§ 214-b. Pension rights of certain retired persons who are appointed to the office of New York city marshal. a. Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter or the provisions of any state or local law or charter to the contrary, no retired person who retired from (1) the New York city police pension fund, (2) the New York city employees' retirement system as (A) a member of the uniformed force of the New York city department of correction, or (B) an employee of the city of New York in the title of deputy city sheriff level one, deputy city sheriff level two, supervising deputy sheriff or administrative sheriff, or (3) the New York city fire department pension fund in a title in the fire marshal occupational group, and who is appointed to the office of New York city marshal, shall have his or her retirement allowance suspended or reduced on or after the effective date of this section because of compensation earned by such retired person from service as a New York city marshal.

b. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision f of section two hundred ten of this article or the provisions of any other law to the contrary, service in the office of New York city marshal by any retired person shall not be considered employment in a position in the service of a former employer for the purposes of section two hundred eleven of this article.
