§ 460-g. Construction. The provisions of this article shall not be deemed or construed to alter, amend, repeal or otherwise modify the provisions of article nineteen-G of the executive law, relating to secure and non-secure detention facilities, article nineteen-H of the executive law relating to residential facilities operating as approved runaway programs and transitional independent living support programs, or articles thirteen and eighty-one of the mental hygiene law, relating to facilities for the mentally disabled or drug dependent persons.