3. (a) Notwithstanding any law or regulation to the contrary, nothing in this section shall prevent a funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm from sharing information with the United States department of veterans affairs (VA), a local veterans' service agency, a veterans' service organization, a national cemetery, or county veterans cemetery for the purpose of determining whether the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains are those of a veteran.

(b) A funeral director, undertaker, or funeral firm shall be discharged from any legal obligations or liability with regard to releasing or sharing information to the United States department of veterans affairs, the local veterans' service agencies, veterans' service organizations, a national cemetery, or county veterans cemetery pursuant to this section.

4. (a) Should a funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm ascertain the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains in its possession are those of a veteran, and they have not been instructed by the person in control of the disposition of the decedent to arrange for the final disposal or delivery of the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains, the funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm may dispose of the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains or relinquish possession of the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains to a veterans' service organization.

(b) The method of disposition shall be made pursuant to section forty-two hundred two of this title in a national cemetery, a county veterans cemetery, a section of a cemetery corporation where veterans are memorialized by a veteran's marker if eligible, a veterans' section of a cemetery corporation or a veterans' cemetery if the deceased veteran is eligible for interment in such a manner.

(a) disposing of cremated or naturally organically reduced remains in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall be held harmless for any costs or damages, except if there is gross negligence or willful

misconduct; and

(b) shall be discharged from any legal obligation or liability concerning the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains.

6. The estate of the decedent shall be responsible for reimbursing a funeral director, undertaker, funeral firm or veterans' service organization for all reasonable expenses incurred in relation to the disposition of such cremated or naturally organically reduced remains.

7. A funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm shall establish and maintain a record identifying the veterans' service organization receiving the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains and the site designated for final disposition of the cremated or naturally organically reduced remains.

8. Nothing in this section shall require a funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm to determine or seek others to determine that an individual's cremated or naturally organically reduced remains are those of a veteran if the funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm was informed by the person in control of disposition that such individual was not a veteran, or to relinquish possession of such cremated or naturally organically reduced remains to a veterans' service organization if the funeral director, undertaker or funeral firm was instructed by such person in control, or had a reasonable belief, that the decedent did not desire any funeral or burial-related services or ceremonies recognizing such decedent's service as a veteran.

4. Whenever any district attorney in this state, in the discharge of his official duties, shall deem it necessary, he may exhume, take possession of, and remove the body of a deceased person, or any portion thereof, and submit the same to a proper physical or chemical examination, or analysis, to ascertain the cause of death, and the same shall be made on the order of any justice of the supreme court of this state, or the county judge of the county in which such dead body shall be, which order shall be made on the application of the district attorney with or without notice to the relatives of the deceased person or to any person or corporation having the legal charge of such body, as the court may direct. § 4210-b. Certain unauthorized autopsies. A person authorized by law to perform a dissection or autopsy who acts in good faith in accordance with the terms of this article but is unaware of the existence of an identification card indicating the decedent's opposition to the dissection or autopsy of his body after a routine examination of the decedent and his effects has been conducted shall not be subjected to prosecution in any criminal proceeding nor held liable for damages in any civil action for his involvement in such an unauthorized autopsy.

§ 4210-c. Limitations to dissection or autopsy. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in the absence of a compelling public necessity, no dissection or autopsy shall be performed over the objection of a surviving relative or friend of the deceased that such procedure is contrary to the religious belief of the decedent, or, if there is otherwise reason to believe that a dissection or autopsy is contrary to the decedent's religious beliefs.

2. For the purposes of this section: (a) "compelling public necessity" shall mean:

(i) that the dissection or autopsy is essential to the conduct of a criminal investigation of a homicide, as defined in section 125.00 of the penal law, of which the decedent is the victim, or

(ii) that discovery of the cause of death is necessary to meet an immediate and substantial threat to the public health and that a dissection or autopsy is essential to ascertain the cause of death, or

(iii) that the need for a dissection or autopsy is established in accordance with subdivision five of this section.

(b) "relative" shall mean the person most closely related to the decedent by consanguinity or affinity. In the event such person is unavailable, the objection may be raised on his behalf by the next most closely related person. The official who has authority to order a dissection or autopsy of the decedent's body may require a relative to present an affidavit stating his relationship to the decedent, the religious affiliation of the decedent, if any, that the decedent had religious objections to an autopsy, the basis for such belief, and that he will assume responsibility for the lawful disposition of the body of the deceased.

over the objection of a surviving relative or friend that such autopsy is contrary to the religious beliefs of the deceased, or where there is otherwise reason to believe that a dissection or autopsy is contrary to the decedent's religious beliefs, until notice thereof is given to the next of kin or friend as defined herein, or until forty-eight hours have elapsed, whichever is greater, to permit an objecting party to institute legal proceedings to determine the propriety of such dissection or autopsy; provided, however, that a court upon ex parte motion may dispense with the waiting period if it determines that such delay may prejudice the accuracy of the autopsy or dissection or if the objecting party is a suspect in the homicide.

5. Whenever any coroner or medical examiner shall deem it necessary to perform an autopsy over the objection of a surviving relative or friend that such autopsy is contrary to the religious beliefs of the deceased, or where there is otherwise reason to believe that a dissection or autopsy is contrary to the decedent's religious beliefs, in circumstances not provided for in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph (a) of subdivision two of this section, he may institute a special proceeding, without fee, in the supreme court or county court for an order authorizing such autopsy. Such proceeding shall be instituted as soon as practicable, brought on by an order to show cause on notice to the next of kin or friend, or if none is known to the petitioner, then to such party as the court may direct, returnable at the earliest possible time. The proceeding shall have preference over all other cases in the court and shall be determined summarily upon the petition and such oral or written proof as may be offered by the parties. The court shall grant the relief sought in the petition if it finds that the petitioner had established a demonstrable need for such autopsy or dissection under all circumstances of the case. If the petition is denied, and no stay is granted by the court or the appellate division, the body shall immediately be released for burial to the surviving relative or friend.

§ 4211. Cadavers; unclaimed; delivery to schools for study. 1. Except as hereinafter provided, and subject to the conditions specified in this article, the director or person in charge of any hospital, institution, morgue or other place for bodies of deceased persons not interred or otherwise finally disposed of, and every funeral director, undertaker or other person having in his or her lawful possession, any body of a deceased person for keeping or burial, shall deliver every body of a deceased person in his or her possession, charge, custody or control not placed therein by any person, agency or organization for keeping, burial or other lawful disposition to:

Any college, school or institute maintaining a mortuary science program may only claim and utilize such bodies for anatomical and embalming instruction purposes.

2. interment or other lawful disposition by relatives and in the counties of Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Madison and Cortland, by relatives or friends, or,

(b) if prior to his or her death, the person shall have expressed a desire that his or her body be interred or otherwise lawfully disposed of, is carrying an identification card upon his or her person indicating his or her opposition to the dissection or autopsy of his or her body, or,

(c) if the deceased person is known to have a relative whose place of residence is known or can be ascertained after reasonable and diligent inquiry.

3-a. (a) In a city having a population of one million or more, no body of a deceased person shall be delivered or released to or received by, any university, college, school or institute, including any mortuary school unless:

(i) the person authorized to consent to make an anatomical gift with respect to the decedent under article forty-three of this chapter makes such an anatomical gift that would encompass such delivery or release;

(ii) the person authorized to control the disposition of such body under section forty-two hundred one of this article consents in writing to the delivery and release of the body of such person to the university, college, school or institute for the purpose of embalming, dissection or autopsy, provided that a chief fiscal officer of a county or a public administrator shall not be authorized to provide such consent; or

(iii) the decedent has through a lawfully executed written instrument, will or trust, consented to such delivery or release;

(b) In no event shall such delivery or release for the purpose of embalming, dissection or autopsy be authorized where the provisions of section forty-two hundred nine-a or forty-two hundred ten-c of this title apply.

(c) The person or entity having possession, charge, custody or control of the body of a deceased person under subdivision one of this section shall have no duty to locate and/or obtain the written consent from any person under this subdivision. Additionally, a chief fiscal officer of a county or a public administrator shall not be authorized to provide such consent. In the event that such body is not delivered or released to a university, college, school or institute under this section, the body shall be released for burial or other lawful disposition consistent with this article and any other applicable provision of law.

(d) The person having lawful possession of a body under this section shall not be held liable for actions taken reasonably and in good faith upon delivery of a body pursuant to subparagraph (i) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, presentation of a written consent pursuant to subparagraph (ii) of such paragraph, or a written instrument, will or trust pursuant to subparagraph (iii) of such paragraph.

(e) The provisions of this section shall apply notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of general, special or local law.

4. (a) A body of a deceased person shall not be delivered or released to, or received by a university, college, school or institute, if within twenty-four hours after notice of death by the person having lawful possession, charge, custody or control to the next of kin, or in the counties of Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Madison and Cortland to the next of kin, or friend of the deceased person such next of kin or friend shall claim such body for interment or other lawful disposition.

(b) Unless a relative or friend of the deceased person shall claim the body of the deceased person within forty-eight hours after death, or within twenty-four hours after receipt of notice of death as provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the next of kin, relatives or friends, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have assented to delivery or release to, and receipt by the university, college, school or institute, of such dead body.

§ 4212. Cadavers; unclaimed; delivery to schools; procedure. 1. (a) A university, college, school or institute desiring to avail itself of the provisions of section forty-two hundred eleven of this title, shall notify the person having lawful possession, charge, custody or control of the body of the deceased person in the county where such university, college, school or institute is situated and in any other county in the state in which no medical college, school, institute or university is situated, of such desire. Thereafter, the person having possession, charge, custody or control of the body of the deceased person shall notify the proper officer of the university, college, school or institute whenever there is any such dead body in his or her possession, charge, custody or control which may be delivered or released to and received by such university, college, school or institute, and he or she shall deliver or release same to such university, college, school or institute.

(b) Except as provided in section forty-two hundred ten of this title, no autopsy or dissection shall be performed on any such unclaimed dead body by any such person having possession, charge, custody or control of such body prior to the expiration of the fourth day after such notification or where such notification is made by mail prior to the expiration of the eighth day after such notification is postmarked.

2. It shall be the duty of the person having lawful possession, charge, custody or control of bodies of deceased persons, to keep a record in a bound book or an electronic log of any and all bodies of deceased persons thereafter coming into his or her possession, charge, custody or control and of the disposition made of said bodies, showing (a) the name of the deceased person, if known, (b) the dates of death and burial or other lawful disposition, if known, (c) the names and places of residence of relatives of the deceased person, if known, (d) the name of the person who claimed the body of the deceased person for interment or other lawful disposition, (e) the name of the university, college, school or institute to whom the body of the deceased person was delivered or released, and (f) the opposition of the deceased to the dissection or autopsy of his or her body as indicated by an identification card carried upon his or her person. This record book or electronic log shall be open to the inspection of the officers and agents of universities, colleges, schools or institutes entitled to receive bodies of deceased persons. Any electronic log kept pursuant to this subdivision shall preserve a record of any addition, deletion or change made in such log.

3. If two or more universities, colleges, schools or institutes are entitled to receive bodies of deceased persons under the provisions of this article and shall be given notice as herein provided, they shall receive the same in proportion to the number of matriculated students in each university, college, school or institute who are pursuing courses of study in anatomy and surgery at the time of making the apportionment.

In the counties of Oneida, Onondaga, Oswego, Madison and Cortland, a friend who claims the body of a deceased person for interment or other disposition may be required by the person having lawful possession, charge, custody or control of it to present an affidavit stating (a) that such claimant is a friend; (b) the facts and circumstances upon which the claim that he is such friend is based; and (c), that he will bear the expense of such interment or other lawful disposition. If such claimant shall refuse to make such affidavit the body shall not be delivered to him but he shall forfeit his claim and right to same. The director or person having lawful control and management of any hospital in which a patient has died may order the performance of an autopsy upon the body of such deceased person, after first giving notice of the death to the next of kin of such person, unless the body is claimed or objection is made to such autopsy by the next of kin within forty-eight hours after death, or within twenty-four hours after such notice of death. In no case shall an autopsy or dissection be performed upon any body within forty-eight hours after death, unless a written consent or directive therefor has been received from the person or persons legally entitled to consent to or order such autopsy or dissection. Except as required by law, no dissection or autopsy shall be performed on the body of any person who is carrying an identification card upon his person indicating his opposition to such dissection or autopsy.

2. In the case of an unclaimed body of a deceased person, the medical colleges, schools, institutes and universities shall have a priority claim to the said body, for the purposes of medical, anatomical or surgical science and study as provided in this article.

In all cases in which a dissection has been made, the provisions of this article, requiring the burial or other lawful disposition of a body of a deceased person, and the provisions of law providing for the punishment of interference with or injuries to it, apply equally to the remains of the body after dissection as soon as the lawful purposes of such dissection have been accomplished.

2. In all cases in which an autopsy or dissection has been made of an unclaimed body, the provisions of this article requiring the burial or other lawful disposition of the body of a deceased person and punishing, interference with or injuries to it, shall apply equally to the remains of such body as soon as the lawful purposes of such autopsy or dissection have been accomplished, except that the persons having possession of the body may, in their discretion, cause it to be either buried or cremated, or may retain parts of such body for scientific purposes.

§ 4216. Body stealing. A person who removes the dead body of a human being, or any tissue, organ or part thereof from a grave, vault, or other place, where the same has been buried, or from a place where the same has been deposited while awaiting burial, without authority of law, with intent to sell the same, or for the purpose of dissection, or for the purpose of procuring a reward for the return of the same, or from malice or wantonness, is guilty of a class D felony.

§ 4217. Receiving stolen body of a human being. A person who purchases, or receives except for the purpose of burial, the dead body of a human being, or any tissue, organ, or part thereof, knowing that the same has been removed contrary to section forty-two hundred sixteen of this title, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 4218. Opening graves. A person who opens a grave or other place of interment, temporary or otherwise, or a building wherein the dead body of a human being is deposited while awaiting burial, without authority of law, with intent to remove the body, or any tissue, organ or part thereof, for the purpose of selling it or demanding money for the same, or for the purpose of dissection, or from malice or wantonness, or with intent to steal or remove the coffin or any part thereof, or anything attached thereto, or any vestment, or other article interred, or intended to be interred with the dead body, is guilty of a class D felony.

§ 4219. Arresting or attaching a dead body of a human being. A person who arrests or attaches the dead body of a human being upon any debt or demand whatever, or detains or claims to detain it for any debt or demand, or upon any pretended lien or charge, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 4220. Disturbing funerals. A person who, without authority of law, obstructs or detains any persons engaged in carrying or accompanying the dead body of a human being to a place of burial, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 4221. Removal of eyes and/or parts thereof after death. If any donation, authorization or consent made pursuant to section forty-three hundred three of this article or dissection made pursuant to subdivision three of section forty-two hundred ten of this article relates to the removal of a deceased person's eyes and/or parts thereof, the individual or agency authorized to remove such eyes and/or parts thereof may permit such removal to be made by a medical student, technician or nurse.

§ 4222. Removal of corneal tissue for transplant and pituitary gland tissue for the extraction of growth hormone. 1. Upon request from a general hospital or medical center for corneal tissue for transplant or pituitary gland tissue for extraction of growth hormone, the coroner or medical examiner may then request or authorize an agent to request from the authorized person under the conditions established in subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this chapter, the authorization, which may be oral or written according to law, to perform the removal. Upon receiving such authorization, the coroner or medical examiner shall authorize the supply of such corneal tissue or pituitary gland tissue upon the following conditions:

a. The body of the decedent is under the jurisdiction of the coroner or medical examiner authorizing the removal of the corneal tissue or pituitary gland tissue.

b. Such removal does not conflict with decedent's religious or other views.

c. The removal of the cornea for transplant or the pituitary gland for extraction of growth hormone will not interfere with the subsequent course of an investigation or autopsy.

d. The removal of the corneal tissue or the pituitary gland tissue will not alter the post mortem facial appearance of the decedent.

2. The coroner or medical examiner authorizing the removal of corneal tissue or the pituitary gland tissue pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be held liable in a civil action for damages by any person specified by subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this chapter, for such removal where after the exercise of due diligence such coroner or medical examiner obtained authorization from any person specified by subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this chapter.

3. Except where an anatomical gift has previously been requested or authorized, upon the request of a tissue bank or storage facility as defined in section forty-three hundred of this chapter, the coroner or medical examiner may then provide the name of the decedent under his jurisdiction and the name of the decedent's spouse or other persons authorized to execute an anatomical gift in accordance with the provisions of section forty-three hundred one of this chapter.

§ 4301. Persons who may execute an anatomical gift. 1. (a) Any individual of sound mind and eighteen years of age or more may make an anatomical gift to take effect upon their death for any purpose specified in section forty-three hundred two of this article, limit an anatomical gift to one or more of those purposes, or refuse to make an anatomical gift. In any case where the donor has a properly executed document of gift authorization for donation shall not be rescinded or amended by any other person except upon a showing that the donor revoked the authorization pursuant to section forty-three hundred five of this article.

(b) Any person who is sixteen or seventeen years of age and of sound mind may make an anatomical gift to take effect upon their death for any purpose specified in section forty-three hundred two of this article, limit an anatomical gift to one or more of those purposes, or refuse to make an anatomical gift. In any case where the donor has a properly executed document of gift, notice of such gift shall be provided to the donor's parents or guardians, and authorization for donation may be rescinded or amended by an objection by a parent or guardian of the donor at the time of death and prior to the recovery of any organ or tissue if the donor is less than eighteen years of age. An anatomical gift made by an individual more than sixteen years of age but less than eighteen shall otherwise not be rescinded, except upon a showing that the donor revoked the authorization pursuant to section forty-three hundred five of this article. Upon the donor reaching the age of eighteen, the donor's consent to donate his or her organs or tissue shall be regarded as consent for authorization to make an anatomical gift pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

(c) In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor, an anatomical gift of a part is neither a refusal to give other parts nor a limitation on an individual's ability to make an anatomical gift under subdivision two of this section.

2. (a) In the absence of a gift made by the donor under subdivision one of this section, and in the absence of actual notice of contrary indications by the decedent, including religious or moral objections, an anatomical gift of the decedent's body may be made by any member of the following classes of persons who is reasonably available, in the order of priority listed, for any purpose specified in section forty-three hundred two of this article:

(i) the person designated as the decedent's health care agent under article twenty-nine-C of this chapter, subject to any written statement in the health care proxy form,

(ii) the person designated as the decedent's agent in a written instrument under article forty-two of this chapter, subject to any written statement in the written instrument,

(iii) the spouse, if not legally separated from the patient, or the domestic partner,

(iv) a son or daughter eighteen years of age or older,

(v) either parent,

(vi) a brother or sister eighteen years of age or older,

(vii) an adult grandchild of the decedent,

(viii) a grandparent of the decedent,

(ix) a guardian of the person of the decedent at the time of his or her death,

(x) a close friend as defined in subdivision four of section twenty-nine hundred ninety-four-a of this chapter, or

(xi) any other person authorized or under the obligation to dispose of the body.

(b) If there is more than one member of a class listed in subparagraph (iv), (vi), (vii), (viii), or (x) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision entitled to make an anatomical gift, an anatomical gift may be made by a member of the class unless that member or person knows of an objection by another member of the class. If an objection is known, the gift may be made only by a majority of the members of the class who are reasonably available.

3. An anatomical gift may not be made by a person listed in subdivision two of this section if:

(a) a person in a prior class is reasonably available;

(b) the person proposing to make an anatomical gift knows of a refusal or contrary indications by the decedent, including that an anatomical gift is contrary to the decedent's religious or moral beliefs.

4. Any gift by a person designated in subdivision two of this section shall be by a document signed by him or her or made by his or her telegraphic, recorded telephonic, or other recorded message. Where a gift is made under this subdivision, either: (a) the authorizing party shall indicate in the document or message that he or she has no actual notice of contrary indications by the decedent and no reason to believe that an anatomical gift is contrary to the decedent's religious or moral beliefs; or (b) an agent of the organ procurement organization or of the donee shall make reasonable efforts to inquire of the authorizing party or otherwise determine that the authorizing party has no actual notice of contrary indications by the decedent and no reason to believe that an anatomical gift is contrary to the decedent's religious or moral beliefs.

5. The donee shall not accept the gift under the following circumstances:

(a) the donee has actual notice of contrary indication by the decedent;

(b) where an anatomical gift is not properly made pursuant to this section; or

(c) the donee has reason to believe that an anatomical gift is contrary to the decedent's religious or moral beliefs.

6. A gift of all or part of a body authorizes any examination necessary to assure medical acceptability of gift for the purposes intended.

7. The rights of the donee created by the gift are paramount to the rights of others except as provided by section forty-three hundred eight of this article.

8. The person who documents the making, amending or revoking of an anatomical gift, acting reasonably and in good faith in accordance with this article, may accept an anatomical gift under this article made by a person who represents that he or she is entitled to consent to the donation.

§ 4302. Uses and dispositions of anatomical gifts. 1. All anatomical gifts made under this article may be made to the following persons named in the document of gift:

(a) a hospital; accredited medical school, dental school, college or university; organ procurement organization; non-transplant anatomic bank; or other appropriate person, for research or education;

(b) subject to the provisions of subdivision two of this section, an individual designated by the person making the anatomical gift if the individual is the recipient of that part; if an anatomical gift to an individual under this paragraph cannot be transplanted into the individual, the part passes in accordance with subdivision six of this section in the absence of an express, contrary indication by the authorizing party making the anatomical gift; or

(c) an eye bank or tissue bank.

2. If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts or of all parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subdivision one of this section, but identifies the purpose for which an anatomical gift may be used, the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ and the gift is for the purpose of transplantation or therapy, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

(d) If the part is an organ, eye, or tissue and the gift is for the purpose of research or education, the gift passes to the appropriate procurement organization.

3. For the purposes of subdivision two of this section, if there is more than one purpose of an anatomical gift set forth in the document of gift but the purposes are not set forth in any priority, the gift must be used for transplantation or therapy, if suitable. If the gift cannot be used for transplantation or therapy, the gift may be used for research or education.

4. If an anatomical gift of one or more specific parts is made in a document of gift that does not name a person described in subdivision one of this section and does not identify the purpose of the gift, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subdivision six of this section.

5. If a document of gift specifies only a general intent to make an anatomical gift by words such as "donor", "organ donor" or "body donor", or a statement of similar import, the gift may be used only for transplantation or therapy, and the gift passes in accordance with subdivision six of this section.

6. For purposes of subdivisions four, five and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, the following rules apply:

(a) If the part is an eye, the gift passes to the appropriate eye bank.

(b) If the part is tissue, the gift passes to the appropriate tissue bank.

(c) If the part is an organ, the gift passes to the appropriate organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

7. An anatomical gift of an organ for transplantation or therapy, other than an anatomical gift under paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, passes to the organ procurement organization as custodian of the organ.

8. If a prospective donor has been referred to a procurement organization or tissue bank pursuant to state or federal law, and the procurement organization has determined that the gift is medically unsuitable for transplant, or to the extent that a non-transplant anatomical gift may still be honored after a gift has been made pursuant to a superseding document of gift, then the procurement organization shall make reasonable efforts to determine whether the donor has previously made a gift of his or her body or parts for education or research, and the procurement organization informed of such gift shall notify the non-transplant anatomic bank of the gift consistent with the donor's intent.

9. If an anatomical gift does not pass pursuant to subdivisions one, two, three, four, five, six or seven of this section or the decedent's body or part is not used for transplantation, therapy, research, or education, custody of the body or part passes to the person under obligation to dispose of the body or part.

10. A person may not accept an anatomical gift if the person knows that the gift was not effectively made under section forty-three hundred one or forty-three hundred five of this article or if the person knows that the decedent made a refusal under section forty-three hundred one of this article that was not revoked. For purposes of this subdivision, if a person knows that an anatomical gift was made on a document of gift, the person is deemed to know of any amendment or revocation of the gift or any refusal to make an anatomical gift on the same document of gift.

11. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, nothing in this section affects the allocation of organs for transplantation or therapy.

§ 4303. Manner of executing anatomical gifts. 1. A gift of all or part of the body under this article may be made by will. The gift becomes effective upon the death of the testator without waiting for probate. If the will is not probated, or if it is declared invalid for testamentary purposes, the gift, to the extent that it has been acted upon in good faith, is nevertheless valid and effective.

2. A gift of all or part of the body under this article may also be made by document other than a will. The gift becomes effective upon the death of the donor. The document, which may be a card designed to be carried on the person, must be signed by the donor. Delivery of the document of gift during the donor's lifetime is not necessary to make the gift valid.

3. The gift may be made either to a specified donee or without specifying a donee. If the latter, the gift may be accepted by and utilized under the direction of the attending physician upon or following death. If the gift is made to a specified donee who is not available at the time and place of death, the attending physician upon or following death, in the absence of any expressed indication that the donor desired otherwise, may accept the gift as donee. The physician who becomes a donee under this subdivision shall not participate in the procedures for removing or transplanting a part.

4. Subject to the prohibitions in subdivision two of section four thousand three hundred six the donor may designate in his will, card or other document of gift the surgeon or physician to carry out the appropriate procedures. In the absence of a designation, or if the designee is not available, the donee or other person authorized to accept the gift may employ or authorize any surgeon or physician for the purpose.

§ 4304. Delivery of document of gift. If the gift is made by the donor to a specified donee, the will, card or other document or a copy of the executed document, may be delivered to him or her to expedite the appropriate procedures immediately after death; however delivery is not necessary to the validity of the gift. On request of an interested party upon or after the donor's death, the person in possession shall produce the document for examination.

§ 4305. Amendments or revocation of the gift. 1. An individual who has created a document of gift may only amend or revoke his or her gift by:

(a) a record signed, subsequently to the creation of the document of gift by:

(i) such individual;

(ii) another person authorized to make the anatomical gift on behalf of such individual; or

(iii) another person acting at the direction of such individual or other person authorized to make the anatomical gift if such individual is unable to sign; or

(b) an oral statement of revocation, subsequent to the creation of the gift, made by such individual in the presence of two persons, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness; or

(c) a later-executed document of gift made by such individual that amends or revokes a previous anatomical gift or portion of an anatomical gift either expressly or by inconsistency; or

(d) a statement during a terminal illness or injury addressed to an attending physician and communicated to the donee made by such individual; or

(e) a signed card or document, found on such individual's person or in such individual's effects; or

(f) such individual's will, created subsequently to the creation of the document of gift, whether or not the will is admitted to probate or invalidated after such individual's death.

2. (a) Subject to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision, a person authorized to make an anatomical gift on behalf of another individual pursuant to subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this article may revoke or amend such gift by:

(i) a record signed by that individual; or

(ii) an oral statement of revocation, subsequent to the creation of the document of gift, made by that individual in the presence of two persons, at least one of whom is a disinterested witness; or

(iii) a later-executed document of gift that amends or revokes a previous anatomical gift or portion of an anatomical gift made by that individual, either expressly or by inconsistency.

(b) If more than one member of a class listed in subparagraph (iv), (vi), (vii), (viii), or (x) of paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this article is reasonably available, a gift made pursuant to subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this article shall be amended or revoked only if a majority of the reasonably available members agree.

(c) An amendment or revocation is effective only if, before an incision has been made to remove a part from the donor's body or before invasive procedures have begun to prepare the recipient, the procurement organization, transplant hospital, or physician or technician knows of the revocation.

3. Any document of gift may be revoked in the manner set out in subdivision one or two of this section or by destruction, cancellation, or mutilation of the document and all executed copies thereof.

4. Any gift made by a will may be revoked or amended in the manner provided for revocation or amendment of wills or as provided in subdivision one of this section.

5. In the absence of contrary indications by the donor, a revocation or amendment of an anatomical gift is not a refusal to make another anatomical gift not otherwise prohibited by the revocation or amendment, either by the prospective donor or another person specified in subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this article.

§ 4306. Rights and duties at death. 1. The donee may accept or reject the gift. If the donee accepts a gift of the entire body, the donee may, subject to the terms of the gift, authorize embalming and the use of the body in funeral services. If the gift is of a part of the body, the donee upon the death of the donor and prior to embalming, may cause the part to be removed without unnecessary mutilation. After removal of the part, custody of the remainder of the body vests in the surviving spouse, next of kin, or other persons under obligation to dispose of the body.

2. When a donor is determined dead based on irreversible cessation of circulatory and respiratory functions, the time of death shall be certified by a physician. Such physician may not participate in the procedure to remove or transplant the body part. In all other cases the time of death shall be certified by the physician who attends the donor at his death and one other physician, neither of whom shall participate in the procedure for removing or transplanting the part.

3. (a) (i) A person who acts in good faith in accord with the terms of this article or with the anatomical gift laws of another state, is not liable for damages in any civil action or subject to prosecution in any criminal proceeding for his or her act.

(ii) A person who acts in good faith in accord with the anatomical gift laws of another country is not liable for damages in any civil action or subject to prosecution in any criminal proceeding for his or her act provided that:

(A) such country has anatomical gift laws similar in requirements and effects to the anatomical gift laws of this state;

(B) such country appears on a list of such countries promulgated as a regulation by the department for such purpose; and

(C) such country appeared on such list at the time of such act.

(b) A person who documents the making, amending or revoking of an anatomical gift, acting reasonably and in good faith in accordance with this article, may accept an anatomical gift under this article made by a person who represents that the person is an authorized person under section forty-three hundred one of this article and is entitled to consent to the donation.

(c) An entity under section forty-three hundred two or forty-three hundred ten of this article or a health care professional, or an agent or employee thereof, who or which documents, records, recovers, procures, obtains, or utilizes an organ or tissue in reasonable and good faith reliance on information provided to or contained in the New York state donate life registry shall not be liable in any civil or criminal action or proceeding for action based on such reliance.

4. Any employee or agent of an organ procurement organization, eye bank or tissue bank acting pursuant to this article shall be held to the same standard of confidentiality as that imposed on employees of a hospital.

§ 4306-a. Advanced directives and health care proxies. 1. If a prospective donor in a hospital has a declaration or advance health care directive and terms of the declaration, directive or proxy document concerning life-sustaining treatment are in conflict with the express or implied terms of a potential anatomical gift with regard to the administration of measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of a part for transplantation or therapy, the prospective donor's attending physician and the prospective donor shall confer to resolve the conflict. For purposes of this section, an advance directive shall mean a written or oral instruction by the adult patient relating to the provision of health care to the patient when an adult becomes incapacitated, including but not limited to a health care proxy, a consent to the issuance of an order not to resuscitate or other orders for life-sustaining treatment recorded in a patient's medical record, or a legally-recognized statement of wishes or beliefs.

2. If such prospective donor is incapable of resolving the conflict, and the patient in such declaration, directive, or proxy document did not expressly reject being a donor, then the health care proxy acting under the prospective donor's declaration, directive, or proxy or, if none, a surrogate authorized to make health care decisions on behalf of the patient, in accordance with the provisions of article twenty-nine-CC of this chapter, shall act for the patient to resolve the conflict.

3. Such conflict must be resolved expeditiously. Information relevant to the resolution of the conflict may be obtained from the appropriate procurement organization and any other person authorized to make an anatomical gift for the prospective donor described in subdivision two of section forty-three hundred one of this article. Before resolution of the conflict, measures necessary to ensure the medical suitability of the part may not be withheld or withdrawn from the patient if withholding or withdrawing the measures is not contraindicated by appropriate end-of-life care.

§ 4306-b. Withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment. This section applies in cases where a prospective donor who has made an anatomical gift or whose donation status has not been ascertained is in a hospital. The hospital shall not withdraw any measures that are necessary to maintain the medical suitability of the part until the procurement organization has had the opportunity to advise the applicable persons as set forth in section forty-three hundred one of this article of the option to make an anatomical gift, has documented or acted upon that decision, or has ascertained that the individual expressed a contrary intent. The procurement organization shall act expeditiously with respect to its responsibilities under this section.

§ 4307. Prohibition of sales and purchases of human organs. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to knowingly acquire, receive, or otherwise transfer for valuable consideration any part for use in human transplantation. The term "valuable consideration" does not include the reasonable payments associated with the removal, transportation, implantation, processing, preservation, quality control, and storage of a part or the expenses of travel, housing, and lost wages incurred by the donor of a human part in connection with the donation of the part or living donation. Any person who violates this section shall be guilty of a class E felony.

2. For the purposes of this section, the donation of a kidney or other organ from a live donor for transplantation into an individual conditioned upon the donation and transplantation of a similar organ into an individual specified by the donor shall not, in and of itself, be considered to be "valuable consideration" provided that such donation and transplant are performed in accordance with other applicable laws, rules and regulations, including any specific rules and regulations the commissioner may adopt, with the advice and consent of the transplant council, with respect to such conditional donations. No individual may make a donation conditioned upon the race, color, creed, national origin or religious affiliation of the recipient, and no hospital, organ procurement organization, tissue bank, physician or other professional may participate in the performance of any procedure or otherwise facilitate the donation and/or transfer of organs and/or tissue conditioned on such factors.

§ 4308. Prohibition on charging a fee to a donor's estate.

Except where the application is made in person or electronically, failure to check a box shall not impair the validity of an application, and failure to check "yes" or checking "skip this question" shall not be construed to imply a wish not to donate. In the case of an applicant under eighteen years of age, checking "yes" shall not constitute consent to make an anatomical gift or registration in the donate life registry, except as otherwise provided pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section forty-three hundred one of this article. (i) registrants submitting an amendment or revocation in writing to the donate life registry; or

(ii) registrants submitting an amendment or revocation electronically through the donate life registry website.

(e) Removal from the donate life registry shall not be deemed a refusal of any other or future anatomical gift.

(f) The donate life registry shall provide individuals enrolled the opportunity to specify which organs, eyes and tissues they want to donate and if the donation may be used for transplantation, research, or both.

6. An individual registered in the donate life registry before July twenty-third, two thousand eight shall be deemed to have expressed intent to donate, until and unless he or she files an amendment to his or her registration or a new registration expressing consent to donate.

7. (a) The donate life registry shall be maintained in a manner that allows immediate access to organ, eye and tissue donation records twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week to the contractor, the department, federally designated organ procurement organizations, licensed eye and tissue banks, and such other entities which may be approved by the department for access. Access shall be available to registrants to confirm the accuracy and validity of their registration and to amend or revoke their registration, subject to reasonable procedures to verify identity.

(b) Access to the donate life registry shall have security measures set forth in the contract to protect the integrity of the identifiable data in the donate life registry, which may only be accessed by the parties described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision and only for the purposes of determining donor status at or near the time of death of an individual, by the department for any purpose, by the contractor only for purposes of quality assessment and improvement, technical support and donor services, or by individual registrants for the purposes of confirming the accuracy and validity of their registration or making, amending or revoking their registration.

§ 4364. Licensure of banks and storage facilities. 1. No person shall own or operate a bank or storage facility that conducts procurement activity in New York state unless a license has been issued pursuant to this article.

2. No bank or storage facility shall sell or otherwise transfer tissue for valuable consideration. Valuable consideration shall not include reasonable costs associated with the procurement, processing, storage and distribution of tissue. Nothing herein shall impair the provisions of section forty-three hundred seven of this chapter.

6. The commissioner is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

§ 4365. Powers and duties of the commissioner. 1. The commissioner, in consultation with the transplant council, may promulgate regulations to establish standards for banks and storage facilities other than those owned or operated by the office of mental health. Such standards may provide for the following: the organizational structure of banks and storage facilities; the geographic scope of licensed banks and storage facilities; donor selection and solicitation practices; tissue and non-transplant organ retrieval practices; transportation practices; required clinical laboratory tests for suitable donors, recipients and tissue; histocompatibility standards; allocation criteria; reporting requirements; record keeping requirements; accounting procedures; staff requirements; the content of agreements with hospitals from which tissues and non-transplant organs will be procured; and the content of agreements with organ procurement organizations, educational institutions, other banks and storage facilities, and other entities providing services to banks or storage facilities in connection with the procurement, storage, and distribution of tissue and non-transplant organs. 2. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of article five of this chapter, the commissioner, in consultation with the transplant council, may promulgate regulations to establish quality control standards governing tissue typing conducted by or at the request of organ procurement organizations and facilities performing transplant services. Such regulations may eliminate duplicative testing by laboratories by limiting within a service area the performance of histocompatibility matching and tissue typing services for cadaveric organ donations for transplantation in New York state.

3. At least sixty days prior to the commissioner's final approval of rules and regulations proposed pursuant to this article, other than emergency rules and regulations, the commissioner shall submit such proposed rules and regulations to the council for its review. The council shall review such rules and regulations and submit its recommendations to the commissioner within sixty days. The commissioner shall not act in a manner inconsistent with the recommendations of the council without first providing to the council a written explanation of the reasons therefor.

4. The commissioner, in consultation with the transplant council, shall promulgate regulations on the donation of ova. Such regulations shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) guidelines and procedures for obtaining fully informed consent from potential donors, including but not limited to a full disclosure of any known or potential health risks of the ova donation process;

(b) the development and distribution, in printed form and on the department's website, of informational material relating to the donation of ova;

(c) the establishment of a voluntary central tracking registry of ova donor information, as reported by banks and storage facilities licensed pursuant to this article upon the affirmative consent of an ova donor. Such registry shall provide a means for gathering and maintaining accurate information on the:

(i) number of ova and the number of times ova have been donated from a single donor;

(ii) health information of the donor at the time of the donation; and

(iii) other information deemed appropriate by the commissioner.

In addition, all such regulations shall maintain the anonymity of the donor and any resulting offspring and govern access to information maintained by the registry. Such registry shall comply with all state and federal laws and regulations related to maintaining the privacy and confidentiality of records contained within the registry; and

(d) the development of best practices and procedures, in consultation with the American college of obstetricians and gynecologists, American society for reproductive medicine and other medical organizations, for ova donation, ova retrieval, and in vitro fertilization for the protection of the health and safety of the donor.

5. The commissioner may inquire into the operation of banks and storage facilities and may conduct periodic inspections of banks and storage facilities including methods, procedures, materials, staff and equipment.

6. Organ procurement organizations, banks, storage facilities, and other persons engaged in procurement activities shall submit, in a form prescribed by the department, periodic reports of procurement, storage and distribution activities and such other information as the commissioner may require to carry out the provisions of this article. Where available, the commissioner shall utilize information reported by organ procurement organizations to the organ procurement and transplantation network established pursuant to section three hundred seventy-two of the federal public health services act.

7. In consultation with the transplant council, the commissioner is authorized to establish subcategories of licenses based upon the tissue and non-transplant organs to be procured or stored by banks and storage facilities and the activities to be conducted and may include different standards for each subcategory of license.

8. Nothing contained within this article shall limit the authority of the council on human blood and transfusion services to adopt rules and regulations concerning blood and bone marrow in accordance with article thirty-one of this chapter.

9. The commissioner, in cooperation and consultation with the transplant council and other interested parties, shall develop and distribute, in printed form and on the department's internet website, informational materials relating to the live donation of organs and tissue, including, but not limited to:

- (d) the protections and benefits granted pursuant to the living donor protection act of two thousand eighteen.

§ 4366. Enforcement. 1. The commissioner may revoke, suspend, limit or annul, a bank or storage facility license or may fine the holder thereof on proof that the license holder or one or more persons in its employ:

(a) has engaged in misrepresentation in obtaining the license or in the operation of the bank or storage facility;

(b) has engaged or attempted to engage in or represented itself as being entitled to perform any procurement or storage activity not authorized in the license;

(c) has demonstrated incompetence or has shown recurrent errors in the performance of procurement or storage activities;

(d) has been convicted of a felony.

2. No license shall be revoked, suspended, limited, or annulled or fine imposed without an opportunity for a hearing; provided, however, that a license may be temporarily suspended without a hearing for a period not in excess of sixty days upon notice to the license holder following a finding by the commissioner or his designee that the public health, safety, or welfare is in imminent danger.

(a) the commissioner or his designee shall fix a time and place for the hearing;

(b) a copy of the charges, together with a notice of the time and place of the hearing, shall be mailed to the license holder at the address of the bank or storage facility;

(c) all orders or determinations hereunder shall be subject to review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules.

3. The supreme court may enjoin violations or threatened violations of any provisions of this article or of the rules and regulations issued thereunder. Upon request of the commissioner, the attorney general shall maintain an action in the supreme court in the name of the people of the state to enjoin any such violation.

§ 4367. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 4368. New York state gift of life medal of honor. The governor shall establish a program for public recognition of organ, tissue and bone marrow donors and their families for their life saving contributions. The governor shall commission the design, with the advice and consent of the department and the transplant council established pursuant to section forty-three hundred sixty-one of this article, of the "New York State gift of life medal of honor". Such medal shall be awarded annually to honor the memory of all individual organ donors or the gifts of donor families. Persons who donate bone marrow shall also be eligible to be awarded the medal. The department and the transplant council shall be responsible for nominating and choosing recipients, and for overseeing and maintaining such program.

§ 4369. Bone marrow registry information. 1. The commissioner, in consultation with health care practitioners and others with expertise in bone marrow donation and transplant and with the assistance of the transplant council as appropriate, shall develop and make available information regarding bone marrow donation and registries, including but not limited to the National Marrow Donor Program "Be The Match Registry" registry and The Bone Marrow Foundation. Such information shall include, but not be limited to:

- (a) the need for bone marrow donations;
- (b) patient populations that would benefit from bone marrow donations;
- (c) how to join a bone marrow registry; and
- (d) how to acquire a free buccal swab kit from a bone marrow registry.

2. The information required by this section shall be made available on the department's website in a printable format to allow the public to access such information and for health care practitioners providing primary care to provide such information to patients who are eighteen years of age or older and under forty-five years of age who are not registered with a bone marrow registry.

TITLE 2
LIVING ORGAN DONATION

Section 4370. Definitions.

4371. Reimbursement of living donor expenses.

4372. Transplant education of patients with kidney disease or end stage renal failure.

§ 4370. Definitions. As used in this title, the following terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

1. "Living donation" means the gift by an individual of an organ of that individual's body to be transplanted into another individual's body, the gift to be executed while the donating individual is living and with the intent that the donating individual will continue to live after the execution of the gift.

2. "Living donor" means: (a) an individual who makes a living donation; or

(b) an individual who incurs expenses as part of the living donation screening and evaluation process but that, through no decision or judgment of their own, does not become an actual living donor.

3. "Living donor expenses" means financial costs incurred by a living donor that arise due to the act of living donation and its consequences, that are subject to reimbursement under section forty-three hundred seventy-one of this title.

4. "Living donor support program" or "program" means the living donor support program established under section forty-three hundred seventy-one of this title.

5. "Paired donation" means a living donation in which the living donor's organ is incompatible with the ultimate intended recipient and the living donor's organ is transplanted into another recipient, and in turn another living donor makes a living donation, directly or through one or more paired donations, to the ultimate intended recipient of the initial living donor.

§ 4371. Reimbursement of living donor expenses. 1. The living donor support program is hereby established in the department.

2. (a) Subject to appropriations therefor, the program shall pay the living donor expenses for living donors who are residents of the state and make a living donation in which the ultimate recipient, either directly or through paired donation is a resident of the state. The commissioner through regulations shall establish eligible living donor expenses that are eligible for reimbursement under the program which shall include at a minimum: lost wages (including demonstrated lost non-employment income) or the economic value of sick or vacation days expended; travel and lodging, child care and elder care expenses; and costs of medications and care associated with the living donation surgery that are not covered by health insurance. The total period of time related to lost wages or expended sick or vacation days shall not exceed four weeks unless special circumstances are demonstrated, such as the nature of physical labor required for the living donor's employment; provided that the total period shall in no event exceed eight weeks. The commissioner may, by regulation, impose reasonable limitations on: (i) the amount of lost wages for a living donor making an income in excess of an annual rate of one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars; or (ii) the amount of living donor expenses above fourteen thousand dollars for any single living donor; and may include additional living donor expenses including reimbursement for costs of care performed by relatives or family members of the living donor.

(b) The program shall not pay reimbursement for expenses paid or required to be paid for by any third-party payer, including wages or other expenses that were covered under paid medical leave by the living donor's employer or that are covered by other sources of reimbursement such as the federal National Living Donor Assistance Program. The program shall be the payer of last resort with respect to any benefit under the program.

(c) Living donor expenses shall be reimbursed as close in time as possible to their being incurred by the donor, including by pre-payment where practicable.

3. (a) The commissioner may contract for the administration of reimbursement under the program. Factors such as cost to the state, ease of use for the living donor, and ease of use for transplant center hospitals shall be taken into consideration when awarding such contract.

(b) The commissioner shall make regulations to implement this section.

(c) This section shall be interpreted so as not to conflict with the federal National Organ Transplant Act (42 U.S.C. 274e).

§ 4372. Transplant education of patients with kidney disease or end stage renal failure. Nephrologists and primary care providers with primary responsibility of caring for patients with chronic kidney disease stage three or four, or end stage renal disease, shall provide patients with current and evidence based printed educational materials about the progression of kidney disease and relevant prevention and treatment options, including transplantation.

§ 4400. Statement of policy and purposes. Encouraging the expansion of health care services options available to the citizens of the state is a matter of vital state concern. Without such an expansion, increased health insurance and other benefits will continue to escalate the costs of medical care and overload the health care delivery system. The health maintenance organization concept, through which members of an enrolled population are each entitled to receive comprehensive health services for an advance or periodic charge, represents a promising new alternative for the delivery of a full range of health care services at a reasonable cost.

Accordingly, it shall be the policy of this state to expand the health care services options available, and to assure greater choice in the selection of a health care plan, by removal of legal and other impediments to the development of competitive health maintenance organizations acceptable to the public.

It is the intent of the legislature that the commissioner therefore establish a comprehensive system of authorization and regulation of health maintenance organizations in the state, as provided in this article, in order to assure that health services of good quality be provided to all citizens who choose to take advantage of that alternative to meet their health care needs. The commissioner shall cooperate with the superintendent of financial services and with other state officials and agencies which establish standards and requirements pertaining to the provision and financing of health care services in order to assure necessary, equitable and consistent state supervision of all health care systems without duplication of inspection or services.

§ 4401. Definitions. For the purpose of this article: 1. "Health maintenance organization" or "organization" means any person, natural or corporate, or any groups of such persons who enter into an arrangement, agreement or plan or any combination of arrangements or plans which propose to provide or offer, or which do provide or offer, a comprehensive health services plan.

2. "Comprehensive health services plan" or "plan" means a plan through which each member of an enrolled population is entitled to receive comprehensive health services in consideration for a basic advance or periodic charge. A plan may include the provision of health care services which are covered by the organization at the election of enrollees by health care providers not participating in the plan pursuant to a contract, employment or other association to the extent authorized in section forty-four hundred six of this article; provided, however, that in no event shall an enrollee elect to have a non-participating provider serve as the enrollee's primary care practitioner responsible for supervising and coordinating the care of the enrollee.

3. "Comprehensive health services" means all those health services which an enrolled population might require in order to be maintained in good health, and shall include, but shall not be limited to, physician services (including consultant and referral services), in-patient and out-patient hospital services, diagnostic laboratory and therapeutic and diagnostic radiologic services, and emergency and preventive health services. Such term may be further defined by agreement with enrolled populations providing additional benefits necessary, desirable or appropriate to meet their health care needs.

4. "Enrolled population" means a group of persons, defined as to probable age, sex and family composition, which receives comprehensive health services from a health maintenance organization in consideration for a basic advance or periodic charge.

5. "Superintendent" means the superintendent of financial services of the state of New York.

* 6. "Comprehensive HIV special needs plan" means a health maintenance organization certified pursuant to section forty-four hundred three-c of this article which, in addition to providing or arranging for the provision of comprehensive health services on a capitated basis, including those for which medical assistance payment is authorized pursuant to section three hundred sixty-five-a of the social services law, also provides or arranges for the provision of HIV care to HIV positive persons eligible to receive benefits under title XIX of the federal social security act or other public programs.

* NB Repealed March 31, 2030

* 7. "HIV Center of excellence" is defined as a health care facility certified to operate under article twenty-eight of this chapter that offers specialized treatment expertise in HIV care services as defined by the commissioner.

* NB Repealed March 31, 2030

8. "Special needs managed care plan" shall mean a combination of persons natural or corporate, or any groups of such persons, or a county or counties, who enter into an arrangement, agreement or plan, or combination of arrangements, agreements or plans, to provide health and behavioral health services to enrollees with significant behavioral health needs.

9. "Medically fragile child" means an individual who is under twenty-one years of age and has a chronic debilitating condition or conditions, who may or may not be hospitalized or institutionalized, and meets one or more of the following criteria (a) is technologically dependent for life or health sustaining functions, (b) requires a complex medication regimen or medical interventions to maintain or to improve their health status, or (c) is in need of ongoing assessment or intervention to prevent serious deterioration of their health status or medical complications that place their life, health or development at risk. Chronic debilitating conditions include bronchopulmonary dysplasia, cerebral palsy, congenital heart disease, microcephaly, pulmonary hypertension, and muscular dystrophy. The term "medically fragile child" shall also include traumatic brain injury, the nature of which typically requires care in a specialty care center for medically fragile children, even though the child does not have a chronic debilitating condition or also meet one of the three conditions of this subdivision. Notwithstanding the definitions set forth in this subdivision, any patient which has received prior approval from a health maintenance organization for admission to a specialty care facility for medically fragile children shall be considered a medically fragile child at least until discharge from that facility occurs.

§ 4402. Health maintenance organizations; application for certificate of authority. 1. No person or groups of persons may operate a health maintenance organization or issue a contract to an enrollee for membership in a comprehensive health services plan without first obtaining a certificate of authority from the commissioner.

2. In order to receive such a certificate of authority, a person or persons, hereinafter designated as the applicant, intending to operate a health maintenance organization shall file an application for such certificate on such form as the commissioner shall prescribe, and shall provide to the satisfaction of the commissioner the following:

(a) a copy of each of the basic organizational documents and agreements of the applicant and all participating entities, including all contracts and agreements relating to the provision of comprehensive health services;

(b) a copy of the bylaws, rules and regulations on internal governing documents of the applicant;

(c) a list of the names, addresses and official positions of the persons comprising the applicant and all entities referred to in paragraph (a) other than those possessing a valid operating certificate under the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter, including all owners of record or beneficial, all members of the governing body, the officers and directors in the case of a corporation, and the partners or members in the case of a partnership or corporation, and the agent for service of process;

(d) a statement of the financial condition of the organization, including, if appropriate, an income statement, balance sheet and projected sources and uses of funds;

(e) a statement generally describing the proposed operation of the health maintenance organization as to the location of its facilities, the type and quantity of health care personnel engaged to provide services, its quality assurance mechanism, its grievance procedure, participating hospitals and such other data as may be required by the commissioner;

(f) a copy of each enrollee contract filed with and approved by the superintendent pursuant to section forty-four hundred six of this article; and

(g) such other information as may be required by the commissioner to make the determinations required in section forty-four hundred three of this article.

§ 4403. Health maintenance organizations; issuance of certificate of authority. 1. The commissioner shall not issue a certificate of authority to an applicant therefor unless the applicant demonstrates that:

(a) it has defined a proposed enrolled population to which the health maintenance organization proposes to provide comprehensive health services and has established a mechanism by which that population may advise in determining the policies of the organization;

(b) it has the capability of organizing, marketing, managing, promoting and operating a comprehensive health services plan;

(c) it is financially responsible and may be expected to meet its obligations to its enrolled members. For the purpose of this paragraph, "financially responsible" means that the applicant shall assume full financial risk on a prospective basis for the provision of comprehensive health services, including hospital care and emergency medical services within the area served by the plan, except that it may require providers to share financial risk under the terms of their contract, it may have financial incentive arrangements with providers or it may obtain insurance or make other arrangements for the cost of providing comprehensive health services to enrollees; any insurance or other arrangement required by this paragraph shall be approved as to adequacy by the superintendent as a prerequisite to the issuance of any certificate of authority by the commissioner;

(d) the character, competence, and standing in the community of the proposed incorporators, directors, sponsors or stockholders, are satisfactory to the commissioner;

(e) the prepayment mechanism of its comprehensive health services plan, the bases upon which providers of health care are compensated, and the anticipated use of allied health personnel are conducive to the use of ambulatory care and the efficient use of hospital services;

(f) acceptable procedures have been established to monitor the quality of care provided by the plan, which, in the case of services provided by non-participating providers, shall be limited to the provision of reports to the primary care practitioner responsible for supervising and coordinating the care of the enrollee;

(g) approved mechanisms exist to resolve complaints and grievances initiated by any enrolled member; and

(h) the contract between the enrollee and the organization meet the requirements of the superintendent as set forth in section forty-four hundred six of this article, as to the provisions contained therein for health services, the procedures for offering, renewing, converting and terminating contracts to enrollees, and the rates for such contracts including but not limited to, compliance with the provisions of section one thousand one hundred nine of the insurance law.

2. The commissioner may adopt and amend rules and regulations pursuant to the state administrative procedure act to effectuate the purposes and provisions of this article. Such regulations may include rules and procedures addressing the provision of emergency services, including patient notification, obtaining authorization for treatment, transfer of patients from one facility to another and emergency transportation arrangements.

3. Nothing contained in this section shall preclude any person or persons in developing a health maintenance organization from contacting potential participants to discuss the health care services such organization would offer, prior to the granting of a certificate of authority.

4. Nothing in this article shall preclude any health maintenance organization from meeting the requirements of any federal law which would authorize such health maintenance organization to receive federal financial assistance or which would authorize enrollees to receive assistance from federal funds.

5. (a) The commissioner, at the time of initial licensure, at least every three years thereafter, and upon application for expansion of service area, shall ensure that the health maintenance organization maintains a network of health care providers adequate to meet the comprehensive health needs of its enrollees and to provide an appropriate choice of providers sufficient to provide the services covered under its enrollee's contracts by determining that (i) there are a sufficient number of geographically accessible participating providers; (ii) there are opportunities to select from at least three primary care providers pursuant to travel and distance time standards, providing that such standards account for the conditions of accessing providers in rural areas; (iii) there are sufficient providers in each area of specialty practice to meet the needs of the enrollment population; (iv) there is no exclusion of any appropriately licensed type of provider as a class; and (v) contracts entered into with health care providers neither transfer financial risk to providers, in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of paragraph (c) of subdivision one of this section, nor penalize providers for unfavorable case mix so as to jeopardize the quality of or enrollees' appropriate access to medically necessary services; provided, however, that payment at less than prevailing fee for service rates or capitation shall not be deemed or presumed prima facie to jeopardize quality or access.

(b) The following criteria shall be considered by the commissioner at the time of a review: (i) the availability of appropriate and timely care that is provided in compliance with the standards of the Federal Americans with Disability Act to assure access to health care for the enrollee population; (ii) the network's ability to provide culturally and linguistically competent care to meet the needs of the enrollee population; (iii) the availability of appropriate and timely care that is in compliance with the standards of the Paul Wellstone and Pete Domenici Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008, 42 U.S.C. 18031(j), and any amendments to, and federal guidance and regulations issued under those Acts, which shall include an analysis of the rate of out-of-network utilization for covered mental health and substance use disorder services as compared to the rate of out-of-network utilization for the respective category of medical services; (iv) with the exception of initial licensure, the number of grievances filed by enrollees relating to waiting times for appointments, appropriateness of referrals and other indicators of plan capacity; and regulations to be promulgated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall determine standards for network adequacy for mental health and substance use disorder treatment services, including sub-acute care in a residential facility, assertive community treatment services, critical time intervention services and mobile crisis intervention services and propose regulations, in consultation with the superintendent of financial services, the commissioner of the office of mental health and the commissioner of the office of addiction services and supports by December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-three.

(c) Each organization shall report on an annual basis the number of enrollees and the number of participating providers in each organization.

6. (a) If a health maintenance organization determines that it does not have a health care provider with appropriate training and experience in its panel or network to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee, the health maintenance organization shall make a referral to an appropriate provider, pursuant to a treatment plan approved by the health maintenance organization in consultation with the primary care provider, the non-participating provider and the enrollee or enrollee's designee, at no additional cost to the enrollee beyond what the enrollee would otherwise pay for services received within the network.

(b) A health maintenance organization shall have a procedure by which an enrollee who needs ongoing care from a specialist may receive a standing referral to such specialist. If the health maintenance organization, or the primary care provider in consultation with the medical director of the organization and specialist if any, determines that such a standing referral is appropriate, the organization shall make such a referral to a specialist. In no event shall a health maintenance organization be required to permit an enrollee to elect to have a non-participating specialist, except pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision. Such referral shall be pursuant to a treatment plan approved by the health maintenance organization in consultation with the primary care provider, the specialist, and the enrollee or the enrollee's designee. Such treatment plan may limit the number of visits or the period during which such visits are authorized and may require the specialist to provide the primary care provider with regular updates on the specialty care provided, as well as all necessary medical information.

(c) A health maintenance organization shall have a procedure by which a new enrollee upon enrollment, or an enrollee upon diagnosis, with (i) a life-threatening condition or disease or (ii) a degenerative and disabling condition or disease, either of which requires specialized medical care over a prolonged period of time, may receive a referral to a specialist with expertise in treating the life-threatening or degenerative and disabling disease or condition who shall be responsible for and capable of providing and coordinating the enrollee's primary and specialty care. If the health maintenance organization, or primary care provider in consultation with a medical director of the organization and a specialist, if any, determines that the enrollee's care would most appropriately be coordinated by such a specialist, the organization shall refer the enrollee to such specialist. In no event shall a health maintenance organization be required to permit an enrollee to elect to have a non-participating specialist, except pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision. Such referral shall be pursuant to a treatment plan approved by the health maintenance organization, in consultation with the primary care provider if appropriate, the specialist, and the enrollee or the enrollee's designee. Such specialist shall be permitted to treat the enrollee without a referral from the enrollee's primary care provider and may authorize such referrals, procedures, tests and other medical services as the enrollee's primary care provider would otherwise be permitted to provide or authorize, subject to the terms of the treatment plan. If an organization refers an enrollee to a non-participating provider, services provided pursuant to the approved treatment plan shall be provided at no additional cost to the enrollee beyond what the enrollee would otherwise pay for services received within the network.

(d) A health maintenance organization shall have a procedure by which an enrollee with (i) a life-threatening condition or disease or (ii) a degenerative and disabling condition or disease, either of which requires specialized medical care over a prolonged period of time, may receive a referral to a specialty care center with expertise in treating the life-threatening or degenerative and disabling disease or condition.

If the health maintenance organization, or the primary care provider or the specialist designated pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision, in consultation with a medical director of the organization, determines that the enrollee's care would most appropriately be provided by such a specialty care center, the organization shall refer the enrollee to such center. In no event shall a health maintenance organization be required to permit an enrollee to elect to have a non-participating specialty care center, unless the organization does not have an appropriate specialty care center to treat the enrollee's disease or condition within its network. Such referral shall be pursuant to a treatment plan developed by the specialty care center and approved by the health maintenance organization, in consultation with the primary care provider, if any, or a specialist designated pursuant to paragraph c of this subdivision, and the enrollee or the enrollee's designee. If an organization refers an enrollee to a specialty care center that does not participate in the organization's network, services provided pursuant to the approved treatment plan shall be provided at no additional cost to the enrollee beyond what the enrollee would otherwise pay for services received within the network. For purposes of this paragraph, a specialty care center shall mean only such centers as are accredited or designated by an agency of the state or federal government or by a voluntary national health organization as having special expertise in treating the life-threatening disease or condition or degenerative and disabling disease or condition for which it is accredited or designated.

(e) (1) If an enrollee's health care provider leaves the health maintenance organization's network of providers for reasons other than those for which the provider would not be eligible to receive a hearing pursuant to paragraph a of subdivision two of section forty-four hundred six-d of this chapter, the health maintenance organization shall provide written notice to the enrollee of the provider's disaffiliation and permit the enrollee to continue an ongoing course of treatment with the enrollee's current health care provider during a transitional period of: (i) ninety days from the later of the date of the notice to the enrollee of the provider's disaffiliation from the organization's network or the effective date of the provider's disaffiliation from the organization's network; or (ii) if the enrollee is pregnant at the time of the provider's disaffiliation, the duration of the pregnancy and post-partum care directly related to the delivery.

(2) During the transitional period the health care provider shall: (i) continue to accept reimbursement from the health maintenance organization at the rates applicable prior to the start of the transitional period, and continue to accept the in-network cost-sharing from the enrollee, if any, as payment in full; (ii) adhere to the organization's quality assurance requirements and to provide to the organization necessary medical information related to such care; and (iii) otherwise adhere to the organization's policies and procedures, including but not limited to procedures regarding referrals and obtaining pre-authorization and a treatment plan approved by the organization.

* (f) If a new enrollee whose health care provider is not a member of the health maintenance organization's provider network enrolls in the health maintenance organization, the organization shall permit the enrollee to continue an ongoing course of treatment with the enrollee's current health care provider during a transitional period of up to sixty days from the effective date of enrollment, if (i) the enrollee has a life-threatening disease or condition or a degenerative and disabling disease or condition or (ii) the enrollee has entered the second trimester of pregnancy at the effective date of enrollment, in which case the transitional period shall include the provision of post-partum care directly related to the delivery. If an enrollee elects to continue to receive care from such health care provider pursuant to this paragraph, such care shall be authorized by the health maintenance organization for the transitional period only if the health care provider agrees (A) to accept reimbursement from the health maintenance organization at rates established by the health maintenance organization as payment in full, which rates shall be no more than the level of reimbursement applicable to similar providers within the health maintenance organization's network for such services; (B) to adhere to the organization's quality assurance requirements and agrees to provide to the organization necessary medical information related to such care; and (C) to otherwise adhere to the organization's policies and procedures including, but not limited to procedures regarding referrals and obtaining pre-authorization and a treatment plan approved by the organization. In no event shall this paragraph be construed to require a health maintenance organization to provide coverage for benefits not otherwise covered or to diminish or impair pre-existing condition limitations contained within the subscriber's contract.

* NB Effective until January 1, 2027

* (f) If a new enrollee whose health care provider is not a member of the health maintenance organization's provider network enrolls in the health maintenance organization, the organization shall permit the enrollee to continue an ongoing course of treatment with the enrollee's current health care provider during a transitional period of up to ninety days from the effective date of enrollment. If the enrollee is pregnant at the effective date of enrollment, the transitional period shall include the provision of care for the duration of the pregnancy and postpartum care directly related to the delivery. If an enrollee elects to continue to receive care from such health care provider pursuant to this paragraph, such care shall be authorized by the health maintenance organization for the transitional period only if the health care provider agrees: (A) to accept reimbursement from the health maintenance organization at rates established by the health maintenance organization as payment in full, which rates shall be no more than the level of reimbursement applicable to similar providers within the health maintenance organization's network for such services; (B) to adhere to the organization's quality assurance requirements and agrees to provide to the organization necessary medical information related to such care; and (C) to otherwise adhere to the organization's policies and procedures including, but not limited to, procedures regarding referrals and obtaining pre-authorization and a treatment plan approved by the organization. In no event shall this paragraph be construed to require a health maintenance organization to provide coverage for benefits not otherwise covered or to diminish or impair pre-existing condition limitations contained within the subscriber's contract.

* NB Effective January 1, 2027

7. A health maintenance organization that requires or provides for designation by an enrollee of a participating primary care provider shall permit the enrollee to designate any participating primary care provider who is available to accept such individual, and in the case of a child, shall permit the enrollee to designate a physician (allopathic or osteopathic) who specializes in pediatrics as the child's primary care provider if such provider participates in the network of the health maintenance organization.

* 8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a health maintenance organization may expand its comprehensive health services plan to include services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities, including habilitation services as defined in paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section forty-four hundred three-g of this article, and may offer such expanded plan to a population of persons with developmental disabilities, as such term is defined in the mental hygiene law, subject to the following:

(a) Such organization must have the ability to provide or coordinate services for persons with developmental disabilities, as demonstrated by criteria to be determined by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. Such criteria shall include, but not be limited to, adequate experience providing or coordinating services for persons with developmental disabilities;

(a-1) If the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities determine that such organization lacks the experience required in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the organization shall have an affiliation arrangement with an entity or entities that are non-profit organizations or organizations whose shareholders are solely controlled by non-profit organizations with experience serving persons with developmental disabilities, as demonstrated by criteria to be determined by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, with such criteria including, but not limited to, residential, day, and employment services such that the affiliated entity will coordinate and plan services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities or will oversee and approve such coordination and planning;

(a-2) Each enrollee shall receive services designed to achieve person-centered outcomes, to enable that person to live in the most integrated setting appropriate to that person's needs, and to enable that person to interact with nondisabled persons to the fullest extent possible in social, workplace and other community settings, provided that all such services are consistent with such person's wishes to the extent that such wishes are known and the individual's needs. With respect to an individual receiving non-residential services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the organization, such guidelines shall require the organization to contract with the current provider of such non-residential services at the rates established by the office for ninety days, in order to ensure continuity of care. With respect to an individual living in a residential facility operated or certified by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the organization, the organization shall contract with the provider of residential services for that residence at the rates established by the office for people with developmental disabilities for so long as such person lives in that residence pursuant to an approved plan of care;

(b) The provision by such organization of services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall be subject to the joint oversight and review of both the department and the office for people with developmental disabilities. The department and such office shall require such organization to provide comprehensive care planning, assess quality, meet quality assurance requirements and ensure the enrollee is involved in care planning.

(c) Such organization shall not provide or arrange for services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities until the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities approve program features and rates that include such services, and determine that such organization meets the requirements of this paragraph and any other requirements set forth by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities;

(d) An otherwise eligible enrollee receiving services through the organization that are operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall not be involuntarily disenrolled from such organization without the prior approval of the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. Notice shall be provided to the enrollee and the enrollee may request a fair hearing regarding such disenrollment;

(e) The office for people with developmental disabilities shall determine the eligibility of individuals receiving services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by such office to enroll in such a plan and shall enroll individuals it determines eligible in an organization chosen by such individual, guardian or other legal representative;

(f) The office for people with developmental disabilities, or its designee, shall complete a comprehensive assessment for enrollees that receive services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by such office. This assessment shall include, but not be limited to, an evaluation of the medical, social, habilitative and environmental needs of each prospective enrollee as such needs relate to such enrollee's health, safety, living environment and wishes, to the extent such wishes are known. This assessment shall also serve as the basis for the development and provision of an appropriate plan of care for the enrollee. Such plan of care shall be focused on the achievement of person-centered outcomes and shall be consistent with and help inform any other person-centered plan required for the enrollee by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. The initial assessment shall be completed by such office or its designee other than the organization and shall be completed, in consultation with the prospective enrollee's health care practitioner as necessary. Reassessments shall be completed by the office or its designee, which may be the organization. The commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall prescribe the forms on which the assessment shall be made.

(f-1) Such organization shall provide the department and the office for people with developmental disabilities with a description of the proposed marketing plan and how marketing materials will be presented to persons with developmental disabilities or their authorized decision makers for the purposes of enabling them to make an informed choice.

(g) No person with a developmental disability shall be required to enroll in a comprehensive health services plan as a condition of receiving medical assistance and services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities until program features and reimbursement rates are approved by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities and until such commissioners determine that there are a sufficient number of plans authorized to coordinate care for persons with developmental disabilities pursuant to this article operating in the person's county of residence to meet the needs of persons with developmental disabilities, and that such plans meet the standards of this section.

(h) Organizations providing services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall be subject to all requirements applicable to DISCOs operating under section forty-four hundred three-g of this article with respect to quality assurance, grievances and appeals, informed choice, participating in development of plans of care and requirements with respect to marketing, to the extent that such requirements are not inconsistent with this section.

(i) The provisions of this subdivision shall only be effective if, for so long as, and to the extent that federal financial participation is available for the costs of services provided hereunder to recipients of medical assistance pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law. The commissioner shall make any necessary amendments to the state plan for medical assistance submitted pursuant to section three hundred sixty-three-a of the social services law, and/or submit one or more applications for waivers of the federal social security act, as may be necessary to ensure such federal financial participation. To the extent that the provisions of this subdivision are inconsistent with other provisions of this article or with the provisions of section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law, the provisions of this subdivision shall prevail.

9. A health maintenance organization shall have procedures for coverage of medically fragile children including those necessary to implement section forty-four hundred six-i of this article.

 § 4403-a. Special purpose certificate of authority. 1. The commissioner may issue a special purpose certificate of authority to a provider, applying on forms prescribed by the commissioner, seeking to offer a comprehensive health services plan on a prepaid contractual basis either directly, or through an arrangement, agreement or plan or combination thereof to an enrolled population, which is substantially composed of persons eligible to receive benefits under title XIX of the federal social security act or other public programs.

2. A not-for-profit corporation established to operate a hospital pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter, a government agency, an entity or a group of entities seeking to provide comprehensive health services pursuant to the provisions of this section may apply for a special purpose certificate of authority; provided, however, that a shared health facility, as defined by article forty-seven of the public health law, shall not be eligible for such a certificate.

3. The commissioner shall not issue a special purpose certificate of authority unless the applicant has demonstrated to the commissioner's satisfaction that the requirements of this article and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto have been met and will continue to be met, provided, however, that the commissioner may waive one or more of such requirements, or portions thereof, pertaining to financial risk, employer requirements and subscriber contracts if he determines that such waiver will serve to promote the efficient provision of comprehensive health services and that the proposed plan will provide an appropriate and cost-effective alternative method for the delivery of such services in a manner which will meet the needs of the population to be served.

4. (a) No contract for the provision of comprehensive health services pursuant to this section shall be entered into by a local social services district unless the commissioner certifies that all pertinent requirements with respect to financial arrangements, rates, and standards relating to arrangements for and the delivery of patient care services have been satisfied and that the contract and related arrangements will ensure access to and the delivery of high quality, appropriate medical services including an assurance that recipients' access to preventive health services is not diminished.

(b) No contract for the provision of comprehensive health services to persons eligible for medical assistance under title eleven of article five of the social services law shall be entered into without the approval of the commissioner of social services pursuant to section three hundred sixty-five-a of the social services law and the state director of the budget. The commissioner of social services shall not approve such a contract unless the contract:

(i) provides that enrollment shall be voluntary and contains provisions to ensure that persons eligible for medical assistance will be provided sufficient information regarding the plan to make an informed and voluntary choice whether to enroll or, in the event that enrollment in the entity is pursuant to section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law, provides that enrollment in the entity is governed by that section;

(ii) provides adequate safeguards to protect persons eligible for medical assistance from being misled concerning the plan and from being coerced into enrolling in the plan or, in the event that enrollment in the entity is undertaken pursuant to section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law, provides that enrollment in the entity is governed by that section;

(iii) establishes adequate opportunities for public review and comment prior to implementation of the plan;

(iv) provides adequate grievance procedures for recipients who enroll in the plan; and

(v) establishes quality assurance mechanisms.

5. A special purpose certificate of authority shall be issued to an approved provider of comprehensive health services for a maximum effective period of twenty-four months subject to the applicable provisions of section forty-four hundred four of this article and provided that federal financial participation is available for expenditures made on behalf of recipients of medical assistance. The commissioner upon application, after consultation with the commissioner of social services, may issue a certificate for an additional period of up to twenty-four months if satisfied that the plan has and will continue to demonstrate satisfactory performance and compliance with all requirements imposed for initial certification. If the plan provides comprehensive services pursuant to a contract solely to individuals eligible for medical assistance under title eleven of article five of the social services law, the certificate shall expire when (a) the medical assistance contract is revoked or expires and is not extended or renewed or (b) federal approval of the medical assistance contract is withdrawn.

6. All individuals eligible for medical assistance enrolling voluntarily in a comprehensive health services plan offered by an entity with a special purpose certificate of authority will be given thirty days from the effective date of enrollment in the plan to disenroll without cause. After this thirty day disenrollment period, all individuals participating in the plan will be enrolled for a period of six months, except that all participants will be permitted to disenroll for good cause, as defined by the commissioner of social services in regulation.

7. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of this section, the commissioner shall issue special purpose certificates of authority pursuant to this section to no more than eighteen entities other than those entities initially authorized by chapter seven hundred fifteen of the laws of nineteen hundred eighty-two and by a chapter of the laws of nineteen hundred eighty-four authorizing the Monroe county medicap demonstration project.

 § 4403-b. Development of comprehensive health services plans. The commissioner is authorized, after consultation with the commissioner of social services, and subject to the approval of the director of the budget, to make grants to diagnostic and treatment centers and general hospitals operating pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter, to aid in the planning, development and implementation of comprehensive health services plans. The total amount expended pursuant to this section shall not exceed the amount appropriated for such purposes in any fiscal year.

* NB Expires March 31, 2029

2. An applicant for certification shall submit the following information and documentation to the satisfaction of the commissioner:

(a) a copy of the applicant's basic organizational documents and agreements of the applicant and all network members, including all contracts and agreements relating to the provision of HIV services;

(b) a copy of any current licensure or certification maintained by the applicant;

(c) a description of any experience the applicant may have had in providing HIV services which are licensed, certified, funded or approved by the department, including identification of any disciplinary, administrative or criminal proceedings related to such services in the past ten years, the resolution thereof, and any other proceedings currently pending;

(d) full disclosure of the financial condition of the applicant and of members of the board, officers, controlling persons, owners and partners, including, but not limited to, a statement of the applicant's assets, resources, accounts receivable, liabilities and proposed sources and uses of funds and the most recent certified income statement and balance sheet;

(e) a demonstration of the applicant's ability to provide or continue to provide quality HIV services;

(f) a description of the geographic area served and to be served by the applicant;

(g) a description of the applicant's current capacity, and proposed capacity, to provide or arrange for the provision of comprehensive HIV services for a defined geographic area to a defined population; and

(h) such other information as the commissioner shall require.

3. The commissioner shall not issue a comprehensive HIV special needs plan certificate of authority to an applicant therefor unless the applicant demonstrates that:

(a) it has defined an enrolled population to which the comprehensive HIV special needs plan proposes to provide comprehensive HIV health services, has demonstrated a willingness to enroll any person who is eligible for enrollment within its defined catchment area and has established a mechanism by which the enrolled population may participate in determining the policies of the organization;

(b) it has defined a specific network of providers and facilities that are capable of providing comprehensive HIV special needs services to the enrolled population described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision;

(c) it has the capability of organizing, marketing, managing, promoting and operating a comprehensive HIV special needs plan;

(d) it is financially responsible and sound and may be expected to meet its obligations to its enrolled members. For the purposes of this paragraph, "financially responsible" means that the applicant is capable of assuming full financial risk on a prospective basis for the provision of comprehensive HIV special needs services within the geographic catchment area defined by the applicant except that it may allow providers to share financial risk under the terms of their contract, or it may obtain insurance or make other arrangements for the cost of providing comprehensive HIV special needs health services to enrollees; any insurance or other arrangements proposed to meet this requirement shall be approved as to adequacy as a prerequisite to the issuance of any comprehensive HIV special needs certificate of authority by the commissioner. In making a determination of financial soundness, the commissioner shall consider financial information, contracts and agreements required as part of the application for a certificate of authority and any other information that the commissioner shall deem necessary to make that determination. For purposes of this section, any grants awarded to an applicant contingent upon its approval as a HIV special needs plan certified pursuant to this section, shall be considered when making a determination of fiscal soundness;

(e) it has established a system which appropriately accounts for costs and a uniform system of reports and audits meeting the requirements of the commissioner;

(f) the character, competence and standing in the community of the proposed incorporators, directors, sponsors, or stockholders of the plan, and its network providers, are satisfactory to the commissioner;

(g) it is willing and able to assure that necessary HIV services will be provided in a timely manner to assure the availability and accessibility of adequate personnel and facilities; to assure continuity of care for enrollees; and to implement procedures for referrals, as requested, to appropriate care for affected family members of the enrolled population;

(h) the prepayment mechanism of its comprehensive HIV special needs plan, the bases upon which the providers of health care are compensated, and the anticipated use of allied health personnel are conducive to the use of ambulatory care and the efficient use of hospital services;

(i) acceptable procedures have been established for the conduct of outreach and enrollment of persons with HIV infection including persons who are homeless, substance users and other vulnerable populations;

(j) acceptable procedures have been developed to communicate with participants in a linguistically and culturally competent manner;

(k) acceptable procedures have been established to monitor the quality of care provided by the plan and to assure that all care rendered meets clinical standards of HIV care as established and maintained by the AIDS Institute of the New York state department of health;

(l) approved mechanisms exist to resolve complaints and grievances initiated by any enrolled member; and

(m) the requirements of this article and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto have been met and will continue to be met.

4. The commissioner shall not issue a comprehensive HIV special needs certificate of authority unless the applicant has demonstrated to the commissioner's satisfaction that the requirements of this article and any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto have been met and will continue to be met, provided, however, that the commissioner may impose alternative requirements, or portions thereof, particularly those related to capitalization, if he or she determines that such alternative requirements will serve to promote the high quality, efficient provision of comprehensive health services or services required by HIV positive persons, will promote the development of HIV special needs plans and that the proposed plan will provide an appropriate and cost-effective alternative method for the delivery of such services in a manner which will meet the needs of the population to be served.

5. The commissioner shall make a determination on an application after receipt of all required and requested information and documentation.

6. The commissioner shall review and approve any current or proposed contracts or agreements with current or prospective network members, and provided further, that the commissioner shall specifically review and approve any proposed provisions in such contracts or agreements with the prospective or existing network members which specify any risk sharing arrangements.

7. The commissioner may revoke, limit or annul a comprehensive HIV special needs plan certificate of authority in accordance with the provisions of section forty-four hundred four of this article.

8. A comprehensive HIV special needs plan, certified pursuant to this section, shall be responsible for providing or arranging for all medical assistance services defined under section three hundred sixty-five-a of the social services law, including delivery of a comprehensive benefit package, which shall include early and periodic screening; adolescent health; diagnosis and treatment and child/teen health screenings; referrals for necessary services; linkages to HIV counseling and testing; and HIV prevention and education activities. A comprehensive HIV special needs plan provider shall be responsible for assisting enrollees in the prudent selection of such services including but not limited to:

(a) referral, coordination, monitoring and follow-up with regard to other medical services providers, as appropriate for diagnosis and treatment, or direct provision of all medical assistance services;

(b) methods of assuring enrollees' access to specialty services outside the comprehensive HIV special needs plan's network or panel when the plan does not have a provider with the appropriate training and experience in its network to meet the particular health care needs of the participant;

(c) the establishment of appropriate utilization and referral requirements for physicians, hospitals, and other medical services providers, including emergency room visits and inpatient admissions;

(d) the creation of mechanisms to ensure the participation of HIV centers of excellence and community-based HIV care providers;

(e) implementation of procedures for managing the care of all participants, including the use of facility and community-based case managers with expertise in the care needs of persons with HIV infection, and the designation of a specialist as a primary care practitioner;

(f) development of appropriate methods of managing the HIV care needs of homeless, substance users and other vulnerable populations, who are enrolled in the comprehensive HIV special needs plan, to assure that all necessary services are made available in a timely manner, in accordance with prevailing standards of professional medical practice, and that all appropriate referrals and follow-up treatments are provided;

(g) provision of all early periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment services, as well as periodic screening and referral, to each participant under the age of twenty-one, at regular intervals and as medically appropriate;

(h) direct provision of or arrangement for the provision of comprehensive prenatal care services to all pregnant participants in accordance with standards adopted by the department of health and with statute and regulations governing HIV testing of pregnant women and newborns;

(i) implementation of procedures for written agreements, which may include contractual agreements, with community-based social service providers to ensure access to the full continuum of services needed by HIV infected persons; and

(j) permit the use of standing referrals to specialists and subspecialists for participants who require the care of such practitioners on a regular basis.

9. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a comprehensive HIV special needs plan certified pursuant to this section shall limit enrollment to HIV positive persons, except for the following persons who may be enrolled regardless of their HIV status:

(a) related children up to the age of twenty-one; and

(b) individuals who are homeless or who are members of other high need populations which, in the discretion of the commissioner, would benefit from receiving services through a plan certified pursuant to this section; provided however, that rates paid to special needs plans for such populations shall be comparable to rates paid for the same populations in other managed care plans.

10. Enrollment and disenrollment. (a) Enrollment in a comprehensive HIV special needs plan shall be voluntary and persons eligible for enrollment in such plans shall be afforded the opportunity to choose among such plans, to the extent available in the locality where the person currently resides; provided however that enrollment may be automatic after federal approval of a waiver or waivers or other federal action required to institute automatic enrollment, pursuant to applicable provisions of the federal social security act, and that persons automatically enrolled in a comprehensive HIV special needs plan shall have the opportunity to withdraw from such plan in accordance with paragraph (g) of subdivision four, paragraph (b) of subdivision three and subdivision twelve of section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law. The department shall ensure to the maximum extent practicable that individuals are provided with a choice of comprehensive HIV special needs plans.

(b) The commissioner shall promulgate regulations establishing criteria which relate to enrollment and disenrollment of enrollees in comprehensive HIV special needs plans. Comprehensive HIV special needs plans shall not request disenrollment of an enrollee based on any diagnosis, condition, or perceived diagnosis or condition, or an enrollee's efforts to exercise his or her rights under a grievance process.

(c) Prior to enrollment in a comprehensive HIV special needs plan individuals are to be provided with a full written explanation of all fee-for-service and other options and given a reasonable opportunity to choose between the comprehensive HIV special needs plan and the other options. In addition, enrollees shall be provided notice of their right to disenroll from the plan, except as otherwise provided in this subdivision.

(d) If an enrollee requests to change a provider or disenroll from a comprehensive HIV special needs plan pursuant to this subdivision, the social services district and the plan shall implement such change in a timely manner in accordance with standards established by the commissioner. When an enrollee changes comprehensive HIV special needs plan providers the plan must effectuate the timely transfer of all necessary medical records.

(e) Plans shall ensure that any new enrollee whose health care provider is not a member of the plan's provider network, who enrolls in the plan, can continue with an ongoing course of treatment with the enrollee's current health care provider during a transitional period of up to sixty days from the effective date of enrollment. If an enrollee elects to continue to receive care from such health care provider pursuant to this paragraph, such care shall be authorized by the comprehensive HIV special needs plan for the transitional period only if the health care provider agrees: (1) to accept reimbursement from the comprehensive HIV special needs plan at rates established by the plan as payment in full, which rates shall be no more than the level of reimbursement applicable to similar providers within the plan's network for such services; (2) to adhere to the plan's quality assurance requirements and agrees to provide to the plan any necessary medical information related to such care; and (3) to otherwise adhere to the plan's policies and procedures including, but not limited to procedures regarding referrals and obtaining pre-authorization and a treatment plan approved by the comprehensive HIV special needs plan. In no event shall this paragraph be construed to require a comprehensive HIV special needs plan to provide coverage for benefits not otherwise covered;

(f) Comprehensive HIV special needs plans shall ensure that for those enrollees whose health care provider leaves the comprehensive HIV special needs plan's network of providers, the enrollee shall be permitted to continue an ongoing course of treatment with such current health care provider during a transitional period of up to ninety days from the date of notice to the enrollee of the provider's disaffiliation from the plan's network. If an enrollee elects to continue to receive care from such health care provider pursuant to this paragraph, such care shall be authorized by the comprehensive HIV special needs plan for the transitional period only if the health care provider agrees: (1) to accept reimbursement from the comprehensive HIV special needs plan at rates established by the plan as payment in full, which rates shall be no more than the level of reimbursement applicable to similar providers within the plan's network for such services; (2) to adhere to the organization's quality assurance requirements and agrees to provide to the plan any necessary medical information related to such care; and (3) to otherwise adhere to the plan's policies and procedures including, but not limited to procedures regarding referrals and obtaining pre-authorization and a treatment plan approved by the comprehensive HIV special needs plan. In no event shall this paragraph be construed to require a comprehensive HIV special needs plan to provide coverage for benefits not otherwise covered;

11. The commissioner shall develop and certify capitated payment rates for comprehensive HIV special needs plans, subject to the approval of the director of the division of the budget. In developing capitation rates the commissioner shall be authorized to consider, at a minimum, the age, eligibility category, historic cost and utilization of covered enrollees and covered services, anticipated costs of emerging HIV treatment modalities and the expected impact of delivering services in a managed care environment.

12. Plans certified under this section must submit financial reports in a manner and frequency established by the commissioner.

13. The department shall establish a stop-loss reinsurance program for comprehensive HIV special needs plans. The stop-loss reinsurance program shall be designed in a manner which promotes the development and ongoing financial viability of the comprehensive HIV special needs plan by providing reasonable protection for catastrophic cases and adverse selection.

14. Quality assurance. (a) The department shall be responsible for establishing a comprehensive quality assurance program for comprehensive HIV special needs plans. This quality assurance program shall reflect clinical standards of HIV care established and maintained by the AIDS Institute in the department. The department shall monitor the performance, quality and utilization of such plans on at least an annual basis. Such plans must describe and document the existence of a formal, organized quality assurance program with the capacity to identify, address and follow-up on issues which concern the care and services delivered to enrollees. Such reviews are to include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) compliance with performance and outcome-based quality standards promulgated by the department;

(2) appropriateness, accessibility, timeliness, and quality of care delivered by such providers;

(3) referrals, coordination, monitoring and follow-up with regard to other medical service providers;

(4) methods of ensuring enrollees access to specialty services outside the plan's network or panel when the plan does not have a provider with the appropriate training and experience in the network or panel to meet the particular HIV care needs of the participant;

(5) delivery of a comprehensive benefit package, including early and periodic screening; adolescent health; diagnosis and treatment and child/teen health screenings; referrals for necessary services, and linkages to HIV counseling and testing; HIV prevention and education activities;

(6) mechanisms for the provision of all information to enrollees in clear and coherent terms that are commonly used in a culturally and linguistically appropriate and understandable manner;

(7) existence of a management information system to support quality assurance activities, which system shall provide for the collection and utilization of data including but not limited to enrollment, complaints, encounters and specific performance indicators; and

(b) the commissioner shall have access to patient specific medical information and enrollee medical records, including encounter data, maintained by a comprehensive HIV special needs plan for the purposes of quality assurance and oversight.

(c) The department shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining a uniform system of reports relating to the quality of care and services furnished by comprehensive HIV special needs plans.

15. The commissioner may revoke, limit or annul a comprehensive HIV special needs certificate of authority in accordance with the provisions of section forty-four hundred four of this article.

16. Confidentiality. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of subdivision fourteen of this section, any enrollee information maintained by a comprehensive HIV special needs plan shall be kept confidential in accordance with section forty-four hundred eight-a of this article and where applicable section 33.13 of the mental hygiene law and any other applicable state or federal law.

17. Utilization review. A comprehensive HIV special needs plan authorized under this section is required to meet requirements set forth in article forty-nine of this chapter.

18. Disclosure. Each enrollee and prospective enrollee prior to enrollment in a comprehensive HIV special needs plan shall be provided with written disclosure information related to enrollee benefits, rights and obligations pursuant to section forty-four hundred eight of this article.

19. Grievance procedure. Comprehensive HIV special needs plans authorized under this section shall be required to meet grievance procedures requirements pursuant to section forty-four hundred eight-a of this article.

20. Prohibitions. A comprehensive HIV special needs plan authorized under this section shall be required to meet the requirements set forth in section forty-four hundred six-c of this article.

21. The commissioner is authorized, subject to the approval of the director of the division of the budget, and within amounts appropriated, to make grants to those entities seeking certification to operate a comprehensive HIV special needs plan to aid in the development of the systems, organizational structures and networks necessary to operate a managed care program. The commissioner is authorized to develop criteria for distribution of the grants. The grants may also be used to meet the capitalization standards and the reserve and escrow deposit requirements established for comprehensive HIV special needs plans.

22. Comprehensive HIV special needs plans shall function distinctly from other comprehensive or non-comprehensive health plans operated by the same organization, corporation, persons, county or municipality and shall be clearly distinguished from any other functions through the maintenance of separate records, reports and accounts for the comprehensive HIV special needs plan function.

23. The commissioner shall establish reserve and escrow deposit requirements for HIV special needs plans.

24. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require that a health maintenance organization, certified pursuant to the provisions of this article, apply for a comprehensive HIV special needs plan certificate of authority pursuant to this section; provided, however, that a health maintenance organization, certified pursuant to the provisions of this article, which proposes to operate a comprehensive HIV special needs plan shall be required to comply with all the provisions of this section.

(d) "Health and long term care services" means services including, but not limited to home and community-based and institution-based long term care and ancillary services (that shall include medical supplies and nutritional supplements) that are necessary to meet the needs of persons whom the plan is authorized to enroll. The managed long term care plan may also cover primary care, acute care and behavioral health services if so authorized.

2. Certificate of authority; form. An eligible applicant shall submit an application for a certificate of authority to operate a managed long term care plan upon forms prescribed by the commissioner. Such eligible applicant shall submit information and documentation to the commissioner which shall include, but not be limited to:

(b) a description of the proposed target population and the marketing plan;

(c) adequate documentation of the appropriate licenses, certifications or approvals to provide care as planned, including contracts with such providers as may be necessary to provide the full complement of services required to be provided under this section.

3. Certificate of authority; approval. The commissioner shall not approve an application for a certificate of authority unless the applicant demonstrates to the commissioner's satisfaction:

(a) that it will have in place acceptable quality-assurance mechanisms, grievance procedures, mechanisms to protect the rights of enrollees and case management services to ensure continuity, quality, appropriateness and coordination of care;

(b) that it will include an enrollment process which shall ensure that enrollment in the plan is informed. The application shall describe the disenrollment process, which shall provide that an otherwise eligible enrollee shall not be involuntarily disenrolled on the basis of health status;

(c) satisfactory evidence of the character and competence of the proposed operators and reasonable assurance that the applicant will provide high quality services to an enrolled population;

(d) sufficient management systems capacity to meet the requirements of this section and the ability to efficiently process payment for covered services;

(h) that the contractual arrangements for providers of health and long term care services in the benefit package are sufficient to ensure the availability and accessibility of such services to the proposed enrolled population consistent with guidelines established by the commissioner; with respect to individuals in receipt of such services prior to enrollment, such guidelines shall require the managed long term care plan to contract with agencies currently providing such services, in order to promote continuity of care. In addition, such guidelines shall require managed long term care plans to offer and cover consumer directed personal assistance services for eligible individuals who elect such services pursuant to section three hundred sixty-five-f of the social services law; and

(i) that the applicant is financially responsible and may be expected to meet its obligations to its enrolled members.

4. Solvency. (a) The commissioner shall be responsible for evaluating, approving and regulating all matters relating to fiscal solvency, including reserves, surplus and provider contracts. The commissioner may promulgate regulations to implement this section. The commissioner, in the administration of this subdivision:

(i) shall be guided by the standards which govern the fiscal solvency of a health maintenance organization, provided, however, that the commissioner shall recognize the specific delivery components, operational capacity and financial capability of the eligible applicant for a certificate of authority;

(ii) shall not apply financial solvency standards that exceed those required for a health maintenance organization; and

(iii) shall establish reasonable capitalization and contingent reserve requirements.

(b) Standards established pursuant to this subdivision shall be adequate to protect the interests of enrollees in managed long term care plans. The commissioner shall be satisfied that the eligible applicant is financially sound, and has made adequate provisions to pay for services.

4-a. Role of the superintendent of financial services. (a) The superintendent of financial services shall determine and approve premiums in accordance with the insurance law whenever any population of enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act is to be covered. The determination and approval of the superintendent of financial services shall relate to premiums charged to such enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act.

(b) The superintendent of financial services shall evaluate and approve any enrollee contracts whenever such enrollee contracts are to cover any population of enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act.

5. Applicability of other laws. A managed long term care plan shall be subject to the provisions of the insurance law and regulations applicable to health maintenance organizations, this article and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto. To the extent that the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or the provisions of the insurance law, the provisions of this section shall prevail.

6. Approval authority. (a) An applicant shall be issued a certificate of authority as a managed long term care plan upon a determination by the commissioner that the applicant complies with the operating requirements for a managed long term care plan under this section. The commissioner shall issue no more than seventy-five certificates of authority to managed long term care plans pursuant to this section.

(a-1) Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring the department to contract with or to contract for a particular line of business with an entity certified under this section for the provision of services available under title eleven of article five of the social services law. A managed long term care plan that has been issued a certificate of authority, or an applicant for a certificate of authority as a managed long term care plan that has in any of the three calendar years immediately preceding the application, met any of the following criteria shall not be eligible for a contract for the provision of services available under title eleven of article five of the social services law: (i) classified as a poor performer, or substantially similar terminology, by the centers for medicare and medicaid services; or (ii) an excessive volume of penalties, statements of findings, statements of deficiency, intermediate sanctions or enforcement actions, regardless of whether the applicant has addressed such issues in a timely manner.

(b) An operating demonstration shall be issued a certificate of authority as a managed long term care plan upon a determination by the commissioner that such demonstration complies with the operating requirements for a managed long term care plan under this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the continued legal authority of an operating demonstration to operate its previously approved program.

(c) For the period beginning April first, two thousand twelve and ending March thirty-first, two thousand fifteen, the majority leader of the senate and the speaker of the assembly may each recommend to the commissioner, in writing, up to four eligible applicants to convert to be approved managed long term care plans. An applicant shall only be approved and issued a certificate of authority if the commissioner determines that the applicant meets the requirements of subdivision three of this section. The majority leader of the senate or the speaker of the assembly may assign their authority to recommend one or more applicants under this section to the commissioner.

(d) (i) Effective April first, two thousand twenty, and expiring March thirty-first, two thousand twenty-seven, the commissioner shall place a moratorium on the processing and approval of applications seeking a certificate of authority as a managed long term care plan pursuant to this section, including applications seeking authorization to expand an existing managed long term care plan's approved service area or scope of eligible enrollee populations. Such moratorium shall not apply to:

(A) applications submitted to the department prior to January first, two thousand twenty;

(B) applications seeking approval to transfer ownership or control of an existing managed long term care plan;

(C) applications demonstrating to the commissioner's satisfaction that submission of the application for consideration would be appropriate to address a serious concern with care delivery, such as a lack of adequate access to managed long term care plans in a geographic area or a lack of adequate and appropriate care, language and cultural competence, or special needs services; and

(D) applications seeking to operate under the PACE (Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly) model as authorized by federal public law 105-33, subtitle I of title IV of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, or to serve individuals dually eligible for services and benefits under titles XVIII and XIX of the federal social security act in conjunction with an affiliated Medicare Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan, based on the need for such plans and the experience of applicants in serving dually eligible individuals as determined by the commissioner in their discretion.

(ii) For the duration of the moratorium, the commissioner shall assess the public need for managed long term care plans that are not integrated with an affiliated Medicare plan, the ability of such plans to provide high quality and cost effective care for their membership, and based on such assessment develop a process and conduct an orderly wind-down and elimination of such plans, which shall coincide with the expiration of the moratorium unless the commissioner determines that a longer wind-down period is needed.

(e) For the duration of the moratorium under paragraph (d) of this subdivision, the commissioner shall establish, and enforce by means of a premium withholding equal to three percent of the base rate, an annual cap on total enrollment (enrollment cap) for each managed long term care plan, subject to subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph, based on a percentage of each plan's reported enrollment as of October first, two thousand twenty.

(i) The specific percentage of each plan's enrollment cap shall be established by the commissioner based on: (A) the ability of individuals eligible for such plans to access health and long term care services, (B) plan quality of care scores, (C) historical plan disenrollment, (D) the projected growth of individuals eligible for such plans in different regions of the state, (E) historical plan enrollment of patients with varying levels of need and acuity, and (F) other factors in the commissioner's discretion to ensure compliance with federal requirements, appropriate access to plan services, and choice by eligible individuals.

(ii) In the event that a plan exceeds its annual enrollment cap, the commissioner is authorized under this paragraph to retain all or a portion of the premium withheld based on the amount over which a plan exceeds its enrollment cap. Penalties assessed pursuant to this subdivision shall be determined by regulation.

(iii) The commissioner may not establish an annual cap on total enrollment under this paragraph for plans' lines of business operating under the PACE (Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly) model as authorized by federal public law 105-33, subtitle I of title IV of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, or that serve individuals dually eligible for services and benefits under titles XVIII and XIX of the federal social security act in conjunction with an affiliated Medicare Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan.

(f) In implementing the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this subdivision, the commissioner shall, to the extent practicable, consider and select methodologies that seek to maximize continuity of care and minimize disruption to the provider labor workforce, and shall, to the extent practicable and consistent with the ratios set forth herein, continue to support contracts between managed long term care plans and licensed home care services agencies that are based on a commitment to quality and value.

6-a. Performance standards. (a) On or before January first, two thousand twenty-four, each managed long term care plan that has been issued a certificate of authority pursuant to this section shall have an active Medicare Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan in operation whose H-contract either has a current quality star rating from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services of three stars or higher, or has not been issued a quality star rating from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. In addition, the managed long term care plan shall sufficiently demonstrate success in the following performance categories:

(i) in addition to meeting the requirements of paragraph (j) of subdivision seven of this section, in order to ensure network adequacy a commitment to contracting with an adequate number of licensed home care service agencies needed to provide necessary personal care services to the greatest practicable number of enrollees, and with an adequate number of fiscal intermediaries needed to provide necessary consumer directed personal assistance services to the greatest practicable number of enrollees in accordance with section three hundred sixty-five-f of the social services law;

(ii) readiness to timely implement and adhere to maximum wait time criteria for key categories of service in accordance with laws, rules and regulations of the department or the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services;

(iii) commitment to quality improvement;

(iv) accessibility and geographic distribution of network providers, taking into account the needs of persons with disabilities and the differences between rural, suburban, and urban settings;

(v) demonstrated cultural and language competencies specific to the population of participants;

(vi) ability to serve enrollees across the continuum of care, as demonstrated by the type and number of products the managed long term care operates or has applied to operate, including integrated care for participants who are dually eligible for Medicaid and Medicare, and those operated under title one-A of article twenty-five of this chapter and section three hundred sixty-nine-gg of the social services law; and

(vii) value based care readiness and experience.

(b) The commissioner shall require any managed long term care plan with a Medicare Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan in operation that at any time has a current quality star rating from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services of less than three stars to establish and implement a performance improvement plan acceptable to the commissioner, and which shall be consistent with the standards of the Medicare Advantage Quality Rating System.

(c) The commissioner shall have the authority to promulgate regulations to effectuate the provisions of this subdivision.

(d) The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply for managed long term care plans operating under a certificate of authority pursuant to subdivision twelve, as added by section seventy-six of part A of chapter fifty-six of the laws of two thousand thirteen, or subdivision thirteen of this section, or to the program of all-inclusive care for the elderly under article twenty-nine-EE of this chapter.

7. Program oversight and administration. (a)(i) The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to implement this section and to ensure the quality, appropriateness and cost-effectiveness of the services provided by managed long term care plans. The commissioner may waive rules and regulations of the department, including but not limited to, those pertaining to duplicative requirements concerning record keeping, boards of directors, staffing and reporting, when such waiver will promote the efficient delivery of appropriate, quality, cost-effective services and when the health, safety and general welfare of enrollees will not be impaired as a result of such waiver. In order to achieve managed long term care plan system efficiencies and coordination and to promote the objectives of high quality, integrated and cost effective care, the commissioner may establish a single coordinated surveillance process, allow for a comprehensive quality improvement and review process to meet component quality requirements, and require a uniform cost report. The commissioner shall require managed long term care plans to utilize quality improvement measures, based on health outcomes data, for internal quality assessment processes and may utilize such measures as part of the single coordinated surveillance process.

(ii) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the social services law to the contrary, the commissioner shall, pursuant to regulation, determine whether and the extent to which the applicable provisions of the social services law or regulations relating to approvals and authorizations of, and utilization limitations on, health and long term care services reimbursed pursuant to title XIX of the federal social security act, including, but not limited to, fiscal assessment requirements, are inconsistent with the flexibility necessary for the efficient administration of managed long term care plans and such regulations shall provide that such provisions shall not be applicable to enrollees or managed long term care plans, provided that such determinations are consistent with applicable federal law and regulation, and subject to the provisions of subdivision eight of section three hundred sixty-five-a of the social services law.

* (b) (i) The commissioner shall, to the extent necessary, submit the appropriate waivers, including, but not limited to, those authorized pursuant to sections eleven hundred fifteen and nineteen hundred fifteen of the federal social security act, or successor provisions, and any other waivers necessary to achieve the purposes of high quality, integrated, and cost effective care and integrated financial eligibility policies under the medical assistance program or pursuant to title XVIII of the federal social security act. In addition, the commissioner is authorized to submit the appropriate waivers, including but not limited to those authorized pursuant to sections eleven hundred fifteen and nineteen hundred fifteen of the federal social security act or successor provisions, and any other waivers necessary to require on or after April first, two thousand twelve, medical assistance recipients who are twenty-one years of age or older and who require community-based long term care services, as specified by the commissioner, for a continuous period of more than one hundred and twenty days, to receive such services through an available plan certified pursuant to this section or other program model that meets guidelines specified by the commissioner that support coordination and integration of services. Such guidelines shall address the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), and (i) of subdivision three of this section as well as payment methods that ensure provider accountability for cost effective quality outcomes. Such other program models may include long term home health care programs that comply with such guidelines. Copies of such original waiver applications and amendments thereto shall be provided to the chairs of the senate finance committee, the assembly ways and means committee and the senate and assembly health committees simultaneously with their submission to the federal government.

(ii) The commissioner, shall seek input from representatives of home and community-based long term care services providers, recipients, and the Medicaid managed care advisory review panel, among others, to further evaluate and promote the transition of persons in receipt of home and community-based long term care services into managed long term care plans and other care coordination models and to develop guidelines for such care coordination models. The guidelines shall be finalized and posted on the department's website no later than November fifteen, two thousand eleven.

(iii) Notwithstanding and in addition to any provision of subparagraph (i) of this paragraph and subject to any federal requirements, persons dually eligible for medical assistance and benefits under the federal Medicare program who are enrolled in a Medicare Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan and who do not require community-based long term care services, as specified by the commissioner, for a continuous period of more than one hundred and twenty days shall be required to enroll with an available affiliated plan certified pursuant to this section when program features and reimbursement rates are approved by the commissioner.

(v) The following medical assistance recipients shall not be eligible to participate in a managed long term care program or other care coordination model established pursuant to this paragraph until program features and reimbursement rates are approved by the commissioner and, as applicable, the commissioner of developmental disabilities:

(1) a person enrolled in a managed care plan pursuant to section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law;

(2) a participant in the traumatic brain injury waiver program or a person whose circumstances would qualify him or her for the program as it existed on January first, two thousand fifteen;

(3) a participant in the nursing home transition and diversion waiver program or a person whose circumstances would qualify him or her for the program as it existed on January first, two thousand fifteen;

(4) a person enrolled in the assisted living program;

(5) a person enrolled in home and community based waiver programs administered by the office for people with developmental disabilities;

(6) a person who is expected to be eligible for medical assistance for less than six months, for a reason other than that the person is eligible for medical assistance only through the application of excess income toward the cost of medical care and services;

(7) a person who is eligible for medical assistance benefits only with respect to tuberculosis-related services;

(8) a person receiving hospice services at time of enrollment; provided, however, that this clause shall not be construed to require an individual enrolled in a managed long term care plan or another care coordination model, who subsequently elects hospice, to disenroll from such program;

(9) a person who has primary medical or health care coverage available from or under a third-party payor which may be maintained by payment, or part payment, of the premium or cost sharing amounts, when payment of such premium or cost sharing amounts would be cost-effective, as determined by the social services district;

(10) a person receiving family planning services pursuant to subparagraph six of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section three hundred sixty-six of the social services law;

(11) a person who is eligible for medical assistance pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision four of section three hundred sixty-six of the social services law;

(12) Native Americans;

(13) a person who is permanently placed in a nursing home for a consecutive period of three months or more. In implementing this provision, the department shall continue to support service delivery and outcomes that result in community living for enrollees; and

(14) a person who has not been assessed as needing at least limited assistance with physical maneuvering with more than two activities of daily living, or for individuals with a dementia or Alzheimer's diagnosis, assessed as needing at least supervision with more than one activity of daily living, as defined and determined using an evidenced based validated assessment instrument approved by the commissioner and in accordance with applicable state and federal law and regulations of the department, provided that the provisions of this clause shall not apply to a person who has been continuously enrolled in a managed long term care program beginning prior to October first, two thousand twenty.

(v-a) For purposes of clause two of subparagraph (v) of this paragraph, program features shall be substantially comparable to those services available to traumatic brain injury waiver participants as of January first, two thousand fifteen, subject to federal financial participation.

(v-c) Any managed care program providing services under clause two or three of subparagraph (v) of this paragraph shall have an adequate network of trained providers to meet the needs of enrollees and provide services under this subdivision.

(v-d) Any individual providing service coordination pursuant to subparagraph (v-a) or (v-b) of this paragraph shall exercise his or her professional duties in the interests of the patient. Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed as diminishing the authority and obligations of a managed long term care plan under this article and article forty-nine of this chapter.

(vi) persons required to enroll in the managed long term care program or other care coordination model established pursuant to this paragraph shall have no less than thirty days to select a managed long term care provider, and shall be provided with information to make an informed choice. Where a participant has not selected such a provider, the commissioner shall assign such participant to a managed long term care provider, taking into account consistency with any prior community-based direct care workers having recently served the recipient, quality performance criteria, capacity and geographic accessibility. During the period prior to receiving services from a managed long term care provider assigned under this subparagraph, the person may receive services under fee for service Medicaid.

(vii) If another long term care plan certified under this section is available, medical assistance recipients required to enroll in such plans pursuant to this section, including recipients who have been assigned to a provider by the commissioner, may change plans without cause within ninety days of either notification of enrollment or the effective date of enrollment into a plan, whichever is later, by submitting a request to the entity designated by the department in a format to be determined by the department. In accordance with federal statutes and regulations, after such ninety-day period, the department may prohibit a recipient from changing plans more frequently than once every twelve months, except for good cause. Good cause may include poor quality of care, lack of access to covered services, lack of access to providers experienced in dealing with the enrollee's care needs, or as otherwise determined by the commissioner.

(viii) Managed long term care provided and plans certified or other care coordination model established pursuant to this paragraph shall comply with the provisions of paragraphs (d), (i), (t), and (u) and subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (a) and subparagraph (iv) of paragraph (e) of subdivision four of section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law.

(ix) (1) The commissioner shall report biannually on the implementation of this subdivision. The reports shall include, but not be limited to:

(A) satisfaction of enrollees with care coordination/case management; timeliness of care;

(B) service utilization data including changes in the level, hours, frequency, and types of services and providers;

(C) enrollment data, including auto-assignment rates by plan;

(D) quality data; and

(E) continuity of care for participants as they move to managed long term care, with respect to community based and nursing home populations, including pediatric nursing home populations, and medically fragile children being served by home care agencies affiliated with pediatric nursing homes and diagnostic and treatment centers primarily serving medically fragile children.

(2) The commissioner shall publish the report on the department's website and provide notice to the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the chair of the senate standing committee on health, the chair of the assembly health committee and the Medicaid Managed Care Advisory Review Panel upon availability of the report. The initial report shall be provided by September first, two thousand twelve. The reports shall be made available by each February first, and September first thereafter. Such reports shall be formatted to allow comparisons between plans.

* NB Effective until April 1, 2027

* (b) The commissioner shall, to the extent necessary, submit the appropriate waivers, including, but not limited to, those authorized pursuant to sections eleven hundred fifteen and nineteen hundred fifteen of the federal social security act, or successor provisions, and any other waivers necessary to achieve the purposes of high quality, integrated, and cost effective care and integrated financial eligibility policies under the medical assistance program or pursuant to title XVIII of the federal social security act. Copies of such original waiver applications shall be provided to the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee simultaneously with their submission to the federal government.

* NB Effective April 1, 2027

(c)(i) A managed long term care plan shall not use deceptive or coercive marketing methods to encourage participants to enroll. A managed long term care plan shall not distribute marketing materials to potential enrollees before such materials have been approved by the commissioner.

(ii) The commissioner shall ensure, through periodic reviews of managed long term care plans, that enrollment was an informed choice; such plan has only enrolled persons whom it is authorized to enroll, and plan services are promptly available to enrollees when appropriate. Such periodic reviews shall be made according to standards as determined by the commissioner in regulations.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the commissioner may issue a request for proposals to carry out reviews of enrollment and assessment activities in managed long term care plans and operating demonstrations with respect to enrollees eligible to receive services under title XIX of the federal social security act to determine if enrollment meets the requirements of subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (c) of this subdivision; and that assessments of such enrollees' health, functional and other status, for the purpose of adjusting premiums, were accurate.

(e) The commissioner may, in his or her discretion for the purpose of protection of enrollees, impose measures including, but not limited to, bans on further enrollments and requirements for use of enrollment brokers until any identified problems are resolved to the satisfaction of the commissioner.

(f) Continuation of a certificate of authority issued under this section shall be contingent upon satisfactory performance by the managed long term care plan in the delivery, continuity, accessibility, cost effectiveness and quality of the services to enrolled members; compliance with applicable provisions of this section and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; the continuing fiscal solvency of the organization; and, federal financial participation in payments on behalf of enrollees who are eligible to receive services under title XIX of the federal social security act.

(g) * (i) Managed long term care plans and demonstrations may enroll eligible persons in the plan or demonstration upon the completion of a comprehensive assessment that shall include, but not be limited to, an evaluation of the medical, social, cognitive, and environmental needs of each prospective enrollee in such program. This assessment shall also serve as the basis for the development and provision of an appropriate plan of care for the enrollee, including appropriate community-based referrals. Upon approval of federal waivers pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subdivision which require medical assistance recipients who require community-based long term care services to enroll in a plan, and upon approval of the commissioner, a plan may enroll an applicant who is currently receiving home and community-based services and complete the comprehensive assessment within thirty days of enrollment provided that the plan continues to cover transitional care until such time as the assessment is completed.

* NB Effective until April 1, 2027

* (i) Managed long term care plans and demonstrations may enroll eligible persons in the plan or demonstration upon the completion of a comprehensive assessment that shall include, but not be limited to, an evaluation of the medical, social and environmental needs of each prospective enrollee in such program. This assessment shall also serve as the basis for the development and provision of an appropriate plan of care for the prospective enrollee, including appropriate community-based referrals.

* NB Effective April 1, 2027

(ii) The assessment shall be completed by a representative of the managed long term care plan or demonstration, in consultation with the prospective enrollee's health care practitioner as necessary. The commissioner shall prescribe the forms on which the assessment shall be made.

(iii) The enrollment application shall be submitted by the managed long term care plan or demonstration to the entity designated by the department prior to the commencement of services under the managed long term care plan or demonstration. Enrollments conducted by a plan or demonstration shall be subject to review and audit by the department or a contractor selected pursuant to paragraph (d) of this subdivision.

(iv) Continued enrollment in a managed long term care plan or demonstration paid for by government funds shall be based upon a comprehensive assessment of the medical, social and environmental needs of the recipient of the services. Such assessment shall be performed at least annually by the managed long term care plan serving the enrollee. The commissioner shall prescribe the forms on which the assessment will be made.

(h) * The commissioner and, in the case of a plan arranging for or providing services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities, the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall, upon request by a managed long term care plan or operating demonstration, and consistent with federal regulations promulgated pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, share with such plan or demonstration the following data if it is available:

* NB Effective until December 31, 2027

* The commissioner shall, upon request by a managed long term care plan or operating demonstration, and consistent with federal regulations promulgated pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, share with such plan or demonstration the following data if it is available:

* NB Effective December 31, 2027

(i) information concerning utilization of services and providers by each of its enrollees prior to and during enrollment, including but not limited to utilization of emergency department services, prescription drugs, and hospital and nursing facility admissions.

(ii) aggregate data concerning utilization and costs for enrollees and for comparable cohorts served through the Medicaid fee-for-service program.

(j) Limitations on licensed home care service agency contracts. (i) The commissioner may establish methodologies to limit the number of licensed home care services agencies licensed pursuant to article thirty-six of the public health law with which managed long term care plans may enter into contracts, provided that such limitations are consistent with the specifications set forth in this paragraph.

(ii) Managed long term care plans operating in the city of New York and/or the counties of Nassau, Suffolk, and Westchester may enter into contracts with licensed home care services agencies in such region in a maximum number calculated based upon the following methodology:

(A) As of October first, two thousand eighteen, one contract per seventy-five members enrolled in the plan within such region; and

(B) As of October first, two thousand nineteen, one contract per one hundred members enrolled in the plan within such region.

(iii) Managed long term care plans operating in counties other than those in the city of New York and the counties of Nassau, Suffolk, and Westchester may enter into contracts with licensed home care services agencies in such region in a maximum number calculated based upon the following methodology:

(A) As of October first, two thousand eighteen, one contract per forty-five members enrolled in the plan within such region.

(B) As of October first, two thousand nineteen, one contract per sixty members enrolled in the plan within such region.

(iv) Notwithstanding subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph, a managed long term care plan shall not enter into less than the number of contracts with licensed home care services agencies in each county in which the plan operates as is necessary to remain consistent with network adequacy standards, as determined by the department in accordance with federal regulations.

(v) When calculating the number of additional contracts that a managed long term care plan may enter using the methodologies established pursuant to this paragraph, any fractional result shall be rounded down.

(vi) The commissioner may increase the number of licensed home care services agencies with which a managed long term care plan may contract, on a county by county basis, if the commissioner determines that such increase is necessary to: ensure adequate access to services in the geographic area including, but not limited to, special needs services and services that are culturally and linguistically appropriate; or to avoid disruption in services in the geographic area.

(vii) Any licensed home care services agency that ceases operation as a result of this paragraph shall conform with all applicable requirements, including but not limited to demonstrating to the department's satisfaction continuity of care for individuals receiving services from the agency.

(viii) The commissioner may require managed long term care plans to provide evidence of compliance with this paragraph, on an annual basis.

(ix) In implementing the provisions of this paragraph, the commissioner shall, to the extent practicable, consider and select methodologies that seek to maximize continuity of care and minimize disruption to the provider labor workforce, and shall, to the extent practicable and consistent with the ratios set forth herein, continue to support contracts between managed long term care plans and licensed home care services agencies that are based on a commitment to quality and value.

(x) This subparagraph applies where implementation of the limits on contracts with licensed home care service agencies of this paragraph (i) would otherwise require an enrollee's care to be transferred from the enrollee's current licensed home care service agency to another licensed care service agency, and (ii) the enrollee (or the enrollee's authorized representative) wants the enrollee to continue to be cared for by one or more employees of the current licensed home care service agency, and that continuation would otherwise be provided. In such a case: the enrollee's managed long term care plan may contract with the enrollee's current licensed home care service agency for the purpose of continuing the enrollee's care by such employee or employees, and the contract shall not count towards the limits on contracts under this paragraph for a period of three months.

(k) Increased rates, terms or scope of payment for behavioral health services under this section, where payment is made by an entity under this section, as a result of a rate, coverage or other change made pursuant to a law, regulation, rule or official guidance, shall be deemed in effect on the same date that such change would have taken effect if payment were made other than by the entity. Where payment is not made as of the effective date, the entity shall make retroactive payments to the appropriate service providers.

8. Payment rates for managed long term care plan enrollees eligible for medical assistance. The commissioner shall establish payment rates for services provided to enrollees eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act. Such payment rates shall be subject to approval by the director of the division of the budget and shall reflect savings to both state and local governments when compared to costs which would be incurred by such program if enrollees were to receive comparable health and long term care services on a fee-for-service basis in the geographic region in which such services are proposed to be provided. Payment rates shall be risk-adjusted to take into account the characteristics of enrollees, or proposed enrollees, including, but not limited to: frailty, disability level, health and functional status, age, gender, the nature of services provided to such enrollees, and other factors as determined by the commissioner. The risk adjusted premiums may also be combined with disincentives or requirements designed to mitigate any incentives to obtain higher payment categories. In setting such payment rates, the commissioner shall consider costs borne by the managed care program to ensure actuarially sound and adequate rates of payment to ensure quality of care shall comply with all applicable laws and regulations, state and federal, including regulations as to actuarial soundness for medicaid managed care.

8-a. Rates for certain residential health care facilities. Notwithstanding any other provision of law or regulation to the contrary, any residential health care facility established pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter located in a county with a population of more than seventy-two thousand and less than seventy-five thousand persons based on the two thousand ten federal census shall be reimbursed by any managed long term care plan, approved pursuant to this section and contracting with the department, at a rate of no less than one hundred four percent of the average rate of reimbursement in existence on March first, two thousand eighteen for such county.

9. Reports. The department shall provide an interim report to the governor, temporary president of the senate and the speaker of the assembly on or before April first, two thousand three and a final report on or before April first, two thousand six on the results of the managed long term care plans under this section. Such results shall be based on data provided by the managed long term care plans and shall include but not be limited to the quality, accessibility and appropriateness of services; consumer satisfaction; the mean and distribution of impairment measures of the enrollees by payor for each plan; the current method of calculating premiums and the cost of comparable health and long term care services provided on a fee-for-service basis for enrollees eligible for services under title XIX of the federal social security act; and the results of periodic reviews of enrollment levels and practices. Such reports shall provide data on the demographic and clinical characteristics of enrollees, voluntary and involuntary disenrollments from plans, and utilization of services and shall examine the feasibility of increasing the number of plans that may be approved. Data collected pursuant to this section shall be available to the public in an aggregated format to protect individual confidentiality, however under no circumstance will data be released on items with cells with smaller than statistically acceptable standards.

10. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision to the contrary, the enrollment and disenrollment process and services provided or arranged by all operating demonstrations or any program that receives designation as a Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) as authorized by federal public law 105-33, subtitle I of title IV of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, must meet all applicable federal requirements. Services may include, but need not be limited to, housing, inpatient and outpatient hospital services, nursing home care, home health care, adult day care, assisted living services provided in accordance with article forty-six-B of this chapter, adult care facility services, enriched housing program services, hospice care, respite care, personal care, homemaker services, diagnostic laboratory services, therapeutic and diagnostic radiologic services, emergency services, emergency alarm systems, home delivered meals, physical adaptations to the client's home, physician care (including consultant and referral services), ancillary services, case management services, transportation, and related medical services.

11. The department shall develop transition and continuity of care policies for participants in home and community based long term care, including the long term home health care program, as they move to managed long term care plans addressing:

(a) a timetable and plan for implementation and transition by participants, plans and providers;

(b) informative disclosure of participants' options as to impending actions affecting or relating to the home care services they receive;

(c) reasonable opportunity for plans' and providers' good faith pursuit of contracts, program changes or state approvals relevant to plan implementation;

(d) notice that a participant with a previously established plan of care provided by a certified home health agency or long term home health care program, or provided pursuant to the personal care or consumer directed personal assistance service programs, may elect to have such care plan continued subject to the participant's next comprehensive assessment; and

(e) delineation of responsibilities for service delivery and care coordination, so as to avoid conflict, duplication and unnecessary disruption of direct care staffing for the patient, and maintain compliance with state and federal statute and regulation, including the provisions of this section, article thirty-six of this chapter and section three hundred sixty-five-f of the social services law.

In addition, the department shall provide technical assistance to long term home health care providers with contracting options under this section. The department shall work with affected stakeholders in the development of these policies.

11-a. In transitioning individuals to managed long term care, the department shall provide oversight of long term managed care by ensuring:

(a) participants are appropriately notified of the upcoming changes to their health care, and their rights and options;

(b) access to appropriate enrollment assistance, consumer assistance and complaint mechanisms;

(c) access to quality care by requiring network transparency and choice of long term care plans, allowing patients to choose the plan that best fits their needs;

(d) transparency and accountability from providers, which shall include a mechanism by which staff, participants and family members can confidentially report concerns relating to quality to the plan and the state;

(e) plans and providers are assessed periodically and data is published regarding enrollment in integrated care designs, network adequacy, new service designs, outcome measures, including the extent to which care plans are continued or altered based upon new comprehensive assessments, and the types and amounts of services health plans have authorized;

(f) mechanisms are in place to state oversight of enrollment and services to prevent waste and abuse in the managed long term care system; and

(g) incentives are provided for a variety of indicators, including but not limited to, smooth patient transitions, appropriate enrollment, quality care, high staff retention and positive health care outcomes achieved at a low cost.

11-b. In cases of a managed long term care plan merger, acquisition, or other similar arrangement approved by the department, any receiving plan that is a party to the arrangement shall submit a report to the department within twelve months of the effective date of the transaction. Such reports shall be in a form and format to be determined by the department and shall include, but not be limited to, information about the enrollees transferred and enrollee service authorization data before and after transfer. The department shall make a summary of the report available to the public.

 12. The commissioner may make any necessary amendments to a contract pursuant to this section with a managed long term care plan, as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision one of this section, to allow such managed long term care plan to participate as a qualified health plan in a state health benefit exchange established pursuant to the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (P.L. 111-148), as amended by the federal Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (P.L. 111-152).

 12. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, a managed long term care plan may expand the services it provides or arranges for to include services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities for a population of persons with developmental disabilities, as such term is defined in the mental hygiene law, including habilitation services as defined in paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section forty-four hundred three-g of this article, subject to the following:

(a) Such plan must have the ability to provide or coordinate services for persons with developmental disabilities as demonstrated by criteria to be determined by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. Such criteria shall include, but not be limited to, adequate experience providing or coordinating services for persons with developmental disabilities;

(a-1) If the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities determine that such plan lacks the experience required in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the plan shall have an affiliation arrangement with an entity or entities that are non-profit organizations or organizations whose shareholders are solely controlled by non-profit organizations with experience serving persons with developmental disabilities, as demonstrated by criteria to be determined by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, with such criteria including, but not limited to, residential, day and employment services, such that the affiliated entity will coordinate and plan services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities or will oversee and approve such coordination and planning;

(a-2) Each enrollee shall receive services designed to achieve person-centered outcomes, to enable that person to live in the most integrated setting appropriate to that person's needs, and to enable

that person to interact with nondisabled persons to the fullest extent possible in social, workplace and other community settings, provided that all such services are consistent with such person's wishes to the extent that such wishes are known. With respect to an individual receiving non-residential services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the plan, such guidelines shall require the plan to contract with the current provider of such non-residential services at the rates established by the office for ninety days in order to ensure continuity of care. With respect to an individual living in a residential facility operated or certified by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the plan, the plan shall contract with the provider of residential services for that residence at the rates established by the office for people with developmental disabilities for so long as such individual lives in that residence pursuant to an approved plan of care;

(b) The provision by such plan of services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall be subject the joint oversight and review of both the department and the office for people with developmental disabilities. The department and such office shall require such organization to provide comprehensive care planning, assess quality, meet quality assurance requirements and ensure the enrollee is involved in care planning;

(c) Such plan shall not provide or arrange for services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities until the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities approve program features and rates that include such services, and determine that such organization meets the requirements of this subdivision and any other requirements set forth by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities;

(d) An otherwise eligible enrollee receiving services through the plan that are operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall not be involuntarily disenrolled from such plan without the prior approval of the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. Notice shall be provided to the enrollee and the enrollee may request a fair hearing regarding such disenrollment;

(e) The office for people with developmental disabilities shall determine the eligibility of individuals receiving services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by such office to enroll in such plan and shall enroll individuals it determines eligible in a plan chosen by such individual, guardian or other legal representative;

(f) The office for people with developmental disabilities, or its designee, shall complete a comprehensive assessment for enrollees who receive services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by such office. This assessment shall include, but not be limited to, an evaluation of the medical, social, habilitative and environmental needs of each prospective enrollee as such needs relate to each individual's health, safety, living environment and wishes, to the extent that such wishes are known. This assessment shall also serve as the basis for the development and provision of an appropriate plan of care for the enrollee. Such plan of care shall be focused on the achievement of person-centered outcomes and shall be consistent with and help inform any other person-centered plan required for the enrollee by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. The initial assessment shall be completed by such office or a designee other than the plan and shall be completed in consultation with the prospective enrollee's health care practitioner as necessary. Reassessments shall be completed by such office or its designee, which may be the managed long term care plan in which the person is enrolled or proposes to enroll. The commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall prescribe the forms on which the assessment shall be made.

(f-1) The plan shall provide the department and the office for people with developmental disabilities with a description of the proposed marketing plan and how marketing materials will be presented to persons with developmental disabilities or their authorized decision makers for the purposes of enabling them to make an informed choice.

(g) Plans providing services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities shall be subject to all requirements applicable to DISCOs operating under section forty-four hundred three-g of this article with respect to quality assurance, grievances and appeals, informed choice, participation in development of plans of care and requirements with respect to marketing, to the extent that such requirements are not inconsistent with this section.

(h) No person with a developmental disability shall be required to enroll in a managed long term care plan as a condition of receiving medical assistance and services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities until program features and reimbursement rates are approved by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities and until such commissioners determine that there are a sufficient number of plans authorized to coordinate care for persons with developmental disabilities pursuant to this article operating in the person's county of residence to meet the needs of persons with developmental disabilities, and that such plans meet the standards of this section.

 13. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision to the contrary, the commissioner may issue a certificate of authority to no more than three eligible applicants who are eligible for Medicare and medical assistance to operate managed long term care plans that are authorized to exclusively enroll persons with developmental disabilities, as such term is defined in section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law. The commissioner may only issue certificates of authority pursuant to this subdivision if, and to the extent that, the department has received federal approval to operate a fully integrated duals advantage program for the integration of services for persons enrolled in Medicare and medical assistance. The commissioner may waive any of the department's regulations as the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, deems necessary to allow such managed long term care plans to provide or arrange for services for persons with developmental disabilities that are adequate and appropriate to meet the needs of such individuals and that will ensure their health and safety.

(l) That the contractual arrangements for providers of health and long term care services in the benefit package are sufficient to ensure the availability and accessibility of such services to the proposed enrolled population consistent with guidelines established by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. With respect to a person receiving non-residential services operated, certified, funded, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the DISCO, such guidelines shall require the DISCO to contract with the current provider of non-residential services at the rates established by the office for ninety days, in order to ensure continuity of care. With respect to a person living in a residential facility operated or certified by the office for people with developmental disabilities prior to enrollment in the DISCO, such guidelines shall require the DISCO to contract with the provider of residential services for that residence at the rates established by the office for so long as such individual lives in that residence pursuant to an approved plan of care;

(m) That the applicant is financially responsible and shall be expected to meet its obligations to its enrolled members; and

(n) That the applicant shall assess person-centered outcomes as defined by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, and has satisfactory mechanisms by which it will assess how health and long term care services will be used to meet such outcomes.

5. Enrollment. (a) Only persons with developmental disabilities, as determined by the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall be eligible to enroll in DISCOs.

(b) The office for people with developmental disabilities or its designee shall enroll an eligible person in the DISCO chosen by him or her, his or her guardian or other legal representative, provided that such DISCO is authorized to enroll such person.

(c) No person with a developmental disability who is receiving or applying for medical assistance and who is receiving, or eligible to receive, services funded, certified, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall be required to enroll in a DISCO in order to receive such services until program features and reimbursement rates are approved by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, and until such commissioners determine that there are a sufficient number of plans authorized to coordinate care for persons with developmental disabilities pursuant to this article operating in such person's county of residence to meet the needs of persons with developmental disabilities, and that such DISCOs meet the standards of this section. No person shall be required to enroll in a DISCO in order to receive services operated, funded, certified, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities until there are at least two plans authorized to coordinate care for persons with developmental disabilities pursuant to this article in such person's county of residence, unless federal approval is secured to require enrollment when there are less than two such entities operating in such county.

(d) Persons required to enroll in a DISCO shall have no less than sixty days to select a DISCO, and such persons and their guardians or other legal representatives shall be provided with information to make an informed choice. Where a person, guardian or other legal representative has not selected a DISCO, the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities or its designee shall enroll such person in a DISCO chosen by such commissioner, taking into account quality, capacity and geographic accessibility. The office for people with developmental disabilities or its designee shall automatically re-enroll a person with the same DISCO if there is a loss of medicaid eligibility of two months or less.

(e) Enrolled persons may change their enrollment at any time without cause, provided, however, that a person required to enroll in a DISCO in order to receive services funded, licensed, authorized or approved by the office for people with developmental disabilities may only disenroll from a DISCO if he or she enrolls in another DISCO authorized to enroll him or her. Such disenrollment shall be effective no later than the first day of the second month following the request.

(f) A DISCO may request the involuntary disenrollment of an enrolled person in writing to the office for people with developmental disabilities. Such disenrollment shall not be effective until the request is reviewed and approved by such office. Notice shall be provided to the enrollee and the enrollee may request a fair hearing regarding such disenrollment. The department and the office for people with developmental disabilities shall adopt rules and regulations governing this process.

6. Assessments. The office for people with developmental disabilities, or its designee, shall complete a comprehensive assessment that shall include, but not be limited to, an evaluation of the medical, social, habilitative and environmental needs of each prospective enrollee in a DISCO as such needs relate to each individual's health, safety, living environment and wishes, to the extent that such wishes are known. This assessment shall also serve as the basis for the development and provision of an appropriate plan of care for the enrollee. Such plan of care shall be focused on the achievement of person-centered outcomes and shall be consistent with and help inform any other person-centered plan required for the enrollee by the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. The assessment shall be completed by the office for people with developmental disabilities or in consultation with the prospective enrollee's health care practitioner as necessary. The commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall prescribe the forms on which the assessment shall be made. The office for people with developmental disabilities may designate the DISCO to perform reassessments, but shall not designate the DISCO to perform the initial assessment of a prospective enrollee.

7. Program oversight and administration. (a) The commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall jointly promulgate regulations to implement this section, to provide for oversight of DISCOs, including on site reviews, and to ensure the quality, appropriateness and cost-effectiveness of the services provided by DISCOs.

(b) The commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities may waive rules and regulations of their respective department or office, including but not limited to, those pertaining to duplicative requirements concerning record keeping, boards of directors, staffing and reporting, when such waiver shall promote the efficient delivery of appropriate, quality, cost-effective services and when the health, safety and general welfare of DISCO enrollees shall not be impaired as a result of such waiver. The commissioners shall report annually to the legislature and to the joint advisory council established pursuant to section 13.40 of the mental hygiene law on all rules and regulations waived pursuant to this paragraph. In order to achieve DISCO system efficiencies and coordination and to promote the objectives of high quality, integrated and cost effective care, the commissioners shall establish a single coordinated surveillance process, allow for a comprehensive quality improvement and review process to meet component quality requirements, and require a uniform cost report. The commissioners shall require DISCOs to utilize quality improvement measures, based on the achievement of personal outcomes and quality of life, health outcomes data, and assessments of individual and family satisfaction, for internal quality assessment processes and may utilize such measures as part of the single coordinated surveillance process.

(c) Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the social services law to the contrary, the commissioner in consultation with the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall, pursuant to regulation, determine whether and the extent to which the applicable provisions of the social services law or regulations relating to approvals and authorizations of, and utilization limitations on, health and long term care services reimbursed pursuant to title XIX of the federal social security act are inconsistent with the flexibility necessary for the efficient administration of DISCOs, and such regulations shall provide that such provisions shall not be applicable to enrollees of DISCOs, provided that such determinations are consistent with applicable federal law and regulation.

(d) The commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall ensure, through periodic reviews of DISCOs, that organization services are promptly available to enrollees when appropriate. Such periodic reviews shall be made according to standards as determined by the commissioners in regulations.

(e) The commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall have the authority to conduct both on site and off site reviews of DISCOs. Such reviews may include, but not be limited to, the following components: governance; fiscal and financial reporting; recordkeeping; internal controls; marketing; network contracting and adequacy; program integrity assurances; utilization control and review systems; grievance and appeals systems; quality assessment and assurance systems; care management; enrollment and disenrollment; management information systems, and other operational and management components.

8. Solvency. (a) The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, shall be responsible for evaluating, approving and regulating all matters relating to fiscal solvency, including reserves, surplus and provider contracts. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to implement this section. The commissioner, in the administration of this subdivision:

(i) shall be guided by the standards that govern the fiscal solvency of a health maintenance organization, provided, however, that the commissioner shall recognize the specific delivery components, operational capacity and financial capability of the eligible applicant for a certificate of authority;

(ii) shall not apply financial solvency standards that exceed those required for a health maintenance organization; and

(iii) shall establish reasonable capitalization and contingent reserve requirements.

(b) Standards established pursuant to this subdivision shall be adequate to protect the interests of enrollees in the DISCO. The commissioner shall be satisfied that the eligible applicant is financially sound, and has made adequate provisions to pay for quality services that are cost effective and appropriate to needs and the protection of health, safety, welfare and satisfaction of those served.

9. Role of the superintendent of financial services. (a) The superintendent of financial services shall determine and approve premiums in accordance with the insurance law whenever any population of enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act is to be covered. The determination and approval of the superintendent of financial services shall relate to premiums charged to such enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act.

(b) The superintendent of financial services shall evaluate and approve any enrollee contracts whenever such enrollee contracts are to cover any population of enrollees not eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act.

10. Payment rates for DISCO enrollees eligible for medical assistance. The commissioner shall establish payment rates for services provided to enrollees eligible under title XIX of the federal social security act. Such payment rates shall be subject to approval by the director of the division of the budget. Payment rates shall be actuarially sound for covered services, including but not limited to habilitation services, and, when there is sufficient reliable data to permit, shall be risk-adjusted to take into account the characteristics of enrollees, or proposed enrollees, which may include: frailty, disability level, health and functional status, age, gender, the nature of services provided to such enrollees, and other factors as determined by the commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities. The risk adjusted premiums may also be combined with disincentives or requirements designed to mitigate any incentives to obtain higher payment categories.

11. Continuation of certificate of authority. Continuation of a certificate of authority issued under this section shall be contingent upon compliance by the DISCO with applicable provisions of this section and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; the continuing fiscal solvency of the DISCO; and federal financial participation in payments on behalf of enrollees who are eligible to receive services under title XIX of the federal social security act.

12. Protection of enrollees. The commissioner may, in his or her discretion and with the concurrence of the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities, for the purpose of the protection of enrollees, impose measures including, but not limited to bans on further enrollments until any identified problems are resolved to the satisfaction of the commissioner, or fines upon a finding that the DISCO has failed to comply with the provisions of any applicable statute, rule or regulation.

13. Information sharing. The commissioner and the commissioner of the office for people with developmental disabilities shall, as necessary and consistent with federal regulations promulgated pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, share with such DISCO the following data if it is available:

(a) information concerning utilization of services and providers by each of its enrollees prior to and during enrollment.

(b) Aggregate data concerning utilization and costs for enrollees and for comparable cohorts served through the Medicaid fee-for-service program.

14. Applicability of other laws. DISCOs shall be subject to the provisions of the insurance law and regulations applicable to health maintenance organizations, this article and regulations promulgated thereunder. To the extent that the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or the provisions of the insurance law, the provisions of this section shall prevail.

15. Effectiveness. The provisions of this section shall only be effective if, for so long as, and to the extent that federal financial participation is available for the costs of services provided by the DISCOs to enrollees who are recipients of medical assistance pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law. The commissioner shall make any necessary amendments to the state plan for medical assistance submitted pursuant to section three hundred sixty-three-a of the social services law, and/or submit one or more applications for waivers of the federal social security act, in order to ensure such federal financial participation.

§ 4404. Health maintenance organizations; continuance of certificate of authority. 1. Continuance by the commissioner of a certificate of authority issued under section forty-four hundred three of this article shall be contingent upon satisfactory performance by the organization as to the delivery, continuity, accessibility and quality of the services to which an enrolled member is entitled, compliance with the provisions of this article and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and the continuing fiscal solvency of the organization as set out in this

2. Except as provided in subdivision three of this section, the commissioner may revoke, limit or annul a certificate of authority as of the termination of the current period of all then existing enrollee contracts, after a hearing, and only after a finding of unsatisfactory performance or fiscal insolvency. However, in the event of such revocation, limitation or annulment, the organization shall be prohibited from entering into any new enrollee contracts as of the date of notification of such action by the commissioner. Notification of such action shall be given by the organization to each enrollee. The commissioner shall give prior notice of such action to the superintendent.

3. The commissioner may revoke or limit a certificate of authority, after a hearing, for violations of any applicable statute or rules and regulations which threatened to directly affect the health, safety or welfare of any enrollee. Upon notice of his intent to revoke or limit a certificate of authority, the commissioner may prohibit the organization from entering into any new enrollee contracts pending final action and may require notification of such action to be given by the organization to each enrollee. The commissioner shall give prior notice to the superintendent of his intent to prohibit the organization from entering into any enrollee contracts. In any action pursuant to this subdivision, the commissioner and the superintendent shall take action to assure the continued insurance coverage of enrollees of the organization.

4. In addition to, or in lieu of, any revocation, limitation or annulment, the commissioner may assess a penalty pursuant to section twelve of this chapter for any violation of this chapter or rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to this article.

5. All orders or determinations made in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be subject to review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. Application for such review must be made within sixty days after service in person or by registered mail of a copy of the order or determination upon the organization.

§ 4405. Health maintenance organizations; powers. The powers of health maintenance organizations, in addition to any other powers conferred by the laws under which such organization is constructed, shall include:

1. subject to the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter, the purchase, lease, construction, renovation, operation, or maintenance of hospitals, medical facilities, or both, and their ancillary equipment, and such property as may reasonably be required for its principal office or for such other purposes as may be necessary in the transaction of the business of the organization;

2. the furnishing of comprehensive health care services on a prepaid basis through hospitals and other health care providers which are under contract with, otherwise associated with, or employed by the health maintenance organization;

3. the marketing, enrollment and administration of a comprehensive health services plan;

4. the contracting with an insurer licensed in this state;

5. the offering, in addition to health care services, of benefits covering out-of-area or emergency services;

6. the provision of additional health services not included in the comprehensive health services plan on a fee-for-service basis, the provision of health services on a fee-for-service basis to persons who are not members of the enrolled population;

7. the entering into contracts in furtherance of the purposes of this article;

8. the acceptance from government agencies, private agencies, corporations, associations, groups, individuals, or other persons, payments covering all or part of the cost of health care services provided to enrollees, in accordance with the provisions of the plan and this chapter; and

9. the indemnification of enrollees for the services of health care providers, other than primary care practitioners responsible for supervising and coordinating the care of enrollees, not participating in a plan to the extent authorized in section forty-four hundred six of this article; and

10. notwithstanding any other provision of law, to advertise the comprehensive health services which it renders and the plan relating to the rendition of such services, provided, however, that all information disseminated to the public shall be strictly factual in nature and accurate in all respects and shall not in any way be misleading to the public.

§ 4405-a. Immunizations against poliomyelitis, mumps, measles, diphtheria and rubella. 1. It shall be the duty of the administrative officer or other person in charge of each health maintenance organization, as defined in this article, to inquire of each person in its care under the age of eighteen, or of a person in parental relation to such person, whether all necessary immunizations have been received for poliomyelitis, mumps, measles, diphtheria and rubella and, if not, to make available such immunizations and a certificate or certificates of such immunizations.

2. This section shall not apply to children whose parent, parents, or guardian are bona fide members of a recognized religious organization whose teachings are contrary to the practices herein required.

3. If any physician licensed to practice medicine in this state certifies that any such immunization may be detrimental to a child's health, the requirements of this section shall be inapplicable until such immunization is found no longer to be detrimental to the child's health.

§ 4405-b. Duty to report. 1. (a) A health maintenance organization licensed pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law or certified pursuant to this chapter shall make a report to the appropriate professional disciplinary agency within thirty days of the occurrence of any of the following: (i) the termination of a health care provider contract pursuant to section forty-four hundred six-d of this article for reasons relating to alleged mental or physical impairment, misconduct or impairment of patient safety or welfare; (ii) the voluntary or involuntary termination of a contract or employment or other affiliation with such organization to avoid the imposition of disciplinary measures; or (iii) the termination of a health care provider contract in the case of a determination of fraud or in a case of imminent harm to patient health.

(b) An organization shall make a report to be made to the appropriate professional disciplinary agency within thirty days of obtaining knowledge of any information that reasonably appears to show that a health professional is guilty of professional misconduct as defined in article one hundred thirty or one hundred thirty-one-A of the education law. A violation of this subdivision shall not be subject to the provisions of section twelve-b of this chapter.

2. Reports of possible professional misconduct made pursuant to this section shall be made in writing to the appropriate professional disciplinary agency. Written reports shall include the following information:

(a) the name, address, profession and license number of the individual; and

(b) a description of the action taken by the organization including the reason for the action and the date thereof, or the nature of the action or conduct that led to the resignation, termination of contract or withdrawal, and the date thereof stated with sufficient specificity to allow a reasonable person to understand which of the reasons enumerated led to the action of the organization or the resignation or withdrawal of the individual, and, if the reason was an act or omission of the individual, the particular act or omission.

3. (a) Any report or information furnished to an appropriate professional discipline agency in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deemed a confidential communication and shall not be subject to inspection or disclosure in any manner except upon formal written request by a duly authorized public agency or pursuant to a judicial subpoena issued in a pending action or proceeding.

(b) Any person, facility, organization or corporation which makes a report pursuant to this section in good faith without malice shall have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal, for having made such report. For purposes of any proceeding, civil or criminal, the good faith of any person required to make a report shall be presumed.

§ 4406. Health maintenance organizations; regulation of contracts. 1. The contract between a health maintenance organization and an enrollee shall be subject to regulation by the superintendent as if it were a health insurance subscriber contract, and shall include, but not be limited to, all mandated benefits required by article forty-three of the insurance law. Such contract shall fully and clearly state the benefits and limitations therein provided or imposed, so as to facilitate understanding and comparisons, and to exclude provisions which may be misleading or unreasonably confusing. Such contract shall be issued to any individual and dependents of such individual and any group of one hundred or fewer employees or members, exclusive of spouses and dependents, or to any employee or member of the group, including dependents, applying for such contract at any time throughout the year. An individual direct payment contract shall be issued only in accordance with section four thousand three hundred twenty-eight of the insurance law. The superintendent may, after giving consideration to the public interest, exempt a health maintenance organization from the requirements of this section provided that another health insurer or health maintenance organization within the health maintenance organization's same holding company system, as defined in article fifteen of the insurance law, including a health maintenance organization operated as a line of business of a health service corporation licensed under article forty-three of the insurance law, offers coverage that, at a minimum, complies with this section and provides all of the consumer protections required to be provided by a health maintenance organization pursuant to this chapter and regulations, including those consumer protections contained in sections four thousand four hundred three and four thousand four hundred eight-a of this chapter. The requirements shall not apply to a health maintenance organization exclusively serving individuals enrolled pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law, title eleven-D of article five of the social services law, title one-A of article twenty-five of this chapter or title eighteen of the federal Social Security Act, and, further provided, that such health maintenance organization shall not discontinue a contract for an individual receiving comprehensive-type coverage in effect prior to January first, two thousand four who is ineligible to purchase policies offered after such date pursuant to this section or section four thousand three hundred twenty-eight of the insurance law due to the provision of 42 U.S.C. 1395ss in effect prior to January first, two thousand four.

2. (a) Upon approval of the commissioner, an organization may implement an out-of-plan benefits system that allows enrollees to use providers not participating in the plan pursuant to a contract, employment or other association. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent, shall not approve an organization to implement an out-of-plan benefits system unless the organization demonstrates that:

(i) the requirements of this article and any regulations promulgated thereunder have been met and will continue to be met;

(ii) it can establish and maintain a contingent reserve fund of not less than two percent of the entire net premium income for the calendar year of the organization in addition to any other contingent reserve fund required by the commissioner in regulations subject to the approval of the superintendent; and

(iii) it has established mechanisms to ensure and monitor compliance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, an organization may not permit the benefits provided pursuant to such out-of-plan system to exceed ten percent of the total health care expenditures of the organization, as determined on a quarterly basis, but such limitation shall not apply to individual direct payment contracts issued pursuant to section forty-three hundred twenty-two of the insurance law. In determining the amount of benefits provided in connection with the use of such providers, an organization shall not include benefits provided pursuant to a referral made by a participating provider or benefits provided in emergency situations.

(c) An organization may exceed the ten percent level by up to two percent in any given quarter provided that the organization does not exceed the ten percent level by the end of the following quarter.

(d) If the commissioner determines that an organization has permitted the benefits provided pursuant to an out-of-plan system to exceed ten percent, except as permitted by paragraph (b) or (c) of this subdivision, the commissioner may, where appropriate, assess an organization a civil penalty not to exceed the amount determined by multiplying the percentage permitted in excess of ten percent by the amount, in dollars, of the difference between what the organization paid all inpatient hospitals for such year and the amount such organization would have paid such hospitals had it been a payor within the categories specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section twenty-eight hundred seven-c of this chapter and not authorized to negotiate hospital rates. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent, may revoke, suspend or limit an approval issued pursuant to this subdivision for non-compliance by the organization with any of the provisions of this article or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(e) The indemnification of enrollees of the services of a non-participating provider may be subject to deductibles, copayments and/or coinsurance approved by the superintendent.

(f) Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit an organization's ability to manage the care of enrollees or the types of health services covered, to conduct utilization review of quality assurance activities.

(g) The commissioner may prohibit an organization determined to have an inadequate network of participating providers from permitting new elections pursuant to this subdivision as of the date of notification of such determination by the commissioner. Notification of such action shall be given by the organization to each enrollee.

(h) An organization providing comprehensive health services under one or more assumed names shall be deemed to be offering its plan through a line of business corresponding to each such assumed name. An organization may, pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, permit enrollees of one or more lines of business to elect to receive services from providers not participating in such line or lines of business provided, however, that with respect to each line of business such elections shall be permitted only to the extent authorized pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision.

(i) Nothing herein shall be deemed to prohibit a health maintenance organization from offering services in connection with a company appropriately licensed pursuant to the insurance law.

3. (a) No contract issued pursuant to this section shall provide that services of a participating hospital will be covered as out-of-network services solely on the basis that the health care provider admitting or rendering services to the enrollee is not a participating provider.

(b) No contract issued pursuant to this section shall provide that services of a participating health care provider will be covered as out-of-network services solely on the basis that the services are rendered in a non-participating hospital.

(c) For purposes of this subdivision, a "health care provider" is a health care professional licensed, registered or certified pursuant to title eight of the education law or a health care professional comparably licensed, registered or certified by another state.

4. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a health maintenance organization in its provision of a comprehensive health services plan to meet the requirements of an insurer under the insurance law.

5. If an enrollee requires nursing facility placement and is a resident of a continuing care retirement community authorized under article forty-six of this chapter, the enrollee's primary care practitioner must refer the enrollee to that community's nursing facility if medically appropriate; if the facility agrees to be reimbursed at the health maintenance organization's contract rate negotiated with similar providers for similar services and supplies, or negotiates a mutually agreed upon rate; and if the facility meets the health maintenance organization's guidelines and standards for the delivery of medical services.

§ 4406-a. Arbitration provisions of health maintenance organization contracts. 1. The enrollee contract of a health maintenance organization may permit enrollees and adult members of the enrollee's family who are covered by such contract to elect to have all claims for damages because of injury or death resulting from health care or treatment rendered or failed to be rendered pursuant to the contract by a physician, dentist, hospital, health maintenance organization or other health care provider subject to binding arbitration, pursuant to article seventy-five-A of the civil practice law and rules. For the purposes of this section, "health maintenance organizations" shall include those health maintenance organizations organized pursuant to this article or pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law. The enrollee contract may permit arbitration elections to be executed on behalf of minor children or persons judicially determined to be incompetent by a parent, legal guardian, committee or conservator or other person legally authorized to enroll the minor or incompetent person in a health maintenance organization. Arbitration election notices, described in subdivisions two and three of this section, must be executed by covered adult family members in order to bind such persons to the arbitration election.

2. After receiving the approval of the superintendent of financial services, pursuant to section five thousand six hundred five of the insurance law, health maintenance organizations may provide arbitration election notices to current enrollees and their covered adult family members. Such notice shall contain the following provision in at least twelve point boldface type immediately above spaces for the signature of the enrollee or covered adult family member: "By signing this form, I am agreeing to have any issue of alleged health care malpractice decided by neutral arbitration rather than by a court trial before a judge or jury. (Health care malpractice means claims for damages because of injury or death resulting from health care or treatment rendered or failed to be rendered pursuant to my health maintenance organization contract by the health maintenance organization, a physician, dentist, hospital or other health care provider.) I understand that I will be given the opportunity to cancel my agreement, but that all claims arising during the time of my agreement will be subject to arbitration. I understand that by signing the form, I am deemed to have received and reviewed the information describing arbitration that has been provided to me. I also understand that there is no requirement that I sign this form and that my decision not to sign this form will not in any way affect my membership or benefits in this health maintenance organization."

3. After receiving the approval of the superintendent of financial services, pursuant to section five thousand six hundred five of the insurance law, health maintenance organizations may also provide arbitration election notices, as specified in subdivision two of this section, to new enrollees and their covered adult family members. In the alternative, a health maintenance organization may, after receiving the superintendent's approval, elect to provide an alternative notice to new enrollees and their covered adult family members that provides that new enrollees and their covered adult family members shall be subject to the arbitration of claims unless a form is executed by such persons that declines consent to the arbitration of claims. A health maintenance organization that chooses to provide such alternative notice shall provide an arbitration declination form and notice to all new enrollees and their covered adult family members with the following provision in a least twelve point boldface type immediately above spaces for the signature of the enrollee or covered adult family member: "Unless you sign this form to decline the option of arbitration, by electing to enroll in this health maintenance organization, you are agreeing to have any issue of health care malpractice decided by neutral arbitration rather than by a court trial before a judge or jury. (Health care malpractice means all claims for damages because of injury or death resulting from health care or treatment rendered or failed to be rendered pursuant to your health maintenance organization contract by the health maintenance organization, a physician, dentist, hospital or other health care provider.) If you do not sign this form to decline arbitration, you will be given the opportunity to cancel your agreement to arbitrate these claims, but all claims arising prior to the time that you cancel the agreement will be subject to arbitration. You are entitled to receive information describing arbitration before making this decision. Your decision to sign this form to decline arbitration will not in any way affect your membership or benefits in this health maintenance organization."

4. Arbitration election notices may be provided, from time to time, by health maintenance organizations to persons who have not agreed to arbitration of such claims. The health maintenance organizations shall, in a form and manner determined to be sufficient by the superintendent of financial services and on at least an annual basis, provide notice to persons who have agreed to arbitration of such claims that such persons may cancel their agreement to arbitrate, including information as to how such person may cancel the arbitration agreement; provided, however, that the agreement to arbitrate shall remain in force during such person's enrollment or membership in the health maintenance organization unless the health maintenance organization receives notification of such person's cancellation of the arbitration agreement or the health maintenance organization withdraws its agreement to arbitrate and provides notice of this fact to persons who elected arbitration.

5. Every such notice shall be accompanied by or be part of an information brochure, prepared in accordance with section five thousand six hundred four of the insurance law, which clearly explains the nature and scope of arbitration and the procedures that will be used to conduct these arbitration proceedings.

6. All claims arising from surgical, medical, dental and other health care procedures performed or failed to be performed and treatment provided or failed to be provided by a physician, dentist, hospital, health maintenance organization or other health care provider pursuant to the enrollee contract to an enrollee or a covered adult family member who signs the arbitration election notice or who fails to sign the arbitration declination form specified in subdivision three of this section shall be subject to arbitration and such enrollees or covered adult family members shall be bound by the agreement to arbitrate such claims. All physicians, dentists, hospitals, health maintenance organizations and other health care providers who provide or receive compensation for health care services pursuant to the enrollee contract shall be bound by the agreement to arbitrate.

7. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of law, an agreement to arbitrate which complies with the provisions of this section shall be presumed valid.

§ 4406-b. Primary and preventive obstetric and gynecologic care. 1.

The health maintenance organization shall not limit a female enrollee's direct access to primary and preventive obstetric and gynecologic services, including annual examinations, care resulting from such annual examinations, and treatment of acute gynecologic conditions, from a qualified provider of such services of her choice from within the plan or for any care related to a pregnancy, provided that: (a) such qualified provider discusses such services and treatment plan with the enrollee's primary care practitioner in accordance with the requirements of the health maintenance organization; and (b) such qualified provider agrees to adhere to the health maintenance organization's policies and procedures, including any applicable procedures regarding referrals and obtaining prior authorization for services other than obstetric and gynecologic services rendered by such qualified provider, and agrees to provide services pursuant to a treatment plan (if any) approved by the health maintenance organization.

2. A health maintenance organization shall treat the provision of obstetric and gynecologic care, and the ordering of related obstetric and gynecologic items and services, pursuant to the direct access described in subdivision one of this section by a participating qualified provider of such services, as the authorization of the primary care provider.

3. It shall be the duty of the administrative officer or other person in charge of each health maintenance organization to advise each female enrollee, in writing, of the provisions of this section.

§ 4406-c. Prohibitions. 1. For purposes of this section, "health care plan" shall mean a health maintenance organization licensed pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law or certified pursuant to this article or an independent practice association certified or recognized pursuant to this article or a medical group.

2. No health care plan shall by contract or written policy or written procedure prohibit or restrict any health care provider from disclosing to any subscriber, enrollee, patient, designated representative or, where appropriate, prospective enrollee, (hereinafter collectively referred to as enrollee) any information that such provider deems appropriate regarding:

(a) a condition or a course of treatment with an enrollee including the availability of other therapies, consultations, or tests; or

(b) the provisions, terms, or requirements of the health care plan's products as they relate to the enrollee, where applicable.

3. No health care plan shall by contract, written policy, written procedure or practice prohibit or restrict any health care provider from filing a complaint, making a report or commenting to an appropriate governmental body regarding the policies or practices of such health care plan which the provider believes may negatively impact upon the quality of, or access to, patient care. Nor shall a health care plan take any adverse action, including but not limited to refusing to renew or execute a contract or agreement with a health care provider as retaliation against a health care provider for filing a complaint, making a report or commenting to an appropriate governmental body regarding policies or practices of such health care plan which may violate this chapter or the insurance law including subsection (g), (k), (l), (l-1) or (l-2) of section forty-three hundred three of the insurance law.

4. No health care plan shall by contract, written policy or written procedure prohibit or restrict any health care provider from advocating to the health care plan on behalf of the enrollee for approval or coverage of a particular course of treatment or for the provision of health care services.

5. No contract or agreement between a health care plan and a health care provider shall contain any clause purporting to transfer to the health care provider, other than a medical group, by indemnification or otherwise any liability relating to activities, actions or omissions of the health care plan as opposed to those of the health care provider.

5-a. Contracts entered into between a plan and a health care provider shall include terms which prescribe:

(a) the method by which payments to a provider, including any prospective or retrospective adjustments thereto, shall be calculated;

(b) the time periods within which such calculations will be completed, the dates upon which any such payments and adjustments shall be determined to be due, and the dates upon which any such payments and adjustments will be made;

(c) a description of the records or information relied upon to calculate any such payments and adjustments, and a description of how the provider can access a summary of such calculations and adjustments;

(d) the process to be employed to resolved disputed incorrect or incomplete records or information and to adjust any such payments and adjustments which have been calculated by relying on any such incorrect or incomplete records or information and to adjust any such payments and adjustments which have been calculated by relying on any such incorrect or incomplete records or information so disputed; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize or require the disclosure of personally identifiable patient information or information related to other individual health care providers or the plan's proprietary data collection systems, software or quality assurance or utilization review methodologies; and

(e) the right of either party to the contract to seek resolution of a dispute arising pursuant to the payment terms of such contract through a proceeding under article seventy-five of the civil practice law and rules.

5-b. No contract entered into with health care providers shall be enforceable if it includes terms which transfer financial risk to providers, in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section forty-four hundred three of this article, or penalize providers for unfavorable case mix so as to jeopardize the quality of or enrollees' appropriate access to medically necessary services; provided, however, that payment at less than prevailing fee for service rates or capitation shall not be deemed or presumed prima facie to jeopardize quality or access.

5-c. (a) No health care plan shall implement an adverse reimbursement change to a contract with a health care professional that is otherwise permitted by the contract, unless, prior to the effective date of the change, the health care plan gives the health care professional with whom the health care plan has directly contracted and who is impacted by the adverse reimbursement change, at least ninety days written notice of the change. If the contracting health care professional objects to the change that is the subject of the notice by the health care plan, the health care professional may, within thirty days of the date of the notice, give written notice to the health care plan to terminate his or her contract with the health care plan effective upon the implementation date of the adverse reimbursement change. For the purposes of this subdivision, the term "adverse reimbursement change" shall mean a proposed change that could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse impact on the aggregate level of payment to a health care professional, and the term "health care professional" shall mean a health care professional licensed, registered or certified pursuant to title eight of the education law. The notice provisions required by this subdivision shall not apply where: (i) such change is otherwise required by law, regulation or applicable regulatory authority, or is required as a result of changes in fee schedules, reimbursement methodology or payment policies established by a government agency or by the American Medical Association's current procedural terminology (CPT) codes, reporting guidelines and conventions; or (ii) such change is expressly provided for under the terms of the contract by the inclusion of or reference to a specific fee or fee schedule, reimbursement methodology or payment policy indexing mechanism.

(b) Nothing in this subdivision shall create a private right of action on behalf of a health care professional against a health care plan for violations of this subdivision.

* 5-d. If a contract between a plan and a hospital is not renewed or is terminated by either party, the parties shall continue to abide by the terms of such contract, including reimbursement terms, for a period of two months from the effective date of termination or, in the case of a non-renewal, from the end of the contract period. Notice shall be provided to all enrollees potentially affected by such termination or non-renewal within fifteen days after commencement of the two-month period. The commissioner shall have the authority to waive the two-month period upon the request of either party to a contract that is being terminated for cause. This subdivision shall not apply where both parties mutually agree in writing to the termination or non-renewal and the plan provides notice to the enrollee at least thirty days in advance of the date of contract termination.

* NB Repealed June 30, 2027

5-e. At least sixty days prior to the termination of a contract between a hospital and a health care plan, the parties shall utilize a mutually agreed upon mediator to assist in resolving any outstanding contractual issues. The results of the mediation shall not be binding on the parties.

6. No health care plan which provides coverage for prescription drugs shall require, or enter into a contract which permits, a copayment which exceeds the usual and customary cost of such prescribed drug.

* 7. No health maintenance organization which provides coverage for prescription drugs and for which cost-sharing, deductibles or co-insurance obligations are determined by category of prescription drugs shall impose cost-sharing, deductibles or co-insurance obligations for any prescription drug that exceeds the dollar amount of cost-sharing, deductibles or co-insurance obligations for non-preferred brand drugs or its equivalent (or brand drugs if there is no non-preferred brand drug category).

* NB There are 2 sub 7's

* 7. Any contract provision, written policy or written procedure in violation of this section shall be deemed to be void and unenforceable.

* NB There are 2 sub 7's

8. (a) No health care plan shall by contract, written policy or procedure, or by any other means, deny payment to a general hospital certified pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter for a claim for medically necessary inpatient services, observation services, or emergency department services provided by a general hospital solely on the basis that the general hospital did not comply with certain administrative requirements of such health care plan with respect to those services.

(b) Nothing in this subdivision shall preclude a general hospital and a health care plan from agreeing to certain administrative requirements relating to payment for inpatient services, observation services, or emergency department services, including, but not limited to, timely notification that medically necessary inpatient services have been provided and to reductions in payment for failure to comply with certain administrative requirements including timely notification; provided, however that: (i) any requirement for timely notification must provide for a reasonable extension of timeframes for notification for services provided on weekends or federal holidays, (ii) any agreed to reduction in payment for failure to meet administrative requirements, including timely notification shall not exceed seven and one-half percent of the payment amount otherwise due for the service provided, and (iii) any agreed to reduction in payment for failure to meet administrative requirements including timely notification shall not be imposed if the patient's coverage could not be determined by the hospital after reasonable efforts at the time the services were provided.

(c) The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to the denial of a claim: (i) based on a reasonable belief of a health care plan of fraud or intentional misconduct resulting in a misrepresentation of patient diagnosis or the services provided, or abusive billing; (ii) when required by a state or federal government program or coverage that is provided by this state or a municipality thereof to its respective employees, retirees or members; (iii) that is a duplicate claim, is a claim submitted late pursuant to subsection (g) of section thirty-two hundred twenty-four-a of the insurance law, or is for services for a benefit that is not covered under the insured's contract or for a patient determined to be ineligible for coverage; (iv) except in the case of medically necessary inpatient services resulting from an emergency admission, where there is not an existing participating provider agreement between a health care plan and a general hospital; or (v) where the hospital has repeatedly and systematically, over the previous twelve month period, failed to seek prior authorization for services for which prior authorization was required.

(d) For purposes of this subdivision, an "administrative requirement" shall not include requirements: (i) imposed on a health care plan or provider pursuant to federal or state laws, regulations or guidance; or (ii) established by the state or federal government applicable to health care plans offering benefits under a state or federal government program.

(e) The prohibition on denials set forth in this subdivision shall not apply to claims for services for which a request for preauthorization was denied by the health care plan prior to delivery of the service.

9. A health care plan shall not require a prior authorization determination for services provided in a neonatal intensive care unit of a general hospital certified pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter. Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit a health care plan from denying a claim for such services if the services are subsequently determined not medically necessary.

10. (a) Any contract or other arrangement entered into by a health care plan for the provision and administration of pharmacy benefit management services on behalf of individuals enrolled in a managed care provider, as defined in section three hundred sixty-four-j of the social services law, shall be based on a pass-through pricing model and include the following requirements:

(i) Payment to the pharmacy benefit manager for pharmacy benefit management services shall be limited to the actual ingredient costs, dispensing fees paid to pharmacies, and an administrative fee that covers the cost of providing pharmacy benefit management services pursuant to a contract described in this paragraph. The department may establish a maximum administrative fee;

(ii) The pharmacy benefit manager shall identify all sources and amounts of income, payments, and financial benefits to the pharmacy benefit manager related to the provision and administration of pharmacy benefit management services on behalf of the health care plan, including, but not limited to, any pricing discounts, rebates of any kind, inflationary payments, credits, clawbacks, fees, grants, chargebacks, reimbursements, or other benefits and shall ensure that any portion of such income, payments, and financial benefits is passed through to the health care plan in full to reduce the reportable ingredient cost;

(iii) The pharmacy benefit manager shall fully disclose to the department and to the health care plan the sources and amounts of all income, payments, and financial benefits referred to in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph received by the pharmacy benefit manager;

(iv) The pharmacy benefit manager shall identify all ingredient costs and dispensing fees or similar payments made by the pharmacy benefit manager to any pharmacy in connection with the contract or other arrangement;

(v) The pharmacy benefit manager shall not utilize any form of spread pricing in any contract or other arrangement with health care plans. For purposes of this subdivision "spread pricing" means any amount charged or claimed by the pharmacy benefit manager in excess of the amount paid to pharmacies on behalf of the health care plan less an administrative fee as described in this paragraph. Any such excess amount shall be remitted to the health care plan on a quarterly basis;

(vi) Pharmacy benefit managers shall make their payment model for administrative fees available to the health care plan and to the department. The health care plan shall, if so directed by the department, make changes to the payment model and resubmit an amended contract or contracts to the department for review and approval.

(b) Any changes to premiums resulting from such contracts shall be subject to certification by the state's actuary as actuarially appropriate.

(c) Contracts or other arrangements subject to this subdivision shall be submitted to the department for review and approval as required by and in accordance with state law and the regulations of the department. Contracts or other arrangements subject to this subdivision existing and in force at the time of enactment of this subdivision shall be submitted to the department for review and approval on or before July first, two thousand nineteen.

11. A contract between a health care plan and a health care provider shall include a provision that requires the health care provider to have in place business processes to ensure the timely provision of provider directory information to the health care plan. A health care provider shall submit such provider directory information to a health care plan, at a minimum, when a provider begins or terminates a network agreement with a health care plan, when there are material changes to the content of the provider directory information of such health care provider, and at any other time, including upon the health care plan's request, as the health care provider determines to be appropriate. For purposes of this subsection, "provider directory information" shall include the name, address, specialty, telephone number, and digital contact information of such health care provider; whether the provider is accepting new patients; for mental health and substance use disorder services providers, any affiliations with participating facilities certified or authorized by the office of mental health or the office of addiction services and supports, and any restrictions regarding the availability of the individual provider's services; and in the case of physicians, board certification, languages spoken, and any affiliations with participating hospitals.

12. A contract between a health care plan and a health care provider shall include a provision that states that the provider shall reimburse the enrollee for the full amount paid by the enrollee in excess of the in-network cost-sharing amount, plus interest at an interest rate determined by the commissioner in accordance with 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-139(b), for the services involved when the enrollee is provided with inaccurate network status information by the health care plan in a provider directory or in response to a request that stated that the provider was a participating provider when the provider was not a participating provider. In the event the health care plan provides inaccurate network status information to the enrollee indicating the provider was a participating provider when such provider was not a participating provider, the health care plan shall reimburse the provider for the out-of-network services regardless of whether the enrollee's coverage includes out-of-network services. Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit a health care provider from requiring in the terms of a contract with a health care plan that the health care plan remove, at the time of termination of such contract, the provider from the health care plan's provider directory or that the health care plan bear financial responsibility for providing inaccurate network status information to an enrollee.

13. (a) No contract or agreement between a health plan subject to this article and a health care provider, other than a residential health care facility as defined by section twenty-eight hundred one of this chapter, shall include a provision that:

(i) contains a most-favored-nation provision; or

(ii) restricts the ability of a health plan, an entity that contracts with a health care plan for a provider network, or a health care provider to disclose: (A) actual claims costs; or (B) price or quality information required to be disclosed under federal law, including the allowed amount, negotiated rates or discounts, or any other claim-related financial obligations, including, but not limited to, patient cost-sharing covered by the provider contract to any subscriber, enrollee, group, or other entity receiving health care services pursuant to the contract, or to any public compilation of reimbursement data such as the New York all payer database required by law or regulation, provided that no disclosure shall include protected health information or other information covered by statutory or other privilege.

(b) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "health plan" shall include:

(i) an insurer licensed pursuant to the insurance law or a health maintenance organization certified pursuant to this article; and

(ii) a third-party administrator, affiliated with an insurer or health maintenance organization, who administers a health benefit plan.

14. (a) A health care plan may pay a claim for reimbursement made by a provider using a credit card, virtual credit card, or electronic funds transfer payment method that imposes on the provider a specifically identified fee or similar dedicated charge to process the payment if in advance of using such reimbursement method:

(i) The health care plan notifies the provider of the potential fees or other charges associated with the use of the credit card, virtual credit card, or electronic funds transfer payment;

(ii) The health care plan offers the provider an alternative payment method that does not impose fees or similar charges on the provider; and

(iii) The provider or a designee of the provider elects to accept payment of the claim using the credit card, virtual credit card, or electronic funds transfer payment method. Such payment type election shall be made by the provider within thirty days of receipt of the notice from the insurer. If the provider fails to make any payment type election within thirty days, the insurer shall pay the provider using the alternative payment method offered in the notice unless the insurer is unable to pay the provider using that alternative method due to the insurer lacking information necessary to make the alternative payment. In that instance, the insurer may use another fee-free method of payment in order to meet the timeframes established in section three thousand two hundred twenty-four-a of the insurance law.

(b) A decision pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall remain in effect until the provider notifies the health care plan, in writing, of a change to the designated payment type.

(c) If a health care plan contracts with a vendor to process payments of providers' claims, the health care plan shall require the vendor to comply with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision. This paragraph shall not apply to a vendor used by the provider in order to receive payments from an insurer.

(d) No contract between a health care plan and provider issued, renewed, modified, altered or amended after the effective date of this subdivision shall contain provisions allowing for waiver of the notice requirements contained in this subdivision.

(e) For any contract that is in effect on or before the effective date of this subdivision or that is entered into, amended or renewed on or after the effective date of this subdivision, a health care plan that initiates a payment to a provider using, or changes the payment method to, a health care electronic funds transfers and remittance advice transaction shall not charge a fee solely to transmit the payment to the provider unless the provider elects to accept payment in accordance with subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

(f) For purposes of this subdivision, the following definitions shall apply:

(i) "Provider" shall mean a health care professional or a group of health care professionals licensed pursuant to title eight of the education law that has a participating provider contract with a health care plan to provide health care services to an enrollee.

(ii) "Virtual credit card" shall mean a single-use series of numbers linked to a fixed dollar amount and provided by a health care plan to a provider for the purpose of paying a claim for health care services performed by the provider.

§ 4406-d. Health care professional applications and terminations. 1.

(a) A health care plan shall, upon request, make available and disclose to health care professionals written application procedures and minimum qualification requirements which a health care professional must meet in order to be considered by the health care plan. The plan shall consult with appropriately qualified health care professionals in developing its qualification requirements. A health care plan shall complete review of the health care professional's application to participate in the in-network portion of the health care plan's network and shall, within sixty days of receiving a health care professional's completed application to participate in the health care plan's network, notify the health care professional as to: (i) whether he or she is credentialed; or (ii) whether additional time is necessary to make a determination because of a failure of a third party to provide necessary documentation. In such instances where additional time is necessary because of a lack of necessary documentation, a health plan shall make every effort to obtain such information as soon as possible and shall make a final determination within twenty-one days of receiving the necessary documentation.

(b) If the completed application of a newly-licensed health care professional or a health care professional who has recently relocated to this state from another state and has not previously practiced in this state, who joins a group practice of health care professionals each of whom participates in the in-network portion of a health care plan's network, is neither approved nor declined within sixty days of submission of a completed application pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the health care professional shall be deemed "provisionally credentialed" and may participate in the in-network portion of the health care plan's network; provided, however, that a provisionally credentialed physician may not be designated as an enrollee's primary care physician until such time as the physician has been fully credentialed. The network participation for a provisionally credentialed health care professional shall begin on the day following the sixtieth day of receipt of the completed application and shall last until the final credentialing determination is made by the health care plan. A health care professional shall only be eligible for provisional credentialing if the group practice of health care professionals notifies the health care plan in writing that, should the application ultimately be denied, the health care professional or the group practice: (i) shall refund any payments made by the health care plan for in-network services provided by the provisionally credentialed health care professional that exceed any out-of-network benefits payable under the enrollee's contract with the health care plan; and (ii) shall not pursue reimbursement from the enrollee, except to collect the copayment that otherwise would have been payable had the enrollee received services from a health care professional participating in the in-network portion of a health care plan's network. Interest and penalties pursuant to section three thousand two hundred twenty-four-a of the insurance law shall not be assessed based on the denial of a claim submitted during the period when the health care professional was provisionally credentialed; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent a health care plan from paying a claim from a health care professional who is provisionally credentialed upon submission of such claim. A health care plan shall not deny, after appeal, a claim for services provided by a provisionally credentialed health care professional solely on the ground that the claim was not timely filed.

(c) A newly-licensed physician, a physician who has recently relocated to this state from another state and has not previously practiced in this state, or a physician who has changed his or her corporate relationship such that it results in the issuance of a new tax identification number under which such physician's services are billed for and who previously had a participation contract with the health care plan immediately prior to the event that changed his or her corporate relationship, who becomes employed by a general hospital or diagnostic and treatment center licensed pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter, or a facility licensed under article sixteen, article thirty-one or article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law which has a participating provider contract with a health care plan, and whose other employed physicians participate in the in-network portion of a health care plan's network, shall be deemed "provisionally credentialed" and may participate in the in-network portion of a health care plan's network during this time period upon: (i) the health care plan's receipt of the hospital and physician's completed sections of the insurer's credentialing application; and (ii) the health care plan being notified in writing that the health care professional has been granted hospital privileges pursuant to the requirements of section twenty-eight hundred five-k of this chapter. However, a provisionally credentialed physician shall not be designated as an enrollee's primary care physician until such time as the physician has been fully credentialed by the health care plan. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a health care plan shall not be required to make any payments to the licensed general hospital, the licensed diagnostic and treatment center or a facility licensed under article sixteen, article thirty-one or article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law for the service provided by a provisionally credentialed physician, until and unless the physician is fully credentialed by the health care plan, provided, however, that upon being fully credentialed, the licensed general hospital, the licensed diagnostic and treatment center or a facility licensed under article sixteen, article thirty-one or article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law shall be paid for all services provided by the physician for up to sixty days after submission of the completed application that the credentialed physician provided to the health care plan's insureds from the date the physician fully met the requirements to be provisionally credentialed pursuant to this paragraph. Should the application ultimately be denied by the health care plan, the health care plan shall not be liable for any payment to the licensed general hospital, the licensed diagnostic and treatment center or a facility licensed under article sixteen, article thirty-one or article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law for the services provided by the provisionally credentialed health care professional; and the licensed general hospital, the licensed diagnostic and treatment center or a facility licensed under article sixteen, article thirty-one or article thirty-two of the mental hygiene law shall not pursue reimbursement from the insured, except to collect the copayment or coinsurance or deductible amount that otherwise would have been payable had the insured received services from a health care professional participating in the in-network portion of a health care plan's network.

2. (a) A health care plan shall not terminate a contract with a health care professional unless the health care plan provides to the health care professional a written explanation of the reasons for the proposed contract termination and an opportunity for a review or hearing as hereinafter provided. This section shall not apply in cases involving imminent harm to patient care, a determination of fraud, or a final disciplinary action by a state licensing board or other governmental agency that impairs the health care professional's ability to practice.

(b) The notice of the proposed contract termination provided by the health care plan to the health care professional shall include:

(i) the reasons for the proposed action;

(ii) notice that the health care professional has the right to request a hearing or review, at the professional's discretion, before a panel appointed by the health care plan;

(iii) a time limit of not less than thirty days within which a health care professional may request a hearing; and

(iv) a time limit for a hearing date which must be held within thirty days after the date of receipt of a request for a hearing.

(c) The hearing panel shall be comprised of three persons appointed by the health care plan. At least one person on such panel shall be a clinical peer in the same discipline and the same or similar specialty as the health care professional under review. The hearing panel may consist of more than three persons, provided however that the number of clinical peers on such panel shall constitute one-third or more of the total membership of the panel.

(d) The hearing panel shall render a decision on the proposed action in a timely manner. Such decision shall include reinstatement of the health care professional by the health care plan, provisional reinstatement subject to conditions set forth by the health care plan or termination of the health care professional. Such decision shall be provided in writing to the health care professional.

(e) A decision by the hearing panel to terminate a health care professional shall be effective not less than thirty days after the receipt by the health care professional of the hearing panel's decision; provided, however, that the provisions of paragraph (e) of subdivision six of section four thousand four hundred three of this article shall apply to such termination.

(f) In no event shall termination be effective earlier than sixty days from the receipt of the notice of termination.

3. Either party to a contract may exercise a right of non-renewal at the expiration of the contract period set forth therein or, for a contract without a specific expiration date, on each January first occurring after the contract has been in effect for at least one year, upon sixty days notice to the other party; provided, however, that any non-renewal shall not constitute a termination for purposes of this section.

4. A health care plan shall develop and implement policies and procedures to ensure that health care professionals are regularly informed of information maintained by the health care plan to evaluate the performance or practice of the health care professional. The health care plan shall consult with health care professionals in developing methodologies to collect and analyze health care professional profiling data. Health care plans shall provide any such information and profiling data and analysis to health care professionals. Such information, data or analysis shall be provided on a periodic basis appropriate to the nature and amount of data and the volume and scope of services provided. Any profiling data used to evaluate the performance or practice of a health care professional shall be measured against stated criteria and an appropriate group of health care professionals using similar treatment modalities serving a comparable patient population. Upon presentation of such information or data, each health care professional shall be given the opportunity to discuss the unique nature of the health care professional's patient population which may have a bearing on the health care professional's profile and to work cooperatively with the health care plan to improve performance.

5. No health care plan shall terminate a contract or employment, or refuse to renew a contract, solely because a health care provider has:

- (a) advocated on behalf of an enrollee;
- (b) filed a complaint against the health care plan;
- (c) appealed a decision of the health care plan;
- (d) provided information or filed a report pursuant to section forty-four hundred six-c of this article; or
- (e) requested a hearing or review pursuant to this section.

6. Except as provided herein, no contract or agreement between a health care plan and a health care professional shall contain any provision which shall supersede or impair a health care professional's right to notice of reasons for termination and the opportunity for a hearing or review concerning such termination.

7. Any contract provision in violation of this section shall be deemed to be void and unenforceable.

8. For purposes of this section, "health care plan" shall mean a health maintenance organization licensed pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law or certified pursuant to this article or an independent practice association certified or recognized pursuant to this article.

9. For purposes of this section, "health care professional" shall mean a health care professional licensed, registered or certified pursuant to title eight of the education law.

§ 4406-e. Access to end of life care. 1. For the purposes of this section, "health care plan" means a health maintenance organization licensed pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law or certified pursuant to this article.

2. Every health care plan that provides coverage for hospital, surgical or medical care that includes coverage for acute care services shall provide an enrollee diagnosed with advanced cancer (with no hope of reversal of primary disease and fewer than sixty days to live, as certified by the patient's attending health care practitioner) with coverage for acute care services at an acute care facility licensed pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter specializing in the treatment of terminally ill patients, if the patient's attending health care practitioner, in consultation with the medical director of the facility, determines that the enrollee's care would appropriately be provided by the facility.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of article forty-nine of this chapter, if the health care plan disagrees with the admission of or provision or continuation of care for the enrollee by the facility, the health care plan shall initiate an expedited external appeal in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) of subdivision two of section forty-nine hundred fourteen of this chapter, provided further, that until such decision is rendered, the admission of or provision or continuation of the care by the facility shall not be denied by the health care plan and the health care plan shall provide coverage and reimburse the facility for services provided subject to the provisions of this section and other limitations otherwise applicable under the enrollee's contract. The decision of the external appeal agent shall be binding on all parties. If the health care plan does not initiate an expedited external appeal, the health care plan shall reimburse the facility for services provided subject to the provisions of this section and other limitations otherwise applicable under the enrollee's contract.

4. A health care plan shall provide reimbursement for those services prescribed by this section at rates negotiated between the health care plan and the facility. In the absence of agreed upon rates, a health care plan shall pay for acute care at the facility's acute care rate under the Medicare program (Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act), including the Part A rate for Part A services and the Part B rate for Part B services, and shall pay for alternate level care days at seventy-five percent of the acute care rate, including the Part A rate for Part A services and the Part B rate for Part B services.

5. Payment by a health care plan pursuant to this section shall be payment in full for the services provided to the enrollee. An acute care facility reimbursed pursuant to this section shall not charge or seek any reimbursement from, or have any recourse against an enrollee for the services provided by the acute care facility pursuant to this section, except for the collection of copayments, coinsurance or visit fees, or deductibles for which the enrollee is responsible under the terms of the applicable contract.

6. No provision of this section shall be construed to require a health care plan to provide coverage for benefits not otherwise covered under the enrollee's contract.

§ 4406-f. Maternal depression screenings. To the extent a plan provides coverage for maternal depression screening, no health maintenance organization subject to this article shall by contract, written policy or procedure limit a patient enrollee's direct access to screening and referral for maternal depression, as defined in subdivision one of section twenty-five hundred-k of this chapter, from a provider of obstetrical, gynecologic, or pediatric services of her choice; provided that the patient enrollee's access to such services, coverage and choice of provider is otherwise subject to the terms and conditions of the plan under which the patient enrollee is covered.

§ 4406-g. Telehealth delivery of services. 1. A health maintenance organization shall not exclude from coverage a service that is otherwise covered under an enrollee contract of a health maintenance organization because the service is delivered via telehealth, as that term is defined in subdivision two of this section; provided, however, that a health maintenance organization may exclude from coverage a service by a health care provider where the provider is not otherwise covered under the enrollee contract. A health maintenance organization may subject the coverage of a service delivered via telehealth to co-payments, coinsurance or deductibles provided that they are at least as favorable to the enrollee as those established for the same service when not delivered via telehealth. A health maintenance organization may subject the coverage of a service delivered via telehealth to reasonable utilization management and quality assurance requirements that are consistent with those established for the same service when not delivered via telehealth.

2. For purposes of this section, "telehealth" means the use of electronic information and communication technologies by a health care provider to deliver health care services to an enrollee while such enrollee is located at a site that is different from the site where the health care provider is located.

* 3. A health maintenance organization that provides comprehensive coverage for hospital, medical or surgical care shall reimburse covered services delivered via telehealth on the same basis, at the same rate, and to the extent that such services are reimbursed when delivered in person; provided that reimbursement of covered services delivered by means of telehealth shall not require reimbursement of costs not actually incurred in the provision of the telehealth services, including charges related to the use of a clinic or other facility when neither the originating site nor the distant site occur within the clinic or other facility. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent, may promulgate regulations to implement the provisions of this section.

* NB Repealed April 1, 2028

* 4. A health maintenance organization that provides comprehensive coverage for hospital, medical, or surgical care with a network of health care providers shall ensure that such network is adequate to meet the telehealth needs of insured individuals for services covered under the policy when medically appropriate.

* NB Repealed April 1, 2028

§ 4406-h. Health care facility applications. 1. A health care plan shall, upon request, make available and disclose to facilities written application procedures and minimum qualification requirements that a facility must meet in order to be considered by the health care plan for participation in the in-network benefits portion of the health care plan's network. The health care plan shall consult with appropriately qualified facilities in developing its qualification requirements. A health care plan shall complete review of the facility's application to participate in the in-network portion of the health care plan's network and shall, within sixty days of receiving a facility's completed application to participate in the health care plan's network, notify the facility as to: (a) whether the facility is credentialed; or (b) whether additional time is necessary to make a determination because of a failure of a third party to provide necessary documentation. In such instances where additional time is necessary because of a lack of necessary documentation, a health care plan shall make every effort to obtain such information as soon as possible and shall make a final determination within twenty-one days of receiving the necessary documentation.

2. For the purposes of this section, "facility" shall mean a health care provider entity or organization that is licensed or certified pursuant to article five, twenty-eight, thirty-six, forty, forty-four, or forty-seven of this chapter or article sixteen, nineteen, thirty-one, thirty-two, or thirty-six of the mental hygiene law.

§ 4406-i. Utilization review determinations for medically fragile children. 1. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of the health maintenance organization's clinical standards, the health maintenance organization, and any utilization review agent under contract with such health maintenance organization, shall administer and apply the clinical standards (and make determinations of medical necessity) regarding medically fragile children in accordance with the requirements of this section and any regulations with special considerations and processes for utilization review related to medically fragile children.

2. Health maintenance organizations shall undertake the following with respect to medically fragile children, and as applicable, shall ensure that their contracted utilization review agents undertake the following with respect to medically fragile children:

(a) Consider as medically necessary all covered services that assist medically fragile children in reaching their maximum functional capacity, taking into account the appropriate functional capacities of children of the same age. In the case of Medicaid managed care, health maintenance organizations shall continue to cover services until that child achieves age-appropriate functional capacity.

(b) Shall not base determinations solely upon review standards applicable to (or designed for) adults to medically fragile children. Determinations shall take into consideration the specific needs of the child and the circumstances pertaining to their growth and development.

(c) Accommodate unusual stabilization and prolonged discharge plans for medically fragile children, as appropriate. Health maintenance organizations, and as applicable their contracted utilization review agents, shall consider when developing and approving discharge plans issues including sudden reversals of condition or progress which may make discharge decisions uncertain or more prolonged than for other children or adults.

(d) It is the health maintenance organization's network management responsibility to identify an available provider of needed covered services, as determined through a person centered care plan, to effect safe discharge from a hospital or other facility. In the case of Medicaid managed care, payments shall not be denied to a discharging hospital or other facility due to lack of an available post-discharge provider as long as they have worked with the utilization review agent to identify an appropriate provider.

(e) This section does not limit any other rights the medically fragile child may have, including the right to appeal the denial of out of network coverage at in-network cost sharing levels where an appropriate in-network provider is not available pursuant to subdivision one-b of section forty-nine hundred four of this chapter.

(f) Health maintenance organizations shall contract with providers with demonstrated expertise in caring for the medically fragile children. Network providers shall refer to appropriate network community and facility providers for covered services to meet the needs of the child or seek authorization from the health maintenance organization for out-of-network providers when participating providers cannot meet the child's needs.

3. In the case of Medicaid managed care, when rendering or arranging for care or payment, both the provider and the health maintenance organization shall inquire of, and shall consider the desires of the family of a medically fragile child including, but not limited to, the availability and capacity of the family, the need for the family to simultaneously care for the family's other children, and the need for parents to continue employment.

4. In the case of Medicaid managed care, the health maintenance organization shall pay for all days of inpatient hospital care at a participating specialty care center for medically fragile children when the health maintenance organization and the specialty care facility mutually agree the patient is ready for discharge from the specialty care center to the patient's home but requires specialized home services that are not available or in place, or the patient is awaiting discharge to a residential health care facility when no residential health care facility bed is available given the specialized needs of the medically fragile child. In the case of Medicaid managed care, the health maintenance organization shall pay, for all days of residential health care facility care at a participating specialty care center for medically fragile children when the health maintenance organization and the specialty care facility mutually agree the patient is ready for discharge from the specialty care center to the patient's home but requires specialized home services that are not available or in place. In the case of Medicaid managed care, such requirements shall apply until the health plan can identify and secure admission to an alternate provider rendering the necessary level of services. The specialty care center shall facilitate placement efforts to effectuate the discharge.

5. In the event a health maintenance organization enters into a participation agreement with a specialty care center for medically fragile children in this state, the requirements of this section shall apply to such participation agreement and to all claims submitted to, or payments made by, any other health maintenance organizations, insurers or payors making payment to the specialty care center pursuant to the provisions of that participation agreement.

§ 4407. Health maintenance organizations; employer requirements. 1. All employers subject to the provisions of the unemployment insurance law, except for those employers with fewer than twenty-five employees, shall include in any health benefits plan offered to their employees, the option of membership in a health maintenance organization which provides or offers a comprehensive health services plan in accordance with the provisions of this article, but only if such plan serves an area in which twenty-five of such employer's employees reside and the organization has been issued a certificate of authority by the commissioner.

2. For those employees of an employer represented by a bargaining representative, the offer of the health maintenance organization alternative shall be subject only to the collective bargaining process; for those employees not represented by a bargaining representative, the offer of the health maintenance organization alternative shall be made directly to the employee.

3. (a) If there is more than one health maintenance organization engaged in the provision of health services in the area in which the employees of the employer reside, and if:

(i) one or more of such organizations provides more than one-half of its comprehensive health services through physicians or other health professionals who are members of the staff of the organization or of a medical group (or groups) which contracts with the organization, and

(ii) one or more of such organizations provides its comprehensive health services through contracts with an individual practice association (or associations), individual physicians and other health professionals under contract directly with the organization, or a combination of an individual practice association (or associations), medical group (or groups), physicians who are members of the staff of the organization, and individual physicians and other health professionals under contract directly with the organization, then the employer shall, in accordance with regulations of the commissioner, be required to offer the option of enrollment in at least one organization described in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph and at least one organization described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph if the employer has twenty-five or more but fewer than two hundred employees. If the employer has two hundred or more employees and the employer's principal office in this state is located outside of the metropolitan region then the employer shall be required to offer the option of enrollment in at least two organizations described in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph and at least two organizations described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph. If the employer has two hundred or more employees and the employer's principal office in this state is located within the metropolitan region then the employer shall be required to offer the option of enrollment in at least two organizations described in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph and at least two organizations described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph and an additional organization from either subparagraph. For the purposes of this section the metropolitan region is defined as the counties of Westchester, Rockland, New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond, Bronx, Nassau and Suffolk.

(b) If within any particular area of the state in which at least twenty-five of such employer's employees reside there are fewer health maintenance organizations described in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision than the employer is required to offer, then additional health maintenance organizations from subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be offered; provided, however, that no employer with fewer than two hundred employees shall be required to offer more than a total of two health maintenance organizations, and no employer with two hundred or more employees shall be required to offer more than a total of four health maintenance organizations (or five such organizations if the employer's principal office is located within the metropolitan region) in any particular area of the state. In the event fewer than the required total minimum number of health maintenance organizations are available in an area, the employer shall offer all health maintenance organizations then certified to issue subscriber contracts in that area. Nothing in this subdivision shall be deemed to prohibit an employer from choosing to offer more health maintenance organizations to its employees than are required under this subdivision.

4. No employer shall be required to pay more for health benefits as a result of the application of this section than would otherwise be required by any prevailing collective bargaining agreement or other legally enforceable contract for the provision of health benefits between an employer and his employees.

§ 4408. Disclosure of information. 1. Each subscriber, and upon request each prospective subscriber prior to enrollment, shall be supplied with written disclosure information which may be incorporated into the member handbook or the subscriber contract or certificate containing at least the information set forth below. In the event of any inconsistency between any separate written disclosure statement and the subscriber contract or certificate, the terms of the subscriber contract or certificate shall be controlling. The information to be disclosed shall include at least the following:

(a) a description of coverage provisions; health care benefits; benefit maximums, including benefit limitations; and exclusions of coverage, including the definition of medical necessity used in determining whether benefits will be covered;

(b) a description of all prior authorization or other requirements for treatments and services;

(c) a description of utilization review policies and procedures used by the health maintenance organization, including:

 § 4408-a. Integrated delivery systems. 1. Legislative purpose and findings. The legislature intends to facilitate the ability of integrated delivery systems to assume a larger role in delivering a full array of health care services, from primary and preventive care through acute inpatient hospital and post-hospital care to a defined population for a determined price. The legislature finds that the formation and operation of integrated delivery systems under this section will promote the purposes of federal and state anti-referral statutes which are to reduce over-utilization and expenditures and finds that such statutes should not be interpreted to interfere with the development of such integrated delivery systems or impose liability for arrangements between an integrated delivery system certified pursuant to this section and its participating providers and entities. The legislature further finds that the development of integrated delivery systems will reduce costs and enhance quality. It intends that systems acting pursuant to a certificate of authority issued under this section shall not be subject to state or federal antitrust liability for doing so.

2. Definitions. For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Applicant" means a separate legal entity created for the purpose of establishing and operating an integrated delivery system. Such entity shall be composed of or controlled by one or more affiliated providers or one or more affiliated groups of providers.

(b) "Provider" means an entity licensed or certified under article twenty-eight or thirty-six of this chapter; an entity licensed or certified under article sixteen, twenty-three, thirty-one or thirty-two of the mental hygiene law; or a health care practitioner, or combination of health care practitioners, licensed under title eight of the education law. Every provider shall be: (i) a natural person; (ii) a partnership all of whose members are natural persons and that is not a limited partnership; or (iii) a corporation none of whose stock is owned by another corporation.

3. The commissioner, after receiving from the superintendent of financial services the evaluations and approvals required pursuant to subdivision seven of this section, may issue a certificate of authority to an applicant which satisfies the conditions under this section for issuance established by the commissioner and which seeks to deliver comprehensive health services, on a capitated basis, including inpatient services, to:

(a) persons who are receiving benefits under title XVIII of the federal social security act; or

(b) persons who are receiving benefits under title XIX of the federal social security act and commercial enrollees; or

(c) an enrollee population which includes persons receiving benefits under titles XVIII and XIX of the federal social security act and commercial enrollees.

4. An applicant must demonstrate to the commissioner that it will provide at least seventy-five percent of the total expenditures for covered health care items and services directly to its enrollees through the provider, affiliated providers or affiliated groups of providers comprising such applicant. The applicant shall make arrangements or referrals for any covered health care items and services not provided directly to its enrollees by such applicant.

5. A provider shall be deemed affiliated with another provider or group of providers if, through contract, ownership or otherwise:

(a) one provider, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, or holds the power to vote, or proxies for, not less than fifty-one percent of the voting rights or governance rights of another;

(b) each provider is a participant in a lawful combination under which each provider shares, either directly or indirectly, substantial financial risk in connection with the activities and services of such combination; or

(c) a provider is a corporate member of a provider organized as a not-for-profit corporation duly designated pursuant to section six hundred one of the not-for-profit corporation law.

6. The commissioner shall be responsible for evaluating, approving and regulating all matters relating to delivery systems, quality of care and access to care to be provided through the integrated delivery system. In performing this responsibility, the commissioner shall assure:

(a) that the formation and operation of the integrated delivery system will enhance access to health services in the area to be served; and

(b) subject to subdivision four of this section, the comprehensive health services will be provided by the applicant through its proposed delivery system (including through providers other than those composing, affiliated with or controlling the applicant).

7. (a) The superintendent of financial services, in consultation with the commissioner in accordance with a protocol to be specified in a memorandum of understanding between the commissioner and the superintendent of financial services regarding fiscal solvency, shall be responsible for evaluating, approving and regulating all matters relating to premium rates, subscriber contracts and fiscal solvency, including reserves, surplus and provider contracts to the extent such contracts relate to fiscal solvency matters. The superintendent of financial services, in the administration of this subdivision, shall:

- (i) be guided by the standards which govern the fiscal solvency of a health maintenance organization, provided, however, that the superintendent of financial services shall recognize and consider the specific delivery components, operational capacity and financial capability of the applicant for a certificate of authority; and

- (ii) not apply financial solvency standards that exceed those required for a health maintenance organization.

(b) Standards established pursuant to this subdivision shall be adequate to protect the interests of the subscribers to integrated delivery systems. The superintendent of financial services must be satisfied that the applicant is fiscally sound, and has made adequate provisions to pay for services:

- (i) that are furnished by providers that are not affiliated with the applicant;

- (ii) to meet the specialized health care needs of certain enrollees needing care at specialty care centers; and

- (iii) for which claims are submitted after the period for which the applicant will receive payments.

8. The integrated delivery system shall have its premiums determined on a community-rated basis in accordance with the insurance law except where the enrollees are eligible to receive services under title XIX of the federal social security act in which case the premium rates shall be established by the commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent of financial services, subject to the approval of the director of the division of the budget.

9. An integrated delivery system shall be subject to the provisions of the insurance law that are applicable to health maintenance organizations, this chapter and regulations applicable to health maintenance organization, and any regulations promulgated by the commissioner or superintendent of financial services to implement this section. To the extent that the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or the provisions of the insurance law, the provisions of this section shall prevail.

10. No certificate of authority for an integrated delivery system shall be issued pursuant to this section on or after April first, two thousand two and integrated delivery systems issued certificates before such date shall accept no new enrollees thereafter.

(b) The department is authorized to address to any health maintenance organization, and managed long term care plan with a certificate of authority pursuant to section forty-four hundred three-f of this article, or officers thereof, any inquiry in relation to its contracts with providers and other entities providing covered services to the health maintenance organization's or managed long term care plan's enrollees, including but not limited to the rates of payment and payment terms and conditions therein. Every entity or person so addressed shall reply in writing to such inquiry promptly and truthfully, and such reply shall be, if required by the department, signed by such individual, or by such officer or officers of a corporation, as the department shall designate, and affirmed by them as true under penalty of perjury. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall be subject to civil penalties under section twelve of this chapter. Each day after the deadline established by the department for reply until such time that the provider submits a good faith response shall be considered a separate and subsequent violation. In accordance with the process outlined in this paragraph, employers shall provide any documents or materials in the employer's possession, custody, or control that are requested by the department as needed to support or verify the employer's reply.

(c) Any report, information, documents, or other materials furnished to the department under this subdivision shall be deemed a confidential communication and shall not be subject to inspection or disclosure in any manner, including article six of the public officers law or department regulations in conformance therewith, except as provided in this section, pursuant to a judicial subpoena issued in a pending action or proceeding, or upon formal written request by the department of labor, the office of attorney general, or a duly authorized public agency.

(d) The department shall no less than annually provide a report to the governor, temporary president of the senate, and speaker of the assembly summarizing the information obtained by the department under paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Such report shall not contain individually identifiable data.

3. The superintendent and the commissioner are authorized to share and exchange information obtained by them in the exercise of their respective responsibilities under the insurance law and this chapter.

4. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to require the public disclosure of privileged patient information.

§ 4410. Health maintenance organizations; professional services. 1. The provision of comprehensive health services directly or indirectly, by a health maintenance organization through its comprehensive health services plan shall not be considered the practice of the profession of medicine by such organization or plan. However, each member, employee or agent of such organization or plan shall be fully and personally liable and accountable for any negligent or wrongful act or misconduct committed by him or any person under his direct supervision and control while rendering professional services on behalf of such organization or plan.

2. Unless the patient waives the right of confidentiality, a health maintenance organization or its comprehensive health services plan shall not be allowed to disclose any information which was acquired by such organization or plan in the course of the rendering to a patient of professional services by a person authorized to practice medicine, registered professional nursing, licensed practical nursing, or dentistry, and which was necessary to acquire to enable such person to act in that capacity, except as may be otherwise required by law. A non-participating provider shall provide an enrollee's organization with such patient information as is reasonably required by the organization to administer its plan. In making such disclosure a provider shall comply with the provisions of subdivision six of section eighteen of this chapter concerning the disclosure of patient information to third parties provided, however, that with respect to a protected individual as defined in subdivision six of section twenty-seven hundred eighty of this chapter, disclosure shall be made only pursuant to an enrollee's written authorization and shall otherwise be consistent with the requirements of such section and rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the provisions of section four hundred twenty-two of the social services law shall apply to any information or reports submitted by a health maintenance organization to the statewide central register of child abuse and maltreatment reports.

4. (a) The commissioner shall have access to patient-specific medical information, including encounter data, maintained by a health maintenance organization or other organization certified pursuant to this article for the purposes of quality assurance and oversight, subject to any other limitations of federal and state law regarding disclosure thereof to third parties and subject to the provisions of this subdivision. The provisions of sections thirty-one hundred one, and forty-five hundred four, forty-five hundred seven and forty-five hundred eight of the civil practice law and rules, subdivision three of this section and section 33.13 of the mental hygiene law, shall not bar disclosure by the health maintenance organization to the commissioner for such purposes.

(b) The commissioner may only obtain enrollee information subject to the establishment of protocols that will ensure that such patient-specific information is not disclosed to third parties other than to entities serving as agents of the state for the purposes of quality assurance and oversight. Such protocols shall be developed in consultation with representatives of health maintenance organizations, health care provider organizations and consumer organizations and shall, where possible, include the development of a unique confidential identifier to be used in connection with patient-specific data. These protocols shall address issues relating to the collection, maintenance, and disclosure of such patient-specific information. Such protocols shall be promulgated as regulations, provided however, that protocols or regulations in use prior to the effective date of this subdivision shall remain in effect until the regulations developed hereunder are promulgated.

(c) In addition to any other sanction or penalty as provided by law, any employee of the department who willfully violates this regulation or any other rule or procedure pertaining to the disclosure of any material collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be deemed to have committed an act of misconduct and shall be disciplined in accordance with the provisions of the civil service law.

§ 4411. Construction. The provisions of laws other than this article shall not be applicable to the certification of any health maintenance organization under this article except where so specified; provided, however, that no health maintenance organization shall include in its name the words "insurer", "casualty", "health and accident" or any words generally regarded as descriptive of the insurance function; provided further, that this provision shall not be construed as prohibiting the participation in a comprehensive health services plan of any corporation or other entity organized under any other law, to the extent that such corporations or entities are authorized to participate by law, including but not limited to the insurance law, business corporation law, education law, not-for-profit corporation law, or general municipal law; nor shall this section be considered to prevent the application of any other law to the entities comprising such plan.

§ 4412. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 4413. Savings clause. Nothing contained in this article or any act amendatory thereof shall affect or impair the validity of any act done or right accruing, accrued or acquired or any order, judgment, or status established prior to the enactment of this article or prior to the amendment of any act amendatory thereof.

Medical corporations organized pursuant to the provisions of former article forty-four of the public health law in effect prior to the effectiveness of the provisions of this article may continue to operate pursuant to the provisions of law in effect prior to the effectiveness hereof.

Health maintenance organizations that applied for a license under article forty-three of the insurance law and receive approval under article twenty-eight of the public health law may continue under the provisions of the laws in existence on the effective date of this article.

§ 4414. Health care compliance programs. 1. The commissioner, after consultation with the superintendent of financial services, shall by regulation establish standards and criteria for compliance programs to be implemented by persons providing coverage or coverage and service pursuant to any public or governmentally-sponsored or supported plan for health care coverage or services. Such regulations shall include provisions for the design and implementation of programs or processes to prevent, detect and address instances of fraud and abuse. Such regulations shall take into account the nature of the entity's business and the size of its enrolled population. The commissioner and the superintendent of financial services shall accept programs and processes implemented pursuant to section four hundred nine of the insurance law as satisfying the obligations of this section and the regulations promulgated thereunder when such programs and processes incorporate the objectives contemplated by this section.

2. Notwithstanding any provisions of section twelve of this chapter to the contrary, penalties collected from any health maintenance organization certified pursuant to this article resulting from a violation of the health maintenance organization's mental health and substance use disorder parity compliance program shall be deposited into the behavioral health parity compliance fund as established pursuant to section ninety-nine-hh of the state finance law.

 § 4416. Excess reserves of certain health maintenance organizations.

1. The commissioner is authorized to require any comprehensive health services plan issued a special purpose certificate of authority under section forty-four hundred three-a of this article, that satisfies the definition of corporation in subparagraph five of paragraph (a) of section one hundred two of the not-for-profit corporation law or is exempt from taxation under section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to submit all financial and other books and records the commissioner deems necessary in order to evaluate an organization's reserves. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent of the department of financial services, shall examine such books and records and shall issue a report on the health maintenance organization's reserves. A request under this section may be made no more than two times per year per plan.

2. Except for any public benefit corporation, the commissioner is authorized to promulgate regulations establishing a presumptive reserve ceiling for any comprehensive health services plan issued a special purpose certificate of authority under section forty-four hundred three-a of this article that satisfies the definition of corporation in subparagraph five of paragraph (a) of section one hundred two of the not-for-profit corporation law or that is exempt from taxation under section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. Such regulations shall express the presumptive reserve ceiling as a percentage of the minimum contingent reserves applicable to such health maintenance organizations. The presumptive reserve ceiling shall be no less than one hundred fifty percent of the minimum contingent reserves applicable to such plans. In the event that the commissioner determines that a plan subject to this subdivision has reserves in excess of the presumptive reserve ceiling for two consecutive quarters, the commissioner may make a preliminary determination that all or a portion of such reserves in excess of the ceiling should be redeployed by depositing such excess reserves in the health care transformation fund pursuant to subdivision three of this section. Prior to making a preliminary determination, the commissioner shall consider whether such redeployment is consistent with financial soundness and efficiency and to the extent to which such reserves are being maintained consistent with the programmatic goals of the state. Upon making such a preliminary determination, the department shall notify the plan and the plan shall be afforded an opportunity to submit information to the department to justify why such reserves in excess of the ceiling are necessary and should not be so redeployed. Provided however, under no circumstances shall the redeployment of such reserves for any plan exceed seven hundred and fifty million dollars annually.

3. If, after considering the information submitted by the plan, the commissioner adheres to the preliminary determination that the reserves in excess of the ceiling should be redeployed, the commissioner shall direct that such reserves be deposited to the health care transformation fund established pursuant to section ninety-two-hh of the state finance law or its successor to be used for investment in the transformation of health care delivery, including for capital investment, debt retirement or restructuring, housing and other social determinants of health, or transitional operating support to health care providers, pursuant to a plan prepared by the commissioner and approved by the director of the division of the budget.

4. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, on or after August first, two thousand eighteen no entity subject to subdivision two of this section shall transfer or loan any funds to any subsidiary or member of the entity's holding company system or to a member or stockholder where a purpose of the transfer or loan is to avoid the application of this section.

Such profit making referral services have consistently engaged in practices inimical to the public interest which would be prohibited to physicians and have engaged in relationships with physicians which are in violation of the laws and public policy of this state and which have permitted physicians to benefit indirectly from acts and practices which would be prohibited to them directly. It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this state that the public health, safety and welfare of the citizens of this state require that such profit making medical referral service organizations be declared to be invalid and unlawful in this state.

§ 4501. Medical referral service businesses prohibited. 1. No person, firm, partnership, association or corporation, or agent or employee thereof, shall engage in for profit any business or service which in whole or in part includes the referral or recommendation of persons to a physician, dentist, hospital, health related facility, or dispensary for any form of medical or dental care or treatment of any ailment or physical condition. The imposition of a fee or charge for any such referral or recommendation shall create a presumption that the business or service is engaged in for profit.

2. No physician, dentist, hospital, health related facility or dispensary shall enter into a contract or other form of agreement to accept for medical or dental care or treatment any person referred or recommended for such care or treatment by a medical or dental referral service business located in or doing business in another state if the medical or dental referral service business would be prohibited under this section if the business were located in or doing business in this state.

§ 4502. Penalties. 1. A violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be punished by imprisonment for not longer than one year or a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2. Whenever there shall be a violation of this section, an application also may be made by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state of New York to a court or justice having jurisdiction to issue an injunction, and upon notice to the defendant of not less than five days, to enjoin and restrain the continuance of such violation; and if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court or justice that the defendant has, in fact, violated this section, an injunction may be issued by such court or justice, enjoining and restraining any further violation, without requiring proof that any person has, in fact, been injured or damaged thereby. In any such proceeding the court may make allowances to the attorney general as provided in section 8303, subdivision 6 of the civil practice law and rules. In connection with any such proposed application, the attorney general is authorized to take proof and make a determination of the relevant facts and to issue subpoenas in accordance with the civil practice law and rules.

§ 4503. Application. The provisions of this article shall not apply to any individual, agency, association or corporation not organized or incorporated for pecuniary profit or financial gain or to any organization or association which is exempt from taxation pursuant to section 501 (c) of title 26 of the United States Code, constituting the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

§ 4600. Legislative findings and purpose. The dramatic increase in the numbers of elderly people, especially those seventy-five years of age and older, coupled with the special housing and health care needs of this growing segment of the population, requires the development of new and creative approaches to help ensure the care of older people in residential settings of their own choice. If carefully planned and monitored, life care communities have the potential to provide a continuum of care for older people that will provide an attractive residential option for such persons, while meeting their long term care needs for life. To ensure that the financial, consumer, and health care interest of individuals who enroll in such communities will be protected, such communities must be effectively managed and carefully overseen.

The intent of the legislature, therefore, is to allow for the prudent development of life care communities. The legislature further intends to require that the relevant state agencies coordinate the regulation of such communities in order to ensure that there are adequate safeguards for those elderly who become residents and to assist in the orderly development, of such communities. Although lead responsibility for the interagency coordination of the regulation and establishment of such communities is vested in the department of health, the legislature does not intend that such communities become or be perceived as primarily medically-oriented facilities. The legislature intends, instead, that such communities be viewed as an attractive and innovative residential alternative for older New Yorkers who are seeking to maintain, to the extent possible, an independent and active life in a community in which their long-term care needs will be met.

§ 4601. Definitions. As used in this article:

1. For purposes of this article, the purchase price of an independent living unit in an equity arrangement, regardless of the form of the purchase agreement, shall not be considered an entry fee for purposes of calculating reserve liabilities, but shall be considered an entry fee for escrow purposes;

b. provides a range of health care and social services, subject to such terms as may be included within the contract, which shall include adult care facility services of an on-site or affiliated adult care facility, and at a minimum, sixty days of prepaid services of an on-site or affiliated nursing facility for residents not receiving services under a fee-for-service contract;

Notwithstanding any provision of article twenty-eight of this chapter or any other provisions of law to the contrary, the public health council may approve without regard to the requirement of public need as set forth in subdivision three of section twenty-eight hundred one-a of this chapter, a certificate of incorporation or application for establishment of such facilities.

2. Not more than one hundred eighty residential health care demonstration facility beds shall be authorized and established in this state pursuant to this article.

3. In determining an application filed under article twenty-eight of this chapter, the public health council shall consider the number of elderly persons residing in and receiving services from each health systems agency established under the provisions of subdivision (c) of section twenty-nine hundred four of this chapter and such other information as the public health council may require to determine whether such system will promote the health and welfare of the elderly persons to whom it proposes to provide services.

4. An operating certificate issued pursuant to an application filed by a residential health care demonstration facility shall be conditioned upon an agreement by the operator of the facility to provide services only to persons who have been residents of the independent living units or adult care facility within the comprehensive system for at least thirty days prior to the admission of such person to the residential health care facility, unless the commissioner for good cause shown approves a waiver of such condition which may be effective only during the first twenty-four months after the issuance of the operating certificate.

5. The provisions of this article shall not apply to residential health care demonstration facilities, unless otherwise provided in this section or subdivision three of section forty-six hundred four of this article.

6. An application for approval pursuant to this section must be filed with the department on or before June thirtieth, nineteen hundred ninety-two.

Except as otherwise provided in this article, the activities of continuing care retirement communities shall be subject to any other law governing such activities including but not limited to article twenty-eight of this chapter and article seven of the social services law and regulations promulgated thereunder; provided, however, that the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of subdivision four of section twenty-eight hundred one-a and section twenty-eight hundred two of this chapter shall not apply, and provided that the provisions of paragraph (a) of subdivision one and the provisions of subdivision two of section four hundred sixty-one-b of the social services law with respect to public need and the provisions of subdivision one of section four hundred sixty-one-c of the social services law shall not apply to residents who have been admitted in accordance with a contract provided that, upon admission to the adult care facility, such residents shall be given a notice which shall include, at a minimum, information regarding facility services, resident responsibilities, supplemental services, resident rights and protections and circumstances that warrant transfer. The number of residential health care facility beds available pursuant to subdivision five of this section, without proof of public need therefor, shall be reduced by the number of residential health care demonstration facility beds that are approved pursuant to this article.

4. No certificate of authority shall be issued unless an application meeting the requirements of this section and all other requirements established by law has been approved by:

a. (i) the superintendent of financial services as to the actuarial principles involved, the financial feasibility of the facility, the form and content of the proposed contracts to be entered into with residents and insurance contracts between an operator and an insurer requiring the insurer to assume, wholly or in part, the cost of medical or health related services to be provided to a resident;

(ii) the superintendent of financial services as to the rates and rating methodology, if any, to be used by the operator to determine any entrance fee, monthly care fee and/or any separate charges for the housing component of the continuing care contract including but not limited to a cooperative or condominium fee charged to the resident as proposed in said operator's application for certificate of authority. Subsequent increases in any entrance or monthly care fee in excess of fees calculated pursuant to the approved rating methodology shall require approval of the superintendent. The term "rating methodology" as used herein shall incorporate a combination of variables including but not limited to a pricing structure for comparable services, projected operating and health care costs and the applicable inflationary impact thereon, projected income and occupancy rates and the refundability component of the continuing care retirement contract;

(iii) the superintendent of financial services as to any monthly care fee charged to a resident which may be increased or decreased subject to approval by the superintendent of financial services, provided, that monthly care fees may be increased or decreased without specific approval as long as such increase or decrease does not exceed a relevant cost index or indices which reflect all components of continuing care including the costs associated with provision of health care as determined and promulgated at least annually by the superintendent, and provided further that the superintendent is notified of any such increase or decrease prior to its taking effect;

(iv) an individual resident's monthly care fee shall not be modified because of the increased need for services of that resident;

b. the commissioner as to those aspects of the application relating to adult care facility beds, if any;

c. the public health and health planning council as to the establishment of a skilled nursing facility by the applicant and as to such other facilities and services as may require the public health and health planning council's approval of the application; provided, however, that the recommendations of the health systems agency having geographical jurisdiction of the area where the continuing care retirement community is located shall not be required with respect to the establishment of an on-site or affiliated residential health care facility to serve residents as part of the continuing care retirement community, for up to the total number of residential health care facility beds provided for in subdivision five of this section in communities statewide;

d. the commissioner under section twenty-eight hundred two of this chapter; provided, however, that, the recommendations of the public health and health planning council and the health systems agency having geographical jurisdiction of the area where the continuing care retirement community is located shall not be required with respect to the construction of an on-site or affiliated residential health care facility to serve residents as part of the continuing care retirement community, for up to the total number of residential health care facility beds provided for in subdivision five of this section in communities statewide; and

e. the attorney general, as to those aspects of the application relating to a cooperative, condominium or other equity arrangement for the independent living unit, if any.

5. Up to two thousand residential health care facility beds, as authorized herein, that may be approved as components of continuing care retirement communities shall not be considered by the department and the health systems agencies in the determination of public need for residential health care facility services; provided, however, that if the community seeking to construct such beds does not provide life care to all residents, it must adequately make the assurances required by subdivision two of section forty-six hundred twenty-four of this article.

6. If the approvals required by subdivision four of this section have been obtained, the commissioner shall either approve or reject the application. In order to approve the application, the commissioner shall have determined that:

a. the proposed community will meet a need and will fulfill the purposes of this article;

b. the applicant has satisfied the requirements of this article;

c. the applicant has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the council that the applicant and members of the board, officers, and controlling persons of the applicant, are of such character, experience, competence and standing in the community as to give reasonable assurance of their ability to conduct the affairs of the proposed continuing care retirement community in the best interest of the community and in the public interest, and to provide proper care to residents. In the case of an applicant that is controlled, the council must be satisfied that the controlling person has also acted in a manner that is consistent with the public interest;

d. the applicant has otherwise demonstrated the capability to organize, market, manage, promote and operate the community and can be expected to meet its obligations in accordance with this article and in accordance with its contracts with residents;

e. the applicant has demonstrated that the total number of beds for the nursing facility component and the adult care facility bears a reasonable relation to the number of independent living units proposed for such community; and

f. with respect to communities which include a residential health care facility which does not require establishment approval under section twenty-eight hundred one-a of this chapter, the applicant has sufficient financial resources and sources of future revenues for the operation of the residential health care facility component.

7. Any change in the legal entity operating the continuing care retirement community, or in a controlling person of the community shall require approval in the same manner as an original application; provided, however, that the commissioner may waive any requirement to provide information that is not relevant to such change and provided, further, that the continued public need for the community shall be presumed.

8. The operator shall designate and make knowledgeable personnel available to prospective residents to answer questions about any information contained in the disclosure statement or contract. The disclosure statement and the contract shall each state on the cover or top of the first page in bold twelve point print the following "This matter involves a substantial financial investment and a legally binding contract. In evaluating the disclosure statement and the contract prior to any commitment, it is recommended that you consult with an attorney and financial advisor of your choice, if you so elect, who can review these documents with you."

9. The commissioner shall issue the certificate of authority to the applicant upon approval of the application.

§ 4604-a. Commissioner approval required for industrial development agency financing in connection with continuing care retirement communities. 1. No person seeking financing in connection with a continuing care retirement community through an industrial development agency shall undertake such financing without the prior approval of the commissioner. Upon approving a proposed financing pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authorization to the applicant.

2. Prior to approving such financing, the commissioner shall find that:

a. The operator has (i) executed contracts for at least seventy percent of all living units and has on deposit at least ten percent of the entrance fees or purchase price for such units; or (ii) executed contracts for at least sixty percent of all living units and has on deposit at least twenty-five percent of the entrance fees or purchase price for such units.

b. The operator has demonstrated capability to comply fully with the requirements for a certificate of authority and has obtained a contingent certificate of authority pursuant to section forty-six hundred four of this article and the operator has agreed to meet the requirements of article eighteen-A of the general municipal law.

c. The applicant is a not-for-profit corporation as defined in section one hundred two of the not-for-profit corporation law that is (i) eligible for tax-exempt financing under this section and (ii) is exempt from taxation pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the federal internal revenue code, and either has (i) an equity position in the community equivalent to no less than fifteen percent of the amount to be financed in the aggregate; or (ii) covenants (A) to meet a ratio of cash and investments to outstanding debt (reserve ratio) of no less than twenty-five percent commencing at the end of the first quarter after twenty-four months from the receipt of a certificate of occupancy for the facility, and (B) to maintain that reserve ratio, as tested quarterly based upon the facility's interim financial statements and annually based upon audited financial statements, until debt reduction equal to twenty-five percent of total indebtedness is accomplished; and (c) to reduce total debt by twenty-five percent of the total indebtedness at the time the certificate of occupancy is received by no later than five years after the receipt of the certificate of occupancy.

d. The operator has submitted in connection with the proposed financing a financial feasibility study, including a financial forecast and market study prepared by an independent firm nationally recognized for continuing care retirement community feasibility studies, demonstrating to the satisfaction of the commissioner the financial soundness of the financing. In addition, the operator has submitted an analysis of economic costs and benefits, including job creation and retention, the estimated value of tax exemptions provided, the project's impact on local businesses and the availability and comparative cost of alternative financing sources. Such analysis shall be prepared by an independent entity.

e. The operator will establish and maintain a fully funded debt service reserve equal to the sum of maximum annual debt service (interest plus annual scheduled principal payments, not including balloon maturities, if any) on bonds authorized thereby having a maturity of ten years or less, plus the maximum annual debt service on bonds authorized thereby having a maturity of greater than ten years, provided, however, that in the case of tax-exempt bond issues, such debt service reserve shall not exceed the maximum amount permitted by federal tax law.

f. The operator will provide for such remedies or limitations of remedies of bondholders as may be required by or consistent with the provisions of this article and any regulations in existence at the time of the issuance promulgated thereunder.

g. Unless all residents or continuing care at home contract holders have life care contracts, the operator has adequately made the assurances required by subdivision two of section forty-six hundred twenty-four of this article and has agreed to fund the liability in the event that such resident's or contract holder's assets are insufficient to pay for nursing facility services for a one year period.

3. In addition, an operator which is subject to the provisions of this section shall:

a. provide the commissioner with notice of any monetary default or covenant default in connection with such financing and shall further notify the commissioner of any withdrawal from the debt service reserve fund established in connection with such financing;

b. respond in writing to the operational recommendations of the commissioner with respect to protecting the interests of continuing care retirement community residents in the event of any monetary default or covenant default provided for in connection with such financing;

c. provide adequate security for the repayment of the bonds issued, including the granting of liens on real and personal property and the pledge of project revenues; the maintenance of minimum debt service coverage and other financial ratios as shall be required in regulations in existence at the time of issuance by the commissioner; and restrictions on other debt and expenditures; and

d. undertake to maintain the financial feasibility of the facility, including the retention of an independent consultant to recommend and help implement remedial action.

4. The commissioner may request, and shall receive, the technical assistance of any state agency or state public authority in performing its functions under this article.

§ 4605. Certificate of authority; authority of operator. 1. A certificate of authority shall authorize an operator:

a. to operate a continuing care retirement community and to enter into contracts pertaining to such community;

c. to advertise the community and the related services that will be provided pursuant to this article; and

d. to offer and execute contracts, including the collection of entrance fees and deposits pursuant to section forty-six hundred eight of this article.

2. a. The commissioner, in consultation with the council, may authorize an operator of a community with an on-site or affiliated residential health care facility to provide, for a limited period, residential health care facility services to persons, who are not residents of the community, provided, however, that the operator shall not discriminate in the admission, retention or care of any such person because such person is or will be eligible for, or receives or will receive, medical assistance benefits pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law.

b. The commissioner, in consultation with the council, may authorize an operator of a community with an on-site or affiliated adult care facility to provide, for a limited period, adult care facility services to persons, who are not residents of the community, provided, however, that the operator shall not discriminate in the admission, retention or care of any such person because such person is or will be eligible for, or receives or will receive, medical assistance benefits pursuant to title eleven of article five of the social services law or supplemental security income benefits pursuant to title sixteen of the federal social security act and any additional state payments made under title six of article five of the social services law.

§ 4605-a. Certificate of authority; authority to offer continuing care at home contracts. A continuing care retirement community may offer continuing care at home contracts upon approval by the commissioner to amend the continuing care retirement community's certificate of authority. In order to qualify for an amendment to its certificate of authority, the continuing care retirement community shall submit to the commissioner the following:

1. a business plan to the commissioner and the superintendent that includes the following:

2. a market feasibility study demonstrating to the commissioner and the superintendent sufficient consumer interest in continuing care at home contracts and further demonstrating that the addition of continuing care at home contracts will not have an adverse impact on the provision of services to continuing care retirement contract holders.

3. materials that meet all requirements established by the New York state department of financial services.

4. a copy of the notification sent to continuing care retirement contract holders describing the anticipated impact of the addition of continuing care at home contracts on continuing care retirement community resources and proof that such notification has been distributed to all continuing care retirement contract holders.

the actions prescribed by section forty-six hundred fifteen of this article, and, where the commissioner deems it to be in the public interest, the commissioner shall petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a caretaker as defined in section twenty-eight hundred one of this chapter. The petition, the proceedings, and the procedures for appointment of a caretaker shall be governed by the provisions of section forty-six hundred seventeen of this article, and the powers, duties and rights of a caretaker appointed pursuant to such section shall be the same as those authorized by subdivision four of such section.

§ 4617. Receiverships. 1. The commissioner may, upon a determination that serious operational deficiencies exist or serious financial problems exist and such action is desirable, enter into an agreement with the operator or owners of a continuing care retirement community with respect to the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the community under conditions as found acceptable by both parties. Receivership commenced in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision shall terminate at such time as may be provided in the receivership agreement, or at such time as either party notifies the other in writing that it wishes to terminate such receivership.

2. The commissioner shall, at the time of revocation, suspension or temporary suspension of a certificate of authority, apply to the supreme court where the community is situated for an order directing the owner of the land and/or structure on or in which the community is located, to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to take charge of the community. In those cases where the certificate of authority has been revoked, suspended or temporarily suspended, the supreme court shall appoint a receiver that, where reasonably possible, is a legal entity that holds a valid certificate of authority. Such application shall contain proof by affidavit that the facility has had its certificate of authority revoked, suspended, or temporarily suspended. Such order to show cause shall be returnable not less than five days after service is completed and shall provide for personal service of a copy thereof and the papers on which it is based, on the owner or owners of the land and/or structures on or in which the community is located. If any such owner and manager cannot with due diligence be served personally within the county where the property is located and within the time fixed in such order, then service may be made on such person by posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place within the community in question, and by sending a copy thereof by registered mail, return receipt requested, to such owner at the last address registered by such owner with the department or in the absence of such registration to the address set forth in the last recorded deed with respect to the facility. Service shall be deemed complete on filing proof of service thereof in the office of the county clerk, or the clerk of the city of New York, as the case may be.

3. On the return of said order to show cause, the matter shall have precedence over every other business of the court unless the court shall find that some other pending proceeding, having a similar statutory precedence, shall have priority. The court may conduct a hearing at which all interested parties shall have the opportunity to present evidence pertaining to the application. If the court shall find that the facts warrant the granting thereof, then any such qualified and approved agency, person or corporation, or the commissioner or any person designated by the commissioner, shall be appointed receiver to take charge and assume operation of the community. However, such receiver may make application to the appointing court for decision, reformation or such other relief as may be appropriate to protect the best interests of the residents residing within such community. No security interest in any real or personal property comprising the community shall be impaired or diminished in priority by the receiver. The receiver shall compensate the owner or owners of any goods held in inventory for those goods which he or she uses or causes to be used by reimbursing the costs of such goods, except that no such compensation shall be made for any goods for which the owners or operators of the community have already been reimbursed.

4. Any receiver appointed pursuant to this section shall have all of the powers and duties of a receiver appointed in an action to foreclose a mortgage on real property, together with such additional powers and duties as are herein granted and imposed. The receiver may correct or eliminate those deficiencies in the facility that seriously endanger the life, health, safety or finances of such residents subject to such terms as the court may direct. The receiver shall operate the community in such a manner as intended to assure safety and adequate care for such residents. Any receiver who is an official or employee of the state of New York shall not be required to file any bond. The receiver shall honor all existing leases, mortgages and chattel mortgages that had previously been undertaken as obligations of the owners or operators of the community.

5. The appointing court, upon application of the receiver, may make such provision as justice may require for reasonable compensation and reimbursement of the reasonable expenses of the receiver. The receiver shall be liable only in his or her official capacity for injury to person and property by reason of conditions of the community in a case where an owner would have been liable; provided that he or she operates such facility in compliance with the terms of his or her appointment, the receiver shall not have any liability in his or her personal capacity, except for gross negligence and intentional acts.

6. a. The court shall terminate the receivership only under the following circumstances:

(i) when the community is issued a new certificate of authority for the community; or

(ii) at such time as all of the residents in the community have been provided alternate residential and health care services.

b. At the time of termination, the receiver shall render a full and complete accounting to the court and shall make disposition of surplus money at the discretion of the court.

7. a. Any person who is served a copy of an order of the court appointing the receiver shall, upon being notified of the name and address of the receiver, make all payments for goods supplied by the community, or services rendered by the community, to the receiver. A receipt shall be given for each such payment, and copies of all such receipts shall be kept on file by the receiver. The amount so received shall be deposited by the receiver in a special account which shall also be used for all disbursements made by the receiver.

b. Any person refusing or omitting to make such a payment after such service and notice may be sued therefor by the receiver. Such person shall not in such suit dispute the authority of the receiver to incur or order such expenses, or the right of the receiver to such payments made to him. The receipt provided by the receiver for any sum paid to him shall, in all suits and proceedings and for every other purpose, be as effectual in favor of any person holding the receipt as actual payment of the amount thereof to the operator or other person or persons who would, but for the provisions of this section, have been entitled to receive the sum to be paid. No resident shall be discharged, nor shall any contract or rights be forfeited or impaired, nor any forfeiture or liability be incurred, by reason of any omission to pay any operator, owner, contractor, or other person any sum so paid to the receiver.

8. Any other provision of this article notwithstanding, the commissioner may, if such commissioner deems appropriate, grant to any community operating or scheduled to operate under a receivership authorized by this section a certificate of authority, the duration of which shall be limited to the duration of the receivership.

9. a. No provision contained herein shall be deemed to relieve the operator, owner, or manager of any civil or criminal liability incurred, or any duty imposed by law, by reason of acts or omissions of the operator, owner, or manager prior to the appointment of any receiver hereunder, nor shall anything contained herein be construed to suspend during the receivership any obligation of the owner for the payment of taxes or other operating and maintenance expenses of the community nor of the owner or any other person for the payment of mortgages or liens.

b. The receiver shall not be responsible for any obligations incurred by the owner, manager, or prime lessor, if any, prior to the appointment of the receiver, other than those obligations to residents pursuant to the continuing care retirement contracts.

c. The receiver shall be entitled to use for operating and maintenance expenses and the basic needs of the residents of the community a portion of the revenues due the operator during the month in which the receiver is appointed which portion shall be established on the basis of the amounts of the unpaid operating and maintenance expenses for such month.

§ 4619. Criminal penalties. 1. A person, partnership, corporation, controlling person, or agent or employee thereof, who knowingly uses or employs any act or practice in violation of this article shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

2. Nothing under this article limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which also constitutes a separate crime under any other statute.

3. The council may refer such evidence as is available concerning violations of this article to the appropriate district attorney who may, with or without such reference, institute appropriate criminal proceedings.

§ 4620. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this article directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 4621. Priority reservation agreements; prior to obtaining a certificate of authority. The provisions of this section shall apply to entities that seek approval to enter into priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive priority reservation fees, with respect to a proposed continuing care retirement community, prior to obtaining a certificate of authority under this article.

1. No person, partnership, corporation or other entity shall solicit, collect or receive any priority reservation fee or enter into any agreement relating to the payment of any priority reservation fee with respect to any continuing care retirement community to be operated within the state without first obtaining the written authorization of the commissioner. The commissioner shall not grant such authorization to an entity that has not yet obtained a certificate of authority unless the requirements of this section and any applicable regulations are met. Upon obtaining the authorization of the commissioner under this section, a prospective continuing care retirement community applicant or an entity that has filed an application for a certificate of authority may enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements with prospective residents and solicit, collect and receive refundable priority reservation fees for direct deposit into an escrow account, prior to obtaining a certificate of authority, for the purpose of evaluating market demand for a proposed continuing care retirement community and for the purpose of guaranteeing to prospective residents an opportunity for priority placement in a continuing care retirement community. A priority reservation fee shall not exceed two thousand dollars unless the commissioner, in the discretion of such commissioner, establishes that a priority reservation fee may exceed two thousand dollars. A non-refundable priority reservation agreement application fee shall not exceed the maximum amount established by the commissioner, in such commissioner's discretion.

2. In order to receive authorization by the commissioner to enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive any refundable priority reservation fee, a person, partnership, corporation or other entity, hereinafter designated as the applicant, shall apply for such authorization on forms or in a format prescribed by the commissioner and, as part of such application, shall submit the following information:

k. draft copies of all proposed marketing materials, including final marketing materials as soon as available; provided that the provision of such material shall not be construed to require approval of such materials by the department or the council;

l. a description of the sales office and a copy of the preliminary site plans and drawings of any proposed model units;

m. a copy of the proposed priority reservation agreement; and

n. any other information as may be required by regulations adopted pursuant to this article.

4. a. As a condition to receiving the commissioner's authorization under this section, an applicant shall establish a government insured interest-bearing account, which earns interest at a rate which is consistent with prevailing interest rates, and enter into an escrow agreement with a New York bank, New York savings and loan association or New York trust company for the deposit of any priority reservation fees collected by the applicant pursuant to this section, which escrow funds shall be subject to release as provided for in this section.

b. The escrow agreement shall state that its purpose is to protect prospective residents who have paid a priority reservation fee to the applicant in furtherance of the applicant's efforts to evaluate market demand for a proposed continuing care retirement community and to guarantee prospective residents an opportunity for priority placement in a continuing care retirement community and that, upon presentation of evidence of compliance with applicable portions of this article, or upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the escrow agent shall release and pay over the funds, or portions thereof, together with any interest accrued thereon or earned from investment of the funds, to the applicant, the prospective resident or the prospective resident's legal representative as directed, within fifteen business days of receipt of the notice by the escrow agent.

d. All funds deposited in the escrow account shall remain the property of the prospective residents until released to the applicant in accordance with this section, and the funds shall not be subject to any liens or charges by the escrow agent or judgments, garnishments, or creditors' claims against the applicant.

e. At the request of the applicant, the commissioner, or a prospective resident, the escrow agent shall issue a statement indicating the status of the escrow account.

f. A prospective resident's escrowed funds shall not be released to an applicant unless the applicant obtains a certificate of authority to operate the proposed continuing care retirement community and to enter into continuing care retirement contracts, and the prospective resident has entered into a continuing care retirement contract with the applicant and has elected to apply the priority reservation fee to an actual entrance fee or deposit on an entrance fee. Upon release to the approved applicant, a prospective resident's escrowed priority reservation fee funds shall be deposited into the entrance fee escrow account provided for in section forty-six hundred ten of this article.

g. If the funds in an escrow account under this section, and any interest thereon, are not released to the applicant within such time as provided by rules and regulations adopted by the commissioner, then such funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the person who had made the payments or the person's legal representative.

j. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted as requiring the escrow of any non-refundable priority reservation agreement application fee, designated as such in the cancelable priority reservation agreement, which fee is received by the applicant from a prospective resident.

5. Any marketing materials, including all materials associated with a sales office and model units, used in the solicitation of priority reservation agreements or priority reservation fees shall, at a minimum, contain the following:

j. the signature of the person paying the fee and the signature of the applicant or the applicant's agent; and

g. If the funds in an escrow account under this section, and any interest thereon, are not released to the operator within such time as provided by rules and regulations adopted by the council, then such funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the persons who had made the payments or the person's legal representative.

e. The commissioner shall provide written notice to the escrow agent of the commissioner's rescission of authorization to enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements, including instructions to release funds held in escrow to the persons who have paid refundable priority reservation fees.

§ 4623. Long term care insurance and continuing care retirement contracts or continuing care at home contracts. 1. The commissioner may approve an application for a certificate of authority and may issue a certificate of authority for the establishment and operation of a continuing care retirement community under an arrangement which otherwise complies with the requirements of this article except that the costs of nursing facility or home health care services are paid for in whole or in part by (a) long term care insurance obtained and paid for by the resident or by medical assistance payments in accordance with the partnership for long term care program pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-f of the social services law and section three thousand two hundred twenty-nine of the insurance law or (b) other group or individual long term care insurance approved by the superintendent in connection with the application. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent, shall provide for adequate disclosure to residents of their options, rights and obligations under such an arrangement, and shall establish standards for the remittance and collection of premiums and monthly care fees.

2. With regard to nursing facility or home health care services which are part of the continuing care retirement contract or continuing care at home contract, any elimination or waiting periods and any deductibles, copayments, or other amounts not paid for by such long term care insurance or medical assistance payments shall be the responsibility of the continuing care retirement community. The resident shall not be liable to pay any such amounts.

3. The continuing care retirement community operator shall not require that long term care insurance be purchased from a specified insurer or group of insurers and the operator shall not, without the approval of the council and the approval of the superintendent, specify a minimum acceptable benefit level different from that established under the partnership for long term care program.

4. Entrance fees and monthly care fees shall reflect that the cost of a resident's nursing facility and home health care services are or will be paid for in whole or in part in accordance with (a) the partnership for long term care program or (b) other group or individual long term care insurance approved by the superintendent and the council in connection with the application.

5. a. If a resident fails to maintain minimum long term care insurance coverage in accordance with this section, the continuing care retirement community operator shall purchase, if possible, such coverage on behalf of and at the expense of the resident and may require an appropriate adjustment in payments by the resident to the operator.

b. If the continuing care retirement community operator cannot purchase long term care insurance coverage under paragraph a of this subdivision, the operator may require an adjustment in the resident's monthly fees, subject to the approval of the superintendent, to fund the additional risk to the facility.

c. If the resident fails to maintain long term care insurance coverage in accordance with this section and the community operator has not purchased such coverage, the operator shall be responsible for any expenses which would have been covered under the long term care insurance policy which the resident failed to maintain. The operator may add the amount of such expenses to the resident's monthly fees.

§ 4624. Continuing care retirement communities making assurances regarding long term care. 1. Nothing in this article shall obligate a continuing care retirement community to offer life care contracts; provided, however, that only continuing care retirement communities which offer life care contracts or which comply with the requirements set forth in subdivision two of this section shall be eligible for the following:

a. An exemption from a public need determination and establishment approval regarding an on-site or affiliated residential health care facility in accordance with subdivision five of section forty-six hundred four of this article; and

b. Industrial development agency financing in accordance with section forty-six hundred four-a of this article; or

c. Financing by any public benefit corporation authorized to make loans to continuing care retirement communities under the laws of this state.

2. A continuing care retirement community not exclusively offering life care contracts but desiring eligibility for an exemption from a public need determination and establishment approval and/or for industrial development agency financing or financing by any public benefit corporation authorized to make loans to continuing care retirement communities under the laws of this state must assure that all residents and prospective residents have the ability to fund the estimated cost of nursing facility services for a period of one year. Such assurances may be demonstrated through the terms of the continuing care contract, resident assets, resident income, long term care insurance or refund of all, or a portion of, the entrance fee and shall be in accordance with regulations adopted by the council. The community must pay for such care in the event that resident assets are insufficient to fund the cost of nursing facility care for a one year period.

A copy of each report shall be provided to members of the continuing care retirement community council. Any operator being examined shall, upon request, give reasonable and timely access to all of its records. 3. Reports of the results of such examinations and inspections shall be kept on file by the commissioner and shall be open to public inspection at the community, provided any records, reports or documents which by state or federal law or regulation are deemed confidential shall not be distributed or made available unless and until such confidential status has expired.

§ 4668. Revocation, suspension or annulment of certificate of authority. 1. The commissioner may revoke, suspend, limit or annul the certificate of authority of an operator upon proof that:

a. The operator failed to continue to meet the requirements for the authority originally granted;

d. The operator lacked fitness or was untrustworthy;

e. The operator engaged in fraudulent or dishonest practices of management in the conduct of business under the certificate of authority;

j. The commissioner has found violations of applicable statutes, rules or regulations which threaten to affect directly the health, safety, or welfare of a resident of a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community.

2. No certificate of authority shall be revoked, suspended, limited or annulled without a hearing, except that a certificate of authority may be temporarily suspended or limited prior to a hearing for a period not in excess of sixty days upon written notice to the operator following a finding by the commissioner that public health or safety is in imminent danger or there exists any condition or practice or a continuing pattern of conditions or practices that pose an imminent danger to the health or safety of any resident. Any delay in the hearing process occasioned by the operator shall toll the running of said suspension or limitation and shall not abridge the full time provided in this subdivision.

3. Any state agency which seeks to revoke, suspend, limit or annul the certificate of authority or any other license or certificate required to be obtained by an operator of a community pursuant to law, shall request the commissioner to commence a hearing pursuant to this section.

4. The commissioner shall fix a time and place for the hearing. The commissioner shall cause to be served in person or mailed by registered or certified mail to the operator at least ten days before the date

5. All orders pursuant to this section shall be subject to review as provided in article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. Application for such review shall be made within sixty days after service in person or by registered or certified mail of a copy of the order upon the operator.

§ 4669. Appointment of a caretaker. Upon a determination by the commissioner that there exists operational deficiencies in a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community that show:

1. there exists in the facility a pattern or practice of habitual violation of the standards of health, safety or patient care established under federal or state law or regulations, the commissioner shall take the actions prescribed by section forty-six hundred sixty-eight of this article, and, where the commissioner deems it to be in the public interest, the commissioner shall petition a court of competent jurisdiction to appoint a caretaker as defined in section twenty-eight hundred one of this chapter. The petition, the proceedings, and the procedures for appointment of a caretaker shall be governed by the provisions of section forty-six hundred seventy of this article, and the power, duties and rights of a caretaker appointed pursuant to such section shall be the same as those authorized by subdivision four of such section; or

2. a condition or conditions in substantial violation of the standards for health, safety or patient care established under federal or state law or regulations.

§ 4670. Receiverships. 1. The commissioner may, upon a determination that serious operational deficiencies exist or serious financial problems exist and such action is desirable, enter into an agreement with the operator or owners of a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community with respect to the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the community under conditions as found acceptable by both parties. Receivership commenced in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision shall terminate at such time as may be provided in the receivership agreement, or at such time as either party notifies the other in writing that it wishes to terminate such receivership.

2. The commissioner shall, at the time of revocation, suspension or temporary suspension of a certificate of authority, apply to the supreme court where the community is situated for an order directing the owner of the land and/or structure on or in which the community is located, to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed to take charge of the community. In those cases where the certificate of authority has been revoked, suspended or temporarily suspended, the supreme court shall appoint a receiver that, where reasonably possible, is a legal entity that holds a valid certificate of authority. Such application shall contain proof by affidavit that the facility has had its certificate of authority revoked, suspended or temporarily suspended. Such order to show cause shall be returnable not less than five days after service is completed and shall provide for personal service of a copy thereof and the papers on which it is based, on the owner or owners of the land and/or structures on or in which the community is located. If any such owner and manager cannot with due diligence be served personally within the county where the property is located and within the time fixed in such order, then service may be made on such person by posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place within the community in question, and by sending a copy thereof by registered mail, return receipt requested, to such owner at the last address registered by such owner with the department or in the absence of such registration to the address set forth in the last recorded deed with respect to the facility. Service shall be deemed complete on filing proof of service thereof in the office of the county clerk, or the clerk of the city of New York, as the case may be.

3. On the return of said order to show cause, the matter shall have precedence over every other business of the court unless the court shall find that some other pending proceeding, having a similar statutory precedence, shall have priority. The court may conduct a hearing at which all interested parties shall have the opportunity to present evidence pertaining to the application. If the court shall find the facts warrant the granting thereof, then any such qualified and approved agency, person or corporation, or the commissioner or any person designated by the commissioner, shall be appointed receiver to take charge and assume operation of the community. However, such receiver may make application to the appointing court for decision, reformation or such other relief as may be appropriate to protect the best interests of the residents residing within such community. No security interest in any real or personal property comprising the community shall be impaired or diminished in priority by the receiver. The receiver shall compensate the owner or owners of any goods held in inventory for those goods which he or she uses or causes to be used by reimbursing the costs of such goods, except that no such compensation shall be made for any goods for which the owners or operators of the community have already been reimbursed.

4. Any receiver appointed pursuant to this section shall have all of the powers and duties of a receiver appointed in an action to foreclose a mortgage on real property, together with such additional powers and duties as are granted and imposed pursuant to this section. The receiver may correct or eliminate those deficiencies in the facility that seriously endanger the life, health, safety or finances of such residents subject to such terms as the court may direct. The receiver shall operate the community in such a manner as intended to assure safety and adequate care for such residents. Any receiver who is an official or employee of the state shall not be required to file any bond. The receiver shall honor all existing leases, mortgages and chattel mortgages that had previously been undertaken as obligations of the owners or operators of the community.

5. The appointing court, upon application of the receiver, may make such provision as justice may require for reasonable compensation and reimbursement of the reasonable expenses of the receiver. The receiver shall be liable only in his or her official capacity for injury to person and property by reason of conditions of the community in a case where an owner would have been liable; provided that he or she operates such facility in compliance with the terms of his or her appointment, the receiver shall not have any liability in his or her personal capacity, except for gross negligence and intentional acts.

6. a. The court shall terminate the receivership only under the following circumstances:

- (i) when the community is issued a new certificate of authority; or
- (ii) at such time as all of the residents in the community have been provided alternate residential and health care services.

b. At the time of termination, the receiver shall render a full and complete accounting to the court and shall make disposition of surplus money at the discretion of the court.

7. a. Any person who is served a copy of an order of the court appointing the receiver shall, upon being notified of the name and address of the receiver, make all payments for goods supplied by the community, or services rendered by the community, to the receiver. A receipt shall be given for each such payment, and copies of all such receipts shall be kept on file by the receiver. The amount so received shall be deposited by the receiver in a special account which shall also be used for all disbursements made by the receiver.

b. Any person refusing or omitting to make such a payment after such service and notice may be sued therefor by the receiver. Such person shall not in such suit dispute the authority of the receiver to incur or order such expenses, or the right of the receiver to such payments made to him or her. The receipt provided by the receiver for any sum paid to him or her shall, in all suits and proceedings and for every other purpose, be as effectual in favor of any person holding the receipt as actual payment of the amount thereof to the operator or other person or persons who would, but for the provisions of this section, have been entitled to receive the sum to be paid. No resident shall be discharged, nor shall any contract or rights be forfeited or impaired, nor any forfeiture or liability be incurred, by reason of any omission to pay any operator, owner, contractor or other person any sum so paid to the receiver.

8. Any other provision of this article notwithstanding, the commissioner may, if such commissioner deems appropriate, grant to any community operating or scheduled to operate under a receivership authorized by this section a certificate of authority, the duration of which shall be limited to the duration of the receivership.

9. a. No provision of this section shall be deemed to relieve the operator, owner or manager of any civil or criminal liability incurred, or any duty imposed by law, by reason of acts or omissions of the operator, owner or manager prior to the appointment of any receiver pursuant to this section, nor shall anything in this section be construed to suspend during the receivership any obligation of the owner for the payment of taxes or other operating and maintenance expenses of the community nor of the owner or any other person for the payment of mortgages or liens.

b. The receiver shall not be responsible for any obligations incurred by the owner, manager or prime lessor, if any, prior to the appointment of the receiver, other than those obligations to residents pursuant to the fee-for-service continuing care contracts.

c. The receiver shall be entitled to use for operating and maintenance expenses and the basic needs of the residents of the community a portion of the revenues due the operator during the month in which the receiver is appointed, which portion shall be established on the basis of the amounts of the unpaid operating and maintenance expenses for such month.

§ 4671. Civil action. Any person who, as or on behalf of an operator, enters into a contract without having first delivered to the prospective resident the disclosure statement and annual report required by sections forty-six hundred fifty-seven and forty-six hundred fifty-eight of this article; or delivers to the prospective resident a disclosure statement or annual report that omits a material fact or makes an untrue or misleading statement of material fact shall be liable to the individual contracting for services pursuant to such contract for damages and repayment of all entrance, application, periodic charge or other fees paid by such person, less the reasonable cost of care and housing provided until discovery of the violation or until the violation should reasonably have been discovered, together with interest, costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

§ 4672. Criminal penalties. 1. A person, partnership, corporation, controlling person, or agent or employee thereof, who knowingly uses or employs any act or practice in violation of this article shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

2. Nothing under this article shall be deemed to limit the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which also constitutes a separate crime under any other statute.

3. The council may refer such evidence as is available concerning violations of this article to the appropriate district attorney who may, with or without such reference, institute appropriate criminal proceedings.

§ 4673. Separability. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this article shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this article directly involved in the controversy in which the judgment shall have been rendered.

§ 4674. Priority reservation agreements; prior to obtaining a certificate of authority. The provisions of this section shall apply to entities that seek approval to enter into priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive priority reservation fees, with respect to a proposed fee-for-service continuing care retirement community, prior to obtaining a certificate of authority under this article.

1. No person, partnership, corporation or other entity shall solicit, collect or receive any priority reservation fee or enter into any agreement relating to the payment of any priority reservation fee with respect to any fee-for-service continuing care retirement community to be operated within the state without first obtaining the written authorization of the commissioner. The commissioner shall not grant such authorization to an entity that has not yet obtained a certificate of authority unless the requirements of this section and any applicable regulations are met. Upon obtaining the authorization of the commissioner under this section, a prospective community applicant or an entity having filed an application for a certificate of authority may enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements with prospective residents and solicit, collect and receive refundable priority reservation fees for direct deposit into an escrow account, prior to obtaining a certificate of authority, for the purpose of evaluating market demand for a proposed fee-for-service continuing care retirement community and for the purpose of guaranteeing to prospective residents an opportunity for priority placement in a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community. A priority reservation fee shall not exceed two thousand dollars unless the commissioner, in the discretion of such commissioner, establishes that a priority reservation fee may exceed two thousand dollars. A non-refundable priority reservation agreement application fee shall not exceed the maximum amount established by the commissioner, in such commissioner's discretion.

2. In order to receive authorization by the commissioner to enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive any refundable priority reservation fee, a person, partnership, corporation or other entity, hereinafter designated as the applicant, shall apply for such authorization on forms or in a format prescribed by the commissioner and, as part of such application, shall submit the following information:

m. a copy of the proposed priority reservation agreement; and

n. any other information as may be required by regulations adopted pursuant to this article.

3. Any change in the legal entity authorized under this section to enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive refundable priority reservation fees shall require approval in the same manner as the original application; provided, however, that the commissioner may waive any requirement to provide information that is not relevant to such change.

4. a. As a condition to receiving the commissioner's authorization under this section, an applicant shall establish a government insured interest-bearing account, which earns interest at a rate which is consistent with prevailing interest rates, and enter into an escrow agreement with a New York state bank, New York state savings and loan association or New York state trust company for the deposit of any priority reservation fees collected by the applicant pursuant to this section, which escrow funds shall be subject to release as provided for in this section.

b. The escrow agreement shall state that its purpose is to protect prospective residents who have paid a priority reservation fee to the applicant in furtherance of the applicant's efforts to evaluate market demand for a proposed fee-for-service continuing care retirement community and to guarantee prospective residents an opportunity for priority placement in a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community and that, upon presentation of evidence of compliance with applicable portions of this article, or upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the escrow agent shall release and pay over the funds, or portions thereof, together with any interest accrued thereon or earned from investment of the funds, to the applicant, the prospective resident or the prospective resident's legal representative as directed, within fifteen business days of receipt of the notice by the escrow agent.

c. Checks, drafts and money orders for deposit from prospective residents shall be made payable to the escrow agent only.

d. All funds deposited in the escrow account shall remain the property of the prospective residents until released to the applicant in accordance with this article, and the funds shall not be subject to any liens or charges by the escrow agent or judgments, garnishments or creditors' claims against the applicant.

e. At the request of the applicant, the commissioner or a prospective resident, the escrow agent shall issue a statement indicating the status of the escrow account.

f. A prospective resident's escrowed funds shall not be released to an applicant unless the applicant obtains a certificate of authority to operate the proposed fee-for-service continuing care retirement community and to enter into fee-for-service continuing care contracts, and the prospective resident has entered into a fee-for-service continuing care contract with the applicant and has elected to apply the priority reservation fee to an actual entrance fee or deposit on an entrance fee. Upon release to the approved applicant, a prospective resident's escrowed priority reservation fee funds shall be deposited into the entrance fee escrow account provided for in section forty-six hundred sixty-two of this article.

g. If the funds in an escrow account under this section, and any interest thereon, are not released to the applicant within such time as provided by rules and regulations adopted by the council, then such funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the person who had made the payments or the person's legal representative.

Any priority reservation fee, and the interest accrued thereon, shall be returned by the escrow agent to the person who paid the fee or the person's legal representative within fifteen business days of receipt by the escrow agent of notice of cancellation of the priority reservation agreement.

i. Refunds of priority reservation fees upon the death of a prospective resident shall be made upon the same basis as refunds upon cancellation of a priority reservation agreement.

j. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted as requiring the escrow of any non-refundable priority reservation agreement application fee, designated as such in the cancelable priority reservation agreement, which fee is received by the applicant from a prospective resident.

5. Any marketing materials, including all materials associated with a sales office and model units, used in the solicitation of priority reservation agreements or priority reservation fees shall, at a minimum, contain the following:

a. a statement that the purpose of the marketing material is to determine the market demand for a proposed fee-for-service continuing care retirement community and to offer prospective residents an opportunity for a guaranteed priority placement in a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community by entering into cancelable priority reservation agreements and accepting refundable priority reservation fees;

b. a statement that the cancelable priority reservation agreement is not a fee-for-service continuing care contract and may be canceled by the person entering the agreement or the person's legal representative at any time, without cause; and

j. the signature of the person paying the fee and the signature of the applicant or the applicant's agent;

k. a statement of the effective period of the agreement not to exceed the duration of the commissioner's authorization; and

e. The commissioner shall provide written notice to the escrow agent of the commissioner's rescission of authorization to enter into cancelable priority reservation agreements, including instructions to release funds held in escrow to the persons who have paid refundable priority reservation fees.

§ 4675. Priority reservation agreements; after obtaining a certificate of authority. The provisions of this section apply to entities that seek approval to enter into priority reservation agreements and to solicit, collect or receive priority reservation fees, with respect to a fee-for-service continuing care retirement community, after obtaining a certificate of authority under this article.

1. No person, partnership, corporation or other entity shall solicit, collect or receive any priority reservation fee or enter into any agreement relating to the payment of any priority reservation fee with respect to any fee-for-service continuing care retirement community operated or to be operated within the state without first obtaining the written authorization of the commissioner. A priority reservation fee shall not exceed two thousand dollars unless the commissioner, in the discretion of such commissioner, establishes that a priority reservation fee may exceed two thousand dollars. A non-refundable priority reservation agreement application fee shall not exceed the maximum amount established by the commissioner, in such commissioner's discretion.

b. The escrow agreement shall state that its purpose is to protect prospective residents who have paid a priority reservation fee to the operator in order to guarantee prospective residents an opportunity for priority placement in the fee-for-service continuing care retirement community for which the operator has been issued a certificate of authority and that, upon presentation of evidence of compliance with applicable provisions of this article, or upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the escrow agent shall release and pay over the funds, or portions thereof, together with any interest accrued thereon or earned from investment of the funds, to the operator, the prospective resident or the prospective resident's legal representative as directed, within fifteen business days of receipt of the notice by the escrow agent.

g. If the funds in an escrow account under this section, and any interest thereon, are not released to the operator within such time as provided by rules and regulations adopted by the council, then such funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the persons who had made the payments or the person's legal representative.

h. A priority reservation fee, and the interest accrued thereon, held in escrow shall be returned by the escrow agent to the person who paid the fee upon receipt by the escrow agent of notice from the operator or the person who paid the fee or the person's legal representative that the priority reservation agreement has been canceled. TITLE I

FINDINGS AND DEFINITIONS

- Section 4650*2. Legislative purpose and findings.
4651*2. Definitions.

 § 4650. Legislative purpose and findings. The legislature hereby finds and declares that congregate residential housing with supportive services in a home-like setting, commonly known as assisted living, is an integral part of the continuum of long term care. Further, the philosophy of assisted living emphasizes aging in place, personal dignity, autonomy, independence, privacy and freedom of choice.

The intent of this article is to create a clear and flexible statutory structure for assisted living that provides a definition of assisted living residence; that requires licensure of the residence; that requires a written residency agreement that contains consumer protections; that enunciates and protects resident rights; and that provides adequate and accurate information for consumers, which is essential to the continued development of a viable market for assisted living. Entities which hold themselves out as assisted living residences must apply for licensure and be approved by the state to operate as assisted living residences pursuant to this article, and must comply with the requirements of this article.

* NB There are 2 § 4650's

 § 4651. Definitions. As used in this article:

1. "Assisted living" and "assisted living residence" means an entity which provides or arranges for housing, on-site monitoring, and personal care services and/or home care services (either directly or indirectly), in a home-like setting to five or more adult residents unrelated to the assisted living provider. An applicant for licensure as assisted living that has been approved in accordance with the provisions of this article must also provide daily food service, twenty-four hour on-site monitoring, case management services, and the development of an individualized service plan for each resident. An operator of assisted living shall provide each resident with considerate and respectful care and promote the resident's dignity, autonomy, independence and privacy in the least restrictive and most home-like setting commensurate with the resident's preferences and physical and mental status.

Assisted living and enhanced assisted living shall not include:

(a) residential health care facilities or general hospitals licensed under article twenty-eight of this chapter;

(b) continuing care retirement communities which possess a certificate of authority pursuant to article forty-six of this chapter, unless the continuing care retirement community is operating an assisted living residence as defined under this section;

(c) residential services for persons that are provided under a license pursuant to article sixteen, nineteen, thirty-one or thirty-two of the mental hygiene law or other residential services primarily funded by or primarily under the jurisdiction of the office for mental health;

arrangement of such services for residents at no charge to residents. Except, however, such entities that are in receipt of grants for conversion of elderly housing to assisted living facilities pursuant to section 1701-q-2 of the United States Code shall license as an assisted living pursuant to this article;

Nothing in this chapter shall preclude a resident of independent senior housing from personally and directly obtaining private personal care or home care services from a licensed or certified home care agency.

ENHANCED ASSISTED LIVING CERTIFICATE

Section 4654*2. General requirements; applicability of laws to enhanced assisted living.

4655*2. Certification procedures and requirements.

 § 4654. General requirements; applicability of laws to enhanced assisted living. Nothing in this article shall require a residence to obtain an enhanced assisted living certificate pursuant to this title unless such residence elects to provide aging in place by retaining residents described in subdivision fifteen of section four thousand six hundred fifty-one of this article.

* NB There are 2 § 4654's

 § 4655. Certification procedures and requirements. 1.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an assisted living operator may apply to the department to obtain an enhanced assisted living certificate pursuant to this section.

(a) Such application shall be on a form approved by the department.

(b) An assisted living operator may apply for such a certificate for the entire facility or any number of beds at the facility.

(c) To obtain an enhanced assisted living certificate, the applicant must submit a plan to the department setting forth how the additional needs of residents will be safely and appropriately met at such residence. Such plan shall include, but need not be limited to, a written description of services, staffing levels, staff education and training, work experience, and any environmental modifications that have been made or will be made to protect the health, safety and welfare of such persons in the residence.

(d) In addition to any other requirements of assisted living, an operator of enhanced assisted living may hire care staff directly pursuant to standards developed by the department or contract with a home care services agency which has been approved to operate pursuant to article thirty-six of this chapter.

(e) No assisted living residence shall be certified as enhanced assisted living unless and until the applicant obtains the written approval of the department.

2. No resident shall be permitted to continue to age in place under the terms of an enhanced assisted living certificate unless the operator, the resident's physician, and, if applicable, the resident's licensed or certified home care agency, agree that the additional needs of the resident can be safely and appropriately met at the residence. A resident eligible for enhanced assisted living or his or her representative shall submit to the residence a written report from a physician, which report shall state that:

(a) the physician has physically examined the resident within the last month; and

(b) the resident is not in need of twenty-four hour skilled nursing care or medical care which would require placement in a hospital or residential health care facility.

3. The residence must notify a resident that, while the residence will make reasonable efforts to facilitate the resident's ability to age in place pursuant to an individualized service plan, there may be a point reached where the needs of the resident cannot be safely or appropriately met at the residence, requiring the transfer of the resident to a more appropriate facility in accordance with the provisions of this article.

4. If a resident reaches the point where he or she is in need of twenty-four hour skilled nursing care or medical care required to be provided by facilities licensed pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter or article nineteen, thirty-one or thirty-two of the mental hygiene law, then the resident must be discharged from the residence and the operator shall initiate proceedings for the termination of the residency agreement of such resident in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred sixty-one-h of the social services law. Provided, however, a resident may remain at the residence if each of the following conditions are met:

(a) a resident in need of twenty-four hour skilled nursing care or medical care hires appropriate nursing, medical or hospice staff to care for his or her increased needs;

(b) the resident's physician and home care services agency both determine and document that, with the provision of such additional nursing, medical or hospice care, the resident can be safely cared for in the residence, and would not require placement in a hospital, nursing home or other facility licensed under article twenty-eight of this chapter or article nineteen, thirty-one or thirty-two of the mental hygiene law;

(c) the operator agrees to retain the resident and to coordinate the care provided by the operator and the additional nursing, medical or hospice staff; and

(d) the resident is otherwise eligible to reside at the residence.

5. In addition to the requirements otherwise required for licensure as assisted living, any residence that advertises or markets itself as serving individuals with special needs, including, but not limited to, individuals with dementia or cognitive impairments, must submit a special needs plan to the department setting forth how the special needs of such residents will be safely and appropriately met at such residence. Such plan shall include, but need not be limited to, a written description of specialized services, staffing levels, staff education and training, work experience, professional affiliations or special characteristics relevant to serving persons with special needs, and any environmental modifications that have been made or will be made to protect the health, safety and welfare of such persons in the residence. In approving an application for special needs certification, the department shall develop standards to ensure adequate staffing and training in order to safely meet the needs of the resident. The standards shall be based upon recommendations of the task force established by section five of the chapter of the laws of two thousand four which added this section. No residence shall market themselves as providing specialized services unless and until the department has approved such applicant for a special needs assisted living certificate.

6. An enhanced assisted living certificate shall not be required of an adult care facility, or part thereof, which has obtained approval by the department to operate an assisted living program pursuant to section four hundred sixty-one-l of the social services law. Provided, however, such exemption shall only apply to those beds at the facility which are subject to the assisted living program.

The legislature also finds and declares that certain practices exist in the medical assistance program which have resulted in abuses requiring the regulation of shared health facilities. The legislature further declares it to be the public policy of the state to regulate shared health facilities and to set necessary standards for review of practices and care rendered in those facilities.

§ 4702. Definitions. For the purposes of this article, the following terms shall have the following meanings: 1. "Program" shall mean the New York state program of medical assistance for needy persons, as provided in title XI of article five of the social services law.

"Shared health facility" does not mean or include practitioners practicing their profession as a partnership provided that members of the supporting staff are employees of such legal entity and if there is an office manager, or person with similar title, he is an employee of the legal entity whose compensation is customary and not excessive for such services and there is no person described in paragraph (c) of this subdivision. "Shared health facility" does not mean or include any entity organized pursuant to the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter or operating under a certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of article thirteen of the mental hygiene law; nor shall it mean or include a facility wherein ambulatory medical services are provided by an organized group of physicians pursuant to an arrangement between such group and a health services corporation operating under article forty-three of the insurance law or a health maintenance organization operating under article forty-four of the public health law, and where the health services corporation or the health maintenance organization is reimbursed on a prepaid capitation basis for the provision of health care services under New York state's medical assistance program.

An organization shall permit the enrollee and the enrollee's designee to change the preference at any time. To the extent practicable, written and telephone notification to the enrollee's health care provider shall be transmitted electronically, in a manner and in a form agreed upon by the parties. The utilization review agent shall retain documentation of preferred notification methods and present such records to the commissioner upon request.

4. Both expedited and standard appeals shall only be conducted by clinical peer reviewers, provided that any such appeal shall be reviewed by a clinical peer reviewer other than the clinical peer reviewer who rendered the adverse determination.

5. Failure by the utilization review agent to make a determination within the applicable time periods in this section shall be deemed to be a reversal of the utilization review agent's adverse determination.

§ 4905. Required and prohibited practices. 1. Each utilization review agent shall have written procedures for assuring that patient-specific information obtained during the process of utilization review will be:

(a) kept confidential in accordance with applicable state and federal laws; and

(b) shared only with the enrollee, the enrollee's designee, the enrollee's health care provider and those who are authorized by law to receive such information.

2. Summary data shall not be considered confidential if it does not provide information to allow identification of individual patients.

3. Any health care professional who makes determinations regarding the medical necessity of health care services during the course of utilization review shall be appropriately licensed, registered or certified.

4. A utilization review agent shall not, with respect to utilization review activities, permit or provide compensation or anything of value to its employees, agents, or contractors based on:

(a) either a percentage of the amount by which a claim is reduced for payment or the number of claims or the cost of services for which the person has denied authorization or payment; or

(b) any other method that encourages the rendering of an adverse determination.

5. If a health care service has been specifically pre-authorized or approved for an enrollee by a utilization review agent, a utilization review agent shall not, pursuant to retrospective review, revise or modify the specific standards, criteria or procedures used for the utilization review for procedures, treatment and services delivered to the enrollee during the same course of treatment.

* 6. Utilization review shall not be conducted more frequently than is reasonably required to assess whether the health care services under review are medically necessary.

* NB Effective until January 1, 2027

* 6. Utilization review shall not be conducted more frequently than is reasonably required to assess whether the health care services under review are medically necessary provided, however, that utilization review shall not be conducted more than once per year for an outpatient course of treatment for a chronic health condition starting from the date of a pre-authorization approval for the course of treatment unless the enrollee's attending provider recommends a change to the course of treatment, then utilization review may be conducted for the new course of treatment. Any new treatment, testing or procedures related to the specific medical problem, condition, or illness being managed but not already included in the approved course of treatment may be subject to a separate pre-authorization.

* NB Effective January 1, 2027

7. When making prospective, concurrent and retrospective determinations, utilization review agents shall collect only such information as is necessary to make such determination and shall not routinely require health care providers to numerically code diagnoses or procedures to be considered for certification or routinely request copies of medical records of all patients reviewed. During prospective or concurrent review, copies of medical records shall only be required when necessary to verify that the health care services subject to such review are medically necessary. In such cases, only the necessary or relevant sections of the medical record shall be required. A utilization review agent may request copies of partial or complete medical records retrospectively.

8. In no event shall information be obtained from the health care providers for the use of the utilization review agent by persons other than health care professionals, medical record technologists or administrative personnel who have received appropriate training.

9. The utilization review agent shall not undertake utilization review at the site of the provision of health care services unless the utilization review agent:

(a) Identifies himself or herself by name and the name of his or her organization, including displaying photographic identification which includes the name of the utilization review agent and clearly identifies the individual as representative of the utilization review agent;

(b) Whenever possible, schedules review at least one business day in advance with the appropriate health care provider;

(c) If requested by a health care provider, assures that the on-site review staff register with the appropriate contact person, if available, prior to requesting any clinical information or assistance from the health care provider;

(d) Obtains consent from the enrollee or the enrollee's designee before interviewing the patient's family, or observing any health care service being provided to the enrollee; and engaged in providing care, case management or making on-site discharge decisions.

(e) This subdivision shall not apply to health care professionals

10. A utilization review agent shall not base an adverse determination on a refusal to consent to observing any health care service.

11. A utilization review agent shall not base an adverse determination on lack of reasonable access to a health care provider's medical or treatment records unless the utilization review agent has provided reasonable notice to the enrollee, the enrollee's designee or the enrollee's health care provider, in which case the enrollee must be notified, and has complied with all provisions of subdivision nine of this section.

12. Neither the utilization review agent nor the entity for which the agent provides utilization review shall take any action with respect to a patient or a health care provider that is intended to penalize such enrollee, the enrollee's designee, or the enrollee's health care provider for, or to discourage such enrollee, the enrollee's designee, or the enrollee's health care provider from undertaking an appeal, dispute resolution or judicial review of an adverse determination.

13. In no event shall an enrollee, an enrollee's designee, an enrollee's health care provider, any other health care provider, or any other person or entity, be required to inform or contact the utilization review agent prior to the provision of emergency care, including emergency treatment or emergency admission.

14. No contract or agreement between a utilization review agent and a health care provider shall contain any clause purporting to transfer to the health care provider by indemnification or otherwise any liability relating to activities, actions or omissions of the utilization review agent as opposed to the health care provider.

15. A health care professional providing health care services to an enrollee shall be prohibited from serving as the clinical peer reviewer for such enrollee in connection with the health care services being

§ 4906. Waiver. 1. Any agreement which purports to waive, limit, disclaim, or in any way diminish the rights set forth in this article, except as provided pursuant to section four thousand nine hundred ten of this article shall be void as contrary to public policy.

2. Notwithstanding subdivision one of this section, in lieu of the external appeal process as set forth in this article, a health care plan and a facility licensed pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter may agree to an alternative dispute resolution mechanism to resolve disputes otherwise subject to this article.

§ 4907. Rights and remedies. The rights and remedies conferred in this article upon enrollees and health care providers shall be cumulative and in addition to and not in lieu of any other rights or remedies available under law.

§ 4908. Applicability to ERISA Plans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the provisions of this article shall not apply to any utilization review conducted by, or on behalf of, a self-insured employee welfare benefit plan, as defined in the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended.

(a) "Free-standing ambulatory surgical center" shall mean a diagnostic and treatment center authorized pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter and operated independently from a hospital.

(b) "Health care plan" shall mean an insurer, a corporation organized pursuant to article forty-three of the insurance law, a health maintenance organization certified pursuant to article forty-four of this chapter, a municipal cooperative health benefit plan certified pursuant to article forty-seven of the insurance law, and a student health plan established or maintained pursuant to section one thousand one hundred twenty-four of the insurance law, that issues a health insurance policy or contract or that arranges for care and services for members under a contract with the department with a network of health care providers and utilizes site of service clinical review to determine coverage for services delivered by network participating providers.

(c) "Hospital-based outpatient clinic" shall mean a clinic authorized pursuant to article twenty-eight of this chapter and listed on a hospital's operating certificate.

(d) "Site of service clinical review" shall mean clinical criteria applied by a health care plan for the purpose of determining whether non-urgent outpatient medical procedures and surgeries will be covered for a given insured or enrollee when rendered by a network participating provider at a hospital-based outpatient clinic rather than a free-standing ambulatory surgical center.

2. Site of service clinical review shall be deemed utilization review in accordance with and subject to the requirements and protections of this article and article forty-nine of the insurance law, including the right to internal and external appeal of denials related to site of service clinical review.

3. Site of service clinical review shall consider the insured's health and safety, choice of health care provider, and timely access to care and shall not be based solely on cost.

4. A health care plan that utilizes site of service clinical review that is intended to direct insureds and enrollees to free-standing ambulatory surgical centers shall be able to demonstrate to the department that it has an adequate network of free-standing ambulatory surgical center providers to meet the health needs of insureds and enrollees and to provide an appropriate choice of providers sufficient to render the services covered under the policy or contract. Such network shall be in compliance with network adequacy standards established by the commissioner and article forty-four of this chapter.

5. Except as provided in subdivision seven of this section, starting January first, two thousand twenty-four, a health care plan that utilizes a site of service clinical review shall deliver a notice disclosing and clearly explaining the site of service clinical review to:

(a) policyholders, contract holders, insureds, and enrollees and prospective policyholders, contract holders, insureds, and enrollees at the time of plan and policy or contract selection and at least ninety days prior to the implementation of new site of service clinical review or modification of existing site of service clinical review. Such notice shall include the specific services under the site of service review policy, a statement that site of service clinical review may limit the settings in which services covered under the policy or contract may be provided and render a network participating provider unable to perform a service; shall disclose to insureds or enrollees any quality or cost differential, including differences in out-of-pocket costs, between the hospital-based outpatient clinic and the free-standing ambulatory surgical center when services at a hospital-based outpatient clinic are requested; and shall set forth any rights the insured or enrollee may have to obtain the service at a hospital-based outpatient clinic through a utilization review appeal. Notifications shall also be made at any other time upon the insured's or enrollee's request;

(b) network participating providers at least ninety days prior to implementation. A health care plan shall also inform providers of the process for requesting coverage of a service in a hospital-based outpatient clinic setting, including the right to request a real time clinical peer to peer discussion as part of the authorization process; and

(c) the commissioner, at least forty-five days prior to notifying policyholders, contract holders, insureds and enrollees and prospective policyholders, contract holders, insureds and enrollees and network participating providers in accordance with this subdivision. Such notice to the commissioner shall include (i) draft communications to the foregoing persons for purposes of complying with this subdivision and (ii) an explanation of how the site of service clinical review selected by the health care plan complies with this article and article forty-nine of the insurance law.

6. A health care plan's provider directory shall explain that even though a provider is participating in the network, a site of service clinical review may affect where services will need to be obtained and whether the provider will be available to provide such service, as applicable.

7. A health care plan that has implemented site of service clinical review prior to January first, two thousand twenty-four that is not in compliance with this section shall revise such site of service clinical review to comply with this section and deliver the notices required under subdivision five of this section at the beginning of the open enrollment period for individual health insurance policies and contracts, and for group health insurance policies and contracts, prior to January first, two thousand twenty-four.

8. Starting January first, two thousand twenty-four, at a minimum, a health care plan shall approve a request for authorization for a service covered under the policy or contract and requested to be performed by a network participating provider at a hospital-based outpatient clinic in the following situations:

(a) the procedure cannot be safely performed in a free-standing ambulatory surgical center due to the insured's or enrollee's health condition;

(b) there is no free-standing ambulatory surgical center capacity in the insured's or enrollee's geographic area; or

(c) the provision of health care services at a free-standing ambulatory surgical center would result in undue delay.

9. Starting January first, two thousand twenty-four, site of service clinical review criteria developed by health care plans shall also take into consideration whether:

(a) the insured's or enrollee's treating network participating provider recommends, based on a written clinical justification submitted to the health care plan, that the service be provided at a hospital-based outpatient clinic; or

(b) the insured or enrollee has requested a particular network participating provider who performs the requested service in a hospital-based outpatient clinic because the insured or enrollee is undergoing a continuing course of treatment with the participating provider or because the insured has previously obtained the requested service from the participating provider, and the provider is not credentialed at any free-standing ambulatory surgical center in the service area and is not able to be credentialed within ninety days following the submission of the authorization request to the health care plan.

TITLE II

RIGHT TO EXTERNAL APPEAL

Section 4910. Right to external appeal established.

4912. Standards for certification.

4913. Conflict of interest.

4915. Prohibited practices.

4917. Hold harmless.

§ 4910. Right to external appeal established. 1. There is hereby established an enrollee's right to an external appeal of a final adverse determination by a health care plan.

2. An enrollee, the enrollee's designee and, in connection with concurrent and retrospective adverse determinations, an enrollee's health care provider, shall have the right to request an external appeal when:

(a) (i) the enrollee has had coverage of a health care service, which would otherwise be a covered benefit under a subscriber contract or governmental health benefit program, denied on appeal, in whole or in part, pursuant to title one of this article on the grounds that such health care service does not meet the health care plan's requirements for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, effectiveness of a covered benefit, or other ground consistent with 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-19 as determined by the commissioner in consultation with the superintendent of financial services, and

(ii) the health care plan has rendered a final adverse determination with respect to such health care service or both the plan and the enrollee have jointly agreed to waive any internal appeal, or the enrollee is deemed to have exhausted or is not required to complete any internal appeal pursuant to section 2719 of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-19; or

(b) (i) the enrollee has had coverage of a health care service denied on the basis that such service is experimental or investigational, and such denial has been upheld on appeal under title one of this article, or both the plan and the enrollee have jointly agreed to waive any internal appeal, or the enrollee is deemed to have exhausted or is not required to complete any internal appeal pursuant to section 2719 of the federal Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-19, and

(ii) the enrollee's attending physician has certified that the enrollee has a condition or disease (a) for which standard health services or procedures have been ineffective or would be medically inappropriate, or (b) for which there does not exist a more beneficial standard health service or procedure covered by the health care plan, or (c) for which there exists a clinical trial or rare disease treatment, and

(iii) the enrollee's attending physician, who must be a licensed, board-certified or board-eligible physician qualified to practice in the area of practice appropriate to treat the enrollee's condition or disease, must have recommended either (a) a health service or procedure (including a pharmaceutical product within the meaning of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (b) of subdivision five of section forty-nine hundred of this article) that, based on two documents from the available medical and scientific evidence, is likely to be more beneficial to the enrollee than any covered standard health service or procedure or, in the case of a rare disease, based on the physician's certification required by subdivision seven-g of section forty-nine hundred of this article and such other evidence as the enrollee, the enrollee's designee or the enrollee's attending physician may present, that the requested health service or procedure is likely to benefit the enrollee in the treatment of the enrollee's rare disease and that such benefit to the enrollee outweighs the risks of such health service or procedure; or (b) a clinical trial for which the enrollee is eligible. Any physician certification provided under this section shall include a statement of the evidence relied upon by the physician in certifying his or her recommendation, and

(iv) the specific health service or procedure recommended by the attending physician would otherwise be covered under the policy except for the health care plan's determination that the health service or procedure is experimental or investigational; or

(c)(i) the enrollee has had coverage of the health service (other than a clinical trial to which paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall apply), which would otherwise be a covered benefit under a subscriber contract or governmental health benefit program, denied on appeal, in whole or in part, pursuant to title one of this article on the grounds that such health service is out-of-network and an alternate recommended health service is available in-network, and the health plan has rendered a final adverse determination with respect to an out-of-network denial or both the health plan and the enrollee have jointly agreed to waive any internal appeal; and

(ii) the enrollee's attending physician, who shall be a licensed, board certified or board eligible physician qualified to practice in the specialty area of practice appropriate to treat the enrollee for the health service sought, certifies that the out-of-network health service is materially different than the alternate recommended in-network service, and recommends a health care service that, based on two documents from the available medical and scientific evidence, is likely to be more clinically beneficial than the alternate recommended in-network treatment and the adverse risk of the requested health service would likely not be substantially increased over the alternate recommended in-network health service.

(d)(i) The enrollee has had an out-of-network referral denied on the grounds that the health care plan has a health care provider in the in-network benefits portion of its network with appropriate training and experience to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee, and who is able to provide the requested health service.

(ii) The enrollee's attending physician, who shall be a licensed, board certified or board eligible physician qualified to practice in the specialty area of practice appropriate to treat the enrollee for the health service sought, certifies that the in-network health care provider or providers recommended by the health care plan do not have the appropriate training and experience to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee, and recommends an out-of-network provider with the appropriate training and experience to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee, and who is able to provide the requested health service.

3. (a) The health care plan may charge the enrollee a fee of up to twenty-five dollars per external appeal with an annual limit on filing fees for an enrollee not to exceed seventy-five dollars within a single plan year; provided that, in the event the external appeal agent overturns the final adverse determination of the plan, such fee shall be refunded to the enrollee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the health plan shall not require the enrollee to pay any such fee if the enrollee is a recipient of medical assistance or is covered by a policy pursuant to title one-A of article twenty-five of this chapter. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the health plan shall not require the enrollee to pay any such fee if such fee shall pose a hardship to the enrollee as determined by the plan.

(b) The health care plan may charge the enrollee's health care provider a fee of up to fifty dollars per external appeal, other than for an external appeal requested pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c) of subdivision four of section forty-nine hundred fourteen of this article; provided that, in the event the external appeal agent overturns the final adverse determination of the plan, such fee shall be refunded to the enrollee's health care provider.

4. An enrollee covered under the Medicare or Medicaid program may appeal the denial of a health care service pursuant to the provisions of this title, provided, however, that any determination rendered concerning such denial pursuant to existing federal and state law relating to the Medicare or Medicaid program or pursuant to federal law enacted subsequent to the effective date of this title and providing for an external appeal process for such denials shall be binding on the enrollee and the insurer and shall supersede any determinations rendered pursuant to this title.

§ 4911. Powers of the commissioner. 1. The commissioner shall have the power to grant and revoke certifications of external appeal agents to conduct external appeals requested pursuant to either paragraph (a) or (b) of subdivision two of section forty-nine hundred ten of this title or pursuant to both such paragraphs.

2. If, after reviewing the application authorized by section forty-nine hundred twelve of this title, the commissioner is satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements of this section, the commissioner shall issue a certificate to the applicant. A certificate issued under this section shall be valid for a period of not more than two years.

3. In order to be re-certified, an external appeal agent must demonstrate to the commissioner on forms prescribed by the commissioner that it continues to meet all applicable standards required by this title. Re-certification under this section shall be valid for a period of not more than two years.

§ 4912. Standards for certification. 1. The commissioner shall develop an application for certification. At a minimum, applicants shall provide:

(a) a description of the qualifications of the clinical peer reviewers retained to conduct external appeals of final adverse determinations, including such reviewers' current and past employment history and practice affiliations;

(b) a description of the procedures employed to ensure that clinical peer reviewers conducting external appeals are:

(i) appropriately licensed, registered or certified;

(ii) trained in the principles, procedures and standards of the external appeal agent; and

(iii) knowledgeable about the health care service which is the subject of the final adverse determination under appeal;

(c) a description of the methods of recruiting and selecting impartial clinical peer reviewers and matching such reviewers to specific cases;

(d) the number of clinical peer reviewers retained by the external appeal agent, and a description of the areas of expertise available from such reviewers and the types of cases such reviewers are qualified to review;

(e) a description of the policies and procedures employed to protect the confidentiality of individual medical and treatment records in accordance with applicable state and federal laws;

(f) a description of the quality assurance program established by the external appeal agent pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision two of this section;

(g) the names of all corporations and organizations owned or controlled by the external appeal agent or which owns or controls such agent, and the nature and extent of any such ownership or control;

(h) the names and biographies of all directors, officers, and executives of the external appeal agent;

(i) an experimental and investigational treatment review plan to conduct appeals pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section forty-nine hundred fourteen of this title; and

(j) a description of the fees to be charged by agents for external appeals.

2. The commissioner shall, at a minimum, require an external appeal agent to:

(a) appoint a medical director, who is a physician in possession of a current and valid non-restricted license to practice medicine. Such director shall be responsible for the supervision and oversight of the external appeal process;

(b) develop written policies and procedures governing all aspects of the appeal process, including, at a minimum:

(i) procedures to ensure that appeals are conducted within the time frames specified in section forty-nine hundred fourteen of this title, and any required notices are provided in a timely manner;

(ii) procedures to ensure the selection of qualified and impartial clinical peer reviewers. Such reviewers shall be qualified to render determinations relating to the health care service which is the subject of the final adverse determination under appeal;

(iii) procedures to ensure the confidentiality of medical and treatment records and review materials; and

(iv) procedures to ensure adherence to the requirements of this title by any contractor, subcontractor, subvendor, agent or employee affiliated by contract or otherwise with such external appeal agent;

(c) establish a quality assurance program. Such program shall include written descriptions, to be provided to all individuals involved in such program, of the organizational arrangements and ongoing procedures for the identification, evaluation, resolution and follow-up of potential and actual problems in external appeals performed by the external appeal agent and to ensure the maintenance of program standards pursuant to this section;

(d) establish a toll-free telephone service to receive information on a 24-hour-a-day 7-day-a-week basis relating to external appeals pursuant to this title. Such system shall be capable of accepting, recording or providing instruction to incoming telephone calls during other than normal business hours;

(e) develop procedures to ensure that:

(i) appropriate personnel are reasonably accessible not less than forty hours per week during normal business hours to discuss patient care and to allow response to telephone requests, and

(ii) response to accepted or recorded messages shall be made not less than one business day after the date on which the call was received; and

(f) be accredited by a nationally recognized private accrediting organization.

3. No entity shall be qualified to submit such request for application if it owns or controls, is owned or controlled by, or exercises common control with, any of the following:

(a) any national, state or local illness, health benefit or public advocacy group;

(b) any national, state or local society or association of hospitals, physicians, or other providers of health care services; or

(c) any national, state or local association of health care plans.

4. A health care plan shall transmit, and an external appeal agent shall be authorized to receive and review, an enrollee's medical and treatment records in order to conduct an external appeal pursuant to this title.

5. An external appeal agent shall provide ready access to the commissioner to all data, records, and information collected and maintained concerning such agent's external appeal activities.

6. An external appeal agent shall agree to provide the commissioner such data, information, and reports as the commissioner determines necessary to evaluate the external appeal process established pursuant to this title.

7. The commissioner shall provide, upon the request of any interested person, a copy of all non-proprietary information filed with the commissioner by the external appeal agent. The commissioner may charge a reasonable fee to the interested person for reproducing the requested information.

§ 4913. Conflict of interest. 1. No external appeal agent or officer, director, or management employee thereof; or clinical peer reviewer employed or engaged thereby to conduct any external appeal pursuant to this title, shall have any material professional affiliation, material familial affiliation, material financial affiliation, or other affiliation prescribed pursuant to regulation, with any of the following:

(a) the health care plan;

(b) any officer, director, or management employee of the health care plan;

(c) any health care provider, physician's medical group, independent practice association, or provider of pharmaceutical products or services or durable medical equipment, proposing to provide or supply the health service;

(d) the facility at which the health service would be provided;

(e) the developer or manufacturer of the principal health service which is the subject of the appeal; or

(f) the enrollee whose health care service is the subject of the appeal, or the enrollee's designee.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the commissioner shall promulgate regulations to minimize any conflict of interest where such conflict may be unavoidable.

§ 4914. Procedures for external appeals of adverse determinations. 1. The commissioner shall establish procedures by regulation to randomly assign an external appeal agent to conduct an external appeal, provided that the commissioner may establish a maximum fee which may be charged for any such external appeal, or the commissioner may exclude from such random assignment any external appeal agent which charges a fee which she deems to be unreasonable.

2. (a) The enrollee shall have four months to initiate an external appeal after the enrollee receives notice from the health care plan, or such plan's utilization review agent if applicable, of a final adverse determination or denial or after both the plan and the enrollee have jointly agreed to waive any internal appeal, or after the enrollee is deemed to have exhausted or is not required to complete any internal appeal pursuant to section 2719 of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-19. Where applicable, the enrollee's health care provider shall have sixty days to initiate an external appeal after the enrollee or the enrollee's health care provider, as applicable, receives notice from the health care plan, or such plan's utilization review agent if applicable, of a final adverse determination or denial or after both the plan and the enrollee have jointly agreed to waive any internal appeal. Such request shall be in writing in accordance with the instructions and in such form prescribed by subdivision five of this section. The enrollee, and the enrollee's health care provider where applicable, shall have the opportunity to submit additional documentation with respect to such appeal to the external appeal agent within the applicable time period above; provided however that when such documentation represents a material change from the documentation upon which the utilization review agent based its adverse determination or upon which the health plan based its denial, the health plan shall have three business days to consider such documentation and amend or confirm such adverse determination.

(b) The external appeal agent shall make a determination with respect to the appeal within thirty days of the receipt of the request therefor, submitted in accordance with the commissioner's instructions. The external appeal agent shall have the opportunity to request additional information from the enrollee, the enrollee's health care provider and the enrollee's health care plan within such thirty-day period, in which case the agent shall have up to five additional business days if necessary to make such determination. The external appeal agent shall notify the enrollee, the enrollee's health care provider where appropriate, and the health care plan, in writing, of the appeal determination within two business days of the rendering of such determination.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, if the enrollee's attending physician states that a delay in providing the health care service would pose an imminent or serious threat to the health of the enrollee, or if the enrollee is entitled to an expedited external appeal pursuant to section 2719 of the federal Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. § 300gg-19, the external appeal shall be completed within no more than seventy-two hours of the request therefor and the external appeal agent shall make every reasonable attempt to immediately notify the enrollee, the enrollee's health care provider where appropriate, and the health plan of its determination by telephone or facsimile, followed immediately by written notification of such determination.

(d) (A) For external appeals requested pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section forty-nine hundred ten of this title, the external appeal agent shall review the utilization review agent's final adverse determination and, in accordance with the provisions of this title, shall make a determination as to whether the health care plan acted reasonably and with sound medical judgment and in the best interest of the patient. When the external appeal agent makes its determination, it shall consider the clinical standards of the plan, the information provided concerning the patient, the attending physician's recommendation, and applicable generally accepted practice guidelines developed by the federal government, national or professional medical societies, boards and associations. Provided that such determination shall:

- (i) be conducted only by one or a greater odd number of clinical peer reviewers,

- (ii) be accompanied by a notice of appeal determination which shall include the reasons for the determination; provided, however, that where the final adverse determination is upheld on appeal, the notice shall include the clinical rationale, if any, for such determination,

- (iii) be subject to the terms and conditions generally applicable to benefits under the evidence of coverage under the health care plan,

- (iv) be binding on the plan and the enrollee, and

- (v) be admissible in any court proceeding.

(B) For external appeals requested pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section forty-nine hundred ten of this title, the external appeal agent shall review the proposed health service or procedure for which coverage has been denied and, in accordance with the provisions of this title and the external agent's experimental and investigational treatment review plan, make a determination as to whether the patient costs of such health service or procedure shall be covered by the health care plan; provided that such determination shall:

- (i) be conducted by a panel of three or a greater odd number of clinical peer reviewers,

- (ii) be accompanied by a written statement:

- (1) that the patient costs of the proposed health service or procedure shall be covered by the health care plan either: when a majority of the panel of reviewers determines, based upon review of the applicable medical and scientific evidence and, in connection with rare diseases, the physician's certification required by subdivision seven-g of section forty-nine hundred of this article and such other evidence as the enrollee, the enrollee's designee or the enrollee's attending physician may present (or upon confirmation that the recommended treatment is a clinical trial), the enrollee's medical record, and any other pertinent information, that the proposed health service or treatment (including a pharmaceutical product within the meaning of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (b) of subdivision five of section forty-nine hundred of this article) is likely to be more beneficial than any standard treatment or treatments for the enrollee's condition or disease or, for rare diseases, that the requested health service or procedure is likely to benefit the enrollee in the treatment of the enrollee's rare disease and that such benefit to the enrollee outweighs the risks of such health service or procedure (or, in the case of a clinical trial, is likely to benefit the enrollee in the treatment of the enrollee's condition or disease); or when a reviewing panel is evenly divided as to a determination concerning coverage of the health service or procedure, or

(2) upholding the health plan's denial of coverage,

(iii) be subject to the terms and conditions generally applicable to benefits under the evidence of coverage under the health care plan,

(iv) be binding on the plan and the enrollee, and

(v) be admissible in any court proceeding.

As used in this subparagraph (B) with respect to a clinical trial, patient costs shall include all costs of health services required to provide treatment to the enrollee according to the design of the trial. Such costs shall not include the costs of any investigational drugs or devices themselves, the cost of any nonhealth services that might be required for the enrollee to receive the treatment, the costs of managing the research, or costs which would not be covered under the policy for noninvestigational treatments.

(C) For external appeals requested pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision two of section four thousand nine hundred ten of this title relating to an out-of-network denial, the external appeal agent shall review the utilization review agent's final adverse determination and, in accordance with the provisions of this title, shall make a determination as to whether the out-of-network health service shall be covered by the health plan.

(i) The external appeal agent shall assign one clinical peer reviewer to make a determination as to whether the out-of-network health service is materially different from the health service available in-network.

(ii) If a determination is made that the out-of-network health service is not materially different from the health service available in-network the out-of-network health service shall not be covered by the health plan.

(iii) If a determination is made that the out-of-network health service is materially different from the health service available in-network, the external appeal agent shall assign a panel with an additional two or a greater odd number of clinical peer reviewers which shall make a determination as to whether the out-of-network health service shall be covered by the health plan; provided that such determination shall:

(1) be accompanied by a written statement that:

(I) the out-of-network health service shall be covered by the health care plan either: when a majority of the panel of reviewers determines, upon review of the health service requested by the enrollee, the alternate recommended health service proposed by the plan, the clinical standards of the plan, the information provided concerning the enrollee, the attending physician's recommendation, the applicable medical and scientific evidence, the enrollee's medical record, and any other pertinent information that the out-of-network health service is likely to be more clinically beneficial than the proposed in-network health service and the adverse risk of the requested health service would likely not be substantially increased over the in-network health service; or

(II) uphold the health plan's denial of coverage.

(2) be subject to the terms and conditions generally applicable to benefits under the evidence of coverage under the health care plan;

(3) be binding on the plan and the enrollee; and

(4) be admissible in any court proceeding.

(D) For external appeals requested pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision two of section four thousand nine hundred ten of this title relating to an out-of-network referral denial, the external appeal agent shall review the utilization review agent's final adverse determination and, in accordance with the provisions of this title, shall make a determination as to whether the out-of-network referral shall be covered by the health plan; provided that such determination shall:

(i) be conducted only by one or a greater odd number of clinical peer reviewers;

(ii) be accompanied by a written statement:

(1) that the out-of-network referral shall be covered by the health care plan either when the reviewer or a majority of the panel of reviewers determines, upon review of the training and experience of the in-network health care provider or providers proposed by the plan, the training and experience of the requested out-of-network provider, the clinical standards of the plan, the information provided concerning the enrollee, the attending physician's recommendation, the enrollee's medical record, and any other pertinent information, that the health plan does not have a provider with the appropriate training and experience to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee who is able to provide the requested health service, and that the out-of-network provider has the appropriate training and experience to meet the particular health care needs of an enrollee, is able to provide the requested health service, and is likely to produce a more clinically beneficial outcome; or

(2) upholding the health plan's denial of coverage;

(iii) be subject to the terms and conditions generally applicable to benefits under the evidence of coverage under the health care plan;

(iv) be binding on the plan and the enrollee; and

(v) be admissible in any court proceeding.

3. No external appeal agent or clinical peer reviewer conducting an external appeal shall be liable in damages to any person for any opinions rendered by such external appeal agent or clinical peer reviewer upon completion of an external appeal conducted pursuant to this section, unless such opinion was rendered in bad faith or involved gross negligence.

4. (a) Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision, payment for an external appeal shall be the responsibility of the health care plan. The health care plan shall make payment to the external appeal agent within forty-five days from the date the appeal determination is received by the health care plan, and the health care plan shall be obligated to pay such amount together with interest thereon calculated at a rate which is the greater of the rate set by the commissioner of taxation and finance for corporate taxes pursuant to paragraph one of subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of the tax law or twelve percent per annum, to be computed from the date the bill was required to be paid, in the event that payment is not made within such forty-five days.

(b) If an enrollee's health care provider requests an external appeal of a concurrent adverse determination and the external appeal agent upholds the health care plan's determination in whole, payment for the external appeal shall be made by the health care provider in the manner and subject to the timeframes and requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

(c) If an enrollee's health care provider requests an external appeal of a concurrent adverse determination and the external appeal agent upholds the health care plan's determination in part, payment for the external appeal shall be evenly divided between the health care plan and the enrollee's health care provider who requested the external appeal and shall be made by the health care plan and the enrollee's health care provider in the manner and subject to the timeframes and requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this subdivision; provided, however, that the commissioner may, upon a determination by the superintendent of financial services that health care plans or health care providers are experiencing a substantial hardship as a result of payment for the external appeal when the external appeal agent upholds the health care plan's determination in part, in consultation with the superintendent, promulgate regulations to limit such hardship.

(d) If an enrollee's health care provider was acting as the enrollee's designee, payment for the external appeal shall be made by the health care plan. The external appeal and any designation shall be submitted on a standard form developed by the commissioner in consultation with the superintendent of financial services pursuant to subdivision five of this section. The superintendent of financial services shall have the authority upon receipt of an external appeal to confirm the designation or request other information as necessary, in which case the superintendent of financial services shall make at least two written requests to the enrollee to confirm the designation. The enrollee shall have two weeks to respond to each such request. If the enrollee fails to respond to the superintendent of financial services within the specified timeframe, the superintendent of financial services shall make two written requests to the health care provider to file an external appeal on his or her own behalf. The health care provider shall have two weeks to respond to each such request. If the health care provider does not respond to the superintendent of financial services requests within the specified timeframe, the superintendent of financial services shall reject the appeal. If the health care provider responds to the superintendent's requests, payment for the external appeal shall be made in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision.

5. The commissioner, in consultation with the superintendent of financial services, shall promulgate by regulation a standard description of the external appeal process established under this section, which shall provide a standard form and instructions for the initiation of an external appeal by an enrollee.

§ 4915. Prohibited practices. An external appeal agent shall not, with respect to external appeal activities, permit or provide compensation or anything of value to its employees, agents, or contractors based on:

1. either a percentage of the amount by which a claim is reduced for payment or the number of claims or the cost of services for which the person has denied authorization or payment; or

2. any other method that encourages the upholding of an adverse determination.

§ 4916. Oversight and surveillance of the external appeal process. 1. The commissioner shall have the power to:

(a) review the activities of the health care plans and external appeal agents pursuant to this title, including the extent to which such plans and agents adhere to the standards and time frames required pursuant to this title;

(b) investigate complaints by enrollees regarding requests for and processing of external appeals; and

(c) conduct random audits of health care plans and external appeal agents to determine compliance with the provisions of this title.

2. Each health care plan and external appeal agent shall annually, in such form as the commissioner shall require, report the number of external appeals requested by enrollees and the outcomes of any such external appeals.

3. The commissioner shall annually report, by plan and agent, such information to the governor and the legislature, provided that no such information shall be included which would otherwise be deemed confidential information within the meaning of this chapter.

§ 4917. Hold harmless. A health care provider requesting an external appeal of a concurrent adverse determination, including when the health care provider requests an external appeal as the enrollee's designee, shall not pursue reimbursement from the enrollee for services determined not medically necessary by the external appeal agent, except to collect a copayment.
