§ 132. New York state social security agency established. There is hereby established in the state retirement system an agency of the state to be known as the "New York state social security agency." The director shall have charge of such agency.