

TAX LAW

LAWS 1909, CHAP. 62.

AN ACT in relation to taxation, constituting chapter sixty of the consolidated laws.

Became a law February 17, 1909, with the approval of the Governor.

Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

CHAPTER 60 OF THE CONSOLIDATED LAWS

TAX LAW

- Article 1. Short title; definitions; miscellaneous (§§ 1-49*2).
8. Department of taxation and finance; commissioner of taxation and finance (§§ 170-180).
9. Corporation tax (§§ 182--207-b).
- 9-A. Franchise tax on business corporations (§§ 208--219-a).
11. Tax on mortgages (§§ 250-267).
12. Tax on transfers of stock and other corporate certificates (§§ 270--281-a).
- 12-A. Tax on gasoline and similar motor fuel (§§ 282--289-f).
13. Tax on unrelated business income (§§ 290-296).
- 13-A. Tax on petroleum businesses (§§ 300-315).
14. Laws repealed; when to take effect (§§ 320-321).
18. Taxes on alcoholic beverages (§§ 420-445).
19. Boxing and wrestling exhibitions tax (§§ 451-456).
20. Tax on cigarettes and tobacco products (§§ 470--482-a).
- 20-A. Cigarette marketing standards (§§ 483-489).
- 20-B. Excise tax on medical marihuana (§§ 490-491).
- 20-C. Excise tax on sale of opioids (§§ 497-499).
21. Highway use tax (§§ 501-515).
- 21-A. Tax on fuel use (§§ 521-528).
22. Personal income tax (§§ 601-699).
23. Metropolitan commuter transportation mobility tax (§§ 800-807).
24. Employer compensation expense program (§§ 850-857).

- 24-A. Pass-through entity tax (§§ 860-866).
- 24-B. City pass-through entity tax (§§ 867-873).
- 25. Reciprocal enforcement of tax liabilities (§§ 901-903).
- 26. Estate tax (§§ 951-999-a).
- 27. Corporate tax procedure and administration (§§ 1080-1097).
- 28. Sales and compensating use taxes (§§ 1101-1150).
- 28-A. Special tax on passenger car rentals (§§ 1160-1167).
- 28-B. Simplified sales and use tax administration (§§ 1170-1178).
- 28-C. Supplemental tax on vapor products (§§ 1180-1186).
- 28-D. Special tax on peer-to-peer car sharing (§§ 1190-1197).
- 29. Taxes authorized for cities, counties and school districts (§§ 1200-1264).
- 29-A. Tax on medallion taxicab trips in the metropolitan commuter transportation district (§§ 1280-1290).
- 29-B. State assessment fee on transportation network company prearranged trips (§§ 1291-1298).
- 29-C. Congestion surcharge (§§ 1299--1299-I).
- 30. City personal income tax (§§ 1300-1313).
- 30-A. City income tax surcharge (§§ 1320-1333)
- 30-B. City earnings tax on nonresidents (§§ 1340-1343).
- 30-C. City surcharge on property that does not serve as a primary residence (§§ 1350-1356).
- 31. Real estate transfer tax (§§ 1400-1423).
- 31-A. Tax on real property transfers for transportation assistance (§§ 1424-1437).
- 31-A-1. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Red Hook (§§ 1438-a--1438-p).
- 31-A-2. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Columbia (§§ 1439-a--1439-p).
- 31-A-2*2. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Chatham (§§ 1439-a*2--1439-p*2).
- 31-A-2*3. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Fishkill (§§ 1439-a*3--1439-p*3).
- 31-A-3. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Northeast

- (§§ 1439-aa--1439-pp).
- 31-A-4. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Chester (§§ 1439-aaa--1439-ppp).
- 31-A-4*2. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Orangetown (§§ 1439-aaa*2--1439-ppp*2).
- 31-B-1. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Essex (§§ 1448-g--1448-v).
- 31-C. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Broome (§§ 1449-f--1449-u).
- 31-D. Tax on real estate transfers in towns in the Peconic Bay Region (§§ 1449-aa--1449-pp).
- 31-E. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Nassau (§§ 1449-aaa--1449-ppp)
- 31-F. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Warwick (§§ 1449-aaaa--1449-pppp).
- 31-G. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Tompkins (§§ 1449-aaaaa--1449-ppppp).
- 31-H. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Madison (§§ 1449-aaaaaa--1449-pppppp).
- 31-I. Tax on real estate transfers in the county of Cortland (§§ 1449-aaaaaaa--1449-ppppppp).
- 31-J. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Copake (§§ 1450-a--1450-p).
- 31-K. Tax on real estate transfers in the town of Clarkstown (§§ 1450-aa--1450-pp).
- 33. Franchise taxes on insurance corporations (§§ 1500-1520).
- 33-A. Tax on independently procured insurance (§§ 1550-1557).
- 33-B. Tax on real estate transfers in towns (§§ 1560-1573).
- 34. New York state lottery for education (§§ 1600-1620).
- 36. Compliance and enforcement initiatives (§§ 1700-1703).
- 37. Crimes and other offenses, seizures and forfeitures (§§ 1800-1848).
- 40. Division of tax appeals (§§ 2000-2026).
- 41. Taxpayers' bill of rights (§§ 3000-3038).

ARTICLE 1

SHORT TITLE; DEFINITIONS; MISCELLANEOUS

- Section 1. Short title.
2. Definitions.
3. Exemption from certain taxes granted to certain corporations engaged in the operation of vessels in foreign commerce.
4. Exemption from certain excise and sales taxes granted to the United Nations.
5. Obtaining and furnishing taxpayer identification information.
- 5-a. Certification of registration to collect sales and compensating use taxes by certain contractors, affiliates and subcontractors.
6. Filing of electronic warrants and warrant-related records in the department of state.
7. Inapplicability of certain money judgment enforcement procedures.
8. Exemption from taxes granted to REMICs.
9. Electronic funds transfer by certain taxpayers remitting withholding taxes.
10. Electronic funds transfer by certain taxpayers remitting sales and compensating use taxes, prepaid sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel, and motor fuel and petroleum business taxes.
11. Certified capital companies.
12. Internet; advertising, vendor status, nexus.
13. (Enacted without section heading).
14. Empire zones program.
- 14-a. IMB credit for energy taxes.
15. QEZE credit for real property taxes.
16. QEZE tax reduction credit.
17. Empire zones tax benefits report.
18. Low-income housing credit.
19. Green building credit.
20. Credit for transportation improvement contributions.

21. Brownfield redevelopment tax credit.
- 21*2. Disclosure of taxpayer information in cases involving abandoned property.
22. Tax credit for remediated brownfields.
23. Environmental remediation insurance credit.
24. Empire state film production credit.
- 24-a. Musical and theatrical production credit.
- 24-b. Television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit.
- 24-c. New York city musical and theatrical production tax credit.
- 24-d. Empire state independent film production credit.
25. Disclosure of certain transactions and related information.
26. Security training tax credit.
27. Suspension of tax-exempt status of terrorist organizations.
28. Empire state commercial production credit.
- 28*2. Biofuel production credit.
29. Mandatory electronic filing and payment.
30. Bad check or failed electronic funds withdrawal fee.
31. Excelsior jobs program credit.
- 31*2. Empire state film post production credit.
32. Registration of tax return preparers.
33. Correction periods for electronic tax documents and payments.
- 33*2. Temporary deferral of certain tax credits.
34. Tax return preparers and software companies not to charge separately for New York e-file services.
- 34*2. Temporary deferral payout credits.
35. Use of electronic means of communication.
- 35*2. Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credit.
36. Empire state jobs retention program credit.
37. Alcoholic beverage production credit.
38. New York innovation hot spot program tax benefits.
- 38*2. Minimum wage reimbursement credit.

- 39. Tax benefits for businesses located in tax-free NY areas and employees of such businesses.
- 39-a. Penalties for fraud in the START-UP NY program.
- 40. The tax-free NY area tax elimination credit.
- 41. Limitations on tax credit eligibility.
- 42. Farm workforce retention credit.
- 42-a. Farm employer overtime credit.
- 43. Life sciences research and development tax credit.
- 43*2. Single member limited liability companies and eligibility for tax credits.
- 44. Employer-provided child care credit.
- 45. Empire state digital gaming media production credit.
- 46. Restaurant return-to-work tax credit.
- 46-a. Additional restaurant return-to-work tax credit.
- 47. COVID-19 capital costs tax credit.
- 47*2. Grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit.
- 47*3. Suspension of certain taxes on motor fuel and Diesel motor fuel.
- 48. Child care creation and expansion tax credit.
- 49. Newspaper and broadcast media jobs tax credit.
- 49*2. Commercial security tax credit.

§ 1. Short title. This chapter shall be known as the "Tax Law."

§ 2. Definitions. 1. Unless otherwise expressly stated or unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, "tax department" or "department", as used in this chapter, means the department of taxation and finance, "commissioner" means the commissioner of taxation and finance or his delegate, and "tax commission" or "commission", in all matters pertaining to the administration of the division of tax appeals, means the tax appeals tribunal and in all other matters means the commissioner of taxation and finance.

2. "Comptroller" as used in this chapter means the state comptroller.

3. "County treasurer" includes any officer performing the duties devolving upon such office under whatever name.

4. "Infant" or "minor" as used in this chapter means a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years.

5. The term "limited liability company" means a domestic limited liability company or a foreign limited liability company, as defined in section one hundred two of the limited liability company law, a limited liability investment company formed pursuant to section five hundred seven of the banking law, or a limited liability trust company formed pursuant to section one hundred two-a of the banking law.

6. "Partnership and partner," unless the context requires otherwise, shall include, but shall not be limited to, a limited liability company and a member thereof, respectively.

7. "REIT" means a real estate investment trust as defined in section eight hundred fifty-six of the internal revenue code.

8. "RIC" means a regulated investment company as defined in section eight hundred fifty-one of the internal revenue code.

9. "Captive REIT" means a REIT that is not regularly traded on an established securities market, and (more than fifty percent of the voting stock of which is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single entity treated as an association taxable as a corporation under the Internal Revenue Code that is not exempt from federal income tax and is not a REIT. Any voting stock in a REIT that is held in a segregated asset account of a life insurance corporation (as described in section 817 of the internal revenue code) shall not be taken into account for purposes of determining whether a REIT is a captive REIT. None of the following entities shall be considered an association taxable as a corporation for purposes of this subdivision:

(a) any listed Australian property trust (meaning an Australian unit trust registered as a "managed investment scheme" under the Australian Corporations Act in which the principal class of units is listed on a recognized stock exchange in Australia and is regularly traded on an established securities market), or an entity organized as a trust, provided that a listed Australian property trust owns or controls, directly or indirectly, seventy-five percent or more of the voting power or value of the beneficial interests or shares of such trust; or

(b) any qualified foreign entity, meaning a corporation, trust, association or partnership organized outside the laws of the United States and which satisfies the following criteria:

(i) at least seventy-five percent of the entity's total asset value at the close of its taxable year is represented by real estate assets (as defined at subparagraph (B) of paragraph (5) of subsection (c) of section eight hundred fifty-six of the internal revenue code, thereby including shares or certificates of beneficial interest in any real estate investment trust), cash and cash equivalents, and United States Government securities;

(ii) the entity is not subject to tax on amounts distributed to its beneficial owners, or is exempt from entity-level taxation;

(iii) the entity distributes at least eight-five percent of its taxable income (as computed in the jurisdiction in which it is organized) to the holders of its shares or certificates of beneficial interest on an annual basis;

(iv) not more than ten percent of the voting power or value in such entity is held directly or indirectly or constructively by a single entity or individual, or the shares or beneficial interests of such entity are regularly traded on an established securities market; and

(v) the entity is organized in a country which has a tax treaty with the United States.

10. "Captive RIC" means a RIC (a) that is not regularly traded on an established securities market, and (b) more than fifty percent of the voting stock of which is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single corporation that is not exempt from federal income tax and is not a RIC. Any voting stock in a RIC that is held in a segregated asset account of a life insurance corporation (as described in section 817 of the internal revenue code) shall not be taken into account for purposes of determining whether a RIC is a captive RIC.

11. The term "combinable captive insurance company" means an entity that is treated as an association taxable as a corporation under the internal revenue code (a) more than fifty percent of the voting stock of which is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single entity that is treated as an association taxable as a corporation under the internal revenue code and not exempt from federal income tax; (b) that is licensed as a captive insurance company under the laws of this state or another jurisdiction; (c) whose business includes providing, directly and indirectly, insurance or reinsurance covering the risks of its parent and/or members of its affiliated group; and (d) fifty percent or less of whose gross receipts for the taxable year consist of premiums from arrangements that constitute insurance for federal income tax purposes. For purposes of this subdivision, "affiliated group" has the same meaning as that term is given in section 1504 of the internal revenue code, except that the term "common parent corporation" in that section is deemed to mean any person, as defined in section 7701 of the internal revenue code and references to "at least eighty percent" in section 1504 of the internal revenue code are to be read as "fifty percent or more;" section 1504 of the internal revenue code is to be read without regard to the exclusions provided for in subsection (b) of that section; "premiums" has the same meaning as that term is given in paragraph one of subdivision (c) of section fifteen hundred ten of this chapter, except that it includes consideration for annuity contracts and excludes any part of the consideration for insurance, reinsurance or annuity contracts that do not provide bona fide insurance, reinsurance or annuity benefits; and "gross receipts" includes the amounts included in gross receipts for purposes of section 501(c) (15) of the internal revenue code, except that those amounts also include all premiums as defined in this subdivision.

§ 3. Exemption from certain taxes granted to certain corporations engaged in the operation of vessels in foreign commerce. All corporations incorporated under the laws of the state of New York, exclusively engaged in the operation of vessels in foreign commerce, are exempted from all taxation in this state, for state and local purposes, upon their capital stock, franchises and earnings.

§ 4. Exemption from certain excise and sales taxes granted to the United Nations. Excise and sales taxes imposed by the state upon the sale of tangible personal property shall not be exacted or required to be paid by the United Nations upon and with respect to any sale of tangible personal property hereafter made, provided the property is acquired for the official use of the United Nations; and the provisions of any law now in force or hereafter enacted imposing any such tax shall not apply to sales of tangible personal property to the United Nations. The state tax commission shall make such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to give full force and effect to the provisions of this section.

§ 5. Obtaining and furnishing taxpayer identification information. 1. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

(a) "License" shall include the whole or part of any covered agency permit, certificate, approval, registration, charter or similar form of permission to engage in a profession, trade, business or occupation and any notification required to be made to any covered agency that a profession, trade, business or occupation is being engaged in or is expected to be commenced. However, such term shall not include any original charter or certificate of incorporation granted by any covered agency.

(b) "Person" shall mean an individual, partnership, limited liability company, society, association, joint stock company, corporation, estate, receiver, trustee, assignee, referee, or any other person acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity, whether appointed by a court or otherwise, or any combination of the foregoing. However, such term shall not include any public corporation, corporation formed other than for profit or unincorporated not-for-profit entity, except such term shall include an education corporation of the type dealt with in section two hundred twenty-one of the education law, an education corporation subject to article one hundred one of the education law and a cooperative corporation.

* (c) "State agency" shall mean the state of New York, any department, board, bureau, commission, division, office, council or agency thereof, a public authority or a public benefit corporation. "State agency" shall also include the New York Waterfront Commission.

* NB Effective June 30, 2024 until enactment by New Jersey of legislation having an identical effect

* (c) "Covered agency" shall mean the state of New York, any county of the state of New York, any department, board, bureau, commission, division, office, council or agency of the state or any such county, a public authority, a public benefit corporation, the port authority of New York and New Jersey or the waterfront commission of New York harbor. When a county is wholly included within a city, then the term "county" shall be read to include the city. "Covered agency" shall also include the New York Waterfront Commission.

* NB Effective upon enactment by New Jersey of legislation having an identical effect

2. Requiring information. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, every covered agency shall, as part of the procedure for granting, renewing, amending, supplementing or restating the license of any person or at the time the covered agency contracts to purchase or purchases goods or services or leases real or personal property from any person, require that each such person provide to the covered agency such person's federal social security account number or federal employer identification number, or both such numbers when such person has both such numbers, or, where such person does not have such number or numbers, the reason or reasons why such person does not have such number or numbers. Such numbers or reasons shall be obtained by such covered agency as part of the administration of the taxes administered by the commissioner for the purpose of establishing the identification of persons affected by such taxes.

3. Furnishing information to commissioner. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a covered agency shall, upon request of the commissioner, furnish to the commissioner the following information with respect to each person covered by subdivision two of this section:

(1) business name or the name under which the applicant for a license or licensee will be licensed or is licensed;

(2) business address or whatever type of address the covered agency requires the applicant for a license or the licensee to furnish to it; and

(3) federal social security account number or federal employer identification number, or both such numbers where such person has both such numbers, or the reason or reasons, furnished by such person, why such person does not have such number or numbers.

(b) The reports required under paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be submitted on a compatible magnetic tape file or in some other form which is mutually acceptable to the covered agency and the commissioner.

4. Report not open to public inspection. Notwithstanding article six of the public officers law or any other provision of law, the report to be furnished by the covered agency to the commissioner pursuant to subdivision three of this section shall not be open to the public for inspection.

§ 5-a. Certification of registration to collect sales and compensating use taxes by certain contractors, affiliates and subcontractors. 1. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the specified meanings:

(a) "Affiliate" means a person which directly, indirectly or constructively

(1) controls another person;

(2) is controlled by another person; or

(3) is, along with another person, under the control of a common parent.

"Control" means possession of the power to direct, or cause the direction of, the management and policies of another person.

(b) "Commodities" means commodities as defined in article eleven of the state finance law.

(c) (1) "Contract" means an agreement between a contractor and a covered agency for the purchase by the covered agency, pursuant to article eleven of the state finance law, of commodities or services having a value in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

The term "contract" shall also include a centralized contract, as defined in article eleven of the state finance law, with a value in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

(2) The term "contract" shall not include:

(A) a purchase by a covered agency of commodities or services with a value in excess of one hundred thousand dollars based upon a formal mini-bid solicitation pursuant to a centralized contract;

(B) a grant or an intergovernmental agreement; or

(C) a purchase of commodities or services from a "preferred source," as such term is defined in article eleven of the state finance law.

(3) Multiple purchases of commodities or services by a covered agency from the same contractor during a state fiscal year shall not be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the greater than one hundred thousand dollar threshold described in this subdivision has been met.

(d) "Contractor" means a person awarded a contract.

(e) "Covered agency" means a "state agency" for purposes of article eleven of the state finance law, the legislature, the judiciary, or a public authority or public benefit corporation at least one of whose members is appointed by the governor.

(f) "Department" means the department of taxation and finance.

(g) "Person" means an individual, partnership, limited liability company, society, association, joint stock company, or corporation; provided, however, that a "person" shall not include a "public corporation" or an "education corporation," as such terms are defined in section sixty-six of the general construction law, a not-for-profit corporation whose contracts are subject to approval in accordance with article eleven-B of the state finance law, a board of cooperative educational services created pursuant to article forty of the education law, or a soil and water conservation district created pursuant to section five of the soil and water conservation districts law.

(h) "Sales and compensating use taxes" means state and local sales and compensating use taxes imposed by article twenty-eight and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter, which are administered by the commissioner.

(i) "Sales tax quarter" means a quarterly period ending on the last day of February, May, August or November.

(j) "Services" means services as defined in article eleven of the state finance law.

(k) "Subcontractor" means a person engaged by a contractor or another subcontractor to perform a portion of the contractor's obligations under a contract.

(l) "State" means the state of New York.

(m) "Taxable services" means services, the receipts from the sale of which are taxable by article twenty-eight or article twenty-nine of this chapter.

(n) The terms "receipts," "sale," "tangible personal property" and "vendor" have the meanings given in article twenty-eight of this chapter.

2. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, before a contract may take effect, the contractor must comply with the requirements of subparagraphs one and two of this paragraph.

(1) The contractor must file a written certification with the department, made under penalty of perjury, stating that:

(A) if the contractor made sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during the immediately preceding consecutive four sales tax quarters, the contractor is registered for sales and compensating use tax purposes with the department under sections eleven hundred thirty-four and twelve hundred fifty-three of this chapter. If the contractor did not make sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during such four sales tax quarters, then the contractor shall so certify;

(B) if any affiliate of the contractor made sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during the immediately preceding consecutive four sales tax quarters, to the best of the contractor's knowledge, each such affiliate is registered for sales and compensating use tax purposes with the department under sections eleven hundred thirty-four and twelve hundred fifty-three of this chapter. If the contractor does not have any affiliates, or does not have any affiliates which made sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during such four sales tax quarters, then the contractor shall so certify; and

(C) if any subcontractor made sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during the immediately preceding consecutive four sales tax quarters, to the best of the contractor's knowledge, each such subcontractor is registered for sales and compensating use tax purposes with the department under sections eleven hundred thirty-four and twelve hundred fifty-three of this chapter. If the contractor does not have any subcontractors, or there are no subcontractors which made sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during such four sales tax quarters, then the contractor shall so certify.

(D) The certification required by this subparagraph shall include such additional information as the department deems necessary for the proper administration of this section.

(E) The certification required by this subparagraph need only be filed with the department once and, once filed, shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph for purposes of any subsequent contract to which the contractor is a party; provided, however, that if the contractor, or an affiliate or subcontractor, is not certified as registered with the department for sales and compensating use tax purposes on the contractor's original certification, and such contractor, affiliate or subcontractor makes sales delivered by any means to locations within the state of tangible personal property or taxable services having a value in excess of three hundred thousand dollars during any consecutive four sales tax quarters which follow the sales tax quarter in which the contractor's original certification was made, then the contractor shall, as soon as possible after such occurrence, file an amended written certification with the department, made under penalty of perjury, indicating that such contractor, affiliate or subcontractor, as applicable, is registered with the department for sales and compensating use tax purposes.

(2) The contractor shall also provide the procuring covered agency with a written certification, made under penalty of perjury, stating that:

(A) the contractor has filed the certification prescribed by this section with the department, and that such certification is correct and complete, or

(B) such certification is not required to be filed with the department, and explaining the reasons for such determination.

(C) the certification required by this subparagraph shall be included in the procurement record (as such term is defined in article eleven of the state finance law), or similar documentation if the state comptroller is not required by law to approve the contract.

(D) any question as to the accuracy of the contractor certification described in clause (B) of this subparagraph shall be resolved by the contracting covered agency, in consultation, as necessary, with the state comptroller and the department.

(b) A contractor, affiliate of the contractor, or subcontractor which registers for sales and compensating use tax purposes under sections eleven hundred thirty-four and twelve hundred fifty-three of this chapter in order to comply with the provisions of this subdivision shall be a vendor and shall comply with and be subject to the provisions of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter.

(c) The certification requirements prescribed by this subdivision in order for a contract to take effect shall be in addition to any other requirements prescribed by law relating to the formation of contracts to which a covered agency is a party.

3. (a) If a contract has taken effect, and the terms of such contract provide that it may be renewed upon expiration of an initial or subsequent term, then the contractor shall, no later than the day prior to the commencement date of the applicable renewal term, certify to the contracting covered agency in writing, and under penalty of perjury, that:

(1) the contractor has filed the certification prescribed by this section with the department, and that such certification is correct and complete, or

(2) that such certification is not required to be filed with the department, and explains the reasons for such determination.

(3) Any question as to the accuracy of the contractor certification described in subparagraph two of this paragraph shall be resolved by the contracting covered agency, in consultation, as necessary, with the state comptroller and the department.

(b) The certification required by paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be made a part of the procurement record (as such term is defined in article eleven of the state finance law), or similar documentation if the state comptroller is not required by law to approve the contract.

(c) If the contractor fails to make the certification required by paragraph (a) of this subdivision, or if, during the term of the contract, the department or the covered agency discovers that such certification is false, then such failure or false certification shall be a material breach of the contract, and the contract shall be subject to termination if the covered agency determines that such action is in the best interests of the state.

(d) A contractor, affiliate of the contractor, or subcontractor which registers for sales and compensating use tax purposes under sections eleven hundred thirty-four and twelve hundred fifty-three of this chapter in order to comply with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be a vendor and shall comply with and be subject to the provisions of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter.

4. The provisions of this section shall not apply to a contract if the procuring covered agency and the state comptroller, or other approving authority if the state comptroller is not required to approve the contract, find in writing that the contract is necessary to address an "emergency," within the meaning of article eleven of the state finance law, or to ensure the public health, safety or welfare. Such written finding shall explain the reasons supporting such determination.

§ 6. Filing of electronic warrants and warrant-related records in the department of state. 1. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or a related statute to the contrary, all warrants and warrant-related records issued by the department shall be filed electronically by the department in the department of state. No fee shall be required to be paid for such filings. On the date of the electronic filing of a warrant, as confirmed by the department of state pursuant to subdivision five of this section:

(a) the amount of the tax stated in the warrant shall become a lien upon the title to and interest in all real, personal or other property located in New York state, owned by the person or persons named in the warrant. The lien so created shall:

(i) attach to all real property and rights to real property located in New York state that is owned by the person or persons named in the warrant at any time during the period of the lien, including any real property or rights to real property located in New York state that is acquired by such person or persons after the lien arises; and

(ii) apply to all personal or other property and rights to personal or other property located in New York state that is owned by the person or persons named in the warrant at any time during the period of the lien, including any personal or other property or rights to personal or other property located in New York state that is acquired by such person or persons after the lien arises; and

(b) the commissioner shall, in the right of the people of the state of New York, be deemed to have obtained a judgment against the person or persons named in the warrant for the amount of the tax stated in the warrant.

2. Enforcement of a judgment obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section shall be as prescribed in article fifty-two of the civil practice law and rules.

3. A written or electronic copy of any electronic warrant or warrant-related record filed in the department of state shall be filed by the department in the office of the clerk of the county named in the warrant or warrant-related record.

4. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or a related statute to the contrary, all warrant-related records issued by the department that are authorized by applicable laws, including, but not limited to, warrant satisfactions, vacatures, amendments and expirations, and any warrant-related record issued by the department on or after July first, two thousand twenty-five that pertains to a warrant filed prior to July first, two thousand twenty-five, shall be filed electronically by the department in the department of state. No fee shall be required to be paid for such filings. A written or electronic copy of the electronic warrant-related record filed in the department of state shall be filed by the department in the office of the clerk of the county named in the warrant-related record.

5. The department shall file warrants and warrant-related records electronically with the department of state. The department of state shall provide electronic notice to the department confirming the date of filing of the warrants and warrant-related records. The department of state shall also make information regarding the warrants and warrant-related records, including the date of filing, available to the public and searchable by the name of the person or persons listed in the tax warrant. Upon request of the commissioner, the department of state shall certify that a warrant or warrant-related record has been filed and the date of such filing.

6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter concerning the place of filing of a tax warrant and the creation thereby of a tax lien and judgment, the provisions of this section shall govern such matters for purposes of any taxes imposed by or pursuant to this chapter.

§ 7. Inapplicability of certain money judgment enforcement procedures.--Notwithstanding any provision in article fifty-two of the civil practice law and rules or any other provision of law to the contrary, the procedures in such article for the enforcement of money judgments shall not apply to the tax commission, any officer or employee of the department of taxation and finance, or the comptroller or any officer or employee of the department of audit and control, as a garnishee, with respect to any amount of money to be refunded or credited to a taxpayer pursuant to any tax administered by the tax commission, which is imposed by this chapter or by a law enacted pursuant to the authority of this chapter or article two-E of the general city law.

§ 8. Exemption from taxes granted to REMICs. An entity that is treated for federal income tax purposes as a real estate mortgage investment conduit, hereinafter referred to as a REMIC, as such term is defined in section 860D of the internal revenue code, shall be exempt from all taxation imposed or authorized under this chapter, upon its capital stock, franchises or income. A REMIC shall not be treated as a corporation, partnership or trust for purposes of this chapter. The assets of a REMIC shall not be included in the calculation of any franchise tax liability under this chapter. This provision does not exempt the holders of regular or residual interests, as defined in section 860G of the internal revenue code, in a REMIC from tax on or measured by such regular or residual interests, or on income from such interests.

§ 9. Electronic funds transfer by certain taxpayers remitting withholding taxes. (a) Definitions. For the purposes of this section:

(1) The term "commissioner" means the commissioner of taxation and finance.

(2) The term "educational organization" means a higher educational institution which

(A) is authorized by the New York state board of regents to confer degrees, or

(B) offers a range of registered undergraduate and graduate curricula in the liberal arts and sciences, degrees in two or more professional fields and doctoral programs in at least three academic fields, or

(C) is authorized by the New York state board of regents to offer undergraduate curricula below the baccalaureate level which normally lead to the associate degree, as such higher educational institutions are described in subdivisions (k), (l) and (m) of section 50.1 of eight New York codes, rules and regulations.

(3) The term "electronic funds transfer" means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument, which is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephonic instrument or computer or magnetic tape so as to order, instruct or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit an account.

(4) The term "health care provider" means any organization described in article twenty-eight or thirty-six of the public health law, or in article thirty-one of the mental hygiene law.

(5) The term "payment of tax" means the amount of tax that is actually remitted upon the filing of a withholding tax return, or is actually remitted for the purposes of obtaining an extension to file such a return.

(6) The term "reconciliation of withholding" means the quarterly combined withholding, wage reporting and unemployment insurance return required to be filed for the last calendar quarter of each year, as prescribed by paragraph four of subsection (a) of section six hundred seventy-four of this chapter.

(b) General rules. (1) Subject to the requirements contained in subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section, the commissioner shall require by regulation that any payment of tax made by a taxpayer who is required, for either of the semi-annual periods ending June thirtieth or December thirty-first, to deduct and withhold an aggregate of thirty-five thousand dollars or more of withholding taxes pursuant to part V of article twenty-two of this chapter, or pursuant to an equivalent provision enacted under the authority of article thirty, thirty-A or thirty-B of this chapter, or article two-E of the general city law, shall be made, on or before the date prescribed by law, by electronic funds transfer to a bank, banking house or trust company designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall designate only such banks, banking houses or trust companies as are or shall be designated by the comptroller as depositories pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, as added by chapter sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred seventy-eight. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any such payment shall be deemed to be made on the date the payment is received by the designated depository of the department; provided, however, that at the election of a taxpayer subject to the provisions of this subdivision, mailing by the taxpayer of the applicable withholding tax return and a certified check for the amount of the tax liability on or before the second business day prior to the applicable due date otherwise prescribed by law shall fulfill the requirements of this section and shall be deemed to be timely payment of such tax liability and timely filing of such return.

(2) (A) On or before the thirtieth calendar day following the date regulations implementing the provisions of this section become effective, the commissioner shall, by certified mail, notify taxpayers required to participate in the electronic funds transfer program of their responsibilities under such program. The notice shall also specify that the first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer shall be made on an applicable due date occurring on or after thirty calendar days following receipt by the taxpayer of the notice; provided, however, that the taxpayer may select an optional applicable due date occurring no later than sixty calendar days following receipt by the taxpayer of the notice.

(B) (i) By September first, two thousand two, the commissioner shall, by certified mail, notify taxpayers newly required to participate in the electronic funds transfer program during the July first, two thousand two through June thirtieth, two thousand three program period. Such notice shall contain language advising the taxpayer of the enrollment procedure and of the consequences of failure to enroll in such program, as well as of the taxpayer's obligation to enroll in the program within forty-five calendar days of the mailing of the notice unless such taxpayer challenges such determination of required participation by requesting a hearing within forty-five calendar days of the mailing of such notice. In addition, such notice shall specify that such a taxpayer shall make its first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer by an applicable due date in January, two thousand three.

(ii) By June first, two thousand three and by each succeeding June first, the commissioner shall, by certified mail, notify taxpayers newly required to participate in the electronic funds transfer program. Such notice shall contain language advising the taxpayer of the enrollment procedure and of the consequences of failure to enroll in such program, as well as of the taxpayer's right to challenge such determination of required participation provided a hearing is requested within twenty calendar days of the mailing of such notice. In addition, such notice shall specify that such a taxpayer shall make its first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer by an applicable due date occurring on or after thirty calendar days following receipt by the taxpayer of the notice but no later than sixty calendar days following receipt by the taxpayer of the notice.

(iii) If a taxpayer does not enroll within forty-five or twenty calendar days (as the case may be) of the mailing of the notice provided for in clause (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph or where a taxpayer's challenge to mandatory participation is not sustained and the taxpayer has not enrolled within ten calendar days of notification thereof, the commissioner shall mail another notice, in addition to making other reasonable attempts, to inform the taxpayer of the civil penalty that has been assessed pursuant to subdivision (h) of this section, of the opportunity for abatement of such penalty, and of the future penalties that may result from continued failure to enroll.

(3) Subject to the provisions of subdivision (f) of this section, an electronic funds transfer shall serve as a substitute for the filing of a withholding tax return.

(c) Special rules with respect to health care providers and educational organizations.

(1) The provisions of subdivision (b) of this section shall not apply to health care providers.

(2) All of the provisions of this section shall apply to educational organizations; provided, however, that any payment of tax which is made by an educational organization shall be made by electronic funds transfer on or before the third business day following the date otherwise prescribed by law; and, provided further, that at the election of a taxpayer subject to the provisions of this subdivision, mailing by the taxpayer of the applicable withholding tax return and a certified check for the amount of the tax liability on or before the first business day following the applicable due date otherwise prescribed by law shall fulfill the requirements of this section and shall be deemed to be timely payment of such tax liability and timely filing of such return.

(d) Exemptions. A taxpayer shall be exempt from the requirements contained in subdivision (b) of this section if such taxpayer proves to the satisfaction of the commissioner that aggregate tax withheld, pursuant to the most recent reconciliation of withholding, is less than one hundred thousand dollars.

(e) Voluntary participation. A taxpayer may file a request with the commissioner to pay any tax administered by such commissioner by electronic funds transfer in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such request shall be in such form as the commissioner shall require and shall be granted under such conditions as the commissioner, by regulation, deems necessary.

* (f) Return substitution. An electronic funds transfer shall not serve as a substitute for the filing of a withholding tax return if the commissioner determines that such substitution will not ensure the proper receipt and crediting of a payment of tax.

* NB Expired December 31, 1992

(g) Confidentiality. The department shall assure the confidentiality of information supplied by taxpayers in effecting electronic funds transfers in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred ninety-seven of this chapter or other applicable provisions of this chapter. The provisions of article six of the public officers law shall not apply to any such information supplied by taxpayers subject to the requirements of this section.

(h) Civil penalty for failure to enroll. If a taxpayer required to participate in the electronic funds transfer program prescribed by this section fails to enroll in such program in accordance with the terms of subparagraph (B) of paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section, such taxpayer shall pay a penalty equal to five thousand dollars; provided, however, that if such taxpayer enrolls in the program within twenty calendar days after notification of assessment of such penalty is sent by the department by certified mail for program periods beginning on or after July first, two thousand two, then such penalty shall be abated. If such taxpayer continues to fail to enroll in the program after such twenty calendar day period, the taxpayer shall pay an additional penalty of five hundred dollars if the failure is for not more than one month with an additional five hundred dollars for each additional month or fraction thereof during which such failure continues. The penalty provided by this section shall be paid upon notice and demand and shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the withholding taxes referred to in paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section; and any reference in the provisions of part VI of article twenty-two of this chapter, which apply to the administration of and procedures with respect to the provisions of this section, shall be deemed also to refer to the penalty provided by this section.

(i) Regulations. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations necessary to implement this section, which regulations shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) the different methods of effecting electronic funds transfer messages available to taxpayers. Such methods shall include at least two methods in which the transfer can be effected without any charge to the taxpayer for the electronic funds transfer itself, and one of such methods shall not require the taxpayer to disclose financial institution account information to the department;

(2) the contents of an electronic funds transfer message necessary to ensure the proper receipt and crediting of a tax payment;

(3) the means by which taxpayers will be provided acknowledgements of payments by electronic funds transfer; and

(4) delineation of what shall constitute reasonable cause and absence of willful neglect for purposes of compliance with the provisions of this section, including the inability of a taxpayer, for reasons beyond the taxpayer's control, to utilize any system of electronic funds transfer required pursuant to this section.

§ 10. Electronic funds transfer by certain taxpayers remitting sales and compensating use taxes, prepaid sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel, and motor fuel and petroleum business taxes. (a) Definitions. For purposes of this section:

(1) The term "commissioner" means the commissioner of taxation and finance.

(2) The term "electronic funds transfer" has the meaning prescribed in paragraph three of subdivision (a) of section nine of this chapter.

(3) The term "federal employer identification number" means the number assigned in accordance with section six thousand one hundred nine of the United States internal revenue code of nineteen hundred eighty-six, and amendments thereto, and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(4) The term "separate New York state employer identification number" means a number assigned by the department which is either a suffix to the federal employer identification number or an identifying number unrelated to the federal employer identification number.

(5) The term "payment of tax" means a payment or payment over of the taxes described in subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section.

(6) The term "taxpayer" means the person required to make a payment of tax.

(b) Participation rules. (1) General. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, if, on or after June first of any year, during the June first through May thirty-first period which immediately precedes the previous June first through May thirty-first period, a taxpayer was liable for

(A) more than five hundred thousand dollars of state and local sales and compensating use taxes imposed by article twenty-eight and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter where such taxes are administered by the commissioner, or

(B) more than five million dollars of prepaid state and local sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel imposed pursuant to section eleven hundred two of this chapter, or

(C) more than five million dollars of the total of the tax on gasoline and similar motor fuel and the tax on petroleum businesses imposed by and pursuant to the authority of articles twelve-A and thirteen-A of this chapter, then such taxpayer shall make payments of the taxes for which such dollar threshold was met by electronic funds transfer or certified check in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (c) of this section.

(2) Special transitional rule. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph one of this subdivision, for purposes of determining whether a taxpayer described in subparagraph (C) of such paragraph shall be required to initially participate in the program prescribed by this section, if such taxpayer was liable for more than three million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars in total article twelve-A and thirteen-A taxes during the September first, nineteen hundred ninety through May thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-one period, then such taxpayer shall make payments of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(3) Disaggregation. Every taxpayer who is identified by either its own federal employer identification number or its own separate New York state employer identification number shall be treated as a separate taxpayer for purposes of determining whether the dollar thresholds specified in paragraph one or two of this subdivision have been met. A taxpayer seeking a separate New York state employer identification number for a branch or division may apply to the commissioner for such a number. The commissioner, at his or her discretion, may assign such number upon a showing by the taxpayer of a legitimate business purpose for such request.

(4) Hardship. (A) If a taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of this subdivision can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that (i) for the two most recent consecutive quarters, the state and local sales and compensating use taxes properly payable by such taxpayer are less than fifty percent of the state and local sales and compensating use taxes properly payable by such taxpayer for the comparable two quarters of the preceding year and (ii) the sum of such taxpayer's state and local sales and compensating use tax liability for such most recent consecutive quarters together with the product of the state and local sales and compensating use taxes properly payable by such taxpayer for the two consecutive quarters immediately preceding the quarters referred to in clause (i) of this subparagraph multiplied by the percentage arrived at under such clause is less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars in amount, then such taxpayer shall not be required to participate in the program prescribed by this section for the remaining quarters of the sales tax year ending on the next May thirty-first and for the immediately succeeding four sales tax quarters.

(B) If a taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (B) or (C) of paragraph one of this subdivision can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that (i) for the most recent six-month period, (I) the prepaid state and local sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel or (II) the total article twelve-A and thirteen-A taxes, as the case may be, properly payable by such taxpayer are less than fifty percent of such applicable taxes described in subclause (I) or (II), as the case may be, properly payable by such taxpayer for the comparable six-month period of the preceding year and (ii) the sum of such taxpayer's liability for such applicable taxes for the most recent six months together with the product of such applicable taxes properly payable by such taxpayer for the six-month period immediately preceding the six-month period referred to in clause (i) of this subparagraph multiplied by the percentage arrived at under such clause is less than two and one-half million dollars in amount, then such taxpayer shall not be required to participate in the program prescribed by this section for the remaining months of the period ending on the next May thirty-first and for the immediately succeeding twelve months.

(D) If a taxpayer required to remit state and local sales and compensating use taxes by electronic funds transfer or certified check pursuant to the provisions of this section can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that (i) such taxpayer's liability for state and local sales and compensating use taxes was less than four million dollars during the period described in paragraph one of this subdivision, and (ii) in any two sales tax quarters within the most recent four consecutive sales tax quarters, such taxpayer was a materialman within the meaning of section two of the lien law, primarily engaged in furnishing building materials to contractors, subcontractors or repairmen for the improvement of real property improved or to be improved with a residential dwelling unit, and authorized by such law to file a mechanic's lien upon such real property and improvement, then such taxpayer need not remit state and local sales and compensating use taxes by electronic funds transfer or certified check for the remainder of the program period in accordance with the timing requirements of subdivision (c) of this section, but may instead remit such taxes by electronic funds transfer or certified check at the same time that payment is required to be made for part-quarterly and quarterly returns required to be filed under article twenty-eight and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter, in the amount required under or pursuant to such articles at such time. The due date prescribed by this subparagraph shall be deemed to be the applicable due date for purposes of this section for taxpayers qualifying under this subparagraph. The provisions of this section shall apply to taxpayers qualifying under this subparagraph, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this subparagraph or is not relevant to this subparagraph.

(c) Payment rules. (1) Payment by electronic funds transfer or certified check. On or before the third business day following the twenty-second day of each calendar month:

(A) a taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall, notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, remit by electronic funds transfer or certified check: (i) either (I) seventy-five percent of one-third of the state and local sales and compensating use taxes properly payable by such taxpayer for the comparable quarter of the preceding year; or

(II) such taxpayer's total liability for state and local sales and compensating use taxes during the period ending on such twenty-second day of the month, provided, however, that in such instance no penalty or interest shall be payable pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (g) of this section if such taxpayer timely remits a payment of tax in an amount not less than ninety percent of the taxes as finally determined to be due and payable for such period; and

(ii) (I) for payments of tax due in the month of January, February, April, May, July, August, October or November, such taxpayer's remaining liability, if any, for state and local sales and compensating use taxes for the immediately preceding calendar month; or

(II) for payments of tax due in the month of March, June, September or December, such taxpayer's remaining liability, if any, for state and local sales and compensating use taxes for the immediately preceding sales tax quarter;

(B) a taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall remit by electronic funds transfer or certified check either:

(i) three-fourths of the prepaid state and local sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel properly payable by such taxpayer for the comparable month of the preceding year; or

(ii) its total liability for prepaid state and local sales and compensating use taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel during the period ending on such twenty-second day of the month, provided, however, that in such instance no penalty or interest shall be payable pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (g) of this section if such taxpayer timely remits a payment of tax in an amount not less than ninety percent of the taxes as finally determined to be due and payable for such period;

(C) a taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall remit by electronic funds transfer or certified check either:

(i) three-fourths of the total article twelve-A and article thirteen-A taxes properly payable by such taxpayer for the comparable month of the preceding year; or

(ii) its total liability for such taxes during the period ending on such twenty-second day of the month, provided, however, that in such instance no penalty or interest shall be payable pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (g) of this section if such taxpayer timely remits a payment of tax in an amount not less than ninety percent of the taxes as finally determined to be due and payable for such period.

(2) Filing obligations and payment of remaining liabilities. (A) A taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall, notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, file only the quarterly returns required under article twenty-eight and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter for each of the periods for which such returns are filed under and pursuant to the authority of such articles; provided, however, that for those months for which a return is not required to be filed pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph, the making of a payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check covering any period shall be deemed to constitute the filing of a return for purposes of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred forty-seven of this chapter with respect to such period.

(B) A taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall file the returns required under section eleven hundred two of this chapter and shall pay to the commissioner the amounts required to be paid with such returns, less the amounts remitted by electronic funds transfer or certified check under this section, for each of the periods for which such returns are filed under such section.

(C) A taxpayer having liability described in subparagraph (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section shall file the returns required under and pursuant to the authority of articles twelve-A and thirteen-A of this chapter and shall pay to the commissioner the amounts required to be paid with such returns, less the amounts remitted by electronic funds transfer or certified check under this section, for each of the periods for which such returns are filed under and pursuant to the authority of such articles.

(3) Payment date; payment by certified check. Payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check shall be made to a bank, banking house or trust company designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall designate only such banks, banking houses or trust companies as are or shall be designated by the comptroller as depositories pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, as added by chapter sixty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred seventy-eight. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any electronic funds transfer shall be deemed to be made on the date payment is received by the depository of the department, provided, however, that at the election of a taxpayer subject to the provisions of this section, mailing by the taxpayer of a certified check for the amount of the tax liability on or before the second business day prior to the applicable due date prescribed by paragraph one of this subdivision shall fulfill the requirements with respect to payments of tax by electronic funds transfer prescribed by this section and shall be deemed to be timely payment of such tax liability.

(4) Special payment rule. If a taxpayer is liable for payment of taxes described in two or more of subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section, then such taxpayer shall make separate payment by electronic funds transfer or certified check of the taxes described in each of such subparagraphs.

(d) Enrollment and initial payment; duration of participation. Within forty-five days after each June first, the commissioner shall notify by certified or registered mail all taxpayers required to participate in the program prescribed by this section. Such notice shall contain language advising the taxpayer of the enrollment procedure and of the consequences of failure to enroll in such program, as well as of a taxpayer's right to challenge such determination of required participation provided a hearing is requested within forty days of the mailing of such notice. If a taxpayer does not enroll within forty days of the mailing of such certified or registered notice of required participation or where a taxpayer's challenge is not sustained and the taxpayer has not enrolled within ten days of notification thereof, the commissioner shall mail another notice, in addition to making other reasonable attempts, to inform the taxpayer of the civil penalty that has been assessed pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (g) of this section, of the opportunity for abatement of such penalty, and of the future penalties that may result from continued failure to enroll and failure to pay by electronic funds transfer or certified check or to file; provided, however, that for the program period beginning December first, nineteen hundred ninety-two through August thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-three, the thirty-day period referred to in this sentence shall be read as forty-five days. A taxpayer shall make its first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section for the month of December in nineteen hundred ninety-two, the month of September in nineteen hundred ninety-three and the month of September for any year thereafter. Unless otherwise provided by this section, such taxpayer shall continue to make payments of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check in accordance with the provisions of this section through the succeeding month of August and shall continue to make such payments of tax for each succeeding September-to-August period where such taxpayer meets the criteria of subdivision (b) of this section and is properly notified by the commissioner pursuant to the enrollment provisions of this subdivision. Provided, however, that:

(1) A taxpayer described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section who is newly required to participate in the program for the September first, nineteen hundred ninety-four through August thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five period shall have forty-five days to enroll in the program and shall make its first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section for the month of December in nineteen hundred ninety-four; and

(2) A taxpayer described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section who is newly required to participate in the program for the September first, nineteen hundred ninety-five through August thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six period shall make its first payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section for the month of December in nineteen hundred ninety-five.

(e) Voluntary participation. A taxpayer who is not required to participate in the program prescribed by this section but who is required to remit any of the taxes specified in subparagraph (A), (B) or (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section may file a request with the commissioner to remit any of such taxes by electronic funds transfer or certified check in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such request shall be in a form as the commissioner shall require and shall be granted under such conditions as the commissioner in his or her discretion shall deem necessary.

(f) Confidentiality. The department shall assure the confidentiality of information supplied by taxpayers in effecting payments of tax pursuant to this section in accordance with the provisions of sections three hundred fourteen and eleven hundred forty-six of this chapter and any other applicable provisions of law. The provisions of article six of the public officers law shall not apply to any such information supplied by taxpayers subject to this section.

(g) Civil penalties and interest. (1) Failure to enroll. If a taxpayer required to participate in the program prescribed by this section fails to enroll in such program in accordance with the terms set forth in subdivision (d) of this section, such taxpayer shall pay a penalty equal to five thousand dollars; provided, however, that if such taxpayer enrolls in the program within thirty days after notification of assessment of such penalty is sent by the department by certified or registered mail return receipt requested, then such penalty shall be abated. If such taxpayer continues to fail to enroll in the program after such thirty-day period, the taxpayer shall pay an additional penalty of five hundred dollars if the failure is for not more than one month, with an additional five hundred dollars for each additional month or fraction thereof during which such failure continues.

(2) Failure to pay or late payment. (A) A taxpayer required or approved to participate in the program prescribed by this section who fails to make a payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section, or who fails to pay any tax required to be remitted on or before such applicable due date shall, in the case of the taxes imposed pursuant to article twenty-eight and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter, be liable for penalty and interest as prescribed by subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred forty-five of this chapter, and in the case of the taxes imposed by and pursuant to the authority of articles twelve-A and thirteen-A of this chapter, be liable for penalty and interest as prescribed by paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred eighty-nine-b of this chapter.

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, if a taxpayer described in subparagraph (B) or (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section fails to make a payment of tax by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section or fails to pay any tax required to be remitted on or before such applicable due date, as prescribed by subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, and also fails to pay or pay over to the commissioner the amounts required to be paid or paid over with the applicable return described in paragraph two of subdivision (c) of this section due the twentieth day of the following month, then penalty and interest for such additional failure, as provided by subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred forty-five of this chapter or paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred eighty-nine-b of this chapter, as the case may be, shall be computed on the amount equal to the difference between the total of the amount of tax due or determined to be due with such return and the total of the amount of tax required to be paid by electronic funds transfer or certified check on or before the applicable due date prescribed by subdivision (c) of this section for the preceding month.

(3) Failure to file required returns. A taxpayer required or approved to participate in the program prescribed by this section who complies with the payment requirements of subdivision (c) of this section

(including the payment of remaining liabilities described in paragraph two of such subdivision), but who fails to file any return required pursuant to article twelve-A, thirteen-A, twenty-eight or twenty-nine of this chapter, as the case may be, for the period for which such payments were timely and fully paid or paid over, shall be liable for a penalty equal to five hundred dollars.

(h) Administration. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of part IV of article twenty-eight of this chapter shall apply to the administration of and procedures with respect to the provisions of this section relating to the taxes described by subparagraph (A) of paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section, the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this chapter relating to the administration of and procedures with respect to such section shall apply to the administration of and procedures with respect to the provisions of this section relating to the taxes described by subparagraph (B) of such paragraph one, and the provisions of article twelve-A relating to the administration of and procedures with respect to such article shall apply to the provisions of this section relating to the taxes described in subparagraph (C) of such paragraph one.

(i) Regulations. The commissioner shall have the authority to promulgate regulations in order to implement the provisions of this section.

§ 11. Certified capital companies. (a) Definitions. For the purpose of this section the following terms shall mean:

(1) "Certification date" - the date on which a certified capital company is so designated by the department for a specific certified capital company program.

(2) "Certified capital" - an investment of cash by a certified investor in a certified capital company which fully funds the purchase price of either or both its equity interest in the certified capital company or a qualified debt instrument issued by the certified capital company. Any such investment shall be subject to the provisions of article fourteen of the insurance law.

(3) "Certified capital company" - a partnership, corporation, trust or limited liability company, organized on a for-profit basis that is located, headquartered and licensed or registered to conduct business in New York, that has as its primary business activity the investment of cash in qualified businesses and that is certified by the department as meeting the criteria set forth in subdivision (b) of this section.

(4) "Certified investor" - any insurance company that contributes certified capital.

(5) "Department" - the department of financial services; provided, however, that "department" shall mean the department of economic development with regard to any application, certification, report, submission, filing or other action required or governed by this section occurring on or after August first, two thousand eleven.

(6) "Net profits on certified investments" - the amount of money returned to the certified capital company in repayment of or exchange for the certified capital company's qualified investment or investments in the qualified business in excess of the amount of such qualified investment or investments. Such number shall aggregate all of the certified capital company's qualified investments where gains on qualified investments are netted against losses on qualified investments.

(7) "Qualified business" - an independently owned and operated business that meets all of the following conditions as of the time of the first investment in the business:

(A) It is headquartered in New York state, and its principal business operations are located in New York state, and the qualified investment it receives is used solely to support its business operations in the state, except for advertising, promotions and sales purposes. In cases where the qualified investment is made in a start-up company such capital must be used solely to establish and support its business operations in New York state, except for advertising, promotions and sales purposes.

(B) It has either (i) no more than one hundred employees, at least eighty percent of whom are employed in New York state or, (ii) no more than two hundred employees, at least eighty percent of whom are employed in this state, and during the fiscal year immediately preceding the qualified investment it had, together with its affiliates, gross revenues of no more than five million dollars, on a consolidated basis as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, except that, with respect to certified capital company program three and certified capital company program four and certified capital company program five, in the case of a company located in an empire zone established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law such gross revenues shall not exceed eight million dollars.

(C) It is involved in commerce for the purpose of developing and manufacturing products and systems, including but not limited to high technology products and systems such as computers, computer software, medical equipment, biotechnology, telecommunications equipment and products, processing or assembling all types of products, conducting research and development on all types of products or providing services, but excluding real estate, real estate development, insurance and businesses predominantly engaged in professional services provided by accountants, lawyers or physicians.

(D) The business was not organized by a certified capital company or an affiliate of a certified capital company, but this paragraph shall not prohibit a certified capital company from providing financial, technical or similar advice to a business before making an investment in such business.

(E) The business does not have a financial relationship, such as an ownership interest, investment interest, or compensation agreement, with a certified capital company or any affiliate of a certified capital company before the date on which a certified capital company makes its first investment in the business, but this paragraph shall not prohibit a certified capital company from providing financial, technical or similar advice to a business before making an investment in such business.

(F) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "independently owned and operated business" means (i) in the case of a corporation or limited liability company, a corporation where no more than fifty percent of the voting stock of the corporation or limited liability company is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single corporation, a single partnership or a single limited liability company, and (ii) in the case of a partnership, association, or other entity, a partnership, association or other entity where no more than fifty percent of the capital, profits or other beneficial interest in such partnership, association or other entity is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single corporation, a single partnership or a single limited liability company; provided, however, that the term shall include, as a single "independently owned and operated business," parent and subsidiary or affiliated corporations or limited liability companies (i) that are engaged in an integrated for-profit business enterprise, and (ii) in which at least eighty percent of the voting stock or membership interests of all of the corporations or limited liability companies is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a common group of shareholders or members, and no more than fifty percent of the voting stock or membership interests of all of the corporations or limited liability companies is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by a single corporation, single partnership, or single limited liability company that is not part of such group or parent company or affiliated corporations or limited liability companies.

(8) "Qualified debt instrument" - a debt instrument issued by a certified capital company, at par value or a premium, with an original maturity date of at least five years from date of issuance, a repayment schedule which is not faster than a level principal amortization, and interest, distribution or payment features which are not related to the profitability of the certified capital company or the performance of the certified capital company's investment portfolio.

(9) "Qualified distribution" - any distribution or payment by a certified capital company in connection with the following:

(A) Reasonable costs and expenses of such equity holders incurred by such equity holders in connection with forming, syndicating, managing and operating the certified capital company, including (i) an annual management fee in an amount that does not exceed two and one-half percent of the certified capital of the certified capital company with respect to a particular certified capital company program; (ii) the reasonable and necessary fees paid for professional services (such as legal and accounting services) related to the operation of the certified capital company; (iii) with respect to program four and any subsequent program, all payments by the certified capital company in satisfaction of its indebtedness to its certified investors, provided that no more than thirty-five percent of such certified capital company's certified capital may be used to purchase U.S. treasury securities, other investment-grade securities, a guaranty, indemnity, bond, insurance policy or other payment undertaking, or any combination thereof; and provided further, that nothing in this provision shall be construed to limit a certified capital company from expending non-certified capital in satisfaction of such indebtedness; and (iv) with respect to program four and any subsequent program, the reasonable costs and expenses of forming, syndicating, or organizing the certified capital company, separate from the costs of insuring or defeasing the obligations of the certified capital company, provided, however, that such costs and expenses shall not exceed five percent of the certified capital company's certified capital; and

(B) Any increase or projected increase in federal or state taxes, including penalties and interest related to state and federal income taxes, of the equity owners of a certified capital company resulting from the earnings or other tax liability of the certified capital company to the extent that the increase is related to the ownership, management or operation of a certified capital company.

(10) "Qualified investment" - the investment of cash by a certified capital company in a qualified business for the purchase of any debt, equity or hybrid security, of any nature and description whatever, including a debt instrument or security which has the characteristics of debt but which provides for conversion into equity or equity participation instruments such as options or warrants, provided however, in the case of certified capital programs three, four and five, that any such debt instrument have a maturity of at least twenty-four months from the date such debt is incurred; and further provided that a certified capital company, after the investment and assuming full conversion and exercise of any equity participation instruments, shall not own more than fifty percent of the voting equity of the qualified business, except in the case of a follow-on investment where a specific exemption is granted by the department under subparagraph (D) of paragraph one of subdivision (c) of this section. Furthermore, except in the case of a follow-on investment, if a certified capital company owns more than fifteen percent of the equity in a company or has a seat on the board of directors of such company, then a certified capital company cannot invest in such company unless the following conditions are met: (i) at least one other investor who is not an affiliate of the certified capital company participates in the same round of investment on the same terms and conditions as the certified capital company; and (ii) the certified capital company and its affiliates invest no more than fifty percent of the total investment made in that round of investment.

(11) "Early stage business" - a qualified business which is involved, at the time of investment, in activities related to the development of initial product or service offerings, such as prototype development or establishment of initial production or service processes, or, which is less than two years old and during the fiscal year immediately preceding the qualified investment had, together with its affiliates, gross revenues of no more than two million dollars, on a consolidated basis as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(12) "Superintendent" - the superintendent of financial services; provided, however, that "superintendent" shall mean the commissioner of economic development with regard to any application, certification, report, submission, filing or other action required or governed by this section occurring on or after August first, two thousand eleven.

(13) "Certified capital company program" - a calendar year or years for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed credits pursuant to this section and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter and delineated as a separate program by this section.

(14) "Starting date" - the date on which a certified capital company is allocated certified capital for a specific certified capital company program pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section.

(15) "Underserved area" - a county, including a county wholly within a city, in which, as of January first, two thousand, less than twenty-five percent of the qualified investments in qualified businesses were made by certified capital companies under certified capital company program one. The superintendent shall prepare a list of such counties by July first, two thousand.

(16) "Start-up business" - a qualified business which is involved, at the time of investment, in activities related to the development of initial product or service offerings, such as prototype development or establishment of initial production or service processes, or, which is less than two years old and during the fiscal year immediately preceding the qualified investment had, together with its affiliates, gross revenues of no more than two million dollars, on a consolidated basis as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and has fewer than twenty employees at the time of the investment; and, in addition, which has emerged within the year prior to the date of investment or is emerging from, or utilizes a technology transferred from, a university or college research facility located in New York state, a not-for-profit research facility located in New York state, or an industrial research facility located in New York state, or which is conducting research in conjunction with or in the research facilities of a university or college located in New York state, or which is located in or has emerged within the year prior to the date of investment or is emerging from an incubator facility located in New York state.

(b) Certification. (1) The superintendent shall establish by rule or regulation the procedures for making an application to become a certified capital company. The applicant shall pay a non-refundable application fee of five hundred dollars at the time of filing the application with the department.

(2) The superintendent may certify partnerships, corporations, trusts or limited liability companies, organized on a for profit basis, which submit an application to be designated as a certified capital company if such applicant is located, headquartered and licensed or registered to conduct business in New York, has as its primary business activity the investment of cash in qualified businesses and meets the other criteria set forth in this subdivision.

(3) A certified capital company's initial capitalization, at the time of seeking certification, must be five hundred thousand dollars or more.

(4) The superintendent shall review the organizational documents of each applicant for certification and the business history of the applicant, determine that the applicant's cash, marketable securities and other liquid assets are at least five hundred thousand dollars, and determine that the officers and the board of directors, general partners, trustees, managers, or members are trustworthy and are thoroughly acquainted with the requirements of this subdivision.

(5) The superintendent shall verify that at least two principals of the certified capital company or any manager of the certified capital company each have no less than five years of experience in the venture capital or a venture capital-related industry.

(6) Any offering material involving the sale of securities of the certified capital company shall include the following statement:

"Authorizing the formation of a Certified Capital Company does not constitute the endorsement of the state of New York as to either the quality of management or the potential for earnings of such company and the state of New York is not liable for damages or losses to a Certified Investor in the company. Use of the word 'certified' in an offering does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the investment by the state of New York.

Investments in a prospective Certified Capital Company prior to the time such company is certified with respect to a certified capital company program are not eligible for tax credits. In the event certain statutory provisions (as specified in section 11 of the Tax Law) are violated, the state of New York may require forfeiture of unused tax credits and repayment of used tax credits."

(7) Within sixty days of application, the superintendent shall issue the certification or shall refuse the certification and communicate in detail to the applicant the grounds for the refusal, including suggestions for the removal of those grounds.

(8) The superintendent may certify any previously certified capital company which has remained in compliance with the requirements of this section upon the application of such company to be designated a certified capital company for a certified capital company program for which it is not so designated. Such new certification shall be considered a separate certification from any other such certification under this section and investments in and by such company shall be considered separately for purposes of subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section.

(9) The superintendent shall start accepting applications to become a certified capital company in certified capital company program two by November first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, and shall start accepting applications to become a certified capital company in certified capital company program three by August first, two thousand, and shall begin accepting applications to become a certified capital company in certified capital company program four by the later of August first, two thousand four or not more than sixty days after the effective date of section one of part D of chapter fifty-nine of the laws of two thousand four and shall begin accepting applications to become a certified capital company in certified capital company program five by the later of July first, two thousand five or not more than sixty days after the effective date of the chapter of the laws of two thousand five which amended this paragraph.

(10) A certified capital company may obtain a guaranty, indemnity, bond, insurance policy and/or other payment undertaking for the benefit of its certified investors from any entity; provided, however, that, in no case shall more than one certified investor of such certified capital company or affiliates of such certified investor be entitled to provide such guaranty, indemnity, bond, insurance policy and/or other payment undertaking in favor of the certified investors of the certified capital company and its affiliates in this state.

(c) Requirements for continuance of certification. (1) To continue to be certified with respect to a particular certified capital company program, a certified capital company must make qualified investments according to the following schedule:

(A) Within two years after the starting date of a specific certified capital company program of a certified capital company, at least twenty-five percent of its certified capital allocable to such certified capital company program must be placed in qualified investments.

(B) Within three years after the starting date of a specific certified capital company program of a certified capital company, at least forty percent of its certified capital allocable to such certified capital company program must be placed in qualified investments.

(C) Within four years after the starting date of a specific certified capital company program of a certified capital company, at least fifty percent of its certified capital allocable to such certified capital company program must be placed in qualified investments, at least fifty percent of which must have been placed in early stage businesses, except that in the case of program four and any subsequent program, at least twenty-five percent of which must have been placed in early stage businesses and an additional twenty-five percent of which must have been placed in start-up businesses, and except that in the case of qualified investments made in qualified businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law under the provisions of certified capital company program three, program four and program five from allocations of certified capital made specifically for such targeted investments in such zones, the requirement for qualified investments in early stage and start-up businesses shall not apply.

(D) A certified capital company, at least fifteen working days prior to making a proposed investment in a specific business, shall certify in writing to the superintendent that (i) the business in which it proposes to invest meets the definition of a qualified business as set forth in subdivision (a) of this section or, in the case of a follow-on investment, that such business continues to meet the requirements set forth in subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph seven of subdivision (a) of this section and, in either case, an explanation of its determination that the business meets such requirements, and (ii) with respect to certified capital company program three, program four and program five, whether or not such business is located in an empire zone established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law or in an underserved area outside an empire zone. The certification to the superintendent shall include a sworn statement from the business in which the certified capital company proposes to invest, which statement shall evidence the intention of the business to maintain its headquarters in New York and conduct its primary business operations in the state of New York after its receipt of the investment by the certified capital company. If the superintendent determines that the business does not meet the definition of a qualified business, or, in the case of a follow-on investment, that such business does not meet the requirements set forth in subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph seven of subdivision (a) of this section, then it shall, within the fifteen working day period prior to the making of the proposed investment, notify the certified capital company of its determination and provide an explanation thereof, provided, however, that the department may, upon written request of a certified capital company and at the discretion of the department, grant, in writing, an exemption to the percentage limitations of paragraph ten of subdivision (a) of this section.

(E) All certified capital not placed in qualified investments by the certified capital company may be held or invested in such manner as the certified capital company, in its discretion, deems appropriate. The proceeds of all certified capital returned to a certified capital company after being originally placed in qualified investments may be placed again in qualified investments and shall count toward any requirement in this subdivision with respect to placing certified capital in qualified investments.

(F) If within ten years after the starting date of certified capital company program four or program five, and within twelve years after the starting date of certified capital company programs one, two, and three, one hundred percent of the certified capital allocable to a certified capital company participating in such program has not been placed in qualified investments, the specific certified capital company shall no longer be permitted to receive management fees; provided that such restriction shall not apply (i) with respect to certified capital company programs one, two, and three, to any certified capital company that has not, prior to October thirty-first, two thousand four, received, as opposed to accrued, any management fees, or (ii) with respect to any certified capital company program, to a certified capital company in which at least fifty percent of the voting stock, capital, membership interests, or other beneficial ownership interests, as the case may be, are owned by an entity that is managed, directly or indirectly, by a non-profit corporation.

(2) Any business which is classified as a qualified business at the time of the first investment in said business by a certified capital company shall remain classified as a qualified business and may receive follow-on investments from any certified capital company, and such follow-on investments shall be qualified investments even though such business may not meet the definition of a qualified business at the time of such follow-on investments, provided, however, that such business continues to meet the requirements set forth in subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph seven of subdivision (a) of this section, and such business reaffirms its intention to maintain its headquarters in New York and conduct its primary business operations in the state of New York as required in subparagraph (D) of paragraph one of this subdivision.

(3) No qualified investment may be made by a certified capital company to the extent such investment would cause the company's total qualified investment outstanding with respect to the qualified business receiving such investment to exceed fifteen percent of the total certified capital of the certified capital company at the time of such investment.

(4) Documents and other materials submitted by certified capital companies or by businesses for purposes of the continuance of certification shall not be public records if such records are determined by the superintendent to be trade or business secrets and shall be maintained in a confidential manner by the superintendent.

(5) The aggregate cumulative amount of all qualified investments made by the certified capital company for a certified capital company program from its starting date for such program will be considered in the calculation of the percentage requirements under subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of paragraph one of this subdivision, provided, however, that any amounts received by a certified capital company from a qualified business as (i) commitment fees, closing fees, or other similar fees (excluding reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses, including legal fees and accounting fees) in excess of one percent of the certified capital company's investment in the qualified business or (ii) license fees, royalties, or similar charges shall not be considered in any of the percentage calculations under this section.

(6) Each certified capital company shall report the following to the superintendent:

(A) As soon as practicable after the receipt of certified capital or an irrevocable funding commitment subject only to the receipt of an allocation pursuant to subdivision (h) of this section, (i) the name of each certified investor from which the certified capital was received, including such certified investor's insurance tax identification number; (ii) the amount of each certified investor's investment of certified capital; and (iii) the date on which the certified capital was received. Provided, however, that requests for allocation of tax credits with respect to certified capital company program two by certified capital companies on behalf of their certified investors which are received by the superintendent on or before March first, two thousand shall be treated as having been received on March first, two thousand for tax credits to be utilized in two thousand one, and if satisfactory, shall be given equal priority for allocation, and provided, however, that requests for allocation of tax credits with respect to certified capital company program three by certified capital companies on behalf of their certified investors which are received by the superintendent on or before December first, two thousand shall be treated as having been received on December first, two thousand for tax credits to be utilized in two thousand two, and if satisfactory, shall be given equal priority for allocation, and provided, however, that requests for allocation of tax credits with respect to certified capital company program four by certified capital companies on behalf of their certified investors which are received by the superintendent on or before December first, two thousand four shall be treated as having been received on December first, two thousand four for tax credits to be utilized in two thousand six, and if satisfactory, shall be given equal priority for allocation, and provided, however, that requests for allocation of tax credits with respect to certified capital company program five by certified capital companies on behalf of their certified investors which are received by the superintendent on or before the later of (i) November first, two thousand five and (ii) the one hundred twentieth day after the date on which the superintendent began accepting applications for certification in connection with certified capital company program five pursuant to paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section shall be treated as having been received on such later date for tax credits to be utilized in two thousand seven, and if satisfactory, shall be given equal priority for allocation.

(B) On an annual basis, on or before January thirty-first of each year, (i) the amount of the certified capital company's certified capital at the end of the immediately preceding year; (ii) whether or not the certified capital company has invested more than fifteen percent of its total certified capital in any one business; (iii) all qualified investments that the certified capital company made during the previous calendar year, including the number of employees of each qualified business in which it has made investments at the time of such investment and as of December first of the preceding calendar year. For any qualified business where the certified capital company no longer has an investment, the certified capital company shall provide employment figures for such company as of the last day before the investment was terminated. Such report shall provide a separate accounting by each certified capital company program; and (iv) all qualified investments made in empire zones and underserved areas outside such empire zones as required under certified capital company program three, certified capital company program four and certified capital company program five.

(C) Each certified capital company shall provide to the superintendent annual audited financial statements, which shall include the opinion of an independent certified public accountant, within ninety days of the close of its fiscal year. The audit shall address whether the funds received by the certified capital company have been invested as required under subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of paragraph one of this subdivision. Upon receiving notification and documentation by a certified capital company that it has satisfied the requirements of subparagraph (C) of paragraph one of this subdivision that it has invested fifty percent of its certified capital, the department shall have sixty days to notify such certified capital company that it has or has not met such requirement, with a reason for such determination if it has not, in the judgment of the department, met such requirement. If the department does not provide such notification within sixty days, the certified capital company shall then be deemed to have met such requirement.

(D) On or before April first of each year, each certified capital company shall pay an annual, non-refundable certification fee of five hundred dollars to the superintendent; provided that no such fee shall be required within six months of the initial certification date of a certified capital company.

(E)(1) Within thirty days of the decision on an application for certification pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section, the superintendent shall submit a copy of such application and the related decision to the department of taxation and finance. The superintendent shall submit a copy of all filings of certifications pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph one of this subdivision and any determination made thereon within fifteen days of such filing.

(2) The superintendent shall annually, by March first, submit to the department of taxation and finance a list of persons who may claim the tax credit for the previous taxable year and any other information necessary to assist the department of taxation and finance to determine eligibility for such tax credit.

(d) Distributions. (1) A certified capital company may make qualified distributions at any time. In order for a certified capital company to make a distribution other than a qualified distribution from a certified capital company program, to its equity holders, either (A) the aggregate cumulative amount of all qualified investments for such program must equal or exceed one hundred percent of its certified capital allocable to such certified capital company program, or (B) it must have received written authorization to make such distribution from the superintendent. In no event, however, shall any such distribution to its equity holders, other than a qualified distribution, be made by a certified capital company from a certified capital company program unless an amount equal cumulatively to at least ninety percent of its certified capital of such program is invested in companies that conduct their principal business operations in New York state.

(2) In the event that a business in which a qualified investment is made relocates its principal business operations to another state during such investment, or within three months after the termination of such investment, the cumulative amount of qualified investment shall be reduced by the amount of such qualified investment, for the purposes of this subdivision only, unless (A) the certified capital company invests an amount at least equal to the investment of certified capital in the relocated business in a qualified business located in New York state within six months of the relocation or (B) unless the business demonstrates that it has returned its principal business operations to New York state within three months of such relocation. A business shall be deemed to have relocated its principal business operations outside New York state if the primary workplace of more than fifty percent of the employees of such business within the state is relocated to another state.

(3) In the event that a business in which a qualified investment is made under certified capital company program three, certified capital company program four or certified capital company program five, relocates its principal business operation within the earlier of four years after the date of such qualified investment or three months after the termination of such investment, whereby the requirements of paragraph three of subdivision (h) of this section to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law or in underserved areas outside such empire zones no longer are satisfied, the cumulative amount of qualified investment shall be reduced by the amount of such qualified investment, for the purposes of this subdivision only, unless (A) the certified capital company invests an amount at least equal to the investment of certified capital in the relocated business in a qualified business located in either an empire zone or in an underserved area outside an empire zone so that the requirements of paragraph three of subdivision (h) of this section are again satisfied within six months of such relocation, unless the certified capital company certifies to the superintendent that a good faith effort was made to make additional qualifying investments under the requirements of paragraph three of subdivision (h) of this section, or (B) the business demonstrates that it has returned its principal business operation to New York state in either an empire zone or in an underserved area outside an empire zone within three months of such relocation, or (C) the business demonstrates that it had a valid business purpose for relocating its principal business operation. A business shall be deemed to have relocated its principal business operations outside of an empire zone or an underserved area outside an empire zone if the primary workplace of more than fifty percent of the employees of such business within an empire zone or an underserved area outside an empire zone is relocated to an area outside the state or outside an empire zone or an underserved area outside an empire zone.

(4) Payments to debt holders of a certified capital company may be made without restriction with respect to repayments of principal and interest on indebtedness owed to them by a certified capital company, including indebtedness of the certified capital company on which certified investors earned tax credits. A debt holder that is also a certified investor or equity holder of a certified capital company may receive payments with respect to such debt without any restriction whatsoever.

(5) A certified capital company that receives certified capital investments under program four and any subsequent program shall pay to the department for deposit in the general fund an amount equal to thirty percent of the net profits on qualified investments. A certified capital company shall make all payments required under this paragraph concurrently with and pro rata to distributions of profits and gains to its equity owners; however, nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to affect qualified distributions.

(6) The amount of any payment required under paragraph five of this subdivision shall be reduced to fifteen percent of such net profits on qualified investments if, at the time of such net profits distribution, such certified capital company irrevocably commits to both: (A) re-invest the remaining fifteen percent of such net profits not being paid to the general fund under paragraph five of this subdivision into qualified businesses, and (B) invest an additional amount equal to at least fifteen percent of such net profits distribution into qualified businesses which additional amount shall come from a separate pool of venture capital that is controlled by the certified capital company but that does not contain certified capital. In making investments from funds established under this paragraph, the certified capital company shall follow the requirements set forth in subparagraph (D) of paragraph one of subdivision (c) of this section pertaining to obtaining approval of the investment being in a qualified business, except that requirements pertaining to empire zones and underserved areas requirements shall not apply. Once qualified investments in qualified businesses have been made pursuant to this paragraph equal to thirty percent of the net profits on qualified investments, then the requirements under this subdivision shall have been satisfied and the proceeds from such qualified businesses may be distributed without restriction.

(e) Decertification. (1) The superintendent shall conduct an annual review of each certified capital company to determine if the certified capital company is abiding by the requirements of certification, to advise the certified capital company as to the eligibility status of its qualified investments, and to ensure that no investment has been made in violation of this subdivision. The cost of the annual review shall be paid by each certified capital company according to a reasonable fee schedule adopted by the superintendent.

(2) Any material violation of subdivision (c) of this section with respect to a particular certified capital company program shall be grounds for decertification of the certified capital company with respect to such program. If the superintendent determines that a certified capital company is not in compliance with the requirements of subdivision (c) of this section with respect to a particular certified capital company program, it shall, by written notice, inform the officers of the certified capital company that the certified capital company will be subject to decertification with respect to such program in one hundred twenty days from the date of mailing of the notice, unless the deficiencies are corrected and the certified capital company is again in compliance with all requirements for certification.

(3) At the end of the one hundred twenty day grace period, if the certified capital company is still not in compliance with subdivision (c) of this section with respect to a particular certified capital company program, the superintendent shall send a notice of decertification to the certified capital company with respect to such program and to all other appropriate state agencies.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs two and three of this subdivision, if a certified capital company in certified capital company programs three, four and five fails to satisfy the requirement in subparagraph (B) of paragraph one of subdivision (c) of this section because it has been unable to make a sufficient amount of qualified investments in qualified businesses located either in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law or in underserved areas outside such empire zones, such certified capital company shall not be subject to decertification at that time. However, if such certified capital company fails to satisfy the requirement in subparagraph (C) of paragraph one of subdivision (c) of this section because it has been unable to make a sufficient amount of qualified investments in qualified businesses located either in such empire zones or in underserved areas outside such empire zones, but certifies to the superintendent that it had made a good faith effort to make such investments, such certified capital company shall be allowed two additional years to satisfy the requirement in such subparagraph (C). If, after the conclusion of such two year period, the certified capital company still has not been able to satisfy the requirement to make such investments, and such certified capital company certifies to the superintendent that it had made a good faith effort to make such investments, the requirement in paragraphs three, four and five of subdivision (h) of this section to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in empire zones or in underserved areas shall be waived. Such certified capital company shall then be allowed one additional year to satisfy the requirement in such subparagraph (C), and if, at the conclusion of that additional one year period, such requirement is still not satisfied, such certified capital company shall be subject to decertification and the provisions of paragraphs two and three of this subdivision shall apply.

(5) Once a certified capital company has invested an amount cumulatively equal to one hundred percent of its certified capital with respect to a particular certified capital company program in qualified investments and has met all other requirements under this subdivision, the certified capital company shall no longer be subject to regulation by the superintendent and shall no longer be subject to the requirements of subdivision (c) of this section with respect to such program. Upon receiving documented certification by a certified capital company that it has invested an amount equal to one hundred percent of its certified capital, the department shall have sixty days to notify such certified capital company that it has or has not met such requirement with a reason for such determination if it has not, in the judgment of the department, met such requirement. If the department does not provide such notification within sixty days, the certified capital company shall then be deemed to have met such requirement.

(6) The superintendent shall send written notice of such decertification to the address of each certified investor whose tax credit has been subject to recapture or forfeiture, using the address shown on the last filing submitted to the superintendent.

(f) Revocation of certification. The superintendent may revoke the certification of a certified capital company, or, at the discretion of the superintendent, the certification of a certified capital company with respect to a particular certified capital company program only, if any material representation to the superintendent in connection with the application process proves to have been falsely made or if the application materially violates any requirement established by the superintendent pursuant to this subdivision. In addition, the superintendent may revoke the certification of a certified capital company if such certified capital company (i) falsely certified, pursuant to paragraph three of subdivision (d) of this section that a good faith effort was made to make additional qualifying investments under the requirements of paragraph three of subdivision (h) of this section, or (ii) falsely certified, pursuant to paragraph four of subdivision (e) of this section, that it had made a good faith effort to make a sufficient amount of qualifying investments in qualifying businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law or in underserved areas outside such empire zones.

(g) Registration requirements. All investments for which tax credits are allowable under the provisions of subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter shall satisfy the conditions of being registered or specifically exempt from registration by provisions or regulations under sections three hundred fifty-nine-e through three hundred fifty-nine-ff of the general business law.

(h) Maximum permitted credits. (1) Certified capital company program one. The aggregate amount of certified capital for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed tax credits pursuant to this paragraph and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter may not exceed fifty million dollars for calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-nine, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-eight. In calendar year two thousand or thereafter, tax credits may be allowed pursuant to this paragraph and such subdivision (k) for an additional fifty million dollars of certified capital, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-nine, if not allocated to calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-eight in accordance with this paragraph. Therefore, the total amount of certified capital for which tax credits may be allowed pursuant to this paragraph and such subdivision (k) shall be one hundred million dollars.

During any calendar year in which the limitation described in this paragraph will limit the amount of certified capital, certified capital will be allocated in order of priority based upon the date of filing of information described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph six of subdivision (c) of this section. Certified capital limited in any calendar year by the application of the provisions of this paragraph shall be allowed and allocated in the immediately succeeding calendar year in order of priority set forth in this paragraph. The superintendent shall advise any certified capital company in writing within fifteen days after receiving such filing, whether the limitations of this paragraph then in effect will be applicable with respect to the investments and credits described in such filing with the superintendent.

Certified capital may be raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program one at any time subsequent to its certification date, and credits shall be allocated to and vested in certified investors at the time of each such investment as provided in this paragraph, although such credits shall not be first allowed or incurred for state tax purposes, until, at the earliest, tax years beginning in nineteen hundred ninety-nine with respect to the first fifty million dollars of credits and tax years beginning in two thousand with respect to the next such fifty million dollars of credits.

(2) Certified capital company program two. The aggregate amount of certified capital for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed tax credits pursuant to this paragraph and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter may not exceed thirty million dollars for calendar year two thousand one, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-nine.

During any calendar year in which the limitation described in this paragraph will limit the amount of certified capital, certified capital will be allocated in order of priority based upon the date of filing of information described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph six of subdivision (c) of this section. The superintendent shall advise any certified capital company in writing, within fifteen days after receiving such filing, whether the limitations of this paragraph then in effect will be applicable with respect to the investments and credits described in such filing with the superintendent.

Certified capital may be raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program two at any time subsequent to its certification date, and credits shall be allocated to and vested in certified investors at the time of each such investment as provided in this paragraph, although such credits shall not be first allowed or incurred for state tax purposes, until, at the earliest, tax years beginning in two thousand one.

(3) Certified capital company program three. The aggregate amount of certified capital for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed tax credits pursuant to this paragraph and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter may not exceed one hundred fifty million dollars for calendar year two thousand two, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year two thousand.

During any calendar year in which the limitation described in this paragraph will limit the amount of certified capital, certified capital will be allocated in order of priority based upon the date of filing of information described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph six of subdivision (c) of this section. The superintendent shall advise any certified capital company in writing, within fifteen days after receiving such filing, whether the limitations of this paragraph then in effect will be applicable with respect to the investments and credits described in such filing with the superintendent.

Certified capital may be raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program three at any time subsequent to its certification date, and credits shall be allocated to and vested in certified investors at the time of each such investment as provided in this paragraph, although such credits shall not be first allowed or incurred for state tax purposes, until, at the earliest, tax years beginning in two thousand two. One-third of the certified capital raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program three shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and one-third of such certified capital shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in underserved areas outside such empire zones.

(4) Certified capital company program four. The aggregate amount of certified capital for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed tax credits pursuant to this paragraph and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter may not exceed sixty million dollars for calendar year two thousand six, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year two thousand four.

During any calendar year in which the limitation described in this paragraph will limit the amount of certified capital, certified capital will be allocated in order of priority based upon the date of filing of information described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph six of subdivision (c) of this section. The superintendent shall advise any certified capital company in writing, within fifteen days after receiving such filing, whether the limitations of this paragraph then in effect will be applicable with respect to the investments and credits described in such filing with the superintendent.

Certified capital may be raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program four at any time subsequent to its certification date, and credits shall be allocated to and vested in certified investors at the time of each such investment as provided in this paragraph, although such credits shall not be first allowed or incurred for state tax purposes, until, at the earliest, tax years beginning in two thousand six. One-third of the certified capital raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program four shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and one-third of such certified capital shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in underserved areas outside such empire zones, provided, however, that in the case of an investment made by a certified capital company in an empire zone located in an underserved area, the certified capital company making such an investment may choose to designate such investment as an investment in an underserved area but not as an investment in an empire zone for the purpose of meeting the requirements of this paragraph. Fifty percent of the total amount of capital invested by a certified capital company at the time of one hundred percent investment of funds shall be invested in qualified businesses that are involved in commerce for the primary purpose of developing and manufacturing products and systems covered by the activities set forth in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law and have a ratio of research and development expenditures to net sales which equals or exceeds six percent during the fiscal year immediately preceding the qualified investment.

(5) Certified capital company program five. The aggregate amount of certified capital for which taxpayers may be allocated and allowed tax credits pursuant to this paragraph and subdivision (k) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter may not exceed sixty million dollars for calendar year two thousand seven, which certified capital may be invested in certified capital companies beginning in calendar year two thousand five.

During any calendar year in which the limitation described in this paragraph will limit the amount of certified capital, certified capital will be allocated in order of priority based upon the date of filing of information described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph six of subdivision (c) of this section. The superintendent shall advise any certified capital company in writing, within fifteen days after receiving such filing, whether the limitations of this paragraph then in effect will be applicable with respect to the investments and credits described in such filing with the superintendent.

Certified capital may be raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program five at any time subsequent to its certification date, and credits shall be allocated to and vested in certified investors at the time of each such investment as provided in this paragraph, although such credits shall not be first allowed or incurred for state tax purposes, until, at the earliest, tax years beginning in two thousand seven. One-third of the certified capital raised by each certified capital company with respect to certified capital company program five shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in empire zones established pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and one-third of such certified capital shall be used to make qualified investments in qualified businesses located in underserved areas outside such empire zones, provided, however, that in the case of an investment made by a certified capital company in an empire zone located in an underserved area, the certified capital company making such an investment may chose to designate such investment as an investment in an underserved area but not as an investment in an empire zone for the purpose of meeting the requirements of this paragraph. Fifty percent of the total amount of capital invested by a certified capital company at the time of one hundred percent investment of funds shall be invested in qualified businesses that are involved in commerce for the primary purpose of developing and manufacturing products and systems covered by the activities set forth in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law and have a ratio of research and development expenditures to net sales which equals or exceeds six percent during the fiscal year immediately preceding the qualified investment.

(i) Maximum certified capital. The maximum amount of certified capital per certified capital company program invested in one or more certified capital companies allowed in any one year to any one certified investor shall not exceed ten million dollars for certified capital company programs one and three, and eight million dollars for certified capital company programs two, four and five for such year, provided, however, that if the aggregate amount of certified capital for such year, as set forth in subdivision (h) of this section, has not been reached sixty days prior to the end of the year to which such aggregate amount applies, the provisions of this subdivision shall cease to apply for the remainder of such year. In addition, the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed in any taxable year to any affiliated group of taxpayers in relation to certified capital may not exceed such maximum amount, whether or not such taxpayers file a combined return pursuant to subdivision (f) of section fifteen hundred fifteen of this chapter. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "affiliated group" shall have the same meaning as described in section 1504 of the internal revenue code, except that the references to "at least eighty percent" in such section 1504 shall be read as "more than fifty percent".

(k) Rules and regulations. The superintendent, in consultation with the department of taxation and finance, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as he or she shall deem necessary in order to implement the provisions of this section within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of this section.

(l) For the purposes of this section, the term "empire zone" shall also include, in relation to investments made by a certified capital company in which at least fifty percent of the voting stock, capital, and membership interests, as the case may be, are owned by an entity that is managed directly or indirectly, by a non-profit corporation, the liberty zone as defined in section one of part AA of chapter three hundred eighty-three of the laws of two thousand one, the resurgence zone as defined in section one of part A of chapter three hundred eighty-three of the laws of two thousand one and a federal empowerment zone designated pursuant to section 1391 of the internal revenue code.

§ 12. Internet; advertising, vendor status, nexus. (a) For purposes of subdivision (b) of this section, the term "person" shall mean a corporation, joint stock company or association, insurance corporation, or banking corporation, as such terms are defined in section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, or one hundred eighty-six, or in article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter, imposing tax on such entities.

(b) No person shall be subject to the taxes imposed under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-six, or article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter, solely by reason of (1) having its advertising stored on a server or other computer equipment located in this state (other than a server or other computer equipment owned or leased by such person), or (2) having its advertising disseminated or displayed on the Internet by an individual or entity subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-six, or article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter.

(c) A person, as such term is defined in subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, shall not be deemed to be a vendor, for purposes of article twenty-eight of this chapter, solely by reason of (1) having its advertising stored on a server or other computer equipment located in this state (other than a server or other computer equipment owned or leased by such person), or (2) having its advertising disseminated or displayed on the Internet by an individual or entity subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-six, or article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter.

(d)(i) Except as provided in clause (B) of subparagraph (ii) of paragraph eight of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, a person selling telecommunication services or an Internet access service shall not be deemed to be a vendor, for purposes of article twenty-eight or twenty-nine of this chapter, of tangible personal property or services sold by the purchaser of such telecommunication services or Internet access service solely because such purchaser uses such telecommunication services or Internet access service as a means to sell such tangible personal property or services.

(ii) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "person" shall refer to any person within the meaning prescribed in either paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section one hundred eighty-six-e of this chapter or subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, the term "telecommunication services" shall have the meaning prescribed in paragraph (g) of subdivision one of section one hundred eighty-six-e of this chapter, and the term "Internet access service" shall have the meaning prescribed in subdivision (v) of section eleven hundred fifteen of this chapter.

§ 13. (a) Exemption from taxation for victims or targets of Nazi persecution. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, amounts received (including accumulated interest) by victims or targets of Nazi persecution from an eligible settlement fund, or from an eligible grantor trust established for the benefit of such victims or targets as set forth in this section, whether or not includable in income for federal income tax purposes, shall be exempt from all state and local taxes imposed on or measured by income. Provided however, that this exemption shall not apply to amounts received from assets acquired with such assets or with the proceeds from the sale of such assets. For the purposes of this section, "victims or targets of Nazi persecution" means any individual, corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, unincorporated association, community, congregation, group, organization, or other entity persecuted or targeted for persecution by the Nazi Regime because of race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, national origin, or physical or mental disability or handicap, or the heirs, successors, administrators, executors, affiliates, or assignees of such victims or targets, or any other claimant receiving funds from an eligible settlement fund, or from an eligible grantor trust established for the benefit of such victims or targets. An eligible settlement fund is an entity that is treated for federal income tax purposes as a designated or qualified settlement fund, as such term is defined in section 468B of the internal revenue code and the regulations thereunder, which is established for the principal purpose of resolving and satisfying claims arising from or in connection with any act or omission in any way relating to the Holocaust, World War II and its prelude and aftermath, victims or targets of Nazi persecution, transactions with or actions of the Nazi Regime, or treatment of refugees fleeing Nazi persecution by or in the Swiss Confederation. An eligible grantor trust is a grantor trust which is established for the principal purpose of resolving and satisfying such claims.

(b) Exemption from taxation for qualified settlement funds established for the benefit of victims or targets of Nazi persecution by or in the Swiss Confederation. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, an entity that is treated for federal income tax purposes as a designated or qualified settlement fund, as such term is defined in section 468B of the internal revenue code and the regulations thereunder, or a grantor trust, either of which is established for the principal purpose of resolving and satisfying claims arising from or in connection with any act or omission in any way relating to the Holocaust, World War II and its prelude and aftermath, victims or targets of Nazi persecution, transactions with or actions of the Nazi Regime, treatment of refugees fleeing Nazi persecution, by or in the Swiss Confederation, shall be exempt from all taxes imposed on or measured by income, the commercial rent tax imposed by the city of New York and all sales and use taxes whether imposed by the State or any local jurisdiction or municipality.

§ 14. Empire zones program. (a) Qualified empire zone enterprise. A business enterprise which is certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law and meets the employment test shall be a "qualified empire zone enterprise":

(1) except as provided in paragraphs one-a and one-b of this subdivision, for purposes of articles nine-A, twenty-two and thirty-three of this chapter, for each of the taxable years within the "business tax benefit period," which period shall consist of (A) in the case of a business enterprise with a test date occurring on or before December thirty-first, two thousand one, the first fifteen taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand one, (B) in the case of a business enterprise with a test date occurring on or after January first, two thousand two, but prior to April first, two thousand five, the fifteen taxable years next following the business enterprise's test year, and (C) in the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, the ten taxable years starting with the taxable year in which the business enterprise's first date of certification under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law occurs, but only with respect to each of such business tax benefit period years for which the employment test is met,

(1-a) With respect to a business enterprise approved by the commissioner of economic development as the owner of a qualified investment project pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, the business tax benefit period shall mean the ten taxable years starting with the taxable year in which the business enterprise's benefit period commencement date occurs, but only with respect to each of such business tax benefit period years for which the employment test is met, as the term "benefit period commencement date" is defined in this paragraph. The term "benefit period commencement date" shall mean either (i) the date of certification pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law of the business enterprise at the location of the qualified investment project or (ii) the date when property constituting a qualified investment project is first placed in service. The benefit period commencement date shall be determined by an election made by the business enterprise taxable year which includes the date of certification of the business enterprise at the location of the qualified investment project pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law,. In the event no such election is made by the business enterprise, the business tax benefit period shall be deemed to commence in the taxable year in which the business enterprise is certified at the location of the qualified investment project pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law. The business tax benefit period allowed under this paragraph shall be in addition to the business tax benefit period allowed pursuant to paragraph one of this subdivision.

(1-b) With respect to a business enterprise approved by the commissioner of economic development as the owner of a significant capital investment project pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, the business tax benefit period shall be increased to include the ten taxable years starting with the taxable year in which property comprising the significant capital investment project is first placed in service, provided that such property is placed in service during the business enterprise's business tax benefit period under paragraph one-a of this subdivision. The business tax benefit period set forth in paragraph one-a of this subdivision and any additional periods added to such business tax benefit period pursuant to this paragraph shall constitute one continuous business tax benefit period. During such entire business tax benefit period, the business enterprise shall be allowed to claim the tax credits provided pursuant to sections fifteen and sixteen of this article with respect to such qualified investment project and such significant capital investment project, provided the employment test is met and the requirements of such credits are satisfied for each of those taxable years, and provided further that, the benefit period factor as set forth in subdivision (c) of section fifteen of this article shall be 1.0 during such entire business tax benefit period.

(2) for purposes of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter, during the "sales and use tax benefit period." Such period shall consist of one hundred twenty consecutive months beginning on the later of (A) March first, two thousand one, or (B) with regard to business enterprises certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law prior to April first, two thousand nine, the first day of the month next following the date of issuance of a qualified empire zone enterprise certification by the commissioner under subdivision (h) of this section, or (C) with regard to business enterprises certified pursuant to such article eighteen-B on or after April first, two thousand nine, the first day of the month next following the date of certification under article eighteen-B as an empire zone business. Provided however, such period shall not include any month falling within a taxable year immediately preceded by a taxable year with respect to which the business enterprise did not meet the employment test.

(b) Employment test.

(1) General. In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law before April first, two thousand five, the employment test shall be met with respect to a taxable year if the business enterprise's employment number in the empire zones for such taxable year equals or exceeds its employment number in such zones for the base period, and its employment number in the state outside of such zones for such taxable year equals or exceeds its employment number in the state outside of such zones for the base period. For entities first certified between August first, two thousand two and March thirty-first, two thousand five, if the base period is zero years and the enterprise has an employment number in such zone of greater than zero with respect to a taxable year, then the employment test will be met only if the enterprise qualifies as a new business under subdivision (j) of this section. For entities first certified prior to August first, two thousand two, if the entity had a base period of zero years or zero employment in the base period, then the employment test will be met only if the enterprise qualifies as a new business under subdivision (j) of this section.

(2) Change in zone boundaries or newly designated zones. Provided, however, where there has been one or more revisions of the boundaries of an empire zone that resulted in the inclusion of the business enterprise within such zone, the employment test shall be determined with respect to a taxable year as if the boundaries of the revised zone on the last day of the taxable year existed during the base period and test year and as if the enterprise had been located in the revised zone during its base period and test year. In addition, where an area has been newly designated as an empire zone, the employment test shall be determined with respect to a taxable year as if such newly designated zone existed during the base period and test year and as if the enterprise had been located in the newly designated zone during its base period and test year.

(3) Relocation from a business incubator facility. Where a business enterprise relocates to an empire zone from a business incubator facility operated by a municipality or by a public or private not-for-profit entity which provides space or business support services or both space and business support services to newly established enterprises, the employment test shall be determined with respect to a taxable year as if such business enterprise was located in the empire zone during the base period.

(4) In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, and notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, in the case of a business enterprise which was first certified between August first, two thousand two and March thirty-first, two thousand five that conducts its operations on real property that it owns or leases that is both located within an empire zone and that is subject to a brownfield site cleanup agreement executed prior to January first, two thousand six in accordance with section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law, the employment test shall be met with respect to a taxable year if the business enterprise's employment number in the state and the empire zones for such taxable year exceeds its employment number in the state and the empire zones, respectively, for the base period. If the base period is zero years or the base period employment is zero and the enterprise has an employment number in such zone of greater than zero with respect to a taxable year, then the employment test will be met only if the enterprise qualifies as a new business under subdivision (j) of this section.

(5) For purposes of the sales and use tax benefit period, in the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, and is so certified during its first taxable year, the employment test shall be met with respect to such first taxable year in any month in which its employment number exceeds zero.

(c) Base period. (1) Except as provided in paragraphs two and three of this subdivision, in the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law before April first, two thousand five, the term "base period" means the five taxable years immediately preceding the test year. If the business enterprise has fewer than five such years, then the term "base period" means such smaller set of years.

(2) In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, the term "base period" means the four taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which the business enterprise was first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law. If the business enterprise has fewer than four such years, then the term "base period" means such smaller set of years.

(3) For purposes of the sales and use tax benefit period, in the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, the term "base period" means the three taxable years immediately preceding the business enterprise's test year. For this purpose, the definitions set forth in subdivisions (d) and (e) of this section shall apply. However, the definition of the term "test date" in subdivision (e) shall be read as if the words "prior to July first, two thousand five" were omitted from such definition.

(d) Test year. The term "test year" means the last taxable year of the business enterprise ending before the test date. If a business enterprise does not have a taxable year that ends on or before the test date, such enterprise shall be deemed to have a test year which shall be either the last calendar year ending on or before its test date, or if the enterprise has as its taxable year a fiscal year, the last such fiscal year ending on or before its test date (whether or not the enterprise in fact had a taxable year during that period).

(e) Test date. The term "test date" means the later of July first, two thousand or the date prior to July first, two thousand eleven on which the business enterprise was first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law.

(f) Taxable year. The term "taxable year" means the taxable year of the business enterprise under section one hundred eighty-three or one hundred eighty-four or former section one hundred eighty-six of article nine, or under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter. If a business enterprise does not have a taxable year because it is exempt from taxation or otherwise not required to file a return under any of such sections of article nine or under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three, then the term "taxable year" means (i) the business enterprise's federal taxable year, or, (ii) if the enterprise does not have a federal taxable year, the calendar year.

(g) Employment number. (1) The term "employment number" shall mean the average number of individuals, excluding general executive officers (in the case of a corporation), employed full-time by the enterprise for at least one-half of the taxable year. Such number shall be computed by determining the number of such individuals employed by the taxpayer on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December during the applicable taxable year, adding together the number of such individuals determined to be so employed on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such dates occurring within such applicable taxable year. Such number shall not include individuals employed within the state within the immediately preceding sixty months by a related person to the QEZE, as such term "related person" is defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code. For this purpose, a "related person" shall include an entity which would have qualified as a "related person" to the QEZE if it had not been dissolved, liquidated, merged with another entity or otherwise ceased to exist or operate.

(2) For a business enterprise satisfying the criteria set forth in this paragraph, the term "employment number" with respect to the enterprise's first taxable year shall be computed by taking into consideration only the number of individuals, excluding general executive officers (in the case of a corporation), employed full-time by the enterprise on the last day of such taxable year. Such business enterprise shall satisfy the following criteria: (A) such enterprise acquired real or tangible personal property during its first taxable year from an entity which is not a related person (as such term is defined in paragraph one of this subdivision); (B) the first taxable year of such enterprise shall be a short taxable year of not more than seven months in duration; and (C) the number of individuals employed full-time on the last day of such first taxable year shall be at least one hundred ninety and substantially all of such individuals must have been previously employed by the entity from whom such enterprise purchased its assets.

(h) Sales and use tax. (1) In addition to the other requirements of this section, for business enterprises certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law prior to April first, two thousand nine, in order for an exemption under subdivision (z) of section eleven hundred fifteen of this chapter or the credit or refund described in subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred nineteen of this chapter or any like exemption or credit or refund imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter to apply with respect to a qualified empire zone enterprise, such enterprise shall apply to the commissioner of taxation and finance for the issuance of a qualified empire zone enterprise certification in the manner prescribed by the commissioner. If such commissioner grants such certification, such certification shall be subject to conditions specified by such commissioner. Nothing herein or in any other law shall be construed to prohibit the disclosure, in such manner as the commissioner of taxation and finance deems appropriate, of the names and other appropriate identifying information of those persons holding qualified empire zone certifications pursuant to this subdivision, those persons whose qualified empire zone enterprise certifications have been revoked or persons whose qualified empire zone enterprise certifications have expired. The commissioner shall not grant any certifications pursuant to this subdivision after June thirtieth, two thousand ten.

(2) A business enterprise, certified as an empire zone business under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law prior to April first, two thousand nine, and certified as a qualified empire zone enterprise by the commissioner of taxation and finance prior to August first, two thousand nine, is eligible to claim the exemption under subdivision (z) of section eleven hundred fifteen of this chapter or any like exemption from tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter until September first, two thousand nine, provided that the other requirements of the statute are met. A business enterprise certified as an empire zone business under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law prior to April first, two thousand nine, and certified as a qualified empire zone enterprise by the commissioner of taxation and finance as of or prior to June thirtieth, two thousand ten, is eligible to claim the credit or refund under subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred nineteen of this chapter or any like credit or refund imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter, provided that the other requirements of the statute are met during the term of its sales and use tax benefit period notwithstanding the expiration of the empire zones program under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law.

(3) During the period that a business enterprise is eligible to apply, or is qualified, for an exemption or a credit or refund of the sales and compensating use taxes under this section, the commissioner of economic development shall, at the time such commissioner certifies or decertifies a business enterprise under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, notify the commissioner of taxation and finance of such certification or decertification, which notification shall include the full legal name, address and federal employer identification number of such enterprise. The commissioner of economic development shall, at the time of any such certification, also advise such enterprise of the requirements in paragraph one of this subdivision.

(i) Cessation of status. A business enterprise shall cease to be a qualified empire zone enterprise:

(1) for purposes of articles nine-A, twenty-two and thirty-three of this chapter, on the first day of the taxable year during which revocation of its certification under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law occurs, and

(2) for purposes of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter, on the day such revocation occurs.

(j) New business. (1) A new business shall include any corporation, except a corporation which is substantially similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity (or entities) taxable, or previously taxable, under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, former section one hundred eighty-five or former section one hundred eighty-six of article nine; article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter; article twenty-three of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under such article twenty-three (as such article was in effect on January first, nineteen hundred eighty), article thirty-two of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under such article thirty-two (as such article was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen) or the income (or losses) of which is (or was) includable under article twenty-two of this chapter.

(2) For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, an individual who is either a sole proprietor or a member of a partnership shall qualify as an owner of a new business unless the business of which the individual is an owner is substantially similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity taxable, or previously taxable, under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, former section one hundred eighty-five or former section one hundred eighty-six of article nine; article nine-A or article thirty-three of this chapter; article twenty-three of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under such article twenty-three (as such article was in effect on January first, nineteen hundred eighty); article thirty-two of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under such article thirty-two as such article was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen or the income (or losses) of which is (or was) includable under article twenty-two.

(3) For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, a shareholder of a New York S corporation shall be treated as the owner of a new business with respect to such share if the corporation qualifies as a new business pursuant to paragraph one of this subdivision.

(4) (A)(i) Notwithstanding paragraphs one and two of this subdivision, a new business shall include any corporation which is identical in operation and ownership to a business entity (or entities) taxable under section one hundred eighty-three or one hundred eighty-four or former section one hundred eighty-five of article nine; article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter or the income (or losses) of which is includable under article twenty-two of this chapter, provided such corporation and such business entity or entities are operating in different counties in the state.

(ii) Notwithstanding paragraphs one and two of this subdivision, an individual who is either a sole proprietor or a member of a partnership shall qualify as an owner of a new business if the business of which the individual is an owner is identical in operation and in ownership to a business entity (or entities) taxable under section one hundred eighty-three or one hundred eighty-four or former section one hundred eighty-five of article nine; article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter or the income (or losses) of which is includable under article twenty-two of this chapter, provided such business and such business entity or entities are operating in different counties in the state.

(iii) Any corporation qualifying as a new business or any individual qualifying as an owner of a new business as a result of the provisions of this subparagraph shall have the same business tax benefit period and sales and use tax benefit period as the business entity to which it is identical in operation and in ownership.

(B) Notwithstanding any provisions of this subdivision to the contrary and notwithstanding subdivision c of section eighteen of part CC of chapter eighty-five of the laws of two thousand two, a corporation or partnership, which was first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law before August first, two thousand two, has a base period of zero years or zero employment for its base period, and is similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity or entities taxable, or previously taxable, under sections specified in paragraph one or two of this subdivision or which would have been subject to tax under article twenty-three of this chapter (as such article was in effect on January first, nineteen hundred eighty) or which would have been subject to tax under article thirty-two of this chapter (as such article was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen) or the income or losses of which is or was includable under article twenty-two of this chapter shall not be deemed a new business if it was not formed for a valid business purpose, as such term is defined in clause (D) of subparagraph one of paragraph (o) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this chapter and was formed solely to gain empire zone benefits.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a business enterprise which is approved by the commissioner of economic development as the owner of a qualified investment project or a significant capital investment project pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, has a base period of zero years and places in service property (or a project that includes such property) which comprises such qualified investment project or such significant capital investment project, shall be deemed to be a new business under this section. Provided, however, to be deemed a new business under this paragraph, such business enterprise shall have received certification under article eighteen-B of the general business law by December thirty-first, two thousand seven.

(k) If the designation of an area as an empire zone is no longer in effect because section nine hundred sixty-nine of the general municipal law was not amended to extend the effective date of such designation so that the designations of all empire zones pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law have expired, a business enterprise that was certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on the day immediately preceding the day on which such designation expired shall be deemed to continue to be certified under such article eighteen-B for purposes of this section, and sections fifteen, sixteen, subdivisions five and six of section two hundred ten-B, subsections (bb) and (cc) of section six hundred six, subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred nineteen and subdivisions (r) and (s) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter. In addition, if the designation of an area as an empire zone is no longer in effect because section nine hundred sixty-nine of the general municipal law was not amended to extend the effective date of such designation so that the designations of all empire zones pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law have expired, all references to empire zones in the provisions of this chapter listed in the previous sentence shall be read as meaning areas designated as empire zones on the day immediately preceding the day on which such designation expired.

(1) Manufacturer. For the purposes of sections fifteen and sixteen of this article, the term "manufacturer" shall mean a taxpayer which during the taxable year is principally engaged in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing, or a business engaged in emerging technologies pursuant to section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law.

(n) Clean energy enterprises. In determining tax benefits under this chapter for clean energy enterprises certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, references in this section and other sections in this chapter relating to qualified empire zone enterprises and empire zone benefits to "an empire zone", "the empire zone" and "the empire zones" shall be read as references to "New York State", and any tests or measurements relating to employment for purpose of empire zone benefits under this chapter shall be calculated with respect to employment within the entire state, and references to "QEZES" shall be read as including references to such clean energy enterprises that meet the employment test in this section. For purposes of the tax reduction credit allowed under section sixteen of this article, for a clean energy enterprise, the zone allocation factor shall be one hundred percent.

 § 14-a. IMB credit for energy taxes. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is an industrial or manufacturing business (IMB), or which is a sole proprietor of an IMB or a member of a partnership which is an IMB, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (d) of this section. Such credit shall be equal to the sum (or pro rata share of the sum, in the case of a member of a partnership) of the taxes imposed under sections one hundred eighty-six-a, one hundred eighty-six-c, one hundred eighty-nine and one hundred eighty-nine-a of this chapter which during the taxable year were either paid by, or passed through to, the IMB, on or after January first, two thousand, but only with regard to gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration, or gas, electric, steam, water or refrigeration services, consumed or used by the IMB in this state.

(b) Definitions. The term "industrial or manufacturing business" shall mean a business which during the taxable year is principally engaged in activities described in clause (A), (B) or (C), or any combination thereof, of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of subdivision twelve of section two hundred ten of this chapter.

(c) Any person who collects from, or passes through to, the IMB, any tax as described in subdivision (a) of this section, shall provide the IMB with the information with respect to such tax passed through which may be required to enable the taxpayer to correctly compute the credit provided for in this section.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article 9-A: Section 210.26-a.

(2) Article 22: Sections 606(i) and (t-1).

* NB Expired for taxable years ending on and after January 1, 2007

§ 15. QEZE credit for real property taxes. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified empire zone enterprise (QEZE), or which is a sole proprietor of a QEZE or a member of a partnership which is a QEZE, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (h) of this section, for eligible real property taxes.

(b) Amount of credit. (1) In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law before April first, two thousand five, the amount of the credit shall be equal to the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of (i) the benefit period factor, (ii) the employment increase factor and (iii) the eligible real property taxes paid or incurred by the QEZE during the taxable year. However the amount of the credit may not exceed the credit limitation set forth in subdivision (f) of this section.

(2) (A) For a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, and notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, in the case of a business enterprise which was first certified between August first, two thousand two and March thirty-first, two thousand five that conducts its operations on real property that it owns or leases that is both located within an empire zone and that is subject to a brownfield site cleanup agreement executed prior to January first, two thousand six in accordance with section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law, the amount of the credit shall be equal to the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of twenty-five percent of the total wages, health benefits and retirement benefits paid to or on behalf of net new employees during the taxable year, provided however, that the total amount of the credit shall not exceed ten thousand dollars for each such employee. For purposes of computing total wages, health benefits and retirement benefits, wages, health benefits and retirement benefits for each employee in excess of forty thousand dollars shall be excluded from such computation. Provided however, the amount of the credit for a QEZE certified in an empire zone designated under subdivision (b) or (c) of section nine hundred fifty-eight of the general municipal law, except a manufacturer certified in an empire zone designated under section nine hundred fifty-eight of the general municipal law, shall be further adjusted by the product of the amount determined above and the development zone employment increase factor under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph. Provided further, in addition, the amount of the credit may not exceed the credit amount set forth in subdivision (f-1) of this section.

(B) Development zone employment increase factor. The development zone employment increase factors are set forth in the following table:

Net New Employees:	DZ Employment Increase Factor:
1 to 10	0.25
11 to 49	0.5
50 to 75	0.75
76 and above	the amount, not to exceed 1.0, of new employees divided by 100

Net new employees. The number of net new employees for a QEZE is equal to the excess of the QEZE's employment number in the empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law for the taxable year, over the QEZE's employment number in such zones for the base period.

(3) For a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand nine, the credit allowed shall be seventy-five percent of the amount calculated under paragraph two of this subdivision.

(c) Benefit period factor. The benefit period factors are set forth in the following table:

Taxable year of the benefit period:	Benefit period factor:
1 - 10	1.0

11	.8
12	.6
13	.4
14	.2
15	0

(d) Employment increase factor. The employment increase factor is the amount, not to exceed 1.0, which is the greater of:

(1) the excess of the QEZE's employment number in the empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law for the taxable year, over the QEZE's test year employment number in such zones, divided by such test year employment number in such zones; or

(2) the excess of the QEZE's employment number in such zones for the taxable year over the QEZE's test year employment number in such zones, divided by 100.

(3) For purposes of paragraph one of this subdivision, where there is an excess as described in such paragraph, and where the test year employment number is zero, then the employment increase factor shall be 1.0.

(e) Eligible real property taxes. The term "eligible real property taxes" means taxes imposed on real property which is owned by the QEZE and located in an empire zone with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, provided such taxes are paid by the QEZE which is the owner of the real property or are paid by a tenant which either (i) does not meet the eligibility requirements under section fourteen of this article to be a QEZE or (ii) cannot treat such payment as eligible real property taxes pursuant to this paragraph and such taxes become a lien on the real property during a taxable year in which the owner of the real property is both certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law and a qualified empire zone enterprise. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "tax" means a charge imposed upon real property by or on behalf of a county, city, town, village or school district for municipal or school district purposes, provided that the charge is levied for the general public welfare by the proper taxing authorities at a like rate against all property in the territory over which such authorities have jurisdiction, and provided that where taxes are levied pursuant to article eighteen or article nineteen of the real property tax law, the property must have been taxed at the rate determined for the class in which it is contained, as provided by such article eighteen or nineteen, whichever is applicable. The term "tax" does not include a charge for local benefits, including any portion of that charge that is properly allocated to the costs attributable to maintenance or interest, when (1) the property subject to the charge is limited to the property that benefits from the charge, or (2) the amount of the charge is determined by the benefit to the property assessed, or (3) the improvement for which the charge is assessed tends to increase the property value. In addition, "eligible real property taxes" shall include taxes paid by a QEZE which is a lessee of real property if the following conditions are satisfied: (1) the taxes must be paid by the lessee pursuant to explicit requirements in a written lease executed or amended on or after June first, two thousand five, (2) such taxes become a lien on the real property during a taxable year in which the lessee of the real property is both certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law and a qualified empire zone enterprise, and (3) the lessee has made direct payment of such taxes to the taxing authority and has received a receipt for such payment of taxes from the taxing authority. In addition, the term "eligible real property taxes" includes payments in lieu of taxes made by the QEZE to the state, a municipal corporation or a public benefit corporation pursuant to a written agreement entered into between the QEZE and the state, municipal corporation, or public benefit corporation. Provided, however, a payment in lieu of taxes made by the QEZE pursuant to a written agreement executed or amended on or after January first, two thousand one, shall not constitute eligible real property taxes in any taxable year to the extent that such payment exceeds the product of (A) the greater of (i) the basis for federal income tax purposes, calculated without regard to depreciation, determined as of the effective date of the QEZE's certification pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law of real property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, owned by the QEZE and located in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to such article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and provided that if such basis is further adjusted or reduced pursuant to any provision of the internal revenue code, the QEZE may petition the department and the department of economic development to disregard such reduction or adjustment for the purpose of this subdivision or (ii) the basis for federal income tax purposes of such real property described in clause (i) of this subparagraph, calculated without regard to depreciation, on the last day of the taxable year, and provided that if such basis is further adjusted or reduced pursuant to any provision of the internal revenue code, the QEZE may petition the department, the department of economic development and the office of real property services to disregard such reduction or adjustment for the purpose of this subdivision; and (B) the estimated effective full value tax rate within the county in which such property is located, as most recently calculated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall annually calculate estimated effective full value tax rates within each county for this purpose based upon the most current information available to him or her in relation to county, city, town, village and school district taxes.

(f) In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after August first, two thousand two and before April first, two thousand five, the credit limitation shall be the greater of the employment increase limitation or the capital investment limitation.

(1) The employment increase limitation shall be the product of (A) ten thousand dollars and (B) the excess of the QEZE's employment number in the empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law for the taxable year, over the QEZE's test year employment number in such zones.

(2) The capital investment limitation shall be the product of (A) ten percent of the greater of (i) the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes, determined on the later of January first, two thousand one or the effective date of the QEZE's certification pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, of real property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, owned by the QEZE and located in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to such article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, or (ii) the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of such real property described in clause (i) of this subparagraph on the last day of the taxable year, and (B) the greater of (i) the percentage of such real property described in clause (i) of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph which is physically occupied and used by the QEZE or by a related person to the QEZE, as the term "related person" is defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code, or (ii) the percentage of such cost or other basis which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such property, rather than the acquisition of such real property, by the QEZE. Provided, however, if the percentage of such cost or other basis, which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such real property equals or exceeds fifty percent, then the percentage described in clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph shall be deemed to be one hundred percent.

(f-1) In the case of a business enterprise which is first certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law on or after April first, two thousand five, the credit shall be the greater of the credit amount as determined pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section, or the capital investment amount determined under this subdivision. Provided however, that in no case shall the amount of the credit exceed the amount of the taxpayer's eligible real property taxes for the taxable year.

(1) For a QEZE certified in an empire zone designated under subdivision (a) or (d) of section nine hundred fifty-eight of the general municipal law and a manufacturer certified in an empire zone designated under section nine hundred fifty-eight of the general municipal law, the capital investment amount shall be the product of (A) ten percent of the greater of (i) the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes, determined on the later of January first, two thousand one or the effective date of the QEZE's certification pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, of real property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, owned by the QEZE and located in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified pursuant to such article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, or (ii) the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of such real property described in clause (i) of this subparagraph on the last day of the taxable year, and (B) the greater of (i) the percentage of such real property described in clause (i) of subparagraph (A) of this paragraph which is physically occupied and used by the QEZE or by a related person to the QEZE, as the term "related person" is defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code, or (ii) the percentage of such cost or other basis which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such property, rather than the acquisition of such real property, by the QEZE. Provided, however, if the percentage of such cost or other basis, which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such real property equals or exceeds fifty percent, then the percentage described in clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph shall be deemed to be one hundred percent.

(2) For a QEZE certified in an empire zone designated under subdivision (b) or (c) of section nine hundred fifty-eight of the general municipal law, which is not a manufacturer, the capital investment amount shall be the product of ten percent and the amount of such cost or other basis which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such property, rather than the acquisition of such real property, and the percentage of such real property described in clause (i) of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of this subdivision which is physically occupied and used by the QEZE or by a related person to the QEZE, as the term "related person" is defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code. Provided, however, if the percentage of such cost or other basis, which is attributable to the construction, expansion or rehabilitation of such real property equals or exceeds fifty percent, then the percentage of physical occupation and use described in the preceding sentence shall be deemed to be one hundred percent.

(g) Credit recapture. Where a QEZE's eligible real property taxes which were the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this section are subsequently reduced as a result of a final order in any proceeding under article seven of the real property tax law or other provision of law, the taxpayer shall add back, in the taxable year in which such final order is issued, the excess of (1) the amount of credit originally allowed for a taxable year over (2) the amount of credit determined based upon the reduced eligible real property taxes. If such final order reduces real property taxes for more than one year, the taxpayer must determine how much of such reduction is attributable to each year covered by such final order and calculate the amount of credit which is required by this subdivision to be recaptured for each year based on such reduction.

(h) Definitions and cross-references. For definitions of terms used in this section see section fourteen of this article. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(2) Article 9-A: Section 210-B: subdivision 5.

(3) Article 22: Section 606: subsections (i) and (bb).

(4) Article 33: Section 1511: subdivision (r).

§ 16. QEZE tax reduction credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified empire zone enterprise (QEZE), or which is a sole proprietor of a QEZE or a member of a partnership which is a QEZE, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (g) of this section, to be computed as hereinafter provided.

(b) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit shall be the product of (i) the benefit period factor, (ii) the employment increase factor, (iii) the zone allocation factor and (iv) the tax factor.

(c) Benefit period factor. The benefit period factor for the taxable year shall be as prescribed in subdivision (c) of section fifteen of this article.

(d) Employment increase factor. The employment increase factor for the taxable year shall be as prescribed in subdivision (d) of section fifteen of this article.

(e) Zone allocation factor. The zone allocation factor shall be the percentage representing the QEZE's economic presence in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law. This percentage shall be computed by:

(1) ascertaining the percentage which the average value of the QEZE's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified under article

eighteen-B of the general municipal law during the period covered by the taxpayer's report or return bears to the average value of the QEZE's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within the state during such period; provided that the term "value of the QEZE's real and tangible personal property" shall have the same meaning as such term has in subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of subdivision three of section two hundred ten of this chapter; and

(2) ascertaining the percentage of the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period of employees, except general executive officers, of the QEZE in empire zones with respect to which the QEZE is certified under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, to the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period, of all the QEZE's employees within the state, except general executive officers; and

(3) adding together the percentages so determined and dividing the result by the number of percentages.

For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, references in this subdivision to property, wages, salaries and other personal service compensation shall be deemed to be references to such items connected with the conduct of a business.

(f) Tax factor. (1) General. The tax factor shall be, in the case of article nine-A of this chapter, the amount of tax determined for the taxable year under paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of such article. The tax factor shall be, in the case of article twenty-two of this chapter, the tax determined for the taxable year under subsections (a) through (d) of section six hundred one of such article. The tax factor shall be, in the case of article thirty-three of this chapter, the larger of the amounts of tax determined for the taxable year under paragraphs one and three of subdivision (a) of section fifteen hundred two of such article.

(2) Sole proprietors, partners and S corporation shareholders. (A) Where the taxpayer is a sole proprietor of a qualified empire zone enterprise, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision which is attributable to the income of the qualified empire zone enterprise. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the taxpayer's income from the qualified empire zone enterprise allocated within the state, entering into New York adjusted gross income, to the taxpayer's New York adjusted gross income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment which reasonably reflects the portion of the taxpayer's tax attributable to the income of the qualified empire zone enterprise. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(B)(i) Where the taxpayer is a member of a partnership which is a qualified empire zone enterprise, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision which is attributable to the income of the partnership. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the partner's income from the partnership allocated within the state to the partner's entire income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment which reasonably reflects the portion of the partner's tax attributable to the income of the partnership. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(ii) For purposes of article nine-A of this chapter, the term "partner's income from the partnership" means partnership items of income, gain, loss and deduction, and New York modifications thereto, entering into business income and the term "partner's entire income" means business income allocated within the state. For purposes of article thirty-three of this chapter, the term "partner's income from the partnership" means partnership items of income, gain, loss and deduction, and New York modifications thereto, entering into entire net income or entire net income plus compensation and the term "partner's entire income" means entire net income, or entire net income plus compensation, allocated within the state. For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, the term "partner's income from the partnership" means partnership items of income, gain, loss and deduction, and New York modifications thereto, entering into New York adjusted gross income, and the term "partner's entire income" means New York adjusted gross income.

(C) Where the taxpayer is a shareholder of a New York S corporation which is a qualified empire zone enterprise, the shareholder's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision which is attributable to the income of the S corporation. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the shareholder's income from the S corporation allocated within the state, entering into New York adjusted gross income, to the shareholder's New York adjusted gross income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment which reasonably reflects the portion of the shareholder's tax attributable to the income of the qualified empire zone enterprise. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(3) Combined returns or reports. (A) Where the taxpayer is a qualified empire zone enterprise and is required or permitted to make a return or report on a combined basis under article nine-A or article thirty-three of this chapter, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision which is attributable to the income of the qualified empire zone enterprise. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the qualified empire zone enterprise's income allocated within the state to the combined group's income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment which reasonably reflects the portion of the combined group's tax attributable to the income of the qualified empire zone enterprise. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(B) The term "income of the qualified empire zone enterprise" means entire net income, minimum taxable income, alternative entire net income or entire net income plus compensation calculated as if the taxpayer was filing separately and the term "combined group's income" means entire net income, minimum taxable income, alternative entire net income or entire net income plus compensation as shown on the combined return or report, allocated within the state.

(4) If the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision is less than zero, a taxpayer shall not be allowed a credit under this section.

(g) Definitions and cross-references. For definitions of terms used in this section see sections fourteen and fifteen of this article. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9-A: Section 210-B: subdivision 6.
- (2) Article 22: Section 606: subsections (i) and (cc).
- (3) Article 33: Section 1511: subdivision (s).

§ 17. Empire zones tax benefits report. (a) The department of taxation and finance must publish an empire zones tax benefits report annually by June thirtieth. The first report must be published by June thirtieth, two thousand eleven.

(b) (1) The empire zones tax benefits report must contain the following information about the empire zone tax credits claimed under articles nine, nine-A, twenty-two and thirty-three of this chapter during the previous calendar year:

- (A) the name of each taxpayer claiming a credit; and
- (B) the amount of each credit earned by each taxpayer.

(2) If the taxpayer claims a empire zone tax credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the name of each limited liability company, partnership or subchapter S corporation earning any of those credits and the amount of credit earned by each entity must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit.

(c) The empire zones tax benefits report must also contain the following information about the sales and use tax refunds and credits claimed under subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred nineteen of this chapter during the previous calendar year:

- (A) the name of each taxpayer claiming a credit or refund; and
- (B) the total amount of credits or refunds allowed to each taxpayer.

(d) The information included in the empire zones tax benefits report will be based on the information filed with the department during the previous calendar year, to the extent that it is practicable to use that information.

§ 18. Low-income housing credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (d) of this section, with respect to the ownership of eligible low-income buildings for which an eligibility statement has been issued by the commissioner of housing and community renewal. The amount of the credit shall be the credit amount for each such building allocated by such commissioner as provided in article two-A of the public housing law. The credit amount shall be allowed for each of the ten taxable years in the credit period, and any reduction in first-year credit as provided in subdivision two of section twenty-two of such law shall be allowed in the eleventh taxable year.

(b) Credit recapture. (1) General. If,

(A) as of the close of any taxable year in the compliance period, the amount of the qualified basis of any building with respect to the taxpayer is less than

(B) the amount of such basis as of the close of the preceding taxable year,

(C) then the credit recapture amount must be added back for the taxable year.

(2) Credit recapture amount. The credit recapture amount is an amount equal to the sum of

(A) the aggregate decrease in the credits allowed to the taxpayer under this section for all prior taxable years which would have resulted if the accelerated portion of the credit allowable by reason of this section were not allowed for all prior taxable years with respect to the excess of the amount described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of this subdivision over the amount described in subparagraph (A) of such paragraph, plus

(B) interest at the overpayment rate established under section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter on the amount determined under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph for each prior taxable year for the period beginning on the due date for filing the report for the prior taxable year involved.

(3) Accelerated portion of credit. For purposes of paragraph two of this subdivision, the accelerated portion of the credit for the prior taxable years with respect to any amount of basis is the excess of

(A) the aggregate credit allowed by reason of this section (without regard to this subdivision) for such years with respect to such basis, over

(B) the aggregate credit which would be allowable by reason of this section for such years with respect to such basis if the aggregate credit which would (but for this subdivision) have been allowed for the entire compliance period were allowable ratably over fifteen years.

(4) Special rules. For purposes of this subdivision, the rules of section 42 (j)(4)(B) and (C) of the internal revenue code shall apply in determining the credit recapture amount.

(5) Exceptions to recapture. Recapture under this subdivision shall not apply to a reduction in qualified basis

(A) by reason of a casualty loss, if the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of housing and community renewal, determines that such loss is restored by reconstruction or replacement within a reasonable period, or

(B) by reason of a change in floor space devoted to low-income units in a building, if such building remains an eligible low-income building after such change, and if the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of housing and community renewal, determines that such change is de minimis, or

(C) by reason of error in complying with low-income eligibility tests referred to in subdivision five of section twenty-one of the public housing law, if the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of housing and community renewal, determines that such error is de minimis.

(6) Recapture by partners of a partnership. In the case of ownership of a building or interest therein by a partnership which has thirty-five or more partners, the provisions of section 42(j)(5) of the internal revenue code shall apply to any recapture under this subdivision unless the partnership elects not to have such provisions apply.

(6-a) The taxpayer that originally received the credit shall remain solely liable for all obligations and liabilities imposed on the taxpayer with respect to the credit, none of which shall apply to a party to whom the credit has been subsequently transferred.

(7) (A) The credit recapture required under this subdivision will not apply solely by reason of the disposition of a building or an interest therein if it is reasonably expected that such building will continue to be operated as an eligible low-income building for the remaining compliance period with respect to such building.

(B) Statute of limitations. If a building (or an interest therein) is disposed of during any taxable year and there is any reduction in the qualified basis of such building which results in an increase in tax under this section for such taxable or any subsequent taxable year, then

(i) the statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency with respect to such increase in tax will not expire before the expiration of three years from the date the commissioner of housing and community renewal is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the commissioner of housing and community renewal may prescribe) of such reduction in qualified basis, and

(ii) such deficiency may be assessed before the expiration of such three-year period notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

(c) Construction with public housing law; definitions. The provisions of this section shall be construed in conjunction with the provisions of article two-A of the public housing law. For definitions relating to the low-income housing credit, see section twenty-one of such law.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9-A: Section 210-B: subdivision 15,
- (2) Article 22: Section 606: subsections (i) and (x),
- (3) Article 33: Section 1511: subdivision (n).

§ 19. Green building credit. (a) Allowance of credit. (1) General. (A) Green building credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a green building credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. Provided, however, no credit shall be allowed under this section unless the taxpayer has complied with the applicable requirements of paragraph two of subdivision (d) of this section (relating to reports to DEC). The amount of the credit shall be the sum of the credit components specified in paragraphs two through seven of this subdivision. Provided, however, the amount of each such credit component shall not exceed the limit set forth in the initial credit component certificate obtained pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. In the determination of such credit components, no cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer shall be the basis for more than one such component.

(B) Credit to successor owner. If a credit is allowed to a building owner pursuant to this subdivision with respect to property, and such property (or an interest therein) is sold, the credit for the period after the sale which would have been allowable under this subdivision to the prior owner had the property not been sold shall be allowable to the new owner. Credit for the year of sale shall be allocated between the parties on the basis of the number of days during such year that the property or interest was held by each.

(C) Credit to successor tenant. If a credit is allowed to a tenant pursuant to this subdivision with respect to property, and if such tenancy is terminated but such property remains in use in the building by a successor tenant, the credit for the period after such termination which would have been allowable under this subdivision to the prior tenant had the tenancy not been terminated shall be allowable to the successor tenant. Credit for the year of termination shall be allocated between the parties on the basis of the number of days during such year that the property was used by each.

(D) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in the case of allowance of credit under this section to a successor owner or tenant, as provided in subparagraph (B) or (C) of this paragraph, the commissioner shall have the authority to reveal to the successor owner or tenant any information, with respect to the credit of the prior owner or tenant, which is the basis for the denial in whole or in part of the credit claimed by such successor owner or tenant.

(2) Green whole-building credit component. The green whole-building credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of the allowable costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer (whether owner or tenant), for either the construction of a green building or the rehabilitation of a building which is not a green building to be a green building. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The applicable percentage shall be 1.4 percent, except that if the building is located in an economic development area, the applicable percentage shall be 1.6 percent. The credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if

(A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed both an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, (B) a certificate of occupancy for the building has been issued and (C) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the green building or rehabilitation remains in service during such year. Such credit component amount shall be allowed also for each of the next four succeeding taxable years with respect to which the taxpayer has obtained and filed an eligibility certificate pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. Provided, further, the allowable costs may not exceed, in the aggregate, one hundred fifty dollars per square foot with respect to the portion of the building which comprises the base building and seventy-five dollars per square foot with respect to the portion of the building which comprises the tenant space.

(3) Green base building credit component. The green base building credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of the allowable costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer, if the owner, for either the construction of a green base building or for the rehabilitation of a base building which is not a green base building to be a green base building. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The applicable percentage shall be one percent, except that if the building is located in an economic development area, the applicable percentage shall be 1.2 percent. The credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if (A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed both an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, (B) a certificate of occupancy for the building has been issued and (C) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the green base building or rehabilitation of a base building remains in service during such year. Such credit component amount shall be allowed also for each of the next four succeeding taxable years with respect to which the taxpayer has obtained and filed an eligibility certificate pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. Provided, further, the allowable costs for the base building may not exceed, in the aggregate, one hundred fifty dollars per square foot.

(4) Green tenant space credit component. The green tenant space credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of allowable costs for tenant improvements paid or incurred by the taxpayer (whether owner or tenant) in constructing (including completing) tenant space, or rehabilitating tenant space which is not green tenant space to be green tenant space. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The applicable percentage shall be one percent, except that if the building is located in an economic development area the applicable percentage shall be 1.2 percent. Provided, however, that the owner, or a tenant who occupies fewer than ten thousand square feet, shall qualify for such green tenant space credit component only in the event that the base building is a green base building. The credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if (A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section and (B) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the construction, completion or rehabilitation remains in service during such year. Such credit component amount shall be allowed also for each of the next four succeeding taxable years with respect to which the taxpayer has obtained and filed an eligibility certificate pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section. Provided, however, the allowable costs for tenant space shall not exceed, in the aggregate, seventy-five dollars per square foot. In the event that both an owner and tenant incur such costs for tenant space with respect to the same tenant space and such costs in the aggregate exceed seventy-five dollars per square foot, the owner shall have priority as to costs constituting the basis for the green tenant space credit component.

(5) Fuel cell credit component. A fuel cell credit component shall be allowed for the installation of a fuel cell which is a qualifying alternate energy source, installed to serve a green building, green base building or green tenant space. The amount of the credit component shall be six percent of the sum of the capitalized costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer with respect to each fuel cell installed to serve such building or space, including the cost of the foundation or platform and the labor cost associated with installation, such capitalized costs not to exceed one thousand dollars per kilowatt of installed DC rated capacity. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The fuel cell credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if (A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section and (B) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the fuel cell remains in service during such year. Such credit component amount shall be allowed also with respect to each of the four taxable years next following during which the fuel cell remains in service. Provided, however, that the amount of any federal, state or local grant received by the taxpayer and used for the purchase and/or installation of such fuel cell and which was not included in the federal gross income of the taxpayer shall be subtracted from the amount of such cost.

(6) Photovoltaic module credit component. A photovoltaic module credit component shall be allowed for the installation of photovoltaic modules which constitute a qualifying alternate energy source installed to serve a green building, green base building or green tenant space. The amount of the credit component shall be twenty percent of the incremental cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for building-integrated photovoltaic modules and five percent of the cost of non-building-integrated photovoltaic modules, in either case such cost not to exceed the product of (i) three dollars and (ii) the number of watts included in the DC rated capacity of the photovoltaic modules. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if (A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section and (B) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the modules remain in service during such year. Such credit amount shall be allowed also for the four taxable years next following during which the modules remain in service.

Provided, however, that the amount of any federal, state or local grant received by the taxpayer and used for the purchase and/or installation of such photovoltaic equipment and which was not included in the federal gross income of the taxpayer shall be subtracted from the amount of such cost.

(7) Green refrigerant component. A green refrigerant component shall be allowed for new air conditioning equipment (including chillers and absorption chillers, water or air cooled unitary equipment, water-cooled heat pumps, packaged terminal heat pumps, air conditioners, and other similar air conditioning equipment) that uses an EPA-approved non-ozone depleting refrigerant installed to serve a green building, green base building or green tenant space. The amount of the credit component shall be two percent of the cost of such air conditioning equipment. The commissioner of environmental conservation, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall promulgate regulations concerning the eligibility of other EPA-approved refrigerants to receive a credit pursuant to this paragraph. Provided, however, the credit component shall not exceed the maximum amount specified in the initial credit component certificate. The green refrigerant component amount so determined shall be allowed for the credit allowance year, but only if (A) the taxpayer has obtained and filed an initial credit component certificate and an eligibility certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section, and (B) where the credit allowance year is a year described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph two-a of subdivision (b) of this section, the air conditioning equipment remains in service. Such credit component amount shall be allowed also with respect to each of the four taxable years next following during which the air conditioning equipment remains in service.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Allowable costs" means amounts properly chargeable to capital account (other than for land), which are paid or incurred on or after June first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, for: construction or rehabilitation; commissioning costs; interest paid or incurred during the construction or rehabilitation period; legal, architectural, engineering and other professional fees allocable to construction or rehabilitation; closing costs for construction, rehabilitation or mortgage loans; recording taxes and filing fees incurred with respect to construction or rehabilitation; site costs (such as temporary electric wiring, scaffolding, demolition costs, and fencing and security facilities); and costs of furniture, carpeting, partitions, walls and wall coverings, ceilings, drapes, blinds, lighting, plumbing, electrical wiring and ventilation; provided that such costs shall not include the cost of telephone systems and computers (other than electrical wiring costs) and shall not include the cost of fuel cells or photovoltaic modules (including installation) or the cost of new air conditioning equipment using an EPA-approved non-ozone depleting refrigerant or other EPA-approved refrigerant approved by the commissioner of environmental conservation (excluding installation).

(2) "Base building" means all areas of a building not intended for occupancy by a tenant or owner, including but not limited to the structural components of the building, exterior walls, floors, windows, roofs, foundations, chimneys and stacks, parking areas, mechanical rooms and mechanical systems, and owner-controlled and/or operated service spaces, sidewalks, main lobby, shafts and vertical transportation mechanisms, stairways and corridors.

(2-a) "Credit allowance year" means the later of (A) the taxable year during which the property, construction, completion or rehabilitation referred to in paragraphs two through seven of subdivision (a) of this section has been placed in service or has received a final certificate of occupancy or (B) the first taxable year with respect to which the credit may be claimed pursuant to the initial credit component certificate issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of this section.

(3) "Commissioning" means the testing and fine-tuning of heat, ventilating and air conditioning and other systems to assure proper functioning and adherence to design criteria and the preparation of system operation manuals and instruction of maintenance personnel.

(4) "DEC" means the New York state department of environmental conservation. "DOH" means the New York state department of health. "EPA" means the United States environmental protection agency.

(5) "Economic development area" means an area which is designated (A) an empire zone pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law or (B) an empowerment zone or enterprise community pursuant to section 1391 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(6) "Eligible building" means a building located in this state which is:

(A) classified B2, B3, B4, C1, C2, C5, or C6 for purposes of the New York state uniform fire prevention and building code or similarly classified under any subsequent code; provided that any such building contains at least twenty thousand square feet of interior space, or

(B) a residential multi-family building with at least twelve dwelling units that contain at least twenty thousand square feet of interior space, or

(C) one or more residential multi-family buildings with at least two dwelling units that are part of a single or phased construction project that contains, in the aggregate, at least twenty thousand square feet of interior space; provided that in any single phase of such project at least ten thousand square feet of interior space is under construction or rehabilitation, or

(D) any combination of buildings described in subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of this paragraph, and

(E) is not a building located on freshwater wetlands or tidal wetlands the construction of which requires a permit under section 24-0701 or 25-0403, respectively, of the environmental conservation law, or on wetlands such that the construction thereof requires a permit pursuant to section 404 of the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. § 1344).

(7) "Energy code" means the New York state energy conservation construction code.

(8) "Fuel cell" means a device that produces electricity directly from hydrogen or hydrocarbon fuel through a non-combustive electro-chemical process.

(9) "Green base building" means a base building which is part of an eligible building and which meets the following standards:

(A) Energy and energy efficiency. (i) Energy use is no more than sixty-five percent (in the case of new construction of a base building) or seventy-five percent (in the case of rehabilitation of a base building) of the use permitted under the energy code or, in the event such standard is revised or superseded, energy use shall meet such other energy efficiency standards that DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall establish in regulations promulgated pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (e) of this section, in effect at the time the base building or rehabilitation thereof is placed in service.

(ii) All appliances and any heating, cooling and water heating equipment used in the base building and subject to the regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (e) of this section, shall meet the standards established by such regulations in effect at the time the base building or rehabilitation thereof is placed in service.

(B) Zoning, indoor air quality, building materials, finishes and furnishings. (i) The base building shall comply with all applicable zoning, land use and erosion control requirements, stormwater management ordinances, building code requirements and environmental regulations. In the case of the rehabilitation of an existing building, all existing environmental hazards shall be identified and managed in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and industry guidelines.

(ii) Buildings classified B2, B3, B4, C1, C2, C5, or C6, for purposes of the New York state uniform fire prevention and building code, or similarly classified under any subsequent code, shall meet the following indoor air quality requirements:

(I) ventilation and exchange of indoor/outdoor air shall meet the standards established by regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section;

(II) if smoking is permitted in specific areas of the building, separate air ventilation and circulation shall be provided for smoking and non-smoking areas;

(III) the ventilation system shall include an air purging system that is capable of replacing one hundred percent of the air on any floor, on a minimum of two floors at a time. The air shall be purged for a period of one week on every floor immediately prior to initial occupancy and on any floor that undergoes renovation immediately prior to re-occupancy; provided that, if a taxpayer obtains certification from a licensed architect, engineer, certified industrial hygienist, or other licensed or certified professional whom the commissioner of environmental conservation shall approve, pursuant to regulations, verifying that off-gassing and any other contamination can be reduced to comparable levels in less than one week, the period of purging may be shortened. The taxpayer shall maintain a copy of such certification in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of this section.

(C) Building fresh air intake shall be located a minimum of twenty-five feet away from loading areas, building exhaust fans, cooling towers and other point sources of contamination.

(D) During construction or rehabilitation, the ventilation system components and pathways shall be protected from contamination in accordance with an indoor air quality management plan for the construction or rehabilitation process that meets the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section. In the event that such areas are not protected from contamination in accordance with such standards, they shall be cleaned prior to occupancy.

(E) A licensed engineer, certified industrial hygienist, or other licensed or certified professional whom the commissioner of environmental conservation shall approve, pursuant to regulations, shall conduct indoor air quality testing with respect to the entire building immediately following occupancy, if any, and on an annual basis, to monitor supply and return air and ambient air for carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, total volatile organic compounds, radon, and particulate matter. Provided, however, once radon measurements have been found to be satisfactory, subsequent annual testing is not required. The taxpayer shall record baseline readings immediately following occupancy, if any, and annually thereafter. In the event that the taxpayer does not establish that during a taxable year during which any part of the building is occupied, indoor air quality met the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section, the base building shall not constitute a green base building.

(F) The mechanical plant of the building shall be commissioned in accordance with the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph one of subdivision (e) of this section, which standards shall be informed by documents such as ASHRAE G-1 and the United States general services administration "Model Commissioning Plan and Guide Specifications". For purposes of this subparagraph the term "ASHRAE" means the American society of heating, refrigerating and air conditioning engineers.

(G) Separate waste disposal chutes or a carousel compactor system for recyclable materials shall be provided for the recycling of waste by occupants, or recycling shall be otherwise facilitated by, at a minimum, providing a readily accessible designated collection area or areas with sufficient space to store recyclable materials separately between collection dates.

(H) All plumbing fixtures in the public areas of the building shall meet the plumbing fixture requirements of the energy policy act of 1992 or any successor provision in effect at the time the building or rehabilitation is placed in service.

(I) Prior to initial occupancy and upon request, the owner of the building shall provide each tenant with (1) written notification of the opportunity to apply for a tax credit pursuant to this section and (2) written guidelines regarding opportunities to improve the energy efficiency and air quality of tenant space and to reduce and recycle waste streams.

(J) All building materials, finishes and furnishings used in the base building and subject to the regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph three of subdivision (e) of this section, shall meet the standards established by such regulations in effect at the time the building or rehabilitation is placed in service; provided further that with respect to furnishings, this requirement shall apply only to newly purchased items.

(K) All tenant space in the building occupied by the owner must be green tenant space.

(10) "Green building" means a building wherein the base building is a green base building and all tenant space is green tenant space.

(11) "Green tenant space" means tenant space in a building if such building is an eligible building and if such tenant space complies with the following requirements:

(A) Energy and energy efficiency. (i) Energy use for tenant space is no more than sixty-five percent (in the case of new construction) or seventy-five percent (in the case of rehabilitation) of the use permitted under the energy code or, in the event such standard is revised or superseded, energy use shall meet such other energy efficiency standards that DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall establish in regulations promulgated pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (e) of this section, in effect at the time the improvements with respect to which a tax credit is claimed are placed in service.

(ii) All appliances and any heating, cooling and water heating equipment used in the tenant space and subject to the regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (e) of this section shall meet the standards established by such regulations or, in the event that such standards are revised, the standards in effect at the time the improvements with respect to which a tax credit is claimed are placed in service.

(B) Code requirements, indoor air quality, building materials, finishes and furnishings. (i) The tenant space shall comply with all applicable building code requirements and environmental regulations and, with respect to projects other than new construction, all existing environmental hazards shall be identified and managed in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and industry guidelines.

(ii) In the case of buildings classified B2, B3, B4, C1, C2, C5, or C6, for purposes of the New York state uniform fire prevention and building code, or similarly classified under any subsequent code, ventilation and exchange of indoor/outdoor air shall meet the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section.

(iii) For buildings in which smoking is permitted, the taxpayer shall ensure that, if smoking is permitted in the tenant space, it is permitted only in areas in which the air ventilation and circulation is separate from that for non-smoking areas.

(iv) During construction or rehabilitation, the ventilation system components and pathways shall be protected from contamination in accordance with an indoor air quality management plan for the construction or rehabilitation process that meets the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section. In the event that such areas are not protected from contamination in accordance with such standards, they shall be cleaned prior to occupancy.

(v) A licensed engineer, certified industrial hygienist, or other licensed or certified professional whom the commissioner of environmental conservation shall approve, pursuant to regulations, shall conduct indoor air quality testing with respect to the tenant space immediately following occupancy, if any, and on an annual basis, to monitor supply and return air and ambient air for carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, total volatile organic compounds, radon, and particulate matter. Provided, however, once radon measurements have been found to be satisfactory, subsequent annual testing is not required. The taxpayer shall record baseline readings immediately following occupancy, if any, and annually thereafter. In the event that the taxpayer does not establish that during a taxable year during which the tenant space is occupied, indoor air quality met the standards established in regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, pursuant to paragraph two of subdivision (e) of this section, the tenant space shall not constitute green tenant space.

(vi) All plumbing fixtures in the tenant space shall meet the plumbing fixture requirements of the energy policy act of 1992 or successor provision in effect at the time the improvements with respect to which a tax credit is claimed are placed in service.

(vii) All building materials, finishes and furnishings selected for use in the tenant space and subject to the regulations promulgated by DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, pursuant to subparagraph (A) of paragraph three of subdivision (e) of this section, shall meet the standards established by such regulations or, in the event that such standards are revised, the standards in effect at the time the improvements with respect to which a tax credit is claimed are placed in service, provided that, with respect to furnishings, this requirement shall apply only to newly purchased items.

(12) "Incremental cost of building-integrated photovoltaic modules" means:

(A) the cost of building-integrated photovoltaic modules and any associated inverter, additional wiring or other electrical equipment or additional mounting or structural materials, less the cost of spandrel glass or other building material that would have been used in the event that building-integrated photovoltaic modules were not installed,

(B) incremental labor costs properly allocable to on-site preparation, assembly and original installation of photovoltaic modules, and

(C) incremental architectural and engineering services and designs and plans directly related to the construction or installation of photovoltaic modules.

(13) "NYSERDA" means the New York state energy research and development authority.

(14) "Qualifying alternate energy sources" means building-integrated and non-building-integrated photovoltaic modules and fuel cells installed to serve the base building or tenant space which have the capability to monitor their AC output, and which are validated upon installation, and annually thereafter, to ensure that such systems meet their design specifications.

(15) "Tenant improvements" means improvements which are necessary or appropriate to support or conduct the business of a tenant or occupying owner.

(16) "Tenant space" means the portion of a building intended for occupancy by a tenant or occupying owner.

(c) Certifications. (1) Initial credit component certificate. Upon application by a taxpayer, DEC shall issue an initial credit component certificate where the taxpayer has made a showing that the taxpayer is likely within a reasonable time to place in service property which would warrant the allowance of a credit under this section. Such certificate shall state the first taxable year for which the credit may be claimed and an expiration date, and shall apply only to property placed in service by such expiration date. Such expiration date may be extended at the discretion of DEC, in order to avoid unwarranted hardship. Such certificates shall state the maximum amount of credit component allowable for each of the five taxable years for which the credit component is allowed, under paragraphs two through seven of subdivision (a) of this section.

(a) Period one. Initial credit component certificates for period one may be issued in years 2000-2004. Such certificates for period one shall not be issued, in the aggregate, for more than twenty-five million dollars worth of credit components. In addition, such certificates for period one shall be limited in their applicability, as follows:

Credit components in the aggregate	With respect to taxable shall not be allowed for more than:	years beginning in:

$ 1 million	2001
$ 2 million	2002
$ 3 million	2003
$ 4 million	2004
$ 5 million	2005
$ 4 million	2006
$ 3 million	2007
$ 2 million	2008
$ 1 million	2009

Provided, however, that if as of the end of a calendar year, certificates for credit component amounts totalling less than the amount permitted with respect to taxable years commencing in such calendar year have been issued, then the amount permitted with respect to taxable years commencing in the subsequent calendar year shall be augmented by the amount of such shortfall.

(b) Period two. Initial credit component certificates for period two may be issued in years 2005-2009. Such certificates for period two shall not be issued, in the aggregate, for more than twenty-five million dollars worth of credit components. The total amount of credit component allowable for the five taxable years for which the credit components are allowed, as set forth on any one initial credit component certificate, shall be limited to two million dollars. However, a taxpayer that is the owner or tenant of more than one building that qualifies for the credits provided for under this section may be issued initial credit component certificates with respect to each such building with the aggregate amount of credit components permitted for each such certificate being two million dollars. Provided further, a taxpayer that is the owner or tenant of a building for which an initial credit component certificate was issued for period one, shall not be issued an initial credit component certificate with respect to such building for period two. In addition, such certificates for period two shall be limited in their applicability, as follows:

Credit components in the aggregate shall not be allowed for more than:	With respect to taxable years beginning in:
$ 1 million	2006
$ 2 million	2007
$ 3 million	2008

$ 4 million	2009
$ 5 million	2010
$ 4 million	2011
$ 3 million	2012
$ 2 million	2013
$ 1 million	2014

Provided, however, that if as of the end of a calendar year, certificates for credit component amounts totaling less than the amount permitted with respect to taxable years commencing in such calendar year have been issued, then the amount permitted with respect to taxable years commencing in the subsequent calendar year shall be augmented by the amount of such shortfall. Provided, further, that if at the end of calendar year two thousand nine, certificates for credit component amounts issued by the DEC have totaled less than twenty-five million dollars for calendar years 2005-2009, then the period to issue initial credit component certificates shall be extended to the end of calendar year two thousand ten and the DEC shall be permitted to issue in two thousand ten initial credit component certificates for amounts that equal the difference between the amounts issued for calendar years 2005-2009 and twenty-five million dollars.

(c) For purposes of either period one or two, if a taxpayer who is issued an initial credit component certificate is unable to claim as a credit any amount of credit component (i) such amount of unclaimed credit component may be allocated to another taxpayer that has already been issued an initial credit component certificate with such certificate being reissued to reflect the amount so allocated, provided that such other taxpayer applied for and would have qualified for such additional amount, and with respect to period two the initial credit component certificate of such other taxpayer as augmented does not exceed the two million dollar limit, or as an alternative (ii) the DEC may issue to other applicants new initial credit component certificates which include such amounts of unclaimed credit components. If a taxpayer is unable to claim all or a portion of the amount of credit components after the close of the last calendar year for which initial credit component certificates may be issued, the DEC shall have twelve months to accept applications for and issue initial credit component certificates for such amount of unclaimed credit components.

(2) Eligibility certificate. For each taxable year for which a taxpayer claims a credit under this section with respect to a green building, green base building or green tenant space, a fuel cell, or photovoltaic modules, or air conditioning equipment using an EPA-approved non-ozone depleting refrigerant or other EPA-approved refrigerant approved by the commissioner of environmental conservation, the taxpayer shall obtain from an architect or professional engineer licensed to practice in this state an eligibility certificate. Such certificate shall consist of a certification, under the seal of such architect or engineer, that the building, base building or tenant space with respect to which the credit is claimed is a green building, green base building or green tenant space, respectively, that the fuel cell or photovoltaic modules constitute qualifying alternate energy sources and that the air conditioning equipment uses an EPA-approved non-ozone depleting refrigerant or other EPA-approved refrigerant approved by the commissioner of environmental conservation and remains in service. Such certification shall be made in accordance with the standards and guidelines in effect at the time the property which is the basis for the credit was placed in service. Such certification shall set forth the specific findings upon which the certification was based. The taxpayer shall file such certificate, and the associated initial credit component certificate, with the claim for credit and shall file duplicate copies with DEC. Such certificate shall include sufficient information to identify each building or space, and such other information as DEC and the commissioner shall prescribe.

(3) Wrongful certification. If DEC has reason to believe that an architect or professional engineer, in making any certification under this subdivision, engaged in professional misconduct, then DEC shall so inform the education department.

(d) Other requirements; miscellaneous. (1) Record keeping. Each taxpayer shall, for any taxable year for which the green building credit provided for under this section is claimed, maintain records of the following information:

(A) annual energy consumption for building, base building or tenant space;

(B) annual results of air monitoring;

(C) annual confirmation that the building, base building or tenant space continues to meet requirements regarding smoking areas, if provided;

(D) tenant guidelines referred to in subparagraph (I) of paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section, if applicable;

(E) all written notification of tenants and requests to remedy any indoor air quality problems;

(F) initial and annual (by month) results of validation of performance of photovoltaic modules and fuel cells; and

(G) certifications as to off-gassing and other contamination, as prescribed in subclause (III) of clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section, where applicable.

(2) Reporting to DEC. Each taxpayer shall also provide to DEC the information described in paragraph one of this subdivision, in the form and at the time prescribed by DEC, such time to be determined in consultation with the commissioner. Such information shall be provided to DEC with respect to each taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer claims a credit under this section.

(3) Regulations. The commissioner, the commissioner of environmental conservation and the commissioner of education are hereby authorized to promulgate and adopt regulations necessary to the implementation of this section. Such regulations shall construe the provisions of this section in such a manner as to encourage the development of green buildings, green base buildings and green tenant space and to maintain high but commercially reasonable standards for obtaining tax credits hereunder. Such regulations shall establish a reasonable time or period of time for submission of applications, and shall establish a method for allocating initial credit component certificates among eligible applicants. Regulations, standards or requirements adopted pursuant to this section shall apply only to a "green base building" as defined in paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section, a "green building" as defined in paragraph ten of subdivision (b) or "green tenant space" as defined in paragraph eleven of subdivision (b) of this section.

(4) Report. For period one, on or before April first, two thousand eleven, the commissioner and the commissioner of DEC, jointly and in consultation with NYSERDA, shall submit a written report regarding the number of certifications and taxpayers claiming the credit provided for under this section; the amount of the credits claimed, the geographical distribution of the credits claimed; and any other such available information DEC may deem meaningful and appropriate. A preliminary version of such report for period one shall be so issued by April first, two thousand five. For period two, on or before April first, two thousand sixteen the commissioner and the commissioner of DEC, jointly and in consultation with NYSERDA, shall submit a written report regarding the number of certificates and taxpayers claiming the credit provided for under this section; the amount of the credits claimed, the geographical distribution of the credits claimed; and any other such available information DEC may deem meaningful and appropriate. A preliminary version of such report for period two shall be issued by April first, two thousand ten. The commissioner and the commissioner of DEC shall ensure that the information is presented and/or classified in a manner consistent with the secrecy requirements of this chapter. DEC shall also make recommendations regarding the establishment of a permanent green building tax credit program. Recommendations may include methods to enhance the effectiveness, simplicity or other aspects of the program. The report shall be submitted to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee.

(e) Standards and regulations. (1) Energy standards: base buildings. Within six months of the effective date of this section, DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall promulgate the following, with respect to base buildings:

(A) regulations establishing standards for energy use for eligible buildings. DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA shall review and update such regulations if deemed necessary at least every two years from the date on which such regulations are promulgated.

(B) regulations establishing standards for appliances and heating, cooling and water heating equipment that, on the effective date of this section, are covered by specifications from organizations such as the United States department of energy or environmental protection agency. The development of such regulations shall be informed by such specifications. DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA shall review and update such regulations if deemed necessary at least every two years from the date on which such regulations are promulgated.

(C) regulations indicating the methodology by which a taxpayer shall demonstrate compliance with subparagraph (A) of paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section. Such regulations shall include, at a minimum, a requirement to conduct hourly computer modeling for one full year.

(D) regulations establishing standards for the commissioning of buildings.

(2) Indoor air standards: base buildings. Within six months of the effective date of this section, DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, shall promulgate regulations establishing standards, with respect to base buildings, for (A) ventilation and exchange of indoor/outdoor air, (B) indoor air quality management plans for the construction or rehabilitation process, and (C) indoor air quality with respect to levels of carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide and total volatile organic compounds, radon and particulate matter.

(3) Standards for materials, water conservation, drainage: base buildings. Within one year of the effective date of this section, DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall promulgate the following, with regard to base buildings:

(A) regulations establishing standards for building materials, finishes and furnishings regarding minimum percentages of recycled content and renewable source material and maximum levels of toxicity and volatile organic compounds and any other standards that the DEC deems appropriate. Standards shall be developed for building materials, finishes and furnishings, including but not limited to concrete and concrete masonry units; wood and wood products; millwork substrates; insulation; ceramic, ceramic/glass and cementitious tiles; ceiling tiles and panels; flooring and carpet; paints, coatings, sealants and adhesives; and furniture. The development of such standards shall be informed by the LEED rating system. The DEC shall review and update such regulations if deemed necessary at least every two years from the date on which such regulations are promulgated. For purposes of this clause, "LEED rating system" means the leadership in energy and environmental design green building rating system criteria being developed by the United States green building council.

(B) regulations establishing standards for buildings located in areas where water use is not metered, which regulations shall require, at a minimum, that the building include one of the following features:

(i) a gray water system that recovers non-sewage waste water or uses roof or ground storm water collection systems, or recovers ground water from sump pumps;

(ii) for buildings with a cooling tower system, such system shall be designed with delimiters to reduce drift and evaporation; or

(iii) for buildings with exterior plants, all such plants shall be tolerant of climate, soils and natural water availability and shall not receive watering from municipal potable water after a period of establishment is complete.

(C) regulations establishing standards for buildings located in areas that do not have sewers or that have designated storm sewers, which regulations shall require, at a minimum, that the building shall include one of the following features:

(i) an oil grit separator or water quality pond for pretreatment of runoff from any surface parking areas; or

(ii) at least fifty percent of nonlandscaped areas (including roadways, surface parking, plazas and pathways), if any, shall be comprised of pervious paving materials.

(D) regulations indicating the methodology by which taxpayers shall demonstrate compliance with subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph nine of subdivision (b) of this section.

(4) Energy standards: tenant space. Within six months of the effective date of this section, DEC, in consultation with NYSERDA, shall promulgate regulations, with respect to tenant space, indicating the methodology by which taxpayers shall demonstrate compliance with subparagraph (A) of paragraph eleven of subdivision (b) of this section.

(5) Standards for indoor air quality, building materials, finishes and furnishings: tenant space. Within one year of the effective date of this section, DEC, in consultation with DOH and NYSERDA, shall promulgate regulations, with respect to tenant space, indicating the methodology by which taxpayers shall demonstrate compliance with subparagraph (B) of paragraph eleven of subdivision (b) of this section.

(f) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article nine: Section one hundred eighty-seven-d;

(2) Article nine-A: Subdivision sixteen of section two hundred ten-B;

(3) Article twenty-two: Subsections (i) and (y) of section six hundred six;

(4) Article thirty-three: Subdivision (o) of section fifteen hundred eleven.

§ 20. Credit for transportation improvement contributions. (a)

Allowance of credit. For taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand nine, a taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (d) of this section. The credit shall be allowed where a taxpayer has made a certified contribution of at least ten million dollars to a qualified transportation improvement project in a prior taxable year. The credit shall be equal to six percent of the taxpayer's increased qualified business facility payroll for the taxable year. The aggregate of all credit amounts allowed to the taxpayer pursuant to this section with respect to a certified contribution shall not exceed the amount of such certified contribution.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) Qualified business facility ("QBF"). A business facility the construction or expansion of which is intended to be enhanced by a qualified transportation improvement project, as described in paragraph three of this subdivision.

(2) Certified contribution. The term "certified contribution" means a contribution certified jointly by the commissioner of transportation and the commissioner of economic development as a contribution to a qualified transportation improvement project, such certification indicating the date and amount of such contribution by the taxpayer, and including a description of the associated QBF. The commissioner of transportation and the comptroller are authorized to accept, hold and, notwithstanding section four of the state finance law, to disburse such contributions, in the same manner as is authorized for municipal contributions in section ten of the highway law.

(3) Qualified transportation improvement project. The term "qualified transportation improvement project" means the design, development, construction, and/or improvement of transportation infrastructure and related facilities or systems, including, but not limited to, highways, roadways, bridges, ramps or lanes; or railroad, port, aviation or mass transit facilities; or ferry or marine facilities; or associated right-of-way and associated connections to existing or planned transportation infrastructure or facilities. Such project must be designed in part to enhance the planned construction or expansion of a QBF. A project for the design, development, construction, and/or improvement of transportation infrastructure and related facilities or systems shall be considered a "qualified transportation improvement project" under this section only if the commissioner of transportation and the commissioner of economic development jointly determine, in their sole discretion, that the project would promote the development of employment opportunities in connection with such QBF by creating more than one thousand new jobs in connection therewith, and is in the best interests of the people of the state. The undertaking of said project is declared to be for a public purpose, and the commissioner of transportation is authorized to participate in the costs thereof.

(4) Increased QBF payroll. The term "increased QBF payroll" means the excess, if any, of (A) the taxpayer's total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation of employees employed in connection with a QBF other than general executive officers (in the case of a corporation), for the taxable year, over (B) the average of the taxpayer's total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation of such employees for the taxable year in which the contribution was made and for the two immediately preceding taxable years, if any, but only to the extent that such excess exists with regard to the state.

(c) Recapture. (1) If the taxpayer has made a contribution which is the basis for a credit allowed under this section, and if with respect to the third full taxable year (the "test year") next following the taxable year during which such contribution was made (the "contribution year") the employment increase test described in paragraph three of this subdivision is not met, the taxpayer shall add back the sum of the amounts of such credit which have been allowed for all prior taxable years, and shall be allowed no further credit under this section with respect to such contribution with respect to any other taxable year.

(2) The amount required to be added back pursuant to this subdivision shall be augmented by an amount equal to the product of such amount and the underpayment rate of interest (without regard to compounding), set by the commissioner pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, in the case of taxpayers which applied the credit against tax under article nine, nine-A, thirty-two or thirty-three, or pursuant to subsection (j) of section six hundred ninety-seven of this chapter, in the case of taxpayers who applied the credit against tax under article twenty-two of this chapter, in effect on the last day of the taxable year.

(3) The employment increase test shall be deemed met where the average number of full-time employees of the taxpayer employed (A) in connection with a QBF and (B) in this state, during the test year, exceeds, in each case, such number determined with respect to the contribution year and the two immediately preceding taxable years by one thousand.

(4) The average number of employees in a taxable year shall be computed by ascertaining the number of employees, except general executive officers (in the case of a corporation), employed by the taxpayer on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December in the taxable year, by adding together the number of employees ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such abovementioned dates occurring within the taxable year.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9: Section 187-e,
- (2) Article 9-A: Section 210: subdivision 32,
- (3) Article 22: Section 606: subsections (i) and (z),
- (4) Article 32: Section 1456: subsection (n),
- (5) Article 33: Section 1511: subdivision (p).

 § 21. Brownfield redevelopment tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit.

(1) General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. Such credit shall be allowed with respect to a qualified site, as such term is defined in paragraph one of subdivision

(b) of this section. The amount of the credit in a taxable year shall be the sum of the credit components specified in paragraphs two, three and four of this subdivision applicable in such year.

(2) Site preparation credit component. The site preparation credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of the site preparation costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer with respect to a qualified site. The credit component amount so determined with respect to a site's qualification for a certificate of completion shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the effective date of the certificate of completion occurs. The credit component amount determined other than with respect to such qualification shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the improvement to which the applicable costs apply is placed in service for up to five taxable years after the issuance of such certificate of completion; provided, however, that for any qualified site to which a certificate of completion is issued on or after July first, two thousand fifteen but on or before June twenty-fourth, two thousand twenty-one, the site preparation credit component for such costs shall be allowed for up to seven taxable years after the issuance of such certificate of completion; and provided further, however, that for any qualified site located in cities with a population greater than two hundred five thousand and less than two hundred fifteen thousand in counties with a population greater than one million but less than one million ten thousand based on the latest federal decennial census for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a certificate of completion to the taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before December thirty-first, two thousand seventeen, the site preparation credit component for such costs shall be allowed for up to fifteen taxable years after the issuance of such certificate of completion.

(3) Tangible property credit component.

(i) The tangible property credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which constitute qualified tangible property and may include any related party service fee paid; provided that in determining the cost or other basis of such property, the taxpayer shall exclude the acquisition cost of any item of property with respect to which a credit under this section was allowable to another taxpayer; and provided further that for the purposes of this section, starting with taxable year two thousand twenty-two, on sites that comply with the track one remediation standards promulgated pursuant to subdivision four of section 27-1415 of the environmental conservation law, stadiums, baseball parks, basketball courts and other athletic facilities shall be considered buildings, and that components of stadiums, baseball parks, basketball courts, and other athletic facilities constructed on such sites, including sports field turf, site lighting, sidewalks, access and entry ways, and other improvements added to land, shall be considered structural components of buildings under the internal revenue code, and shall be included in the definition of tangible property for the purposes of this section. A related party service fee shall be allowed only in the calculation of the tangible property credit component and shall not be allowed in the calculation of the site preparation credit component or the on-site groundwater remediation credit component. The portion of the tangible property credit component which is attributable to related party service fees shall be allowed only as follows: (A) in the taxable year in which the qualified tangible property described in subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph is placed in service, for that portion of the related party service fees which have been earned and actually paid to the related party on or before the last day of such taxable year; and (B) with respect to any other taxable year for which the tangible property credit component may be claimed under this subparagraph and in which the amount of any additional related party service fees are actually paid by the taxpayer to the related party, the tangible property credit component for such amount shall be allowed in such taxable year. The credit component amount so determined shall be allowed for the taxable year in which such qualified tangible property is first placed in service on a qualified site with respect to which a certificate of completion has been issued to the taxpayer, or for the taxable year in which the certificate of completion is issued if the qualified tangible property is placed in service prior to the issuance of the certificate of completion. This credit component shall only be allowed for up to one hundred twenty months after the date of the issuance of such certificate of completion, provided, however, that for qualified sites to which a certificate of completion is issued on or after March twentieth, two thousand ten, but prior to January first, two thousand twelve, the commissioner may extend the credit component for up to one hundred forty-four months after the date of such issuance, if the commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of environmental conservation, determines that the requirements for the credit would have been met if not for the restrictions related to the state disaster emergency declared pursuant to executive order 202 of 2020 or any extension thereof or subsequent executive order issued in response to the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic; provided, however, with respect to any qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a certificate of completion to the taxpayer on or after March twentieth, two thousand ten and before December thirty-first, two thousand fifteen, this credit component shall be allowed for up to one hundred eighty months after the date of the issuance of such certificate of completion; and provided further, with respect to any qualified site located in cities with a population greater than two hundred five thousand and less than two hundred fifteen thousand in counties with a population greater than one million but less than one million ten thousand based on the latest federal decennial census for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a certificate of completion to the taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before December thirty-first, two thousand seventeen, this credit component shall be allowed for up to one hundred eighty months after the date of the issuance of such certificate of completion.

(ii) The tangible property credit component shall be allowed with respect to property leased to a second party only if such second party is either (A) not a party responsible for the disposal of hazardous waste or the discharge of petroleum at the site according to applicable principles of statutory or common law liability, or (B) a party responsible according to applicable principles of statutory or common law liability if such party's liability arises solely from operation of the site subsequent to the disposal of hazardous waste or the discharge of petroleum, and is so certified by the commissioner of environmental conservation at the request of the taxpayer, pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in the case of allowance of credit under this section to such a lessor, the commissioner shall have the authority to reveal to such lessor any information, with respect to the issue of qualified use of property by the lessee, which is the basis for the denial in whole or in part, or for the recapture, of the credit claimed by such lessor. For purposes of the tangible property credit component allowed under this section the taxpayer to whom the certificate of completion is issued, as provided for under subdivision five of section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law, may transfer the benefits and burdens of the certificate of completion, which run with the land and to the applicant's successors or assigns upon transfer or sale of all or any portion of an interest or estate in the qualified site. However, the taxpayer to whom certificate's benefits and burdens are transferred shall not include the cost of acquiring all or any portion of an interest or estate in the site and the amounts included in the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of qualified tangible property already claimed by the previous taxpayer pursuant to this section.

(iii) The term "related party service fee" shall mean any fee or other monetary compensation earned by a related party and calculated as a percentage of project and/or acquisition costs, in consideration of services rendered to or for the benefit of the taxpayer placing qualified tangible property in service in connection with the acquisition and development of such property. For purposes of this subparagraph, "related party" shall have the same meaning as related person as defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subdivision (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code.

(iv) Eligible costs for the tangible property credit component are limited to costs for tangible property that has a depreciable life for federal income tax purposes of fifteen years or more, costs associated with demolition and excavation on the site and the foundation of any buildings constructed as part of the site cover that are not properly included in the site preparation component and costs associated with non-portable equipment, machinery and associated fixtures and appurtenances used exclusively on the site, whether or not such property has a depreciable life for federal income tax purposes of fifteen years or more.

(v) With respect to any qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer on or after July first, two thousand fifteen or the date of publication in the state register of proposed regulations defining "underutilized" as provided in subdivision thirty of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law, whichever shall be later, that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, and the site is eligible for the tangible property credit component because it is an affordable housing project pursuant to subdivision one-a of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, the portion of eligible costs to be included in the calculation of the tangible property credit component will be determined by multiplying the total costs qualified for the tangible property credit component by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the square footage of space of the affordable housing units dedicated to residential occupancy and the denominator of which shall be the total square footage of the building.

(3-a) (A) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the tangible property credit component available for any qualified site pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision shall not exceed thirty-five million dollars or three times the sum of the costs included in the calculation of the site preparation credit component and the on-site groundwater remediation credit component under paragraphs two and four, respectively, of this subdivision, and the costs that would have been included in the calculation of such components if not treated as an expense and deducted pursuant to section one hundred ninety-eight of the internal revenue code, whichever is less; provided, however, that: (1) in the case of a qualified site to be used primarily for manufacturing activities, the tangible property credit component available for any qualified site pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision shall not exceed forty-five million dollars or six times the sum of the costs included in the calculation of the site preparation credit component and the on-site groundwater remediation credit component under paragraphs two and four, respectively, of this subdivision, and the costs that would have been included in the calculation of such components if not treated as an expense and deducted pursuant to section one hundred ninety-eight of the internal revenue code, whichever is less; and (2) the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer before June twenty-third, two thousand eight that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law.

(B) For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "manufacturing activities" means the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture or commercial fishing; provided however, that the generation and distribution of electricity, the distribution of natural gas, and the production of steam associated with the generation of electricity, shall not constitute manufacturing activities.

(C) In order to properly administer the credits set forth in this subdivision, the department may disclose information about the calculation and the amounts of the credits claimed under this subdivision on a taxpayer's return to the department of environmental conservation and other taxpayers claiming tax credits under this section with respect to the same qualifying site.

(D) With respect to any qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer before July first, two thousand fifteen or the date of publication in the state register of proposed regulations defining "underutilized" as provided in subdivision thirty of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law, whichever shall be later, that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, or where the taxpayer has either been issued or received a certificate of completion from another taxpayer under section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law before July first, two thousand fifteen or the date of publication in the state register of proposed regulations defining "underutilized" as provided in subdivision thirty of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law, whichever shall be later, if the qualifying site is located in a brownfield opportunity area and is developed in conformance with the goals and priorities established for that applicable brownfield opportunity area as designated pursuant to section nine hundred seventy-r of the general municipal law, the applicable percentage of the tangible property credit component will be increased by two percent.

(4) On-site groundwater remediation credit component. The on-site groundwater remediation credit component shall be equal to the applicable percentage of the on-site groundwater remediation costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer with respect to a qualified site (to the extent that such groundwater remediation costs are not included in the determination of the site preparation credit or the cost or other basis included in the determination of the tangible property credit). The credit component so determined for costs incurred and paid with respect to and prior to the issuance of a certificate of completion shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the effective date of the issuance of a certificate of completion occurs. The credit component amount determined in taxable years after the effective date of the issuance of a certificate of completion shall be allowed in the taxable year such qualified costs are incurred and paid for up to five taxable years after the issuance of such certificate of completion; provided, however, that with respect to any qualified site for which a certificate of completion has been issued on or after July first, two thousand fifteen but on or before June twenty-fourth, two thousand twenty-one, the credit component amount determined in taxable years after the effective date of the issuance of a certificate of completion shall be allowed in the taxable year such qualified costs are incurred and paid for up to seven taxable years after the issuance of such certificate of completion.

(5) Applicable percentage. (A) For purposes of computing the site preparation and on-site groundwater remediation credit components pursuant to paragraphs two and four of this subdivision, with respect to such qualified sites for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer before June twenty-third, two thousand eight that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, or where the taxpayer has either been issued or received a certificate of completion from another taxpayer under section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law for such a site, and, for purposes of computing the tangible property component pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision with respect to such qualified sites for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer before July first, two thousand fifteen or the date of publication in the state register of proposed regulations defining "underutilized" as provided in subdivision thirty of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law, whichever shall be later, that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, or where the taxpayer has either been issued or received a certificate of completion from another taxpayer under section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law for such a site, the applicable percentage shall be twelve percent in the case of credits claimed under article nine, nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter, and ten percent in the case of credits claimed under article twenty-two of this chapter, except that where at least fifty percent of the area of the qualified site relating to the credit provided for in this section is located in an environmental zone as defined in paragraph six of subdivision (b) of this section, the applicable percentage shall be increased by an additional eight percent. Provided, however, as afforded in section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law, if the certificate of completion indicates that the qualified site has been remediated to Track 1 as that term is described in subdivision four of section 27-1415 of the environmental conservation law, the applicable percentage set forth in the first sentence of this paragraph shall be increased by an additional two percent.

(B) With respect to such qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer on or after July first, two thousand fifteen, that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, the applicable percentage for the tangible property credit component of the brownfield redevelopment tax credit pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision shall be the sum of ten percent and the following additional percentages, provided that if the sum is greater than twenty-four percent, the total percentage of the tangible property credit component shall be twenty-four percent and is otherwise subject to the limitations set forth in paragraphs three and three-a of this subdivision:

(i) five percent for a site which:

(1) is located within an environmental zone; or

(2) is in a disadvantaged community as that term is defined in section

27-1405 of the environmental conservation law for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand twenty-three that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law;

(ii) five percent for a site located within a designated brownfield opportunity area and is developed in conformance with the goals and priorities established for that applicable brownfield opportunity area and meets the conformance determinations pursuant to subdivision ten of section nine hundred seventy-r of the general municipal law;

(iii) five percent for a site developed as affordable housing, as defined in section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law;

(iv) five percent for a site to be used primarily for manufacturing activities as such term is defined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph three-a of this subdivision;

(v) five percent for sites remediated to Track 1 as that term is defined in subdivision four of section 27-1415 of the environmental conservation law; and

(vi) for a qualified site for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a notice to the taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand twenty-three that its request for participation has been accepted under subdivision six of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law, five percent for sites developed as renewable energy facility sites as defined in section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law.

(C) The taxpayer shall submit, in the manner prescribed by the commissioner, information sufficient to demonstrate that the site qualifies for any credit components available under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph. If the site is receiving the credit component authorized pursuant to clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph for being located within a designated brownfield opportunity area, the taxpayer shall submit a certification from the secretary of state that the development is in conformance with such brownfield opportunity area plan pursuant to section nine hundred seventy-r of the general municipal law.

(6) Site preparation costs and on-site groundwater remediation costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer with respect to a qualified site and the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which constitute qualified tangible property shall only include costs paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after the date of the brownfield site cleanup agreement executed by the taxpayer and the department of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law.

(7) The amount of any grant received from the federal, state or a local government or an instrumentality or public benefit corporation thereof received by the taxpayer and used to pay for any of the costs described in paragraphs two, three and four of this subdivision, which was not included in the federal gross income of the taxpayer, shall be subtracted in computing the credit components under this section.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) Qualified site. A "qualified site" is a site with respect to which a certificate of completion has been issued to the taxpayer by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law.

(2) Site preparation costs. The term "site preparation costs" shall mean all amounts properly chargeable to a capital account, which are paid or incurred which are necessary to implement a site's investigation, remediation, or qualification for a certificate of completion, and shall include costs of: excavation; demolition; activities undertaken under the oversight of the department of labor or in accordance with standards established by the department of health to remediate and dispose of regulated materials including asbestos, lead or polychlorinated biphenyls; environmental consulting; engineering; legal costs; transportation, disposal, treatment or containment of contaminated soil; remediation measures taken to address contaminated soil vapor; cover systems consistent with applicable regulations; physical support of excavation; dewatering and other work to facilitate or enable remediation activities; sheeting, shoring, and other engineering controls required to prevent off-site migration of contamination from the qualified site or migrating onto the qualified site; and the costs of fencing, temporary electric wiring, scaffolding, and security facilities until such time as the certificate of completion has been issued. Site preparation shall include all costs paid or incurred within sixty months after the last day of the tax year in which the certificate of completion is issued that are necessary for compliance with the certificate of completion or subsequent modifications thereof, or the remedial program defined in such certificate of completion including but not limited to institutional controls, engineering controls, an approved site management plan, and an environmental easement with respect to the qualified site; provided, however, with respect to any qualified site for which a certificate of completion was issued on or after July first, two thousand fifteen but on or before June twenty-fourth, two thousand twenty-one, site preparation shall include all costs paid or incurred within eighty-four months after the last day of the tax year in which the certificate of completion is issued that are necessary for compliance with the certificate of completion or subsequent modifications thereof, or the remedial program defined in such certificate of completion including but not limited to institutional controls, engineering controls, an approved site management plan, and an environmental easement with respect to the qualified site, provided, however, with respect to any qualified site located in cities with a population greater than two hundred five thousand and less than two hundred fifteen thousand in counties with a population greater than one million but less than one million ten thousand based on the latest federal decennial census for which the department of environmental conservation has issued a certificate of completion to the taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before December thirty-first, two thousand seventeen, this credit component shall be allowed for up to one hundred eighty months after the date of the issuance of such certificate of completion. Site preparation cost shall not include the costs of foundation systems that exceed the cover system requirements in the regulations applicable to the qualified site.

(3) Qualified tangible property. "Qualified tangible property" is property described in either subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph which:

- (A) (i) is depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code,
- (ii) has a useful life of four years or more,
- (iii) has been acquired by purchase as defined in section one hundred seventy-nine (d) of the internal revenue code,

(iv) has a situs on a qualified site in this state, and

(v) is principally used by the taxpayer for industrial, commercial, recreational or environmental conservation purposes (including the commercial development of residential housing); or

(B) (i) is, or when occupied becomes, part of a dwelling whose primary ownership structure is covered under either article nine-B of the real property law or meets the requirements of section 216 (b)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code or is part of an affordable housing project as defined in subdivision twenty-nine of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law, where units are sold as single family homes or multiple family dwellings;

(ii) has been acquired by purchase (as defined in section one hundred seventy-nine (d) of the Internal Revenue Code);

(iii) has a situs on a qualified site in this state; and

(iv) for purposes of this subparagraph only, and notwithstanding any other section of law to the contrary, property qualifying under this subparagraph shall be deemed to be qualified tangible property for the purposes of paragraph one of subdivision (d) of this section; and in addition, for the purposes of this subdivision only, property qualifying under this subparagraph shall be deemed to have been placed in service for the purposes of paragraph three of subdivision (a) of this section when a certificate of occupancy is issued for such property.

(4) On-site groundwater remediation costs. The term "on-site groundwater remediation costs" shall mean all amounts properly chargeable to a capital account, which are paid or incurred which are necessary to implement a site's groundwater investigation, remediation, or qualification for a certificate of completion not already covered under site preparation costs, and shall include costs of: environmental consulting; engineering; legal costs; transportation, disposal, treatment or containment of contaminated groundwater; sheeting, shoring, and other engineering controls required to prevent off-site migration of groundwater contamination from the qualified site or migrating onto the qualified site; and the costs of fencing, temporary electric wiring and security facilities until such time as the certificate of completion is issued. On-site groundwater remediation costs shall include all costs paid or incurred within sixty months after the last day of the tax year in which the certificate of completion is issued that are necessary for compliance with the certificate of completion or subsequent modifications thereof, or the groundwater remedial program defined in such certificate of completion including but not limited to institutional controls, engineering controls, an approved site management plan specific to on-site groundwater remediation, and an environmental easement with respect to the qualified site. Provided, however, with respect to any qualified site for which a certificate of completion has been issued on or after July first, two thousand fifteen but on or before June twenty-fourth, two thousand twenty-one, on-site groundwater remediation costs shall include all such costs paid or incurred within eighty-four months after the last day of the tax year in which the certificate of completion is issued.

(5) Certificate of completion. A "certificate of completion" issued by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law.

(6) Environmental zones (EN-Zones). An "environmental zone" shall mean an area designated as such by the commissioner of labor. Such areas shall be census tracts that satisfy either of the following criteria:

(A) areas that have both:

(i) a poverty rate of at least twenty percent based on the most recent five year American Community Survey; and

(ii) an unemployment rate of at least one and one-quarter times the statewide unemployment rate based on the most recent five year American Community Survey, or;

(B) areas that have a poverty rate of at least two times the poverty rate for the county in which the areas are located based on the most recent five year American Community Survey.

Such designation shall be made and a list of all such environmental zones shall be established by the commissioner of labor based on the two thousand nine through two thousand thirteen American Community Survey estimate. Upon request of the commissioner of environmental conservation, the commissioner of labor shall update such designation based on the most recent American Community Survey, or its successor.

The determination of whether a site is located in an environmental zone shall be based on the date the department of environmental conservation issued a notice to the taxpayer that its request for participation in the brownfield cleanup program has been deemed complete pursuant to subdivision three of section 27-1407 of the environmental conservation law.

(c) Qualifying property. Property which qualifies for the credit provided for under this section and also for a credit provided for (1) under either subdivision one or subdivision three of section two hundred ten-B of this chapter, or both, or (2) subsection (a) or subsection (j) of section six hundred six of this chapter, or both may be the basis for either the credit provided for under this section or one of the credits enumerated in paragraph one or two of this subdivision, but not both.

(d) Depreciable property. (1) With respect to qualified tangible property which is depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code but is not subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of such code and which ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. If property on which credit has been taken ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of its useful life, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year in which the property ceased to be in qualified use. Provided, however, if such property ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this paragraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. For purposes of this paragraph, the useful life of property shall be the same as the taxpayer uses for depreciation purposes when computing its federal income tax liability.

(2) Except with respect to that property to which paragraph four of this subdivision applies, with respect to qualified tangible property which is three-year property, as defined in subsection (e) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, which ceases to be

in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this section which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six. If property on which credit has been taken ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of thirty-six months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year in which the property ceased to be in qualified use. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six.

(3) Except with respect to that property to which paragraph four of this subdivision applies, with respect to qualified tangible property which is subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code other than three-year property as defined in subsection (e) of such section one hundred sixty-eight which ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this section which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty. If property on which credit has been taken ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of sixty months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year in which the property ceased to be in qualified use. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty.

(4) With respect to any qualified tangible property to which section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code applies, which is a building or a structural component of a building and which ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this section which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code. If property on which credit has been taken ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the period over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year in which the property ceased to be in qualified use. Provided, however, if such property ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this paragraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code.

(e) If the certificate of completion issued to the taxpayer with respect to a qualified site is revoked by a determination issued pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law, the amount of any credit allowed by this section shall be added back in the taxable year in which such determination is final and no longer subject to judicial review.

(f) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9: Section 187-g
- (2) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 17
- (3) Article 22: Section 606, subsections (i) and (dd)
- (4) Article 33: Section 1511, subdivision (u).

* NB There are 2 § 21's

 § 21. Disclosure of taxpayer information in cases involving abandoned property. (a) General. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may furnish to the comptroller or duly designated officer or employee of the state department of audit and control the name, address and taxpayer identification number of a taxpayer to whom a refund or reimbursement of tax is owed, together with the amount of such refund or reimbursement, for the sole purpose of identifying owners of abandoned property paid to and held by the comptroller pursuant to section one hundred two of the state finance law.

(b) Secrecy requirement and penalty for violation. (1) Except in accordance with a proper judicial order or as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any person to whom the taxpayer information described in subdivision (a) of this section is disclosed in accordance with this section to divulge or make known in any manner such taxpayer information for uses not authorized under this section.

(2) (A) Any officer or employee of the state who willfully violates the provisions of this subdivision shall be dismissed from office and be incapable of holding any public office in this state for a period of five years thereafter.

(B) Cross-reference. For criminal penalties, see article thirty-seven of this chapter.

* NB There are 2 § 21's

§ 22. Tax credit for remediated brownfields. (a) Definitions. As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) Certificate of completion. A "certificate of completion" issued by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law.

(2) Qualified site. For purposes of this section, a "qualified site" is a site with respect to which a certificate of completion has been issued by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law.

(3) Developer. (i) A "developer" is a taxpayer under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter who or which either (I) has been issued a certificate of completion with respect to a qualified site or (II) has purchased or in any other way has been conveyed all or any portion of a qualified site from a taxpayer or any other party who or which has been issued a certificate of completion with respect to such site provided, such purchase or conveyance occurs within seven years of the effective date of the certificate of completion issued with respect to such qualified site. Provided further, that the taxpayer who or which is purchasing all or any portion of a qualified site and the taxpayer or any other party who or which has been issued a certificate of completion with respect to such site may not be related persons, as such term is defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code.

(ii) Where the entity to whom a certificate of completion has been issued is a partnership, or where the entity which has purchased all or any portion of a qualified site from a taxpayer who or which has been issued a certificate of completion with respect to such site within the applicable time limit is a partnership, any partner in such partnership who or which is taxable under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be a developer under this paragraph. Where the entity to whom a certificate of completion has been issued is a New York S corporation, or where the entity which has purchased all or any portion of a qualified site from a taxpayer who or which has been issued a certificate of completion with respect to such site within the applicable time limit is a New York S corporation, any shareholder in such New York S corporation shall be a developer under this paragraph.

(4) Cessation of status. A taxpayer shall cease to be a developer on the first day of the taxable year during which revocation of its certificate of completion under section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law is final and no longer subject to judicial review, and the amount of any credit allowed by this section shall be added back in the taxable year in which such determination is final and no longer subject to judicial review.

(5) Environmental zones (EN-Zones). An "environmental zone" shall mean an area designated as such by the commissioner of economic development. Such areas so designated are areas which are census tracts and block numbering areas which, as of the two thousand census, satisfy either of the following criteria:

(A) areas that have both:

(i) a poverty rate of at least twenty percent for the year to which the data relate;

(ii) an unemployment rate of at least one and one-quarter times the statewide unemployment rate for the year to which the data relate, or;

(B) areas that have a poverty rate of at least two times the poverty rate for the county in which the areas are located for the year to which the data relate, provided, however, that a qualified site shall only be deemed to be located in an environmental zone under this subparagraph (B) if such site was the subject of a brownfield site cleanup agreement pursuant to section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law that was entered into prior to September first, two thousand ten.

Such designation shall be made and a list of all such environmental zones shall be established by the commissioner of economic development no later than December thirty-first, two thousand four provided, however, that a qualified site shall only be deemed to be located in an environmental zone under subparagraph (B) of this paragraph if such site was the subject of a brownfield site cleanup agreement pursuant to section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law that was entered into prior to September first, two thousand ten.

(b) Remediated brownfield credit for real property taxes for qualified sites. (1) Allowance of credit. A developer of a qualified site who or which is subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in paragraph nine of this subdivision, for eligible real property taxes imposed on such site.

(2) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit shall be twenty-five percent of the product of (i) the benefit period factor, (ii) the employment number factor, and (iii) the eligible real property taxes paid or incurred by the developer of the qualified site during the taxable year (or the pro rata share of such taxes in the case of a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York S corporation), except that if the real property which is the subject of the credit provided for under this section is attributed to a qualified site located in an environmental zone as defined in paragraph five of subdivision (a) of this section, the amount of the credit shall be the product of the factors and taxes referred to in subparagraphs (i), (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph. However, the amount of the credit may not exceed the credit limitation set forth in paragraph seven of this subdivision.

(3) Benefit period factor. The benefit period factor is a numerical value corresponding with a benefit period of ten consecutive taxable years commencing in the taxpayer's taxable year during which the certificate of completion is issued for the qualified site or the taxpayer's first taxable year commencing on or after April first, two thousand five, whichever is later. The benefit period factors are set forth in the following table:

Taxable year of benefit period:	Benefit period factor:
1-10	1.0

(4) Employment number factor. (i) The employment number factors are set forth in the following table:

Average number of full-time employees employed by the developer of a qualified site, plus the average number of full-time employees employed by a lessee or lessees of a portion of such qualified site, where such employees are employed at such site during the taxable year:	Employment number factor:
At least 25 but less than 50	.25
At least 50 but less than 75	.50
At least 75 but less than 100	.75
At least 100	1.00

(ii) For purposes of this paragraph, the average number of full-time employees, excluding general executive officers, employed by a developer and a lessee at a qualified site during a taxable year or other applicable period, shall be computed by ascertaining the number of such employees employed by the developer and such lessee on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December during each taxable year or other applicable period, by adding together the number of such individuals ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such dates occurring within such taxable year or other applicable period. Where the developer is a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York S corporation, the number of full-time employees of the partnership or the New York S corporation respectively, at such qualified site, shall be used for purposes of this calculation.

(5) Eligible real property taxes. The term "eligible real property taxes" means taxes imposed on real property which consists of a qualified site owned by the developer, provided such taxes become a lien on the real property in a period during which the real property is a qualified site. In addition, the term "eligible real property taxes" includes payments in lieu of taxes by the developer, with respect to a qualified site, to the state, a municipal corporation or a public benefit corporation pursuant to a written agreement entered into between the developer and the state, a municipal corporation or a public benefit corporation. Provided, however, such a payment in lieu of taxes shall not constitute eligible real property taxes in any taxable year to the extent that such payment exceeds the product of (A) the greater of (i) the basis for federal income tax purposes, determined on the date the taxpayer becomes a developer as defined under this section, of real property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, owned by the developer and located on a qualified site with respect to which the taxpayer is a developer, or (ii) the basis for federal income tax purposes of such real property described in clause (i) of this subparagraph on the last day of the taxable year, and (B) the estimated effective full value tax rate within the county in which such property is located, as most recently calculated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall annually calculate estimated and effective full value tax rates within each county for this purpose based upon the most current information available to him or her in relation to county, city, town, village and school district taxes. Provided further, where the amount of the credit determined under paragraph two of this subdivision is the total product of the factors and tax specified therein, the term "eligible real property taxes" under this paragraph shall apply only to taxes imposed on real property which is attributed to a qualified site located in an environmental zone. Where the developer is a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York S corporation, such real property shall be owned by the partnership or the New York S corporation, respectively.

(6) Credit recapture. Where a developer's eligible real property taxes which were the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this subdivision are subsequently reduced as a result of a final order in any proceeding under article seven of the real property tax law or other provision of law, the taxpayer shall add back, in the taxable year in which such final order is issued, the excess of (i) the amount of credit originally allowed for a taxable year over (ii) the amount of credit determined based upon the reduced eligible real property taxes. If such final order reduces real property taxes for more than one year, the taxpayer must determine how much of such reduction is attributable to each year covered by such final order and calculate the amount of credit which is required by this paragraph to be recaptured for each year based on such reduction.

(7) Credit limitation. The credit limitation shall be the product of (i) ten thousand dollars and (ii) the average number of full-time employees employed by the developer of a qualified site and a lessee or lessees of a portion of such qualified site during the taxable year, as such average is computed under subparagraph (ii) of paragraph four of this subdivision.

(8) Credit option. If the qualified site is located in whole or in part in an area designated as an empire zone pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and a taxpayer meets the eligibility requirements for both the credit provided for under this section and the QEZE credit for real property taxes provided for under section fifteen of this article, with respect to all or part of such site, such taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim both such credits. The taxpayer shall be required, in the first taxable year such taxpayer is allowed to claim a credit under this section, to elect whether to claim the credit provided for under this section or the credit provided for under section fifteen of this article. Such election shall be made with the filing of the return or report required under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, whichever is applicable, for such taxable year. Such election shall apply to and be binding in each subsequent taxable year applicable to the credit provided for under either this section or section fifteen of this article. A taxpayer who or which has been allowed a credit under section fifteen of this article, in a taxable year preceding the first taxable year such taxpayer is allowed to claim a credit under this section, shall not be precluded from making the election provided for in this paragraph.

(9) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this subdivision, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (i) Article 9: Section 187-h.
- (ii) Article 9-A: Section 210-B: subdivision 18.
- (iii) Article 22: Section 606: subsections (i) and (ee).
- (iv) Article 33: Section 1511: subdivision (v).

§ 23. Environmental remediation insurance credit. (a) Allowance of credit. General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (e) of this section. The amount of such credit shall be equal to the lesser of thirty thousand dollars or fifty percent of the premiums paid on or after the date of the brownfield site cleanup agreement executed by the taxpayer and the department of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1409 of the environmental conservation law by the taxpayer for environmental remediation insurance issued with respect to a qualified site.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) Qualified site. A "qualified site" is a site with respect to which a certificate of completion has been issued to the taxpayer by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law to an "applicant" as that term is defined in subdivision one of section 27-1405 of the environmental conservation law.

(2) Certificate of completion. A "certificate of completion" issued by the commissioner of environmental conservation pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law.

(3) Environmental remediation insurance. The term "environmental remediation insurance" shall mean that type of insurance described in section three thousand four hundred forty-seven of the insurance law.

(c) The credit provided for in subdivision one of this section shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the certificate of completion is issued to the taxpayer. Such credit shall be allowed only once with respect to a particular certificate of completion.

(d) If the certificate of completion issued to the taxpayer with respect to a qualified site is revoked by a determination issued pursuant to section 27-1419 of the environmental conservation law, the amount of credit allowed by this section shall be added back in the taxable year in which such determination is final and no longer subject to judicial review.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9: Section 187-i
- (2) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 19
- (3) Article 22: Section 606, subsections (i) and (ff)
- (4) Article 33: Section 1511, subdivision (w).

§ 24. Empire state film production credit. (a) (1) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified film production company, or a qualified independent film production company, or which is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership which is a qualified film production company or a qualified independent film production company, and which is subject to tax under articles nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section, to be computed as hereinafter provided.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of thirty percent and the qualified production costs paid or incurred in the production of a qualified film, provided that: (i) the qualified production costs (excluding post production costs) paid or incurred which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at a qualified film production facility in the production of such qualified film equal or exceed seventy-five percent of the production costs (excluding post production costs) paid or incurred which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at any film production facility within and without the state in the production of such qualified film, (ii) except with respect to a qualified independent film production company or pilot, at least ten percent of the total principal photography shooting days spent in the production of such qualified film must be spent at a qualified film production facility, and (iii) qualified production costs that are attributable to scoring shall be eligible for an additional ten percent credit on such scoring costs when incurred within the state and when such scoring costs include payment to a minimum of five musicians. However, if the qualified production costs (excluding post production costs) which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at a qualified film production facility in the production of such qualified film is less than three million dollars, then the portion of the qualified production costs attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services in the production of such qualified film outside of a qualified film production facility shall be allowed only if the shooting days spent in New York outside of a film production facility in the production of such qualified film equal or exceed seventy-five percent of the total shooting days spent within and without New York outside of a film production facility in the production of such qualified film. The credit shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the production of such qualified film is completed. However, in the case of a qualified film that receives funds from additional pool 2, no credit shall be claimed before the later of (1) the taxable year the production of the qualified film is complete, or (2) the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the film has been allocated credit by the department of economic development. If the amount of the credit is at least one million dollars but less than five million dollars, the credit shall be claimed over a two year period beginning in the first taxable year in which the credit may be claimed and in the next succeeding taxable year, with one-half of the amount of credit allowed being claimed in each year. If the amount of the credit is at least five million dollars, the credit shall be claimed over a three year period beginning in the first taxable year in which the credit may be claimed and in the next two succeeding taxable years, with one-third of the amount of the credit allowed being claimed in each year. Provided, however, in the case of a qualified film for which the credit application was received on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the credit shall be claimed in the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the film has been allocated a credit by the department of economic development.

(3) No qualified production costs used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided for under this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(4) (i) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, a qualified film production company or qualified independent film production company, that has applied for credit under the provisions of this section, agrees as a condition for the granting of the credit: (A) to include in each qualified film distributed by DVD, or other media for the secondary market, a New York promotional video approved by the governor's office of motion picture and television development or to include in the end credits of each qualified film "Filmed With the Support of the New York State Governor's Office of Motion Picture and Television Development" and a logo provided by the governor's office of motion picture and television development, and (B) to certify that it will purchase taxable tangible property and services, defined as qualified production costs pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section, only from companies registered to collect and remit state and local sales and use taxes pursuant to articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter.

(ii) On or after January first, two thousand twenty-three, a qualified film production company or qualified independent film production company that has applied for credit under the provisions of this section shall, as a condition for the granting of the credit, file a diversity plan with the governor's office for motion picture and television development outlining specific goals for hiring a diverse workforce. The commissioner of economic development shall promulgate regulations implementing the requirements of this paragraph, which, notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, may be adopted on an emergency basis, to ensure compliance with the provisions of this paragraph. The governor's office for motion picture and television development shall review each submitted plan as to whether it meets the requirements established by the commissioner of economic development, and shall verify that the applicant has met or made good-faith efforts in achieving these goals. The diversity plan also shall indicate whether the qualified film production company or qualified independent film production company that has applied for credit under the provisions of this section intends to participate in training, education, and recruitment programs that are designed to promote and encourage the training and hiring in the film and television industry of New York residents who represent the diversity of the State's population.

(5) For the period two thousand fifteen through two thousand thirty-six, in addition to the amount of credit established in paragraph two of this subdivision, a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit equal to (i) the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of ten percent and the wages, salaries or other compensation constituting qualified production costs as defined in paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section, paid to individuals directly employed by a qualified film production company or a qualified independent film production company for services performed by those individuals in one of the counties specified in this paragraph in connection with a qualified film with a minimum budget of five hundred thousand dollars, and (ii) the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of ten percent and the qualified production costs (excluding wages, salaries or other compensation) paid or incurred in the production of a qualified film where the property constituting such qualified production costs was used, and the services constituting such qualified production costs were performed in any of the counties specified in this paragraph in connection with a qualified film with a minimum budget of five hundred thousand dollars where the majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of such film were shot in any of the counties specified in this paragraph. Provided, however, that the aggregate total eligible qualified production costs constituting wages, salaries or other compensation, for writers, directors, composers, producers, and performers shall not exceed forty percent of the aggregate sum total of all other qualified production costs. For purposes of the credit, the services must be performed and the property must be used in one or more of the following counties: Albany, Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Genesee, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Niagara, Oneida, Onondaga, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, Oswego, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Seneca, St. Lawrence, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wyoming, or Yates.

(6) Production plus program. (i) A qualified independent film production company or a qualified film production company, or a company that is a majority owner of one or more qualified film production companies or qualified independent film production companies, may apply to participate in the production plus program after it, or qualified film production companies or qualified independent film production companies of which it is the majority owner, has submitted two or more initial applications to the empire state film production tax credit program after January first, two thousand twenty-five.

(ii) A qualified film production company or qualified independent film production company that has been accepted into the production plus program, or is majority-owned by a company that has been accepted into the production plus program, may be eligible to receive an additional tax credit equal to the product of ten percent and the qualified production costs in New York state if program acceptance was based on initial applications, the sum of which totaled at least one hundred million dollars in qualified production costs in New York state.

(iii) A qualified independent film production company that has been accepted into the production plus program, or is majority-owned by a company that has been accepted into the production plus program, that is engaging in the production of a feature length film, television film or television series as defined in the regulations promulgated for this program, may receive an additional tax credit equal to the product of five percent and the qualified production costs incurred on all subsequent films or series applied for if program acceptance was based on initial applications the sum of which totaled at least twenty million dollars in qualified production costs in New York state.

(iv) Initial applications for feature length films and new television series submitted after December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-eight shall not be eligible for the program pursuant to this paragraph; provided, however, a television series that enters the program pursuant to this paragraph before January first, two thousand twenty-nine shall continue to be eligible.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified production costs" means production costs only to the extent such costs are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within the state directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post production) of a qualified film. In the case of an eligible relocated television series, the term "qualified production costs" shall include, in the first season that the eligible relocated television series is produced in New York after relocation, qualified relocation costs. Provided, however, that the aggregate total eligible qualified production costs for producers, writers, directors, performers (other than background actors with no scripted lines), and composers shall not exceed forty percent of the aggregate sum total of all other qualified production costs.

(2) "Production costs" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post production) of a qualified film. "Production costs" shall not include costs for a story, script or scenario to be used for a qualified film. "Production costs" generally include the wages or salaries or other compensation for writers, directors, composers and performers, technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for film production facilities, or any part thereof, props, makeup, wardrobe, film processing, camera, sound recording, set construction, lighting, shooting, editing and meals, and shall include the wages, salaries or other compensation of no more than two producers per qualified film.

(3) "Qualified film" means a feature-length film, television film, relocated television production, television pilot or television series, regardless of the medium by means of which the film, pilot or series is created or conveyed. For the purposes of the credit provided by this section only, a "qualified film" whose majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of the qualified film are shot in Westchester, Rockland, Nassau, or Suffolk county or any of the five New York City boroughs shall have a minimum budget of one million dollars. A "qualified film", whose majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of the qualified film are shot in any other county of the state than those listed in the preceding sentence shall have a minimum budget of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. "Qualified film" shall not include: (i) a documentary film, news or current affairs program, interview or talk program, "how-to" (i.e., instructional) film or program, film or program consisting primarily of stock footage, sporting event or sporting program, game show, award ceremony, film or program intended primarily for industrial, corporate or institutional end-users, fundraising film or program, daytime drama (i.e., daytime

"soap opera"), commercials, music videos or "reality" program; (ii) a production for which records are required under section 2257 of title 18, United States code, to be maintained with respect to any performer in such production (reporting of books, films, etc. with respect to sexually explicit conduct); or (iii) other than a relocated television production, a television series commonly known as variety entertainment, variety sketch and variety talk, i.e., a program with components of improvisational or scripted content (monologues, sketches, interviews), either exclusively or in combination with other entertainment elements such as musical performances, dancing, cooking, crafts, pranks, stunts, and games and which may be further defined in regulations of the commissioner of economic development. However, a qualified film shall include a television series as described in subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph only if an application for such series has been deemed conditionally eligible for the tax credit under this section prior to April first, two thousand twenty, such series remains in continuous production for each season, and an annual application for each season of such series is continually submitted for such series after April first, two thousand twenty. A series that changes either or both the title of the series or the principal cast prior to March thirty-first, two thousand twenty-three, shall be considered to remain in continuous production for each season, provided the series films at the same location as prior seasons, is produced by the same entity, and retains at least eighty percent of the staff from the prior season.

(4) "Film production facility" shall mean a building and/or complex of buildings and their improvements and associated back-lot facilities in which films are or are intended to be regularly produced and which contain at least one sound stage, provided, however, that an armory owned by the state or city of New York located in the city of New York shall not be considered to be a "film production facility" unless it meets the criteria contained in paragraph five of this subdivision or unless such facility is used by a qualified independent film production company.

(5) "Qualified film production facility" shall mean a film production facility in the state, which contains at least one sound stage having a minimum of seven thousand square feet of contiguous production space, provided, however, that except with respect to a qualified film

production facility being used by a qualified independent film production company: (i) a film production facility in the city of New York must contain at least one sound stage having a minimum of seven thousand square feet of contiguous production space that is sound proof with a Noise Criteria ("NC") of 30 or better, has sufficient heating and air conditioning for shooting without the need for supplemental units, incorporates a permanent grid and sufficient built-in electric service for shooting without the need for generators, and is column-free with a clear height of at least sixteen feet under the permanent grid for facilities constructed on or after January first, two thousand nineteen, and at least twelve feet under the permanent grid for facilities constructed before January first, two thousand nineteen; and (ii) an armory owned by the state or city of New York located in the city of New York that does not satisfy the criteria of subparagraph (i) of this paragraph shall be treated as a qualified film production facility upon certification by the governor's office of motion picture and television development of a petition submitted to that office by a qualified film production company establishing that no qualified film production facility is available in the city of New York that has stage space available for shooting such company's film. Such petition shall be submitted no later than ninety days prior to the start of principal photography for the qualified film and the governor's office of motion picture and television development shall have ten days to certify or reject the petition. A stage will be deemed unavailable if consideration has been paid for its use or such stage is currently under an agreement with an option for use and, in either circumstance, such period of use includes the petitioner's estimated start date of principal photography.

(6) "Qualified film production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film and controls the qualified film during production.

(7) "Qualified independent film production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual, that or who (i) is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film, (ii) is not publicly traded, and (iii) is not majority owned, fifty-one percent or more, by a company publicly traded on a United States stock exchange.

(8) "Relocated television production" shall mean, notwithstanding the limitations in subparagraph (i) of paragraph three of this subdivision, a television production that is a talk or variety program that filmed at least two seasons outside the state prior to its first relocated season in New York, the episodes are filmed before a studio audience of two hundred or more, and the relocated television production incurs (i) at least thirty million dollars in annual production costs in the state, or (ii) at least ten million dollars in capital expenditures at a qualified production facility in the state.

(9) "Eligible relocated television series" shall mean the first two years of a regularly occurring production intended to run in its initial broadcast, regardless of the medium or mode of its distribution, in a series of narrative and/or thematically related episodes, each of which has a running time of at least thirty minutes in length (inclusive of commercial advertisement and interstitial programming, if any), which had filmed a minimum of six episodes of the television series outside the state immediately prior to relocating to the state, where the television series had a total minimum budget of at least one million dollars per episode. For the purposes of this definition only, a television series produced by and for media services providers described as streaming services and/or digital platforms (and excluding network/cable) shall mean a regularly occurring production intended to run in its initial release in a series of narrative and/or thematically related episodes, the aggregate length of which is at least seventy-five minutes, although the episodes themselves may vary in duration from the thirty minutes specified for network/cable production.

(10) "Qualified relocation costs" means the costs incurred, excluding wages, salaries and other compensation, in the first season that an eligible relocated television series relocates to New York including such costs incurred to transport sets, props and wardrobe to New York and other costs as determined by the department of economic development to the extent such costs do not exceed six million dollars.

(c) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 20.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (gg).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the governor's office of motion picture and television development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for credit submitted to the governor's office of motion picture and television development.

(e) Allocation of credit. (1) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision thirty-six of section two hundred ten and subsection (gg) of section six hundred six of this chapter in any calendar year shall be twenty-five million dollars in two thousand four and two thousand five, sixty million dollars in two thousand six and two thousand seven, sixty-five million dollars in two thousand eight, seventy-five million dollars in two thousand nine, eighty-five million dollars in two thousand ten, ninety million dollars in two thousand eleven and two thousand twelve, and one hundred ten million dollars in two thousand thirteen. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the governor's office for motion picture and television development among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of film production credit with such office. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent year.

(2) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed pursuant to the authority of subdivision (b) of section twelve hundred one-a of this chapter in any calendar year shall be twelve million five hundred thousand dollars in two thousand four and two thousand five and thirty million dollars in two thousand six through two thousand eleven. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the mayor's office of film, theater and broadcasting among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of film production credit with such office. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent year.

(3) Additional pool 1 - The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed in subdivision (a) of this section shall be increased by an additional three hundred fifty million dollars in two thousand nine. This additional amount shall be allocated by the governor's office for motion picture and television development among taxpayers in accordance with subdivision (a) of this section.

* (4) Additional pool 2 - The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed in subdivision (a) of this section shall be increased by an additional four hundred twenty million dollars in each year starting in two thousand ten through two thousand twenty-three and seven hundred million dollars each year starting in two thousand twenty-four through two thousand thirty-six, provided however, seven million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in two thousand thirteen and two thousand fourteen, twenty-five million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in each year starting in two thousand fifteen through two thousand twenty-three, and forty-five million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in each year starting in two thousand twenty-four through two thousand thirty-six. This amount shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers in accordance with subdivision (a) of this section. If the commissioner of economic development determines that the aggregate amount of tax credits available from additional pool 2 for the empire state film production tax credit have been previously allocated, and determines that the pending applications from eligible applicants for the empire state film post production tax credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article is insufficient to utilize the balance of unallocated empire state film post production tax credits from such pool, the remainder, after such pending applications are considered, shall be made available for allocation in the empire state film tax credit pursuant to this section, subdivision twenty of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (gg) of section six hundred six of this chapter. Also, if the commissioner of economic development determines that the aggregate amount of tax credits available from additional pool 2 for the empire state film post production tax credit have been previously allocated, and determines that the pending applications from eligible applicants for the empire state film production tax credit pursuant to this section is insufficient to utilize the balance of unallocated film production tax credits from such pool, then all or part of the remainder, after such pending applications are considered, shall be made available for allocation for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to this section, subdivision thirty-two of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (qq) of section six hundred six of this chapter. The department of economic development must notify taxpayers of their allocation year and include the allocation year on the certificate of tax credit. Taxpayers eligible to claim a credit must report the allocation year directly on their empire state film production credit tax form for each year a credit is claimed and include a copy of the certificate with their tax return. In the case of a qualified film that receives funds from additional pool 2 where the taxpayer filed an initial application before April first, two thousand twenty-three, no empire state film production credit shall be claimed before the later of (1) the taxable year the production of the qualified film is complete, or (2) the taxable year immediately following the allocation year for which the film has been allocated credit by the department of economic development. In the case of a qualified film that receives funds from additional pool 2 where the taxpayer filed an initial application on or after April first, two thousand twenty-three and before January first, two thousand twenty-five, no empire state film production credit shall be claimed before the later of (1) the taxable year the production of the qualified film is complete, or (2) the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the film has been allocated credit by the department of economic development. Provided, however, in the case of a qualified film for which the credit application was received on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the credit shall be claimed in the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the film has been allocated a credit by the department of economic development.

* NB Effective until the first of January next succeeding the date the department of economic development provides notice to the legislative bill drafting commission of a determination pursuant to § 7 of chapter 683 of 2019

* (4) Additional pool 2 - The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed in subdivision (a) of this section shall be increased by an additional four hundred twenty million dollars in each year starting in two thousand ten through two thousand twenty-three and seven hundred million dollars in each year starting in two thousand twenty-four through two thousand thirty-six, provided however, seven million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in two thousand thirteen and two thousand fourteen, twenty-five million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in each year starting in two thousand fifteen through two thousand twenty-three, and forty-five million dollars of the annual allocation shall be available for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article in each year starting in two thousand twenty-four through two thousand thirty-six. Provided further, five million dollars of the annual allocation shall be made available for the television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit pursuant to section twenty-four-b of this article in each year starting in two thousand twenty through two thousand thirty-six. This amount shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers in accordance with subdivision (a) of this section. If the commissioner of economic development determines that the aggregate amount of tax credits available from additional pool 2 for the empire state film production tax credit have been previously allocated, and determines that the pending applications from eligible applicants for the empire state film post production tax credit pursuant to section thirty-one of this article is insufficient to utilize the balance of unallocated empire state film post production tax credits from such pool, the remainder, after such pending applications are considered, shall be made available for allocation in the empire state film tax credit pursuant to this section, subdivision twenty of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (gg) of section six hundred six of this chapter. Also, if the commissioner of economic development determines that the aggregate amount of tax credits available from additional pool 2 for the empire state film post production tax credit have been previously allocated, and determines that the pending applications from eligible applicants for the empire state film production tax credit pursuant to this section is insufficient to utilize the balance of unallocated film production tax credits from such pool, then all or part of the remainder, after such pending applications are considered, shall be made available for allocation for the empire state film post production credit pursuant to this section, subdivision thirty-two of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (qq) of section six hundred six of this chapter. The department of economic development must notify taxpayers of their allocation year and include the allocation year on the certificate of tax credit. Taxpayers eligible to claim a credit must report the allocation year directly on their empire state film production credit tax form for each year a credit is claimed and include a copy of the certificate with their tax return. In the case of a qualified film that receives funds from additional pool 2 where the taxpayer filed an initial application before April first, two thousand twenty-three and before January first, two thousand twenty-five, no empire state film production credit shall be claimed before the later of (1) the taxable year the production of the qualified film is complete, or (2) the taxable year immediately following the allocation year for which the film has been allocated credit by the department of economic development. In the case of a qualified film that receives funds from additional pool 2 where the taxpayer filed an initial application on or after April first, two thousand twenty-three and before January first, two thousand twenty-five, no empire state film production credit shall be claimed before the later of (1) the taxable year the production of the qualified film is complete, or (2) the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the film has been allocated credit by the department of economic development. In the case of a qualified film for which the taxpayer filed an initial application on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the credit shall be claimed in the taxable year that includes the last day of the allocation year for which the production of such qualified film has been allocated a credit by the department of economic development.

* NB Effective on the first of January next succeeding the date the department of economic development provides notice to the legislative bill drafting commission of a determination pursuant to § 7 of chapter 683 of 2019

(f) (1) With regard to certificates of tax credit issued on or after January first, two thousand twenty, the commissioner of economic development shall reduce by one-quarter of one percent the amount of credit allowed to a taxpayer and this reduced amount shall be reported on a certificate of tax credit issued pursuant to this section and the regulations promulgated by the commissioner of economic development to implement this credit program. Provided, however, for certificates of tax credit issued on or after January first, two thousand twenty-three, the amount of credit shall be reduced by one-half of one percent allowed to the taxpayer.

(2) By January thirty-first of each year, the commissioner of economic development shall report to the comptroller the total amount of such reductions of tax credit during the immediately preceding calendar year. On or before March thirty-first of each year, the comptroller shall transfer without appropriations from the general fund to the empire state entertainment diversity job training development fund established under section ninety-seven-ff of the state finance law an amount equal to the total amount of such reductions reported by the commissioner of economic development for the immediately preceding calendar year.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph two of this subdivision, the following provisions shall apply with respect to reductions of tax credit in two thousand twenty. (i) The commissioner of economic development shall report to the comptroller by June first, two thousand twenty the total amount of such reductions of tax credit during the period of January first, two thousand twenty through May fifteenth, two thousand twenty. On or before July first, two thousand twenty, the comptroller shall transfer without appropriations from the general fund to the empire state entertainment diversity job training development fund an amount equal to the total amount of such reductions reported by the commissioner of economic development for the period of January first, two thousand twenty through May fifteenth, two thousand twenty. (ii) By January thirty-first, two thousand twenty-one, the commissioner of economic development shall report to the comptroller the total amount of such reductions of tax credit during the period of May sixteenth, two thousand twenty through December thirty-first, two thousand twenty. On or before March thirty-first, two thousand twenty-one, the comptroller shall transfer without appropriations from the general fund to the empire state entertainment diversity job training development fund an amount equal to the total amount of such reductions reported by the commissioner of economic development for the period of May sixteenth, two thousand twenty through December thirty-first, two thousand twenty.

(g) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development pursuant to this section is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirements of this section, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

 § 24-a. Musical and theatrical production credit. (a)(1) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified musical and theatrical production company, or which is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership which is a qualified musical and theatrical production company, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referred to in subdivision (c) of this section, and to be computed as provided in this section.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of twenty-five percent and the sum of the qualified production expenditures and the transportation expenditures.

(3) No qualified production expenditures or transportation expenditures used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for pursuant to this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided pursuant to this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified musical and theatrical production" means a for-profit live, dramatic stage presentation in a qualified production facility, certified pursuant to rules and regulations promulgated by the department of economic development, as a qualified touring production.

(2) "Qualified touring production" means a live, dramatic stage production that, in its original or adaptive version, is performed in a qualified production facility, and has begun or will begin a tour, consisting of eight or more shows in three or more localities.

(3) "Qualified production expenditure" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly in the production of a qualified musical and theatrical production within the state including: (i) expenditures for design, construction and operation, including sets, special and visual effects, costumes, wardrobes, make-up, accessories and costs associated with sound, lighting, and staging, (ii) all salaries, wages, fees, and other compensation including related benefits for services performed of which the total allowable expense shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars per week, and (iii) technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for qualified production facilities, or any part thereof, props, make-up, wardrobe, costumes, equipment used for special and visual effects, sound recording, set construction, and lighting.

(4) "Qualified production facility" means a facility located in the state but outside the city of New York (i) in which live theatrical productions are or are intended to be primarily presented, (ii) that contains at least one stage, a seating capacity of one thousand or more seats, and dressing rooms, storage areas, and other ancillary amenities necessary for the qualified musical and theatrical production, (iii) for which receipts attributable to ticket sales constitute seventy-five percent or more of gross receipts of the facility, and (iv) which is not a licensee, or affiliated with a licensee, of the New York state gaming commission under the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law.

(5) "Qualified musical and theatrical production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified musical or theatrical production and performs in a qualified production facility.

(6) (i) "Transportation expenditures" means transportation expenditures incurred and paid directly and predominantly in the production of a qualified musical and theatrical production. Such expenditures shall include the packaging, crating, and transportation within the state for use in a qualified theater production of sets, costumes, or other tangible property constructed or manufactured in and out of state, and the transportation of the cast and crew within the state. Such term shall include the packaging, crating, and transporting within the state of property and equipment used for special and visual effects, sound, lighting and staging, costumes, wardrobes, make-up and related accessories and materials, as well as any other performance or production-related property and equipment.

(ii) Transportation expenditures shall not include any costs to transport property and equipment to be used only for filming and not in a qualified theater production, any indirect costs, and expenditures that are later reimbursed by a third party, or any amounts that are paid to persons or entities as a result of their participation in profits from the exploitation of the production.

(c) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 47.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (u).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, (i) employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for certification submitted to the department of economic development, and (ii) the commissioner and the commissioner of the department of economic development may release the names and addresses of any taxpayer claiming this credit and the amount of the credit earned by the taxpayer. Provided, however, if a taxpayer claims this credit because it is a member of a limited liability company or a partner in a partnership, only the amount of credit earned by the entity and not the amount of credit claimed by the taxpayer may be released.

(e) Maximum amount of credits. (1) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision forty-seven of section

two hundred ten-B and subsection (u) of section six hundred six of this chapter in any calendar year shall be eight million dollars. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of musical and theatrical production credit with such department. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent year.

(2) The commissioner of economic development, after consulting with the commissioner, shall promulgate regulations by October thirty-first, two thousand fourteen to establish procedures for the allocation of tax credits as required by subdivision (a) of this section. Such rules and regulations shall include provisions describing the application process, the due dates for such applications, the standards which shall be used to evaluate the applications, the documentation that will be provided to taxpayers to substantiate to the department the amount of tax credits allocated to such taxpayers, and such other provisions as deemed necessary and appropriate. Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, such rules and regulations may be adopted on an emergency basis if necessary to meet such October thirty-first, two thousand fourteen deadline.

(f) The department of economic development shall submit to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, and the speaker of the assembly, an annual report to be submitted on February first of each year evaluating the effectiveness of the musical and theatrical production tax credit provided by this section in stimulating the growth of the musical and theatrical industry in the state. Such report shall include, but need not be limited to, in total and by qualified musical and theatrical production, the number of qualified musical and theatrical productions which received a musical and theatrical production credit, the qualified production expenditures, the transportation expenditures, the qualified production facilities, and the credit amounts claimed by each qualified musical and theatrical production, as well as the impact on employment and the economy of the state. Such report shall include (1) the credit-eligible man hours for each project and the total wages for such credit-eligible man hours for each project as well as the name of each taxpayer allocated a tax credit for each project and the county of residence or incorporation of such taxpayer or, if the taxpayer does not reside or is not incorporated in New York, then the state of residence or incorporation; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a tax credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the name of each limited liability company, partnership or subchapter S corporation earning any of those tax credits must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the tax credit; and (2) the amount of tax credit allocated to each taxpayer; provided, however, if the taxpayer claims a tax credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the amount of tax credit earned by each entity must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the tax credit, and information identifying the project associated with each taxpayer for which a tax credit was claimed under this section, including the name of the musical and theatrical production and county in which the production is performed must be included in such report. Such report shall be based on data available from the application filed with the department of economic development for allocation of musical and theatrical production credits. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the information contained in the report shall be public information. The report may also include any recommendations of changes in the calculation or administration of the credit, and any other recommendation of the commissioner of the department of economic development regarding continuing modification, repeal of such act, and such other information regarding the act as the commissioner of the department of economic development may feel useful and appropriate.

* NB Repealed January 1, 2030

 § 24-b. Television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit.

(a)(1) A taxpayer which is a qualified film production company, or a qualified independent film production company, or which is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership which is a qualified film production company or a qualified independent film production company, and which is subject to tax under articles nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section, to be computed as hereinafter provided.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of thirty percent and the qualified television writers' and directors' fees and salaries costs paid or incurred in the production of a qualified film, provided that: (i) the credit amount shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars for qualified television writers' and directors' fees and salaries claimed for such expenses incurred for the employment of any one specific writer or director for the production of a single television pilot or a single episode of a television series, and (ii) the credit amount shall not exceed one hundred fifty thousand dollars for qualified television writers' and directors' fees and salaries claimed for such expenses incurred for the employment of any one specific writer or director. In addition, under no circumstances shall the credit amount include fees or salaries for more than one director per episode. The credit shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the production of such qualified film is completed.

(3) No qualified television writers' and directors' fees and salaries used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for pursuant to this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided pursuant to this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified film production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual whose project is conditionally eligible to receive a tax credit under section twenty-four of this article which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film and controls the qualified film during production.

(2) "Qualified independent film production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual whose project is conditionally eligible to receive a tax credit under section

twenty-four of this article, that or who (i) is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film with a maximum budget of fifteen million dollars, (ii) controls the qualified film during production, and (iii) either is not a publicly traded entity, or no more than five percent of the beneficial ownership of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by a publicly traded entity.

(3) "Qualified film" means a television film, television pilot and/or each episode of a television series, regardless of the medium by means of which the film, pilot or episode is created or conveyed.

(4) "Qualified television writers' and directors' fees and salaries" means salaries or fees paid to a writer or director who receives an on-air credit, provided that in each case, such writer or director is a minority group member, as defined in subdivision eight of section three hundred ten of the executive law, or a woman, and provided, further, that salaries or fees paid to any writer or director who is a profit participant in the qualified film shall not be eligible. Such fees shall not include relocation fees or hotel costs and per diems. In addition, such fees shall not include salaries or fees paid to writers or directors for work done on episodes of television series that were deemed conditionally eligible for the tax credit under section twenty-four of this article prior to the tax year for which the credit is first available.

(5) "Writer" means a person who is engaged by a qualified film production company or a qualified independent film production company to write television scripts, outlines, rewrites, stories, or teleplays for television series and who reports to work regularly in a writers room located in the state. For the purposes of this definition, "writer" shall not include showrunners or executive producers.

(6) "Writers room" means a room or physical location in the state where writers employed by a qualified film production company or qualified independent film production company write television scripts, outlines, rewrites, stories, or teleplays for television series utilized in a qualified film. A writers room is located in the state only if it is in use in the state at least eighty percent of the time it is in existence.

(7) "Director" means an individual employed or retained to direct the production, as the word "direct" is commonly used in the motion picture industry, who would be classified as a director under the basic agreement in place between the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers and the Director's Guild of America and who must meet the minimum criteria for work on qualified productions in New York state as established by the commissioner of economic development by regulation.

(8) "Profit participant" is an individual who has negotiated for a percentage of profits generated by a qualified film. Profit participation does not include monies contractually required by collectively bargained agreements for reuse of a qualified film on different platforms over time.

(c) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 54.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (v).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, (1) employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for certification submitted to the department of economic development, and (2) the commissioner and the commissioner of the department of economic development may release the names and addresses of any taxpayer claiming this credit and the amount of the credit earned by the taxpayer. Provided, however, if a taxpayer claims this credit because it is a member of a limited liability company or a partner in a partnership, only the amount of credit earned by the entity and not the amount of credit claimed by the taxpayer may be released.

(e) Maximum amount of credits. (1) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision fifty-four of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (v) of section six hundred six of this chapter in any calendar year shall be five million dollars. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit with such department. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent year.

(2) The commissioner of economic development, after consulting with the commissioner, shall promulgate regulations to establish procedures for the allocation of tax credits as required by subdivision (a) of this section. Such rules and regulations shall include provisions describing the application process, the due dates for such applications, the standards which shall be used to evaluate the applications, the documentation that will be provided to taxpayers to substantiate to the department the amount of tax credits allocated to such taxpayers, and such other provisions as deemed necessary and appropriate. Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, such rules and regulations may be adopted on an emergency basis.

(f) The department of economic development shall submit to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, and the speaker of the assembly, an annual report to be submitted on February first of each year evaluating the effectiveness of the television writers' and directors' fees and salaries tax credit provided by this section in stimulating the growth of diversity in the film industry in the state. Such report shall include, but need not be limited to, the number of qualified film production companies and/or qualified independent film production companies which received a television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit, the credit amounts claimed by each qualified film production company and/or qualified independent film production company, as well as the impact on employment and the economy of the state. Such report shall be based on data available from the application filed with the department of economic development for allocation of television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credits. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the information contained in the report shall be public information. The report may also include any recommendations of changes in the calculation or administration of the credit, and any other recommendation of the commissioner of the department of economic development regarding continuing modification, repeal of such act, and such other information regarding the act as the commissioner of the department of economic development may feel useful and appropriate.

* NB Effective on the first of January next succeeding the date the department of economic development provides notice to the legislative bill drafting commission of a determination pursuant to § 6 sb 2 (b) of chapter 683 of 2019

 § 24-c. New York city musical and theatrical production tax credit.

(a) (1) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that is a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company, or is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership that is a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company, and that is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referred to in subdivision (d) of this section, and to be computed as provided in this section.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of twenty-five percent and the sum of the qualified production expenditures paid for during the qualified New York city musical and theatrical production's credit period. Provided however that the amount of the credit cannot exceed three hundred fifty thousand dollars per qualified New York city musical and theatrical production in a level two qualified New York city production facility and three million dollars per qualified New York city musical and theatrical production in a level one qualified New York city production facility. In no event shall a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production be eligible for more than one credit under this program.

(3) No qualified production expenditures used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided pursuant to this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided pursuant to this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified New York city musical and theatrical production" means a for-profit live, dramatic stage presentation that, in its original or adaptive version, is performed in a level one or level two qualified New York city production facility, whether or not such production was performed in a level one or level two qualified New York city production facility prior to the state disaster emergency pursuant to executive order two hundred two of two thousand twenty, provided, however, that productions performing in a level two qualified New York city production facility shall have a production budget greater than or equal to seven hundred fifty thousand dollars and incur qualified production expenditures greater than or equal to seven hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(2) "Qualified production expenditure" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly in the production of a qualified musical and theatrical production within the state of New York, including: (i) expenditures for design, construction and operation, including sets, special and visual effects, costumes, wardrobes, make-up, accessories and costs associated with sound, lighting, and staging; (ii) all salaries, wages, fees, and other compensation including related benefits for services performed of which the total allowable expense shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars per week; and (iii) technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for a level one or level two qualified New York city production facility, or any part thereof, props, make-up, wardrobe, costumes, equipment used for special and visual effects, sound recording, set construction, and lighting. Qualified production expenditure does not include any costs incurred prior to the credit period of a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company.

(3) (i) "Level one qualified New York city production facility" means a facility located within the (A) borough of Manhattan, bounded by and including forty-first street and fifty-fourth street and between sixth avenue and ninth avenue in which live theatrical productions are or are intended to be primarily presented, (B) that contains at least one stage, a seating capacity of five hundred or more seats, and dressing rooms, storage areas, and other ancillary amenities necessary for the qualified musical and theatrical production, and (C) for which receipts attributable to live theatrical productions constitute seventy-five percent or more of gross receipts of the facility.

(ii) "Level two qualified New York city production facility" means a facility located within the borough of Manhattan (A) in which live theatrical productions are or are intended to be primarily presented, (B) that contains at least one stage, a seating capacity of one hundred or more seats, and dressing rooms, storage areas, and other ancillary amenities necessary for the qualified musical and theatrical production, and (C) for which receipts attributable to live theatrical productions constitute seventy-five percent or more of gross receipts of the facility.

(4) "Qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified musical or theatrical production that is to be performed in a level one or level two qualified New York city production facility.

(5) (i) "The credit period of a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company" is the period starting on the production start date and ending on the earlier of the date the qualified musical and theatrical production has expended sufficient qualified production expenditures to reach its credit cap, September thirtieth, two thousand twenty-seven or the date the qualified musical and theatrical production closes.

(ii) "The production start date" is the date that is up to twelve weeks prior to the first performance of the qualified musical and theatrical production.

(6) "Production budget" means all estimated costs to be incurred or paid before the first public appearance.

(c) The credit shall be allowed for the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one but before January first, two thousand twenty-eight. A qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company shall claim the credit in the year in which its credit period ends.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 57;

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (mmm).

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, (i) employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for certification submitted to the department of economic development, and (ii) the commissioner and the commissioner of the department of economic development may release the names and addresses of any qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company entitled to claim this credit and the amount of the credit earned by such company.

(f) Maximum amount of credits. (1) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision fifty-seven of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (mmm) of section six hundred six of this chapter shall be five hundred fifty million dollars. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers based on the date of first performance of the qualified musical and theatrical production.

(2) The commissioner of economic development, after consulting with the commissioner, shall promulgate regulations to establish procedures for the allocation of tax credits as required by this section. Such rules and regulations shall include provisions describing the application process, the due dates for such applications, the standards that will be used to evaluate the applications, the documentation that will be provided by applicants to substantiate to the department the amount of qualified production expenditures of such applicants, and such other provisions as deemed necessary and appropriate. Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, such rules and regulations may be adopted on an emergency basis. In no event shall a qualified New York city musical and theatrical production submit an application for this program after June thirtieth, two thousand twenty-seven.

(g) Any qualified New York city musical and theatrical production company that performs in a level one or level two qualified New York city production facility and applies to receive a credit under this section shall be required to: (1) participate in a New York state diversity and arts job training program; (2) create and implement a plan to ensure that their production is available and accessible for low-or no-cost to low income New Yorkers; and (3) contribute to the New York state council on the arts, cultural program fund an amount up to fifty percent of the total credits received if its production earns ongoing revenue prospectively after the end of the credit period that is at least equal to two hundred percent of its ongoing production costs, with such amount payable from twenty-five percent of net operating profits, such amounts payable on a monthly basis, up until such fifty percent of the total credit amount is reached. Any funds deposited pursuant to this subdivision may be used for arts and cultural grant programs of the New York state council on the arts as specified in subdivision five of section ninety-nine-ll of the state finance law.

* NB Repealed January 1, 2028

§ 24-d. Empire state independent film production credit. (a) (1) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified independent film production company, or which is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership which is a qualified independent film production company, and which is subject to tax under articles nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section, to be computed as hereinafter provided.

(2) (i) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of thirty percent and the qualified production costs paid or incurred in the production of a qualified film, provided that the qualified production costs (excluding post production costs) paid or incurred which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at a qualified film production facility in the production of such qualified film equal or exceed seventy-five percent of the production costs (excluding post production costs) paid or incurred which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at any film production facility within and without the state in the production of such qualified film. However, if the qualified production costs (excluding post production costs) which are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services at a qualified film production facility in the production of such qualified film is less than three million dollars, then the portion of the qualified production costs attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services in the production of such qualified film outside of a qualified film production facility shall be allowed only if the shooting days spent in New York outside of a film production facility in the production of such qualified film equal or exceed seventy-five percent of the total shooting days spent within and without the state outside of a film production facility in the production of such qualified film. The credit shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the production of such qualified film is completed. A taxpayer shall not be eligible for a tax credit established by this section for the production of more than two qualified films per calendar year.

(ii) In addition to the amount of credit established in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit equal to (A) the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of ten percent and the wages, salaries or other compensation constituting qualified production costs as defined in paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section, paid to individuals directly employed by a qualified independent film production company for services performed by those individuals in one of the counties specified in this subparagraph in connection with a qualified independent film with a minimum budget of five hundred thousand dollars, and (B) the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of ten percent and the qualified production costs (excluding wages, salaries or other compensation) paid or incurred in the production of a qualified film where the property constituting such qualified production costs was used, and the services constituting such qualified production costs were performed in any of the counties specified in this subparagraph in connection with a qualified film with a minimum budget of five hundred thousand dollars where the majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of such film were shot in any of the counties specified in this paragraph. Provided, however, that the aggregate total eligible qualified production costs constituting wages, salaries or other compensation, for writers, directors, composers, producers, and performers shall not exceed forty percent of the aggregate sum total of all other qualified production costs. For purposes of the credit, the services must be performed and the property must be used in one or more of the following counties: Albany, Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Genesee, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Niagara, Oneida, Onondaga, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, Oswego, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Seneca, St. Lawrence, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wyoming, or Yates and (C) qualified production costs that are attributable to scoring shall be eligible for an additional ten percent credit on such scoring costs when incurred within the state and when such scoring costs include payment to a minimum of five musicians.

(3) No qualified production costs used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided for under this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(4) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, a qualified independent film production company that has applied for credit under the provisions of this section, agrees as a condition for the granting of the credit: (i) to include in each qualified film distributed by DVD, or other media for the secondary market, a New York promotional video approved by the governor's office of motion picture and television development or to include in the end credits of each qualified film "Filmed With the Support of the New York State Governor's Office of Motion Picture and Television Development" and a logo provided by the governor's office of motion picture and television development, and (ii) to certify that it will purchase taxable tangible property and services, defined as qualified production costs pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section, only from companies registered to collect and remit state and local sales and use taxes pursuant to articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified production costs" means production costs only to the extent such costs, excluding labor costs, do not exceed sixty million dollars and are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within the state directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post production) of a qualified film. In the case of an eligible relocated television series, the term "qualified production costs" shall include, in the first season that the eligible relocated television series is produced in New York after relocation, qualified relocation costs. Provided, however, that the aggregate total eligible qualified production costs for producers, writers, directors, performers (other than background actors with no scripted lines), and composers shall not exceed forty percent of the aggregate sum total of all other qualified production costs.

(2) "Production costs" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post production) of a qualified film. "Production costs" shall not include costs for a story, script or scenario to be used for a qualified film. "Production costs" generally include writers, directors, composers and performers, technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for film production facilities, or any part thereof, props, makeup, wardrobe, film processing, camera, sound recording, scoring, set construction, lighting, shooting, editing and meals.

(3) "Qualified film" means a scripted narrative feature-length film, television film, relocated television series or television series, regardless of the medium by means of which the film or series is created or conveyed. For the purposes of the credit provided by this section only, a "qualified film" whose majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of the qualified film are shot in Westchester, Rockland, Nassau, or Suffolk county or any of the five New York City boroughs shall have a minimum budget of one million dollars. A "qualified film", whose majority of principal photography shooting days in the production of the qualified film are shot in any other county of the state than those listed in the preceding sentence shall have a minimum budget of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. "Qualified film" shall not include: (i) a television pilot, documentary film, news or current affairs program, interview or talk program, "how-to" (i.e., instructional) film or program, film or program consisting primarily of stock footage, sporting event or sporting program, game show, award ceremony, film or program intended primarily for industrial, corporate or institutional end-users, fundraising film or program, daytime drama (i.e., daytime "soap opera"), commercials, music videos or "reality" program; (ii) a production for which records are required under section 2257 of title 18, United States code, to be maintained with respect to any performer in such production (reporting of books, films, etc. with respect to sexually explicit conduct); or (iii) a television series commonly known as variety entertainment, variety sketch and variety talk, i.e., a program with components of improvisational or scripted content (monologues, sketches, interviews), either exclusively or in combination with other entertainment elements such as musical performances, dancing, cooking, crafts, pranks, stunts, and games and which may be further defined in regulations of the commissioner of economic development.

(4) "Film production facility" shall mean a building and/or complex of buildings and their improvements and associated back-lot facilities in which films are or are intended to be regularly produced and which contain at least one sound stage, provided, however, that an armory owned by the state or city of New York located in the city of New York shall not be considered to be a "film production facility" unless such facility is used by a qualified independent film production company.

(5) "Qualified film production facility" shall mean a film production facility in the state, which contains at least one sound stage having a minimum of seven thousand square feet of contiguous production space.

(6) "Qualified independent film production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual, that or who (i) is principally engaged in the production of a qualified film, (ii) is not publicly traded, and (iii) is not majority owned, fifty-one percent or more, by a company publicly traded on a United States stock exchange.

(7) "Relocated television series" shall mean the first two years of a regularly occurring production intended to run in its initial broadcast, regardless of the medium or mode of its distribution, in a series of narrative and/or thematically related episodes, each of which has a running time of at least thirty minutes in length (inclusive of commercial advertisement and interstitial programming, if any), which had filmed a minimum of six episodes of the television series outside the state immediately prior to relocating to the state, where the television series had a total minimum budget of at least one million dollars per episode. For the purposes of this definition only, a television series produced by and for media services providers described as streaming services and/or digital platforms (and excluding network/cable) shall mean a regularly occurring production intended to run in its initial release in a series of narrative and/or thematically related episodes, the aggregate length of which is at least seventy-five minutes, although the episodes themselves may vary in duration from the thirty minutes specified for network/cable production.

(8) "Qualified relocation costs" means the costs incurred, excluding wages, salaries and other compensation, in the first season that a relocated television series relocates to New York, including such costs incurred to transport sets, props and wardrobe to New York and other costs as determined by the department of economic development to the extent such costs do not exceed six million dollars.

(9) If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year is less than the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, any unused portion may be carried over and added to the aggregate amount of credits allowed in the next succeeding taxable year or years.

(c) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 20-a.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (gg-1).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the governor's office of motion picture and television development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for credit submitted to the governor's office of motion picture and television development.

(e) Allocation of credit. The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision twenty-a of section two hundred ten and subsection (gg-1) of section six hundred six of this chapter in any calendar year shall be (1) twenty million dollars for qualified films with a budget of less than ten million dollars of qualified production costs; and (2) eighty million dollars for qualified films with a budget of ten million dollars or more of qualified production costs. There shall be at least two application periods each year; such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the governor's office for motion picture and television development among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing of an application for allocation of the independent film production credit with such office within each application period. If the commissioner of economic development determines that the aggregate amount of tax credits available for an application period under paragraph one of this subdivision have been previously allocated, and determines that the pending applications from eligible applicants for the other application period in such calendar year is insufficient to utilize the balance of unallocated tax credits for such period, then such commissioner may allocate to productions eligible under such paragraph any credits that remain unallocated for such period pursuant to paragraph two of this subdivision. Provided, however, the total amount of allocated credits applied in any calendar year shall not exceed the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section.

(f) (1) The commissioner of economic development shall reduce by one-half of one percent the amount of credit allowed to a taxpayer and this reduced amount shall be reported on a certificate of tax credit issued pursuant to this section and the regulations promulgated by the commissioner of economic development to implement this credit program.

(2) By January thirty-first of each year, the commissioner of economic development shall report to the comptroller the total amount of such reductions of tax credit during the immediately preceding calendar year. On or before March thirty-first of each year, the comptroller shall transfer without appropriations from the general fund to the empire state entertainment diversity job training development fund established under section ninety-seven-ff of the state finance law an amount equal to the total amount of such reductions reported by the commissioner of economic development for the immediately preceding calendar year.

(g) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development pursuant to this section is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirements of this section, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

 § 25. Disclosure of certain transactions and related information.

(a) (1) Every taxpayer, or person as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of the internal revenue code, required to file a disclosure statement with the internal revenue service pursuant to section six thousand eleven of the internal revenue code, or the regulations promulgated thereunder, related to a reportable transaction or a listed transaction, as those terms are defined in such section or regulations, must attach a duplicate of such disclosure statement to the return or report required to be filed by such taxpayer or person for the taxable year under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, and provide such other information related to such disclosure as prescribed by the commissioner. Such disclosure shall be made notwithstanding that one member of an affiliated group, as defined by section fifteen hundred four of the internal revenue code, may file such disclosure statement with the internal revenue service on behalf of its affiliates including such taxpayer or person.

(2) Every taxpayer or such person who participates in a New York reportable transaction for a taxable year must disclose such participation with its return or report required to be filed under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter for the taxable year in a form prescribed by the commissioner, and provide such other information related to such transaction as prescribed by the commissioner. A New York reportable transaction is a transaction that has the potential to be a tax avoidance transaction as determined by the commissioner.

(3) The commissioner may in his discretion prescribe, by regulation, New York reportable transactions.

(4) Provided the commissioner has prescribed regulations pursuant to paragraph three of this subdivision the commissioner is authorized to designate specific transactions that are the same as, or substantially similar to, transactions that the commissioner has determined to be tax avoidance transactions. The provisions of article two of the state administrative procedure act shall not apply to the designation of a specific transaction as a tax avoidance transaction; provided, however, that the commissioner shall designate any such transaction by notice or other form of published guidance.

(b)(1) Every person required to make and file a statement or return pursuant to section six thousand one hundred eleven of the internal revenue code must file a duplicate of such statement or return, including all documentation submitted to the internal revenue service in connection with such statement or return, with the commissioner if any of the following conditions apply:

- (A) the person is organized in this state,
- (B) the person is doing business in this state,
- (C) the person is deriving income in this state, or

(D) (i) the list required to be maintained by such person pursuant to section six thousand one hundred twelve of the internal revenue code identifies or is required to identify a taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter, and

(ii) such person is a material advisor, as defined in section six thousand one hundred eleven of the internal revenue code, who provides any material aid, assistance, or advice with respect to organizing, managing, promoting, selling, implementing, or carrying out any reportable transaction.

(2) Such duplicate statement or return must be filed within sixty days of the later of:

(A) the date required for filing the statement or return with the internal revenue service,

(B) the date that any of the conditions described in paragraph (1) of this subdivision first applies, or

(C) ninety days after the enactment of this section.

(c) Every person who is required to maintain a list of persons pursuant to section six thousand one hundred twelve of the internal revenue code, or the regulations promulgated thereunder, must maintain a duplicate of such list if any of the conditions described in paragraph one of subdivision (b) of this section applies to such person and must furnish a copy thereof to the commissioner within twenty days after written request is made for such list by the commissioner.

(d) Every person required by this section to disclose any transaction, file any duplicate return, or maintain any list shall retain all relevant correspondence, memoranda, notes, valuation studies, meeting minutes, spreadsheets, models, opinions, records required to be retained pursuant to section six thousand eleven of the internal revenue code, or the regulations promulgated thereunder, and all other records or documents related to the disclosure, filing and list maintenance requirements of this section for six years and must make such information available for inspection by the commissioner in connection with any examination.

(e) The filing, disclosure and retention requirements of this section shall be in addition to any other filing, disclosure or retention requirements, general or specific, provided by law. The commissioner may require electronic filing or disclosure of any or all submissions required under this section, shall have the authority to prescribe whether a signature, including an electronic signature, is required on any or all filings or disclosures under this section. If an electronic signature is so required, it shall be in a form consistent with the provisions of the electronic signatures and records act of the state technology law.

(f)(1) The penalties imposed for a violation of subdivision (a) of this section are contained in subsection (x) of section six hundred eighty-five and subsection (p) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter.

(2) The penalties imposed for a violation of subdivision (b) of this section are contained in subsection (y) of section six hundred eighty-five and subsection (q) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter.

(3) The penalties imposed for a violation of subdivision (c) of this section are contained in subsection (z) of section six hundred eighty-five and subsection (r) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter.

* NB Repealed July 1, 2029

§ 26. Security training tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer, which is subject to tax under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter and which is a qualified building owner, shall be allowed a credit against such tax. The amount of the credit allowed under this section shall equal the sum of the number of qualified security officers providing protection to a building or buildings owned by the taxpayer multiplied by three thousand dollars. Provided, however, that in the case of a worker not so employed for a full year, such amount shall be prorated to reflect the length of such employment under regulations of the commissioner.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified building owner" means a building owner whose building entrances, exits and common areas are protected by security personnel, licensed under article seven-A of the general business law, whether or not such security personnel are employed directly by the building owner or indirectly through a contractor.

(2) "Qualified security training program" means a program for residential and commercial building security officers which is designed to: improve observation, detection and reporting skills, improve coordination with local police, fire and emergency services; provide and improve skills and working knowledge of advanced security technology including surveillance systems and access control procedures; require at least forty hours of training including three hours of training devoted to terrorism awareness; and has been certified as a qualified program and approved by the state office of homeland security pursuant to section seven hundred nine of the executive law.

(3) "Security officers" means security officers, registered under article seven-A of the general business law, responsible for the safety and security of tenants and occupants of commercial buildings over five hundred thousand square feet whether employed directly by a building owner or indirectly through a contractor.

(4) "Qualified security officers" are security officers who: (i) are employed in positions which are under a legally binding written agreement, including a service contract between qualified building owners and security contractors, enforceable by employees, that provides for a minimum hourly wage rate of at least nine dollars fifty cents for the calendar year two thousand five; nine dollars eighty-five cents for the calendar year two thousand six; and ten dollars eighty-five cents for the calendar year two thousand seven and thereafter; and (ii) have completed a qualified security training program as set forth in this section.

(c) Scope of credit. The credit provided for in subdivision (a) of this section shall be allowed for any taxable year in which costs relating to security personnel are paid or incurred.

(d) Credit certification. Upon application by a taxpayer, the state office of homeland security may issue a credit certification where the taxpayers meet the standards established in paragraph two of this subdivision and have demonstrated that they have provided the appropriate training, or, within the year, will provide the appropriate training to all employees for whom they will claim the credit.

(e) The director of the office of homeland security in consultation with the commissioner of taxation and finance, shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary to implement this program.

(f) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9: section 187-n.
- (2) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 21.
- (3) article 22: section 606: subsection (ii).
- (4) article 33: section 1511: subdivision (x).

§ 27. Suspension of tax-exempt status of terrorist organizations. 1.

An organization that is removed from the tax-exempt organizations list by the internal revenue service pursuant to subsection (p) of section 501 of title 26 of the United States Code shall not be exempt from any tax, fee or other imposition administered by the commissioner, and it shall also not be an exempt organization with respect to any sale, transfer or assignment, beginning on the later of November eleventh, two thousand three, or the date that the internal revenue service publishes revocation of the organization's tax-exempt status. In the case of any personal income or corporate franchise tax imposed under or pursuant to the authority of this chapter, such revocation of exempt status shall apply with respect to the entire taxable year in which the date of revocation occurs and to subsequent taxable years.

2. An organization whose tax-exempt status has been revoked pursuant to subdivision one of this section and whose tax-exempt status is later restored by the internal revenue service shall be required to submit a new application or applications and be approved before any such status shall be restored with respect to any such tax, fee or other imposition administered by the commissioner.

3. An organization whose tax-exempt status is suspended pursuant to subdivision one of this section shall have the right to appeal the determination using the procedure prescribed by article forty of this chapter or otherwise prescribed pursuant to this chapter, provided that the organization cannot challenge the merits of the determination made by the internal revenue service.

4. If an organization makes a sale of property or services on or after the date its exempt status has been revoked under subdivision one of this section, such sale shall be taxable; and the organization shall be required to collect, pay or pay over any tax due on any such sale on or after such date. If such organization fails to collect tax on any such sale, the purchaser shall owe any tax due and shall pay it directly to the commissioner in accordance with applicable law; provided, however, that, if such purchaser does not have knowledge that such organization's exempt status has been revoked, then such purchaser shall not be liable for any penalty or interest for failing to file a return or to pay such tax if such purchaser files such a return and pays such tax due within thirty days of the date that such purchaser learns that the tax is owed on such purchase.

 § 28. Empire state commercial production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. (1) A taxpayer which is a qualified commercial production company, or which is a sole proprietor of a qualified commercial production company, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section, to be computed as provided in this section. Provided, however, to be eligible for such credit, at least seventy-five percent of the production costs (excluding post production costs) paid or incurred directly and predominantly in the actual filming or recording of the qualified commercial must be costs incurred in New York state. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall apply to taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-nine.

(2) The state has annually seven million dollars in total tax credits to disburse to all eligible commercial production companies. The seven million dollars in total tax credits shall be allocated according to subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of this paragraph:

(i) The state annually will disburse four million of the total seven million in tax credits to all eligible production companies who film or record qualified commercials within the metropolitan commuter transportation district as defined in section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law. The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of twenty percent of the qualified production costs paid or incurred in the production of a qualified commercial, provided that the qualified production costs paid or incurred are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within the state in the production of such qualified commercial. To be eligible for said credit the total qualified production costs of a qualified production company must be greater than five hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate during the calendar year. Such credit will be applied to qualified production costs exceeding five hundred thousand dollars in a calendar year.

(ii) The state annually will disburse three million of the total seven million in tax credits to all eligible production companies who film or record a qualified commercial outside of the metropolitan commuter transportation district as defined in section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law; provided, however, that if, after July thirty-first the state reviews all applications from eligible production companies who film or record a qualified commercial outside of the metropolitan commuter district for a given year, tax credits remain unallocated under this subparagraph, those credits shall be allotted to the credits set forth in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph for use consistent with the purposes of such subparagraph. The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of thirty percent of the qualified production costs paid or incurred in the production of a qualified commercial, provided that the qualified production costs paid or incurred are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within the state in the production of such qualified commercial. To be eligible for said credit the total qualified production costs of a qualified production company must be greater than one hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate during the calendar year. Such credit will be applied to all qualified production costs in a calendar year.

(3) No qualified production costs used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided for under this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(4) Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, a corporation or partnership, which otherwise qualifies as a qualified commercial production company, and is similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity or entities taxable, or previously taxable, under section one hundred eighty-three or one hundred eighty-four or former section one hundred eighty-five of article nine; article nine-A or thirty-three of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under article twenty-three of this chapter (as such article was in effect on January first, nineteen hundred eighty) or which would have been subject to tax under article thirty-two of this chapter (as such article was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen) or the income or losses of which is or was includable under article twenty-two of this chapter shall not be deemed a new or separate business, and therefore shall not be eligible for empire state commercial production benefits, if it was not formed for a valid business purpose, as such term is defined in clause (D) of subparagraph one of paragraph (o) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this chapter and was formed solely to gain empire state commercial production credit benefits.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified production costs" means production costs only to the extent such costs are attributable to the use of tangible property or the performance of services within the state directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post-production) of a qualified commercial.

(2) "Production costs" means any costs for tangible property used and services performed directly and predominantly in the production (including pre-production and post-production) of a qualified commercial. "Production costs" shall not include (i) costs for a story, script or scenario to be used for a qualified commercial and (ii) wages or salaries or other compensation for writers, directors, including music directors, producers and performers (other than background actors with no scripted lines who are employed by a qualified company and musicians). "Production costs" generally include technical and crew production costs, such as expenditures for commercial production facilities and/or location costs, or any part thereof, film, audiotape, videotape or digital medium, props, makeup, wardrobe, commercial processing, camera, sound recording, scoring, set construction, lighting, shooting, editing and meals. For purposes of this section, "post production costs" include the production of original content for a qualified commercial employing techniques traditionally used in post-production for visual effects, graphic design, animation, and musical composition. However, where the commercial consists in its entirety of techniques such as visual effects, graphic design, or animation, such costs incurred in the production of the commercial, when occurring in New York, shall be deemed qualified production costs for the purposes of this section. Provided further, however, that "post production costs" shall not include the editing of previously produced content for a qualified commercial.

(3) "Qualified commercial" means an advertisement of any length that is recorded on film, audiotape, videotape or digital medium in New York for multi-market distribution by way of radio, television networks, cable, satellite, motion picture theaters or internet. "Qualified commercial" shall not include (i) news or current affairs program, interview or talk program, network promos, i.e., commercials promoting television series or movies, "how-to" (i.e., instructional) commercial or program, commercial or program consisting entirely of stock footage, trailers promoting theatrical films, sporting event or sporting program, game show, award ceremony, daytime drama (i.e., daytime "soap opera"), or "reality" program, or (ii) a production for which records are required under section 2257 of title 18, United States code, to be maintained with respect to any performer in such production (reporting of books, commercials, etc. with respect to sexually explicit conduct).

(4) "Qualified commercial production company" is a corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity or individual which or who is principally engaged in the production of a qualified commercial and controls the production of the qualified commercial and is not the distributor, or the contracting entity for production of such commercial, nor is a variable interest entity of such distributor or contracting entity.

(c) The department of economic development shall submit, on or before December first of each year, to the governor, the director of the division of the budget, the temporary president of the senate, and the speaker of the assembly an annual report including, but not limited to, the following information regarding the previous calendar year:

(1) the total dollar amount of credits allocated, the name and address of each qualified commercial production company allocated credits under this section, the total amount of credits allocated to each qualified commercial production company, the total amount of qualified production costs and production costs for each qualified commercial production company, and the estimated number of employees, credit-eligible man hours, and credit-eligible wages associated with each qualified commercial production company allocated credits under this section;

(2) for qualified commercial production companies that were allocated credit pursuant to subparagraph (i) of paragraph two of subdivision (a) of this section: the name and address of each qualified commercial production company, the total dollar amount of credits allocated, the total amount of credits allocated to each qualified commercial production company, total qualified production costs and production costs for each qualified production company, and the estimated number of employees, credit-eligible man hours, and credit-eligible wages associated with each qualified commercial production company that filmed or recorded a qualified commercial within the district;

(3) for qualified commercial production companies that were allocated credit pursuant to subparagraph (ii) of paragraph two of subdivision (a) of this section: the name and address of each qualified commercial production company, the total dollar amount of credits allocated, the total amount of credits allocated to each qualified commercial production company, total qualified production costs and production costs for each qualified production company, and the estimated number of employees, credit-eligible man hours, and credit-eligible wages associated with each qualified commercial production company that filmed or recorded a qualified commercial outside the district; and

(4) the amount of credits reallocated to all eligible qualified commercial production companies pursuant to subparagraph (ii) of paragraph two of subdivision (a) of this section.

(5) The report may also include any recommendations for changes in the calculation or administration of the credit, recommendations regarding continuing modification or repeal of this credit, and any other information regarding this credit as may be useful and appropriate.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provision of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 23.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (jj).

* NB There are 2 § 28's

 § 28. Biofuel production credit. (a) General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine, nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (d) of this section. The credit (or pro rata share of earned credit in the case of a partnership) for each gallon of biofuel produced at a biofuel plant on or after January first, two thousand six shall equal fifteen cents per gallon after the production of the first forty thousand gallons per year presented to market. The credit under this section shall be capped at two and one-half million dollars per taxpayer per taxable year for up to no more than four consecutive taxable years per biofuel plant. If the taxpayer is a partner in a partnership or shareholder of a New York S corporation, then the cap imposed by the preceding sentence shall be applied at the entity level, so that the aggregate credit allowed to all the partners or shareholders of each such entity in the taxable year does not exceed two and one-half million dollars. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall apply to taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Biofuel" means a fuel which includes biodiesel and ethanol. The term "biodiesel" shall mean a fuel comprised exclusively of mono-alkyl esters of long chain fatty acids derived from vegetable oils or animal fats, designated B100, which meets the specifications of American Society of Testing and Materials designation D 6751-02. The term "ethanol" shall mean ethyl alcohol manufactured in the United States and its territories and sold (i) for fuel use and which has been rendered unfit for beverage use in a manner and which is produced at a facility approved by the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco and firearms for the production of ethanol for fuel, or (ii) as denatured ethanol used by blenders and refiners which has been rendered unfit for beverage use. The term "biofuel" may also include any other standard approved by the New York state energy and research development authority.

(2) "Biofuel plant" means a commercial facility located in New York state at which one or more biofuels are produced.

(c) Reporting requirements. A taxpayer wishing to claim a credit under this section shall annually certify to the commissioner (i) that biofuel produced at the eligible biofuel plant meets all existing standards for biofuel and (ii) the amount of biofuel produced at the eligible biofuel plant during a taxable year.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article 9: Section 187-c.

(2) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 24.

(3) Article 22: Section 606, subsections (i) and (jj).

* NB There are 2 § 28's

 § 29. Mandatory electronic filing and payment. (a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the specified meanings:

(1) "Authorized tax document" means a tax document which the commissioner has authorized to be filed electronically, provided however that any return or report that includes one or more tax documents that cannot be filed electronically shall not be deemed to be an authorized tax document for purposes of this section.

(2) "Electronic" means computer technology.

(3) "Original tax document" means a tax document that is filed during the calendar year for which that tax document is required or permitted to be filed.

(4) "Tax" means any tax or other matter administered by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law.

(5) "Tax document" means a return, report or any other document relating to a tax or other matter administered by the commissioner.

(6) "Tax return preparer" means any person who prepares for compensation, or who employs or engages one or more persons to prepare for compensation, any authorized tax document. For purposes of this section, the term "tax return preparer" also includes a payroll service.

(7) "Tax software" means any computer software program intended for tax return preparation purposes. For purposes of this section, the term "tax software" includes, but is not limited to, an off-the-shelf software program loaded onto a tax return preparer's or taxpayer's computer, an online tax preparation application, or a tax preparation application hosted by the department.

(b) (1) If a tax return preparer prepared more than one hundred original tax documents during any calendar year beginning on or after January first, two thousand seven, and if, in any succeeding calendar year that tax return preparer prepares one or more authorized tax documents using tax software, then, for that succeeding calendar year and for each subsequent calendar year thereafter, all authorized tax documents prepared by that tax return preparer must be filed electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(2) If a tax return preparer prepared authorized tax documents for more than ten different taxpayers during any calendar year beginning on or after January first, two thousand twelve, and if in any succeeding calendar year that tax return preparer prepares one or more authorized tax documents using tax software, then, for such succeeding calendar year and for each subsequent calendar year thereafter, all authorized tax documents prepared by that tax return preparer must be filed electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(c) If a taxpayer does not utilize a tax return preparer to prepare an authorized tax document, but instead prepares that document itself using tax software, then all authorized tax documents prepared by the taxpayer using tax software must be filed electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(d) The commissioner may require tax liability or other amount due shown on, or required to be paid with, an authorized tax document required to be filed electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section to be paid by the taxpayer electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(e) Failure to electronically file or electronically pay. (1) If a tax return preparer is required to file authorized tax documents electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section, and that preparer fails to file one or more of those documents electronically, then that preparer will be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each failure to electronically file an authorized tax document, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect.

(2) If a taxpayer is required to electronically file any authorized tax documents or electronically pay any tax liability or other amount due shown on, or required to be paid with, an authorized tax document required to be filed electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, and that taxpayer fails to electronically file one or more of those tax documents or electronically pay one or more of those liabilities or other amounts due, then that taxpayer will be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each failure to electronically file any authorized tax document or electronically pay any tax, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect. In addition, any taxpayer that fails to electronically file an authorized tax document for any tax will be subject to the penalty imposed under the applicable article for the failure to file a return or report, whether a paper return or report has been filed or not. Provided, however, that this subdivision shall not apply to an individual taxpayer with respect to his or her personal tax documents that are required by or pursuant to the authority of article twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A or thirty-B of this chapter.

(3) The penalties provided for by this subdivision must be paid upon notice and demand, and will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the tax to which the electronic transaction relates. However, if the electronic transaction relates to another matter administered by the commissioner, then the penalty will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as prescribed by article twenty-seven of this chapter.

(4) If a taxpayer or tax return preparer fails to electronically file an authorized tax document when required to do so pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, the taxpayer shall not be eligible to receive interest on any overpayment in accordance with the overpayment provisions of this chapter until such document is filed electronically. Provided, however, that this subdivision shall not apply to an individual taxpayer with respect to his or her personal tax documents that are required by or pursuant to the authority of article twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A or thirty-B of this chapter.

(f) The provisions of sections nine and ten of this chapter are not affected by this section and will remain in full force and effect.

(g) The commissioner is authorized to promulgate any regulations necessary to implement this section.

* NB Effective until December 31, 2029

* § 29. Mandatory electronic filing and payment. (a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the specified meanings:

(1) "Authorized tax document" means a tax document which the commissioner has authorized to be filed electronically.

(2) "Electronic" means computer technology.

(3) "Original tax document" means a tax document that is filed during the calendar year for which that tax document is required or permitted to be filed.

(4) "Tax" means any tax or other matter administered by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law; provided, however, that the term "tax" does not include the taxes imposed by, or pursuant to the authority of, articles twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A or thirty-B of this chapter.

(5) "Tax document" means a return, report or any other document relating to a tax or other matter administered by the commissioner.

(6) "Tax return preparer" means any person who prepares for compensation, or who employs or engages one or more persons to prepare for compensation, any authorized tax document. For purposes of this section, the term "tax return preparer" also includes a payroll service.

(7) "Tax software" means any computer software program intended for tax return preparation purposes. For purposes of this section, the term "tax software" includes, but is not limited to, an off-the-shelf software program loaded onto a tax return preparer's or taxpayer's computer, an online tax preparation application, or a tax preparation application hosted by the department.

(b) If a tax return preparer prepared more than one hundred original tax documents during any calendar year beginning on or after January first, two thousand seven, and if, in any succeeding calendar year that tax return preparer prepares one or more authorized tax documents using tax software, then, for that succeeding calendar year and for each subsequent calendar year thereafter, all authorized tax documents prepared by that tax return preparer must be filed electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(c) If a taxpayer does not utilize a tax return preparer to prepare an authorized tax document during any calendar year beginning on or after January first, two thousand eight, but instead prepares that document itself using tax software, then, for that calendar year and for each subsequent calendar year thereafter, all authorized tax documents prepared by the taxpayer using tax software must be filed electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(d) Any tax liability or other amount due shown on, or required to be paid with, an authorized tax document required to be filed electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section must be paid by the taxpayer electronically, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(e) Failure to electronically file or electronically pay. (1) If a tax return preparer is required to file authorized tax documents electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) of this section, and that preparer fails to file one or more of those documents electronically, then that preparer will be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each failure to electronically file an authorized tax document, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect.

(2) If a taxpayer is required to electronically pay any tax liability or other amount due shown on, or required to be paid with, an authorized tax document required to be filed electronically pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c) of this section, and that taxpayer fails to electronically pay one or more of those liabilities or other amounts due, then that taxpayer will be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each failure to electronically pay.

(3) The penalties provided for by this subdivision must be paid upon notice and demand, and will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the tax to which the electronic transaction relates. However, if the electronic transaction relates to another matter administered by the commissioner, then the penalty will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as prescribed by article twenty-seven of this chapter.

(f) The provisions of sections nine and ten of this chapter are not affected by this section and will remain in full force and effect.

(g) The commissioner is authorized to promulgate any regulations necessary to implement this section.

* NB Effective December 31, 2029

§ 30. Bad check or failed electronic funds withdrawal fee. If, in payment of any amount due under a tax, fee, special assessment or other imposition administered by the commissioner, a person tenders a check or money order to the department, or the department, with the consent of a person, originates an electronic funds withdrawal against the designated bank account, and the check, money order or electronic funds withdrawal, as applicable, is returned without payment, the person must pay a fee to the commissioner of fifty dollars; provided, however, that in the case of an electronic funds withdrawal, the fee will not be paid if the reason for return of the payment is attributable to error of the department or its originating depository financial institution. The fee must be paid upon notice and demand, and will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the tax, fee, special assessment or other imposition to which the payment relates. All fees collected by the commissioner pursuant to this subdivision must be deposited monthly, to the credit of the general fund of the state. The commissioner will maintain a system of accounts showing the amount of money collected from the fee imposed by this section.

 § 31. Excelsior jobs program credit. (a) General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (g) of this section. The amount of the credit, allowable for up to ten consecutive taxable years, is the sum of the following four credit components:

- (1) the excelsior jobs tax credit component;
- (2) the excelsior investment tax credit component;
- (2-a) the excelsior child care services tax credit component;
- (3) the excelsior research and development tax credit component; and
- (4) the excelsior real property tax credit component.

(b) To be eligible for the excelsior jobs program credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a "certificate of tax credit" by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision four of section three hundred fifty-four of the economic development law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of each credit component that may be claimed for the taxable year. A taxpayer may claim such credit for ten consecutive taxable years commencing in the first taxable year that the taxpayer receives a certificate of tax credit or the first taxable year listed on its preliminary schedule of benefits, whichever is later, provided that no tax credits may be allowed for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand forty. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for that taxable year. Such certificate must be attached to the taxpayer's return. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer shall be the basis for more than one component of this credit or any other tax credit, except as provided in section three hundred fifty-five of the economic development law.

(c) Election of credit. A taxpayer who or which is qualified to claim the excelsior investment tax credit component and is also qualified to claim the investment tax credit provided for under subdivision one of section two hundred ten-B or subsection (a) of section six hundred six of this chapter, may claim either the excelsior investment tax credit component or the investment tax credit, but not both with regard to a particular piece of property. In addition, a taxpayer who or which is qualified to claim the excelsior investment tax credit component and is also qualified to claim the brownfield tangible property credit component under section twenty-one of this article, as added by chapter one of the laws of two thousand three, may claim either the excelsior investment tax credit component or such tangible property credit component, but not both with regard to a particular piece of property. The election to claim the excelsior investment tax credit component, the investment tax credit or the brownfield tangible property credit component, with regard to the same property, is irrevocable.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the excelsior jobs program;

(2) information regarding the component or components of the credit applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for the credit or who are claiming the credit; and

(3) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the excelsior jobs program.

Other than the information required to be contained in the report issued pursuant to subdivision (e) of this section, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Excelsior jobs program credit report. (1) The commissioner must publish an excelsior jobs program tax credit report annually by June thirtieth. The first report must be published by June thirtieth, two thousand twelve.

(2) The credit report must contain the following information about the excelsior jobs program tax credit claimed under this chapter during the previous calendar year:

(i) the name of each taxpayer claiming a credit; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the name of each limited liability company, partnership or subchapter S corporation earning any of the credit must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit; and

(ii) the amount of each credit component earned by each taxpayer; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the amount of credit earned by each entity must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit.

(3) The credit report may also contain any other information received by the commissioner with regard to the excelsior jobs program credit that the commissioner deems to be useful in evaluating the use of the credit. The information included in the credit report will be based on the information filed with the department during the previous calendar year, to the extent that it is practicable to use that information.

(f) Credit recapture. If a certificate of eligibility or a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article seventeen of the economic development law is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirement set forth in subdivision six of section three hundred fifty-three of the economic development law, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(f-1) Credit recapture for unrealized job creation. If, in any given year, a taxpayer who has satisfied the eligibility criteria specified in section three hundred fifty-three of the economic development law realizes job creation less than the estimated amount, the credit described in this section allowed in that year shall be reduced by the proportion of actual job creation to the estimated amount, provided the proportion is at least seventy-five percent of the jobs estimated.

(g) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(2) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 31.

(3) article 22: section 606: subsection (qq).

(4) article 33: section 1511: subdivision (y).

* NB There are 2 § 31's

 § 31. Empire state film post production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. (1) A taxpayer which is a qualified film production company, and which is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, unless eligible for the credit under section twenty-four of this article with respect to the qualified film, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section to be computed as provided in this subdivision.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of thirty percent and the qualified post production costs paid in the production of a qualified film at a qualified post production facility located within the metropolitan commuter transportation district as defined in section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law or thirty-five percent and the qualified post production costs paid in the production of a qualified film at a qualified post production facility located elsewhere in the state.

(3) (i) A taxpayer shall not be eligible for the credit established by this section for qualified post production costs, excluding the costs for visual effects and animation, unless the qualified post production costs, excluding the costs for visual effects and animation, at a qualified post production facility meet or exceed one million dollars or seventy-five percent of the total post production costs, excluding the costs for visual effects and animation, paid or incurred in the post production of the qualified film at any post production facility, whichever is less. (ii) A taxpayer shall not be eligible for the credit established by this section for qualified post production costs which are costs for visual effects or animation unless the qualified post production costs for visual effects or animation at a qualified post production facility meet or exceed five hundred thousand dollars or ten percent of the total post production costs for visual effects or animation paid or incurred in the post production of a qualified film at any post production facility, whichever is less. (iii) A taxpayer may claim a credit for qualified post production costs excluding the costs for visual effects and animation, and for qualified post production costs of visual effects and animation, provided that the criteria in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of this paragraph are both satisfied. The credit shall be allowed for the taxable year in which the production of such qualified film is completed.

(4) No qualified post production costs used by a taxpayer either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided for under this section shall be used by such taxpayer to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(5) If the amount of the credit is at least one million dollars but less than five million dollars, the credit shall be claimed over a two year period beginning in the first taxable year in which the credit may be claimed and in the next succeeding taxable year, with one-half of the amount of credit allowed being claimed in each year. If the amount of the credit is at least five million dollars, the credit shall be claimed over a three year period beginning in the first taxable year in which the credit may be claimed and in the next two succeeding taxable years, with one-third of the amount of the credit allowed being claimed in each year. Provided, however, in the case of a qualified film for which the taxpayer filed an initial application on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the credit shall be claimed for the taxable year in which such qualified film is completed.

(6) For the period two thousand fifteen through two thousand thirty-six, in addition to the amount of credit established in paragraph two of this subdivision, a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit equal to the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a member of a partnership) of ten percent and the amount of wages or salaries paid to individuals directly employed (excluding those employed as writers, directors, composers, producers and performers, other than background actors with no scripted lines) for services performed by those individuals in one of the counties specified in this paragraph in connection with the post production work on a qualified film with a minimum budget of five hundred thousand dollars at a qualified post production facility in one of the counties listed in this paragraph. For purposes of this additional credit, the services must be performed in one or more of the following counties: Albany, Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Genesee, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Niagara, Oneida, Onondaga, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, Oswego, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Seneca, St. Lawrence, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wyoming, or Yates.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Qualified film production company" and "qualified film" shall have the same meaning as are ascribed to such terms by section twenty-four of this article.

(2) "Qualified production costs" means production of original content for a qualified film employing traditional, emerging and new workflow techniques used in post-production for picture, sound and music editorial, rerecording and mixing, visual effects, graphic design, original scoring, animation, and musical composition in the state; but shall not include the editing of previously produced content for a qualified film.

(3) "Post production facility" means a building and/or complex of buildings and their improvements on which film are intended to be post produced.

(4) "Qualified post production facility" means a post production facility located in the state, engaged in finishing a qualified film.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the aggregate amount of tax credits available under this section shall not exceed the amounts allowed pursuant to paragraph four of subdivision (e) of section twenty-four of this article and shall be allocated in the same manner as provided for in paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section twenty-four of this article.

(d) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 32.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (qq).

(e) With regard to certificates of tax credit issued on or after January first, two thousand twenty, the commissioner of economic development shall reduce by one-quarter of one percent the amount of credit allowed to a taxpayer and this reduced amount shall be reported on a certificate of tax credit issued pursuant to this section and the regulations promulgated by the commissioner of economic development to implement this credit program. Such reductions in tax credit shall be deposited into the empire state entertainment diversity job training development fund as provided in subdivision (f) of section twenty-four of this article.

(f) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development pursuant to this section is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirements of this section, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

* NB There are 2 § 31's

§ 32. Registration of tax return preparers. (a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the specified meanings:

(1) "Attorney" means an attorney admitted to practice law in New York state or one or more of the other states or jurisdictions of the United States.

(2) "Certified public accountant" means an accountant licensed pursuant to section seventy-four hundred four of the education law or a similar law of one or more of the other states or jurisdictions of the United States.

(3) "Commercial tax return preparer" means a tax return preparer who:

(A) prepared ten or more returns for compensation in the preceding calendar year and will prepare at least one return for compensation during the current calendar year; or (B) prepared fewer than ten returns in the preceding calendar year but will prepare ten or more returns for the current calendar year.

(4) "Commercial tax return preparation business" means an entity that employs individuals who prepare tax returns and that meets the thresholds described in paragraph three of this subdivision.

(5) "Creditor" means any person who makes a refund anticipation loan or who takes an assignment of a refund anticipation loan.

(6) "Facilitator" means a person who individually or in conjunction or cooperation with another person: (a) solicits the execution of, processes, receives, or accepts an application or agreement for a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check, (b) serves or collects upon a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check; or (c) in any other manner facilitates the making of a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check. This term excludes any employees of a facilitator who provide only clerical or other comparable support services to such facilitator.

(7) "Electronic" means computer technology.

(8) "Enrolled agent" means an agent enrolled to practice before the internal revenue service pursuant to section 10.4 of subpart A of part ten of title thirty-one of the code of federal regulations.

(9) "Public accountant" means an accountant licensed pursuant to section seventy-four hundred five of the education law or a similar law of one or more of the other states or jurisdictions of the United States.

(10) "Refund anticipation check" means a check, stored value card, or other payment mechanism which: (a) represents the proceeds of a tax refund; (b) was issued by a depository institution or other person that received a direct deposit of the tax refund or tax credits; and (c) a fee or other consideration is paid for such payment mechanism.

(11) "Refund anticipation loan" means a loan that is secured by or that the creditor arranges to be repaid directly or indirectly from the proceeds of an income tax refund or tax credits. A refund anticipation loan also includes any sale, assignment, or purchase of tax refund at a discount or for a fee, whether or not the amount is required to be repaid to the buyer or assignee if the internal revenue service or the department denies or reduces the amount of the tax refund.

(12) "Return" means a return or report relating to a tax administered by the commissioner.

(13) "Tax" means any tax, fee, special assessment or other imposition administered by the commissioner.

(14) "Tax return preparer" means an individual who prepares a substantial portion of any return for compensation. Employees of a tax return preparer or a commercial tax return preparation business who prepare returns for clients of that preparer or preparation business, as applicable, and partners who prepare returns for clients of a partnership engaged in a commercial tax return preparation business, are all "tax return preparers" for purposes of this section. Excluded from the definition of "tax return preparer" are attorneys, public accountants, enrolled agents, and certified public accountants, and employees of an attorney, public accountant, enrolled agent, certified public accountant, or firm thereof preparing returns under the supervision of such attorneys, public accountants, certified public accountants and enrolled agents or firms thereof. Also excluded are volunteer tax preparers, employees of a business or partners in a partnership whose job responsibilities include preparation of only the business' or partnership's returns, and employees of a tax return preparer or a commercial tax return preparation business who provides only clerical or other comparable services.

(b)(1) Each tax return preparer, who will prepare at least one return in a calendar year, and each facilitator, who will facilitate the making of a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check, must register electronically with the department for that calendar year, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(2)(A) Upon completion of the registration process, each tax return preparer and facilitator will be issued a tax preparer or facilitator registration certificate. If an individual acts as both a tax return preparer and a facilitator, one registration certificate shall indicate both activities.

(B) In accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner, each tax return preparer and facilitator will also be assigned a unique identification number by the department, which must be used by the tax return preparer and facilitator on each return which the tax return preparer is required to sign and each refund anticipation loan and refund anticipation check the facilitator is required to sign.

(C) If a tax return preparer or facilitator is an employee or prospective employee of a tax return preparer, a commercial tax return preparation business, or a facilitator, the tax return preparer, commercial tax return preparation business or facilitator must ensure that the employee or prospective employee is properly registered with the department and possesses a valid tax preparer or facilitator registration certificate. If an individual acts as both a tax return preparer and a facilitator one registration certificate shall indicate both activities.

(3) Each registered tax return preparer and facilitator must electronically re-register with the department annually, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner. If, at any time during the year following registration or re-registration, as applicable, any information provided by the tax return preparer or facilitator upon registration or re-registration is no longer correct, the tax return preparer or facilitator must update his or her information in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(4) Each tax return preparer preparing any return must sign the document and include the unique identification number specified in paragraph two of this subdivision, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(c)(1) Each commercial tax return preparer must electronically pay an annual fee of one hundred dollars to the department, in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner. Registration of a commercial tax return preparer is not complete until payment of the fee is made.

(2) All fees received by the commissioner pursuant to this subdivision, reduced by those amounts the commissioner determines are necessary to cover administrative costs to administer the registration program prescribed by this section and the costs of any reimbursements to commercial tax return preparers that may be required due to duplicative fee payments under this subdivision, must be deposited monthly to the credit of the general fund of the state. The commissioner will maintain a system of accounts showing the amount of money collected and disbursed from the fee imposed by this subdivision.

(d) The issuance of a tax preparer or facilitator registration certificate to provide tax preparation services or refund anticipation loan services is not, and must not be advertised as, an endorsement by the department of the tax return preparer or the facilitator, or his or her qualifications or the services rendered by him or her.

(e) A tax return preparer who has not registered with the department, or a commercial tax return preparer who has not paid the required registration fee, will not be allowed to represent his or her clients before the division of taxation or the division of tax appeals. This sanction is in addition to any penalties which may be imposed pursuant to subdivision (f) of this section.

(f) (1) A tax return preparer or facilitator shall not: (A) charge or impose any fee, charge or other consideration in the making or facilitating of a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check apart from the fee charged by the creditor or bank that provided the loan or check;

(B) Engage in unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the facilitating of a refund anticipation check or a refund anticipation loan, including making any oral statements contradicting any of the information required to be disclosed under the Taxpayer Bill of Rights as set forth in sections three hundred seventy-one through three hundred seventy-three of the general business law;

(C) Directly or indirectly arrange for a third party to charge any interest, fee or charge related to a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check;

(D) Include any of the following provisions in any documents provided or signed to obtain a refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check, including the loan application or agreement: (i) a hold harmless clause; (ii) a confession of judgment clause; (iii) a waiver of the right to a jury trial; (iv) any assignment of or order for payment of wages or other compensation for services; (v) a waiver of any provision of the Taxpayer Bill of Rights, as set forth in sections three hundred seventy-one through three hundred seventy-three of the general business law; or (vi) a waiver of the right to injunctive, declaratory, other equitable relief, or relief on a classwide basis. Any aforementioned waivers shall be deemed null, void and of no effect;

(E) Take or arrange for a creditor to take a security interest in any property interest of the taxpayer other than the proceeds of the tax refund to secure payment of a refund anticipation loan;

(F) Directly or indirectly, individually or in conjunction or cooperation with another person, engage in the collection of an outstanding or delinquent refund anticipation loan for any creditor or assignee;

(G) Make a misrepresentation of fact in obtaining or attempting to obtain a registration; or

(H) Engage in any other action prohibited by rules promulgated by the commissioner.

(2) If a tax return preparer violates any one of the provisions provided for in this subdivision, then the tax return preparer must pay a penalty of five hundred dollars for each such violation, in addition to any other penalties provided for in this section.

(g) (1) The department shall issue a notice to a tax return preparer or facilitator for failure to register or re-register with the department pursuant to paragraph one or three of subdivision (b) of this section, which shall set forth a fifteen day period to cure the failure to register or re-register. The commissioner is authorized to send such notice electronically to the tax return preparer's or facilitator's online services account. A tax return preparer or facilitator who fails to register or re-register in accordance with such notice must pay a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars. The penalty can be waived only for good cause shown by the tax return preparer or facilitator.

(2) The department shall issue a notice to a commercial tax return preparer who fails to pay the fee as required in paragraph one of subdivision (c) of this section, for a calendar year, which shall set forth a fifteen day period to cure the failure to pay the fee. The commissioner is authorized to send such notice electronically to the commercial tax return preparer's online services account. A commercial tax return preparer who fails to pay the fee in accordance with such notice must pay a penalty of fifty dollars for each return the commercial tax return preparer has filed with the department in that calendar year. The maximum penalty that may be imposed under this paragraph on any commercial tax return preparer during any calendar year must not exceed five thousand dollars. The penalty can be waived only for good cause shown by the commercial tax return preparer.

(3) If a tax return preparer fails to sign his or her name to any return that requires the tax return preparer's signature, or a facilitator fails to sign his or her name to any refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check facilitation documentation, then the tax return preparer or facilitator must pay a penalty in the amount of two hundred fifty dollars for each failure to so sign. Provided, however, that this penalty can be waived only for good cause shown by the tax return preparer or facilitator.

The maximum penalty imposed under this paragraph on any tax return preparer with respect to returns filed during any calendar year by the tax return preparer, or on any facilitator with respect to any refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check facilitation documentation completed during any calendar year by the facilitator must not exceed ten thousand dollars. Provided, however, that if a tax return preparer or facilitator has been penalized under this paragraph for a preceding calendar year and again fails to sign his or her name on any return that requires the tax return preparer's signature or again fails to sign his or her name on any refund anticipation loan or refund anticipation check facilitation documentation during a subsequent calendar year, then the penalty under this paragraph for each failure will be five hundred dollars, and no annual cap will apply.

(4) If a tax return preparer or a facilitator fails to include the unique identification number assigned by the department pursuant to subparagraph (B) of paragraph two of subdivision (b) of this section on any return, or any return anticipation loan or return anticipation check facilitation documentation that requires his or her signature, then the tax return preparer or facilitator must pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each failure to include his or her unique identification number. Provided, however, that this penalty can be waived only for good cause shown by the tax return preparer or facilitator. The maximum penalty imposed under this paragraph on any tax return preparer or facilitator with respect to returns filed during any calendar year must not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars; provided, however, that if a tax return preparer or facilitator has been penalized under this paragraph for a preceding calendar year and again fails to include the unique identification number on one or more returns during a subsequent calendar year, then the penalty under this paragraph for each failure will be two hundred fifty dollars, and no annual cap will apply.

(5) If a tax return preparer, facilitator or a commercial tax return preparation business employs an individual to prepare tax returns who is not registered with the department and does not possess a valid tax preparer or facilitator registration certificate, then the tax return preparer, facilitator or commercial tax return preparation business, as applicable, will be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars per occurrence. This penalty can be waived only for good cause shown.

(6) The penalties provided for by this subdivision must be paid upon notice and demand and will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as taxes under article twenty-seven of this chapter.

(h) (1) Tax return preparers and facilitators must prominently and conspicuously display a copy of their registration certificate issued pursuant to this section, for the current registration period, at their place of business and at any other location where they provide tax return preparation and/or facilitation services, in an area where taxpayers using their services are able to see and review such registration certificate.

(2) Tax return preparers and facilitators must prominently and conspicuously display at their place of business and at any other location where they provide tax return preparation and/or facilitation services the following documents:

(A) a current price list, in at least fourteen-point type, that includes, but is not limited to, a list of all services offered by the tax return preparer and/or facilitator; the minimum fee charged for each service, including the fee charged for each type of federal or New York state tax return to be prepared and facilitation service to be provided; and a list of each factor that may increase a stated fee and the specific additional fees or range of possible additional fees when each factor applies; and

(B) a copy of the most recent Consumer Bill of Rights Regarding Tax Preparers published by the department pursuant to section three hundred seventy-two of the general business law.

(3) A tax return preparer or facilitator who fails to comply with any of the requirements of this subdivision must pay a penalty of five hundred dollars for the first month of non-compliance and five hundred dollars for each subsequent month of non-compliance thereafter. The maximum penalty that may be imposed under this subdivision on any tax return preparer or facilitator during any calendar year must not exceed ten thousand dollars. The penalty can be waived only for good cause shown by the tax return preparer or facilitator.

(i) The provisions of this section will apply exclusively to the registration of tax return preparers and facilitators with the department, payment of the registration fee if required by commercial tax return preparers, the signing of returns and use of the unique identification numbers assigned by the department upon registration. Other provisions of this chapter or any other provision of law prescribing additional requirements applicable to tax return preparers or facilitators will not be affected by the provisions of this section except as set forth expressly herein, and will remain in full force and effect.

 § 33. Correction periods for electronic tax documents and payments.

(a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the specified meanings:

(1) "Electronic funds withdrawal" means the process by which the department, with a taxpayer's permission, originates an electronic order from its bank to the taxpayer's bank to withdraw funds from the taxpayer's bank account so that the taxpayer may pay a tax liability associated with a tax document.

(2) "Electronic postmark" means a record of the date and time (in a particular time zone) that an authorized electronic transmitter receives the transmission of a taxpayer's electronically filed tax document on its host system.

(3) "Electronic transmitter" means a person or entity that is authorized to submit electronic tax documents directly to the department or directly to the internal revenue service for forwarding to the department.

(4) "Reject" or "rejected" means that an electronically filed tax document or an authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal is not accepted for processing.

(5) "Submit" or "submitted" means the date of the electronic postmark assigned by an electronic transmitter to an electronically filed tax document or authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal. However, if an electronic transmitter does not assign an electronic postmark, then an electronically filed tax document or authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal shall be deemed submitted on the earlier of the date the internal revenue service receives the electronically filed tax document or authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal, or the date the department receives the electronically filed tax document or authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal. In any of the aforementioned cases, if the taxpayer can establish that the time of submission, adjusted for the taxpayer's time zone, was timely, the time of submission shall be based on the taxpayer's time zone.

(6) "Tax" means any tax, fee, special assessment or other imposition administered by the commissioner.

(7) "Tax document" means any return, report or other document relating to a tax.

(b) If a tax document is required or permitted to be filed with the department electronically (whether directly, directly through a return transmitter or through the internal revenue service), the tax document is submitted electronically on or before the due date for such document (including any extension of time), and the electronically filed tax document is rejected, then the commissioner may, by instruction, provide for a reasonable period of time during which the tax document may be corrected and re-submitted. If the corrected tax document is re-submitted on or before the expiration date of the extended time period, and such document is accepted by the department for processing, then the re-submitted tax document shall be deemed to have been timely filed even though the department receives it after the applicable due date (including any extension of time).

(c) (1) If a taxpayer has submitted an authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal on or before the due date for payment (including any extension of time), and such authorization is rejected by the department, then the commissioner may, by instruction, provide for a reasonable period of time, commencing from the date of rejection, for the taxpayer to re-submit the authorization for the electronic funds withdrawal. If the authorization for the electronic funds withdrawal is re-submitted on or before the expiration date of the extended time period, then the electronic funds withdrawal shall be deemed to have been timely paid even though the department receives it after the applicable due date (including any extension of time).

(2) Any reasonable period of time provided for by the commissioner for re-submission of an authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal may differ from the reasonable time period, if any, provided for by the commissioner with respect to the electronically filed tax document with which the taxpayer's electronic funds withdrawal is associated.

(3) In lieu of re-submitting an authorization for an electronic funds withdrawal, the commissioner may permit a taxpayer to instead pay by substitute means, as defined by instruction. Any such instruction shall address the timeliness of payment by substitute means.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to taxpayers participating in the electronic funds transfer programs prescribed by sections nine and ten of this article.

* NB There are 2 § 33's

 § 33. Temporary deferral of certain tax credits. 1. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand ten and before January first, two thousand thirteen, the excess over two million dollars of the total amount of the tax credits specified in subdivision three of this section that in each of those taxable years would otherwise be used to reduce the taxpayer's tax liability to the amount otherwise specified in this chapter or be refunded or credited as an overpayment will be deferred to and used or refunded in taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirteen in accordance with the provisions of section thirty-four of this article. Interest shall not be paid on the amounts of credit deferred.

(b) To determine the amount of each tax credit allowed for the taxable year to be used, refunded or credited as an overpayment the taxpayer shall multiply the amount of each credit subject to deferral that would have been used, refunded or credited as an overpayment in the absence of this section by a fraction, the numerator of which is two million dollars, and the denominator of which is the total amount of the taxpayer's credits subject to deferral pursuant to subdivision three of this section that would have been used, refunded or credited as an overpayment for the taxable year in the absence of this section. The product is the amount of such credit that is not subject to deferral and thus allowed to be used, refunded or credited as an overpayment for the taxable year.

2. Taxpayers shall calculate and make any estimated tax payments required to be made by taking into account the deferral of credits required by this section. Taxpayers shall calculate any mandatory first installment payments made on or after the effective date of this section as if the deferral of credits required by this section had been in effect for the taxable year upon which that installment is based. In addition, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand ten and before January first, two thousand eleven, (a) no addition to tax under subsection (c) of section six hundred eighty-five of this chapter or subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter shall be imposed with respect to any underpayment attributable to the deferral required by this section of any estimated taxes that are required to be paid prior to the enactment of this section, provided that the taxpayer timely made those payments; and (b) the required installment of estimated tax described in clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of paragraph three of subsection (c) of section six hundred eighty-five of this chapter, and the exception to addition for underpayment of estimated tax described in paragraph one or two of subsection (d) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter, in relation to the preceding year's return, shall be calculated as if the deferral required by this section had been in effect for that entire preceding year.

3. (a) This section shall apply to the credits allowed under the following provisions in article nine-a of this chapter and any applicable counterpart provisions in articles nine, twenty-two, thirty-two and thirty-three of this chapter:

Section 210(12) investment tax credit

Section 210(12-B) empire zone investment tax credit

Section 210(12-C) empire zone employment incentive credit

Section 210(12-D) employment incentive credit

Section 210(12-E) QETC employment credit

Section 210(12-F) QETC capital tax credit

Section 210(12-G) QETC facilities, operations, and training credit

Section 210(17) special additional mortgage recording tax credit

Section 210(19) empire zone wage tax credit

Section 210(20) empire zone capital tax credit

Section 210(21-a) credit for servicing certain mortgages

Section 210(23) credit for employment of persons with disabilities

Section 210(24) alternative fuels credit

Section 210(25) credit for purchase of an automated external defibrillator

Section 210(27) QEZE credit for real property taxes

Section 210(28) QEZE tax reduction credit

Section 210(30) low income housing credit

Section 210(31) green building credit

Section 210(33) brownfield redevelopment tax credit

Section 210(34) remediated brownfield credit for real property taxes for qualified sites

Section 210(35) environmental remediation insurance credit

Section 210(37) security training tax credit

Section 210(37) credit for fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures

Section 210(38) conservation easement tax credit

Section 210(38) empire state commercial production credit

Section 210(38) biofuel production credit

Section 210(39) clean heating fuel credit

Section 210(40) credit for rehabilitation of historic properties

Section 210(40) credit for companies who provide transportation to individuals with disabilities

(b) This section shall also apply to the credits allowed by the following sections:

Section 186-a(9) power for jobs credit

Section 606(g-1) solar energy system equipment credit

Section 606(pp) historic homeownership rehabilitation credit

Section 1511(k) credit for certain investments in certified capital companies

* NB There are 2 § 33's

 § 34. Tax return preparers and software companies not to charge separately for New York e-file services. (a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the specified meanings:

(1) "Authorized tax document" means a tax document which the commissioner has authorized to be filed electronically.

(2) "Electronic" means computer technology.

(3) "Software company" means a developer of tax software.

(4) "Tax" means any tax or other matter administered by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law.

(5) "Tax document" means a return, report or any other document relating to a tax or other matter administered by the commissioner.

(6) "Tax return preparer" means any person who prepares for compensation, or who employs or engages one or more persons to prepare for compensation, any authorized tax document. For purposes of this section, the term "tax return preparer" also includes a payroll service.

(7) "Tax software" means any computer software program intended for tax return preparation purposes. For purposes of this section, the term "tax software" includes, but is not limited to, an off-the-shelf software program loaded onto a tax return preparer's or taxpayer's computer, or an online tax preparation application.

(b) It shall be unlawful for a tax return preparer or a software company to charge a separate fee for the electronic filing of authorized tax documents. It shall also be unlawful for a software company to offer a version of its tax software that charges a separate fee for the electronic filing of authorized tax documents and one version of the same tax software that does not.

(c) Any tax return preparer or software company violating this section will be liable for a civil penalty of five hundred dollars for the first violation and one thousand dollars for each succeeding violation. The civil penalties imposed by this section shall be paid to the commissioner upon notice and demand, and will be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as taxes under article twenty-seven of this chapter.

* NB There are 2 § 34's

 § 34. Temporary deferral payout credits. 1. The amounts of nonrefundable credits that are deferred pursuant to section thirty-three of this article in taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand ten and before January first, two thousand thirteen shall be accumulated and constitute the taxpayer's temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit. The taxpayer may first claim this credit in the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirteen and before January first, two thousand fourteen. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim this credit until the accumulated amounts are exhausted. The credit shall be allowed against the taxpayer's tax as provided in the provisions referenced in paragraph (a) of subdivision three of this section.

2. The amounts of refundable credits that are deferred pursuant to section thirty-three of this article in taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand ten and before January first, two thousand thirteen shall be accumulated and constitute the taxpayer's temporary deferral refundable payout credit. In the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirteen and before January first, two thousand fourteen, the taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a credit equal to fifty percent of the amount accumulated. In the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fourteen and before January first, two thousand fifteen, the taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a credit equal to seventy-five percent of the balance of the amount accumulated. In the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen, the taxpayer shall be allowed to claim a credit equal to the remaining balance of the amount accumulated. The credit shall be allowed against the taxpayer's tax as provided in the provisions referenced in paragraph (b) of subdivision three of this section.

3. (a) For application of the temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9: section 187-o
- (2) Article 9-A: section 210-B(33)
- (3) Article 22: section 606(qq)
- (4) Article 33: section 1511(y)

(b) For application of the temporary deferral refundable payout credit, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9: section 187-p
- (2) Article 9-A: section 210-B(34)

(3) Article 22: section 606(rr)

(4) Article 33: section 1511(z)

* NB There are 2 § 34's

 § 35. Use of electronic means of communication. Notwithstanding any other provision of New York state law, where the department has obtained authorization of an online services account holder, in such form as may be prescribed by the commissioner, the department may use electronic means of communication to furnish any document it is required to mail per law or regulation. If the department furnishes such document in accordance with this section, department records of such transaction shall constitute appropriate and sufficient proof of delivery thereof and be admissible in any action or proceeding. Provided, however, that if a taxpayer uses a department system to access taxpayer information, including, but not limited to, notices, documents and account balance information, that is not an electronic communication furnished in lieu of mailing in accordance with this section, such accessed information shall not give the taxpayer the right to a hearing in the division of tax appeals, unless the right to protest such information is expressly authorized by this chapter or another provision of law.

* NB There are 2 § 35's

 § 35. Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credit. (a) General. (1) A taxpayer which is a participant or the owner of a participant in the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program under article eighteen of the economic development law that is subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed the sum of following components against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section.

(A) the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program jobs tax credit component;

(B) the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program investment tax credit component;

(C) the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program job training credit component; and

(D) the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program real property tax credit component.

(2) A taxpayer which is a participant in the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program under article eighteen of the economic development law, or such participant's contractor, shall be allowed a sales tax refund as provided in subdivision (f) of section one thousand one hundred nineteen of this chapter.

(3) To be eligible for the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credit, the taxpayer must meet all the following requirements.

(A) The taxpayer must be a participant or the owner of a participant in the economic transformation and facility development program. The commissioner of economic development must have issued a certificate of eligibility pursuant to section four hundred two of the economic development law to the taxpayer or to an entity in which the taxpayer is an owner. A copy of the certificate shall be attached to the taxpayer's report or return.

(B) The taxpayer or the entity in which the taxpayer is an owner must be a qualified new business as defined in subdivision (e) of this section.

(C) The taxpayer or the entity in which the taxpayer is an owner must create and maintain at least five net new jobs in the economic transformation area.

(4) The benefit period for the tax credits under articles nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty-two and thirty-three of this chapter is five consecutive taxable years, beginning with the first taxable year in which the five net new jobs are created. However, in no event may that benefit period start later than two years after the certificate of eligibility is issued. If, in any year of the benefit period, the taxpayer fails to maintain the required level of five net new jobs (measured quarterly), the taxpayer will not be allowed a credit for that year. Such failure to be allowed a credit will not extend the taxpayer's benefit period.

(b) Election of credit. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer or the entity in which the taxpayer is an owner that is the basis for any of the above named credits shall be the basis for any other tax credit under this chapter. If a taxpayer elects to claim an economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credit, the election is irrevocable.

(c) Information sharing. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(A) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program;

(B) information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for the credits or who are claiming the credits; and

(C) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program.

(2) Other than the information required to be contained in the report issued pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(d) Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credits report. (1) The commissioner must publish an economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credits report annually by July thirty-first. The first report shall be due July thirty-first, two thousand thirteen.

(2) The credits report shall contain the following information about the economic transformation program and facility redevelopment tax credits claimed under this chapter during the previous calendar year:

(A) the name of each taxpayer claiming a credit; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York subchapter S corporation, the name of each limited liability company, partnership or New York subchapter S corporation earning any of the credit must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit; and

(B) the amount of each credit earned by each taxpayer; provided

however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York subchapter S corporation, the amount of credit earned by each entity must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit.

(3) The credit report may also contain any other information received by the commissioner with regard to the economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credits that the commissioner deems to be useful in evaluating the use of the credits. The information included in the credit report will be based on the information filed with the department during the previous calendar year, to the extent that it is practicable to use that information.

(e) Definitions. (1) The terms "participant", "net new jobs", "economic transformation area", "related person", "certificate of eligibility", "benefit-cost ratio", and "qualified investment" shall have the same meaning as those terms have in section four hundred of the economic development law.

(2) The term "qualified new business" means a business entity that satisfies all of the following tests:

(A) the business entity must not be currently operating or located within the economic transformation area in which it is applying for certification under article eighteen of the economic development law;

(B) the business entity must not be moving existing jobs into the economic transformation area in which it is applying for certification under article eighteen of the economic development law from another area of the state;

(C) the business entity must not be substantially similar in ownership and operation to another taxpayer taxable or previously taxable under section one hundred eighty-three or one hundred eighty-four or former section one hundred eighty-five of article nine, former section one hundred eighty-six of this chapter or article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter or former article thirty-two of this chapter or the income or losses of which is or was includable under article twenty-two of this chapter;

(D) the business entity must not have caused individuals to transfer from existing employment in New York with another business entity with similar ownership to similar employment with the business entity;

(E) the business entity must not have acquired, purchased, leased, or had transferred to it real property located in the economic transformation area in which it is applying for certification if that real property was previously owned by an entity with similar ownership, regardless of form of incorporation or organization; and

(F) the business entity must not be substantially similar in operation to a business entity from which it has acquired real or tangible personal property that is located in the economic transformation area in which it is applying for certification under article eighteen of the economic development law.

(3) The term "entity in which the taxpayer is an owner" shall mean a limited liability company in which the taxpayer is a member, a partnership in which the taxpayer is a partner and a New York subchapter S corporation in which the taxpayer is a shareholder.

(f) Cross-references. For application of the credits provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(2) article 9-A: section 210-B(35).

(3) article 22: section 606 (ss).

(4) article 33: section 1511 (aa).

(g) Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program jobs tax credit. A taxpayer which meets the requirements in this section shall be eligible to claim a credit for each net new job that the taxpayer creates in the economic transformation area with respect to the project for which the certificate of eligibility is issued. The amount of such credit per job shall be equal to the product of the gross wages paid and 6.85 percent.

(h) Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program investment tax credit. (1) A taxpayer which meets the requirements in this section shall be eligible to claim a credit on qualified investments with respect to the project for which the certificate of eligibility is issued. The credit shall be equal to ten percent of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of the qualified investment at a closed facility. Provided however, for purposes of this credit only, a taxpayer that is the owner of a closed facility described in paragraph (d) of subdivision eleven of section four hundred of the economic development law, shall be allowed to include in its cost or other basis of the qualified investment at the closed facility, any demolition costs incurred at such closed facility. Those demolition costs shall be limited to the following costs: (i) asbestos removal costs, (ii) rental of demolition equipment, (iii) personnel costs to operate the demolition equipment, (iv) costs to remove and dispose of demolition debris, (v) the costs of any permits, licenses and insurance necessary for the demolition. The total amount of investment tax credit allowed for all eligible participants under this subdivision for qualified investments located at each closed facility shall not exceed eight million dollars. The credit shall be equal to six percent of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes for all other qualified investments, but the credit allowed to a taxpayer may not exceed four million dollars.

(2) Costs incurred prior to the date the certificate of eligibility is issued are not eligible to be included in the calculation of the credit. A taxpayer which is a participant in the economic transformation and redevelopment program or is an owner of an entity that is a participant is not eligible for any other investment tax credit provided under this chapter.

(3) If the taxpayer is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder of a New York S corporation, then the four million dollar limit imposed above by the preceding sentences shall be applied at the entity level, so that the aggregate credit allowed to all the partners, members or shareholders of each such entity in the taxable year does not exceed the four million dollar limitation. Further, in order to properly administer the limitation of investment tax credit at a closed facility, the department may disclose information about the calculation and the amounts of the credits claimed under this subdivision for qualified investments at a particular closed facility to other taxpayers claiming investment tax credits under this subdivision at that same closed facility.

(i) Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program training tax credit. (1) A taxpayer which meets the requirements of this section shall be allowed a credit for qualified training expenditures paid by the taxpayer with respect to the project for which the certificate of eligibility is issued. The amount of the credit shall be fifty percent of the qualified training expenses paid during the taxable year, subject to a limitation of no more than four thousand dollars per employee per year for such training expenses. This credit applies only to qualified training provided to employees who were hired after they lost their jobs at a closed facility as a result of the closure of that facility as described in subdivision eleven of section four hundred of the economic development law.

(2) Qualified training shall include a course or courses taken and satisfactorily completed by an employee of the taxpayer at an accredited, degree granting, post-secondary college or university in New York state that (A) directly relates to the duties that the employee performs for the taxpayer within the economic transformation area; and (B) is intended to upgrade, retrain or improve the productivity or theoretical awareness of the employee. Such course or courses shall not include classes in the disciplines of management, accounting or the law or any class designed to fulfill the discipline specific requirements of a degree program at the associate, baccalaureate, graduate or professional level of these disciplines. Satisfactory completion of a course or courses shall mean the earning and granting of credit or equivalent unit, with the attainment of a grade of "B" or higher in a graduate level course or courses, a grade of "C" or higher in an undergraduate level course or courses, or a similar measure of competency for a course that is not measured according to a standard grade formula.

(3) Qualified training expenditures shall include expenses for tuition and mandatory fees, software required by the institution, fees for textbooks or other literature required by the institution offering the course or courses, minus applicable scholarships and tuition or fee waivers not granted by the taxpayer or any related person, that are paid or reimbursed by the taxpayer. Qualified training expenditures do not include room and board, computer hardware or software not specifically assigned for such course or courses, late-charges, fines or membership dues and similar expenses. Such qualified training expenditures shall not be eligible for the credit provided by this section unless the employee for whom the expenditures are disbursed is continuously employed by the taxpayer in a full-time, full-year position primarily located at a site in an economic transformation area during the period of such coursework and lasting through at least one hundred eighty days after the satisfactory completion of the qualifying course-work.

Qualified training expenditures shall not include expenses for in-house or shared training outside of a New York state higher education institution or the use of consultants outside of credit granting courses, whether such consultants function inside of such higher education institution or not.

(j) Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program real property tax credit. (1) A taxpayer which meets the requirements of this section shall be allowed a credit measured by the real property taxes on the real property located in the economic transformation area with respect to the project for which the certificate of eligibility is issued. In the first taxable year that the taxpayer may claim this credit, the credit shall be equal to twenty-five percent of the real property taxes assessed and paid during that year by the participant on the real property located in the economic transformation area outside of the closed facility. If the real property is located entirely within the grounds of a closed facility, the credit in the first year of the benefit period shall be equal to fifty percent of the real property taxes assessed and paid by the participant during that year on that property. In the following years of the benefit period, the percentage decreases by five percentage points each year for real property located in the economic transformation area outside of the closed facility, and ten percentage points for real property located at the closed facility.

(2) (A) For purposes of this credit, "real property taxes" means a charge imposed upon real property by or on behalf of a county, city, town, village or school district for municipal or school district purposes, provided that the charge is levied for the general public welfare by the proper taxing authorities at a like rate against all property in the territory over which such authorities have jurisdiction, and provided that where taxes are levied pursuant to article eighteen or article nineteen of the real property tax law, the property must have been taxed at the rate determined for the class in which it is contained, as provided by such article eighteen or nineteen, whichever is applicable.

(B) The term "real property taxes" does not include a charge for local benefits, including any portion of that charge that is properly allocated to the costs attributable to maintenance or interest, when (i) the property subject to the charge is limited to the property that benefits from the charge, or (ii) the amount of the charge is determined by the benefit to the property assessed, or (iii) the improvement for which the charge is assessed tends to increase the property value.

(C) The term "real property taxes" includes payments in lieu of taxes made by the participant which is the beneficial owner of the real property to the state, a municipal corporation or a public benefit corporation pursuant to a written agreement entered into between the participant and the state, municipal corporation, or public benefit corporation. Provided, however, a payment in lieu of taxes made by the participant pursuant to a written agreement shall not constitute real property taxes in any taxable year to the extent that such payment exceeds the product of (i) the basis for federal income tax purposes of the real property located in the economic transformation area and subject to that agreement, calculated without regard to depreciation, on the last day of the taxable year, and (ii) the estimated effective full value tax rate within the county in which such property is located, as most recently calculated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall annually calculate estimated effective full value tax rates within each county for this purpose based upon the most current information available to him or her in relation to county, city, town, village and school district taxes.

(k) Recapture of credits. If the participant at the end of its benefit period has not created sufficient net new jobs and made sufficient qualified investments to achieve a benefit-cost ratio of at least ten to one, the taxpayer shall be required to add back as tax in the last year of its benefit period the portion of the economic transformation and facility redevelopment tax credits claimed in the years of its benefit period necessary to achieve a cost benefit ratio of ten to one.

* NB Repealed December 31, 2026

* NB There are 2 § 35's

§ 36. Empire state jobs retention program credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (e) of this section. The amount of the credit, allowable for ten consecutive tax years, is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section four hundred twenty-five of the economic development law.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible for the empire state jobs retention credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision four of section four hundred twenty-four of the economic development law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. A taxpayer may claim such credit for up to ten consecutive taxable years commencing in the first taxable year that the taxpayer receives a certificate of tax credit or the first taxable year listed on its preliminary schedule of benefits, whichever is later. However, a taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim the credit prior to the tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand twelve and before January first, two thousand thirteen. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for that taxable year. Such certificate, if required by the commissioner, shall be attached to the taxpayer's return. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer which is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit.

(c) Information sharing. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(A) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the empire state jobs retention program;

(B) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for the credit or who are claiming the credit; and

(C) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the empire state jobs retention program.

Except as provided in paragraph two of this subdivision, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, the commissioner or the commissioner's designee is authorized to release the name of each taxpayer claiming the credit and the amount of the credit earned by each taxpayer. However, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, only the name of a limited liability company, partnership or subchapter S corporation participating in the empire state jobs retention program and the amount of credit earned by that entity may be released.

(d) Credit recapture. If a certificate of eligibility or a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article twenty of the economic development law is revoked by such department, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 37;
- (2) article 22: section 606, subsection (tt);
- (3) article 33, section 1511, subdivision (bb).

§ 37. Alcoholic beverage production credit. (a) General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, that is registered as a distributor under article eighteen of this chapter, and that produces sixty million or fewer gallons of beer or cider, twenty million or fewer gallons of wine, or eight hundred thousand or fewer gallons of liquor in this state in the taxable year, shall be allowed a credit against such taxes in the amount specified in subdivision (b) of this section and pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (c) of this section. Provided, however, that no credit shall be allowed for any beer, cider, wine or liquor produced in excess of fifteen million five hundred thousand gallons in the taxable year. If the taxpayer is a partner in a partnership or shareholder of a New York S corporation, then the cap imposed by the preceding sentence shall be applied at the entity level, so that the aggregate credit allowed to all the partners or shareholders of each such entity in the taxable year does not exceed that cap.

(b) The amount of the credit per taxpayer per taxable year (or pro rata share of earned credit in the case of a partnership) for each gallon of beer, cider, wine or liquor produced in this state shall be determined as follows:

(1) for the first five hundred thousand gallons of:

i. beer produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal fourteen cents per gallon;

ii. cider, artificially carbonated sparkling cider, and natural sparkling cider, containing more than three and two-tenths per centum of alcohol by volume produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal fourteen cents per gallon;

iii. still wine, artificially carbonated sparkling wine, and natural sparkling wine produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal thirty cents per gallon;

iv. liquors containing not more than twenty-four per centum of alcohol by volume, but more than two per centum of alcohol per volume, produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal two dollars and fifty-four cents per gallon;

v. liquors containing more than zero per centum of alcohol by volume, but not more than two per centum of alcohol by volume, produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal zero;

vi. all other liquors produced in this state in the taxable year, the credit shall equal six dollars and forty-four cents per gallon; and

(2) for each gallon of beer, cider, wine or liquor produced in this state in the taxable year in excess of five hundred thousand gallons, the credit shall equal four and one-half cents per gallon.

(c) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 39.

(2) Article 22: Section 606, subsections (i) and (uu).

 § 38. New York innovation hot spot program tax benefits. (a) As used in this chapter, the terms "New York state innovation hot spot" and "qualified entity" shall have the same meaning as under section sixteen-v of the New York state urban development corporation act.

(b) A taxpayer under article nine-A of this chapter that is a qualified entity of a New York state innovation hot spot shall be subject only to the fixed dollar minimum tax, imposed under paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter, for five taxable years, beginning with the first taxable year during which the qualified entity becomes a tenant in or part of an innovation hot spot. A taxpayer under article nine-A of this chapter that is a corporate partner in a qualified entity, or is a qualified entity that is located both within and without an innovation hot spot, shall be allowed only a deduction for the amount of income or gain included in its federal taxable income to the extent that the income or gain is attributable to the operations at or as part of the innovation hot spot. The deduction is allowed for five taxable years, beginning with the first taxable year during which the qualified entity becomes a tenant in or part of an innovation hot spot.

(c) An individual who is the sole proprietor of a qualified entity or a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York subchapter S corporation where the limited liability company, partnership, or S corporation is a qualified entity, that is taxable under article twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a deduction for the amount of income or gain included in its federal adjusted gross income to the extent that the income or gain is attributable to the operations of a qualified entity at or as a part of a New York state innovation hot spot. The deduction is allowed for five taxable years, beginning with the first taxable year during which the qualified entity becomes a tenant in or part of an innovation hot spot.

(d) A qualified entity that is a tenant in or part of a New York state innovation hot spot shall be eligible for a credit or refund for sales and use taxes imposed on the retail sale of tangible personal property or services under subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of section eleven hundred five and section eleven hundred ten of this chapter. The credit or refund shall be allowed for sixty months beginning with the first full month after the qualified entity becomes a tenant in an incubator hot spot.

(e) A taxpayer who claims any of the tax benefits described in this section is no longer eligible for any other New York state exemptions, deductions, or credit or refunds under this chapter to the extent that any such exemption, deduction, credit or refund is attributable to the business operations of a tenant in or as part of the New York state innovation hot spot. The election to claim the tax benefits described in this section is not revocable.

(f) Cross-references. For application of the tax benefits provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(i) Article 9-A, section 208, subdivision (9), paragraph (a), subparagraph (18).

(ii) Article 9-A, section 209, subdivision 11.

(iii) Article 22, section 612, subsection (c), paragraph (39).

(iv) Article 28, section 1119, subdivision (d).

* NB There are 2 § 38's

 § 38. Minimum wage reimbursement credit. (a) A taxpayer that is an eligible employer or an owner of an eligible employer as defined in subdivision (b) of this section shall be eligible for a credit against the tax imposed under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, or thirty-three of this article, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (e) of this section.

(b) An eligible employer is a corporation (including a New York S corporation), a sole proprietorship, a limited liability company or a partnership. An eligible employee is an individual who is (i) employed by an eligible employer in New York state, (ii) paid at the minimum wage rate as defined in article nineteen of the labor law during the taxable year by the eligible employer, (iii) between the ages of sixteen and nineteen during the period in which he or she is paid at such minimum wage rate by the eligible employer, and (iv) a student during the period in which he or she is paid at such minimum wage rate by the taxpayer.

(c) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fourteen and before January first, two thousand fifteen, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of hours worked during the taxable year by eligible employees for which they were paid at the minimum wage rate as defined in article nineteen of the labor law and seventy five cents. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of hours during the taxable year worked by eligible employees for which they were paid at such minimum wage rate and one dollar and thirty-one cents. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand nineteen, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of hours during the taxable year worked by eligible employees for which they were paid at such minimum wage rate and one dollar and thirty-five cents. Provided, however, if the federal minimum wage established by federal law pursuant to 29 U.S.C. section 206 or its successors is increased above eighty-five percent of the minimum wage in article nineteen of the labor law, the dollar amounts in this subdivision shall be reduced to the difference between the minimum wage in article nineteen of the labor law and the federal minimum wage. Such reduction would take effect on the date that employers are required to pay such federal minimum wage.

(d) Employer prohibition. An employer shall not discharge an employee and hire an eligible employee solely for the purpose of qualifying for this credit. An eligible employee who is used as the basis for this credit may not be used as the basis of any other credit allowed under this chapter.

(e) Cross references: For application of the credit provided in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (2) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 40.
- (3) Article 22: Section 606, subsection (aaa).
- (4) Article 33: Section 1511, subdivision (cc).

* NB There are 2 § 38's

§ 39. Tax benefits for businesses located in tax-free NY areas and employees of such businesses. (a) (1) Any business or owner of a business in the case of a business taxed as a sole proprietorship, partnership or New York S corporation, that is located in a tax-free NY area approved pursuant to article twenty-one of the economic development law is eligible for the tax benefits described in this section. Unless otherwise specified, such business or owner of such business shall be eligible for these tax benefits for a period of ten consecutive taxable years, commencing with the taxable year during which it locates in the tax-free NY area.

(2) In order to be eligible for these tax benefits during any taxable year, calendar quarter or sales tax quarter, such business must be approved to participate in the START-UP NY program, must operate at the approved location in the tax-free NY area, and must satisfy the eligibility criteria specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section four hundred thirty-three of the economic development law.

(b) Tax-free NY area elimination credit. Such business or the owner of such business shall be eligible for the tax-free NY area tax elimination credit described in section forty of this article.

(c-1) Excise tax on telecommunication services. Such business or owner of a business shall be eligible for a credit of the excise tax on telecommunication services imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-e of this chapter that is passed through to such business, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (k) of this section.

(d) Metropolitan commuter transportation district mobility tax. If the tax-free NY area at which such business is located is within the metropolitan commuter transportation district (MCTD), and such business is an employer engaged in business within the MCTD, the payroll expense of such business at such location within the tax-free NY area shall be exempt from the metropolitan commuter transportation district mobility tax imposed under article twenty-three of this chapter for forty consecutive calendar quarters, commencing with the calendar quarter during which the employer locates in the tax-free NY area within the MCTD. If the tax-free NY area at which such business is located is within the MCTD and the owner of such business is an individual who has net earnings from self-employment at such location, such net earnings shall be exempt from the metropolitan commuter transportation district mobility tax imposed under article twenty-three of this chapter for ten consecutive taxable years commencing with the taxable year during which the business locates in the tax-free NY area.

(e) To the extent specified, the wages of an individual who is an employee of such business located within a tax-free NY area received from such business for employment in such tax-free NY area shall be eligible for the benefits as provided in article twenty-two of this chapter, the New York city personal income tax as provided in article thirty of this chapter, the Yonkers city income tax as provided in article thirty-A of this chapter, and the Yonkers earnings tax on non-residents during the ten taxable year period for such business specified in subdivision (a) of this section, provided the requirements of this subdivision are satisfied.

(i) The individual when employed by such business must be engaged in work performed exclusively at the location within the tax-free NY area during the taxable year.

(ii) The individual when employed by such business must be engaged in work at the location of such business within the tax-free NY area for at least one-half of the taxable year.

(iii) Such business must be in compliance with the requirements set forth in subdivision (a) of this section.

(iv) The individual must be employed by such business in a net new job created by such business in the tax-free NY area.

(f) Sales and use tax. Such business shall be eligible for a credit or refund for sales and use taxes imposed on the retail sale of tangible personal property or services under subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of section eleven hundred five and section eleven hundred ten of this chapter and similar taxes imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter. The credit or refund shall be allowed for one hundred twenty consecutive months beginning with the month during which such business locates in the tax-free NY area.

(g) Real estate transfer taxes. Any lease of property to such business shall be exempt from any state or local real estate transfer tax or real property transfer tax.

(h) (A) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the commissioner, to the extent practicable, may disclose publicly the names and addresses of the businesses receiving any of the tax benefits specified in this section. In addition, the commissioner may disclose publicly the amounts of such benefits allowed to each such business, and whether or not a business created or maintained net new jobs during the taxable year. With regard to the income tax exemption specified in subdivision (e) of this section, the commissioner may publicly disclose the aggregate amounts of such tax exemption allowed to employees. In addition, the commissioner may publicly disclose the number of net new jobs such business reports on its tax return or report or any other information necessary for the commissioner of economic development or the campus, college or university sponsoring the tax-free NY area approved pursuant to article twenty-one of the economic development law to monitor and enforce compliance with the law, rules and regulations governing the START-UP NY program.

(B) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the commissioner, in determining whether a business or any of its owners is entitled to the tax benefits described in this section, may utilize and if necessary, disclose to the commissioner of economic development, information derived from the tax returns of such business or related persons of such business and wage reporting information relating to any employees of such business or its related persons.

(i) Such business shall not be allowed to claim any other tax credit allowed under this chapter with respect to its activities or employees in such tax-free NY area.

(j) If the application of a business for participation in the START-UP NY program specifies that failure to meet the performance benchmarks specified in such application shall result in proportional recovery of tax benefits awarded under the START-UP NY program, the business shall be required to reduce the total amount of tax benefits described in this section that the business or its owners claimed or received during the taxable year by the percentage reduction in net new jobs promised by the performance benchmarks, and if the tax benefits are reduced to an amount less than zero, those negative amounts shall be added back as tax. The amount required to be added back shall be reported on such business's corporate franchise tax report if such business is taxed as a corporation or on the corporate franchise tax reports or personal income tax returns of the owners of such business if such business is taxed as a sole proprietorship, partnership or New York S corporation.

(k) Cross-references. For application of the tax benefits provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Section 40.
- (4) Article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 41 and subdivision 44.
- (5) Article 22: section 606, subsection (i), paragraph (1), subparagraph (B), clause (xxxvi).
- (6) Article 22: section 606, subsection (ww) and subsection (yy).
- (7) Article 22: section 612, subsection (c), paragraph (40).
- (8) Article 23: section 803.
- (9) Article 28: section 1119, subdivision (d).
- (10) Article 31: section 1405, subdivision (b), paragraph 11.

§ 39-a. Penalties for fraud in the START-UP NY program. If the commissioner of economic development on his or her own initiative or on the recommendation of a sponsoring campus, university or college finally determines that any such business participating in the START-UP NY program authorized under article twenty-one of the economic development law has acted fraudulently in connection with its participation in such program, such business:

- (a) shall be immediately terminated from such program;
- (b) shall be subject to applicable criminal penalties, including but not limited to the felony crime of offering a false instrument for filing in the first degree pursuant to section 175.35 of the penal law; and
- (c) shall be required in that year to add back to tax the total value of the tax benefits described in section thirty-nine of this article that such business has received and that the employees of such business have received up to the date of such finding. The amount required to be added back shall be reported on such business's corporate franchise report if such business is taxed as a corporation or on the corporate franchise tax reports or personal income tax returns of the owners of such business if such business is taxed as a sole proprietorship, partnership or New York S corporation.

§ 40. The tax-free NY area tax elimination credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that is a business or owner of a business in the case of a business taxed as a sole proprietorship, partnership or New York S corporation, that is located in a tax-free NY area approved pursuant to article twenty-one of the economic development law and is subject to tax under article nine-A, or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (e) of this section, to be computed as hereinafter provided.

(b) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit shall be the product of: (1) the tax-free area allocation factor; and (2) the tax factor.

(c) Tax-free area allocation factor. The tax-free area allocation factor shall be the percentage representing the business's economic presence in the tax-free NY area in which the business was approved to locate pursuant to article twenty-one of the economic development law. This percentage shall be computed by:

(1) ascertaining the percentage that the average value of the business's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, in the tax-free NY area in which the business was located during the period covered by the taxpayer's report or return bears to the average value of the business's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within the state during such period; provided that the term "value of the business's real and tangible personal property" shall have the same meaning as such term has in paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section two hundred nine-B of this chapter; and

(2) ascertaining the percentage that the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period of employees, except general executive officers, employed at the business's location in the tax-free NY area, bears to the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period, of all the business's employees within the state, except general executive officers; and

(3) adding together the percentages so determined and dividing the result by two.

For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, references in this subdivision to property, wages, salaries and other personal service compensation shall be deemed to be references to such items connected with the conduct of a business.

(d) Tax factor. (1) General. The tax factor shall be, in the case of article nine-A of this chapter, the largest of the amounts of tax determined for the taxable year under paragraphs (a) through (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of such article after the deduction of any other credits allowable under such article. The tax factor shall be, in the case of article twenty-two of this chapter, the tax determined for the taxable year under subsections (a) through (d) of section six hundred one of such article after the deduction of any other credits allowable under such article.

(2) Sole proprietors, partners and S corporation shareholders. (A) Where the taxpayer is a sole proprietor of a business located in a tax-free NY area, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision that is attributable to the income of the business at its location in the tax-free NY area. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the taxpayer's income from such business allocated within the state, entering into New York adjusted gross income, to the taxpayer's New York adjusted gross income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment that reasonably reflects the portion of the taxpayer's tax attributable to the income of such business. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0. The income from such business allocated within the state shall be determined as if the sole proprietor was a non-resident.

(B)(i) Where the taxpayer is a member of a partnership that is a business located in a tax-free NY area, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision that is attributable to the income of the partnership. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the partner's income from the partnership allocated within the state to the partner's entire income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment that reasonably reflects the portion of the partner's tax attributable to the income of the partnership. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0. The income from the partnership allocated within the state shall be determined as if any of the partners was a non-resident.

(ii) For purposes of article nine-A of this chapter, the term "partner's income from the partnership" means partnership items of income, gain, loss and deduction, and New York modifications thereto, entering into business income and the term "partner's entire income" means business income, allocated within the state. For purposes of article twenty-two of this chapter, the term "partner's income from the partnership" means partnership items of income, gain, loss and deduction, and New York modifications thereto, entering into New York adjusted gross income, and the term "partner's entire income" means New York adjusted gross income.

(C) (i) Where the taxpayer is a shareholder of a New York S corporation that is a business located in a tax-free NY area, the shareholder's tax factor shall be that portion of the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision that is attributable to the income of the S corporation. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the shareholder's income from the S corporation allocated within the state, entering into New York adjusted gross income, to the shareholder's New York adjusted gross income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment that reasonably reflects the portion of the shareholder's tax attributable to the income of such business. The income of the S corporation allocated within the state shall be determined by multiplying the income of the S corporation by a business allocation factor that shall be determined in clause (ii) of this subparagraph. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(ii) The business allocation factor for purposes of this subparagraph shall be computed by adding together the property factor specified in subclause (I) of this clause, the wage factor specified in subclause (II) of this clause and the apportionment factor determined under section two hundred ten-A of this chapter and dividing by three.

(I) The property factor shall be determined by ascertaining the percentage that the average value of the business's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within the state during the period covered by the taxpayer's report or return bears to the average value of the business's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within and without the state during such period; provided that the term "value of the business's real and tangible personal property" shall have the same meaning as such term has in paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section two hundred nine-B of this chapter.

(II) The wage factor shall be determined by ascertaining the percentage that the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period of employees, except general executive officers, employed at the business's location or locations within the state, bears to the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period, of all the business's employees within and without the state, except general executive officers.

(3) Combined returns or reports. (A) Where the taxpayer is a business located in a tax-free NY area and is required or permitted to make a return or report on a combined basis under article nine-A of this chapter, the taxpayer's tax factor shall be the amount determined in paragraph one of this subdivision that is attributable to the income of such business. Such attribution shall be made in accordance with the ratio of the business's income allocated within the state to the combined group's income, or in accordance with such other methods as the commissioner may prescribe as providing an apportionment that reasonably reflects the portion of the combined group's tax attributable to the income of such business. In no event may the ratio so determined exceed 1.0.

(B) The term "income of the business located in a tax-free NY area" means business income calculated as if the taxpayer was filing separately and the term "combined group's income" means business income as shown on the combined report, allocated within the state.

(4) If a business is generating or receiving income from a line of business or intangible property that was previously conducted, created or developed by the business or a related person, as that term is defined in section four hundred thirty-one of the economic development law, the tax factor specified in this subdivision shall be adjusted to disregard such income.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 41.

(2) Article 22: section 606, subsection (i), paragraph (1), subparagraph (B), clause (xxxvi).

(3) Article 22: section 606, subsection (ww).

§ 41. Limitations on tax credit eligibility. Any taxpayer who stands convicted, or who is a shareholder of an S corporation or partner in a partnership which is convicted, of an offense defined in article two hundred or four hundred ninety-six or section 195.20 of the penal law shall not be eligible for any tax credit allowed under article nine, nine-A, thirty-two or thirty-three of this chapter or any business tax credit allowed under article twenty-two of this chapter. For purposes of this section, a business tax credit allowed under article twenty-two of this chapter is a tax credit allowed to taxpayers under article twenty-two which is substantially similar to a tax credit allowed to taxpayers under article nine-A of this chapter. In the event a person or firm, partnership or corporation is convicted of an offense defined in article two hundred or four hundred ninety-six or section 195.00 of the penal law, the office responsible for prosecuting such offense shall send notice of such conviction, together with the names of any firm, partnership or corporation of which the person is known to be a member, partner, officer or director, to the commissioner.

§ 42. Farm workforce retention credit. (a) A taxpayer that is a farm employer or an owner of a farm employer shall be eligible for a credit against the tax imposed under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (g) of this section.

(b) A farm employer is a corporation (including a New York S corporation), a sole proprietorship, a limited liability company or a partnership who is also an eligible farmer.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "eligible farmer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in subsection (n) of section six hundred six of this chapter.

(d) An eligible farm employee is an individual who is employed for five hundred hours or more per taxable year, by a farm employer in New York state, but excluding general executive officers of the farm employer; provided, however, that where an individual employed by a farm employer in New York state becomes unable to work due to a documented illness or disability, the hours such individual is employed may be combined with the hours worked by an individual hired to replace such individual when determining whether the five hundred hour threshold has been met.

(d-1) Special rules. If more than fifty percent of such eligible farmer's federal gross income from farming is from the sale of wine from a licensed farm winery as provided for in article six of the alcoholic beverage control law, or from the sale of cider from a licensed farm cidery as provided for in section fifty-eight-c of the alcoholic beverage control law, then an eligible farm employee of such eligible farmer shall be included for purposes of calculating the amount of credit allowed under this section only if such eligible farm employee is employed by such eligible farmer on qualified agricultural property as defined in paragraph four of subsection (n) of section six hundred six of this chapter.

(e) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before January first, two thousand eighteen, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and two hundred fifty dollars. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand eighteen and before January first, two thousand nineteen, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and three hundred dollars. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand nineteen and before January first, two thousand twenty, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and five hundred dollars. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty and before January first, two thousand twenty-one, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and four hundred dollars. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one and before January first, two thousand twenty-two, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and six hundred dollars. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-two and before January first, two thousand twenty-nine, the amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to the product of the total number of eligible farm employees and twelve hundred dollars.

(f) A taxpayer claiming the credit allowed under this section shall not be allowed to claim any other tax credit allowed under this chapter, except the credit allowed under section forty-two-a of this article, with respect to any eligible farm employee included in the total number of eligible farm employees used to determine the amount of the credit allowed under this section.

(g) Cross references: For application of the credit provided in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 51.
- (2) Article 22: Section 606, subsection (fff).

§ 42-a. Farm employer overtime credit. (a) Notwithstanding subdivision (f) of section forty-two of this article, a taxpayer that is an eligible farm employer or an owner of an eligible farm employer shall be eligible for a credit against the tax imposed under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (h) of this section.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "eligible farm employer" means a taxpayer who received an overtime expense certificate pursuant to section three hundred thirty-five of the agriculture and markets law and who is an eligible farmer, as defined in subsection (n) of section six hundred six of this chapter for the taxable year.

(c) Special rules. If more than fifty percent of such eligible farm employer's federal gross income from farming is from the sale of wine from a licensed farm winery as provided for in article six of the alcoholic beverage control law, or from the sale of cider from a licensed farm cidery as provided for in section fifty-eight-c of the alcoholic beverage control law, then an eligible farm employee of such eligible farmer shall be included for purposes of calculating the amount of credit allowed under this section only if such eligible farm employee is employed by such eligible farmer on qualified agricultural property as defined in paragraph four of subsection (n) of section six hundred six of this chapter.

(d) The amount of the credit allowed under this section shall be equal to one hundred eighteen percent of the aggregate amount of overtime expense paid by the qualified farm employer as certified by the department of agriculture and markets pursuant to section three hundred thirty-five of the agriculture and markets law.

(e) A taxpayer who received a preliminary overtime expense certificate pursuant to section three hundred thirty-five of the agriculture and markets law shall have the option to request an advance payment of the portion of the amount of tax credit they are allowed under this section equal to one hundred eighteen percent of aggregate amount of overtime expense that the farm employer paid from January first through July thirty-first, as certified by the department of agriculture and markets pursuant to section three hundred thirty-five of the agriculture and markets law. A taxpayer must submit an advanced payment request to the department in the manner prescribed by the commissioner after it has been issued a preliminary overtime expense certificate by the department of agriculture and markets pursuant to article twenty-five-C of the agriculture and markets law (or such certificate has been issued to a partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation in which it is a partner, member or shareholder, respectively, that is a farm employer), but such request must be submitted no later than November first of the taxable year for which the credit is being claimed. For those taxpayers who have requested an advance payment and for whom the commissioner has determined to be eligible for this credit, the commissioner shall advance a payment of the portion of the amount of tax credit allowed to the taxpayer. The taxpayer will claim on the taxpayers' return for the taxable year the portion of the amount of tax credit allowed for eligible overtime paid by the farm employer from August first through December thirty-first. The taxpayer must properly reconcile the advance payment of tax credit allowed under this subdivision on the taxpayer's return.

(f) If a taxpayer that has received an advance payment is not an eligible farm employer or an owner of an eligible farm employer for the taxable year for which it received an advance payment, the taxpayer shall be required to add back as tax the amount of advance payment the taxpayer received during the taxable year.

(g) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the department of agriculture and markets and the department shall be allowed to share and exchange:

(i) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility for the credit allowed by this section;

(ii) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and regarding taxpayers that are applying for the credit or that are claiming the credit; and

(iii) information collected by the department of agriculture and markets and exchanged between the department of agriculture and markets and the department pursuant to this section shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(h) Cross references: For application of the credit provided in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article 9-A: Section 210-B, subdivision 58.

(2) Article 22: Section 606, subsection (nnn).

 § 43. Life sciences research and development tax credit. (a)

Allowance of credit. (1) A taxpayer that is a qualified life sciences company, or that is a sole proprietor of or a partner in a partnership that is a qualified life sciences company or a shareholder of a New York S corporation that is a qualified life sciences company, and is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referred to in subdivision (e) of this section, for a period of three years, as provided in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph two of this subdivision, to be computed as provided in this section, provided that no credit shall be allowed for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-eight. Such credit may be claimed in the taxable year specified on the certificate of tax credit issued to the qualified life sciences company.

(2)(i) For a qualified life sciences company that employs ten or more persons during the taxable year, the amount of the credit shall be equal to fifteen percent of such qualified life sciences company's research and development expenditures in this state for the taxable year. For a qualified life sciences company that employs less than ten persons during the taxable year, the amount of the credit shall be equal to twenty percent of such qualified life sciences company's research and development expenditures in this state for the taxable year.

(ii) The credit shall be allowed only with respect to the first taxable year during which the criteria set forth in this subdivision are satisfied, and with respect to each of the two taxable years next following (but only, with respect to each of such years, if such criteria are satisfied). Subsequent certifications of the life sciences company by the department of economic development pursuant to this section shall not extend the three taxable year time limitation on the allowance of the credit set forth in the preceding sentence.

(3) The total amount of credit allowable to a qualified life sciences company, or, if the life sciences company is properly included or required to be included in a combined report, to the combined group, taken in the aggregate, shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any taxable year. If the taxpayer is a partner in a partnership that is a life sciences company or a shareholder of a New York S corporation that is a life sciences company, then the total amount of credit allowable shall be applied at the entity level, so that the total amount of credit allowable to all the partners or shareholders of each such entity, taken in the aggregate, does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars in any taxable year.

(4) No research and development expenditures made by the life sciences company and used either as the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for pursuant to this section or used in the calculation of the credit provided pursuant to this section shall be used to claim any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter or be used in the calculation of any other credit allowed pursuant to this chapter.

(b) Maximum amount of credits. The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section to taxpayers subject to tax under articles nine-A and twenty-two of this chapter in any taxable year shall be ten million dollars, and shall be allotted from the funds available for tax credits under article seventeen of the economic development law. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the department of economic development among taxpayers in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of life sciences research and development tax credit with such department. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent year.

(c) Definitions. As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Certificate of tax credit" means the document issued to a qualified life sciences company by the department of economic development, after the department of economic development has verified that such life sciences company has met all applicable criteria in this section to be eligible for the life sciences research and development tax credit allowed under this section, including but not limited to verifying that the life sciences company is a new business. The certificate shall be issued annually if such criteria are satisfied and shall specify the exact amount of the life sciences research and development tax credit that may be claimed by such qualified life sciences company, pursuant to this section, and shall specify the taxable year in which such credit may be claimed.

(2) "New business" means any business that qualifies as a new business under either paragraph (f) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten-B or paragraph ten of subsection (a) of section six hundred six of this chapter.

(3) "Qualified life sciences company" means a life sciences company, as defined in subdivision eleven of section three hundred fifty-two of the economic development law, that has been certified by the department of economic development as a life sciences company and is a new business. Provided however, for purposes of the credit authorized under this section, the department of economic development shall not certify as a life sciences company any corporation, partnership, limited partnership, or other entity that has been within the immediately preceding sixty months a related person to an entity that is a life sciences company or an entity that is engaged in scientific research and development as defined in subdivision twenty-two of section three hundred fifty-two of the economic development law.

(4) "Research and development expenditures" means qualified research expenses as defined in subsection (b) of section 41 of the internal revenue code, provided, however, that such qualified research expenses shall not include amounts under subparagraph (B) of paragraph 1 of subsection (b) of section 41 of the internal revenue code and as further described in paragraph 3 of subsection (b) of section 41 of the internal revenue code. If section 41 of the internal revenue code has expired, then the research and development expenses shall be calculated as if the federal research and development credit structure and definition in effect in section 41 in federal tax year two thousand nine were still in effect.

(5) "Related person" means a related person as defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section 465 of the internal revenue code. For this purpose, a "related person" shall include an entity that would have qualified as a "related person" if it had not been dissolved, liquidated, merged with another entity or otherwise ceased to exist or operate.

(d)(1) For purposes of this section, in order to be eligible for the life sciences research and development tax credit allowed under this section, a life sciences company must be issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development. The department of economic development shall verify that such life sciences company has met all applicable eligibility criteria in this section before issuing a certificate of tax credit, including but not limited to verifying that the life sciences company is a new business.

(2) The commissioner of economic development, after consulting with the commissioner, shall promulgate regulations by October thirty-first, two thousand seventeen to establish procedures for the allocation of tax credits allowed under this section. Such rules and regulations shall include provisions describing the application process for the credit allowed under this section, the due dates for such applications, the eligibility standards for qualified life sciences companies, the standards which shall be used to evaluate the applications, the documentation that will be provided to taxpayers to substantiate to the department the amount of tax credits allocated to such taxpayers, and such other provisions as deemed necessary and appropriate.

Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, such rules and regulations may be adopted on an emergency basis if necessary to meet such October thirty-first, two thousand seventeen deadline.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B: subdivision 52.

(2) article 22: section 606: subsection (hhh).

(f) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, (i) employees and officers of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for certification submitted to the department of economic development, and (ii) the commissioner and the commissioner of the department of economic development may release the names and addresses of any taxpayer claiming the credit allowed under this section and the amount of the credit earned by the taxpayer. Provided, however, if a taxpayer claims such credit because it is a member of a limited liability company or a partner in a partnership, only the amount of credit earned by the entity and not the amount of credit claimed by the taxpayer may be released.

(g) For purposes of the credit allowed under this section, the number of persons employed by a qualified life sciences company during the taxable year shall be determined by ascertaining the number of such individuals employed full-time by such company, excluding general executive officers, on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December during each taxable year, by adding together the number of such individuals ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such dates occurring within such taxable year. An individual employed full-time means an employee in a job consisting of at least thirty-five hours per week, or two or more employees who are in jobs that together constitute the equivalent of a job of at least thirty-five hours per week (full-time equivalent).

* NB There are 2 § 43's

 § 43. Single member limited liability companies and eligibility for tax credits. A limited liability company that has a single member and is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner for federal income tax purposes (without reference to any special rules related to the imposition of certain federal taxes, including but not limited to certain employment and excise taxes) shall be disregarded as an entity separate from its owner for purposes of determining whether or not the taxpayer that is the single member of such limited liability company satisfies the requirements to be eligible for any tax credit allowed under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter or allowed under article thirty-two of this chapter prior to the repeal of such article. Such requirements, including but not limited to any necessary certification, employment or investment thresholds, payment obligations, and any time period for eligibility, shall be imposed on the taxpayer and the determination of whether or not such requirements have been satisfied and the computation of the credit shall be made by deeming such taxpayer and such limited liability company to be a single entity. If the taxpayer is the single member of more than one limited liability company that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner, the determination of whether or not the requirements to be eligible for any tax credit allowed under article nine, nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter or allowed under article thirty-two of this chapter prior to the repeal of such article have been satisfied and the computation of the credit shall be made by deeming such taxpayer and such limited liability companies to be a single entity.

* NB There are 2 § 43's

§ 44. Employer-provided child care credit. (a) General. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two, or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax in an amount equal to two hundred percent of the portion of the credit that is allowed to the taxpayer under section 45F of the internal revenue code that is attributable to (i) qualified child care expenditures paid or incurred with respect to a qualified child care facility with a situs in the state, and to (ii) qualified child care resource and referral expenditures paid or incurred with respect to the taxpayer's employees working in the state. The credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars. If the entity operating the qualified child care facility is a partnership or a New York S corporation, then such cap shall be applied at the entity level, so the aggregate credit allowed to all the partners or shareholders of such entity in a taxable year does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars.

(b) Credit recapture. If there is a cessation of operation or change in ownership, as defined by section 45F of the internal revenue code relating to a qualified child care facility with a situs in the state, the taxpayer shall add back the applicable recapture percentage of the credit allowed under this section in accordance with the recapture provisions of section 45F of the internal revenue code, but the recapture amount shall be limited to the credit allowed under this section.

(c) Reporting requirements. A taxpayer that has claimed a credit under this section shall notify the commissioner of any cessation of operation, change in ownership, or agreement to assume recapture liability as such terms are defined by section 45F of the internal revenue code, in the form and manner prescribed by the commissioner.

(d) Definitions. The terms "qualified child care expenditures", "qualified child care facility", "qualified child care resource and referral expenditure", "cessation of operation", "change of ownership", and "applicable recapture percentage" shall have the same meanings as in section 45F of the internal revenue code.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 53;
- (2) article 22: section 606(i), subsections (i) and (jjj);
- (3) article 33: section 1511, subdivision (dd).

§ 45. Empire state digital gaming media production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. (1) A taxpayer which is a digital gaming media production entity engaged in qualified digital gaming media production, or who is a sole proprietor of or a member of a partnership, which is a digital gaming media production entity engaged in qualified digital gaming media production, and is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter, shall be allowed a credit against such tax to be computed as provided herein for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-three and before January first, two thousand twenty-eight.

(2) The amount of the credit shall be the product (or pro rata share of the product, in the case of a taxpayer who is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation) of twenty-five percent and the qualified digital gaming media production costs of one or more qualified digital gaming media productions.

(3) Qualified digital gaming media production costs for a qualified digital gaming media production incurred and paid in this state but outside such metropolitan commuter transportation district as defined in section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law shall be eligible for a credit of ten percent of such eligible production costs in addition to the credit specified in paragraph two of this subdivision.

(4) All applicants to this program are required, as a condition of receiving the credit, to include in the credits of each digital game development media production language and a logo to be provided by the governor's office of motion picture and television development acknowledging the state's role in the creation of the production.

(5) A qualified digital gaming media production that has applied for credit under the provisions of this section shall, as a condition for the granting of the credit, file a diversity plan with the department of economic development outlining specific goals for hiring a diverse workforce. The commissioner of economic development shall promulgate regulations implementing the requirements of this paragraph, which, notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in the state administrative procedure act, may be adopted on an emergency basis, to ensure compliance with the provisions of this paragraph. The department of economic development shall review each submitted plan as to whether it meets the requirements established by the commissioner of economic development, and shall verify that the applicant has met or made good-faith efforts in achieving these goals.

(b) Allocation of credit. The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed under this section, subdivision fifty-five of section two hundred ten-B and subsection (nnn) of section six hundred six of this chapter in any taxable year shall be five million dollars. Such credit shall be allocated by the department of economic development in order of priority based upon the date of filing an application for allocation of digital gaming media production credit with such office. If the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year exceeds the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, such excess shall be treated as having been applied for on the first day of the subsequent taxable year. Provided, however, that for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-three, if the total amount of allocated credits applied for in any particular year is less than the aggregate amount of tax credits allowed for such year under this section, any unused portion may be carried over and added to the aggregate amount of credits allowed in the next succeeding taxable year or years.

(c) Definitions. As used in this section:

(1) "Qualified digital gaming media production" means: (i) a website, the digital media production costs of which are paid or incurred predominately in connection with (A) video simulation, animation, text, audio, graphics or similar gaming related property embodied in digital format, and (B) interactive features of digital gaming (e.g., links, message boards, communities or content manipulation); (ii) video or interactive games produced primarily for distribution over the internet, wireless network or successors thereto; and (iii) animation, simulation or embedded graphics digital gaming related software intended for commercial distribution regardless of medium; provided, however, that the qualified digital game development media productions described in subparagraphs (i) through (iii) of this paragraph must have digital media production costs equal to or in excess of fifty thousand dollars per production. A qualified digital gaming media production does not include a website, video, interactive game or software that is used predominately for: electronic commerce (retail or wholesale purposes other than the sale of video interactive games), gambling (including activities regulated by a New York gaming agency), or political advocacy purposes.

(2) "Digital gaming media production costs" means any costs for wages or salaries paid to individuals, other than actors or writers, directly employed for services performed by those individuals directly and predominantly in the creation of a digital gaming media production or productions. Up to two hundred thousand dollars in wages and salaries paid to such employees, other than actors and writers, directly employed shall be used in the calculation of this credit. Digital gaming media production costs include but shall not be limited to payments for services performed directly and predominantly in the development (including concept and prototype creation), design (including narrative direction and sound design), production (including testing and encoding), editing (including bug fixing) and compositing (including the integration of digital files for interaction by end users) of digital gaming media. Digital gaming media production costs shall not include expenses incurred for the distribution, marketing, promotion, or advertising content generated by end users, other costs not directly related to the creation, production or modification of digital gaming media or costs used by the taxpayer as a basis of the calculation of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter. In addition, wages related to the creation of digital gaming media for any person who predominantly serves in a corporate capacity in the role of chief executive officer, chief financial officer, president, treasurer or similar corporate position shall not be included as digital gaming media production costs if the digital gaming media production entity has more than ten employees. Wages paid to a person serving in such a role for the digital gaming media production entity shall also not be included if the person was employed by a related person of the digital gaming media production entity within sixty months of the date the digital gaming media production entity applied for the tax credit certificate described in subdivision (d) of this section. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a related person shall have the same meaning as the term "related person" in section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code. Furthermore, any income or other distribution to any individual including, but not limited to, licensing or royalty fees, who holds an ownership interest in a digital gaming media production entity, whether or not such individual is serving in the role of chief executive officer, chief financial officer, president, treasurer or similar position for such an entity, shall not be included as digital gaming media production costs. Up to five million dollars in qualified digital gaming media production costs per production shall be used in the calculation of this credit. Digital gaming media production costs shall not include those costs used by the taxpayer or another taxpayer as the basis calculation of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(3) "Qualified digital gaming media production costs" means digital gaming media production costs only to the extent such costs are attributable to the use of property or the performance of services by any persons within the state directly and predominantly in the creation, production or modification of digital gaming related media. Such total production costs incurred and paid in this state shall be equal to or exceed fifty-one percent of total cost of an eligible production incurred and paid within and without this state.

(4) "Digital gaming media production entity" means a corporation, partnership, limited partnership or other entity or individual engaged in qualified digital game development media production.

(d) To be eligible for the empire state digital gaming media production credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed and the taxable year in which it shall be claimed. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for that taxable year. In order to properly administer this credit, the department shall be allowed to exchange information with the department of economic development about the taxpayers claiming this credit, including information about the tax credits claimed. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation. The taxpayer shall claim the tax credit in the taxable year that begins in the year for which it is allocated credit under this section.

(e) Cross-references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) Article nine-A: section two hundred ten-B, subdivision fifty-five.

(2) Article twenty-two: section six hundred six, subsection (i), paragraph one, subparagraph (B), clause (xlv).

(3) Article twenty-two: section six hundred six, subsection (nn).

§ 46. Restaurant return-to-work tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section four hundred seventy-five of the economic development law. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer which is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible for the restaurant return-to-work tax credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision two of section four hundred seventy-four of the economic development law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for that taxable year. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation.

(c) Tax return requirement and advance payment option. (1) The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of the department of economic development.

(2) Taxpayers who choose to use August thirty-first, two thousand twenty-one as the last date to calculate their average ending full-time employment and have received their certificate of tax credit by November fifteenth, two thousand twenty-one shall have the option to request an advance payment of the amount of tax credit they are allowed under this section. A taxpayer must submit such request to the department in the manner prescribed by the commissioner after it has been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision two of section four hundred seventy-four of the economic development law (or such certificate has been issued to a partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation in which it is a partner, member or shareholder, respectively), but such request must be submitted no later than November fifteenth, two thousand twenty-one. For those taxpayers who have requested an advance payment and for whom the commissioner has determined eligible for this credit, the commissioner shall advance a payment of the tax credit allowed to the taxpayer. However, in the case of a taxpayer subject to article nine-A of this chapter, such payment shall be equal to the amount of credit allowed to the taxpayer less twenty-five dollars. Such twenty-five dollars shall represent a partial payment of tax owed by the taxpayer under article nine-A, including any fixed dollar minimum owed under paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. When a taxpayer files its return for the taxable year, such taxpayer shall properly reconcile the advance payment and any partial payment of fixed dollar minimum tax, if applicable, on the taxpayer's return.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the restaurant return-to-work tax credit program;

(2) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers that are applying for the credit or that are claiming the credit; and

(3) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the restaurant return-to-work tax credit program. Except as provided in paragraph two of this subdivision, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article twenty-five of the economic development law is revoked by such department, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 56;
- (2) article 22: section 606, subsection (lll).

§ 46-a. Additional restaurant return-to-work tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section four hundred seventy-five-a of the economic development law. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer which is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible for the additional restaurant return-to-work tax credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of additional tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision four of section four hundred seventy-four of the economic development law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of additional tax credit for that taxable year. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of additional tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation. However, the taxpayer must be a partner, member or shareholder of such partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation as of April first, two thousand twenty-two.

(c) Tax return requirement and advance payment option. (1) The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of additional tax credit issued by the commissioner of the department of economic development.

(2) Taxpayers shall have the option to request an advance payment of the amount of tax credit they are allowed under this section. A taxpayer must submit such request to the department in the manner prescribed by the commissioner after it has been issued a certificate of additional tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision four of section four hundred seventy-four of the economic development law (or such certificate has been issued to a partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation in which it is a partner, member or shareholder, respectively), but such request must be submitted no later than September thirtieth, two thousand twenty-two. For those taxpayers who have requested an advance payment and for whom the commissioner has determined eligible for this credit, the commissioner shall advance a payment of the tax credit allowed to the taxpayer. However, in the case of a taxpayer subject to article nine-A of this chapter, such payment shall be equal to the amount of credit allowed to the taxpayer less twenty-five dollars. Such twenty-five dollars shall represent a partial payment of tax owed by the taxpayer under article nine-A, including any fixed dollar minimum owed under paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. When a taxpayer files its return for the taxable year, such taxpayer shall properly reconcile the advance payment and any partial payment of fixed dollar minimum tax, if applicable, on the taxpayer's return.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information derived from tax returns or reports that are relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the restaurant return-to-work tax credit program;

(2) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed, or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers that are applying for the credit or that are claiming the credit; and

(3) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the restaurant return-to-work tax credit program. Except as provided in paragraph two of this subdivision, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Credit recapture. If a certificate of additional tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article twenty-five of the economic development law is revoked by such department, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 56-a;
- (2) article 22: section 606, subsection (nnn).

 § 47. COVID-19 capital costs tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section four hundred eighty-five of the economic development law. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer which is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible for the COVID-19 capital costs tax credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to subdivision three of section four hundred eighty-four of the economic development law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for that taxable year. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation.

(c) Tax return requirement. The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of the department of economic development.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the department of economic development and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the COVID-19 capital costs tax credit program;

(2) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers that are applying for the credit or that are claiming the credit; and

(3) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the COVID-19 capital costs tax credit program. Except as provided in paragraph two of this subdivision, all information exchanged between the department of economic development and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article twenty-six of the economic development law is revoked by such department, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 58;

(2) article 22: section 606, subsection (nnn).

* NB There are 3 § 47's

 § 47. Grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit. (a) (1) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that meets the eligibility requirements of subdivision (b) of this section and is subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter may be eligible to claim a grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit in the taxable year the conversion is complete. The credit shall be equal to fifty percent of the conversion costs for all of the taxpayer's buildings located at a facility regulated pursuant to section 19-0302 or title ten of article seventeen of the environmental conservation law, paid by such taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand twenty-two and before January first, two thousand twenty-four. The credit cannot exceed five hundred thousand dollars per facility.

(2) A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation that meets the eligibility criteria described in subdivision (b) of this section to claim a grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit. In no event may the total amount of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation exceed five hundred thousand dollars for all buildings located at a New York state department of environmental conservation regulated facility.

(3) No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer that is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility criteria. (1) To be eligible to claim a grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit, a business entity must:

(i) incur expenses for the conversion from grade no. 6 heating oil fuel, as described as "conversion costs" in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) of this section, to biodiesel heating oil or a geothermal system at any building located in New York state outside the city of New York;

(ii) submit an application to and obtain approval of such application by the New York state energy research and development authority describing the conversion and approved costs to complete such conversion;

(iii) not be principally engaged in the generation or distribution of electricity, power or energy;

(iv) be in compliance with all environmental conservation laws and regulations; and

(v) not owe past due state taxes unless the business entity is making payments and complying with an approved binding payment agreement entered into with the taxing authority.

(c) Definitions. As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) Conversion costs means the equipment and labor costs associated with the design, installation and use of space heating and other energy conversion systems that are designed to or accommodate the use of biodiesel fuel or a geothermal system and, at the option of the taxpayer, the costs of completing an ASHRAE level 2 energy audit including assessment of electrification options.

(2) Biodiesel means a minimum blend of eighty-five (85) percent biodiesel, defined as fuel manufactured from vegetable oils, animal fats, or other agricultural or other products or by-products, with petrodiesel fuel commonly used for heating systems.

(3) Geothermal means a system that uses the ground or ground water as a thermal energy source/sink to heat or cool a building or provide hot water within the building.

(4) A New York state department of environmental conservation regulated facility is a facility regulated pursuant to section 19-0302 or title ten of article seventeen of the environmental conservation law.

(d) The commissioner, in consultation with the New York state energy research and development authority, will develop an application process to certify the expenses necessary for the conversion and a taxpayer will not be eligible to claim the credit unless it has completed that application process and the application has been approved by the New York state energy research and development authority.

(e) Information sharing. The department, the department of environmental conservation and the New York state energy research and development authority shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the information contained on the credit application for claiming the grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit and such information exchanged between the department, the department of environmental conservation and the New York state energy research and development authority shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 58;
- (2) article 22: section 606, subsection (nnn).

* NB There are 3 § 47's

 § 47. Suspension of certain taxes on motor fuel and Diesel motor fuel. (a) Definitions. For purposes of this section:

(1) "Distributor" shall have the same meaning as that term is defined in subdivision one of section two hundred eighty-two of this chapter;

(2) "Motor fuel" shall have the same meaning as that term is defined in subdivision two of section two hundred eighty-two of this chapter;

(3) "Diesel motor fuel" shall mean "highway diesel motor fuel" as defined in subdivision sixteen-a of section two hundred eighty-two of this chapter;

(4) The terms "retail sale", "sale" and "use" shall have the same meanings as those terms are defined in section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

(b) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the following taxes shall be suspended beginning on June first, two thousand twenty-two and ending on December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-two: (1) the taxes imposed on Diesel motor fuel by subdivision one of section two hundred eighty-two-a, and sections two hundred eighty-two-b and two hundred eighty-two-c of this chapter; (2) the taxes imposed on motor fuel by sections two hundred eighty-four, two hundred eighty-four-a and two hundred eighty-four-c of this chapter; and (3) the prepaid sales taxes imposed on motor fuel and Diesel motor fuel by subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred two of this chapter.

(c) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, beginning on June first, two thousand twenty-two and ending on December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-two, the state sales and use taxes imposed by sections eleven hundred five, eleven hundred nine and eleven hundred ten of this chapter shall not apply to sales or uses of motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel, and the provisions of subdivision (e), and paragraphs one and two of subdivision (m) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter shall be suspended. Nothing in this subdivision shall affect the application of the taxes imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter to motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel.

(d) The taxes described in subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section shall not be included in the price of motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel sold for the period beginning on June first, two thousand twenty-two and ending on December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-two. Any retailer that purchases motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel during such period upon which such taxes were previously paid and included in the price paid by such retailer shall be entitled to a refund or credit of such taxes.

(e) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, beginning on June first, two thousand twenty-two and ending on December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-two, the composite rates of tax applicable for purposes of subdivision two of section five hundred three-a and subdivision (b) of section five hundred twenty-three of this chapter shall be determined without reference to the suspension of the taxes described by subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section, but shall be computed using the respective rates in effect on May thirty-first, two thousand twenty-two.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, on or before the fifth day each month for the period beginning July, two thousand twenty-two and ending January, two thousand twenty-three, the comptroller shall, in consultation with the director of the division of the budget, transfer from the general fund to the mass transportation operating assistance fund created by section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law, the dedicated highway and bridge trust fund established by section eighty-nine-b of such law, and the dedicated mass transportation trust fund established by section eighty-nine-c of such law, amounts equal to the revenue distributed to such funds from the taxes described in subdivisions (b) and (c) of this section in state fiscal year two thousand twenty-one--two thousand twenty-two, adjusted by the change in such amounts projected for state fiscal year two thousand twenty-two--two thousand twenty-three as if the suspension of such taxes had not occurred, as reflected in the state fiscal year two thousand twenty-two--two thousand twenty-three enacted budget.

(g) Every person engaged in the retail sale of motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel or a distributor of such fuels, shall comply with the provisions of this section by reducing the prices charged for motor fuel and Diesel motor fuel in an amount equal to any reduction in taxes prepaid by the distributor or imposed on retail customers resulting from the suspension of taxes on motor fuel and Diesel motor fuel under this section.

* NB There are 3 § 47's

§ 48. Child care creation and expansion tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A, twenty-two or thirty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section three hundred ninety-four-d of the social services law and shall be claimed in the taxable year that includes the last day of the service year for which the credit is calculated. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer that is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible for the child care creation and expansion tax credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the office of children and family services pursuant to section three hundred ninety-four-c of the social services law. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation.

(c) Tax return requirement. The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of the office of children and family services.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the office of children and family services and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers that are applying for the credit or that are claiming the credit; and

(2) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department. Except as provided in paragraph one of this subdivision, all information exchanged between the office of children and family services and the department shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the office of children and family services under title one-A of article six of the social services law is revoked by such office, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

- (1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 59;
- (2) article 22: section 606, subsection (ooo);
- (3) article 33: section 1511, subdivision (ee).

 § 49. Newspaper and broadcast media jobs tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer subject to tax under article nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (e) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to article twenty-seven of the economic development law and shall be based on the certificates of tax credit issued to eligible businesses owned by the taxpayer or by an entity of which the taxpayer is a partner or shareholder. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation shall be allowed its pro-rata share of the credit allowed for the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation. No cost or expense paid or incurred that is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) Eligibility. To be eligible to claim the newspaper and broadcast media jobs tax credit the eligible businesses owned by the taxpayer or by an entity of which the taxpayer is a partner or shareholder shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the department of economic development pursuant to article twenty-seven of the economic development law, which certificate or certificates shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount or amounts listed on the certificate or certificates of tax credit issued to eligible businesses owned by the taxpayer or by an entity of which the taxpayer is a partner or shareholder for that taxable year.

(c) Tax return requirement. The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return, in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate or certificates of tax credit issued by the commissioner of the department of economic development.

(d) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article twenty-seven of the economic development law is revoked by such department, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

(e) Cross references. For application of the credit provided in this section see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 60.

(2) article 22: section 606, subsection (ppp).

* NB There are two § 49's

 § 49. Commercial security tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-four and before January first, two thousand twenty-nine, a taxpayer required to file a return pursuant to articles nine, nine-A or twenty-two of this chapter shall be allowed a credit against such tax, pursuant to the provisions referenced in subdivision (f) of this section. The amount of the credit is equal to the amount determined pursuant to section eight hundred forty-five-e of the executive law. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer that is included as part of the calculation of this credit shall be the basis of any other tax credit allowed under this chapter.

(b) To be eligible for the commercial security tax credit, the taxpayer shall have been issued a certificate of tax credit by the division of criminal justice services pursuant to section eight hundred forty-five-e of the executive law, which certificate shall set forth the amount of the credit that may be claimed for the taxable year. The taxpayer shall be allowed to claim only the amount listed on the certificate of tax credit for the taxable year. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership, member of a limited liability company or shareholder in a subchapter S corporation that has received a certificate of tax credit shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership, limited liability company or subchapter S corporation.

(c) Tax return requirement. The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of tax credit issued by the division of criminal justice services.

(d) Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees of the division of criminal justice services and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange:

(1) information derived from tax returns or reports that is relevant to a taxpayer's eligibility to participate in the commercial security tax credit program;

(2) information regarding the credit applied for, allowed or claimed pursuant to this section and taxpayers that are applying for the commercial security tax credit program or that are claiming such credit; and

(3) information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department and applications for admission into the commercial security tax credit program. All information exchanged between the department and the division of criminal justice services shall not be subject to disclosure or inspection under the state's freedom of information law.

(e) Credit recapture. If a certificate of tax credit issued by the division of criminal justice services under section eight hundred forty-five-e of the executive law is revoked by the division, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to such revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year such revocation becomes final.

(f) Cross references. For application of the credit provided for in this section, see the following provisions of this chapter:

(1) article 9; section 187-r;

(2) article 9-A: section 210-B, subdivision 60;

(3) article 22: section 606, subdivision (ppp).

* NB There are two § 49's

ARTICLE 8

DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION AND FINANCE; COMMISSIONER OF TAXATION AND FINANCE

Section 170. Department of taxation and finance.

171. Powers and duties of commissioner of taxation and finance.

171-a. Deposit and disposition of revenue.

171-a*2. Statewide wage reporting system.

171-b. Verification of income.

171-c. Certain overpayments credited against past-due support.

171-d. Certain overpayments credited against defaulted governmental education loans.

171-e. Certain overpayments credited against national defense/national direct, health professions or nursing student loans.

171-f. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding debts owed to a state agency.

171-g. Provision of income information.

171-h. State directory of new hires.

171-i. Enforcement of child support and combined child and spousal support arrears.

171-j. Verification of payroll records.

171-k. Electronic signature.

171-l. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding tax debt owed to the city of New York.

171-m. Certain New York city tax overpayments credited against outstanding debts owed to the state of New York.

171-n. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding tax debts owed to other states.

171-p. Costs or fees imposed by the United States or other states for crediting tax overpayments against outstanding tax debts owed to the state of New York.

171-r. Brownfield credit report.

171-t. Reciprocal offset agreements with the United States or other states.

- 171-u. Verification of eligibility for STAR exemption.
- 171-v. Enforcement of delinquent tax liabilities through the suspension of drivers' licenses.
- 171-w. State support for the local enforcement of past-due property taxes.
- 171-z. Information sharing with the comptroller regarding unclaimed funds.
- 171-aa. E-file authorizations collected by tax return preparers.
- 172. Official seal.
- 173. Review by commissioner.
- 173-a. Hearing rights upon notice and demand.
- 174. Oaths, acknowledgments, subpoenas and commissions to take testimony.
- 174-a. Duration of warrant liens on real property.
- 174-b. Limitation on the time to collect tax liabilities.
- 175. Manner of execution of instruments by the commissioner.
- 176. Transfer of the powers and duties of the comptroller in relation to the assessment or collection of certain taxes.
- 177. Construction.
- 179. Definitions.
- 180. Independent analysis.

§ 170. Department of taxation and finance. 1. The existing department of taxation and finance and its present functions are continued. The head of the department of taxation and finance shall be the commissioner of taxation and finance who shall have sole charge of the administration of such department except with regard to the administration of the division of tax appeals which shall be the sole charge of the tax appeals tribunal authorized by article forty of this chapter. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate and shall hold office as commissioner of taxation and finance until the end of the term of the governor by whom he was appointed and until his successor has been appointed and has qualified.

2. Existing divisions or bureaus in the department of taxation and finance or transferred to the department shall continue until consolidated or abolished pursuant to this section. There shall be in the department of taxation and finance a division of taxation, a division of the treasury, a division of the lottery, an office of real property tax services, and a division of tax appeals.

3. The commissioner of taxation and finance may establish such additional divisions and bureaus as he may deem necessary. He may appoint the heads of such divisions and bureaus and fix their duties and he may consolidate, alter or abolish any divisions or bureaus, except that such commissioner shall have no such authority or power with regard to the division of tax appeals.

3-a. (a) There shall be in the division of taxation a bureau of conciliation and mediation services which shall be responsible for providing conciliation conferences. Such conference shall be provided, at the option of any taxpayer or any other person subject to the provisions of this chapter or any other provision of law relating to administration of taxes, where such taxpayer or any other such person has received any written notice of a determination of tax due, a tax deficiency, a denial of a refund or credit application, a cancellation, revocation or suspension of a license, permit or registration, a denial of an application for a license, permit or registration or any other notice which gives rise to a right to a hearing under this chapter if the time to petition for such a hearing has not elapsed. Such notice shall contain information advising the recipient of the right to have a conciliation conference.

(b) A request for a conciliation conference shall be applied for in the manner as set forth by regulation of the commissioner and, notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, shall suspend the running of the period of limitations for the filing of a petition protesting such notice and requesting a hearing. To discontinue the conciliation proceeding, the recipient of the notice shall make a request in writing and such person shall have ninety days from the time such request of discontinuance is made to petition the division of tax appeals for a hearing, except that the recipient of a written notice described in paragraph (h) of this subdivision will have thirty days from the time such request of discontinuance is made to petition the division of tax appeals for a hearing. The commissioner shall notify the division of tax appeals when any person requests a conference or requests to discontinue such conference.

(c) A conciliation conferee, all of whom, unless otherwise provided by law, shall be in the classified civil service, shall conduct the conciliation conference in an informal manner and shall hear or receive testimony and evidence deemed necessary or desirable for a just and equitable result. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall have the power to delegate authority to a conferee to waive or modify penalty, interest and additions to tax to the same extent as such commissioner is permitted under this chapter.

(d) The person who requests the conference may appear and represent himself, including a member of a partnership, in any conciliation conference, or may designate the person's spouse, parent or child, or an attorney admitted to practice in the courts of record of this state, a certified public accountant licensed in this state, an enrolled agent enrolled to practice before the internal revenue service, or a public accountant licensed in this state to appear and represent him. In addition the commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations to permit a corporation to be represented by one of its officers or an employee. The department may also allow an attorney, certified public accountant or licensed public accountant authorized to practice or licensed in any other jurisdiction of the United States to appear and represent such person in a conciliation conference proceeding and, on the written request of such person, may allow any other individual to represent him. An employee of the department of taxation and finance familiar with the controversy shall also be present at such proceedings.

(e) A conciliation order shall be rendered within thirty days after the proceeding is concluded and such order shall, in the absence of a showing of fraud, malfeasance or misrepresentation of a material fact, be binding upon the department and the person who requested the conference, except such order shall not be binding on such person if such person petitions for the hearing provided for under this chapter within ninety days after the conciliation order is issued, or, for a conciliation order affirming a written notice described in paragraph (h) of this subdivision, within thirty days after the conciliation order is issued, notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary.

(f) Conciliation conference orders shall not be required to be published and such orders shall not be considered as precedent or be given any force or effect in any subsequent administrative proceeding with respect to the person who requested the conference or in any other proceeding.

(g) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall collect, compile and prepare for publication statistics and other data with respect to the operations of the bureau of conciliation and mediation services, and to submit annually to the governor, the temporary president of the senate and the speaker of the assembly a report on such operations, including but not limited to, the number of conferences held, the dispositions made and the number of conferences pending.

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any person who seeks review by the bureau of conciliation and mediation services of a written notice that advises that person of (i) the proposed cancellation, revocation, or suspension of a license, permit, registration, or other credential issued under the authority of this chapter excluding a certificate of registration of a retail dealer under section four hundred eighty-a of this chapter, (ii) the denial of an application for a license, permit, registration, or other credential issued under the authority of this chapter excluding an application for registration as a retail dealer under section four hundred eighty-a of this chapter and an application to renew a certificate of authority filed pursuant to paragraph five of subdivision (a) of section one thousand one hundred thirty-four of this chapter and any other law, or, (iii) the imposition of a fraud penalty under this chapter, must request a conciliation conference within thirty days of the mailing of that notice.

4. The commissioner of taxation and finance may appoint and remove such officers, assistants and other employees as he may deem necessary for the exercise of the powers and duties of the department, all of whom shall be in the classified civil service unless otherwise provided by law; and he may prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation within the amounts appropriated therefor. The commissioner of taxation and finance may transfer officers or employees from their positions to other positions in the department, or abolish or consolidate such positions. He shall have all powers necessary to perform the duties conferred upon him regarding the state lottery authorized by article thirty-four of this chapter. However, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall have no power to appoint or remove any personnel of the division of tax appeals nor shall such commissioner have any power or authority with regard to the operation and administration of such division including any power or authority over such division's budget. The commissioner shall furnish to the director of the division of the budget the itemized estimates of the financial needs of the division of tax appeals prepared by the tax appeals tribunal. Such itemized estimates may not be revised or altered in any manner by the commissioner.

5. The head of the division of taxation shall be the commissioner of taxation and finance who shall be appointed by the governor as provided in subdivision one of this section. No person shall be appointed as commissioner of taxation and finance unless at the time of his appointment he is a resident of the state and known to have knowledge on the subject of taxation and skill in matters pertaining thereto. Such commissioner shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office. The commissioner of taxation and finance may after notice and an opportunity to be heard, be removed by the governor for neglect of duty or misfeasance in office, and the commissioner may be removed for other cause by the senate on the recommendation of the governor. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall receive an annual salary within the amounts appropriated therefor.

6. The head of the division of the treasury shall be an officer entitled the deputy commissioner and treasurer to be appointed by and to hold office during the pleasure of the commissioner. The state treasury, the custody of monies therein and the custody of all other funds, as now or hereafter prescribed by law shall continue to be in the immediate charge of the head of such division, subject to the supervision and control of the commissioner; and the head of such division, subject to such supervision and control, shall make the payments out of the treasury and from such funds authorized or directed by law to be made. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, expenditures relating to financial services performed by the division of the treasury as fiscal agent, trustee or sole custodian of funds, moneys or accounts of agencies, authorities or other entities, shall be charged to such agencies, authorities or other entities. Payment of such charges shall be in a manner prescribed by the commissioner and may include the withholding of interest due on any investments made for such agencies, authorities or other entities. All income derived from fees levied by the commissioner for such financial services shall be deposited by the commissioner in the miscellaneous special revenue fund, investment services account. The commissioner may assign to such division such other powers and duties of the department of taxation and finance as he may deem proper.

7. The head of the division of the lottery shall be an officer to be appointed by, and hold office during the pleasure of the commissioner of taxation and finance.

7-a. The head of the office of real property tax services shall be an officer to be appointed and hold office as provided by section two hundred three of the real property tax law.

8. The reasonable and necessary traveling and other expenses of the commissioner, deputy commissioners and other officers and employees of the department, while actually engaged in the performance of their duties, outside of the city of Albany, or if such officer or employee be in charge of or actually employed at a branch office of the department, the reasonable and necessary traveling and other expenses outside of the place in which such branch office is located, and the necessary traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties in the place in which their duties are performed of such officers and employees as are specifically authorized by order of the commissioner of taxation and finance, shall be paid upon the order of the comptroller upon vouchers approved by the commissioner of taxation and finance.

§ 171. Powers and duties of commissioner of taxation and finance. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall:

First. Make such reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary for the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties under this chapter, including regulations which shall advise the public of (i) the various methods by which the department communicates tax policy and interpretations to taxpayers, tax practitioners, personnel of the department and the general public and (ii) the legal force and effect, precedential value and binding nature of each such method of communication.

Second. Assess, determine, revise, readjust and impose the corporation taxes under articles nine and nine-A of this chapter, and on and after July first, nineteen hundred twenty-one, have the power and perform the duties of the state comptroller in the collection of such taxes and the crediting of such taxes erroneously paid, as jurisdiction thereof is vested in such commissioner by section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

Third. On and after July first, nineteen hundred twenty-one, have the powers and perform the duties of the state comptroller in relation to the assessment, determination and collection of the tax on transfers of property, as jurisdiction thereof is vested in such commissioner by section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

Fourth. On and after July first, nineteen hundred twenty-one, have the powers and perform the duties of the state comptroller in the collection of the tax on transfers of stock under article twelve of this chapter, as jurisdiction thereof is vested in such commissioner by section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

Fifth. On and after July first, nineteen hundred twenty-one, have the power and perform the duties of the state comptroller in the assessment, determination, review, readjustment and collection of taxes upon and with respect to personal income, as jurisdiction thereof is vested in such commissioner by section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

Sixth. Administer, supervise and enforce the tax on mortgages as provided in article eleven of this chapter.

Eighth. Take testimony and proofs, under oath, with reference to any matter within the line of his official duty. A deputy tax commissioner and such other officials and employees of the department of taxation and finance as may be nominated by such commissioner by resolution recorded in the minutes may be designated for the purpose of taking such testimony and proofs.

Ninth. Require from all state and local officers such information as may be necessary for the proper discharge of its duties.

Tenth. Hold meetings at an office to be assigned in one of the state buildings at Albany, at such times as may be fixed by such commissioner or by adjournment thereof, or at such other places as he may designate.

Eleventh. Compile and publish statistics relating to state and local taxation.

Twelfth. Make investigations of the general system of state taxation from time to time.

Thirteenth. Inquire into the provisions of the laws of other states and jurisdictions; to confer with tax commissioners of other states regarding the most effectual and equitable methods of taxation, and particularly regarding the best methods of avoiding conflicts and duplication of taxation, and to recommend to the legislature such measures as will bring about uniformity of methods, harmony and co-operation between the different states and jurisdictions in matters of taxation.

Fourteenth. Perform the other powers and duties conferred upon it by law.

Fifteenth. Have authority to compromise any taxes or other impositions or any warrant or judgment for taxes or other impositions administered by the commissioner, and the penalties and interest in connection therewith, if the tax debtor has been discharged in bankruptcy, is shown by proofs submitted to be insolvent, or shows by proofs that collection in full would cause the tax debtor undue economic hardship, provided that the amount payable in compromise reasonably reflects collection potential or is otherwise justified by the proofs offered by the tax debtor. Provided, further, the commissioner shall not accept any amount payable in compromise that would undermine compliance with the taxes or other impositions administered by the commissioner, nor shall the commissioner enter into any offer of compromise that would be adverse to the best interests of the state. Where the amount owing for taxes or other impositions or the warrant or judgment, exclusive of any penalties and interest, is more than one hundred thousand dollars, such compromise shall be effective only when approved by a justice of the supreme court. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations defining what constitutes undue economic hardship. The inability to maintain an affluent or luxurious lifestyle shall not constitute undue economic hardship.

Fifteenth-a. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter: (i) the commissioner may grant the relief described in paragraph (iii) of this subdivision to a limited partner of a limited partnership (but not a partner of a limited liability partnership) or a member of a limited liability company if such limited partner or member demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such limited partner's or member's ownership interest and the percentage of their distributive share of the profits and losses of such limited partnership or limited liability company are each less than fifty percent, and such limited partner or member was not under a duty to act, and did not act, for such limited partnership or limited liability company in complying with any requirement of the taxes imposed under article twenty-eight of this chapter and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter. Provided, however, the commissioner shall deny an application for relief if: (A) such limited partner or member had a duty to act or has acted on behalf of such limited partnership or limited liability company in complying with any requirement of the taxes imposed under article twenty-eight of this chapter and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter; (B) such limited partner or member has been convicted of a crime provided in this chapter; (C) such limited partner or member has a past-due tax liability, as such term is defined in section one hundred seventy-one-v of this article; (D) approval of such application would undermine compliance with the taxes or other impositions administered by the commissioner; or (E) approval of such application would be adverse to the best interests of the state.

(ii) The relief described in paragraph (iii) of this subdivision shall not be provided unless a limited partner or member submits a properly completed application for relief on a form prescribed by the commissioner. The information provided in such application must be true and complete in all material respects. Providing materially false or fraudulent information on such application shall disqualify such limited partner or member for the relief described in paragraph (iii) of this subdivision, shall void any agreement with the commissioner with respect to such relief, and shall result in such limited partner or member bearing strict liability for the total amount of tax, interest and penalty owed by their respective limited partnership or limited liability company under article twenty-eight of this chapter and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter.

(iii) If the commissioner approves such application, such limited partner or member shall be liable for the percentage of the original liability under article twenty-eight of this chapter and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter of their respective limited partnership or limited liability company that reflects such limited partner's or member's ownership interest or distributive share of the profits and losses of such limited partnership or limited liability company, whichever is higher. Such original liability shall include any interest accrued thereon up to and including the date of payment by such limited partner or member at the underpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to section eleven hundred forty-two of this chapter, and shall be reduced by the sum of any payments made by the limited partnership or limited liability company. Provided, however, such limited partner or member shall not be liable for any penalty owed by such limited partnership or limited liability company or any other partner or member of such limited partnership or limited liability company; and provided further that the sum of the amounts owed by all of the persons required to collect tax of a limited partnership or limited liability company shall not exceed the total liability of such limited partnership or limited liability company.

(iv) The denial of a limited partner's or member's application for relief shall not be reviewable by the division of tax appeals, but may be reviewed pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules by a proceeding commenced within four months of such denial in the county where the commissioner has their principal office.

(v) Any payment made by a limited partner or member in excess of such limited partner's or member's percentage of ownership or distributive share, whichever is higher, shall be deemed a payment by the respective limited partnership or limited liability company, and such limited partner or member shall not be entitled to a refund of such amount.

Sixteenth. Have authority to compromise any taxes or any warrant or judgment for taxes imposed by this chapter and the penalties and interest in connection therewith of a tax debtor which is a domestic railroad corporation, or its trustee or trustees in bankruptcy, (1) in connection with its qualification as a railroad redevelopment corporation or the acquisition of its facilities by a railroad redevelopment corporation or (2) if said domestic railroad corporation is principally engaged in the transportation of passengers and at the time of said compromise it is the debtor in a reorganization proceeding pursuant to the United States bankruptcy act and said compromise is approved by the bankruptcy court.

Seventeenth. Have authority to release any real and personal property from the lien of any warrant for unpaid taxes, additions to tax, penalties and interest, or vacate such warrant, upon such conditions as he or she may require, if he or she finds that the interests of the state will not thereby be jeopardized. Such release or vacating of the warrant may be recorded in the office of any recording officer (including the department of state) in which such warrant has been filed. When the warrant is vacated, the recording officer (including the department of state) shall thereupon cancel and discharge as of the original date of docketing the vacated warrant.

Eighteenth. Have authority to enter into a written agreement with any person, relating to the liability of such person (or of the person for whom he acts) in respect of any tax or fee imposed by the tax law or by a law enacted pursuant to the authority of the tax law or article two-E of the general city law, which agreement shall be final and conclusive, and except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance, or misrepresentation of a material fact: (a) the case shall not be reopened as to the matters agreed upon or the agreement modified, by any officer, employee, or agent of this state, and (b) in any suit, action, or proceeding, such agreement, or any determination, assessment, collection, payment, cancellation, abatement, refund or credit made in accordance therewith, shall not be annulled, modified, set aside or disregarded. As used in this paragraph the term "person" includes an individual, trust, estate, partnership and corporation.

Eighteenth-a. Have authority to compromise civil liability, with such qualifications and limitations as may be established pursuant to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, where such liability arises under a tax or other imposition which is administered by the commissioner, at any time prior to the time the tax, other imposition or administrative action becomes finally and irrevocably fixed and no longer subject to administrative review. Upon acceptance of an offer in compromise by the commissioner, the matter may not be reopened except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance or misrepresentation of a material fact. The attorney general may compromise any such liability after reference to the department of law for prosecution or defense at any time prior to the time the tax, other imposition or administrative action taken by the commissioner is no longer subject to judicial review. Whenever a compromise is made by the commissioner of any such liability, there shall be placed on file in the office of the commissioner the opinion of the counsel for such department, with his or her reasons therefor, with a statement of: (a) the amount of tax or other imposition and any other issues which may be the subject of such compromise, (b) the amount of interest, additions to the tax, or penalty imposed by law on the taxpayer or other persons against whom the administrative action was taken by the department, and

(c) the amount actually paid in accordance with the terms of the compromise. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, no such opinion shall be required with respect to the compromise of any civil liability in which the unpaid amount of tax or other imposition which was the subject of the administrative action (including any interest, additions to tax, or penalty) is less than fifty thousand dollars.

Eighteenth-b. Where the filing requirement arises under article twenty-two of this chapter or under a law enacted pursuant to the authority of article thirty or thirty-A of this chapter, have authority to require a husband and wife whose federal income tax liabilities are determined on a joint federal return and who have not filed a joint New York income tax return to file separate income tax returns, in which case their income tax liabilities shall be separate. Such authority shall be exercised only where one of such persons demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the commissioner, that (a) the address or whereabouts of his or her spouse is unknown to him or her, (b) reasonable efforts have been made by him or her to locate such spouse, and (c) good cause existed for the failure to file a joint New York income tax return.

Eighteenth-c. Where the filing requirement arises under article twenty-two of this chapter or under a law enacted pursuant to the authority of article thirty or thirty-A of this chapter, have authority to require a husband and wife whose federal income tax liabilities are determined on a joint federal return and who have not filed a joint New York income tax return to file separate income tax returns, in which case their income tax liabilities shall be separate. Such authority shall be exercised only where one of such persons demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the commissioner, that (a) his or her spouse has refused to sign a joint New York income tax return, (b) reasonable efforts have been made by him or her to have such spouse sign a joint New York income tax return, (c) there exists objective evidence of alienation of such person from his or her spouse such as a judicial order of protection, legal separation under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, separation under a written separation agreement or judicial decree of separation, living apart at all times during the twelve months immediately preceding the application for exercise of authority under this provision, the commencement of an action for divorce, or the commencement of proceedings in family court which evidence such alienation, and (d) good cause existed for the failure to file a joint New York income tax return.

Eighteenth-d. (a) Have authority to compromise civil liability, with such qualifications and limitations as may be established pursuant to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, for a taxpayer's spousal share of liability arising from a joint income tax return, filed under article twenty-two of this chapter or under a law enacted pursuant to the authority of article thirty or thirty-A of this chapter, where the following conditions are met:

(1) the taxpayer and spouse filing the joint return are, at the time of the offer in compromise, separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or a written separation agreement, or a judicial decree of separation, or the taxpayer at the time of the offer in compromise is not considered as married within the meaning of section 7703(b) of the internal revenue code (relating to certain married individuals living apart), and

(2) it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the collection of the spousal share of liability from the taxpayer cannot be accomplished within a reasonable period of time without imposing substantial economic hardship on the taxpayer.

(b) Upon acceptance of an offer in compromise under this subdivision by the commissioner, the matter may not be reopened except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance or misrepresentation of a material fact.

(c) Whenever a compromise is made by the department of any such liability, there shall be placed on file in the office of the commissioner the opinion of the counsel for the department, with his reasons therefor with a statement of:

(1) the amount of tax assessed,

(2) the amount of interest, additions to the tax, or penalty imposed by law on the taxpayer and spouse against whom the tax is assessed, and

(3) the amount actually paid in accordance with the terms of the compromise.

Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, no such opinion shall be required with respect to the compromise of any civil liability in which the unpaid amount of tax assessed (including any interest, additions to tax, or penalty) is less than twenty-five thousand dollars.

(d) Spousal share of liability. For purposes of this subdivision, the spousal share of liability shall be determined by multiplying the joint and several liability arising from the joint return by a fraction, the numerator of which is the tax for the taxable year at issue determined separately for the spouse, and the denominator of which is the sum of the taxes for such taxable year determined separately for the spouse and for the taxpayer.

(e) A compromise under this subdivision as to a taxpayer's spousal share of liability arising from a joint income tax return shall not compromise the joint and several liability of the spouse with respect to that return.

Nineteenth. Have authority to provide by regulation (1) that in any determination, assessment, collection, refund or credit under this chapter, a fractional part of a dollar may be disregarded unless it amounts to fifty cents or more, in which case it shall be increased to one dollar, and (2) that any person making a return, report or other statement required to be filed with it under this chapter, may elect with respect to any amount required to be shown thereon, if such amount is other than a whole dollar amount, either to disregard the fractional part of a dollar or to disregard the fractional part of a dollar unless it amounts to fifty cents or more, in which case the amount (determined without regard to the fractional part of a dollar) shall be increased by one dollar; provided, however, that such election shall not be applicable to items which must be taken into account in making the computations necessary to determine the amount required to be shown on any such return, report or other statement but shall be applicable only to the final amount required to be shown thereon.

Twentieth. Have authority, of his own motion, to abate any small unpaid balance of an assessment of tax, or any liability in respect thereof, under articles twelve-A, eighteen, twenty or twenty-one of this chapter, if such commissioner determines under uniform rules prescribed by him that the administration and collection costs involved would not warrant collection of the amount due. He may also abate, of his own motion, the unpaid portion of the assessment of any of such taxes, or any liability in respect thereof, which is excessive in amount, or is assessed after the expiration of the period of limitation properly applicable thereto, or is erroneously or illegally assessed. No claim for abatement under this subdivision shall be filed for any of such taxes.

Twenty-third. Technical memoranda issued by the department shall advise and inform taxpayers and others of existing interpretations of laws and regulations by the department or changes to the statutory or case law of interest to the public. In no event shall technical memoranda be issued by the department in violation of the provisions of the state administrative procedure act where and to the extent that a duly promulgated rule or regulation would be required. Where and to the extent that an opinion of the counsel of the department is deemed to be of sufficient significance and general applicability to a group or group of taxpayers, such opinion shall be disseminated via a technical memorandum.

Twenty-fourth. Be required to render advisory opinions with respect to taxes administered by such commissioner within ninety days of the receipt of a petition for such an opinion. Such ninety day period may be extended by such commissioner, for good cause shown, to no more than thirty additional days. Such advisory opinion shall be rendered to any person subject to a tax or liability under this chapter or claiming exemption from such tax or liability and may, in the discretion of the commissioner, be rendered to any non-taxpayer, including but not limited to a local official, petitioning on behalf of a local jurisdiction, or the head of a state agency, petitioning on behalf of the agency. Such advisory opinions, which shall be published and made available to the public, shall not be binding upon such commissioner except with respect to the person to whom such opinion is rendered provided, however, that a subsequent modification by such commissioner of such an advisory opinion shall operate prospectively only. A petition for an advisory opinion shall contain a specific set of facts and be submitted in such form as may be prescribed by such commissioner and subject to such rules and regulations as such commissioner may promulgate with respect to the procedures for submission of such a petition. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit or otherwise alter the rights of any applicant for a declaratory ruling pursuant to section two hundred four of the state administrative procedure act.

Twenty-fifth. a. With respect to the income to be used in the computation of school aid payable in the school year nineteen hundred ninety-four--ninety-five and thereafter, be required to design, develop and implement a permanent computerized statewide school district address match and income verification system in regard to each school district's valuation of total New York adjusted gross income as determined by the department, for use in determining state aid to education. The department shall promulgate rules and regulations to effect the provisions of this paragraph within ninety days of the enactment of the chapter of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-four amending this paragraph. Commencing September first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, the commissioner and the commissioner of education, subject to the approval of the director of the budget shall be required to enter into a cooperative agreement by September first of each year, which will govern the validation and correction and completion of the total New York adjusted gross income of school districts until September first of the following year. Such agreement shall include, but not be limited to: (i) procedures to improve the accuracy of school district income data, in a manner which gives appropriate recognition to computerized processing capabilities, administrative feasibility of manual processes and confidentiality implications; (ii) procedures to verify the school district codes reported by taxpayers; (iii) procedures to correct identified inaccuracies; (iv) procedures to assign school district codes based on the permanent residence addresses of taxpayers who failed to complete the school district code; (v) the schedule for the transmittal of electronic data between the agencies, as necessary, to implement such system; and (vi) beginning in the nineteen hundred ninety-six state fiscal year, procedures for the review process provided for in paragraph c of this subdivision. All state departments and agencies, and school districts and other local governments and agencies, shall cooperate with the parties to such agreement in its implementation.

b. 1. Any correction, pursuant to this paragraph, of verified inaccuracies of income data shall only result in the removal of such returns from the identified school district.

2. All state departments and agencies, and school districts and other local governments and agencies, shall cooperate with the parties to such agreement in the implementation of the review process provided pursuant to this paragraph.

c. 1. With respect to income used in the computation of school aid payable in the school years nineteen hundred ninety-eight--ninety-nine and thereafter, be required to design, develop and implement a process whereby school districts may request a review of the assignment of taxpayer addresses to their school district. Procedures for such a review process shall be included in the cooperative agreement entered into pursuant to paragraph a of this subdivision.

2. School districts requesting a review in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall be required, in consultation with the district superintendent of schools for the supervisory district in which the school district is located, appointed pursuant to section nineteen hundred fifty of the education law, to submit to the commissioner of education evidence in support of a contention that the assignment of tax returns to their district is inaccurate. Identified school districts may be required to review ordered listings, prepared by the department or an authorized vendor contracted by the department, of the permanent resident address of selected taxpayers who filed personal income tax returns with the department reporting a school district code or address which indicates that the taxpayer was a resident of such identified school district at the close of the taxable year for which the return was filed. In no case shall ordered address listings for school district review include those addresses which the school district had the opportunity to review pursuant to paragraph a of this subdivision. District superintendents of schools appointed pursuant to section nineteen hundred fifty of the education law, having an identified school district within their supervisory district, shall be required to verify any suspected inaccuracies indicated by an identified district as a result of the district's review of ordered address listings pursuant to this paragraph.

3. Any correction, pursuant to this paragraph, of verified inaccuracies of income data shall only result in the removal of such returns from the identified school district.

4. All state departments and agencies, and school districts and other local governments and agencies, shall cooperate with the parties to such agreement in the implementation of the review process provided pursuant to this paragraph.

Twenty-sixth. a. Set the overpayment and underpayment rates of interest for purposes of articles twelve-A, eighteen, twenty and twenty-one of this chapter. Such rates shall be the overpayment and underpayment rates of interest set pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, but the underpayment rate shall not be less than seven and one-half percent per annum. Any such rates set by such commissioner shall apply to taxes, or any portion thereof, which remain or become due or overpaid (other than overpayments under such article twenty and not including reimbursements, if any, under any of such articles) on or after the date on which such rates become effective and shall apply only with respect to interest computed or computable for periods or portions of periods occurring in the period during which such rates are in effect. In computing the amount of any interest required to be paid under such articles by such commissioner or by the taxpayer, or any other amount determined by reference to such amount of interest, such interest and such amount shall be compounded daily.

b. Cross-reference. For provisions relating to the power of the commissioner of taxation and finance to abate small amounts of interest, see subdivision twentieth of this section.

Twenty-seventh. Have authority, upon agreement with the state comptroller, to act as an agent for the state comptroller for the purposes of crediting the payment of state money to any claimant against the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt, as defined in section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, owed by such claimant to a state agency, as defined in section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article. All the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article shall be applicable to the crediting of the payments of state money made in accordance with the authority granted in this subdivision, with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to such crediting and shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section and had expressly referred to such crediting, except to the extent any provision thereof is either inconsistent or is not relevant to such crediting. This section shall not be deemed to abrogate or limit in any way the powers and authority of the state comptroller to set off debts owed the state against payments from the state under the constitution of the state or any other law.

Twenty-eighth. a. Have the authority to postpone certain deadlines for a period of up to ninety days, or longer when necessary to align with relief provided by the Internal Revenue Service pursuant to section seven thousand five hundred eight-A of the internal revenue code, for a taxpayer who is determined to be affected by a presidentially declared disaster or by a disaster emergency declared by the governor. Any extension period provided pursuant to the authority in this subdivision shall be disregarded in determining under the tax law, or under a law enacted pursuant to the authority of the tax law or former article 2-E of the general city law where administered by the commissioner, in respect of any tax liability (including any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax) of such taxpayer:

1. Whether any of the acts described in paragraph one of subsection (a) of section six hundred ninety-six of the tax law in relation to the personal income tax (or any comparable acts with respect to taxes under this chapter other than the personal income tax) were performed within the time prescribed therefor, and

2. The amount of any credit or refund.

b. Special rule for overpayments. 1. Paragraph a of this subdivision shall not apply for purposes of determining the amount of interest on any overpayment of tax.

2. If a taxpayer is entitled to the benefits of paragraph a of this subdivision with respect to any return, amended return, or claim for credit or refund, and such return, amended return or claim is timely filed (determined after the application of this subdivision), paragraph three of subsection (a) and subsection (c) of section six hundred eighty-eight and paragraph three of subsection (a) and subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter shall not apply.

c. Definitions. 1. Presidentially declared disaster. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "presidentially declared disaster" means any disaster which, with respect to an area, resulted in a subsequent determination by the president of the United States that such area warrants assistance by the federal government under the disaster relief and emergency assistance act.

2. Taxpayer. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "taxpayer" means any person or entity required to file a return or remit any tax to the commissioner pursuant to this chapter.

d. Where a taxpayer who, pursuant to section seven thousand five hundred eight-a of the internal revenue code, is determined for federal tax purposes to be affected by a presidentially declared disaster, or who is determined to be affected by a disaster emergency declared by the governor, but the commissioner has not postponed a tax deadline pursuant to the authority in paragraph a of this subdivision due to such disaster, the commissioner may abate any amount of interest from the underpayment of any tax administered by the commissioner under this chapter that accrued for the period during which the taxpayer was unable to meet such deadline due to direct impacts of the disaster.

 § 171-a. Deposit and disposition of revenue. 1. All taxes, interest, penalties and fees collected or received by the commissioner or the commissioner's duly authorized agent under articles nine (except section one hundred eighty-two-a thereof and except as otherwise provided in section two hundred five thereof), nine-A, twelve-A (except as otherwise provided in section two hundred eighty-four-d thereof), thirteen, thirteen-A (except as otherwise provided in section three hundred twelve thereof), eighteen, nineteen, twenty (except as otherwise provided in section four hundred eighty-two thereof), twenty-B, twenty-C, twenty-D, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-four, twenty-four-A, twenty-six, twenty-eight (except as otherwise provided in section eleven hundred two or eleven hundred three thereof), twenty-eight-A, twenty-eight-D (except as otherwise provided in section eleven hundred ninety-seven, twenty-nine-B,, thirty-one (except as otherwise provided in section fourteen hundred twenty-one thereof), thirty-three and thirty-three-A of this chapter shall be deposited daily in one account with such responsible banks, banking houses or trust companies as may be designated by the comptroller, to the credit of the comptroller. Such an account may be established in one or more of such depositories. Such deposits shall be kept separate and apart from all other money in the possession of the comptroller. The comptroller shall require adequate security from all such depositories. Of the total revenue collected or received under such articles of this chapter, the comptroller shall retain in the comptroller's hands such amount as the commissioner may determine to be necessary for refunds or reimbursements under such articles of this chapter out of which amount the comptroller shall pay any refunds or reimbursements to which taxpayers shall be entitled under the provisions of such articles of this chapter. The commissioner and the comptroller shall maintain a system of accounts showing the amount of revenue collected or received from each of the taxes imposed by such articles. The comptroller, after reserving the amount to pay such refunds or reimbursements, shall, on or before the tenth day of each month, pay into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund all revenue deposited under this section during the preceding calendar month and remaining to the comptroller's credit on the last day of such preceding month, (i) except that the comptroller shall pay to the state department of social services that amount of overpayments of tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter and the interest on such amount which is certified to the comptroller by the commissioner as the amount to be credited against past-due support pursuant to subdivision six of section one hundred seventy-one-c of this article, (ii) and except that the comptroller shall pay to the New York state higher education services corporation and the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively that amount of overpayments of tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter and the interest on such amount which is certified to the comptroller by the commissioner as the amount to be credited against the amount of defaults in repayment of guaranteed student loans and state university loans or city university loans pursuant to subdivision five of section one hundred seventy-one-d and subdivision six of section one hundred seventy-one-e of this article, (iii) and except further that, notwithstanding any law, the comptroller shall credit to the revenue arrearage account, pursuant to section ninety-one-a of the state finance law, that amount of overpayment of tax imposed by article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter, and any interest thereon, which is certified to the comptroller by the commissioner as the amount to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to a state agency pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision six of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, provided, however, he shall credit to the special offset fiduciary account, pursuant to section ninety-one-c of the state finance law, any such amount creditable as a liability as set forth in paragraph (b) of subdivision six of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, (iv) and except further that the comptroller shall pay to the city of New York that amount of overpayment of tax imposed by article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter and any interest thereon that is certified to the comptroller by the commissioner as the amount to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article, (v) and except further that the comptroller shall pay to a non-obligated spouse that amount of overpayment of tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter and the interest on such amount which has been credited pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-c, one hundred seventy-one-d, one hundred seventy-one-e, one hundred seventy-one-f or one hundred seventy-one-l of this article and which is certified to the comptroller by the commissioner as the amount due such non-obligated spouse pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter; and (vi) the comptroller shall deduct a like amount which the comptroller shall pay into the treasury to the credit of the general fund from amounts subsequently payable to the department of social services, the state university of New York, the city university of New York, or the higher education services corporation, or the revenue arrearage account or special offset fiduciary account pursuant to section ninety-one-a or ninety-one-c of the state finance law, as the case may be, whichever had been credited the amount originally withheld from such overpayment, and (vii) with respect to amounts originally withheld from such overpayment pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article and paid to the city of New York, the comptroller shall collect a like amount from the city of New York.

2. Notwithstanding subdivision one of this section or any other provision of law to the contrary, the taxes imposed pursuant to sections one hundred eighty-three-a, one hundred eighty-four-a, one hundred eighty-six-c, two hundred nine-B and fifteen hundred five-a of this chapter, reduced by an amount for administrative costs, shall be deposited to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account in the mass transportation operating assistance fund, created pursuant to section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law, as such taxes are received. The amount for administrative costs shall be determined by the commissioner to represent reasonable costs of the department of taxation and finance in administering, collecting, determining and distributing such taxes. Of the total revenue collected or received under such sections of this chapter, the comptroller shall retain in his hands such amount as the commissioner may determine to be necessary for refunds or reimbursements under such sections of this chapter out of which amount the comptroller shall pay any refunds or reimbursements to which taxpayers shall be entitled under provisions of such sections. The tax commissioner and the comptroller shall maintain a system of accounts showing the amount of revenue collected or received from each of the taxes imposed by such sections.

* NB There are 2 § 171-a's

 § 171-a. Statewide wage reporting system. (1) The department shall design, develop, implement and operate a wage reporting system within the department utilizing information submitted by employers as defined under article eighteen of the labor law. The department is authorized to require submission of a report, in such form and in such manner as prescribed by regulations for not more frequently than four times per annum, of the name, social security account number, and gross wages paid to each employee who resides or is employed in this state, whether or not such employee is a resident for purposes of this chapter and whether or not the wages of such employee are subject to withholding of tax or payments of tax under article twenty-two of this chapter. Employers also shall report if dependent health insurance benefits are available. No report shall be filed with respect to an employee of a state or local agency performing intelligence or counterintelligence functions, if the head of such agency has determined that filing such a report could endanger the safety of the employee or compromise an ongoing investigation or intelligence mission.

(2) Such system shall be designed in a manner compatible with existing reporting requirements, to the extent possible, while remaining consistent with the goals of such system, and shall be consistent with the provisions of article eighteen of the labor law. Not later than January first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, the department shall, pursuant to regulation, begin to collect such data in such manner for the first quarter of calendar year nineteen hundred ninety-six and for all subsequent quarters.

(3) (a) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall maintain cooperative agreements with the state office of temporary and disability assistance, which shall provide:

(i) for the utilization by the office of temporary and disability assistance of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, for the purpose of verifying eligibility for and entitlement to amounts of benefits under the social services law, locating absent parents or other persons legally responsible for the support of applicants or recipients of public assistance and care under the social services law and persons legally responsible for the support of a recipient of services under section one hundred eleven-g of the social services law and, in appropriate cases, establishing support obligations pursuant to the social services law and the family court act, and for the purpose of evaluating the effect on earnings of participation in employment or training programs authorized pursuant to the social services law by current recipients of public assistance and care and by former recipients of public assistance and care, such agreement shall further provide to the degree required by federal law for the commissioner and the office of temporary and disability assistance to provide information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section to the federal social security administration or to public agencies in other states which administer programs under the food stamp act of nineteen hundred seventy-seven or title I, II, IV-A, IV-D, X, XIV, XVI, or XIX of the federal social security act and to take such other steps as may be required by section one thousand one hundred thirty-seven of the social security act or federal regulations promulgated thereunder; and

(ii) for the utilization by the office of temporary and disability assistance of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, with respect to the parents, the stepparents, the child and the siblings of the child who were living in the same household as a child who is in the custody, care and custody or custody and guardianship of a local social services district or of the office of children and family services during the month that the court proceedings leading to the child's removal from the household were initiated, or the written instrument transferring care and custody of the child pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred fifty-eight-a or three hundred eighty-four-a of the social services law was signed, provided however, that the office of temporary and disability assistance shall only use the information obtained pursuant to this subdivision, for the purpose of determining the eligibility of such child for federal payments for foster care and adoption assistance pursuant to the provisions of title IV-E of the federal social security act. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the office of temporary and disability assistance is authorized to share information obtained pursuant to this subdivision with any applicable social services district, provided however, that if such information is shared, that such social services district shall only use the information obtained for the purpose of determining the eligibility of such child for federal payments for foster care and adoption assistance pursuant to the provisions of title IV-E of the federal social security act.

(b) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary and not later than ninety days after the effective date of this paragraph, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the commissioner of social services for the delivery to the state department of social services of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one hereof, which information shall be utilized for the purpose of enabling such department to fulfill obligations and responsibilities otherwise incumbent upon the state department of labor under section one hundred twenty-four of the federal family support act of nineteen hundred eighty-eight by giving the federal parent locator service, maintained by the federal department of health and human services, prompt access to certain wage information for use by such latter department for the purpose of complying with such act.

(4) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary and not later than September first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, the commissioner shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the state department of labor to allow the information obtained by the department pursuant to subdivision one of this section to be made available to the department of labor, or other individuals designated by the commissioner of labor, for administration of such department's employment security programs, public assistance work programs, or for other purposes deemed appropriate by the commissioner of labor consistent with the provisions of the labor law, as well as for the evaluation of the effect on earnings of participation in training programs with respect to which the department of labor has reporting, monitoring, administering, or evaluating responsibilities.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the department of health, which agreement shall provide for the utilization of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, for the purpose of verifying eligibility for child health insurance plan subsidy payments and required premium payments under sections two thousand five hundred ten and two thousand five hundred eleven of the public health law, and for the purpose of verifying eligibility for the program for elderly pharmaceutical insurance coverage under title three of article two of the elder law, when requested by the department of health.

(6) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the office of vocational and educational services for individuals with disabilities of the education department, the commission for the blind and any other state vocational rehabilitation agency, which agreement shall provide for the utilization of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, for purposes of obtaining reimbursement from the federal social security administration for expenditures made by such office, commission or agency on behalf of disabled individuals who have achieved economic self-sufficiency.

(6-a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the New York state higher education services corporation, which agreement shall provide for the utilization of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, for purposes of default prevention and collection of defaulted education loan debt, including judgments, owed to the federal or New York state government that is being collected by the New York state higher education services corporation.

(6-b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner shall enter into a cooperative agreement with the state comptroller, which agreement shall provide for the utilization of information obtained pursuant to subdivision one of this section, for purposes of determining the amount a retired member of a retirement system or pension plan administered by the state or any of its political subdivisions who returns to public employment has earned for the purposes of sections one hundred two, two hundred eleven, two hundred twelve and four hundred two of the retirement and social security law.

(7) No employer shall be subject to any civil or criminal liability by reason of his disclosure to the department of any information required to be disclosed pursuant to this subdivision unless such information is knowingly and wilfully reported incorrectly.

(8) The provisions of the state freedom of information act shall not apply to any personally identifiable information obtained by any agency or any public official pursuant to the provisions hereof.

(9) Cross-references. (a) For the applicable penalty for failure to comply with wage reporting requirements, see subsection (v) of section six hundred eighty-five of this chapter.

(b) See paragraph four of subsection (a) of section six hundred seventy-four of this chapter for requirements relating to the filing of quarterly combined withholding, wage reporting and unemployment insurance returns.

* NB There are 2 § 171-a's

§ 171-b. Verification of income. (1) The commissioner is authorized to enter into an agreement with the commissioner of the division of housing and community renewal, the supervising agency as defined in subdivision fifteen of section two of the private housing finance law, or the corporation described in section forty-five-a of such law, to verify income information forwarded to the department by the commissioner of housing and community renewal, the supervising agency, the corporation, or a company, as defined in subdivision two of section twelve of such law. The department may charge a reasonable fee, to be determined by the commissioner, in payment to the department for the expense incurred in verifying income information forwarded to such department by the commissioner of housing and community renewal, the supervising agency, the corporation, or a company. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to authorize the department to enter into any agreement with such commissioner to provide any income information whatsoever and such agreement shall be limited solely to the verification of income information.

(2) Verification of income information and information under subdivision four of this section by the department shall be limited to agreement or disagreement with the material representations contained in such information and a statement of whether each such representation has been overstated or understated.

(3) (a) The commissioner is authorized and directed to enter into an agreement with the commissioner of the division of housing and community renewal to verify the income of tenants residing in housing accommodations subject to rent regulation. The department shall adopt rules and regulations to effect the provisions of this subdivision.

(b) The department, when requested by the division of housing and community renewal, shall verify the total annual income of all persons residing in housing accommodations as their primary residence subject to rent regulation and shall notify the commissioner of the division of housing and community renewal as may be appropriate whether the total annual income exceeds the applicable deregulation income threshold in each of the two preceding calendar years. No other information regarding the annual income of such persons shall be provided.

(4) The commissioner is authorized and directed to enter into an agreement with the commissioner of health which shall set forth the procedures by which the commissioner shall (a) facilitate the verification of income eligibility for subsidized health insurance coverage under the child health insurance plan pursuant to subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph (f) of subdivision two of section two thousand five hundred eleven of the public health law, and for the medical assistance and family health plus programs pursuant to subdivision eight of section three hundred sixty-six-a and paragraphs (b) and (d) of subdivision two of section three hundred sixty-nine-ee of the social services law, as specified by the commissioner of health and agreed to by the commissioner, and (b) shall provide the information required by subdivision two-a of section two thousand five hundred eleven of the public health law.

(5) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to require the violation of any confidentiality agreement entered into by the state or any entity thereof under the provisions of section sixty-one hundred three, or any other provision, of the internal revenue code, nor shall this section be administered in any manner which will result in a violation of any such confidentiality agreement.

(6) Except with respect to subdivision four of this section, the commissioner shall promulgate rules and regulations to effect the provisions of this section.

(7) The provisions of the state freedom of information act shall not apply to any verification of income information obtained from a company, the commissioner of housing and community renewal, the supervising agency, the corporation, or officer or employee thereof, an approved organization as defined in section two thousand five hundred ten of the public health law or the commissioner of health pursuant to the provisions of this section nor shall the provisions of such act apply to any verifications prepared or provided pursuant to subdivision three and information provided pursuant to subdivision four of this section.

§ 171-c. Certain overpayments credited against past-due support. (1)

The commissioner, on behalf of the department, shall enter into a written agreement with the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance, on behalf of the state office of temporary and disability assistance, which shall set forth the procedures for crediting any overpayment by an individual, estate or trust of income tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter, city personal income tax on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty of this chapter, city income tax surcharge on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-A of this chapter and city earnings tax on nonresidents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-B of this chapter and the interest on such overpayments against past-due support owed by such individual, estate or trust of which the commissioner has been notified by the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance pursuant to the provisions of such agreement.

(2) Such agreement shall apply to past-due support which is owed to persons or entities entitled to enforce an order of support. For purposes of this section, an "order of support" means any final order, decree or judgment in a matrimonial action or family court proceeding, or any foreign support order, decree or judgment which is registered pursuant to section thirty-seven-a of the domestic relations law, which requires the payment of alimony, maintenance, support or child support. For purposes of this section, "past-due support" means the amount of a delinquency determined from an order of support no longer subject to appellate judicial review.

(3) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the state department of office of temporary and disability assistance shall notify the commissioner of liability for past-due support, such procedure to specify when the commissioner shall be notified and the content of such notification;

(b) the minimum period of delinquency in payment of past-due support and the minimum amount of past-due support with respect to which the commissioner of taxation and finance shall, pursuant to this section, credit an overpayment against past-due support;

(c) the procedure for reimbursement of the commissioner by the state office of temporary and disability assistance for the full cost of carrying out the procedures authorized by this section;

(d) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section; and

(e) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the state office of temporary and disability assistance for any overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against past due support owed by a taxpayer filing a joint return, but which has been refunded by the comptroller, pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter, to a spouse not liable for the past due support owed by such taxpayer.

(4) (a) With regard to persons owed past-due support who are receiving services pursuant to title six-A of article three of the social services law, no later than thirty days prior to the date a local social services district requests the state office of temporary and disability assistance to notify the commissioner of the liability of an individual, estate or trust for past-due support, such district shall notify such individual, estate or trust in writing that such request may be made and shall also notify him or it that he or it may correct any error in such request and may avoid such notification by the office of temporary and disability assistance to the commissioner by satisfying such liability within thirty days of the date of the written notice from the local social services district to such individual, estate or trust. Such notice shall also set forth the name of an employee of the local social services district, including his address and telephone number, who may be contacted with respect to correction of any error in such request concerning such individual's, estate's or trust's liability for past-due support or with respect to payment of such liability.

(b) With regard to persons owed past-due support who are receiving services pursuant to title six-B of article three of the social services law, no later than thirty days prior to the date the state office of temporary and disability assistance notifies the commissioner of the liability of an individual, estate or trust for past-due support, such office shall notify such individual, estate or trust in writing that such request may be made and shall also notify him or it that he or it may correct any error in such request and may avoid such notification by such office to the commissioner by satisfying such liability and submitting proof thereof satisfactory to the office within thirty days of the date of the written notice from such office to such individual, estate or trust. Such notice shall also set forth the name of an employee of such office, including his or her address and telephone number, who may be contacted with respect to correction of any error in such request concerning such individual's, estate's or trust's liability for past-due support or with respect to payment of such liability.

(5) (i) In calculating the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon which shall be credited against past-due support owed by a taxpayer, the tax commission shall first credit the overpayment and interest thereon against any:

(A) liability of such taxpayer in respect of any tax imposed by this chapter;

(B) liability of such taxpayer for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission; and

(C) estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year if the taxpayer claims such overpayment or a portion thereof as a credit against estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year pursuant to subsection (e) of section six hundred eighty-six of this chapter or subdivision (e) of section 11-1786 of the administrative code of the city of New York for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission.

(ii) Only the balance remaining, after such overpayment and the interest thereon has been credited as described in paragraph (i) of this subdivision, shall be certified as an overpayment plus any interest to be credited against past-due support, with the remainder to be refunded to the taxpayer if such remainder is not required to satisfy the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-e of this article and/or the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article and/or a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article and/or the amount of a default in repayment of a guaranteed student loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-d of this article. In cases where the taxpayer owes past-due support to more than one person or entity, and the total amount of past-due support certified to the commissioner by the state office of temporary and disability assistance exceeds the balance remaining, each such person or entity shall receive a pro rata share of the balance remaining, such share to be based on the amount of past-due support owed to such person or entity as certified to the commissioner by such office pursuant to this section. The state office of temporary and disability assistance shall be responsible for determining and distributing each person's or entity's pro rata share of past-due support pursuant to regulations of such office.

(6) The tax commission shall certify to the comptroller the total amount of the overpayment and the interest on such overpayment, the amount of such overpayment and the interest on such amount to be credited against past-due support and the balance of such overpayment and interest to be refunded to the taxpayer.

(7) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall notify the taxpayer making the overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon certified to the comptroller as the amount to be credited against past-due support. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure his or her proper share of the refund.

(8) (a) For purposes of this section, past-due support owed to persons who are receiving services pursuant to title six-A of article three of the social services law may include:

(i) amounts representing delinquencies which have accrued under a court order of support;

(ii) with respect to any court order of support issued before September first, nineteen hundred eighty-four which provided for periodic payments toward an established arrears amount, the entire amount of such arrears where the respondent is, at any time after September first, nineteen hundred eighty-four, delinquent in making such periodic payments; and

(iii) with respect to any court order of support made on or after September first, nineteen hundred eighty-four which establishes an arrears amount, the entire amount of such arrears, unless such order includes a finding that any anticipated tax refunds have been considered by the court and taken into account in determining the amount of periodic payments to be made toward the arrears amount, or in determining the amount of the current support order, and expressly provides that such arrears are not to be so certified.

(b) For the purpose of the state child support program, any payment made by a respondent which is insufficient to fully satisfy both the current support obligation and a periodic payment toward the balance of any arrears amount established by court order shall be first applied toward the current support obligation or any delinquency thereon and then toward the periodic payment on any arrears amount established by court order unless otherwise required by federal regulation.

(9) From the time the commissioner is notified by the state office of temporary and disability assistance of an individual's, estate's or trust's liability for past-due support under the agreement provided for in this section, the commissioner and the department shall be relieved from all liability to such individual, estate or trust, their assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of an over payment and interest on such amount certified to the comptroller to be credited against past-due support and such individual, estate or trust shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the commissioner or the department to recover such overpayment or such interest certified to the comptroller to be credited against past-due support. Provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit such individual, estate or trust from proceeding against the state office of temporary and disability assistance or the appropriate local social services district to recover that part of such overpayment or interest thereon so certified to the comptroller to be credited against past-due support which is greater than the amount of past-due support owed by such individual, estate or trust on the date of such certification.

(10) The tax commission shall promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-d. Certain overpayments credited against defaulted governmental education loans. (1) The commissioner, on behalf of the tax commission, shall enter into a written agreement with the president of the New York state higher education services corporation, on behalf of such corporation, which shall set forth the procedures for crediting any overpayment by an individual, estate or trust of income tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter, city personal income tax on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty of this chapter, city income tax surcharge on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-A of this chapter, city earnings tax on nonresidents imposed pursuant to the authority of former article two-E of the general city law and city earnings tax on nonresidents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-B of this chapter and the interest on such overpayments against the amount of any default in repayment of any governmental education loan owed by such individual, estate or trust of which the commissioner has been notified by the president of the New York state higher education services corporation pursuant to the provisions of such agreement. For purposes of this section, "governmental education loan" shall mean any education loan debt, including judgments, owed to the federal or New York state government that is being collected by the New York state higher education services corporation.

(2) Such agreement shall apply only to the amount of a default in repayment of any governmental education loan debt, including judgments, being collected by the New York state higher education services corporation. Such agreement shall require the New York state higher education services corporation to satisfy the requirements of subdivision three of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article.

(3) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the New York state higher education services corporation shall notify the commissioner of a default in repayment of a governmental education loan, such procedure to specify when the commissioner shall be notified and the content of such notification;

(b) the minimum amount outstanding on a default in repayment of a governmental education loan against which the commissioner shall, pursuant to this section, credit an overpayment;

(c) the procedure for reimbursement of the commissioner by the New York state higher education services corporation for the full cost of carrying out the procedures authorized by this section;

(d) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section; and

(e) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the New York state higher education services corporation for overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against the amount of default in repayment of a governmental education loan owed by a taxpayer filing a joint return, but which has been refunded by the comptroller, pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter, to a spouse not liable for the amount of default in repayment of a governmental education loan owed by such taxpayer.

(4) (i) In calculating the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon which shall be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a governmental education loan owed by a taxpayer, the commissioner shall first credit the overpayment and interest thereon against any:

(A) liability of such taxpayer in respect of any tax imposed by this chapter;

(B) liability of such taxpayer for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission;

(C) estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year if such taxpayer claims such overpayment or a portion thereof as a credit against estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year pursuant to subsection (e) of section six hundred eighty-six of this chapter or subdivision (e) of section 11-1786 of the administrative code of the city of New York for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission; and

(D) past-due support owed by the taxpayer pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-c of this article.

(E) the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-e of this article.

(F) the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to a state agency pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article.

(G) the amount of a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed to the city of New York pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article.

(ii) Only the balance remaining, after such overpayment and the interest thereon has been credited as described in paragraph (i) of this subdivision, shall be certified as an overpayment plus any interest to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a governmental education loan, with the remainder to be refunded to the taxpayer.

(5) The tax commission shall certify to the comptroller the total amount of the overpayment and the interest on such overpayment, the amount of such overpayment and the interest on such amount to be credited against the amount of the default in repayment of a governmental education loan and the balance of such overpayment and interest to be refunded to the taxpayer.

(6) The commissioner shall notify the taxpayer making the overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon certified to the comptroller as the amount to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a governmental education loan. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure his or her proper share of the refund.

(7) From the time the state tax commission is notified by the New York state higher education services corporation of an individual's, estate's or trust's default in repayment of a governmental education loan under the agreement provided for in this section, the state tax commission and the department shall be relieved from all liability to such individual, estate or trust, their assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of an overpayment and interest on such amount certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of default in repayment of a governmental education loan and such individual, estate or trust shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the state tax commission or the department to recover such overpayment or such interest certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of default in repayment of a governmental education loan. Provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit such individual, estate or trust from proceeding against the New York state higher education services corporation to recover that part of such overpayment or interest thereon so certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a governmental education loan which is greater than the amount of such default owed by such individual, estate or trust on the date of such certification.

(8) The tax commission shall promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-e. Certain overpayments credited against national defense/national direct, health professions or nursing student loans.

(1) As used in this section only, the term "state university loan" or "city university loan" refers to loans provided to students at state-operated units of the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively under the national defense/national direct, health professions or nursing student loan programs.

(2) The commissioner of taxation and finance, on behalf of the tax commission, shall enter into a written agreement with the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively which shall set forth the procedures for crediting any overpayment by an individual, estate or trust of income tax imposed by article twenty-two of this chapter, city personal income tax on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty of this chapter, city income tax surcharge on residents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-A of this chapter, city earnings tax on nonresidents imposed pursuant to the authority of article two-E of the general city law and city earnings tax on nonresidents imposed pursuant to the authority of article thirty-B of this chapter and the interest on such overpayments against the amount of any default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan owed by such individual, estate or trust of which the commissioner of taxation and finance has been notified by the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively pursuant to the provisions of such agreement.

(3) Such agreement shall apply only to the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan as to which the state and/or state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively has obtained a judgment or has made a determination that satisfies the requirements of subdivision three of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article.

(4) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively shall notify the commissioner of taxation and finance of a default in a repayment of a state university loan or city university loan, such procedure to specify when the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be notified and the content of such notification;

(b) the minimum amount outstanding on a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan against which the commissioner of taxation and finance shall, pursuant to this section, credit an overpayment;

(c) the procedure for reimbursement of the commissioner of taxation and finance by the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively for the full cost of carrying out the procedures authorized by this section;

(d) a provision providing that information furnished to the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively by the commissioner of taxation and finance and the comptroller pursuant to said agreement shall be considered confidential and shall not be disclosed except to such federal or state department or agency entitled to such information;

(e) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section; and

(f) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the state university of New York or city university of New York for any overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against the amount of default on repayment of a state university loan or a city university loan owed by a taxpayer filing a joint return, but which has been refunded by the comptroller, pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter, to a spouse not liable for the amount of default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan owed by such taxpayer.

(5) (a) In calculating the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon which shall be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan owed by a taxpayer, the tax commission shall first credit the overpayment and interest thereon against any:

(A) liability of such taxpayer in respect of any tax imposed by this chapter;

(B) liability of such taxpayer for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission;

(C) estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year if such taxpayer claims such overpayment or a portion thereof as a credit against estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year pursuant to subsection (e) of section six hundred eighty-six of this chapter or subdivision (e) of section 11-1786 of the administrative code of the city of New York for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the tax commission; and

(D) past-due support owed by the taxpayer pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-c of this chapter;

(b) Only the balance remaining, after such overpayment and the interest thereon has been credited as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall be certified as an overpayment plus any interest to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan, with the remainder to be refunded to the taxpayer if such remainder is not required to satisfy the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, and/or a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article and/or the amount of a default in repayment of a guaranteed student loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-d of this article.

(6) The tax commission shall certify to the comptroller the total amount of the overpayment and the interest on such overpayment, the amount of such overpayment and the interest on such amount to be credited against the amount of the default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan and the balance of such overpayment and interest to be refunded to the taxpayer.

(7) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall notify the taxpayer making the overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon certified to the comptroller as the amount to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure his or her proper share of the refund.

(8) From the time the state tax commission is notified by the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively of an individual's, estate's or trust's default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan under the agreement provided for in this section, the state tax commission and the department of taxation and finance shall be relieved from all liability to such individual, estate or trust, their assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of an overpayment and interest on such amount certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of such state university loan or city university loan and such individual, estate or trust shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the state tax commission or the department of taxation and finance to recover such overpayment or such interest certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan. Provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit such individual, estate or trust from proceeding against the state university of New York or the city university of New York respectively to recover that part of such overpayment or interest thereon so certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of a default in repayment of a state university loan or city university loan which is greater than the amount of such default owed by such individual, estate or trust on the date of such certification.

(9) The tax commission shall promulgate such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-f. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding debts owed to a state agency. (1) For the purposes of this section, (a) "state agency" shall mean any state department, board, bureau, division, commission, committee, public authority, public benefit corporation, council, office, or other governmental entity performing a governmental or proprietary function for the state, or, solely for purposes of this section, a local social services district; (b) "taxpayer" shall mean a corporation, association, company, partnership, estate, trust, liquidator, fiduciary or other entity or individual who or which is liable for any tax or other imposition imposed by or pursuant to article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter or article two-E of the general city law, which tax or other imposition is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance, or who or which is under a duty to perform an act under or pursuant to such tax or imposition, excluding a state agency, a municipal corporation or a district corporation; and (c) "overpayment" shall mean an overpayment which has been requested or determined to be refunded, a refund or a reimbursement, of a tax or other imposition imposed by or pursuant to article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter or article two-E of the general city law, which is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance.

(2) The commissioner of taxation and finance, upon agreement with the state comptroller and acting as an agent for the state comptroller, shall set forth the procedures for crediting any overpayment by a taxpayer of any tax or other imposition imposed by or authorized to be imposed pursuant to article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter or article two-E of the general city law, which is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance, and the interest on any such overpayments, against the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt owed by such taxpayer to a state agency. An implementation plan shall be developed by the division of the budget and the department of taxation and finance which shall provide, but not be limited to, guidance with respect to coordination of debt collection pursuant to this section and subdivision twenty-seventh of section one hundred seventy-one of this article. This section shall not be deemed to abrogate or limit in any way the powers and authority of the state comptroller to set off debts owed the state against payments from the state, under the constitution of the state or any other law.

(3) For purposes of this section a past-due legally enforceable debt against which an overpayment and interest thereon may be credited shall include any applicable interest or late payment charge and is a debt:

(a) as to which the state has (i) obtained a judgment and (ii) given such notice as is required in subdivision (d) of section five thousand two hundred twenty-two of the civil practice law and rules; or

(b) as to which a state agency has (i) made a final administrative determination where the taxpayer had the opportunity for an adjudicatory proceeding to which article three of the state administrative procedure act is applicable, or the taxpayer had an opportunity for a proceeding which substantially complies with the requirements of such article three where such article three is not applicable, or the taxpayer was afforded such notice and opportunity to be heard as satisfies due process requirements applicable to such state agency and to such debt, except that if, pursuant to law or regulation, the debt is not collectible unless the state agency obtains a judgment, then the debt will not be considered a past-due legally enforceable debt for purposes of this section until such state agency has obtained a final judgment no longer subject to judicial review and (ii) which cannot be collected by administrative offset by the referring state agency against amounts payable to the taxpayer by the referring department; and

(c) with respect to which the state agency or the department of law has notified the taxpayer in writing, or has made a reasonable attempt to so notify the taxpayer at the taxpayer's last address known to such state agency (i) that the debt, which is clearly identified as to amount and nature, is past-due and unless paid within thirty days thereafter, would be referred to the department of taxation and finance to be offset against an overpayment; (ii) that state law permits the offset of certain overpayments against such debts; (iii) that the taxpayer may request a review of the proposed referral for offset by contacting the state agency at a telephone number or an address disclosed in the notice; and (iv) that the taxpayer may present, to the state agency, written evidence and arguments in support of his defense to the proposed referral or may appear at a scheduled conference with the state agency to present oral arguments and written and oral evidence in support of such defense; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be deemed to afford the taxpayer the opportunity to reargue any issue which was, or could have been, adjudicated in the proceeding described in paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision; and

(d) which the state agency which is the creditor or the department of law, as the case may be, certifies to the commissioner of taxation and finance is past-due and legally enforceable.

(4) The procedures set forth by the commissioner of taxation and finance for crediting any overpayments, and the interest on any such overpayments, against a past-due legally enforceable debt pursuant to this section shall include but shall not be limited to:

(a) the procedure under which the creditor state agency shall notify the commissioner of taxation and finance of a past-due legally enforceable debt due from a taxpayer, specifying when the department will be notified, the information to be contained in such notification and the form and format to be used for such notification;

(b) the minimum amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt against which the commissioner of taxation and finance shall credit an overpayment of tax;

(c) a provision providing that information furnished to the commissioner of taxation and finance and the comptroller pursuant to such procedures shall be considered confidential and shall not be disclosed, except as otherwise allowed in this chapter;

(d) a provision providing that information furnished by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to such procedures shall be considered confidential and shall not be disclosed, except the amount of the overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited may be disclosed to the taxpayer, and the amount so credited and the information necessary to properly identify the taxpayer may be disclosed to the creditor state agency; and

(e) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the revenue arrearage account, pursuant to section ninety-one-a of the state finance law, for any overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against the past-due legally enforceable debt owed by a taxpayer filing a joint return, but which has been refunded by the comptroller, pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter, to a spouse not liable for the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt owed by such taxpayer.

(5)(a) In calculating the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon which shall be credited against the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt owed by a taxpayer which is certified to the department of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, the department of taxation and finance shall first credit the overpayment and interest thereon against any:

(i) liability of such taxpayer in respect of any tax or other imposition imposed by this chapter and administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(ii) liability of such taxpayer for any tax or other imposition imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(iii) estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year if such taxpayer claims such overpayment or a portion thereof as a credit against estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year pursuant to subsection (e) of section six hundred eighty-six or subsection (b) of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter or subdivision (e) of section 11-1786 of the administrative code of the city of New York or for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(iv) past-due support owed by the taxpayer pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-c of this article;

(v) unreimbursed medical assistance paid on behalf of a child payable pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-a of the social services law;

(vi) the amount of a default in repayment of a state university or city university loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-e of this article.

(b) Only the balance remaining, after the overpayment and the interest thereon has been credited as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall be certified to the comptroller as an overpayment plus any interest to be credited, in accordance with paragraph (g) of subdivision three of section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article, against a past-due legally enforceable debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, and/or a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article, with the remainder to be refunded to the taxpayer if such remainder is not required to satisfy the amount of a default in repayment of a guaranteed student loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-d of this article. If a taxpayer owes past-due legally enforceable debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section and city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this article, then the overpayment and interest thereon shall be credited against the debts in the order in which the debts accrued.

(b-1) No taxpayer who has applied for, and is eligible for, an earned income tax credit under subsection (d) of section six hundred six of this chapter shall have more than ten percent of any tax overpayment credited against a past due legally enforceable debt owed to the office of temporary and disability assistance for an overpayment of public assistance unless such debt was incurred as a result of false or misleading statements or other grounds set forth in section one hundred forty-five-c of the social services law, which led to a sanction under such section.

(c) If a taxpayer owes more than one past-due legally enforceable debt which is certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, the overpayment and interest thereon shall be credited against the debts in the order in which the debts accrued. A debt shall be considered to have accrued at the time at which the debt became past-due.

(6) The commissioner shall (a) certify to the comptroller the amount of each overpayment and the interest on such amount to be credited against each past-due legally enforceable debt pursuant to this section, the total amount of each such overpayment and the interest on each such overpayment, and the balance, if any, of each such overpayment and interest thereon to be refunded to the taxpayer, and (b) shall certify to the comptroller, with regard to each such past due legally enforceable debt, the amount of liability underlying such debt which is creditable to unemployment insurance tax, federal funds, federal trust funds or fiduciary funds, or to the office of temporary and disability assistance or a local social services district relating to overpayment of grants and allowances of public assistance or to the department of health relating to overpayments of medical assistance made to individuals who are or have been enrolled as providers in the New York state medical assistance program as established under title eleven of article five of the social services law.

(7) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall notify each taxpayer who makes an overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon certified to the comptroller as an amount to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt which has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to this section and of the name of the state agency which certified the amount to the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure his or her proper share of the refund.

(8) From the time the commissioner of taxation and finance is notified by a creditor state agency of a past-due legally enforceable debt due from a taxpayer, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be relieved from all liability to such taxpayer or its assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of an overpayment and interest on such amount certified to the comptroller, to be credited against the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt to be collected pursuant to this section, and such taxpayer shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the commissioner of taxation and finance to recover such overpayment or any interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against the amount of a past-due legally enforceable debt. Provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to preclude any legal, equitable, or administrative action by such taxpayer against the certifying state agency to which the amount of overpayment and any interest thereon was credited, with reference to the amount thereof which is greater than the amount of such past-due legally enforceable debt owed by such taxpayer on the date of such certification.

§ 171-g. Provision of income information. (1) The commissioner shall enter into a written agreement with the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance, on behalf of the office of temporary and disability assistance, which shall set forth the procedures for providing information limited to that described in paragraph (b) of subdivision two of this section obtained or derived from taxpayer returns for the purpose of reviewing support orders enforced pursuant to title six-A of article three of the social services law.

(2) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the office of temporary and disability assistance shall notify the department of the identity of those individuals subject to a review of their court orders of support pursuant to section one hundred eleven-h of the social services law, including the requirement that such individuals be identified by name and social security number, and shall specify when the department shall be notified and the content of such notification;

(b) a description of the specific information the department shall provide to the office of temporary and disability assistance with regard to individuals identified pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision, which shall be limited to federal adjusted gross income and New York adjusted gross income obtained or derived from the most recently filed New York state personal income tax return, the name, address and social security number of the taxpayer and an indication of whether such income tax return was filed jointly;

(c) a requirement that the office of temporary and disability assistance maintain a record of all requests for tax information made pursuant to this section;

(d) the procedure for reimbursement of the department by the office of temporary and disability assistance for the full costs of carrying out the procedures authorized by this section; and

(e) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-h. State directory of new hires. (1) Establishment. The department shall establish an automated directory known as the "State Directory of New Hires" which shall contain information supplied by employers in accordance with subdivision three of this section, regarding each newly hired or re-hired employee.

(2) Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the terms "employer," "employee," and "business day" shall have the following meanings:

(a) "employee" means an individual who is an employee within the meaning of chapter twenty-four of the internal revenue code of 1986, including an individual under an independent contractor arrangement with contracts in excess of twenty-five hundred dollars, and does not include an employee of a federal or state agency performing intelligence or counterintelligence functions if the head of such agency has determined that a report made pursuant to this section with respect to the individual could endanger the safety of the employee or compromise an ongoing investigation or intelligence mission.

(b) "employer" means an individual or entity within the meaning given the term employer in section three thousand four hundred one (d) of the internal revenue code of 1986 and includes:

(i) any governmental entity, and

(ii) any labor organization as defined in section two (5) of the national labor relations act, including any entity (also known as a "hiring hall") which is used by such labor organization and an employer to carry out the requirements described in section eight (f)(3) of the national labor relations act with respect to any agreement that may exist between the labor organization and the employer.

(c) "business day" means a day on which state offices are open for regular business.

(3) Employer reporting requirements:

(a) General. Employers shall furnish to the state directory of new hires a report that contains the name, address, and social security number of each newly hired or re-hired employee who works in the state, and the employer's name, address, and identification number as assigned pursuant to section six thousand one hundred nine of the internal revenue code of 1986. Employers also shall report if dependent health insurance benefits are available and the date the employee qualifies for the benefits.

(b) Format. Each report shall be submitted on a W-4 (employee's withholding allowance certificate) form or, at employer option, an equivalent form and transmitted by first class mail, magnetically, or electronically to the state directory of new hires. In addition, if each report is submitted on a W-4, an additional form as prescribed by the department shall be submitted to report if dependent health insurance benefits are available and the date the employee qualifies for the benefits. That additional form shall be transmitted by first class mail, magnetically, or electronically to the state directory of new hires.

(c) Timing. Employers must submit reports to the state directory of new hires within twenty calendar days of the employer's hiring or re-hiring of the employee. However, in the case of an employer transmitting reports magnetically or electronically, by two monthly transmissions (if necessary), such reports shall be transmitted not less than twelve calendar days nor more than sixteen calendar days apart.

(d) Multistate employers. An employer that has employees who work in New York and employees who work in one or more other states, and transmits reports magnetically or electronically, may designate New York or one of the other states in which such employer has employees as the state to which the employer will transmit the report to the state directory of new hires. Any employer which transmits reports by this method must notify the secretary of the federal department of health and human services in writing as to which state such employer designates for the purpose of sending reports.

(e) Federal government employers. Any department, agency, or instrumentality of the federal government shall transmit new hire reports as required by section four hundred fifty-three A (b)(1)(C) of the social security act.

(4) The department shall:

(a) notify all employers of the requirements for reporting information to the state directory of new hires as provided in subdivision three of this section;

(b) enter information into the database maintained by the state directory of new hires within five business days of receipt from an employer pursuant to subdivision three of this section;

(c) make automated comparisons of social security numbers between the state directory of new hires and the state case registry maintained by the office of temporary and disability assistance for administration of the child support enforcement program and, where there is a match, provide the office of temporary and disability assistance with the name, address, and social security number of the employee to whom the social security number is assigned, and the name and address of the employer and the employer's identifying number assigned to the employer under section six thousand nine of the internal revenue code of 1986, within one business day after the date the information is entered into the state directory of new hires;

(d) transmit new hire information to the national directory of new hires maintained by the federal department of health and human services within three business days after the date the information is entered into the state directory of new hires;

(e) conduct matches with the office of temporary and disability assistance, the department of health, and the department of labor to verify individuals' eligibility for the various programs specified under section one thousand one hundred thirty-seven (b) of the social security act and for other public assistance programs authorized by state law, and for the purposes of administering state employment security programs, and with the workers' compensation board for the purpose of administering workers' compensation programs;

(f) on or before October first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, enter into written agreements with the commissioners of the office of temporary and disability assistance, health, and labor on behalf of the office of temporary and disability assistance and the departments of health and labor respectively and the chair of the workers' compensation board on behalf of such board, which shall:

(i) provide for the disclosure of information obtained from the reports required to be submitted pursuant to this section to such departments and board for the purposes set forth in this section;

(ii) specify the frequency with which the department shall furnish information obtained from such reports to such office, departments, and board, which shall be within one business day after the date the information is entered into the state directory of new hires;

(iii) set forth the procedure for reimbursement of the department by such office, departments, and board subject to the approval of the director of the budget for the additional costs of carrying out the provisions of this section;

(iv) include such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section; and

(g) furnish to the national directory of new hires, on a quarterly basis, extracts of the reports required under paragraph six of subsection (a) of section three hundred three of the federal social security act to be made to the secretary of labor concerning wages and unemployment compensation paid to individuals, by such dates, and in such manner as the secretary of health and human services shall specify by regulations. The state department of labor shall, consistent with the authority contained in paragraph e of subdivision three of section five hundred thirty-seven of the labor law, disclose to the state directory of new hires, such wage and unemployment compensation information as may be necessary to allow such state directory to comply with the provisions of this paragraph.

§ 171-i. Enforcement of child support and combined child and spousal support arrears. 1. The commissioner, on behalf of the department, shall enter into a written agreement with the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance, on behalf of the office of temporary and disability assistance, which shall set forth the procedures for the department to collect child support and combined child and spousal support arrears.

2. Such agreement shall include:

(a) the criteria for determining cases subject to referral to the department for enforcement which shall not include cases for which payments are being received by the support collection unit as a result of an income execution issued pursuant to section five thousand two hundred forty-one of the civil practice law and rules, and shall not include cases in which the obligor has not accumulated support arrears equivalent to or greater than four months, but shall include cases which meet any of the following criteria:

(i) cases in which the obligor has accumulated support arrears equivalent to or greater than four months; or

(ii) cases with support arrears, notwithstanding the amount of such arrears, selected by the support collection unit for referral consistent with this section, in consultation with the department and the office of temporary and disability assistance;

(b) the procedures and criteria under which the office of temporary and disability assistance and the department shall identify cases to be referred to the department for enforcement;

(c) the procedure under which the office of temporary and disability assistance shall notify and update the commissioner of an obligor's liability for support arrears;

(d) the procedures by which the department and the office of temporary and disability assistance shall coordinate their support enforcement activities;

(e) the procedures by which the department notifies the office of temporary and disability assistance of monies collected and remits such monies to the office of temporary and disability assistance or their fiscal agent for distribution to the appropriate support collection units;

(f) the procedure under which the commissioner shall be notified by the office of temporary and disability assistance that an obligor has satisfied his or her support arrears;

(g) the procedure under which the department and the office of temporary and disability assistance shall provide notification to the other or to the support collection unit of the office of temporary and disability assistance of any information with regard to an obligor's address, income, or employment, or identification of assets which may be subject to enforcement by such support collection unit or by the department;

(h) the procedure for the publicizing of sanctions for nonpayment of support, including enforcement of support arrears by the department; and

(i) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

3. The office of temporary and disability assistance shall send a notice by first class mail to the last known address or such other place where a support obligor is likely to receive notice, no later than thirty days prior to the date the office of temporary and disability assistance notifies the commissioner of such obligor's liability for support arrears. Such notice shall provide:

(a) that such obligor can avoid notification by the office of temporary and disability assistance to the commissioner by fully satisfying the support arrears or by complying with such other requirements as is provided for in paragraph (d) of subdivision fifteen of section one hundred eleven-b of the social services law; and

(b) the address and telephone number of the support collection unit which such obligor may contact to request information or to arrange for payment of the support arrears.

4. Upon receipt of notification from the office of temporary and disability assistance of an obligor's eligibility for enforcement of support arrears by the department, the commissioner or his or her agent is authorized to initiate enforcement of such arrears. When such notification is made to the commissioner, the department shall be deemed to have obtained a judgment against such obligor for the full amount of the support arrears stated in such notice and any subsequent arrears which may become due. The department may enforce the judgment thereby obtained with like effect and in the same manner prescribed by this chapter for the collection of tax assessment eligible to be docketed under this chapter as a warrant, except that any payment made by the support obligor to the department to satisfy support arrears shall be paid over by the department to the office of temporary and disability assistance or its fiscal agent for distribution to the appropriate support collection unit. Where the sum collected by the department exceeds the amount of the support arrears, and the support obligor also has a liability in respect of any tax, fee or other imposition imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax, fee or other imposition is administered by the commissioner, the department may credit such excess against such liability.

5. (a) For purposes of the confidentiality provisions of this chapter, enforcement activities undertaken by the department pursuant to this section shall be considered to be court actions or proceedings under this chapter.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the confidentiality provisions of this chapter, the department may furnish the office of temporary and disability assistance or the support collection unit with the information described in paragraph (g) of subdivision two of this section regarding a support obligor whose case has been referred to the commissioner for enforcement pursuant to this section. The office of temporary and disability assistance or the support collection unit, as applicable, may redisclose such information only to the extent necessary to secure the collection of support arrears from such obligor.

6. Activities to enforce support arrears undertaken by the department pursuant to this section shall not in any way limit, restrict or impair the office of temporary and disability assistance from exercising its authority to enforce support arrears under applicable laws; provided, however, that the department and the office of temporary and disability assistance shall coordinate their support enforcement activities in a way designed to minimize duplication of effort and maximize collection of support arrears.

7. If, following referral of an obligor's case to the commissioner, such obligor commences an administrative or quasi-judicial proceeding or any civil proceeding against the department or the commissioner challenging such referral, then the office of temporary and disability assistance and the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance shall be substituted as respondents or defendants in such proceeding, as the case may be. The department shall be bound by any decision in such proceeding which is no longer subject to administrative or quasi-judicial review. Neither the department nor the commissioner shall be liable for any damages sustained by reason of such referral.

8. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a payment of support arrears made to the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be a payment of such arrears to the office of temporary and disability assistance or its fiscal agent.

§ 171-j. Verification of payroll records. (1) The commissioner is authorized to enter into an agreement with the state insurance fund or other insurance carrier writing workers' compensation insurance to verify payroll information forwarded to the department solely for the purpose of verifying, by each employer in the construction classification, the number of employees, by location, total gross wages paid to such employees per week, total hours worked by such employees per quarter and total annual gross wages subject to withholding paid to such employees, as reported pursuant to the state's combined wage reporting and withholding tax system, but shall not include the name, social security number or any other information which could be used to identify any employee. For purposes of this section the term "employer in the construction classification" shall have the meaning prescribed by subdivision two of section eighty-nine of the workers' compensation law and paragraph one of subsection (e) of section twenty-three hundred four of the insurance law. The department may charge a reasonable fee to be determined by the commissioner, in payment to the department for the expense incurred in verifying such information. Such agreement shall be limited solely to the verification of information enumerated herein.

(2) Verification of information under subdivision one of this section by the department shall be limited to agreement or disagreement with the payroll information supplied pursuant to such subdivision one and a statement of whether each representation contained therein has been overstated or understated.

(3) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to require the violation of any confidentiality agreement entered into by the state or any entity thereof under the provisions of section six thousand one hundred three, or any other provision, of the internal revenue code, nor shall this section be administered in any manner which will result in a violation of any such confidentiality agreement.

(4) The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary and appropriate to effect the provisions of this section.

(5) The provisions of the state freedom of information act shall not apply to any verification prepared or provided pursuant to subdivision two of this section and information provided pursuant to subdivision one of this section.

 § 171-k. Electronic signature. If any return or report relating to a tax, fee or other imposition administered by the commissioner is authorized by the commissioner to be filed electronically, then such return or report shall be signed electronically consistent with the provisions of article three of the state technology law; provided, however, that if the commissioner determines that electronic signatures that are used by the federal internal revenue service in tax administration are not consistent with the provisions of article three of the state technology law, then the commissioner, after conferring with the office of information technology services, may prescribe the manner and form of electronic signature on any such return or report. Such electronic signature shall conform, to the extent practicable, with electronic signatures that are used by the federal internal revenue service. The use of such an electronic signature shall have the same validity and effect as the use of a signature affixed by hand.

* NB Effective until July 1, 2027

* § 171-k. Electronic signature. (1) If any return or report relating to a tax, fee or other imposition administered by the commissioner is authorized by the commissioner to be filed electronically, then such return or report shall be signed electronically consistent with the provisions of article three of the state technology law; provided, however, that if the commissioner determines that electronic signatures that are used by the federal internal revenue service in tax administration are not consistent with the provisions of article three of the state technology law, then the commissioner, after conferring with the office of information technology services, may prescribe the manner and form of electronic signature on any such return or report. Such electronic signature shall conform, to the extent practicable, with electronic signatures that are used by the federal internal revenue service. The use of such an electronic signature shall have the same validity and effect as the use of a signature affixed by hand.

(2) The commissioner shall develop procedures for the use or acceptance of signatures in digital or other electronic form on any declaration, statement, or other document utilized by the department. Such electronic signature procedures shall conform, to the extent practicable, with electronic signature procedures that are used by the federal internal revenue service.

(3) Any person authorized pursuant to a valid power of attorney form administered by the department or the New York city department of finance to act on behalf of a taxpayer, may electronically sign any declaration, statement, or other document required to be signed by such department or departments pursuant to and consistent with the electronic signature procedures set forth in this section. The use of such an electronic signature shall have the same validity and effect as the use of a signature affixed by hand.

* NB Effective July 1, 2027

§ 171-1. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding tax debt owed to the city of New York. (1) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "taxpayer" shall mean a corporation, association, company, partnership, estate, trust, liquidator, fiduciary or other entity or individual who or which is liable for any tax or other imposition imposed by or pursuant to article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter, which tax or other imposition is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance, or who or which is under a duty to perform an act under or pursuant to such tax or imposition, excluding a state agency, a municipal corporation or a district corporation;

(b) "overpayment" shall mean an overpayment which has been requested or determined to be refunded, a refund or a reimbursement, of a tax or other imposition imposed by or pursuant to article nine, nine-A, twenty-two, thirty, thirty-A, thirty-B or thirty-three of this chapter, which is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance; and

(c) "city of New York tax warrant judgment debt," shall mean tax debt owed to the city of New York that is the subject of a tax warrant issued by the city of New York department of finance and docketed pursuant to the provisions of title eleven of the administrative code of the city of New York and that remains outstanding.

(2) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall enter into a written agreement with the commissioner of finance of the city of New York, which shall set forth the procedures for crediting any overpayment by a taxpayer and the interest thereon against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by such taxpayer of which the commissioner of taxation and finance has been notified by the city of New York commissioner of finance pursuant to the provisions of such agreement.

(3) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the city of New York commissioner of finance shall notify the commissioner of taxation and finance of liability for city of New York tax warrant judgment debt, specifying when the commissioner of taxation and finance will be notified, the information to be contained in such notification and the form and format to be used for such notification;

(b) the fee, if not waived, for reimbursement of the commissioner of taxation and finance by the city of New York department of finance for the full cost of carrying out the procedures authorized by this section;

(c) the minimum period of delinquency of the city of New York tax warrant judgment debt, and the minimum amount of the past due city of New York tax warrant judgment debt against which the commissioner of taxation and finance shall, pursuant to this section, credit an overpayment;

(d) the procedure for transferring the overpayments to the city of New York department of finance so the overpayments can be applied to credit the past due city of New York tax warrant judgment debt;

(e) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the city of New York department of finance for any overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by a taxpayer, but which was paid by the taxpayer prior to the overpayment being applied;

(f) the procedure for reimbursement of the comptroller by the city of New York department of finance for any overpayment and interest thereon which has been credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by a taxpayer filing a joint return, but which has been refunded by the comptroller, pursuant to paragraph six of subsection (b) of section six hundred fifty-one of this chapter, to a spouse not liable for the city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by such taxpayer;

(g) a provision to the effect that if a taxpayer owes past-due legally enforceable debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article and city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, then the overpayment and interest thereon shall be credited against the debts in the order in which the debts accrued. The city of New York tax warrant judgment debt shall be deemed for purposes of this section to have accrued at the time of docketing of the tax warrant; and

(h) such other matters as the parties to such agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, including provisions relating to the notice to be given to the taxpayer.

(4)(a) In calculating the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon that shall be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by a taxpayer that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall first credit the overpayment and interest thereon against any:

(i) liability of such taxpayer in respect of any tax or other imposition imposed by this chapter and administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(ii) liability of such taxpayer for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(iii) estimated tax for the succeeding taxable year if the taxpayer claims such overpayment or a portion thereof as a credit against estimated tax for such succeeding taxable year pursuant to subsection (e) of section six hundred eighty-six or subsection (b) of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter or subdivision (e) of section 11-1786 of the administrative code of the city of New York or for any tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the commissioner of taxation and finance;

(iv) past-due support owed by the taxpayer pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-c of this article;

(v) unreimbursed medical assistance paid on behalf of a child payable pursuant to section three hundred sixty-seven-a of the social services law; and

(vi) the amount of a default in repayment of a state university or city university loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-e of this article.

(b) Only the balance remaining, after the overpayment and the interest thereon has been credited as described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall be certified to the comptroller as an overpayment plus any interest to be credited, in accordance with paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section, against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section, and/or past-due legally enforceable debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, with the remainder to be refunded to the taxpayer if such remainder is not required to satisfy the amount of a default in repayment of a guaranteed student loan pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-d of this article. If a taxpayer owes city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to this section and past-due legally enforceable debt that has been certified to the commissioner of taxation and finance for collection pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article, then the overpayment and interest thereon shall be credited against the debts in the order in which the debts accrued.

(5) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall certify to the comptroller the amount of each overpayment and the interest thereon to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt, and the balance, if any, of each such overpayment and interest to be refunded to the taxpayer.

(6) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall notify each taxpayer who makes an overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon certified to the comptroller as the amount to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure his or her proper share of the refund.

(7) From the time the commissioner of taxation and finance is notified by the city of New York department of finance of a taxpayer's liability for city of New York tax warrant judgment debt under the agreement provided for in this section, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be relieved from all liability to such taxpayer, its assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt and the taxpayer shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the commissioner of taxation and finance to recover such overpayment or interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt. Provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit such taxpayer from proceeding against the city of New York department of finance to recover that part of such overpayment or interest thereon so certified to the comptroller to be credited against city of New York tax warrant judgment debt that is greater than the amount of city of New York tax warrant judgment debt owed by such taxpayer on the date of such certification.

(8) The commissioner of taxation and finance and the city of New York department of finance may promulgate such rules and regulations as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-m. Certain New York city tax overpayments credited against outstanding debts owed to the state of New York. (1) For purposes of this section:

(a) "judgment" shall mean a warrant filed with a county clerk whereby the commissioner is, in the right of the people of the state of New York, deemed to have obtained judgment against an individual, corporation, association, company, partnership, estate, trust, liquidator, fiduciary or other entity, identified in a tax warrant as the judgment debtor, for a tax or other imposition;

(b) "overpayment" shall mean overpayment of a tax administered by the commissioner of finance of the city of New York pursuant to title eleven of the administrative code of the city of New York;

(c) "taxpayer" means a judgment debtor who or which made an overpayment.

(2) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, an overpayment may be paid by the commissioner of finance of the city of New York to the commissioner for full or partial satisfaction of a judgment against a taxpayer who or which made the overpayment. The commissioner and the commissioner of finance of the city of New York are hereby authorized to enter into a written agreement which shall set forth procedures for applying an overpayment and interest thereon for satisfaction, in part or in full, of a judgment. The commissioner of finance and the commissioner may also obtain and exchange whatever return or report information is necessary to implement the agreement.

(3) Such agreement shall include:

(a) the procedure under which the commissioner shall certify to, and notify, the commissioner of finance about an outstanding judgment, amounts remaining due thereon and the format of certification and notification;

(b) the fee, if any, for reimbursement of the commissioner of finance by the commissioner for the cost of implementing procedures authorized by this section;

(c) the procedure for transferring overpayments to the commissioner;

(d) the procedure for reimbursing the city of New York in the event an overpayment was improperly paid to the commissioner;

(e) such other matters as the parties to the agreement shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(4) Before notifying the commissioner of finance of a judgment for partial or full satisfaction by application of an overpayment, the commissioner shall make a reasonable attempt to notify a taxpayer at the taxpayer's last known address (i) that the judgment, clearly identified as to amount and the tax or imposition, unless paid within thirty days, will be referred to the city of New York finance department for payment by application of an overpayment; (ii) that state law permits application of certain overpayments against judgments; (iii) that the taxpayer may request a review of the proposed referral of a judgment by contacting the department at a telephone number or address disclosed in the notice; and (iv) that the taxpayer may present to the commissioner any written evidence and arguments in support of a defense to the proposed referral or may appear at a scheduled conference with the department to present oral arguments and written and oral evidence in support of such defense. Provided however, nothing herein shall be deemed to afford a taxpayer the opportunity to reargue any issue which was or could have been adjudicated in an administrative or judicial proceeding prior to filing of a warrant serving as a judgment.

(5) An overpayment shall be paid to the commissioner pursuant to this section only to the extent the commissioner of finance determines the overpayment is not subject to offset against a debt owed the city of New York or owed its instrumentalities, or subject to any other enforceable city of New York interest or right in the overpayment.

(6) The commissioner of finance shall notify each taxpayer who made an overpayment, in writing, of the amount of such overpayment and the interest thereon paid to the commissioner. Such notice shall include notification to any other person who may have filed a joint return with the taxpayer of the steps such other person may take in order to secure their proper share of the refund.

(7) From the time the commissioner of finance is notified by the commissioner of a taxpayer's liability for a judgment under the agreement provided for in this section, the city of New York shall be relieved of all liability to such taxpayer, its assigns, successors, heirs or representatives for the amount of the overpayment and interest thereon paid to the commissioner. Such taxpayer, its assigns, successors, heirs or representatives shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or have any other legal recourse against the city of New York to recover such overpayment or interest thereon paid to the commissioner. However, nothing herein shall be construed to preclude any legal, equitable, or administrative action by such taxpayer its assigns, successors, heirs or representatives entitled to such overpayment against the commissioner to recover that part of the overpayment or interest thereon that is greater than the amount of the judgment owed by such taxpayer on the date such overpayment is credited against a judgment.

(8) The commissioner and the commissioner of finance may promulgate such rules and regulations deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

§ 171-n. Certain overpayments credited against outstanding tax debts owed to other states. (1) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "overpayment" means an amount requested for refund or otherwise determined to be in excess of that owed, with respect to any tax administered by the commissioner and remaining after application, as may be determined by the commissioner, to the satisfaction of debts owed by a taxpayer to this state or the federal government;

(b) "taxpayer" means any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability partnership or company, partner, member, manager, estate, trust, fiduciary or entity, who or which has made an overpayment of any tax administered by the commissioner;

(c) "tax debt" means any past due, legally enforceable tax obligation owed any other state administering that tax, which arises from (i) an enforceable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction which is no longer subject to judicial review, or (ii) an enforceable determination of an administrative body which is no longer subject to administrative or judicial review, or (iii) an assessment or determination (including self-assessment or self-assessed determination) which has become final or finally and irrevocably fixed and no longer subject to administrative or judicial review; and

(d) "claimant state" means any state which requests application of an overpayment to a tax debt.

(2) The commissioner may, in his or her discretion, agree to pay the whole or part of an overpayment of tax administered by the commissioner to a claimant state owed a tax debt by a taxpayer, provided the claimant state grants substantially similar privileges to this state. An agreement with a claimant state must provide for thirty days advance written notice to, and an opportunity for, taxpayers to present written or oral evidence about application of their overpayments to tax debts. A proceeding may be commenced by a taxpayer within four months after a copy of a decision adverse to the taxpayer is mailed to the taxpayer for judicial review of the decision in the manner provided by article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules. Article forty of this chapter shall not apply to any hearing or proceeding on whether an overpayment may be applied to a tax debt in accordance with this section. The remedy provided by this section for review of hearings and proceedings shall be the exclusive remedy available to judicially determine whether an overpayment may be applied to a tax debt in accordance with this section. The amount of a tax debt remaining due as certified by a claimant state shall be prima facie evidence of the correct amount of a tax debt.

§ 171-p. Costs or fees imposed by the United States or other states for crediting tax overpayments against outstanding tax debts owed to the state of New York. (1) For purposes of this section:

(a) "overpayment" means the amount requested for refund or otherwise determined to be in excess of that owed with respect to any tax imposed under, or pursuant to the authority of, the internal revenue code or the laws of any state;

(b) "taxpayer" means any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability partnership or company, partner, member, manager, estate, trust, fiduciary or entity, who or which has made an overpayment of tax as defined in paragraph (a) of this subdivision;

(c) "tax debt" means any past due, legally enforceable tax obligation administered by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner may implement procedures under which any cost or fee imposed or charged by the United States or any state, with respect to payment or remittance of a taxpayer's overpayment to satisfy a tax debt of the taxpayer, must not be credited by the commissioner to payment or satisfaction of the tax debt, must be deemed to be part of the taxpayer's tax debt, and must be eligible for offset against the taxpayer's overpayment to the extent permitted by law. The commissioner may also implement procedures under which any cost or fee imposed or charged by the United States or any other state, with respect to any other payment or remittance of a taxpayer's overpayment or a vendor payment to satisfy a debt of the taxpayer or the person who is owed the vendor payment as authorized by section one hundred seventy-one-t of this article, must not be credited by the state of New York to payment or satisfaction of the debt, must be deemed to be part of the taxpayer's or person's debt, and must be eligible for offset against the taxpayer's overpayment or the person's vendor payment to the extent permitted by law.

§ 171-r. Brownfield credit report. (a) The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of environmental conservation, must publish a brownfield credit report annually by January thirty-first. The first report must be published by January thirty-first, two thousand nine.

(b) The brownfield credit report must contain the following information about the credits claimed under sections twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-three of this chapter during the previous calendar year:

(1) the name of each taxpayer claiming a credit; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the name of each limited liability company, partnership or subchapter S corporation earning any of those credits must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit;

(2) the amount of each credit earned by each taxpayer; provided however, if the taxpayer claims a credit because the taxpayer is a member of a limited liability company, a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a subchapter S corporation, the amount of credit earned by each entity must be included in the report instead of information about the taxpayer claiming the credit;

(3) information identifying the project for which a certificate of completion was issued and the credit claimed under section twenty-one, twenty-two or twenty-three of this chapter, including the name of the project and municipality, including the county, in which the project is located; and

(4) the number of credits by each credit type and the amount of such credits granted, claimed and earned on a brownfield site, statewide and department of environmental conservation region basis; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to taxpayers in each county, brownfield opportunity area designated pursuant to section nine hundred seventy-r of the general municipal law and in each environmental zone as defined in subdivision (b) of section twenty-one of this chapter.

(5) copies of all reports received from developers pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-s of this article or, in the commissioner's discretion, a summary of the contents of such reports.

(c) The information included in the brownfield credit report will be based on the information filed with the department during the previous calendar year, to the extent that it is practicable to use that information.

(d) Such report shall also contain any other information received from the commissioner of environmental conservation with regard to such credits, and any other statistical information that such commissioner deems to be useful in analyzing the effects of the program.

(e) The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner of environmental conservation, shall publish by January thirty-first, two thousand sixteen a supplemental brownfield credit report containing the information required by this section about the credits claimed for the years two thousand five, two thousand six, and two thousand seven.

§ 171-t. Reciprocal offset agreements with the United States or other states. (1) For the purposes of this section, the definitions provided for in section one hundred seventy-one-n of this article apply together with the following:

(a) "Claimant" means any state or the United States that enters into a reciprocal agreement under this section or requests application of a vendor payment or an overpayment to a debt.

(b) "Debt" means (i), for purposes of state debt, a "tax debt" as defined in section one hundred seventy-one-n of this article and any other past due legally enforceable obligation owed to a state, which arises from (A) an enforceable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction that is no longer subject to judicial review, or (B) an enforceable determination of an administrative body that is no longer subject to administrative or judicial review, or (C) a determination that has become final or finally and irrevocably fixed and no longer subject to administrative or judicial review; or (ii), for purposes of federal debt, debt means any amount of money, funds or property that has been determined by an appropriate official of the federal government to be owed to the United States by a person, organization, or entity, except another federal agency, to the extent such amount is eligible for offset under federal law. The term includes debt administered by a third party acting as an agent for the federal government.

(c) "Debtor" means a person who owes a debt.

(d) "Person" has the same meaning as that term has in subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

(e) "Vendor payment" means any payment, other than an overpayment, made by a state or the United States to any person, and includes but is not limited to any expense reimbursement to an employee of the state or the United States; but does not include a person's salary, wages or pension.

(2) The commissioner may, in his or her discretion, enter into a collection and offset agreement with another state or with the United States secretary of the treasury through the internal revenue service or the financial management service of the department of the treasury of the United States under which the commissioner, on behalf of the state of New York, may, in his or her discretion, agree to pay to a claimant owed a debt by a taxpayer or other person the whole or part of an overpayment or a vendor payment owed by the state to that taxpayer or other person, provided the claimant grants substantially similar privileges to this state. However, the United States will not be required under this section to offset tax overpayments owed by it except to the extent that it agrees to do so. An agreement with the claimant must specify that a taxpayer or any person owed a vendor payment will receive thirty days advance written notice of the offset and will be provided with an opportunity to present written or oral evidence about the application of the overpayment or vendor payment to the debt. A proceeding for judicial review of the decision in the manner provided by article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules may be commenced by a taxpayer or a person owed a vendor payment within four months after a copy of a decision adverse to the taxpayer or that person is mailed to the taxpayer or that person. Article forty of this chapter does not apply to any hearing or proceeding on whether an overpayment or vendor payment may be applied to a debt under this section. The remedy provided by this section for review of hearings and proceedings is the exclusive remedy available to judicially determine whether an overpayment or vendor payment may be applied to a debt under this section. The amount of a debt remaining due as certified by a claimant will be prima facie evidence of the correct amount of a debt.

(3) The commissioner will calculate the amount of an overpayment and interest thereon that is to be credited against the amount of a past due legally enforceable debt owed by a taxpayer which is certified to the department for collection under this section using the rules in subdivision five of section one hundred seventy-one-f of this article. If a taxpayer or a person owes more than one debt which is certified to the commissioner for collection under this section, any overpayment or vendor payment will be credited against the debts in the order in which the debts accrued. A debt will be considered to have accrued at the time at which the debt became past due.

(4) Notwithstanding any other law, the commissioner is authorized to release to a claimant taxpayer information for purposes of implementing and administering an agreement entered into between the claimant and this state under this section.

§ 171-u. Verification of eligibility for STAR exemption. (1) The commissioner shall verify the eligibility of properties for STAR exemptions in the manner provided by section four hundred twenty-five of the real property tax law.

(2)(a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may adopt rules prescribing a uniform statewide system of parcel identification numbers applicable to all "assessing units", as that term is defined by section one hundred two of the real property tax law, provided that no such rule shall apply to an assessment roll with a taxable status date occurring prior to January first, two thousand thirteen.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the commissioner may, at his or her discretion, adopt rules that are applicable only to "special assessing units," as that term is defined by section eighteen hundred one of the real property tax law, which prescribe an alternative system of parcel identification numbers solely for such special assessing units.

(2)(a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commissioner may adopt rules prescribing a uniform statewide system of parcel identification numbers applicable to all "assessing units", as that term is defined by section one hundred two of the real property tax law, provided that no such rule shall apply to an assessment roll with a taxable status date occurring prior to January first, two thousand thirteen.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the commissioner may, at his or her discretion, adopt rules that are applicable only to "special assessing units," as that term is defined by section eighteen hundred one of the real property tax law, which prescribe an alternative system of parcel identification numbers solely for such special assessing units.

§ 171-v. Enforcement of delinquent tax liabilities through the suspension of drivers' licenses. (1) The commissioner shall enter into a written agreement with the commissioner of motor vehicles, which shall set forth the procedures for the two departments to cooperate in a program to improve tax collection through the suspension of drivers' licenses of taxpayers with past-due tax liabilities equal to or in excess of ten thousand dollars. For the purposes of this section, the term "tax liabilities" shall mean any tax, surcharge, or fee administered by the commissioner, or any penalty or interest due on these amounts owed by an individual with a New York driver's license, the term "driver's license" means any license issued by the department of motor vehicles, except for a commercial driver's license as defined in section five hundred one-a of the vehicle and traffic law, and the term "past-due tax liabilities" means any tax liability or liabilities which have become fixed and final such that the taxpayer no longer has any right to administrative or judicial review.

(2) The agreement shall include the following provisions:

(a) the procedures by which the department shall notify the commissioner of motor vehicles of taxpayers with past-due tax liabilities, including the procedures by which the department and the department of motor vehicles shall share the information necessary to identify individuals with past-due tax liabilities, which shall include a taxpayer's name, social security number, and any other information necessary to ensure the proper identification of the taxpayer;

(b) the procedures by which the commissioner shall notify the department of motor vehicles that a taxpayer has satisfied his or her past-due tax liabilities, or has entered into an installment payment agreement or has otherwise made payment arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner, so that the suspension of the taxpayer's driver's license may be lifted; and

(c) any other matter the department and the department of motor vehicles shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(3) The department shall provide notice to the taxpayer of his or her inclusion in the license suspension program no later than sixty days prior to the date the department intends to inform the commissioner of motor vehicles of the taxpayer's inclusion. However, no such notice shall be issued to a taxpayer whose wages are being garnished by the department for the payment of past-due tax liabilities or past-due child support or combined child and spousal support arrears. Notice shall be provided by first class mail to the taxpayer's last known address as such address appears in the electronic systems or records of the department. Such notice shall include:

(a) a clear statement of the past-due tax liabilities along with a statement that the department shall provide to the department of motor vehicles the taxpayer's name, social security number and any other identifying information necessary for the purpose of suspending his or her driver's license pursuant to this section and subdivision four-f of section five hundred ten of the vehicle and traffic law sixty days after the mailing or sending of such notice to the taxpayer;

(b) a statement that the taxpayer may avoid suspension of his or her license by fully satisfying the past-due tax liabilities, by making payment arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner, or by demonstrating any of the grounds for challenge set forth in subdivision five of this section. Such statement shall include information regarding programs through which the taxpayer can pay the past-due tax liabilities to the department, enter into a payment arrangement or request additional information;

(c) a statement that the taxpayer's right to protest the notice is limited to raising issues set forth in subdivision five of this section;

(d) a statement that the suspension of the taxpayer's driver's license shall continue until the past-due tax liabilities are fully paid or the taxpayer makes payment arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner; and

(e) any other information that the commissioner deems necessary.

(4) After the expiration of the sixty day period, if the taxpayer has not challenged the notice pursuant to subdivision five of this section and the taxpayer has failed to satisfy the past-due tax liabilities or make payment arrangements satisfactory to the commissioner, the department shall notify the department of motor vehicles, in the manner agreed upon by the two agencies, that the taxpayer's driver's license shall be suspended pursuant to subdivision four-f of section five hundred ten of the vehicle and traffic law; provided, however, in any case where a taxpayer fails to comply with the terms of a current payment arrangement more than once within a twelve month period, the commissioner shall immediately notify the department of motor vehicles that the taxpayer's driver's license shall be suspended.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as specifically provided herein, the taxpayer shall have no right to commence a court action or proceeding or to any other legal recourse against the department or the department of motor vehicles regarding a notice issued by the department pursuant to this section and the referral by the department of any taxpayer with past-due tax liabilities to the department of motor vehicles pursuant to this section for the purpose of suspending the taxpayer's driver's license. A taxpayer may only challenge such suspension or referral on the grounds that (i) the individual to whom the notice was provided is not the taxpayer at issue; (ii) the past-due tax liabilities were satisfied; (iii) the taxpayer's wages are being garnished by the department for the payment of the past-due tax liabilities at issue or for past-due child support or combined child and spousal support arrears; (iv) the taxpayer's wages are being garnished for the payment of past-due child support or combined child and spousal support arrears pursuant to an income execution issued pursuant to section five thousand two hundred forty-one of the civil practice law and rules; (v) the taxpayer's driver's license is a commercial driver's license as defined in section five hundred one-a of the vehicle and traffic law; (vi) the department incorrectly found that the taxpayer has failed to comply with the terms of a payment arrangement made with the commissioner more than once within a twelve month period for the purposes of subdivision three of this section; (vii) the taxpayer receives public assistance or supplemental security income; or (viii) the taxpayer demonstrates that suspension of the taxpayer's driver's license will cause the taxpayer undue economic hardship.

However, nothing in this subdivision is intended to limit a taxpayer from seeking relief pursuant to an offer in compromise pursuant to subdivision fifteenth of section one hundred seventy-one of this article or from joint and several liability pursuant to section six hundred fifty-four of this chapter, to the extent that he or she is eligible pursuant to such section, or establishing to the department that the enforcement of the underlying tax liabilities has been stayed by the filing of a petition pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code of 1978 (Title Eleven of the United States Code).

(6) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the department may disclose to the department of motor vehicles the information described in this section that, in the discretion of the commissioner, is necessary for the proper identification of a taxpayer referred to the department of motor vehicles for the purpose of suspending the taxpayer's driver's license pursuant to this section and subdivision four-f of section five hundred ten of the vehicle and traffic law. The department of motor vehicles may not redisclose this information to any other entity or person, other than for the purpose of informing the taxpayer that his or her driver's license has been suspended.

(7) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the activities to collect past-due tax liabilities undertaken by the department pursuant to this section shall not in any way limit, restrict or impair the department from exercising any other authority to collect or enforce tax liabilities under any other applicable provision of law.

§ 171-w. State support for the local enforcement of past-due property taxes. 1. Legislative findings. The legislature finds that local governments have limited means to enforce the collection of past-due property taxes. The legislature further finds that it is appropriate for the state to support the local enforcement of past-due property taxes by authorizing the commissioner to administer a program to disallow STAR credits and exemptions to delinquent property owners based on information reported to him or her by municipal officials.

2. Definitions. For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Delinquent property owner" means a STAR recipient whose primary residence is subject to past-due property taxes.

(b) "Past-due property taxes" means property taxes that have been levied upon a property owner's primary residence that remain unpaid one year after the last date on which they could have been paid without interest, or where such taxes are payable in installments, those taxes that remain unpaid one year after the last date on which the final installment could have been paid without interest.

(c) "STAR credit" means the basic STAR personal income tax credit authorized by subsection (eee) of section six hundred six of this chapter.

(d) "STAR exemption" means the basic STAR exemption from real property taxation authorized by section four hundred twenty-five of the real property tax law.

(e) "STAR recipient" means a property owner who is registered to receive the STAR credit in relation to his or her primary residence, or whose primary residence is receiving the STAR exemption.

3. STAR tax payment requirement; generally. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, a property owner whose primary residence is subject to past-due property taxes shall not be allowed to receive a STAR credit or STAR exemption unless the past-due property taxes are paid in full on or before a date specified by the commissioner.

4. Commissioner's authority. The commissioner is hereby authorized to develop a program to support the local enforcement of past-due property taxes by disallowing STAR credits and STAR exemptions to delinquent property owners. The commissioner shall establish procedures for the administration of this program, which shall include the following provisions:

(a) The procedures by which municipal officials shall report past-due property taxes and property tax payments to the department.

(b) The procedures by which the department shall notify delinquent property owners of the impending disallowance of their STAR credits or exemptions due to past-due property taxes.

(c) The date by which delinquent property owners must pay their past-due property taxes in full in order to avoid disallowance of their STAR credits or exemptions.

(d) The procedures by which the commissioner shall disallow STAR credits and notify assessors of the disallowance of STAR exemptions if past-due property taxes are not paid in full by the specified date.

(e) Such other procedures as the commissioner shall deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

5. Municipal reports. The commissioner's procedures regarding municipal reporting shall be subject to the following provisions:

(a) The commissioner may request and shall be entitled to receive from any municipal corporation of the state, or any agency or official thereof, such data as the commissioner deems necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section. Such information shall be submitted to the department at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may direct.

(b) In lieu of requiring municipal officials to submit their reports directly to the department, the commissioner may, in his or her discretion, require that such reports be submitted to the county director of real property tax services, who shall integrate the reports into a single file and submit it to the department at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may direct. Provided, that where the commissioner institutes such a procedure, he or she may exclude cities with one hundred twenty-five thousand inhabitants or more, so that information about past-due property taxes and property tax payments in such a city shall be reported directly to the department by a designated city official at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may direct.

(c) Reports and other records prepared pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the provisions of article six of the public officers law.

6. Notification of delinquent property owners. The commissioner's procedures regarding the notification of delinquent property owners shall be subject to the following provisions:

(a) The department shall notify a delinquent property owner by regular mail at least thirty days prior to the date by which his or her past-due property taxes must be paid in full in order to avoid disallowance of his or her STAR credit or exemption.

(b) Such notice shall include a statement that the property owner's STAR credit or exemption will be disallowed unless his or her past-due property taxes are paid in full by the date specified in the notice.

(c) To the extent practicable, such notice shall provide contact information for the local official or officials to whom the past-due property taxes may be paid.

(d) Such notice shall further state that the property owner's right to protest the disallowance of the STAR credit or exemption is limited to raising issues that constitute a "mistake of fact" as defined in subdivision nine of this section.

(e) Such notice may include such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary.

7. Timely payment of past-due property taxes. If a delinquent property owner pays his or her past-due property taxes in full on or before the date specified in such notice, the official receiving such payment shall so notify the department at such time and in such manner as prescribed by the commissioner. The property owner shall then be permitted to receive the STAR credit or exemption that would have been disallowed if timely payment had not been made. However, if the department does not learn of the payment until after it has already directed an assessor to deny a STAR exemption to a delinquent property owner, then in lieu of directing the exemption to be restored, the department may remit to the property owner payment in an amount that will reimburse the property owner for the increase in his or her school tax bill that is directly attributable to the lost STAR exemption.

8. Failure to make timely payment. (a) If the past-due taxes are not paid on or before the date specified in the notice that had been sent to the delinquent property owner, his or her STAR credit or STAR exemption shall be disallowed in accordance with the procedures established by the commissioner.

(b) The property owner shall not be eligible to participate in the STAR program again as long as the property is subject to past-due property taxes.

(c) Upon payment of the past-due property taxes in full, the official receiving such payment shall notify the department at such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner shall then proceed as follows:

(i) If the property owner had previously been receiving the STAR credit, the commissioner shall allow the property owner to resume his or her participation in the STAR credit program on a prospective basis, if otherwise eligible, effective with the first taxable year commencing after such payment.

(ii) If the property owner had previously been receiving the STAR exemption, the commissioner shall allow the property owner to participate in the STAR credit program on a prospective basis, if otherwise eligible, effective with the first taxable year commencing after such payment. The property owner shall not be allowed back into the STAR exemption program.

(iii) The commissioner shall, when making the first advanced payment of a STAR credit to the property taxpayer after payment of the past-due property taxes in full, also pay to such property taxpayer the value of the STAR exemptions or STAR credits that were disallowed pursuant to paragraph a of this subdivision.

9. Mistake of fact. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a disallowance of a STAR credit or STAR exemption pursuant to this section may only be challenged before the department on the grounds of a mistake of fact as defined in this subdivision. The taxpayer will have no right to commence a court action, administrative proceeding or any other form of legal recourse against an assessor, county director of real property tax services or other local official regarding such disallowance. For the purposes of this subdivision, "mistake of fact" is limited to claims that: (i) the individual notified is not the taxpayer at issue; or (ii) the past-due property taxes were satisfied before the date specified in the notice described in subdivision six of this section. However, nothing in this subdivision is intended to limit a taxpayer from seeking relief from joint and several liability pursuant to section six hundred fifty-four of this chapter to the extent that he or she is eligible pursuant to that subdivision or establishing to the department that the enforcement of the underlying property taxes has been stayed by the filing of a petition pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code of 1978 (Title Eleven of the United States Code).

10. Assessors. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the department may disclose to assessors such information as the commissioner deems necessary to ensure that the STAR exemptions of delinquent property owners are disallowed as required by this section.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, an assessor shall be authorized and directed to deny a STAR exemption to a delinquent property owner upon being directed by the department to do so. If an assessor should receive such a directive after the applicable assessment roll has been filed, the assessor or other official having custody and control of that roll shall be authorized and directed to remove such exemption from such roll prior to the levy of school taxes, without regard to the provisions of title three of article five of the real property tax law or any comparable laws governing the correction of administrative errors on assessment rolls and tax rolls.

11. Recovery of STAR benefits in certain cases. The commissioner may establish procedures to be followed in cases where a STAR credit or exemption was inadvertently or erroneously provided to a delinquent property owner who was sent the notice required by subdivision six of this section, and whose past-due property taxes were not paid in full by the date specified in the notice. Such procedures shall include, but not be limited to, (a) applying the improperly received STAR credit or exemption as an offset against future STAR credits or against other personal income tax credits or personal income tax refunds to which the delinquent property owner would otherwise be entitled, and (b) pursuing any of the other remedies that are available to enforce a personal income tax debt under article twenty-two of this chapter.

(12) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the commissioner shall extend the date by which any delinquent property owner shall be required to pay his or her past-due property taxes in full in order to receive STAR credits or STAR exemptions, until after the end of the COVID-19 state disaster emergency declared by executive order number two hundred two and any further amendments or modifications thereto, and as may be further extended pursuant to section twenty-eight of the executive law. The department shall notify all delinquent property owners of such extension.

§ 171-z. Information sharing with the comptroller regarding unclaimed funds. 1. Notwithstanding any other law, the commissioner is authorized to release to the comptroller information regarding fixed and final unwarranted debts of taxpayers for purposes of collecting unclaimed funds from the comptroller to satisfy fixed and final unwarranted debts owed by taxpayers. For purposes of this section, the term "unwarranted debt" shall mean past-due tax liabilities, including unpaid tax, interest and penalty, that the commissioner is required by law to collect and that have become fixed and final such that the taxpayer no longer has any right to administrative or judicial review and a warrant has not been filed; and the term "taxpayer" shall mean any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability partnership or company, partner, member, manager, sole proprietorship, estate, trust, fiduciary or entity, who or which has been identified as owing taxes to the state. This section shall not be deemed to abrogate or limit in any way the powers and authority of the comptroller to set off debts owed the state from unclaimed funds, under the constitution of the state or any other law.

2. The comptroller shall keep all information he or she obtains from the commissioner confidential, and any employee, agent or representative of the comptroller is prohibited from disclosing any taxpayer information received under this section to anyone other than the commissioner or staff of the department or staff of the department of audit and control for the purposes described in this section.

§ 171-aa. E-file authorizations collected by tax return preparers. (a) For purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "E-file authorization" is a record collected by a tax return preparer.

(2) "Electronic signature" has the definition set forth in the electronic signatures and records act of the state technology law.

(3) "Electronic means" is use of computer technology.

(4) "Tax" means any tax or other matter administered by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter or any other provision of law.

(5) "Tax document" means a return, report or any other document relating to a tax or other matter administered by the commissioner.

(6) "Tax return preparer" means any person who prepares for compensation, or who employs or engages one or more persons to prepare for compensation, any tax document. For purposes of this section, the term "tax return preparer" also includes a payroll service.

(b) If a tax document is authorized by the commissioner to be filed electronically, then any associated e-file authorization prescribed by the commissioner may be signed using an electronic signature compliant with any instructions prescribed by the commissioner.

(c) An e-file authorization signed electronically in the manner set forth in subsection (b) of this section shall have the same force and effect as a handwritten signature and may be provided to a tax preparer by electronic means.

§ 172. Official seal. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall have and use an official seal; and the records, its proceedings and copies of all papers and documents in his possession and custody may be authenticated in the usual form, under such seal and the signature of the commissioner, deputy commissioner or the secretary, and shall be received in evidence in the same manner and with like effect as deeds regularly acknowledged or proven.

§ 173. Review by commissioner. The commissioner shall act as an individual in exercising the powers and performing the duties conferred or imposed by section two hundred sixty of this chapter on the commissioner in relation to the apportionment of mortgage taxes unless a hearing is demanded.

§ 173-a. Hearing rights upon notice and demand. 1. Applicability and construction. (a) Applicability. Except as otherwise provided in this section, this section shall apply with respect to any tax which is administered by the commissioner and which is imposed by or authorized to be imposed pursuant to this chapter or any other law. Unless a different meaning is clearly required, any reference to "tax" or "taxes" in this section shall be deemed also to refer to special assessments, fees, interest, additions to tax, penalties or other impositions which are administered by the commissioner.

(b) Exceptions to applicability. This section shall not apply to any tax which is administered by the commissioner and which is imposed by or authorized to be imposed pursuant to:

(i) Article ten of this chapter (taxable transfers - residents).

(ii) Article eleven of this chapter (tax on mortgages).

(iii) Article twelve of this chapter (tax on transfers of stock and other corporate certificates).

(c) Construction. The provisions of this section shall supplement or be in addition to the procedures relating to collection or administration provided with respect to any tax covered by this section. Where a provision of this section is inconsistent with any such provision with respect to such tax, the provisions of this section shall apply.

2. Corporate and personal income taxes. With respect to any tax which incorporates or otherwise utilizes the procedures set forth in part VI of article twenty-two or article twenty-seven of this chapter, provisions of law which authorize the issuance of a notice and demand for an amount without the issuance of a notice of deficiency for such amount, including any interest, additions to tax or penalties related thereto, in cases of mathematical or clerical errors or failure to pay tax shown on a return, or authorize the issuance of a notice of additional tax due, including any interest, additions to tax or penalties related thereto, shall be construed as specifically denying and modifying the right to a hearing with respect to any such notice and demand or notice of additional tax due for purposes of subdivision four of section two thousand six of this chapter. Any such notice and demand or notice of additional tax due shall not be construed as a notice which gives a person the right to a hearing under article forty of this chapter.

3. Sales and compensating use and miscellaneous taxes. With respect to any tax to which this section applies and which is not covered by subdivision two of this section:

(a) Final determination. The amount of tax which a return or report shows to be due, the amount of tax which a return or report would have shown to be due but for a mathematical or clerical error (including, with respect to a tax payable by the purchase of stamps, the amount of stamps purchased) or the amount of penalty and any interest due for failing to file a return or report or to pay or pay over any tax (or to pay for any stamps purchased) to the commissioner within the time required by or pursuant to any such tax (but not including any such penalty or interest attributable to any amount of tax with respect to which a notice of determination is required to be issued) shall be deemed to be finally determined to be due not later than on the date of the filing of such return or report (including any amended return or report showing an increase of tax or in the case of the purchase of stamps, such date of purchase). Such amount of tax, penalty or interest shall be paid upon notice and demand and shall be assessed, collected and paid in the manner provided for in each of the several taxes covered under this subdivision and such notice and demand shall not be considered as a notice of determination for purposes of the taxes covered under this subdivision. If a notice of determination has been mailed with respect to a tax covered under this subdivision, the amount of the determination shall be deemed to be finally and irrevocably fixed on the date specified in any such tax if no petition to the division of tax appeals is filed, or, if a petition is filed, then upon the date when a determination or decision rendered in the division of tax appeals establishing the amount of the notice of determination becomes final pursuant to article forty of this chapter.

(b) Notice and demand. (1) The commissioner shall, as soon as practicable, give notice to each person liable for any amount of tax, addition to tax, penalty or interest, which has been finally determined to be due or which has been finally and irrevocably fixed, as the case may be, but remains unpaid, stating the amount and demanding payment thereof. Such notice shall be left at the dwelling or usual place of business of such person or shall be sent by mail to such person's last known address. Except where the commissioner determines that collection would be jeopardized by delay and the applicable tax contains provisions authorizing a jeopardy procedure, if any tax is finally determined to be due or is finally and irrevocably fixed prior to the last date (including any date fixed by extension) prescribed for payment of such tax, payment of such tax shall not be demanded until after such date. If the commissioner finds that the determination, assessment or collection of tax, addition to tax, penalty or interest is in jeopardy and the applicable tax contains provisions authorizing procedures regarding early determination, the commissioner may immediately determine the amount of such tax, addition to tax, penalty or interest (whether before or after the due date of any return or report required to show such tax, addition to tax, penalty or interest) and assess the same and give notice and demand for the payment thereof.

(2) If notice and demand is made for payment of any amount under subparagraph one of this paragraph, and if such amount is paid within twenty-one calendar days (ten business days if the amount for which such notice and demand is made equals or exceeds one hundred thousand dollars) after the date of such notice and demand, interest under the applicable tax on the amount so paid shall not be imposed for the period after the date of such notice and demand.

(c) Hearing rights upon notice and demand. Provisions of law which authorize the issuance of a notice and demand for an amount without the issuance of a notice of determination for such amount, including any interest or penalties related thereto, shall be construed as specifically denying and modifying the right to a hearing with respect to any such notice and demand for purposes of subdivision four of section two thousand six of this chapter in cases of mathematical or clerical errors or failure to pay the tax due shown on the return or for any stamps purchased, and any interest or penalties related thereto. Any such notice and demand shall not be construed as a notice which gives a person the right to a hearing under article forty of this chapter.

§ 174. Oaths, acknowledgments, subpoenas and commissions to take testimony. 1. The commissioner, his deputies, secretary and any other officer or employee of the department of taxation and finance duly designated and authorized by resolution of the commissioner, duly entered upon the minutes, shall have power: (i) to administer oaths, take affidavits and certify acknowledgments in relation to any matter or proceeding in the exercise of the powers or duties of the commissioner under this chapter and in relation to any written instrument required or permitted to be filed with the commissioner and (ii) to subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, accounts, records, memoranda, documents or other papers pertinent to the investigations and inquiries which he is authorized to conduct, and to examine them in relation to any matter which he has power to investigate and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are out of the state or unable to attend before the commissioner or excused from attendance. A subpoena issued under this section shall be regulated by the civil practice law and rules.

2. Any person who shall testify falsely in any material matter pending before the commissioner shall be guilty of and punishable for perjury.

3. Cross-reference: For criminal penalties, see article thirty-seven of this chapter.

§ 174-a. Duration of warrant liens on real property. 1. General rule. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the provisions of the civil practice law and rules relating to the duration of a lien of a docketed judgment in and upon real property of a judgment debtor, and the extension of any such lien, shall apply to any warrant or other warrant-related document electronically filed on behalf of the commissioner against a taxpayer with the department of state, whether such warrant is being enforced by a sheriff or an officer or employee of the department.

2. Applicability and definitions. This section shall apply with respect to any tax which is administered by the commissioner and which is imposed by or authorized to be imposed pursuant to this chapter, article two-E of the general city law, section 27-0923 of the environmental conservation law or the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law. Any reference to "tax" in this section shall be deemed also to refer to special assessments, fees, interest, additions to tax, penalties and other impositions which are administered by the commissioner.

3. The term "taxpayer" shall have the same meaning given such term in subdivision b of section three thousand two of this chapter.

§ 174-b. Limitation on the time to collect tax liabilities. 1.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary and except as otherwise provided in this section, a tax liability shall not be enforceable and every tax liability shall be extinguished after twenty years from the first date a warrant could be filed by the commissioner, without regard to whether the warrant is filed. The first date a warrant could be filed means the day after the last day specified for payment by the notice and demand issued for the tax liability where there is no right to a hearing with respect to such notice and demand. The first day a warrant could be filed shall be determined without regard to subsection (c) of section six hundred ninety or subsection (c) of section one thousand ninety of this chapter, unless the commissioner assesses the liability under either such subsection (c). When there is a right to a hearing with respect to a notice and demand for a tax liability, the first date a warrant could be filed means the day that opportunity for a hearing or review has been exhausted.

2. This section shall apply to any tax that is administered by the commissioner. Any reference to "tax" in this section shall be deemed also to refer to special assessments, fees, interest, additions to tax, penalties and other impositions that are administered by the commissioner.

3. When, before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section to enforce the collection of tax, both the commissioner and the taxpayer have consented in writing to its collection after such time, the tax liability shall not be extinguished and the tax may be collected at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period so agreed upon may be extended by any subsequent agreement in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

4. The provisions of this section shall supplement or be in addition to the procedures relating to collection or administration provided with respect to any tax covered by this section. Where a provision of this section is inconsistent with any such provision with respect to such tax, the provisions of this section shall apply. For purposes of subsection (c) of section six hundred ninety-two and subsection (c) of section one thousand ninety-two of this chapter, if the commissioner does not file a warrant within six years of assessment, the time limitations in this section shall not apply and the tax liability is extinguished. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the commissioner from accepting any payment for a tax liability made voluntarily by a taxpayer after the time to collect such liability has expired and the liability is extinguished. When a warrant is filed, the commissioner may include a date on that warrant indicating when such warrant expires and tax liability is extinguished.

5. If a tax liability could have been first warranted before the effective date of this section, such liability shall not be enforceable and shall be extinguished after twenty years from the first date the warrant could have been filed by the commissioner.

§ 175. Manner of execution of instruments by the commissioner.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, whenever a statute authorizes or requires the commissioner to execute an instrument, such instrument shall be executed by having the name or title of the commissioner appear on such instrument and, underneath such name or title, such instrument shall be signed by the commissioner or by a deputy tax commissioner or by the secretary to such commissioner. An electronic signature may be used in lieu of a signature affixed by hand pursuant to article three of the state technology law. The seal of such commissioner may be affixed or appear on such instrument as a facsimile which is engraved, printed or reproduced in any other manner. No acknowledgment of the execution of any such instrument shall be necessary for the purpose of the recordation thereof or for any other purpose.

§ 176. Transfer of the powers and duties of the comptroller in relation to the assessment or collection of certain taxes. On and after July first, nineteen hundred twenty-one, all the powers and duties now conferred or imposed upon the state comptroller in relation to the taxation of corporations under articles nine and nine-A of this chapter, in relation to the taxation of transfers of property, under article ten of this chapter, in relation to the taxation of transfers of stock, under article twelve of this chapter, and in relation to taxation upon and with respect to personal income, under article sixteen of this chapter (as such article was in effect on December thirtieth, nineteen hundred sixty), shall be transferred to and thereafter shall be exercised and performed by the commissioner, except as powers and duties under any such article are expressly conferred upon or continued in the state comptroller by acts of the legislature of nineteen hundred twenty-one, enacted subsequent to chapter ninety of the laws of nineteen hundred twenty-one.

§ 177. Construction. Wherever the terms "board of tax commissioners," "state board of tax commissioners," "state tax commissioners" or "state tax commission," "state comptroller" or "comptroller" occur in any law, or wherever in any law reference is made to such board or commissioners or commission or officer, such term or reference shall be deemed to refer to the state tax department as established by this article, to the commissioner of taxation and finance as established by this article or to the tax appeals tribunal as established by article forty of this chapter, so far as such law pertains to matters which are within the jurisdiction of such tax department, such commissioner or such tax appeals tribunal.

§ 179. Definitions. 1. For purposes of this article, Internet access service shall not constitute a telecommunication service, nor shall the provision of Internet access service constitute the carrying on of a telephone, local telephone, telegraph, or transmission business.

2. The term "Internet access service" shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in subdivision (v) of section eleven hundred fifteen of this chapter.

§ 180. Independent analysis. 1. The department shall contract with an economic impact firm for the provision of an independent, comprehensive, analysis of each tax credit, tax deduction, and tax incentive established in this chapter or any other chapter of the law which relates to increasing economic development including, but not necessarily limited to, increasing employment, developing the state's workforce, and increasing business activity. Such analysis shall include the relevant programs run at the state agency level, including relevant programs administered by executive agencies, authorities, commissions, and other government run entities, and shall not include an analysis of individual private entities or individual taxpayers. Such analysis shall include, but need not be limited to, a complete and thorough evaluation of the return on investment for each tax credit, tax deduction, and tax incentive, the economic impact of each relevant program, including direct and indirect benefits, including the creation of temporary project hires, the fiscal impact of each relevant program, including revenues received and forgone by municipalities and New York state, as applicable. For the purposes of this section, "return on investment" shall mean: (a) total job creation, including temporary project hires resulting from each project supported by each relevant program, and retained jobs; (b) whether the expenditures by the state on each tax credit, tax deduction or tax incentive result in an increase or decrease in tax revenues for New York state municipalities, and New York state; (c) other estimated quantifiable economic benefits, including but not necessarily limited to personal income; indirect, induced, long term, and temporary job creation; and private investment for each tax credit, tax deduction and tax incentive; (d) whether similar job creation or private investment would have occurred without the existence of a state tax incentive; and (e) other qualitative economic benefits that improve the economy, and provide opportunities for advancement for New York residents, including: (i) global media exposure; (ii) increased tourism attraction and positioning of New York as a destination, providing quality of life amenities to assist with community development, placemaking, positioning communities for add-on private sector investment, making New York competitive on the basis of cost and other attraction amenities; and (iii) contributing to the positive perception of the state and its regions to assist with business attraction and creating economic opportunity for New Yorkers.

2. Prior to the analysis pursuant to subdivision one of this section, the economic impact firm that the department contracts with may solicit input from leaders in the business community, organized labor and economic development stakeholders, including, but not necessarily limited to representatives from nonprofits, academic institutions, and leading New York state community development experts.

3. Such analysis shall be completed and submitted to the department no later than January first, two thousand twenty-four and shall be posted publicly on the department's website within thirty days of submission to the department. The analysis shall also be submitted to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, and the chair of the senate finance committee and the chair of the assembly ways and means committee.

4. The economic impact firm providing the department's comprehensive analysis shall adhere to the requirements in this subdivision. Notwithstanding this subdivision, the department may contract with a firm upon a written determination by the commissioner which shall detail that such firm was awarded such contract on the basis that no firm meets the requirements set forth in this subdivision.

(a) Such economic impact firm shall be prohibited from providing analysis services to the department if the analysis partner having primary responsibility for the analysis, or the analysis partner responsible for reviewing the analysis, has performed analysis services for the department in the past three fiscal years.

(b) Such economic impact firm shall be prohibited from performing any non-analysis services to the department contemporaneously with the analysis, including: (i) bookkeeping or other services related to the accounting records or financial statements of such department; (ii) financial information systems design and implementation; (iii) appraisal or valuation services, fairness opinions, or contribution-in-kind reports; (iv) actuarial services; (v) internal analysis outsourcing services; (vi) management functions or human services; (vii) broker or dealer, investment advisor, or investment banking services; and (viii) legal services and expert services unrelated to the analysis.

(c) Such economic impact firm shall be prohibited from providing analysis services to the department if an employee assigned to the analysis has performed analysis services for the department or has been employed by the department in the past three fiscal years.

ARTICLE 9

CORPORATION TAX

- Section 182. Additional franchise tax on certain oil companies.
- 182-a. Franchise tax on certain oil companies.
183. Franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.
- 183-a. Temporary metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.
184. Additional franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.
- 184-a. Additional temporary metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on transportation and transmission corporations and associations services.
- 186-a. Tax on the furnishing of utility services.
- 186-c. Metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on utility services and excise tax on sale of telecommunication services.
- 186-d. Transportation business tax on utility services in Erie county.

- 186-e. Excise tax on telecommunication services.
- 186-f. Public safety communications surcharge.
- 186-g. Wireless communications surcharge authorized.
- 187. Credit for special additional mortgage recording tax.
- 187-a. Credit for employment of persons with disabilities.
- 187-b. Alternative fuels and electric vehicle recharging property credit.
- 187-c. Biofuel production credit.
- 187-d. Green building credit.
- 187-e. Credit for transportation improvement contributions.
- 187-f. Order of credits.
- 187-g. Brownfield redevelopment tax credit.
- 187-h. Remediated brownfield credit for real property taxes for qualified sites.
- 187-i. Environmental remediation insurance credit.
- 187-n. Security training tax credit.
- 187-n*2. Fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures credit.
- 187-o. Temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit.
- 187-p. Temporary deferral refundable payout credit.
- 187-q. Utility COVID-19 debt relief credit.
- 187-r. Commercial security tax credit.
- 188. Tax surcharge.
- 189-b. Tax surcharge.
- 190. Long-term care insurance credit.
- 191. Receivers, etc., conducting corporate business.
- 192. Reports of corporations.
- 193. Extension of time for filing report.
- 194. Further requirements as to reports of corporations.
- 197. Payment of tax and penalties.
- 197-a. Declaration of estimated tax.
- 197-b. Payments of estimated tax.
- 197-c. Applicability of section one hundred eighty-two-a.
- 197-d. (Enacted without section heading).
- 202. Secrecy required of officials; penalty for violation.
- 203. Collection of taxes.
- 203-a. Dissolution of delinquent business corporations.

- 203-b. Annulment of authority to do business by foreign corporations.
- 204. Reports to be made by the secretary of state.
- 205. Deposit of moneys collected from taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter.
- 206. Deposit and disposition of revenue.
- 207. Limitation of time.
- 207-a. Exemption of corporations owned by a municipality.
- 207-b. Practice and procedure for taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four.

§ 182. Additional franchise tax on certain oil companies. 1.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of any other law, for taxable years ending on or after June eighteenth, nineteen hundred eighty but before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-three, an annual tax is hereby imposed upon every oil company equal to two per centum of its gross receipts from all sources, or the portion thereof allocated within the state as hereinafter provided, for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, for all or any part of each of its taxable years. In no event shall the tax imposed by this section be less than two hundred fifty dollars.

2. As used in this section: (a) The term "oil company" means every vertically integrated petroleum corporation or affiliate thereof formed for or engaged in the business of importing or causing to be imported into this state for sale in this state, extracting, producing, refining, manufacturing, compounding or selling petroleum. For purposes of this section, petroleum shall include, but shall not be limited to, gasoline, aviation fuel, kerosene, diesel motor fuel, benzol, distillate fuels, residual oil, crude oil or any similar product; a vertically integrated petroleum corporation or affiliate thereof means any domestic or foreign corporation, which, either for its own account or with affiliates: (i) extract or produces in excess of one hundred thousand average barrels of crude oil per day, (ii) has a refining capacity in excess of one hundred seventy-five thousand average barrels of crude oil per day, and (iii) market or distributors for marketing gasoline, motor fuels, fuel oils, and similar products derived from the refining or manufacture of crude oil, whether such activities are carried on directly or indirectly in conjunction with or by means of an affiliate or affiliates; and affiliate means a corporation in which more than fifty per centum of the number of shares of stock entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees is owned, directly or indirectly, by the vertically integrated petroleum corporation or affiliate thereof.

(b) The term "gross receipts" means all receipts, whether from within or without the United States, whether in cash, credits or property of any kind or nature, without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or services, or other costs, interest or discount paid, or any other expense whatsoever but excluding such receipts which constitute consideration received by the oil company for the issuance or sale of shares of its capital stock or money lent to such company. Receipts received by reason of any sale of fuel oil (excluding diesel motor fuel) used for residential purposes shall not be included in gross receipts. Provided, however, gross receipts shall not include the receipts from any sale for resale to a purchaser which is an oil company subject to tax under this section. It shall be presumed that no receipts are receipts from a sale for resale to such purchaser unless such purchaser furnishes the oil company with a resale certificate in such form and under such terms and conditions as the tax commission may prescribe and such certificate is accepted in good faith by such oil company.

(c) The term "corporation" includes a corporation, joint stock company or association and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificate or other written instrument.

(d) The term "taxable year" means the oil company's taxable year for federal income tax purposes, or the part thereof during which such oil company is subject to tax under this section.

3. (a) The portion of the gross receipts of an oil company to be allocated within the state shall be determined as follows: multiply its gross receipts by an allocation percentage to be determined by ascertaining the percentage which the receipts of such oil company, computed on the cash or accrual basis according to the method of accounting used in the computation of its gross receipts, arising during the period covered by its report from (1) sales of its tangible personal property where shipments are made to points within this state, (2) services performed within the state, (3) rentals from property situated, and royalties from the use of patents or copyrights, within the state, and (4) all other business receipts earned within the state, bear to the total amount of the oil company's receipts, similarly computed, arising during such period from all sales of its tangible personal property, services, rentals, royalties and all other business transactions, whether within or without the state. Receipts received by reason of any sale of fuel oil used for residential purposes and receipts from any sale for resale to a purchaser which is an oil company subject to tax under this section shall be included as a receipt in the computation of the allocation percentage.

(b) Where the tax commission decides that with respect to a certain oil company the method prescribed above does not fairly and equitably reflect its gross receipts from all sources within the state, the tax commission shall prescribe methods of allocation which fairly and equitably reflect gross receipts from all sources within the state.

4. Every oil company subject to tax under this section shall keep such records of its business in such form as the tax commission may require, and such records shall be preserved for a period of three years, except that the tax commission may consent to their destruction within that period or may require that they be kept longer.

5. Every oil company subject to tax hereunder shall annually file on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of its taxable year a return which shall state the gross receipts for the period covered by such return. Returns shall be filed with the tax commission in a form prescribed by it setting forth such information as the tax commission may prescribe. Every oil company subject to tax hereunder which ceases to exercise its franchise or to be subject to the tax imposed by this section shall transmit to the tax commission a return on the date of such cessation or at such other time as the tax commission may require covering each year or period for which no return was theretofore filed. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the tax commission may require any oil company to file an annual return, which shall contain any data specified by it, regardless of whether the oil company is subject to tax under this section.

6. If any provision of this section conflicts with any other provision contained in this article, the provisions of this section shall control, but the provisions of this article which do not conflict with the provisions of this section shall apply with respect to the taxes under this section, insofar as they are, or may be made, applicable.

7. Any corporation which is subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-five or one hundred eighty-six of this chapter shall not be subject to tax under this section.

8. An oil company which is not incorporated or organized under the laws of this state shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in this state, for the purposes of this section, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trust companies in this state, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in this state, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one or more banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such oil company, or (d) the maintenance of an office in this state by one or more officers or directors of the oil company who are not employees of the oil company if the company otherwise is not doing business in this state, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in this state, or (e) the keeping of books or records of an oil company in this state if such books or records are not kept by employees of such oil company and such oil company does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in this state, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities.

9. Any receiver, referee, trustee, assignee or other fiduciary, or any officer or agent appointed by any court, who conducts the business of any oil company shall be subject to the tax imposed by this section in the same manner and to the same extent as if the business were conducted by the agents or officers of such oil company. A dissolved oil company which continues to conduct business shall also be subject to the tax imposed by this section.

10. Where a false or fraudulent resale certificate has been furnished to an oil company, the corporation furnishing such certificate shall be subject to a penalty equal to three per centum of the gross receipts which would have otherwise been taxable to such oil company if such certificate had not been furnished to such company. Such penalty shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the addition to tax with respect to a deficiency due to fraud provided for in subsection (e) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter is assessed, collected and paid.

11. If any amount of tax imposed by this section is not paid prior to September first, nineteen hundred eighty-three, interest on such amount at double the underpayment rate set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, or if no rate is set, at the rate of twelve percent per annum shall be paid for the period from such date to the date paid, whether or not any extension of time for payment was granted; provided, however, that the rate charged shall not exceed the maximum rate allowed pursuant to section 190.42 of the penal law. This subdivision shall apply with respect to taxes, or any portion thereof, which are overdue on or after September first, nineteen hundred eighty-three and shall apply only with respect to interest computed or computable for periods or portions of periods occurring on or after such date.

12. All taxes, interest and penalties collected or received by the tax commission under the taxes and penalties imposed by this section shall be deposited daily in one account with such responsible banks, banking houses or trust companies as may be designated by the comptroller, to the credit of the comptroller. Such an account may be established in one or more of such depositories. Such deposits shall be kept separate and apart from all other money in the possession of the comptroller. The comptroller shall require adequate security from all such depositories. Of the total revenue collected or received under this section, the comptroller shall retain in his hands such amount as the commissioner of taxation and finance may determine to be necessary for refunds under this section, out of which amount the comptroller shall pay any refunds to which oil companies shall be entitled under the provisions of this section. After reserving the amount required to pay such refunds, the comptroller shall deposit all remaining revenue pursuant to the provisions of subdivision one of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter.

§ 182-a. Franchise tax on certain oil companies. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of any other law, for the period beginning with taxable years commencing on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-one, but including that portion of any taxable year commencing prior thereto to the extent of that portion of such year which includes the period which commences with the first day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-one, and ending with but not including taxable years commencing on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-three, but including that portion of any taxable year commencing prior thereto to the extent of that portion of such year which includes the period which terminates with the thirtieth day of June, nineteen hundred eighty-three, an annual tax is hereby imposed upon every oil company equal to three-quarters of one per centum of its gross receipts from sales of petroleum, or the portion thereof allocated within the state as hereinafter provided, for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, for all or any part of each of its taxable years. In no event shall the tax imposed by this section be less than two hundred fifty dollars.

2. As used in this section: (a) The term "oil company" means every corporation formed for or engaged in the business of importing or causing to be imported (by a person other than a corporation subject to tax under this section) into this state for sale in this state, extracting, producing, refining, manufacturing, or compounding petroleum. Provided, however, a corporation which is principally engaged in selling fuel oil (excluding diesel motor fuel) used for residential purposes shall not be considered an oil company. For purposes of this section, petroleum shall include, but shall not be limited to, gasoline, aviation fuel, kerosene, diesel motor fuel, benzol, distillate fuels, residual oil, crude oil or any similar product.

(b) The term "gross receipts from sales of petroleum" means all receipts from sales of petroleum, whether from within or without the United States, whether in cash, credits or property of any kind or nature, without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or services, or other costs, interest or discount paid, or any other expense whatsoever. Receipts received by reason of any sale of fuel oil (excluding diesel motor fuel) or liquified or liquifiable gases (except when sold in containers of less than one hundred pounds) used for residential purposes shall not be included in gross receipts.

However, to prevent the multiple application of the tax imposed by this section, gross receipts shall not include the receipts from any sale for resale to a purchaser which is an oil company subject to tax under this section. It shall be presumed that no receipts are receipts from a sale for resale to such purchaser unless such purchaser furnishes the oil company with a resale certificate in such form and under such terms and conditions as the tax commission may prescribe and such certificate is accepted in good faith by such oil company. In addition, it shall be presumed that no receipts are receipts received by reason of any sale of fuel oil (excluding diesel motor fuel) or liquified or liquifiable gases (except when sold in containers of less than one hundred pounds) used for residential purposes unless the purchaser furnishes the oil company with a residential use certificate, in such form, at such times and under such terms and conditions as the tax commission may prescribe, and such certificate is accepted in good faith by such oil company. Provided, however, where a purchaser is a consumer of such fuel oil or liquified or liquifiable gases, such purchaser shall not be required to furnish such certificate and the oil company making such sale shall be required to maintain records of such transactions in such form and manner as the tax commission may prescribe. In order to assist the purchaser from an oil company in completing its residential use certificate, the tax commission may require such other purchasers of petroleum as it deems necessary to furnish their suppliers with residential use certificates.

(c) The term "corporation" includes a corporation, joint-stock company or association and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificate or other written instrument.

(d) The term "taxable year" means the oil company's taxable year for federal income tax purposes, or the part thereof during which such oil company is subject to tax under this section.

(e) The term "petroleum" shall mean crude oil, plant condensate, gasoline, aviation fuel, kerosene, diesel motor fuel, benzol, petrochemical feedstocks, distillate fuels, residual oil, and liquified or liquifiable gases such as butane, ethylene, or propane.

3. The portion of the gross receipts from sales of petroleum of an oil company to be allocated within the state shall be determined by multiplying such gross receipts by the ratio which the gross receipts from sales of petroleum where shipments are made to points within the state bear to the gross receipts from sales of petroleum within and without the state. Receipts received by reason of any sale of fuel oil or liquified or liquifiable gases used for residential purposes and receipts received from a sale for resale as described in paragraph (b) of subdivision two of this section shall be included as a receipt in the computation of the allocation percentage.

4. Every oil company subject to tax under this section shall keep such records of its business in such form as the tax commission may require, and such records shall be preserved for a period of three years, except that the tax commission may consent to their destruction within that period or may require that they be kept longer.

5. Every oil company subject to tax hereunder shall annually file on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of its taxable year a return which shall state the gross receipts from sales of petroleum for the period covered by such return. Returns shall be filed with the tax commission in a form prescribed by it setting forth such information as the tax commission may prescribe. Every oil company subject to tax hereunder which ceases to exercise its franchise or to be subject to the tax imposed by this section shall transmit to the tax commission a return on the date of such cessation or at such other time as the tax commission may require covering each year or period for which no return was theretofore filed. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the tax commission may require any oil company to file an annual return, which shall contain any data specified by it, regardless of whether the oil company is subject to tax under this section.

6. If any provision of this section conflicts with any other provision contained in this article, the provisions of this section shall control, but the provisions of this article which do not conflict with the provisions of this section shall apply with respect to the taxes under this section, insofar as they are, or may be made, applicable.

7. Any corporation which is subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-five or one hundred eighty-six of this article shall not be subject to tax under this section.

8. An oil company which is not incorporated or organized under the laws of this state shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in this state, for the purposes of this section, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trusts companies in this state, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in this state, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one of banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such oil company, or (d) the maintenance of an office in this state by one or more officers or directors of the oil company who are not employees of the oil company if the company otherwise is not doing business in this state, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in this state, or (e) the keeping of books or records of an oil company in this state if such books or records are not kept by employees of such oil company and such oil company does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in this state, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities.

9. Any receiver, referee, trustee, assignee or other fiduciary, or any officer or agent appointed by any court, who conducts the business of any oil company shall be subject to the tax imposed by this section in the same manner and to the same extent as if the business were conducted by the agents or officers of such oil company. A dissolved oil company which continues to conduct business shall also be subject to the tax imposed by this section.

10. (a) Where a false or fraudulent resale certificate or residential use certificate has been furnished to an oil company or to any other person, the corporation or person furnishing such certificate shall be subject to a penalty equal to three per centum of the gross receipts which would have otherwise been taxable to such oil company if such certificate had not been furnished to such company or to such other person. Such penalty shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as the addition to tax with respect to a deficiency due to fraud provided for in subsection (e) of section one thousand eighty-five of this chapter is assessed, collected and paid.

(b) If a purchaser which is required by paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section one hundred eighty-two-a to provide an oil company or other supplier with a residential use certificate fails to provide such certificate or provides a certificate which understates the amount of fuel oil (excluding diesel motor fuel) or liquified or liquifiable gases (except when sold in containers of less than one hundred pounds) used for residential purposes, unless it is shown that such failure or understatement is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall, upon notice and demand by the tax commission and in the same manner as tax, be paid by such purchaser a penalty of one hundred dollars for each such failure or for each certificate containing such understatement; provided, however, in no event may more than five thousand dollars in such penalties be imposed against such purchaser in any calendar year.

11. All taxes, interest and penalties collected or received by the commissioner under the taxes and penalties imposed by this section shall be deposited daily in one account with such responsible banks, banking houses or trust companies as may be designated by the comptroller, to the credit of the comptroller. Such an account may be established in one or more of such depositories. Such deposits shall be kept separate and apart from all other money in the possession of the comptroller. The comptroller shall require adequate security from all such depositories. Of the total revenue collected or received under this section, the comptroller shall retain in his hands such amount as the commissioner may determine to be necessary for refunds under this section, out of which amount the comptroller shall pay any refunds to which oil companies shall be entitled under the provisions of this section. After reserving the amount required to pay such refunds, the comptroller shall prior to April first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, deposit weekly forty-five percent of all remaining revenue in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the public transportation systems operating assistance account therein, and fifty-five percent of such revenue in such fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account therein, established by section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law, and on and after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, after reserving the amount to pay such refunds, the comptroller shall deposit weekly all the revenues remaining in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of such public transportation systems operating assistance account therein. After reserving the amount to pay such refunds, the comptroller shall on and after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, deposit weekly forty-five percent of all remaining revenue in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of such public transportation systems operating assistance account therein, and fifty-five percent of such revenue in such fund to the credit of such metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account therein.

§ 183. Franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.--1. (a) The term "corporation" as used in this section shall include an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificates or other written instruments.

(b) For the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, every domestic corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), express, navigation, pipe line, transfer, baggage express, omnibus, taxicab, telegraph, or telephone business, or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, and every domestic corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses and which has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of this section, and every other domestic corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of a transportation or transmission business, except a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses and which has not made the election provided for in subdivision ten of this section, and except a corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (including air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) and except a corporation principally engaged in providing telecommunication services between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing), at least ninety percent of the voting stock of which corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by air carriers and which corporation's principal function is to fulfill the requirements of (i) the federal aviation administration (or the successor thereto) or (ii) the international civil aviation organization (or the successor thereto), relating to the existence of a communication system between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing) for the purposes of air safety and navigation shall pay, in advance, an annual tax to be computed upon the basis of the amount of its capital stock within this state during the preceding year, and upon each dollar of such amount. Provided, however, a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas, electricity or steam shall not be subject to tax under this section or section one hundred eighty-four of this article.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivision, during the period that the state tax on motor fuel, computed without regard to any reimbursement allowable under paragraph (d) of subdivision three of section two hundred eighty-nine-c of this chapter, exceeds two cents per gallon, the corporations, herein classed as "taxicab" and "omnibus," other than corporations described in subdivision nine of this section, shall be taxed under the provisions of article nine-a of this chapter and not under this section.

2. The measure of the amount of capital stock in this state, except as hereinafter provided, shall be such a portion of the issued capital stock as the gross assets, exclusive of obligations issued by the United States and cash on hand and on deposit, employed in any business within this state, bear to the gross assets, exclusive of obligations issued by the United States and cash on hand and on deposit, wherever employed in business. Provided, however, that in the case of a corporation taxable hereunder only for the privilege of holding property, the measure shall be such a portion of the issued capital stock as the gross assets, exclusive of obligations issued by the United States and cash on hand and on deposit, located within the state, bear to the gross assets, exclusive of obligations issued by the United States and cash on hand and on deposit, wherever located. The capital of a corporation invested in the stock of another corporation shall be deemed to be assets located where the assets of the issuing corporation, other than patents, copyrights, trademarks, contracts and good will, are located.

3. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association, subject to taxation under this section shall, in any event, pay annually a minimum tax of not less than seventy-five dollars nor less than one and five-tenths mills on each dollar of such a portion of the net value of its issued capital stock, which net value for the purposes of this section shall be deemed to be not less than five dollars per share, as may be determined upon such of the bases herein provided for the measurement thereof as is applicable. The term "net value" as used in this section shall be construed to mean not less than the difference between a corporation's assets and liabilities, and not less than the average price at which such stock sold during the year covered by the report which forms the basis for the tax. But if the dividends paid on the par value of any kind of capital stock during any year ending with the thirty-first day of December amount to six per centum or more, the tax upon such kind of capital stock shall be at the rate of three-eighths of a mill for each one per centum of dividends paid and shall be computed upon the par value of such capital stock, unless such a tax be less than the minimum tax hereinbefore provided in this section, and the tax commission shall, for such purpose, make a fair and equitable apportionment of the assets of the corporation, joint-stock company or association, between or among the different kinds of stock, provided, however, that the provisions of this sentence shall not apply to any corporation, joint stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a telephone business which is subject to the provisions of section one hundred eighty-four of this article and which has a total number of access lines in the state of one million or less.

4. If such corporation, joint stock company or association shall have more than one kind of capital stock, and upon one of such kinds of stock a dividend or dividends amounting to six or more than six per centum upon the par value thereof, has been paid, and upon the other no dividend has been paid, or the dividend or dividends paid thereon amount to less than six per centum upon the par value thereof, then the tax shall be fixed upon each kind as hereinbefore provided.

5. The dividend rate for a corporation having stock without nominal or par value shall be determined by dividing the amount paid as a dividend or dividends during the year by the amount paid in on such stock and, if the rate is six per centum or more, the rate of three-eighths of a mill for each one per centum of dividends shall be applied to the amount paid in on such stock, unless such tax be less than the minimum tax hereinbefore in this section provided for. The amount of earned surplus at the time of change of classification of a corporation formerly taxed under article nine-a of this chapter shall be excluded in determining the amount of dividends paid. Any consideration given by a corporation for the purchase of its own stock in excess of the consideration received by it for the issuance of such stock, shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as a dividend.

6. Every like corporation, joint-stock company or association organized, incorporated or formed under the laws of any other state, country or sovereignty shall pay a like tax for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, to be computed upon the basis of the measurement herein provided for the taxation of domestic corporations.

7. The owning or holding in this state by a foreign corporation, or by a trustee or trustees included under this section within the meaning of the term corporation as herein before defined, of property shall constitute doing business within this state within the intent of this section; provided, however, that the owning or holding in this state by a railroad, palace car or sleeping car corporation, business, navigation, canal, ferry, (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), or steamboat or any other corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels included under this section within the meaning of the term corporation as herein before defined, of property used exclusively in interstate or foreign commerce shall not constitute doing business in this state within the intent of this section. However, a foreign corporation or such a trustee or trustees shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in this state, for the purposes of this article, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trust companies in this state, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in this state, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one or more banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such corporation, or (d) the maintenance of an office in this state by one or more officers or directors of the corporation who are not employees of the corporation if the corporation otherwise is not doing business in this state, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in this state, or (e) the keeping of books or records of a corporation in this state if such books or records are not kept by employees of such corporation and such corporation does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in this state, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities.

8. The measure of the capital stock in this state of a corporation engaged in the operation of vessels in foreign commerce shall be such portion of the issued capital stock as the aggregate number of working days in New York territorial waters of all such vessels bears to the aggregate number of working days of all such vessels. The dividend rate for such a corporation shall be determined by dividing the amount paid as a dividend or dividends on all classes of stock during the year by the amount of paid-in capital and, if the rate is six per centum or more, the rate of three-eighths of a mill for each one per centum of dividends shall be applied to the amount of such paid-in capital.

9. (a) A corporation, classed as a "taxicab" or "omnibus",

(1) which is organized, incorporated or formed under the laws of any other state, country or sovereignty, and

(2) which neither owns nor leases property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, nor

(3) maintains an office in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, but

(4) which is doing business or employing capital in this state by conducting at least one but fewer than twelve trips into this state during the calendar year, shall be exempt from the tax imposed under this section. If the only property a corporation owns or leases in this state is a vehicle or vehicles used to conduct trips, it shall not be considered, for purposes of subparagraph two of this paragraph, to be owning or leasing property in this state.

(b) For purposes of this subdivision, a corporation classed as a "taxicab" or "omnibus" shall be considered to be conducting a trip into New York state when one of its vehicles enters New York state and transports passengers to, from, or to and from a location in New York state. A corporation shall not be considered to be conducting a trip into New York state if its vehicle only makes incidental stops at locations in the state while in transit from a location outside New York state to another location outside New York state. The number of trips a corporation conducts into New York state shall be calculated by determining the number of trips each vehicle owned, leased or operated by the corporation conducts into New York state and adding those numbers together.

10. Election. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad (including surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad or elevated railroad), palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, which would be subject to article nine-A of this chapter if the election provided for under this subdivision were not made, may elect to be subject to the provisions of this section and, as applicable, section one hundred eighty-four of this article, rather than the provisions of such article nine-A. Such corporation, joint-stock company or association must make such election by the first day on which such corporation, joint-stock company or association would be required to file a return or report (without regard to extensions) under this section or section one hundred eighty-four of this article, or section one hundred eighty-three-a or one hundred eighty-four-a of this article, or article nine-A of this chapter. An election made pursuant to this subdivision shall continue to be in effect until revoked by the taxpayer. A revocation of the election to be subject to this section and, as applicable, section one hundred eighty-four of this article, shall be irrevocable. Such election, and a revocation thereof, shall be made in the manner prescribed by the commissioner, whether by regulation or otherwise. Such revocation shall apply as of the first day of January next following the end of a taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer had been subject to this section and, as applicable, section one hundred eighty-four of this article, by reason of an election made pursuant to this subdivision.

§ 183-a. Metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.

1. The term "corporation" as used in this section shall include an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificates or other written instruments. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), express, navigation, pipe line, transfer, baggage express, omnibus, taxicab, telegraph, or telephone business, or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more such businesses, and every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses and which has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and every other corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of a transportation or transmission business, except a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses and which has not made the election provided for in subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and except a corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (including air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) and except a corporation principally engaged in providing telecommunication services between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing), at least ninety percent of the voting stock of which corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by air carriers and which corporation's principal function is to fulfill the requirements of (i) the federal aviation administration (or the successor thereto) or (ii) the international civil aviation organization (or the successor thereto), relating to the existence of a communication system between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing) for the purposes of air safety and navigation, shall pay for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in the metropolitan commuter transportation district in such corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in such district, a tax surcharge, which tax surcharge, in addition to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article, shall be computed at the rate of seventeen percent of the tax imposed under such section for such years or any part of such years after the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article; provided, however, that such rates of tax surcharge shall be applied only to that portion of the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-three of this article after the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article which is attributable to the taxpayer's business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district as so determined in the manner prescribed by the rules and regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

2. The owning or holding in the metropolitan commuter transportation district by a corporation, or by a trustee or trustees included under this section within the meaning of the term corporation as hereinbefore defined, of property shall constitute doing business in the metropolitan commuter transportation district within the meaning of this section; provided, however, that the owning or holding in such district by a railroad, palace car or sleeping car corporation, business, navigation, canal, ferry, (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), or steamboat or any other corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels included under this section within the meaning of the term corporation as hereinbefore defined, of property used exclusively in interstate or foreign commerce shall not constitute doing business in such district within the intent of this section. However, a corporation or such trustee or trustees shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, for the purposes of this section, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trust companies in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one or more banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such corporation, or (d) the maintenance of an office in such district by one or more officers or directors of the corporation who are not employees of the corporation if the corporation otherwise is not doing business in such district, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in such district, or (e) the keeping of books or records of a corporation in such district if such books or records are not kept by employees of such corporation and such corporation does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in such district, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities. Provided, further, that a railroad, palace car or sleeping car corporation, navigation, canal, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), steamboat, or any other corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels whose only activity in the metropolitan commuter transportation district is (i) the maintenance of an office in such district and for the employing of capital in such district and (ii) the use of property exclusively in interstate or foreign commerce, shall not be subject to the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

3. The term metropolitan commuter transportation district as used in this section shall be defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law.

4. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of state or local law, the tax surcharge imposed under this section shall not be allowed as a deduction in the computation of any state or local tax imposed under this chapter or any chapter or local law. Furthermore, the credits otherwise allowable under this article shall not be allowed against the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

5. The report covering the tax surcharge which must be calculated pursuant to this section based upon the tax reportable on the report due by March fifteenth of any year under section one hundred eighty-three of this article, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand seventeen, and on the report due by April fifteenth of any year under section one hundred eighty-three of this article, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen, shall be filed on or before March fifteenth of the year next succeeding such year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand seventeen, and on or before April fifteenth of the year next succeeding such year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen. An extension pursuant to section one hundred ninety-three of this article shall be allowed only if a taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form as said commissioner may prescribe by regulation and pays on or before the date of such filing in addition to any other amounts required under this article, either ninety percent of the entire tax surcharge required to be paid under this section for the applicable period, or not less than the tax surcharge shown on the taxpayer's report for the preceding year, if such preceding year consisted of twelve months. The tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed, and such tax surcharge or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or be subject to the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner at the time the report is required to be filed, provided such tax surcharge of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other tax surcharges of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time. All of the provisions of this article presently applicable to section one hundred eighty-three of this article are applicable to the tax surcharge imposed by this section except for section one hundred ninety-two of this article.

§ 184. Additional franchise tax on transportation and transmission corporations and associations.-- 1. The term "corporation" as used in this section shall include an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof.

Every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), express, navigation, pipe line, transfer, baggage express, omnibus, taxicab, telegraph or local telephone business, or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, and every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more such businesses and which has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and every other corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a transportation or transmission business (other than a telephone business), except a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses and which has not made the election provided for in subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and, except a corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (including air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) and except a corporation principally engaged in providing telecommunication services between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing), at least ninety percent of the voting stock of which corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by air carriers and which corporation's principal function is to fulfill the requirements of (i) the federal aviation administration (or the successor thereto) or (ii) the international civil aviation organization (or the successor thereto), relating to the existence of a communication system between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing) for the purposes of air safety and navigation and for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or maintaining an office in this state, shall pay a franchise tax which shall be equal to three-eighths of one percent for taxable years commencing after two thousand, upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state; except that, for taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred ninety, every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of local telephone business, or telegraph business shall pay a franchise tax which shall be equal to three-eighths of one percent for taxable years commencing after two thousand, upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state, except that a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a local telephone business shall exclude the following earnings (but not in any event earnings derived by such taxpayer from the provision of carrier access services) derived by such taxpayer from sales for ultimate consumption of telecommunications service to its customers (i) thirty percent of separately charged intra-LATA toll service (which shall also include interregion regional calling plan service) and (ii) one hundred percent of separately charged inter-LATA, interstate or international telecommunications service; and except that corporations, joint-stock companies or associations formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), navigation or any corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels, shall pay a franchise tax which shall be equal to three-quarters of one per centum upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state, excluding earnings derived from business of an interstate or foreign character; except that for taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred ninety-seven or thereafter, in the case of a corporation, joint-stock company or association which, with respect to taxable years beginning after nineteen hundred ninety-seven, has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article and which is formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, such corporation, joint-stock company or association shall pay a franchise tax which shall be equal to three-eighths of one percent for taxable years commencing after two thousand, upon its gross earnings from all sources within this state, provided that in the case of a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car or sleeping car business, or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, such gross earnings shall not include earnings derived from business of an interstate or foreign character.

Provided, however, with respect to railroad, elevated railroad, palace car or sleeping car business or any other corporation formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad business and canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), navigation or any corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels where the gross earnings from such transportation business both originating and terminating within this state and traversing both this state and another state or states or country shall be subject to the franchise tax imposed by this section (except where such corporation, joint-stock company or association is formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a railroad (including surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad or elevated railroad), palace car or sleeping car business or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more of such businesses, and has not made the election provided for under subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article) and such earnings shall be allocated to this state in the same ratio that the mileage within the state bears to the total mileage of such business. Provided, further, a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas, electricity or steam shall not be subject to tax under this section or section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

The term "local telephone business" means the provision or furnishing of telecommunication services for hire wherein the service furnished by the provider thereof consists of carrier access service or the service originates and terminates within the same local access and transport area ("LATA"), a local access and transport area being that geographic area as established and approved, and as so set and in existence on July first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, pursuant to the modification of final judgment in United States v. Western Electric Company (civil action no. 82-0192) in the United States district court for the District of Columbia or within the LATA-like Rochester non-associated independent area.

The term "telecommunication services" shall have the meaning ascribed to such term in section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article.

1-a. Where a taxpayer is a partner, member or associate of a publicly traded partnership or an association which is subject to the tax imposed under this section, the amount to be included in such taxpayer's gross earnings with respect to such partnership or association shall be the amount received with respect to such partnership or association which is required to be reported as dividends to the United States treasury department.

2. (a) During the period that the state tax on motor fuel, computed without regard to any reimbursement allowable under paragraph (d) of subdivision three of section two hundred eighty-nine-c of this chapter, exceeds two cents per gallon the corporations herein classed as

"taxicab" and "omnibus", other than corporations described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, shall be taxed under the provisions of article nine-a of the tax law and as other business corporations are taxed and not upon their gross receipts.

(b) (1) A corporation classed as a "taxicab" or "omnibus",

(i) which is organized, incorporated or formed under the laws of any other state, country or sovereignty, and

(ii) which neither owns nor leases property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, nor

(iii) maintains an office in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, but

(iv) which is doing business or employing capital in this state by conducting at least one but fewer than twelve trips into this state during the calendar year, shall not be taxed under the provisions of this article. If the only property a corporation owns or leases in this state is a vehicle or vehicles used to conduct trips, it shall not be considered, for purposes of clause (ii) of this subparagraph, to be owning or leasing property in this state.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, a corporation classed as a "taxicab" or "omnibus" shall be considered to be conducting a trip into New York state when one of its vehicles enters New York state and transports passengers to, from, or to and from a location in New York state. A corporation shall not be considered to be conducting a trip into New York state if its vehicle only makes incidental stops at locations in the state while in transit from a location outside New York state to another location outside New York state. The number of trips a corporation conducts into New York state shall be calculated by determining the number of trips each vehicle owned, leased or operated by the corporation conducts into New York state and adding those numbers together.

3. Any corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of subway railroad, elevated railroad, or surface railroad not operated by steam, business, whose property is leased to another railroad corporation, shall only be required under this section to pay an annual tax at the rate of four and one-half per centum upon the dividends paid during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December in excess of four per centum upon the amount of its capital stock, provided, however, that for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred seventy-six, as described in subdivision two of section one hundred ninety-two of this chapter, the tax shall be paid upon dividends paid during the months of July through December of such year in excess of two per centum upon the amount of its capital stock, except that where the property leased is operated by a receiver and the gross earnings are not included with the gross earnings of the lessee for the purposes of taxation under this section, then such receiver shall be required to pay the tax upon gross earnings as hereinbefore provided.

4. Allocation of gross earnings from transportation and transmission services.--(a) General. A transportation or transmission corporation shall determine its gross earnings from transportation and transmission services within this state (except as otherwise provided for in this subdivision) by multiplying its gross earnings from transportation and transmission within and without the state by a fraction, the numerator of which is the taxpayer's mileage within this state and the denominator of which is the taxpayer's mileage within and without this state during the period covered by the report or reports required by this chapter.

(b) Corporations engaged in the operation of vessels. A corporation principally engaged in the operation of vessels shall determine its gross earnings from transportation services within this state during the period covered by the report or reports required by this chapter by multiplying its gross earnings from transportation services within and without this state by a percentage which represents the ratio of the aggregate number of working days of the vessels it owns or leases in all navigable lakes, rivers, streams and waters within this state and in New York territorial waters to the aggregate number of working days of all the vessels it owns or leases during such period.

(c) Telephone and telegraph corporations. A telephone or telegraph corporation shall determine its gross earnings from transmission services within this state during the period covered by the report or reports required by this chapter by totaling its gross operating revenue from transmission services performed wholly within this state plus the portion of revenue from interstate and foreign transmission service attributable to this state during such report period.

(d) All other gross earnings, if any, shall be allocated to this state in the manner prescribed by rules and regulations promulgated by the tax commission.

(e) With respect to other types of transportation and transmission corporations or where the tax commission decides that with respect to a certain corporation the method prescribed above does not fairly and equitably reflect gross earnings from all sources within this state, the tax commission shall prescribe methods of allocation or apportionment which fairly and equitably reflect gross earnings from all sources within this state. Also, the tax commission may, in order to properly reflect gross earnings, determine the report period in which any item of gross earnings shall be included without regard to the method of accounting employed by a corporation taxable hereunder.

7-a. A railroad, palace car or sleeping car corporation, navigation, canal, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), steamboat, or any other corporation formed for or principally engaged in the operation of vessels whose only activity in this state is (i) the maintenance of an office in this state and for the employing of capital in this state and (ii) the use of property exclusively in interstate or foreign commerce, shall not be subject to the tax imposed by this section.

§ 184-a. Additional metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on transportation and transmission corporations and associations services.

1. The term "corporation" as used in this section shall include an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), and a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof. Every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of canal, steamboat, ferry (except a ferry company operating between any of the boroughs of the city of New York under a lease granted by the city), express, navigation, pipe line, transfer, baggage express, omnibus, taxicab, telegraph or local telephone business, or formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more such businesses, and every corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more such businesses and which has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and every other corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a transportation or transmission business (other than a telephone business) except a corporation, joint-stock company or association formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of a surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car, sleeping car or trucking business or principally engaged in the conduct of two or more such businesses and which has not made the election provided for in subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, and except a corporation, joint-stock company or association principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (including air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) and except a corporation principally engaged in providing telecommunication services between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing), at least ninety percent of the voting stock of which corporation is owned, directly or indirectly, by air carriers and which corporation's principal function is to fulfill the requirements of (i) the federal aviation administration (or the successor thereto) or (ii) the international civil aviation organization (or the successor thereto), relating to the existence of a communication system between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination of the foregoing) for the purposes of air safety and navigation, shall pay for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in the metropolitan commuter transportation district in such corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in such district, a tax surcharge, which tax surcharge, in addition to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article, shall be computed at the rate of seventeen percent of the tax imposed under such section for such taxable years or any part of such taxable years after the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article; provided, however, that such rates of tax surcharge shall be applied only to that portion of the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article after the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article which is attributable to the taxpayer's business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district. Provided, however, that for taxable years beginning in two thousand and thereafter, for purposes of this subdivision the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be deemed to have been imposed at the rate of three-quarters of one percent, except that in the case of a corporation, joint-stock company or association which has made an election pursuant to subdivision ten of section one hundred eighty-three of this article, for purposes of this subdivision the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be deemed to have been imposed at the rate of six-tenths of one percent.

The term "local telephone business" shall have the same meaning as such term is used in section one hundred eighty-four of this article. The term "telecommunication services" shall have the meaning ascribed to such term in section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article.

2. (a) A transportation and transmission corporation shall determine the portion of its tax attributable to business activity carried on in the metropolitan commuter transportation district (except as otherwise provided for in this subdivision) by multiplying the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article by a fraction, the numerator of which is the taxpayer's mileage within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, and the denominator of which is the taxpayer's mileage within the entire state during the period covered by the report or reports required by this article.

(b) A corporation principally engaged in the operation of vessels shall determine the portion of its tax attributable to business activity carried on in the metropolitan commuter transportation district during the period covered by the report or reports required by this section by multiplying the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article by a percentage which represents the ratio of the aggregate number of working days of the vessels it owns or leases in all navigable lakes, rivers, streams and waters within the metropolitan commuter transportation district to the aggregate number of working days of all the vessels it owns or leases within the entire state and in the New York territorial waters during such period.

(c) A telephone or telegraph corporation shall determine the portion of its tax attributable to business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district by multiplying the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-four of this article by the ratio of its total gross operating revenue from transmission services performed wholly within the metropolitan commuter transportation district to its total gross operating revenue from transmission services performed within the entire state during the period covered by the report or reports required under this article.

(d) With respect to other types of transportation and transmission corporations or where the tax commission decides that with respect to a certain corporation the method prescribed above does not fairly and equitably reflect gross earnings from all sources within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the tax commission shall prescribe methods of allocation or apportionment which fairly and equitably reflect gross earnings from all sources within such district. Also, the tax commission may, in order to properly reflect gross earnings, determine the report period in which any item of gross earnings shall be included without regard to the method of accounting employed by a corporation taxable hereunder.

3. The term metropolitan commuter transportation district as used in this section shall be defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law.

4. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of state or local law, the tax surcharge imposed under this section shall not be allowed as a deduction in the computation of any state or local tax imposed under this chapter or any chapter or local law. Furthermore, the credits otherwise allowable under this article shall not be allowed against the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

5. The provisions concerning reports under section one hundred ninety-two of this article shall be applicable to this section. An extension pursuant to section one hundred ninety-three shall be allowed only if a taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form as said commissioner may prescribe by regulation and pays on or before the date of such filing in addition to any other amounts required under this article, either ninety percent of the entire tax surcharge required to be paid under this section for the applicable period, or not less than the tax surcharge shown on the taxpayer's report for the preceding taxable year, if such preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months. The tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed, and such tax surcharge or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or be subject to the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner at the time the report is required to be filed, provided such tax surcharge of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other tax surcharges of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time. All of the provisions of this article presently applicable to section one hundred eighty-four of this article are applicable to the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

§ 186-a. Tax on the furnishing of utility services. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, or of any other law, (a) a tax equal to three and one-quarter percent through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, and two and one-half percent on and after

January first, two thousand of its gross income is hereby imposed upon every provider of telecommunication services doing business in this state which is subject to the supervision of the state department of public service which has a gross income for the year ending December thirty-first in excess of five hundred dollars;

(b) a tax equal to (1) two and five-tenths percent on and after January first, two thousand through December thirty-first, two thousand, two and forty-five one hundredths percent from January first, two thousand one through December thirty-first, two thousand one, two and four-tenths percent from January first, two thousand two through December thirty-first, two thousand two, two and twenty-five one hundredths percent from January first, two thousand three through December thirty-first, two thousand three, two and one hundred twenty-five one thousandths percent from January first, two thousand four through December thirty-first, two thousand four and two percent commencing January first, two thousand five and thereafter of that portion of its gross income derived from the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity by means of conduits, mains, pipes, wires, lines or the like and (2) two and one-tenth percent from January first, two thousand through December thirty-first, two thousand, two percent from January first, two thousand one through December thirty-first, two thousand one, one and nine-tenths percent from January first, two thousand two through December thirty-first, two thousand two, eighty-five one hundredths of one percent from January first, two thousand three through December thirty-first, two thousand three, four-tenths of one percent from January first, two thousand four through December thirty-first, two thousand four and zero percent commencing January first, two thousand five of all of its other gross income, is hereby imposed upon every utility not taxed under paragraph (a) of this subdivision doing business in this state which is subject to the supervision of the state department of public service which has a gross income for the year ending December thirty-first in excess of five hundred dollars, except motor carriers or brokers subject to such supervision under the public service law; and

(c) a tax equal to three and one-quarter percent through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, two and one-tenth percent from January first, two thousand through December thirty-first, two thousand, two percent from January first, two thousand one through December thirty-first, two thousand one, one and nine-tenths percent from January first, two thousand two through December thirty-first, two thousand two, eighty-five one hundredths of one percent from January first, two thousand three through December thirty-first, two thousand three, four-tenths of one percent from January first, two thousand four through December thirty-first, two thousand four and zero percent commencing January first, two thousand five of its gross operating income is hereby imposed upon every other utility doing business in this state which has a gross operating income for the year ending December thirty-first in excess of five hundred dollars, which taxes shall be in addition to any and all other taxes and fees imposed by any other provision of law for the same period.

2. As used in this section, (a) the word "utility" includes every person (including every provider of telecommunication services) subject to the supervision of the state department of public service, except persons engaged in the business of operating on the public highways of this state one or more omnibuses, having a seating capacity of more than seven persons, and persons engaged in the business of operating or leasing sleeping and parlor railroad cars or of operating railroads other than street surface, rapid transit, subway and elevated railroads, and also includes every person (whether or not such person is subject to such supervision) who sells gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration, delivered through mains, pipes or wires, or furnishes gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service, by means of mains, pipes, or wires; regardless of whether such activities are the main business of such person or are only incidental thereto, or of whether use is made of the public streets;

(b) the word "person" means persons, corporations, companies, associations, joint-stock companies or associations, partnerships and limited liability companies, estates, assignee of rents, any person acting in a fiduciary capacity, or any other entity, and persons, their assignees, lessees, trustees or receivers, appointed by any court whatsoever, or by any other means, except the state; municipalities, political and civil subdivisions of the state or municipality and public districts (provided, however, that with respect to gas, electricity and gas or electric service, including the sale of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity, such municipalities, political and civil subdivisions and public districts shall be excluded from the definition of "person" if they own and operate facilities which are used to generate or distribute electricity or distribute gas and they distribute and sell such gas or electricity solely at retail, solely within their respective jurisdiction; or provided, further, with respect to the sale of electricity or the transportation, transmission or distribution of electricity, a municipality shall be excluded from the definition of "person" if it sells electricity at retail where all such electricity (excluding temporary substitution power during outages or periods of reduced output) has been generated solely by and purchased solely from the state or a public authority of the state); corporations and associations which are organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and which are described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter where such organization resells such gas or electricity or gas or electric service as landlord to its tenants in buildings owned by such organization; and excepting a corporation organized and operated exclusively for the purpose of leasing from a city in this state a water-works system designed to supply water at cost to users thereof for discharge, either before or after industrial use, into a river within such city in order to improve the flow and condition of such river and thereby to provide a means to relieve such river from pollution;

(c) the words "gross income" mean and include receipts received in or by reason of any sale, conditional or otherwise, (except sales hereinafter referred to with respect to which it is provided that profits from the sale shall be included in gross income) made or service rendered for ultimate consumption or use by the purchaser in this state, including cash, credits and property of any kind or nature (whether or not such sale is made or such service is rendered for profit), without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or services or other costs, interest or discount paid, or any other expense whatsoever.

(1) Provided, however, that all receipts from sales of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity by means of conduits, mains, pipes, wires, lines or the like, rendered or performed in this state, shall be included in gross income except receipts from (i) sales of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity to (A) a utility (excluding a public authority) which is supervised by this state or another jurisdiction (where an element of such supervision includes rate regulation and, for a utility supervised by another jurisdiction, such supervision includes rate regulation and such gas or electricity is delivered for ultimate consumption or use outside this state), (B) a municipality which owns and operates facilities which are used to generate or distribute electricity or distribute gas and which distributes and sells such electricity or gas solely at retail, solely within its respective jurisdiction, or (C) a public authority of this state where such public authority is primarily engaged in the generation and transmission or distribution of electricity or the distribution of electricity or gas and at least ninety-five percent of the assets of which are so devoted, provided, that, if the service area or district of the authority is less than the entire state, the excluded receipt shall be limited to receipts derived from the sale of transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity, which electricity or gas will be sold by such authority at retail within its service area or district; where, as the case may be, such utility or authority purchasing such transportation, transmission or distribution sells the gas or electricity being so transported, transmitted or distributed, (ii) sales of the transportation, transmission or distribution of electricity to a municipality where the electricity being transported has been purchased by such municipality and has been generated solely by and purchased solely from the state or a public authority of the state (except where the electricity being transported constitutes temporary substitution power being supplied during outages or periods of reduced output) and where such municipality purchasing such transportation, transmission or distribution, sells solely at retail, solely within its respective jurisdiction, the electricity being so transported, transmitted or distributed, (iii) sales of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity to corporations and associations which are organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and which are described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter where such organization resells such transportation, transmission or distribution as part of a bundled gas or electric service as landlord to its tenants in buildings owned by such organization, or (iv) sales of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity, not otherwise excluded, to nonresidential customers, but only in accordance with the following schedule: for the sales during the calendar years two thousand and two thousand one, zero percent of the receipts from such sales shall be excluded; for the sales during the calendar year two thousand two, twenty-five percent of the receipts from such sales shall be excluded; for sales during the calendar year two thousand three, fifty percent of the receipts from such sales shall be excluded; for sales during the calendar year two thousand four, seventy-five percent of the receipts from such sales shall be excluded; and for sales thereafter, one hundred percent of such sales shall be excluded. For the purposes of this clause, the term "nonresidential customers" means those customers whose use of gas or electricity, or gas or electric service does not qualify for the reduced rate of sales and compensating use tax on gas, electricity, or gas or electric service under section eleven hundred five-A of article twenty-eight of this chapter.

(2) Provided, further, receipts received from the sale of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity shall mean the receipts received from customers representing the noncommodity charges for gas or electric service.

(3) Provided, further, gross income with respect to a provider of telecommunication services shall not include receipts from the sale of telecommunication services as such services are defined in section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article.

(4) Provided, further, sales of gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service to a landlord that is a person as defined in this subdivision for resale by such landlord to a tenant, for consumption by such tenant as an incident to such landlord's activity of renting premises to such tenant, shall be subject to the tax imposed under this section even though such sales are not for ultimate consumption by such landlord. Provided, further, receipts derived by a landlord from the resale for such gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or furnishing gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service to such tenant shall be conclusively presumed to be equal to such landlord's cost of the same, and, if the tax under this section was imposed on the sale to such landlord, no additional tax under this section shall be owing on the sale by such landlord to such tenant. If, however, the tax under this section was not imposed on such sale to the landlord, then such landlord on the sale to its tenant shall file a return hereunder based on such landlord's cost (including any associated transportation cost) of such gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service.

(5) "Gross income" also includes profits from the sale of securities; also profits from the sale of real property growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property; also profit from the sale of personal property (other than property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the period for which a return is made); also receipts from interest, dividends, and royalties, derived from sources within this state other than such as are received from a corporation a majority of whose voting stock is owned by the taxpaying utility, without any deduction therefrom for any expenses whatsoever incurred in connection with the receipt thereof, also profits from any transaction (except sales for resale and rentals) within this state whatsoever;

(d) the words "gross operating income" mean and include receipts received in or by reason of any sale, conditional or otherwise, made for ultimate consumption or use by the purchaser of gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration, or in or by reason of the furnishing for such consumption or use of gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service in this state, including cash, credits and property of any kind or nature, without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the property sold, the cost of materials used, labor or services or other costs, interest or discount paid, or any other expenses whatsoever. Provided, however, there shall be excluded from gross operating income receipts representing the amount received from the resale of the transportation, transmission or distribution of gas or electricity in this state where such transportation, transmission or distribution being resold is provided by a utility subject to tax under paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section; the receipts representing the amount received from resale of such transportation, transmission or distribution shall be the amount received for such transportation, transmission or distribution by such utility which initially provided such transportation, transmission or distributions. Provided, further, sales of gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service to a landlord that is a person as defined in this subdivision for resale by such landlord to a tenant, for consumption by such tenant as an incident to such landlord's activity of renting premises to such tenant, shall be subject to the tax imposed under this section even though such sales are not for ultimate consumption by such landlord. Provided, further, receipts derived by a landlord from the resale of such gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or furnishing gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service to such tenant shall be conclusively presumed to be equal to such landlord's cost of the same, and, if the tax under this section was imposed on the sale to such landlord, no additional tax under this section shall be owing on the sale by such landlord to such tenant. If the tax under this section was not imposed on such sale to the landlord, then such landlord on the sale to its tenant shall file a return hereunder based on such landlord's cost (including any associated transportation cost) of such gas, electricity, steam, water or refrigeration or gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service;

(e) the term "telecommunication services" shall have the same meaning as such term is defined in section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article;

(f) The word "premises" means and includes any real property or part thereof, and any structure thereon or space therein; and

(g) the word "tenant" means and includes a person paying, or required to pay, rent for premises as a lessee, sublessee, licensee or concessionaire.

2-a. Tax adjustment for utilities with financial resource asset for taxable years commencing on and after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-two. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, in the event that a utility which is taxable under this section is an electric corporation, as defined in subdivision thirteen of section two of the public service law, which, on or before the effective date of this subdivision, has been permitted by the public service commission to establish for ratemaking purposes a financial resource asset (which asset shall represent, in an amount approved by the public service commission on or before the effective date of this subdivision, the present value of a stream of future cash flows, rather than actual land, land rights, physical structures, improvements or other physical items, franchises or intangible plant), such an electric corporation shall be allowed an adjustment by way of the allowance of a deduction from its gross income subject to tax under subdivision one of this section equal to the amount by which (a) that portion of gross income received in any year after nineteen hundred ninety-one which represents the total return authorized by the public service commission to be recovered in rates on the financial resource asset, including amortization, exceeds (b) that portion of gross income received in the twelve-month period immediately preceding the month in which the financial resource asset is established pursuant to authorization of the public service commission and which represents (i) the total revenue derived from any financial stability adjustment and (ii) the total return on interest-bearing construction work in progress in the rate base permitted by the public service commission. No electric corporation shall be allowed the tax adjustment authorized by this subdivision until it shall file, together with the return required to be filed pursuant to subdivision four of this section, a certificate for the period covered by the return from the department of public service verifying that the calculation of such tax adjustment complies with this subdivision. The adjustment to gross income allowed by this subdivision shall not be applicable in calculating any other tax imposed or authorized to be imposed by this chapter or any other law, and the amount of tax surcharge equal to seventeen per centum imposed pursuant to section one hundred eighty-six-c of this article, and the amount of the tax surcharge imposed under section one hundred eighty-eight of this article, shall be calculated and payable as if the adjustment provided in this subdivision were not allowed.

3. Every utility subject to tax under this section shall keep such records of its business and in such form as the tax commission may require, and such records shall be preserved for a period of three years, except that the tax commission may consent to their destruction within that period or may require that they be kept longer.

4. Every utility subject to tax hereunder shall file, on or before March fifteenth of each year, a return for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, except that the year ended on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six shall be deemed, for the purposes of this subdivision, to have commenced on June first, nineteen hundred seventy-six, and shall file, on or before April fifteenth of each year, a return for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, including any period for which the tax imposed hereby or by any amendment hereof is effective, each of which returns shall state the gross income or gross operating income for the period covered by each such return. Returns shall be filed with the commissioner of taxation and finance on a form to be furnished by the commissioner for such purpose and shall contain such other data, information or matter as the commissioner may require to be included therein. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the commissioner may require any utility to file an annual return, which shall contain any data specified by the commissioner, regardless of whether the utility is subject to tax under this section; and the commissioner may require a landlord selling to a tenant gas, electric, steam, water or refrigeration or furnishing gas, electric, steam, water or refrigerator service, where the same has been subjected to tax under this section on the sale to such landlord, to file, on or before the fifteenth day of March of each year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and on or before the fifteenth day of April of each year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, an information return for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, covering such year in such form and containing such data as the commissioner may specify. Every return shall have annexed thereto a certification by the head of the utility making the same, or of the owner or of a co-partner thereof, or of a principal officer of the corporation, if such business be conducted by a corporation, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true.

5. If any provision of this section conflicts with any other provision contained in this article, the provision of this section shall control, but the provisions of this article which do not conflict with the provisions of this section shall apply with respect to the taxes under this section, so far as they are, or may be made applicable.

6. The tax imposed by this section shall be charged against and be paid by the utility and may be added as a separate item to bills rendered by the utility to customers. Upon request the utility shall furnish a statement of the amount of tax imposed by this section to its customers for bills rendered on or after January first, two thousand.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this or any other law, in the event the city of New York shall enact a local law imposing a tax on utilities, such as it imposed by this section, except as to the rate of tax, the tax commission, in its discretion, may arrange with the chief fiscal officer of said city for the collection by him of the tax imposed by this section with respect to items that enter into the tax base for both the tax imposed by said city and that imposed pursuant to this section, and for the remittance by him of the tax imposed by this section to the tax commission for disposition as in this article provided. If such an arrangement be made, all the provisions of the local law of said city imposing the local tax shall apply with respect to the tax imposed by this section in the same manner as if the local tax rate had included the tax imposed by this section.

9. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this chapter or any other law, any surcharge collected or any administrative fee retained by any telephone corporation acting as collection agent for a municipality pursuant to the provisions of article six of the county law shall not be considered as nor included in the determination of gross income or gross operating income of or by such corporation.

§ 186-c. Metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge on utility services and excise tax on sale of telecommunication services.

1. (a) (1) Every utility doing business in the metropolitan commuter transportation district shall pay a tax surcharge, in addition to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article, to be computed at the rate of seventeen percent of the tax imposed under such section after the deduction of credits otherwise allowable under this article except any utility credit provided for by article thirteen-A of this chapter; provided, however, that such rates of tax surcharge shall be applied only to that portion of the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article after the deduction of credits otherwise allowable under this article, except any utility credit provided for by article thirteen-A of this chapter, which is attributable to the taxpayer's gross income or gross operating income from business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district.

(2) Provided however, that in the case of the tax imposed under paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article (relating to providers of telecommunications services) such tax surcharge shall be calculated as if the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article were imposed at a rate of three and one-half percent.

(b) (1) In addition to the surcharge imposed by paragraph (a) of this subdivision, there is hereby imposed a surcharge on the gross receipts from telecommunication services, except for the gross receipts from mobile telecommunication services that are subject to tax under subparagraph two of this paragraph, relating to the metropolitan commuter transportation district at the rate of seventeen percent of the state tax rate under section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article. All the definitions and other provisions of section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article shall apply to the tax imposed by this subparagraph with such modification and limitation as may be necessary (including substituting the words "metropolitan commuter transportation district" for "state" where appropriate) in order to adapt the language of such section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article to the surcharge imposed by this subparagraph within such metropolitan commuter transportation district so as to include (i) any intra-district telecommunication services, (ii) any inter-district telecommunication services which originate or terminate in such district and are charged to a service address therein regardless of where the amounts charged for such services are billed or ultimately paid, and (iii) as apportioned to such district, private telecommunication services. Provided however, such tax surcharge shall be calculated as if the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article were imposed at a rate of three and one-half percent.

(2) In addition to the surcharge imposed by paragraph (a) of this subdivision, there is hereby imposed a surcharge on the gross receipts from mobile telecommunication services relating to the metropolitan commuter transportation district at the rate of seven-tenths and two-hundredths and one-thousandth percent on and after May first, two thousand fifteen. All the definitions and other provisions of section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article shall apply to the tax imposed by this subparagraph with such modification and limitation as may be necessary (including substituting the words "metropolitan commuter transportation district" for "state" where appropriate) in order to adapt the language of such section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article to the surcharge imposed by this subparagraph within such metropolitan commuter transportation district so as to include any mobile telecommunications service provided by a home service provider where the mobile telecommunications customer's place of primary use is within such metropolitan commuter transportation district.

2. If the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article is on the taxpayer's gross income, the portion of the tax attributable to gross income from business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district shall be determined by multiplying the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article by the ratio of the taxpayer's gross income from all sources within the metropolitan commuter transportation district to its gross income from all sources within the entire state.

3. If the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article is on the taxpayer's gross operating income, the portion of the tax attributable to gross operating income from business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district shall be determined by multiplying the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article by the ratio of the taxpayer's gross operating income from all sources within the metropolitan commuter transportation district to its gross operating income from all sources within the entire state.

4. The provisions concerning reports and returns under subdivision four of section one hundred eighty-six-a and subdivision six of section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article, as the case may be, shall be applicable to this section. An extension pursuant to section one hundred ninety-three of this article shall be allowed only if a taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form and manner as said commissioner may prescribe by regulation and pays on or before the date of such filing in addition to any other amounts required under this article, either ninety percent of the entire tax surcharge required to be paid under this section for the applicable period, or not less than the tax surcharge shown on the taxpayer's report for the preceding taxable year, if such preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months. The tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed, and such tax surcharge or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or be subject to the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner at the time the report is required to be filed, provided such tax surcharge of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other tax surcharges of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time. All of the provisions of this article presently applicable to section one hundred eighty-six-a and section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article, as the case may be, are applicable to the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

5. Notwithstanding any other provision of state or local law, the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall not be allowed as a deduction and shall, to the extent deductible in determining federal adjusted gross income, be added to federal adjusted gross income, in the computation of any tax imposed under this chapter or any other chapter of state or local law. Furthermore, the credits otherwise allowable under this article shall not be allowed against the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

6. The term metropolitan commuter transportation district as used in this section shall be defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law.

§ 186-d. Transportation business tax on utility services in Erie county. 1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, the county of Erie, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax such as is imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-a of this chapter, except that the rate thereof shall not be less than one-half of one per centum, and shall not exceed three-quarters of one per centum, of gross income or of gross operating income, as the case may be, and shall make provision for the collection thereof by the comptroller of such county. A tax imposed pursuant to this section shall apply to gross income or gross operating income, as the case may be, attributable to such county and shall be in addition to any and all other taxes.

2. Revenue resulting from the imposition of taxes authorized by this section heretofore or hereafter imposed shall be paid into the treasury of such county, and shall be credited to and deposited in a mass transportation operating assistance fund.

3. The county shall, not later than the fifteenth day following the termination of a calendar quarter for which tax revenue is received, or at such other times as may be agreed by the county of Erie and the Niagara Frontier transportation authority, pay to the Niagara Frontier transportation authority a sum equal to the amount of the transportation business tax on utility services actually collected by said county less any amount actually refunded during such quarter, and less any reasonable costs incurred by said county in the administration and collection of the tax authorized by this section. Payments made from the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the Niagara Frontier transportation authority shall be used only for operations of mass transportation services provided by the Niagara Frontier transportation authority within the county of Erie. All such payments shall be made in accordance with the provisions of a contract between the county of Erie and the Niagara Frontier transportation authority.

4. All of the provisions of section one hundred eighty-six-a of this chapter, so far as the same are or can be made applicable, with such limitations as are set forth in this section, and such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt such taxes to local conditions shall apply to the taxes authorized by this section.

5. Any final determination of the amount of any tax payable hereunder shall be reviewable for error, illegality or unconstitutionality or any other reason whatsoever by a proceeding under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules if application therefor is made to the supreme court within ninety days after the giving of the notice of such final determination, provided, however, that any such proceeding under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules shall not be instituted unless the amount of any tax sought to be reviewed, with such interest and penalties thereon as may be provided for by local law or regulation, shall be first deposited and an undertaking filed, in such amount and with such sureties as a justice of the supreme court shall approve to the effect that if such proceeding be dismissed or the tax confirmed, the petitioner will pay all costs and charges which may accrue in such proceeding.

6. Where any tax imposed hereunder shall have been erroneously, illegally or unconstitutionally collected and application for the refund thereof duly made to the proper fiscal officer or officers, and such officer or officers shall have made a determination denying such refund, such determination shall be reviewable by a proceeding under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules; provided, however, that such proceeding is instituted within thirty days after the giving of the notice of such denial, that a final determination of tax due was not previously made, and that an undertaking is filed with the proper fiscal officer or officers in such amount and with such sureties as a justice of the supreme court shall approve to the effect that if such proceeding be dismissed or the tax confirmed, the petitioner will pay all costs and charges which may accrue in such proceeding.

§ 186-e. Excise tax on telecommunication services. 1. Definitions. As used in this section, where not otherwise specifically defined and unless a different meaning is clearly required:

(a) (1) "Gross receipt" means the amount received in or by reason of any sale, conditional or otherwise, of telecommunication services or in or by reason of the furnishing of telecommunication services. Gross receipt from the sale of mobile telecommunications service provided by a home service provider shall include "charges for mobile telecommunications service" as described in paragraph one of subdivision (l) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter, regardless of where the mobile telecommunications service originates, terminates or passes through. Gross receipt is expressed in money, whether paid in cash, credit or property of any kind or nature, and shall be determined without any deduction therefrom on account of the cost of the service sold or the cost of materials, labor or services used or other costs, interest or discount paid, or any other expenses whatsoever except that there shall, however, be allowed a deduction for bad debts with respect to charges previously subjected to the tax hereunder when the debt has become worthless in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles consistently applied by the taxpayer. "Amount received" for the purpose of the definition of gross receipt, as the term gross receipt is used throughout this article, means the amount charged for the provision of a telecommunication service.

(2) (A) Any charge for a service or property billed by or for a mobile telecommunications customer's home service provider shall be deemed to be provided by such mobile telecommunications customer's home service provider.

(B) Charges for mobile telecommunications service that are provided or deemed to be provided by a mobile telecommunications customer's home service provider shall be sourced to the taxing jurisdiction where the mobile telecommunications customer's place of primary use is located, regardless of where the mobile telecommunications service originates, terminates or passes through.

(b)(1) "Interexchange carrier" means any provider of telecommunication services between two or more exchanges that qualifies as a common carrier. Common carrier means any person engaged as a common carrier for hire in intrastate, interstate or foreign telecommunication services.

(2) "Local carrier" means any provider of telecommunication services for hire to the public, which is subject to the supervision of the public service commission and is engaged in providing carrier access service to a switched network. For the sole purpose of the application of the sale for resale exclusion under paragraph (b) of subdivision two of this section, a reference to an "interexchange carrier" or "local carrier" shall include a cellular common carrier which is a facilities-based cellular common carrier without regard to a determination of whether such carrier is providing local or interexchange service as such.

(c) "Person" means persons, corporations, companies, associations, joint-stock companies or associations, partnerships or limited liability companies, estates, assignee of rents, any person acting in a fiduciary capacity, or any other entity, and persons, their assignees, lessees, trustees or receivers, appointed by any court whatsoever, or by any other means, except the state, municipalities, political and civil subdivisions of the state or municipality, public districts and corporations and associations organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(d) "Private telecommunication service" means a dedicated telecommunication service that entitles the user or users to the exclusive or priority use of a communications channel or group of channels from one or more locations to one or more locations.

"Exclusive" as used herein means that the user-subscribers have use of a communications channel to the exclusion of all others who are not authorized to use such channel, and "priority" as used herein means that only authorized user-subscribers, as opposed to unauthorized persons, receive preferential use of a communications channel, but not necessarily a preference to the use of such channel with respect to each other.

(e) "Provider of telecommunication services" means any person who furnishes or sells telecommunications services regardless of whether such activities are the main business of such person or are only incidental thereto. Where a reference is made to a "utility" in this chapter in regard to the tax imposed by this section or by this section and section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article, such reference to "utility" shall be deemed to include a reference to a provider of telecommunication services.

(f) "Service address" means the location of the telecommunication equipment from which the telecommunication is originated or at which the telecommunication is received from the provider of telecommunication services. The foregoing rule is amplified, but not limited, by the following special provisions, which are listed in order of priority of application so that only the first applicable special provision will apply, if more than one potentially applies: (i) if the telecommunication originates or terminates in this state and the service is charged to telecommunication equipment which is not associated with the origination or termination of the telecommunication (for example, by the use of a calling card or third party billing) and the location of such equipment is in this state, the service address of the telecommunication will be deemed to be in this state; (ii) if the service is obtained through the use of a credit or payment mechanism such as a bank, travel, credit or debit card or if the service is obtained by charging telecommunication equipment which is not associated with the origination or termination of the telecommunication (for example, by the use of a calling card or third party billing) and the equipment is not located in the state of origination or termination, then the service address is deemed to be the location of the origination of the telecommunication; and (iii) if the service address is not a defined location, as in the case of mobile telephones, paging systems, maritime systems, air-to-ground systems and the like, service address shall mean the location of the subscriber's primary use of the telecommunication equipment as defined by telephone number, authorization code, or location in this state where bills are sent, provided, however, the location of the mobile telephone switching office or similar facility in this state that receives and transmits the signals of the telecommunication will be deemed the service address where the mobile telephone switching office or similar facility is outside the subscriber's assigned service area.

(g) "Telecommunication services" means telephony or telegraphy, or telephone or telegraph service, including, but not limited to, any transmission of voice, image, data, information and paging, through the use of wire, cable, fiber-optic, laser, microwave, radio wave, satellite or similar media or any combination thereof and shall include services that are ancillary to the provision of telephone service (such as, but not limited to, dial tone, basic service, directory information, call forwarding, caller-identification, call-waiting and the like) and also include any equipment and services provided therewith. Provided, the definition of telecommunication services shall not apply to separately stated charges for any service which alters the substantive content of the message received by the recipient from that sent.

(h) For the purpose of applying the provisions of this section to mobile telecommunications service, the following terms when used in relation to mobile telecommunications service shall be defined as such terms are defined in section eleven hundred one of this chapter: "mobile telecommunications service," "mobile telecommunications customer," "home service provider," "licensed service area," "reseller," "serving carrier," "place of primary use" and "taxing jurisdiction".

2. Imposition. (a) (1) There is hereby imposed an excise tax on the sale of telecommunication services, except for the sale of mobile telecommunication services that are subject to tax under subparagraph two of this paragraph, by any person which is a provider of telecommunication services, to be paid by such person, at the rate of three and one-half percent prior to October first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight, three and one-quarter percent from October first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight through December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, and two and one-half percent on and after January first, two thousand of gross receipt from: (i) any intrastate telecommunication services; (ii) any interstate and international telecommunication services (other than interstate and international private telecommunication services) which originate or terminate in this state and which telecommunication services are charged to a service address in this state, regardless of where the amounts charged for such services are billed or ultimately paid; and (iii) interstate and international private telecommunication services, the gross receipt to which the tax shall apply shall be determined as prescribed in subdivision three of this section.

(2) There is hereby imposed an excise tax on the sale of mobile telecommunication services, by any person which is a provider of telecommunication services, to be paid by such person, at the rate of two and nine-tenths percent on and after May first, two thousand fifteen of gross receipts from any mobile telecommunications service provided by a home service provider where the mobile telecommunications customer's place of primary use is within this state.

(b) (1) Sale for resale exclusion. There shall be excluded from the tax imposed by this section the sale of telecommunication services to a provider of telecommunication services where such services are purchased by such provider for resale as telecommunication services to its purchasers. (i) All gross receipts are deemed taxable to the provider of telecommunication services under this section, unless the provider, within ninety days after the provision of telecommunication services, has taken from the purchaser a certificate of resale in the form the commissioner has prescribed, to document that the telecommunication services were purchased for resale as telecommunication services. If the provider of telecommunication services obtains a properly completed certificate of resale from the purchaser within ninety days after the provision of telecommunication services, that certificate constitutes conclusive proof that the telecommunication services covered by the certificate were sold for resale as telecommunication services, the provider is relieved of liability for the tax due on the sale of those services, and the burden of proving that the gross receipt is not taxable is on the purchaser. Where a certificate of resale is received within the time prescribed, but is deficient in some material manner, and that deficiency is later removed, the receipt of the certificate will be deemed to have satisfied all of the requirements of this clause. Where a certificate of resale is not received within ninety days after the provision of telecommunication services, the provider may, within sixty days after a request by the commissioner, either prove that the telecommunication services were sold for resale as telecommunication services, or obtain a fully completed certificate of exemption from the purchaser. A certificate of exemption obtained within this sixty day period constitutes evidence, but not conclusive proof, that the telecommunication services covered by the certificate were sold for resale as telecommunication services. The certificate of exemption will be administered in a manner consistent with subdivision (c) of section eleven hundred thirty-two of this chapter.

(ii) A certificate of resale is not properly completed if it does not include the purchaser's certificate of authority number issued pursuant to section eleven hundred thirty-four of this chapter, or if the purchaser's certificate of authority has expired or is invalid because it has been suspended or revoked as provided in section eleven hundred thirty-four of this chapter and the commissioner has furnished providers of telecommunication services registered under that section with information identifying those persons whose certificates of authority have expired or have been suspended or revoked.

(iii) The relief provided by this subparagraph does not apply to a provider of telecommunication services that fraudulently fails to pay tax or solicits a purchaser or purchasers to submit one or more unlawful certificates of exemption.

(iv) Any person who issues a false or fraudulent certificate of resale with intent to evade tax is, in addition to any other penalty imposed, subject to a penalty of one hundred percent of the tax that would have been due had there not been a misuse of that certificate, plus a penalty of fifty dollars for each false or fraudulent certificate.

(v) For any other sale of telecommunication services by a provider of telecommunication services to a purchaser who resells those services as telecommunication services but does not provide a properly completed certificate of resale to the provider of telecommunication services in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph, the credit allowed in subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of subdivision four of this section shall be allowed.

(2) Cable television service exclusion. The sale of cable television service shall in no event constitute a telecommunications service, and the receipts from the sale of such service are without the scope of the tax imposed by this section. The provision of such service shall mean the transmitting to subscribers of programs broadcast by one or more television or radio stations or any other programs originated by any person by means of wire, cable, microwave or any other means.

(3) Air safety and navigation exclusion. There shall be excluded from the tax imposed by this section, the sale of telecommunication services to air carriers solely for the purpose of air safety and navigation where such telecommunication service is provided by an organization, at least ninety percent of which (if a corporation, ninety percent of the voting stock of which) is owned, directly or indirectly, by air carriers, and which organization's principal function is to fulfill the requirements of (i) the federal aviation administration (or the successor thereto) or (ii) the international civil aviation organization (or the successor thereto), relating to the existence of a communication system between aircraft and dispatcher, aircraft and air traffic control or ground station and ground station (or any combination or the foregoing) for the purposes of air safety and navigation.

(4) With respect to services or property described in subparagraph (B) of paragraph one of subdivision (1) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter and internet access service, a home service provider shall pay tax on the gross receipt from any charge that is aggregated with and not separately stated from other charges for mobile telecommunications service. Provided, however, if such home service provider uses an objective, reasonable and verifiable standard for identifying each of the components of the charge for mobile telecommunications service, then such home service provider may separately account for and quantify the amount of each such component charge. If a home service provider chooses to so separately account for and quantify and separately sells the subparagraph (B) property or service or internet access service, then the charge for such property or service shall be based upon the price for such property or service as separately sold. If a home service provider chooses to so separately account for and quantify and does not separately sell such property or service, then the charge for such property or service shall be based upon the prevailing retail price of comparable property or service sold separately by other home service providers. In any case, the charge for such property or service shall be reasonable and proportionate to the total charge to the mobile telecommunications customer. Such charges for such subparagraph (B) services or property or internet access service, as the case may be, will not constitute gross receipts from charges for mobile telecommunications services. Nothing herein shall be construed to exempt from tax any service or property otherwise subject to tax under this section.

(c) Federal limitations. The tax imposed by this section shall not be made applicable to the sale of telecommunication services under circumstances which would preclude the application of such tax by reason of the United States constitution and the laws of the United States enacted pursuant thereto.

3. Apportionment for certain private telecommunication services. (a) General. With respect to interstate and international private telecommunication services, the gross receipt, if not separately ascertainable for each use of such service, shall be determined as follows: (1) one hundred percent of the charge imposed at each channel termination point within this state, (2) one hundred percent of the charge imposed for the use of a channel between channel termination points within this state, and (3)(i) if each segment between each termination point is separately billed and the amounts so billed are fairly reflective of New York origination and/or termination traffic, then one hundred percent of the charge imposed at each termination point in New York and for service in New York between those points and fifty percent of the charge imposed for service between a channel termination point outside the state and a point inside the state measured by the nearest termination point inside the state to first termination point outside the state relative to such point inside the state, or (ii) if each segment of the interstate or international circuit between each channel termination point is not separately billed or if such billing does not fairly reflect the New York origination and/or termination traffic handled by such private telecommunication service, an allocated portion of the interstate and international channel charge with respect to points in New York and points outside the state based on the ratio which the number of channel termination points in this state bears to the total number of channel termination points within and without the state.

(b) Other allocation methods. Where the commissioner decides that, with respect to a certain provider of telecommunication services, the method prescribed in paragraph (a) of this subdivision does not fairly and equitably reflect the private telecommunication services attributable to this state, the commissioner shall prescribe methods of allocation which fairly and equitably reflect the private telecommunication services attributable to this state. Provided, further, that the commissioner may require that another allocation method be used so as to insure that the sum of the allocation factor of this state and the allocation factor of the other jurisdiction involved is not greater than one. In making this determination, the commissioner may take into account the reasonableness of the allocation prescribed by other states.

4. Credits against tax. (a) Allowance of credits. The following credits against the tax imposed under this section shall be allowed:

(1) Certain resold telecommunication services. A credit equal to the amount of tax imposed by this section, with respect to the sale of telecommunication services, shall be allowed to the purchaser where such purchaser is a provider of telecommunication services, and where the telecommunication service purchased are later resold by such purchaser as telecommunication services, and the exclusion in subparagraph one of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of this section is not allowed. To accomplish the purpose of the credit, it shall be determined as follows: the tax on the resold service shall be computed so that the tax under this section is imposed on the difference between the amount of the charge made by the provider to the purchaser and the amount of the charge made by the purchaser for the resold service.

(2) Tax paid in another jurisdiction. With respect to the tax on interstate or international telecommunication services imposed under this section, in order to prevent actual multijurisdictional taxation of a sale of telecommunication services which is the subject of taxation under this section, any provider of telecommunication services or such provider's purchaser, upon proof that such provider or purchaser has actually paid a like tax to another state or country, or jurisdiction thereof on such telecommunication services, shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed under this section. The amount of the credit shall be the amount of tax lawfully due and paid to such other state or country or jurisdiction, provided, however, the amount of the credit shall in no event exceed the tax due to this state.

(b) Refunds-overpayments of tax. In lieu of the credits set forth in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the taxpayer may elect to take a refund. Amounts to be credited or refunded under this subdivision shall be considered overpayments of tax in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter; provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid on any credit or refund allowed under subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

5. Record keeping. Every provider of telecommunication services subject to tax under this section shall keep such records of its business and in such form as the commissioner may require, and such records shall be preserved for a period of three years, except that the commissioner may consent to their destruction within that period or may require that they be kept longer.

6. Returns. Every provider of telecommunication services subject to tax under this section shall file, on or before March fifteenth of each year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and on or before April fifteenth of each year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, a return for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, and pay the tax due, which return shall state the gross receipts for the period covered by each such return and the resale exclusions during such period. Returns shall be filed with the commissioner on a form to be furnished by the commissioner for such purpose and shall contain such other data, information or matter as the commissioner may require to be included therein. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the commissioner may require any provider of telecommunication services to file an annual return, which shall contain any data specified by the commissioner, regardless of whether such provider is subject to tax under this section. Every return shall have annexed thereto a certification by the head of the provider of telecommunication services making the same, or of the owner or of a partner or member thereof, or of a principal officer of the corporation, if such business be conducted by a corporation, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true.

7. (a) Applicability of article nine. If any provision of this section conflicts with any other provision contained in this article, the provision of this section shall control, but the provisions of this article which do not conflict with the provisions of this section shall apply with respect to the taxes under this section, so far as they are, or may be made applicable. The taxes and surcharges imposed by this section and sections one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-four-a, one hundred eighty-six-a, one hundred eighty-six-c, and one hundred eighty-eight of this article may be jointly administered with respect to years ending in nineteen hundred ninety-five and thereafter, in the manner established by the commissioner.

(b) Applicability of Mobile Telecommunications Sourcing Act. The provisions of sections 119(c), 120, 121 and 122 of title 4 of the United States Code as enacted and in effect on July twenty-eighth, two thousand, to the extent relevant and to the extent required by preemption, shall apply to the provisions of this section in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of such sections of such title 4 of the United States Code had been incorporated in full into this section and had expressly referred to the tax under this section, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of such provisions to the tax imposed by this section.

8. Enhanced emergency telephone system surcharge fee and public safety communications surcharge. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this chapter or any other law, any surcharge collected or any administrative fee retained by any provider of telecommunication services acting as collection agent for a municipality pursuant to the provisions of article six of the county law or acting as a collection agent for the state pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred eighty-six-f of this article will not be considered as, nor included in the determination of gross receipts of the provider.

9. Distribution. Seven and six-tenths percent of the monies collected from the excise tax imposed by this section shall be distributed pursuant to subdivision three of section two hundred five of this chapter.

§ 186-f. Public safety communications surcharge. 1. Definitions. As used in this section, where not otherwise specifically defined and unless a different meaning is clearly required:

(a) "Place of primary use" has the same meaning as that term is defined in paragraph twenty-six of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

(b) "Wireless communications customer" means mobile telecommunications customer as defined in subparagraph (i) of paragraph twenty-seven of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, who contracts for or is the end user of wireless communications service.

(c) "Wireless communications device" means any equipment used to access a wireless communications service.

(d) "Wireless communications service" means all commercial mobile services, as that term is defined in section 332(d) of title 47 of the United States Code, as amended from time to time, including, but not limited to, all broadband personal communications services, wireless radio telephone services, geographic area specialized and enhanced specialized mobile radio services, and incumbent-wide area specialized mobile radio licensees, which offer real time, two-way voice or data service that is interconnected with the public switched telephone network or otherwise provides access to emergency communications services.

(e) "Wireless communications service supplier" means a home service provider as defined in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph twenty-seven of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, provided that the home service provider provides wireless communications service and has one or more wireless communications customers in New York state.

(f) "Prepaid wireless communications seller" means a person making a retail sale of prepaid wireless communications service.

(g) "Prepaid wireless communications service" means a prepaid mobile calling service as defined in paragraph twenty-two of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

2. Public safety communications surcharge. (a) (1) A surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in this state is imposed at the rate of one dollar and twenty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of each month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communication service.

(2) A surcharge is imposed on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, at the rate of ninety cents per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in this state if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in the state. If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address as approved by the commissioner that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

(b) The surcharges must be reported and paid to the commissioner on a quarterly basis on or before the twentieth day of the month following each quarterly period ending on the last day of February, May, August and November, respectively. The payments must be accompanied by a return in the form and containing the information the commissioner may prescribe.

(c) The surcharges must be added as a separate line item to bills furnished by a wireless communications service supplier to its customers, or must be added as a separate line item to a sales slip, invoice, receipt, or other statement of the price, if any, that is furnished by a prepaid wireless communications seller to a purchaser, and must be identified as the "public safety communications surcharge".

(d) Each wireless communications service supplier and prepaid wireless communications seller is entitled to retain, as an administrative fee, an amount equal to three percent of fifty-eight and three-tenths percent of the total collections of the surcharges imposed by this section, provided that the supplier or seller files any required return and remits the surcharge due to the commissioner on or before its due date.

3. Exemption. Lifeline consumers shall be exempt from the surcharges imposed by this section.

4. Applicable provisions. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the surcharges imposed under this section shall be administered and collected by the commissioner in a like manner as the taxes imposed by article twenty-eight of this chapter. All the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter, including the provisions relating to definitions, exemptions, returns, personal liability for the tax, collection of tax from the customer, payment of tax, and the administration of the taxes imposed by such article, shall apply to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section so far as those provisions can be made applicable to the surcharges imposed by this section, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of those provisions to the surcharges imposed by this section. Those provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if the language of those provisions had been set forth in full in this section, except to the extent that any of those provisions is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to the surcharge imposed by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this chapter to a tax or the taxes imposed by article twenty-eight of this chapter shall be deemed also to refer to the surcharges imposed by this section unless a different meaning is clearly required.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision:

(1) the exemptions provided for in section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter, other than the exemptions in paragraphs one, two and three of subdivision (a) of that section, shall not apply to the surcharges imposed by this section.

(2) the credit provided in subdivision (f) of section eleven hundred thirty-seven of this chapter shall not apply to this section.

5. Deposits of surcharge monies collected and received.

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, all surcharge monies collected and received by the commissioner under this section must be deposited daily to the credit of the comptroller with those responsible banks, banking houses or trust companies the comptroller may designate. Those deposits must be kept separate and apart from all other monies in the possession of the comptroller. The comptroller must require adequate security from all such depositories. Of the total revenue collected or received under this section, the comptroller must retain in the comptroller's hands an amount determined by the commissioner to be necessary for refunds under this section, out of which the comptroller will pay any refunds to which taxpayers are entitled under the provisions of this section. The comptroller, after reserving the amount to pay refunds, must, on or before the tenth day of each month, pay all surcharge monies collected and received under this section and remaining to the comptroller's credit as follows:

(a) forty-one and seven-tenths of the revenues collected and received under this section into the state general fund; and

(b) after deducting the amount paid under paragraph (a) of this subdivision and the amount retained by wireless communications suppliers pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision two of this section, the balance of the revenues collected under this section into the statewide public safety communications account of the miscellaneous special revenue fund, created pursuant to section ninety-seven-qq of the state finance law.

6. Distribution. The monies collected from the surcharge imposed by this section must be distributed to include the following:

(a) The sum of twenty-five million five hundred thousand dollars must be allocated to the state police pursuant to appropriation by the legislature annually;

(b) The sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars must be deposited into the New York state emergency services revolving loan fund annually; provided, however, that such sums shall not be deposited for any state fiscal year between two thousand eleven--two thousand twelve, and two thousand twenty-seven--two thousand twenty-eight;

(c) Up to the sum of seventy-five million dollars annually may be used for the provision of grants or reimbursements to counties for the development, consolidation, or operation of public safety communications systems or networks designed to support statewide interoperable communications for first responders, to be distributed pursuant to standards and guidelines issued by the state. Annual grants may consider costs borne by a municipality related to the issuance of local public safety communications bonds pursuant to section twenty-four hundred thirty-two of the public authorities law, when the municipality has qualified as an approved participant in a statewide interoperable communications system under the standards and guidelines issued by the state, and maintains compliance with such standards and guidelines. The grant amount will be prescribed pursuant to an agreement with the municipality, and may not exceed thirty percent of the annual cost borne by the municipality in relation to such bonds;

(d) To provide the costs of debt service for bonds and notes issued to finance expedited deployment funding pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred thirty-three of the county law and section sixteen hundred eighty-nine-h of the public authorities law; and

(e) services and expenses that support the operations and mission of the division of homeland security and emergency services as appropriated by the legislature.

(g) The sum of ten million dollars annually shall be used for the provision of grants to counties for costs related to the operations of public safety dispatch centers, to be distributed pursuant to a plan developed by the commissioner of homeland security and emergency services and approved by the director of the budget. Such plan may consider such factors as population density and emergency call volume.

§ 186-g. Wireless communications surcharge authorized. 1. Definitions. As used in this section, where not otherwise specifically defined and unless a different meaning is clearly required, all of the definitions of section one hundred eighty-six-f of this article shall apply to the surcharges authorized by this section.

2. Imposition of surcharge. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, and in addition to any other tax or fee imposed by this chapter or any other law, a city having a population of a million or more, and a county, other than a county wholly within such a city, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws, ordinances or resolutions imposing a surcharge within the territorial limits of such city or county to take effect on or after December first, two thousand seventeen that shall include both (i) wireless communications service, as described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision; and (ii) prepaid wireless communications service, as described in paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

* (b) Such surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of the month; provided, however, that the county of Broome may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar and ten cents per month; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per month; provided however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communications service.

* NB Effective until November 3, 2031

* (b) Such surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of the month; provided, however, that the county of Broome may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar and ten cents per month; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communications service.

* NB Effective November 3, 2031 until July 27, 2029

* (b) Such surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of the month; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per month; provided, however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communications service.

* NB Effective July 27, 2029 until December 20, 2029

* (b) Such surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of the month; provided, however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communications service.

* NB Effective December 20, 2029

* (c) Such surcharge on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per retail sale within a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision; provided, however, that the county of Broome may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar and ten cents per retail sale; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per retail sale; provided, however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in such city or county if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in such city or county. If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address in such city or county or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address in such city or county, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

* NB Effective until November 3, 2031

* (c) Such surcharge on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per retail sale within a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision; provided, however, that the county of Broome may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar and ten cents per retail sale; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in such city or county if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in such city or county. If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address in such city or county or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address in such city or county, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

* NB Effective November 3, 2031 until July 27, 2029

* (c) Such surcharge on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per retail sale within a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision; provided, however, that the county of Madison may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of sixty-five cents per retail sale; provided, however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in such city or county if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in such city or county.

If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address in such city or county or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address in such city or county, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

* NB Effective July 27, 2029 until December 20, 2029

* (c) Such surcharge on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, shall be imposed at the rate of thirty cents per retail sale within a city or county authorized to impose the surcharge by this subdivision; provided, however, that the county of Tioga may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of one dollar per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in such city or county if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in such city or county. If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address in such city or county or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address in such city or county, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

* NB Effective December 20, 2029

* (d) In addition to the surcharge on wireless communications service authorized to be imposed under paragraph (b) of this subdivision and the surcharge on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service authorized to be imposed under paragraph (c) of this subdivision, the county of Albany may impose an additional surcharge at the rate of: (i) ninety-five cents per month for surcharges authorized under paragraph (b) of this subdivision; and (ii) ninety-five cents per retail sale for surcharges authorized under paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

* NB Repealed June 30, 2032

3. Any such local law, ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to this section shall state the amount of the surcharges and the date on which both the wireless communications service supplier shall begin to add such surcharge to the billings of its customers and the prepaid wireless communications seller shall begin to collect such surcharge from its customers. No such local law, ordinance or resolution shall be effective unless a certified copy of such law, ordinance or resolution is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of subdivisions (d) and (e) of section twelve hundred ten of this chapter.

4. Exemption. Lifeline consumers shall be exempt from the surcharges imposed by this section.

5. The surcharges must be reported and paid to the commissioner on a quarterly basis on or before the twentieth day of the month following each quarterly period ending on the last day of February, May, August and November, respectively. The payments must be accompanied by a return in the form and containing the information the commissioner may prescribe.

6. The surcharges must be added as a separate line item to bills furnished by a wireless communications service supplier to its customers, or must be added as a separate line item to a sales slip, invoice, receipt, or other statement of the price, if any, that is furnished by a prepaid wireless communications seller to a purchaser, and must be identified as the "public safety communications surcharge".

7. Each wireless communications service supplier and prepaid wireless communications seller is entitled to retain, as an administrative fee, an amount equal to three percent of its collections of the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section, provided that the supplier or seller files any required return and remits the surcharge due to the commissioner on or before its due date.

8. Applicable provisions. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, any surcharge imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected by the commissioner in a like manner as the taxes imposed by articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter. All the provisions of article twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter, including the provisions relating to definitions, exemptions, returns, personal liability for the tax, collection of tax from the customer, payment of tax, and the administration of the taxes imposed by such article, shall apply to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section so far as those provisions can be made applicable to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of those provisions to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section. Those provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if the language of those provisions had been set forth in full in this section, except to the extent that any of those provisions is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to the surcharge imposed under the authority of this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this chapter to a tax or the taxes imposed by articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter shall be deemed also to refer to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section unless a different meaning is clearly required.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision:

(1) the exemptions provided for in section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter, other than the exemptions in paragraphs one, two and three of subdivision (a) of that section, shall not apply to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section;

(2) the credit provided in subdivision (f) of section eleven hundred thirty-seven of this chapter shall not apply to this section.

9. All surcharge monies remitted to the commissioner under this section shall be expended only upon authorization of the legislative body of a city or county that imposes the surcharges pursuant to the authority of subdivision two of this section, and only for payment of system costs, eligible wireless 911 service costs, or other costs associated with the administration, design, installation, construction, operation, or maintenance of public safety communications networks or a system to provide enhanced wireless 911 service serving such city or county, including, but not limited to, hardware, software, consultants, financing and other acquisition costs. Such city or county shall separately account for and keep adequate books and records of the amount and object or purpose of all expenditures of all such monies. If, at the end of any fiscal year, the total amount of all such monies exceeds the amount necessary for payment of the above mentioned costs in such fiscal year, such excess shall be reserved and carried over for the payment of those costs in the following fiscal year.

§ 187. Credit for special additional mortgage recording tax. 1. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be credited against the taxes imposed by this article, other than the taxes and fees imposed by sections one hundred eighty-six-a and one hundred eighty-six-e of this chapter. The amount of the credit shall be the amount of the special additional mortgage recording tax paid by the taxpayer pursuant to the provisions of subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter on mortgages recorded on and after January first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter shall be the excess of the amount of such special additional mortgage recording tax paid over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this chapter. Provided further, however, no credit shall be allowed with respect to a mortgage of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, where the real property is located in one or more of the counties comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation district and where the mortgage is recorded on or after May first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven. Provided further, however, no credit shall be allowed with respect to a mortgage of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, where the real property is located in the county of Erie and where the mortgage is recorded on or after May first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven.

2. In no event shall the credit herein provided for be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

§ 187-a. Credit for employment of persons with disabilities. 1.

Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the taxes imposed by this article, other than the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-six-a, one hundred eighty-six-e and one hundred eighty-nine of this article, for employing within the state a qualified employee. Provided, however, the amount of credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the credit computed under this section over the amount of credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Qualified employee. A qualified employee is an individual:

(a) who is certified by the education department, or in the case of an individual who is blind or visually handicapped, by the state agency responsible for provision of vocational rehabilitation services to the blind and visually handicapped: (i) as a person with a disability which constitutes or results in a substantial handicap to employment and (ii) as having completed or as receiving services under an individualized written rehabilitation plan approved by the education department or other state agency responsible for providing vocational rehabilitation services to such individual; and

(b) who has worked on a full-time basis for the employer who is claiming the credit for at least one hundred eighty days or four hundred hours.

3. Amount of credit. Except as provided in subdivision four of this section, the amount of credit under this section shall be thirty-five percent of the first six thousand dollars in qualified first-year wages earned by each qualified employee. "Qualified first-year wages" means wages paid or incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year to qualified employees which are attributable, with respect to any such employee, to services rendered during the one-year period beginning with the day the employee begins work for the taxpayer.

4. Credit where federal work opportunity tax credit applies. With respect to any qualified employee whose qualified first-year wages under subdivision three of this section also constitute qualified first-year wages for purposes of the work opportunity tax credit for vocational rehabilitation referrals under section fifty-one of the internal revenue code, the amount of credit under this section shall be thirty-five percent of the first six thousand dollars in qualified second-year wages earned by each such employee. "Qualified second-year wages" means wages paid or incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year to qualified employees which are attributable, with respect to any such employee, to services rendered during the one-year period beginning one year after the employee begins work for the taxpayer.

5. Carryover. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

6. Coordination with federal work opportunity tax credit. The provisions of sections fifty-one and fifty-two of the internal revenue code, as such sections applied on October first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, that apply to the work opportunity tax credit for vocational rehabilitation referrals shall apply to the credit under this section to the extent that such sections are consistent with the specific provisions of this section, provided that in the event of a conflict the provisions of this section shall control.

§ 187-b. Alternative fuels and electric vehicle recharging property credit. 1. General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be credited against the taxes imposed under sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article. Such credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, shall be allowed for alternative fuel vehicle refueling and electric vehicle recharging property placed in service during the taxable year. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the credit allowed by this section over the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. (a) Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property and electric vehicle recharging property. The credit under this section for alternative fuel vehicle refueling and electric vehicle recharging property shall equal for each installation of property the lesser of five thousand dollars or the product of fifty percent and the cost of any such property less any costs paid from the proceeds of grants.

(b) To qualify for the credit, the property must:

(i) be located in this state;

(ii) constitute alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property; and

(iii) not be paid for from the proceeds of grants awarded before January first, two thousand fifteen, including grants from the New York state energy research and development authority or the New York power authority.

3. Definitions. (a) The term "alternative fuel vehicle refueling property" means all of the equipment needed to dispense any fuel at least eighty-five percent of the volume of which consists of one or more of the following: natural gas, liquified natural gas, liquified petroleum, or hydrogen.

(b) The term "electric vehicle recharging property" means all the equipment needed to convey electric power from the electric grid or another power source to an onboard vehicle energy storage system.

4. Carryovers. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

5. Credit recapture. If, at any time before the end of its recovery period, alternative fuel vehicle refueling or electric vehicle recharging property ceases to be qualified, a recapture amount must be added back in the year in which such cessation occurs.

(i) Cessation of qualification. Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property ceases to be qualified if:

(I) the property no longer qualifies as alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property; or

(II) fifty percent or more of the use of the property in a taxable year is other than a trade or business in this state; or

(III) the taxpayer receiving the credit under this section sells or disposes of the property and knows or has reason to know that the property will be used in a manner described in this subparagraph.

(ii) Recapture amount. The recapture amount is equal to the credit allowable under this section multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the total recovery period for the property minus the number of recovery years prior to, but not including, the recapture year, and the denominator of which is the total recovery period.

6. Termination. The credit allowed by subdivision two of this section shall not apply in taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-eight.

§ 187-c. Biofuel production credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in section twenty-eight of this chapter, as added by part X of chapter sixty-two of the laws of two thousand six, against the tax imposed by this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowed against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of the credit allowed under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall apply to taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty.

§ 187-d. Green building credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section nineteen of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four and former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Carryovers. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

§ 187-e. Credit for transportation improvement contributions. 1.

Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four and former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not thus deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section ten hundred eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section ten hundred eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

3. Credit recapture. For provisions requiring recapture of credit, see subdivision (c) of section twenty of this chapter.

§ 187-f. Order of credits. Credits allowable under this article which cannot be carried over and which are not refundable shall be deducted first. Credits allowable under this article which can be carried over, and carryovers of such credits, shall be deducted next, and among such credits, those whose carryover is of limited duration shall be deducted before those whose carryover is of unlimited duration. Credits allowable under this article which are refundable shall be deducted last.

§ 187-g. Brownfield redevelopment tax credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-one of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section ten hundred eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section ten hundred eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

§ 187-h. Remediated brownfield credit for real property taxes for qualified sites. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in subdivision (b) of section twenty-two of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowed against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowed under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not thus deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section ten hundred eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section ten hundred eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

§ 187-i. Environmental remediation insurance credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-three of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

 § 187-n. Security training tax credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-six of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB There are 2 § 187-n's

 § 187-n. Fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures credit. (1) Allowance of credit. For taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand nine, a taxpayer whose business is not substantially engaged in the commercial generation, distribution, transmission, or servicing of energy or energy products shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article, equal to its qualified fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures. Provided, however, that the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. This credit shall not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars per generating unit with respect to any taxable year. The credit provided for herein shall be allowed with respect to the taxable year in which the fuel cell electric generating equipment is placed in service.

(2) Qualified fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures.

(a) Qualified fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures are the costs, incurred on or after July first, two thousand five, associated with the purchase of on-site electricity generation units utilizing proton exchange membrane fuel cells, providing a rated baseload capacity of no less than one kilowatt of electricity and no more than one hundred kilowatts of electricity, which are located in this state at the time the qualified fuel cell electric generating equipment is placed in service.

(b) Qualified fuel cell electric generating equipment expenditures shall also include costs, incurred on or after July first, two thousand five, for materials, labor for on-site preparation, assembly and original installation, engineering services, designs and plans directly related to construction or installation and utility compliance costs.

(c) Such qualified expenditures shall not include interest or other finance charges.

(d) The amount of any federal, state or local grant received by the taxpayer, which was used for the purchase and/or installation of such equipment and which was not included in the federal gross income of the taxpayer, shall not be included in the amount of such qualified expenditures.

(3) Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

* NB There are 2 § 187-n's

§ 187-o. Temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in subdivision one of section thirty-four of this chapter, against either the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four, or the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article. However, the amount of such credit against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of that credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowed under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

§ 187-p. Temporary deferral refundable payout credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in subdivision two of section thirty-four of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article, or the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article. However, the amount of such credit against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article shall be the excess of the amount of that credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowed under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter, provided however, that no interest shall be paid thereon.

§ 187-q. Utility COVID-19 debt relief credit. 1. Allowance of credit.

A taxpayer doing business in this state that is subject to the supervision of the public service commission shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this article, to be computed as hereinafter provided, for the amount of debt that the taxpayer has waived in accordance with procedures established by the public service commission that was owed to the taxpayer by customers who received utility arrears assistance pursuant to the chapter of the laws of two thousand twenty-one that enacted this section. Provided, however, that if the taxpayer is subject to tax under both sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article the amount of such credit allowable against the tax imposed by such section one hundred eighty-four shall be the excess of the amount of such credit over the amount of any credit allowed by this section against the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount that will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

3. Certification. No amount of waived customer debt may be the basis for the credit herein unless such amount is certified by the public service commission as provided herein. After consulting with the commissioner, the public service commission shall establish procedures for determining the amount of waived customer debt that may be used as a basis for the tax credit allowed by this section. Such procedures shall include provisions describing the application process, application due dates, the documentation that will be provided by taxpayers to substantiate the amount of customer debt that was waived by such taxpayers, the process by which the public service commission shall certify to a taxpayer and to the commissioner the amount of waived customer debt that qualifies for the credit, and such other provisions as deemed necessary and appropriate.

4. Timing of credit. The credit allowed by this section shall be claimed in the taxable year in which the public service commission certifies the amount of customer debt waived by the taxpayer that qualifies for the credit allowed by this section.

5. Credit recapture. If the certification made by the public service commission under subdivision three of this section is revoked by the public service commission, the amount of credit described in this section and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to the tax in the taxable year in which such revocation becomes final.

6. Information sharing. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, employees and officers of the public service commission and the department shall be allowed and are directed to share and exchange information regarding the credits allowed, or claimed, pursuant to this section, and the taxpayers who are applying for credits or who are claiming credits, including information contained in or derived from credit claim forms submitted to the department, and the information of the taxpayer used by the department of public service to determine the amount of waived customer debt.

§ 187-r. Commercial security tax credit. 1. Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-nine of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

2. Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this section be allowed in an amount that will reduce the tax payable to less than the applicable minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

§ 188. Tax surcharge. 1. In addition to the taxes imposed under sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six and one hundred eighty-six-a of this article, there is hereby imposed, for years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety, nineteen hundred ninety-one, nineteen hundred ninety-two, nineteen hundred ninety-three, nineteen hundred ninety-four, nineteen hundred ninety-five and nineteen hundred ninety-six, and, in addition to the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-e of this article, there is hereby imposed, for years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five and nineteen hundred ninety-six, a tax surcharge at the rate of fifteen percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety, nineteen hundred ninety-one, nineteen hundred ninety-two and nineteen hundred ninety-three, and until such rate is superseded; at the rate of ten percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, and until such rate is superseded; at the rate of five percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five, and until such rate is superseded; and at the rate of zero percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, of the tax imposed under sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six, one hundred eighty-six-a and one hundred eighty-six-e of this article, after deduction of any credits against tax otherwise allowable under this article. However, the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall not be imposed upon any taxpayer for more than eighty-four months (or twenty-four months, in the case of the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-six-e). The credits against tax otherwise allowable under this article shall not be allowed against the tax surcharge imposed by this section. Provided that, with respect to the year ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, the foregoing tax surcharge imposed under this section with respect to such section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article shall be computed based upon the tax liability under such section for such period undiminished by the application of any utility credit under article thirteen-A of this chapter. Provided, further, that in addition to the aforesaid tax surcharge imposed with respect to such section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article for the year ending on December thirty-one, nineteen hundred ninety-one, for such year there is also hereby imposed an amount in addition to such surcharge; such additional amount shall be equal to fifteen percent of the total amount of the utility credit under article thirteen-A of this chapter which was applied against tax liability under such section one hundred eighty-six-a of this article for the tax year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety.

1-a. Insofar as subdivision one of this section establishes a rate of fifteen percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-three and until such rate is superseded, a rate of ten percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-four and until such rate is superseded, a rate of five percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five and until such rate is superseded, and a rate of zero percent in the case of years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, the transition from such rate of fifteen percent to such rate of ten percent, from such rate of ten percent to such rate of five percent, and from such rate of five percent to such rate of zero percent, shall be deemed to occur, respectively, on the first day of the seventh month of each of such years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, nineteen hundred ninety-five and nineteen hundred ninety-six, with the result that for purposes of implementation of such changes in rates, and notwithstanding such subdivision one, there is hereby imposed with respect to all years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, including years of fewer than twelve months, a tax surcharge at the rate of twelve and one-half percent; there is hereby imposed with respect to all years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five, including years of fewer than twelve months, a tax surcharge at the rate of seven and one-half percent; and there is hereby imposed with respect to all years ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, including years of fewer than twelve months, a tax surcharge at the rate of two and one-half percent.

2. The provisions concerning reports under sections one hundred eighty-six-a, one hundred eighty-six-e and one hundred ninety-two of this article shall be applicable to this section, except that the report covering the tax surcharge computed on the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-three of this article shall be filed on or before the date one year after the date on which the report of such tax is required to be filed. An extension pursuant to section one hundred ninety-three shall be allowed, for taxable years to which the tax surcharge imposed by this section applies, only if a taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form as said commissioner may prescribe, and pays on or before the date of such filing in addition to any other amounts required under this article, either ninety percent of the tax surcharge required to be paid under this section for the applicable period or not less than the tax surcharge shown on the taxpayer's report for the preceding period, if such preceding period consisted of twelve months, or in the case of the tax surcharge for the year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety, fifteen percent of the tax after the deduction of credits, shown on the taxpayer's report for the year ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-nine if such year consisted of twelve months. The tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all of the provisions of this article, except for sections one hundred eighty-three-a, one hundred eighty-four-a, one hundred eighty-six-b, one hundred eighty-six-c and two hundred five, shall apply to the tax surcharge imposed by this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax surcharge imposed by this section. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax surcharge imposed by this section, and to that end a reference in this article to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six, one hundred eighty-six-a or one hundred eighty-six-e of this article shall be read as a reference to the tax surcharge imposed by this section, and to the sum of such tax and such tax surcharge in the case of sections one hundred ninety-seven-a and one hundred ninety-seven-b of this article and such other provisions requiring such reading in order to effectuate the purposes of this provision, unless a different meaning is clearly required.

4. The amount of tax surcharge imposed pursuant to this section shall not be included in any calculation of a tax surcharge imposed pursuant to section one hundred eighty-three-a, one hundred eighty-four-a, one hundred eighty-six-b or one hundred eighty-six-c of this article.

§ 189-b. Tax surcharge. 1. In addition to the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-nine of this article, there is hereby imposed a tax surcharge at the rate of fifteen percent, for taxable months beginning on or after August first, nineteen hundred ninety-one and ending on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-three; at the rate of ten percent, for taxable months beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-four and ending on or before May thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-five; at the rate of seven and one-half percent, for taxable months beginning on or after June first, nineteen hundred ninety-five and ending on or before May thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six; and at the rate of two and one-half percent, for taxable months beginning on or after June first, nineteen hundred ninety-six and ending on or before May thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, of the tax imposed under section one hundred eighty-nine of this article.

2. The provisions concerning reports, payment and collection of tax in subdivision three of section one hundred eighty-nine of this article shall be applicable to this section. All of the provisions of this article presently applicable to section one hundred eighty-nine of this article are applicable to the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

3. The amount of tax surcharge imposed pursuant to this section shall not be included in any calculation of a tax surcharge imposed pursuant to section one hundred eighty-nine-a of this article.

§ 190. Long-term care insurance credit. 1. General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to twenty percent of the premium paid during the taxable year for long-term care insurance. In order to qualify for such credit, the taxpayer's premium payment must be for the purchase of or for continuing coverage under a long-term care insurance policy that qualifies for such credit pursuant to section one thousand one hundred seventeen of the insurance law.

2. Computation. The credit allowed by this section shall first be deducted from the taxes imposed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. The amount of any such credit remaining shall next be deducted from the taxes imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this article.

3. Carryover. In no event shall the amount of credit allowed under this section reduce the tax payable to less than the minimum tax fixed by section one hundred eighty-three or former section one hundred eighty-six of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this section for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

§ 191. Receivers, etc., conducting corporate business. Any receiver, liquidator, referee, trustee, assignee, or other fiduciary or officer or agent appointed by any court, who conducts the business of any corporation, limited liability company, joint stock company or association shall be subject to the tax imposed by this article in the same manner and to the same extent as if the business were conducted by the agents or officers of such corporation, limited liability company, joint stock company or association. A dissolved corporation, limited liability company, joint stock company or association which continues to conduct business shall also be subject to the tax imposed by this article.

§ 192. Reports of corporations. Corporations liable to pay a tax under this article shall report as follows:

1. Corporations paying franchise tax. Every corporation, association or joint-stock company liable to pay a tax under section one hundred eighty-three of this chapter shall, on or before March fifteenth in each year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand seventeen, and on or before April fifteenth in each year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen, make a written report to the commissioner of its condition at the close of its business on the preceding December thirty-first, stating the amount of its authorized capital stock, the amount of stock paid in, the date and rate per centum of each dividend paid by it during the year ending with such day, the entire amount of the capital of such corporation, and the capital employed by it in this state during such year.

2. Transportation and transmission corporations. Every transportation or transmission corporation, joint-stock company or association liable to pay an additional franchise tax under section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter, shall also, on or before March fifteenth of each year, make a written report to the commissioner of the amount of its gross earnings subject to the tax imposed by said section for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, except that the year ended on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six shall be deemed, for the purposes of this subdivision, to have commenced on July first, nineteen hundred seventy-six, and shall also, on or before April fifteenth of each year, make a written report to the commissioner of the amount of its gross earnings subject to the tax imposed by said section for the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen. Any such corporation, joint-stock company or association which ceases to be subject to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter by reason of a liquidation, dissolution, merger or consolidation with any other corporation, or any other cause, shall, on the date of such cessation or at such other time as the commissioner may require, make a written report to the commissioner of the amount of its gross earnings subject to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter for any period for which no report was theretofore filed. Any corporation, joint-stock company or association subject to a tax upon dividends under said section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter shall also include in its report under this subdivision required to be filed a statement of the authorized capital of the company, the amount of capital stock issued, and the amount of dividends of every nature paid during the year ended on the preceding December thirty-first. As to tax payers subject to such tax upon dividends under said section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter, the year ended on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six shall be deemed, for the purposes of this subdivision, to have commenced on July first, nineteen hundred seventy-six.

4. Insurance corporations. (a) Except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (b), every insurance corporation liable to pay a tax under section one hundred eighty-seven of this chapter shall, on or before March first, June first, September first and December first in each year, make a written report to the tax commission and to the superintendent of financial services covering the quarter year ending on the last day of the third month preceding that in which the report is required to be filed, in such form and containing such information as the tax commission may deem necessary for the determination of the tax due for each such quarter year. There shall also be filed with the tax commission and with the superintendent of financial services, on or before March fifteenth of each year, a statement which will reconcile the net taxable premiums shown in the quarterly reports, made pursuant to this section, for the preceding calendar year, with the total gross and net premiums shown in the annual statement of the insurance corporation filed with said superintendent of financial services for such year pursuant to section three hundred seven of the insurance law.

(b) Every insurance corporation liable to pay a tax under subdivisions six and eight of section one hundred eighty-seven of this chapter shall, on or before the fifteenth day of March, make and file a written report with the tax commission and with the superintendent of financial services, covering the preceding calendar year, in such form and containing such information as the tax commission may deem necessary for the determination of the tax imposed by said subdivisions, and such calendar year shall be deemed the taxable year within the meaning of this section and of said subdivisions, provided, however that insurance corporations liable to pay tax under subdivision eight of section one hundred eighty-seven shall be required to make the reports required herein only on the fifteenth day of March in the years nineteen hundred sixty-five through and including nineteen hundred seventy-six.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred two of this article, the commissioner shall provide the statements and other required information requested on tax reports under section four hundred eight of the business corporation law to the secretary of state for filing. Such provision may also include a copy or image of that portion of the report solely pertinent to such information to the extent feasible. The commissioner may also provide information on noncompliance.

§ 193. Extension of time for filing report. The tax commission may for good cause shown extend the time within which any corporation is required to report by this article.

§ 194. Further requirements as to reports of corporations. Every report required by this article shall have annexed thereto a certification by the president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, or chief accounting officer or any other officer of the corporation, association or joint-stock company duly authorized so to act, or of the person or one of the persons, or the members of the partnership making the same, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true. In the case of an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificates or other written instruments, such certification shall be made by any person duly authorized so to act on behalf of such association, publicly traded partnership, limited liability company or business. The fact that an individual's name is signed on a certification attached to a report shall be prima facie evidence that such individual is authorized to certify the report on behalf of the taxpayer. Such reports shall contain any other data, information or matter which the commissioner may require to be included therein, and it may prescribe the form in which such reports shall be made. When so prescribed such forms shall be used in making the report. The commissioner may require at any time a further or supplemental report under this article, which shall contain information and data upon such matters as the commissioner may specify. Reports shall be preserved for five years, and thereafter until the commissioner orders them to be destroyed.

§ 197. Payment of tax and penalties. 1. To the extent the taxes and fees imposed by this article shall not have been previously paid,

(a) such taxes and fees, or the balance thereof, shall be payable to the tax commission in full at the time the taxpayer's report is required to be filed, and

(b) such taxes and fees, or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceased to exercise its franchise or to be subject to any of the taxes or fees imposed by this article shall be payable to the tax commission at the time the report is required to be filed, provided any such tax or fee of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other taxes and fees of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time.

2. Where an application for consent to dissolution, as provided by section one thousand four of the business corporation law, is filed with the commissioner of taxation and finance, such consent shall be given only if the commissioner of taxation and finance ascertains that all fees and taxes imposed under this chapter or any related statute, as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter, as well as penalties and interest charges related thereto, accrued against the corporation have been paid, and where such application for consent to dissolution is filed with such commissioner prior to the commencement of any tax year or period, by a corporation subject to tax under articles nine or nine-a of this chapter, such corporation shall not be liable for any tax imposed by said articles for such following year or period (except as may be otherwise provided in section one hundred ninety-one, subdivision nine of section one hundred eighty-two, subdivision nine of section one hundred eighty-two-a, subdivision nine of section one hundred eighty-two-b and subdivision three of section two hundred nine of this chapter), provided that the certificate of dissolution for such corporation is duly filed in the office of the secretary of state within ninety days after the commencement of such tax year or period and such corporation does not conduct business in such tax year or period.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the tax commission may grant a reasonable extension of time for payment of any tax or fee imposed by this article under such conditions as it deems just and proper.

§ 197-a. Declaration of estimated tax. 1. Every taxpayer subject to the taxes imposed under sections one hundred eighty-two, one hundred eighty-two-a, former section one hundred eighty-two-b, one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six-a or one hundred eighty-six-e of this article shall make a declaration of its estimated tax for the current taxable year, containing such information as the commissioner may prescribe by regulations or instructions, if such estimated tax can reasonably be expected to exceed one thousand dollars. If a taxpayer is subject to the tax surcharge imposed under section one hundred eighty-four-a or one hundred eighty-six-c of this article and such taxpayer's estimated tax under section one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-six-a of this article, respectively, can reasonably be expected to exceed one thousand dollars, such taxpayer shall also make a declaration of its estimated tax surcharge for the current taxable year.

2. The terms "estimated tax" and "estimated tax surcharge" mean the amounts which the taxpayer estimates to be the taxes or tax surcharges, respectively, imposed by the sections enumerated in subdivision one hereof for the current taxable year, less the sum of any credits which it estimates to be allowable against such taxes or tax surcharges, respectively.

3. A declaration of estimated tax and a declaration of estimated tax surcharge shall be filed on or before June fifteenth of the current taxable year in the case of a taxpayer which reports on the basis of a calendar year, except that if the requirements of subdivision one of this section are first met:

(a) after May thirty-first and before September first of such current taxable year, the declaration shall be filed on or before September fifteenth, or

(b) after August thirty-first and before December first of such current taxable year, the declaration shall be filed on or before December fifteenth.

4. A taxpayer may amend a declaration of estimated tax or a declaration of estimated tax surcharge under regulations prescribed by the commissioner of taxation and finance.

5. If, on or before February fifteenth of the succeeding year in the case of a taxpayer whose taxable year is a calendar year, a taxpayer files its return for the year for which the declaration is required, and pays therewith the balance, if any, of the full amount of the tax or tax surcharge shown to be due on the return:

(a) such return shall be considered as its declaration if no declaration was required to be filed during the taxable year for which the tax or tax surcharge was imposed, but is otherwise required to be filed on or before December fifteenth pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision three of this section, and

(b) such return shall be considered as the amendment permitted by subdivision four of this section to be filed on or before December fifteenth if the tax or tax surcharge shown on the return is greater than the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge, as the case may be, shown on a declaration previously made.

6. If the taxable period for which a tax or tax surcharge is imposed under any of the sections enumerated in subdivision one hereof is other than twelve months, every taxpayer required to make a declaration of estimated tax or a declaration of estimated tax surcharge for such taxable period shall make such declaration in accordance with rules of the commissioner.

7. This section shall apply to taxable periods of twelve months other than a calendar year by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year for the corresponding months specified in this section.

8. The tax commission may grant a reasonable extension of time, not to exceed three months, for the filing of any declaration required pursuant to this section, on such terms and conditions as it may require.

§ 197-b. Payments of estimated tax. 1. (a) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred seventy-seven, every taxpayer subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six-a or one hundred eighty-six-e of this article, must pay in each year an amount equal to (i) twenty-five percent of the tax imposed under each of such sections for the second preceding taxable year if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one thousand dollars but was equal to or less than one hundred thousand dollars, or (ii) forty percent of the tax imposed under any of these sections for the second preceding taxable year if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one hundred thousand dollars. If the second preceding year's tax under section one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six-a or one hundred eighty-six-e of this article exceeded one thousand dollars and the taxpayer is subject to the tax surcharge imposed by section one hundred eighty-four-a or one hundred eighty-six-c of this article, respectively, the taxpayer must also pay in each such year an amount equal to (i) twenty-five percent of the tax surcharge imposed under such section for the second preceding taxable year if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one thousand dollars but was equal to or less than one hundred thousand dollars, or (ii) forty percent of the tax surcharge imposed under that section for the second preceding taxable year if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one hundred thousand dollars. The amount or amounts must be paid with the return or report required to be filed with respect to the tax or tax surcharge for the preceding taxable year or with an application for extension of the time for filing the return or report, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen. The amount or amounts that must be paid with respect to the tax or tax surcharge for the second preceding year must be paid on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article to the contrary, any taxpayer required under this subdivision to pay an amount equal to twenty-five percent of its tax for the taxable year ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six shall compute such amount as if its tax for such taxable year were determined on the basis of its gross earnings, dividends paid, gross income or gross operating income, as the case may be, for either the preceding twelve months ending on such date or for the period from the date of its incorporation under the laws of this state or the date it commenced carrying on or doing business in New York to and including December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six, if such date of incorporation or commencement of the carrying on or doing business was within the twelve months immediately preceding December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-six.

2. The estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge for each taxable year with respect to which a declaration of estimated tax or a declaration of estimated tax surcharge, respectively, is required to be filed under this article shall be paid, in the case of a taxpayer which reports on the basis of a calendar year, as follows:

(a) If the declaration is filed on or before June fifteenth, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown thereon, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid during the same taxable year pursuant to subdivision one of this section, shall be paid in three equal installments. One of such installments shall be paid at the time of the filing of the declaration, one shall be paid on the following September fifteenth, and one on the following December fifteenth.

(b) If the declaration is filed after June fifteenth and not after September fifteenth of such taxable year, and is not required to be filed on or before June fifteenth of such year, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown on such declaration, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid during the same taxable year pursuant to subdivision one of this section, shall be paid in two equal installments. One of such installments shall be paid at the time of the filing of the declaration and one shall be paid on the following December fifteenth.

(c) If the declaration is filed after September fifteenth of such taxable year, and is not required to be filed on or before September fifteenth of such year, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown on such declaration, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid in respect of such year pursuant to subdivision one of this section shall be paid in full at the time of the filing of the declaration.

(d) If the declaration is filed after the time prescribed therefor, or after the expiration of any extension of time therefor, paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subdivision shall not apply and there shall be paid at the time of such filing all installments of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge payable at or before such time, and the remaining installments shall be paid at the times at which, and in the amounts in which, they would have been payable if the declaration had been filed when due.

3. If any amendment of a declaration is filed, the remaining installments, if any, shall be ratably increased or decreased (as the case may be) to reflect any increase or decrease in the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge by reason of such amendment, and if any amendment is made after September fifteenth of the taxable year, any increase in the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge by reason thereof shall be paid at the time of making such amendment.

4. Any amount paid pursuant to subdivision one shall be applied as a first installment against the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge, respectively, of the taxpayer for the taxable year shown on the declaration required to be filed pursuant to section one hundred ninety-seven-a of this chapter, or if no declaration is filed pursuant to such section, any such amount shall be considered a payment on account of the tax or tax surcharge shown on the return or report required to be filed by the taxpayer for such taxable year.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter or section sixteen of the state finance law, if an amount paid pursuant to subdivision one of this section exceeds the tax or tax surcharge, respectively, shown on the return or report required to be filed by the taxpayer for the taxable year during which such amount was paid, interest shall be allowed and paid on the amount by which the amount so paid pursuant to subdivision one exceeds such tax or tax surcharge, at the overpayment rate set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to subdivision (e) of section one thousand ninety-six or, if no rate is set, at the rate of six percent per annum, from the date of payment of the amount so paid pursuant to such subdivision one to the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, provided, however, that no interest shall be allowed or paid under this subdivision if the amount thereof is less than one dollar.

6. As used in this section, "the second preceding year's tax" means the tax imposed upon the taxpayer by section one hundred eighty-four, one hundred eighty-six-a or one hundred eighty-six-e of this article for the second preceding taxable year.

7. This section shall apply to a taxable period of less than twelve months in accordance with regulations of the tax commission.

8. The commissioner of taxation and finance may grant a reasonable extension of time, not to exceed six months, for the payment of any installment of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge required pursuant to this section, on such terms and conditions as he may require, including the furnishing of a bond or other security by the taxpayer in an amount not exceeding twice the amount for which any extension of time for payment is granted, provided, however, that interest at the underpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision (e) of section one thousand ninety-six or, if no rate is set, at the rate of six percent per annum for the period of the extension, shall be charged and collected on the amount for which any extension of time for payment is granted under this subdivision.

9. A taxpayer may elect to pay any installment of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge prior to the date prescribed in this section for payment thereof.

10. The provisions of this section shall apply to taxable periods of twelve months other than a calendar year by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year for the corresponding months specified in such provisions.

11. Any amount paid pursuant to paragraph four of subsection (c) of section six hundred fifty-eight of this chapter on behalf of a taxpayer subject to tax under this article shall be applied against the estimated tax of the taxpayer for the taxable year shown on the declaration required to be filed pursuant to section one hundred ninety-seven-a of this article, or if no declaration is filed pursuant to such section, any such amount shall be considered a payment on account of the tax shown on the report required to be filed by the taxpayer for such taxable year.

§ 197-c. Applicability of section one hundred eighty-two-a.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, with respect to the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-two-a of this article, a declaration of estimated tax of a taxpayer with a taxable year which is the calendar year nineteen hundred eighty-one, shall be filed on or before September fifteen of such year and the estimated tax with respect to which such declaration is required to be filed, shall be paid in two equal installments as follows: on September fifteenth and December fifteenth of such year. The provisions of this section shall apply to a taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by such section one hundred eighty-two-a with a taxabl period of twelve months, other than a calendar year, which period commences in nineteen hundred eighty-one by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year for the corresponding months specified in this provision for a taxpayer with a taxable year which is the calendar year nineteen hundred eighty-one. If the taxable period for which the tax imposed by such section one hundred eighty-two-a is other than twelve months, every taxpayer required to make a declaration of estimated tax and payments of estimated tax pursuant to the provisions of this section shall make such declaration and such payments in accordance with regulations of the tax commission.

§ 197-d. The provisions of article twenty-seven of this chapter which pertain to declarations and payments of estimated taxes shall be applicable to declarations and payments of estimated tax required under this article as if this article had been specifically incorporated in and referred to in such provisions.

§ 202. Secrecy required of officials; penalty for violation. 1. Except in accordance with proper judicial order or as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any tax commissioner, any officer or employee of the department of taxation and finance, or any person who, pursuant to this section, is permitted to inspect any report, or to whom any information contained in any report is furnished, or any person engaged or retained by such department on an independent contract basis, or any person who in any manner may acquire knowledge of the contents of a report filed pursuant to this article, to divulge or make known in any manner the amount of income or any particulars set forth or disclosed in any report under this article. The officers charged with the custody of such reports shall not be required to produce any of them or evidence of anything contained in them in any action or proceeding in any court, except on behalf of the state or the commissioner of taxation and finance in an action or proceeding under the provisions of this chapter or in any other action or proceeding involving the collection of a tax due under this chapter to which the state or the commissioner of taxation and finance is a party or a claimant, or on behalf of any party to any action or proceeding under the provisions of this article when the reports or facts shown thereby are directly involved in such action or proceeding, in any of which events the court may require the production of, and may admit in evidence, so much of said reports or of the facts shown thereby, as are pertinent to the action or proceeding and no more. The commissioner of taxation and finance may, nevertheless, publish a copy or a summary of any determination or decision rendered after the formal hearing provided for in section one thousand eighty-nine of this chapter. Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the delivery to a corporation or its duly authorized representative of a copy of any report filed by it, nor to prohibit the publication of statistics so classified as to prevent the identification of particular reports and the items thereof, or the publication of delinquent lists showing the names of taxpayers who have failed to pay their taxes at the time and in the manner provided by section one hundred ninety-seven together with any relevant information which in the opinion of the commissioner of taxation and finance may assist in the collection of such delinquent taxes; or the inspection by the attorney-general or other legal representatives of the state of the report of any corporation which shall bring action to set aside or review the tax based thereon, or against whom an action or proceeding under this chapter has been recommended by the commissioner of taxation and finance or the attorney-general or has been instituted; or the inspection of the reports of any corporation by the comptroller or duly designated officer or employee of the state department of audit and control, for purposes of the audit of a refund of any tax paid by such corporation under this article; or the disclosing to a state agency, pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this chapter, of the name and taxpayer identification number of any taxpayer whose overpayment is certified to the comptroller to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to such state agency and the amount of the overpayment and interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt; or the disclosing to the commissioner of finance of the city of New York, pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this chapter, of the name and taxpayer identification number of any taxpayer whose overpayment is certified to the comptroller to be credited against a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt. Provided, further, nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the disclosure of the names of corporations subject to tax under section one hundred eighty-two or one hundred eighty-two-a of this article, or to any two or all of such taxes, for purposes of assisting corporations subject to such tax or taxes in determining whether a gross receipt or a gross receipt from sales of petroleum is an excludible gross receipt or excludible gross receipt from sales of petroleum because it is derived from a sale for resale.

2. (a) Any officer or employee of the state who willfully violates the provisions of subdivision one of this section shall be dismissed from office and be incapable of holding any public office in this state for a period of five years thereafter.

(b) Cross-reference: For criminal penalties, see article thirty-seven of this chapter.

3. Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, the tax commission may permit the secretary of the treasury of the United States or his delegates, or the proper officer of any other state charged with tax administration, or the authorized representative of either such officer, to inspect the reports filed under this article, or may furnish to such officer or his authorized representative an abstract of any such report or supply information concerning an item contained in any such report, or disclosed by an investigation of tax liability under this article, but such permission shall be granted or such information furnished to such officer or his representative only if the laws of the United States or of such other state, as the case may be, grant substantially similar privileges to the commission or officer of this state charged with the administration of the tax imposed by this article and such information is to be used for tax purposes only; and provided further the commissioner of taxation and finance may furnish to the secretary of the treasury of the United States or his delegates such reports filed under this article and other tax information, as he may consider proper, for use in court actions or proceedings under the internal revenue code, whether civil or criminal, where a written request therefor has been made to the commissioner of taxation and finance by the secretary of the treasury or his delegates provided the laws of the United States grant substantially similar powers to the secretary of the treasury or his delegates. Where the commissioner of taxation and finance has so authorized use of reports or other tax information in such actions or proceedings, officers and employees of the department of taxation and finance may testify in such actions or proceedings in respect to such reports or other tax information.

4. Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, the tax commission may furnish any municipality with such information contained in the franchise tax reports filed under this article as it may consider proper for use in any certiorari or condemnation proceedings, and may furnish any authorized officer or employee of the department of financial services of the state of New York with any information contained in the franchise tax reports of corporations liable to pay a tax under section one hundred eighty-seven of this chapter, provided such information is to be used for tax purposes only.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the tax commission, in its discretion, may require or permit any or all persons liable for any fee or tax imposed by this article, to make payment of any fee, tax, penalty or interest imposed by this article to banks, banking houses or trust companies designated by the tax commission and to file reports with such banks, banking houses or trust companies as agents of the tax commission, in lieu of making any such payment directly to the tax commission. However, the tax commission shall designate only such banks, banking houses or trust companies as are or shall be designated by the comptroller as depositories pursuant to section two hundred six.

6. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon written request from the chairperson of the committee on ways and means of the United States House of Representatives, the chairperson of the committee on finance of the United States Senate, or the chairperson of the joint committee on taxation of the United States Congress, the commissioner shall furnish such committee with any current or prior year reports specified in such request that were filed under this article by the president of the United States, vice-president of the United States, member of the United States Congress representing New York state, or any person who served in or was employed by the executive branch of the government of the United States on the executive staff of the president, in the executive office of the president, or in an acting or confirmed capacity in a position subject to confirmation by the United States senate; or, in New York state: a statewide elected official, as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section seventy-three-a of the public officers law; a state officer or employee, as defined in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (c) of subdivision one of such section seventy-three-a; a political party chairperson, as defined in paragraph (h) of subdivision one of such section seventy-three-a; a local elected official, as defined in subdivisions one and two of section eight hundred ten of the general municipal law; a person appointed, pursuant to law, to serve due to vacancy or otherwise in the position of a local elected official, as defined in subdivisions one and two of section eight hundred ten of the general municipal law; a member of the state legislature; or a judge or justice of the unified court system; or filed by a partnership, firm, association, corporation, joint-stock company, trust or similar entity directly or indirectly controlled by any individual listed in this paragraph, whether by contract, through ownership or control of a majority interest in such entity, or otherwise, or filed by a partnership, firm, association, corporation, joint-stock company, trust or similar entity of which any individual listed in this paragraph holds ten percent or more of the voting securities of such entity; provided however that, prior to furnishing any report, the commissioner shall redact any copy of a federal return (or portion thereof) attached to, or any information on a federal return that is reflected on, such report, and any social security numbers, account numbers and residential address information.

(b) No reports shall be furnished pursuant to this subdivision unless the chairperson of the requesting committee certifies in writing that such reports have been requested related to, and in furtherance of, a legitimate task of the Congress, that the requesting committee has made a written request to the United States secretary of the treasury for related federal reports or report information, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. Section 6103(f), and that if such requested reports are inspected by and/or submitted to another committee, to the United States House of Representatives, or to the United States Senate, then such inspection and/or submission shall occur in a manner consistent with the federal law as informed by requirements and procedures established in 26 U.S.C. Section 6103(f).

§ 203. Collection of taxes. 1. An action may be brought by the attorney-general, at the instance of the tax commission, in the name of the state, to compel the filing of reports or to recover the amount of any account audited and stated by the tax commission under this article or to recover the amount of any taxes, fees, penalties and interest due pursuant to this article. If any such account or any tax shall remain unpaid or such report be not filed, and the tax-commission is satisfied that the failure to pay or file the report is intentional, it may so report to the attorney-general, who shall immediately bring an action, in the name of the people of the state, for the forfeiture of the franchise of any such delinquent corporation, joint-stock company or association failing to make such payments, or file such reports, and if it is found that such failure was intentional, judgment shall be rendered in such action for the forfeiture of its franchise and for its dissolution, and thereafter such franchise shall be annulled and if the delinquent is a foreign corporation its authority to do business in this state shall be revoked.

2. Every foreign corporation (other than a moneyed corporation) subject to the provisions of this article, except a corporation having a certificate of authority under section two hundred twelve of the general corporation law or having authority to do business by virtue of section thirteen hundred five of the business corporation law, shall file in the department of state a certificate of designation in its corporate name, signed and acknowledged by its president or a vice-president or its secretary or treasurer, under its corporate seal, designating the secretary of state as its agent upon whom process in any action provided for by this article may be served within this state, and setting forth an address to which the secretary of state shall mail a copy of any such process against the corporation which may be served upon him. In case any such corporation shall have failed to file such certificate of designation, it shall be deemed to have designated the secretary of state as its agent upon whom such process against it may be served; and until a certificate of designation shall have been filed the corporation shall be deemed to have directed the secretary of state to mail copies of process served upon him to the corporation at its last known office address within or without the state. When a certificate of designation has been filed by such corporation the secretary of state shall mail copies of process thereafter served upon him to the address set forth in such certificate. Any such corporation, from time to time, may change the address to which the secretary of state is directed to mail copies of process, by filing a certificate to that effect executed, signed and acknowledged in like manner as a certificate of designation as herein provided. Service of process upon any such corporation or upon any corporation having a certificate of authority under section two hundred twelve of the general corporation law or having authority to do business by virtue of section thirteen hundred five of the business corporation law, in any action commenced at any time pursuant to the provisions of this article, may be made by either (1) personally delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state, a deputy secretary of state or with any person authorized by the secretary of state to receive such service duplicate copies thereof at the office of the department of state in the city of Albany, in which event the secretary of state shall forthwith send by registered mail, return receipt requested, one of such copies to the corporation at the address designated by it or at its last known office address within or without the state, or (2) personally delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state, a deputy secretary of state or with any person authorized by the secretary of state to receive such service, a copy thereof at the office of the department of state in the city of Albany and by delivering a copy thereof to, and leaving such copy with, the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer, assistant treasurer, or cashier of such corporation, or the officer performing corresponding functions under another name, or a director or managing agent of such corporation, personally without the state. Proof of such personal service without the state shall be filed with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending within thirty days after such service, and such service shall be complete ten days after proof thereof is filed.

§ 203-a. Dissolution of delinquent business corporations. 1. On or before the last day of March, June, September or December in each calendar year, the tax commission may certify and transmit to the department of state a list containing the names of any or all such stock corporations and corporations formed for profit, other than corporations formed by or under special acts and other than banking, insurance and railroad corporations, as have not filed reports required under this article during the period of two consecutive years next preceding the date of such certification or as have been delinquent in the payment of taxes for any two years duly assessed pursuant to this article.

2. If the secretary of state, upon comparing the names so certified with his records, shall discover error, he may return the list to the tax commission for correction.

3. The secretary of state shall make a proclamation under his hand and seal of office, as to the corporations whose names are included in such list as finally corrected, declaring such corporations dissolved and their charters forfeited pursuant to the provisions of this section. He shall file the original proclamation in his office and shall publish a copy thereof in the state bulletin no later than three months following receipt of the list by him.

4. Upon the publication of such proclamation in the manner aforesaid, each corporation named therein shall be deemed dissolved without further legal proceedings.

5. The secretary of state shall mail a copy of the state bulletin containing such proclamation to the clerk of each county in the state. The county clerk shall file the copy without charge but need not record it.

6. The names of all corporations so dissolved shall be reserved for a period of three months immediately following the publication of the proclamation, and during such period no corporation shall be formed under a name the same as any name so reserved or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, nor shall any foreign corporation, within such period, be authorized to do business in this state under a name the same as any name so reserved or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive.

7. Any corporation so dissolved may file in the department of state a certificate of consent of the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such certificate of consent shall be given only if the commissioner of taxation and finance ascertains that all fees and taxes imposed under this chapter or any related statute, as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter, as well as penalties and interest charges related thereto, accrued against the corporation have been paid. The filing of such certificate of consent shall have the effect of annulling all of the proceedings theretofore taken for the dissolution of such corporation under the provisions of this section and it shall thereupon have such corporate powers, rights, duties and obligations as it had on the date of the publication of the proclamation, with the same force and effect as if such proclamation had not been made or published. The fee of the secretary of state for filing such certificate shall be fifty dollars and if it is filed later than three months after the date of publication of the proclamation the secretary of state shall collect a further sum equal to one-fortieth of one percentum of all shares with par value and two and one-half cents for every share without par value which such corporation was authorized to have at the time of such publication. No such certificate shall be filed if the name of the corporation is the same as, or so nearly resembles as to be calculated to deceive, that of a domestic corporation formed later than three months after the publication of the proclamation of dissolution or of a foreign corporation which has obtained authority to do business in the state later than three months after such proclamation unless there is simultaneously filed in the department of state a certificate of change of name. Such certificate of change of name shall be executed in like manner as if such corporation had not been dissolved. Any corporation dissolved pursuant to this section and desiring to annul the dissolution proceedings later than three months from the date of proclamation of dissolution, may, if such name is still available, pay to the secretary of state the fees hereinbefore in this subdivision mentioned, or may submit with such payment a written application requesting the reservation of another available name, and thereupon the secretary of state shall reserve such name for a period of thirty days from the date of such payment to permit the completion of such annulment. No moneys so paid shall in any event be returned by the secretary of state.

8. If, after the publication of such proclamation, it shall appear that the name of any corporation was erroneously included therein, the state tax commission shall so certify to the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall make appropriate entry on the records of the department of state, which entry shall have the effect of annulling all of the proceedings theretofore taken for the dissolution of such corporation under the provisions of this section, and it shall have such corporate powers, rights, duties and obligations as it had on the date of the publication of the proclamation, with the same force and effect as if such proclamation had not been made or published.

9. Whenever a corporation shall have complied with subdivision seven of this section, or whenever the proceeding specified in subdivision eight of this section shall have been taken, the secretary of state shall publish a notice thereof in the state advertising bulletin and shall send a copy of such bulletin to the county clerk of the county in which, according to his records, the office of the corporation is located. Such county clerk shall file such copy and make appropriate entry on his records without charge.

10. The provisions of section twenty-nine of the general corporation law shall apply to any corporation heretofore or hereafter dissolved under this section except for those corporations governed by the business corporation law as to which section one thousand nine of such law shall apply.

§ 203-b. Annulment of authority to do business by foreign corporations. 1. On or before the last day of March, June, September or December in each calendar year, the tax commission may certify and transmit to the department of state a list containing the names of any or all such foreign corporations, except banking corporations, fire, marine, casualty and life insurance companies, co-operative fraternal insurance companies and building and loan associations, which have been authorized to do business in this state pursuant to article thirteen or article fifteen-a of the business corporation law and have not filed reports required under this article during the period of time next preceding the date of such certification applicable to business corporations as set forth in section two hundred three-a of this chapter, have been delinquent in the payment of taxes duly assessed pursuant to this article for the period applicable to business corporations as set forth in such section, or have been delinquent in the payment of maintenance fees imposed under this article for a period exceeding ninety days.

2. If the secretary of state, upon comparing the names so certified with his records, shall discover error, he may return the list to the tax commission for correction.

3. The secretary of state shall make a proclamation under his hand and seal of office, as to the corporations whose names are included in such list as finally corrected, declaring the authority of such corporations to do business in this state annulled pursuant to the provisions of this section. He shall file the original proclamation in his office and shall publish a copy thereof in the state bulletin no later than three months following receipt of the list by him.

4. Upon the publication of such proclamation in the manner aforesaid, each corporation named therein shall be deemed to have had its authority annulled without further legal proceedings.

5. The secretary of state shall mail a copy of the state bulletin containing such proclamation to the clerk of each county in the state. The county clerk shall file the copy without charge but need not record it.

6. The names of all corporations whose authority was so annulled shall be reserved for a period of three months immediately following the publication of the proclamation, and during such period no corporation shall be formed under a name the same as any name so reserved or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, nor shall any foreign corporation, within such period, be authorized to do business in this state under a name the same as any name so reserved or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive.

7. Any corporation whose authority was so annulled may file in the department of state a certificate of consent of the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such certificate of consent shall be given only if the commissioner of taxation and finance ascertains that all fees and taxes imposed under this chapter or any related statute, as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter, as well as penalties and interest charges related thereto, accrued against the corporation have been paid. The filing of such certificate of consent shall have the effect of annulling all of the proceedings theretofore taken for the annulment of authority of such corporation under the provisions of this section and it shall thereupon have such corporate powers, rights, duties and obligations as it had on the date of the publication of the proclamation, with the same force and effect as if such proclamation had not been made or published. The fee of the secretary of state for filing such certificate shall be fifty dollars. No such certificate shall be filed if the name of the corporation is the same as, or so nearly resembles as to be calculated to deceive, that of a domestic corporation formed later than three months after the publication of the proclamation of annulment or of a foreign corporation which has obtained authority to do business in the state later than three months after such proclamation unless there is simultaneously filed in the department of state a certificate of amendment of its application for authority under section thirteen hundred nine of the business corporation law showing a change of name in compliance with such section. Such certificate shall be executed in a like manner as if the authority of such corporation had not been annulled. Any corporation whose authority was annulled pursuant to this section and desiring to annul the annulment of authority later than three months from the date of proclamation thereof, may, if such name is still available pay to the secretary of state the fee (other than the maintenance fee) hereinbefore in this subdivision mentioned, or may submit with such payment a written application requesting the reservation of another available name, and thereupon the secretary of state shall reserve such name for a period of thirty days from the date of such payment to permit the completion of such annulment of authority. No moneys so paid shall in any event be returned by the secretary of state.

8. If, after the publication of such proclamation, it shall appear that the name of any corporation was erroneously included therein, the state tax commission shall so certify to the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall make appropriate entry on the records of the department of state, which entry shall have the effect of annulling all of the proceedings theretofore taken for the annulment of authority of such corporation under the provisions of this section, and it shall have such corporate powers, rights, duties and obligations as it had on the date of the publication of the proclamation, with the same force and effect as if such proclamation had not been made or published.

9. Whenever a corporation shall have complied with subdivision seven of this section, or whenever the proceeding specified in subdivision eight of this section shall have been taken, the secretary of state shall publish a notice thereof in the state advertising bulletin and shall send a copy of such bulletin to the county clerk of the county in which, according to his records, the office of the corporation is located. Such county clerk shall file such copy and make appropriate entry on his records without charge.

§ 204. Reports to be made by the secretary of state. 1. Report. The secretary of state shall transmit to the commissioner a report of the stock corporations or corporations formed for profit whose certificates of incorporation are filed, or of the foreign stock corporations or corporations formed for profit to whom a certificate of authority has been issued to do business in this state.

2. Contents of report. Such report shall state the name of the corporation, its place of business, the amount of its capital stock, its purposes or objects, its duration, the names and places of residence of its directors, and, if a foreign corporation, its place of business within the state and the name and address of its designee. In the case of a domestic business corporation, such report shall also state the accounting period which the corporation intends to establish as its first calendar or fiscal year for reporting the franchise tax on business corporations imposed by article nine-A of this chapter, and in the case of a foreign business corporation, the accounting period which it uses or will use to compute its federal income tax.

3. Notice. The secretary of state shall also cause to be transmitted to the commissioner notice of all dissolutions, mergers, consolidations, take-overs, increases and decreases of capital stock, changes of names and re-organization of domestic stock corporations or corporations formed for profit, and dissolutions, withdrawals and revocations of and changes of designees of foreign corporations, filed or recorded in his or her office.

4. Additional reports. The secretary of state shall make like reports to the commissioner whenever required by him or her relating to any such corporations whose certificates have been filed or to whom certificate of authority has been issued prior to the time this article takes effect, and during any period of time specified by the commissioner in his or her request for such report.

5. Definitions. For purposes of this section, the term "corporation" shall be deemed to include a limited liability company and a limited liability partnership registered under article eight-B of the partnership law, and the term "certificates of incorporation" shall be deemed to include articles of organization of a limited liability company and, with respect to a limited liability partnership, a registration described in section 121-1500 of the partnership law or a notice described in section 121-1502 of such law.

§ 205. Deposit of moneys collected from taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter. 1. (a)

From moneys collected from taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter during the period from April first, nineteen hundred eighty-one through March thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-two: (i) the first one hundred million dollars shall be deposited pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter; (ii) the next seventy-five million dollars shall be deposited in the mass transit operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transit operating assistance account created pursuant to section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law; and (iii) of any amounts in excess of one hundred seventy-five million dollars collected during such period, sixty percent shall be disbursed pursuant to the provisions of clause (i) of this paragraph and forty percent pursuant to clause (ii) of this paragraph.

(b) From moneys collected from taxes imposed by such sections during the period from the first day of April to the thirtieth day of June, nineteen hundred eighty-two an amount, which when added to the amounts deposited to the credit of the metropolitan mass transit operating assistance account pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall total eighty-four million dollars which shall be deposited in such account; and the balance of moneys collected during such period shall be deposited pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter.

* 2. Of moneys collected from taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article subsequent to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty-two, sixty percent shall be deposited pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, provided that after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, fifty-two percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, fifty and one-half percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight, forty-six percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, two thousand, thirty-six percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, two thousand one but before April first, two thousand four, twenty percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; and the balance of such collections shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account; provided, however, for taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-five and ending on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-nine, all of the moneys collected from the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter on corporations, joint-stock companies or associations formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of telephone or telegraph business shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account; and provided, further, that the actual amount of moneys from the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article which shall be deposited in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account, pursuant to this subdivision, during the twelve month period from April first, nineteen hundred eighty-five, to and including March thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-six, shall not be less than sixty million dollars; provided, further, that for the twenty-four month period from April first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, to and including March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, of the moneys so collected, sixty percent shall be deposited in the general fund pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, thirty-four and four-tenths percent shall be deposited in the revenue accumulation fund and five and six-tenths percent shall be deposited in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of such metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account.

* NB Effective until April 1, 2028

* 2. Of moneys collected from taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter subsequent to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty-two, sixty percent shall be deposited pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, provided that after April first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, fifty-two percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-seven, fifty and one-half percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight, forty-six percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, two thousand, thirty-six percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; provided, further, that after January first, two thousand one, twenty percent of such moneys collected on or after such date shall be so deposited; and the balance of such collections shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account; provided, however, for taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-five and ending on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-nine, all of the moneys collected from the tax imposed by section one hundred eighty-four of this chapter on corporations, joint-stock companies or associations formed for or principally engaged in the conduct of telephone or telegraph business shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account; and provided, further, that the actual amount of moneys from the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter which shall be deposited in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account, pursuant to this subdivision, during the twelve month period from April first, nineteen hundred eighty-five, to and including March thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-six, shall not be less than sixty million dollars; provided, further, that for the twenty-four month period from April first, nineteen hundred ninety-four, to and including March thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, of the moneys so collected, sixty percent shall be deposited in the general fund pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter, thirty-four and four-tenths percent shall be deposited in the revenue accumulation fund and five and six-tenths percent shall be deposited in such mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of such metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account.

* NB Effective April 1, 2028

3. The moneys collected from the taxes imposed by sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this article on and after April first, two thousand thirteen, after reserving amounts for refunds or reimbursements, shall be distributed as follows: twenty percent of such moneys shall be deposited to the credit of the dedicated highway and bridge trust fund established by section eighty-nine-b of the state finance law, fifty-four percent of such moneys shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the metropolitan mass transportation operating assistance account created pursuant to section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law and twenty-six percent of such moneys shall be deposited in the mass transportation operating assistance fund to the credit of the public transportation systems operating assistance account created pursuant to section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law.

§ 206. Deposit and disposition of revenue. The taxes, percentage, interest and other charges imposed by this article shall be collected and deposited and receipts therefor issued by the commissioner and all revenues so collected or received shall be deposited and disposed of pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter.

§ 207. Limitation of time. The provisions of the civil practice law and rules relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, and this section shall be construed as having been in effect as of the date of the original enactment of the corporation tax law, provided, however, that as to real estate in the hands of persons who are owners thereof who would be purchasers in good faith but for such tax or penalty and as to the lien on real estate of mortgages held by persons who would be holders thereof in good faith but for such tax or penalty, all such taxes and penalties shall cease to be a lien on such real estate as against such purchasers or holders after the expiration of ten years from the date such taxes became due and payable. The limitations herein provided for shall not apply to any transfer from a corporation to a person or corporation with intent to avoid payment of any taxes, or where with like intent the transfer is made to a grantee corporation, or any subsequent grantee corporation controlled by such grantor or which has any community of interest with it, either through stock ownership or otherwise. Nothing herein shall affect any action or proceeding now actually pending to enforce the collection of such tax or penalty from such real estate.

§ 207-a. Exemption of corporations owned by a municipality. On and after the second day of June, nineteen hundred forty, the provisions of this article shall not apply to any corporation all of the capital stock of which is owned by a municipal corporation of this state.

§ 207-b. Practice and procedure for taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four.-- For taxable years or periods ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four--

(1) the provisions of article twenty-seven shall apply with respect to the administration of and procedure with respect to the taxes imposed under this article;

(2) any provisions of this article which are inconsistent with or contrary to the provisions of article twenty-seven shall not apply.

ARTICLE 9-A

FRANCHISE TAX ON BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

- Section 208. Definitions.
209. Imposition of tax; exemptions.
- 209-B. Metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge.
- 209-C. Gift for fish and wildlife management.
- 209-D. Gift for breast cancer research and education.
- 209-E. Gift for prostate and testicular cancer research and education.
- 209-F. Gift for the World Trade Center memorial foundation.
- 209-G. Gift for volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services workers recruitment and retention.
- 209-H. Gift for honor and remembrance of veterans.
- 209-I. Gift for women's cancers education and prevention.
- 209-J. Gift for New York state veterans' homes.
- 209-K. Gift to the love your library fund.
- 209-L. Gift for ALS research and education.
- 209-L*2. Gift for lupus education and prevention.
- 209-L*3. Gift for military families.
- 209-M. Gift for leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research, education and treatment.
- 209-M*2. Gift for home delivered meals for seniors.
- 209-N. Retired and rescued thoroughbred race horse aftercare.
- 209-O. Retired and rescued standardbred race horse aftercare.
- 209-P. Gift for Lyme and tick-borne diseases education, research and prevention.
- 209-Q. Gift for diabetes research and education.
210. Computation of tax.
- 210-A. Apportionment.
- 210-B. Credits.
- 210-C. Combined reports.
211. Reports.
213. Payment and lien of tax.
- 213-a. Declaration of estimated tax.
- 213-b. Payments on account of estimated tax.

- 216. Collection of taxes.
- 217. Penalties.
- 218. Deposit and disposition of revenue.
- 219. Limitation of time.
- 219-a. Practice and procedure for taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four.

§ 208. Definitions. As used in this article:

1. The term "corporation" includes (a) an association within the meaning of paragraph three of subsection (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code (including a limited liability company), (b) a joint-stock company or association, (c) a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof and (d) any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificate or other written instrument. "DISC" and "former DISC" mean any corporation which meets the requirements of subsection (a) of section nine hundred ninety-two of the internal revenue code.

1-A. The term "New York S corporation" means, with respect to any taxable year, a corporation subject to tax under this article for which an election is in effect pursuant to subsection (a) of section six hundred sixty of this chapter for such year, any such year shall be denominated a "New York S year", and such election shall be denominated a "New York S election". The term "New York C corporation" means, with respect to any taxable year, a corporation subject to tax under this article which is not a New York S corporation, and any such year shall be denominated a "New York C year". The term "termination year" means any taxable year of a corporation during which the New York S election terminates on a day other than the first day of such year. The portion of the taxable year ending before the first day for which such termination is effective shall be denominated the "S short year", and the portion of such year beginning on such first day shall be denominated the "C short year". The term "New York S termination year" means any termination year which is not also an S termination year for federal purposes.

1-B. The term "QSSS" means a corporation which is a qualified subchapter S subsidiary as defined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section thirteen hundred sixty-one of the internal revenue code. The term "exempt QSSS" means a QSSS exempt from tax under this article as provided in paragraph (k) of subdivision nine of this section, or a QSSS described in subclause (i) of clause (B) of subparagraph two of paragraph (k) of subdivision nine of this section, wherein the parent corporation of the QSSS is subject to tax under this article, and the assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the QSSS are treated as the assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the parent corporation. Where a QSSS is an exempt QSSS, then for all purposes under this article:

(a) the assets, liabilities, income, deductions, property, payroll, receipts, capital, credits, and all other tax attributes and elements of economic activity of the QSSS shall be deemed to be those of the parent corporation,

(b) the stocks, bonds and other securities issued by, and any indebtedness from, the QSSS shall not be investment or business capital of the parent corporation,

(c) transactions between the parent corporation and the QSSS, including the payment of interest and dividends, shall not be taken into account, and

(d) general executive officers of the QSSS shall be deemed to be general executive officers of the parent corporation.

2. The term "taxpayer" means any corporation subject to tax under this article.

3. The term "subsidiary" means a corporation of which over fifty percent of the number of shares of stock entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees is owned by the taxpayer.

4. The term "stock" means an interest in a corporation that is treated as equity for federal income tax purposes.

5. (a) The term "investment capital" means investments in stocks that (i) satisfy the definition of a capital asset under section 1221 of the internal revenue code at all times the taxpayer owned such stock during the taxable year, (ii) are held by the taxpayer for investment for more than one year, (iii) the dispositions of which are, or would be, treated by the taxpayer as generating long-term capital gains or losses under the internal revenue code, (iv) for stocks acquired on or after January first, two thousand fifteen, at any time after the close of the day in which they are acquired, have never been held for sale to customers in the regular course of business, and (v) before the close of the day on which the stock was acquired, are clearly identified in the taxpayer's records as stock held for investment in the same manner as required under section 1236(a)(1) of the internal revenue code for the stock of a dealer in securities to be eligible for capital gain treatment (whether or not the taxpayer is a dealer of securities subject to section 1236), provided, however, that for stock acquired prior to October first, two thousand fifteen that was not subject to section 1236(a) of the internal revenue code, such identification in the taxpayer's records must occur before October first, two thousand fifteen. Stock in a corporation that is conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer, stock in a corporation that is included in a combined report with the taxpayer pursuant to the commonly owned group election in subdivision three of section two hundred ten-C of this article, and stock issued by the taxpayer shall not constitute investment capital. For purposes of this subdivision, if the taxpayer owns or controls, directly or indirectly, less than twenty percent of the voting power of the stock of a corporation, that corporation will be presumed to be conducting a business that is not unitary with the business of the taxpayer.

(b) There shall be deducted from investment capital any liabilities which are directly or indirectly attributable to investment capital. If the amount of those liabilities exceeds the amount of investment capital, the amount of investment capital will be zero.

(c) Investment capital shall not include any such investments the income from which is excluded from entire net income pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c-1) of subdivision nine of this section, and that investment capital shall be computed without regard to liabilities directly or indirectly attributable to such investments, but only if air carriers organized in the United States and operating in the foreign country or countries in which the taxpayer has its major base of operations and in which it is organized, resident or headquartered (if not in the same country as its major base of operations) are not subject to any tax based on or measured by capital imposed by such foreign country or countries or any political subdivision thereof, or if taxed, are provided an exemption, equivalent to that provided for herein, from any tax based on or measured by capital imposed by such foreign country or countries and from any such tax imposed by any political subdivision thereof.

(d) If a taxpayer acquires stock that is a capital asset under section 1221 of the internal revenue code during the taxable year and owns that stock on the last day of the taxable year, it will be presumed, solely for purposes of determining whether that stock should be classified as investment capital after it is acquired, that the taxpayer held that stock for more than one year. However, if the taxpayer does not in fact own that stock at the time it actually files its original report for the taxable year in which it acquired the stock, then the presumption in the preceding sentence shall not apply and the actual period of time during which the taxpayer owned the stock shall be used to determine whether the stock should be classified as investment capital after it is acquired. If the taxpayer relies on the presumption in the first sentence of this paragraph but does not own the stock for more than one year, the taxpayer must increase its total business capital in the immediately succeeding taxable year by the amount included in investment capital for that stock, net of any liabilities attributable to that stock computed as provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision and must increase its business income in the immediately succeeding taxable year by the amount of income and net gains (but not less than zero) from that stock included in investment income, less any interest deductions directly or indirectly attributable to that stock, as provided in subdivision six of this section.

(e) When income or gain from a debt obligation or other security cannot be apportioned to the state using the apportionment factor determined under section two hundred ten-A of this article as a result of United States constitutional principles, the debt obligation or other security will be included in investment capital.

6. (a) (i) The term "investment income" means income, including capital gains in excess of capital losses, from investment capital, to the extent included in computing entire net income, less, in the discretion of the commissioner, any interest deductions allowable in computing entire net income which are directly or indirectly attributable to investment capital or investment income, provided, however, that in no case shall investment income exceed entire net income. (ii) If the amount of interest deductions subtracted under subparagraph (i) of this paragraph exceeds investment income, the excess of such amount over investment income must be added back to entire net income. (iii) If the taxpayer's investment income determined without regard to the interest deductions subtracted under subparagraph (i) of this paragraph comprises more than eight percent of the taxpayer's entire net income, investment income determined without regard to such interest deductions cannot exceed eight percent of the taxpayer's entire net income.

(b) In lieu of subtracting from investment income the amount of those interest deductions, the taxpayer may make a revocable election to reduce its total investment income, determined after applying the limitation in subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, by forty percent. If the taxpayer makes this election, the taxpayer must also make the elections provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) of subdivision six-a of this section. If the taxpayer subsequently revokes this election, the taxpayer must revoke the elections provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) of subdivision six-a of this section. A taxpayer that does not make this election because it has no investment capital will not be precluded from making those other elections.

(c) Investment income shall not include any amount treated as dividends pursuant to section seventy-eight of the internal revenue code.

6-a. (a) The term "other exempt income" means the sum of exempt CFC income and exempt unitary corporation dividends.

(b) "Exempt CFC income" means (i) except to the extent described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph, the income required to be included in the taxpayer's federal gross income pursuant to subsection (a) of section 951 of the internal revenue code, received from a corporation that is conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer but is not included in a combined report with the taxpayer, (ii) such income required to be included in the taxpayer's federal gross income pursuant to subsection (a) of such section 951 of the internal revenue code by reason of subsection (a) of section 965 of the internal revenue code, as adjusted by subsection (b) of section 965 of the internal revenue code, and without regard to subsection (c) of such section, received from a corporation that is not included in a combined report with the taxpayer, and (iii) ninety-five percent of the income required to be included in the taxpayer's federal gross income pursuant to subsection (a) of section 951A of the internal revenue code, without regard to the deduction under section 250 of the internal revenue code, received from a corporation that is not included in a combined report with the taxpayer, less, (iv) in the discretion of the commissioner, any interest deductions directly or indirectly attributable to that income. In lieu of subtracting from its exempt CFC income the amount of those interest deductions, the taxpayer may make a revocable election to reduce its total exempt CFC income by forty percent. If the taxpayer makes this election, the taxpayer must also make the elections provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision six of this section and paragraph (c) of this subdivision. If the taxpayer subsequently revokes this election, the taxpayer must revoke the elections provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision six of this section and paragraph (c) of this subdivision. A taxpayer which does not make this election because it has no exempt CFC income will not be precluded from making those other elections. The income described in subparagraphs (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph shall not constitute investment income. The income described in subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph shall not constitute exempt unitary corporation dividends.

(c) "Exempt unitary corporation dividends" means those dividends from a corporation that is conducting a unitary business with the taxpayer but is not included in a combined report with the taxpayer, less, in the discretion of the commissioner, any interest deductions directly or indirectly attributable to such income. Other than dividend income received from corporations that are taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or article thirty-three of this chapter or would be taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or article thirty-three of this chapter if subject to tax, in lieu of subtracting from this dividend income those interest deductions, the taxpayer may make a revocable election to reduce the total amount of this dividend income by forty percent. If the taxpayer makes this election, the taxpayer must also make the elections provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision six of this section and paragraph (b) of this subdivision. If the taxpayer subsequently revokes this election, the taxpayer must also revoke the elections provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision six of this section and paragraph (b) of this subdivision. A taxpayer which does not make this election because it has not received any exempt unitary corporation dividends or is precluded from making this election for dividends received from corporations taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or article thirty-three of this chapter or would be taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or article thirty-three of this chapter if subject to tax will not be precluded from making those other elections.

(d) If the taxpayer attributes interest deductions to other exempt income and the amount subtracted exceeds other exempt income, the excess of the interest deductions over other exempt income must be added back to entire net income. In no case shall other exempt income exceed entire net income.

(e) Other exempt income shall not include any amount treated as dividends pursuant to section seventy-eight of the internal revenue code.

7. (a) The term "business capital" means all assets, other than investment capital and stock issued by the taxpayer, less liabilities not deducted from investment capital. Business capital shall include only those assets the income, loss or expense of which are properly reflected (or would have been properly reflected if not fully depreciated or expensed or depreciated or expensed to a nominal amount) in the computation of entire net income for the taxable year.

(b) Provided, however, "business capital" shall not include assets to the extent employed for the purpose of generating income which is excluded from entire net income pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c-1) of subdivision nine of this section and shall be computed without regard to liabilities directly or indirectly attributable to such assets, but only if air carriers organized in the United States and operating in the foreign country or countries in which the taxpayer has its major base of operations and in which it is organized, resident or headquartered (if not in the same country as its major base of operations) are not subject to any tax based on or measured by capital imposed by such foreign country or countries or any political subdivision thereof, or if taxed, are provided an exemption, equivalent to that provided for herein, from any tax based on or measured by capital imposed by such foreign country or countries and from any such tax imposed by any political subdivision thereof.

8. The term "business income" means entire net income minus investment income and other exempt income. In no event shall the sum of investment income and other exempt income exceed entire net income. If the taxpayer makes the election provided for in subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of subdivision five of section two hundred ten-A of this article, then all income from qualified financial instruments shall constitute business income.

8-A. Provided, however, that with respect to a DISC or a former DISC, the following provisions shall apply:

(a) investments in the stocks, bonds or other securities of a DISC or any indebtedness from a DISC shall not be treated as investment capital under subdivision five of this section,

(b) any amounts deemed distributed from a DISC or a former DISC which are taxable as dividends pursuant to subsection (b) of section nine hundred ninety-five of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four shall be treated as business income, except any such amounts from a former DISC attributable to amounts includible in a taxpayer's entire net income for a prior taxable year under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (i) of subdivision nine of this section shall be excluded from entire net income,

(c) any gain recognized for federal income tax purposes on the disposition of stock in a DISC, and any gain recognized on the disposition of stock in a former DISC, includible in gross income as a dividend pursuant to subsection (c) of section nine hundred ninety-five of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four, shall be treated as business income, and

(d) except as provided in paragraph (i) of subdivision nine of this section, any actual distribution from a DISC or a former DISC shall be treated as business income except an actual distribution which for federal income tax purposes is treated as made out of "other earnings and profits" under section nine hundred ninety-six of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four, in which case such actual distribution shall be treated as investment income under this article.

9. The term "entire net income" means total net income from all sources, which shall be presumably the same as the entire taxable income, which, except as hereinafter provided in this subdivision,

(i) the taxpayer is required to report to the United States treasury department, or

(ii) the taxpayer would have been required to report to the United States treasury department if it had not made an election under subchapter s of chapter one of the internal revenue code, or

(iii) the taxpayer, in the case of a corporation which is exempt from federal income tax (other than the tax on unrelated business taxable income imposed under section 511 of the internal revenue code) but which is subject to tax under this article, would have been required to report to the United States treasury department but for such exemption, or

(iv) in the case of an alien corporation that under any provision of the internal revenue code is not treated as a "domestic corporation" as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of such code is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States as determined under section 882 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(a) Entire net income shall not include:

(3) bona fide gifts,

(4) income and deductions with respect to amounts received from school districts and from corporations and associations, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, for the operation of school buses,

(5) (i) any refund or credit of a tax imposed under this article, article twenty-three, or former article thirty-two of this chapter, for which tax no exclusion or deduction was allowed in determining the taxpayer's entire net income under this article, article twenty-three, or former article thirty-two of this chapter for any prior year, or (ii) any refund or credit of a tax imposed under sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-three-a, one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-four-a of this chapter;

(6) any amount treated as dividends pursuant to section seventy-eight of the internal revenue code to the extent that such dividends are not deducted under section two hundred fifty of such code;

(7) that portion of wages and salaries paid or incurred for the taxable year for which a deduction is not allowed pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-C of the internal revenue code.

(9) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property which is a qualified mass commuting vehicle described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code (relating to qualified mass commuting vehicles) and property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine, any amount which is included in the taxpayer's federal taxable income solely as a result of an election made pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph eight as it was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four;

(10) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property which is a qualified mass commuting vehicle described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code (relating to qualified mass commuting vehicles) and property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine, any amount which the taxpayer could have excluded from federal taxable income had it not made the election provided for in such paragraph eight as it was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four;

(11) the amount deductible pursuant to paragraph (j) of this subdivision; and

(12) upon the disposition of property to which paragraph (j) of this subdivision applies, the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of the amounts described in subparagraph ten of paragraph (b) of this subdivision attributable to such property exceeds the aggregate of the amounts described in paragraph (j) of this subdivision attributable to such property; and

(14) The amount deductible pursuant to paragraph (l) of this subdivision.

(16) In the case of a taxpayer subject to the modification provided by subparagraph sixteen of paragraph (b) of this subdivision, the amount required to be recaptured pursuant to subsection (d) of section 179 of the internal revenue code with respect to property upon which such modification was based.

(17) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand two, the amount deductible pursuant to paragraph (n-1) of this subdivision.

(18) the amount of income or gain included in federal taxable income of a taxpayer that is a partner in a qualified entity or is a qualified entity that is located both within and without a New York state innovation hot spot, to the extent that the income or gain is attributable to the operations of a qualified entity at or as part of the New York state innovation hot spot as provided in section thirty-eight of this chapter.

(19) the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (r), (s) or (t) of this subdivision, but only the amount determined pursuant to one of such paragraphs.

(20) Any amount excepted, for purposes of subsection (a) of section one hundred eighteen of the internal revenue code, from the term "contribution to the capital of the taxpayer" by paragraph two of subsection (b) of section one hundred eighteen of the internal revenue code.

(21) The amount of any gain added back to determine entire net income in a previous taxable year pursuant to subparagraph twenty-seven of paragraph (b) of subdivision nine of this section that is included in federal gross income for the taxable year.

(22) Grants received pursuant to the COVID-19 pandemic small business recovery grant program, established in section 16-ff of the New York state urban development corporation act, to the extent includable in federal taxable income.

(23) The amount of any federal deduction disallowed pursuant to section 280E of the internal revenue code related to the production and distribution of adult-use cannabis products, as defined by article twenty-C of this chapter, not used as the basis for any other tax deduction, exemption, or credit and not otherwise required to be added back by paragraph (b) of this subdivision in computing entire net income.

(24) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, in the case of qualified production property described in paragraph two of subsection (n) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, the amount of any deduction allowed pursuant to subsection (a) of section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code as if the taxpayer has not made an election pursuant to subsection (n) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code.

(25) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the amount of any foreign and domestic research or experimental expenditures, as defined in sections one hundred seventy-four and 174A of the internal revenue code, paid or incurred in each taxable year on and after January first, two thousand twenty-five, amortized over a sixty-month period as if the election in subsection (c) of section 174A of the internal revenue code applied to such foreign and domestic research or experimental expenditures.

(26) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, the remaining amount of any foreign and domestic research or experimental expenditures, as defined in sections one hundred seventy-four and 174A of the internal revenue code, paid or incurred prior to January first, two thousand twenty-five, determined as if section one hundred seventy-four of the internal revenue code in effect as of January first, two thousand twenty-two, applied to such expenditures.

(b) Entire net income shall be determined without the exclusion, deduction or credit of:

(1) in the case of an alien corporation that under any provision of the internal revenue code is not treated as a "domestic corporation" as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of such code, (i) any part of any income from dividends or interest on any kind of stock, securities or indebtedness, but only if such income is treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States pursuant to section 864 of the internal revenue code, (ii) any income exempt from federal taxable income under any treaty obligation of the United States, but only if such income would be treated as effectively connected in absence of such exemption provided that such treaty obligation does not preclude the taxation of such income by a state, or (iii) any income which would be treated as effectively connected if such income were not excluded from gross income pursuant to subsection (a) of section 103 of the internal revenue code;

(2) any part of any income from dividends or interest on any kind of stock, securities or indebtedness,

(3) taxes on or measured by profits or income paid or accrued to the United States or any of its possessions, territories or commonwealths, including taxes in lieu of any of the foregoing taxes otherwise generally imposed by any possession, territory or commonwealth of the United States,

(3-a) taxes on or measured by profits or income, or which include profits or income as a measure, paid or accrued to any other state of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, or to the District of Columbia, including taxes expressly in lieu of any of the foregoing taxes otherwise generally imposed by any other state of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia;

(4) taxes imposed under this article and article thirty-two as in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen and sections one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-three-a, one hundred eighty-four and one hundred eighty-four-a of this chapter,

(4-a)(A) in those instances where a credit for the special additional mortgage recording tax credit is allowed under subdivision nine of section two hundred ten-B of this article, the amount allowed as an exclusion or deduction for the special additional mortgage recording tax imposed by subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter in determining the entire taxable income which the taxpayer is required to report to the United States treasury department, and (B) unless the credit allowed pursuant to subdivision nine of section two hundred ten-B of this article is reflected in the computation of the gain or loss so as to result in an increase in such gain or decrease of such loss, for federal income tax purposes, from the sale or other disposition of the property with respect to which the special additional mortgage recording tax imposed pursuant to subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter was paid, the amount of the special additional mortgage recording tax imposed by subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter which was paid and which is reflected in the computation of the basis of the property so as to result in a decrease in such gain or increase in such loss for federal income tax purposes from the sale or other disposition of the property with respect to which such tax was paid.

(6) any amount allowed as a deduction for the taxable year under section 172 of the internal revenue code, including carryovers of deductions from prior taxable years.

(8) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property which is a qualified mass commuting vehicle described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code (relating to qualified mass commuting vehicles) and property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine, any amount which the taxpayer claimed as a deduction in computing its federal taxable income solely as a result of an election made pursuant to the provisions of such paragraph eight as it was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four;

(9) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property which is a qualified mass commuting vehicle described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code (relating to qualified mass commuting vehicles) and property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine, any amount which the taxpayer would have been required to include in the computation of its federal taxable income had it not made the election permitted pursuant to such paragraph eight as it was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four;

(10) in the case of property placed in service in taxable years beginning before nineteen hundred ninety-four, for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property subject to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-F of the internal revenue code, property subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code which is placed in service in this state in taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-four and property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine, the amount allowable as a deduction determined under section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code;

(11) upon the disposition of property to which paragraph (j) of this subdivision applies, the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of the amounts described in such paragraph (j) attributable to such property exceeds the aggregate of the amounts described in subparagraph ten of this paragraph attributable to such property.

(15) Real property taxes paid on qualified agricultural property and deducted in determining federal taxable income, to the extent of the amount of the agricultural property tax credit allowed under subdivision eleven of section two hundred ten-B of this article.

(16) In the case of a taxpayer which is not an eligible farmer as defined in paragraph (b) of subdivision eleven of section two hundred ten-B of this article, the amount of any deduction claimed pursuant to section 179 of the internal revenue code with respect to a sport utility vehicle which is not a passenger automobile as defined in paragraph 5 of subsection (d) of section 280F of the internal revenue code.

(17) for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand two, in the case of qualified property described in paragraph two of subsection k of section 168 of the internal revenue code, other than qualified resurgence zone property described in paragraph (q) of this subdivision, and other than qualified New York Liberty Zone property described in paragraph two of subsection b of section 1400L of the internal revenue code (without regard to clause (i) of subparagraph (C) of such paragraph), which was placed in service on or after June first, two thousand three, the amount allowable as a deduction under section 167 of the internal revenue code.

(18) Premiums paid for environmental remediation insurance, as defined in section twenty-three of this chapter, and deducted in determining federal taxable income, to the extent of the amount of the environmental remediation insurance credit allowed under such section twenty-three and subdivision nineteen of section two hundred ten-B of this article.

(19) The amount of any deduction allowed pursuant to section one hundred ninety-nine of the internal revenue code.

(20) The amount of any federal deduction for taxes imposed under article twenty-three of this chapter.

(20-a) The amount of any federal deduction for the excise tax on telecommunication services to the extent such taxes are used as the basis of the calculation of the tax-free NY area excise tax on telecommunication services credit allowed under subdivision forty-four of section two hundred ten-B of this article.

(21) The amount of any federal deduction for real property taxes to the extent such taxes are used as the basis of the calculation of the real property tax credit for manufacturers allowed under subdivision forty-three of section two hundred ten-B of this article.

(22) the amount of any deduction for charitable contributions allowed under section one hundred seventy of the internal revenue code to the extent such contributions are used as the basis of the calculation of the farm donations to food pantries credit under subdivision fifty-two of section two hundred ten-B of this article.

(23) The amount of any federal deduction allowed pursuant to subsection (c) of section 965 of the internal revenue code.

(24) The amount of any federal deduction allowed pursuant to section 250(a)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code.

(25) The amount of any federal deduction allowed pursuant to section 250(a)(1)(B)(i) of the internal revenue code.

(26) For taxable years beginning in two thousand nineteen and two thousand twenty, the amount of the increase in the federal interest deduction allowed pursuant to section 163(j)(10)(A)(i) of the internal revenue code.

(27) The amount of any gain excluded from federal gross income for the taxable year by subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of section 1400Z-2 of the internal revenue code.

(28) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, in the case of qualified production property described in paragraph two of subsection (n) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, any amount which the taxpayer claimed as a deduction under subsection (a) of section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code that included an allowance solely as a result of an election made pursuant to subsection (n) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code.

(29) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five, any amount claimed as a deduction under sections one hundred seventy-four and 174A of the internal revenue code in effect as of January first, two thousand twenty-five, and any amount claimed as a deduction pursuant to federal Public Law 119-21, title VII, section 70302(f)(2)(a), for foreign and domestic research or experimental expenditures, as defined in sections one hundred seventy-four and 174A of the internal revenue code.

(c-1)(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, in the case of a taxpayer which is a foreign air carrier holding a foreign air carrier permit issued by the United States department of transportation pursuant to section four hundred two of the federal aviation act of nineteen hundred fifty-eight, as amended, and which is qualified under subparagraph two of this paragraph, entire net income shall not include, and shall be computed without the deduction of, amounts directly or indirectly attributable to, (i) any income derived from the international operation of aircraft as described in and subject to the provisions of section eight hundred eighty-three of the internal revenue code, (ii) income without the United States which is derived from the operation of aircraft, and (iii) income without the United States which is of a type described in subdivision (a) of section eight hundred eighty-one of the internal revenue code except that it is derived from sources without the United States. Entire net income shall include income described in clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph in the case of taxpayers not described in the previous sentence.

(2) A taxpayer is qualified under this subparagraph if air carriers organized in the United States and operating in the foreign country or countries in which the taxpayer has its major base of operations and in which it is organized, resident or headquartered (if not in the same country as its major base of operations) are not subject to any income tax or other tax based on or measured by income or receipts imposed by such foreign country or countries or any political subdivision thereof, or if so subject to such tax, are provided an exemption from such tax equivalent to that provided for herein.

(c-2) Adjustments by qualified public utilities. (1) In the case of a taxpayer which is a qualified public utility, entire net income shall be computed with the adjustments set forth in this paragraph.

(2) Definitions. (A) Qualified public utility. The term "qualified public utility" means a taxpayer which: (i) on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was subject to the ratemaking supervision of the state department of public service, and (ii) for the year ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was subject to tax under former section one hundred eighty-six of this chapter.

(B) Transition property. The term "transition property" means property placed in service by the taxpayer before January first, two thousand, for which a depreciation deduction is allowed under section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code.

(3) Federal depreciation disallowed. With respect to transition property, the deduction for federal income tax purposes for depreciation shall not be allowed.

(4) New York depreciation. With respect to transition property, a deduction shall be allowed for the depreciation expense shown on the books and records of the taxpayer for the taxable year and determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(5) Regulatory assets. A deduction shall be allowed for amounts recognized as expense on the books and records of the taxpayer for the taxable year, which amounts were recognized as expense for federal income tax purposes in a taxable year ending on or before December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, where: (A) such amounts represent expenditures which, when made, were charged to a deferred debit account or similar asset account on the books and records of the taxpayer, and where (B) the recognition of expense on the books and records of the taxpayer is matched by revenue stemming from a procedure or adjustment allowing the recovery of such expenditures, and where (C) such revenue is recognized for federal income tax purposes in the taxable year.

(6) Basis for gain or loss. (A) Recognition transactions. (i) General rule - book basis. Except as provided in subclause (ii) of this clause, where transition property is sold or otherwise disposed of in the taxable year in a transaction of the type requiring recognition of gain or loss for federal income tax purposes, the basis for determining the amount of such gain or loss under this article shall be the cost of the property less the accumulated depreciation on the property determined on the books and records of the taxpayer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(ii) Qualified gain - New York basis. Where a sale or disposition described in subclause (i) of this clause results in recognition of gain for federal income tax purposes, and where either (I) such recognition occurs in a taxable year ending after nineteen hundred ninety-nine and before two thousand ten, or (II) such recognition is with respect to a nuclear electric generating facility, the basis for determining the amount of such gain under this article shall be the cost of the property less the aggregate of the New York depreciation deductions on the property determined under subparagraph four of this paragraph.

(iii) No conversion of gain to loss. In the event that the basis determined under subclause (ii) of this clause results in determination of a loss on the sale or disposition of the property, no gain or loss shall be recognized under this article with respect to such sale or disposition.

(B) Nonrecognition transactions. (i) Carryover basis. (I) where transition property is disposed of ("original disposition") in a transaction of a type requiring deferral of recognition of gain or loss for federal income tax purposes, and where (II) there is a subsequent recognition of gain or loss for federal income tax purposes ("clause B gain or loss"), the amount of which is determined by reference, in whole or in part, to the basis of such transition property ("underlying transition property"), then (III) the amount of such clause B gain or loss under this article shall be adjusted as provided in subclause (ii) or (iii) of this clause.

(ii) General rule - book basis adjustment. Except as provided in subclause (iii) of this clause, the amount of clause B gain shall be reduced, or the amount of clause B loss increased, by the amount by which the book basis of the underlying transition property on the date of original disposition (determined using the provisions of subclause (i) of clause (A) of this subparagraph) exceeds the federal income tax basis of such property on such date.

(iii) Qualified gain - New York basis adjustment. Where clause B gain either (I) occurs in a taxable year ending after nineteen hundred ninety-nine and before two thousand ten, or (II) is with respect to a nuclear electric generating facility, the amount of such gain under this article shall be reduced, but not below zero, by the amount by which the New York basis of the underlying transition property on the date of original disposition (determined using the provisions of subclause (ii) of clause (A) of this subparagraph) exceeds the federal income tax basis of such property on such date.

(iv) Application to replacement property and transferee taxpayers. This clause shall apply whether the clause B gain or loss: (I) is with respect to either transition property or depreciable property the basis of which is determined by reference to transition property, or (II) is recognized by either a qualified public utility or by a taxpayer which is a transferee of transition property (whether or not such transferee is a qualified public utility, notwithstanding subparagraph one of this paragraph).

(c-3) Depreciation adjustments by qualified power producers and pipeline companies. (1) In the case of a qualified taxpayer, entire net income shall be computed with the depreciation adjustments set forth in this paragraph.

(2) Definitions. (A) Qualified taxpayer. The term "qualified taxpayer" means a qualified power producer or a qualified pipeline.

(B) Qualified power producer. The term "qualified power producer" means a taxpayer which: (i) on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was not subject to the ratemaking supervision of the state department of public service, and (ii) for the year ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was subject to tax under former section one hundred eighty-six of this chapter on account of its being principally engaged in the business of supplying electricity.

(C) Qualified pipeline. The term "qualified pipeline" means a taxpayer which: (i) on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was subject to the ratemaking supervision of either the federal energy regulatory commission or the state department of public service, and (ii) for the year ending on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-nine, was subject to tax under sections one hundred eighty-three and one hundred eighty-four of this chapter on account of its being principally engaged in the business of pipeline transmission.

(D) Transition property. The term "transition property" means property placed in service by a qualified taxpayer before January first, two thousand, for which a depreciation deduction is allowed under section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code.

(3) Federal depreciation disallowed. With respect to transition property, the deduction for federal income tax purposes for depreciation shall not be allowed.

(4) New York depreciation. With respect to transition property, a deduction shall be allowed for the depreciation expense computed as provided in this subparagraph. (A) All transition property shown on the books and records of the taxpayer on January first, two thousand shall be treated as a single asset placed in service on such date. The New York basis for purposes of computing the depreciation deduction on such single asset shall be the net book value of such transition property determined on the first day of the federal taxable year ending in two thousand (or on the date any such property is placed in service, if later) adjusted as provided in clause (B) of this subparagraph.

(B) If transition property is sold or otherwise disposed of, the New York basis of the single asset shall be reduced on the date of such sale or disposition by the amount of the adjusted federal tax basis of such property on such date.

(C) The New York depreciation deduction allowed for any taxable year with respect to such single asset shall be computed using the straight-line method, a twenty-year life, and a salvage value of zero.

(D) For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "net book value" means cost reduced by accumulated depreciation shown on the books and records of the taxpayer and determined, in the case of a qualified power producer, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; and in the case of a qualified pipeline, in accordance with the taxpayer's regulatory reports filed with the federal energy regulatory commission or state department of public service.

(c-4) Depreciation and interest deduction adjustments for covered properties owned by an institutional real estate investor. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, in the case of a corporation or combined group that is an institutional real estate investor or a partner, member or shareholder of an entity that is an institutional real estate investor, entire net income shall be computed with the adjustments for depreciation and interest related to covered properties as set forth in this paragraph.

(2) Definitions. (A) "Institutional real estate investor" means an entity or combined group that, directly or indirectly (i) owns ten or more covered properties, (ii) manages funds pooled from investors and acts as a fiduciary with respect to one or more investors, and (iii) has thirty million dollars or more in net value or assets under management on any day during the taxable year. An entity is considered owning a covered property if it directly owns the covered property or indirectly owns ten percent or more of the covered property.

(B) "Covered property" means a residential property consisting of no more than two dwelling units located in New York state.

(3) Depreciation deductions. With respect to covered properties, no deduction for depreciation allowed under the internal revenue code or this section shall be allowed.

(4) Interest deductions. With respect to covered properties, the interest deduction for federal income tax purposes allowed under section one hundred sixty-three of the internal revenue code shall not be allowed and must be added back in the computation of entire net income, except with respect to interest paid or accrued in the taxable year when such covered property is sold to an individual for use as the principal residence of such individual or sold to a nonprofit organization that has as its principal purpose the creation, development, or preservation of affordable housing. For purposes of this subparagraph, any amount of interest that would have been allowed under section one hundred sixty-three of the internal revenue code in connection with a covered property but for an election to treat such interest as chargeable to capital account shall be treated as an amount allowed under section one hundred sixty-three of the internal revenue code.

(d) The commissioner may, whenever necessary in order properly to reflect the entire net income of any taxpayer, determine the year or period in which any item of income or deduction shall be included, without regard to the method of accounting employed by the taxpayer.

(e) The entire net income of any bridge commission created by act of congress to construct a bridge across an international boundary means its gross income less the expense of maintaining and operating its properties, the annual interest upon its bonds and other obligations, and the annual charge for the retirement of such bonds or obligations at maturity.

(h) If the period covered by a report under this article is other than the period covered by the report to the United States treasury department,

(1) except as provided in subparagraph two hereof, entire net income shall be determined by multiplying the taxable income reported to such department (as adjusted pursuant to the provisions of this article) by the number of calendar months or major parts thereof covered by the report under this article and dividing by the number of calendar months or major parts thereof covered by the report to such department. If it shall appear that such method of determining entire net income does not properly reflect the taxpayer's income during the period covered by the report under this article, the commissioner shall be authorized in its discretion to determine such entire net income solely on the basis of the taxpayer's income during the period covered by its report under this article.

(2) In the case of a New York S termination year, an equal portion of entire net income shall be assigned to each day of such year. The portion of such entire net income thereby assigned to the S short year and the C short year shall be included in the respective reports for the

S short year and the C short year under this article. However, where paragraph three of subsection (s) of section six hundred twelve of this chapter applies, the portion of such entire net income assigned to the S short year and the C short year shall be determined under normal tax accounting rules.

(i) With respect to a DISC which during any taxable year or reporting year (1) received more than five percent of its gross sales from the sale of inventory or other property which it purchased from its stockholders, (2) received more than five percent of its gross rentals from the rental of property which it purchased or rented from its stockholders or (3) received more than five percent of its total receipts other than sales and rentals from its stockholders, the following provisions shall apply.

(A) For any taxable year in which sub-paragraph (B) of this paragraph is in effect and not rendered invalid, a DISC meeting the above test shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this article.

(B) Supplemental to the provisions of subdivision five of section two hundred eleven of this article, any taxpayer required to compute a tax under this article, which during the taxable year being reported was a stockholder in any DISC meeting the test prescribed in this paragraph, shall for any taxable year ending after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-one adjust each item of its receipts, expenses, assets and liabilities, as otherwise computed under this article, by adding thereto its attributable share of each such DISC's receipts, expenses, assets and liabilities as reportable by each such DISC to the United States Treasury Department for its annual reporting period ending during the current taxable year of such taxpayer; provided, however, (1) that all transactions between the taxpayer and each such DISC shall be eliminated from the taxpayer's adjusted receipts, expenses, assets and liabilities; (2) that the taxpayer's entire net income as otherwise computed under this section, shall be reduced by subtracting the amount of the deemed distribution of current income, if any, from each such DISC already included in the entire net income of such taxpayer by virtue of having been included in its entire taxable income for that taxable year as reported to the United States Treasury Department; and (3) that in the event this paragraph should be rendered invalid, all DISC's and their stockholders taxable hereunder shall be taxed instead under the remaining portions of this article.

(j) in the case of property placed in service in taxable years beginning before nineteen hundred ninety-four, for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-one, except with respect to property subject to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-F of the internal revenue code and property subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code which is placed in service in this state in taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-four, and provided a deduction has not been excluded from entire net income pursuant to subparagraph eight of paragraph (b) of this subdivision, a taxpayer shall be allowed with respect to property which is subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code the depreciation deduction allowable under section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code as such section would have applied to property placed in service on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty. This paragraph shall not apply to property of a taxpayer principally engaged in the conduct of aviation (other than air freight forwarders acting as principal and like indirect air carriers) which is placed in service before taxable years beginning in nineteen hundred eighty-nine.

(k) QSSS. (1) New York S corporation. In the case of a New York S corporation which is the parent of a qualified subchapter S subsidiary (QSSS) with respect to a taxable year:

(A) where the QSSS is not an excluded corporation,

(i) in determining the entire net income of such parent corporation, all assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the QSSS shall be treated as assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the parent corporation, and

(ii) the QSSS shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this article, and

(B) where the QSSS is an excluded corporation, the entire net income of the parent corporation shall be determined as if the federal QSSS election had not been made.

(2) New York C corporation. In the case of a New York C corporation which is the parent of a QSSS with respect to a taxable year:

(A) where the QSSS is a taxpayer,

(i) in determining the entire net income of such parent corporation, all assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the QSSS shall be treated as assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the parent corporation, and

(ii) the QSSS shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this article, and

(B) where the QSSS is not a taxpayer,

(i) if the QSSS is not an excluded corporation, the parent corporation may make a QSSS inclusion election to include all assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the QSSS as assets, liabilities, income and deductions of the parent corporation, and

(ii) in the absence of such election, or where the QSSS is an excluded corporation, the entire net income of the parent corporation shall be determined as if the federal QSSS election had not been made.

(3) Non-New York S corporation not excluded. In the case of an S corporation which is not a taxpayer and not an excluded corporation, and which is the parent of a QSSS which is a taxpayer, the shareholders of the parent corporation shall be entitled to make the New York S election under subsection (a) of section six hundred sixty of this chapter.

(A) For any taxable year for which such election is in effect, the parent corporation shall be subject to tax under this article as a New York S corporation, and the provisions of clause (A) of subparagraph one of this paragraph shall apply.

(B) For any taxable year for which such election is not in effect, the QSSS shall be a New York C corporation, and the entire net income of the QSSS shall be determined as if the federal QSSS election had not been made. For purposes of such determination, the taxable year of the parent corporation shall constitute the taxable year of the QSSS, excluding, however, any portion of such year during which the QSSS is not a taxpayer.

(4) S corporation excluded. In the case of an S corporation which is an excluded corporation and which is the parent of a QSSS which is a taxpayer, the QSSS shall be a New York C corporation and the provisions of clause (B) of subparagraph three of this paragraph shall apply.

(5) Excluded corporation. The term "excluded corporation" means a corporation subject to tax under sections one hundred eighty-three through one hundred eighty-six, inclusive, or article thirty-three of this chapter, or a foreign corporation not taxable by this state which, if it were taxable, would be subject to tax under any of such sections or article.

(6) Taxpayer. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "taxpayer" means a parent corporation or QSSS subject to tax under this article, determined without regard to the provisions of this paragraph.

(7) QSSS inclusion election. The election under subclause (i) of clause (B) of subparagraph two of this paragraph shall be effective for the taxable year for which made and for all succeeding taxable years of the corporation until such election is terminated. An election or termination shall be made on such form and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe by regulation or instruction.

(l) Emerging technology investment deferral. In the case of any sale of a qualified emerging technologies investment held for more than thirty-six months and with respect to which the taxpayer elects the application of this paragraph, gain from such sale shall be recognized only to the extent that the amount realized on such sale exceeds the cost of any qualified emerging technologies investment purchased by the taxpayer during the three hundred sixty-five-day period beginning on the date of such sale, reduced by any portion of such cost previously taken into account under this paragraph. For purposes of this paragraph the following shall apply:

(1) A qualified investment is stock of a corporation or an interest, other than as a creditor, in a partnership or limited liability company that was acquired by the taxpayer as provided in Internal Revenue Code § 1202(c)(1)(B), except that the reference to the term "stock" in such section shall be read as "investment," or by the taxpayer from a person who had acquired such stock or interest in such a manner.

(2) A qualified emerging technology investment is a qualified investment, that was held by the taxpayer for at least thirty-six months, in a company defined in paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law or an investment in a partnership or limited liability company that is taxed as a partnership to the extent that such partnership or limited liability company invests in qualified emerging technology companies.

(3) For purposes of determining whether the nonrecognition of gain under this subsection applies to a qualified emerging technologies investment that is sold, the taxpayer's holding period for such investment and the qualified emerging technologies investment that is purchased shall be determined without regard to Internal Revenue Code § 1223.

(m) Amounts deferred. The amount deferred under paragraph (l) of this subdivision shall be added to entire net income when the reinvestment in the New York qualified emerging technology company which qualified a taxpayer for such deferral is sold.

(n-1) For taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand two, in the case of qualified property described in paragraph two of subsection k of section 168 of the internal revenue code, other than qualified resurgence zone property described in paragraph (q) of this subdivision, and other than qualified New York Liberty Zone property described in paragraph two of subsection b of section 1400L of the internal revenue code (without regard to clause (i) of subparagraph (C) of such paragraph), which was placed in service on or after June first, two thousand three, a taxpayer shall be allowed with respect to such property the depreciation deduction allowable under section 167 of the internal revenue code as such section would have applied to such property had it been acquired by the taxpayer on September tenth, two thousand one.

(o) Related members expense add back. (1) Definitions. (A) Related member. "Related member" means a related person as defined in subparagraph (c) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code, except that "fifty percent" shall be substituted for "ten percent".

(B) Effective rate of tax. "Effective rate of tax" means, as to any state or U.S. possession, the maximum statutory rate of tax imposed by the state or possession on or measured by a related member's net income multiplied by the apportionment percentage, if any, applicable to the related member under the laws of said jurisdiction. For purposes of this definition, the effective rate of tax as to any state or U.S. possession is zero where the related member's net income tax liability in said jurisdiction is reported on a combined or consolidated return including both the taxpayer and the related member where the reported transactions between the taxpayer and the related member are eliminated or offset. Also, for purposes of this definition, when computing the effective rate of tax for a jurisdiction in which a related member's net income is eliminated or offset by a credit or similar adjustment that is dependent upon the related member either maintaining or managing intangible property or collecting interest income in that jurisdiction, the maximum statutory rate of tax imposed by said jurisdiction shall be decreased to reflect the statutory rate of tax that applies to the related member as effectively reduced by such credit or similar adjustment.

(C) Royalty payments. Royalty payments are payments directly connected to the acquisition, use, maintenance or management, ownership, sale, exchange, or any other disposition of licenses, trademarks, copyrights, trade names, trade dress, service marks, mask works, trade secrets, patents and any other similar types of intangible assets as determined by the commissioner, and include amounts allowable as interest deductions under section one hundred sixty-three of the internal revenue code to the extent such amounts are directly or indirectly for, related to or in connection with the acquisition, use, maintenance or management, ownership, sale, exchange or disposition of such intangible assets.

(D) Valid Business Purpose. A valid business purpose is one or more business purposes, other than the avoidance or reduction of taxation, which alone or in combination constitute the primary motivation for some business activity or transaction, which activity or transaction changes in a meaningful way, apart from tax effects, the economic position of the taxpayer. The economic position of the taxpayer includes an increase in the market share of the taxpayer, or the entry by the taxpayer into new business markets.

(2) Royalty expense add backs. (A) Except where a taxpayer is included in a combined report with a related member pursuant to section two hundred ten-C of this article, for the purpose of computing entire net income or other applicable taxable basis, a taxpayer must add back royalty payments directly or indirectly paid, accrued, or incurred in connection with one or more direct or indirect transactions with one or more related members during the taxable year to the extent deductible in calculating federal taxable income.

(B) Exceptions. (i) The adjustment required in this paragraph shall not apply to the portion of the royalty payment that the taxpayer establishes, by clear and convincing evidence of the type and in the form specified by the commissioner, meets all of the following requirements: (I) the related member was subject to tax in this state or another state or possession of the United States or a foreign nation or some combination thereof on a tax base that included the royalty payment paid, accrued or incurred by the taxpayer; (II) the related member during the same taxable year directly or indirectly paid, accrued or incurred such portion to a person that is not a related member; and (III) the transaction giving rise to the royalty payment between the taxpayer and the related member was undertaken for a valid business purpose.

(ii) The adjustment required in this paragraph shall not apply if the taxpayer establishes, by clear and convincing evidence of the type and in the form specified by the commissioner, that: (I) the related member was subject to tax on or measured by its net income in this state or another state or possession of the United States or some combination thereof; (II) the tax base for said tax included the royalty payment paid, accrued or incurred by the taxpayer; and (III) the aggregate effective rate of tax applied to the related member in those jurisdictions is no less than eighty percent of the statutory rate of tax that applied to the taxpayer under section two hundred ten of this article for the taxable year.

(iii) The adjustment required in this paragraph shall not apply if the taxpayer establishes, by clear and convincing evidence of the type and in the form specified by the commissioner, that: (I) the royalty payment was paid, accrued or incurred to a related member organized under the laws of a country other than the United States; (II) the related member's income from the transaction was subject to a comprehensive income tax treaty between such country and the United States; (III) the related member was subject to tax in a foreign nation on a tax base that included the royalty payment paid, accrued or incurred by the taxpayer; (IV) the related member's income from the transaction was taxed in such country at an effective rate of tax at least equal to that imposed by this state; and (V) the royalty payment was paid, accrued or incurred pursuant to a transaction that was undertaken for a valid business purpose and using terms that reflect an arm's length relationship.

(iv) The adjustment required in this paragraph shall not apply if the taxpayer and the commissioner agree in writing to the application or use of alternative adjustments or computations. The commissioner may, in his or her discretion, agree to the application or use of alternative adjustments or computations when he or she concludes that in the absence of such agreement the income of the taxpayer would not be properly reflected.

(p) For taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand two, upon the disposition of property to which paragraph (n-1) of this subdivision applies, the amount of any gain or loss includible in entire net income shall be adjusted to reflect the inclusions and exclusions from entire net income pursuant to subparagraph seventeen of paragraph (a) and subparagraph seventeen of paragraph (b) of this subdivision attributable to such property.

(q) For purposes of paragraphs (n-1) and (p) of this subdivision, qualified resurgence zone property shall mean qualified property described in paragraph two of subsection k of section 168 of the internal revenue code substantially all of the use of which is in the resurgence zone, as defined below, and is in the active conduct of a trade or business by the taxpayer in such zone, and the original use of which in the resurgence zone commences with the taxpayer after December thirty-first, two thousand two. The resurgence zone shall mean the area of New York county bounded on the south by a line running from the intersection of the Hudson River with the Holland Tunnel, and running thence east to Canal Street, then running along the centerline of Canal Street to the intersection of the Bowery and Canal Street, running thence in a southeasterly direction diagonally across Manhattan Bridge Plaza, to the Manhattan Bridge and thence along the centerline of the Manhattan Bridge to the point where the centerline of the Manhattan Bridge would intersect with the easterly bank of the East River, and bounded on the north by a line running from the intersection of the Hudson River with the Holland Tunnel and running thence north along West Avenue to the intersection of Clarkson Street then running east along the centerline of Clarkson Street to the intersection of Washington Avenue, then running south along the centerline of Washington Avenue to the intersection of West Houston Street, then east along the centerline of West Houston Street, then at the intersection of the Avenue of the Americas continuing east along the centerline of East Houston Street to the easterly bank of the East River.

(r) Subtraction modification for qualified residential loan portfolios. (1)(A) A taxpayer that is either a thrift institution as defined in subparagraph three of this paragraph or a qualified community bank as defined in subparagraph two of paragraph (s) of this subdivision and maintains a qualified residential loan portfolio as defined in subparagraph two of this paragraph shall be allowed as a deduction in computing entire net income the amount, if any, by which (i) thirty-two percent of its entire net income determined without regard to this paragraph exceeds (ii) the amounts deducted by the taxpayer pursuant to sections 166 and 585 of the Internal Revenue Code less any amounts included in federal taxable income as a result of a recovery of a loan.

(B)(i) If the taxpayer is in a combined report under section two hundred ten-C of this article, this deduction will be computed on a combined basis. In that instance, the entire net income of the combined reporting group for purposes of this paragraph shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the average total assets of all the thrift institutions and qualified community banks included in the combined report and the denominator of which is the average total assets of all the corporations included in the combined report.

(ii) Measurement of assets. For purposes of this paragraph: (I) Total assets are those assets that are properly reflected on a balance sheet, computed in the same manner as is required by the banking regulator of the taxpayers included in the combined return. In addition, total assets includes leased real property that is not properly reflected on a balance sheet.

(II) Assets will only be included if the income or expenses of which are properly reflected (or would have been properly reflected if not fully depreciated or expensed, or depreciated or expensed to a nominal amount) in the computation of the combined group's entire net income for the taxable year. Assets will not include deferred tax assets and intangible assets identified as "goodwill".

(III) Tangible real and personal property, such as buildings, land, machinery, and equipment shall be valued at cost. Leased real property that is not properly reflected on a balance sheet will be valued at the annual lease payment multiplied by eight. Intangible property, such as loans and investments, shall be valued at book value exclusive of reserves.

(IV) Intercompany stockholdings and bills, notes and accounts receivable, and other intercompany indebtedness between the corporations included in the combined report shall be eliminated.

(V) Average assets are computed using the assets measured on the first day of the taxable year, and on the last day of each subsequent quarter of the taxable year or month or day during the taxable year.

(2) Qualified residential loan portfolio. (A) A taxpayer maintains a qualified residential loan portfolio if at least sixty percent of the amount of the total assets at the close of the taxable year of the thrift institution or qualified community bank consists of the assets described in items (i) through (xii) of this clause, with the application of the rule in item (xiii). If the taxpayer is a member of a combined group, the determination of whether there is a qualified residential loan portfolio will be made by aggregating the assets of the thrift institutions and qualified community banks that are members of the combined group.

Assets:

(i) cash, which includes cash and cash equivalents including cash items in the process of collection, deposit with other financial institutions, including corporate credit unions, balances with federal reserve banks and federal home loan banks, federal funds sold, and cash and cash equivalents on hand. Cash shall not include any balances serving as collateral for securities lending transactions;

(ii) obligations of the United States or of a state or political subdivision thereof, and stock or obligations of a corporation which is an instrumentality or a government sponsored enterprise of the United States or of a state or political subdivision thereof;

(iii) loans secured by a deposit or share of a member;

(iv) loans secured by an interest in real property which is (or from the proceeds of the loan, will become) residential real property or real property used primarily for church purposes, loans made for the improvement of residential real property or real property used primarily for church purposes, provided that for purposes of this item, residential real property shall include single or multi-family dwellings, facilities in residential developments dedicated to public use or property used on a nonprofit basis for residents, and mobile homes not used on a transient basis;

(v) property acquired through the liquidation of defaulted loans described in item (iv) of this clause;

(vi) any regular or residual interest in a REMIC, as such term is defined in section 860D of the internal revenue code, but only in the proportion which the assets of such REMIC consist of property described in any of the preceding items of this clause, except that if ninety-five percent or more of the assets of such REMIC are assets described in items (i) through (v) of this clause, the entire interest in the REMIC shall qualify;

(vii) any mortgage-backed security which represents ownership of a fractional undivided interest in a trust, the assets of which consist primarily of mortgage loans, provided that the real property which serves as security for the loans is (or from the proceeds of the loan, will become) the type of property described in item (iv) of this clause and any collateralized mortgage obligation, the security for which consists primarily of mortgage loans that maintain as security the type of property described in item (iv) of this clause;

(viii) certificates of deposit in, or obligations of, a corporation organized under a state law which specifically authorizes such corporation to insure the deposits or share accounts of member associations;

(ix) loans secured by an interest in educational, health, or welfare institutions or facilities, including structures designed or used primarily for residential purposes for students, residents, and persons under care, employees, or members of the staff of such institutions or facilities;

(x) loans made for the payment of expenses of college or university education or vocational training;

(xi) property used by the taxpayer in support of business which consists principally of acquiring the savings of the public and investing in loans; and

(xii) loans for which the taxpayer is the creditor and which are wholly secured by loans described in item (iv) of this clause.

(xiii) The value of accrued interest receivable and any loss-sharing commitment or other loan guaranty by a governmental agency will be considered part of the basis in the loans to which the accrued interest or loss protection applies.

(B) At the election of the taxpayer, the percentage specified in clause (A) of this subparagraph shall be applied on the basis of the average assets outstanding during the taxable year, in lieu of the close of the taxable year. The taxpayer can elect to compute an average using the assets measured on the first day of the taxable year and on the last day of each subsequent quarter, or month or day during the taxable year. This election may be made annually.

(C) For purposes of item (iv) of clause (A) of this subparagraph, if a multifamily structure securing a loan is used in part for nonresidential use purposes, the entire loan is deemed a residential real property loan if the planned residential use exceeds eighty percent of the property's planned use (measured, at the taxpayer's election, by using square footage or gross rental revenue, and determined as of the time the loan is made).

(D) For purposes of item (iv) of clause (A) of this subparagraph, loans made to finance the acquisition or development of land shall be deemed to be loans secured by an interest in residential real property if there is a reasonable assurance that the property will become residential real property within a period of three years from the date of acquisition of such land; but this sentence shall not apply for any taxable year unless, within such three year period, such land becomes residential real property. For purposes of determining whether any interest in a REMIC qualifies under item (vi) of clause (A) of this subparagraph, any regular interest in another REMIC held by such REMIC shall be treated as a loan described in a preceding item under principles similar to the principle of such item (vi), except that if such REMICs are part of a tiered structure, they shall be treated as one REMIC for purposes of such item (vi).

(3) For purposes of this paragraph, a "thrift institution" is a savings bank, a savings and loan association, or other savings institution chartered and supervised as such under federal or state law.

(s) Subtraction modification for community banks and small thrifts.

(1) A taxpayer that is a qualified community bank as defined in subparagraph two of this paragraph or a small thrift institution as defined in subparagraph two-a of this paragraph shall be allowed a deduction in computing entire net income equal to the amount computed under subparagraph three of this paragraph.

(2) To be a qualified community bank, a taxpayer must satisfy the following conditions.

(A) It is a bank or trust company organized under or subject to the provisions of article three of the banking law or a comparable provision of the laws of another state, or a national banking association.

(B) The average value during the taxable year of the assets of the taxpayer, or, if the taxpayer is included in a combined report, the assets of the combined reporting group of the taxpayer under section two hundred ten-C of this article, must not exceed eight billion dollars.

(2-a) To be a small thrift institution, a taxpayer must satisfy the following conditions.

(A) It is a savings bank, a savings and loan association, or other savings institution chartered and supervised as such under federal or state law.

(B) The average value during the taxable year of the assets of the taxpayer, or, if the taxpayer is included in a combined report, the assets of the combined reporting group of the taxpayer under section two hundred ten-C of this article, must not exceed eight billion dollars.

(3)(A) The subtraction modification shall be computed as follows:

(i) Multiply the taxpayer's net interest income from loans during the taxable year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the gross interest income during the taxable year from qualifying loans and the denominator of which is the gross interest income during the taxable year from all loans.

(ii) Multiply the amount determined in clause (i) by fifty percent. This product is the amount of the deduction allowed under this paragraph.

(B)(i) Net interest income from loans shall mean gross interest income from loans less gross interest expense from loans. Gross interest expense from loans is determined by multiplying gross interest expense by a fraction, the numerator of which is the average total value of loans owned by the thrift institution or community bank during the taxable year and the denominator of which is the average total assets of the thrift institution or community bank during the taxable year.

(ii) Measurement of assets. (I) Total assets are those assets that are properly reflected on a balance sheet, computed in the same manner as is required by the banking regulator of the taxpayers included in the combined return. In addition, total assets includes leased real property that is not properly reflected on a balance sheet.

(II) Assets will only be included if the income or expenses of which are properly reflected (or would have been properly reflected if not fully depreciated or expensed, or depreciated or expensed to a nominal amount) in the computation of the taxpayer's entire net income for the taxable year. Assets will not include deferred tax assets and intangible assets identified as "goodwill".

(III) Tangible real and personal property, such as buildings, land, machinery, and equipment shall be valued at cost. Leased real property that is not properly reflected on that balance sheet will be valued at the annual lease payment multiplied by eight. Intangible property, such as loans and investments, shall be valued at book value exclusive of reserves.

(IV) Average assets are computed using the assets measured on the first day of the taxable year, and on the last day of each subsequent quarter of the taxable year or month or day during the taxable year.

(C) A qualifying loan is a loan that meets the conditions specified in subclause (i) of this clause and subclause (ii) of this clause.

(i) The loan is originated by the qualified community bank or small thrift institution or purchased by the qualified community bank or small thrift institution immediately after its origination in connection with a commitment to purchase made by the bank or thrift institution prior to the loan's origination.

(ii) The loan is a small business loan or a residential mortgage loan, the principal amount of which loan is five million dollars or less, and either the borrower is located in this state as determined under section two hundred ten-A of this article and the loan is not secured by real property, or the loan is secured by real property located in New York.

(iii) A loan that meets the definition of a qualifying loan in a prior taxable year (including years prior to the effective date of this paragraph) remains a qualifying loan in taxable years during and after which such loan is acquired by another corporation in the taxpayer's combined reporting group under section two hundred ten-C of this article.

(t) A small thrift institution or a qualified community bank, as defined in paragraph (s) of this subdivision, that maintained a captive REIT on April first, two thousand fourteen shall utilize a REIT subtraction equal to one hundred sixty percent of the dividends paid deductions allowed to that captive REIT for the taxable year for federal income tax purposes and shall not be allowed to utilize the subtraction modification for qualified residential loan portfolios under paragraph (r) of this subdivision or the subtraction modification for community banks and small thrifts under paragraph (s) of this subdivision in any tax year in which such thrift institution or community bank maintains that captive REIT.

10. The term "calendar year" means a period of twelve calendar months (or any shorter period beginning on the date the taxpayer becomes subject to the tax imposed by this article) ending on the thirty-first day of December, provided the taxpayer keeps its books on the basis of such period or on the basis of any period ending on any day other than the last day of a calendar month, or provided the taxpayer does not keep books, and includes, in case the taxpayer changes the period on the basis of which it keeps its books from a fiscal year to a calendar year, the period from the close of its last old fiscal year up to and including the following December thirty-first. The term "fiscal year" means a period of twelve calendar months (or any shorter period beginning on the date the taxpayer becomes subject to the tax imposed by this article) ending on the last day of any month other than December, provided the taxpayer keeps its books on the basis of such period, and includes, in case the taxpayer changes the period on the basis of which it keeps its books from a calendar year to a fiscal year or from one fiscal year to another fiscal year, the period from the close of its last old calendar or fiscal year up to the date designated as the close of its new fiscal year.

11. The term "tangible personal property" means corporeal personal property, such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and does not mean money, deposits in banks, shares of stock, bonds, notes, credits or evidences of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

12. The term elected or appointed officer shall include the chairman, president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer, assistant treasurer, comptroller, and also any other officer, irrespective of his title, who is charged with and performs any of the regular functions of any such officer, unless the total compensation of such officer is derived exclusively from the receipt of commissions. A director shall be considered an elected or appointed officer only if he performs duties ordinarily performed by an officer.

§ 209. Imposition of tax; exemptions. 1. (a) For the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in this state in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office in this state, or of deriving receipts from activity in this state, for all or any part of each of its fiscal or calendar years, every domestic or foreign corporation, except corporations specified in subdivision four of this section, shall annually pay a franchise tax, upon the basis of its business income base, or upon such other basis as may be applicable as hereinafter provided, for such fiscal or calendar year or part thereof, on a report which shall be filed, except as hereinafter provided, on or before the fifteenth day of March next succeeding the close of each such year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and on or before the fifteenth day of April next succeeding the close of each such year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, or, in the case of a corporation which reports on the basis of a fiscal year, within two and one-half months after the close of such fiscal year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month after the close of such fiscal year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, and shall be paid as hereinafter provided.

(b) A corporation is deriving receipts from activity in this state if it has receipts within this state of one million dollars or more in the taxable year. For purposes of this section, the term "receipts" means the receipts that are subject to the apportionment rules set forth in section two hundred ten-A of this article, and the term "receipts within this state" means the receipts included in the numerator of the apportionment factor determined under section two hundred ten-A of this article. For purposes of this paragraph, receipts from processing credit card transactions for merchants include merchant discount fees received by the corporation.

(c) A corporation is doing business in this state if (i) it has issued credit cards to one thousand or more customers who have a mailing address within this state as of the last day of its taxable year, (ii) it has merchant customer contracts with merchants and the total number of locations covered by those contracts equals one thousand or more locations in this state to whom the corporation remitted payments for credit card transactions during the taxable year, or (iii) the sum of the number of customers described in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph plus the number of locations covered by its contracts described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph equals one thousand or more. As used in this subdivision, the term "credit card" includes bank, credit, travel and entertainment cards.

(d)(i) A corporation with less than one million dollars but at least ten thousand dollars of receipts within this state in a taxable year that is part of a unitary group that meets the ownership test under section two hundred ten-C of this article is deriving receipts from activity in this state if the receipts within this state of the members of the unitary group that have at least ten thousand dollars of receipts within this state in the aggregate meet the threshold set forth in paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(ii) A corporation that does not meet any of the thresholds set forth in paragraph (c) of this subdivision but has at least ten customers, or locations, or customers and locations, as described in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, and is part of a unitary group that meets the ownership test under section two hundred ten-C of this article is doing business in this state if the number of customers, locations, or customers and locations, within this state of the members of the unitary group that have at least ten customers, locations, or customers and locations, within this state in the aggregate meets any of the thresholds set forth in paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(iii) For purposes of this paragraph, any corporation described in paragraph (c) of subdivision two of section two hundred ten-C of this article shall not be considered.

(e) At the end of each year, the commissioner shall review the cumulative percentage change in the consumer price index. The commissioner shall adjust the receipt thresholds set forth in this subdivision if the consumer price index has changed by ten percent or more since January first, two thousand fifteen, or since the date that the thresholds were last adjusted under this subdivision. The thresholds shall be adjusted to reflect that cumulative percentage change in the consumer price index. The adjusted thresholds shall be rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars. As used in this paragraph, "consumer price index" means the consumer price index for all urban consumers (CPI-U) available from the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor. Any adjustment shall apply to tax periods that begin after the adjustment is made.

(f) If a partnership is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property in this state, maintaining an office in the state, or deriving receipts from activity in this state, any corporation that is a partner in such partnership shall be subject to tax under this article as described in the regulations of the commissioner.

2. A foreign corporation shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office in this state, or deriving receipts from activity in this state, for the purposes of this article, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trust companies in this state, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in this state, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one or more banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such corporation, or (d) the maintenance of an office in this state by one or more officers or directors of the corporation who are not employees of the corporation if the corporation otherwise is not doing business in this state, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in this state, or (e) the keeping of books or records of a corporation in this state if such books or records are not kept by employees of such corporation and such corporation does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in this state, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities.

2-a. An alien corporation shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, maintaining an office in this state, or deriving receipts from activity in this state, for the purposes of this article, if its activities in this state are limited solely to (a) investing or trading in stocks and securities for its own account within the meaning of clause (ii) of subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of subsection (b) of section eight hundred sixty-four of the internal revenue code or (b) investing or trading in commodities for its own account within the meaning of clause (ii) of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subsection (b) of section eight hundred sixty-four of the internal revenue code or (c) any combination of activities described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision. An alien corporation that under any provision of the internal revenue code is not treated as a "domestic corporation" as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of such code and has no effectively connected income for the taxable year pursuant to clause (iv) of the opening paragraph of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article shall not be subject to tax under this article for that taxable year. For purposes of this article, an alien corporation is a corporation organized under the laws of a country, or any political subdivision thereof, other than the United States, or organized under the laws of a possession, territory or commonwealth of the United States.

3. Any receiver, referee, trustee, assignee or other fiduciary, or any officer or agent appointed by any court, who conducts the business of any corporation, shall be subject to the tax imposed by this article in the same manner and to the same extent as if the business were conducted by the agents or officers of such corporation. A dissolved corporation which continues to conduct business shall also be subject to the tax imposed by this article.

4. Corporations liable to tax under sections one hundred eighty-three to one hundred eighty-four-a, inclusive, corporations taxable under article thirty-three of this chapter, any trust company organized under a law of this state all of the stock of which is owned by not less than twenty savings banks organized under a law of this state, a captive REIT or a captive RIC filing a combined return under subdivision (f) of section fifteen hundred fifteen of this chapter, and housing companies organized and operating pursuant to the provisions of article two or article five of the private housing finance law and housing development fund companies organized pursuant to the provisions of article eleven of the private housing finance law shall not be subject to tax under this article.

5. For any taxable year of a real estate investment trust as defined in section eight hundred fifty-six of the internal revenue code in which such trust is subject to federal income taxation under section eight hundred fifty-seven of such code, such trust shall be subject to a tax computed under either paragraph (a) or (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter, whichever is greater, and shall not be subject to any tax under article thirty-three of this chapter except for a captive REIT required to file a combined return under subdivision (f) of section fifteen hundred fifteen of this chapter. In the case of such a real estate investment trust, including a captive REIT as defined in section two of this chapter, the term "entire net income" means "real estate investment trust taxable income" as defined in paragraph two of subdivision (b) of section eight hundred fifty-seven (as modified by section eight hundred fifty-eight) of the internal revenue code, subject to the modifications required by subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article.

6. For any taxable year of a DISC, not exempt from tax under paragraph (i) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article, the taxes imposed by subdivision one of this section shall be computed only under either paragraph (b) or (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter, whichever is greater.

7. For any taxable year, beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty of a regulated investment company, as defined in section eight hundred fifty-one of the internal revenue code, in which such company is subject to federal income taxation under section eight hundred fifty-two of such code, such company shall be subject to a tax computed under either paragraph (a) or (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter, whichever is greater, and shall not be subject to any tax under article thirty-three of this chapter except for a captive RIC required to file a combined return under subdivision (f) of section fifteen hundred fifteen of this chapter. In the case of such a regulated investment company, including a captive RIC as defined in section two of this chapter, the term "entire net income" means "investment company taxable income" as defined in paragraph two of subdivision (b) of section eight hundred fifty-two, as modified by section eight hundred fifty-five, of the internal revenue code plus the amount taxable under paragraph three of subdivision (b) of section eight hundred fifty-two of such code subject to the modifications required by subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this chapter.

8. For any taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand six, a corporation that is no longer doing business, employing capital, or owning or leasing property, or deriving receipts from activity in this state in a corporate or organized capacity that has filed a final tax return with the department for the last tax year it was doing business and has no outstanding tax liability for such final tax return or any tax return for prior tax years shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article for tax years following the last year such corporation was doing business.

9. For any taxable year beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven, an organization described in paragraph two or twenty-five of subdivision (c) of section five hundred one of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred eighty-six shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this article.

10. QSSS. For exemption from tax of a qualified subchapter S subsidiary, see paragraph (k) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article.

11. Except as provided in subparagraph eighteen of paragraph (a) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article, a corporation that is a qualified entity of a New York state innovation hot spot shall be subject only to the fixed dollar minimum tax under paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article, as provided in section thirty-eight of this chapter.

12. All farmers', fruit growers' and other like agricultural corporations organized and operated on a co-operative basis for the purposes expressed in and as provided under the co-operative corporations law of the state of New York, whether or not such corporations have capital stock, shall be exempt from taxation under the provisions of this article.

§ 209-B. Metropolitan transportation business tax surcharge. 1. (a) For the privilege of exercising its corporate franchise, or of doing business, or of employing capital, or of owning or leasing property in a corporate or organized capacity, or of maintaining an office, or of deriving receipts from activity in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, for all or any part of its taxable year, there is hereby imposed on every corporation, other than a New York S corporation, subject to tax under section two hundred nine of this article, or any receiver, referee, trustee, assignee or other fiduciary, or any officer or agent appointed by any court, who conducts the business of any such corporation, a tax surcharge, in addition to the tax imposed under section two hundred nine of this article, to be computed at the rate of seventeen percent of the tax imposed under such section for such taxable years or any part of such taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-three and before January first, two thousand fifteen after the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article, at the rate of twenty-five and six-tenths percent of the tax imposed under such section for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen before the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article, at the rate determined by the commissioner pursuant to paragraph (f) of this subdivision of the tax imposed under such section, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand twenty-four before the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article, and at the rate of thirty percent of the tax imposed under such section for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-four before the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article. However, such rate of tax surcharge shall be applied only to that portion of the tax imposed under section two hundred nine of this article before the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article which is attributable to the taxpayer's business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district; and provided, further, the surcharge computed on a combined report shall include a surcharge on the fixed dollar minimum tax for each member of the combined group subject to the surcharge under this subdivision.

(b) A corporation is deriving receipts from activity in the metropolitan commuter transportation district if it has receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district of one million dollars or more in a taxable year. For purposes of this section, the term "receipts" means the receipts that are subject to the apportionment rules set forth in section two hundred ten-A of this article, and the term "receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district" means the receipts included in the numerator of the apportionment factor determined under subdivision two of this section. For purposes of this paragraph, receipts from processing credit card transactions for merchants include merchant discount fees received by the corporation.

(c) A corporation is doing business in the metropolitan commuter transportation district if (i) it has issued credit cards to one thousand or more customers who have a mailing address within the metropolitan commuter transportation district as of the last day of its taxable year, (ii) it has merchant customer contracts with merchants and the total number of locations covered by those contracts equals one thousand or more locations in the metropolitan commuter transportation district to whom the corporation remitted payments for credit card transactions during the taxable year, or (iii) the sum of the number of customers described in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph plus the number of locations covered by its contracts described in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph equals one thousand or more. As used in this paragraph, the term "credit card" includes bank, credit, travel and entertainment cards.

(d)(i) A corporation with less than one million dollars but at least ten thousand dollars of receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district in a taxable year that is part of a unitary group that meets the ownership test under section two hundred ten-C of this article is deriving receipts from activity in the metropolitan commuter transportation district if the receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district of the members of the unitary group that have at least ten thousand dollars of receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district in the aggregate meet the threshold set forth in paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(ii) A corporation that does not meet any of the thresholds set forth in paragraph (c) of this subdivision but has at least ten customers, or locations, or customers and locations, as described in paragraph (c), and is part of a unitary group that meets the ownership test under section two hundred ten-C of this article is doing business in the metropolitan commuter transportation district if the number of customers, locations, or customers and locations, within the metropolitan commuter transportation district of the members of the unitary group that have at least ten customers, locations, or customers and locations, within the metropolitan commuter transportation district in the aggregate meets any of the thresholds set forth in paragraph (c) of this subdivision.

(iii) For purposes of this paragraph, any corporation described in paragraph (c) of subdivision two of section two hundred ten-C of this article shall not be considered.

(e) At the end of each year, the commissioner shall review the cumulative percentage change in the consumer price index. The commissioner shall adjust the receipt thresholds set forth in this subdivision if the consumer price index has changed by ten percent or more since the January first, two thousand fifteen or since the date that the thresholds were last adjusted under this subdivision. The thresholds shall be adjusted to reflect that cumulative percentage change in the consumer price index. The adjusted thresholds shall be rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars. As used in this paragraph, "consumer price index" means the consumer price index for all urban consumers (CPI-U) available from the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor. Any adjustment shall apply to tax periods that begin after the adjustment is made.

(f) The commissioner shall determine the rate of tax for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand twenty-four by adjusting the rate for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen as necessary to ensure that the receipts attributable to such surcharge, as impacted by part A of chapter fifty-nine of the laws of two thousand fourteen, will meet and not exceed the financial projections for state fiscal year two thousand sixteen-two thousand seventeen, as reflected in state fiscal year two thousand fifteen-two thousand sixteen enacted budget. The commissioner shall annually determine the rate thereafter, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-four, using the financial projections for the state fiscal year that commences in the year for which the rate is to be set as reflected in the enacted budget for the fiscal year commencing on the previous April first.

2. The portion of the taxpayer's business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district shall be determined by multiplying the tax imposed under section two hundred nine of this article before the deduction of any credits otherwise allowable under this article by a percentage to be determined as follows:

(a) ascertaining the percentage which the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within the metropolitan commuter transportation district during the period covered by its report bears to the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property, whether owned or rented to it, within the state during such period; provided that the term "value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property" shall mean the adjusted bases of such properties for federal income tax purposes (except that in the case of rented property such value shall mean the product of (i) eight and (ii) the gross rents payable for the rental of such property during the taxable year); provided, however, that the taxpayer may make a one-time, revocable election to use fair market value as the value of all of its real and tangible personal property, provided that such election is made on or before the due date for filing a report under section two hundred eleven for the taxpayer's first taxable year commencing on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and provided that such election shall not apply to any taxable year with respect to which the taxpayer is included on a combined report unless each of the taxpayers included on such report has made such an election which remains in effect for such year;

(b) ascertaining the percentage of the taxpayer's receipts within the metropolitan commuter transportation district pursuant to the method prescribed in section two hundred ten-A of this article, except that

(i) the numerator of the apportionment fraction under such section two hundred ten-A shall be the denominator of the apportionment fraction under this paragraph,

(ii) the numerator of the apportionment fraction under this paragraph shall be determined by applying the rules in such section two hundred ten-A relating to the numerator of the apportionment fraction as if those rules referenced the metropolitan commuter transportation district rather than this state,

(iii) to the extent that a provision in such section two hundred ten-A provides that eight percent of the receipts specified in that provision should be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction, ninety percent of such eight percent amount shall be considered within the metropolitan commuter transportation district and one hundred percent of such eight percent amount shall be considered to be within the state, and

(iv) to the extent that a provision in such section two hundred ten-A of this article provides that the receipts specified in that provision shall not be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction under such section two hundred ten-A, such receipts shall not be included in determining the portion of the taxpayer's business activity carried on within the metropolitan commuter transportation district;

(c) ascertaining the percentage of the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period, of employees within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, except general executive officers, to the total wages, salaries and other personal service compensation, similarly computed, during such period, of all the taxpayer's employees within the state, except general executive officers; and

(d) adding together the percentages so determined and dividing the result by the number of percentages.

3. A corporation shall not be deemed to be doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, or maintaining an office, or deriving receipts from activity in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, for the purposes of this section, by reason of (a) the maintenance of cash balances with banks or trust companies in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, or (b) the ownership of shares of stock or securities kept in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, if kept in a safe deposit box, safe, vault or other receptacle rented for the purpose, or if pledged as collateral security, or if deposited with one or more banks or trust companies, or brokers who are members of a recognized security exchange, in safekeeping or custody accounts, or (c) the taking of any action by any such bank or trust company or broker, which is incidental to the rendering of safekeeping or custodian service to such corporation, or (d) the maintenance of an office in the metropolitan commuter transportation district by one or more officers or directors of the corporation who are not employees of the corporation if the corporation otherwise is not doing business in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, and does not employ capital or own or lease property in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, or (e) the keeping of books or records of a corporation in the metropolitan commuter transportation district if such books or records are not kept by employees of such corporation and such corporation does not otherwise do business, employ capital, own or lease property or maintain an office in the metropolitan commuter transportation district, or (f) any combination of the foregoing activities.

4. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of state or local law, the tax surcharge imposed under this section shall not be allowed as a deduction in the computation of any tax imposed under this chapter. Furthermore, the credits otherwise allowable under this article shall not be allowed against the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

5. The provisions concerning reports under sections two hundred ten-C and two hundred eleven shall be applicable to this section, except that for purposes of an automatic extension for six months for filing a report covering the tax surcharge imposed by this section, such automatic extension shall be allowed only if a taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form as said commissioner may prescribe by regulation and pays on or before the date of such filing in addition to any other amounts required under this article, either ninety percent of the entire tax surcharge required to be paid under this section for the applicable period, or not less than the tax surcharge shown on the taxpayer's return for the preceding taxable year, if such preceding taxable year was a taxable year of twelve months; provided, however, that in no event shall such amount be less than the product of the following three amounts: (1) the tax surcharge rate in effect for the taxable year pursuant to subdivision one of this section, (2) the fixed dollar minimum applicable to such taxpayer as determined under paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter for the taxable year, and (3) the percentage determined under subdivision two of this section for the preceding taxable year, unless the taxpayer was not subject to the tax surcharge imposed pursuant to this section with respect to such year, in which case such percentage shall be deemed to be one hundred percent. The tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed, and such tax surcharge or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or be subject to the tax surcharge imposed by this section shall be payable to the commissioner at the time the report is required to be filed, provided such tax surcharge of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other tax surcharges of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time. All of the provisions of this article presently applicable are applicable to the tax surcharge imposed by this section.

6. The term metropolitan commuter transportation district as used in this section shall be defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law.

§ 209-C. Gift for fish and wildlife management. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-three, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the conservation fund for fish and wildlife management purposes. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such taxpayer. The tax commission shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the conservation fund and used only for those purposes enumerated in section eighty-three of the state finance law.

§ 209-D. Gift for breast cancer research and education. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the breast cancer research and education fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the breast cancer research and education fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-seven-yy of the state finance law.

§ 209-E. Gift for prostate and testicular cancer research and education. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand four, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the New York State prostate and testicular cancer research and education fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the New York State prostate and testicular cancer research and education fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-five-e of the state finance law.

§ 209-F. Gift for the World Trade Center memorial foundation.

Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand five, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the World Trade Center memorial foundation fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the World Trade Center memorial foundation fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section seventy-nine of the state finance law.

§ 209-G. Gift for volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services workers recruitment and retention. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after the effective date of this section, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services workers recruitment and retention fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-nine-q of the state finance law.

§ 209-H. Gift for honor and remembrance of veterans. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand thirteen, any taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the veterans remembrance and cemetery maintenance and operation fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the veterans remembrance and cemetery maintenance and operation fund and used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-seven-mmmm of the state finance law.

§ 209-I. Gift for women's cancers education and prevention. A taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the women's cancers education and prevention fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the women's cancers education and prevention fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-seven-lxxx of the state finance law.

§ 209-J. Gift for New York state veterans' homes. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand seventeen, any taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the veterans' home assistance fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the veterans' home assistance fund and used only for those purposes enumerated in section eighty-one of the state finance law.

§ 209-K. Gift to the love your library fund. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand eighteen, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the love your library fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the love your library fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-nine-l of the state finance law, as added by chapter three hundred three of the laws of two thousand four.

 § 209-L. Gift for ALS research and education. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand nineteen, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the New York state ALS (Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis) research and education fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the New York state ALS research and education fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-five-i of the state finance law.

* NB There are 3 § 209-L's

 § 209-L. Gift for lupus education and prevention. A taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the lupus education and prevention fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the lupus education and prevention fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-seven-rrrr of the state finance law.

* NB There are 3 § 209-L's

 § 209-L. Gift for military families. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand eighteen, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the military family relief fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the military family relief fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section eighty-nine-i of the state finance law.

* NB There are 3 § 209-L's

 § 209-M. Gift for leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research, education and treatment. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand twenty, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research, education and treatment fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma research, education and treatment fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-seven-ssss of the state finance law.

* NB There are 2 § 209-M's

 § 209-M. Gift for home delivered meals for seniors. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand nineteen, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the senior wellness in nutrition fund for the purpose of providing home delivered meals to seniors. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the business franchise income tax return, entitled "Home Delivered Meals for Seniors", to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the senior wellness in nutrition fund and shall only be used for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-one-g of the state finance law.

* NB There are 2 § 209-M's

 § 209-N. Retired and rescued thoroughbred race horse aftercare. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after the effective date of this section, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the New York state thoroughbred breeding and development fund established pursuant to section two hundred fifty-two of the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law, for the purpose of funding the operation of retired race horse aftercare facilities. Any contributions made to the thoroughbred breeding and development fund pursuant to this section shall be deposited into a dedicated account managed by the fund, which shall solely be used for funding the operation of retired race horse aftercare facilities, with a preference for those organizations that are accredited horse retirement and rescue programs. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the New York state thoroughbred retirement race horse and aftercare fund and shall be used only for those purposes set forth in paragraph h of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-four of the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law.

* NB Effective January 1, 2022

 § 209-0. Retired and rescued standardbred race horse aftercare.

Effective for any tax year commencing on or after the effective date of this section, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the agriculture and New York horse breeding and development fund established pursuant to section three hundred thirty of the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law, for the purpose of funding the operation of retired race horse aftercare facilities. Any contributions made to the agriculture and New York state horse breeding development fund pursuant to this section shall be deposited into a dedicated account managed by the fund, which shall solely be used for funding the operation of retired race horse aftercare facilities, with a preference for those organizations that are accredited horse retirement and rescue programs. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the New York state standardbred retirement race horse and aftercare fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in paragraph j of subdivision one of section three hundred thirty-two of the racing, pari-mutuel wagering and breeding law.

* NB Effective January 1, 2022

§ 209-P. Gift for Lyme and tick-borne diseases education, research and prevention. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after January first, two thousand twenty-two, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the Lyme and tick-borne diseases education, research and prevention. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the Lyme and tick-borne diseases education, research and prevention fund and shall only be used for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-five-k of the state finance law.

§ 209-Q. Gift for diabetes research and education. Effective for any tax year commencing on or after the effective date of this section, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the diabetes research and education fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the diabetes research and education fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section eighty-nine-k of the state finance law.

§ 210. Computation of tax. 1. The tax imposed by subdivision one of section two hundred nine of this chapter shall be: (A) in the case of each taxpayer other than a New York S corporation or a qualified homeowners association, the highest of the amounts prescribed in paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) of this subdivision, (B) in the case of each New York S corporation, the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of this subdivision, and (C) in the case of a qualified homeowners association, the highest of the amounts prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "qualified homeowners association" means a homeowners association, as such term is defined in subsection (c) of section five hundred twenty-eight of the internal revenue code without regard to subparagraph (E) of paragraph one of such subsection (relating to elections to be taxed pursuant to such section), which has no homeowners association taxable income, as such term is defined in subsection (d) of such section. Provided, however, that in the case of a small business taxpayer (other than a New York S corporation) as defined in paragraph (f) of this subdivision, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, if the amount prescribed in such paragraph (b) is higher than the amount prescribed in such paragraph (a) solely by reason of the application of the rate applicable to small business taxpayers, then with respect to such taxpayer the tax referred to in the previous sentence shall be higher of the amounts prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (d) of this subdivision.

(a) Business income base. For taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed at the rate of seven and one-tenth percent of the taxpayer's business income base. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be six and one-half percent of the taxpayer's business income base. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one and before January first, two thousand thirty for any taxpayer with a business income base for the taxable year of more than five million dollars, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be seven and one-quarter percent of the taxpayer's business income base. The taxpayer's business income base shall mean the portion of the taxpayer's business income apportioned within the state as hereinafter provided. However, in the case of a small business taxpayer, as defined in paragraph (f) of this subdivision, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed pursuant to subparagraph (iv) of this paragraph and in the case of a manufacturer, as defined in subparagraph (vi) of this paragraph, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed pursuant to subparagraph (vi) of this paragraph, and, in the case of a qualified emerging technology company, as defined in subparagraph (vii) of this paragraph, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed pursuant to subparagraph (vii) of this paragraph.

(iv) for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, if the business income base is not more than two hundred ninety thousand dollars the amount shall be six and one-half percent of the business income base; if the business income base is more than two hundred ninety thousand dollars but not over three hundred ninety thousand dollars the amount shall be the sum of (1) eighteen thousand eight hundred fifty dollars, (2) seven and one-tenth percent of the excess of the business income base over two hundred ninety thousand dollars but not over three hundred ninety thousand dollars and (3) four and thirty-five hundredths percent of the excess of the business income base over three hundred fifty thousand dollars but not over three hundred ninety thousand dollars;

(v) if the taxable period to which subparagraph (iv) of this paragraph applies is less than twelve months, the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed as follows:

(A) Multiply the business income base for such taxpayer by twelve;

(B) Divide the result obtained in (A) by the number of months in the taxable year;

(C) Compute an amount pursuant to subparagraph (iv) as if the result obtained in (B) were the taxpayer's business income base;

(D) Multiply the result obtained in (C) by the number of months in the taxpayer's taxable year;

(E) Divide the result obtained in (D) by twelve.

(vi) for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fourteen, the amount prescribed by this paragraph for a taxpayer that is a qualified New York manufacturer, shall be computed at the rate of zero percent of the taxpayer's business income base. The term "manufacturer" shall mean a taxpayer that during the taxable year is principally engaged in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture or commercial fishing. However, the generation and distribution of electricity, the distribution of natural gas, and the production of steam associated with the generation of electricity shall not be qualifying activities for a manufacturer under this subparagraph. Moreover, in the case of a combined report, the combined group shall be considered a "manufacturer" for purposes of this subparagraph only if the combined group during the taxable year is principally engaged in the activities set forth in this paragraph, or any combination thereof. A taxpayer or, in the case of a combined report, a combined group shall be "principally engaged" in activities described above if, during the taxable year, more than fifty percent of the gross receipts of the taxpayer or combined group, respectively, are derived from receipts from the sale of goods produced by such activities. In computing a combined group's gross receipts, intercorporate receipts shall be eliminated. A "qualified New York manufacturer" is a manufacturer that has property in New York that is described in clause (A) of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten-B of this article and either (I) the adjusted basis of such property for New York state tax purposes at the close of the taxable year is at least one million dollars or (II) all of its real and personal property is located in New York. A taxpayer or, in the case of a combined report, a combined group, that does not satisfy the principally engaged test may be a qualified New York manufacturer if the taxpayer or the combined group employs during the taxable year at least two thousand five hundred employees in manufacturing in New York and the taxpayer or the combined group has property in the state used in manufacturing, the adjusted basis of which for New York state tax purposes at the close of the taxable year is at least one hundred million dollars.

(vii) For a taxpayer that is defined as a qualified emerging technology company under paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law regardless of the ten million dollar limitation expressed in subparagraph one of such paragraph (c) the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed at the rate of 5.7 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen, 5.5 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand eighteen, and 4.875 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand eighteen.

(viii) (A) In computing the business income base, taxpayers shall be allowed both a prior net operating loss conversion subtraction under this subparagraph and a net operating loss deduction under subparagraph (ix) of this paragraph. The prior net operating loss conversion subtraction computed under this subparagraph shall be applied against the business income base before the net operating loss deduction computed under subparagraph (ix) of this paragraph.

(B) Prior net operating loss conversion subtraction.

(1) Definitions.

(I) "Base year" means the last taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fourteen and before January first, two thousand fifteen.

(II) "Unabsorbed net operating loss" means the unabsorbed portion of net operating loss as calculated under paragraph (f) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article or subsection (k-1) of section fourteen hundred fifty-three of this chapter as such sections were in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen, that was not deductible in previous taxable years and was eligible for carryover on the last day of the base year subject to the limitations for deduction under such sections, including any net operating loss sustained by the taxpayer during the base year.

(III) "Base year BAP" means the taxpayer's business allocation percentage as calculated under paragraph (a) of subdivision three of this section for the base year, or the taxpayer's allocation percentage as calculated under section fourteen hundred fifty-four of this chapter for purposes of calculating entire net income for the base year, as such sections were in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen.

(IV) "Base year tax rate" means the taxpayer's tax rate for the base year as calculated under this paragraph or subsection (a) of section fourteen hundred fifty-five of this chapter, as such provisions were in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen.

(2) The prior net operating loss conversion subtraction shall be calculated as follows:

(I) The taxpayer shall first calculate the tax value of its unabsorbed net operating loss for the base year. The value is equal to the product of (I) the amount of the taxpayer's unabsorbed net operating loss, (II) the taxpayer's base year BAP, and (III) the taxpayer's base year tax rate.

(II) The product determined under item (I) of this subclause is then divided by six and one-half percent, or in the case of a qualified New York manufacturer, five and seven-tenths percent. This result shall equal the taxpayer's prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool.

(III) The taxpayer's prior net operating loss conversion subtraction for the taxable year shall equal one-tenth of its net operating loss conversion subtraction pool plus any amount of unused prior net operating loss conversion subtraction from preceding taxable years. Provided, however, the prior net operating loss conversion subtraction of a small business corporation, as defined in paragraph (f) of this subdivision, as of the last day of the base year, shall not be subject to the one-tenth limitation in the previous sentence.

(IV) In lieu of the subtraction described in item (III) of this subclause, if the taxpayer so elects, the taxpayer's prior net operating loss conversion subtraction for the tax years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand seventeen shall equal in each year, not more than one-half of its net operating loss conversion subtraction pool until the pool is exhausted. If the pool is not exhausted at the end of such time period, the remainder of the pool shall be forfeited. The taxpayer shall make such revocable election on its first return for the tax year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen by the due date for such return (determined with regard to extensions).

(3) Combined groups. (I) Where a taxpayer was properly included or required to be included in a combined report for the base year pursuant to section two hundred eleven of this article or a combined return under section fourteen hundred sixty-two of this chapter, as such sections were in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen, and the members of the combined group for the base year are the same as the members of the combined group for the taxable year immediately succeeding the base year, the combined group shall calculate its prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool using the combined group's total unabsorbed net operating loss, base year BAP, and base year tax rate.

(II) If a combined group includes additional members in the taxable year immediately succeeding the base year that were not included in the combined group during the base year, each base year combined group and each taxpayer that filed separately in the base year but is included in the combined group in the taxable year succeeding the base year shall calculate its prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool, and the sum of the pools shall be the combined prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool of the combined group.

(III) If a taxpayer was properly included in a combined report for the base year and files a separate report in a subsequent taxable year, then the amount of remaining prior net operating loss conversion subtraction allowed to the taxpayer filing such separate report shall be proportionate to the amount that such taxpayer contributed to the prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool on a combined basis, and the remaining prior net operating loss conversion subtraction allowed to the remaining members of the combined group shall be reduced accordingly.

(IV) If a taxpayer filed a separate report for the base year and is properly included in a combined report in a subsequent taxable year, then the prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool of the combined group shall be increased by the amount of the remaining net operating loss conversion subtraction allowed to the taxpayer at the time the taxpayer is properly included in the combined group.

(4) The prior net operating loss conversion subtraction may be used to reduce the taxpayer's tax on the apportioned business income base to the higher of the tax on the capital base under paragraph (b) of this subdivision or the fixed dollar minimum under paragraph (d) of this subdivision. Unless the taxpayer has made the election provided for in item (IV) of subclause two of this clause, any amount of unused subtraction shall be carried forward to subsequent tax year or years until the prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pool is exhausted, but for no longer than twenty taxable years, or the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirty-five but before January first, two thousand thirty-six, whichever comes first. Such amount carried forward shall not be subject to the one-tenth limitation for the subsequent tax year or years. However, if the taxpayer elects to compute its prior net operating loss conversion subtraction pursuant to item (IV) of subclause two of this clause, the taxpayer shall not carry forward any unused amount of such subtraction to any tax year beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen.

(ix) Net operating loss deduction. In computing the business income base, a net operating loss deduction shall be allowed. A net operating loss deduction is the amount of net operating loss or losses from one or more taxable years that are carried forward or carried back to a particular taxable year. A net operating loss is the amount of a business loss incurred in a particular tax year multiplied by the apportionment factor for that year as determined under section two hundred ten-A of this article. The maximum net operating loss deduction that is allowed in a taxable year is the amount that reduces the taxpayer's tax on the apportioned business income base to the higher of the tax on the capital base or the fixed dollar minimum. Such deduction and loss are determined in accordance with the following:

(1) Such net operating loss deduction is not limited to the amount allowed under section one hundred seventy-two of the internal revenue code or the amount that would have been allowed if the taxpayer had not made an election under subchapter S of chapter one of the internal revenue code.

(2) Such net operating loss deduction shall not include any net operating loss incurred during any taxable year beginning prior to January first, two thousand fifteen, or during any taxable year in which the taxpayer was not subject to the tax imposed by this article.

(3) A taxpayer that files as part of a federal consolidated return but on a separate basis for purposes of this article must compute its deduction and loss as if it were filing on a separate basis for federal income tax purposes.

(4) A net operating loss may be carried back three taxable years preceding the taxable year of the loss ("the loss year"). However no loss can be carried back to a taxable year beginning before January first, two thousand fifteen. The loss is first carried to the earliest of the three taxable years. If it is not entirely used in that year, it is carried to the second taxable year preceding the loss year, and any remaining amount is carried to the taxable year immediately preceding the loss year. Any unused amount of loss then remaining may be carried forward for as many as twenty taxable years following the loss year. Losses carried forward are carried forward first to the taxable year immediately following the loss year, then to the second taxable year following the loss year, and then to the next immediately subsequent taxable year or years until the loss is used up or the twentieth taxable year following the loss year, whichever comes first.

(5) Such net operating loss deduction shall not include any net operating loss incurred during a New York S year; provided, however, a New York S year must be treated as a taxable year for purposes of determining the number of taxable years to which a net operating loss may be carried forward.

(6) Where there are two or more apportioned net operating losses, or portions thereof, carried back or carried forward to be deducted in one particular tax year from apportioned business income, the earliest apportioned loss incurred must be applied first.

(7) A taxpayer may elect to waive the entire carryback period with respect to a net operating loss. Such election must be made on the taxpayer's original timely filed return (determined with regard to extensions) for the taxable year of the net operating loss for which the election is to be in effect. Once an election is made for a taxable year, it shall be irrevocable for that taxable year. A separate election must be made for each loss year. This election applies to all members of a combined group.

(b) Capital base. (1) (i) The amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be computed at .15 percent for each dollar of the taxpayer's total business capital, or the portion thereof apportioned within the state as hereinafter provided for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen. However, in the case of a cooperative housing corporation as defined in the internal revenue code, the applicable rate shall be .04 percent until taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty and zero percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one. The rate of tax for subsequent tax years shall be as follows: .125 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand seventeen; .100 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before January first, two thousand eighteen; .075 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand eighteen and before January first, two thousand nineteen; .050 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand nineteen and before January first, two thousand twenty; .025 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty and before January first, two thousand twenty-one; and .1875 percent for years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one and before January first, two thousand thirty, and zero percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirty. Provided however, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one, the rate of tax for a small business as defined in paragraph (f) of this subdivision shall be zero percent. The rate of tax for a qualified New York manufacturer shall be .132 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand sixteen, .106 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen and before January first, two thousand seventeen, .085 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand seventeen and before January first, two thousand eighteen; .056 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand eighteen and before January first, two thousand nineteen; .038 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand nineteen and before January first, two thousand twenty; .019 percent for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty and before January first, two thousand twenty-one; and zero percent for years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-one. (ii) In no event shall the amount prescribed by this paragraph exceed three hundred fifty thousand dollars for qualified New York manufacturers and for all other taxpayers five million dollars.

(2) For purposes of subparagraph one of this paragraph, the term "manufacturer" shall mean a taxpayer that during the taxable year is principally engaged in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture or commercial fishing. Moreover, for purposes of computing the capital base in a combined report, the combined group shall be considered a "manufacturer" for purposes of this subparagraph only if the combined group during the taxable year is principally engaged in the activities set forth in this subparagraph, or any combination thereof. A taxpayer or, in the case of a combined report, a combined group shall be "principally engaged" in activities described above if, during the taxable year, more than fifty percent of the gross receipts of the taxpayer or combined group, respectively, are derived from receipts from the sale of goods produced by such activities. In computing a combined group's gross receipts, intercorporate receipts shall be eliminated. A "qualified New York manufacturer" is a manufacturer that has property in New York that is described in clause (A) of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten-B of this article and either (i) the adjusted basis of that property for New York state tax purposes at the close of the taxable year is at least one million dollars or (ii) all of its real and personal property is located in New York. In addition, a "qualified New York manufacturer" means a taxpayer that is defined as a qualified emerging technology company under paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law regardless of the ten million dollar limitation expressed in subparagraph one of such paragraph. A taxpayer or, in the case of a combined report, a combined group, that does not satisfy the principally engaged test may be a qualified New York manufacturer if the taxpayer or the combined group employs during the taxable year at least two thousand five hundred employees in manufacturing in New York and the taxpayer or the combined group has property in the state used in manufacturing, the adjusted basis of which for New York state tax purposes at the close of the taxable year is at least one hundred million dollars.

(d) Fixed dollar minimum. (1) (A) The amount prescribed by this paragraph for New York S corporations, other than New York S corporations that are qualified New York manufacturers or qualified emerging technology companies, will be determined in accordance with the following table:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 25
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 50
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 175
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 300
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$1,000
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$3,000
Over $25,000,000	$4,500

(B) Provided further, the amount prescribed by this paragraph for New York S corporations that are qualified New York manufacturers, as defined in subparagraph (vi) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, and for New York S corporations that are qualified emerging technology companies under paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law regardless of the ten million dollar limitation expressed in subparagraph one of such paragraph (c), will be determined in accordance with the following tables.

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2015 and before January 1, 2016:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 22
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 44
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 153
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 263
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$ 877
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$2,631
Over $25,000,000	$3,947

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2016 and before January 1, 2018:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 21
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 42
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 148
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 254
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$ 846
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$2,538
Over $25,000,000	$3,807

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2018:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 19
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 38
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 131
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 225
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$ 750
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$2,250
Over $25,000,000	$3,375

(C) Provided further, the amount prescribed by this paragraph for a qualified New York manufacturer, as defined in subparagraph (vi) of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, and a qualified emerging technology company under paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law regardless of the ten million dollar limitation expressed in subparagraph one of such paragraph (c), that is not a New York S corporation, will be determined in accordance with the following tables. However, with respect to qualified New York manufacturers, the amounts in these tables will apply in the case of a combined report only if the combined group satisfies the requirements to be a qualified New York manufacturer as set forth in such subparagraph (vi).

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2015 and before January 1, 2016:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 22
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 66
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 153
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 439
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$1,316
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$3,070
Over $25,000,000	$4,385

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2016 and before January 1, 2018:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 21
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 63
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 148
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 423
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$1,269
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$2,961
Over $25,000,000	$4,230

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 19
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 56
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 131
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 375
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$1,125
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$2,625
Over $25,000,000	$3,750

(D) Otherwise, for all other taxpayers not covered by clauses (A),

(B), (C) and (D-1) of this subparagraph, the amount prescribed by this paragraph will be determined in accordance with the following table:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 25
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 75
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 175
more than $500,000 but not over $1,000,000	$ 500
more than $1,000,000 but not over $5,000,000	$1,500
more than $5,000,000 but not over $25,000,000	$3,500
more than $25,000,000 but not over $50,000,000	$5,000
more than $50,000,000 but not over $100,000,000	$10,000
more than $100,000,000 but not over $250,000,000	$20,000
more than $250,000,000 but not over $500,000,000	$50,000
more than $500,000,000 but not over $1,000,000,000	$100,000
Over $1,000,000,000	$200,000

(D-1) In the case of a REIT or a RIC that is not a captive REIT or captive RIC, the amount prescribed by this paragraph will be determined in accordance with the following table:

If New York receipts are:	The fixed dollar minimum tax is:
not more than $100,000	$ 25
more than $100,000 but not over $250,000	$ 75
more than $250,000 but not over $500,000	$ 175
more than $500,000	$ 500

(E) For purposes of this paragraph, New York receipts are the receipts included in the numerator of the apportionment factor determined under section two hundred ten-A for the taxable year.

(2) If the taxable year is less than twelve months, the amount of New York receipts is determined by dividing the amount of the receipts for the taxable year by the number of months in the taxable year and multiplying the result by twelve, and the amount prescribed by this paragraph shall be reduced by twenty-five percent of the period for which the taxpayer is subject to tax is more than six months but not more than nine months and by fifty percent if the period for which the taxpayer is subject to tax is not more than six months. In the case of a termination year of a New York S corporation, the sum of the tax computed under this paragraph for the S short year and for the C short year shall not be less than the amount computed under this paragraph as if the corporation were a New York C corporation for the entire taxable year.

(f) For purposes of this section, the term "small business taxpayer" shall mean a taxpayer (i) which has an entire net income of not more than three hundred ninety thousand dollars for the taxable year; (ii) the aggregate amount of money and other property received by the corporation for stock, as a contribution to capital, and as paid-in surplus, does not exceed one million dollars; (iii) which is not part of an affiliated group, as defined in section 1504 of the internal revenue code, unless such group, if it had filed a report under this article on a combined basis, would have itself qualified as a "small business taxpayer" pursuant to this subdivision; and (iv) which has an average number of individuals, excluding general executive officers, employed full-time in the state during the taxable year of one hundred or fewer. If the taxable period to which subparagraph (i) of this paragraph applies is less than twelve months, entire net income under such subparagraph shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the entire net income by twelve and dividing the result by the number of months in the period. For purposes of subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph, the amount taken into account with respect to any property other than money shall be the amount equal to the adjusted basis to the corporation of such property for determining gain, reduced by any liability to which the property was subject or which was assumed by the corporation. The determination under the preceding sentence shall be made as of the time the property was received by the corporation. For purposes of subparagraph (iv) of this paragraph, "average number of individuals, excluding general executive officers, employed full-time" shall be computed by ascertaining the number of such individuals employed by the taxpayer on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December during each taxable year or other applicable period, by adding together the number of such individuals ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such dates occurring within such taxable year or other applicable period. An individual employed full-time means an employee in a job consisting of at least thirty-five hours per week, or two or more employees who are in jobs that together constitute the equivalent of a job at least thirty-five hours per week (full-time equivalent). Full-time equivalent employees in the state include all employees regularly connected with or working out of an office or place of business of the taxpayer within the state.

1-c. The computations specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section shall not apply to the first two taxable years of a taxpayer which, for one or both such years, is a small business taxpayer as defined in paragraph (f) of subdivision one of this section.

2. The amount of investment capital and business capital shall each be determined by taking the average value of the assets included therein (less liabilities deductible therefrom pursuant to the provisions of subdivisions five and seven of section two hundred eight), and, if the period covered by the report is other than a period of twelve calendar months, by multiplying such value by the number of calendar months or major parts thereof included in such period, and dividing the product thus obtained by twelve. For purposes of this subdivision, real property and marketable securities shall be valued at fair market value and the value of personal property other than marketable securities shall be the value thereof shown on the books and records of the taxpayer in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

3. A corporation that is a partner in a partnership shall compute tax under this article using the aggregate method as defined in the regulations of the commissioner, unless another method for computing such tax is required or allowed by such regulations. Under the aggregate method, a corporation that is a partner in a partnership is viewed as having an undivided interest in the partnership's assets, liabilities, and items of receipts, income, gain, loss and deduction. Under the aggregate method, the corporation that is a partner in a partnership is treated as participating in the partnership's transactions and activities.

§ 210-A. Apportionment. 1. General. Business income and capital shall be apportioned to the state by the apportionment factor determined pursuant to this section. The apportionment factor is a fraction, determined by including only those receipts, net income, net gains, and other items described in this section that are included in the computation of the taxpayer's business income (determined without regard to the modification provided in subparagraph nineteen of paragraph (a) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article) for the taxable year. The numerator of the apportionment fraction shall be equal to the sum of all the amounts required to be included in the numerator pursuant to the provisions of this section and the denominator of the apportionment fraction shall be equal to the sum of all the amounts required to be included in the denominator pursuant to the provisions of this section.

2. Sales of tangible personal property, electricity, and real property. (a) Receipts from sales of tangible personal property where shipments are made to points within the state or the destination of the property is a point in the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from sales of tangible personal property where shipments are made to points within and without the state or the destination is within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(b) Receipts from sales of electricity delivered to points within the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from sales of electricity delivered to points within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(c) Receipts from sales of tangible personal property and electricity that are traded as commodities, as the term "commodity" is defined in section 475 of the internal revenue code, are included in the apportionment fraction in accordance with clause (I) of subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of subdivision five of this section.

(d) Net gains (not less than zero) from the sales of real property located within the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Net gains (not less than zero) from the sales of real property located within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

3. Rentals and royalties. (a) Receipts from rentals of real and tangible personal property located within the state are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from rentals of real and tangible personal property located within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(b) Receipts of royalties from the use of patents, copyrights, trademarks, and similar intangible personal property within the state are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts of royalties from the use of patents, copyrights, trademarks and similar intangibles within and without the state are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. A patent, copyright, trademark or similar intangible property is used in the state to the extent that the activities thereunder are carried on in the state.

(c) Receipts from the sales of rights for closed-circuit and cable television transmissions of an event (other than events occurring on a regularly scheduled basis) taking place within the state as a result of the rendition of services by employees of the corporation, as athletes, entertainers or performing artists are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction to the extent that such receipts are attributable to such transmissions received or exhibited within the state. Receipts from all sales of rights for closed-circuit and cable television transmissions of an event are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

4. Digital products. (a) For purposes of determining the apportionment fraction under this section, the term "digital product" means any property or service, or combination thereof, of whatever nature delivered to the purchaser through the use of wire, cable, fiber-optic, laser, microwave, radio wave, satellite or similar successor media, or any combination thereof. Digital product includes, but is not limited to, an audio work, audiovisual work, visual work, book or literary work, graphic work, game, information or entertainment service, storage of digital products and computer software by whatever means delivered. The term "delivered to" includes furnished or provided to or accessed by. A digital product does not include legal, medical, accounting, architectural, research, analytical, engineering or consulting services provided by the taxpayer.

(b) Receipts from the sale of, licence to use, or granting of remote access to digital products within the state, determined according to the hierarchy of methods set forth in subparagraphs one through four of paragraph (c) of this subdivision, shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from the sale of, license to use, or granting of remote access to digital products within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. The taxpayer must exercise due diligence under each method described in paragraph (c) of this subdivision before rejecting it and proceeding to the next method in the hierarchy, and must base its determination on information known to the taxpayer or information that would be known to the taxpayer upon reasonable inquiry. If the receipt for a digital product is comprised of a combination of property and services, it cannot be divided into separate components and is considered to be one receipt regardless of whether it is separately stated for billing purposes. The entire receipt must be allocated by this hierarchy.

(c) Hierarchy of sourcing methods. (1) The customer's primary use location of the digital product;

(2) The location where the digital product is received by the customer, or is received by a person designated for receipt by the customer;

(3) The apportionment fraction determined pursuant to this subdivision for the preceding taxable year for such digital product; or

(4) The apportionment fraction in the current taxable year for those digital products that can be sourced using the hierarchy of sourcing methods in subparagraphs one and two of this paragraph.

5. Financial transactions. (a) Financial instruments. A financial instrument is a "nonqualified financial instrument" if it is not a qualified financial instrument. A qualified financial instrument means a financial instrument that is of a type described in any of clauses (A), (B), (C), (D), (G), (H) or (I) of subparagraph two of this paragraph and that has been marked to market in the taxable year by the taxpayer under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code. Further, if the taxpayer has in the taxable year marked to market a financial instrument of the type described in any of the clauses (A), (B), (C), (D), (G), (H) or (I) of subparagraph two of this paragraph, then any financial instrument within that type described in the above specified clause or clauses that has not been marked to market by the taxpayer under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code is a qualified financial instrument in the taxable year. Notwithstanding the two preceding sentences, (i) a loan secured by real property shall not be a qualified financial instrument, (ii) if the only loans that are marked to market by the taxpayer under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code are loans secured by real property, then no loans shall be qualified financial instruments, (iii) stock that is investment capital as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision five of section two hundred eight of this article shall not be a qualified financial instrument, and (iv) stock that generates other exempt income as defined in subdivision six-a of section two hundred eight of this article and that is not marked to market under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code shall not constitute a qualified financial instrument with respect to the income from that stock that is described in such subdivision six-a. If a corporation is included in a combined report, the definition of qualified financial instrument shall be determined on a combined basis. In the case of a RIC or a REIT that is not a captive RIC or a captive REIT, a qualified financial instrument means a financial instrument that is of a type described in any of clauses (A), (B), (C), (D), (G), (H) or (I) of subparagraph two of this paragraph, other than (i) a loan secured by real property, (ii) stock that is investment capital as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision five of section two hundred eight of this article, and (iii) stock that generates other exempt income as defined in subdivision six-a of section two hundred eight of this article with respect to the income from that stock that is described in such subdivision six-a.

(1) Fixed percentage method for qualified financial instruments. In determining the inclusion of receipts and net gains from qualified financial instruments in the apportionment fraction, taxpayers may elect to use the fixed percentage method described in this subparagraph for qualified financial instruments. The election is irrevocable, applies to all qualified financial instruments, and must be made on an annual basis on the taxpayer's original, timely filed return, determined with regard to extensions of time for filing. If the taxpayer elects the fixed percentage method, then all income, gain or loss, including marked to market net gains as defined in clause (J) of subparagraph two of this paragraph, from qualified financial instruments constitutes business income, gain or loss. If the taxpayer does not elect to use the fixed percentage method, then receipts and net gains are included in the apportionment fraction in accordance with the customer sourcing method described in subparagraph two of this paragraph. Under the fixed percentage method, eight percent of all net income (not less than zero) from qualified financial instruments is included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. All net income (not less than zero) from qualified financial instruments is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(2) Customer sourcing method. Receipts and net gains from qualified financial instruments, in cases where the taxpayer did not elect to use the fixed percentage method described in subparagraph one of this paragraph, and from nonqualified financial instruments are included in the apportionment fraction in accordance with this subparagraph. For purposes of this paragraph, an individual is deemed to be located in the state if his or her billing address is in the state. A business entity is deemed to be located in the state if its commercial domicile is located in the state.

(A) Loans. (i) Receipts constituting interest from loans secured by real property located within the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts constituting interest from loans secured by real property located within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(ii) Receipts constituting interest from loans not secured by real property shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction if the borrower is located in the state. Receipts constituting interest from loans not secured by real property, whether the borrower is located within or without the state, shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(iii) Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of loans secured by real property are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as provided in this subclause. The amount of net gains from the sale of loans secured by real property included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the net gains by a fraction the numerator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from sales of loans secured by real property located within the state and the denominator of which is the gross proceeds from sales of loans secured by real property within and without the state. Gross proceeds shall be determined after the deduction of any cost incurred to acquire the loans but shall not be less than zero. Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of loans secured by real property within and without the state are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(iv) Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of loans not secured by real property are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as provided in this subclause. The amount of net gains from the sale of loans not secured by real property included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the net gains by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from sales of loans not secured by real property to purchasers located within the state and the denominator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from sales of loans not secured by real property to purchasers located within and without the state. Gross proceeds shall be determined after the deduction of any cost incurred to acquire the loans but shall not be less than zero. Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of loans not secured by real property are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(v) For purposes of this subdivision, a loan is secured by real property if fifty percent or more of the value of the collateral used to secure the loan, when valued at fair market value as of the time the loan was entered into, consists of real property.

(B) Federal, state, and municipal debt. Receipts constituting interest and net gains from sales of debt instruments issued by the United States, any state, or political subdivision of a state shall not be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts constituting interest and net gains (not less than zero) from sales of debt instruments issued by the United States and the state of New York or its political subdivisions shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Fifty percent of the receipts constituting interest and net gains (not less than zero) from sales of debt instruments issued by other states or their political subdivisions shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(C) Asset backed securities and other government agency debt. Eight percent of the interest income from asset backed securities or other securities issued by government agencies, including but not limited to securities issued by the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA), the Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA), the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC), or the Small Business Administration, or asset backed securities issued by other entities shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Eight percent of the net gains (not less than zero) from (i) sales of asset backed securities or other securities issued by government agencies, including but not limited to securities issued by GNMA, FNMA, or FHLMC, the Small Business Administration, or (ii) sales of other asset backed securities that are sold through a registered securities broker or dealer or through a licensed exchange, shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. The amount of net gains (not less than zero) from sales of other asset backed securities not referenced in subclause (i) or (ii) of this clause included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying such net gains by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from such sales to purchasers located in the state and the denominator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from such sales to purchasers located within and without the state. Receipts constituting interest from asset backed securities and other securities referenced in this clause and net gains (not less than zero) from sales of asset backed securities and other securities referenced in this clause are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Gross proceeds shall be determined after the deduction of any cost to acquire the securities but shall not be less than zero.

(D) Corporate bonds. Receipts constituting interest from corporate bonds are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction if the commercial domicile of the issuing corporation is in the state. Eight percent of the net gains (not less than zero) from sales of corporate bonds sold through a registered securities broker or dealer or through a licensed exchange is included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. The amount of net gains (not less than zero) from other sales of corporate bonds included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying such net gains by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from such sales to purchasers located in the state and the denominator of which is the amount of gross proceeds from sales to purchasers located within and without the state. Receipts constituting interest from corporate bonds, whether the issuing corporation's commercial domicile is within or without the state, and net gains (not less than zero) from sales of corporate bonds to purchasers within and without the state are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Gross proceeds shall be determined after the deduction of any cost to acquire the bonds but shall not be less than zero.

(E) Reverse repurchase agreements and securities borrowing agreements. Eight percent of net interest income (not less than zero) from reverse repurchase agreements and securities borrowing agreements shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Net interest income (not less than zero) from reverse repurchase agreements and securities borrowing agreements is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Net interest income from reverse repurchase agreements and securities borrowing agreements is determined for purposes of this subdivision after the deduction of the interest expense from the taxpayer's repurchase agreements and securities lending agreements but cannot be less than zero. For this calculation, the amount of such interest expense is the interest expense associated with the sum of the value of the taxpayer's repurchase agreements where it is the seller/borrower plus the value of the taxpayer's securities lending agreements where it is the securities lender, provided such sum is limited to the sum of the value of the taxpayer's reverse repurchase agreements where it is the purchaser/lender plus the value of the taxpayer's securities lending agreements where it is the securities borrower.

(F) Federal funds. Eight percent of the net interest (not less than zero) from federal funds is included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. The net interest (not less than zero) from federal funds is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Net interest from federal funds is determined after deduction of interest expense from federal funds.

(G) Dividends and net gains from sales of stock or partnership interests. Dividends from stock, net gains (not less than zero) from sales of stock and net gains (not less than zero) from the sale of partnership interests are not included in either the numerator or denominator of the apportionment fraction unless the commissioner determines pursuant to subdivision eleven of this section that inclusion of such dividends and net gains (not less than zero) is necessary to properly reflect the business income or capital of the taxpayer.

(H) Other financial instruments. (i) Receipts constituting interest from other financial instruments shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction if the payor is located in the state. Receipts constituting interest from other financial instruments, whether the payor is within or without the state, are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(ii) Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of other financial instruments and other income (not less than zero) from other financial instruments where the purchaser or payor is located in the state are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction, provided that, if the purchaser or payor is a registered securities broker or dealer or the transaction is made through a licensed exchange, then eight percent of the net gains (not less than zero) or other income (not less than zero) is included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Net gains (not less than zero) from sales of other financial instruments and other income (not less than zero) from other financial instruments are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(I) Physical commodities. Net income (not less than zero) from sales of physical commodities are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as provided in this clause. The amount of net income from sales of physical commodities included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the net income from sales of physical commodities by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of receipts from sales of physical commodities actually delivered to points within the state or, if there is no actual delivery of the physical commodity, sold to purchasers located in the state, and the denominator of which is the amount of receipts from sales of physical commodities actually delivered to points within and without the state or, if there is no actual delivery of the physical commodity, sold to purchasers located within and without the state. Net income (not less than zero) from sales of physical commodities is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Net income (not less than zero) from sales of physical commodities is determined after the deduction of the cost to acquire or produce the physical commodities.

(J) Marked to market net gains. (i) For purposes of this subdivision, "marked to market" means that a financial instrument is, under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code, treated by the taxpayer as sold for its fair market value on the last business day of the taxpayer's taxable year. "Marked to market gain or loss" means the gain or loss recognized by the taxpayer under section 475 or section 1256 of the internal revenue code because the financial instrument is treated as sold for its fair market value on the last business day of the taxpayer's taxable year.

(ii) The amount of marked to market net gains (not less than zero) from each type of financial instrument that is marked to market included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the marked to market net gains (but not less than zero) from such type of the financial instrument by a fraction, the numerator of which is the numerator of the apportionment fraction for the net gains from that type of financial instrument determined under the applicable clause of this subparagraph and the denominator of which is the denominator of the apportionment fraction for the net gains for that type of financial instrument determined under the applicable clause of this subparagraph. Marked to market net gains (not less than zero) from financial instruments for which the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined under the immediately preceding sentence are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(iii) If the type of financial instrument that is marked to market is not otherwise sourced by the taxpayer under this subparagraph, or if the taxpayer has a net loss from the sales of that type of financial instrument under the applicable clause of this subparagraph, the amount of marked to market net gains (not less than zero) from that type of financial instrument included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the marked to market net gains (but not less than zero) from that type of financial instrument by a fraction, the numerator of which is the sum of the amount of receipts included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction under clauses (A), (B), (C), (D), (E), (F), (G), (H) and (I) of this subparagraph and subclause (ii) of this clause, and the denominator of which is the sum of the amount of receipts included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction under clauses (A), (B), (C), (D), (E), (F), (G), (H) and (I) and subclause (ii) of this clause. Marked to market net gains (not less than zero) for which the amount to be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined under the immediately preceding sentence are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(b) Other receipts from broker or dealer activities. Receipts of a registered securities broker or dealer from securities or commodities broker or dealer activities described in this paragraph shall be deemed to be generated within the state as described in subparagraphs one through eight of this paragraph. Receipts from such activities generated within the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from such activities generated within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "securities" shall have the same meaning as in section 475(c)(2) of the internal revenue code and the term "commodities" shall have the same meaning as in section 475(e)(2) of the internal revenue code.

(1) Receipts constituting brokerage commissions derived from the execution of securities or commodities purchase or sales orders for the accounts of customers shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address in the records of the taxpayer of the customer who is responsible for paying such commissions is within the state.

(2) Receipts constituting margin interest earned on behalf of brokerage accounts shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address in the records of the taxpayer of the customer who is responsible for paying such margin interest is within the state.

(3)(A) Receipts constituting fees earned by the taxpayer for advisory services to a customer in connection with the underwriting of securities for such customer (such customer being the entity that is contemplating issuing or is issuing securities) or fees earned by the taxpayer for managing an underwriting shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address in the records of the taxpayer of such customer who is responsible for paying such fees is within the state.

(B) Receipts constituting the primary spread of selling concession from underwritten securities shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the customer is located in the state.

(C) The term "primary spread" means the difference between the price paid by the taxpayer to the issuer of the securities being marketed and the price received from the subsequent sale of the underwritten securities at the initial public offering price, less any selling concession and any fees paid to the taxpayer for advisory services or any manager's fees, if such fees are not paid by the customer to the taxpayer separately. The term "public offering price" means the price agreed upon by the taxpayer and the issuer at which the securities are to be offered to the public. The term "selling concession" means the amount paid to the taxpayer for participating in the underwriting of a security where the taxpayer is not the lead underwriter.

(4) Receipts constituting account maintenance fees shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address in the record of the taxpayer of the customer who is responsible for paying such account maintenance fees is within the state.

(5) Receipts constituting fees for management or advisory services, including fees for advisory services in relation to merger or acquisition activities, but excluding fees paid for services described in paragraph (d) of this subdivision, shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address in the records of the taxpayer of the customer who is responsible for paying such fees is within the state.

(6) Receipts constituting interest earned by the taxpayer on loans and advances made by the taxpayer to a corporation affiliated with the taxpayer but with which the taxpayer is not permitted or required to file a combined report pursuant to section two hundred ten-C of this article shall be deemed to arise from services performed at the principal place of business of such affiliated corporation.

(7) If the taxpayer receives any of the receipts enumerated in subparagraphs one through four of this paragraph as a result of a securities correspondent relationship such taxpayer has with another broker or dealer with the taxpayer acting in this relationship as the clearing firm, such receipts shall be deemed to be generated within the state to extent set forth in each of such subparagraphs. The amount of such receipts shall exclude the amount the taxpayer is required to pay to the correspondent firm for such correspondent relationship. If the taxpayer receives any of the receipts enumerated in subparagraphs one through four of this paragraph as a result of a securities correspondent relationship such taxpayer has with another broker or dealer with the taxpayer acting in this relationship as the introducing firm, such receipts shall be deemed to be generated within the state to the extent set forth in each of such subparagraphs.

(8) If, for purposes of subparagraphs one, two, clause (A) of subparagraph three, four, or five of this paragraph the taxpayer is unable from its records to determine the mailing address of the customer, eight percent of the receipts is included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction.

(c) Receipts from credit card and similar activities. Receipts relating to the bank, credit, travel and entertainment card activities described in this paragraph shall be deemed to be generated within the state as described in subparagraphs one through four of this paragraph. Receipts from such activities generated within the state shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Receipts from such activities generated within and without the state shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(1) Receipts constituting interest, and fees and penalties in the nature of interest, from bank, credit, travel and entertainment card receivables shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address of the card holder in the records of the taxpayer is in the state;

(2) Receipts from service charges and fees from such cards shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the mailing address of the card holder in the records of the taxpayer is in the state; and

(3) Receipts from merchant discounts shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the merchant is located within the state. In the case of a merchant with locations both within and without New York state, only receipts from merchant discounts attributable to sales made from locations within New York state are allocated to New York state. It shall be presumed that the location of the merchant is the address of the merchant shown on the invoice submitted by the merchant to the taxpayer.

(4) Receipts from credit card authorization processing, and clearing and settlement processing received by credit card processors shall be deemed to be generated within the state if the location where the credit card processor's customer accesses the credit card processor's network is located within the state. The amount of all other receipts received by credit card processors not specifically addressed in subdivisions one through nine of this section deemed to be generated within the state shall be determined by multiplying the total amount of such other receipts by the average of (i) eight percent and (ii) the percent of its New York access points. The percent of New York access points is the number of locations in New York from which the credit card processor's customers access the credit card processor's network divided by the total number of locations in the United States where the credit card processor's customers access the credit card processor's network.

(d) Receipts from certain services to investment companies. Receipts received from an investment company arising from the sale of management, administration or distribution services to such investment company are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. The portion of such receipts included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction (such portion referred to herein as the New York portion) shall be determined as provided in this paragraph.

(1) The New York portion shall be the product of the total of such receipts from the sale of such services and a fraction. The numerator of that fraction is the sum of the monthly percentages (as defined hereinafter) determined for each month of the investment company's taxable year for federal income tax purposes which taxable year ends within the taxable year of the taxpayer (but excluding any month during which the investment company had no outstanding shares). The monthly percentage for each such month is determined by dividing the number of shares in the investment company that are owned on the last day of the month by shareholders that are located in the state by the total number of shares in the investment company outstanding on that date. The denominator of the fraction is the number of such monthly percentages.

(2)(A) For purposes of this paragraph, an individual, estate or trust is deemed to be located in the state if his, her or its mailing address on the records of the investment company is in the state. A business entity is deemed to be located in the state if its commercial domicile is located in the state.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "investment company" means a regulated investment company, as defined in section 851 of the internal revenue code, and a partnership to which section 7704(a) of the internal revenue code applies (by virtue of section 7704(c)(3) of such code) and that meets the requirements of section 851(b) of such code. The preceding sentence shall be applied to the taxable year for federal income tax purposes of the business entity that is asserted to constitute an investment company that ends within the taxable year of the taxpayer.

(C) For purposes of this paragraph the term "receipts from an investment company" includes amounts received directly from an investment company as well as amounts received from the shareholders in such investment company, in their capacity as such.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "management services" means the rendering of investment advice to an investment company, making determinations as to when sales and purchases of securities are to be made on behalf of an investment company, or the selling or purchasing of securities constituting assets of an investment company, and related activities, but only where such activity or activities are performed pursuant to a contract with the investment company entered into pursuant to section 15(a) of the federal investment company act of nineteen hundred forty, as amended.

(E) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "distribution services" means the services of advertising, servicing investor accounts (including redemptions), marketing shares or selling shares of an investment company, but, in the case of advertising, servicing investor accounts (including redemptions) or marketing shares, only where such service is performed by a person who is (or was, in the case of a closed end company) also engaged in the service of selling such shares. In the case of an open end company, such service of selling shares must be performed pursuant to a contract entered into pursuant to section 15(b) of the federal investment company act of nineteen hundred forty, as amended.

(F) For purposes of this paragraph, the term "administration services" includes clerical, accounting, bookkeeping, data processing, internal auditing, legal and tax services performed for an investment company but only if the provider of such service or services during the taxable year in which such service or services are sold also sells management or distribution services, as defined hereinabove, to such investment company.

(e) For purposes of this subdivision, a taxpayer shall use the following hierarchy to determine the commercial domicile of a business entity, based on the information known to the taxpayer or information that would be known upon reasonable inquiry: (i) the seat of management and control of the business entity; and (ii) the billing address of the business entity in the taxpayer's records. The taxpayer must exercise due diligence before rejecting the first method in this hierarchy and proceeding to the next method.

(f) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "registered securities broker or dealer" means a broker or dealer registered as such by the securities and exchange commission or a broker or dealer registered as such by the commodities futures trading commission, and shall include an OTC derivatives dealer as defined under regulations of the securities and exchange commission at title 17, part 240, section 3b-12 of the code of federal regulations (17 CFR 240.3b-12).

5-a. Global intangible low-taxed income. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, global intangible low-taxed income shall be included in the apportionment fraction as provided in this subdivision.

(b) For New York C corporations, global intangible low-taxed income shall not be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Five percent of global intangible low-taxed income shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(c) For New York S corporations, global intangible low-taxed income shall not be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction. Global intangible low-taxed income shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(d) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "global intangible low-taxed income" means the amount required to be included in the taxpayer's federal gross income pursuant to subsection (a) of section 951A of the internal revenue code.

6. Receipts from railroad and trucking business. Receipts from the conduct of a railroad business (including surface railroad, whether or not operated by steam, subway railroad, elevated railroad, palace car or sleeping car business) or a trucking business are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as follows. The amount of receipts from the conduct of a railroad business or a trucking business included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the amount of receipts from such business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the miles in such business within the state during the period covered by the taxpayer's report and the denominator of which is the miles in such business within and without the state during such period. Receipts from the conduct of the railroad business or a trucking business are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

6-a. Receipts from the operation of vessels. Receipts from the operation of vessels are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as follows. The amount of receipts from the operation of vessels included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the amount of such receipts by a fraction, the numerator of which is the aggregate number of working days of the vessels owned or leased by the taxpayer in territorial waters of the state during the period covered by the taxpayer's report and the denominator of which is the aggregate number of working days of all vessels owned or leased by the taxpayer during such period. Receipts from the operation of vessels are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

7. Receipts from aviation services. (a) Air freight forwarding. Receipts of a taxpayer from the activity of air freight forwarding acting as principal and like indirect air carrier receipts arising from such activity shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as follows: one hundred percent of such receipts if both the pickup and delivery associated with such receipts are made in the state and fifty percent of such receipts if either the pickup or delivery associated with such receipts is made in this state. Such receipts, whether the pickup or delivery associated with the receipts is within or without the state, shall be included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(b) Other aviation services. (1)(A) The portion of receipts of a taxpayer from aviation services (other than services described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, but including the receipts of a qualified air freight forwarder) to be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction shall be determined by multiplying its receipts from such aviation services by a percentage which is equal to the arithmetic average of the following three percentages:

(i) the percentage determined by dividing sixty percent of the aircraft arrivals and departures within this state by the taxpayer during the period covered by its report by the total aircraft arrivals and departures within and without this state during such period; provided, however, arrivals and departures solely for maintenance or repair, refueling (where no debarkation or embarkation of traffic occurs), arrivals and departures of ferry and personnel training flights or arrivals and departures in the event of emergency situations shall not be included in computing such arrival and departure percentage; provided, further, the commissioner may also exempt from such percentage aircraft arrivals and departures of all non-revenue flights including flights involving the transportation of officers or employees receiving air transportation to perform maintenance or repair services or where such officers or employees are transported in conjunction with an emergency situation or the investigation of an air disaster (other than on a scheduled flight); provided, however, that arrivals and departures of flights transporting officers and employees receiving air transportation for purposes other than specified above (without regard to remuneration) shall be included in computing such arrival and departure percentage;

(ii) the percentage determined by dividing sixty percent of the revenue tons handled by the taxpayer at airports within this state during such period by the total revenue tons handled by it at airports within and without this state during such period; and

(iii) the percentage determined by dividing sixty percent of the taxpayer's originating revenue within this state for such period by its total originating revenue within and without this state for such period.

(B) As used herein the term "aircraft arrivals and departures" means the number of landings and takeoffs of the aircraft of the taxpayer and the number of air pickups and deliveries by the aircraft of such taxpayer; the term "originating revenue" means revenue to the taxpayer from the transportation or revenue passengers and revenue property first received by the taxpayer either as originating or connecting traffic at airports; and the term "revenue tons handled" by the taxpayer at airports means the weight in tons of revenue passengers (at two hundred pounds per passenger) and revenue cargo first received either as originating or connecting traffic or finally discharged by the taxpayer at airports;

(2) All such receipts of a taxpayer from aviation services described in this paragraph are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(3) A corporation is a qualified air freight forwarder with respect to another corporation:

(A) if it owns or controls either directly or indirectly all of the capital stock of such other corporation, or if all of its capital stock is owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by such other corporation, or if all of the capital stock of both corporations is owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by the same interests,

(B) if it is principally engaged in the business of air freight forwarding, and

(C) if its air freight forwarding business is carried on principally with the airline or airlines operated by such other corporation.

8. Receipts from sales of advertising. (a) The amount of receipts from sales of advertising in newspapers or periodicals included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the total of such receipts by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of newspapers and periodicals delivered to points within the state and the denominator of which is the number of newspapers and periodicals delivered to points within and without the state. The total of such receipts from sales of advertising in newspapers or periodicals is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(b) The amount of receipts from sales of advertising on television or radio included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the total of such receipts by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of viewers or listeners within the state and the denominator of which is the number of viewers or listeners within and without the state. The total of such receipts from sales of advertising on television and radio is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

(c) The amount of receipts from sales of advertising not described in paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision that is furnished, provided or delivered to, or accessed by the viewer or listener through the use of wire, cable, fiber-optic, laser, microwave, radio wave, satellite or similar successor media or any combination thereof, included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the total of such receipts by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of viewers or listeners within the state and the denominator of which is the number of viewers or listeners within and without the state. The total of such receipts from sales of advertising described in this paragraph is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

9. Receipts from transportation or transmission of gas through pipes. Receipts from the transportation or transmission of gas through pipes are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction as follows. The amount of receipts from the transportation or transmission of gas through pipes included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined by multiplying the total amount of such receipts by a fraction, the numerator of which is the taxpayer's transportation units within the state and the denominator of which is the taxpayer's transportation units within and without the state. A transportation unit is the transportation of one cubic foot of gas over a distance of one mile. The total amount of receipts from the transportation or transmission of gas through pipes is included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction.

10. (a) Receipts from other services and other business receipts. Receipts from services not addressed in subdivisions one through nine of this section and other business receipts not addressed in such subdivisions shall be included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction if the location of the customer is within the state. Such receipts from customers within and without the state are included in the denominator of the apportionment fraction. Whether the receipts are included in the numerator of the apportionment fraction is determined according to the hierarchy of method set forth in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. The taxpayer must exercise due diligence under each method described in such paragraph (b) before rejecting it and proceeding to the next method in the hierarchy, and must base its determination on information known to the taxpayer or information that would be known to the taxpayer upon reasonable inquiry.

(b) Hierarchy of methods. (1) The benefit is received in this state;

(2) Delivery destination;

(3) The apportionment fraction for such receipts within the state determined pursuant to this subdivision for the preceding taxable year; or

(4) The apportionment fraction in the current taxable year determined pursuant to this subdivision for those receipts that can be sourced using the hierarchy of sourcing methods in subparagraphs one and two of this paragraph.

11. If it shall appear that the apportionment fraction determined pursuant to this section does not result in a proper reflection of the taxpayer's business income or capital within the state, the commissioner is authorized in his or her discretion to adjust it, or the taxpayer may request that the commissioner adjust it, by (a) excluding one or more items in such determination, (b) including one or more other items in such determination, or (c) any other similar or different method calculated to effect a fair and proper apportionment of the business income and capital reasonably attributed to the state. The party seeking the adjustment shall bear the burden of proof to demonstrate that the apportionment fraction determined pursuant to this section does not result in a proper reflection of the taxpayer's business income or capital within the state and that the proposed adjustment is appropriate.

§ 210-B. Credits. 1. Investment tax credit (ITC). (a) A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article. The amount of the credit shall be the percent provided for hereinbelow of the investment credit base. The investment credit base is the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, less the amount of the nonqualified nonrecourse financing with respect to such property to the extent such financing would be excludible from the credit base pursuant to section 46(c)(8) of the internal revenue code (treating such property as section thirty-eight property irrespective of whether or not it in fact constitutes section thirty-eight property). If, at the close of a taxable year following the taxable year in which such property was placed in service, there is a net decrease in the amount of nonqualified nonrecourse financing with respect to such property, such net decrease shall be treated as if it were the cost or other basis of property described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision acquired, constructed, reconstructed or erected during the year of the decrease in the amount of nonqualified nonrecourse financing. In the case of a combined report the term investment credit base shall mean the sum of the investment credit base of each corporation included on such report. The percentage to be used to compute the credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall be five percent with respect to the first three hundred fifty million dollars of the investment credit base, and four percent with respect to the investment credit base in excess of three hundred fifty million dollars, except that in the case of research and development property at the option of the taxpayer the applicable percentage shall be nine.

(a-1) For a taxpayer that is an eligible farmer, as defined in subdivision eleven of this section, the percentage to be used to compute the credit allowed under this subdivision shall be twenty percent for property described in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision that is principally used by the taxpayer in the production of goods by farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture or viticulture.

(b) (i) A credit shall be allowed under this subdivision with respect to tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which are: depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code, have a useful life of four years or more, are acquired by purchase as defined in section one hundred seventy-nine (d) of the internal revenue code, have a situs in this state and are (A) principally used by the taxpayer in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture or commercial fishing, (B) industrial waste treatment facilities or air pollution control facilities, used in the taxpayer's trade or business, (C) research and development property, or (D) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business as a broker or dealer in connection with the purchase or sale (which shall include but not be limited to the issuance, entering into, assumption, offset, assignment, termination, or transfer) of stocks, bonds or other securities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, or of commodities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (e) of the Internal Revenue Code, (E) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business of providing investment advisory services for a regulated investment company as defined in section eight hundred fifty-one of the Internal Revenue Code, or lending, loan arrangement or loan origination services to customers in connection with the purchase or sale (which shall include but not be limited to the issuance, entering into, assumption, offset, assignment, termination, or transfer) of securities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, (F) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's business as an exchange registered as a national securities exchange within the meaning of sections 3(a)(1) and 6(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or a board of trade as defined in subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of section fourteen hundred ten of the not-for-profit corporation law or as an entity that is wholly owned by one or more such national securities exchanges or boards of trade and that provides automation or technical services thereto, or (G) principally used as a qualified film production facility including qualified film production facilities having a situs in an empire zone designated as such pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, where the taxpayer is providing three or more services to any qualified film production company using the facility, including such services as a studio lighting grid, lighting and grip equipment, multi-line phone service, broadband information technology access, industrial scale electrical capacity, food services, security services, and heating, ventilation and air conditioning. For purposes of clauses (D), (E) and (F) of this subparagraph, property purchased by a taxpayer affiliated with a regulated broker, dealer, registered investment advisor, national securities exchange or board of trade, is allowed a credit under this subdivision if the property is used by its affiliated regulated broker, dealer, registered investment advisor, national securities exchange or board of trade in accordance with this subdivision. For purposes of determining if the property is principally used in qualifying uses, the uses by the taxpayer described in clauses (D) and (E) of this subparagraph may be aggregated. In addition, the uses by the taxpayer, its affiliated regulated broker, dealer and registered investment advisor under either or both of those clauses may be aggregated. Provided, however, a taxpayer shall not be allowed the credit provided by clauses (D), (E) and (F) of this subparagraph unless the property is first placed in service before October first, two thousand fifteen and (i) eighty percent or more of the employees performing the administrative and support functions resulting from or related to the qualifying uses of such equipment are located in this state or (ii) the average number of employees that perform the administrative and support functions resulting from or related to the qualifying uses of such equipment and are located in this state during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed is equal to or greater than ninety-five percent of the average number of employees that perform these functions and are located in this state during the thirty-six months immediately preceding the year for which the credit is claimed, or (iii) the number of employees located in this state during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed is equal to or greater than ninety percent of the number of employees located in this state on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight or, if the taxpayer was not a calendar year taxpayer in nineteen hundred ninety-eight, the last day of its first taxable year ending after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight. If the taxpayer becomes subject to tax in this state after the taxable year beginning in nineteen hundred ninety-eight, then the taxpayer is not required to satisfy the employment test provided in the preceding sentence of this subparagraph for its first taxable year. For purposes of clause (iii) of this subparagraph the employment test will be based on the number of employees located in this state on the last day of the first taxable year the taxpayer is subject to tax in this state. If the uses of the property must be aggregated to determine whether the property is principally used in qualifying uses, then either each affiliate using the property must satisfy this employment test or this employment test must be satisfied through the aggregation of the employees of the taxpayer, its affiliated regulated broker, dealer, and registered investment adviser using the property. For purposes of clause (A) of this subparagraph, tangible personal property and other tangible property shall not include property principally used by the taxpayer in the production or distribution of electricity, natural gas after extraction from wells, steam, or water delivered through pipes and mains.

(ii) For purposes of this paragraph, the following definitions shall apply--

(A) Manufacturing shall mean the process of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new quality or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process by the use of machinery, tools, appliances and other similar equipment. Property used in the production of goods shall include machinery, equipment or other tangible property which is principally used in the repair and service of other machinery, equipment or other tangible property used principally in the production of goods and shall include all facilities used in the production operation, including storage of material to be used in production and of the products that are produced.

(B) Research and development property shall mean property which is used for purposes of research and development in the experimental or laboratory sense. Such purposes shall not be deemed to include the ordinary testing or inspection of materials or products for quality control, efficiency surveys, management studies, consumer surveys, advertising, promotions, or research in connection with literary, historical or similar projects.

(C) Industrial waste treatment facilities shall mean property constituting facilities for the treatment, neutralization or stabilization of industrial waste and other wastes (as the terms "industrial waste" and "other wastes" are defined in section 17-0105 of the environmental conservation law) from a point immediately preceding the point of such treatment, neutralization or stabilization to the point of disposal, including the necessary pumping and transmitting facilities, but excluding such facilities installed for the primary purpose of salvaging materials which are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable.

(D) Air pollution control facilities shall mean property constituting facilities which remove, reduce, or render less noxious air contaminants emitted from an air contamination source (as the terms "air contaminant" and "air contamination source" are defined in section 19-0107 of the environmental conservation law) from a point immediately preceding the point of such removal, reduction or rendering to the point of discharge of air, meeting emission standards as established by the department of environmental conservation, but excluding such facilities installed for the primary purpose of salvaging materials which are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable and excluding those facilities which rely for their efficacy on dilution, dispersion or assimilation of air contaminants in the ambient air after emission. Such term shall further include flue gas desulfurization equipment and attendant sludge disposal facilities, fluidized bed boilers, precombustion coal cleaning facilities or other facilities that conform with this subdivision and which comply with the provisions of the state acid deposition control act set forth in title nine of article nineteen of the environmental conservation law.

(E) The terms "qualified film production facility" and "qualified film production company" shall have the same meaning as in section twenty-four of this chapter.

(iii) However, such credit shall be allowed with respect to industrial waste treatment facilities and air pollution control facilities only on condition that such facilities have been certified by the state commissioner of environmental conservation or his designated representative, pursuant to subdivision one of section 17-0707 or subdivision one of section 19-0309 of the environmental conservation law, as complying with applicable provisions of the environmental conservation law, the public health law, the state sanitary code and codes, rules, regulations, permits or orders issued pursuant thereto.

(c) A taxpayer shall not be allowed a credit under this subdivision with respect to tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which it leases to any other person or corporation except where a taxpayer leases property to an affiliated regulated broker, dealer, registered investment adviser, national securities exchange or board of trade (or other entity described in clause (F) of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision) that uses such property in accordance with clause (D), (E) or (F) of subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision. For purposes of the preceding sentence, any contract or agreement to lease or rent or for a license to use such property shall be considered a lease. Provided, however, in determining whether a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit under this subdivision with respect to such property, any election made with respect to such property pursuant to the provisions of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, as such paragraph was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four, shall be disregarded. For purposes of this paragraph, the use of a qualified film production facility by a qualified film production company shall not be considered a lease of such facility to such company.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit allowed for a taxable year commencing prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven and not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years but in no event shall such credit be carried over to taxable years commencing on or after January first, two thousand two, and any amount of credit allowed for a taxable year commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven and not deductible in such year may be carried over to the fifteen taxable years next following such taxable year and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

In lieu of such carryover, (i) any such taxpayer which qualifies as a new business under paragraph (f) of this subdivision may elect to treat the amount of such carryover as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section ten hundred eighty-six of this chapter, and (ii) any such taxpayer that is an eligible farmer, as defined in subdivision eleven of this section, may for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand thirty-three, elect to treat the amount of such carryover as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter, provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section ten hundred eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(e) (1) With respect to property which is depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code but is not subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of such code and which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of its useful life, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. Provided, however, if such property is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this subparagraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. For purposes of this subparagraph, useful life of property shall be the same as the taxpayer uses for depreciation purposes when computing his federal income tax liability.

(2) Except with respect to that property to which subparagraph four of this paragraph applies, with respect to three-year property, as defined in subsection (e) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of thirty-six months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six.

(3) Except with respect to that property to which subparagraph four of this paragraph applies, with respect to property subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, other than three-year property as defined in subsection (e) of such section one hundred sixty-eight which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of sixty months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty.

(4) With respect to any property to which section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code applies, which is a building or a structural component of a building and which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the period over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. Provided, however, if such property is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this subparagraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code.

(5) For purposes of this paragraph, property (i) which is described in subparagraph two, three or four of this paragraph, and (ii) which is subject to subparagraph eleven of paragraph (a) of subdivision nine and subparagraph ten of paragraph (b) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this chapter, shall be treated as property which is depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code but is not subject to section one hundred sixty-eight of such code.

(6) For purposes of this paragraph, where a credit is allowed with respect to an air pollution control facility on the basis of a certificate of compliance issued pursuant to the environmental conservation law and the certificate is revoked pursuant to subdivision three of section 19-0309 of the environmental conservation law, such revocation shall constitute a disposal or cessation of qualified use, unless such facility is described in clause (A) or (C) of subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Also for purposes of this subparagraph, the use of an air pollution control facility or an industrial waste treatment facility for the primary purpose of salvaging materials which are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable shall constitute a cessation of qualified use, unless such facility is described in clause (A) or (C) of subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(7) For taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven, the amount required to be added back pursuant to this paragraph shall be augmented by an amount equal to the product of such amount and the underpayment rate of interest (without regard to compounding), set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six, in effect on the last day of the taxable year.

(8) If, as of the close of the taxable year, there is a net increase with respect to the taxpayer in the amount of nonqualified nonrecourse financing (within the meaning of section 46(c) (8) of the internal revenue code) with respect to any property with respect to which the credit under this subdivision was limited based on attributable nonqualified nonrecourse financing, then an amount equal to the decrease in such credit which would have resulted from reducing, by the amount of such net increase, the cost or other basis taken into account with respect to such property must be added back in such taxable year. The amount of nonqualified nonrecourse financing shall not be treated as increased by reason of a transfer of (or agreement to transfer) any evidence of an indebtedness if such transfer occurs (or such agreement is entered into) more than one year after the date such indebtedness was incurred.

(f) For purposes of paragraph (d) of this subdivision, a new business shall include any corporation, except a corporation which:

(1) over fifty percent of the number of shares of stock entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees is owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by a taxpayer subject to tax under this article; section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four or one hundred eighty-five of article nine; or article thirty-three of this chapter; or

(2) is substantially similar in operation and in ownership to a business entity (or entities) taxable, or previously taxable, under this article; section one hundred eighty-three, one hundred eighty-four, former section one hundred eighty-five or former section one hundred eighty-six of article nine; article thirty-two of this chapter as such article was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen; article thirty-three of this chapter; article twenty-three of this chapter or which would have been subject to tax under such article twenty-three (as such article was in effect on January first, nineteen hundred eighty) or the income (or losses) of which is (or was) includable under article twenty-two of this chapter whereby the intent and purpose of this paragraph and paragraph (d) of this subdivision with respect to refunding of credit to new business would be evaded; or

(3) has been subject to tax under this article or former article thirty-two of this chapter for more than five taxable years (excluding short taxable years).

2. Employment Incentive Credit (EIC). (a)(i) Application of credit. Where a taxpayer is allowed a credit under subdivision one of this section, other than at the optional rate applicable to research and development property, the taxpayer shall be allowed a credit for each of the two years next succeeding the taxable year for which the credit under such subdivision one is allowed with respect to such property, whether or not deductible in such taxable year or in subsequent taxable years pursuant to paragraph (d) of such subdivision one. Provided, however, that the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year shall be allowed only if the average number of employees during such taxable year is at least one hundred one percent of the average number of employees during the employment base year. The employment base year shall be the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year for which the credit under such subdivision one is allowed except that if the taxpayer was not subject to tax and did not have a taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year for which the credit under such subdivision one of this section is allowed, the employment base year shall be the taxable year in which the credit under such subdivision one is allowed.

(ii) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision shall be as set forth in the following table:

Average number of employees during the taxable year expressed as a percentage of average employees in employment base years	Credit allowed under this subdivision expressed as a percentage of the applicable investment credit basis
Less than 102%	1.5%
At least 102% and less than 103%	2%
At least 103%	2.5%

(b) Average number of employees. The average number of employees in a taxable year shall be computed by ascertaining the number of employees within the state, except general executive officers, employed by the taxpayer on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December in the taxable year, by adding together the number of employees ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such above mentioned dates occurring within the taxable year. However, with respect to the employment base year, there shall be excluded therefrom any employee with respect to whom a credit provided for under subdivision six of this section is claimed, for the taxable year, based on employment within a zone equivalent area designated as such pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law.

(c) Carryover. In no event shall the credit herein provided for be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the fifteen taxable years immediately following such taxable year and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

3. Empire zone investment tax credit (EZ-ITC). (a) A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as herein provided, against the tax imposed by this article if the taxpayer has been certified pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law. The amount of the credit shall be ten percent of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, which is located within an empire zone designated as such pursuant to article eighteen-B of such law, but only if the acquisition, construction, reconstruction or erection of such property occurred or was commenced on or after the date of such designation and prior to the expiration thereof. Provided, however, that in the case of an acquisition, construction, reconstruction or erection which was commenced during such period and continued or completed subsequently, such credit shall be ten percent of the portion of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes attributable to such period, which portion shall be ascertained by multiplying such cost or basis by a fraction the numerator of which shall be the expenditures paid or incurred during such period for such purposes and the denominator of which shall be the total of all expenditures paid or incurred for such acquisition, construction, reconstruction or erection.

(b) Qualified property. A credit shall be allowed under this subdivision with respect to tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which

(i) are depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code,

(ii) have a useful life of four years or more,

(iii) are acquired by purchase as defined in section one hundred seventy-nine (d) of the internal revenue code,

(iv) have a situs in an empire zone designated as such pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, and

(v) are (A) principally used by the taxpayer in the production of goods by manufacturing, processing, assembling, refining, mining, extracting, farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture or commercial fishing,

(B) industrial waste treatment facilities or air pollution control facilities used in the taxpayer's trade or business,

(C) research and development property,

(D) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business as a broker or dealer in connection with the purchase or sale (which shall include but not be limited to the issuance, entering into, assumption, offset, assignment, termination, or transfer) of stocks, bonds or other securities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, or of commodities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (e) of the Internal Revenue Code,

(E) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business of providing investment advisory services for a regulated investment company as defined in section eight hundred fifty-one of the Internal Revenue Code, or lending, loan arrangement, or loan origination services to customers in connection with the purchase or sale (which shall include but not be limited to the issuance, entering into, assumption, offset, assignment, termination or transfer) of securities as defined in section four hundred seventy-five (c)(2) of the Internal

Revenue Code,

(E-1) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's trade or business of providing investment advisory services or the service of managing investment portfolios to achieve specific investment objectives for accounts over one million dollars of accredited investors (as that term is defined in rule 501 of regulation D of the Securities Act of 1933), if the taxpayer satisfies the following criteria:

(I) the taxpayer is a regulated broker or dealer or an affiliate of a regulated broker or dealer,

(II) the taxpayer is registered as an investment adviser under section two hundred three of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, and

(III) at least one client of the taxpayer is a regulated investment company as defined in section eight hundred fifty-one of the internal revenue code that has assets of one hundred million dollars, or

(F) principally used in the ordinary course of the taxpayer's business as an exchange registered as a national securities exchange within the meaning of sections 3(a)(1) and 6(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or a board of trade as defined in subdivision one of paragraph (a) of section fourteen hundred ten of the not-for-profit corporation law or as an entity that is wholly owned by one or more such national securities exchanges or boards or trade and that provides automation or technical services thereto.

(vi) For purposes of clauses (D), (E), (E-1) and (F) of subparagraph (v) of this paragraph, property purchased by a taxpayer affiliated with a regulated broker, dealer, registered investment adviser, national securities exchange or board of trade is allowed a credit under this subdivision if the property is used by its affiliated regulated broker, dealer, registered investment adviser or national securities exchange or board of trade in accordance with this subdivision. For purposes of determining if the property is principally used in qualifying uses, the uses by the taxpayer described in clauses (D), (E) and (E-1) of subparagraph (v) of this paragraph may be aggregated. In addition, the uses by the taxpayer, its affiliated regulated broker, dealer and registered investment adviser under any of those clauses may be aggregated. Provided, however, a taxpayer shall not be allowed the credit provided by clauses (D), (E), (E-1) and (F) of subparagraph (v) of this paragraph unless

(I) eighty percent or more of the employees performing the administrative and support functions resulting from or related to the qualifying uses of such equipment are located in this state, or

(II) the average number of employees that perform the administrative and support functions resulting from or related to the qualifying uses of such equipment and are located in this state during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed is equal to or greater than ninety-five percent of the average number of employees that perform these functions and are located in this state during the thirty-six months immediately preceding the year for which the credit is claimed, or

(III) the number of employees located in this state during the taxable year for which the credit is claimed is equal to or greater than ninety percent of the number of employees located in this state on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight or, if the taxpayer was not a calendar year taxpayer in nineteen hundred ninety-eight, the last day of its first taxable year ending after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight. If the taxpayer becomes subject to tax in this state after the taxable year beginning in nineteen hundred ninety-eight, then the taxpayer is not required to satisfy the employment test provided in the preceding sentence of this subparagraph for its first taxable year.

(vii) For the purposes of clause (III) of subparagraph (vi) of this paragraph the employment test will be based on the number of employees located in this state on the last day of the first taxable year the taxpayer is subject to tax in this state. If the uses of the property must be aggregated to determine whether the property is principally used in qualifying uses, then either each affiliate using the property must satisfy this employment test or this employment test must be satisfied through the aggregation of the employees of the taxpayer, its affiliated regulated broker, dealer, and registered investment adviser using the property.

(viii) For the purpose of this subdivision, the term "goods" shall not include electricity.

(ix) For purposes of this subdivision, "manufacturing" shall mean the process of working raw materials into wares suitable for use or which gives new shapes, new quality or new combinations to matter which already has gone through some artificial process by the use of machinery, tools, appliances and other similar equipment. Property used in the production of goods shall include machinery, equipment or other tangible property which is principally used in the repair and service of other machinery, equipment or other tangible property used principally in the production of goods and shall include all facilities used in the production operation, including storage of material to be used in production and of the products that are produced. For purposes of this subdivision, the terms "research and development property", "industrial waste treatment facilities", and "air pollution control facilities" shall have the meanings ascribed thereto by clauses (B), (C) and (D), respectively, of subparagraph (iv) of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of this section, and the provisions of subparagraph (v) of such paragraph (b) shall apply.

(c) Nonqualified property. A taxpayer shall not be allowed a credit under this subdivision with respect to any tangible personal property and other tangible property, including buildings and structural components of buildings, which it leases to any other person or corporation except where a taxpayer leases property to an affiliated regulated broker, dealer, registered investment adviser, national securities exchange or board of trade or other entity described in clause (F) of subparagraph (v) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision that uses such property in accordance with clause (D), (E), (E-1) or (F) of subparagraph (v) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision. For purposes of the preceding sentence, any contract or agreement to lease or rent or for a license to use such property shall be considered a lease. Provided, however, in determining whether a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit under this subdivision with respect to such property, any election made with respect to such property pursuant to the provisions of paragraph eight of subsection (f) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, as such paragraph was in effect for agreements entered into prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four, shall be disregarded.

(d) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years. In lieu of such carryover, any such taxpayer which qualifies as a new business under paragraph (f) of subdivision one of this section may elect, on its report for its taxable year with respect to which such credit is allowed, to treat fifty percent of the amount of such carryover as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. In addition, any taxpayer which is approved as the owner of a qualified investment project or a significant capital investment project pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, on its report for its taxable year with respect to which such credit is allowed, in lieu of such carryover, may elect to treat fifty percent of the amount of such carryover which is attributable to the credit allowed under this subdivision for property which is part of such project as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, such owner shall be allowed such refund for a maximum of ten taxable years with respect to such qualified investment project and each significant capital investment project, starting with the first taxable year in which property comprising such project is placed in service. Provided, further, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(d-1) Any carryover of a credit from prior taxable years will not be allowed if an empire zone retention certificate is not issued pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law to the empire zone enterprise which is the basis of the credit.

(e) At the option of the taxpayer, the taxpayer may choose to claim the credit described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision for property which also qualifies for the credit provided under subdivision one of this section. A taxpayer shall not be allowed a credit under this subdivision with respect to any property described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision if a credit is taken pursuant to subdivision one of this section.

(f) Recapture. (i) With respect to property which is depreciable pursuant to section one hundred sixty-seven of the internal revenue code but is not subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of such code and which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of its useful life, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. Provided, however, if such property is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this subparagraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the months of useful life. For purposes of this subparagraph, useful life of property shall be the same as the taxpayer uses for depreciation purposes when computing his federal income tax liability.

(ii) Except with respect to that property to which subparagraph (iv) of this paragraph applies, with respect to three-year property, as defined in subsection (e) of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code, which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of thirty-six months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to thirty-six.

(iii) Except with respect to that property to which subparagraph (iv) of this paragraph applies, with respect to property subject to the provisions of section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code other than three-year property as defined in subsection (e) of such section one hundred sixty-eight which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of sixty months, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to sixty.

(iv) With respect to any property to which section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code applies, which is a building or a structural component of a building and which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the taxable year in which the credit is to be taken, the amount of the credit shall be that portion of the credit provided for in this subdivision which represents the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code. If property on which credit has been taken is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use prior to the end of the period over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code, the difference between the credit taken and the credit allowed for actual use must be added back in the year of disposition. Provided, however, if such property is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use after it has been in qualified use for more than twelve consecutive years, it shall not be necessary to add back the credit as provided in this subparagraph. The amount of credit allowed for actual use shall be determined by multiplying the original credit by the ratio which the months of qualified use bear to the total number of months over which the taxpayer chooses to deduct the property under the internal revenue code.

(v) For purposes of this paragraph, disposal or cessation of qualified use shall not be deemed to have occurred solely by reason of the termination or expiration of an empire zone's designation as such.

(vi)(A) For purposes of this paragraph, the decertification of a business enterprise with respect to an empire zone shall constitute a disposal or cessation of qualified use of the property on which the credit was taken which is located in the zone to which the decertification applies, on the effective date of such decertification.

(B) Where a business enterprise has been decertified based on a finding pursuant to clause one, two, or five of subdivision (a) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, the amount required to be added back by reason of this paragraph shall be (I) the amount of credit, with respect to the property which is disposed of or ceases to be in qualified use, which was deducted from the taxpayer's tax otherwise due under this article for all prior taxable years, reduced (but not below zero) by (II) the credit allowed for actual use. For purposes of this subparagraph, the attribution to specific property of credit amounts deducted from tax shall be established in accordance with the date of placement in service of such property in the empire zone.

(C) In no event shall the amount of the credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision be rendered, solely by reason of clause (A) of this subparagraph, less than the amount of the credit to which the taxpayer would otherwise be entitled under subdivision one of this section.

(D) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision, in the case of a business enterprise which has been decertified, any amount of credit allowed with respect to the property of such business enterprise located in the zone to which the decertification applies which is carried over pursuant to paragraph (d) of this subdivision shall not be carried over beyond the seventh taxable year next following the taxable year with respect to which the credit provided for in this subdivision was allowed.

(vii) For purposes of this paragraph, where a credit is allowed with respect to an air pollution control facility on the basis of a certificate of compliance issued pursuant to the environmental conservation law and the certificate is revoked pursuant to subdivision three of section 19-0309 of the environmental conservation law, such revocation shall constitute a disposal or cessation of qualified use, except with respect to property contained in or comprising such facility which is described in clause (A), (B), or (C) of subparagraph (v) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision other than as part of or comprising an air pollution control facility. Also for purposes of this paragraph, the use of an air pollution control facility or an industrial waste treatment facility for the primary purpose of salvaging materials which are usable in the manufacturing process or are marketable shall constitute a cessation of qualified use, except with respect to property contained in or comprising such facility which is described in clause (A) or (C) of subparagraph (v) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision.

(viii) Except as provided in this subparagraph, this paragraph shall not apply to a credit allowed by this subdivision to a taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership in the case of manufacturing property; provided, at the time such property was placed in service by such partnership in an empire zone the basis for federal income tax purposes for such property (or a project that includes such property) equaled or exceeded three hundred million dollars and such partner owned its partnership interest for at least three years from the date such property was placed in service. If such property ceases to be in qualified use after it is placed in service, this paragraph shall apply to such partner in the year such property ceases to be in qualifying use.

(ix) If a taxpayer, which is approved by the commissioner of economic development as the owner of a qualified investment project or a significant capital investment project pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, fails to (A) create at least the minimum number of jobs at such project as required by the provisions of subdivision (s) or (t) of section nine hundred fifty-seven and subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law or (B) place in service property comprising such qualified investment project or significant capital investment project with a basis for federal income tax purposes equaling or exceeding the applicable minimum required basis as provided in such subdivision (s) or (t), whichever is relevant, by the last day of the fifth taxable year following the taxable year in which a credit is first allowed under this subdivision for the property which comprises such qualified investment project or such significant capital investment project, the total amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for all taxable years with respect to the property which comprises such project which has been refunded to such taxpayer shall be added back in such taxable year.

(g) Notwithstanding the expiration of the empire zones program under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, a taxpayer that is certified as a qualified investment project pursuant to such article eight-B on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed certified under such article eighteen-B for purposes of this subdivision for the remainder of the taxable year in which the expiration occurred and for the next succeeding nine taxable years. In addition, the areas designated as empire zones in which the taxpayer is certified as a qualified investment project on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed empire zones for purposes of this subdivision for the remainder of the taxable year in which the expiration occurred and for the next succeeding nine taxable years.

(h) Notwithstanding the expiration of the empire zones program under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law and except as provided in paragraph (g) of this subdivision, a taxpayer that is certified as an empire zone business pursuant to such article eighteen-B on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zone program expired shall continue to be deemed certified under such article eighteen-B for purposes of this subdivision until April first, two thousand fourteen. In addition, the areas designated as empire zones in which the taxpayer is certified as an empire zone business on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed empire zones for purposes of this subdivisions until April first, two thousand fourteen.

4. Empire zone employment incentive credit (EZ-EIC). (a) Application of credit. Where a taxpayer is allowed a credit under subdivision three of this section, the taxpayer shall be allowed a credit for each of the three years next succeeding the taxable year for which the credit under such subdivision three is allowed, with respect to such property, whether or not deductible in such taxable year or in subsequent taxable years pursuant to paragraph (d) of such subdivision three, of thirty percent of the credit allowable under such subdivision three; provided, however, that the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year shall only be allowed if the average number of employees employed by the taxpayer in the empire zone, designated pursuant to article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, in which such property is located during such taxable year is at least one hundred one percent of the average number of employees employed by the taxpayer in such empire zone, during the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year for which the credit under such subdivision three is allowed and provided, further, that if the taxpayer was not subject to tax and did not have a taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year for which the credit under subdivision three of this section is allowed, the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year shall be allowed if the average number of employees employed in such empire zone in such taxable year is at least one hundred one percent of the average number of such employees during the taxable year in which the credit under such subdivision three is allowed.

(b) Average number of employees. The average number of employees employed in an empire zone in a taxable year shall be computed by ascertaining the number of such employees within such zone except general executive officers, employed by the taxpayer on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September and the thirty-first day of December in the taxable year, by adding together the number of employees ascertained on each of such dates and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such above-mentioned dates occurring within the taxable year.

(c) Carryover. In no event shall the credit herein provided for be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years. In lieu of such carryover, any such taxpayer, which is approved as the owner of a qualified investment project or a significant capital investment project pursuant to subdivision (v) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law, may elect, on its report for its taxable year with respect to which such credit is allowed, to treat fifty percent of the amount of such carryover as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, in the case of such owner of a qualified investment project or a significant capital investment project, only fifty percent of the amount of such carryover which is attributable to the credit allowed under this subdivision with respect to property which is part of such project shall be allowed to be credited or refunded and such owner shall be allowed such credit or refund only for those taxable years in which such owner would be allowed a credit or refund of the empire zone investment tax credit pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision three of this section. Provided, further, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(c-1) Any carryover of a credit from prior taxable years will not be allowed if an empire zone retention certificate is not issued pursuant to subdivision (w) of section nine hundred fifty-nine of the general municipal law to the empire zone enterprise which is the basis of the credit.

(d) Notwithstanding the expiration of the empire zones program under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law, a taxpayer that is certified as a qualified investment project pursuant to such article eighteen-B on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed certified under such article eighteen-B for purposes of this subdivision for the remainder of the taxable year in which the expiration occurred and for the next succeeding nine taxable years. In addition, the areas designated as empire zones in which the taxpayer is certified as a qualified investment project on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed empire zones for purposes of this subdivision for the remainder of the taxable year in which the expiration occurred and for the next succeeding nine taxable years.

(e) Notwithstanding the expiration of the empire zones program under article eighteen-B of the general municipal law and except as provided in paragraph (d) of this subdivision, a taxpayer that is certified as an empire zone business pursuant to such article eighteen-B on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired shall continue to be deemed in the empire zone in which the taxpayer was certified as an empire zone business on the day immediately preceding the day the empire zones program expired for each of the three years next succeeding the taxable year for which the credit under subdivision three of this section is allowed.

5. QEZE credit for real property taxes. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified empire zone enterprise shall be allowed a credit for eligible real property taxes, to be computed as provided in section fifteen of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

6. QEZE tax reduction credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a qualified empire zone enterprise shall be allowed a QEZE tax reduction credit, to be computed as provided in section sixteen of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided,

however, this paragraph shall not apply to a taxpayer with a zone allocation factor of one hundred percent.

7. Qualified emerging technology company employment credit. (a) Application of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article, provided:

(i) the taxpayer is a qualified emerging technology company pursuant to the provisions of section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law; and

(ii) the average number of individuals employed full time by the taxpayer in New York state during the taxable year is at least one hundred one percent of the taxpayer's base year employment. For the purposes of this subdivision, "base year employment" means the average number of individuals employed full-time by the taxpayer in the state during the three taxable years immediately preceding the first taxable year in which the credit is claimed. Where the taxpayer provided full-time employment within the state during only a portion of such three-year period, then the first effective date for the company to take advantage of this credit shall be the next year following the first full taxable year that the company had full-time employment in New York state. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "three years" shall be deemed to refer instead to the prior year's full-time employment after the first year and the average of the first eight quarters of employment after the first two taxable years in New York state.

(b) Credit limitation. The credit shall be allowed only in the first taxable year in which the credit is claimed and in each of the next two taxable years, provided that the conditions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision are satisfied in each taxable year.

(c) Average number of individuals employed full-time. For the purposes of this subdivision, average number of individuals employed full-time shall be computed by adding the number of such individuals employed by the taxpayer at the end of each quarter during each taxable year or other applicable period and dividing the sum so obtained by the number of such quarters occurring within such taxable year or other applicable period; provided however, except that in computing base year employment, there shall be excluded therefrom any employee with respect to whom a credit provided for under subdivision nineteen of section two hundred ten of this article, as such subdivision was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen, was claimed for the taxable year.

(d) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit shall equal the product of one thousand dollars times the number of individuals employed full-time by the taxpayer in the taxable year that are in excess of one hundred percent of the taxpayer's base year employment.

(e) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

8. Qualified emerging technology company capital tax credit. (a) Amount of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article. The amount of the credit shall be equal to one of the following percentages, per each qualified investment in a qualified emerging technology company as defined in section thirty-one hundred two-e of the public authorities law, made during the taxable year, and certified by the commissioner, either:

(1) ten percent of qualified investments in qualified emerging technology companies, except for investments made by or on behalf of an owner of the business, including, but not limited to, a stockholder, partner or sole proprietor, or any related person, as defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code, and provided, however, that the taxpayer certifies to the commissioner that the qualified investment will not be sold, transferred, traded, or disposed of during the four years following the year in which the credit is first claimed; or

(2) twenty percent of qualified investments in qualified emerging technology companies, except for investments made by or on behalf of an owner of the business, including, but not limited to, a stockholder, partner or sole proprietor, or any related person, as defined in subparagraph (C) of paragraph three of subsection (b) of section four hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code, and provided, however, that the taxpayer certifies to the commissioner that the qualified investment will not be sold, transferred, traded, or disposed of during the nine years following the year in which the credit is first claimed.

(b) Qualified investment. "Qualified investment" means the contribution of property to a corporation in exchange for original issue capital stock or other ownership interest, the contribution of property to a partnership in exchange for an interest in the partnership, and similar contributions in the case of a business entity not in corporate or partnership form in exchange for an ownership interest in such entity. The total amount of credit allowable to a taxpayer under this provision for all years, taken in the aggregate, shall not exceed one hundred fifty thousand dollars in the case of investments made pursuant to subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of this subdivision and shall not exceed three hundred thousand dollars in the case of investments made pursuant to subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of this subdivision.

(c) Carryover. In no event shall the credit and carryover of such credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year, in the aggregate, reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. However, if the amount of credit or carryovers of such credit, or both, allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, or if any part of the credit or carryovers of such credit may not be deducted from the tax otherwise due by reason of the final sentence of this paragraph, any amount of credit or carryovers of such credit thus not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the tax for such year or years. In addition, the amount of such credit, and carryovers of such credit to the taxable year, deducted from the tax otherwise due may not, in the aggregate, exceed fifty percent of the tax imposed under section two hundred nine of this article computed without regard to any credit provided for by this section.

(d) Recapture. (1) Where a taxpayer sells, transfers or otherwise disposes of corporate stock, a partnership interest or other ownership interest arising from the making of a qualified investment which was the basis, in whole or in part, for the allowance of the credit provided for under subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, or where an investment which was the basis for such allowance is, in whole or in part, recovered by such taxpayer, and such disposition or recovery occurs during the taxable year or within forty-eight months from the close of the taxable year with respect to which such credit is allowed, the taxpayer shall add back, with respect to the taxable year in which the disposition or recovery described above occurred, the required portion of the credit originally allowed.

(2) Where a taxpayer sells, transfers or otherwise disposes of corporate stock, a partnership interest or other ownership interest arising from the making of a qualified investment which was the basis, in whole or in part, for the allowance of the credit provided for under subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, or where an investment which was the basis for such allowance is in any manner, in whole or in part, recovered by such taxpayer, and such disposition or recovery occurs during the taxable year or within one hundred eight months from the close of the taxable year with respect to which such credit is allowed, the taxpayer shall add back, with respect to the taxable year in which the disposition or recovery described in subparagraph one of this paragraph occurred the required portion of the credit originally allowed.

(3) The required portion of the credit originally allowed shall be the product of (A) the portion of such credit attributable to the property disposed of and (B) the applicable percentage.

(4) The applicable percentage shall be:

(A) for credits allowed pursuant to subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of this subdivision:

(i) one hundred percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs within the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed or within twelve months of the end of such taxable year,

(ii) seventy-five percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than twelve but not more than twenty-four months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed,

(iii) fifty percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than twenty-four months but not more than thirty-six months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed, or

(iv) twenty-five percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than thirty-six months but not more than forty-eight months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed; or

(B) for credits allowed pursuant to subparagraph two of paragraph (a) of this subdivision:

(i) one hundred percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs within the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed or within twelve months of the end of such taxable year,

(ii) eighty percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than twelve but not more than forty-eight months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed,

(iii) sixty percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than forty-eight months but not more than seventy-two months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed,

(iv) forty percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than seventy-two months but not more than ninety-six months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed, or

(v) twenty percent, if the disposition or recovery occurs more than ninety-six months but not more than one hundred eight months after the end of the taxable year with respect to which the credit is allowed.

9. Credit for the special additional mortgage recording tax. (a) Application of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be credited against the tax imposed by this article, equal to the amount of the special additional mortgage recording tax paid by the taxpayer pursuant to the provisions of subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter on mortgages recorded. Provided, however, no credit shall be allowed with respect to a mortgage of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, where the real property is located in one or more of the counties comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation area. Provided further, however, no credit shall be allowed with respect to a mortgage of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, where the real property is located in the county of Erie.

(b) Carryover or refund. In no event shall the credit herein provided for be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year, including any credit carried over from a prior taxable year, reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years. In lieu of carrying over to the following year or years, the unused portion of credits attributable to the special additional mortgage recording tax paid by the taxpayer as mortgagee with respect to mortgages of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, such taxpayer may elect to treat such unused portion as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section ten hundred eighty-six of this chapter, except that no interest shall be paid on such overpayment.

10. Credit for servicing certain mortgages. (a) General. Every taxpayer meeting the requirements of the state of New York mortgage agency applicable to the servicing of mortgages acquired by such agency pursuant to the state of New York mortgage agency act, which shall have entered into a contract with the state of New York mortgage agency to service mortgages acquired by such agency pursuant to the state of New York mortgage agency act, shall have credited to it annually an amount equal to two and ninety-three one hundredths per centum of the total principal and interest collected by the taxpayer during its taxable year on each such mortgage secured by a lien on real estate improved by a one-family to four-family residential structure and an amount equal to the interest collected by the taxpayer during its taxable year on each such mortgage secured by a lien on real property improved by a structure occupied as the residence of five or more families living independently of each other, multiplied by a fraction the denominator of which shall be the interest rate payable on the mortgage (computed to five decimal places) and the numerator of which shall be .00125 in the case of such a mortgage acquired by such agency for less than one million dollars, and .00100 in the case of such a mortgage acquired by such agency for one million dollars or more. In no event shall the credit allowed under this subdivision reduce the tax to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. In computing such tax credit for the servicing of mortgages on one-family to four-family residential structures, the taxpayer shall not be entitled to credit for the collection of curtailment or payments in discharge of any such mortgage. For the purposes of this subdivision,

(b)(i) a "curtailment" shall mean amounts paid by mortgagors

(A) in excess of the monthly constant due during the month of collection and

(B) in reduction of the unpaid principal balance of the mortgage; in the absence of clear evidence to the contrary, amounts paid in excess of the monthly constant due during the month of collection shall be deemed to be in reduction of the unpaid principal balance of the mortgage; and

(ii) "monthly constant" shall mean the amount of principal and interest which is due and payable according to the mortgage documents on each periodic payment date.

11. Agricultural property tax credit. (a) General. In the case of a taxpayer which is an eligible farmer or an eligible farmer who has paid taxes pursuant to a land contract, there shall be allowed a credit for the allowable school district property taxes. The term "allowable school district property taxes" means the school district property taxes paid during the taxable year on qualified agricultural property, subject to the acreage limitation provided in paragraph (e) of this subdivision and the income limitation provided in paragraph (f) of this subdivision.

(a-1) New York gross income from farming. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "New York gross income from farming" means a taxpayer's federal gross income from farming, plus payments from the state's farmland protection program, administered by the department of agriculture and markets, income from a commercial horse boarding operation as defined by subdivision thirteen of section three hundred one of the agriculture and markets law, and income from the production or sale of maple syrup, Christmas trees, and cider or wine from a licensed New York state farm cidery or winery, as provided for in section fifty-eight-c and article six of the alcoholic beverage control law.

(b) Eligible farmer. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "eligible farmer" means a taxpayer whose New York gross income from farming for the taxable year, or whose average New York gross income from farming for the current year and two prior taxable years, is at least two-thirds of such taxpayer's federal gross income from all sources less thirty thousand dollars. The term "eligible farmer" also includes a corporation other than the taxpayer of record for qualified agricultural land which has paid the school district property taxes on such land pursuant to a contract for the future purchase of such land; provided that such corporation meets the definition of eligible farmer pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) School district property taxes. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "school district property taxes" means all property taxes, special ad valorem levies and special assessments, exclusive of penalties and interest, levied for school district purposes on the qualified agricultural property owned by the taxpayer.

(d) Qualified agricultural property. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified agricultural property" means land located in this state which is used in agricultural production, and land improvements, structures and buildings (excluding buildings used for the taxpayer's residential purpose) located on such land which are used or occupied to carry out such production. Qualified agricultural property also includes land set aside or retired under a federal supply management or soil conservation program or land that at the time it becomes subject to a conservation easement met the requirements under this paragraph.

(e) Acreage limitation. (i) Eligible taxes. In the event that the qualified agricultural property owned by the taxpayer includes land in excess of the base acreage as provided in this paragraph, the amount of school district property taxes eligible for credit under this subdivision shall be that portion of the school district property taxes which bears the same ratio to the total school district property taxes paid during the taxable year, as the acreage allowable under this paragraph bears to the entire acreage of such land.

(ii) Allowable acreage. The allowable acreage is the sum of the base acreage set forth below and fifty percent of the incremental acreage. The incremental acreage is the excess of the entire acreage of qualified agricultural land owned by the taxpayer over the base acreage. Except as provided in subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph, the base acreage is three hundred fifty acres.

The total base acreage may be increased by any acreage enrolled or participating during the taxable year in a federal environmental conservation acreage reserve program pursuant to title three of the federal agriculture improvement and reform act of nineteen hundred ninety-six.

(iii) Base acreage of related persons. Where the taxpayer and one or more related persons each own qualified agricultural property on the first day of March of any year, the base acreage under subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph shall be divided equally and allotted among the taxpayer and such related persons, and the taxpayer's base acreage for the taxable year which includes such March first shall be limited to its allotted share. Provided, however, if the taxpayer and all such related persons consent (at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe) to an unequal division, the taxpayer's base acreage for such taxable year shall be limited to its allotted share under such unequal division.

(iv) Related persons. (A) For purposes of subparagraph (iii) of this paragraph, the term "related person" means:

(I) a corporation subject to tax under this article, where the taxpayer and the corporation are members of the same controlled group, as defined in section 267(f) of the internal revenue code;

(II) an individual, partnership, estate or trust, where more than fifty percent in value of the outstanding stock of the taxpayer is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual, partnership, estate or trust or by or for the grantor of such trust;

(III) a corporation subject to tax under this article, or a partnership, estate or trust, if the same person owns more than fifty percent in value of the outstanding stock of the taxpayer and more than fifty percent in value of the outstanding stock of the corporation, or more than fifty percent of the capital or profits interest in the partnership, or more than fifty percent of the beneficial interest in the estate or trust;

(IV) a partnership, estate or trust of which the taxpayer owns, directly or indirectly, more than fifty percent of the capital, profits or beneficial interest.

(B) In determining whether a person is a related person within the meaning of this subparagraph:

(I) stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate or trust shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners or beneficiaries;

(II) an individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his spouse;

(III) stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of item (I) of this clause shall, for the purpose of applying item (I) or (II) of this clause, be treated as actually owned by such person.

(f) Income limitation. (i) In the event that the modified entire net income of the taxpayer exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, the allowable school district property taxes under paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be the eligible taxes under subparagraph (i) of paragraph (e) of this subdivision reduced by the product of the amount of such eligible taxes and a percentage, such percentage to be determined by multiplying one hundred percent by a fraction, the numerator of which is the lesser of one hundred thousand dollars or the excess of the taxpayer's modified entire net income over two hundred thousand dollars and the denominator of which is one hundred thousand dollars. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "eligible taxes", where the acreage limitation of paragraph (e) of this subdivision does not apply, shall mean the total school district property taxes paid during the taxable year.

(ii) The term "modified entire net income" means the entire net income for the taxable year reduced by the amount of principal paid on farm indebtedness during the taxable year. The term "farm indebtedness" means debt incurred or refinanced which is secured by farm property, where the proceeds of the debt are disbursed for expenditures incurred in the business of farming.

(g) Carryover. In no event shall the credit provided herein be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years. Provided, however, in lieu of carrying over the unused portion of such credit, the taxpayer may elect to treat such unused portion as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter except that no interest shall be paid on such overpayment.

(h) Nonqualified use. (i) No credit in conversion year. In the event that qualified agricultural property is converted by the taxpayer to nonqualified use, credit under this subdivision shall not be allowed with respect to such property for the taxable year of conversion (the conversion year).

(ii) Credit recapture. If the conversion by the taxpayer of qualified agricultural property to nonqualified use occurs during the period of the two taxable years following the taxable year for which the credit under this subdivision was first claimed with respect to such property, the credit allowed with respect to such property for the taxable years prior to the conversion year must be added back in the conversion year. Where the property converted includes land, and where the conversion is of only a portion of such land, the credit allowed with respect to the property converted shall be determined by multiplying the entire credit under this subdivision for the taxable years prior to the conversion year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the acreage converted and the denominator of which is the entire acreage of such land owned by the taxpayer immediately prior to the conversion.

(iii) Exception to recapture. Subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph shall not apply to the conversion of property where the conversion is by reason of involuntary conversion, within the meaning of section one thousand thirty-three of the internal revenue code.

(iv) Conversion to nonqualified use. For purposes of this paragraph, a sale or other disposition of qualified agricultural property alone shall not constitute a conversion to a nonqualified use.

(j) Election to deem gross income of New York C corporation to shareholders. For purposes of this subdivision, federal gross income from farming shall be zero for any taxable year of a New York C corporation for which the election under paragraph nine of subsection (n) of section six hundred six of this chapter is in effect.

12. Credit for employment of persons with disabilities. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article, for employing within the state a qualified employee.

(b) Qualified employee. A qualified employee is an individual:

(1) who is certified by the education department, or in the case of an individual who is blind or visually handicapped, by the state agency responsible for provision of vocational rehabilitation services to the blind and visually handicapped: (i) as a person with a disability which constitutes or results in a substantial handicap to employment and (ii) as having completed or as receiving services under an individualized written rehabilitation plan approved by the education department or other state agency responsible for providing vocational rehabilitation services to such individual; and

(2) who has worked on a full-time basis for the employer who is claiming the credit for at least one hundred eighty days or four hundred hours.

(c) Amount of credit. Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this subdivision, the amount of credit for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-five shall be thirty-five percent of the first six thousand dollars in qualified first-year wages earned by each qualified employee and for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five shall be the first five thousand dollars in qualified first-year wages earned by each qualified employee. "Qualified first-year wages" means wages paid or incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year to qualified employees which are attributable, with respect to any such employee, to services rendered during the one-year period beginning with the day the employee begins work for the taxpayer.

(d) Credit where federal work opportunity tax credit applies. With respect to any qualified employee whose qualified first-year wages under paragraph (c) of this subdivision also constitute qualified first-year wages for purposes of the work opportunity tax credit for vocational rehabilitation referrals under section fifty-one of the internal revenue code, the amount of credit under this subdivision for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-five shall be thirty-five percent of the first six thousand dollars in qualified second-year wages earned by each such employee and for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-five shall be the first five thousand dollars in qualified second-year wages earned by each qualified employee. "Qualified second-year wages" means wages paid or incurred by the taxpayer during the taxable year to qualified employees which are attributable, with respect to any such employee, to services rendered during the one-year period beginning one year after the employee begins work for the taxpayer.

(e) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years, and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

(f) Coordination with federal work opportunity tax credit. The provisions of section fifty-one and fifty-two of the internal revenue code, as such sections applied on October first, nineteen hundred ninety-six, that apply to the federal work opportunity tax credit for vocational rehabilitation referrals shall apply to the credit under this subdivision to the extent that such sections are consistent with the specific provisions of this subdivision, provided that in the event of a conflict the provisions of this subdivision shall control.

13. Credit for purchase of an automated external defibrillator. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article, for the purchase, other than for resale, of an automated external defibrillator, as such term is defined in section three thousand-b of the public health law. The amount of credit shall be the cost to the taxpayer of automated external defibrillators purchased during the taxable year, such credit not to exceed five hundred dollars with respect to each unit purchased. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter.

14. Credit for purchase of long-term care insurance. (a) General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to twenty percent of the premium paid during the taxable year for long-term care insurance. In order to qualify for such credit, the taxpayer's premium payment must be for the purchase of or for continuing coverage under a long-term care insurance policy that qualifies for such credit pursuant to section one thousand one hundred seventeen of the insurance law.

(b) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

15. Low-income housing credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article with respect to the ownership of eligible low-income buildings, computed as provided in section eighteen of this chapter.

(b) Application of credit. The credit and carryovers of such credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not, in the aggregate, reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit or carryovers of such credit, or both, allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit or carryovers of such credit thus not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the tax for such year or years.

(c) Credit recapture. For provisions requiring recapture of credit, see subdivision (b) of section eighteen of this chapter.

16. Green building credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section nineteen of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Carryovers. The credit and carryovers of such credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not, in the aggregate, reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit or carryovers of such credit, or both, allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit or carryovers of such credit thus not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the tax for such year or years.

17. Brownfield redevelopment tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-one of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credits allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

18. Remediated brownfield credit for real property taxes for qualified sites. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer which is a developer of a qualified site shall be allowed a credit for eligible real property taxes, to be computed as provided in subdivision (b) of section twenty-two of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article. For purposes of this subdivision, the terms "qualified site" and "developer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in paragraphs two and three, respectively, of subdivision (a) of section twenty-two of this chapter.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

19. Environmental remediation insurance credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-three of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credits allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

20. Empire state film production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section twenty-four of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section twenty-four against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

20-a. Empire state independent film production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section twenty-four-d of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section twenty-four-d against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

21. Security training tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-six of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. However, if the amount of credits allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

22. Conservation easement tax credit. (a) Credit allowed. In the case of a taxpayer who owns land that is subject to a conservation easement held by a public or private conservation agency, there shall be allowed a credit for twenty-five percent of the allowable school district, county and town real property taxes on such land. In no such case shall the credit allowed under this subdivision in combination with any other credit for such school district, county and town real property taxes under this section exceed such taxes.

(b) Conservation easement. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "conservation easement" means a perpetual and permanent conservation easement as defined in article forty-nine of the environmental conservation law that serves to protect open space, scenic, natural resources, biodiversity, agricultural, watershed and/or historic preservation resources. Any conservation easement for which a tax credit is claimed under this subdivision shall be filed with the department of environmental conservation, as provided for in article forty-nine of the environmental conservation law and such conservation easement shall comply with the provisions of title three of such article, and the provisions of subdivision (h) of section 170 of the internal revenue code. Dedications of land for open space through the execution of conservation easements for the purpose of fulfilling density requirements to obtain subdivision or building permits shall not be considered a conservation easement under this subdivision.

(c) Land. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "land" means a fee simple title to real property located in this state, with or without improvements thereon; rights of way; water and riparian rights; easements; privileges and all other rights or interests of any land or description in, relating to or connected with real property, excluding buildings, structures, or improvements.

(d) Public or private conservation agency. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "public or private conservation agency" means any state, local, or federal governmental body; or any private not-for-profit charitable corporation or trust which is authorized to do business in the state of New York, is organized and operated to protect land for natural resources, conservation or historic preservation purposes, is exempt from federal income taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code, and has the power to acquire, hold and maintain land and/or interests in land for such purposes.

(e) Credit limitation. The amount of the credit that may be claimed by a taxpayer pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed five thousand dollars in any given year.

(f) Application of the credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of the credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter, except that, no interest shall be paid thereon.

23. Empire state commercial production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that is eligible pursuant to provisions of section twenty-eight of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, fifty percent of the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon. The balance of such credit not credited or refunded in such taxable year may be carried over to the immediately succeeding taxable year and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year. The excess, if any, of the amount of credit over the tax for such succeeding year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(c) Expiration of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision shall not be applicable to taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-nine.

24. Biofuel production credit. (a) General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-eight of this chapter added as part X of chapter sixty-two of the laws of two thousand six, against the tax imposed by this article. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall apply to taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty.

25. Clean heating fuel credit. (a) General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article. Such credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, shall be allowed for bioheating fuel, used for space heating or hot water production for residential purposes within this state purchased before January first, two thousand twenty-nine. Such credit shall be $0.01 per percent of biodiesel per gallon of bioheating fuel, not to exceed twenty cents per gallon, purchased by such taxpayer. Provided, however, that on or after January first, two thousand seventeen, this credit shall not apply to bioheating fuel that is less than six percent biodiesel per gallon of bioheating fuel.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this subdivision, the following definitions shall apply:

(i) "Biodiesel" shall mean a fuel comprised exclusively of mono-alkyl esters of long chain fatty acids derived from vegetable oils or animal fats, designated B100, which meets the specifications of American Society of Testing and Materials designation D 6751.

(ii) "Bioheating fuel" shall mean a fuel comprised of biodiesel or renewable hydrocarbon diesel blended with conventional home heating oil, which meets the specifications of the American Society of Testing and Materials designation D 396 or D 975.

(c) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

26. Credit for rehabilitation of historic properties. (a) Application of credit. (i) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand ten, and before January first, two thousand thirty, a taxpayer, or a transferee of such a taxpayer as described in paragraph (g) of this subdivision, shall be allowed a credit as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article, in an amount equal to one hundred percent of the amount of credit allowed the taxpayer for the same taxable year with respect to a certified historic structure, and one hundred fifty percent of the amount of credit allowed the taxpayer with respect to a certified historic structure that is a small project, under internal revenue code section 47(c)(3), determined without regard to ratably allocating the credit over a five year period as required by subsection (a) of such section 47, with respect to a certified historic structure located within the state. Provided, however, the credit shall not exceed five million dollars.

(ii) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand thirty, a taxpayer, or a transferee of such a taxpayer as described in paragraph (g) of this subdivision, shall be allowed a credit as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article, in an amount equal to thirty percent of the amount of credit allowed the taxpayer for the same taxable year determined without regard to ratably allocating the credit over a five year period as required by subsection (a) of section 47 of the internal revenue code, with respect to a certified historic structure under subsection (c)(3) of section 47 of the internal revenue code with respect to a certified historic structure located within the state. Provided, however, the credit shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars.

(a-1) If the taxpayer or transferee is a partner in a partnership or a shareholder in a New York S corporation, then the credit caps imposed in paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be applied at the entity level, so that the aggregate credit allowed to all the partners or shareholders of each such entity in the taxable year does not exceed the credit cap that is applicable in that taxable year.

(b) Tax credits allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall be allowed in the taxable year that the qualified rehabilitation is placed in service under section 167 of the federal internal revenue code.

(c) If the taxpayer is allowed a credit pursuant to section 47 of the internal revenue code with respect to a qualified rehabilitation that is also the subject of the credit allowed by this subdivision and that credit pursuant to such section 47 is recaptured pursuant to subsection (a) of section 50 of the internal revenue code, a portion of the credit allowed under this subdivision must be added back by the taxpayer or transferee in the same taxable year and in the same proportion as the federal credit.

(d) The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be recredited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(e) To be eligible for the credit allowable under this subdivision, the rehabilitation project shall be in whole or in part located within a census tract which is identified as being at or below one hundred percent of the state median family income as calculated as of April first of each year using the most recent five year estimate from the American community survey published by the United States Census bureau. If there is a change in the most recent five year estimate, a census tract that qualified for eligibility under this program before information about the change was released will remain eligible for a credit under this subdivision for an additional two calendar years. The eligibility restrictions set forth in this paragraph shall not be applicable if:

(i) a qualified rehabilitation project is undertaken within a state park, state historic site, or other land owned by the state, that is under the jurisdiction of the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation; or

(ii) a qualified rehabilitation project is undertaken for the provision of affordable housing and the taxpayer has entered into a regulatory agreement with any state or federal agency or authority, or any other government entity that is authorized to engage in the financing, construction or oversight of affordable housing within such entity's jurisdiction, and where such regulatory agreement sets forth affordability requirements applicable for a period of not less than thirty years and that is binding on all successors of the taxpayer.

(f) For purposes of this subdivision "small project" means qualified rehabilitation expenditures totaling two million five hundred thousand dollars or less.

(g)(i) A taxpayer allowed a credit pursuant to this subdivision may transfer the credit, in whole or in part, to another person or entity, who shall be referred to as the transferee, without regard to how any tax credit authorized pursuant to section forty-seven of the internal revenue code with respect to a qualified rehabilitation project may be allocated and notwithstanding that such other person or entity owns no interest in the qualified rehabilitation project or in an entity with an ownership interest in the qualified rehabilitation project. A transferee may not transfer any credit, or portion thereof, acquired by transfer.

(ii) A taxpayer seeking to transfer a credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision must enter into a transfer contract with the transferee. The transfer contract must specify:

(A) the building identification numbers for all buildings in the project;

(B) the date each building was placed into service;

(C) the schedule of years for which the transfer credit may be claimed and the amount of credit previously claimed;

(D) the amount of consideration received by the taxpayer for the transfer credit; and

(E) the amount of credit being transferred.

(iii) No transfer shall be effective unless the taxpayer allowed a credit pursuant to this subdivision and seeking to transfer the credit files a transfer application with the commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation prior to the transfer and such transfer application is approved. The transfer application shall include the name and federal identification numbers of the taxpayer and each proposed transferee, the amount of credit proposed to be transferred to each proposed transferee, a copy of the transfer contract, and such other information as the commissioner or the commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation may require. The commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation shall approve or deny each transfer application and, if an application is denied, shall issue a written determination to the taxpayer. If the transfer is approved, the commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation shall issue a transfer approval certificate that provides the name of the transferor and all transferees, the amount of credit being transferred and such other information as the commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation and the commissioner deem necessary. A copy of the transfer approval certificate must be attached to each transferee's tax return. The commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation, in consultation with the commissioner, may establish such other procedures and standards deemed necessary for the transferability of credits allowed under this subdivision.

(iv) The commissioner of parks, recreation and historic preservation shall forward copies of all transfer applications and attachments thereto and approval certificates to the commissioner within thirty days after the transfer is approved.

(v) A taxpayer allowed a credit pursuant to section forty-seven of the internal revenue code with respect to a qualified rehabilitation that is also the subject of the credit allowed by this subdivision shall remain solely liable for all obligations and liabilities imposed on the taxpayer with respect to the credit allowed by this subdivision, none of which shall apply to a party to whom the credit has been subsequently transferred.

27. Credits of New York S corporations. (a) General. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, no carryover of credit allowable in a New York C year shall be deducted from the tax otherwise due under this article in a New York S year, and no credit allowable in a New York S year, or carryover of such credit, shall be deducted from the tax imposed by this article. However, a New York S year shall be treated as a taxable year for purposes of determining the number of taxable years to which a credit may be carried over under this section. Notwithstanding the first sentence of this subdivision, however, the credit for the special additional mortgage recording tax shall be allowed as provided in subdivision nine of this section, and the carryover of any such credit shall be determined without regard to whether the credit is carried from a New York C year to a New York S year or vice-versa.

29. Hire a vet credit. (a) Allowance of credit. For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen and before January first, two thousand twenty-nine, a taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in this subdivision, against the tax imposed by this article, for hiring and employing, for not less than twelve continuous and uninterrupted months (hereinafter referred to as the twelve-month period) in a full-time or part-time position, a qualified veteran within the state. The taxpayer may claim the credit in the year in which the qualified veteran completes the twelve-month period of employment by the taxpayer. If the taxpayer claims the credit allowed under this subdivision, the taxpayer may not use the hiring of a qualified veteran that is the basis for this credit in the basis of any other credit allowed under this article.

(b) Qualified veteran. A qualified veteran is an individual:

(1) who served on active duty in the United States army, navy, air force, space force, marine corps, coast guard or the reserves thereof, or who served in active military service of the United States as a member of the army national guard, air national guard, New York guard or New York naval militia, or who served in the active uniformed services of the United States as a member of the commissioned corps of the national oceanic and atmospheric administration or the commissioned corps of the United States public health service; who (i) was released from such service, or (ii) has a qualifying condition, as defined in section one of the veterans' services law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service, or (iii) is a discharged LGBT veteran, as defined in section one of the veterans' services law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service;

(2) who commences employment by the qualified taxpayer on or after January first, two thousand fourteen, and before January first, two thousand twenty-eight; and

(3) who certifies by signed affidavit, under penalty of perjury, that he or she has not been employed for thirty-five or more hours during any week in the one hundred eighty day period immediately prior to his or her employment by the taxpayer.

(c) Employer prohibition. An employer shall not discharge an employee and hire a qualifying veteran solely for the purpose of qualifying for this credit.

(d) Amount of credit. The amount of the credit shall be fifteen percent of the total amount of wages paid to the qualified veteran during the veteran's first twelve-month period of employment. Provided, however, that, if the qualified veteran is a disabled veteran, as defined in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section eighty-five of the civil service law, the amount of the credit shall be twenty percent of the total amount of wages paid to the qualified veteran during the veteran's first twelve-month period of employment. The credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall not exceed in any taxable year: (1) fifteen thousand dollars for any qualified veteran, other than a disabled veteran, employed in a full-time position for one thousand eight hundred twenty or more hours in one twelve-month period, (2) twenty thousand dollars for any qualified veteran who is a disabled veteran employed in a full-time position for one thousand eight hundred twenty or more hours in one twelve-month period, (3) seven thousand five hundred dollars for any qualified veteran, other than a disabled veteran, employed in a part-time position for at least one thousand forty hours but not more than one thousand eight hundred nineteen hours in one twelve-month period, and (4) ten thousand dollars for any qualified veteran who is a disabled veteran employed in a part-time position for at least one thousand forty hours but not more than one thousand eight hundred nineteen hours in one twelve-month period.

(e) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following three years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

30. Alternative fuels and electric vehicle recharging property credit.

(a) General. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided, against the tax imposed by this article for alternative fuel vehicle refueling and electric vehicle recharging property placed in service during the taxable year.

(b) (i) Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property and electric vehicle recharging property. The credit under this subdivision for alternative fuel vehicle refueling property and electric vehicle recharging property shall equal for each installation of property the lesser of five thousand dollars or the product of fifty percent and the cost of any such property less any costs paid from the proceeds of grants.

(ii) To qualify for the credit, the property must:

(A) be located in this state;

(B) must constitute alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property; and

(C) not be paid for from the proceeds of grants awarded before January first, two thousand fifteen, including grants from the New York state energy research and development authority or the New York power authority.

(c) Definitions. (i) The term "alternative fuel vehicle refueling property" means all of the equipment needed to dispense any fuel at least eighty-five percent of the volume of which consists of one or more of the following: natural gas, liquified natural gas, liquified petroleum, or hydrogen.

(ii) The term "electric vehicle recharging property" means all of the equipment needed to convey electric power from the electric grid or another power source to an onboard vehicle energy storage system.

(d) Carryovers. In no event shall the credit under this subdivision be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax payable to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

(e) Credit recapture. If, at any time before the end of its recovery period, alternative fuel vehicle refueling or electric vehicle recharging property ceases to be qualified, a recapture amount must be added back in the year in which such cessation occurs.

(i) Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property ceases to be qualified if:

(I) the property no longer qualifies as alternative fuel vehicle refueling property or electric vehicle recharging property; or

(II) fifty percent or more of the use of the property in a taxable year is other than in a trade or business in this state; or

(III) the taxpayer receiving the credit under this subdivision sells or disposes of the property and knows or has reason to know that the property will be used in a manner described in clauses (I) and (II) of this subparagraph.

(ii) Recapture amount. The recapture amount is equal to the credit allowable under this subdivision multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the total recovery period for the property minus the number of recovery years prior to, but not including, the recapture year, and the denominator of which is the total recovery period.

(f) Termination. The credit allowed by paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall not apply in taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-eight.

31. Excelsior jobs program credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer will be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section thirty-one of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

32. Empire state film post production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section thirty-one of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section thirty-one against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, fifty percent of the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon. The balance of such credit not credited or refunded in such taxable year may be a carryover to the immediately succeeding taxable year and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year. The excess, if any, of the amount of the credit over the tax for such succeeding year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

33. Temporary deferral nonrefundable payout credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in subdivision one of section thirty-four of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for that year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following year or years and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

34. Temporary deferral refundable payout credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in subdivision two of section thirty-four of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. In no event shall the credit under this subdivision be allowed in an amount which will reduce the tax to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. If, however, the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter, provided however, that no interest shall be paid thereon.

35. Economic transformation and facility redevelopment program tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section thirty-five of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

36. New York youth jobs program tax credit. (a) A taxpayer that has been certified by the commissioner of labor as a qualified employer pursuant to section twenty-five-a of the labor law and received an annual final certificate of tax credit from such commissioner shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to the amount listed on the annual final certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of labor pursuant to section twenty-five-a of the labor law. If the qualified employer's taxable year is a calendar year, the employer shall be entitled to claim the credit as calculated on the annual final certificate of tax credit on the calendar year return for which the annual final certificate of tax credit was issued. If the qualified employer's taxable year is a fiscal year, the employer shall be entitled to claim the credit as calculated on the annual final certificate of tax credit on the return for the fiscal year that encompasses the date on which the annual final certificate of tax credit is issued. For the purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified employee" shall have the same meaning as set forth in subdivision (b) of section twenty-five-a of the labor law.

(b) The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for that year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to that amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, no interest will be paid thereon.

(c) The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return its annual final certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of labor pursuant to section twenty-five-a of the labor law. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed on the annual final certificate of tax credit.

Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the commissioner and the commissioner's designees may release the names and addresses of any taxpayer claiming this credit and the amount of the credit earned by the taxpayer. Provided, however, if a taxpayer claims this credit because it is a member of a limited liability company or a partner in a partnership, only the amount of credit earned by the entity and not the amount of credit claimed by the taxpayer may be released.

37. Empire state jobs retention program credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer will be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section thirty-six of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year will not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

38. Credit for companies who provide transportation to individuals with disabilities. (a) Allowance and amount of credit. A taxpayer, who provides a taxicab service as defined in section one hundred forty-eight-a of the vehicle and traffic law, or a livery service as defined in section one hundred twenty-one-e of the vehicle and traffic law, shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in this subdivision, against the tax imposed by this article. The amount of the credit shall be equal to the incremental cost associated with upgrading a vehicle so that it is accessible by individuals with disabilities as defined in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Provided, however, that such credit shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars per electric vehicle and ten thousand dollars per any other vehicle. For purposes of this subdivision, purchases of new vehicles that are initially manufactured to be accessible for individuals with disabilities and for which there is no comparable make and model that does not include the equipment necessary to provide accessibility to individuals with disabilities, the credit shall be fifteen thousand dollars per electric vehicle and ten thousand dollars per any other vehicle.

(b) Definitions. The term "accessible by individuals with disabilities" shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, refer to a vehicle that complies with federal regulations promulgated pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act applicable to vans under twenty-two feet in length, by the federal Department of Transportation, in Code of Federal Regulations, title 49, parts 37 and 38 and the Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards, Code of Federal Regulations, title 49, part 571. The term "electric vehicle" shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, have the same meaning as in section sixty-six-s of the public service law.

(c) Application of credit. In no event shall the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be carried over to the following year or years, and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall not apply to taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-nine.

39. Alcoholic beverage production credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section thirty-seven of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article. In no event shall the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

40. Minimum wage reimbursement credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section thirty-eight of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

41. The tax-free NY area tax elimination credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in section forty of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article. Unless the taxpayer has a tax-free NY area allocation factor of one hundred percent, the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

42. Alternative base credit. (a) If the tax imposed on a taxpayer by subdivision one of section two hundred nine of this article is the amount prescribed in clause (ii) of subparagraph one of paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article, the taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed under this article equal to the amount of tax paid to another state computed on a tax base identical to the tax base prescribed in such paragraph (b). If the tax imposed on a taxpayer by subdivision one of section two hundred nine of this article is the highest amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article applicable to the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed under this article equal to the amount of tax paid to another state computed on a tax base identical to the tax base prescribed in such paragraph (d).

(b) In no event shall the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be carried over to the following year or years, and may be deducted from the taxpayer's tax for such year or years.

43. Real property tax credit for manufacturers. (a) A qualified New York manufacturer, as defined in subparagraph (vi) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article, will be allowed a credit equal to twenty percent of the real property tax it paid during the taxable year for real property owned by such manufacturer in New York which was principally used during the taxable year for manufacturing to the extent not deducted in determining entire net income. This credit will not be allowed if the real property taxes that are the basis for this credit are included in the calculation of another credit claimed by the taxpayer.

(b) (1) For purposes of this subdivision, the term real property tax means a charge imposed upon real property by or on behalf of a county, city, town, village or school district for municipal or school district purposes, provided that the charge is levied for the general public welfare by the proper taxing authorities at a like rate against all property over which such authorities have jurisdiction, and provided that where taxes are levied pursuant to article eighteen or nineteen of the real property tax law, the property must have been taxed at the rate determined for the class in which it is contained, as provided by such article eighteen or nineteen, whichever is applicable. The term real property tax does not include a charge for local benefits, including any portion of that charge that is properly allocated to the costs attributable to maintenance or interest, when (i) the property subject to the charge is limited to the property that benefits from the charge, or (ii) the amount of the charge is determined by the benefit to the property assessed, or (iii) the improvement for which the charge is assessed tends to increase the property value.

(2) In addition, the term real property tax includes taxes paid by the taxpayer upon real property principally used during the taxable year by the taxpayer in manufacturing where the taxpayer leases such real property from an unrelated third party if the following conditions are satisfied: (i) the tax must be paid by the taxpayer as lessee pursuant to explicit requirements in a written lease, and (ii) the taxpayer as lessee has paid such taxes directly to the taxing authority and has received a written receipt for payment of taxes from the taxing authority. In the case of a combined group that constitutes a qualified New York manufacturer, the conditions in the preceding sentence are satisfied if one corporation in the combined group is the lessee and another corporation in the combined group makes the payments to the taxing authority. In the case of a taxpayer that, during the taxable year, is principally engaged in the production of goods by farming, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, viticulture, or commercial fishing, the taxpayer is eligible if the taxpayer satisfies the conditions stipulated in this subdivision and the taxpayer leases such real property from a related or unrelated party.

(3) The term real property tax does not include a payment made by the taxpayer in connection with an agreement for the payment in lieu of taxes on real property, whether such property is owned or leased by the taxpayer.

(4) The real property taxes must be paid by the taxpayer in the year such taxes become a lien on the real property.

(c) Credit recapture. Where a qualified New York manufacturer's real property taxes which were the basis for the allowance of the credit provided for under this subdivision are subsequently reduced as a result of a final order in any proceeding under article seven of the real property tax law or other provision of law, the taxpayer shall add back, in the taxable year in which such final order is issued, the excess of (1) the amount of credit originally allowed for a taxable year over (2) the amount of credit determined based upon the reduced real property taxes. If such final order reduces real property taxes for more than one year, the taxpayer must determine how much of such reduction is attributable to each year covered by such final order and calculate the amount of credit which is required by this subdivision to be recaptured for each year based on such reduction.

(d) The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than twenty-five dollars.

44. The tax-free NY area excise tax on telecommunication services credit. A taxpayer that is a business or owner of a business that is located in a tax-free NY area approved pursuant to article twenty-one of the economic development law shall be allowed a credit equal to the excise tax on telecommunication services imposed by section one hundred eighty-six-e of this chapter and passed through to such business during the taxable year to the extent not otherwise deducted in computing entire net income under this article. However, except as otherwise provided for in this subdivision, if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. This credit may be claimed only where any tax imposed by such section one hundred eighty-six-e has been separately stated on a bill from the provider of telecommunication services and paid by such business with respect to such services rendered within a tax-free NY area during the taxable year. Unless the taxpayer has a tax-free NY area allocation factor of one hundred percent, the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

45. Order of credits. Credits allowable under this article which cannot be carried over and which are not refundable shall be deducted first. Credits allowable under this article which can be carried over, and carryovers of such credits, shall be deducted next, and among such credits, those whose carryover is of limited duration shall be deducted before those whose carryover is of unlimited duration. Credits allowable under this article which are refundable shall be deducted last.

46. Notwithstanding the repeal of the credit provisions contained in section two hundred ten of this article or in article thirty-two of this chapter and the enactment of this section by a chapter of the laws of two thousand fourteen:

(a) A taxpayer shall be allowed to utilize any carryforward amounts of credits to which the taxpayer was entitled as of the close of the taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fourteen and before January first, two thousand fifteen, other than the carryforward amount of the minimum tax credit provided under subdivision thirteen of section two hundred ten, as that subdivision was in effect on December thirty-first, two thousand fourteen.

(b) A taxpayer shall be required in a taxable year beginning on or after January first, two thousand fifteen, to recapture all or a portion of a credit allowed under a credit provision in section two hundred ten or article thirty-two of this chapter for a taxable year beginning prior to January first, two thousand fifteen if recapture would have been required under such credit provision.

* 47. Musical and theatrical production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section twenty-four-a of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, further, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB Repealed January 1, 2030

48. Workers with disabilities tax credit. (a) A qualified employer, as defined in paragraph one of subdivision (b) of section twenty-five-b of the labor law, shall be entitled to a credit against the tax imposed by this article. The amount of the credit shall be: fifteen percent of the qualified wages paid after January first, two thousand fifteen to a qualified full-time employee who is employed for not less than six months and who works at least thirty hours per week; and shall be ten percent of the qualified wages paid after January first, two thousand fifteen to a qualified part-time employee who is employed for not less than six months and works at least eight hours per week. The credit allowed pursuant to this subdivision shall not exceed, during any taxable year, five thousand dollars for any qualified full time employee and two thousand five hundred dollars for any qualified part time employee. "Qualified wages" means wages paid or incurred by the qualified employer during the taxable year to a qualified employee which are attributable, with respect to such employee, to services rendered by the qualified employee.

(b) Carryover. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year may be carried over to the following three years, and may be deducted from the qualified employer's tax for such years.

(c) The taxpayer shall attach to its tax return its final certificate of eligibility issued by the commissioner of labor pursuant to section twenty-five-b of the labor law for each taxable year that the credit is claimed. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed on the final certificate of eligibility. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the commissioner and the commissioner's designees may release the names and addresses of any taxpayer claiming this credit and the amount of the credit earned by the taxpayer.

(d) A qualified employer may not claim the workers with disabilities tax credit if it claims any of the other credits for employment of persons with disabilities under either subsection (o) of section six hundred six, subdivision twelve of this section, or subdivision (j) of section fifteen hundred eleven of this chapter.

49. Empire state apprenticeship tax credit. (a) A taxpayer that has been certified by the commissioner of labor as a certified employer pursuant to section twenty-five-c of the labor law shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to the amount specified under subdivision (c) of section twenty-five-c of the labor law. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed on the final certificate of eligibility.

(b) The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for that year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to that amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, no interest will be paid thereon.

50. Employee training incentive program tax credit. (a) For taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-nine, a taxpayer that has been approved by the commissioner of economic development to participate in the employee training incentive program and has been issued a certificate of tax credit pursuant to section four hundred forty-three of the economic development law shall be allowed to claim a credit against the tax imposed by this article. The credit shall equal fifty percent of a taxpayer's eligible training costs, up to a credit of ten thousand dollars per employee completing eligible training pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision three of section four hundred forty-one of the economic development law. The credit shall equal fifty percent of the stipend paid to an intern, up to a credit of three thousand dollars per intern completing eligible training pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision three of section four hundred forty-one of the economic development law. In no event shall a taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of credit listed on the certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development. The credit will be allowed in the taxable year in which the eligible training is completed.

(b) The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for that year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

(c) The taxpayer may be required to attach to its tax return its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development pursuant to section four hundred forty-three of the economic development law. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed in the certificate of tax credit, or in the case of a taxpayer who is a partner in a partnership or a member of a limited liability company, its pro rata share of the amount of credit listed in the certificate of tax credit issued to the partnership or limited liability company.

51. Farm workforce retention credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-two of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* 52. Life sciences research and development tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that is eligible pursuant to section forty-three of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, further, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB There are 2 sb 52's

* 52. Credit for farm donations to food pantries. (a) General. In the case of a taxpayer that is an eligible farmer, there shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as hereinafter provided against the tax imposed by this article for taxable years beginning on and after January first, two thousand eighteen. The amount of the credit shall be twenty-five percent of the fair market value of the taxpayer's qualified donations made to any eligible food pantry during the taxable year, not to exceed five thousand dollars per taxable year for taxable years ending before January first, two thousand twenty-six, and fifty percent of the fair market value of the taxpayer's qualified donations made to any eligible food pantry during the taxable year, not to exceed twenty thousand dollars per taxable year, for taxable years beginning on and after January first, two thousand twenty-six. If the taxpayer is a partner in a partnership, then the cap imposed by the preceding sentence shall be applied at the entity level, so that the aggregate credit allowed to all partners of such entity in the taxable year does not exceed five thousand dollars for taxable years ending before January first, two thousand twenty-six, and twenty thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on and after January first, two thousand twenty-six.

(b) Eligible farmer. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "eligible farmer" shall have the same meaning as set forth subdivision eleven of this section.

(c) Qualified donation. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified donation" means a donation of apparently wholesome food, as defined in section 170(e)(3)(C)(vi) of the internal revenue code, grown or produced within this state, by an eligible farmer to an eligible food pantry.

(d) Eligible food pantry. For purposes of this subdivision, the term "eligible food pantry" means any food pantry, food bank, or other emergency food program operating within this state that has qualified for tax exemption under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code.

(e) Determination of fair market value. For purposes of this subdivision, to determine the fair market value of apparently wholesome food donated to an eligible food pantry, the standards set forth under section 170(e)(3)(C)(v) of the internal revenue code shall apply.

(f) Record of donation. To claim a credit under this subdivision, a taxpayer must get and keep a receipt from the eligible food pantry showing: (i) the name of the eligible food pantry; (ii) the date and location of the qualified donation; and (iii) a reasonably detailed description of the qualified donation. A letter or other written communication from the eligible food pantry acknowledging receipt of the contribution and containing the information in subparagraphs (i), (ii), and (iii) of this paragraph will serve as a receipt.

(g) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year will not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* NB There are 2 sb 52's

* 53. Employer-provided child care credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-four of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

(c) Credit recapture. For provisions requiring recapture of credit, see section forty-four of this chapter.

* NB There are 2 sb 53's

* 53. Recovery tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that is a certified employer pursuant to section 32.38 of the mental hygiene law that has received a certificate of tax credit from the commissioner of the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to the amount shown on such certificate of tax credit. A taxpayer that is a partner in a partnership or member of a limited liability company that has been certified by the commissioner of the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services as a qualified employer pursuant to section 32.38 of the mental hygiene law shall be allowed its pro rata share of the credit earned by the partnership or limited liability company.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for that year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of the credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to that amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, no interest will be paid thereon.

(c) Tax return requirement. The taxpayer shall be required to attach to its tax return, in the form prescribed by the commissioner, proof of receipt of its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services pursuant to section 32.38 of the mental hygiene law.

* NB There are 2 sb 53's

* 54. Television writers' and directors' fees and salaries credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section twenty-four-b of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, further, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB Effective on the first of January next succeeding the date the department of economic development provides notice to the legislative bill drafting commission of a determination pursuant to § 6 sb 2 (b) of chapter 683 of 2019

55. Empire state digital gaming media production credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer who is eligible pursuant to section forty-five of this chapter shall be allowed a credit to be computed as provided in such section forty-five against the tax imposed by this article. Under no circumstances may a single taxpayer receive more than one million five hundred thousand dollars in tax credits per year.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Provided, however, that if the amount of the credit allowable under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter, provided, however, no interest shall be paid thereon.

56. Restaurant return-to-work tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-six of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

56-a. Additional restaurant return-to-work tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-six-a of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* 57. New York city musical and theatrical production tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section twenty-four-c of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB Repealed January 1, 2028

* 58. Farm employer overtime credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-two-a of this chapter, against the tax imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest shall be paid thereon.

* NB There are 3 sb 58's

* 58. COVID-19 capital costs tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-seven of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* NB There are 3 sb 58's

* 58. Grade no. 6 heating oil conversion tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer will be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-seven of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year will not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit not deductible in such taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* NB There are 3 sb 58's

59. Child care creation and expansion tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-eight of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* 60. Newspaper and broadcast media jobs tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-nine of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* NB There are 2 sb 60's

* 60.*2 Commercial security tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer shall be allowed a credit, to be computed as provided in section forty-nine of this chapter, against the taxes imposed by this article.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for the taxable year shall not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowable under this subdivision for the taxable year reduces the tax to such amount or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in such taxable year shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

* NB There are 2 sb 60's

61. Semiconductor research and development tax credit. (a) Allowance of credit. A taxpayer that has been approved by the commissioner of economic development to participate in the semiconductor research and development program and has been issued a certificate of tax credit pursuant to section three hundred fifty-nine-e of the economic development law shall be allowed to claim a credit against the tax imposed by this article. The credit shall equal up to fifteen percent of the cost or other basis for federal income tax purposes of the qualified investment and shall be allowable in each taxable year for which the commissioner of economic development has issued a certificate of tax credit, for up to ten consecutive taxable years. In no event shall a taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of credit listed on the certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development. No cost or expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer that is the basis for this credit shall be the basis for any other tax credit provided by this chapter.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

(c) Reporting. The taxpayer shall attach to its tax return its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development pursuant to section three hundred fifty-nine-e of the economic development law. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed on the certificate of tax credit, or in the case of a taxpayer who is a partner in a partnership, a member of a limited liability company, or shareholder in an S corporation, its pro rata share of the amount of credit listed on the certificate of tax credit.

(d) Credit recapture. If a certificate of eligibility or a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of economic development under article seventeen-A of the economic development law is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirement set forth in subdivision six of section three hundred fifty-nine-c of the economic development law, the amount of credit described in this subdivision and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

62. Semiconductor manufacturing workforce training program tax credit.

(a) Allowance of tax credit. A taxpayer that has been approved by the commissioner of economic development to participate in the semiconductor manufacturing workforce training program and has been issued a certificate of tax credit pursuant to section five hundred three of the economic development law shall be allowed to claim a credit against the tax imposed by this article. The credit shall equal seventy-five percent of wages, salaries or other compensation, training costs, and wrap around services, up to a credit of twenty-five thousand dollars per employee receiving eligible training, up to one million dollars per eligible non-semiconductor manufacturing business and up to five million dollars per eligible semiconductor manufacturing business pursuant to subdivision three of section five hundred three of the economic development law. In no event shall a taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of credit listed on the certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development. The credit shall be allowed in the taxable year in which the eligible training is completed. No cost or other expense paid or incurred by the taxpayer that is the basis for this credit shall be the basis for any other tax credit provided by this chapter.

(b) Application of credit. The credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year may not reduce the tax due for such year to less than the amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. However, if the amount of credit allowed under this subdivision for any taxable year reduces the tax to such amount, or if the taxpayer otherwise pays tax based on the fixed dollar minimum amount, any amount of credit thus not deductible in that taxable year will be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section one thousand eighty-six of this chapter. Provided, however, the provisions of subsection (c) of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter notwithstanding, no interest will be paid thereon.

(c) Reporting. The taxpayer shall attach to its tax return its certificate of tax credit issued by the commissioner of economic development pursuant to section five hundred three of the economic development law. In no event shall the taxpayer be allowed a credit greater than the amount of the credit listed on the certificate of tax credit, or in the case of a taxpayer who is a partner in a partnership, a member of a limited liability company, or shareholder in an S corporation, its pro rata share of the amount of credit listed in the certificate of tax credit.

(d) Credit recapture. If a certificate of eligibility or a certificate of tax credit issued by the department of the economic development under article twenty-eight of the economic development law is revoked by such department because the taxpayer does not meet the eligibility requirement set forth in subdivision three of section five hundred three of the economic development law, the amount of credit described in this subdivision and claimed by the taxpayer prior to that revocation shall be added back to tax in the taxable year in which any such revocation becomes final.

§ 210-C. Combined reports. 1. Tax. (a) The tax on a combined report shall be the highest of (i) the combined business income base multiplied by the tax rate specified in paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article; (ii) the combined capital base multiplied by the tax rate specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article, but not exceeding the limitation provided for in that paragraph (b); or (iii) the fixed dollar minimum that is attributable to the designated agent of the combined group. In addition, the tax on a combined report shall include the fixed dollar minimum tax specified in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article for each member of the combined group, other than the designated agent, that is a taxpayer.

(b) The combined business income base is the amount of the combined business income of the combined group that is apportioned to the state, reduced by any prior net operating loss conversion subtraction and any net operating loss deduction for the combined group. The combined capital base is the amount of the combined capital of the combined group that is apportioned to the state.

2. Combined reports required. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, any taxpayer (i) which owns or controls either directly or indirectly more than fifty percent of the voting power of the capital stock of one or more other corporations, or (ii) more than fifty percent of the voting power of the capital stock of which is owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by one or more other corporations, or (iii) more than fifty percent of the voting power of the capital stock of which and the capital stock of one or more other corporations, is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by the same interests, and (iv) that is engaged in a unitary business with those corporations (hereinafter referred to as "related corporations"), shall make a combined report with those other corporations.

(b) A corporation required to make a combined report within the meaning of this section shall also include (i) a captive REIT and a captive RIC if the captive REIT or captive RIC is not required to be included in a combined report under article thirty-three of this chapter; (ii) a combinable captive insurance company; and (iii) an alien corporation that satisfies the conditions in paragraph (a) of this subdivision if (I) under any provision of the internal revenue code, that corporation is treated as a "domestic corporation" as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of the internal revenue code, or (II) it has effectively connected income for the taxable year pursuant to clause (iv) of the opening paragraph of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article.

(c) A corporation required or permitted to make a combined report under this section does not include (i) a corporation that is taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or article thirty-three of this chapter or would be taxable under a franchise tax imposed by article nine or thirty-three of this chapter if subject to tax; (ii) a REIT that is not a captive REIT, and a RIC that is not a captive RIC; (iii) a New York S corporation; or (iv) an alien corporation that under any provision of the internal revenue code is not treated as a "domestic corporation" as defined in section seven thousand seven hundred one of such code and has no effectively connected income for the taxable year pursuant to clause (iv) of the opening paragraph of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article. If a corporation is subject to tax under this article solely as a result of its ownership of a limited partner interest in a limited partnership that is doing business, employing capital, owning or leasing property, maintaining an office in this state, or deriving receipts from activity in this state, and none of the corporation's related corporations are subject to tax under this article, such corporation shall not be required or permitted to file a combined report under this section with such related corporations.

(d) A combined report shall be filed by the designated agent of the combined group as determined under subdivision seven of this section.

3. Commonly owned group election. (a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of subdivision two of this section, a taxpayer may elect to treat as its combined group all corporations that meet the ownership requirements described in paragraph (a) of subdivision two of this section (such corporations collectively referred to in this subdivision as the "commonly owned group"). If that election is made, the commonly owned group shall calculate the combined business income, combined capital, and fixed dollar minimum bases of all members of the group in accordance with subdivision four of this section, whether or not that business income or business capital is from a single unitary business.

(b) The election under this subdivision shall be made on an original, timely filed return of the combined group, determined with regard to extensions of time for filing. Any corporation entering a commonly owned group subsequent to the year of election shall be included in the combined group and is considered to have waived any objection to its inclusion in the combined group.

(c) The election shall be irrevocable, and binding for and applicable to the taxable year for which it is made and for the next six taxable years. The election will automatically be renewed for another seven taxable years after it has been in effect for seven taxable years unless it is affirmatively revoked. The revocation shall be made on an original, timely filed return for the first taxable year after the completion of a seven year period for which an election under this subdivision was in place. In the case of a revocation, a new election under this subdivision shall not be permitted in any of the immediately following three taxable years. In determining the seven and three year periods described in this paragraph, short taxable years shall not be considered or counted.

4. Computation of tax bases on a combined report. (a) In computing the tax bases for a combined report, the combined group shall generally be treated as a single corporation, except as otherwise provided, and subject to any regulations or guidance issued by the commissioner or the department.

(b)(i) In computing combined business income, all intercorporate dividends shall be eliminated, and all other intercorporate transactions shall be deferred in a manner similar to the United States Treasury regulations relating to intercompany transactions under section fifteen hundred two of the internal revenue code.

(ii) In computing combined capital, all intercorporate stockholdings, intercorporate bills, intercorporate notes receivable and payable, intercorporate accounts receivable and payable, and other intercorporate indebtedness, shall be eliminated.

(c) Qualification for credits, including any limitations thereon, shall be determined separately for each of the members of the combined group, and shall not be determined on a combined group basis, except as otherwise provided. However, the credits shall be applied against the combined tax of the group. To the extent that a provision of section two hundred ten-B of this article limits a credit to the fixed dollar minimum amount prescribed in paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article, such fixed dollar minimum amount shall be the fixed dollar minimum amount that is attributable to the designated agent of the combined group.

(d) (i) A net operating loss deduction is allowed in computing the combined business income base. Such deduction may reduce the tax on the combined business income base to the higher of the tax on the combined capital base or the fixed dollar minimum amount that is attributable to the designated agent of the combined group. A combined net operating loss deduction is equal to the amount of combined net operating loss or losses from one or more taxable years that are carried forward or carried back to a particular taxable year. A combined net operating loss is the combined business loss incurred in a particular taxable year multiplied by the combined apportionment factor for that year determined as provided in subdivision five of this section.

(ii) The combined net operating loss deduction and combined net operating loss are also subject to the provisions contained in clauses one through seven of subparagraph (ix) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article.

(iii) In the case of a corporation that files a combined report, either in the year the net operating loss is incurred or in the year in which a deduction is claimed on account of the loss, the combined net operating loss deduction is determined as if the combined group is a single corporation and, to the extent possible and not otherwise inconsistent with this subdivision, is subject to the same limitations that would apply for federal income tax purposes under the internal revenue code and the code of federal regulations as if such corporation had filed for such taxable year a consolidated federal income tax return with the same corporations included in the combined report. If a corporation files a combined report, regardless of whether it filed a separate return or consolidated return for federal income tax purposes, the net operating loss and net operating loss deduction for the combined group must be computed as if the corporation had filed a consolidated return for the same corporations for federal income tax purposes.

(iv) In general, any net operating loss carryover from a year in which a combined report was filed shall be based on the combined net operating loss of the group of corporations filing such report. The portion of the combined loss attributable to any member of the group that files a separate report for a succeeding taxable year will be an amount bearing the same relation to the combined loss as the net operating loss of such corporation bears to the total net operating loss of all members of the group having such losses to the extent that they are taken into account in computing the combined net operating loss.

(d-1) A prior net operating loss conversion subtraction is allowed in computing the combined business income base, as provided in subparagraph (viii) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article. Such subtraction may reduce the tax on the combined business income base to the higher of the tax on the combined capital base or the fixed dollar minimum amount that is attributable to the designated agent of the combined group.

(e) (i) Any election made pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision six, paragraphs (b) and (c) of subdivision six-a of section two hundred eight, and item (IV) of subclause two of clause (B) of subparagraph (viii) and clause seven of subparagraph (ix) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section two hundred ten of this article shall apply to all members of the combined group.

(ii) The determination of whether or not the limitation on investment income provided in subparagraph (iii) of paragraph (a) of subdivision six of section two hundred eight of this article applies to the combined group shall be based on the investment income of the combined group, determined without regard to interest expenses attributable to investment capital or investment income, and the entire net income of the combined group.

(f)(i) In the case of a captive REIT or captive RIC required under this section to be included in a combined report, entire net income shall be computed as required under subdivision five (in the case of a captive REIT) or subdivision seven (in the case of a captive RIC) of section two hundred nine of this article. However, the deduction under the internal revenue code for dividends paid by the captive REIT or captive RIC to any member of the affiliated group that includes the corporation that directly or indirectly owns over fifty percent of the voting stock of the captive REIT or captive RIC shall not be allowed. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "affiliated group" means "affiliated group" as defined in section fifteen hundred four of the internal revenue code, but without regard to the exceptions provided for in subsection (b) of that section.

(ii) In the case of a combinable captive insurance company required under this section to be included in a combined report, entire net income shall be computed as required by subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article.

(g) If more than one member of a combined group is eligible for any of the modifications described in paragraphs (r), (s) and (t) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article, all such members must utilize the same modification.

5. Apportionment on a combined report. (a) In determining the apportionment factor for a combined report, the receipts, net income, net gains and other items of all members of the combined group, whether or not they are a taxpayer, are included and intercorporate receipts, income and gains are eliminated. Receipts, net income, net gains and other items are sourced, and the amounts allowed in the apportionment factor are determined, as provided in section two hundred ten-A of this article.

(b) An election made to apportion income and gains from qualifying financial instruments pursuant to subparagraph one of paragraph (a) of subdivision five of section two hundred ten-A of this article shall apply to all members of the combined group.

6. Liability of combined group members. Every member of the combined group that is subject to tax under this article shall be jointly and severally liable for the tax due pursuant to a combined report.

7. Designated agent. Each combined group shall have one designated agent for the combined group, which shall be a taxpayer. Only the designated agent may act on behalf of the members of the combined group for matters relating to the combined report.

§ 211. Reports. 1. Every taxpayer shall annually on or before March fifteenth, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and annually on or before April fifteenth, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, transmit to the commissioner a report in a form prescribed by the commissioner (except that a corporation which reports on the basis of a fiscal year shall transmit its report within two and one-half months after the close of its fiscal year, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month after the close of its fiscal year, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, and except, also, that a corporation which is a DISC shall transmit its report on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of its calendar or fiscal year), setting forth such information as the commissioner may prescribe and every taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or to be subject to the tax imposed by this article shall transmit to the commissioner a report on the date of such cessation or at such other time as the commissioner may require covering each year or period for which no report was theretofore filed. In the case of a termination year of an S corporation, the S short year and the C short year shall be treated as separate short taxable years, provided, however, the due date of the report for the S short year shall be the same as the due date of the report for the C short year. Every taxpayer shall also transmit such other reports and such facts and information as the commissioner may require in the administration of this article. The commissioner may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing reports whenever good cause exists.

An automatic extension of six months for the filing of its annual report shall be allowed any taxpayer if, within the time prescribed by the preceding paragraph, such taxpayer files with the commissioner an application for extension in such form as the commissioner may prescribe by regulation and pays on or before the date of such filing the amount properly estimated as its tax.

2. Every report shall have annexed thereto a certification by the president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, chief accounting officer or any other officer of the taxpayer duly authorized so to act to the effect that the statements contained therein are true.

In the case of an association, within the meaning of paragraph three of section (a) of section seventy-seven hundred one of the internal revenue code, a publicly traded partnership treated as a corporation for purposes of the internal revenue code pursuant to section seventy-seven hundred four thereof and any business conducted by a trustee or trustees wherein interest or ownership is evidenced by certificates or other written instruments such certification shall be made by any person duly authorized so to act on behalf of such association, publicly traded partnership or business. The fact that an individual's name is signed on a certification of the report shall be prima facie evidence that such individual is authorized to sign and certify the report on behalf of the corporation. Blank forms of reports shall be furnished by the commissioner of taxation and finance, on application, but failure to secure such a blank shall not release any corporation from the obligation of making any report required by this article.

2-a. The commissioner may prescribe regulations and instructions requiring returns of information to be made and filed in conjunction with the reports required to be filed pursuant to this article, relating to payments made to shareholders owning, directly or indirectly, individually or in the aggregate, more than fifty percent of the issued capital stock of the taxpayer, where such payments are treated as payments of interest in the computation of entire net income reported on such reports.

3. If the amount of taxable income for any year of any taxpayer (including any taxpayer which has elected to be taxed under subchapter s of chapter one of the internal revenue code), as returned to the United States treasury department is changed or corrected by the commissioner of internal revenue or other officer of the United States or other competent authority, or where a renegotiation of a contract or subcontract with the United States results in a change in taxable income, such taxpayer shall report such changed or corrected taxable income, or the results of such renegotiation, within ninety days (or one hundred twenty days, in the case of a taxpayer making a combined report under this article for such year) after the final determination of such change or correction or renegotiation, or as required by the commissioner, and shall concede the accuracy of such determination or state wherein it is erroneous. Provided however, if the taxpayer is a direct or indirect partner of a partnership required to report adjustments in accordance with section six hundred fifty-nine-a of this chapter, such taxpayer shall also report such adjustments in accordance with section six hundred fifty-nine-a of this chapter. The allowance of a tentative carryback adjustment based upon a net operating loss carryback or net capital loss carryback pursuant to section sixty-four hundred eleven of the internal revenue code, as amended, shall be treated as a final determination for purposes of this subdivision. Any taxpayer filing an amended return with such department shall also file within ninety days (or one hundred twenty days, in the case of a taxpayer making a combined report under this article for such year) thereafter an amended report with the commissioner.

4. For provisions relating to combined reports, see section two hundred ten-C of this article.

5. In case it shall appear to the commissioner that any agreement, understanding or arrangement exists between the taxpayer and any other corporation or any person or firm, whereby the activity, business, income or capital of the taxpayer within the state is improperly or inaccurately reflected, the commissioner is authorized and empowered, in the commissioner's discretion and in such manner as the commissioner may determine, to adjust items of income, deductions and capital, and to eliminate assets in computing any apportionment percentage provided only that any income directly traceable thereto be also excluded from entire net income, so as equitably to determine the tax. Where (a) any taxpayer conducts its activity or business under any agreement, arrangement or understanding in such manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit its members or stockholders, or any of them, or any person or persons directly or indirectly interested in such activity or business, by entering into any transaction at more or less than a fair price which, but for such agreement, arrangement or understanding, might have been paid or received therefor, or (b) any taxpayer, a substantial portion of whose capital stock is owned either directly or indirectly by another corporation, enters into any transaction with such other corporation on such terms as to create an improper loss or net income, the commissioner may include in the entire net income of the taxpayer the fair profits which, but for such agreement, arrangement or understanding, the taxpayer might have derived from such transaction. Where any taxpayer owns, directly or indirectly, more than fifty percent of the capital stock of another corporation subject to tax under section fifteen hundred two-a of this chapter and fifty percent or less of whose gross receipts for the taxable year consist of premiums, the commissioner may include in the entire net income of the taxpayer, as a deemed distribution, the amount of the net income of the other corporation that is in excess of its net premium income.

6. An action may be brought at any time by the attorney-general at the instance of the tax commission, in the name of the state, to compel the filing of reports due under this article.

7. Reports shall be preserved for five years, and thereafter until the tax commission orders them to be destroyed.

8. (a) Except in accordance with proper judicial order or as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any tax commissioner, any officer or employee of the department, or any person who, pursuant to this section, is permitted to inspect any report, or to whom any information contained in any report is furnished, or any person engaged or retained by such department on an independent contract basis, or any person who in any manner may acquire knowledge of the contents of a report filed pursuant to this article, to divulge or make known in any manner the amount of income or any particulars set forth or disclosed in any report under this article. The officers charged with the custody of such reports shall not be required to produce any of them or evidence of anything contained in them in any action or proceeding in any court, except on behalf of the state or the commissioner in an action or proceeding under the provisions of this chapter or in any other action or proceeding involving the collection of a tax due under this chapter to which the state or the commissioner is a party or a claimant, or on behalf of any party to any action or proceeding under the provisions of this article when the reports or facts shown thereby are directly involved in such action or proceeding, in any of which events the court may require the production of, and may admit in evidence, so much of said reports or of the facts shown thereby as are pertinent to the action or proceeding, and no more. The commissioner may, nevertheless, publish a copy or a summary of any determination or decision rendered after the formal hearing provided for in section one thousand eighty-nine of this chapter. Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the delivery to a corporation or its duly authorized representative of a copy of any report filed by it, nor to prohibit the publication of statistics so classified as to prevent the identification of particular reports and the items thereof; or the publication of delinquent lists showing the names of taxpayers who have failed to pay their taxes at the time and in the manner provided by section two hundred thirteen of this chapter together with any relevant information which in the opinion of the commissioner may assist in the collection of such delinquent taxes; or the inspection by the attorney general or other legal representatives of the state of the report of any corporation which shall bring action to set aside or review the tax based thereon, or against which an action or proceeding under this chapter has been recommended by the commissioner of taxation and finance or the attorney general or has been instituted; or the inspection of the reports of any corporation by the comptroller or duly designated officer or employee of the state department of audit and control, for purposes of the audit of a refund of any tax paid by such corporation under this article.

(b) (i) Any officer or employee of the state who willfully violates the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be dismissed from office and be incapable of holding any public office in this state for a period of five years thereafter.

(ii) Cross-reference: For criminal penalties, see article thirty-seven of this chapter.

(c) Notwithstanding any provisions of this subdivision, the tax commission may permit the secretary of the treasury of the United States or his delegates, or the proper officer of any other state charged with tax administration, or the authorized representative of either such officer, to inspect the reports filed under this article, or may furnish to such officer or his authorized representative an abstract of any such report or supply information concerning an item contained in any such report, or disclosed by an investigation of tax liability under this article, but such permission shall be granted or such information furnished to such officer or his representative only if the laws of the United States or of such other state, as the case may be, grant substantially similar privileges to the commission or officer of this state charged with the administration of the tax imposed by this article and such information is to be used for tax purposes only; and provided further the commissioner of taxation and finance may furnish to the secretary of the treasury of the United States or his delegates such reports filed under this article and other tax information, as he may consider proper, for use in court actions or proceedings under the internal revenue code, whether civil or criminal, where a written request therefor has been made to the commissioner of taxation and finance by the secretary of the treasury or his delegates provided the laws of the United States grant substantially similar powers to the secretary of the treasury or his delegates. Where the commissioner of taxation and finance has so authorized use of reports or other tax information in such actions or proceedings, officers and employees of the department of taxation and finance may testify in such actions or proceedings in respect to such reports or other tax information; and provided further that such commission may furnish any municipality with such information contained in the reports filed under this article as it may consider proper for use in any certiorari or condemnation proceeding.

9. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the tax commission may permit the officer charged with the administration of an income tax imposed by any city of the state of New York, or the authorized representative of such officer, to inspect the reports filed under this article, or may furnish to such officer or his authorized representative an abstract of any such report or supply information concerning an item contained in any such report, or disclosed by any investigation of tax liability under this article, but such permission shall be granted or such information furnished to such officer or his representative only if the local laws of such city grant substantially similar privileges to the commission or officer of this state charged with the administration of the tax imposed by this article and such information is to be used for tax purposes only; and provided further the commissioner of taxation and finance may furnish to such city officer or his delegates and the legal representative of such city such reports filed under this article and other tax information, as he may consider proper, for use in court actions or proceedings under such local law, whether civil or criminal, where a written request therefor has been made to the commissioner of taxation and finance by such city officer or his delegates or by such legal representative of such city, provided the local law of such city grants substantially similar powers to the city officer charged with the administration of the city income tax or his delegates. Where the commissioner of taxation and finance has so authorized use of reports or other tax information in such actions or proceedings, officers and employees of the department of taxation and finance may testify in such actions or proceedings in respect to such reports or other tax information.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the tax commission, in its discretion, may require or permit any or all persons liable for any tax imposed by this article, to make payments on account of estimated tax and payment of any tax, penalty or interest imposed by this article to banks, banking houses or trust companies designated by the tax commission and to file declarations of estimated tax, applications for automatic extensions of time to file reports, and reports with such banks, banking houses or trust companies as agents of the tax commission, in lieu of making any such payment directly to the tax commission. However, the tax commission shall designate only such banks, banking houses or trust companies as are or shall be designated by the comptroller as depositories pursuant to section two hundred eighteen.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the commissioner may disclose to the head of any state agency, pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-f of this chapter, the name and taxpayer identification number of any taxpayer whose overpayment is certified to the comptroller to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt owed to such agency and the amount of the overpayment and interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against a past-due legally enforceable debt, and the commissioner may disclose to the commissioner of finance of the city of New York, pursuant to section one hundred seventy-one-l of this chapter, the name and taxpayer identification number of any taxpayer whose overpayment is certified to the comptroller to be credited against a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt and the amount of the overpayment and interest thereon certified to the comptroller to be credited against a city of New York tax warrant judgment debt.

12. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the commissioner and the comptroller shall enter into an agreement pursuant to which the commissioner shall, upon request, provide the comptroller with a report, not more frequently than annually, with respect to corporations or other entities which have filed a business corporation franchise tax report under this article for any taxable year within ten calendar years prior to the report to the comptroller made pursuant to this subdivision, providing the following information, to the extent that such information is readily available from the department's system for identifying taxpayer indicative data:

- (1) business name and legal name, if different;
- (2) business address and mailing address;
- (3) federal employer identification number;
- (4) date entered into business.

(b) Each report to the comptroller made pursuant to this subdivision shall list each corporation or other entity with respect to which such report is made according to the total assets reported for the end of the year on its most recent available business corporation franchise tax report, in descending order. Such reports to the comptroller shall not disclose the actual amount of total assets reported on such business corporation franchise tax reports.

(c) The information provided to the comptroller pursuant to this subdivision shall be used only for administration and enforcement of the abandoned property law. The comptroller may redisclose the information provided under this subdivision only to the extent necessary for enforcement or administration of the abandoned property law.

(d) The reports to the comptroller required under this subdivision shall be submitted by electronic means or in some other format which is mutually acceptable to the comptroller and the commissioner. The written agreement with the comptroller shall set forth the procedures for providing the information the commissioner is allowed to disclose pursuant to this subdivision.

(e) Notwithstanding article six of the public officers law or any other provision of law, the reports to be furnished to the comptroller pursuant to this subdivision shall not be open to the public for inspection.

14. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the commissioner may disclose to a taxpayer or a taxpayer's related member, as defined in paragraph (o) of subdivision nine of section two hundred eight of this article, information relating to any royalty payments paid, incurred or received by such taxpayer or related member to or from the other, including the treatment of such payments by the taxpayer or the related member in any report or return transmitted to the commissioner under this chapter.

15. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, the commissioner shall provide the statements and other required information requested on tax reports under section four hundred eight of the business corporation law to the secretary of state for filing. Such provision may also include a copy or image of that portion of the report solely pertinent to such information to the extent feasible. The commissioner any also provide information on noncompliance.

16. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision eight of this section, upon written request from the chairperson of the committee on ways and means of the United States House of Representatives, the chairperson of the committee on finance of the United States Senate, or the chairperson of the joint committee on taxation of the United States Congress, the commissioner shall furnish such committee with any current or prior year reports specified in such request that were filed under this article by the president of the United States, vice-president of the United States, member of the United States Congress representing New York state, or any person who served in or was employed by the executive branch of the government of the United States on the executive staff of the president, in the executive office of the president, or in an acting or confirmed capacity in a position subject to confirmation by the United States senate; or, in New York state: a statewide elected official, as defined in paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section seventy-three-a of the public officers law; a state officer or employee, as defined in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (c) of subdivision one of such section seventy-three-a; a political party chairperson, as defined in paragraph (h) of subdivision one of such section seventy-three-a; a local elected official, as defined in subdivisions one and two of section eight hundred ten of the general municipal law; a person appointed, pursuant to law, to serve due to vacancy or otherwise in the position of a local elected official, as defined in subdivisions one and two of section eight hundred ten of the general municipal law; a member of the state legislature; or a judge or justice of the unified court system, or filed by a partnership, firm, association, corporation, joint-stock company, trust or similar entity directly or indirectly controlled by any individual listed in this paragraph, whether by contract, through ownership or control of a majority interest in such entity, or otherwise, or filed by a partnership, firm, association, corporation, joint-stock company, trust or similar entity of which any individual listed in this paragraph holds ten percent or more of the voting securities of such entity; provided however that, prior to furnishing any report, the commissioner shall redact any copy of a federal return (or portion thereof) attached to, or any information on a federal return that is reflected on, such report, and any social security numbers, account numbers and residential address information.

(b) No reports shall be furnished pursuant to this subdivision unless the chairperson of the requesting committee certifies in writing that such reports have been requested related to, and in furtherance of, a legitimate task of the Congress, that the requesting committee has made a written request to the United States secretary of the treasury for related federal reports or report information, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. Section 6103(f), and that if such requested reports are inspected by and/or submitted to another committee, to the United States House of Representatives, or to the United States Senate, then such inspection and/or submission shall occur in a manner consistent with federal law as informed by the requirements and procedures established in 26 U.S.C. Section 6103(f).

§ 213. Payment and lien of tax. 1. To the extent the tax imposed by section two hundred nine of this chapter shall not have been previously paid pursuant to section two hundred thirteen-b of this chapter,

a. such tax, or the balance thereof, shall be payable to the commissioner in full at the time the report is required to be filed, and

b. such tax, or the balance thereof, imposed on any taxpayer which ceases to exercise its franchise or to be subject to the tax imposed by this article shall be payable to the commissioner at the time the report is required to be filed, provided such tax of a domestic corporation which continues to possess its franchise shall be subject to adjustment as the circumstances may require; all other taxes of any such taxpayer, which pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section would otherwise be payable subsequent to the time such report is required to be filed, shall nevertheless be payable at such time.

2. If any taxpayer, within the time prescribed by section two hundred eleven of this article, shall have applied for an automatic extension of time to file its annual report and shall have paid to the commissioner of taxation and finance on or before the date such application is filed an amount properly estimated as provided by said section, the only amount payable in addition to the tax shall be interest at the underpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, or, if no rate is set, at the rate of six per centum per annum upon the amount by which the tax, or the portion thereof payable on or before the date the report was required to be filed, exceeds the amount so paid. For purposes of the preceding sentence:

a. an amount so paid shall be deemed properly estimated if it is either (i) not less than ninety per centum of the tax as finally determined, or (ii) not less than the tax shown on the taxpayer's report for the preceding taxable year, if such preceding year was a taxable year of twelve months; and

b. the time when a report is required to be filed shall be determined without regard to any extension of time for filing such report.

3. The commissioner may grant a reasonable extension of time for payment of any tax imposed by this article under such conditions as he or she deems just and proper.

§ 213-a. Declaration of estimated tax.-- (a) Requirement of declaration.--Every taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by section two hundred nine of this article shall make a declaration of its estimated tax for the current privilege period, containing such information as the commissioner of taxation and finance may prescribe by regulations or instructions, if such estimated tax can reasonably be expected to exceed one thousand dollars for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-six, or five thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-six. If a taxpayer is subject to the tax surcharge imposed under section two hundred nine-B of this article and such taxpayer's estimated tax under section two hundred nine of this article can reasonably be expected to exceed one thousand dollars for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-six, or five thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-six, such taxpayer shall also make a declaration of its estimated tax surcharge for the current privilege period.

(b) Definition of estimated tax and estimated tax surcharge.--The terms "estimated tax" and "estimated tax surcharge" mean the amounts which a taxpayer estimates to be the tax or tax surcharge imposed by section two hundred nine or two hundred nine-B, respectively, of this chapter for the current privilege period, less the amount which it estimates to be the sum of any credits allowable against the tax or tax surcharge, respectively.

(c) Time for filing declaration.--A declaration of estimated tax and a declaration of estimated tax surcharge shall be filed on or before June fifteenth of the current privilege period in the case of a taxpayer which reports on the basis of a calendar year, except that if the requirements of subdivision (a) are first met:

(1) after May thirty-first and before September first of such current privilege period, the declaration shall be filed on or before September fifteenth, or

(2) after August thirty-first and before December first of such current privilege period, the declaration shall be filed on or before December fifteenth.

(d) Amendments of declaration.--A taxpayer may amend a declaration under regulations of the tax commission.

(e) Report as declaration.--If, on or before February fifteenth of the succeeding year in the case of a taxpayer which reports on the basis of a calendar year, a taxpayer files its report for the year for which the declaration is required, and pays therewith the balance, if any, of the full amount of the tax or tax surcharge shown to be due on the report,

(i) such report shall be considered as its declaration if no declaration was required to be filed during the calendar or fiscal year for which the tax or tax surcharge was imposed, but is otherwise required to be filed on or before December fifteenth pursuant to subdivision (c),

(ii) such report shall be considered as the amendment permitted by subdivision (d) to be filed on or before December fifteenth if the tax or tax surcharge shown on the report is greater than the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge, as the case may be, shown on a declaration previously made.

(f) Fiscal year.--This section shall apply to privilege periods of twelve months other than a calendar year by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year for the corresponding months specified in this section.

(g) Short privilege period.--If the privilege period for which a tax or tax surcharge is imposed by section two hundred nine or two hundred nine-B, respectively, of this chapter is less than twelve months, every taxpayer required to make a declaration of estimated tax or a declaration of estimated tax surcharge for such privilege period shall make such a declaration in accordance with regulations of the commissioner of taxation and finance.

(h) Extension of time.--The tax commission may grant a reasonable extension of time, not to exceed three months, for the filing of any declaration required pursuant to this section, on such terms and conditions as it may require.

§ 213-b. Payments on account of estimated tax.-- (a) First installments for certain taxpayers.--In privilege periods of twelve months ending at any time during the calendar year nineteen hundred seventy and thereafter, every taxpayer subject to the tax imposed by section two hundred nine of this article must pay with the report required to be filed for the preceding privilege period, or with an application for extension of the time for filing the report, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and must pay on or before the fifteenth day of the third month of such privilege periods, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, an amount equal to (i) twenty-five percent of the second preceding year's tax if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one thousand dollars for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-six, or five thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-six, but was equal to or less than one hundred thousand dollars, or (ii) forty percent of the second preceding year's tax if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one hundred thousand dollars. If the second preceding year's tax under section two hundred nine of this article exceeded one thousand dollars for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-six, or five thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-six, and the taxpayer is subject to the tax surcharge imposed by section two hundred nine-B of this article, the taxpayer must also pay with the tax surcharge report required to be filed for the second preceding privilege period, or with an application for extension of the time for filing the report, for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand sixteen, and must pay on or before the fifteenth day of the third month of such privilege periods, for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand sixteen, an amount equal to (i) twenty-five percent of the tax surcharge imposed for the second preceding year if the second preceding year's tax was equal to or less than one hundred thousand dollars, or (ii) forty percent of the tax surcharge imposed for the second preceding year if the second preceding year's tax exceeded one hundred thousand dollars. Provided, however, that every taxpayer that is a New York S corporation must pay with the report required to be filed for the preceding privilege period, or with an application for extension of the time for filing the report, an amount equal to (i) twenty-five percent of the preceding year's tax if the preceding year's tax exceeded one thousand dollars for taxable years beginning before January first, two thousand twenty-six, or five thousand dollars for taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-six, but was equal to or less than one hundred thousand dollars, or (ii) forty percent of the preceding year's tax if the preceding year's tax exceeded one hundred thousand dollars.

(b) Other installments.--In privilege periods of twelve months ending at any time during the calendar year nineteen hundred seventy and thereafter, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge, with respect to which a declaration for such privilege period is required shall be paid, in the case of a taxpayer which reports on the basis of a calendar year, as follows:

(1) If the declaration is filed on or before June fifteenth, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown thereon, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid during the same privilege period pursuant to subdivision (a), shall be paid in three equal installments. One of such installments shall be paid at the time of the filing of the declaration, one shall be paid on the following September fifteenth, and one on the following December fifteenth.

(2) If the declaration is filed after June fifteenth and not after September fifteenth of such privilege period, and is not required to be filed on or before June fifteenth of such period, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown on such declaration, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid during the same privilege period pursuant to subdivision (a), shall be paid in two equal installments. One of such installments shall be paid at the time of the filing of the declaration and one shall be paid on the following December fifteenth.

(3) If the declaration is filed after September fifteenth of such privilege period, and is not required to be filed on or before September fifteenth of such privilege period, the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge shown on such declaration, after applying thereto the amount, if any, paid in respect of such privilege period pursuant to subdivision (a), shall be paid in full at the time of the filing of the declaration.

(4) If the declaration is filed after the time prescribed therefor, or after the expiration of any extension of time therefor, paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subdivision shall not apply, and there shall be paid at the time of such filing all installments of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge payable at or before such time, and the remaining installments shall be paid at the times at which, and in the amounts in which, they would have been payable if the declaration had been filed when due.

(c) Amendments of declaration.--If any amendment of a declaration is filed, the remaining installments, if any, shall be ratably increased or decreased (as the case may be) to reflect any increase or decrease in the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge by reason of such amendment, and if any amendment is made after September fifteenth of the privilege period, any increase in the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge by reason thereof shall be paid at the time of making such amendment.

(d) Application of installments based on the second preceding year's tax.--(1) Any amount paid pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be applied after payment as a first installment against the estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge, respectively, of the taxpayer for the current privilege period shown on the declaration required to be filed pursuant to section two hundred thirteen-a of this chapter or, if no declaration of estimated tax or a declaration of estimated tax surcharge is required to be filed by the taxpayer pursuant to such section, any such amount shall be considered a payment on account of the tax or tax surcharge shown on the report required to be filed by the taxpayer for such privilege period.

(2) Any amount paid pursuant to paragraph four of subsection (c) of section six hundred fifty-eight of this chapter on behalf of a taxpayer subject to tax under this article shall be applied against the estimated tax of the taxpayer for the taxable year shown on the declaration required to be filed pursuant to section two hundred thirteen-a of this article, or if no declaration is filed pursuant to such section, any such amount shall be considered a payment on account of the tax on the return required to be filed by the taxpayer for such taxable year.

(e) Interest on certain installments based on the second preceding year's tax.--Notwithstanding the provisions of section one thousand eighty-eight of this chapter or of section sixteen of the state finance law, if an amount paid pursuant to subdivision (a) exceeds the tax or tax surcharge, respectively, shown on the report required to be filed by the taxpayer for the privilege period during which the amount was paid, interest shall be allowed and paid on the amount by which the amount so paid pursuant to such subdivision exceeds such tax or tax surcharge. In the case of amounts so paid pursuant to subdivision (a), such interest shall be allowed and paid at the overpayment rate set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, or if no rate is set, at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of payment of the amount so paid pursuant to such subdivision to the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year, provided, however, that no interest shall be allowed or paid under this subdivision if the amount thereof is less than one dollar or if such interest becomes payable solely because of a carryback of a net operating loss in a subsequent privilege period.

(f) The preceding year's tax and the second preceding year's tax defined.-- As used in this section, "the preceding year's tax" means the tax imposed upon the taxpayer by section two hundred nine of this article for the preceding calendar or fiscal year, or, for purposes of computing the first installment of estimated tax when an application has been filed for extension of the time for filing the report required to be filed for such preceding calendar or fiscal year, the amount properly estimated pursuant to section two hundred thirteen of this article as the tax imposed upon the taxpayer for such calendar or fiscal year. As used in this section, "the second preceding year's tax" means the tax imposed upon the taxpayer by section two hundred nine of this article for the second preceding calendar or fiscal year.

(g) Application to short privilege period.--This section shall apply to a privilege period of less than twelve months in accordance with regulations of the tax commission.

(h) Fiscal year.--The provisions of this section shall apply to privilege periods of twelve months other than a calendar year by the substitution of the months of such fiscal year for the corresponding months specified in such provisions.

(i) Extension of time.--The commissioner of taxation and finance may grant a reasonable extension of time, not to exceed six months, for payment of any installment of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge required pursuant to this section, on such terms and conditions as he may require, including the furnishing of a bond or other security by the taxpayer in an amount not exceeding twice the amount for which any extension of time for payment is granted, provided however that interest at the underpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, or if no rate is set, at the rate of six per centum per annum for the period of the extension shall be charged and collected on the amount for which any extension of time for payment is granted under this subdivision.

(j) Payment of installments in advance.--A taxpayer may elect to pay any installment of estimated tax or estimated tax surcharge prior to the date prescribed in this section for payment thereof.

§ 216. Collection of taxes. Every foreign corporation (other than a moneyed corporation) subject to the provisions of this article, except a corporation having a certificate of authority under section two hundred twelve of the general corporation law or having authority to do business by virtue of section thirteen hundred five of the business corporation law, shall file in the department of state a certificate of designation in its corporate name, signed and acknowledged by its president or a vice-president or its secretary or treasurer, under its corporate seal, designating the secretary of state as its agent upon whom process in any action provided for by this article may be served within this state, and setting forth an address to which the secretary of state shall mail a copy of any such process against the corporation which may be served upon him. In case any such corporation shall have failed to file such certificate of designation, it shall be deemed to have designated the secretary of state as its agent upon whom such process against it may be served; and until a certificate of designation shall have been filed the corporation shall be deemed to have directed the secretary of state to mail copies of process served upon him to the corporation at its last known office address within or without the state. When a certificate of designation has been filed by such corporation the secretary of state shall mail copies of process thereafter served upon him to the address set forth in such certificate. Any such corporation, from time to time, may change the address to which the secretary of state is directed to mail copies of process, by filing a certificate to that effect executed, signed and acknowledged in like manner as a certificate of designation as herein provided. Service of process upon any such corporation or upon any corporation having a certificate of authority under section two hundred twelve of the general corporation law or having authority to do business by virtue of section thirteen hundred five of the business corporation law, in any action commenced at any time pursuant to the provisions of this article, may be made by either (1) personally delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state, a deputy secretary of state or with any person authorized by the secretary of state to receive such service duplicate copies thereof at the office of the department of state in the city of Albany, in which event the secretary of state shall forthwith send by registered mail, return receipt requested, one of such copies to the corporation at the address designated by it or at its last known office address within or without the state, or (2) personally delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state, a deputy secretary of state or with any person authorized by the secretary of state to receive such service, a copy thereof at the office of the department of state in the city of Albany and by delivering a copy thereof to, and leaving such copy with, the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer, assistant treasurer, or cashier of such corporation, or the officer performing corresponding functions under another name, or a director or managing agent of such corporation, personally without the state. Proof of such personal service without the state shall be filed with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending within thirty days after such service, and such service shall be complete ten days after proof thereof is filed.

§ 217. Penalties. 1. If any taxes, penalties or interest due under this article are not paid, or any report required is not filed, and the tax commission is satisfied that the failure to make such payment or file such report is intentional, it may so report to the attorney-general, who shall immediately bring an action in the name of the people of the state, for the forfeiture of the charter or franchise of any corporation failing to make such payment, or file such report, and if it be found that such failure was intentional, judgment shall be rendered in such action for the forfeiture of such charter and for its dissolution if a domestic corporation and if a foreign corporation for the annulment of its franchise to do business in this state.

2. Whenever any corporation has failed to file an annual report for a period of two consecutive years or has been delinquent in the payment of taxes for any two years duly assessed pursuant to this article or article nine-a of the tax law heretofore in effect, all the authority and powers conferred on the tax commission and the secretary of state by section two hundred three-a of this chapter and all of the provisions of such section shall have full force and effect in respect of and shall be applicable to such corporation.

3. Whenever any foreign corporation has failed to file an annual report or has been delinquent in the payment of taxes duly assessed pursuant to this article for the periods of time specified in subdivision two of this section, all the authority and powers conferred on the tax commission and the secretary of state by section two hundred three-b of this chapter and all of the provisions of such section shall have full force and effect in respect of and shall be applicable to such corporation.

§ 218. Deposit and disposition of revenue. All taxes, interest and penalties collected or received by the tax commission under this article shall be deposited and disposed of pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy-one-a of this chapter.

§ 219. Limitation of time. The provisions of the civil practice law and rules relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, provided, however, that as to real estate in the hands of persons who are owners thereof who would be purchasers in good faith but for such tax or penalty and as to the lien on real estate of mortgages held by persons who would be holders thereof in good faith but for such tax or penalty, all such taxes and penalties shall cease to be a lien on such real estate as against such purchasers or holders after the expiration of ten years from the date such taxes became due and payable. The limitations herein provided for shall not apply to any transfer from a corporation to a person or corporation with intent to avoid payment of any taxes, or where with like intent the transfer is made to a grantee corporation, or any subsequent grantee corporation, controlled by such grantor or which has any community of interest with it, either through stock ownership or otherwise.

§ 219-a. Practice and procedure for taxable years ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four.--For taxable years or periods ending on or after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred sixty-four--

(1) the provisions of article twenty-seven shall apply with respect to the administration of and procedure with respect to the tax imposed under this article;

(2) any provisions of this article which are inconsistent with or contrary to the provisions of article twenty-seven shall not apply.

ARTICLE 11

TAX ON MORTGAGES

- | | |
|--------------|---|
| Section 250. | Definitions. |
| 251. | Procedure for review. |
| 252. | Exemptions. |
| 252-a. | Other exemptions. |
| 253. | Recording tax. |
| 253-a. | Recording tax by a city of one million or more. |

- 253-b. Credit line mortgage.
- 253-c. Recording tax imposed by the county of Nassau.
- 253-d. Recording tax imposed by the city of Yonkers.
- 253-e. Recording tax imposed by the county of Broome.
- 253-f. Recording tax imposed by the county of Rockland.
- 253-g. Recording tax imposed by the county of Westchester.
- 253-h. Recording tax imposed by the county of Lewis.
- 253-i. Recording tax imposed by the county of Columbia.
- 253-j. Recording tax imposed by the county of Sullivan.
- 253-j*2. Recording tax imposed by the county of Hamilton.
- 253-j*3. Recording tax imposed by the county of Essex.
- 253-j*4. Recording tax imposed by the county of Schoharie.
- 253-k. Recording tax imposed by the county of Genesee.
- 253-l. Recording tax imposed by the county of Rensselaer.
- 253-m. Recording tax imposed by the county of Wayne.
- 253-n. Recording tax imposed by the county of Wyoming.
- 253-o. Recording tax imposed by the county of Chautauqua.
- 253-p. Recording tax imposed by the county of Albany.
- 253-r. Recording tax imposed by the county of Schenectady.
- 253-s. Recording tax imposed by the county of Steuben.
- 253-t. Recording tax imposed by the county of Yates.
- 253-u. Recording tax imposed by the county of Herkimer.
- 253-v. Recording tax imposed by the county of Cortland.
- 253-w. Recording tax imposed by the county of Warren.
- 253-x. Recording tax imposed by the county of Cattaraugus.
- 253-x*2. Recording tax imposed by the county of Greene.
- 253-y. Recording tax imposed by the county of Madison.
- 253-y*2. Recording tax imposed by the county of Livingston.
- 253-y*3. Recording tax imposed by the county of Washington.
- 253-z. Recording tax imposed by the county of Otsego.
- 253-z*2. Recording tax imposed by the county of Chenango.
- 254. Optional tax on prior mortgages.
- 255. Supplemental mortgages.
- 256. Mortgages for indefinite amounts or for contract obligations.
- 257. Payment of taxes.
- 257-a. Refund of mortgage taxes after rescission of certain - credit transactions.

- 258. Effect of nonpayment of taxes.
- 258-a. Payment of tax on instruments not recorded.
- 259. Trust mortgages.
- 260. Determination and apportionment by the state tax commission.
- 261. Payment over and distribution of taxes.
- 262. Expenses of officers.
- 263. Supervisory power of commissioner of taxation and finance and comptroller.
- 264. Tax on prior advance mortgages.
- 265. Tax a lien; exceptions.
- 266. Enforcement; procedure.
- 267. Idem.; where recovery is had against trust mortgagee.

§ 250. Definitions. 1. The term "real property" as used in this article includes the land itself above and under water, all buildings and other articles and structures, substructures and superstructures, erected upon, under or above, or affixed to the same; all wharves and piers, including the value of the right to collect wharfage, crantage or dockage thereon; all bridges, all telegraph lines, wires, poles and appurtenances; all supports and inclosures for electrical conductors and other appurtenances upon, above and underground; all surface, underground or elevated railroads, including the value of all franchises, rights or permission to construct, maintain or operate the same in, under, above, on or through, streets, highways, or public places; all railroad structures, substructures and superstructures, tracks and the iron thereon; branches, switches and other fixtures permitted or authorized to be made, laid or placed in, upon, above or under any public or private road, street or ground; all mains, pipes and tanks laid or placed in, upon, above or under any public or private street or place for conducting steam, heat, water, oil, electricity or any property, substance or product capable of transportation or conveyance therein or that is protected thereby, including the value of all franchises, rights, authority or permission to construct, maintain or operate, in, under, above, upon, or through, any streets, highways or public places, any mains, pipes, tanks, conduits or wires, with their appurtenances, for conducting water, steam, heat, light, power, gas, oil or other substance, or electricity or telegraphic, telephonic or other purposes; all trees and underwood growing upon land, and all mines, minerals, quarries and fossils in and under the same, except mines belonging to the state; and all the forms of housing which are adaptable to motivation by a power connected thereto or which may be propelled by a power within themselves and which are or can be used as a house or living abode or habitation of one or more persons, or for business, commercial or office purposes, either temporarily or permanently, and commonly called and hereafter referred to as "trailers"; except (1) transient trailers which have been located within the boundaries of a city, town or village for less than sixty days and (2) trailers which are for sale and which are not occupied. Said terms shall not include bulk milk tanks or coolers installed upon the farm to hold milk awaiting shipment to market. "Real property" also includes everything a conveyance or mortgage of which can be recorded as a conveyance or mortgage of real property under the laws of the state.

2. (a) The term "mortgage" as used in this article includes every mortgage or deed of trust which imposes a lien on or affects the title to real property, notwithstanding that such property may form a part of the security for the debt or debts secured thereby. An assignment of rents to accrue from tenancies, subtenancies, leases or subleases of real property, within any city in the state having a population of one million or more, given as security for an indebtedness, shall be deemed a mortgage of real property for purposes of this article. Executory contracts for the sale of real property under which the vendee has or is entitled to possession shall be deemed to be mortgages for the purposes of this article and shall be taxable at the amount unpaid on such contracts. A contract or agreement by which the indebtedness secured by any mortgage is increased or added to, shall be deemed a mortgage of real property for the purpose of this article, and shall be taxable as such upon the amount of such increase or addition. Notwithstanding anything in this section or section two hundred fifty-five of this article to the contrary, a contract or agreement whereby the proceeds of any indebtedness secured by a mortgage of real property in any city in the state having a population of one million or more are used to reduce all or any part of a mortgagee's equity interest in a wraparound or similar mortgage of such real property shall be deemed a mortgage of real property for the purposes of this article and shall be taxable as such to the extent of the amount of such proceeds so used, without regard to whether the aggregate amount of indebtedness secured by mortgages of such real property is increased or added to.

(b) Where all or part of the indebtedness secured by a mortgage of real property within any city in the state having a population of one million or more has been paid and new funds are advanced or re-advanced which are to be secured by such mortgage, the contract or agreement by which such funds are advanced or re-advanced shall be deemed a mortgage of real property for purposes of this article, and shall be taxable as such upon the amount of such new funds, except as otherwise provided in section two hundred fifty-three-b of this article.

3. The term "tax district" as used in this article means a city or town.

§ 251. Procedure for review. Where the application of the provisions of this article is involved, the act of a recording officer in recording or refusing to record an instrument, his determination, if any, and the application of this article thereto, shall be subject to review in the first instance by the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such review may be requested, within the time provided for by section two hundred fifty-seven-a or two hundred sixty-three of this article, as the case may be, by a party to the instrument or person interested therein or in the property affected thereby or such review may be initiated by the commissioner of taxation and finance. After such review, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall notify (i) the party or person who has so requested such review or, in the case of such review initiated by the commissioner of taxation and finance, the party to the instrument or person interested therein or in the property affected thereby, and (ii) the city of New York, or the county treasurer, as the case may be, to whom the tax imposed by this article may be payable, of his determination. Such determination shall be fixed and irrevocable unless within ninety days of the mailing of such notice, the party or person, who has so requested such review, or, in the case of such review initiated by the commissioner of taxation and finance, any party to the instrument or person interested therein or in the property affected thereby, or the city of New York, or the county treasurer, as the case may be, to whom the tax imposed by this article may be payable, petitions the division of tax appeals for a hearing unless the parties mentioned in clauses (i) and (ii) of this section waive their right to petition in such matter. The division of tax appeals shall give not less than three days written notice of the time and place of hearing, to be served either personally or by mail on all persons who filed such a petition, upon the commissioner of taxation and finance and upon the city of New York or upon the county treasurer, as the case may be, to whom such tax may be payable. The administrative law judge shall take such proofs as may be necessary to establish a complete record and thereupon issue his determination. After such hearing, the division of tax appeals shall give notice of the determination of the administrative law judge to such party or person who so filed such petition, to such city or such county treasurer and to the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such determination may be reviewed by the tax appeals tribunal, as provided in article forty of this chapter, at the instance of any party to such hearing, and by the city of New York or the county treasurer, as the case may be, to whom such tax may be payable. The decision of the tax appeals tribunal may be reviewed as provided in section two thousand sixteen of this chapter except that the city of New York or the county treasurer, as the case may be, to whom such tax may be payable, may also apply for judicial review. The provisions of this section shall be construed as amplifying and extending the rights of review expressly provided in other sections of this article, and shall in no manner be deemed a restriction thereof.

§ 252. Exemptions. (1) No mortgage of real property situated within this state shall be exempt, and no person or corporation owning any debt or obligation secured by mortgage of real property situated within this state shall be exempt, from the taxes imposed by this article by reason of anything contained in any other statute, except as provided in section three hundred thirty-nine-ee of the real property law, or by reason of any provision in any private act or charter which is subject to amendment or repeal by the legislature, or by reason of non-residence within this state or for any other cause, except that mortgages of real property situated within this state transferred, assigned or made to Home Owners' Loan Corporation, a corporation created under an act of congress, known as home owners' loan act of nineteen hundred and thirty-three, or to a agricultural credit association or federal home loan bank, shall be exempt, and said corporation or institution owning any debt or obligation secured by mortgage of real property situated within this state, shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this article and except that mortgages of real property situated within this state executed, given or made prior to June first, nineteen hundred thirty-four by any public benefit corporation created under the laws of this state for the purpose of maintaining and operating a public park and public recreation center shall be exempt, and any person or corporation owning any debt or obligation of any such public benefit corporation secured by such a mortgage of its real property situated within this state, shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this article, and except that mortgages of real property situated within this state which are executed, given or made subsequent to June seventh, nineteen hundred thirty-four and which are substituted for other mortgages as a part of and in compliance with a plan of reorganization pursuant to the provisions of section seventy-seven-b of the federal bankruptcy act, are and shall be exempt from taxes imposed by this article to an amount not exceeding the amount of such mortgage indebtedness outstanding at the time of the consummation of such reorganization, and any person or corporation owning any debt or obligation secured by such a mortgage of real property situated within this state is and shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this article, and except that mortgages of real property situated within this state which are executed, given or made by a railroad redevelopment corporation during the first nine years of its existence as such are and shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this article and any person or corporation owning any debt or obligation secured by such a mortgage of real property situated within this state is and shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this article.

(2) Notwithstanding article eighteen-A of the general municipal law and titles eleven and fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, no mortgage of real property situated within the state in counties located within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the Niagara Frontier transportation district, the Rochester-Genesee transportation district, the capital district transportation district, and the central New York regional transportation district executed, given, made, or transferred or assigned by or to an agency created under article eighteen-A of the general municipal law, an authority created under title eleven or fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, an agent or agent of such agent of such agency or authority, a project operator receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority, a project occupant of such agency or authority, or an owner of a project receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority shall be exempt from the additional tax imposed by paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of this article. For the purposes of this subdivision the term "financial assistance" shall have the same meaning as defined in section eight hundred fifty-four of the general municipal law.

§ 252-a. Other exemptions. 1. Mortgages of real property given to secure obligations incurred and given pursuant to the provisions of section six-a of the banking law shall be exempt from any tax or fee imposed by this article.

2. Reverse mortgages conforming to the provisions of section two hundred eighty or two hundred eighty-a of the real property law securing obligations of mortgagors or exempted therefrom pursuant to subdivision four of section two hundred eighty or subdivision four of section two hundred eighty-a of the real property law shall be exempt from any tax or fee imposed by this article. In each case where an exemption is claimed under this subdivision, the lender shall provide documentation in a format approved by the commissioner of taxation and finance to enable recording officers to affirmatively determine when a mortgage being presented for recording is a reverse mortgage conforming to such provisions of the real property law and entitled to an exemption under this subdivision. Where such documentation is not furnished, the maximum principal debt or obligation which shall be the measure of the tax imposed by and pursuant to the authority of this article in the case of a reverse mortgage shall be the proceeds of the loan which the authorized lender is obligated to lend the borrower at the execution of such mortgage or at any time thereafter but determined without regard to any contingency relating to the addition of any unpaid interest to principal or relating to any percentage of the future appreciation of the property securing the loan as consideration or additional consideration for the making of the loan. Provided, however, if subsequent to the recording of such mortgage, the proceeds which the authorized lender is obligated to lend the borrower are increased at any time, such new or further indebtedness or obligation shall be the measure of the tax at such time unless at that time an exemption is applicable under the first sentence of this subdivision or otherwise.

§ 253. Recording tax. 1. A tax of fifty cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of the execution thereof or at any time thereafter by a mortgage on real property situated within the state recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and six, is hereby imposed on each such mortgage, and shall be collected and paid as provided in this article. If the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seven, is less than one hundred dollars, a tax of fifty cents is hereby imposed on such mortgage, and shall be collected and paid as provided in this article.

1-a. (a) In addition to the tax imposed by subdivision one of this section, there shall be imposed on each mortgage of real property situated within the state, except mortgages wherein the mortgagee is a natural person or persons, or is a credit union as defined in section two of the banking law, and in either case the mortgaged premises consist of real property improved by a structure containing six residential dwelling units or less, each with separate cooking facilities, a special additional tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof or at anytime thereafter by such mortgage. The tax, if any, imposed by this subdivision shall in cases of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, be paid by the mortgagee, and such tax shall not be paid or payable, directly or indirectly, by the mortgagor except as otherwise provided in sections two hundred fifty-eight and two hundred fifty-nine of this article and except such tax shall be paid in such cases by the mortgagor where the mortgagee is an exempt organization described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. In all other cases, such tax shall be paid by the mortgagor except that the tax shall be paid by the mortgagee where the mortgagor is an exempt organization described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. All of the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the special additional tax imposed by this subdivision to the same extent as if it were imposed by said subdivision one of this section, except as otherwise expressly provided in this article.

(b) An organization organized other than for profit which is operated on a nonprofit basis no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any officer, director or member and which is exempt from federal income taxation pursuant to subsection (a) of section five hundred one of the internal revenue code shall be exempt from the special additional tax imposed by this subdivision.

2. (a) In addition to the taxes imposed by subdivisions one and one-a of this section, there shall be imposed on each mortgage of real property situated within the state recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred sixty-nine, an additional tax of twenty-five cents for counties outside of the metropolitan commuter transportation district, as defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law, and thirty cents for counties within such metropolitan commuter transportation district for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof or at any time thereafter by such mortgage, saving and excepting the first ten thousand dollars of such principal debt or obligation in any case in which the related mortgage is of real property principally improved or to be improved by a one or two family residence or dwelling. All the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the additional tax imposed by this subdivision to the same extent as if it were imposed by the said subdivision one of this section, except as otherwise expressly provided in this article. Notwithstanding article eighteen-A of the general municipal law and titles eleven and fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, no mortgage of real property situated within the state in counties located within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the Niagara Frontier transportation district, the Rochester-Genesee transportation district, the capital district transportation district, and the central New York regional transportation district executed, given, made, or transferred or assigned by or to an agency created under article eighteen-A of the general municipal law, an authority created under title eleven or fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, an agent or agent of such agent of such agency or authority, a project operator receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority, a project occupant of such agency or authority, or an owner of a project receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority shall be exempt from the additional tax imposed by this subdivision. For the purposes of this subdivision the term "financial assistance" shall have the same meaning as defined in section eight hundred fifty-four of the general municipal law. The imposition of this additional tax on mortgages recorded in a county outside the city of New York, other than one of the counties from time to time comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the Niagara Frontier transportation district, the Rochester-Genesee transportation district, the capital district transportation district or the central New York regional transportation district may be suspended for a specified period of time or without limitation as to time by a local law, ordinance or resolution duly adopted by the local legislative body of such county.

(b) Any local law, ordinance or resolution suspending the imposition of this additional tax as provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, or amending or repealing such local law, ordinance or resolution, shall take effect only on the first day of the third month succeeding the month in which such local law, ordinance or resolution is duly adopted. Such a local law, ordinance or resolution shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the state tax commission at its office in Albany at least sixty days prior to the date the local law, ordinance or resolution shall take effect. However, the tax commission may waive and reduce such sixty-day notice requirement to a requirement that such certified copy be mailed by registered or certified mail within a period of not less than thirty days prior to such effective date if it deems such action to be consistent with its duties under this article. A certified copy of any local law, ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to this subdivision shall also be filed with the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly adopted.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the mortgage recording tax shall not be imposed upon any mortgage executed by a voluntary nonprofit hospital corporation, fire company or voluntary ambulance service as defined in section one hundred of the general municipal law, or upon any mortgage executed by or granted to the dormitory authority.

§ 253-a. Recording tax by a city of one million or more. 1. Any city in this state having a population of one million or more, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in any such city (A) prior to February first, nineteen hundred eighty-two a tax of fifty cents, (B) on or after February first, nineteen hundred eighty-two and before July first, nineteen hundred eighty-two with respect to (i) one, two or three-family houses, individual cooperative apartments and individual residential condominium units, and (ii) real property securing a principal debt or obligation of less than five hundred thousand dollars, a tax of fifty cents, and with respect to all other real property a tax of one dollar and twelve and one-half cents, (C) on and after July first, nineteen hundred eighty-two and before August first, nineteen hundred ninety with respect to real property securing a principal debt or obligation of less than five hundred thousand dollars, a tax of fifty cents, with respect to one, two or three-family houses, individual cooperative apartments and individual residential condominium units securing a principal debt or obligation of five hundred thousand dollars or more, a tax of sixty-two and one-half cents, and with respect to all other real property a tax of one dollar and twenty-five cents, and (D) on and after August first, nineteen hundred ninety with respect to real property securing a principal debt or obligation of less than five hundred thousand dollars, a tax of one dollar, with respect to one, two or three-family houses and individual residential condominium units securing a principal debt or obligation of five hundred thousand dollars or more, a tax of one dollar and twelve and one-half cents, and with respect to all other real property a tax of one dollar and seventy-five cents, for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on such real property situated within such city and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of one dollar on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars. In each instance where the tax imposed pursuant to this subdivision is one dollar and twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of such principal debt or obligation, fifty percent of the total amount of such tax, including fifty percent of any interest or penalties thereon, shall be set aside in a special account by the commissioner of finance of such city. In each instance where the tax imposed pursuant to this subdivision is one dollar and seventy-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of such principal debt or obligation, thirty-five and seven-tenths percent of the total amount of such tax, including thirty-five and seven-tenths percent of any interest or penalties thereon, shall also be set aside in such special account. Moneys in such account shall be used for payment by such commissioner to the state comptroller for deposit in the urban mass transit operating assistance account of the mass transportation operating assistance fund of any amount of insufficiency certified by the state comptroller pursuant to the provisions of subdivision six of section eighty-eight-a of the state finance law, and, on the fifteenth day of each month, such commissioner shall transmit all funds in such account on the last day of the preceding month, except the amount required for the payment of any amount of insufficiency certified by the state comptroller and such amount as he deems necessary for refunds and such other amounts necessary to finance the New York city transportation disabled committee and the New York city paratransit system as established by section fifteen-b of the transportation law, provided, however, that such amounts shall not exceed six percent of the total funds in the account but in no event be less than two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars beginning April first, nineteen hundred eighty-six, and further that beginning November fifteenth, nineteen hundred eighty-four and during the entire period prior to operation of such system, the total of such amounts shall not exceed three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars for the administrative expenses of such committee and fifty thousand dollars for the expenses of the agency designated pursuant to paragraph b of subdivision five of such section, and other amounts necessary to finance the operating needs of the private bus companies franchised by the city of New York and eligible to receive state operating assistance under section eighteen-b of the transportation law, provided, however, that such amounts shall not exceed four percent of the total funds in the account, to the New York city transit authority for mass transit within the city.

2. (a) For the purpose of determining whether a mortgage is subject to the tax authorized to be imposed by paragraph (B) or (C) of subdivision one of this section at a rate in excess of fifty cents, or by paragraph (D) of subdivision one of this section at a rate in excess of one dollar, for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation, the principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by such mortgage shall be aggregated with the principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by any other mortgage, where such mortgages form part of the same or related transactions and have the same or related mortgagors. If the commissioner of taxation and finance finds that a mortgage transaction or mortgage transactions have been formulated for the purpose of avoiding or evading a rate of tax authorized to be imposed under subdivision one of this section in excess of the lowest such authorized rate, rather than solely for an independent business or financial purpose, such commissioner shall treat all of the mortgages forming part of such transaction or transactions as a single mortgage for the purpose of determining the applicable rate of tax. For purposes of this subdivision, there shall be a presumption that all mortgages offered for recording within a period of twelve consecutive months having the same or related mortgagors are part of a related transaction, and such presumption may be rebutted only with clear and convincing evidence to the contrary. The commissioner of taxation and finance may require such affidavits and forms, and may prescribe such rules and regulations, as he determines to be necessary to enforce the provisions of this subdivision.

(b) The term "related", when used in this subdivision with reference to mortgagors, shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following relationships:

(i) members of a family, including spouses, ancestors, lineal descendants, and brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood);

(ii) a shareholder and a corporation more than fifty percent of the value of the outstanding stock of which is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by such shareholder;

(iii) a partner and a partnership more than fifty percent of the capital or profits interest in which is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by such partner;

(iv) a beneficiary and a trust more than fifty percent of the beneficial interest in which is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by such beneficiary;

(v) two or more corporations, partnerships, associations, or trusts, or any combination thereof, which are owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by the same person, corporation or other entity, or interests; and

(vi) a grantor of a trust and such trust.

* 4. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within a city imposing a tax pursuant to section two hundred fifty-three-a", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

* NB Amended as sub 4; should be sub 3

4. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without a city imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such city shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such city and without the state, the amount due and payable to such city shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the city imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

5. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the state tax commission at its office in Albany at least sixty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect. However, the tax commission may waive and reduce such sixty-day notice requirement to a requirement that such certified copy be mailed by registered or certified mail within a period of not less than thirty days prior to such effective date if it deems such action to be consistent with its duties under this section.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the city clerk, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-b. Credit line mortgage. 1. In the case of a mortgage which is a credit line mortgage, as defined in subdivision two of this section, of real property principally improved or to be improved by a one to six family owner-occupied residence or dwelling, the principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution of such mortgage or at any time thereafter within the meaning of this article shall mean the maximum principal amount specified in such mortgage. If the tax imposed by and pursuant to the authority of this article is paid on such maximum principal amount, no further tax shall be payable on advances or readvances by the lender pursuant to the recorded primary mortgage, provided such advances or readvances are made to the original obligor or obligors named in such recorded primary mortgage. In the event the maximum principal amount of a credit line mortgage is increased, a tax is imposed as provided in section two hundred fifty-three and pursuant to the authority of section two hundred fifty-three-a of this article on such new or further indebtedness or obligation when the instrument evidencing such further indebtedness is recorded. In order to better enforce the provisions of this subdivision and for the privilege of recording an instrument evidencing a sale or transfer of real property on which the lien of a credit line mortgage remains outstanding, in the event that a credit line mortgage remains outstanding after the sale or transfer of the real property securing the credit line mortgage to a person or persons who is or are not related to the original obligor or obligors by blood, marriage or adoption, or where such credit line mortgage that remains outstanding after such sale or transfer is a credit line mortgage of property other than real property principally improved or to be improved by a one to six family owner-occupied residence or dwelling, taxes are imposed at the rates applicable under section two hundred fifty-three and pursuant to the authority of section two hundred fifty-three-a on the principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date when the instrument evidencing the sale or transfer is recorded and no such instrument shall be recorded until the taxes imposed in this section are paid.

1-a. In the case of a mortgage which is a credit line mortgage, as defined in subdivision two of this section, of property other than real property principally improved or to be improved by a one to six family owner-occupied residence or dwelling, and where such mortgage is of an amount less than three million dollars, the tax imposed by and pursuant to the authority of this article shall be imposed and paid pursuant to the provisions of subdivision one of this section.

2. For the purposes of this section, a "credit line mortgage" shall mean any mortgage or deed of trust, other than a mortgage or deed of trust made pursuant to a building loan contract as defined in subdivision thirteen of section two of the lien law, which states that it secures indebtedness under a note, credit agreement or other financing agreement that reflects the fact that the parties reasonably contemplate entering into a series of advances, or advances, payments and readvances, and that limits the aggregate amount at any time outstanding to a maximum amount specified in such mortgage or deed of trust. For the purpose of this section, "credit line mortgage" shall not include a reverse mortgage as defined in sections two hundred eighty and two hundred eighty-a of the real property law.

3. The commissioner shall promulgate regulations to provide for the enforcement and administration of the taxes imposed by or pursuant to subdivisions one and one-a of this section.

§ 253-c. Recording tax imposed by the county of Nassau. 1. Nassau county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in any such county during the period beginning September first, nineteen hundred ninety-two and ending the earlier of August thirty-first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight or the last day of the month next succeeding the month in which the commissioner of taxation and finance receives notice of sufficient revenues pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision five of this section, a tax of one dollar for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of one dollar on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Nassau county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without a county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this chapter which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three.

5. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Nassau during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this chapter, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this chapter are first to be apportioned by the commissioner of taxation and finance, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the county treasurer of Nassau county and, after the deduction by such county treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this chapter shall: (i) if paid to such recording officer during the first sixteen months of imposition of such tax, be deposited in the general fund of such county for expenditure on county purposes; (ii) if so paid at any time thereafter, be deposited in a special fund, to be designated the Nassau county deficit bond fund, to be created by the county of Nassau separate and apart from any other funds and accounts of the county.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this chapter are first to be apportioned by the commissioner of taxation and finance, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section, moneys in the Nassau county bond deficit fund may be appropriated from and transferred to or expended in any fiscal year only for the purpose of payment of the principal of and interest on bonds and notes authorized by a chapter of the laws of nineteen hundred ninety-two, entitled "AN ACT authorizing the county of Nassau to issue serial bonds and/or bond anticipation notes for the purpose of liquidating deficits in the county's general fund and to amend the tax law, in relation to authorizing the county of Nassau to impose a county recording tax on obligations secured by a mortgage on real property; to amend the county government law of Nassau county (Nassau County Charter) and the Nassau county administrative code, in relation to the imposition of an exigency tax". When the amount of moneys in such fund is sufficient to pay all future debt service on such notes and bonds, the comptroller of the county of Nassau shall so notify the commissioner of taxation and finance by certified mail. When no such bonds or notes remain outstanding, such fund shall terminate and moneys remaining therein shall be deposited in the general fund of such county for expenditure on county purposes.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month or in September of nineteen hundred ninety-two on the sixth, thirteenth, twentieth or twenty-seventh day of such month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner of taxation and finance at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-d. Recording tax imposed by the city of Yonkers. 1. The city of Yonkers, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in any such city during the period beginning September first, nineteen hundred ninety-three and ending August thirty-first, two thousand twenty-seven, a tax of fifty cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such city and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of fifty cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within the city of Yonkers", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the city of Yonkers, the amount of such tax due and payable to such city shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this chapter which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such city and without the state, the amount due and payable to such city shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without such city, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Westchester during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this chapter, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this chapter are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the county treasurer of Westchester county and, after the deduction by such county treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this chapter shall be deposited in the general fund of the city of Yonkers for expenditure on city purposes.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-e. Recording tax imposed by the county of Broome. 1. Broome county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Broome county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Broome during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the commissioner of finance of Broome county and, after the deduction by such commissioner of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Broome and shall only be appropriated by the county legislature of the county of Broome to fund the office for aging of such county. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Broome, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-f. Recording tax imposed by the county of Rockland. 1. Rockland county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of

subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Rockland county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Rockland during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the commissioner of finance of Rockland county and, after the deduction by such commissioner of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Rockland for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its imposition. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Rockland, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-g. Recording tax imposed by the county of Westchester. 1.

Westchester county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Westchester county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Westchester during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the commissioner of finance of Westchester county and, after the deduction by such commissioner of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Westchester for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Westchester, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-h. Recording tax imposed by the county of Lewis. 1. Lewis county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of

this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Lewis county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Lewis during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Lewis county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Lewis for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Lewis, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-i. Recording tax imposed by the county of Columbia. 1. Columbia county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of fifty cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of fifty cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Columbia county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Columbia during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the Columbia county treasurer and, after the deduction by the Columbia county treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Columbia for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Columbia, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

 § 253-j. Recording tax imposed by the county of Sullivan. 1.

Sullivan county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Sullivan county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Sullivan during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Sullivan county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Sullivan for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Sullivan, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 4 § 253-j's

 § 253-j. Recording tax imposed by the county of Hamilton. 1.

Hamilton county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof a principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such provisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Hamilton county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Hamilton during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Hamilton county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Hamilton for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Hamilton, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

* NB There are 4 § 253-j's

 § 253-j. Recording tax imposed by the county of Essex. 1. Essex county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Essex county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Essex during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Essex county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Essex. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Essex, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

* NB There are 4 § 253-j's

 § 253-j. Recording tax imposed by the county of Schoharie. 1.

Schoharie county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Schoharie county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Schoharie during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Schoharie county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Schoharie for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Schoharie, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

* NB There are 4 § 253-j's

 § 253-k. Recording tax imposed by the county of Genesee. 1. Genesee county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Genesee county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Genesee during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Genesee county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Genesee for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Genesee, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed November 1, 2027

§ 253-1. Recording tax imposed by the county of Rensselaer. 1.

Rensselaer county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Rensselaer county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the opening paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Rensselaer during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the commissioner of finance of Rensselaer county and, after the deduction by such commissioner of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Rensselaer for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Rensselaer, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

§ 253-m. Recording tax imposed by the county of Wayne. 1. Wayne county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Wayne county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Wayne during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Wayne county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Wayne for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Wayne, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

 § 253-n. Recording tax imposed by the county of Wyoming. 1. Wyoming county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Wyoming county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Wyoming during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Wyoming county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Wyoming for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Wyoming, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

§ 253-o. Recording tax imposed by the county of Chautauqua. 1.

Chautauqua county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such

provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Chautauqua county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Chautauqua during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Chautauqua county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Chautauqua for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Chautauqua, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

 § 253-p. Recording tax imposed by the county of Albany. 1. Albany county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Albany county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Albany during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the director of finance of Albany county and, after the deduction by such director of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Albany for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Albany, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

§ 253-r. Recording tax imposed by the county of Schenectady. 1.

Schenectady county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivision shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Schenectady county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the opening paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Schenectady during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the Schenectady county treasurer and, after the deduction by the Schenectady county treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Schenectady for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or sections two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Schenectady, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

 § 253-s. Recording tax imposed by the county of Steuben. 1. Steuben county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Steuben county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the opening paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Steuben during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Steuben county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Steuben for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Steuben, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-t. Recording tax imposed by the county of Yates. 1. Yates county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Yates county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Yates during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Yates county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Yates for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Yates, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-u. Recording tax imposed by the county of Herkimer. 1.

Herkimer county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Herkimer county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Herkimer during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Herkimer county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Herkimer for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Herkimer, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-v. Recording tax imposed by the county of Cortland. 1.

Cortland county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of

subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Cortland county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Cortland during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Cortland county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Cortland for expenditure by such county for any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Cortland, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-w. Recording tax imposed by the county of Warren. 1. Warren county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Warren county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Warren during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Warren county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Warren. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Warren, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-x. Recording tax imposed by the county of Cattaraugus. 1.

Cattaraugus county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Cattaraugus county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Cattaraugus during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Cattaraugus county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Cattaraugus. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Cattaraugus, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

* NB There are 2 § 253-x's

 § 253-x. Recording tax imposed by the county of Greene. 1. Greene county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of fifty cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of fifty cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Greene county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Greene during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Greene county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Greene for expenditure by such county for any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Greene, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 2 § 253-x's

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-y. Recording tax imposed by the county of Madison. 1. Madison county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Madison county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Madison during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Madison county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Madison. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Madison, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 3 § 253-y's

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-y. Recording tax imposed by the county of Livingston. 1.

Livingston county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Livingston county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Livingston during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Livingston county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Livingston for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Each enactment of a local law may provide for the imposition of a mortgage tax for a period of time no longer than three years from the date of its enactment. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the adoption and enactment of local laws, pursuant to the provisions of this section, upon the expiration of any other local law adopted pursuant to this section.

7. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

8. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Livingston, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 3 § 253-y's

* NB Repealed December 1, 2027

 § 253-y. Recording tax imposed by the county of Washington. 1. Washington county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Washington county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Washington during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Washington county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Washington for expenditure on the support of community colleges in accordance with article one hundred twenty-six of the education law. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Washington, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 3 § 253-y's

 § 253-z. Recording tax imposed by the county of Otsego. 1. Otsego county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Otsego county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Otsego during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Otsego county and, after the deduction by such treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Otsego for expenditure on any county purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of the commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Otsego, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB Repealed December 31, 2027

* NB There are 2 § 253-z's

 § 253-z. Recording tax imposed by the county of Chenango. 1.

Chenango county, acting through its local legislative body, is hereby authorized and empowered to adopt and amend local laws imposing in such county a tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof, or at any time thereafter, by a mortgage on real property situated within such county and recorded on or after the date upon which such tax takes effect and a tax of twenty-five cents on such mortgage if the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage is less than one hundred dollars.

2. The taxes imposed under the authority of this section shall be administered and collected in the same manner as the taxes imposed under subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-three and paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred fifty-five of this article. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all the provisions of this article relating to or applicable to the administration and collection of the taxes imposed by such subdivisions shall apply to the taxes imposed under the authority of this section with such modifications as may be necessary to adapt such language to the tax so authorized. Such provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if those provisions had been set forth in full in this section except to the extent that any provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or not relevant to the tax authorized by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this article to the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall be deemed to refer to a tax imposed pursuant to this section, and any reference to the phrase "within this state" shall be read as "within Chenango county", unless a different meaning is clearly required.

3. Where the real property covered by the mortgage subject to the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section is situated in this state but within and without the county imposing such tax, the amount of such tax due and payable to such county shall be determined in a manner similar to that prescribed in the first undesignated paragraph of section two hundred sixty of this article which concerns real property situated in two or more counties. Where such property is situated both within such county and without the state, the amount due and payable to such county shall be determined in the manner prescribed in the second undesignated paragraph of such section two hundred sixty which concerns property situated within and without the state. Where real property is situated within and without the county imposing such tax, the recording officer of the jurisdiction in which the mortgage is first recorded shall be required to collect the taxes imposed pursuant to this section.

4. A tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section shall be in addition to the taxes imposed by section two hundred fifty-three of this article.

5. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, the balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of the county of Chenango during each month upon account of the tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this section, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by such officer on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the treasurer of Chenango county and, after the deduction by such commissioner of finance of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article shall be deposited in the general fund of the county of Chenango for expenditure on any county purpose.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the tax so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of this section or section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

6. Any local law imposing a tax pursuant to the authority of this section or repealing or suspending such a tax shall take effect only on the first day of a calendar month. Such a local law shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the commissioner at the commissioner's office in Albany at least thirty days prior to the date the local law shall take effect.

7. Certified copies of any local law described in this section shall also be filed with the county clerk of the county of Chenango, the secretary of state and the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly enacted.

* NB There are 2 § 253-z's

* NB Repealed December 31, 2027

§ 254. Optional tax on prior mortgages. Whenever any mortgage other than a mortgage specified in section two hundred and sixty-four has been recorded prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, the record owner thereof may file with the recording officer of the county in which the real property, or any part thereof, on which said mortgage is a lien, is situated, a written statement under oath verified by the record owner or the agent or officer of such record owner describing such mortgage by giving the date of the same and the liber and page of the record thereof together with the names of the parties thereto, specifying the amount then remaining unpaid on the debt or obligation secured thereby, and electing that it shall become subject to the tax prescribed by section two hundred and fifty-three of this chapter. Whenever any unrecorded mortgage has been executed and delivered prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, the owner thereof may record the same upon filing with the recording officer a similar statement and paying the tax as herein prescribed. A tax shall thereupon be computed, levied and collected upon the amount of the principal debt or obligation unpaid at the time of the filing of such statement, or of the recording of such mortgage and filing of such statement. On the payment of such tax as herein provided, the recording officer shall note on the margin of the record of such mortgage the fact of such statement and of the amount of the tax paid, attested by his signature, whereupon such mortgage and the debt or obligation secured thereby shall be entitled to the exemptions and immunities conferred by this article, and all of the provisions of this article shall thereafter be applicable to said mortgage. Whenever the original mortgage is presented to the clerk together with the statement he shall also note on said original mortgage the fact of the filing of the said statement and also the amount of the tax paid duly attested by his signature, which indorsement shall be conclusive evidence of the payment of such tax.

§ 255. Supplemental mortgages. 1. (a) (i) If subsequent to the recording of a mortgage on which all taxes, if any, accrued under this article have been paid, a supplemental instrument or mortgage is recorded for the purpose of correcting or perfecting any recorded mortgage, or pursuant to some provision or covenant therein, or an additional mortgage is recorded imposing the lien thereof upon property not originally covered by or not described in such recorded primary mortgage for the purpose of securing the principal indebtedness which is or under any contingency may be secured by such recorded primary mortgage, such additional instrument or mortgage shall not be subject to taxation under this article, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision, unless it creates or secures a new or further indebtedness or obligation other than the principal indebtedness or obligation secured by or which under any contingency may be secured by the recorded primary mortgage, in which case, a tax is imposed as provided by section two hundred and fifty-three of this article on such new or further indebtedness or obligation.

(ii) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in subparagraph (i) of this paragraph, the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article shall apply to the recording of a spreading agreement or additional mortgage which imposes the lien thereof upon real property located in any city in the state having a population of one million or more and not originally covered by or described in a recorded primary mortgage, unless the real property that becomes subject to the lien of such spreading agreement or additional mortgage is owned by the mortgagor of the real property subject to the lien of such recorded primary mortgage. If the commissioner of taxation and finance finds that transfers of one or both of such properties in connection with the recording of the spreading agreement or additional mortgage have been undertaken for the purpose of avoiding or evading the application of this paragraph rather than solely for an independent business or financial purpose, such commissioner may disregard such transfers. For purposes of this subparagraph, there shall be a presumption that all transfers of one or both of such properties to related parties within the twelve-month period preceding the recording of such spreading agreement or additional mortgage have been undertaken for tax avoidance or evasion purposes and such presumption may be rebutted only with clear and convincing evidence to the contrary. For this purpose, the term "related" shall have the same meaning as in paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three-a of this article except that references to "fifty percent" in such paragraph (b) shall be read as "twenty-five percent".

(b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, taxes are imposed at the rates specified in paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal indebtedness or obligation secured by or which under any contingency may be secured by a supplemental instrument or additional mortgage, whether or not there is any new or further indebtedness or obligation other than the principal indebtedness or obligation secured by the recorded primary mortgage, where (i) the supplemental instrument or additional mortgage imposes the lien of a recorded mortgage upon real property not previously subject to the mortgage or where an additional mortgage upon such additional property is recorded as additional or substitute security for indebtedness or obligation already secured by a recorded mortgage and such property is situated in a county where the tax imposed by such paragraph (a) is in effect and (ii) the recorded primary mortgage was on real property situated in a county which had suspended the tax imposed by such paragraph (a) and the mortgage was recorded without payment of such tax. The taxes imposed by this subdivision shall be distributed pursuant to section two hundred sixty-one of this chapter in the same manner as a tax imposed by subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter.

(c) The taxes imposed by this section shall be paid to the proper recording officer at the time the supplemental instrument or additional mortgage is recorded.

2. (a) If, at the time of recording such instrument or additional mortgage, any exemption is claimed under this section, there shall be filed with the recording officer and preserved in his office a statement under oath of the facts on which such claim for exemption is based. The determination of the recording officer upon the question of exemption shall be reviewable by the tax commission.

(b) If an exemption is claimed under this section, at any time after such instrument or additional mortgage is recorded and tax paid, there shall be filed with the tax commission, as part of the application for refund a statement under oath of the facts on which such claim for exemption is based. A copy of the order of refund of the tax commission shall likewise be filed with the recording officer and preserved in his office.

§ 256. Mortgages for indefinite amounts or for contract obligations.

If the principal indebtedness secured or which by any contingency may be secured by a mortgage is not determinable from the terms of the mortgage, or if a mortgage is given to secure the performance by the mortgagor or any other person of a contract obligation other than the payment of a specific sum of money and the maximum amount secured or which by any contingency may be secured by the mortgage is not expressed therein, such mortgage shall be taxable under section two hundred and fifty-three of this chapter upon the value of the property covered by the mortgage, which shall be determined by the recording officer to whom such mortgage is presented for record, unless at the time of presenting such mortgage for record the owner thereof shall file with the recording officer a sworn statement of the maximum amount secured or which under any contingency may be secured by the mortgage. If such maximum amount is expressed in the mortgage or in a sworn statement filed as required by this section, such amount shall be the basis for assessing the tax imposed by this article. A statement filed by the owner of a mortgage pursuant to this section shall thereafter at all times be binding upon and conclusive against such owner, the holders of any bonds or obligations secured by such mortgage and all persons claiming through the mortgagee any interest in the mortgage or the mortgaged premises. If the maximum amount secured or which by any contingency may be secured by the mortgage is not expressed in the mortgage or in a sworn statement as authorized by this section, the recording officer at the time such mortgage is offered for record may require the mortgagor or mortgagee to furnish him with proofs as to such facts as he deems necessary for the purpose of computing the value of the property covered by the mortgage and such proofs shall include an affidavit of appraisal of the value of the property made by at least two competent, disinterested persons and shall be preserved in his office. His determination and copies of the proofs as to the basis for computing the tax on such mortgage shall be forwarded to and subject to review by the state tax commission. Such mortgage shall not be recorded until the statement is filed or the proofs are furnished as required by this article.

Whenever any such mortgage shall have been recorded without the payment of the tax as herein provided, and it shall thereafter be determined by the tax commission, after an opportunity to be heard by the parties in interest, that the failure to pay such tax was due to an honest misconception on the part of the recording officer or the owner of the instrument as to the nature of such instrument and its taxability under this article, the tax commission may make an order permitting the recording officer to file the aforesaid statement nunc pro tunc as of the date of the recording of the mortgage. The payment of the tax may be made on the basis of such statement with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum as provided in section two hundred and fifty-eight of this article.

§ 257. Payment of taxes. The taxes imposed by this article shall be payable on the recording of each mortgage of real property subject to taxes thereunder. Such taxes shall be paid to the recording officer of any county in which the real property or any part thereof is situated. It shall be the duty of such recording officer to indorse upon each mortgage a receipt for the amount of the tax so paid. Any mortgage so indorsed may thereupon or thereafter be recorded by any recording officer and the receipt for such tax indorsed upon each mortgage shall be recorded therewith. The record of such receipt shall be conclusive proof that the amount of tax stated therein has been paid upon such mortgage.

§ 257-a. Refund of mortgage taxes after rescission of certain credit transactions. 1. As used in this section, a "statutory right of rescission" means the right of an obligor to rescind a consumer credit transaction in which a security interest, including a real property mortgage, is retained or acquired in any real property which is used or expected to be used as a residence of the obligor provided for in section one hundred twenty-five of title one, the "Truth in Lending Act," of the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (Public Law 90-321; 82 Stat. 146 et seq.) and in the regulations issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to said title of said act.

2. A person who has paid the taxes imposed by this article on the recording of a mortgage of real property has a right to a refund of the mortgage taxes so paid if a mortgagor upon the mortgage exercises the statutory right of rescission with respect thereto and a discharge of the mortgage has been recorded.

3. The State Tax Commission shall provide by regulation how a person having a right to a refund of mortgage taxes pursuant to subsection two may obtain the refund and the cities, towns, villages or officers to which or to whom the mortgage tax moneys have been paid, paid over, distributed, or allotted shall refund such mortgage tax moneys to a person having a right to the refund thereof.

§ 258. Effect of nonpayment of taxes. 1. No mortgage of real property shall be recorded by any county clerk or register, unless there shall be paid the taxes imposed by and as in this article provided. No mortgage of real property which is subject to the taxes imposed by this article shall be released, discharged of record or received in evidence in any action or proceeding, nor shall any assignment of or agreement extending any such mortgage be recorded unless the taxes imposed thereon by this article shall have been paid as provided in this article. Provided, however, except as otherwise provided in subdivision two of this section, in order to obtain a release or discharge of record where the mortgagor is not liable for the special additional tax imposed under subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter, such mortgagor or any subsequent owner of the mortgaged property or a part thereof may pay the tax imposed under such subdivision one-a and penalty, and may either apply for the credit allowable under this chapter for payment of such additional tax or may maintain an action to recover the amounts so paid against any person liable for payment of the tax or any subsequent assignees or owners of such mortgage or consolidated mortgage of which such mortgage is a part, as if such amounts of tax and penalty were a debt personally owed by such persons to the mortgagor or subsequent owner. No judgment or final order in any action or proceeding shall be made for the foreclosure or the enforcement of any mortgage which is subject to any tax imposed by this article or of any debt or obligation secured by any such mortgage, unless the taxes imposed by this article shall have been paid as provided in this article; and, except otherwise provided in subdivision two of this section, whenever it shall appear that any mortgage has been recorded without payment of a tax imposed by this article there shall be added to the tax a sum equal to one-half of one per centum thereof for each month or fraction of a month for the period that the tax remains unpaid except where it could not be determined from the face of the instrument that a tax was due, or where an advance has been made on a prior advance mortgage or a corporate trust mortgage without payment of the tax, in which case there shall be added to the tax a sum equal to one per centum thereof for each month or fraction of a month for the period that the tax remains unpaid. In any case where a mortgage of real property subject to a tax imposed by this article has heretofore been recorded or is hereafter recorded in good faith, and the county clerk or register has held such mortgage nontaxable or taxable at one amount, and it shall later appear that it was taxable or taxable at a greater amount, the commissioner of taxation and finance may remit the penalties in excess of one-half of one per centum per month.

2. In any city in this state having a population of one million or more, in order to obtain a release or discharge of record where the mortgagor is not liable for the special additional tax imposed under subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter, such mortgagor or any subsequent owner of the mortgaged property or a part thereof may pay the tax imposed under such subdivision one-a with accrued interest and any penalties, and may either apply for the credit allowable under this chapter for payment of such additional tax or may maintain an action to recover the amounts so paid against any person liable for payment of the tax or any subsequent assignees or owners of such mortgage or consolidated mortgage of which such mortgage is a part, as if such amounts of tax and penalties were a debt personally owed by such persons to the mortgagor or subsequent owner. No judgment or final order in any action or proceeding shall be made for the foreclosure or the enforcement of any mortgage which is subject to any tax imposed by this article or of any debt or obligation secured by any such mortgage, unless the taxes imposed by this article shall have been paid as provided in this article; and whenever it shall appear that any mortgage has been recorded without payment of a tax imposed by this article there shall be added to the tax interest on the amount of tax not paid. The commissioner of taxation and finance shall set the rate of interest to be paid on any underpayment of tax imposed by this article at the rate of interest prescribed in subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter for underpayments of tax. Such interest shall be compounded daily. In addition to interest there shall be added to the tax a penalty of ten percent of the amount of tax due for the first month of delay in payment of the tax plus two percent of the amount of tax for each month of delay thereafter, up to a maximum of twenty-five percent, where it could not be determined from the face of the instrument that a tax was due, or where an advance has been made on a prior advance mortgage or a corporate trust mortgage or a re-advance had been made on a mortgage where the original indebtedness it secured had been paid in whole or in part. In any case where a mortgage of real property subject to a tax imposed by this article has heretofore been recorded or is hereafter recorded in good faith, and the county clerk or register has held such mortgage nontaxable or taxable at one amount, and it shall later appear that it was taxable or taxable at a greater amount, the commissioner of taxation and finance may remit the penalties but not interest.

§ 258-a. Payment of tax on instruments not recorded. An instrument taxable under this article but which is not entitled to be recorded, may nevertheless be presented to the recording officer of the county in which the real property or any part thereof affected by said instrument is situated, and there may be paid to such officer the amount of the tax which would be payable under this article on the recording of such instrument if the same were entitled to be recorded. Such officer shall receive such amount and such payment shall have the same force and effect, so far as this article is concerned, as if such instrument had been duly recorded and the tax thereon paid. It shall be the duty of the recording officer to indorse upon the instrument a receipt for the amount of the tax so paid. A copy of each instrument upon which the tax is paid as above provided shall be filed with the recording officer and preserved among his mortgage tax records.

Where an unrecorded instrument subject to the tax imposed by this article has been lost or destroyed, the tax commission, upon presentation of proper proofs, may determine the taxable amount of such instrument and by order authorize the recording officer to receive and receipt for such tax as fully and with the same force and effect, so far as this article is concerned, as if the instrument had been duly recorded and the tax thereon paid.

The filing or recording of a notice of the payment of tax under this section is ineffective to give notice under article nine of the real property law of any estate or interest in the real property affected by the instrument on which tax is being paid or to create a duty of inquiry with regard thereto.

§ 259. Trust mortgages. In the case of mortgages made by corporations in trust to secure payment of bonds or obligations issued or to be issued thereafter, if the total amount of principal indebtedness which under any contingency may be advanced or accrued or which may become secured by any such mortgage which is subject to this article has not been advanced or accrue thereon or become secured thereby before such mortgage is recorded, it may contain at the end thereof a statement of the amount which at the time of the execution and delivery thereof has been advanced or accrued thereon, or which is then secured by such mortgage; thereupon the tax payable on the recording of the mortgage shall be computed on the basis of the amount so stated to have been so advanced or accrued thereon or which is stated to be secured thereby. Such statement shall thereafter at all times be binding upon and conclusive against the mortgagee, the holders of any bonds or obligations secured by such mortgage and all persons claiming through the mortgagee any interest in the mortgage or in the mortgaged premises. Whenever a further amount is to be advanced under the original mortgage, or shall accrue thereon or become secured thereby, the corporation making such mortgage shall pay the tax on such amount at or before the time when such amount is to be advanced, accrues or becomes secured and shall, at the time of paying such tax, file in the office of the recording officer where such mortgage has been or is first recorded and with the tax commission a statement, verified by the secretary, treasurer or other proper officer, of said corporation of the amount of principal indebtedness to be so advanced, accruing or becoming secured, and the certification of any bond or bonds by the trust mortgagee shall be deemed an advance under this article. Such additional tax shall be paid to the recording officer where such mortgage has been or is first recorded and a receipt therefor shall be endorsed upon the mortgage and payment therefor shall be noted in the margin of the record of such mortgage and if requested a duplicate receipt for such payment shall also be given to the party paying such tax and the note of such payment or additional payment or such receipt shall have the same force and effect as the record of receipt of the tax which under this article is payable at or before the recording of the mortgage. If such additional tax is not paid as required by this section, the trust mortgagee shall not certify any bond or other obligation issued on account thereof. The corporation making such mortgage or the owner of the property which secures the mortgage debt shall annually within thirty days after July first, and until it shall appear by such statement that the maximum amount of principal indebtedness secured by such mortgage has been advanced, has accrued or become secured and the tax thereon paid, file in the office of the tax commission and the recording officer where such mortgage has been or is first recorded a statement, verified by the secretary, treasurer or other proper officer of said corporation, showing:

1. The name of the mortgagor and the mortgagee;
2. The date of the mortgage and the county where first recorded;
3. The maximum amount of principal debt or obligation which under any contingency may be secured by such mortgage;
4. The amount advanced on such mortgage during the year ending June thirtieth preceding, with the date and amount of each advancement;
5. In the case of a mortgage recorded prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, the first annual statement filed under this section as hereby amended, shall state the total amount advanced prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, and the date and the amount of each subsequent advancement to the end of the period covered by the statement.

A failure to file any statement required by this section within the specified time shall subject the corporation or other person required to file such statement to a penalty of not less than one dollar nor more than one hundred dollars for each one thousand dollars of the maximum amount of principal indebtedness which is or under any contingency may become secured by the mortgage, which penalty in the aggregate shall not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars, recoverable by the attorney-general in an action brought in the name of the people of the state of New York.

§ 260. Determination and apportionment by the state tax commission.

When the real property covered by a mortgage is situated in more than one tax district, the state tax commission shall apportion the tax paid on such mortgage between the respective tax districts upon the basis of the relative assessments of such real property as the same appear on the last assessment-rolls. If, however, the whole or any part of the property covered by such a mortgage is not assessed upon the last assessment-roll or rolls of the tax district or districts in which it is situated, or is so assessed, as a part of a larger tract, that the assessed value cannot be determined, or if improvements have been made to such an extent as materially to change the value of the property so assessed, the tax commission may require the local assessors in the respective tax districts, or the mortgagor, or mortgagee, to furnish sworn appraisals of the property in each tax district, and upon such appraisals shall determine the apportionment. If such mortgage covers real property in two or more counties, the tax commission shall determine the proportion of the tax which shall be paid by the recording officer who has received the same to the recording officers of the other counties in which are situated the tax districts entitled to share therein. When any recording officer shall pay any portion of a tax to the recording officer of another county, he shall forward with such tax a description sufficient to identify the mortgage on which the tax has been paid, and the recording officer receiving such tax shall note on the margin of the record of such mortgage the fact of such payment, attested by his signature. The tax commission shall make an order of determination and apportionment in respect to each such mortgage and file a certified copy thereof with the recording officer of each county in which a part of the mortgaged real property is situated.

When the real property covered by a mortgage is partly within the state and partly without the state it shall be the duty of the tax commission to determine what portion of the mortgage or of advancements thereon shall be taxable under this article. Such determination shall be made in the following manner: First: Determine the respective values of the property within and without the state, and deduct therefrom the amount of any prior existing mortgage liens, excepting such liens as are to be replaced by prior advancements and the advancement under consideration. Second: Find the ratio that the net value of the mortgaged property within the state bears to the net value of the entire mortgaged property. Third: Make the determination of the portion of the mortgage or of the advancements thereon which shall be taxable under this article by applying the ratio so found. If a mortgage covering property partly within and partly without the state is presented for record before such determination has been made, or at the time when an advance is made on a corporate trust mortgage or on a prior advance mortgage, there may be presented to the recording officer a statement in duplicate verified by the mortgagor or an officer or duly authorized agent of the mortgagor, in which shall be specified the net value of the property within the state and the net value of the property without the state covered by such mortgage. One of such statements shall be filed by the recording officer and the other shall be forthwith transmitted by him to the state tax commission. The tax payable under this article before the determination by the tax commission shall be computed upon such portion of the principal indebtedness secured by the mortgage, or of the sum advanced thereon, as the net value of the mortgaged property within the state bears to the net value of the entire mortgaged property as set forth in such statement. The tax commission shall on receipt of the statement from the recording officer and on not less than ten days' notice served personally or by mail upon the mortgagor, the mortgagee and the state comptroller, proceed to make the required determination. In determining the separate values of the property within and without the state the tax commission shall consider only the tangible property, real and personal, except that leases of real property shall be deemed tangible property. For the purpose of determining such value the tax commission may require the mortgagor or mortgagee to furnish by affidavit or verified report such information or data as it may deem necessary, and may require and take the testimony of the mortgagor, mortgagee or any other person. A certified copy of the order of determination and apportionment shall be delivered personally or by mail to the mortgagor, the mortgagee and the state comptroller, and any tax under such determination which has not been paid shall be paid within ten days after service of such certified copy; if, however, the tax paid at the time of filing the statement hereinbefore specified with the recording officer is in excess of the tax determined to be payable, the certificate of determination and apportionment shall direct the recording officer to refund to the person paying such tax the amount of such excess; provided that no refund shall be made of any taxes paid pursuant to a previous determination.

The tax commission shall adopt rules to govern the procedure and the manner of taking evidence in all the matters provided for by this section and may require verified statements to be furnished either by boards of assessors, recording officers or other persons having knowledge in relation to such matters. Failure on the part of any person or officer to furnish a statement or other data when required so to do pursuant to the provisions of this section shall render such person or officer liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by the attorney-general in an action brought in the name of the people of the state of New York.

In making determination and apportionment under this section the tax commission shall consider each advancement made upon a mortgage after July first, nineteen hundred and six, as a new mortgage. In all cases under this section where the provisions for distribution of the tax among tax districts are inapplicable or inadequate, the tax commission shall establish a basis of apportionment that will be equitable and fair.

§ 261. Payment over and distribution of taxes. 1. The balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of each county during each month upon account of the additional taxes imposed pursuant to subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of this article, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by him or her on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month as follows: (a) with respect to those counties comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation district, as defined by the provisions of section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law, to the metropolitan transportation authority to be applied in any authority fiscal year beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven (i) first, to meet the general, administrative and operating expenses of the authority net of reimbursements, recoveries and adjustments, not including the expenses of any subsidiaries thereof which operate any transportation facility, (ii) second, from any remaining revenues, fifty-five per centum of such revenues shall be paid by the metropolitan transportation authority to the transit account of the metropolitan transportation authority special assistance fund established by section twelve hundred seventy-a of the public authorities law; and (iii) the remaining forty-five per centum shall be paid by the metropolitan transportation authority to the commuter railroad account of the metropolitan transportation authority special assistance fund established by section twelve hundred seventy-a of the public authorities law; (b) with respect to those counties comprising the Niagara Frontier transportation district, as defined by the provisions of section twelve hundred ninety-nine-b of the public authorities law, to the Niagara Frontier transportation authority; (c) with respect to those counties comprising the Rochester-Genesee regional transportation district, as defined by the provisions of section twelve hundred ninety-nine-cc of the public authorities law, to the Rochester-Genesee Regional Transportation Authority; (d) with respect to those counties comprising the capital district transportation district, as defined by the provisions of section thirteen hundred two of the public authorities law, to the capital district transportation authority; (e) with respect to those counties comprising the central New York regional transportation district, as defined by the provisions of section thirteen hundred twenty-seven of the public authorities law, to the central New York regional transportation authority; (f) with respect to the county of Dutchess or the county of Orange or the county of Rockland if any such county withdraws from the metropolitan commuter transportation district pursuant to section twelve hundred seventy-nine-b of the public authorities law and does not suspend the imposition of such additional tax, to the county treasurer of such county if such county provides that the moneys shall be used for mass transportation purposes but, if any such county which so withdraws and which does not so suspend does not so provide, to the comptroller pursuant to paragraph (p) of this subdivision; * (g) with respect to the county of Washington, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for the support of community colleges pursuant to article one hundred twenty-six of the education law; with respect to the county of Essex, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county office and court facility projects and, after all such expenses are paid, for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county correctional and public safety facility projects;

* NB Effective until December 1, 2027

* (g) with respect to the county of Washington, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for the support of community colleges pursuant to article one hundred twenty-six of the education law; with respect to the county of Essex, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county office and court facility projects;

* NB Effective December 1, 2027

(h) with respect to the county of Franklin, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county office and county correctional facility projects; (i) with respect to the county of Clinton, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county office and other county capital projects; (j) with respect to the county of Chautauqua, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for county correctional facility and court facility projects, and debt service thereon, including but not limited to, related heating, ventilation, air-conditioning and parking infrastructure upgrades; (j-1) with respect to the county of Tompkins, to the county treasurer of such county for mass transportation purposes; (k) with respect to the county of Allegany, to the county treasurer of such county for deposit into the general fund of the county of Allegany; (l) with respect to the county of Schuyler, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for any and all expenses incurred by such county for the support of community colleges pursuant to article one hundred twenty-six of the education law; (m) with respect to the county of Delaware, to the county treasurer of such county to be used to pay for the cost of the county correctional facility and public safety building complex and the county composting facility; * (n) with respect to the county of Fulton, to the county treasurer of such county for deposit into the general fund of the county of Fulton;

* NB Repealed November 30, 2027

(o) with respect to the county of Steuben, to the county treasurer of such county for deposit into the general fund of the county of Steuben; (p) with respect to the remaining counties of the state except Cattaraugus county which have not suspended the imposition of such additional tax pursuant to subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of this article, to the comptroller to be paid by them into the general fund in the state treasury to the credit of the state purposes account; provided that money paid to the comptroller with respect to any such remaining county in which on the date of such payment any mass transportation, airport or aviation, municipal historic site, municipal park, community mental health and developmental disabilities facility, or sewage treatment capital project is being carried out by a municipality with state aid, or for which state aid will be paid, pursuant to the provisions of title one of chapter seven hundred seventeen of the laws of nineteen hundred sixty-seven, section 17.05 of the parks, recreation and historic preservation law, section 41.18 of the mental hygiene law, or section 17-1903 of the environmental conservation law, shall be applied by them to increase the amount of aid for which the state is obligated in respect to such project on such date, provided that any such increase in state aid may not, together with any federal funds paid or to be paid on account of the cost of such project, exceed the total cost thereof, and where more than one such capital project is being carried out on such date within such county, the application of such monies by the comptroller shall be pro-rated among such municipalities on the basis of the respective amounts of state aid which are so obligated on such date; (q) with respect to the county of Cattaraugus, to the comptroller to be paid by them into the general fund in the state treasury to the credit of the state purposes account for the construction of a county office building and a county department of public works office building, or debt service thereon being carried out by the county of Cattaraugus up to but not exceeding the total cost for such county office building and county department of public works building, or debt service thereon less the amount of any state aid or federal funds paid or to be paid on account of such project or debt service thereon; and (r) with respect to the county of Chenango, to the county treasurer of such county for deposit into the general fund of the county of Chenango. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, additional taxes so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

If and to the extent that either metropolitan transportation authority or Niagara Frontier transportation authority or Rochester-Genesee regional transportation authority or capital district transportation authority or central New York regional transportation authority shall certify that the proceeds of such additional tax received by it for any calendar year subsequent to nineteen hundred sixty-nine are in excess of its needs, present and projected, and of those of its subsidiary corporations, such excess shall be paid over at the end of such calendar year to the comptroller for payment or application by him or her in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (p) of the opening paragraph of this subdivision. For the purposes of such application any such excess shall be allocated among the counties comprising a transportation district in the same proportion that their respective recording officers paid over additional taxes hereunder during the whole of the calendar year which is the subject of the certification. For the counties comprising the city of New York, any such application shall be for the benefit of such city.

2. The balance of all moneys paid to the recording officer of each county during each month upon account of the special additional taxes imposed pursuant to subdivision one-a of section two hundred fifty-three of this chapter, after deducting the necessary expenses of his office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty are first to be apportioned by the tax commission, shall be paid over by him on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the state of New York mortgage agency created pursuant to title seventeen of article eight of the public authorities law for deposit to the credit of the mortgage insurance fund created pursuant to such title, and (i) except that with respect to mortgages recorded on and after May first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven, the balance of all moneys paid upon account of such special additional taxes during each month to the recording officers of the counties comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation district, as defined by section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law, on mortgages of any real property principally improved or to be improved by a structure containing six residential dwelling units or less with separate cooking facilities, after the deduction of such expenses, shall be paid over by him on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the metropolitan transportation authority for deposit in the corporate transportation account of the metropolitan transportation special assistance fund established by section twelve hundred seventy-a of the public authorities law, and (ii) except that with respect to mortgages recorded on and after May first, nineteen hundred eighty-seven, the balance of all moneys paid upon account of such special additional taxes during each month to the recording officers of the county of Erie on mortgages of any real property principally improved or to be improved by a structure containing six residential dwelling units or less with separate cooking facilities, after the deduction of such expenses, shall be paid over by him on or before the tenth day of each succeeding month to the Niagara Frontier transportation authority. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the special additional taxes so imposed and paid upon mortgages covering real property situated in two or more counties, which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, shall be paid over by the recording officer receiving the same as provided by the determination of said commissioner.

3. On or before the tenth day of each month the recording officer of each county shall pay over to the county treasurer of said county, and in the counties of New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond and Bronx to the commissioner of finance of the city of New York for credit to the general fund of such city, the balance of the moneys received during the preceding month upon account of taxes paid to him or her as herein prescribed, after deducting the necessary expenses of his or her office as provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, except taxes paid upon mortgages which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty of this article are first to be apportioned by the commissioner, which taxes and money shall be paid over by the commissioner of finance of the city of New York as provided by the determination of the commissioner. In each county not within the city of New York, the whole of the net amount of such balance, after the deduction by the county treasurer of the necessary expenses of his or her office provided in section two hundred sixty-two of this article, shall be held by him or her and shall be allocated to the tax districts of the county according to the location of the real property covered by the respective mortgages upon which the tax was collected. The recording officer and county treasurer shall prepare a joint semi-annual report on or before May fifteenth and on or before November fifteenth in each year showing the amounts to be credited to each tax district of the county of the moneys collected under this article during the preceding periods of six months each which ended respectively on March thirty-first and September thirtieth. Such report shall be made in duplicate in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commissioner and filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors and the commissioner. The board of supervisors, on or before the fifteenth day of June and on or before the fifteenth day of December in each year, shall issue its warrant for the payment to the respective tax districts of the amounts so credited, provided, however, that in a county in which a town contains within its limits an incorporated village, or portion thereof, the board of supervisors shall apportion to such village so much of the share credited to the town as the assessed value of said village or portion thereof bears to twice the total assessed valuation of the town, and provided, further, that, at the option of the governing board of the county, the county may instead prepare and file such a joint report and make such payments on a monthly or quarterly basis. Where the county elects to make monthly payments, the recording officer and county treasurer shall prepare a joint report on or before the fifteenth day of each month showing the amounts to be credited to each tax district of the county and the moneys collected under this article for the month preceding the most recently concluded month, and the board of supervisors shall issue its warrant for payment on or before the fifteenth day of the following month. Where the county elects to make quarterly payments, the recording officer and county treasurer shall prepare such a joint report on or before the fifteenth day of May, August, November, and February, showing the amounts to be credited to each tax district of the county of moneys collected under this article for the preceding three-month period ending March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth, and December thirty-first, respectively and the board of supervisors shall issue its warrant for payment on or before the fifteenth day of June, September, December, and March, respectively. The warrant shall direct payment to the city treasurer of the amount due the city, to the town supervisor of the amount due the town, and to the village treasurer of the amount to which the village shall be entitled. Mortgage tax moneys allotted to cities, towns and villages shall be applied to the payment of the general expenses thereof. The commissioner shall prescribe the method of adjustment and correction of errors heretofore or hereafter made in the distribution of moneys collected under this article. Provided, however that in the town of Ossining, county of Westchester, monies due to the unincorporated portion of the town shall be placed in the unincorporated town fund instead of into the general fund of such town.

§ 262. Expenses of officers. Recording officers and county treasurers shall severally be entitled to receive all their necessary expenses for the purposes of this article, including printing, hire of clerks and assistants, being first approved and allowed by the tax commission and, after audit by the comptroller, shall be retained by them out of the moneys coming into their hands. In counties wholly within the city of New York for the purposes of retirement the recording officers, clerks and assistants shall be considered as in the city service to the same extent as though their salaries had actually been paid by the city of New York.

§ 263. Supervisory power of commissioner of taxation and finance and comptroller. 1. (a) The commissioner of taxation and finance shall have general supervisory power over all recording officers in respect of the duties imposed by this article and he may make such rules and regulations for the government of recording officers in respect to the matters provided for in this article as he may deem proper, provided that such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with this or any other statute. Whenever a duly verified application for a refund of mortgage taxes erroneously paid is made to the commissioner of taxation and finance or where a discharge has been recorded in the case of a mortgagor exercising a statutory right of rescission in accordance with section two hundred fifty-seven-a of this article who has filed such application, it shall be the duty of such commissioner, or the delegate duly authorized by him in writing, to determine the amount that has been so paid or which is refundable by reason of the exercise of the right of rescission and, after audit thereof by the comptroller, to make an order directing the appropriate recording officer to refund the amount so determined, together with interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum thereof for each month or fraction of a month for the period from the date the application for refund in processible form is received by the commissioner of taxation and finance to a date preceding the date of the refund check by not more than thirty days, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Provided, however, no such interest shall be allowed or paid if the refund check is issued within ninety days of the date such application is received and no interest shall be allowed or paid if the amount of interest would be less than one dollar. The amount so ordered to be paid shall be paid from mortgage tax moneys in such recording officer's hands, or which shall come to his hands, to the party entitled to receive it and the recording officer shall charge such amount back to the state, public benefit corporation or tax district, as the case may be, that may have been credited with the same. No refund of tax paid under this article shall be allowed unless the application for refund is filed within two years from the time the erroneous payment of tax was received or, in the case of a refund arising out of the exercise of the right of rescission, within two years from the time of payment of tax or one year from the date of discharge of the mortgage which is subject to such exercise, whichever is later. If any recording officer shall have collected and paid over to the treasurer of any county, or to the state or a public benefit corporation, a tax paid upon a mortgage which under the provisions of section two hundred sixty of this chapter is to be apportioned by the commissioner of taxation and finance before such apportionment has been made, or if any recording officer shall have paid over to a county treasurer, the state or a public benefit corporation more money than required on account of mortgage taxes, such recording officer shall make a report to the commissioner of taxation and finance in the form of a verified statement of facts and said commissioner shall determine the method of adjustment and, after audit thereof by the comptroller, shall issue his order accordingly.

(b) In any city of this state having a population of one million or more, the overpayment rate referred to in paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to subsection (e) of section one thousand ninety-six of this chapter, or if no rate is set, at the rate of six percent per annum for the period from the date the application for refund in processible form is received by the commissioner of taxation and finance to a date preceding the date of the refund check by not more than thirty days.

2. The comptroller shall have general supervisory power over all county treasurers in respect to the duties imposed upon them by this article, and may make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this or any other statute, for the government of said county treasurers as he deems proper to secure a due accounting for all taxes and moneys collected or received and refunds and interest paid pursuant to any provision of this article.

§ 264. Tax on prior advance mortgages. Whenever any part of the amount of the principal indebtedness which is or under any contingency may be secured by a mortgage recorded prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, is advanced after July first, nineteen hundred and six, the tax prescribed by section two hundred and fifty-three of this article is hereby imposed on the amount of principal indebtedness so advanced, which tax shall be payable at the same time and in the same manner as taxes imposed by section two hundred and fifty-nine of this article, and all the provisions of section two hundred and fifty-nine in relation to the time and manner of paying such tax, the filing of statements in relation to the time and amount of such advances, and penalties for failure to file the same shall apply to advances made under this section and the payment of a tax thereon, except that if the mortgagor is not a corporation, such statements shall be filed by the owner of the mortgage, who, for failure to do so, shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by such section. In case said mortgage was given to secure the payment of a series of bonds, the mortgagor may, at the time of paying such tax, present to the recording officer, the bonds representing the portion of the principal indebtedness secured by said mortgage upon which the tax is to be paid, and also file with said recording officer a statement verified by the mortgagor or an officer or duly authorized agent or attorney of the mortgagor specifying that said bonds, so presented, are the bonds representing that portion of the principal indebtedness secured by said mortgage upon which the tax is to be paid and that said bonds are secured by a mortgage recorded in said office stating the date of said mortgage and the liber and page of the record of the same. It shall be the duty of such recording officer to indorse upon each of said bonds, so presented to him, a statement signed by him to the effect that the tax imposed by this article on that portion of the principal indebtedness secured by said mortgage represented by said bonds has been paid, and said statement shall be conclusive proof of such payment. Notwithstanding the exception contained in section two hundred and fifty-four, the record owner of any mortgage recorded prior to July first, nineteen hundred and six, other than a corporate trust mortgage, may file in the office of the recording officer where such mortgage is first recorded a statement in form and substance as required by section two hundred and fifty-four of this article, except that it shall specify and state the amount of all advancements made thereon prior to said date, giving the date and amount of each advancement and the amount of such prior advancements remaining unpaid, and thereby elect that the same be taxed under this article; and any mortgagor or mortgagee under a corporate trust mortgage given to secure a series of bonds or the owner of any such bond or bonds secured thereby may file in the office of the recording officer where such mortgage is first recorded a statement in form and substance as required by section two hundred and fifty-four of this article, except that it shall specify the serial number, the date and amount of each bond and otherwise sufficiently describe the same to identify it as being secured by such mortgage, and thereby elect that such bond or bonds be taxed under this article, and such bond or bonds shall be taxed upon the whole amount thereof notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred and sixty of this article. A tax shall thereupon, in the case of mortgages other than corporate trust mortgages, be computed, levied and collected upon the amount of the principal debt or obligation represented by said unpaid prior advancements at the time of filing such statement, or, in the case of a corporate trust mortgage, upon the amount of the bond or bonds specified in the statement filed, at the rate prescribed by section two hundred and fifty-three of this article. Said bonds representing prior advancements under corporate trust mortgages and taxed as herein provided may be presented to the recording officer, whose duty it is to collect said tax, for indorsement and he shall thereupon indorse upon each of said bonds a statement, attested by his signature, of the payment of the tax as provided in this section in respect to bonds representing subsequent advancements, and the record owner of any other mortgage taxed upon prior advancements as herein provided may present said mortgage to the recording officer and thereupon such officer shall note upon the same the filing of the statement and the amount of the tax paid, attested by his signature. In all such cases the recording officer shall note on the margin of the record of such mortgage the filing of such statement and the amount of the tax paid, and, in case of bonds secured by corporate trust mortgages, the serial number of each such bond. The words "bond" and "bonds" as used in this section shall be deemed to embrace all notes or other evidences of indebtedness secured by mortgages taxable under this section. In case of any mortgage taxable under this section, the portion of the indebtedness secured thereby upon which the tax imposed by this section is paid, and such portion only, shall be exempt from taxation under the provisions of section two hundred and fifty-one of this article. Whenever the tax imposed by section two hundred and sixty-four of this article as said section existed prior to May thirteenth, nineteen hundred and seven, has been paid with respect to any mortgage, no additional tax shall accrue on such mortgage under this section as hereby enacted and such mortgage and the debt or obligation secured thereby, shall continue to be entitled to the exemptions and immunities conferred by this article and all of the provisions of this article shall remain applicable to such mortgage. All taxes imposed by or which became due, payable or collectible on or before the thirtieth day of June, nineteen hundred and six, pursuant to chapter seven hundred and twenty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and five, and all taxes which under section two hundred and fifty-eight of this chapter became due and payable on the thirtieth day of July, nineteen hundred and six, and all other taxes, if any, which were imposed by chapter seven hundred and twenty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and five on any mortgage recorded prior to the first day of July, nineteen hundred and six, in respect to any period ending on or before the first day of July, nineteen hundred and six, shall be imposed, become due, be payable and collectible and shall be paid over and distributed in the same manner, and with the same force and effect as if this article had not been enacted; and for the purpose of collecting, paying over, distributing and enforcing any such taxes, chapter seven hundred and twenty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and five shall be deemed to be in force, and the lien for such taxes shall attach and such taxes shall be levied and collected as provided in chapter seven hundred and twenty-nine of the laws of nineteen hundred and five, anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 265. Tax a lien; exceptions. The tax in this article imposed shall be deemed and is hereby declared to be a lien upon the mortgage upon which such tax is imposed and upon the debt or obligation secured thereby, except that upon mortgages recorded prior to July first, nineteen hundred six, such lien shall extend only to that portion thereof represented by the amount advanced subsequently to such date and to the debt or obligation secured by such advancement, and for the purpose of enforcing the payment of the tax in this article imposed, such mortgage and the debt thereby secured shall be deemed to be property within this state notwithstanding that such mortgage may be owned by or be in the possession of a person or corporation outside the state and a copy thereof duly certified by the recording officer of any county in which such mortgage is recorded shall, for the purpose of enforcing the payment of such tax, be deemed to be, and shall have the same force and effect as the original mortgage and may be sold to satisfy such tax and upon a sale of the whole or any part thereof, shall carry with it and transfer to the purchaser all the rights, interests and obligations of the mortgagee therein named or his assignee or successor in interest in and to such mortgage and the debt secured thereby, or the part thereof to which such lien attaches, together with interest and costs. The lien of the tax resulting from a deed of trust or a deed absolute on its face which is security for a debt or obligation shall cease ten years after the recording thereof, provided such a mortgage is in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value.

§ 266. Enforcement; procedure. In case the tax imposed by this article is not paid as in this article provided, the tax commission may notify the attorney-general of such failure or refusal to pay and it shall then be the duty of the attorney-general to enforce the payment of such tax, and for that purpose he may maintain an action in the name of the people of the state of New York, in any court of competent jurisdiction, either to sell such mortgage; or, he may maintain an action against the mortgagee or his assignee or successor in interest personally; or, whereby stipulations contained in such mortgage it is made the duty of the mortgagor to pay such tax, or where the mortgagor is liable for the tax imposed under this article, then against the mortgagor or his successor in interest personally; or, in the case of a trust mortgage against the trust mortgagee, personally; or, he may pursue either, any or all such remedies. All actions instituted by the attorney-general, as herein provided, shall, if the amount involved is fifty dollars or more, be brought in the county of Albany. Where, in any action, a recovery is had there shall be added to the amount of such tax and included in the judgment, interest at the rate of one per centum per month on the amount of such tax, to be computed from the date on which such tax became due and payable, except that in the case of taxable mortgages heretofore recorded and upon which the tax imposed by this article has not been paid, and where, in such case, no penalty is prescribed by law for the nonpayment of such tax, interest shall be added at the rate of six per centum per annum. In any action brought as herein provided, where the judgment provides for the sale of the mortgage, such judgment shall also prescribe the time, place and manner of such sale and of the notice thereof to be given, and, in the discretion of the court, may direct that such sale be made by or under the direction of the comptroller or the recording officer of the county in which such mortgage was first recorded, and all money recovered in such action shall be paid by the attorney-general to the proper recording officer in satisfaction of such tax, and all costs recovered therein shall be paid into the state treasury.

Cross-reference: For criminal penalties, see article thirty-seven of this chapter.

§ 267. Idem.; where recovery is had against trust mortgagee.--In every case where recovery is had personally against a trust mortgagee as herein provided, and payment of the amount recovered has been made by such trust mortgagee, or where such trust mortgagee has voluntarily paid such tax, he shall be deemed to have and possess and to have become subrogated to all the rights and interests in and to the tax lien imposed by section two hundred and sixty-five hereof, and may enforce the repayment of any such sum so paid by him with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum and for that purpose may maintain an action in his own name in any court in the state having jurisdiction, against any person, association or corporation liable to pay such tax, or for the sale of such mortgage and the debt secured thereby to which such lien attaches.

ARTICLE 12

TAX ON TRANSFERS OF STOCK AND OTHER CORPORATE CERTIFICATES

Section 270. Amount of tax.

270-b. Exemption of certain transfers to legatees and others.

270-c. Transfers by operation of law; special exemptions.

270-d. Tax surcharge.

270-e. Maximum amounts of tax.

271. Stamps, how prepared and sold.

271-a. Sale of stamps.

272. Penalty for failure to pay tax; liability for tax of agent or broker.

273. Canceling stamps; penalty for failure.

274. Contracts for dies; expenses, how paid.

275. Illegal use of stamps; penalty.

275-a. Registration; penalty for failure.

276. Power of tax commission.

277. Penalties; how recovered.

278. Effect of failure to pay tax.

279. Application of taxes.

279-a. Determination of tax.

279-b. Warrant for the collection of taxes.

280. Refund of tax erroneously paid.

280-a. Rebate for stock transfer tax paid; penalty for false claims.

281. Statute of limitations not applicable.

281-a. Alternative method of collection.

§ 270. Amount of tax. 1. There is hereby imposed and shall immediately accrue and be collected a tax, as herein provided, on all sales, or agreements to sell, or memoranda of sales and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock, or certificates of rights to stock, or certificates of interest in property or accumulations, or certificates of deposit representing certificates taxable under this article, in any domestic or foreign association, company or corporation, or certificates of interest in business conducted by a trustee or trustees, made after the first day of June, nineteen hundred five, whether made upon or shown by the books of the association, company, corporation, or trustee, or by any assignment in blank, or by any delivery, or by any paper or agreement or memorandum or other evidence of sale or transfer, whether intermediate or final, and whether investing the holder with the beneficial interest in or legal title to said stock, or other certificates taxable hereunder, or merely with the possession or use thereof for any purpose, or to secure the future payment of money, or the future transfer of any such stock, or certificates. The purchase, redemption or other reacquisition of its own shares by a corporation is subject to tax under this article unless such shares are cancelled on reacquisition pursuant to the provisions of section five hundred fifteen of the business corporation law, or unless within one year of the date of such purchase, redemption or other reacquisition, such shares are cancelled by an appropriate amendment to the corporation's certificate of incorporation or by action of the board of directors of such corporation.

2. Except as otherwise provided by section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter, the tax imposed by this section shall be two and one-half cents for each share, except in cases where the shares or certificates are sold, in which cases the tax shall be at the rate of one and one-quarter cents for each share where the selling price is less than five dollars per share; two and one-half cents for each share where the selling price is five dollars or more per share and less than ten dollars per share; three and three-quarters cents for each share where the selling price is ten dollars or more per share and less than twenty dollars per share and five cents for each share where the selling price is twenty dollars or more per share.

3. It shall be the duty of the person or persons making or effectuating the sale or transfer, including the person or persons to whom the sale or transfer is made, to pay the tax provided by this article; provided, however, that this subdivision shall not apply to any sale or transfer wherein the vendor or transferor is a governmental entity or international organization which is not subject to the tax.

4. The payment of such tax shall be denoted by an adhesive stamp or stamps affixed as follows: In the case of a sale or transfer, where the evidence of the transaction is shown only by the books of the association, company, corporation or trustee, the stamp shall be placed upon such books, and it shall be the duty of the person making or effectuating such sale or transfer to procure and furnish to the association, company, corporation or trustee the requisite stamps, and of such association, company, corporation or trustee to affix and cancel the same. Where the transaction is effected by the delivery or transfer of a certificate, the stamp shall be placed upon the surrendered certificate and canceled; and in cases of an agreement to sell, or where the sale is effected by delivery of the certificate assigned in blank, there shall be made and delivered by the seller to the buyer, a bill or memorandum of such sale to which the stamp provided for by this article shall be affixed and canceled. Every such bill or memorandum of sale or agreement to sell shall show the date of the transaction which it evidences, the name of the seller, the stock, or other certificate, to which it relates, and the number of shares thereof. All such bills or memoranda of sale shall bear a number upon the face thereof and no more than one such bill or memorandum of sale made by the seller on any given day shall bear the same number. The aforesaid identification number of the bill or memorandum of sale shall in all cases be entered and recorded in the book of account required to be kept by section two hundred seventy-six of this chapter; and no further tax is hereby imposed upon the delivery of the certificate, or upon the actual issue of a new certificate when the original certificate is accompanied by the duly stamped memorandum of sale as herein provided.

5. The tax imposed by this section shall not apply to the following, provided the transaction in each case is accompanied by a certificate setting forth the facts or such other certificate or record as the tax commission may require:

(a) A sale, agreement to sell, memorandum of sale, or delivery or transfer of shares or certificates of stock or any certificates taxable under this section, made on an organized securities exchange within this state registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States, of less than one hundred shares and less than the unit of trading on such exchange, by any person, firm, company, association or corporation registered with such exchange, and engaged thereon, as dealer in less than the unit of trading;

(b) An agreement evidencing the deposit of certificates as collateral security, which certificates are not actually sold, or such certificates so deposited, or transfers of such certificates to the person with whom they are deposited as collateral security or to a nominee of such person or from one nominee of such person to another, provided the same continue to be held by such person or nominee or nominees as collateral security as aforesaid, or the retransfer of such certificates to the depositor;

(c) Transfers or deliveries of certificates pursuant to a statutory provision, to a trustee or public officer to secure the performance of obligations, or retransfers or redeliveries of such certificates to the transferer or depositor;

(d) Transfers of certificates from the name of a fiduciary to a nominee of such fiduciary, or from one nominee of such fiduciary to another, provided the same continue to be held by such nominee or nominees for the same purpose for which they would be held if retained by such fiduciary, or from the nominee to such fiduciary;

(e) Transfers of certificates from the name of the owner thereof to a custodian where the certificates are to be held or disposed of by such custodian for and subject to the instructions of the owner, or from the name of such custodian to the owner by whom the certificates were transferred to such custodian, or from the name of such custodian to a nominee of such custodian, or from one nominee of such custodian to another, provided the same continue to be held by such nominee or nominees for the same purpose for which they would be held if retained by such custodian, or from the nominee to such custodian;

(f) Mere loans of stock or certificates, or the return thereof;

(g) Deliveries or transfers from the name of the owner to a broker for sale, or deliveries by or transfers from the name of a broker to a customer for whom and upon whose order he has purchased the same;

(h) Deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates from a corporation to its registered nominee, or from one registered nominee of such corporation to another such nominee, provided the shares or certificates continue to be held by such nominee for the same purpose for which they would be held if retained by such corporation, or from such nominee to such corporation.

(i) Transfers or deliveries of shares or certificates upon the instructions of a broker, whether doing business as a corporation, partnership or individually, from his name or from the name of his customer to such broker's registered nominee for the purpose of holding such shares or certificates subject to the instructions of a clearing corporation affiliated with any securities exchange in this state, as agent for such broker, and transfers or deliveries upon the instructions of such clearing corporation from the name of such broker's registered nominee to such broker or customer. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "broker" shall include any banking corporation or trust company incorporated under the laws of this or another state of the United States and any bank organized under the laws of the United States.

(j) Transfers or deliveries of shares or certificates upon the instructions of a depositor in a system for the central handling of securities (including the clearing and settling of securities transactions) (a) established by a national securities exchange or association registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States or (b) maintained by a clearing corporation as defined in section 8--102 of the uniform commercial code, from the name of such depositor or his nominee or from the name of his customer or the nominee of such customer to the registered nominee of any such system for the purpose of holding such shares or certificates, as agent for such depositor, and transfers or deliveries upon the instructions of any such depositor from the name of the registered nominee of such system to same depositor, customer or nominee. For the purposes of this paragraph, a "depositor" shall include such securities exchanges or associations, registered under a statute of the United States such as the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, and their affiliated clearing corporations, such banks, trust companies, investment companies, insurance companies and other financial organizations as are subject to supervision or regulation pursuant to the provisions of federal or state banking laws or state insurance laws and such brokers, dealers and investment companies as are registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, or the Investment Company Act of 1940 as amended, if the foregoing individuals or organizations have been accepted by such system for the central handling of securities as participants therein.

(k) Transfers or deliveries of shares or certificates upon the instructions of a depositor in a system for the central handling of securities as described in paragraph (j) of this subdivision from the name of the nominee of any such system to the name of the nominee of another such system, provided the same continue to be held by the nominee of such other system for the same purpose as previously held for such depositor by the nominee of such other system.

(l) Where the sale, agreement of sale, memorandum of sale, delivery or transfer of a security is effected in a manner which would not otherwise subject such transaction to a tax, the tax shall not apply solely by reason of the receipt or payment of cash in this state as part of a system for the central handling of securities described in paragraph (j) of this subdivision or the making of an accounting, bookkeeping or similar entry in records maintained in this state as part of such system. The tax commission shall prescribe rules and regulations to effectuate the purposes of this paragraph and paragraphs (i), (j) and (k) of this subdivision, and shall have all the rights and powers as set forth in section two hundred seventy-six of this chapter to examine any transactions or records of any nature of such system.

6. The tax imposed by this section shall not apply to shares or certificates of stock, or certificates of rights to stock, or certificates of deposit representing certificates of the character taxed by this article, in any domestic association, company or corporation, even though a record of the transfer is made in the stock book kept in compliance with section ten of the stock corporation law, if the transfer is made upon the books of such association, company or corporation regularly kept at a transfer office or by a transfer agent outside the state, provided the keeping of such books outside the state is necessary or convenient for the transaction of the ordinary business affairs of such association, company or corporation and is approved by the tax commission, and neither the sale, nor the agreement to sell, nor the memorandum of sale, nor the delivery is made in this state and no act necessary to effect the transfer (other than the making of a record in the stock book kept in compliance with section ten of the stock corporation law) is done in this state.

7. As used in this section, the term "registered nominee" means any person registered with the tax commission in accordance with such rules and regulations as it shall prescribe.

8. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impose a tax upon sales, agreements to sell, memoranda of sales, deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates

(a) issued under a noncorporate investment trust agreement of the fixed type and no such sale, agreement to sell, memorandum of sale, delivery or transfer shall result in imposing a tax under this section on the securities held in such an investment trust; or

(b) of an investment trust between the investment trust and an underwriter, between an underwriter and a dealer in securities or between an underwriter or dealer and an investor. As used in this paragraph, the term "investment trust" means an investment trust of the management type, the shareholders of which are, upon reasonable notice, entitled to require the investment trust to redeem or repurchase their shares or certificates for their proportionate interest in the property of the investment trust, or the cash equivalent thereof, less a discount of not more than three per centum thereof, and the term "underwriter" means a person, firm or corporation who has entered into an agreement with such investment trust to effectuate, alone or through others, sales of shares or certificates of the investment trust.

§ 270-b. Exemption of certain transfers to legatees and others. The tax imposed by sections two hundred seventy and two hundred seventy-a of this chapter shall not be imposed upon any deliveries or transfers by an executor or administrator to a legatee, heir or distributee of shares or certificates of stock if it is shown to the satisfaction of the tax commission that the value of such shares or certificates is not greater than the amount of the tax that would otherwise be imposed on such delivery or transfer.

§ 270-c. Transfers by operation of law; special exemptions. No transaction taxable under sections two hundred seventy and two hundred seventy-a of this chapter shall be exempt because effected by operation of law. The tax imposed by sections two hundred seventy and two hundred seventy-a of this chapter shall not be imposed upon any delivery or transfer:

1. From a decedent to his executor or administrator;

2. From a minor to his guardian or from a guardian to his ward upon attaining majority;

- § 3. From an incompetent to his committee or similar legal representative, or from a committee or similar legal representative to a former incompetent upon removal of disability;

4. From a conservatee to his conservator, or from a conservator to a former conservatee upon cessation of the conservatorship.

5. From a bank, trust company, financial institution, insurance company, or other similar entity, or nominee, custodian, or trustee therefor, to a public officer or commission, or person designated by such officer or commission or by a court, in the taking over of its assets, in whole or in part, under state or federal law regulating or supervising such institutions, nor upon redelivery or retransfer by any such transferee or successor thereto;

6. From a bankrupt or person in receivership due to insolvency to the trustee in bankruptcy or receiver, from such receiver to such trustee or from such trustee to such receiver, nor upon redelivery or retransfer by any such transferee or successor thereto;

7. From a transferee under paragraphs one to six, inclusive, to his successor acting in the same capacity, or from one such successor to another;

8. From a foreign country or national thereof to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the government of any foreign country directed pursuant to the authority vested in the president of the United States by section five (b) of the trading with the enemy act (40 Stat. 415), as amended by the first war powers act (55 Stat. 838);

9. From trustees to surviving, substitute, succeeding or additional trustees of the same trust;

10. Upon the death of a joint tenant or tenant by the entirety, to the survivor or survivors.

11. Made in obedience to an order of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission which has become or becomes final in accordance with law, provided that such order recites that the delivery or transfer is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section eleven (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of Nineteen Hundred Thirty-five and specifies and itemizes the securities which are ordered to be delivered or transferred;

12. Made to effectuate any plan of reorganization or adjustment (1) confirmed under the act entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," approved July first, eighteen hundred ninety-eight, as amended, (2) approved in an equity receivership proceeding in court involving a corporation, or (3) under sections one hundred nineteen to one hundred twenty-three of the real property law or article nine of the stock corporation law.

13. Made to effectuate any plan of reorganization or adjustment required by a decree of the court under the anti-trust laws of the United States or any territory thereof, or of any state or the District of Columbia.

14. Of the capital stock of no more than one corporation organized under or subject to either articles three or seven of the banking law, delivered or transferred, as provided in section one hundred forty-three-a of the banking law, in exchange for shares or other securities of a company substantially all of the assets of which will consist of said capital stock immediately after such exchange.

The tax commission may require that each such delivery or transfer be accompanied by a certificate setting forth the facts.

§ 270-d. Tax surcharge. 1. In addition to the tax imposed by subdivision one of section two hundred seventy of this article, there is hereby imposed and shall immediately accrue and be collected a like additional tax on all sales, agreements to sell, memoranda of sales and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates subject to tax under such subdivision during the period commencing on August first, nineteen hundred seventy-five and ending July thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-eight. Such additional tax is at the rate of twenty-five per cent of the rates of tax on sales or transfers under subdivision two of section two hundred seventy and on sales under subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a and the maximum amount of tax on a single qualifying sale under section two hundred seventy-e of this article. Provided, however, that the tax so calculated shall not be carried out in its computation beyond four decimal points, that is, it shall be computed to the nearest one one-hundredth of one cent.

2. All the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the additional tax imposed by this section to the same extent as if it were imposed by subdivision one of section two hundred seventy and expressly increased the rates of tax under subdivision two of section two hundred seventy and subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a and the maximum amount of tax on a single taxable sale under subdivision two of section two hundred seventy-a and the term "tax" as used in this article shall include the tax imposed by this section as well as the tax imposed by subdivision one of section two hundred seventy and a reference to such tax, subdivision one of section two hundred seventy or section two hundred seventy shall include the tax imposed by this section, subdivision one of this section and this section, respectively.

§ 270-e. Maximum amounts of tax. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred seventy of this chapter, where any transaction subject to the tax imposed by this article involves a sale which relates to shares or certificates of the same class and issued by the same issuer, the amount of tax upon any such transaction which involves such single qualifying sale shall not exceed the sum of three hundred fifty dollars, provided, however, that such transactions involving sales by any member of a securities exchange or by any registered dealer, who is permitted or required pursuant to any rules and regulations promulgated by the tax commission pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-one-a of this chapter to pay the taxes imposed by this article without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article, pursuant to one or more orders to sell such shares or certificates placed with the same member of a securities exchange or the same registered dealer on one day, by the same person, each relating to shares or certificates of the same class and issued by the same issuer, all of which sales are executed on the same day (regardless of whether it be the day of the placing of the orders to sell), shall, for the purposes of this subdivision one, be considered to constitute a single qualifying sale.

2. All the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the maximum amounts of tax provided for by this section to the same extent and in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of such provisions had been incorporated in full into this section and had expressly referred to the maximum amounts of tax provided for under this section, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to this section. Provided, further, any reference in this article to the maximum amounts of tax on a single taxable sale under subdivision two of section two hundred seventy-a of this article shall mean the maximum amounts of tax on a single qualifying sale provided for by this section. The term "tax" as used in this article shall include the maximum amounts of tax provided for by this section as well as the taxes imposed by subdivisions one of sections two hundred seventy and two hundred seventy-d of this article, and a reference to such tax, subdivision one of section two hundred seventy or subdivision two of section two hundred seventy-a shall include the maximum amounts of tax provided for by this section or this subdivision, as the case may be.

§ 271. Stamps, how prepared and sold. Adhesive stamps for the purpose of paying the state tax provided for by this article shall be prepared by the tax commission, in such form, and of such denominations and in such quantities as it may from time to time prescribe, and it shall make provision for the sale of such stamps by its duly authorized agent or agents in such places and at such times as in its judgment may be necessary.

The tax commission may from time to time and as often as it deems advisable provide for the issuance and exclusive use of stamps of a new design and forbid the use of stamps of any other design. In order to effect such a change and to discontinue the use of stamps of a former design the tax commission shall publish or cause to be published once in each week for each of three months immediately preceding the time for taking effect of such change, in one or more daily newspapers published in each of the first and second class cities of the state, a notice to the effect that after a certain day, which shall be at least three months after the first publication of said notice, none other than the new issue or design of stamps shall be accepted or made use of in payment of the tax provided for by this article. After such date it shall be unlawful for any person to make use of any other than the new issue or design of stamps in payment of such tax. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Any person lawfully in possession of unused stamps of an old or superseded issue or design may, within ninety days from the time when such change becomes effective as aforesaid, surrender the same to the tax commission together with a sworn statement setting forth the name and address of the owner and party surrendering said stamps, how, when and from whom the same were acquired and such other pertinent information as the tax commission may require; whereupon the tax commission shall redeem such unused and surrendered stamps by exchanging therefor stamps of a like denomination of the new issue or design. Failure or refusal of the tax commission to redeem the same by such an exchange may be enforced by mandamus.

§ 271-a. Sale of stamps. No person, firm, company, association or corporation other than a corporation organized under the banking law of this state or under the national bank act of the United States, or a duly authorized agent of the tax commission, shall sell or expose for sale, traffic in, trade, barter or exchange any stamp issued pursuant to this article, without first obtaining from the tax commission its written consent to sell, traffic in, trade, barter or exchange such stamps, except that in connection with a sale of or agreement to sell stock a broker or agent of the principal making such sale or agreement to sell may supply and affix the stamp or stamps required by this article. No persons shall sell or expose for sale any stamp so purchased or acquired for a sum less than the face value thereof without the written consent of the tax commission. Any person lawfully in possession of unused stamps of the issue then in effect may request the tax commission for its consent to redeem the same. He shall present to the tax commission, if so required, a sworn statement setting forth the name and address of the owner and the party desiring to redeem said stamps, how, when and from whom the same were acquired and such other pertinent and relevant information as the tax commission may require. Thereupon the tax commission may authorize the redemption of such stamps through its fiscal agent appointed for the sale of stock transfer stamps. Upon the failure or refusal of the tax commission to give such authority the same may be enforced by mandamus. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 272. Penalty for failure to pay tax; liability for tax of agent or broker. 1. Except as provided in subdivision three of this section, any person or persons liable to pay the tax by this article imposed, and any one who acts in the matter as agent or broker for such person or persons, who shall make any sale, transfer or delivery of shares or certificates taxable under this article without paying the tax by this article imposed, and any person who shall in pursuance of any sale, transfer or agreement, deliver any certificate or evidence of the sale or transfer of or agreement to sell any such certificate, or bill or memorandum thereof, or who shall transfer or cause the same to be transferred upon the books or records of the association, company, corporation, or business conducted by a trustee or trustees, and any association, company, corporation or business conducted by a trustee or trustees, whose stock or other certificates taxable hereunder is sold or transferred, which shall transfer or cause the same to be transferred upon its books, without having affixed thereto the stamps provided for in this article, and where required by the provisions of this article, a declaration as prescribed by paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

2. Any person who acts as agent or broker for a person liable to pay the tax by this article imposed, who shall be subject to or liable for the penalty provided for by subdivision one of this section shall, regardless of whether he has been prosecuted for or acquitted of such criminal liability, in addition to such criminal liability, be liable for the payment of the tax, and such liability may be enforced in the same manner as any liability for tax imposed by this article, and its determination and collection shall be effected pursuant to and subject to the provisions of sections two hundred seventy-nine-a, two hundred seventy-nine-b and two hundred eighty-one of this chapter. The burden, in any hearing held pursuant to such section two hundred seventy-nine-a, of proving the facts to show the absence of liability for the tax imposed by this subdivision upon such agent or broker, shall be upon such agent or broker.

3. The penalties provided by subdivision one of this section shall not apply to any agent or broker or to any other person who shall perform any of the acts set forth in such subdivision, in good faith, in reliance upon a declaration furnished pursuant to paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter, as to which declaration such broker, agent or other person, before such act had received no notice of cancellation of such declaration pursuant to the provisions of clause (iii) of subparagraph (2) of such paragraph and has no knowledge or reasonable grounds to believe that the status of such nonresident as a nonresident has changed.

§ 273. Canceling stamps; penalty for failure. In every case where an adhesive stamp shall be used to denote the payment of the tax provided by this article, the person using or affixing the same shall write or stamp thereupon the initials of his name and the date upon which the same shall be attached or used, and shall cut or perforate the stamp in a substantial manner, so that such stamp cannot be again used; and if any person makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the payment of the tax imposed by this article, without so effectually canceling the same, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for not less than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

§ 274. Contracts for dies; expenses, how paid. The tax commission is hereby directed to make, enter into and execute for and in behalf of the state such contract or contracts for dies, plates and printing necessary for the manufacture of the stamps provided for by this article, and provide such stationery and clerk hire together with such books and blanks as in its discretion may be necessary for putting into operation the provisions of this article; the tax commission shall be the custodian of all stamps, dies, plates or other material or thing furnished by it and used in the manufacture of such state tax stamps, and all expenses incurred by it and under its direction in carrying out the provisions of this article shall be paid to it by the state treasurer from any moneys appropriated for such purpose.

§ 275. Illegal use of stamps; penalty. Any person who shall willfully remove or alter or knowingly permit to be removed or altered the canceling or defacing marks of any stamp provided for by this article with intent to use such stamp, or who shall knowingly or willfully buy, prepare for use, use, have in his possession or suffer to be used any washed, restored or counterfeit stamp, and any person who shall intentionally remove or cause to be removed or knowingly permit to be removed any stamp, affixed pursuant to the requirements of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

§ 275-a. Registration; penalty for failure. Every person acting individually or as a trustee, firm, company, association or corporation engaged in whole or in part in the making or negotiating of sales, agreements to sell, deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates taxable under this article, or conducting or transacting a stock brokerage business, and every corporation, stock association, company or trustee which shall maintain a principal office or place of business within the state or which shall keep or cause to be kept within the state of New York a place for the sale, transfer or delivery of its stock, or other certificates included within this article, shall within ten days after the amendment to this section shall take effect if such a certificate shall not have been theretofore filed with the state comptroller, or within ten days after engaging in such business or after establishing such principal office or place of business, or such place for the sale or transfer of its certificates, as the case may be, file in the office of the tax commission a certificate setting forth the name under which such business is, or is to be, conducted or transacted, and the true or real full name or names of the person or persons conducting or transacting the same, with the post office address or addresses of said person or persons, unless the party so certifying be a corporation or trustee, in which event it shall set forth its said principal office or place of business and when and where incorporated or organized. Said certificate shall be executed and duly acknowledged by the person or persons so conducting or intending to conduct said business or by the president or secretary of the corporation as the case may be.

In the event of a change in the persons composing such firm, company or association or of the persons acting as such trustees or of the address of any such person, firm, company, association, corporation or trustees, or termination of such business or relationship, a like certificate setting forth the facts with respect to such change or termination shall within ten days thereafter be filed in the office of the tax commission.

Any such person acting individually or as a trustee, firm, company, association or corporation who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for not more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

§ 276. Power of tax commission. Every person, firm, company, association, corporation or business conducted by a trustee or trustees, engaged in whole or in part in the making or negotiating of sales, agreements to sell, deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates taxable under this article, or conducting or transacting a brokerage business, hereinafter in this section called "broker", shall keep or cause to be kept at some accessible place within the state of New York, a just and true book of account, in such form as may be prescribed by the tax commission, wherein shall be plainly and legibly recorded in separate columns (1) unless provided otherwise by rules and regulations of the tax commission, providing for its recording in some other manner in records kept by such broker, the date of receipt of every order for every sale, agreement to sell, delivery or transfer of such shares or certificates together with the name, class and number of shares to which such order relates and the name and address (or other identification which refers to records kept by such broker containing such name and address) of the person placing the order; (2) the date of making every sale, agreement to sell, delivery or transfer of such shares or certificates, the name and the number of shares thereof, the selling price, the date of the order or orders to which such transaction relates; (3) the name and address (or other identification which refers to records kept by such broker, containing such name and address) of the seller or transferrer, and his resident or nonresident status, as defined in the provisions of section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter; (4) the name of the purchaser or transferee; (5) the face value of the adhesive stamps affixed; and (6) the identifying number of the bill or memorandum of sale used as provided for by section two hundred and seventy of this chapter. This book shall also have recorded therein each separate purchase of stock transfer stamps, showing the date, the amount and from whom purchased.

Every association, company or corporation or business conducted by a trustee or trustees shall keep or cause to be kept at some accessible place within the state of New York a stock certificate book and a just and true book of account, transfer ledger or register, in such form as may be prescribed by the tax commission, wherein shall be plainly and legibly recorded in separate columns, the date of making every transfer of stock, or other certificates included within this article, the name and number of shares thereof, the serial number of each surrendered certificate, the name of the parties surrendering such certificate, the serial number of the certificate issued in exchange therefor, the number of shares covered by said certificate, the name of the party to whom said certificate was issued and the face value of the stamps attached in payment of the tax on the transfer of the certificate. Evidence of the payment of the tax provided for by sections two hundred and seventy and two hundred and seventy-a of this chapter shall be provided in one of the following manners and not otherwise, to wit:

(a) By attaching to the certificate surrendered for transfer, the stamps required for and any declaration permitted by paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter with respect to such transfer, or

(b) If the stamps and any such declaration are not attached to the certificate, but are attached to the bill or memorandum of sale effecting or evidencing the transfer of such certificate, by attaching to said certificate the said bill or memorandum of sale with stamps and declaration, if any, attached, or

(c) If the stamps and declaration, if any, covering the transfer are attached to a bill or memorandum effecting a transfer of one or more certificates or to one or more certificates included in said transfer, a notation must be made upon such certificates, bill or memorandum, as the case may be, clearly specifying and identifying the certificate or certificates to the sale or transfer of which the said stamps and declaration apply, or

(d) If the bill or memorandum bearing such stamps and declaration is not attached to the surrendered certificate or certificates to which it applies, a notation must be made upon such bill or memorandum stating the serial number or numbers of the certificates to which said bill or memorandum applies, as provided by section two hundred and seventy of this chapter. It shall also retain and keep all surrendered or canceled shares or certificates and all memoranda and any declarations relating to the sale or transfer of any thereof. All such books of account, transfer ledgers, registers and certificate books, shall be retained and kept as aforesaid for a period of at least four years subsequent to the date of the last entry made therein as herein required; and all such surrendered or canceled shares or certificates, memoranda and declarations relating to the sale or transfer of shares or certificates taxable under this article, shall be retained and kept for a period of at least four years from the date of the delivery thereof. For the purpose of ascertaining whether the tax imposed by this article has been paid, all such books of account, transfer ledgers, registers, certificate books, surrendered or canceled shares or certificates and memoranda and declarations relating to the sale or transfer thereof, shall at all times between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and three o'clock in the afternoon, except Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, be open to examination by the tax commission or its duly authorized representative. The tax commission may consent to the destruction of all surrendered or canceled shares or certificates and all memoranda and any declarations relating to the sale or transfer thereof provided the tax commission has completed an examination with respect to the transactions to which such documents relate, is satisfied that the original of such documents no longer need be preserved, a record of such documents is recorded, copied or reproduced by any process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for reproducing the original and such record is retained for the remainder of the applicable four year period specified above and is open to examination by the tax commission on the days and during the hours set forth above.

The tax commission by a special proceeding in the supreme court may enforce its right to examine such books of account, bills or memoranda of sale or transfer, transfer ledger, register and certificate books and surrendered or canceled shares or certificates and declarations or a record of such shares or certificates and all memoranda and any declarations relating to the sale or transfer thereof recorded, copied or reproduced as herein provided. If the tax commission ascertains that the tax provided for in this article has not been paid, the attorney general, at the instance of the commission, shall bring an action in its name as such tax commission, in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of such tax and for any penalty incurred by any person under the provisions of this article.

Every person, firm, company, association or corporation or business conducted by a trustee or trustees that shall fail to keep such book of account or bills of memoranda of sale or transfer, or transfer ledger, register or certificate book or surrendered or canceled shares or certificates or declarations as herein required, or who alters, cancels, obliterates or destroys any part of said records, except as herein permitted, or makes any false entry therein, or who shall refuse to permit the tax commission or any of its authorized representatives freely to examine any of said books, records or papers at any of the times herein provided, or who shall in any other respect violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall for each and every such offense pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not less than three months nor more than one year, or both in the discretion of the court.

§ 277. Penalties; how recovered. Any person, firm, company, association or corporation, or business conducted by a trustee or trustees that shall violate any of the provisions of section two hundred seventy, section two hundred seventy-a or section two hundred seventy-two of this chapter shall, in addition to the other penalties provided for in this article, be subject to a penalty of one dollar for each and every share of stock or of other interest taxable under this article so sold or transferred, or transferred or entered upon the books of the corporation or trustees, as the case may be, without the payment of the tax by this article imposed thereon. Such penalty may be compromised by the tax commission. Any person who shall violate any of the other provisions of this article shall, in addition to the other penalties provided for in this article, be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars for each and every such violation.

The attorney-general at the instance of the tax commission shall bring an action in its name as such tax commission in any court of competent jurisdiction for the recovery of any penalty imposed by this section. All moneys collected as penalties shall be paid into the stock transfer tax fund. In an action against a corporation or trustees, or its or their transfer agent to recover a penalty because of the transfer of a certificate, upon the books or records of the corporation or trustees without requiring the payment of the tax by this article imposed, the failure of the corporation or trustees or its or their transfer agent, on the demand of the tax commission or its duly authorized representative, to produce the surrendered certificate or memoranda of sale with the required stamps and any declaration prescribed by paragraph (c) of subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter, if required, attached, shall constitute prima facie proof of the nonpayment of the taxes imposed by section two hundred seventy and section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter.

§ 278. Effect of failure to pay tax. No transfer of certificates taxable under this article made after June first, nineteen hundred and five, on which a tax is imposed by this article, and which tax is not paid at the time of such transfer shall be made the basis of any action or legal proceedings, nor, except in a proceeding under articles ten-c and twenty-six of this chapter, shall proof thereof be offered or received in evidence in any court in this state.

§ 279. Application of taxes. The taxes imposed under this article and the revenues thereof, after the deduction of refunds of taxes erroneously paid, shall be paid by the tax commission into the stock transfer tax fund to the credit of the commissioner of taxation and finance.

§ 279-a. Determination of tax. If any person fails to pay any tax required by this article, the commissioner of taxation and finance shall determine the amount of tax due at any time within five years after the tax became payable and shall give written notice of such determination to the person or persons liable therefor. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, where, before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section for the determination of tax, both the commissioner of taxation and finance and the taxpayer have consented in writing to its determination after such time, the tax may be determined at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon. Such a determination shall finally and irrevocably fix the tax unless the person against whom it is assessed shall within thirty days after the mailing of notice of such determination petition the division of tax appeals for a hearing. After such hearing the division of tax appeals shall give written notice of the determination of the administrative law judge to the person against whom the tax was assessed and to the commissioner of taxation and finance. Such determination may be reviewed by the tax appeals tribunal as provided in article forty of this chapter. The decision of the tax appeals tribunal may be reviewed as provided in section two thousand sixteen of this chapter but the proceeding may not be commenced unless the amount of tax stated in the determination with penalties thereon, if any, shall have first been deposited with the commissioner of taxation and finance and an undertaking filed with him in such amount and with such sureties as a justice of the supreme court shall approve to the effect that if the proceeding be dismissed or the determination confirmed the petitioner will pay all costs and charges which may accrue against him in the prosecution of the proceeding or at the option of the petitioner such undertaking may be in a sum sufficient to cover the tax, penalties, costs and charges aforesaid in which event the petitioner shall not be required to pay such tax and penalties as a condition precedent to the commencement of the proceeding. The remedy provided by this section for a review of the decision of the tax appeals tribunal shall be the exclusive remedy available to judicially determine the liability for taxes under this article.

§ 279-b. Warrant for the collection of taxes. Whenever any person shall fail to pay any tax he is required to pay under the provisions of this article, the tax commission may issue a warrant under its official seal, directed to the sheriff of any county of the state, commanding him to levy upon and sell the real and personal property of such person, found within his county, for the payment of the amount thereof, with the penalties, interest and the cost of executing the warrant, and to return such warrant to the tax commission and to pay to it the money collected by virtue thereof within sixty days after the receipt of such warrant. The sheriff shall within five days after the receipt of the warrant, file with the clerk of his county a copy thereof, and thereupon the clerk shall enter in the judgment docket the name of the person mentioned in the warrant, and the amount of the tax and penalties for which the warrant is issued and the date when such copy is filed, and thereupon the amount of such warrant so docketed shall become a lien upon the title to and interest in real property or chattels real of the person against whom the warrant is issued in the same manner as a judgment duly docketed in the office of such clerk. The sheriff shall thereupon proceed upon the warrant in all respects, with like effect, and in the same manner prescribed by law in respect to executions issued against property upon judgments of a court of record, and shall be entitled to the same fees for his services in executing the warrant, to be collected in the same manner. In the discretion of the tax commission a warrant of like terms, force and effect may be issued and directed to any officer or employee of the department of taxation and finance, and in the execution thereof such officer or employee shall have all the powers conferred by law upon sheriffs, but shall be entitled to no fee or compensation in excess of actual expenses paid in the performance of such duty. Upon such filing of a copy of a warrant, the tax commission shall have the same remedies to enforce the claim for taxes against the person as if the people of the state had recovered judgment against such person for the amount of the tax.

§ 280. Refund of tax erroneously paid. If any stamp or stamps shall have been erroneously affixed to any book, certificate, or bill or memorandum of sale, or if any tax provided by this article shall be erroneously paid otherwise than by the use of a stamp or stamps, the tax commission may, upon presentation of a claim for the amount of such stamp or stamps, or tax, and upon the production of evidence satisfactory to it that such stamp or stamps was or were so erroneously affixed, or such tax was so erroneously paid, so as to cause loss to the person or persons making such claim, pay such amount or such part thereof as it may allow, to such claimant out of any moneys collected under this article. Provided, however, that where such erroneous payment was made otherwise than by the use of stamps pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-one-a hereof, and resulted from payment of tax in excess of the amount due under subdivision two of section two hundred seventy-a of this chapter in lieu of the presentation of a claim for refund an adjustment for such erroneous payment may be made on the written report required to be made to the exchange, affiliated clearing corporation or authorized agency if such adjustment is made on such a written report filed within thirty business days following such erroneous payment, in such form and with such substantiating evidence as the tax commission may prescribe and provided further that at the time of the making of such adjustment the person, firm, company or association making such report has either paid to the person or persons erroneously charged with such tax the amount of such overpayment or has applied such amount in reduction of any amount owing to it from the person or persons so charged. Any claim for refund shall be presented to the tax commission in writing, duly verified, and shall state the full name and address of the claimant, the date of such erroneous affixing, or other payment of the tax, the face value of such stamp or stamps, or the amount of such tax, as the case may be, and contain such evidence as may be available upon which the demand for such refund is based. If the claim is based on the erroneous affixing of a stamp or stamps the claim shall describe the instrument to which the stamp or stamps were affixed. Such claims shall be presented within two years after such erroneous affixing or payment, as the case may be, except if an agreement under the provisions of section two hundred seventy-nine-a (extending the period for determination of tax imposed by this article) is made within the two-year period for the filing of a claim for refund provided for in this section, the period for filing a claim for refund shall not expire prior to six months after the expiration of the period within which a determination may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof. The tax commission shall grant or deny such claim in whole or in part and shall notify the claimant by mail of its determination. Such determination shall be final and irrevocable unless the claimant shall within thirty days after the mailing of notice of such determination apply to the tax commission for a hearing. After such hearing the tax commission shall mail notice of its decision to the claimant. The decision of the tax commission may be reviewed under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules if a proceeding under that article is commenced within ninety days after the mailing of the notice of such decision. However, such a proceeding may not be commenced unless an undertaking is filed with the tax commission in such amount and with such sureties as a justice of the supreme court shall approve to the effect that if the proceeding be dismissed or the decision confirmed the petitioner will pay all costs and charges which may accrue against him in the prosecution of the proceeding. The remedy provided by this section for review of the decision of the tax commission shall be the exclusive remedy available to judicially determine the liability for taxes under this article.

§ 280-a. Rebate for stock transfer tax paid; penalty for false claims.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subdivision fifteen of this section, where a tax shall have been paid under this article a portion of the amount paid shall be allowed as a rebate and such portion shall be paid to the taxpayer but only to the extent that moneys are available for the payment of such rebates in the stock transfer incentive fund established pursuant to section ninety-two-i of the state finance law. The portion of the amount of tax paid which is to be allowed as a rebate shall be thirty percent of the tax incurred and paid on transactions subject to the stock transfer tax occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty and sixty percent of the tax incurred and paid on such transactions occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred eighty and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty-one and all of the amount of tax incurred and paid shall be allowed as a rebate on transactions subject to the stock transfer tax occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred eighty-one.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section with respect to the percentages of tax allowable as rebates, the portion of the amount of stock transfer tax paid which is to be allowed as a rebate to a nonresident shall be fifty percent of the tax incurred and paid on transactions subject to stock transfer tax occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred seventy-seven and on or before July thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-eight and thirty-seven and one-half percent with respect to such transactions occurring on and after August first, nineteen hundred seventy-eight and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty, and thereafter the portions set forth in subdivision one of this section shall be applicable.

2-a. In addition to the rebate allowable under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the portion of the amount of stock transfer tax paid which is to be allowed as a rebate to any person, firm, company or corporation registered with the United States securities and exchange commission in accordance with subsection (b) of section fifteen of the securities exchange act of nineteen hundred thirty-four, as amended, and acting as a dealer in a transaction described in paragraph (e) of subdivision twelve of this section, other than such a person, firm, company or corporation liable to file a report or return under article nine-A of this chapter, or article twenty-three of this chapter, (as such article was in effect on or before December thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty-two), shall be one hundred percent of the stock transfer tax incurred and paid on transactions subject to the stock transfer tax executed by such person, firm, company or corporation pursuant to the acceptance of an order placed through an intermarket linkage system developed pursuant to subsection (a) of section eleven-A of such securities exchange act under a plan submitted by one or more national securities exchanges or national securities associations registered with such securities and exchange commission occurring on and after April seventeenth, nineteen hundred seventy-eight and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventy-nine, seventy percent of the tax incurred and paid on such a transaction occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty and forty percent of the tax incurred and paid on such a transaction occurring on and after October first, nineteen hundred eighty and on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty-one. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the net amount to be rebated to any such person, firm, company or corporation under this subdivision with respect to stock transfer tax allowable as rebates during each of the periods ending on September thirtieth hereinbefore set forth shall not be allowed or paid prior to the first day of the eighth month following September thirtieth of each of such periods nor until the subsequent date on which the commissioner of taxation and finance shall next determine the amount allowable as rebates pursuant to the provisions of section ninety-two-i of the state finance law, provided, however, that the net amount to be allowed for the April seventeenth, nineteen hundred seventy-eight through September thirtieth, nineteen hundred seventy-eight period shall not be allowed or paid until the last business day of June, nineteen hundred seventy-nine.

No rebate shall be allowed under this subdivision with respect to any stock transfer tax incurred in a market making transaction occurring on or after October first, nineteen hundred eighty-one. No rebate shall be allowed or paid under this subdivision for stock transfer tax paid pursuant to section two hundred seventy-nine-a of this chapter nor shall any rebate be allowed or paid until the person, firm, company or corporation claiming the rebate complies with the rules, regulations and instructions of the state tax commission issued under this article including furnishing of a just and true book of account within the state as may be required by the state tax commission.

3. Except as provided in subdivision six of this section, rebates may be paid only upon the filing of a claim for rebate with the state tax commission. All claims for rebate shall be presented in such form and contain such information as the state tax commission, by rule, regulation or instruction, shall prescribe and shall be presented within two years after the affixing and cancelling of stock transfer tax stamps or payment of the tax otherwise than by the use of stamps.

4. Every such claim shall include a certificate by or on behalf of the party presenting the same to the effect that it is just, true and correct, that the amount of stock transfer tax stated thereon has been paid to the state and that the amount of rebate requested is actually due and owing. The state tax commission, if satisfied that the tax has actually been paid, shall rebate the same in accordance with the provisions of this section on the audit and warrant of the state comptroller on vouchers approved by the commissioner of taxation and finance.

5. The state tax commission shall grant or deny such claim in the manner provided in section two hundred eighty of this article and the remaining provisions of such section, relating to determination of tax, hearing, decision of the state tax commission, the exclusive manner of review of such decision, and the requirement of an undertaking, shall apply to the provisions of this section with the same force and effect as if the language of such section had been incorporated in full into this section and had expressly referred to the rebate under this section, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with or not relevant to this section. All of the other provisions of this article relating to refunds shall apply to the rebate of tax provided for by this section in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of such provisions had been incorporated in full into this section and had expressly referred to the rebates of tax provided for under this section, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to this section and except that the term "refund" as used in such provisions shall be read as "rebate".

6. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred eighty-one-a of this chapter, the tax imposed by this article may be paid, and rebates provided for in subdivisions one and two of this section shall be allowed without the filing of the claim required by subdivision three of this section, in the manner and upon the filing of the report referred to in paragraph (b) of this subdivision in the case where payment of the tax imposed by this article is made by any member of any securities exchange or any registered dealer who or which is permitted or required pursuant to the provisions of such section two hundred eighty-one-a of this chapter to pay such tax without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article.

(b) On the written report required to be made to or through a securities exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation or to a qualified securities exchange, qualified clearing corporation, authorized agency or the tax commission by each such member or dealer under such section two hundred eighty-one-a, there shall also be shown the amount of the rebate of tax shown to be due thereon, which would be allowable by this section if the full amount of tax is paid with such report. The net amount required to be paid for the account of the tax commission to or through such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation or to such authorized agency and remitted to the tax commission pursuant to such section or such amount required to be paid to the tax commission shall be the amount of tax shown to be due on such written report (determined without regard to any rebate allowable under this section) less the amount of any such rebate, subject to the provisions of subdivision eight of this section. Notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred eighty-one-a of this article, on the next-to-the-last business day of the department of taxation and finance in each of the months of September, December, March and June, each such member or dealer shall show on such report the aggregate amount of rebates shown daily on such report for the period of three full months ending on such next-to-the-last business day. On the last business day of each of such months, an amount equal to such aggregate amount shall be paid by such member or dealer for the account of the tax commission to or through such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation or authorized agency and remitted by such exchange, affiliated clearing corporation or authorized agency to the tax commission by separate check or wire transfer. The amount so remitted shall constitute the total amount of rebates provided in subdivisions one and two of this section payable in the manner described in this subdivision, which amount shall be included in the amount required to be paid from the stock transfer tax fund into the stock transfer incentive fund on each such last day pursuant to sections ninety-two-b and ninety-two-i of the state finance law; provided, however, that if such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation, qualified securities exchange, qualified clearing corporation or authorized agency shall determine that the payment by any member or dealer of any tax imposed by this article will be jeopardized by delay, it shall forthwith notify the tax commission of such condition, or if the tax commission believes that the collection of any tax will be jeopardized by delay, it may determine the amount of such tax and assess the same against any such member or dealer prior to the filing of his report and prior to the date when his report is required to be made to an exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation, qualified securities exchange, qualified clearing corporation or authorized agency. The amount so determined shall become due and payable to the tax commission by the member or dealer against whom such a jeopardy assessment is made, as soon as notice thereof is given to him personally or by registered or certified mail. The provisions of section two hundred seventy-nine-a shall apply to any such determination except to the extent that they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this subdivision. The tax commission may abate any jeopardy assessment if it finds that jeopardy does not exist. The collection of any jeopardy assessment may be stayed by filing with the tax commission a bond issued by a surety company authorized to transact business in this state and approved by the superintendent of financial services as to solvency and responsibility, conditioned upon payment of the amount assessed, or any lesser amount to which such assessment may be reduced by the tax commission or by a proceeding under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules as provided in section two hundred seventy-nine-a of this chapter such payment to be made when the assessment or any such reduction thereof shall have become final and not subject to further review. If such a bond is filed and thereafter a proceeding under article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules is commenced as provided in section two hundred seventy-nine-a, deposit of the taxes assessed shall not be required as a condition precedent to the commencement of such proceeding. Where a jeopardy assessment is made, any property seized for the collection of the tax shall not be sold (i) until expiration of the time to apply for a hearing as provided in such section, and (ii) if such application is timely filed, until the expiration of ninety days after the tax commission mailed notice of its determination to the person against whom the assessment is made; provided, however, such property may be sold at any time if such person has failed to attend a hearing of which he has been duly notified, or if he consents to the sale, or if the tax commission determines that the expenses of conservation and maintenance will greatly reduce the net proceeds, or if the property is perishable. The amount of any and all rebates of the tax imposed by this article paid pursuant to this paragraph shall be credited or caused to be credited by such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation, qualified securities exchange, qualified clearing corporation or authorized agency to or for the benefit of the taxpayer incurring liability for such tax.

(c) If a rebate is paid in the manner provided in this subdivision, no further rebate shall be allowable but any stock transfer tax paid to a member or dealer by a taxpayer otherwise entitled to rebate under this section shall be paid by such member or dealer to the taxpayer.

(d) The amounts of the rebates provided for under subdivisions one and two of this section paid in the manner provided in this subdivision shall be shown separately on all reports prescribed by the tax commission under such section and shall be evidenced by such certification as the tax commission may prescribe.

(e) The tax commission may require any such member or registered dealer to file with the department of taxation and finance a bond issued by a surety company approved by the superintendent of financial services as to solvency and responsibility and authorized to transact business in the state, in such amount as the tax commission may fix, to secure the payment of any taxes due from such member or dealer pursuant to section two hundred eighty-one-a. The tax commission may require that such a bond be filed before any tax due under this article from any such member or dealer may be reported and paid under the provisions of this subdivision, or at any time when in its judgment the same is necessary as a protection to the revenues under this article. In lieu of such bond, such member or dealer may deposit securities approved by the tax commission, in such amount as it may prescribe, which securities shall be kept in the joint custody of the comptroller and the commissioner of taxation and finance and may be sold by the tax commission if it becomes necessary so to do in order to recover any sums due from such person pursuant to this article; but no such sale shall be held until after such person shall have had opportunity to litigate the validity of any tax if it elects so to do. Upon any such sale, the surplus, if any, above the sums due under this article, shall be returned to such member or dealer.

7. If the commissioner of taxation and finance makes the determination that rebates payable exceed moneys available in the stock transfer incentive fund for paying such rebates and if any member or dealer shall advance and pay the amount of tax, imposed by this article without taking account of rebates, either for himself or for which any other taxpayer is entitled to claim a rebate pursuant to the provisions of subdivision six of this section, such member or dealer shall be entitled to a rebate for the amount of such tax advanced and paid by him on behalf of such other taxpayer in the amount of the rebate allowable to such taxpayer and in the amount of the rebate allowable to himself whenever such commissioner determines that sufficient funds are available in the stock transfer incentive fund for paying such rebate.

8. The amount of any erroneous or excessive rebate paid or allowed under this section may be determined by the state tax commission and may be recovered from such claimant in the same manner as a tax imposed under this article, provided, however, that any such determination shall be made within five years after the date of such erroneous or excessive rebate.

9. Any taxpayer, broker or dealer who or which files or causes to be filed any claim for or report of rebate permitted or required under this article which is willfully false shall be guilty of a felony.

10. If any part of any claim for or report of rebate of stock transfer tax is false or fraudulent, any person who files such claim or makes such report shall, in addition to any other penalties provided by this article, be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars for each and every violation. The state tax commission may determine the amount of any such penalty to be due from any such person in the same manner as the tax imposed by this article, provided, however, that any such determination shall be made at any time.

11. The state tax commission shall make rules and regulations and issue instructions to effectuate the purposes of this section and to provide for payments to and from and administration of the stock transfer tax fund and the stock transfer incentive fund and shall have all the rights and powers as set forth in section two hundred seventy-six of this article to examine transactions and require records to be kept and declarations and certifications to be made and kept as may be required for such purposes. If any member or dealer described in subdivision six of this section shall violate any provision of this section or any reasonable rule, regulation or instruction made or issued pursuant thereto, such member or dealer may upon notice thereof thereafter be denied rebates by the state tax commission in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by such commission. Provided, that nothing herein shall limit the right to file a claim for rebate under this section.

12. For the purposes of this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) A "nonresident" shall mean an individual or group of individuals jointly owning securities (but including partnerships only if organized and operating solely for the purpose of investing in securities) selling or trading or delivering or transferring on his or their own account, who is not, or no one of whom is, a resident.

(b) A "resident" means an individual who on the day upon which the tax imposed by section two hundred seventy of this chapter accrues,

(1) regardless of where he resides or is domiciled, (i) is a member of a securities exchange within this state which is registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States; (ii) is a dealer in securities required to be registered with the attorney general of the state of New York; (iii) acts as a dealer in securities or as a broker or agent in transactions concerned with the sale, purchase, delivery or transfer of securities; or (iv) is a member of or a person employed in a managerial capacity by a firm, company, association or organization, or an officer or director of or a person employed in a managerial capacity by a corporation, which is a member organization of a securities exchange, a dealer in securities, or a dealer, broker or agent, described in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph, or

(2) is domiciled in this state, unless on such day he maintained no permanent place of abode in this state, maintained a permanent place of abode elsewhere and during the one year period ending on such day spent in the aggregate, not more than thirty days of such period in this state, or

(3) is not domiciled in this state, but on such day maintained in this state, a permanent place of abode unless such abode is due solely to such individual's being in the armed forces of the United States, or

(4) regardless of where he resides, maintains a permanent place of business within this state or is employed within this state.

(c) No transaction shall be deemed to be a nonresident transaction and entitled to the rebate payable or allowable in subdivision two unless

(1) the papers or documents upon or to which are required to be placed or affixed the stamps required by subdivision four of section two hundred seventy of this chapter, to denote the payment of the proper amount of the tax imposed by such section to the state tax commission, have also affixed thereto or placed thereon a declaration in the form prescribed by the tax commission signed by the person making the sale or transfer, setting forth facts to show that the transaction is made by a nonresident; or (2) in the case of transactions executed or effected within this state (or transactions executed or effected outside this state but subject to the tax imposed by this article) by any member or member organization of any securities exchange located within this state or of any qualified securities exchange which is registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States (hereinafter in this section referred to as a "member of a securities exchange") or by any person, firm, corporation, company or association required to be registered with the attorney general of the state of New York as a dealer in securities other than upon any such exchange (hereinafter in this section referred to as a "registered dealer"), who is permitted or required pursuant to any rules and regulations promulgated by the tax commission pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-one-a of this chapter, to pay the tax imposed by this article without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article, the transaction is certified, in such form as the tax commission may prescribe, in the report required to be made to or through such exchange located within this state, or its affiliated clearing corporation or to a qualified securities exchange, qualified clearing corporation or any authorized agency by rules and regulations promulgated by the tax commission pursuant to section two hundred eighty-one-a of this chapter, as being a transaction by a nonresident. The certification in such report may be made by such member of a securities exchange or registered dealer if he either (i) has obtained from such nonresident a declaration in the form prescribed by the tax commission, or (ii) has met requirements set forth in rules and regulations promulgated by the tax commission establishing that the transaction is made by a nonresident and (iii) has not, on or after the date of obtaining such declaration or its delivery and filing, received from such nonresident either a notice of cancellation, in the form prescribed in clause (iii) of subparagraph two of paragraph (d) of this subdivision, or has no knowledge or reasonable grounds to believe that the status of such nonresident as a nonresident has changed.

(d) (1) Any person who shall knowingly make any false statement in a declaration provided for by paragraph (c) of this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or be subject to both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(2) Any person who--

(i) having executed, filed with and delivered to a member of a securities exchange or a registered dealer a declaration provided for by paragraph (c) of this subdivision;

(ii) thereafter ceases knowingly to be a nonresident;

(iii) fails to execute, file and deliver a notice of cancellation of such declaration, with and to such member or dealer; and

(iv) after ceasing to be such a nonresident and prior to the execution, filing and delivery of such notice of cancellation, with intent to cause a rebate to be made from the stock transfer incentive fund in excess of the rebate allowable to residents under subdivision one of this section, places and allows to be executed an order with such member or dealer where the sale, agreement to sell, memorandum of sale, delivery or transfer of any shares or certificates described in section two hundred seventy of this chapter is subject to the taxes imposed by this chapter; shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than one year, or be subject to both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) The term "market making transaction" shall mean any transaction involving a sale (including a short sale) by a dealer of shares or certificates subject to the tax imposed by this article, provided such shares or certificates are sold:

(1) as stock in trade or inventory or as property held for sale in the ordinary course of such dealer's trade or business (including transfers which are part of an underwriting),

(2) in (i) a bona fide arbitrage transaction; (ii) a bona fide hedge transaction involving a long or short position in any equity security and a long or short position in a security entitling the holder to acquire or sell such equity security; or (iii) a risk arbitrage transaction in connection with a merger, acquisition, tender offer, recapitalization, reorganization, or similar transaction, or

(3) to offset a transaction made in error.

Provided, however, that, except as to clause (iii) of subparagraph two of this paragraph, the term "market making transaction" shall not include any sale of shares or certificates identified in such dealer's records as a security held for investment within the meaning of section twelve hundred thirty-six of the internal revenue code.

13. The state tax commission may provide that where a declaration has been executed, filed and delivered to a member of a securities exchange or a registered dealer under subdivision one of section two hundred seventy-a of this article and kept by such member or dealer pursuant to rules, regulations and instructions of the state tax commission, such declaration shall constitute the declaration of the nonresident under subdivision twelve of this section.

14. Where there has been a determination of the maximum amount of tax on a single qualifying sale under section two hundred seventy-e of this chapter, the foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to such a single qualifying sale until October first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine and thereafter, provided, however, for the period beginning October first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine and ending September thirtieth, nineteen hundred eighty, the portion of the maximum amount of tax to be rebated on such single qualifying sale shall not exceed thirty percent.

15. (a) For the purpose of allowing the rebate authorized by this section to a taxpayer, other than a taxpayer regarding which subdivision six of this section is applicable, any person liable for the tax imposed by this article who or which purchases stamps issued to denote the payment of the tax imposed by this article or any agent of a taxpayer who purchases such stamps, provided such purchase was made from a fiscal agent appointed for the sale of such stamps, may claim the rebate authorized by subdivision one of this section by filing a claim in such form and containing such information as the state tax commission, by rule, regulation or instruction shall prescribe, but all such claims under this subdivision shall be presented within two years after the purchase of such stamps, provided, however, all such claims must be accompanied by the receipt for the purchase of stamps in the form approved by the tax commission. The tax commission, if satisfied that the moneys from the purchase of such stamps have been paid from the stock transfer tax fund into the stock transfer incentive fund, shall rebate the same to the person or agent who or which purchased such stamps from such fund. All of the other provisions of this section regarding rebates shall apply to the method of rebate of tax provided for by this subdivision in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of such provisions had been incorporated in full into this subdivision and had expressly referred to the claim for rebate of tax provided for by this subdivision, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to this subdivision.

(b) If a rebate is paid in the manner provided in this subdivision, no further rebate shall be allowable under this section but any stock transfer tax paid by a taxpayer otherwise entitled to rebate under this section shall be paid to such taxpayer by the claimant under this subdivision.

(c) If a rebate is paid in the manner provided by this subdivision, any refund or redemption allowable by this article shall be reduced by the amount of rebate allowed and paid pursuant to this subdivision, any other provision of this article to the contrary notwithstanding.

(d) The state tax commission shall have all the rights and powers as set forth in section two hundred seventy-six of this article to examine transactions and require records to be kept by claimant under this subdivision as if such claimant was a person required to comply with the provisions of such section two hundred seventy-six.

(e) If any person liable for the tax or any agent of the taxpayer shall violate any provision of this subdivision or any reasonable rule, regulation or instruction made or issued pursuant thereto, such person or agent may upon notice thereof thereafter be denied rebates under this subdivision by the state tax commission in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by such commission. Provided, that nothing herein shall limit the right to file a claim for rebate under subdivision three of this section.

(f) If the commissioner of taxation and finance makes the determination that rebates payable exceed moneys available in the stock transfer incentive fund for paying such rebates and if any person liable for the tax imposed by this article or any agent of the taxpayer shall have purchased stamps to pay the amount of tax imposed by this article without charging the taxpayer or principal for the amount of the rebatable portion of the cost of such stamps allowable to such taxpayer or principal at the time of purchase of such stamps, such person liable for the tax or such agent shall be entitled to a rebate for such rebatable portion of such tax advanced and paid by him on behalf of such other taxpayer in the amount of the rebate allowable to such taxpayer and in the amount of any rebate allowable to himself whenever such commissioner determines that sufficient funds are available in the stock transfer incentive fund for paying such rebate.

§ 281. Statute of limitations not applicable. The provisions of the civil practice law and rules relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, determine or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, provided, however, that no such proceeding or action shall be commenced after the expiration of ten years after a tax became due or a penalty incurred, except that such proceeding or action may be commenced at any time if the failure to pay the tax or penalty was with intent, in any manner, to defeat or evade the same.

§ 281-a. Alternative method of collection. 1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this article, the tax commission may by rules, regulations or instructions provide that the taxes imposed by this article on any sale, delivery or transfer executed or effected within this state by any member of any securities exchange located within this state which is registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States or by any member of a qualified securities exchange shall be paid to or through such exchange located within this state or in the discretion of the tax commission to or through its affiliated clearing corporation by the person, firm, company or association executing or effecting the sale, delivery or transfer, without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article; provided that if such taxes are paid through such exchange located within this state or through an affiliated clearing corporation, payment by any member of a qualified securities exchange shall be made to a qualified securities exchange or a qualified clearing corporation which has agreed to abide by the rules, regulations and instructions of the state tax commission and which the commission has authorized to accept payment and any such qualified securities exchange or qualified clearing corporation shall pay such taxes to such exchange located within this state or its affiliated clearing corporation. The taxes imposed by this article on any sale or transfer executed or effected within this state by any person, firm, corporation, company or association required to be registered with the attorney general of the state of New York as a dealer in securities, other than upon any such exchange, may also be paid without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article, under such rules and regulations as the tax commission may prescribe, to any agency duly authorized by the tax commission or to the tax commission, by the person, firm, company, corporation or association executing or effecting such sale or transfer without the use of the stamps prescribed by this article. In such event, a written report shall be made to such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation, authorized agency or the tax commission for each business day or such period as the tax commission may prescribe, by each such person, corporation, firm, company or association showing the amount of tax payable on all transactions taxable under this article and such other reasonable information as the tax commission may prescribe, provided, however, that if such taxes are paid through such exchange located within this state or its affiliated clearing corporation by a member of a qualified securities exchange, such written report shall be made to the qualified securities exchange or qualified clearing corporation, and such qualified securities exchange or qualified clearing corporation shall render a report to such exchange located within this state or its affiliated clearing corporation through which such taxes are paid showing the amount of tax payable on all transactions taxable under this article and such other reasonable information as the tax commission may prescribe. Such reports shall be preserved for such period as the tax commission may prescribe. At the time of making such reports, the amount of tax shown to be due thereon shall be paid to the tax commission or for the account of the tax commission to or through such exchange located within this state, affiliated clearing corporation or authorized agency and shall be remitted daily, unless otherwise prescribed by the tax commission, by such exchange, affiliated clearing corporation or authorized agency to the tax commission together with a report in such form as may be prescribed by the tax commission. The payment of the tax to or through an exchange, affiliated clearing corporation, authorized agency or the tax commission on each transaction as hereinbefore provided shall be evidenced by a certification in such form and manner as the tax commission may prescribe. In the event that collection of the tax is prescribed without the use of stamps as hereinbefore provided, all of the provisions of this article not inconsistent with this section shall apply.

2. For the purposes of this article the following terms shall have the following meanings: (a) An "affiliated clearing corporation" shall, if it has a place of business in this state, include a clearing corporation as defined in section 8--102 of the uniform commercial code and a clearing corporation affiliated with a national securities exchange or association registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States, and the persons, firms, corporations, companies or associations by whom taxes may be paid without the use of stamps may, in the discretion of the tax commission, include depositors in the system maintained by such clearing corporation.

(b) A "qualified securities exchange" shall include any securities exchange located outside this state or any national securities association which is registered with the securities and exchange commission of the United States and which is a participant in an intermarket linkage system in which one or more national securities exchanges located within this state is a participant of such system.

(c) A "qualified clearing corporation" shall include a clearing corporation as defined in section 8--102 of the uniform commercial code which is affiliated with a qualified securities exchange.

ARTICLE 12-A

TAX ON GASOLINE AND SIMILAR MOTOR FUEL

Section 282. Definitions.

- 282-a. Imposition of excise tax on Diesel motor fuel.
- 282-b. Additional Diesel motor fuel tax.
- 282-c. Supplemental Diesel motor fuel tax.
- 283. Registration of distributors.
- 283-a. Licensing of importing transporters.
- 283-b. Licensing of terminal operators.
- 283-c. Liquefied petroleum gas fuel permit.
- 283-d. Registration of wholesalers of motor fuel.
- 284. Tax imposed.
- 284-a. Additional motor fuel tax.
- 284-c. Supplemental motor fuel tax.
- 284-d. Petroleum testing fee.
- 284-e. Taxes imposed on qualified reservations.
- 285. Special provisions as to imposition of tax on certain motor fuel.
- 285-a. Presumption of taxability.
- 285-b. Presumption of taxability--Diesel motor fuel.
- 286. Records to be kept by distributors and others.
- 286-a. Records and reports of transportation of motor fuel and diesel motor fuel.
- 286-b. Transportation of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel; manifest required.
- 287. Payment of tax; returns.
- 288. Determination of tax.
- 288-a. Jeopardy assessments.
- 289. Proceedings to recover tax.
- 289-a. Tax to be paid but once; foreign and interstate commerce; injunction.
- 289-b. Penalties and interest.
- 289-c. Refunds.
- 289-d. Mailing rules; holidays.
- 289-e. Deposit and disposition of revenue.
- 289-f. Joint administration of taxes.

§ 282. Definitions. As used in this article, 1. a. With respect to motor fuel, "distributor" means any person, firm, association or corporation, who or which imports or causes to be imported into the state, for use, distribution, storage or sale within the state, any motor fuel; and also any person, firm, association or corporation who or which produces, refines, manufactures or compounds motor fuel within the state.

b. With respect to Diesel motor fuel, "distributor" means any person, firm, association or corporation (i) who or which imports or causes to be imported into the state, for use, distribution, storage or sale within the state, any Diesel motor fuel; (ii) who or which produces, refines, manufactures or compounds Diesel motor fuel within the state; (iii) who or which makes a sale or use of Diesel motor fuel in this state other than: (A) a retail sale not in bulk or (B) the self-use of Diesel motor fuel which has been the subject of a retail sale to such person; (iv) who or which is registered by the department as a distributor of kero-jet fuel pursuant to the provisions of subdivision two of section two hundred eighty-two-a of this article. For the purposes of this article when used with respect to Diesel motor fuel, a "retail sale not in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of Diesel motor fuel to a consumer of such fuel which is delivered directly into a motor vehicle for use in the operation of such vehicle. A "retail sale in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of Diesel motor fuel to a consumer which is other than a "retail sale not in bulk". Motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel brought into the state in the ordinary fuel tank connecting with the engine of a motor vehicle, aeroplane, motor boat or other conveyance propelled by the use of such motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel, and to be used only in the operation thereof, shall not be deemed imported within the meaning of this article, if not removed from such tank except as used in the propulsion of such engine.

2. "Motor fuel" means gasoline, benzol, reformulated blend stock for oxygenate blending, conventional blend stock for oxygenate blending, E85, fuel grade ethanol that meets the ASTM International active standards specifications D4806 or D4814 or other product which is suitable for use in operation of a motor vehicle engine.

3. "Motor vehicle" means any vehicle propelled by any power other than muscular, except boats, road building machinery, power shovels, tractor cranes, tractors used exclusively for agricultural purposes and such vehicles as are run only on rails or tracks.

4. "Purchaser" shall include, in addition to its usual meaning, the distributor in the case of transfer of motor fuel by a distributor from his, their or its stock, into a motor vehicle, or into a container from which motor fuel is supplied by the distributor to a motor vehicle or vehicles of the distributor or of others.

5. "Sale" shall include, in addition to its meaning under article twenty-eight of this chapter, the transfer of fuel by a distributor into a motor vehicle or into a receptacle from which fuel is supplied by him or it to his or its own or other motor vehicles.

6. "Filling station" shall include any place, location or station where motor fuel, highway Diesel motor fuel or water-white kerosene (exclusively for heating purposes in containers of no more than twenty gallons), is offered for sale at retail.

7. "Owner" shall include any person offering motor fuel for sale at retail.

8. "Person" includes an individual, copartnership, limited liability company, society, association, corporation, joint stock company, and any combination of individuals and also an executor, administrator, receiver, trustee or other fiduciary.

9. "Omnibus carrier" shall mean every person engaged in operating an omnibus line subject to the supervision of the state department of public service under article three-a of the public service law, including every person operating omnibuses used for the transportation of school children under a contract made pursuant to the provisions of the education law.

10. "Taxicab licensee" shall mean every corporation, company, association, partnership and person engaged in operating a taxicab, as defined in section one hundred forty-eight-a of the vehicle and traffic law, and licensed by local authorities as defined in section one hundred twenty-two of such law to operate at a fixed rate of fare.

11. "Nonpublic school operator" shall mean any nonpublic elementary or secondary school which owns or leases and operates any vehicle solely and exclusively for its purposes.

12. "Transporter" means any person who or which has the use or control, or the right to the use or control of any means of transportation used in transporting motor fuel including a barge, truck or pipeline. "Importing transporter" means any transporter who or which transports motor fuel in the state where such motor fuel is being imported into the state for use, distribution, storage or sale in the state. "Exporting transporter" means any transporter who or which transports motor fuel in this state where such motor fuel is being exported from a point in this state to without this state.

13. "Terminal" means a motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel storage facility with a storage capacity of fifty thousand gallons or more excluding such facility at which motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel is stored solely for its retail sale at such facility. "Terminal operator" means any person who or which has the use of or control over, or the right to so use or control, a terminal.

14. "Diesel motor fuel" shall mean No. 1 Diesel fuel, No. 2 Diesel fuel, biodiesel, kerosene, fuel oil or other middle distillate and also motor fuel suitable for use in the operation of an engine of the diesel type, excluding, however, any product specifically designated "No. 4 Diesel fuel" and not suitable as a fuel used in the operation of a motor vehicle engine.

16. "Non-highway Diesel motor fuel" means any Diesel motor fuel that is designated for use other than on a public highway (except for the use of the public highway by farmers to reach adjacent lands), and is dyed Diesel motor fuel as defined in subdivision eighteen-a of this section.

16-a. "Highway Diesel motor fuel" means any Diesel motor fuel which is not non-highway Diesel motor fuel.

17. "Fixed base operator" means any person, firm, association or corporation, who or which engages in the sale of kero-jet fuel or aviation gasoline, or both, for airplanes from a fixed and permanent place at an airport within the state.

18. "Indian nation or tribe" means one of the following New York state Indian nations or tribes: Cayuga Nation, Oneida Nation of New York, Onondaga Nation, Poospatuck or Unkechauge Nation, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, Seneca Nation of Indians, Shinnecock Indian Nation, Tonawanda Band of Seneca and Tuscarora Nation.

18-a. "Dyed Diesel motor fuel" means Diesel motor fuel which has been dyed in accordance with and for the purpose of complying with the provisions of 26 USC §4082(a) and the regulations thereunder, as may be amended from time to time.

19. "Qualified Indian" means a person duly enrolled on the tribal rolls of one of the Indian nations or tribes. In the case of the Cayuga Indian Nation of New York, such term shall include enrolled members of such nation when such enrolled members purchase motor fuel on any Seneca reservation.

20. "Qualified reservation" means (a) lands held by an Indian nation or tribe that is located within the reservation of that nation or tribe in the state;

(b) lands within the state over which an Indian nation or tribe exercises governmental power and that are either (i) held by the Indian nation or tribe subject to restrictions by the United States against alienation, or (ii) held in trust by the United States for the benefit of such Indian nation or tribe;

(c) lands held by the Shinnecock Tribe or the Poospatuck (Unkechauge) Nation within their respective reservations; or

(d) any land that falls within paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision, and which may be sold and replaced with other land in accordance with an Indian nation's or tribe's land claims settlement agreement with the state of New York, shall nevertheless be deemed to be subject to restriction by the United States against alienation.

21. "Reservation motor fuel seller" means a seller of motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel which is an Indian nation or tribe, one or more members of such tribe, or an entity wholly owned by either or both, which sells motor fuel within the boundaries of a qualified reservation.

* 22. "E85" means a fuel blend consisting of ethanol and motor fuel, which meets the ASTM International active standard D5798 for fuel ethanol.

* NB Repealed September 1, 2031

* 23. "B20" means a mixture consisting by volume of twenty percent biodiesel and the remainder of which is diesel motor fuel. "Biodiesel" shall mean either "qualified biodiesel" or "unqualified biodiesel." "Qualified biodiesel" means a diesel motor fuel substitute produced from nonpetroleum renewable resources that meets the registration requirements for fuels and fuel additives established by the Environmental Protection Agency under section 211 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7545) and that meets the ASTM International active standard D6751 for biodiesel fuel. "Unqualified biodiesel" means a diesel motor fuel substitute produced from nonpetroleum renewable resources that does not meet the ASTM International active standard D6751 for biodiesel fuel.

* NB Repealed September 1, 2031

* 24. "CNG" means fuel comprised primarily of methane, stored in either a gaseous or liquid state, suitable for use and consumption in the engine of a motor vehicle.

* NB Repealed September 1, 2031

* 25. "Hydrogen" means fuel comprised primarily of molecular hydrogen, stored in either a gaseous or liquid state, suitable for use and consumption in the engine of a motor vehicle.

* NB Repealed September 1, 2031

26. "Public highway" means public highway as defined in subdivision six of section five hundred one of this chapter.

27. "Wholesaler of motor fuel" means any person, firm, association or corporation who or which: (1) is not a distributor of motor fuel; (2) makes a sale of motor fuel in this state other than a retail sale not in bulk; and (3)(A) makes any purchases of motor fuel for resale within the region set forth in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter; or (B) makes any sales of motor fuel, other than retail sales not in bulk, within the region set forth in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter. For the purposes of this article when used with respect to motor fuel, a "retail sale not in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of motor fuel to a consumer of such fuel which is delivered directly into a motor vehicle for use in the operation of such vehicle. A "retail sale in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of motor fuel to a consumer which is other than a "retail sale not in bulk".

§ 282-a. Imposition of excise tax on Diesel motor fuel. 1. There is hereby levied and imposed with respect to Diesel motor fuel an excise tax of four cents per gallon upon the sale or use of Diesel motor fuel in this state.

The excise tax is imposed on the first sale or use of Diesel motor fuel to occur which is not exempt from tax under this article. Provided, however, if the tax has not been imposed prior thereto, it shall be imposed on the removal of highway Diesel motor fuel from a terminal, other than by pipeline, barge, tanker or other vessel, or the delivery of Diesel motor fuel to a filling station or into the fuel tank connecting with the engine of a motor vehicle for use in the operation thereof whichever event shall be first to occur. The tax shall be computed based upon the number of gallons of Diesel motor fuel sold, removed or used or the number of gallons of Diesel fuel delivered into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle, as the case may be. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require the payment of such excise tax more than once upon the same Diesel motor fuel. Nor shall the collection of such tax be made applicable to the sale or use of Diesel motor fuel under circumstances which preclude the collection of such tax by reason of the United States constitution and of laws of the United States enacted pursuant thereto. Provided, further, no Diesel motor fuel shall be included in the measure of the tax unless it shall have previously come to rest within the meaning of federal decisional law interpreting the United States constitution. All tax for the period for which a return is required to be filed shall be due on the date limited for the filing of the return for such period, regardless of whether a return is filed as required by this article or whether the return which is filed correctly shows the amount of tax due.

2. No person shall sell or use Diesel motor fuel within this state (other than a retail sale not in bulk or self-use of Diesel motor fuel which has been the subject of a retail sale), import or cause the importation of Diesel motor fuel into the state or produce, refine, manufacture or compound Diesel motor fuel within the state unless such person shall be registered by the department as a distributor of Diesel motor fuel. Provided, the commissioner shall not register as a distributor of Diesel motor fuel any person who is engaged solely in one or both of the following: (i) any person who makes or offers to make a retail sale not in bulk of such fuel or (ii) any person who purchases Diesel motor fuel in bulk in this state for the sole purpose of self-use. The commissioner may, however, register as a distributor of kero-jet fuel only a fixed base operator who makes no sales of kero-jet fuel other than retail sales not in bulk delivered directly into the fuel tank of an airplane for use in the operation of such airplane and who makes no other sales of diesel motor fuel. Such registration shall apply only to the wholesale purchase of kero-jet fuel and the retail sale of such fuel not in bulk for delivery directly into the fuel tank of an airplane for use in the operation thereof. Provided, further, that if the commissioner is satisfied that full registration is not necessary in order to protect tax revenues, the commissioner may limit or modify the requirement of registration as a distributor with respect to any person otherwise required to register solely because such person engages in the sale of non-highway Diesel motor fuel where such person makes sales of non-highway Diesel motor fuel to the consumer solely for the purposes described in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of subdivision three of this section, provided that if the commissioner so limits or modifies such registration requirement with respect to such person, then such registration shall apply only to the importation, sale and distribution of such non-highway Diesel motor fuel. The commissioner may also waive any other requirement imposed by this article on such a distributor. All the provisions of section two hundred eighty-three of this article shall apply to applicants for registration and registrants with respect to Diesel motor fuel, and, in addition, distributors with respect to Diesel motor fuel shall be subject to all other provisions of this article relating to distributors of motor fuel, including but not limited to, the keeping of records, the fixing, determination and payment of tax and filing of returns. Provided, further, the commissioner may limit or modify the requirement of registration as a distributor with respect to any person who produces for self use "unqualified biodiesel."

3. (a) The tax imposed by this section shall not apply to the sale of untaxed Diesel motor fuel to or the use of such fuel by an organization described in paragraph one or two of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter where such Diesel motor fuel is used by such organization for its own use or consumption.

(b) The tax on the incidence of sale or use imposed by subdivision one of this section shall not apply to: (i) the sale or use of non-highway Diesel motor fuel, but only if all of such fuel is consumed other than on the public highways of this state (except for the use of the public highway by farmers to reach adjacent farmlands); provided, however, this exemption shall in no event apply to a sale of non-highway Diesel motor fuel which involves a delivery at a filling station or into a repository which is equipped with a hose or other apparatus by which such fuel can be dispensed into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle (except for delivery at a farm site which qualifies for the exemption under subdivision (g) of section three hundred one-b of this chapter); or (ii) a sale to the consumer consisting of not more than twenty gallons of water-white kerosene to be used and consumed exclusively for heating purposes; or (iii) the sale to or delivery at a filling station or other retail vendor of water-white kerosene provided such filling station or other retail vendor only sells such water-white kerosene exclusively for heating purposes in containers of no more than twenty gallons; or (iv) a sale of kero-jet fuel to an airline for use in its airplanes or a use of kero-jet fuel by an airline in its airplanes; or (v) a sale of kero-jet fuel by a registered distributor of Diesel motor fuel to a fixed base operator registered under this article as a distributor of kero-jet fuel only where such fixed base operator is engaged solely in making or offering to make retail sales not in bulk of kero-jet fuel directly into the fuel tank of an airplane for the purpose of operating such airplane; or (vi) a retail sale not in bulk of kero-jet fuel by a fixed base operator registered under this article as a distributor of kero-jet fuel only where such fuel is delivered directly into the fuel tank of an airplane for use in the operation of such airplane; or (vii) the sale of previously untaxed qualified biodiesel to a person registered under this article as a distributor of Diesel motor fuel other than (A) a retail sale to such person or (B) a sale to such person which involves a delivery at a filling station or into a repository which is equipped with a hose or other apparatus by which such qualified biodiesel can be dispensed into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle; or (viii) the sale of previously untaxed highway Diesel motor fuel by a person registered under this article as a distributor of Diesel motor fuel to a person registered under this article as a distributor of Diesel motor fuel where the highway Diesel motor fuel is either: (A) being delivered by pipeline, railcar, barge, tanker or other vessel to a terminal, the operator of which terminal is registered under section two hundred eighty-three-b of this article, or (B) within such a terminal where it has been so delivered. Provided, however, that the exemption set forth in this subparagraph shall not apply to any highway Diesel motor fuel if it is removed from a terminal, other than by pipeline, barge, tanker or other vessel.

(c) Nothing in this article shall exempt non-highway diesel motor fuel from the imposition of the tax under this section, if such non-highway diesel motor fuel is intended for use on the waterways of the state including any other waterways bordering on the state, for operating pleasure or recreational motor boats thereon.

4. The tax imposed by this section on Diesel motor fuel shall be passed through by the seller and included as part of the selling price to each purchaser of such fuel. Provided, however, the amount of the tax imposed by this section may be excluded from the selling price of Diesel motor fuel where (i) a sale of Diesel motor fuel is made to an organization described in paragraph (a) of subdivision three of this section solely for the purpose stated therein; (ii) a sale of non-highway Diesel motor fuel is made to a consumer but only if such non-highway Diesel motor fuel is not delivered to a filling station, nor delivered into a storage tank which is equipped with a hose or other apparatus by which such fuel can be dispensed into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle; or (iii) the sale to or delivery at a filling station or other retail vendor of water-white kerosene provided such filling station or other retail vendor only sells such water-white kerosene exclusively for heating purposes in containers of no more than twenty gallons; or (iv) a sale of kero-jet fuel is made to an airline for use in its airplanes.

5. All the provisions of this article relating to the administration and collection of the taxes on motor fuel, except section two hundred eighty-three-a of this article, shall be applicable to the tax imposed by this section with such limitation as specifically provided for in this article with respect to Diesel motor fuel and with such modification as may be necessary to adapt the language of such provisions to the tax imposed by this section. With respect to the bond or other security required by subdivision three of section two hundred eighty-three of this article, the commissioner, in determining the amount of bond or other security required for the purpose of securing tax payments, shall take into account the volume of non-highway Diesel motor fuel and other Diesel motor fuel sold for exempt purposes by a distributor of Diesel motor fuel during prior periods as a factor reducing potential tax liability along with any other relevant factors in determining the amount of security required. With respect to the bond required to be filed prior to registration as a Diesel motor fuel distributor, no bond shall be required of an applicant upon a finding of the applicant's fiscal responsibility, as reflected by such factors as net worth, current assets and liabilities, and tax reporting and payment history, and the department shall not provide for a minimum bond of every applicant.

§ 282-b. Additional Diesel motor fuel tax. In addition to the tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-two-a of this chapter, a like tax shall be imposed at the rate of three cents per gallon upon sale or use within the state of Diesel motor fuel or upon the delivery of Diesel motor fuel to a filling station or into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle for use in the operation thereof. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all of the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the additional tax imposed by this section to the same extent as if it were imposed by said section two hundred eighty-two-a. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, four and one-sixth per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway reconditioning and preservation fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, four and one-sixth per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway construction and reconstruction fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine-a of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two, an additional eight and one-third per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway reconditioning and preservation fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-two, an additional eight and one-third per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway construction and reconstruction fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine-a of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, two thousand one, seventy-five per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited in the dedicated fund accounts pursuant to subdivision (d) of section three hundred one-j of this chapter. Beginning on April first, two thousand three, all of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited in the dedicated fund accounts pursuant to subdivision (d) of section three hundred one-j of this chapter.

§ 282-c. Supplemental Diesel motor fuel tax. In addition to the taxes imposed by sections two hundred eighty-two-a and two hundred eighty-two-b of this chapter, a like tax shall be imposed at the rate of one cent per gallon upon the sale or use within the state of Diesel motor fuel or upon the delivery of Diesel motor fuel to a filling station or into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle for use in the operation thereof. Except for paragraph (b) of subdivision three of section two hundred eighty-nine-c, all the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the supplemental tax imposed by this section to the same extent as if it were imposed by said section two hundred eighty-two-a. On and after the first day of October, nineteen hundred seventy-two, twenty-five per centum of the monies received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway reconditioning and preservation fund established pursuant to the provisions of section eighty-nine of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred eighty-three, twenty-five per centum of the monies received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway construction and reconstruction fund established pursuant to the provisions of section eighty-nine-a of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety, an additional twelve and one-half per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway reconditioning and preservation fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety, an additional twelve and one-half per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway construction and reconstruction fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine-a of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, an additional twelve and one-half per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency highway reconditioning and preservation fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, nineteen hundred ninety-one, an additional twelve and one-half per centum of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited to the credit of the emergency construction and reconstruction fund reserve account established pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section eighty-nine-a of the state finance law. Beginning on April first, two thousand three, all of the moneys received by the department pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited in the dedicated fund accounts pursuant to subdivision (d) of section three hundred one-j of this chapter.

§ 283. Registration of distributors. 1. The department of taxation and finance, upon the application of a person, shall register such person as a distributor under this article except as provided in subdivisions two and five of this section. The application shall be in a form and contain such data as the department of taxation and finance shall prescribe. No person, unless so registered, shall import or cause any motor fuel to be imported into the state, for use, distribution, storage or sale within the state or shall produce, refine, manufacture or compound motor fuel within the state. No distributor, unless so registered, shall make any sale, transfer, use or other disposition of motor fuel within the state, except a sale, transfer, use or other disposition, if any, as to which the state cannot impose such condition by reason of the United States constitution and of laws of the United States enacted pursuant thereto.

2. Where a person files an application for registration under this section and in considering such application the commissioner ascertains that (a) any tax imposed under this chapter or any related statute as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter has been finally determined to be due from such applicant or from any officer, director or partner of such applicant, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or any shareholder or employee of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, and has not been paid in full, (b) a liability for the penalty provided for under subdivision two of section two hundred eighty-nine-b of this chapter has been finally determined to be due from an officer, director, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, employee or partner of such applicant or a shareholder of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, and has not been paid in full, (c) such applicant has been convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed and prosecuted in this state, would constitute a similar crime under this chapter, within the preceding five years, (d) an officer, director or partner of such applicant, a shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or an employee or shareholder of such applicant who, as such employee or shareholder, is under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, has been convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed and prosecuted in this state, would constitute a similar crime under this chapter, within the preceding five years, or an employee of such applicant was, in his capacity as a person under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of any person, convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed and prosecuted in this state, would constitute a similar crime under this chapter, within the preceding five years, (e) such applicant, or an officer, director or partner of such applicant, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or employee or shareholder of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or to pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, who was an officer, director or partner of another person, or who directly or indirectly owned more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of another person (where such other person is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or who was an employee or shareholder of another person under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such other person at the time any tax imposed under this chapter or any related statute as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter was finally determined to be due, from such other person and where such tax has not been paid in full, or at the time such other person was convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed and prosecuted in this state, would constitute a similar crime under this chapter, within the preceding five years, or at the time the registration of such other person was cancelled or suspended pursuant to subdivision four of this section within the preceding five years, or at the time such other person committed any of the acts or omissions which are, or was convicted as, specified in subdivision four of this section within the preceding five years, provided, however, where an applicant or such officer, director, partner, shareholder or employee of such applicant was only an employee of another person, the applicable examination of tax payment history of such other person shall be limited to the taxes imposed by this article or by or pursuant to article twenty-eight or twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to motor fuel and the applicable examination of prior criminal convictions shall be limited to those which relate to motor fuel, (f) the registration of such applicant or of an officer, director or partner of such applicant, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or employee or shareholder of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or to pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant has been cancelled or suspended pursuant to subdivision four of this section within the preceding five years, or (g) the applicant, an officer, director or partner of the applicant, a shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or an employee or shareholder of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or to pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of the applicant, has committed any of the acts or omissions which are, or was convicted as, specified in subdivision four of this section within the preceding five years, the commissioner may refuse to register such applicant.

3. The tax commission shall require a distributor to file with the department of taxation and finance a bond issued by a surety company approved by the superintendent of financial services as to solvency and responsibility and authorized to transact business in this state or other security acceptable to the tax commission, in such amount as the tax commission may fix, in an amount determined in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by it, to secure the payment of any sums due from such distributor (i) pursuant to this article and (ii) pursuant to articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to sales and uses of motor fuel. The tax commission shall require that such a bond or other security be filed before a distributor is registered, and the amount thereof may be increased at any time when in its judgment the same is necessary as a protection to the revenues under this article and articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter. If securities are deposited as security under this subdivision, such securities shall be kept in the joint custody of the comptroller and the commissioner of taxation and finance and may be sold by the tax commission if it becomes necessary so to do in order to recover any sums due from such distributor (i) pursuant to this article and (ii) pursuant to articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to sales and uses of motor fuel, but no such sale shall be had until after such distributor shall have had opportunity to litigate the validity of any tax if it elects so to do. Upon any such sale the surplus, if any, above the sums due (i) under this article and (ii) pursuant to articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to sales and uses of motor fuel shall be returned to such distributor. The department, when authorized by the distributor, shall furnish information regarding the distributor's registration and any other information which the distributor authorizes it to disclose.

4. The registration of any distributor may be cancelled or suspended by the commissioner where a registrant, or an officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner of the registrant who as such officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner is under a duty to act for such registrant or any shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of the registrant (where such registrant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees of such registrant, fails to file a bond or other security when required or when the amount thereof is increased, or fails to continue to maintain in full force and effect at all times the required bond or other security filed with the commissioner, or fails to comply with any of the provisions of this article or article twenty-eight of this chapter with respect to motor fuel or any rule or regulation adopted pursuant to this article or article twenty-eight of this chapter with respect to motor fuel by the department of taxation and finance or by the commissioner, or knowingly aids and abets another person in violating any of the provisions of such articles or of any such rule or regulation with respect to motor fuel, or transfers its registration as a distributor without the prior written approval of the commissioner. A registration may also be cancelled or suspended if the commissioner determines that a registrant or an officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner of the registrant who as such officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner is under a duty to act for such registrant or any shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of the registrant (where such registrant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees of such registrant:

(i) commits fraud or deceit in his operations as a distributor or has committed fraud or deceit in procuring his registration;

(ii) has been convicted in a court of competent jurisdiction, either within or without the state, of a felony, within the meaning of subdivision eight of this section, bearing on such distributor's duties and obligations under this chapter;

(iii) has knowingly aided and abetted a person who is not registered as a distributor in the importation, production, refining, manufacture or compounding of motor fuel;

(iv) has impersonated any person represented to be a distributor under this article but not in fact registered under this section; or

(v) has knowingly aided and abetted the distribution of motor fuel imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured or compounded by a distributor who is not registered by the department of taxation and finance.

A registration may also be cancelled or suspended if the commissioner determines that a registrant or an officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner of the registrant who as such officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner is under a duty to act for such registrant or any shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of the registrant (where such registrant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees of such registrant, was an officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner of another person who as such officer, director, shareholder, employee or partner was under a duty to act for such other person or was a shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such other person (where such other person is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees of such other person at the time such other person committed any of the acts or omissions which are, or was convicted as, specified in this subdivision within the preceding five years.

5. A registration shall not be cancelled or suspended nor shall an application for registration be refused unless the registrant or applicant has had an opportunity for a hearing, provided, however, that an application for registration may be denied without a prior hearing. Provided, further, a registration may be cancelled or suspended without a prior hearing, for failure to file a return within ten days of the date prescribed for filing a return under this article or article twenty-eight of this chapter with respect to sales and uses of motor fuel, or for nonpayment of any taxes due pursuant to this article or article twenty-eight or twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to sales and uses of motor fuel if the registrant shall have failed to file such return or pay such taxes within ten days after the date the demand therefor is sent by registered or certified mail to the address of the distributor given in his application for registration, or an address substituted therefor as provided in this subdivision. A registration may be cancelled or suspended prior to a hearing for the failure to continue to maintain in full force and effect at all times the required bond or other security filed with the tax commission. Provided, however, if a surety bond is cancelled prior to expiration, the tax commission, after considering all the relevant circumstances, may make such other arrangements and require the filing of such other bond or other security as it deems appropriate. Provided, further, a registration may be cancelled or suspended prior to a hearing for the transfer of such registration without the prior written approval of the state tax commission. A distributor shall immediately inform the department, in writing, of any change in its address and, if the distributor is a corporation or partnership, the distributor shall immediately inform the department, in writing, of any change in its officers, directors or partners or their residence addresses as shown in its application for registration.

6. (a) A notice of proposed cancellation or suspension of registration or refusal to register shall be given to the person registered pursuant to this article or to a person applying for such registration in the manner prescribed for a notice of determination of tax and all the provisions of this article applicable to a notice of determination under section two hundred eighty-eight of this chapter, including, but not limited to, those provisions authorizing the commissioner to make a redetermination on the commissioner's own motion, shall apply to a notice issued pursuant to this subdivision, insofar as such provisions can be made applicable to the notice authorized by this subdivision, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of such provisions to the notice authorized by this subdivision. In the case of a person applying to register, a notice of proposed refusal to register shall be issued promptly after application for registration is received by the commissioner. Upon timely application therefor, a hearing shall be scheduled in the division of tax appeals, and within three months from such application for hearing (determined with regard to any postponements of any scheduled hearing or conference or other delay made at the request of the applicant) the administrative law judge shall render a determination either upholding the commissioner's refusal to register or ordering the commissioner to register the applicant. Within fifteen days after the giving of notice of the administrative law judge's determination, the applicant or the commissioner may take exception to the determination. If an exception is taken, the tax appeals tribunal, within seventy-five days from the date of notice to the tribunal that exception is being taken to an administrative law judge's determination, shall issue a decision either affirming or reversing such determination. If the administrative law judge renders a determination ordering the commissioner to register the applicant and the commissioner takes exception to such determination, the commissioner shall not be required to register such applicant unless and until the tax appeals tribunal issues a decision affirming such determination. The applicant shall not be registered until there has been filed a bond or other security in the required amount. Such notice of proposed cancellation or suspension or of proposed refusal to register must be given to such person within five years from the date of the act or omission referred to in subdivision two or four of this section, except that in the case of acts involving falsity or fraud, such notice may be issued at any time. All of such notices of proposed cancellation or suspension or of proposed refusal to register shall contain a statement advising the person to whom it is issued that the cancellation, suspension or refusal to register may be challenged through a hearing process and that the petition for such challenge must be filed with the division of tax appeals within ninety days after the giving of such notice. Where a registration is cancelled or suspended prior to a hearing, the cancellation or suspension may be challenged through the hearing process provided the petition for such challenge is filed within ninety days after the giving of notice of such cancellation or suspension.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary:

(i) In the event that the commissioner determines that an increase in the amount of the bond or other security filed by a registrant is required to secure the liability of such registrant, such bond increase or other security increase must be filed by such registrant within thirty days from the day the notice and demand therefor has been given by the commissioner. If the registrant fails to (A) file such increase in the amount of bond or other security within such period or (B) make timely application for a hearing with particular respect to the amount of the increase of such bond or other security, the commissioner shall cancel or suspend the registration of such registrant.

(ii) The registrant may apply to the division of tax appeals for a hearing to review an increase in the amount of the bond or other security required to be filed by making application therefor within seven days of the day that the notice and demand for an increase is given by the commissioner, provided, the division of tax appeals may, by regulation, for the causes stated therein, extend such period to a period not exceeding fifteen days from the day such notice and demand is given. If the registrant timely applies for a hearing to review the increase, such hearing shall be held, unless extended by the division of tax appeals for good cause, no less than seven days and no more than ten days after the application for a hearing is received by the division of tax appeals. Within fifteen days of the receipt of the application for a hearing, unless extended by the division of tax appeals, the administrative law judge shall render a determination with respect to the increase in the amount of the bond or other security and, if the amount of such bond or other security is determined to be due, such increase shall be filed within seven days from the day the administrative law judge gives notice of the determination, or, if later, thirty days from the day the notice and demand for the increase had been given by the commissioner. Notwithstanding that the registrant takes exception to the administrative law judge's determination that an increased bond or other security is due, if the increased bond or other security is not filed within such time, the commissioner shall cancel or suspend the registration of the registrant. Where the administrative law judge determines that an increased bond or other security is not due but such determination is reversed by the tax appeals tribunal, if the increased bond or other security is not filed within seven days from the day the tax appeals tribunal gives notice of its decision notwithstanding any judicial review of such decision of the tax appeals tribunal, the commissioner shall cancel or suspend the registration of the registrant.

7. Temporary restraining order and permanent injunction against unlawful importation and forfeiture of unlawfully imported or produced motor fuel or diesel motor fuel. (a) Whenever evidence is furnished by the commissioner to any justice of the supreme court, in court or at chambers, showing that any person not registered as a distributor as required by this article has imported motor fuel or diesel motor fuel into this state or caused motor fuel or diesel motor fuel to be imported into this state or has produced, refined, manufactured or compounded motor fuel or diesel motor fuel, such justice may make a temporary order without notice prohibiting such person and his agents from selling, transferring or otherwise disposing of any such fuel or any fuel and also prohibiting all other persons in possession of or having control over the same from selling, releasing, transferring or otherwise disposing of any motor fuel or diesel motor fuel imported, produced, refined, manufactured, compounded, sold or transferred by such person not so registered pending a hearing for a preliminary injunction.

(b) Upon granting a temporary order, the court shall direct that a hearing be held at the earliest possible time upon such notice and service as the court shall direct and at the same time, if such action has not yet been commenced, the commissioner shall commence an action in supreme court for a permanent injunction and forfeiture of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subdivision. Where, after such opportunity for a hearing, the court determines that there is a substantial probability that the commissioner will prevail in such action, the court shall grant a preliminary injunction restraining the sale, release, transfer or other disposition of fuel subject to the temporary order.

(c) (1) If it is established by clear and convincing evidence that motor fuel or diesel motor fuel was imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured or compounded by any person not registered as a distributor as required by this article, the court shall grant a judgment (i) permanently enjoining such person and his agents from selling, transferring or otherwise disposing of any such fuel or any fuel within this state and (ii) declaring the forfeiture of any fuel that was so imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured, or compounded by such person.

(2) With respect to motor fuel or diesel motor fuel that was imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured or compounded, by a person not registered as a distributor as required by this article or that was unlawfully sold or transferred by such person, if it is established by clear and convincing evidence that any other person in possession of or having control over such fuel was not a purchaser or transferee in good faith of such fuel with respect to the fact that such fuel was so imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured, or compounded by a person not registered as a distributor as required by this article or that such fuel was so unlawfully sold or transferred by such person, the court shall grant a judgment (i) permanently enjoining such other person and his or her agents from selling, releasing, transferring or otherwise disposing of any such fuel and (ii) declaring the forfeiture of such fuel in the possession or under the control of such other person.

(d) The commissioner may, at any time subsequent to the granting of the temporary order pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision, in his or her sole discretion consent to a sale of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel subject to such temporary order which is in the possession or under the control of a person other than the person or the agent of the person who imported, caused to be imported, produced, refined, manufactured, compounded or unlawfully sold or transferred such fuel. As a condition of granting permission to a sale of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel pursuant to this subdivision, the commissioner shall require the payment of all taxes, penalties and interest imposed by and pursuant to the authority of this chapter with respect to such fuel.

(e) (1) At any time during the pendency of an action under this section, the motor fuel or diesel motor fuel subject to a temporary, preliminary or permanent order hereunder may be released from the scope of such order if there is given an undertaking, in an amount equal to the market value of such fuel plus state excise and sales taxes and federal excise taxes, to the effect that there will be paid to the commissioner the amount of the market value of such fuel and such taxes in the event that such fuel is adjudged forfeited.

(2) Any person enjoined by a temporary order or a preliminary injunction issued pursuant to this subdivision may move at any time, on notice, to vacate or modify it.

(f) The procedures of the civil practice law and rules applicable to temporary restraining orders, preliminary injunctions and permanent injunctions not inconsistent with this subdivision shall apply to temporary orders, preliminary injunctions and permanent injunctions issued under this subdivision and any provision of this subdivision which is not in accord with the constitutional mandate of such procedures of the civil practice law and rules shall be deemed to be modified as necessary to accord with such a mandate. The procedural provisions set forth in paragraph three of subdivision (d) and in subdivision (j) of section eighteen hundred forty-eight of this chapter shall apply to the forfeiture proceedings under this subdivision and, in respect to a declaration of forfeiture under this subdivision, the court shall direct the commissioner to sell or otherwise dispose of such forfeited motor fuel or diesel motor fuel on such conditions the commissioner deems most advantageous and just under the circumstances. The commissioner shall not be required to file any undertaking in connection with an action pursuant to this subdivision.

8. (a) For the purposes of this section, in determining whether any person has been convicted of a felony, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply; provided, however if any such conviction be subsequently set aside or reversed upon appeal and the accused acquitted or discharged, the registration which has been cancelled or suspended as a result of such conviction shall be restored.

(b) A conviction of a felony shall include the conviction of a felony by any court in this state or by any court of the United States or by any court of any other state of the United States; provided, however, that if a crime of which a person is convicted by any court of the United States or any other state is a felony in the jurisdiction in which the conviction is had but is not a felony in the state of New York, then the conviction shall not be deemed a conviction of a felony for the purpose of this article. In the event that a crime of which a person is convicted by any court of the United States or by any court of any other state is not a felony in the jurisdiction in which the conviction is had but is a felony in the state of New York, then the conviction shall be deemed a conviction of a felony for the purposes of this article.

(c) If a person convicted of a felony or crime deemed hereby to be a felony is subsequently pardoned by the governor of the state where such conviction was had, or by the president of the United States, or shall receive a certificate of relief from disabilities or a certificate of good conduct pursuant to article twenty-three of the correction law for the purpose of removing the disability under this section because of such conviction, the tax commission may, in its discretion, on application of such person and compliance with subdivision two of this section, and on the submission to it of satisfactory evidence of good moral character and suitability, again register such person as a distributor under this article.

9. (a) The registration granted to a distributor by the state tax commission shall be personal to the person to whom it is granted. The transfer of such registration without the prior written approval of the state tax commission is invalid and such transfer without approval shall be grounds for the immediate cancellation or suspension of the registration of the registrant. The tax commission shall establish by rule or regulation a specific procedure for the review of an application for registration in these instances where there has been a proposed transfer of registration, and the tax commission in making its determination with respect to such approval shall review such application in such instance as any other application for registration under this section and shall make its determination in accordance with the criteria set forth in this section. Provided further, the state tax commission shall issue a determination with respect to such application where there has been a proposed transfer of registration within seventy-five days after the day of the receipt of a properly completed application containing such information as the said tax commission may require. If the tax commission fails to issue a determination within such time, the tax commission shall be required to register such proposed transferee.

(b) For the purposes of this subdivision, a registration shall be considered to be transferred where, among other things, there is any addition or substitution of a partner of the registrant or the acquisition by any person of such shares of stock of the registrant (where such registrant is a corporation) so that such person becomes the owner of more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such registrant entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees. Provided, however, where stock of the registrant or a partnership interest in the registrant or, where the registrant is a sole proprietorship, the interest of the decedent therein along with the registration, is transferred pursuant to bequest or inheritance to (A) an ancestor of the decedent, (B) the spouse of the decedent, (C) a lineal descendent of the decedent, of the descendent's spouse, or of a parent of the decedent, or (D) the spouse of any lineal descendent described in (C) hereof, such transfer shall not, in and of itself, be grounds for cancellation or suspension. Provided, however, within ninety days of the death of the decedent in such instance, the registrant, the personal representative of the decedent's estate or such person described in subparagraphs (A), (B), (C) or (D) of this paragraph must submit a revised application for registration as a distributor. The state tax commission may then cancel or suspend the registration because of the existence of grounds to do so specified in this section for refusal or denial of an application for registration or for cancellation or suspension of a registration. The failure to submit a revised application for registration within such ninety day period shall be grounds for immediate cancellation or suspension of the registration.

10. For purposes of this section, where reference is made to ownership, directly or indirectly, of more than ten percent of the shares of stock of the applicant or another person entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, in the case of an applicant or another person which at the relevant time has four or fewer shareholders holding shares entitling the holders thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, twenty-five percent or more shall be substituted as the applicable percentage in such references to ownership, directly or indirectly, of voting stock.

§ 283-a. Licensing of importing transporters. 1. The department, upon the application of a person who transports motor fuel, shall license such person as an importing transporter or exporting transporter, as the case may be, under this article except as provided in subdivisions two and five of this section. The application shall be in a form and contain such data as the department shall prescribe. No person, unless licensed as an importing transporter, shall transport motor fuel in the state where such motor fuel is being imported into the state for use, distribution, storage or sale in the state. No person, unless licensed as an exporting transporter, shall transport motor fuel in this state where such motor fuel is being exported from a point in this state to without this state.

2. Where a person files an application for licensing under this section and in considering such application the commissioner ascertains that (a) any tax imposed under this chapter or any related statute as defined in section eighteen hundred of this chapter has been finally determined to be due from such applicant or from any officer, director or partner of such applicant, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or any shareholder or employee of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, and has not been paid in full, (b) a liability for the penalty provided for under subdivision two of section two hundred eighty-nine-b of this article has been finally determined to be due from an officer, director, shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, employee or partner of such applicant or a shareholder of such applicant under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, and has not been paid in full, (c) such applicant has been convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed and prosecuted in this state, would constitute a similar crime under this chapter, within the preceding five years, (d) an officer, director or partner of such applicant, a shareholder directly or indirectly owning more than ten percent of the number of shares of stock of such applicant (where such applicant is a corporation) entitling the holder thereof to vote for the election of directors or trustees, or an employee or shareholder of such applicant who, as such employee or shareholder, is under a duty to file a return under or pursuant to the authority of this article or pay the taxes imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article on behalf of such applicant, has been convicted of a crime provided for in this chapter or has been convicted under the tax laws or penal laws of any other state, or a political subdivision of this state or such other state, or of the United States of a criminal offense which, if committed

