§ 464-e. Distribution of reports. The commissioner, in conjunction with the advisory committee, shall prepare an interim report within thirty months after the effective date of this article, which shall include a preliminary review of each pilot project. The commissioner, in conjunction with such committee, shall also prepare a final report within sixty months after the effective date of this article. Such final report shall contain a description of the various human services pilot projects demonstrated and their perceived effect on cost, delivery and accessibility of human services in rural areas. The final report shall describe the effect of each pilot project on existing providers and consumers of such services, as well as the effect on each community served. The same report shall identify laws, rules and regulations, if any, that should be repealed or amended in order to make it possible to properly and efficiently implement such plans or programs in other rural areas of the state. Said interim and final reports shall be distributed to all participants in the program, as well as to the governor and the legislature.
