§ 312. Additional parties; supplemental process

The court may issue a supplemental process at any time and require any party to procure it and cause it to be served in conformity with the provisions of 307 and 308 on any person in any proceeding, so that any person necessary or proper to a final determination therein may be made a party thereto.